The children of the Clinton Congregational Sunday school were each given five cents for investment or five cents worth of seeds last spring, the object being to raise as much money as possible for missions. Some of the young investors made as high as $3 out of their investment of five cents.

Yesterday a young man took a load of wheat to the Jackson branch freight house, and was told to go to the freight agent's office to get a receipt for it. He passed by the office and climbed the ladder to the water tank and walked around the edge looking for a door to get in, when spied by the agent.—Manchester Enterprise.

Drilling at the gas well was resumed last Friday afternoon, since which most satisfactory progress has been made. About 10 o'clock yesterday forenoon a measurement of the well was made in the presence of several officers of the company and others, and then the depth was 515 feet. The drill at that time was working in black limestone. Monday the drill struck into the sulphur regions, causing a very strong odor to arise from the well, which was smelled at a great distance, also blackening the water and gives the cable a very dark complexion. The drilling is kept in operation day and night, and if the present rate of progress continues and no mishaps occur the well will be completed within the next thirty days.—Dundee Reporter.

The third annual fair at Chelsea opened Wednesday. The attendance was small, it being the first day and rainy besides. The quantity of exhibitions in all the departments is somewhat smaller than last year except in some of the vegetables, but the quality of everything is first class. About the usual amount of trotters were entered for the races and there were good speed trials the last two days. The interest in the fair is not as great as it should be generally. There is a general belief that three fairs in this county are too many to be made a success. The Rev. D. A. Graham spoke to the people Wednesday for the prohibitionists and Senator Jones, of Florida, and Willard Stearns on Thursday for the democrats and Governor Luce and others Friday for the republicans. The display of machinery is very short but upon the whole the fair was a success in spite of the weather of the last two days.

"DOCTORING OLD TIME."

A Striking Picture—A Revival of Old Time Simplicities.

In one of Harper's issues is given a very fine illustration of Roberts' celebrated painting, known as "Doctoring Old Time." It represents a typical old-timer, with his bellows, blowing the dust from an ancient clock, with its cords and weights carefully secured. One of these clocks in this generation is appreciated only as a rare relic.

The suggestive name "Doctoring Old Time," brings to our mind another version of the title, used for another purpose,—"Old Time Doctoring."

We learn through a reliable source, that one of the enterprising proprietary medicine firms of the country, has been for years investigating the formulas and medical preparations used in the beginning of this century, and even before, with a view of ascertaining why people in our great-grandfathers' time enjoyed a health and physical vigor so seldom found in the present generation. They now think they have secured the secrets. They find that the prevailing opinion that then existed, that "Nature has a remedy for every existing disorder," was true, and acting under the belief, our grandparents used the common herbs and plants. Continual trespass upon the forest domain, has made these herbs less abundant and has driven them further from civilization, until they have been discarded, as remedial agents because of their difficulty of obtaining them.

H. H. Warner, proprietor of Warner's safe cure and founder of the Warner observatory, Rochester, N. Y., has been pressing investigations in this direction, into the annals of old family histories, until he has secured some very valuable formulas, from which his firm is now preparing medicines, to be sold by all druggists.

They will, we learn, be known under the general title of "Warner's Log Cabin remedies." Among these medicines will be a "sarsaparilla," for the blood and liver, "Log Cabin hops and buchu remedy," for the stomach etc., "Log Cabin cough and consumption remedy," "Log Cabin hair tonic," "Log Cabin extract," for internal and external use, and an old valuable discovery for catarrh, called "Log Cabin rose cream." Among the list is also a "Log Cabin plaster," and a "Log Cabin liver pill."

From the number of remedies, it will be seen that they do not propose to cure all diseases with one preparation. It is believed by many that with these remedies a new era is to dawn on suffering humanity and that the close of the nineteenth century will see these roots and herbs, as compounded under the title of Warner's Log Cabin remedies, as popular as they were at its beginning. Although they come in the form of proprietary medicines, yet they will be none the less welcome, for suffering humanity has become tired of modern doctoring and the public has great confidence in any remedies put up by the firm of which H. H. Warner is the head. The people have become suspicious of the effects of doctoring with poisonous drugs. Few realize the injurious effects following the prescriptions of many modern physicians. These effects of poisonous drugs, already prominent, will become more pronounced in coming generations. Therefore we can wish the old-fashioned new remedies the best of success.

