VITIATED BLOOD.

SCROFULAS, INHERITED AND CONTAGIOUS HUMORS CURED BY CUTICURA.

THROUGH the medium of one of your books received through Mr. Frank T. Wray, Druggist, Apollo, Pa., I became acquainted with your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and take this opportunity to testify to you that their use has permanently cured me of one of the worst cases of blood poisoning, in connection with erysipelas, that I have ever seen, and this after having been pronounced incurable by some of the best physicians in our county. I take great pleasure in forwarding to you this testimonial, unsolicited as it is by you, in order that others suffering from similar maladies may be encouraged to give your CUTICURA REMEDIES a trial.
P. S. WHITLINGER, Leechburg, Pa.

SCROFULOUS ULCERS.

James E. Richardson, Custom House, New Orleans, on oath says: "In 1879 Scrofula Ulcers broke out on my body until I was a mass of corruption. Everything known to the medical faculty was tried in vain. I became a mere wreck. At times could not lift my hands to my head, could not turn in bed; was in constant pain, and looked upon life as a curse. No relief or cure in ten years. In 1880 I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES used them, and was perfect y cured"
Sworn to before U. S. Com. J. D. CRAWFORD.

ONE OF THE WORST CASES.

We have been selling your Cuticura Remedies for years, and have the first complaint yet to receive from a purchaser. One of the worst cases of Scrofula I ever saw was cured by the use of five bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, Cuticura, Cuticura Soap. The Soap takes the "cake" here as a medicinal soap.
TAYLOR & TAYLOR, Druggists, Frankfort, Kan.

SCROFULOUS, INHERITED,

And Contagious Humors, with Loss of Hair, and Eruptions of the Skin, are positively cured by Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally, and Cuticura Resolvent internally, when all other medicines fail. Send for Pamphlet.

DRUGGISTS USE THEM.

We have obtained satisfactory results from the use of the Cuticura Remedies in our own family, and recommend them beyond any other remedies for diseases of the skin and blood. The demand for them grows as their merits become known.

CHOKING CATARRH.

Have you awakened from a disturbed sleep with all the horrible sensations of an assassin clutching your throat and pressing the life-breath from your tightened chest? Have you noticed the languor and debility that succeed the effort to clear your throat and head of this catarrhal matter? What a depressing influence it exerts upon the mind, clouding the memory and filling the head with pains and strange noises! How difficult it is to rid the nasal passages, throat and lungs of this poisonous mucus all can testify who are afflicted with catarrh. How difficult to protect the system against its further progress towards the lungs, liver and kidneys, all physicians will admit. It is a terrible disease, and cries out for relief and cure.

The remarkable curative powers, when all other remedies utterly fail, of Sandford's, Radical Cure, are attested by thousands who gratefully recommend it to fellow-sufferers. No statement is made regarding it that cannot be substantiated by the most respectable and reliable reference.

One package contains one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and an IMPROVED INHALER, with treatise and directions, and is sold by all druggists for $1.00.

A NEGRO FUNERAL.

Queer Ceremonies of Old Voudoo Days Still Prevailing in the South.

Not long since I was visiting one of the towns in upper South Carolina. I and a friend were taking an afternoon stroll into the adjoining country. We had proceeded some distance, and were passing through a dense wood, when suddenly my companion stopped and nervously inquired: "What's that?" I came to a halt, and listened. A weird, mournful sound floated through the trees and reached our ears. It seemed to come only a short distance; appeared to emanate from the copse on the other side of the road. We crossed over, and followed, bent upon investigating what it was. We had scarcely gained the opposite thicket when we debouched into one of those country burial grounds which are to be found near every hamlet in South Carolina.

It was a strange picture that met our sight, and one that belonged more to heathen lands than to our own civilized country. There, around a newly made grave, about twenty-five negroes were collected. They all held hands, and were slowly moving to and fro, while they wailed forth dirges, and at intervals would ejaculate wild, incoherent words. In the midst of the circle, at the head of the grave, an old woman sat who rocked backward and forward. Her eyes rolled wildly, and she moved in a mechanical way. This was the widow of the deceased, and it was her required part in the ceremony to loudly moan at appointed intervals during the singing. Something in this way their hymn sounded, as nearly as I could catch the words:

De white horse he rode,
Wid de sickle in he hand,
And slew down our brudder
From among our earthly band.
A moan! sister moan!

And here the widow would reintroduce her heathenish incantations. These were kept up for some time, when suddenly they ceased, and the negroes prostrated themselves upon the ground, while the minister, a tall, very dark negro, stood and offered up a prayer. After the "amen" was uttered they rose, and two of the number took from a basket near some articles with which they decorated the grave, as if they were placing upon the tomb floral offerings. They then slowly formed in procession and silently marched out of the inclosure. My friend and I, curious to decide what the peculiar mode of grave decoration was, proceeded to the spot where an old man was shouldering his spade to quit the place.

"Why, old man," said I, "what are those things they have left on the grave? Bottles, shoes, a jug! Why, what does it all mean?"

"Well, boss," said the ebony gravedigger, with an air of importance, "you see, we puts de articles dat de departed brudder use to use on de grabe for to keep away de bad sperrits, and I 'spose it is a sort ob 'spectful way ob treating de memory ob de lost sister or brudder. You see, dars de bottle dat he take the medicine from when he be sick. And dars de jug, it had de last dram he drunk 'fore he jined de temperance meetin', an' de boots, I 'spose dey de shoes dat ee gwine to change for de golden slippers dat he put on when he jine de ban' up yander," and a beam of placid faith illuminated the old black face.

It certainly was a strange sight. Here were numberless graves, all bearing the same picturesque decorations. Children's graves were covered with broken toys, tin horns, gaudily colored clay cats, dogs and owls. One mound was almost beat to the ground with age, and on it rested in dilapidation an old hat and the remnants of a banjo, also a clay pipe and a coon skin. Near by them was the grave of a blacksmith, with the implements of his craft wedged in the ground, and rusty horseshoes formed a circle around the mound.

Looking around the strange scene, it was difficult for me to realize that I was in a land of advancement and civilization while surrounded by such relics of superstition and barbarism. I was forced to believe that the negro instead of progressing in religious views, is daily evincing a tendency to fall back to fetichism and voudooism, his original form of worship. It prevails among the negroes, especially on the islands in the lower portion of the State. They do not, it is true, give adoration to animals, trees and stones, as the fetich worshipers did centuries ago, but the difference is very slight from that of idolatry.—Atlanta Constitution.

Berlin's Telephone System.

The telephone wires are daily increasing in number and length over and around the Prussian capital. The total length of the wires is, in round numbers, 12,000 kilometres, or very nearly the diameter of the earth. There are nine exchange offices in the city, and 10,000 speaking tubes. The number of subscribers in Berlin is about 6,000, who hold an average of 100,000 conversations daily. In the neighborhood, the number of conversations averages daily between 1,500 and 2,000. The Berlin telephone system employs 300 officials. The furthest point with which Berlin is directly connected is Hanover, distant 340 kilometres, or about 215 miles.—Electrical Review.

—"O, give us a rest," said a young man, impatiently, to a little boy who was busy plying him with questions. The little fellow looked at him a moment, and then, with the utmost innocence, said: "Well, you rest and I'll talk."—Columbia (S. C.) Record.

AFFLICTION.

God gives to every Flower,
Its sunshine or its shade;
Then in Affliction's hour
Why need we feel afraid?

Why fear to feel the cloud,
Of darkness 'round us spread;
Though every earthly hope,
Seems buried with the dead?

Our Father's hand will guide,
Even through this weary night,
And if we trust Him in the shade,
Will give again the Light. A.

THE FLAME OF LIBERTY.

BY CASTAR RETT.

Deep in despair th' Oppressor's heel
Erin hath trod,
Crushing her loyal sons, and leal,
Down to the sod,
While hope hath fled, and slumbered
Freedom's god.

But from the ashes of defeat
Leaps victory's brand;
Liberty's flame, its righteous heat
By Justice fann'd,
Shall melt the chains which now bind
Ireland

CHICAGO, May 18, 1887.

THE VALUE OF STONE ROADS.

The legislature has recently passed a bill making Bay county a stone road district, and authorizing that the sum of $123,000 shall be applied to the building of new stone roads. The sum of $60,000 will be realized from the two mill tax to be levied on the stone road district in the years 1887-88, and $60 000 is to be borrowed on the credit of Bay county, payable fifteen years from the date such loan is consummated with interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum. Upon this last proposition the electors of Bay county are to vote on June 13 next. There will probably be no doubt as to the result of the election. The farmers know the practical value of the stone roads, and will beyond any preadventure vote for the proposition. The electors of the county who are not farmers freely appreciate the value of this improvement and will help the farmers to carry the measure.

