The closing scene of the The bonds of the county officers second act, showing the bursting of the Milford dam, the rising of the waters and the floating away of the old mill with "Little Nugget" inside, is highly exciting and is a well managed piece of stage work. The fun is fast and furious, clean, wholesome and bright. A word of praise is also due the excellent quartette who rendered many pleasing selections. Gents: For forty-five years I have been afflicted with blood poison, liver and rheumatic difficulties. Part of the time confined to my bed. My blood was badly diseased. Siz bottles of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup did me more good than all the other medicines I have taken. My friends have used it and in every case it has proven a wonderful remedy. I have known of some wonderful cures of dyspepsia and neuralgia.

That THE NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY was incorporated by the Legisla-Insurance in America, as the oldest company wrote its first policy in 1843. Hon. Henry Clay, of Kentucky; Hon. Amos Abbott, of Massachusetts; Hon. Alex. Ramsey, of Pennsylvania were among the incorporators. That during the forty years of its successful experience, it has passed through the cholera epidemic of 1854, the financial panies of 1857 and 1873, as well a the ordeal of the Civil War. These were reriods when corporations and individuals were tried to their utmost capacity. On every side were failures, large and small, but the NATIONAL came out with a record of solid prosperity. and not a scar to mark the greatest financial disturbances ever known in this country. Its policy contracts, therefore possess all the security and permanence that stability and uccessful experience can guarantee. That it wrote in MICHIGAN during the year 1888 $74,000, and during the year 1889 $752,000, which was the largest per cent. of gains during said year by any company in Michigan. No company writes a more satisfactory policy, writing in the face of each policy three guarantees:

FIRST.—A paid-up policy.
SECOND.—A cash surrender for each year after the third. THIRD.—An extended insurance which provides for all emergencies that may overtake anyone between youth and old age.

Physical Aspects of Australia.

In Australia of the present, what attracts the stranger most in the physical aspect of the continent is the weird novelty of the mountain regions. A New War Story. This story of how thirty-six brave soldiers on the one side put to utter rout and rapid flight 3,000 brave soldiers on the other side is from the lips of a private who fought in the ranks through the stirring scenes of the sixties and came out with an honorable discharge. In 1862 Hanover Junction, a little town between the forks of the North Anna and South Anna rivers, was held by a body of troops from Longstreet's brigade. There were about 3,000 of them, and as the post was a vantage point about the same number of troops were sent from Mc-

Clellan's army to attack the place. Among the first to cross the North Anna river was Private McCarthy, of a New York regiment, now a resident of Kansas City. With him were thirtyfour members of the same company, commanded by Capt. Kilpatrick. The 3,000 defenders of the post were drawn up in battle file some distance from the river. Hardly had Kilpatrick's men reached the bank when he commanded them to charge, and the little troop of thirty-six went charging directly in the face of 3,000 troops drawn up in line of battle. The sight of the little body charging alone was too much for the nerves of the 3,000 raw troops and they fled. Unused to the artifices of war they thought there must be some trick in it, and they cut at once for taller

Her Strange Complaint.

Dr. B- was a popular physician, though the fact was rather surprising, as he was rather a "plain spoken" man, and had little patience with the fancies of some of his patients who were continually conjuring up diseases of all sorts, with which they imagined themselves to be afflicted.

"They don't want to think there's nothing the matter with them," the good doctor was wont to say rnefully. 'Why, bless me! a patient of mine was really angry with me not long ago, when I told her she didn't need any more medicine!"

One day one of these hypochondriacs went to him with a very grave face.

"Well, what's the matter now, Mrs. Gray?" asked Dr. B—— cheerfully: "I'm sure you're looking well." "I may be looking well," admitted the patient with great solemnity, "but I can assure you I am far from being so. I have a serious trouble.

"Why, my dear madam, you surprise me!" said the doctor.

"Yes," said the sufferer; "when I stoop over, so, and put my right hand up, so, to my shoulder, I have a most excruciating pain in my back."

"Then," said the doctor, with a hearty laugh, "why in the world do you persist in doing it?"

"She didn't like that," the doctor used to say in telling the story, "but I couldn't help saying it; there's not a person in the world who could take the position she did and not have a crick in the back."—Youth's Companion.

Russian Superstition. The widow of a church beadle died in a village in the government of Penza, having expressed the desire that her remains be put by those of her husband. When the grave of the latter was opened the coffin was not found. On investigation it was discovered that the peasants of the village had stolen the body of the dead beadle and sunk it in a swamp. There had been a drought in that district last year, and the peasants believed that if they sunk the body of a righteous man in water rain would come. This superstition is said to be prevalent among the common people in that region.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Where Everybody Prays at Noon. If you were to go through a Tyrolese village at 6 o'clock in the evening, you would hear from every cottage a hum like that of a hive of bees, every one, father and mother, children and servants, saying their prayers. It is much the same at noon, only then many of the people are out of doors in the fields or in their gardens. The church bell rings at 12, and the mowers put down their scythes, and take off their caps, and fold their hands in prayer for about a minute and then go on with their work. NEVER A FAILURE.

