ments,-Mr. Henning, Wants Damages.-Laying the Second Baptist Corner Stone. - A Burglary.

Burglars near Delhi Mills.

The residence of Frank Reilley, one mile west of Delhi Mills was entered Tuesday afternoon at about 4 o'clock by burglars, who were supposed to be two the neighborhood and one of whom had red hair. There was no one in the house at the time and the burglars went through everything taking $10 in and forks, a butter dish, a gold necklace and charm, three gold rings, four silk handkerchiefs and a pair of panteloons. A reward of $10 has been of fered for the recovery of the property and of $25 for the thieves upon convic-

A Possible Suit Against the City.

Mr. David Henning was in the city this week looking up the action of the council in reference to his claim for damages to his property near the Centhrough a committee investigated the matter and found that the very best legal advice obtainable had been taken were not called upon to take action ning went to Detroit yesterday for the purpose of having Attorney Smith of that city take legal steps to obtain the damages which Mr. Henning thinks are due him in the premises.

Laying the Corner Stone.

The corner stone of the second Baptist church (colored) was laid last Sunday afternoon with impressive and appropriate exercises, which were attended by a large audience. Rev. Dr. Ramsay made the opening prayer after which Rev. Dr. Haskell made an ad_ dress. The laying of the corner stone was in charge of the colored masons, with Rev. Mr. Johnson, of Jackson, acting as master; W. E. Roberts, of this city, grand senior warden, of the state lodge was present to assist in the ceremonies. Ex-Governor Alpheus Felch then delivered a short address, and a collection was taken up to aid in erecting the church, which netted $106. kev. Mr. Lewis pastor of the church made a few remarks and Rev. Mr. Johnson, pastor of the (colored) Baptist church in Jackson, pronounced the benediction.

Leland, Wm. Judson, A. R. Beal, F. C. Huston, George S. Wheeler, George H. Mitchell, Charles E. Hiscock, A. E. Ford, E. B. Stone, Dr. E. F. Pyle, H. D. Platt, C. F. R. Bellows, J. B. Wortley, W. S. Crafts, H. S. Boutelle, and A. F. Freeman. The delegates elected to the congressional convention were E. K. Frueauff, T. J. Keech, C. H. Kline, Zenas Sweet, O. C. Burkhardt, Frank Duncan, Geo. H. Pond, E. S. Cushman, Perry Townsend, Dr. F. K. Owen, H. P. Thompson, A. R. Graves, H. J. Taylor, M. Cady, George Rawson, Archibald Foster, P. W. Carpenter, and J. F. Nestell. Prof. George referred in complimentary terms to Luce and Allen, and George S. Wheeler, of Salem, struck the keynote of the republican campaign in a speech to which reference is made in another column.

"Brother Pond" requests us to say that he has said nothing about Burt's money or the good qualities of "boodle" and turthermore that "no newspaper interviewer or reporter has been stupid enough to credit him with any such nonsense." He also desires us to say that if the other alleged facts and statements which comprised the web and woof of Mr. Wheeler's "long talk"-not argument-were as baseless of foundation and reason (and he thinks they were), his partisan hearers have serious ground of complaint against

> Referring to the charges made in the campaign of 1884 that corruption Lyndon. reigned in high places, he conceded that after the organization of the republican party it received large accessions from the democratic party, and claimed that these democratic recruits proving to be star-routers, etc., brought great scandal upon the party, to avoid which in future recruits from the democracy would be required to furnish certificates of good character. Tut, tut, Brother Wheeler, did Oakes Ames, James G. Blaine, Schuyler, Colfax and the other credit mobelier statesmen find their way into the republican party from the democratic fold?Did James A. Garfield of De Golyer fame graduate as a democrat? Were Babcock and Belknap renegade democrats or "to the manor born?"

It is no wonder that "Brother Pond laughed" at this and other erroneous statements. He was momentarily expecting that Mr. Wheeler would charge up "Noah's flood" to the democracy because the river and harbor bill of two years ago tailed to become a law, or the drouth and short crops of a year ago to the veto of the dependent pension bill.

Mr. Wheeler said that the very day the Mills bill was passed by the house the "sugar trust" put up the price of sugar two cents a pound, and charged that the price would not have been increased had sugar been put on the free list. "Brother Pond" was challenged to deny his statement and conclusion. If reducing the sugar tion held in this city on Tuesday, the duty from 82 per cent. to 68 per cent. two years ago had been eliminated from the campaign now opening; that two years ago the democrats had that two years ago the democrats had charged farmer Luce with being a single from the campaign and of the English language and above all the authors' inexhaustible enthusiasm and delight in study. In Answer to the Courier.

EDITOR ARGUS:-It is said that you can judge how badly a man is hurt by his yell. Certainly the Courier made enough noise last week to indicate considerable pain. He devotes over a column to answering (?) my article. It is W. D. Church, of Detroit, visited his divided between quotations, throwing mud and figures. The quotations are Mrs. Joseph Donnelly is visiting her all right only it would be better not to stop in the middle of a sentence and run away from the main point. The mud throwing might as well be stopped for I have not called his ability in that line into question; and the figures -well, if they were not so much exaggerated they would prove what I said in the first place, viz., that the American worker gets more wages per week than the European.

One instance of the inaccuracy of the figures is enough. The figures are taken from the Philadelphia Record which has a correspondent on the spot whose figures cannot be gainsaid. The Courier's figures were taken from an old almanac.