No man in the country, to write in general terms, should ever entertain the shadow of an idea to oppose the construction of stone roads. Fortunately Bay county has shown that it appreciates the value of these local improvements. The stone road is the local highway of commerce. It is to the county what the railroad is to the state. It aids in the pursuit of agriculture and enhances the value of land. It also increases the business of the city. In fact in every way the stone road is not only a great commercial factor, but it is also a great convenience to the farmer and the people who live along its line.

In the matter of stone roads Bay county has shown much enterprise. They stretch out in various directions. And many a time the good farmer has occasion to bless the spirit which prompts the building of the stone roads. Weather affects it not. The elements may raise all the racket imaginable. Yet the stone road is always in a condition for travel. It benefits the city, because it is a commercial route, just as much as a railroad is, and attracts to the city the business of the territory into which they penetrate. But it is not more a benefit to the city than a convenience to the farmer. It brings to his farm the trade of the city, just as much as it brings the products of the farm to the doors of the city people. He need never complain of mud or water or the terrible condition of the roads. It saves the strength of his horses and the wear and tear upon his wagons. There are many reasons which should induce the farmer and the residents of the county, both in and out of the city, to strongly support any project looking toward the building of new roads. Farm lands are increased in this value by every stone road that is constructed, and the more stone roads there are the greater will be the home market for both producer and city merchant.

Bay county is to be congratulated upon the energy and enterprise displayed by the county officials in securing the passage of this bill. Nothing can do more for the building up of trade in the cities and villages than to have good roads leading to them. What more could benefit Washtenaw county? We have some good roads here but there are those which, at certain seasons of the year, it is almost impossible to drive over. It might be a source of economy to the county to do this and make the prisoners in the county jail pay their way by breaking the stone. We would then have fewer of the worthless vagabonds and tramps roaming the country, or if caught, we would be able to get some work out of them. The Business Men's Association have thought of improving the roads leading into Ann Arbor and this might be done in this manner with but little expense if properly looked after.

The Sweetest Girl in School.

"She's the sweetest girl in school"! enthusiastically exclaimed one young miss to another, as they passed down the street together. "Edith is so kind, and gentle, and unselfish, every one likes her. And she has lovely golden hair and pretty eyes. Isn't it a pitty her complexion is so bad; it spoils her looks. And then she has such dreadful headaches"! The girls skipped along, but it happened Edith's mother had heard what they said. It set her thinking. What could be done for those headaches, and the rough, muddy complexion, that was such a trial to her gentle daughter. She recalled what she had read of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and on the spur of the moment she slipped into a drug store and bought a supply. Edith took it faithfully, with the result that it cleared her disordered blood, relieved the headaches, made her skin soft, fair and rosy, and now she is not only the "sweetest girl in school," but the most beautiful.

People who have peach trees that were expected to bring forth a crop of luscious fruit this year, will be surprised, no doubt, to find upon examination of the buds that the pestilent English sparrow has been helping himself, and robbed the trees of many bushels of peaches by picking off and eating the buds as soon as they began to show a pinkish tint. The whole country should arise and lose no time in destroying the prolific little bird which promises to be in time, such an expensive nuisance to mankind in general and fruit growers in particular.—Dexter Leader. The present legislature ought to change the law it has already passed so as to make it effective.

Whither are we Drifting.

From the Detroit Journal.

Michigan is likely to lose its reputation for the numerous murders committed here by gaining a name for a crime that is even worse than murder. Assaults upon young girls and women are becoming common, and the light penalties which are visited upon them will encourage rather than repress them. The apparent unimportance attached to the horrible accusation against Dr. Weir, of Oscoda county, and the ease with which he slipped through the fingers of the officials were a disgraceful reflection upon public sentiment in that community. Last week one Matthews, charged with an assault upon a child of 7 years at Hillman, Montmorency county, was acquitted, but told to leave town, which must have meant that, though the jury believed him guilty, it would not punish him. Daniel Vaughn, of Mecosta county, left his family last week because his neighbors finally threatened vengeance upon him for repeated assaults upon his daughter, aged 11. He ought to have been sent to the penitentiary. One Jackson and four other scoundrels in Montmorency county conspired against a school teacher. Although she fought the fiends until she was nearly dead, Jackson on his plea of guilty, was sentenced to just six months in the Detroit house of correction. Communities that will not protect the common rights of women better than this are on a low plane of civilization.

Something New.

Outsiders frequently wonder where the railroads obtain proper return for some of the ingenious but costly methods adopted in advertising their lines. One of the latest to attract our attention is a a nicely bound 64-page book entitled, "What to Do," containing description and the correct rules of a large number of games suitable for parlor or lawn which has been issued by the Passenger Department of the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway. It is a book that would ornament almost and table and interest both old and young.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 80,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all druggists and dealers, in the United States and Canada.

LITERARY NOTES.

"The Cruise of a Woman Hater," by G. De Montauban, is the 3.1 issue of Ticknor & Co's paper series of novels issued weekly, at 50 cents each, or $6.50 per year. It is an entertaining novel, designed to be very popular among the co-eds.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes has written the opening article for the "Beecher Memorial" now being prepared for Mrs. Beecher and her family by Mr. Edward W. Bok, of Brooklyn, N. Y., to which Mr. Gladstone, President Cleveland, the Duke of Argyle and some 75 other distinguished Americans and foreigners have also contributed articles. Only 100 copies of the "Memorial" are intended for the public.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Suit, druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at Eberbach's drug store.

The stones furnished by Uncle Sam for the soldiers' graves in the cemetery have been set. They are plain and neat, bearing the name, company and regiment of the deceased, and are similar to those in the national cemeteries.—Dexter Leader.

What a suggestive expression is that—"Held his peace!" It is he who holds his peace that can hold his tongue. It is he that holds his tongue that can hold his peace. The peace and the tongue are mutually re-active. If you want to lose your peace, let your tongue loose.—Baptist Weekly.

The Observer has the annual election of officers of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the M. E. church, of Saline:

President—Mrs. W. O. Hoyt.
1st vice Pres.—Mrs. H. Bassett.
2d vice Pres—Miss Mary Davenport.
Sec.—Mrs. S. A. Fitzgerald.
Cor. Sec.—Mrs. R. E. Robinson.
Treas—Mrs. P. E. Townsend.

Samuel Seney, justice of the peace, of Lima, having been called on to award damages to Mr. Tomas Fletcher of Lima, for sheep killed by dogs, would say for the benefit of dog owners, that they are not only liable for damage done by dogs, but are also liable to $50 fine and three months imprisonment in the county jail, for keeping a dog known to be a sheep killing dog.—Herald.

Many questions are asked what way the tag wool should be handled to sell. Our dealers say wash them clean, dry thoroughly, put what belongs into each fleece and do it up with it. Never put dead or unwashed wool of any kind inside of a washed fleece If our farmers will wash, and do their shearing from six to ten days after and put their wool up fairly, the chronic distrust of the buyers will soon die out, and our wool will bring as good prices as Ohio wool.—Observer.

The Saline Shorthorn Breeder's Association is the name of a new organization just formed among our best farmers. The officers are: President, H. Bassett; secretary, A. A. Wood; treasurer, J. E. Wood. Messrs A. A. Wood and C. C. Warner were sent to Illinois to select a bull, and they have just returned with the 2d Peri Duke of Norway. The animal was a year old in February, red in color, and was bred by J. H. Lafferty, of Alexis, Ill. Mr. Warner also purchased a fine cow, Lillie Belle Airdrie, 2d, which he brought home with him.—Observer.

FIELD DAY.

The spring session of the Field Day sports of the University took place Saturday on the Fair Grounds, under the auspices of the Rugby Association. The exercises commenced at 1:30, and a large crowd was in attendance, ladies forming quite a share of the spectators. The officers in charge conducted everything with promptness and dispatch. The officers of the association are:

President—F. F. Bumps.
Secretaries—C. D'A. Wright, E. D. Peifer.
Vice Pres.—D. Worcester.
Treasurers—J. Hegler, Geo. Whyte.
Officers of the Day:
Clerk—John L. Duffy.
Marshall—W. M. Morrow.
Judges—Prof. H. Sewall, J. H. Wade, Prof. A. C. McLaughlin, C. D. A. Wright.
Timekeepers—Prof. J. M. Schaeberle, Prof. M. W. Harrington, W. Watts.
Measurers—C. Byrnes, C. N. Banks.
Starter—Ed. Come.
Judge of Wrestling—Ed. Come.
Referee—Prof. P. R. B. de Pont.

