A Safeguard.

The fatal rapidity with which slight Colds and Coughs frequently develop into the gravest maladies of the throat and lungs, is a consideration which should impel every prudent person to keep at hand, as a household remedy, a bottle of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

Nothing else gives such immediate relief and works so sure a cure in all affections of this class. That eminent physician, Prof. F. Sweetzer, of the Maine Medical School, Brunswick, Me., says:—

"Medical science has produced no other anodyne expectorant so good as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is invaluable for diseases of the throat and lungs."

The same opinion is expressed by the well-known Dr. L. J. Addison, of Chicago, Ill., who says:—

"I have never found, in thirty-five years of continuous study and practice of medicine, any preparation of so great value as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, for treatment of diseases of the throat and lungs. It not only breaks up colds and cures severe coughs, but is more effective than anything else in relieving even the most serious bronchial and pulmonary affections."

AYER'S
Cherry Pectoral
Is not a new claimant for popular confidence, but a medicine which is to-day saving the lives of the third generation who have come into being since it was first offered to the public.

There is not a household in which this invaluable remedy has once been introduced where its use has ever been abandoned, and there is not a person who has ever given it a proper trial for any throat or lung disease susceptible of cure, who has not been made well by it.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has, in numberless instances, cured obstinate cases of chronic Bronchitis, Laryngitis, and even acute Pneumonia, and has saved many patients in the earlier stages of Pulmonary Consumption. It is a medicine that only requires to be taken in small doses, is pleasant to the taste, and is needed in every house where there are children, as there is nothing so good as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL for treatment of Croup and Whooping Cough.

These are all plain facts, which can be verified by anybody, and should be remembered by everybody.

SKIN AND BLOOD
Diseases from Pimple to Scrofula
Cured by Cuticura.
HUNDREDS of Letters in our possession, copies of which may be had by return of mail, repeat this story:—I have been a terrible sufferer for years from Disease of the Skin and Blood; have been obliged to shun public places by reason of my disfiguring humors; have had the best physicians; have spent hundreds of dollars and got no relief until I used the CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have cured me and left my skin and blood as pure as a child's.

COVERED WITH SALT RHEUM.
CUTICURA REMEDIES are the greatest medicines on earth. Had the worst case of Salt Rheum in this country. My mother had it twenty years and in fact died from it. I believe CUTICURA would have saved her life. My arms, breast and head were covered for three years which nothing relieved or cured until I used the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, internally, and CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, externally.
Newark, O. J. W. ADAMS.

HEAD, FACE AND BODY RAW.
I commenced to use your Cuticura Remedies last July. My head and face and some parts of my body were almost raw. My head was covered with scabs and sores, and my suffering was fearful. I had tried everything I had heard of in the East and West. My case was considered a very bad one. I have now not a particle Skin Humor about me, and my cure is considered wonderful.
Decatur, Mich. MRS. S. E. WHIPPLE.

ECZEMA FROM HEAD TO FEET.
Charles Eayre Hinkle, Jersey City Heights, N. J., writes: "My son a lad of twelve years, was completely cured of a terrible case of Eczema by the CUTICURA REMEDIES. From the top of his head to the soles of his feet was one mass of scabs." Every other remedy and physicians had been tried in vain.

NOTHING LIKE CUTICURA.
The half has not been told of CUTICURA REMEDIES. I have paid hundreds of dollars for medicines to cure diseases of the blood and skin, and never found anything yet to equal the CUTICURA REMEDIES.
Providence, R. I., CHAS. A. WILLIAMS.

Faults in Journalism.

The flippant, jesting manner many journals have of chronicling an accident, recording a calamity, or giving publicity to an item of news, is one of the many great weaknesses observable to-day in American journalism. Its origin is purely metropolitan, in that reporters and writers on the great city dailies were the first to apply and make use of the characteristics to which we refer; imitators were soon found throughout the entire length and breadth of the land, and as the imitator, is weaker than the character he imitates, or the original, so is it that their productions abound in gross indecent expressions, which because of the elegance of style and the smoothness of expression, are hidden in the productions of the original, though conveying exactly the same meaning.

The unfortunate workman, Peter Murphy, who left his humble, unpretentious home, on Poverty street in some portion of the great city, to carry brick and mortar to the top of a seven story building, going up on some one of the great avenues, who made a mis-step with the burden he was bearing, and falls to the pavement below, a shapeless mass, is as deserving of decent mention as the Hon. Hamilton Moneybags, who was dashed against the timbers of a bridge by a runaway team in Central park, and instantly killed.

Well, what is the difference in the newspaper mention?

Why poor Peter Murphy gets an indecent squib very likely in this fashion: "Murphy, a laborer, tumbled, this morning from the top of a brick structure going up, corner of eight and Elizabeth streets; they scraped his remains into a box, and sent them home to his widow on a dray; one Murphy less."

Well how about Hon. Mr. Moneybags?

Why he gets from one to five columns, according to his commercial standing or his rascally transactions; gets statement after statement of fulsome praise and his death and funeral is of such great(?) interest that it is kept before the public for a week or ten days; his family and friends are sympathized with until it's sickening and even flunkeys and dogs come in for a rightful share. Of this we do not complain, but we do claim that fully one-half of the records made, of deaths and accidents of people in the lower walks of life are simply barbarous, shameful, and deserve the condemnation of decent men and honest journalists everywhere.

Joseph Brown, a factory employee, the father of a large family of children, whose six days' wages are needed to feed the little ones God has given to his care; who must look closely and see that every expenditure is one that will count, either for rent, raiment or actual necessaries, looses his situation through a week's illness and is forced to seek employment in some new field; he fails in finding it, and in despair, because lacking the means to feed the hungry ones at home, suicides by putting a bullet through his head.

A sermon might with profit be woven from the misery, suffering, want and destitution which comes into this unfortunates home; of the struggle for existence; of the denials practiced; of the anticipations and hopes blasted; of the ruin which is to follow, and of the souls sent to a living hell on earth. All this, we say is matter for a bible sermon which is never preached, either by gospel ministers or newspapers, secular or religious.

Well, what does the newspapers, say of Brown, the suicide?

Say, why they head the article perhaps with a headline—"Done it up Brown," "Joseph Brown, a shoemaker, 216 144th street sent a ball waltzing through his brain, last evening, and leaves a wife and six children to be fed at the expense of the city. A man with a family of six children would be justified in blowing the top of his head off; Brown was a philosopher."

Well, so it goes, the ridiculous nonsense which is written under the caption of "Didn't know it was Loaded," would fill volumes, while men, women and children who are injured by machinery, when terribly cut and mutilated, disfigured and disabled, perhaps for life are often mention in items written up by brainless idiots for publication in the newspaper in such a manner as to indicate that a premium was paid or a prize offered for its record in some disgusting manner.

People have for years been crying down this grave wrong being done against unfortunate humanity by the press; the Union has frequently alluded to it in a brief way, and whenever we have found in the pages of some obscure print, an indecent squib written by some cunning(?), joking, language twisting, feeble-brained and poverty-stricken imitator, we have felt that it was the duty of decent journalists everywhere to to begin warfare upon the entire brood; loaferish vernacular should have no place in the columns of a newspaper which claims to be decent; clean fun nobody objects to, but this style of journalism about which we have been writing is not decent; besides it's educating the generation arising to the idea that wealth gives character, when upon close investigation instead of giving character it often buys that which we call virtue at a given price.

Life is Worth Living.

There are few instances of men of genius lamenting their failure to achieve wealth, or in fact position, political or social, or even literary. Their moments of exaltation are such as mediocrity dreams not of and are compensatory. "You will be writing verses to women when you are seventy years old," said a so-called practical man to an American author. He prophesied correctly. But what of the status of the two men? One in his age is buoyant and hopeful of a more brilliant future than even Victor Hugo dreamed in his half-inspired state. The other is a Washington lobbyist, with no higher aspiration than a good dinner and a badly earned fee for a rascally job. He enjoys, too, the unenviable appellation of "the old fraud." There never was a greater heresy than that "life is not worth the living." It is downright ingratitude to feel that way, much less lingualistically express it. Every man and woman whatever may be their situation, or condition, should receive life thankfully. The ever-good Creator gave human beings life as a use, and if they misappropriate it that is their misfortune. No man would ever feel despair or disappointment if he set about thanking the Creator for sunshine, for water, for flowers, for the scenery of the forests which is grateful to the eyes, and the splendor of the variegations of autumn. Every season, in fact, has its glories. To make human beings contented, there needs to be knocked out of the world the infernal atheism which ignores God and defiesman.
—John W. Overall, in N. Y. Mercury.