What I stated, and what the Courier cannot controvert, is, that European wages for a given amount of work done (not a certain number of hours put in,) are higher than American. As the Courier wants figures, we have to satisfy him a little. Corsul Schoenhof in Charlie Jacobs and Robert Law are a report to his department finds that spending the week at Whitmore Lake. | weavers of cotton cloth receive in Germany 48 cents per day, in France 53 to 58 cents, both working twelve hours Isaac King has gone to Jackson as a per day, England 65 cents and America 85 cents, both working ten hours. But the labor cost of weaving 100 yards of cloth is, in Germany 60 cents, England 55 cents and in America 40 cents. The figures are reliable and the conclusion Mrs. William Walsh has returned is apparent—the American laborer more work and gets a little more wages.

The only attempt made to prove that there was any commission between the tariff and American prosperity, was a table putting the increase of wages compared with ante-war times at 52 per cent. Mr. Atkinson, a high authority, put it at about 50 per cent. and criticism has reduced it to between 35 and 40 per cent., but Mr. Griffin, an undoubted authority, shows an average increase of wages compared with ante-free trade times in England of 72 per cent. and a very material reduction (from 10 to 25 per cent.) in the cost of living, notwithstanding that rents and fresh meat grow dearer.

The Courier man asks some questions -first, show us a monopoly or "trust" in Fred A. I can't quite crowd out the news items and advertisements this week in order to give a direct or indirect result of the tariff," but I'll do better, I'll name the only one that is not, that is, the copper trust, and the latest news about it is, that because it is not backed up by a tariff it is going to burst.

He wants to know "how long Germany has had a tariff and what effect it has had upon the industries it protects?" If Carlyle is to be relied upon, ever since the time of Frederick the Great, its effect-beggarly low wages to the worker and big fortunes to the monopo-

American citizens who wish to reach an intelligen comprehension of the principles involved in the issue of the coming campaign should read THE STAND ARD. It advocates Free Trade—not the partial removal of restrictions upon commerce, but the absolute unconditional sweeping away of every hindrance the exchange of commodities between man and man between state and state, and between nation and aution

THE STANDARD meets and triumphantly refutes the great argument of protection. It shows why wages are higher in the United States than in Europe, and that the difference is in no way due to the operation of the tariff, whose only effect is to reduce the reward of labor.

During the coming campaign every tariff reformer will be called upon to defend the principle of free trade against the principle of protection. Those who read THE STANDARD can do this easily and unanswerably.

AN INSIGHT INTO THE WORK OF THE CONGRESSMEN.

A Summarized Account of the Proceedings in the Senate and House of Representatives During the Past Week-The House, Having Disposed of the Tariff, Turns to Other Matters.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 25 .- Cullom introduced a resolution in the senate yesterday instructing the inter-state commerce committee to inquire into the steps necesprevent the Canadian Pacific railway from rendering nugatory the inter-state commerce law. The bill appropriating $150,000 for an air-ship was reported and referred to the inter-state commerce committee. The naval appropriation bill was then resumed and passed substantially as it was reported from committee of the whole Tuesday. A bill appropriating $75,000 for a public building at Allentown, Pa., was passed. It is in place of the one vetoed, which appropriated $100,000. In less than an hour the senate then passed 127 private pension bills, and at 5 p. m. ad-

The house was again without a quorum, not more than 125 members being present at any time. The bill to establish a court to settle land claims in New Mexico, Colorado, and Arizona was amended so as to exempt Arizona, and then passed. The Oklahoma bill was taken up in committee of the whole, but nothing was done and the committee almost immediately rose. A few private bills were then passed and a recess taken to 8 p. m., at which session an attempt to consider war claims was a fiasco. Bowden of Virginia called up the first bill, and upon it being objected to he retaliated by objecting to the next bill, and then objections became epidemic, and the house adjourned at 9:20.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 27.—The senate yesterday passed the army appropriation bill, with an amendment appropriating $750,-000 for a gun factory at Watervliet arsenal, New York; $5,000,000 for the purchase of steel and construction of coast defense guns, and $600,000 for submarine mines and torpedoes. Wilson of Maryland then defended the fisheries treaty in an extended speech. A running debate on the treaty took place when Wilson had concluded, after which presidential vetoes of a pension to Bridget Foley and the bill giving right-of-way to the Ft. Smith, Paris & Dardanelle railway through Indian territory were received and read and referred and the senate adjourned.

The house during the morning hour debated the bill to construct postoffice build-ings throughout the country on a definite plan, and then went into committee on the Oklahoma bill, which was advocated by Perkins, Symes, and Cannon, and opposed by Hooker, Cobb, and others. Without action the committee rose, the fortifications bill was reported, and the house took recess until 8 p. m., at which session several bills relating to United States courts were passed, one extending their jurisdiction over the great lakes. The house adjourned at 9:30. WASHINGTON CITY, July 28.—In the senate yesterday Saulsbury made a speech in advocacy of the fisheries treaty. The sundry civil bill was then taken up and a num-ber of senate committee amendments agreed to, among them appropriations for public building at Bay City, Mich., $100,000; Ma-rine hospital, Chicago, $15,000; statue of Liberty in New York harbor, $50,000; light at Cedar river Point, Mich., $25,000. The appropriations for repairs of light-houses, salaries for keepers and lighting rivers were increased and $50,000 put in to enforce the alien contract law. The committee's amendment to strike out the provision that no more plate printing machines shall be put into the engraving and printing bureau was rejected. The senate adjourned at 5:30.