The most interesting features of the day were the heavy weight wrestling and the hitch-and-kick of E. D. Peifer. There were six entries for the wrestling and those who lost two out of three were excluded. No result was reached as Malley and DeHaven will wrestle this week to decide the contest. E. D. Peifer entered in six classes and in the hich-and-kick broke the world's record by four inches, making 8 ft., 7 in.

The events were:

100 yds. dash won by J. E. Duffy. Time 11 2-5 sec.
Throwing Hammer, 16 lbs., won by W. W. Harless. 70 ft.
Standing Broad Jump, won by F. T. Ducharme. 11 ft. 10½ in.
120 yds. Hurdle Race, won by E. D. Peifer. 20 sec.
Light Weight Sparring, won by R. T. Farrand.
Heavy Weight Sparring, won by W. C. Malley. Points 13 to 6.
220 yds. Dash, won by J. E. Duffy.
Heavy Weight Wrestling.
1 Mile Bicycle Race, won by C. Bauman. Time 6 m. 21 sec
440 Yds. Dash, won by S. Sanford. Time 1 m. 2-5 sec.
Three Legged Race, won by Sanford & Jones. Time 14 sec.
Fat Mans Race, won by T. S. Maxwell. Time 13 sec.
Putting Shot, won by E. D. Peifer. 33 ft. 1 in.
Running High Jump, won by W. S. Bust. 5 ft. 2 in.
Hitch and Kick, won by E. D. Peifer. 8 ft. 7 in.

Exhibitions were given on vaulting horse, parallel bar and horizontal bar by Prof. Reinhardt and class.

A horse belonging to Geo. Olp fell asleep and dropped down, causing a little excitement for a moment.

THE GYMNASIUM.

Prof. Reinhardt of the gymnasium spared us a few moments the other day and gave a few points on the efforts and success of the gymnasium. Upon being asked if he was satisfied with the result of the gymnasium this last year he replied, in effect: "Well, in a measure I am. It certainly has done a great deal of good to many of the students and that is the object of a gymnasium. The principal reason why more students do not exercise here is that they do not have the time. Their time is so taken up at college that they cannot afford to waste the little time they do have in coming away down here, for a few moments exercise. The gymnasium ought to be on the campus. Then it would be successful beyond a doubt. As it is it is not self-supporting, and if the assistance from outside was withdrawn, the Rugby Association could not continue it. I believe that on the whole there is at present too little benefit derived for the amount of money sacrificed. Why, if only the professors would show a little more interest and drop down and look on occasionally, even if they do not exercise, it would be helpful to the enterprise. Only three professors have been inside the door since I came here. President Angell never has been here, and I think that this non-support has something to do with lukewarmness of the legislature in granting an appropriation for a gymnasium fund. You know, of course, that the present apparatus has been donated to the university by Mr. Hegler, and that he now supports the enterprise. He has been willing all along to donate a good sum provided the legislature would do their share, and I believe that if sufficient interest had been shown he would have given it anyhow. Correspondence is now kept up with Mr. Hegler, but I do not know what will come of it.

During the first semester there were 200 members and 230 in the second. The average daily attendance is about 40. The bath room, though plain answers the purpose and if the building was better ventilated and not so hard to heat, we would have a very good place. Can't tell anything about my plans for next year, but I like the place and if circumstances point that way, I may remain here."

P. W. Carpenter, with whom the general public of this section of the moral vineyard is principally acquainted as the Grand Scribe, Recorder-in-Chief and Secretary Superior of about all the Mystic Lodges and Tents and Camps and Orders that have their abiding place in this community, is a mild-mannered soft spoken personage under ordinary circumstances; but he was mad last Thursday evening, and for a time had no more use for mild-manners or soft words than would an angel have use for the expressions Peter did employ. He had made arrangements to attend the Masonic services at Ann Arbor that evening; the hackman he had engaged to take him to the depot failed to call for him, and the train arrived and departed, with the unfortunate subject of our remarks patiently waiting at home for the hackman. He had carefully brushed the gilt-edged uniform he was going to wear, had written and committed the unexpected remarks he was going to make, and had eaten a light supper in view of possible invitation to feast; and then to "get left" through the forgetfulness of a poor sinner of a hackman, was more than ordinary, everyday human nature could stand, and Peter didn't stand it. He borrowed the horse and buggy of an intimate friend and with them conveyed his uniform and unexpected remarks to Ann Arbor. It may be hardly necessary to add that hackmen are remembered in Peter's prayers no more forever.—

It will be quite difficult for runaway couples to get married after this. According to the new law parties desiring to have the marriage ceremony performed will be obliged to secure a license from the county clerk (it ought to have been city or township clerk), for which a fee of 50 cents goes to the clerk, and if the bride is under age the written consent of her parents must be obtained also. Then the marriage must be reported at once by the official performing the ceremony. The divorce law has been changed also, making it very difficult to obtain a divorce. Easy going people will have to go to Injianny.

Once again has Michigan come to the front grandly. This time at the national drill, at Washington, in which the cadets from the Michigan Military Academy at Orchard Lake, took the first prize. This is not only an honor to the boys themselves and to the academy, but to the State as well. Hurrah for old Michigan and her grand educational system.

It is said that a large number of Chicago's thieves and thugs whom she has been driving from her limits recently, have come to Michigan to steal a living from our citizens. One thing is certain, there seems to be a plentiful supply of them just at present, in this part of Michigan.

At a democratic convention in Louisville an ice water tank set up in the lobby by some generous citizen, was believed by the delegates to be a Babcock fire extinguisher, probably as nobody used the glass once during the convention.

The annual encampment of the Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias is to be held at Kalamazoo, June 15, and it is thought that about 400 Knights from the 30 divisions in the state will attend the same.

FROM THE PEOPLE.

Our Tax Laws a Premium for Shylocks and Misers.

EDITOR COURIER:—I noticed in your last issue a reference to the manner in which the board of supervisors of Genesse had outwitted the money loaners of that county, and unearthed their wealth in mortgages. Which is good as far as it goes, but it appears to us that it would be still better if the State would take up the matter and compel the taxing of all mortgages in the assessor's district in which the mortgage is held. For instance, if a farm in Ann Arbor township had a mortgage of $1,000 against it have the mortgage placed upon the roll of the supervisor of Ann Arbor township. Let the supervisor assess it against the farm with the regular taxes, and let the payment of its proportion of the just taxes of the district by the owner of the farm be in law a receipt for so much paid upon the principal or interest of the mortgage. This can be done by a state law, and in this way much of the burden now borne by poor men be transferred where it belongs, on to the shoulders of the wealthy men.

If the State legislature refuses or neglects to pass such a law then the supervisors of the different counties of the State could adopt a plan of co-operation. Let each county do as Genesse has done, and when a mortgage is found that is held by a man in a different county, let the same be reported to the supervisors (through the county clerk) of the county. That method would insure the taxation of all mortgages held by people in Michigan (which are a good many).

It is asserted that there is one man in Washtenaw county, holding at least $200,000 against property in this county, who only pays taxes on $5,000 or $6,000, and it is claimed that there is no power to assess his great wealth.

There is one thing which is very unjust. If a man takes his money and puts it into improvements in a city or township; if he builds him a nice new house; if he erects a barn to protect his stock or crops; if he is energetic, public spirited, and helps build up the community in which he resides, and advance the price of property, he is immediately placed on the assessment roll for every cent he invests. His neighbor, who is not public spirited, who never builds a building, erects a new barn or helps improve property in the community, but hordes his money and puts it out in mortgages, escapes taxation almost completely.

I tell you, Mr. Editor, by the present mode of taxation there is a premium placed upon misers and shylocks; there is a burden placed upon the public spirited man. It is not right; it should be reversed. The man who invests his money to build up a community should be encouraged to keep on in the good work, the misers who live by sucking the life-blood out of their less fortunate neighbors should be compelled to pay their share of the public burdens. Is it not so? Yours for the right,

TAX-PAXER.

DIXBORO, May 30th, 1887.

MEMORIAL DAY SERVICE.

Although Monday opened anything but pleasant and inviting, yet the members of Welch Post, G. A. R., flinched not a particle, and came forth with full ranks to do honor to their brothers who have passed to the other side, and no more answer to the roll call here.