The doctor having devoted several years to the special tudy of chronic diseases in hospitals and general practice, and having the most recent and improved instruments for finding out diseased conditions in the organs of the body, he proposes to devote the whole of him to the practice of these specialities.

He adopts the following plan, which is peculiar to the large hospitals, and is not and sever has been the ractice of country doctors, viz.: He carefully notes the symptoms of the patient, ascertains the conditions he internal organs, examines the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat by the most recent and approved instrument and methods, all of which he carefully records in his register for future reference. In this way he ascertain he true nature of the disease and its cause. Knowing the disease, he knows the changes it produces in this sue, and, knowing the changes, he checks them with specific remedies, and places he patient on the hig oad to recovery. When sick people consult him he readily tells them whether he can cure or help them, of they are beyond hope.

The examinations are in accordance with anatomical and physical science, as he will convince the more teptical. THE state legislature organized Wednesday with Lieutenant-Governor Strong presiding over the senate and the election of Philip B. Wachtel, of Emmett, as speaker of the house. Both the speaker and the lieutenant-governor urged economy and a short session.

Forty-five years ago, in beginning a new volume of the Argus, Cole & Gardiner, who were then editors, said: "We mean to support the principles of democracy as laid down by the immortal Jefferson and expounded and acted upon by those who have received the confidenc and who still retain the support of the democratic party. Hence the present administration of our state will receive our humble yet firm support." For the first time in thirty-seven years, the Argus can again repeat the last sentence.

LIEUTENNT GOVERNOR STRONG, in his speech to the senate Wednesday, said: "It seems our stern and | business. This principle, which is sebounden duty to obey the mandate promulgated on the fourth day of last November, and answer by our words and actions in no unmeaning terms or conduct the demand of the people for a rigid observance of economy in the appropriation of their hard earnings. I believe the people are willing that we should be reasonably liberal to our educational institutions, watchful and just to our asylums, but conservative with our reformatories and prisons."

THE democratic opposition to the protective tariff is no new thing. To show this more clearly, we quote the following excellent article, applicable to-day as when printed in the Democratic Free Press (now Detroit Free Press) of January 27, 1844:

The word "protection," as used placed at $39,000.

FAMILY STOCKS IN AMERICA.

Now the Place of Residence Affects the Dignity and Worth of the Name. What then are the means of perpetuating good family stocks in a democracy? The first is country life. In this regard democracies have much to learn from the European aristocracies which have that the oldest are democratic. The proved to be durable. All the vigorous aristocracies of past centuries lived in the country a large part of the year. started in January, 1835. And, as for the most part, and lived on detached estates sparsely peopled by an agricult-ural and martial tenantry. a permanent dwelling place, domicile, or home town. In older societies this much of her as he does of himself, and ond floor of the building, away from the has always been the case. Indeed, a those who know him will understand place often lent its name to a family. In American cities and large towns there are as yet no such things as permanent family houses. Even in the oldest cities of the east hardly any family lives in a single house through the whole of one generation, and it is very rare that two successive generations are born in the same house.

Rapid changes of residence are the rule for almost everybody, so that a city directory which is more than one year old is untrustworthy for home addresses. It is almost impossible for the human mind to attribute dignity and social consideration to a family which lives in a hotel or which moves into a new flat ered a great joke for a man going up to every 1st of May. In the country, however, things are much better. In the older states there are plenty of families which have inhabited the same town for several generations; there are a few families which have inhabited the same house for three generations.

The next means of promoting family permanence is the transmission of a family business or occupation from father to sons. In all old countries this inheritance of a trade, shop or profession is a matter of course. Under right conditions, a transmitted business tends to make a sound family more secure and permanent, and a permanent family tends to hold and perfect a valuable curely founded on biological law, applies best in the trades and professions, in ordinary commerce, and in the industries which do not require immense capital; but in Europe many vast industries and many great financial and mercantile concerns are family properties, and there is in our own country already a distinct tendency to this family management of large businesses as being more economical and vigilant than corporate management, and more discerning and prompter in picking out and advancing capable men of all grades. They had traveling with them a young man in whom they had confidence, and to him they intrusted the details of the arrangement, as they wished to proceed home and had found means of returning to Tucson at once. So the agreement was drawn, up and the young man and the prospector were to ga to Tombstone, eighty miles in an opposite direction, where the money had been deposited subject to the young man's check, with positive instructions for him to pay the money and close the deal.