A plentiful lack of members present was the feature in the house, and the whole day nearly was devoted to the private calendar, a dozen war claim bills being passed. An appropriation of $100,000 was made for a marine hospital at Evansville, Ind. At 5 p. m. the house took recess to 8 o'clock, and on reassembling passed thirty-six private pen-sion bills and at 10:30 adjourned.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 30. - Saturday the senate passed a bill appropriating $100, 000 for a public building at Muskegon, Mich. The sundry civil bill was then resumed, and $1,000,000 was put into it to construct the west front of the new library building, the house having provided for suspension of the work and new plans, which was stricken out. Two items aggregating nearly $60,000 were put in for a hospital and repairs of dykes, etc., at Rock Island arsenat, Ills., and $10,000 for an elevator in Washington monument. The appropriation for public printing was increased $165,000, and $50,000 was appropriated to the widow of Prof. Baird, for his services and expenses as fish commissioner. The bill was further amended by the insertion of a number of items for soldiers' homes, military posts, etc., and then laid over, and the senate after adopting the house concurrent resolution making temporary provision for government expenses, pared by government bureaus, and also for 100,000 copies of a comparative statement of the tariff laws with the changes made by the Mills bill. The bill to erect postoffice buildings on a settled plan was debated without action, and then in committee of the whole the deficiency bill was considered, but the house soon got off the track, and Voorhees of Washington territory made a plea for the admission of his territory as a state. Payson defended the Republicans from the charge that they were responsible for the land grants to railways, and denied the claim that the Democrats were to be thanked for forfeitures, declaring both actions non-partisan. Stone of Missouri said the responsibility for legislation depended upon the majority in congress, and antagonized Payson's speech. Pending debate the house adjourned.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 31.—A little routine and uninteresting business was done in the senate yesterday, as a preliminary to a long debate on the sundry civil bill. The dewas on an amendment appropriating $250,000 to the purpose of an investigation of the question of irrigating arid lands out west. Teller said the question covered four-tenths of the area of the whole country, and advo-cated the bill. So did Jones of Arkansas, Morgan, Manderson, Stewart, and Voorhees, Plumb, Beck and others opposed. An amendment reserving to the government all lands designated for irrigation works was adopted, the proposal as amended was agreed to without further action, and the senate adjourned.

The manufactures committee presented to the house their report on the trust investiga-tion and asked leave to sit during recess, which was granted, and the report ordered printed. In committee of the whole the gencalled before Justice Lyon at the Armory saturday morning. They waived examination and the two former were bound over to the grand jury in $1,500, the two latter in $500.

priation at $40,000 was read, and without A Republican Document Dissected. action the house adjourned.

WASHINGTON CITY, Aug. 1.—A bill identical with the Outhwaite bill in the house was reported to the senate yesterday for the refunding of the Union Pacific Railway company's debt. It provides for the entire liquidation of the debt in fifty years. The resolution to inquire into the effect of Canada's system of railways upon the carrying trade of this country was adopted. The sundry civil bill was then taken up and an amendment appropriating money for a pub-lic building at Atchison, Kas., was objected to as a bad idea—the attaching of such measures to the sundry civil bill, they being in the nature of "riders"—and finally rejected on a yea and nay vote—21 to 23. Spooner then offered an amendment to refund the direct tax to the states. This was the bill that caused the dead-lock in the house early this session. A point of order was made against it that it was general legislation on an appropriation bill and the point was sustained by the presiding officer, Ingalls. One or two unimportant amendments were then adopted and Call offered one to appropriate $10,000 to be used for the recovery of Confederate property. (This property is the same as referred to in these dispatches re-cently as having been gobbled by the British government.) Sherman and Evarts spoke of the hope of recovering such property as illu-sive. Cockrell also opposed the appropria-tion as an absolute waste of so much money, and said it might complicate the government in troubles from which it might not easily extricate itself. Without action on Call's amendment the senate at 5:30 p. m. ad-

A letter from Speaker Carlisle announced to the house that he would be absent for several days, and McMillin was selected for speaker pro tem. An attempt to have Aug. 7 assigned for consideration of labor bills failed. The conference report on the Omaha public building bill was rejected, and a new conference ordered. The bill appropriates $1,200,000. A bill for the revocation of withdrawals of certain Iowa and Minnesota lands was passed. The senate amendments to the army appropriation bill were non-concurred in, with the exception of the Hawley heavy ordnance amendment, and a motion to non-concur in this was pending when the house adjourned.

Porter Does Not Want the Nomination for Governor of Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 30.—Through the permission of the gentleman addressed and ex-Governor Porter, the latter's letter in regard to the urgency of his friends in pushing him for the nomination for governor has been made public. After referring to his former declaration to the effect that he was not and could not be a candilate, he writes to State Senator Johnson as follows: "I feel it to be incubent upon me, in reply to your letter, to renew the statement and to give you authority to make it public that I shall not be a candidate before convention, EX.GOV. PORTER. and, I am obliged to add, that I could not accept a nomination even if it were ten-dered. I have taken an active part in every Republican campaign since the Republican party was organized, except one which oc curred while I was holding office at Wash ington. After this long service, the state convention will, I am sure, refrain from pressing upon me a candidacy to which I would be averse, and which I should feel obliged to decline. But while I shall not be a candidate, I shall not be indifferent to the success of the Republican party, nor shall my voice be silent in the important campaign in which it is about to enter. From pagn in which it is about to enter. From the time the campaign shall begin until it shall have closed, by every effort that I can bestow, I shall give whatever aid I am able to secure the triumph of the Republican national ticket and the success of the candidates who shall be nominated at our state convention."