At about nine o'clock in the forenoon a detail of 15 comrades with a commander marched into the court house and received baskets of flowers prepared by the ladies, and then proceeded to the St. Thomas, Catholic, cemetery, where the graves of 13 soldiers were strewn with flowers. Returning for more flowers they were joined by the entire post, and all were conveyed to the City Cemetery in the 5th ward. Here the ladies of the Decoration Society had tastily trimmed the soldier's monument, and had the grounds handsomely mowed and prepared. The ritual service of the G. A. R. was observed notwithstanding the rain came down in torrents, and the graves of 13 soldiers were also tenderly covered with God's handsomest gift to man, the beautiful flowers of spring.

The next place visited was Forest Hill Cemetery. In this beautiful resting-place of the dead repose the ashes of 47 soldiers of the War of the Rebellion. They were strewn with flowers, together with the grave of one Revolutionary soldier. The graves of Mrs. Judge Lawrence, Mrs. Dr. Breakey and Mrs. Moses Seabolt were also remembered, because of their earnest services in behalf of the boys in blue during their life-time. This concluded the services at the graves and for the faithful manner in which the members of the post performed their duty through the down-pouring rain, they deserve great praise. The feeling that prompted these men to do their duty no matter what inconvenience it put them to is a feeling that is too sacred to be portrayed upon paper.

In the afternoon the post, headed by the city band, marched to the university hall through another storm which came on just as they started. Co. A started out with them but returned to their armory after marching a couple of blocks.

At the hall the program as published last week was strictly carried out. The Scriptures were read by Rev. Dr. Ryder, a prayer offered by Rev. Dr. Steele, and a few very appropriate introductory remarks made by Prof. Chas. E. Greene, the commander of the post.

The following paragraphs, selected from Capt. Allen's speech, will show some of the thoughts advanced, and we regret very much that time and space forbids publishing it entire this week, as it was a grand effort:

I know of no fitter place than this to speak to my comrades in arms and through them to the thousands who were either children or patriotic citizens when the nation passed through its night of sorrow. This school of the people, owned and cared for by them, has returned a thousand fold its cost, in giving the desire and power to myriads of the youth of the state and the nation to be intelligently true to the principles that alone can make secure a government of the people.

Every hill top had its school-house, every valley its church. It was the home of intelligence, patriotism, and universal education imbedded in the very heart of the continent that made it possible to crush out the rebellion.

The common schools solved the bloody riddle and made it possible for the nation to triumph.

When we remember that these armies were made up of the boys from our own farms and workshops, from our schools and colleges, volunteers every one of them, knowing the worth of their country because intelligent enough to comprehend it, we ask what sacrifice is too great to continue these blessings, by making education universal and compulsory. Every boy who graduates in the district school, and much more each one who receives a diploma from the high school and university, supported by the money of the people, is under a most solemn implied contract to be a true citizen.

Had the South been as the North the home of universal education there would have been no rebellion.

Of the million heroes history will preserve the names of scarce a thousand.

There was not a regiment but contained men with ability fitted for the highest responsibility.

The men of 1862 and 1863 who went into the army were among the best in the service, and enlisted from motives of the highest patriotism. They were excelled in intelligence by none who went before them or followed after.

Could all the sections have seen the bloody object lesson afterward painted there would have been no war. Its hideousness would have frightened even Jefferson Davis.

Had the rebellion succeeded for want of volunteers we should to-day be compelled to buy our peace by maintaing a standing army of 100,000 men, at an annual cost of double what the pension list can ever be.

Let him then who decries the growing pension list, be set down as one who has not counted all the cost.

At some future day I hope to see reared upon this campus, not a magnificent monument of cold granite, but a beautiful structure devoted to the uses of the student, over whose portals shall be written: "Memorial Hall, erected by the people of the Commonwealth of Michigan, in memory of her brave student sons, who from this and other schools, went forth to die, that the nation should, under God, have a new birth of freedom, and that governments of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

We have forgiven the south her treason. She is part and parcel of a union never to be dissolved, as proud of its record, as jealous of its future as are we.

But to Jeffers n Davis the Cataline of the country, no forgiveness can ever come.

Military detractors, whether here or across the ocean, strike in vain at the reputation or the fame of Ulysses S. Grant. His laurels are fadeless, and will endure as long as the Hudson, on whose banks he sleeps, rolls to the eternal sea.

The poem, excellently read by Mrs S. S. Garrigues, entitled "Recollections of Gettysburg," was written by a member of the old 4th Mich. Infantry, and was of great merit.

The vocal music, under the leadership of Dr. Dorrance was so well rendered that it was greeted with encores. The band also did excellently well. And the goodly sized audience—large considering the miserable weather—went away well satisfied with what they had heard and seen.

"You can chronicle the fact if you choose," said a prominent man in university circles to us the other day, that "the classes in the Homœopathic department have all the cases of obstetrics that can be used by them, and could have plenty more if desired. The cry that such cases cannot be obtained in our hospitals here is the merest bosh. If the regents would appropriate a few hundred dollars to pay the expenses, all of the cases of confinement that could be used to advantage by the medical classes would be forthcoming. This I know to be a fact. If the department could have the energetic support and assistance of every professor in the medical faculty without exception, that it ought to have, this talk about dividing the time between this city and Detroit would soon be silenced. Why, sir, the very agitation of the subject by a member of the faculty is suicidal. No wonder the attendance does not keep up as it should. It is wrong, very wrong that such things are allowed. Let a professor in any other department advocate a policy that would destroy his department, and see what would become of him." Why there should be favoritism in this instance is a mystery to a great many people.

There appears to be a general complaint from papers all over the state of the failure of supervisors to assess the dogs owned in different communities. In several cities the police have been directed to shoot every dog found upon the street without a muzzle.

The Alma Normal School is a believer in printers' ink, and through its proper use is building up a fine educational institution at Alma, Gratiot county.

UNIVERSITY ITEMS.

Prof. C. B. Jones was in Detroit Saturday.

T. R. Mather and C. R. Godfrey of Grand Rapids' were the guests of L. E. Taney at the Sig. House last Saturday.

Many students are busy procuring autographs of friends for their canes, thus making a pleasing memento in after years.

W. A. McArthur, '90, who has been confined to his house by a sprained ankle is once more able to resume his work at the university.

The crowd of children who daily tramp through the various halls of the university make it very annoying for many of the Professors.

Secretary Wade has sent out over 3,500 programs of the semi-centennial celebration, and the replies coming in indicate a large attendance.

Wm. Morrow, lit. '90, captain of '90s foot ball team, left college last Saturday for Omaha, to accept a situation on the Union Pacific R'y.

Prof. W. W. Beaman visited the Ann Arbor schools last Friday, with a view to graduates from there being admitted to the university by diploma.

De Haven and Malley will wrestle for the championship for heavy weight wrestling next Thursday. It will very likely take place on the campus.

Prof. M. E. Cooley is engaged in superintending the putting in of an automatic cutoff of the Lansing engine type on the engine of the COURIER office.

The Glee Club meets every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings to practice for their concert this commencement. They will be assisted by the Amphions.

The Freshman ball team will play the Detroit High School's team on the campus, Saturday morning. Codd of the Athletics will pitch for the Detroit boys

Henry Wade Rogers delivered his last lecture to the Senior Laws on Thursday the 26th. He closed by wishing the boys every success amid the perils of their legal life.

W. A. McAndrews '86, of Ypsi. was in town Saturday, the guest of his Delta Tau friends. He is making arrangements for a reunion of the class of '86 during commencement time.

The Chronicle in its last issue credits Dr. Maclean with expressing a regret in a recent lecture that the medical department has no organ to defend him against the wicked COURIER.

The senior laws held a meeting on Thursday to consider the subject of their class banquet. A committee of three was appointed to canvass the class as to the practicability of holding it in Detroit.

Does the Argonaut think that the only method of gaining some idea of the great religion of to-day is through the Student's Christian Association? If so, for what purposes then are the many churches of our city?

The Governor is now signing the University appropriation bill, (having at last accounts got as far as the union Lnce) and there will be a meeting of the Regents the latter part of this week or the first of next.

M. C. Sheehan, dent. '88, when he becomes tired of pulling teeth and filling teeth, varies the monotony by bolting and going out to Strawberry or Portage lake and pulling out fish and filling the boys upon fish stories when he returns, and he can do both.

The Leclanau Enterprise, published at Leland, has this item of interest, in its issue of May 26th:

Prof Davis, of Ann Arbor, is rusticating at this place, and making preparations for the accommodation of his class in practical surveying. The Professor's chosen camping ground, on Pickard's point near this village, is one of the prettiest and most romantic spots in northern Michigan.