Political, but Mighty Good.

The following extract from a recent speech delivered by Senator Sherman, of Ohio, is worth republishing everywhere:

There are two other things yet I want to speak about before closing, though I have spoken now longer than I inteded. They turn us out of office. Well, sir, whenever the voice of the people says to the republican party, "Surrender your functions and turn them over to the democratic or any other party," we obey, because it is the voice of the people. But why were we turned out? what was the argument that led to the republican party being turned out of office? They wanted a change! What kind of a change have they got? [Laughter.] Are the times any easier? Mr. Hendricks, when he was going around last summer, said: "If you turn these republicans out and scatter the money now in the treasury you could buy two barrels of flour for every family. Have you got your barrels? They said they wanted to count the money; and they have counted it, and found every dollar there, even to the last cent. They wanted to examine the books. They said an examination of the books would put a lot of republican officers on the road to the penitentiary. They have examined the books and not one single defaulter or criminal has been found in the republican ranks. They said: "Turn the rascals out!" and they are turning the rascals in. Cleveland now has more trouble to get rid of the penitentiary birds that have come in under a democratic administration than with all the republican rascals that were ever found there. [Applause.] They were going to distribute that $400,000,000. But they haven't distributed a cent, and day after day, for nearly six months, they have hoarded more money in the treasury than was every hoarded before. They said they would reduce the public debt, and they haven't paid a single dollar out. They have not done a single thing for good. What measure has been adopted or has been produced by the democratic party that would tend to relieve the people. They broke down John Roach—that gallant and noble Irishman, who built up our navy—they broke him down by a system of chicanery, of legal chicanery, that surpasses even belief. They have taken away the carrying of the mails from American ships and turned them over to English ships. They have done nothing whatever to relieve or lighten the burdens on the people or to make times easier. I trust times will be easier in the due course of events, but it will not be so through any act or agency of the democratic party. [Applause.] Let me ask any democrat—and I hope there are a few here—what object has been accomplished by bringing the democratic party into power? You have tried it in the city, you have tried it in the state, and now you are commencing to try it in the nation. But I believe you will find the experiment the same all the way through; so that when the sweepstakes come three years hence you will all be willing to turn back the republican party into its place of power and dignity. There was never in the history of mankind a party that did more good for their people than the republican party in the United States.

From the Detroit Evening News.

The University's Greek Appendix.

Some time ago the regents of the University of Michigan granted to Prof. Martin L. D'Ooge, professor of the Greek language and its literature at that institution, leave of absence for a year with full pay to take charge of the American school at Athens, Greece. There was no great amount of justification made for the movement beyond a vaguely sentimental argument that it was only right the modern Athens should lend a helping hand to the American school in the ancient Athens, and the assertion that the University of Michigan had become a party to the support of an institution in the Grecian capital designed for the more thorough instruction of the Greek classics.

The disbursement of the University funds is as much a public trust as, for instance, the disbursement of the funds for public printing or sanitary purposes, and the people demand that strict economy shall be there practiced in a manner consistent with the attainment of the end proposed. But the American school at Athens has nothing to do with the University of Michigan. To begin with, it is a purely special school. If there is a warrant for contributing to an Athenian appendix to Michigan's University for thoroughness' sake, why not the more so is there reason for sustaining appendices at Rome and in Syria and France and Spain, that thoroughness in Roman, Hebrew, French and Spanish classics may be likewise insured?

The University of Michigan was not established, nor is it supported, to furnish other than a practically intellectual education free. Medicine and the collateral branches, science and its collaterals, with literature and law, are all practically intellectual, and it becomes the interest of the state to foster a devotion to studies which will in turn repay it by their practical application. But the specialist should be made to pay for his learning. It is of no value to the state that a man should be versed in the purely intellectual arts. His is the glory and his the gain alone. He should be made to pay for its attainment.

Aside from all this, the school to which the regents have resolved to contribute is a confessed failure. Last year but eight students took advantage of its courses, and the first annual report shows not a single name from Michigan, while the first director informs his patrons with candor that their method of giving professors foreign vacations of a year is not a success. Why, then, should the regents contribute to the support of an institution by paying its director when it lies beyond their purview altogether to begin with, is not patronized by Michigan students, and is at best an expensive experiment? It may do well enough for the senates of Harvard and Yale and other prominent colleges to contribute to the expenses of the experiment. They are managing a private trust, in a sense. But Michigan University is a public trust, and as such should be administered. Now is the time to call attention to and correct the error, which may prove the entering wedge for an interminable list of similar extraneous enterprises.

"My daughter has taken the medicine faithfully, according to directions, and her health and spirits are now perfect. The humor is all gone from her face. I wish every anxious mother might know what a blessing Ayer's Sarsaparilla is in all such cases.

From Youth's Companion.

A Phenomenal Memory.

Men who dislike shopping—and where is the man who does not?—should inform themselves in regard to the meaning of "a few little things," as women interpret that vague kind of phrase. Mr. S—— wanted to move from the city to a small town near by in which there were but one or two stores. He would be in the city every day, and agreed to purchase the "few little things" his wife could not buy in the village stores.

"You'd better put them down on a piece of paper," said Mrs. S——, when about to give her first order.

"Oh no," said Mr. S——.; "my memory is good."

"Well then," began Mrs. S——, "a spool of 60 Coates' black thread."

"Yes," said Mr. S——.

"A yard of not too light and not too dark calico."

"Yes."

"A small hammer, a can of peaches of the Pasadena brand, a dozen small pearl buttons, two yards of cardinal ribbon, silk on one side and satin on the other."

"Yes," said Mr. S——, thoughtfully.

"A pair of slippers for baby, a dozen lemons, a good tooth-brush, a pine-apple, two-ounces of sky-blue Germantown yarn, an ounce phial of homœopathic nux vomica pellets, a—"

"Wait a second," said Mr. S——, counting on his fingers and looking perplexed.

"And a bottle of vanilla extract, and a yard of triple box-pleated crepe lisse ruching, and three yards of small-checked nainsook, and—"

But Mr. S—— had seized his hat and was running for the station.

What the poor man brought home was a yard of bed-ticking, three yards of black crape, a bottle of vinegar, eight yards of nankeen, a scrub-brush, a pound of green yarn, sixty spools of "coat thread," a yard of very light and a yard of very black calico, and a pint bottle of homœopathic pills.

"There, my dear," he said, triumphantly, throwing down his numerous packages, "I don't think you'll find a thing missing. Who says a man can't do shopping? My memory never played me false yet."

Literary Notes.

The October number of Our Little Ones" and "The Nursery" is at hand and its bright little stories with attractive illustrations will be sure to please and entertain the children. There are also several poems that are equally interesting.

The September edition of the Inland Architect and Builder appears in its usual handsome form, but with an unusual amount of matter of interest to the architectural profession, and those interested in building. In the illustrative pages a perspective view of the new Zion Temple at Chicago, competitive design for the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, and a drawing of the proposed Crematory at Cincinnati, are specially noticeable. An exhaustive official report of the recent convention of Iowa architects, together with the papers read, are given. The Building News Department, which is one of the admirable features of this journal, contains this month reports from fifty-five western cities. As an entirety this 68 page edition of the Inland Architect and Builder is an epitome of the architectural progress of the West. The journal is the official organ of the Western Association of Architects and the different state associations, and is credited with doing more than any other agency to unite western architects and to carry the work of the profession to a higher plane. The class of buildings illustrated by the Inland Architect and Builder shows that the eastern cities no longer exhibit the best samples of American architecture. The editorial announcement is made of a convention of the American Institute of Architects at Nashville, Tenn., October 21st, and also of the Western Association of Architects on November 18, at St. Louis. The Inland Architect and Builder is a credit to the West and to Western architects. It is published monthly by the Inland publishing Co, at Chicago. Price, $2.00 a year.

Whitmore Lake Items.

Rev. Wright goes to Rawsonville.

Rev. Bird now occupies the Methodist pulpit.

The picture car of Mr. Kelly was moved to Ann Arbor last week.

Wm. N. Stevens, of Ann Arbor, was at this place last Friday.