INCENDIARIES BURN A TOWN. Eldorado, Ill., Swept of the Best Part of

Its Buildings. CAIRO, Ill , July 31 .- At 1 o'clock vesterday morning a fire of incendiary origin laid the greatest part of Eldorado, Saline county, in ashes. The large frame building of C. M. Westbrook, Hargrave's harness shop, Hardesty's barber shop, Sheldon & Wesbrook's grocery and implement store, the Masonic and G. A. R. halls and the police magistrate's office were the first to burn. Nothing was saved in the second stories, but the Masonic charter, Hargrave' harness stock, the barber's outfit and most of Shelton & Westbrook's stock were all saved. Charles J. Deweir's produce house and contents were to-tally destroyed. The Tetrick building was next to go, and Parrish Bros.'s saloon building came next, though the contents were mostly saved. Byron Anthony's store and The house passed resolutions for the printing of additional copies of the commissioner of labor's report and other documents pre-of Independence, for governor on the third ballot. The ticket was completed as follows: Lieutenant governor, A. J. Felt; secretary of state, William Higgins; auditor, T. J. Mc-Carthy; treasurer, George Hamilton; attorney general, Charles Kellogg. The platform indorses the nominees of the Chicago convention; demands the complete execution of the liquor laws in all parts of the state; de nounces the Prohibition party; favors protection in every sense of the word, and heartily indorses the course of Senators Ingalls and Plumb.

The Trusts To Be Prosecuted.

New York, Aug. 1.—The question whether trusts can be reached by the law will be tested in this county in due course of time, in a series of civil prosecutions. The actions, which are to be commenced in a short time in the courts of this county, will be against corporations, which are members of the trusts, to forfeit their charters, and also against the boards of trustees to exclude and enjoin them against exercising corporate franchises. Gen. Pryor, who has b gaged as spacial counsel, says that the pa-pers are now in the hands of the attorney general for his approval and signature, and as soon as they are returned the actions will be commenced in the supreme court of this

EDITOR ARGUS:-The pamphlet issued by the republican state central committee exhibits some peculiarities. After laboring to show that protection is a necessity and a republican child, the address on page four says, "two thousand articles put upon the free list and everything free but liquor and tobacco is the republican record, while quinine and a four cent per pound reduction on tobacco is the democratic record." If the republican party put two thousand articles upon the free list, how does this record agree with their professions. This declaration is made in the face of their professed willingness to accept the tariff issue. They would put sugar on the free list because we cannot produce enough when they well know that beet sugar is fast becoming a national product which may be carried to any extent desired even in the nothern states. But because Louisana's electoral vote again cannot be stolen, its leading product should be freed from protection. They seem to forget that only $76,000,000 worth of sugar was imported in 1886 (the date the last distributed report) while it was necessary to import $54,000,000 worth of wool the same year. With only $22,000,000 difference in the value of the yearly importation of the two sectional commodities, they are made the basis of a political fight; under the tariff system. The farmer is supposed to get the benefits of a 37.16 per cent. tariff on wool, while the manufacturer gets a benefit of 67.29 per cent. on his enhanced manufactured wool value which is from two to ten times what the farmer gets on raw wool and he must buy it back at this rate in clothing, etc. Does the farmer see any benefits here. Suppose, as is claimed, that the tariff does stimulate production, can it at the same time take commodities and labor the prices of which are both increased by tariff and successfully put cheaper articles on the market? It is hardly reas_ onable, yet the laborer has believed this political heresy in the past. Strikes and labor troubles have been and are the result. Besides, if the protective system is correct, wool is about the only product upon which the northern farmer is claimed to receive any benefit through protection, while he must buy many articels which are taxed. The schedule notes a protection upon grain and meat, but they are of no value as none are ever imported and they were passed to appease the angry farmer, yet to retaliate on such legislation, England the great wheat bearing nation of the world, developed her India wheat fields and thus this republican protection has become a national curse. The circular says (page 9) wool cannot live without protection, yet it is lower under protection than ever under free trade and pauper labor dees not grow wool. There are but few articles on which the tariff has been reduced 20 per cent. in some years, yet this republican circular says a 20 per cent. reduction on sugar is very slight, Suppose, as the circular says, our foreign markets are leaving us. The quantity produced then, controls the price and as a producing nation we must pursue a course to call them back. This can obe done by shutting them out by law. We believe that it is in retaliation for our protective laws that England has developed her India wheat fields and under that stimulus, the development will be continued until America finds herself so shut in as to require no merchant marine, no great industrial plants, no communication with the out side world, her progressive nature dwarfed, and that intervening line with nations which has been her stimulus, entirely cut off. To put sugar on the free list and protect wool is not fair protection, neither is such de-sired excepting for political effect.

There are Two Distinguishing Characteristics

Which, more than anything else, have contributed to the phenomenal growth of The Chicago Daily News, giving it a circulation larger than that of all other Chicago dailies combined. It seems strange that the first practical, combined application of two such common sense principles in journalism should have been left to a paper as yet only twelve years old. And yet true it is that in this fact lies the real secret of the unparalleled success of The Chicago Daily News. Briefly stated these principles are:

First. THE DAILY NEWS Is a daily paper for busy people.

Of all mankind the people of Chicago and the busy northwest are the busiest. And yet perhaps no equal number of people are to be found who appreciate so keenly the necessity of an nize that they, more than anyone else, are the world's providers in many of the most important necessaries of life. How important, then, that they should have their daily intelligence of every event, the world over, which by any possibility can affect their diversified commercial holdings. And in all the higher interests of life where can be found a like number of people more keenly appreciative of all that contributes to progress in art, literature, science, religion, politics, and the thousand and one things which make up modern civilization.

And yet, strange to say, right here in this great, busy northwest, in its busy metropolis Chicago, there has taken place the creation and development of that most cumbrous, unserviceable, time-destroying thing, the "blanket-sheet" newspaper. With the blindness of very fatuity this monstrosity of journalism, this breeder of mental dyspepsia, has steadfastly imposed its mountain of unthreshed straw to the demand of the people for the winnowed grain of fact. It was out of the very incongruousness of such a condition of things that THE DAILY NEWS had its birth. People wanted the News,-all the news-but they demanded it apart from the overpowering mass of the trivial and inconsequential. It is because THE DAILY NEWS satisfactorily meets that demand that its circulation is over "a-million a-week."