The Hobart Guild gave a social to its members last Friday evening. The committees acted the part of hosts and hostesses so admirably that everyone had a delightful time. The Chequamegons furnished the music for the dancing which took place in the parlors and Hangsterfer catered to the wants of the inner man with excellent taste. Promptly at 11 o'clock the cermonies closed.

The freshman class held a meeting last Saturday morning in order to elect an Oracle board. About 70 members turned out. A tax of 10 cents was levied on each member for the foot-ball. Sixteen nominations were offered for Oracle board and from them the following were elected: E. D. Gay, L. E. Torrey, W. D. Ball, L. D. Richardson, E. B. Conrad, S. H. Snow, E. B. Coolidge, E. L. Miller, Miss Damon and Miss Randolph.

The university appropriations after being hung up a long time, were passed at last by the house on Wednesday and concurred in by the senate on Friday. As passed, about $14,000 were clipped off; $5,000 of which was for a much needed addition to the dental college, and $5,000 for books. The poor gymnasium didn't get a cent. The new hygenic laboratory only passed by a vote of 38 to 34. But then it is passed, and the work upon it will be pushed.

The seniors are busy preparing for their reception commencement week. The faculty has offered to pay half the expenses if the pavilion is built on the space immediately northeast of university hall. The seniors who dance are to pay $13 and those who do not, pay $8. As every third dance is a promenade and everybody is entitled to the use of the floor, it is a question how a distinction can be made whereby everyone is entitled to his privileges and no more. If this question is not settled soon trouble is apprehended.

The Cleveland homeopathic hospital is probably the largest institution of the kind in the country, so large in fact that they advertise as a college because of their supposed great clinical advantages, and yet out of all the hundreds of beds in that institution, only 15 are at the disposal of students, all of the remainder are for private patients. And what is true of this hospital is true of every other hospital in the country. For instance, in the Providence hospital, Washington, D. C., there are only 12 out of all the beds there, at the disposal of students. So the scheme to dismember our university medical department could not be of any good to the students.

The Homeop. freshmen have class canes.

Prof. Dewey went to Battle Creek to inspect schools last Friday.

"It" is not of sufficient importance my sweet Argonaut, to waste time in guessing.

The next chamber concert is to be given in Hobart Hall, Saturday evening, June 4th.

Fred Robinson, of Cleveland, Ohio, visited his sister of the dental department over Sunday.

The Alpha Deltas and Zeta Psis will play a game of ball on the Fair Grounds, Thursday, weather permitting.

L. A. McLouth is organizing a class who desire to be tutored in Greek and Latin during the summer vacation.

Prof. Frieze had a large audience at Hobart Hall Thursday evening, and his lecture was of great interest.

The faculty of Harvard university have shut down on foot-ball. "It is so hawid wough don'tcher know."

The Y. M. C. A. of Cornell proposes to erect a $50,000 building and has $8,000 already subscribed for that purpose.

Miss Burridge, lit. '89, has accepted a position as teacher at Austin, Texas, and has gone to assume the duties thereof.

Would not the torch-light procession feature be the means of keeping many undergraduates here if it was adopted?

The last Argonaut had a description of the last visit of Forepaugh's show to this city, in which the students took a hand at the fun.

A party of University students all hailing from Hastings, numbering twenty or more, picknicked at Whitmore Lake last Saturday.

The game between the Universities and the Cass club was postponed on account of rain. Memorial day seems to be a bad day for the Cass to have a game.

The Chatauqua Lecture Association are advertising for an agent to distribute circulars in the University. The compensation is a season ticket to the assembly.

BASE BALL.

The University Team played the Athletics of Detroit at their grounds on Woodward Ave. in Detroit, Saturday the 28th. A good attendance witnessed an interesting game in which our boys were victorious by a score of 11 to 6. They played a good game up to the ninth inning when three errors yielded as many runs. The infield did excellent work, Macmillan, Muir, and Carpenter acquitting themselves admirably, Macmillan's beautiful stop of a liner to right being especially fine. The outfield had ten chances. Hibbard in left field gathering in six long difficult flies which looked good for several bases. McDonnell relied for support on his field and allowed the ball to be hit often instead of endeavoring to retire the batsmen on strikes. Owing to Miller's injury, Tray of Jackson was engaged to catch, and he supported McDonnell very well.

Following is the score by innings.

A Slick Confidence Game Successfully Worked.

Our bustling little city was startled last Saturday to find that it was not entirely free from the wiles of the confidence man. Daniel B. Brown was the victim of a very neatly executed game which cost him just $2,700. Mr. Brown resides on South Main street, this side of the toll gate. He is 82 years of age and came to Ann Arbor in 1826. The experience he may have gained as the first sheriff of Washtenaw county seems to have been forgotten in his dealing with the two sharpers who violated his confidence. He is generally supposed to be a man of considerable property, though not what might be termed wealthy.

It seems that recently two young men engaged rooms on Fifth street, and made inquiries into Mr. Brown's peculiarities. On Saturday morning one of them accosted him as a friend of former years and inquired tenderly after his health. He confided to him that, contrary to his usual custom he had bought two lottery tickets and had drawn two books alike, the History of Ohio, and that he desired to make Mr. Brown a present of one. Misled by the apparent frankness, Brown followed him to his room, where he was introduced to a friend. This gentleman purported to be the agent of the Louisana State Lottery, who handed the books to Brown's friend, and also gave him two lottery tickets and $10. Brown received his promised share and was induced to take the lottery ticket. Its cheapness being the only virtue in his eyes. The Louisiana lottery being present in the form of its agent, both parties drew, without the formality of waiting to correspond with headquarters, and lo! were lucky enough to draw $2,700 a piece. The agent counted out two piles equaling that sum, but refused to hand it over until he found out whether they were worth that much, as he did not wish to give the money to persons who were in no position to benefit himself in the advertising line. He asked them to prove that they were worth that mound and if so, he had nothing more to say. The capper drew from his pocket $2,700, thus giving conclusive evidence as to his right to the money and tried to let Mr. Brown's reputation serve instead of an actual exhibition of the money. The agent wanted to see the money itself, so Brown started off to get it. He returned in the after noon with a certified check but the agent was not satisfied until the check was cashed. Brown was by this time elated and slightly confused and when the intricacies of lottery affairs made it necessary to draw again, he did so, following the example of the capper. The agent decided that as they drew blanks, all gains were forfeited.

The capper denounced him as a fraud and with attempting to swindle he and his friend Brown out of their money and threatened to call an officer. The agent expounded to them the laws governing all lottery transactions so successfully that Brown was satisfied by the promise of the capper to refund his loss and he would sue the agent, and proposed going up and getting the money which he had at his room on Thayer street. They drove up to the house where he said he lived with his wife, and asked Brown to hold the horse a minute while he got the money, and that he would go over and see Jerry Knowlton who lived around the corner. Brown saw the man go around to the side of the house and presently go over towards Mr. Knowlton's house. After waiting a reasonable length of time he grew uneasy and went to the door and asked if Mr. Jackson and wife lived there. They knew of no such person, and then it dawned upon him that he had been the victim of a confidence game. Sadly he drove home and now constantly walks his room, and his friends fear that the shock may prove serious to him. No trace has yet been discovered of the perpetrators of the robbery and it is feared that there is no chance of regaining the money.

Consolation for our Contemp.

From the Ypsilantian.

The Ann Arbor Register published the names of the candidates at the recent election in its city as Jones and Brown and Smith, or whatever the last name happened to be, deeming, as it afterward explained, the publication of full names as the means employed only by the newspapers of small towns to fill up their columns. An illustration of what the Register regards as the real article of news, genuine big town news, is being presented by its giving editorial time and space in airing the grief of its business manager over his failure to securer a job of printing which the wicked COURIER secured. If the matter continues to increase in importance in the eyes of the Register management, as it has during the past two weeks, the next installment of the harrowing recital may be expected in supplement form, accompanied by illustrations and diagrams. Better repress your sneers over the methods of papers in small towns in the future, hadn't you?

ANN ARBOR, FRIDAY, JUNE 10

WITH THREE TIMES THE GREATEST ON EARTH.

A GEORGEOUSLY NOVEL STREET PAGEANT. Compared with which all former efforts pale and glimmer with a feeble and uncertain light, will take place on FRIDAY AT 10 O'CLOCK, the route of which will be published hereafter. You may tell it in New York, publish it in Gath and in the streets of Eschelon. Proclaim it from the house-tops and send the joyous news to the uttermost parts of the earth! A Modern CÆSAR, greater in his line than JULIUS (?), has crossed the Metropolitan Rubicon! Rome has caught the spirit of the laconic military message. Multitudes at home and abroad have gathered the inspiration. A million Metropolitan visitors during nineteen weeks in New York will indorse the verdict, VENI! VIDI! VICI!