Miss King, of South Haven, is making a visit at C. K. Bennett's.

An entertainment will be given by the "I. E. I. S." at the residence of Miss Ida Pray, on Saturday evening.

A. Stevens of the Lake house, has moved a part of the grist mill back of the hotel and will convert it into a work shop and baggage house. The remainder of the building he will fix up for an ice house. Improvements for the next season are commencing early.—Whitmore Lake Sun.

If you need a perfect tonic or a blood purifier, take Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic. It speedily cures all troubles of the stomach, kidney and liver. Can be taken by the most delicate. Price 50 cents.

"For economy and comfort, we use Hood's Sarsaparilla," writes an intelligent Buffalo N. Y., lady. 100 Doses one Dollar.

COUNTY ITEMS.

Chelsea is to have music taught in her schools.

Milan has a new restaurant at the Wabash depot.

School exhibition at Whitmore Lake, next Saturday.

Milanites turned out well to the county fair, the Leader says.

Last week Dexter shipped seven car loads of hogs and cattle.

Chas. H. Lemmon occupies the Episcopal parsonage at Dexter.

Geo. Clarke of Whitmore Lake, has gone to Vermontville to live.

Winter wheat is all sown, and some pieces are up and looking fine.

The Hoy Bros., of Dexter threshed 2,734 bushels of wheat off of 92 acres.

Many of Washtenaw county-ites are attending the fair at Stockbridge this week.

E. M. Lewis, of East Milan, proposes to furnish 20,000 bushels of charcoal per month.

Mrs. Jos. Reese, of Dexter, has gone to Chicago to visit relatives for several weeks.

At Ypsilanti, Sept. 28, Burton Taft and Miss Minnie Fairchild were united in marriage.

The editor of the Milan Leader has had a 65 lb. pumpkin presented to him by an admiring subscriber.

Mrs. C. A. Congdon of California, is expected here soon to pay her many friends a visit.—Chelsea Echo.

A musical and literary concert will be given at the Baptist church, Milan, Friday evening, Oct. 16th.

E. S. Prudden, of Chelsea, got a fragment of a file into his left eye recently, causing him severe pain.

John Taylor has received $1,440 back pension, and gets $8 per month hereafter.—Whitmore Lake Sun.

Wheat moves a little more freely since seeding, and the price has also improved a little.—Chelsea Echo.

Webster farmers rejoice over the fact that their fall and winter apples are a much better crop than anticipated.

The way the Dexter people carried off the county fair premiums was enough to—well, to make them happy, at least.

Herman Williams, of Webster, is being visited by his daughter, Mrs. Isola D. Pratt, of Nebraska, for the first time in 9 years.

The new school house at Salem will soon be in condition for business, and Samuel Blackwood will be the principal.

People living near Bridgewater station are quite indignant over the reported removal of Postmaster Burns, and will remonstrate.—Enterprise.

In some sections of the county farmers have been plowing under sod, that it may rot this fall, in the hope of starving out the cut worm next spring.

Next Saturday at 2 p. m., at the office of A. D. Crane, in Dexter, there will be a meeting of those interested in the Hudson cemetery, to appoint a sexton.

There is a general complaint of potatoes rotting, this fall, both before and after digging. Always something to worry people, and keep them busy, you know.

Our only excuse for not appearing on time this week is that we went to the Washtenaw county fair, and we intend to go next year if we live.—Dexter Leader.

Hiram McCarty, of Augusta, died Sept. 27, aged 83 years. He had been a resident of that township 47 years, and was a man esteemed for his energy, sobriety, and integrity.

The Ed. Bennett property, of Dexter village, was sold on mortgage Saturday forenoon, at the court house, for $869.38, subject to a second mortgage. Lewis Britten bid it in.

Will M. Warren has entered the pharmacy department of the university. Glad to record the above, and hope more of our young men will find their way to the same institution.—Dexter Leader.

The Dexter school let out last Friday to allow everybody a chance to attend the fair, and by the crowd at the fair that day, it looked as if everybody took advantage of the opportunity and came.

This column is open to the biggest story—a lie is as good as the truth if well stuck to—about husking corn. Come, now, boys, honest Injun, how many bushels of corn can you husk in a day?

The Dexter Leader refuses all Ann Arbor advertising, prefering to depend upon home houses for business. Dexter merchants should appreciate this fact and deal liberally with the Leader man in all things.

Five of Ypsilanti's merchants agree to close their stores at 7 o'clock p. m., from Oct. 12, '85, to March 15, '86, Saturdays and the holidays excepted. This is a move that should find imitators all over the county—yes, and all over the country also.

The amount paid for wheat at the bank of Gregory & Son was $10,730.21 from Sept. 23d to the 30th; of this wheat 9,000 bus. was put in the elevator at the depot and our mills and Scio took the balance. Well done for one week.—Dexter Leader.

A. Case is engaged extensively in the gardening business this season. He has sold 1,100 heads of cabbage and has a couple of thousand more in the field. He has also raised about one hundred bushels of tomatoes, which he is now marketing.—Milan Journal.

In the Washtenaw county championship polo game at the rink last night, between the Manchester and Chelsea clubs, the latter carried off the palm. The first three games were won with scarcely an effort, but the fourth was closely contested. In the fifth game Albert Winans, one of the Chelsea club, received a blow on the head from a polo stick, which broke up the game.—Herald.

The project of establishing a branch of the Y. M. C. A. in this place has been revived. The Y. M. C. A. of Detroit have a gymnasium, and employ a professional gymnast and teacher of bicycle riding. Perhaps a Y. M. C. A. here could make the rink available, and add a skatorial professor.—Ypsilanti Sentinel. The idea! An editor who objects to standard time making such an absurd proposition as the above! Preposterous!

The last issue of the Saline Observer, has this announcement, signed by C. F. Overacker and Orin Stair: "The differences heretofore existing between Chas. F. Overacker and Orin Stair, in regard to the Observer office, have this day been amicably settled, and the Observer newspaper, office, good will, etc., reverts to the ownership of Mr. Stair. All subscription accounts now due will be collected by Mr. Overacker until Nov. 1, 1885, when the balance uncollected at that date will become the property of Mr. Stair. Each account will be balanced to Nov. 18, '85."

LABOR DEMONSTRATION.

There was a big labor demonstration at Detroit last evening, for the express purpose of showing the strength of the organized labor element in that city. Whether it will be of more value than a simple advertisement to politicians of so many votes to be pandered to, cajoled, coaxed or bought up, is a question. It is certain that organization is a good thing for any party or any class, and success can only be reached through organization. But big parades are not always beneficial. They often show the weak points quite as much as the strong ones.

Some of the transparencies carried, as published, were very sensible while some were very foolish. In the first class may be quoted the following: "He who would be free, himself must strike the blow." "Ill paid labor is a curse to society." "We demand a fair day's pay for a fair day's work." "Agitate, educate, organize." "They that will not be counciled cannot be helped." "An injury to one is the concern of all." "Schools for children—work for men."

Among the foolish ones may be quoted: "Rent, interest and profit are robbers." "Down with convict contract labor." "Poverty is a crime for which society is to blame." "Child labor is the product of our boasted civilization." "Smoke only union labor cigars." The latter is extremely silly. If carried into effect how many laborers would it throw out of employment? If convict labor is to be wiped out of existence, what is to be done with the convicts? Kept in idleness, as they now are in our county jails? Supported by the toilers in idleness, laziness and comfortable quarters, as now done in every county in the state?

What is meant by this, is a mystery: "The dynamite of ideas more powerful than the dynamite of the incendiary." If the pyrotechnic display of words as poured forth by such horny handed sons of toil as the famous Dick Trevellick, is referred to, then such ideas are indeed extremely combustible, and so on to the end of the chapter.

POSTAL DELIVERY.

The new system of letter delivery went into effect last Thursday. It will be remembered that this new system so-called requires the delivery of all letters directed to persons living within two miles of the postoffice to which the letter is addressed, the envelope of which bears a ten-cent stamp.

In view of this fact the government issues a circular of instructions to postmasters. "Among other things the circular advises postmasters to impress upon the senders of letters bearing the special delivery stamp the necessity of an accurate address, giving name of streets and numbers of houses wherever practicable, or failing in that respect, an indication of the business of the person addressed. This last precaution is deemed necessary in small towns where no system of numbering houses prevails, and where there may be two or more individuals bearing similar names. The public is also reminded of the advantage to be derived from writing requests for the return of non-delivered matter upon envelopes."