R. M. LAWRENCE, Williamsville, Ill., says: "The 'big daily' is too much for me. Not that a person is obliged to read everything printed in the 'blanket-sheets,' but one having anything else to do doesn't have time to hunt through the long-drawn twaddle for a few grains of digestible food."

Second. THE DAILY NEWS

Is an Independent, truth-telling newspaper.

The reader can count on one hand the known newspapers whose statements in matters of politics can always be accepted as at least intentionally truthful, and commonly so in fact. intelligent knowledge of the world's daily doings. They recog- On the other hand, it is the all-but-universal rule to praise one's party and candidate to the skies, and to cry down the opposition party and its candidate to the verge of the disreputable. So common have such silly and reprehensible methods in journalism become that they pass unnoticed, and are accepted as a matter of course-as an evil inseparable from practical politics. But this is only another mistake of the thoughtless. The American people are intelligent enough, thoughtful enough, fair enough to appreciate and endorse honest, truth-telling journalism-in truth to prefer it to the misleading, the truth-discoloring dishonesty of the "organ,"

The demand is more and more for the fair, impartial, independent newspaper which give the reader all the news, and gives it absolutely free from the taint of partisan bias. This done, an expression of opinion, based upon facts, will commend itself to the thoughtful reader even when he may not find himself in agreement with the conclusions deduced from the premises. Disagreements are of small moment if only confidence in honesty, of purpose remains. With no mere political ambition to gratify, no "ax to grind," the impartial and independent newspaper may truly be "guide, philosopher and friend" to honest men holding every shade of political faith. And this is why THE DAILY NEWS has to-day a circulation of over "a-million-a-week."

M. WYGANT, Sibley, Iowa, writes: "I am well pleased with THE DAILY NEWS, although I am a 'bred-in-the-bone' Republican with a carpet bag experience in the South ending in 1872. The extreme fairness of THE DAILY NEWS, giving credit where due regardless of party, meets my approval."

When to two such comprehensive elements of popularity THE DAILY NEWS now adds a third in its unparalleled price reduction to One Cent a day, it offers a combination of attractions at once unique and unapproachable by any other American newspaper, and one which will surely multiply its friends throughout the Northwest by the thousands.

The Chicago Daily News is for sale by all newsdealers at One Cent per copy, or will be mailed, postage paid, for $3.00 per year, or 25 cents per month. The farmer and mechanic can now afford as well as the merchant and professional man to have his metropolitan daily.

O.W. RUGGLES, G. P. & T. Agent, Chicago. Ag't Ann Arbor.

The Ann Arbor Argus.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 3, 1888.

BEAKES & MORTON, Proprietors.

TERMS-$1.00 PER YEAR, IN ADVANCE.

For President, GROVER CLEVELAND. For Vice-President, ALLEN G. THURMAN.

SAYS the Coldwater Republican, a republican journal at Gov. Luce's home and last year recognized as his home organ: "The Chicago platform is evidently not more satisfactory to the republicans in the United States senate than it is to the rank and file generally."

THE Mills bill does reduce the duty on both sugar and rice about 18 per cent. This is not enough of a reduction, but it ill becomes our republican friends to find fault with it. The duty on sugar is reduced $11,759,000. The duty on wool is reduced $6,390,000. In other words the reduction in the revenue on sugar is nearly twice as great as that on wool.

THE Courier very properly states that there is no possible way of making the Argus see the difference between the workings of a tariff and a tax. There is no difference, tor the tariff is a tax—an indirect tax. Government is supported by a tax. A tariff is the way in which the general government raises the government needs. Therefore the into the hands of the employer. tariff should be reduced. That is the democratic position in a nutshell and no betogging of the issue can deceive the people.

IT is well not to forget the private letters written by the president of the republican national league to the leading protected manufacturers in which he quotes approvingly the words of a leading republican senator, who said "that the manufacturers were getting practically the sole benefit of the tariff laws," and that he for one did not propose to keep up the expense of a campaign out of his pocket leaving the manufacturers "to reap the fruits of the tariff policy without any deduction for political expenses," This appeal brought forcibly to the minds of the manufacturers the awakening of the people and monopolists' money cannot longer hoodwink the people into being taxed solely for the benefit of the manufacturers.

How the republican leaders love the workingman and how much they wish to increase his wages. There is Andrew Carnegie, Blaine's bosom friend, who has a castle in Scotland and who has made his Scotland and who has made his amount of goods made by the mixwealth out of steel and for whose ture of our own wools with the

Andrew Carnegie is one of the English manufacturer, wool which stockholders of the Edgar Thomson can be freely selected in all the marcetion of a high tariff, We all reconstruct three fourths of our foreign steel works and in one year he had kets of the world instead of being chosen as now for reasons connected drawn out of the company as his share of the profits of the year $1, 500,000 or $5,000 for every day of price so cheap that there will be an inthe 300 working days of the year. And yet this very same company precisely as there is now for Ameriwhile making such an enormous profit attempted to reduce the wages of their workingmen and a strike ensued in consequence. This is how of yards of woolens being made in of yards of woolens being made in tariff, and many of my neighbors 12. Why did wages in Massacha high tariff protects the workingmen. We doubt very much if the people want to be longer taxed so that has earned his wage, the English Carnegie may keep up his Scotland manufacturer his profit, the English castle and contribute largely to the ship-owner his freightage, the masuccess of the party which enabled him to make $5,000 a day while with our own wools, and in the idling away his time in a foreign manufacture of the fabric our own the action of my party. for these philanthrophic millionaires the American workingman is every year becoming more intelligent. He finds that free trade England pays nearly double the wages of high tariff Germany. He reads further and finds that wages in England are much higher today than they were before England discarded the protection policy. ANOTHER CONFERENCE AND NO LAND

They Swear by the Great Spirit That They Will Not Sign the Treaty and Their Speakers Make Some Sharp Answers to the White Men's Oratory-Sitting Bull in Camp, but Only to Keep His People Stubborn-The Situation.