But what about the Show! At the fall of Vicksburg the public did not ask how Grant's soldiers looked, or his Commissariat held out. He got there! Enough to know! When Sherman marched to the sea the backbone of the Confederacy was broken! Hail Columbia! Neither night nor Blucher came, but a Waterloo! How was the victory won? 'Twas simple as a twice told tale. The elephants did it. The horses did it. The brilliant equestrian and acrobatic stars did it. The animals did it. The Hippodrome did it. The Blondin Horse did it. Picaninny did it. John L. Sullivan, the Pugilistic Elephant, did it. He Completely Knocked Them all Out! The Quadrille Elephant did it. Even Jack, the Somersault Dog, did it, winning the loudest applause (next to the elephants) ever received by any single feature, and yet he is among the least of Adam Forepaugh's great novel attractions! In a word, All the Grand Aggregated Attractions of the Forepaugh Show, the only equal of which a million of New York people will tell you candidly were never before exhibited by any show on earth, did it. If only a Circus, Hippodrome, Menagerie, Trained Animalas remodeled

LOCAL.

Council meeting Monday evening next.

Tony Schiappacasse has the boss fruit stand now.

Dr. Steele supplied the Baptist pulpit last Sunday evening.

The north end of State street is looking 500 per cent. better already.

The small boy has delightful dreams now, of all the paws of 4 paw.

The boys bathing inside the city limits in day light better "look a leedle oudt."

The streets in the 4th ward have the appearance of driving park tracks now.

That Pontiac street bridge will have to be changed somewhat to protect pedestrians from teams.

Remember the reunion of the old 4th Michigan infantry, to be held in Ann Arbor, on June 22d.

The prizes for the Lawn Tennis Tournament are on exhibition in Andrews & Witherby's window.

Peter Carey is about the happiest man in town now over his recent trade of locations, and well he may be.

Nel. Sutherland will sell 900 volumes of books in the St. James block, on chattel mortgage sale next Saturday.

The first home-made strawberry of the season found its way to our table—and mouth—Monday, being raised by George Sweet.

The firm of Bliss & Bliss has been dissolved, Wallace W. Bliss having purchased the business, and will continue the same.

One week from next Sunday is Children's Day, and the various Sunday Schools are making extensive preparations therefor.

The news of the success of the Orchard Lake boys at Washington was received with great satisfaction in this city where the cadets have many warm friends.

An attempt is being made to raise money enough to furnish the rooms of the Women's Auxilliary society of St. Andrew's church, at the Hobart Guild.

John T. Fuller has been appointed town clerk of Ann Arbor township until Elder Davis shall have recovered sufficiently to attend to the duties thereof.

Where piles of sand are left in the street for building or other purposes, lanterns should be hung on them dark nights for the protection of those who drive.

Prof. Henry Wade Rogers has bought the lot on North street, at the head of N. Ingalls street, of Prof. Pattengill, and will erect a new and handsome residence thereon.

The usual Memorial Day rain came Monday, but in unusual quantity. It was much needed, however, and the good it did will fully overbalance the disappointments it caused.

The annual social given by the ladies of St. Thomas' church society for the benefit of the school fund, was down for last evening, but was postponed until to-morrow evening because of the rain.

On some of our street corners, exciting games of quoits afford daily amusement to a throng of spectators. The old Grecian games bid fair to be re-established in the "Athens of the West."

Jas. R. Bach having bought a half interest in the business of W. Tremaine, will commence work there about June 8th. We all wish "Jim" the best of success, and believe he will win it, too.

The Ann Arbor Fuel Gas Co., has filed articles of corporation. Capital stock $300,000, with 3,000 shares, which are held by citizens of this city, Detroit and Pittsburgh, Pa. This means gas—natural gas.

There are several points of land in the locality of the M. C. R. R's new station house, that ought to be owned by the city, and it would not hurt the owners thereof to donate some of them for the good of the place.

Four bycielers from Toledo and five from Detroit, came up to the city Sunday on their wheels and took a spin around the city, enjoying the good roads of this locality. Monday morning they left for Detroit via Northville.

Prof. David P. Mayhew, who died at Detroit Saturday night, was formerly professor of natural science, and mental philosophy at the State Normal School at Ypsilanti. He was also at one time a member of the State board of education, under Gov. Bagley.

Capitalists from Detroit are looking over the ground as to the feasibility of laying a street railway. The route considered is from the Michigan Central depot up State st. to University, and thence to Washtenaw avenue. Wonder if our council will grant them a charter?

Chas. D. Bentley, whose home is in Minneapolis Minn., is to be married to Miss Mary Ferdon, at the residence of the bride's parents Thursday, tomorrow, evening, Rev. Dr. Ramsay officiating. None but the immediate relatives will attend. The couple will live in Sault St. Marie this summer.

"They marched up hill and then marched down again," could almost be applied to the Co. A boys, who marched out a couple of blocks Monday p. m., and the rain commencing to come down pretty fast marched back again to their armory. The G. A. R. boys like old veterans, proceeded on through the wet.

Cases of ovariotomy are of considerable value to clinical work, and last week two persons came to the University for treatment. But, we are reliably informed, that Dr. Maclean, instead of giving his classes the benefit of the operations, hurried the patients off to Detroit where he operated upon them. Is that the way he builds up the University which built him up?

The Edison incandescent electric light has been put in the livery barns of Jas. W. Robison, on Fourth street, C. O. Brush, corner Fourth and Washington streets, also in the stores of George W. Cropsey, on Washington street, and Geo. Wahr, on Main street, and orders are being received which will be filled as soon as possible.

The chamber concert of the Detroit Philharmonic club at Hobart Hall Saturday evening, assisted by Miss May Whedon as vocal soloist, will be one of the choice musical events of the season. A few more tickets can be obtained, and it will be a treat for music loving people. To Prof. Cady is due the credit of bringing the club here.

The members of Welch Post feel under special obligation to the Ladies' Decoration Society, who so tastefully decorated the soldiers' monuments in the Fifth ward cemetery, and arranged the flowers into bouquets and other floral designs, at the Court House, on Memorial Day, also to Col. Dean's daughter, who assisted them, and to Mrs. J. G. Price, who kindly made and presented to each member of the Post a handsome button-hole boquet.

The Detroit Evening Journal has these truthful words: "The money appropriated by the Michigan legislature to the University is one of its best investments. Every dollar which makes it better and more useful, makes it more widely and better known; makes the State more widely and better known, and attracts to the State the most thrifty and ambitious kind of population. It would be hard to invent a better way of building up the State."

City property is verging very closely on a boom in prices.

Weeds on all the streets ought to be cut now and then again at commencement time.

It rains just as easy as it didn't rain a few days or weeks ago when we needed it so much.

The council should look well to the city's interests in giving away the rights of the people.

Jerome A. Freeman is building a handseme residence on Fuller st., opposite the new depot grounds.

The wheat in some places is said to be heading. A thing seldom heard of in this latitude at this date.

The Saving's Bank people improved Memorial Day by having the wood work inside the bank nicely painted.

Once-in-a-while you see the light in the clock tower, and once-in-a-while you don't see it—more often you don't.

All bills against the city not in the hands of the committee Friday evening, will have to wait over until the following month.

Some excellent improvements have been made at the 5th ward city cemetery by the trustees. A thing very much needed.

Wheat brings 85 cents per bushel now, and there is quite a movement in the cereal. There is a good demand for flour also.

Emanuel Wagner paid Justice Freauff, on Tuesday last, $25 fine and $4.55 costs for keeping open his saloon at unlawful hours.

There are too many youngsters playing in and around the court house corridors on holidays for the comfort or safety of older people.

C. F. Hauser, who attempted suicide at the county house about three weeks since, has been adjudged insane, and will be taken to Pontiac to-morrow.

Mr. J. H. Lyons, of Bush Centre, Kansas, and Miss Carrie Henlon, are to be married this evening, at the residence of the bride's parents in this city.

Welch Post G. A. R. have signified their intention of giving the Wiltsie Post Sons of Veterans a helping hand toward new uniforms, paraphernalia, etc.

If the weather should be favorable the spring fair will be continued through Friday, as the exhibit is too good to be lost. So far the rain has been a dampener on it.

James J. Parshall and one or two others have taken hold of the fruit-canning scheme and will make a success of it, having nearly completed the desired subscription.

If you have $2,700 about your person just give it to the Ladies' Charitable Union, where it will do worlds of good, and don't, we beg of you, invest it in a lottery scheme.