In this connection allow a suggestion in reference to this city. The numbering of the streets is very defective, and only upon a few corners are there signs telling the names of streets. In view of this fact would it not be wise for the council to have proper signs placed upon all street corners—the lamp posts are good places for these signs—and also take some measure to have the proper number placed upon each residence and building in the city?

The Free Press was fifty years old the other day. Old enough, certainly, to be a better paper. Here is what the Ypsilanti Sentinel, the very best of democratic authority, says of it: "It was once an oracle; and its fane is rich in the ex votos of the past; but its tripods whence proceeded the fates of parties and politicians are silent, or give forth only the jests of the harlequins, who mock the old ministrations at its altars. Compared with some of its former states, it reminds one of a deserted temple, in whose cornices owls blink and hoot, and in whose aisles satyrs jump and gibber."

When the editor of the Newaygo Tribune dies he deserves to have engraved upon his tombstone a vivid picture of a pickling vat, so horribly horrible is the terribly terrible portrayals of that awfully awful place written on his mind. Now that a creamatory has been decided upon by residents of Detroit, the fearfully fearful editor of the Tribune should expend some of his direfully direful energies on that excruciatingly excruciating mode of sepulchre.

THE KNIGHTS' RECEPTION.

As has been previously announced in in these columns, the Ann Arbor Commandery K. T. No. 13, propose on Tuesday evening, October 13, to give a grand reception to their friends in this city and various portions of the stat, in honor of their new asylum and temple, recently dedicated. Preparations have been in progress for several days, and no pains or expense will be spared to make the occasion one of the finest of the kind in the city.

The various committees whose names were published have not left a stone unturned for the success of this entertainment, and it will undoubtedly be the evennt of the season.

The invitations for the Knight Templar reception, Oct. 13th, are out to-day and they will attract no small amount of attention from their artistic beauty and uniqueness. It is an etching printed in sepia from a copper plate, while in the upper right hand corner is the armorial device of the commandery embossed in bronzes from a steel die. The work is the most elegant ever seen in this city rnd was done by Jansen, McClurg & Co. of Chicago.

FORENOON.

Detroit, No. 1, on Main, right on Huron street.
Jackson No. 9, on Main, right on Ann.
Ann Arbor, No. 13, on Ann, right on N. Main.
Marshall, No. 17, on Ann, right on north cross walk.
Battle Creek, No. 33, on Fourth, right on Ann.
Charlotte, No. 37, on Fourth, right on east cross walk.
Adrian, No. 4, on Huron street, right on Fourth.

Report to Chief as soon as formed. Column will move at 2:15 sharp.

LINE OF MARCH.

Column will form on North Main street, right resting on Huron street, thence south on Main street to William street, thence east to Division street, thence south to Jefferson street, thence east to State street, thence north to North University avenue, thence east to Campus.

Caterer—Hangsterfer.

The Parlors, lavatories, and dressing rooms of the Asylum are at the disposal of lady guests during the day. Attendants will be in waiting.

ADMISSION TICKETS.

Persons receiving cards of invitation to the K. T. Reception October 13, can procure tickets of admision of the Executive Committe, at the Probate office on presentation of invitation.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Another Place For a Park.

ED. COURIER, Ann Arbor, Mich., DEAR SIR:—You spoke about the city going into the park business. Your proposition was to go way out into the country, over hills and through lanes. In my estimation and in the estimation of others there is a better place for a park in the eastern part of the city.

The land referred to is the old cemetery lot and the lot containing the famous cat-hole. The cemetery lot is now owned by the city, and the cat-hole ought to be bought cheap, Mr. Editor, and there are plenty of hills, and valleys and scenery. The trees could be planted if any more are wanted, and water scenery could be made very fine by cleaning out the cat hole, making hard sides and bottom and putting a ram in the center that would force water into a fountain. Then when the water works commence operation, there could be plenty of "babbling brooks" sent winding down those hills into the cat-hole to keep up the supply of water.

Besides this there are plenty of frogs there and other amphibia, so that none would have to be imported to start either a public acquarium or zoological garden.

There are rumors afloat now, that the members of the common council drive by and around this cemetery and cat-hole daily to take in its beautiful scenery and snuff the delightful aroma as it arises from the decaying vegetation and frog spawn reclining in silent sublimity on the cat-hole waters.

Please print this Mr. Editor, and oblige many residents in the eastern part of the city. Yours anon H. T. M.

Ladies' Library Reception.

Tuesday, Oct. 13, at 7½ o'clock, p. m., the Ladies' Library Building will be formally opened, and a reception given, to which all the citizens of Ann Arbor are very cordially invited. The program of the reception will be: An opening address by Judge Cooley; a history of the association by Mr. Pond; a report of the building committee, by Mr. J. M. Wheeler; and a closing address by President Angell. The association in offering their building and library to the citizens of Ann Arbor hope that it will meet a long felt need in supplying a good selection of current literature to the reading public, and a good convenient building for the safe keeping of the books, and the ladies feel assured that it will prove an efficient aid in the elevation of the literary taste, and moral tone of the community. "Give and take" is the rule of social life, and in return for what the ladies have done in the past and hope to do in the future, they ask the generous support of the community—which they hope will be guaranteed by a large attendance at their reception.

When the republicans were in power the monthly reports of the Secretary of the treasury showed a reduction of $8,000,000 or $10,000,000, on the national debt, as regularly as they were issued. Now the reports show no such thing. On the contrary they show a constant reduction in the revenues of the government, and a constant increase in the expenses of the government with no reduction of the public debt. And what surplus there is goes to pile up the silver dollars in the treasury, where they lay idle, doing no good to any one, neither helping the government, trade, or anybody or anything, while the president and all his advisers are busy quarreling over the spoils of office. Is this the economical, honest administration of governmental affairs we were promised?

The last issue of the Adrian Times has a picture of the new Lenawee county court house in that city, and it strikes one as being a handsome structure. For several years Washtenaw county has boasted of the finest building of the kind in the state, but it now looks as if Lenawee would divide that honor.

There are over 250,000 people in Texas who can neither read nor write. Is it necessary to ask what the politics of Texas is?

The County Fair.

The exhibition given by the Washtenaw County Agricultural and Horticultural Society on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week was a successful one and those days red-letter days in the history of the Society. The weather clerk was smiling all the time, and though dust was plentiful, yet dust is something that people endure with great good nature. They will go to a fair or any such exhibition with the air so thick with particles of flying earth and parched vegetable matter that one could carve it up in chunks and dispose of it as a fertilizer, but let there be but a trifle of mud, be the air never so pure, and the multitudes will stay at their homes and not attend even the best show on earth, unless that show be a circus. But the weather was propitious—the crowds huge, good-natured and satisfied, and every thing passed off "merry as a marriage bell," as the poet or some one else remarked once on a time.

The Floral Hall, as it is termed, was filled by displays made by merchants, some of which were very elaborate.

The fine arts' exhibit was beautiful to look upon, the principal attraction being the large collection of oil paintings and decorated china from the studio of Miss Sager.

The central pyramid of choice flowers were from Cousins & Hall, and the handsome sign of their firm name, composed of scarlet geranium blossoms was a beauty, and elicited much admiration.

Fall & Hendrick had a booth arranged in a most tasty manner, and showed their lines of clothing and gents' furnishing goods to excellent advantage.

Bach & Abel outdid themselves in their display of cloaks and shawls. Their Newmarkets, Russian Circulars, etc., in brocaded velvets, Berlin twills, Jersey cloth, silks and so on, were admired by hundreds of ladies, very many of whom expressed a determination to possess themselves of one. They had one of the best displays to be found in the hall.

A. L. Noble had a good display of men's, youths' and boys' clothing. The particular Star of this booth being John Lindenschmidt, the mention of whose name is a sufficient warranty for a neat and tasty exhibit.

Randall & Burnham's exhibit attracted much attention also, with their fine photographs of all sizes, styles and varieties.

Schuh & Muehlig presented every one who passed their fine display with a chromo and a book in the bargain, telling people how they should use none but the self-acting, double-jointed profanity-expunged, XXX automatic stove pipe, warranted to jump into position without any loss of time, bruised fingers, blistering tongues or other usually pestiferous qualifications common to the old pipe. There were other hardware things in their display, you can bet and win. A specialty was made of the Davis sewing machine.