WHAT IS

SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

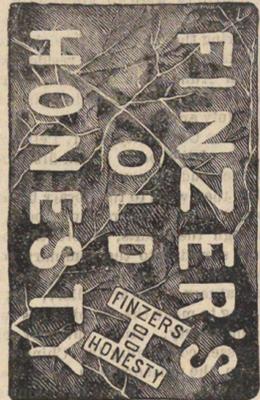

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, sores breaking out on them in various places. My little boy, three years old, has been a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to foot. I was advised to use Hood's Sarsaparilla, and we have all taken it. The result is that all have been cured of the scrofula, my little boy being entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. B. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N. J.

THE theory of protection is to build up one man's business by taxing all the people who use articles manufactured by the man sought to be benefited.

THE farmers are taxed to help manufacturers who are worth millions. The manufacturers contract to pay back part of that tax indirectly to the farmers.

THE New York Tribune at last admits that "wages always have been higher in this comparatively new country than in older and more crowded countries."

THERE are now 452,577 pensioners in the United States. During the past year 60,252 new names have been added to the pension rolls.

SAYS the New York World, "The Tribune is engaged in the easy work of carrying New York for Harrison—on paper, in advance of the election."

SAYS the Pittsfield correspondent of the Hillsdale Democrat: "Willard Stearns, our nominee for congress, was given a rousing reception at his meeting Monday night."

If a dry goods merchant of this city should get laws passed requiring all the people who purchase dry goods of other merchants than himself to pay a tax of forty-seven per cent for doing so, how long would the people be in rising at the polls to have such laws repealed?

THE following apt illustration of the absurdity of the claims of our republican friends that the democratic party is a free trade party is going the rounds of the press.

THE democratic county ticket is a good, clean ticket. Being a ticket of that nature, no good democrat, we opine, can be found to cut it for the republican ticket.

THE democratic have renominated Senator James S. Gorman. Senator Gorman made a reputation while in the legislature the past two years. He was the actual leader of the democratic minority and stood up against Jay Hubbell, the strongest man of the republicans and did not come off second best. He it was who embarrassed the republicans in passing the prohibition amendment law and furnished the argument, which probably influenced enough voters to defeat the amendment.

THE two greatest Irishmen who appeared in public life in the eventful period from 1775 to 1845, a period which embraces the change from ancient to modern industrial conditions, were Edmund Burke and Daniel O'Connell.

MANY people are deterred from thinking about the tariff question because they consider it a difficult one to understand. It is not. The principles are capable of being made so simple that anyone can understand it.

AND STILL THEY COME.

Among those who have come over to Cleveland and tariff reform within the last few weeks are the following: Henry S. Hotchkiss, of Brooklyn, late republican member of the New York Legislature; Crawford D. Hening, winner of the first literary prize of the Protective League in 1887, whose further studies made him a tariff reformer; Owen Lovejoy, grandson of the abolitionist martyr; A. R. Anderson, Representative from Iowa, who, although elected as an independent, has heretofore always declared his entire sympathy with the general purposes of the republican party; Calvin Edger-ton, Seth Low, late republican mayor of Brooklyn, New York; Rev. Dr. Theodore L. Cuyler, Ex-Governor D. T. Farnsworth, of West Virginia, Arthur T. Lyman, a prominent republican manufacturer of Boston; Major A. D. Pierce, late chairman of the republican congressional committee of the 20th Illinois district; Judge Frank T. Reid, republican candidate for Governor of Tennessee in 1884; F. S. Christenson, formerly Assistant Secretary of the State of Minnesota.

Mr. J. E. Stanley, a life long republican of Lewiston, Me., is out for Cleveland and the Mills bill. Mr. Stanley is an extensive manufacturer of dry plates used in photography, and is a tariff reformer of a pronounced type.

Mr. A. L. Goss another Maine republican, believes in the Mills bill and is only sorry that it does not go far enough. Mr. Goss is also a resident of Lewiston. In the course of a conversation the other day Mr. Goss said: "I am a life long Republican. I am a Republican now, but I am tired of this everlasting twaddle about protection. I was at Washington when the war tariff was first adopted. Senators Sumner, Henry Wilson, Harris of Maryland and every leading republican adopted it only as a matter of necessity, to be abolished at once after the necessity had passed away. And now, twenty-five years after, those identical taxes are in existence, only increased. Talk about pauper labor! We have pauper labor in these mills here. If operatives receive larger pay than in Canadian mills, they have been trained to do more work. Here they have the advantage of location, unsurpassed mechanical facilities, labor that is as cheap as any, and then to talk of their needing to be 'protected' is nonsense."