The M. C. R. R. make the following reduced rates on special days: If 50 persons go to Detroit a rate of 1⅓ fare is made. If 100 go, one fare for round trip and if 200 go, one cent a mile.

Cards are out announcing that Mrs. Kittie Lindley is to be married Thursday evening, June 2d, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Sed James, to Elmer C. Cary, M. D.

It is altogether probable that Gov. Ashley, will not attend Ben. Perley Poore's (the great Washington newspaper correspondent) funeral as a mourner. His recent book is too fresh in the Gov's memory.

At the Memorial Day exercises at Dexter the oration of H. Wirt Newkirk of Dover, is said to have been as fine an effort as has been heard there for many a day. It was full of good thoughts and of feeling.

Charles Callaghan, of Chicago, Ill., and Miss Annie Donnelly, of this city, were married this a. m. at St. Thoma's church. The bride has a large circle of friends in the city to wish her years of happiness and usefulness.

The crowd that congregates in front of Rosey's every night makes it exceedingly unpleasant for ladies who are compelled to pass on that side of the street. Perhaps something could be done to remove the nuisance.

There will be a mass meeting at the Knight's of Labor Hall, on Main street, Friday evening June 3d, at 7:30 p. m., of all the laboring classes of the city. Members of trade unions are also invited. Everyone should attend this meeting.

The Toledo & Ann Arbor railroad has contracted to extend its line from the present terminus to Cadillac, in return for which Cadillac will issue $30,000 in bonds for the company's benefit. Work will begin at the Cadillac end within a few days.

A firm calling themselves the New York Advertising Co. is offering a great scheme to students. They offer upon receipt of $2, to give a man a position as agent for New Era soap with a salary of $50.00 per month. Very few have applied as yet.

Monthly meeting of Washtenaw Pomological Society next Saturday at the court house, 2 p. m., sharp. Topics: Report of committees on transportation and fruit preserving factory; spraying trees for the killing of insects; price for berry picking; and other important business. All are cordially invited.

There is much complaint—and just complaint, too—of the utter disregard of decency displayed by many of the boys and young men of the city who go in bathing in the mill race in the day time. The COURIER has had one or two communications upon this subject, but it seems as though our officers of the law ought to be able to cope with the nuisance without the newspapers taking up the warfare.

We will soon bore for gas
[At least so 'tis said]
And 'twill soon come to pass
That Ann Arbor's neighbors
Will all scratch their heads,
And offer no "sass,"
But envy her fortune
And copy her labors
In boring for gas.

We're sure to find gas.
Most every town has—
Of a certain bad sort
A flamboyant mass
That ignites at a word
And contemns a retort,
Making trouble, alas!

But Ann Arbor gas
Will not be of that class;
But beneficent fluids
That wealth will amass,
Making each man a Crœsus
(Though honest as Druids),
Benevolent gas!—
True subterranean,
Inter-Trentonian,
Upper silurian.
Lower Devonian,
Or a saliferous
Gas!
O we'll bore through to Hades
But what we'll strike gas.

Some foreign burglars attempted to gain an entrance into the house of ye local last Thursday evening, while he was quietly sleeping the peaceful sleep of the righteous. We say "foreign" because none of our home talent would so disgrace their profession as to attempt to break into a newspaper man's house, where they know there would be nothing to steal but old newspapers, half-worn out lead pencils, a few pads of white paper and perhaps a dried up paste pot, none of which would be marketable, not even pawn-able for a drink. The minute our name was called out by a strong-lunged inmate of the house who was awakened by the raising of a window, the would-be burglar dropped the window in a hurry and skulked off as if thoroughly ashamed of himself for having made such a wretched mistake; and we judge he did not stop running until he reached Ypsilanti, for we notice he was down there Friday night. We shouldn't care so much about this reckless burglar if he had not trampled all over our garden. That made us mad, and if he does it again—well, he hadn't better be caught at it.

Miss Grace Scrafford assisted in entertaining the people at the May festival of the Young People's Society of the M. E. church, Ypsilanti, last evening.

C. S. Tuttle, of Chicago, was home over Sunday and Monday with his parents. "Cheed" reports everything in prime condition in the windy western city.

E. J. Johnson was taken ill with a slight stroke of paralysis Monday evening, on returning from Dundee, on the T. & A. A. cars, and had to be helped home.

The Ashleys leave for Toledo, Ohio, to take up their residence there. Miss Ashley will reside with Mrs. Prof. Dewey while completing her course in the University.

L. W. Briggs is in the city to-day visiting friends, and recounting the many sights and scenes viewed by him in his recent very pleasant journey to the Pacific coast.

Miss Louie Craig, of Division st. left on Monday for Europe. She joins a company of ten Cincinnati young ladies and together they will revel amid the pleasures of European sight-seeing until next October.

Gen. O. B Willcox and family sail from New York, on the "Rhineland," June 4, arriving in Antwerp on the 15th. They will make their first stay at Hanover, and go from thence to Paris and Italy. The length of their trip is indefinite but Mr. O. B. Wilcox, Jr. hopes to return to college by October 1888.

Frank Otis is visiting his mother, Mrs Aretus Dunn, on Washington st. Mr. O. came north last spring after having sailed for many years as first mate on one of the Morgan line of ocean steamers, and engaged as captain to run a steamer on the lakes, but not liking this cold climate he will return again to his southern ocean home.

In Memory of Rev. S. W. Duffield.

At a meeting of the session of the First Presbyterian Church of Ann Arbor, held on the twenty-ninth day of May, 1887, the following minute was direced to be placed upon the session records:

The members of the First Presbyterian Church have received with deep sorrow the intelligence of the death of REVEREND SAMUEL W. DUFFIELD, at his residence in Bloomville, New Jersey, on the tweifth day of May, 1887. Installed as pastor of this people in 1871, he ministered of the gospel of Divine grace during three years of the growth of this church, and his labors were blessed by the Master whom he served. The hearts of the people gracefully cherish the memory of his service. The young people's association is a living memorial of his efforts, and the house of worship in its completion gives pleasant evidence of his activities. He is remembered for the consolation of personal ministrations, for gitts of speech in services of thanksgiving, and for riches of grace unveiled in the gospel it was his privilege to preach. With all those who have shared in his ministry, the people of this church and the members of this session desire to join in placing a tribute of most grateful affection upon his grave. To his bereaved companion and children, and to his honored father, the people of the First Presbyterian Church of Ann Arbor especially desire to give their most heart-felt sympathy in this great affliction, and offer their prayers to the Great Source of all strength for the comfort He alone can afford. It is his bidding to write: "*Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord * * * and their works do follow them.*"

The Detroit Evening Journal Lansing correspondent gives this glowing description of one of our representative's flights of oratory in a recent house debate:

"That grand, that beautiful, that noble, that good, that generous city of Detroit." This came from Manly, who was indulging in a rhetorical flourish in the house. "She is the pride of our hearts, the pride of our state, the pride of—of—the pride of our people. There she sits, aye, like a jewel bedecked crown gleaming amidst the—yes, gleaming she stands there, the noblest and proudest city in God's green universe outside of—outside of—" "Ann Arbor," interjected Diekema just in time to save Manly from a total collapse, for the stream of eloquence had run against a sudden dam. "Yes, Ann Arbor." responded Manly, as he sat down.

Backache, stitches in the side, inflation and soreness of the bowels, are symptoms of a disordered state of the digestive and assimilative organs, which can be correted by the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

A Day Family.

The following very interesting article in reference to this family so well known and so greatly esteemed in Ann Arbor, is taken from the Madson, (N. J.) Eagle:

The Rev. Benjamin Day of Ann Arbor, Mich., occupied the pulpit of the New Providence M. E. Church, Sunday morning May 1. In the audience were found his brothers, Rev. T. Davidson Day and Mr. Samuel T. Day of New Providence and Mr. Stephen and Daniel Day of Summit. Rev. Benj. Day is now in the 81st year of his age, and the united ages of the five agregate 376 years. They are five of the 11 sons of Rev. Stephen Day, deceased; all being born in New Providence. Four of these became ministers of the gospel: Revs. Mulford and Edwin Day, deceased; Rev. Benj. Day of Ann Arbor, Mich., and Rev. T. D. Day of New Providence, are both members of the Newark Conference. Two other brothers of the same family are living—seven out of the 11 sons. These are younger than the ones named above. One is 60 and the other is 64, making a total of 500 years. There are now living about 80 descendants of Rev. S. Day, nearly all of whom are active members of the M. E. Church. He died some years ago at the advanced age of 87 years and his widow, known all through the county as "Aunt Betsy Day," went to her rest in 1887, in the 99th year of her age. On Sunday evening the Day brothers took part in the services; some of them made interesting addresses and others sung. There were present on the occasion 15 that bear the name of Day, in an audience of about 100.