John Keck & Co., had some of the most exquisite and costly furniture ever shown in the county. The cost of one chair alone, figured up at $45. Their sofas, chairs and bed room suites were simply elegant. It made a man long for a long purse to look at these beautiful household luxuries.

W. W. Douglass & Co., made a good display of gents' furnishing and other goods in their line.

The Eberbach Hardware Company were second to none in their display. They didn't have any of that stovepipe, perhaps, but they did have a stove that saved one-half the fuel used in other stoves, and by buying two of them you could save it all. It was a big invention, and Billy Clark showed the gaping and wondering crowd how the thing worked.

Albert Sorg made a very creditable display of wall paper, curtains, specimens of sign painting, etc., etc.

Lewis & Gibson showed the crowd how the lines of Bobby Burns, about "Seeing yourself as other see you," could be literally made true, by means of the photographers' art.

Wm. Arnold had a handsome case of silverware, and some beautiful clocks on exhibition.

Alvin Wilsey and D. F. Allmendinger each exhibited a number of good organs and musical instruments.

Geo. Alexander showed the White Sewing machine, and showed it well. The fact is, George is a pretty White fellow anyway.

There were many exhibits made by our business men outside of this hall that were well worthy of mention. Notably the extraordinary display of carriages of every variety, from the little phaeton to the handsome double carriage, and a large number of wagons. These were all home made goods, and speak words of praise for their manufacturers, who were C. Walker & Bro., Wurster & Kirn, and Wagner Bros.

Boughton & Payne had a tent from which plenty of good reading matter was distributed to the public, the Detroit Evening Journal receiving their especial attention.

A. F. Hangsterfer had two stands on the grounds, and supplied the youngsters with candy and nuts, the oldsters with pop and oysters, and the girls with taffy.

Among the many things that pleased the babies were the patent baby jumpers and swings. They were beautiful—the babies, we mean, of course—and they were also splendid—both the babies and the jumpers. Fred J. Schlede has this territory for the sale of these articles—the jumpers, we mean—and every family where a baby is should have a jumper.

FAIR NOTES.

Austin Smith, of Ann Arbor town, a young man of considerable artistic taste, had on exhibition at the fair a beautiful cabinet of scroll work, rich in design and ornamental with antique figures of the human form.

Tobias Sutherland, of Pittsfield had on exhibition some very superior specimens of preserved quinces, peaches and other fruit, and mixed pickles on which he took the first premium.

Albert Sorg had his artistic department enlivened with a live alligator 8 months old, confined in a glass case.

There appeared to be a great deal of going out between acts to the beer stand opposite the main entrance.

There were a few Jersey cattle. The best milk and butter breed of cows in the world.

The races excited much interest, and were pronounced good ones.

The fakir was not there. Much to the good order and decency of the show.

Prof. E. Baur's friendly face was found in the horticultural rooms again. Had he known that this department was to have been under his charge again, he would have had a better display.

Washtenaw county might not have produced any better garden products than was shown, but she could have produced a greater quantity, and greater variety.

Superintendent A. V. Robison supplied a long felt want on the fair grounds in furnishing barrels of ice water for the thirsty crowds.

The officers are encouraged to have a still better fair next year.

Council Proceedings.

The city legislature transacted its regular monthly business Monday evening. Present nearly a full board.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS.

Of A. B. Wines, Fred Barker and seven others, asking for a lamp post at the corner of Geddes avenue and Elm streets, claiming that to be "a dark and benighted region for a number of years." Referred to General Fund Committee.

Of M. C. LeBeau, P. O'Hearn and thirteen others, asking for a lamp post on the northeast corner of Lawrence and Thayer streets. Referred to General Fund Committee.

Of Theo. F. McDonald, H. T. Morton and ten others asking for a sidewalk on the north side of Orleans streets, between Forest avenue and Washtenaw ave. Referred to Sidewalk Committee.

A communication from Michael Staebler notifying the council that he had erected a building on the southeast corner of W. Washington and Second streets and had arranged the third floor of said building for the purposes of a public hall, and asked that a committee be appointed for the same as to its safety, etc.

Received and ordered filed, and the Mayor appointed as a building committee, G. Luick, J. Walz and J. S. Henderson.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The Finance Committee reported the following expenditures for the month:

RECAPITULATION.

| | |
|---|---|
| 1st ward | 64 65 |
| 3d " | 3 00 |
| 4th " | 211 97 |
| 5th " | 166 36 |
| General street fund | 55 46 |
| General fund | 471 56 |
| Contingent fund | 441 32 |
| Total | $1,414 32 |

The Recorder was authorized to cancel warrant No. 8,626 and credit the amount back to the 3d ward fund.

Ald. Martin from sidewalk committee reported favorably upon the petition of John Laughlin and others for a sidewalk on the north side of North Thayer street between Ann and North streets, and the same was ordered built.

A resolution was also adopted ordering a new stone walk built in front of the Cook's Hotel property on Huron street.

Ald. Hiscock moved that the sidewalk committee be authorized to build a new sidewalk on that portion of Miller avenue near the T. & A. A. R. R., that is now in a very dangerous condition.

Ald. Lawrence from the Park committee offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That a sidewalk be constructed on the west side of Hanover Square, lying south of Packard street, under the direction of the sidewalk committee.

Carried.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS.

Ald. Lawrence offered the following, which was carried:

Resolved, That $300 be transferred from the Contingent fund to the 4th ward fund, to be re-transferred Feb. 1st, 1886.

By Ald. Lawrence, which was carried:

Resolved, That Mrs. Wells be granted the privilege of cutting down alternate shade trees on the south side of the premises, on Ann street.

By Ald. Hiscock. Carried:

Resolved, That the city adopt standard time as the official time of the city, and the Recorder is ordered to request the County Clerk to change the clock in court house tower to conform with this resolution.

By Ald. Hiscock. Carried:

Resolved, That the $150 transferred to the 5th ward fund at the last meeting be transferred back to General street fund.

The liquor bond of John Collins was reported favorably upon from the committee and the same was approved.

Ald. Biggs offered two resolutions, one in respect to the violation of the state liquor law, and another in respect to the supposed existence of gambling houses, neither of which were adopted.

By Ald. Lawrence. Carried:

Resolved, That a warrant for $15 be drawn to the Marshal on the Contingent fund, for the purpose of subpoenaing witnesses in the Gott case, and the surplus, if any, be accounted for.

The bond of the Ann Arbor Water Co., in the sum of $5,000 with Hutzel & Co. as surety, was received and accepted.

The Circuit Court.

The circuit court convened in regular session, his Honor Chauncey Joslyn presiding, John J. Robison, clerk. The following cases were disposed of up to this a. m.

Resolution on the death of Hon. E. Lawrence were ordered spread upon the records.

Geo. H. Mitchell vs. Hannah L. Van Vleet, et. al. Bill to correct description of land in a will of John Mitchel, deceased. Decree correcting description of certain lands, and directing that a certified copy of the same be recorded in the Register's office.

The People vs. Wm. Karburg. Embezzlement. Discontinued.

John T. Reywalt vs. John Dawson. Continued by defendant on usual terms.

David B. Taylor vs. Russel Parker. Appeal. Motion to dismiss the appeal denied.

Catharine Frey vs. John Adam Frey. Divorce. Decree granted.

John H. Feldkamp vs. Margaret Feldkamp. Divorce. Decree granted.

The People vs. Frank Hoefle. Assault and battery. Defendant discharged on payment of costs.

Daniel A. Van Horn vs. Albert Sorg. Judgment was rendered. $852.30 for plaintiff.

Peter Polson vs. Frank W. Goodale, et al. Attachment. Defendant's plea withdrawn.

Geo. Merkel admitted to citizenship.

It is to be regretted that the new Union Sewing Machine could not have secured space at our fair for a proper exhibit. This machine has a Reversible Feed in sewing either backward or forward at the will of the operator without stopping the machine or turning the work, and taken first award thus far wherever exhibited. The Gold Medal at the World's Exposition at New Orleans and first award and Diploma at the Tri-State Fair at Toledo a few weeks ago, for being "the best machine in the market for general use."

Had it been properly exhibited here it would undoubtedly have attracted a great amount of attention.