STANDING ROCK AGENCY, D. T., Aug. 1.— Yesterday's conference was by far the most important yet held between the commission-ers and the Indians. It was the most inter-esting because new influences were brought to bear upon the Indians, and because they showed more than ever their opposition to the treaty. Monday night the Indians had a council in which every one of their number over 18 years of age was present. Speeches more earnest and fiery than ever were made by the chiefs. After Gall, John Grass, Mad Bear and others of prominence had spoken a vote was taken on the acceptance of the treaty, and every dusky warrior shouted

Not satisfied with this the most solemn scene of the week was enacted, every Indian taking an oath to the Great Spirit that he would sign no paper relative to the treaty; that he would sign neither the black paper which meant yes, nor the red paper which means no. Had the commissioners been cognizant of the facts when they met in conference yesterday they would not have been so hopeful. The commissioners opened the conference promptly at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, all the Indians being present, including Sitting Bull, who arrived Monday The old chief is sullen and reticent, but he informed an interpreter that he would never consent to the signing of the treaty by any of his friends and that he thought the proposition was all in favor of the white

After opening the conference Chairman Pratt introduced Governor Church, who arrived at the agency Monday evening. governor spoke to the Indians for thirty minutes and delivered what was considered a very convincing and effective speech. did all he could to convince the Indians that the treaty was in their best interests, and evidently made quite an impression upon their minds. Agent McLaughlin then spoke, and as he has the utmost confidence of the Indians it was thought he would be able to win them over in favor of treaty. He pleaded earnestly for the measure and was followed by Judge Wright, who occupied about thirty minutes. But all the speeches were without effect so far as the evidence of change could be found in the replies of the Indians

John Grass was the first of the Indians to He said: "Why do you want our lands? Have you not enough land for the white people? Look across the river." pointing to the opposite side of the Missouri. You will see a house here and there, miles apart; why do your white people not take that land and let us alone? You are not pay-ing us enough for our land; 50 cents an acre is not enough. Our land must be worth much to the white men, for when they first come here they are very poor and after they have been here some time they are [pointing to the commissioners and the governor] dressed very well. I will not sign either pa-maintained his reputation speaker and won applause from the Indians. Mad Bear spoke next. He opposed the treaty strongly. Among other things he said in reply to the statements of the commissioners: "I do not believe the Great Father's heart will be bad if we do not sign, and I will not

This was pretty discouraging to the commissioners, but they will not give up yet, and will hold another conference. Sitting Bull said yesterday afternoon that he would not consent to the opening of the reservation. The chiefs informed the commissioners of the action of the Indians in taking an oath that they would not sign. All interest centers on Sitting Bull, but he refuses to have much to say. He would not enter the circle yesterday, but sat outside on his pony with Rain-in-the-Face, who also declined to become a part of the circle. Sitting Bull. Rain-in-the Face, Long Dog, and Circling Bear are the most bitter of the Indians, and those who think they have no influence among their people are mistaken. It is worthy of consideration that within a few hours after the time of Sitting Bull's arrival at the agency the oath to the Great Spirit was taken, and as Sitting Bull was the nedicine man of the nation during the great Indian wars, this is known to be one of his tactics in controlling the tribes. Sitting Bull did not propose the oath in open council, but his emissaries were sprinkled through the circle and did this work. There has been much disappointment among visitors who have been desirous of hearing Gall speak. He has thus far spoken but a few words to the commissioners. It looks as though he has said all that he intends to say to them. He does his speaking in the Indian council, where he is the greatest leader in the nation. He sits in the conference as a mighty watch-dog to see that his followers do not waver. Sitting Bull will not have much to say until there is evidence that the Indians may sign, and then he will be heard

It was expected that Running Antelope would be friendly to the proposition. He has always been friendly to the whites and was at one time considered the finest orator of the Sioux nation. In his case the com-missioners have also been disappointed, as he is strongly opposed to the treaty. Red Cloud, the great chief of the Pine Ridge Sioux agency, is still industriously at work among the tribes stirring up opposition, and he can not be suppressed. Sitting Bull and Red Cloud were the leaders in a movement sevto pay all of their own expenses in order to been refused this privilege, they are greatly incensed, and this is one of the secrets of their bitter opposition.

A Case of Alleged Discrimination Before Per Cent

the Inter-State Commission. CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—The case of the Detroit board of trade and the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association against the New York Central, Grand Trunk, and West Shore railways, forming the through trunk line route, was begun before the inter-state commission yesterday at the Palmer house. All the members of the commission were present. The testimony in the case is mostly in type-writing form, taken before a master in chancery, and is very voluminous.

The complaint is that for a long time the merchants and business men of Detroit have suffered by unjust discrimination at the hands of this trunk line system in favor of Chicago. In specifying the particulars complainants allege that the railroads mentioned form a through trunk line from Chicago to New York and the east, and that their profits on that class of business is divided proportionately among them. Of the through rate, the Detroit people claim that their proportion should not exceed 70 per cent. under the long-and-short-haul clause, while in reality the railroad charged them 78 per cent. Also that the 70 per cent. rate was granted to points west of Detroit, and in fact to all points except Detroit. This diverts business around Detroit.

Respondents admit that they form a through line, but say that they are running under a schedule of rates fixed March 12 and in force April 1, and not under the schedule shown by complainant. They also claim that the 78 per cent. rate to Detroit is just and reasonable, and that under the joint traffic arrangement between defendants and connections west of Detroit regarding the rate to and from Chicago and New York via Detroit, the defendant's proportion is substantially 70 per cent. Other admissions are also made, so that the issue is squarely joined, and the case is one of law, the facts being substantially agreed upon. The railroad companies claim and make as the basis of their defense the doctrine that distance alone is not the only consideration that may influence the price of transportation. Billing, weighing, inspecting, switching, etc., etc. should be considered.