A good joke is told on Bryan, the festive young reporter on the Ann Arbor Register. Last Sunday was a beautiful day in the eyes of the enthusiastic Bryan, so he concluded to enjoy it to its fullest extent by a fishing excursion to Whitm re Lake. He took a sail boat and roved the turbid waters for several hours with more or less, principally less, success in hooking the innocent minnows. He finally tired of the exciting sport and concluded to get ashore, but how to get there was the question, and whether it was a case similar to Guy Carleton's exploit when he said "there was three of us in the boat—Bill Nye, a jug and I," deponent sayeth not, anyway he hallooed to a boy, who went out in a rowboat and towed him ashore for a silver dollar.—Saline Observer.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself and superior to all other preparations in strength, economy, and medicinal merit.

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health.

At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's Peculiar Sarsaparilla. It strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of the vegetable remedies used give to Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar curative powers. No To Itself other medicine has such a record of wonderful cures. If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other instead. It is a Peculiar Medicine, and is worthy your confidence.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

[Down 50 cents.

Our Colored Surah's are very cheap at $1.00. We show all the desirable colors in Pink, Light Blue, Cream, White and several shades in Tans and Light Brown.

No better Gros-Grain Colored Silks in the world than ours at $1.00 a yard. All shades of Tans and Browns in stock this week.

Excellent value in Black Watered Silks at $1.50 and $2.00. Our Light Pink, Light Blue, Nile Green, and Heliotrophe Watered Silks at $2.25. are very handsome.

Do you know a bargain when you see it? Among the very Goods you would think to be the last to tumble.

Seasonable Goods. When you read the price you will want to see them. Ten Styles or more.

Summer Silks at 55 cents a yard, heretofore 75, $1.00, and $1.25. They are good value at the old price. They are surprise value now.

Call it Percale or "Shirting" there's no nonsense about it. Tough and plump 36-inches wide. The weight is from the Cotton in it. Hard-twisted and hard-woven every thread of it. A stuff for hard wear if you will, very neat and dressy, too, handsomely printed in stripes, plaids and figures on white ground. The price has been 16 cents. Its been a lively goer at 16 cents. We make it 12 1-2 cents.

Take a quick glance at our Cotton Dress Stuffs. Counters piled high. It will be a crazy crinkle year. Last year fixed it. Fine, hard-twisted, irregularly woven, crinkley, things you shouldn't iron, rough-dry them in the sun. Cream and White grounds. A dozen styles, four or five times as many colorings. See a bit, 8 and 12c.

Batistes seem daintier than ever. All on Cream grounds and plump yard wide. Figured stripes and odd designs. These are the Cottons that drove out the printed Linen Lawns, 12 1-2 cents. The finest Batiste that is made 12 1-2 cents.

Why, use your leisure time in buying material and making Underwear this warm weather when we can furnish you with just what you want and for less money. Don't judge our Underwear by what you see in other stores nor by the prices you hear quoted. Judge it by the Underwear itself, and see it here. Examine the sewing, the cutting, the decoration and the styles. You, ladies, know the good from bad. Not a word about that. We ask your judgment, not your favor.

Trashy Lace Flouncing are common enough in some stores Easier to make trashy stuff than good. Easier in lace than most goods. They say we have the nicest patterns and the best assortments of black lace flouncings that you can find anywhere Nothing trashy about them, that's certain. 42-inch, $2.00, $3.50, $4.00 and $5.00. Cream and White flouncing 42-inch 95c., $1.00, 2.00, $2.25, $2.50 and $5.00.

We are showing this week the finest line of beaded trimmings in the city. If you want cheap trimmings we have them If you want medium price trimmings we have them. If you want high priced trimmings we have them.

Will you examine our beaded trimmings at $2.00, $3,00 $4.00, $7.00, $10.00 and $12.00 a yard.

25 dozen Gauze Vests for ladies at 25 cents. (Don't come expecting to get the 25 dozen for 25 cents. You will be disappointed if you do.) We mean 25 cents each. Yes, twenty-five cents. Perfect, regular goods, made to sell for 40 cents. Also 25 dozen Ladies' Gauze Vests at 50 cents each. We know of no garments at all approaching either of them in quality that were ever before offered at the price.

Unless you know more about Underwear than the Writer of this you will say they are cheap.

DON'T USE BIG WORDS!

In promulgating esoteric cogitations or articulating superficial sentimentalities and philosophical or psychological observations, beware of platitudinous ponderosity. Let your statements possess a clarified conciseness, compacted comprehensibleness, coalescent consistency and a concentrated cogency. Eschew all conglomerations of flatulent garrulity, jejune babblement and asinine affectations. In trying to impress upon others the superiority, reliability, and purity of all medicines and chemicals at Goodyear's Drug Store it is not necessary to use jawbreakers. Let your extemporaneous descantings and unpremeditated expatiations have intelligibility and veracious vivacity, without rhodomontade or thrasonical bombast. Sedulously avoid all pollysyllabic profundity psittaceous vacuity, ventriloqual verbosity vandiloquent vapidity; shun double entendres, prurient jocosity and pestiferous profanity obscurent or apparent. In other words, talk plainly, naturally, sensibly, and truthfully, say, that Goodyear's Drug Store is really the best place in Washtenaw County to buy pure drugs, etc., at low prices; also that especial attention is given to the careful preparation of prescriptions and family medicines.

MR. EDITOR:

The fact is, our advertisement ought to be changed, but our business has been so good this spring that we had almost forgotten one of the ways in which we built up our large trade, namely, advertising. The other means to which we credit an immense patronage at the present time is carrying the largest stock and selling at the lowest prices, and treating all alike.

At present we are showing immense lines of Summer Clothing, too numerous to mention prices. Our Straw and Light Colored Derby Hat lines take the cake.

Every mother should see our beautiful stock of Boys' Flannel and Cotton Waists and Kilt Suits. No better assortment in any store in the state.

Our 50c and 75c pants are acknowledged to be the best ever seen.

On Overalls we have no equal, we think we sell ten pair to one of any other house. The reason is, we carry the best makes and sell at the lowest prices.

We never had as nice a line of Neckwear as we are carrying at present.

Oft obscure the road that leads to health,
Unmarked by board or sign;
Wisdom avails not, powerless is wealth
To soothe those aches of thine.
But do not despair, with life there's hope,
The cloud conceals the sun;
With Pierce's Favorite Prescription at hand
Your life's full course may run.

More truth than poetry in these lines, as thousands of ladies all over the land now blooming with health, testify to the great curative powers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, adapted by much research and careful study to the happy relief of all those weaknesses and ailments peculiar to females. All druggists.

A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y

By reason of its central position, close relation to principal lines East of Chicago and continuous lines at terminal points West, Northwest and Southwest—is the only true middle-link in that transcontinental system which invites and facilitates travel and traffic in either direction between the Atlantic and Pacific.

The Rock Island main line and branches include Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peoria, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Oskaloosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Des Moines, Indianola, Winterset, Atlantic, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, St. Joseph, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri; Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Watertown in Dakota, and hundreds of intermediate cities, towns and villages.

THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Guarantees Speed, Comfort and Safety to those who travel over it. Its roadbed is thoroughly ballasted. Its track is of heavy steel. Its bridges are solid structures of stone and iron. Its rolling stock is perfect as human skill can make it. It has all the safety appliances that mechanical genius has invented and experience proved valuable. Its practical operation is conservative and methodical—its discipline strict and exacting. The luxury of its passenger accommodations is unequaled in the West—unsurpassed in the world.

ALL EXPRESS TRAINS between Chicago and the Missouri River consist of comfortable DAY COACHES, magnificent PULLMAN PALACE PARLOR and SLEEPING CARS, elegant DINING CARS providing excellent meals, and—between Chicago, St. Joseph, Atchison and Kansas City—restful RECLINING CHAIR CARS.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE

Is the direct, favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul. Over this route solid Fast Express Trains run daily to the summer resorts, picturesque localities and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. The rich wheat fields and grazing lands of interior Dakota are reached via Watertown.

A short desirable route, via Seneca and Kankakee, offers superior inducements to travelers between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Council Bluffs, St. Joseph, Atchison, Leavenworth, Kansas City, Minneapolis, St. Paul and intermediate points.

All classes of patrons, especially families, ladies and children, receive from officials and employes of Rock Island trains protection, respectful courtesy and kindly attention.