Estate of Abigail L. Maynard.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Washtenaw, ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, holden at the Probate Office, in the city of Ann Arbor, on Tuesday, the twenty-ninth day of September, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five. Present, William D. Harriman, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Abigail L. Maynard, incompetent. On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Francis E. Lansing, guardian, praying that he may be licensed to sell certain real estate belonging to said incompetent.

Thereupon it is ordered, that Thursday, the 29th day of October next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the next of kin of said incompetent and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said court, then to be holden at the Probate Office, in the city of Ann Arbor, in said county and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted. And it is further ordered, that said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the Ann Arbor Courier, a newspaper printed and circulating in said county, three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

WILLIAM D. HARRIMAN,
(A true copy.) Judge of Probate.

LOCAL.

Next you know it will be Thanksgiving. Society people are on the tip-toe of expectation for the K. T. Reception next Tuesday night.

The regular statement of the Ann Arbor Savings Bank, on 2d page, shows a healthy condition.

Next Friday night the G. A. R. post will make arrangements for a camp fire to be held in Ann Arbor soon.

Rev. Francis Childs, of Jonesville, gave two most excellent discourses at the Presbyterian churches last Sunday.

Among the very readable articles in the Youth's Temperance Banner, we have noticed several from the pen of A. L. Noble.

Wm. Herz has put a telephone in at his place of business on Washington street, and now if you wish to get frescoed just telephone up.

A young lady of this city was asked if she would like to go to Turkey as a missionary? "Oh, yes!" she replied, "I would like to go about Thanksgiving."

The new letter delivery system is not being used much yet. The people have not become accustomed to its benefits. It will grow in popularity, as it grows in age.

Mr. Alvin Wilsey after leading the Methodist choir for over twenty years has resigned, and a new choir officiates composed of Mrs. Woodward, Mrs. R. Kempf, Messrs. Fall and Cole.

Geo. H. Rhodes, the old stand-by of the 5th ward, has had a wonderful good grape crop this year, and tells us that he has marketed over two tons of grapes, so far, all in Ann Arbor.

The Irish League, in connection with the Catholic Mutual Benefit association and the St. Lawrence society, have rented the third floor over C. Rinsey's store, and will fit up the same for their use.

The new postal card, even though it bears the face of that grand old statesman, Thos. Jefferson, is not an improvement on the old. It is inferior in design, in mechanical execution, in every way.

The trench diggers struck a snag in the 5th ward at Swift's mill. In laying pipes through the old race that crosses the street at that point, and the various culverts thereabouts, they have had a hard time, "a picnic," as Lou Goodrich expresses it.

The Michigan Farmer says the ox-eye daisy is getting well planted in the state. It is only through the carelessness of farmers that this weed is allowed to grow, for although it is a very æsthetic plant it ought to be rooted out. The farm boys and the sheep should keep it down.

Ten letters have been delivered by Postmaster Duffy under the new system. As two messenger boys are employed for this service, they have considerable time to play "mumblety-peg." A large number of the special delivery stamps have been sold and placed on letters sent away, however.

Lost, on Monday or Tuesday, a young man, about six feet tall, who rashly attempted to cross Ann street on the crossing opposite the court house entrance. No trace of him can be found. The authorities talk of offering a reward. There is also a rumor in circulation that the 4th ward street committee have about concluded a bargain whereby this crossing will be exchanged for the 6th ward cat-hole.

There seems to be a healthy movement all along the line in the way of wheat, flour and in the milling business generally. Frank Allmendinger tells us that the demand for flour has been very great for the past ten days, and most all of the mills are behind with their orders. Wheat is being freely offered by farmers at 85c for white and 87c for red, and as freely taken by the mills. The increase in business denotes a healthy state of trade.

Mr. C. E. Lowrey organized a class last Sabbath noon, in connection with the M. E. Sunday school, for the discussion of subjects connected with the philosophy of religion and the pre-eminence of Christianity. Any interested in these topics are cordially invited to be present. The subject for next Sabbath is: "The Nature of Religion and its Relation to Christianity." The study is based on suggestions in the first chapter of Hebrews.

As one of the results of advertising, might be mentioned two striking instances. Sometime since a party found a shawl, and coming to the COURIER office to advertise the same found the owner. Another remarkable instance. One of the prominent university professors lost a valuable dog belonging to him, and came down to this office, wrote out an "ad" and left it for insertion. The effect was miraculous. The dog returned home at once.

A special train last evening brought out from Detroit over a hundred members of the Central M. E. church, who came to attend the reception to Rev. W. W. Ramsey and to surprise him. The surprise was complete, and such a strong testimonial of their regard was pleasing not only to him but to the Ann Arbor people as well. The visitors immediately upon their arrival were given a supper at the church; hand-shaking and introductions followed, then the company adjourned to the audience room where addresses were made by Revs. B. Day, Adams, Ramsey, McEldowney, Studley, Mr. David Preston, Profs. Winchell and Stowell. The intervals were pleasantly filled up by solos from members of the choir whom they had brought with them. At ten the visitors returned to Detroit by their train.

Have you bought your coal since the rise?

Among the bidders for the frescoing of the capitol at Lansing, is Albert Sorg, of this city.

This week closes up the base ball season. How truly sad and depressing. The country will almost bawl over it.

Farmers bringing to market butter can get 15@16c. per lb. for it. Potatoes, 30@35c. Apples, 25@30c. Onion, 50@60c.

This week commenced with a snow storm, a regular old astonisher for the oldest as well as the youngest inhabitant.

The meeting of the Chautaqua circle Monday evening, at the residence of L. D. Wines, was well attended, and very successful.

Corrected time tables of the T., A. A. & N. W. R. R., and of the Detroit, Mackinac & Marquette R. R., to be found in their proper places.

All of our business men, without exception, are busy and smiling. They say that business is far better than for the corresponding month of last year.

Now that the city has adopted standard time, will the saloons close by that or solar time? Or keep open all night? It is an open question, so to speak.

Michael Weinman was again arrested Sunday night for being drunk and disorderly, etc. He had just completed a 60 days' sentence at the county jail.

The following people and houses can be "helloed" at now: Wm. Herz, Geo. Collins, H. Richards, Chi Psi Society, Zeta Psi Society, and Mrs. M. C. Gay.

The Salvation Army still hold forth, to the delight of the bad boys and the terror of policemen. The amount of real good accomplished by them has not yet been discernible.

Mrs. Dr. Wells is making several improvements in and about her premises, corner Division and Ann sts. It is too bad to cut down those beautiful maples, however. Might better trim them up to lessen the shade.

The first frost that did any particular damage in this section came last night. This morning Old Jack painted things white out-'o-doors, and Old Sol, envious of so skillful an artist, wiped out his work and made all the leaves droop their heads and turn black.

Where are the Ann Arbor braves? Freeman Ward of Ypsilanti, challenges anyone in the state for a ten mile roller race, $50 a side, to take place at the Ypsilanti rink. Arouse, ye brothers of Pharsalia! Why don't ye roll 'er race?

In view of the probable bringing into this state of the small pox, would it not be well for the people, especially families from which there are several children attending school to attend to vaccination? Perhaps our board of health will take all necessary precautions.

A. McDonald, has raised a new grape from seed, which he has named after this city, the "Ann Arbor." It is a large blue grape perfectly round, and in flavor resembles the Concord. It is a larger grape than the Concord, however, and bids fair to be a rival thereof in the market.

The twentieth annual reunion of the 20th Michigan volunteer infantry will be held at Jackson on Wednesday, Oct. 14th. The Hurd house will be the head quarters for the day. Most of the railways will deduct one-third fare. On the Mich. Central certificates of attendance will be required.

The Ypsilanti papers speak very highly of the attainments of Mr. J. V. Seyler, of Detroit, one of the faculty of the conservatory of music at that place. We shall not let Detroit run away with all that glory. Mr. Seyler is an Ann Arbor boy, born and reared here, and his father has been one of our prominent business men for years.

There was a sort of a temperance revival meeting for a time at the council meeting Monday evening, with the senior alderman of the 6th ward as chief exhorter. It looked at one time as if the senior aldermen of the 4th, 3d, 2d and 1st wards would be converted, but the flood-tide of eloquence at last rolled over them without sweeping them from their moorings.

Rev. F. H. Belser celebrated the tenth anniversary of his connection with Zion's Lutheran church, last Sunday. Rev. Mr. Huebner, of Toledo, preached an excellent sermon in the morning; the German band assisted the choir with instrumental music, and the occasion was made a memorable one. The seating capacity of the church was insufficient to accommodate those attending.