Mr. James Dempsey, manager of the Lewiston Bleachery and Dye Works, is also in favor of the Mills bill.

THE CLOSE STATES.

THE United States is democratic. The elections held in the close states since 1884 have almost uniformly shown democratic gains. The people have been satisfied with Cleveland's administration. They have expressed that satisfaction at the polls. A little study of the election returns since 1884 as compared with the returns of that year will show this.

In New York state Cleveland's plurality four years ago was 1,047. A year later it gave the democratic candidate for governor 11,134 plurality and in 1887 the democrats elected their secretary of state by 17,077. The steady gain in the democratic majority is worthy of note. In the latter year, the republicans professed to be sure of success. Henry George running on the union labor ticket received 70,055 votes for secretary of state that year. This year Henry George is a warm supporter of Cleveland and is doing yeoman service for him through the columns of his paper and on the stump. He estimates that 80 per cent of his vote last year will vote for Cleveland this year. Adding 80 per cent of the George vote to the democratic vote of a year ago and 20 per cent of that vote to the republican vote, we have a democratic plurality of 59,100. It will be plainly seen that the republicans have at least up hill work before them in New York.

In New Jersey the democratic plurality of 4,412 in 1884 grew to 8,020 in 1886. This year the prohibition candidate for president is from New Jersey and is very popular at home. He has been a republican and in New Jersey his vote will come from the republicans very largely. The republicans have no hope of New Jersey.

In Connecticut the democratic plurality of 1,284 in 1884 grew to a plurality of 1,897 in 1886. This plurality is small, it is true, but it shows a gain over 1884 and Connecticut is a small state with a comparatively small vote. A majority of 1,897 in Connecticut is equivalent to one of 16,078 in New York.

In Minnesota the large republican majority of 41,620 in 1884 dwindled to a paltry plurality of 2,600 on governor in 1886, on a total vote 30,516 larger than in 1884. The large decrease in majority cannot be laid to a stay at home vote; for the vote was out. This year large numbers of Scandinavians are leaving the party. The rank and file of all parties in Minnesota believe in tariff reduction. The figures are enough to make the republicans quake for Minnesota.

In Indiana the republicans gained in 1886. There was however a light vote. The republican plurality in 1886 was 3,324 and the democratic in 1884, 6,512. The revolt of the working men in Indiana from the republican party is assuming large proportions this year.

In California, the only state election held since 1884 showed that the state was politically revolutionized. In 1884 Blaine had 13,128 majority. In 1886 the democrats elected their governor by 652. The vote was a full one and was only 991 less than in 1884. The legislature elected was also democratic. Harrison is particularly unpopular in California owing to his Chinese votes.

In Colorado, the democrats also revolutionized the state in 1886. Blaine carried the state by 8,567 but two years later a democratic governor had 1,596 plurality.

Rhode Island gave Blaine a majority of 6,439 but the republicans got mixed up with prohibition there—just as they have in Michigan, only a little more so—and last year Rhode Island elected a democratic governor by 2,984 plurality and the republicans will have to make a hard fight to keep Rhode Island in the republican column.

Michigan gave Blaine 3,308 plurality. The next year Regent Whitman had 17,390 plurality. The following year the republicans carried the state by 7,432 and last spring they had 4,609 over the democrats and greenbackers. The votes in the off years were light and the margin is so close that Michigan can well be classed among the doubtful states, especially as a large number of intelligent republicans in this state will this year vote for Cleveland.

New Hampshire gave Blaine a plurality of 4,063, but so satisfactory was two years of democratic national administration that the republicans only got a plurality of 461 for governor in 1886. A very little additional change would make New Hampshire democratic.

Nevada gave Blaine 1,615 plurality. Two years later on a total vote of almost the same, the republican candidate for governor had 594 majority.

Harrison's Chinese record will lose him many votes in Nevada and he certainly cannot afford to lose many there.

It will be seen that the election returns in the close states have been very favorable to the democrats and indicate a trend of public opinion in that direction.