The testimony given by the Detroit witnesses went to show that the rate had a disastrous effect on the city's business, while that for the railways proved that the terminal charges at Detroit were greater than at Chicago. Denison B. Smith and C. A. King, of the Toledo Produce Exchange, are in the city for the purpose of filing similar complaints against the same roads on behalf of Toledo. BASE BALL ATTRACTIONS.

Cincinnati Cemeteries Desecrated. CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 28.-A most atrocious and mysterious act of sacrilege and vandalism was perpetrated on Walnut Hills. Unknown parties entered the Calvary Catholic cemetery and the United Jewish cemetery, both on Montgomery pike, just ontside the city limits and destroyed nine teen tomb-stones in the former cemetery and five in the latter resting place of the dead. When the sextons and keepers of the burial grounds awoke in the morning a picture of desecration was presented to their astonished The tomb-stones toppled over or shattered to fragments are those of some of the leading Catholic and Jewish families of the city, and no cause is known at this writ-

Twenty-Five Workmen Injured. GAYLORD, Mich., Aug. 1 .- On the logging road about fifteen miles east of Otsego Lake, a train of empty flat-cars struck the dry limbs of a fallen tree across the road and jumped the track. Twenty-five workmen are reported injured, sixteen seriously, and three will probably die. They are nearly all Polanders.

Mr. Hackley Is Generous.

Muskegon, Mich., Aug. 1.—Charles H. Hackley, of the firm of Hackley & Hume who recently gave to the city $100,000 for a public library, for which plans are now being made, has made another donation. He gives $25,000 with which to purchase books, for the library.

Two Plucky Old Maids.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 1.—Two maiden ladies, Maria and Viretta Reeves, living near Davisville, just above here, shot and killed one burglar, and mortally wounded and captured another. The encounter happened about midnight. One of the sisters saw a man in her room, seized a revolver and fired, killing him. He was shot through the temple. The other sister was awakened, seized a weapon, and sprang on the other burglar as he was trying to escape through a window. He was too late, as he fell to the ground with a bullet through his groin. Both burglars were strangers in these parts, but are supposed to be old timers. The two heroic ladies are being lionized by the neighbors. They are generally supposed

A German Minister in Disgrace.

MASCOUTAH, Ills., Aug. 1.—Rev. John Merke, pastor of the German Lutheran church, suddenly left town on a freigut train. The alleged cause is a scandal. Miss Lizzie Schneider, a reserved young lady is the unfortunate victim in the case. Being of a religious temperament she allied herself with the German Lutheran church, and, possessing some musical talent, she took a prominent part in the concerts given by that church last winter. For the concerts she re-hearsed to the Rev. Mr. Merke, who it is alleged took advantage of her girlish simplicity. Dr. Merke said he had been requested to resign, but that later developments would clear him.

Heroism Unrewarded.

Kansas City, Aug. 1.—A boat containing two men and a woman capsized at Chelsea park. H. F. Barton, of Chicago, at the risk of his life, jumped into the lake and pulled all the people out. Not one of them could swim. The heroic young man was not even thanked, and expressed his disgust by saying: "I spoiled a good suit of clothes, lost $2.10 in currency, injured my watch, broke my cane, and when that woman got breath enough to speak she turned to one of the men and said, 'John, this act of yours has spoiled my watch, I fear. Young man, please let me pass."

Sensational Arrest at Toledo, Ohio.

Toledo, Ohio, July 30.—Attorney H. P. McKnight, of this city, was defending a prisoner in police court charged with forgery, when Detective Nichler called him from the court room and arrested him on the charge of forging a promisory note and mortgage for $450, purported to be given by Ferdinand and Theresa Wise, to Rosena McKnight, the attorney's wife. The attorney is well known here, and the affair has created a sensation. The state claims to have a sure case against McKnight, who is now in jail in default of $500 bail.

Horribly Mangled by a Harvester.

GREEN BAY, Wis., July 28.—In the town of Montpelier a farmer, George Koney, was driving a team of horses attached to a harvesting machine, when the animals became frightened and started on a run over a piece of rough ground. Koney was thrown in front of the sickle-bar and becoming caught on the guards he was dragged twenty rods. The machine passed over a dead furrow and he was released. His right arm and ear were cut off and the right side of his leg and body lacerated in a frightful manner. He is not expected to live.

From some sea bedded cavern of yore?
Are the waves but its couriers bearing Sweet tidings from grotto to shore?
Does it harken and send back its greeting Is the kiss on the wave's lips a part?
As swift and as sure comes the answer,
From the voice of a fond, faithful neart.

Does the surf change forever, or ever? Does the surr change forever, or every
Do these couriers pause in their chase?
Are the depths of the sea ever broken
By the tempests that wrinkle its face?
Ah, no! And as strong and enduring,
Though ocean and continent part,
Are the whispers, heard but by the loved one,
From the voice of the fond, faithful heart.

Deep down 'neath the bosom of ocean,
Unsounded by plummet or line;

-Jessie Bartlett Davis.

Historian Lossing's Happy Thought. The venerable Benson J. Lossing told the story, in New York recently, at the dinner to American authors by the Saturday Night club, how he first conceived the idea of his "Field Book of the Revolution." When Lossing, years ago, visited the historic ground where Putnam made his famous ride down the store store he the historic ground where Putnam made his famous ride down the stone steps, he encountered an old man, who so graphically described the event that Lossing asked him who he was and how he came to know so well all about it. "I stood right there," said the old man, "when Putnam came tearing down on his horse, and as he swept by me I heard him swear, between his teeth, 'D——n the British!" It was this recital that suggested to Mr. Lossing the happy thought of visiting the locales of important or striking revolulocales of important or striking revolu-tionary events, of depicting them with pen and pencil and collecting whatever traditionary lore still clung about them. The idea was so captivating that he closed an arrangement with his publishers be-fore he had written a line of the work.—

The Prince's Pewter Mug.