A missionary festival was held at Bethlehem Lutheran church last Sunday, and a very large attendance was had in consequence. In the forenoon addresses were made by Revs. Hildner of Detroit, and Stanger of this city; in the afternoon by Revs. Schoettle of Manchester, and Irions of Freedom; and in the evening by Revs. Hildner of Detroit, and Roberts of Chelsea. The collections for the day amounted to about $160.

Ann Arbor folks, in Detroit, who boarded the Friday evening train on the M. C. road for home, and were seven hours making the journey, felt as if they were terribly bored and fatigued. It is within the memory of many of our inhabitants that a seven hours' trip was considered remarkable—a miracle in fact—but that was in the good old days before the iron horse wrought its great transformation scene in transportation.

A little four-year-old girl of this city has settled a question that has long been a vexed one. At the dinner table a few days since this little one held up a hard, unripe grape, and asked: "Papa, are bad grapes good for anything?" "No," responded her father, and added: "Are bad girls good for anything!" "Yes papa," replied the little one, and being asked by her mother what bad girls were good for, said: "Good to spank."

The position of "Captain of the Watch" in the Interior department, which was tendered to Capt. Manly a few week's since, has been declined by him for several good reasons. The Captain is an old soldier, and as the present occupant of the position tendered him is a one-armed soldier also, he doesn't believe the present occupant should be removed. He says that all heads of departments, etc., should be in accord with the administration, but does not believe in removing old soldiers in inferior positions, no matter what their politics. And he is about right therein.

High School Notes.

The first regular monthly report of the high school is very encouraging. There are 442 pupils in attendance against 392 at a corresponding period last year.

The Scientific and English sections will change from Botany to Physiology in a few days.

Supt. Perry informs us that at the teacher's meeting Monday evening, among other things discussed was the question of establishing an Engineering course of three years, and arrangements were about perfected for the same. It will be announced next Tuesday, probably.

John P. Dolan came from Chicago Saturday to return home with his wife, formerly Miss Nellie O'Keefe, who has been visiting relatives and friends in the city for some time.

Dr S. H. Adams attends the Rock River, Ill., conference leaving Ann Arbor therefor last evening. He has charge of the examinations of candidates for admission to that conference.

UNIVERSITY ITEMS.

Those library chimes chime not. Still they are still.

F. P. Blackman, lit. '85, has returned to enter the law department.

The Chronicle will advocate the adoption of standard time by the University. Correct.

E. L. Mosley, M. A., '85, is teaching the sciences in the Grand Rapids high school.

Z. Clark Murray's "Hand-book" will be used bn the class in Empirical Psychology.

M. C. Sheehan, Fred. Sawyer and Patrick Brennan, have entered the dental department.

C. D. May, lit. '84, of Bellvidere, Ill., was in the city Friday and Saturday visiting old acquaintances.

Miss Mollie L. Wood, of this city, so well known to our music-loving public, is teaching music in Delaware, Ohio.

We regret to learn that Mr. Jesse Shattuck, the managing editor of the Chronicle, is quite ill at his home in Owosso.

Eugene Upson, who has been with Goodyear during the summer, has entered the pharmacy department of the University.

F. R. Babcock, formerly of '85 now living in Manistee, was back last week for a few days visiting the scenes of his former freshmanhood.

Breathe it not among the Japs. Chang Wau Fou was married at Chelsea to Miss Nee Tsi Lou—the other evening. 'Twas all in fun, you know.

Fred B. Rolison, who is attending the university, was married Sept. 17, at Linden, Mich., to Miss Grace Fairbanks, and they immediately took up their residence in Ann Arbor.

Will L. Griffin, of Albion, a graduate of Albion college, enters the law department this year, and entered the married state Sept. 22d, at his home, with Miss Emma C. Foote, Albion '64.

Mrs. Margaret Humphreys having resigned the position of assistant to the professor of clinical dentistry in the dental department, Miss Elsie Hallock has been appointed in her stead.

In the chapel Sunday, at 9:15 a. m., President Angell delivered an address before the Students' Christian Association. There was a very large attendance and the address was excellent.

The Chronicle will make its first appearance for the year, Saturday, and the present board of editors propose making it very interesting this semester. It would be a good thing for you to encourage them with a subscription.

Mrs. A. S. Peck, lit. graduate, who has been traveling extensively in Europe, will spend the coming winter at the famous American school of Archeology in Athens. She is the one U. of M. student who came as a godsend to a certain scribe, recently.

The entries at the university still continue to come in and are far in excess of last year. President Angell informs us that upon his books are the names of 248 applicants, a larger number than ever have applied before at a corresponding date. Of this number about 40 are from other colleges for advanced standing, which is a striking feature, never equaled in the history of the university. The following figures are from the registry in Secretary Wade's office: Literary department, 496; Medical, 309; Law, 245; Dental, 74; Pharmacy 59; Homeopathy, 46. All of which is very gratifying to the authorities, as well as to friends of the institution everywhere.

The law department boasts of a live congressman in its ranks, in the person of Benj. Franklin Shively of South Bend, Ind., who was elected to congress in 1884, to succeed Maj. Calkins, who resigned to run for governor.

In the office of Secretary Wade, at the university, is a box 10x12, bearing the following inscription: "Set of stencil tools with which a student earned $1,657 in four summer vacations, and paid his way through the four years' course in the literary department of Michigan University. Placed here in the hope of encouraging some student who feels that he must give up and drop out for lack of money. What has been done can be done." How many of the boys of the land could "go and do likewise," had they only the right sort of material in their make up. It is the will to do that makes men, and the lack of that will that ruins them.

Amusements.

For several years Manager Sawyer has been trying to get Maxwell's Grand Spectacular Uncle Tom's Cabin to return to Ann Arbor again. It will be remembered that some four years ago this same company played here and filled the opera house from parquette to gallery, reserved seats and all. This time a whole car load of new scenery has been added, new actors secured, and it is now acknowledged not only the most complete and largest company of the kind traveling, but the best Uncle Tom troupe ever put on the road. Friday and Saturday evenings, Oct. 9th and 10th. Reserved seats at Boughton & Payne's.

Under the auspices of the University Musical Society a public rehersal of the Ann Arbor School of Music will be given in University hall on Friday evening, October 9th. The program is to consist of vocal solos, duos, and trios by Miss E. Louise Clark, Miss Ida Belle Winchell and Mrs. Anna E. Warden, piano solos by Miss Julia Garuthers, violin and 'cello solos by Mr. Wm. Luderer and Mr. Harold Wilson, together with readings by Miss Laura Rose. Tickets free, to be had on Thursday and Friday at the bookstores. Students of the university can secure tickets at the Steward's office.

There will be a promenade social in the parlors of the Unitarian church next Monday evenisg, by the Unity Club. Music by the Huron Band. Miss Cora Benneson, a graduate of the University of Michigan, having just returned from a trip around the world, will be present and give an interesting talk upon her travels. Admission 10c. After which a reception will be given Miss B. in the parlors of the church. All friends are invited.

We have in the play of "A Brave Woman," which will be produced here Tuesday evening, Oct. 13th, a play aptly molded and put together, and telling its story in a plain fashion, without a particle of sensationalism, and in which Miss Von Leer finds in its heroine a character which, while it does not force her to act, nevertheless enables her, without the effort of acting, or of resorting to the tricks and devices of mimetic art, to make the charm of her personality answer every purpose. The action of the play does not compel her presence in every scene, nor is it after the fashion of the usual one-part plays, built up around her like scaffolding. When the curtain has fallen upon the last scene, and you make your way out of the theatre with the joyous expression of the little wife, "Take me, Ivie," lingering in your memory, you scarcely remember that you have been sitting through six acts of a play, with its glare of lights, its music, and its changes of scene and situation. You feel as if you had been reading a pleasant story of domestic life; one of those idyls which, based upon some common puases of our every-day social lives, are sometimes given to us by the novelist or poet, and which store the mind with kindly thoughts and a better and broader regard for the virtues, and a gentler compassion for evils of our social relations. Mr. Hardie and Miss Von Leer will be supported by a company of metropolitan artists.