About a year ago Prince George of Wales was sent to his ship after a vacation (wherein he became greatly involved in debt) quite penniless, and with a warn-ing lecture from his father. Shortly after ing lecture from his father. Shortly after the christening of the Battenburg baby occurred, and presents were sent to the infant in great quantities, and of value commensurate to his exalted rank Prince George duly and dutifully sent his offering—a pewter mug with a tag attached, on which was written: "To my beloved nephew, with the hope that when his nephew is christened he will be able to purchase a more appropriate gift than purchase a more appropriate gift than this." It is said the Prince of Wales, on reading the inscription, exclaimed: "That boy is incorrigible!" then laughed heartily, and next day sent him a handsome sum. -The Argonaut.

Jacobs' Reply.

Joe T. Jacobs in a street discussion the other day announced that if Cleveland was re-elected his stock of goods would be on sale at seventy-five cents on the dollar and was considerably nonplussed when a democrat said that was one of the reasons why people of this section should vote for Cleveland, because they wanted cheaper clothing.—Argus last week.

EDITOR ARGUS:-The remark credited to me in the above quotation was Manager J. D. Mishler has the honor to present not [made ["in a street discussion" nor was I "nonplussed" at what "a democrat" said. He believes, as most democrats do, that the wages of American workmen are too high. He is willing that the manufactured goods piled in English ware-houses, made cheap by cheap English and Irish labor, should be dumped by ship loads onto our markets, free of duty, closing our manufacturies and reducing the wages of American laborers to those of free trade England and oppressed Ireland. He who is in business (Hardware) protected by the Mills bill and who can buy a suit of woolen clothes for $7.50 is willing that American woolen industries should be ruined that he could get a suit of clothes for a dollar or so less. Work and wages, the prosperity, bread and butter of American workman are to be surrendered that my democratic friend, Schuh, whose business is protected by our tariff, may buy his clothes of English make, while workmen in America are shut out of employment by foreign competition. Cheaper clothes means lower wages and that means good bye to American industries. JOE T. JACOBS.

Effect of Tariff on Wool.

By reference to the report of the Federal Bureau of Statistics, it can be seen brought their best average prices. Sheep husbandry, though mainly confined to small flocks in the states east of the Missouri River, prospered, and the number of sheep rapidly increased. In fourteen years the clip increased from 40,000,000 to over 100,000,000 lbs. During the war high prices ruled on account of the enormous demands of the government for woolen goods, but the prices, when reduced from a currency to a gold basis, rated no higher than in the days of peace. With the wool tariff of 1864 trouble began and the sheep industry began to move westward, to the free grazing lands west of the Missouri River. Meanwhile a decrease in the number of sheep in the states east of the Missouri began to be manifest. As a cure for this, the 80 per cent. wool tariff of 1867 was enacted. In 1868 the wool clip amounted to 180,000,000 pounds, but sheep husbandry east of the Missouri River began to decline at a rate unknown in the annals of the country.

Although from 1868 to 1875 witnessed the greatest development of wool raising in Texas, California, and the unocbrought their best average prices.

the greatest development of wool raising in Texas, California, and the unoccupied free grazing lands in the Territories, the wool clip of the country remained below that of 1868. It was not until the 7th year after the passage of this beneficient tariff that the wool clip reached the figure that it touched bereached the figure that it touched before. The decline fell as low as 28,000–000 pounds in one year. Then the enormous increase in the great western flock, under the then primitive conditions prevailing in Texas, California, New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Oregon, Utah, and Arizona, brought the yield up to its old standard. All subsequent increase in the wool All subsequent increase in the wool clip has been in the regions named, clip has been in the regions named, where the range was free and limitless. Sheep husbandry in the older sections of the country continued to languish and decline. In 1883 the tariff was reduced to its present figure, but the western wool clip continued to increase and prices declined until high-water mark was touched in 1886, the clip amounting to 285,000,000 pounds.

Meanwhile, wool manufacturing did not keep pace with the wool growing, on account of the hampering 'effects of the tariff, which enhanced the cost of the foreign wools necessary to mix with the foreign wools necessary to mix with the domestic article. The cheap west-ern wool drove the eastern flockmasters out of the business, but the business itself was becoming unprofitable because of the stagnant condition of the manufacturing industry.—Alta California

IN WASHTENAW.

By Andrew McAndrew.

FOR THE ANN ARBOR REGISTER

A charming story by a Washtenaw County and U. of M. boy, and founded upon fact. Written especially for the ANN ARBOR REGISTER, in which paper it will appear soon.

"Winning a Wife in Washtenaw" is the title of a story written by a young gentleman of Ypsilanti expressly for The Register. In it he says: "The scene was a comfortable interior in one of Washtenaw's houses in a town, gentle reader, that if you have been about the county much you will recognize before I am through.

A CARD.

There is a suggestive wrinkle in the coal contract with the school board that the public should be aware of. According to the terms of the contract According to the terms of the contract for putting in the school coal it was expressly stipulated that all coal should be weighed on public scales. In compliance with this argreement I had my coal weighed by F. A. Rettich. On inquiry I have discovered that E. B. Hall who obtained a large share of the contract registrated his coal on his own. contract, weighed his coal on his own scales. I have no desire to make insinuations, but it looks as if there was an able bodied African in the coal pile.