The greatest play ever put on the boards, by all odds, is that grand old drama, Uncle Tom's Cabin. It never fails to fill the house. It will bring the crowd when others, with perhaps greater merit will only have empty benches. Uncle Tom's Cabin is America's greatest drama from the people's standpoint. It appeals to their hearts. Friday and Saturday evening, at the opera house.

RINK NOTES.

Messrs. Wyman and Watts were in the city Thursday to attend the opening of the Palace Rink, and take in the fair.

Hereafter the Rink will be open on Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday afternoons and evenings. Music every evening.

A very large audience was in attendance at the opening of the Palace Rink last Thursday evening. Miss Adele Barrows, "only 9 years old," gave an exhibition of fancy skating. She is not as proficient as some we have seen in the more difficult movements, but for gracefulness we have never seen her equal.

C. C. Warner, at No. 11 Ann St., wishes to announce that he has now stocked up his store with clean, fresh groceries; has a fine supply of canned goods, coffees, teas, spices of excellent quality, and guarantees satisfaction every time, and a prompt delivery of purchases to any part of the city.

Oysters only 20c per can and upwards, at A. F. HANGSTERFER'S Oyster Depot, 28 Main St.

A good steady boy can find employment by applying to J. J. Goodyear, at his drug store.

On Saturday this week at Hangsterfer block, we will sell at 2 o'clock and 7 evening a line of Ladie's and Children's Cloaks, Linens, Shawls &c.

One Dollar. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which this can be truly said; and it is an unanswerable argument as to the strength and positive economy of this great medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla is made of roots, herbs, barks, etc., long and favorably known for their power in purifying the blood; and in combination, proportion, and process, Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself.

"For economy and comfort we use Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. C. BREWSTER, Buffalo.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it in the house." MRS. C. A. M. HUBBARD, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses

One Dollar

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, all humors, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints, and all affections caused by impure blood or low condition of the system. Try it.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." MARY L. PEBLE, Salem, Mass.

BACH & ABEL'S COLUMN.

What the Detroit Trade Journal said about Bach & Abel's exhibit at the Washtenaw County Fair:

Bach & Abel, the heaviest dry goods dealers in the city or county, exhibit a very fine line of Cloaks, Shawls, Dolmans, Circulars, etc., one of the finest displays ever made on the grounds. The exhibit was arranged in a remarkably neat, tasty and effective manner, showing each article to the best advantage in every way. The display comprises some 100 different styles of Ladies' and Misses' fine Cloaks, the handsomest being the popular "Newmarkets," brocaded velvets, plushes, silk circulars and short dolmans. The exhibit also includes the finest styles of Persian, India and Camel's hair shawls, and numerous other remarkably and handsome new styles, whose names were not ascertained. In the display of Misses' garments, the most noteworthy are the "Newmarkets" in plain styles, the "Newmarket" silk hoods, and Astrachan capes, also Jersey Newmarkets, Raglans and Haverlocks, each handsomely trimmed with either otter or figured Astrachan. The exhibit taken as a whole is one of the best features of the general display, and elicits warmest praise from the fair sex, whose admiration is about equally divided between the elegance and beauty of the garments and the notably fine manner in which they are displayed. Another point should not be forgotten while we are on the subject, and that is the immense cloak room of this firm at their establishment at No. 26 South Main street, where they have on exhibition one of the largest stocks of everything new and desirable in the market in that line this season. In addition to this they also have at these rooms a mast magnificent $300 mirror, eight feet in height and six feet in width and of the best French plate glass made.

Parties visiting the city or fair should not fail to call at this establishment, and if it is inconvenient to call in the day time they can call in the evening, as the room is brilliantly lighted by electricity, and is the largest and finest in the state without exception.

Those who attended the dedication of the Masonic temple at Ann Arbor, last Thursday evening, say they had a grand time. The temple is a beauty.—Manchester Enterprise.

The Manchester Enterprise, speaking of the Detroit Free Pree, says: "It wields a powerful influence." That may be so, and then again it mayn't. One thing is certain. It has not enough influence with the preent administration to secure the appointment of its friends to office.

They are now hunting train robbers in Missouri with bloodhounds. In the days of Col. Frank James there was no such style as that. Then the pursuers would lie around in the woods till their bottles run dry when they would report the robbers "gone down into Kansas." Those good old days will come no more.

KING'S EVIL

Was the name formerly given to Scrofula because of a superstition that it could be cured by a king's touch. The world is wiser now, and knows that can only be cured by a thorough purification of the blood. If this is neglected, the disease perpetuates its taint through generation after generation. Among its earlier symptomatic developments are Eczema, Cutaneous Eruptions, Tumors, Boils, Carbuncles, Erysipelas, Purulent Ulcers, Nervous and Physical Collapse, etc. If allowed to continue, Rheumatism, Scrofulous Catarrh, Kidney and Liver Diseases, Tubercular Consumption, and various other dangerous or fatal maladies, are produced by it.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is the only powerful and always reliable blood-purifying medicine. It is so effectual an alterative that it eradicates from the system Hereditary Scrofula, and the kindred poisons of contagious diseases and mercury. At the same time it enriches and vitalizes the blood, restoring healthful action to the vital organs and rejuvenating the entire system. This great

An Advertiser's Novel Expedient.

One of the largest advertisers in New York says: We once hit upon a novel expedient for ascertaining over what area our advertisements were read. We published a couple of half-column "ads" in which we purposely misstated half a dozen historical facts. In less than a week we received between 300 and 400 letters from all parts of the country from people wishing to know why on earth we kept such a consummate fool who knew so little about American history. The letters kept pouring in for three or four weeks. It was one of the best paying "ads" we ever printed. But we did not repeat our experiment because the one I refer to served its purpose. Our letters came from school-boys, girls, professors, clergymen, school-teachers, and in two instances from eminent men who have a world-wide reputation. I was more impressed with the value of advertising from those two advertisements than I should have been by volumes of theories.

REPORTS OF GOVERNMENT CHEMISTS

As to Purity and Wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder.

"I have tested a package of Royal Baking Powder, which I purchased in the open market, and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substances. E. G. LOVE, Ph.D."

"It is a scientific fact that the Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure. "H. A. MOTT, Ph.D."

"I have examined a package of Royal Baking Powder, purchased by myself in the market. I find it entirely free from alum, terra alba, or any other injurious substance. HENRY MORTON, Ph.D., President of Stevens Institute of Technology."

"I have analyzed a package of Royal Baking Powder. The materials of which it is composed are pure and wholesome. "S. DANA HAYES, State Assayer, Mass."

The Royal Baking Powder received the highest award over all competitors at the Vienna World's Exposition, 1873; at the Centennial, Philadelphia, 1876; at the American Institute, New York, and at State Fairs throughout the country.

No other article of human food has ever received such high, emphatic, and universal endorsement from eminent chemists, physicians, scientists, and Boards of Health all over the world.

NOTE—The above DIAGRAM illustrates the comparative worth of various Baking Powders, as shown by Chemical Analysis and experiments made by Prof. Schedler. A pound can of each powder was taken, the total leavening power or volume in each can calculated, the result being as indicated. This practical test for worth by Prof. Schedler only proves what every observant consumer of the Royal Baking Powder knows by practical experience, that, while it costs a few cents per pound more than ordinary kinds, it is far more economical, and, besides, affords the advantage of better work. A single trial of the Royal Baking Powder will convince any fair-minded person of these facts.

* While the diagram shows some of the alum powders to be of a higher degree of strength than other powders ranked below them, it is not to be taken as indicating that they have any value. All alum powders, no matter how high their strength are to be avoided as dangerous.

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC RAILWAY

By reason of its central position and close relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental link in that system of through transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and best route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and corresponding points W est, North west and Southwest.

The Rock Island system includes in its main line and branches, Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peoria, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Oskaloosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Des Moines, Indianola, Winterset, Atlantic, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri; Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Watertown in Dakota, and hundreds of intermediate cities, towns, villages and stations.

THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted road-bed; smooth tracks of continuous steel rail; substantially built culverts and bridges; rolling stock as near perfection as human skill can make it; the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes; and that exacting discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and the Missouri River are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and sumptuous Dining Cars, in which elaborately cooked meals are leisurely eaten, "good Digestion waiting on Appetite, and Health on both." Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison, are also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE

Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, where connections are made in Union Depots for all points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route, Fast Express Trains are run to the watering places, summer resorts, picturesque localities, and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, and Lafayette and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.