The general and his companion arrived home, but three weeks having passed by, and the letter that they longed for not having come, they telegraphed their agent to ascertain the cause of his delay in forwarding the papers. He answered that he had sent a letter. When it came they learned from the contents that he had not settled the matter, having come to the conclusion that it was best, in his judgment, not to purchase the claims. Discrimination.

A surprising thing is the unintelligent judgment that many people form as to the contents of newspapers. They swear by their favorite journal and dispute statements that appear in other journals, although such statements may be merely official reports and authoritative reports of occurrences verified on their face. How vastly superior are those who have the intelligence to read newspapers between the lines, to know when information is trustworthy, to make allowance for bias, to take things with the salt that seasons them. -New York Sun.

HANDY RESTAURANTS.

CONVENIENCES FOR WOMEN WHO GET HUNGRY SHOPPING.

Places in Fashionable Stores Where Lunches Are Served to Buyers at Moderate Prices-It Is Something of an Innovation, but Has Become Popular.

Several years ago a big retail dry goods house tried the experiment of providing a restaurant for its customers. It took a large section of one floor, and was fitted with polished hard wood tables. A space was reserved on the upper floor for the kitchen, and an army of girls was employed to act as waiters. The experiment was a success almost from the start, as the members of the firm knew it would be. Prior to that time customers had been interrupted frequently in the midst of their shopping by the necessity of going out to lunch. As there did not happen to be a good restaurant in the vicinity, this always meant a considerable loss of time, and, as a rule, the shopper would not return that day. If she desired to do any other shopping she would go to some store more convenient to the restaurant where she lunched.

By opening a restaurant in the store, therefore, the firm was enabled to keep its customers, and the latter were not interrupted so much in their buying. Furthermore, many persons came to the restaurant and were induced to purchase by the sight of the things around them, so that the direct profits of the restaurant were only a small portion of the entire profits that came from it in indirect ways.

The restaurant itself was an attraction. It was large and airy, and a cheerful place to sit in. Shoppers who were tired out from standing around bargain counters or walking from one place to another found it very pleasant to come here and rest. It often happened that the lunch was considerably prolonged by the chatting of friends who met at the tables. The food and the way in which it was prepared did credit to the place, and the prices compared favorably with the prices of the other articles for sale there

PROFITS FROM THE START.

The restaurant had not been long in existence before the firm concluded to secure still further profits from it. They did this by establishing in a separate room a restaurant for their employes. The same kind of food that was served in the public restaurant was served to the employes, but at reduced prices. As nearly as could be figured the employes Well, shortly afterward an agent of obtained their lunch at cost. The only Flood and Mackay came along, gave the proviso made by the firm in regard to poor prospector a cool $100,000 and the this was that those who took advantage retention of a one-eighth interest for his of their restaurant would not be allowed claims, and entered into an agreement to leave the establishment until the with the millionaire to work the mine day's work was over. The employes were not compelled to patronize the restaurant, and if they wanted to go elsewhere were allowed the same time as usual; but it was soon shown that the Queen" is still a great mine, while it is firm had made no mistake, because only a small number of the employes went

A number of other dry goods houses have established restaurants. One of these is very excellent, and compares favorably with first-class restaurants elsewhere. The bill of fare is elaborate, the service is very good, and every attempt is made to please. At the same time the prices are below those charged for similar service in regular restaurants.

A reporter visited a number of these restaurants the other day. The one last referred to was found to be the most attractive. It is a large room on the secnoise of trade, and is very nicely fitted up. There is a velvet carpet on the floor, and the furniture is all appropriate. A magnificent carved oak sideboard stands in one corner of the room, and is made brilliant by handsome utensils of chased and engraved silver and elaborate pieces of cut glass. The tablesaid the husband with dignity, "and cloths are of the finest linen. All the don't let any one else get in the elevator china and silverware compare in quality with those found in any first-class you report him to me and I'll discharge restaurant. There is only one man in the restaurant and he is the cashier.

MODERATE PRICES. The manager is a woman and the waiters are all young girls. The person who selected these evidently had an eye to the æsthetic, as they are all pleasant peep in the elevator and say to the boy, to look at. They wear uniform black dresses, with pretty white lace caps and aprons. The reporter was looked at with surprise when he came in, and the manager came up to him at once and informed him that gentlemen were not allowed there unless accompanied by ladies. An exception was made in his case, however, as he was simply looking

An idea of the prices can be obtained from this list of extras on the bill of fare: Chicken soup, 20 cents; lobster a la Newburg, 30 cents: lamb chops, breaded, with green peas, 35 cents; chicken put to any other use. The reason that croquettes, with cream sauce, 40 cents; he gave was that the students would roast beef, 25 cents; roast veal, stuffed, steal the apples in an orchard in which 25 cents; roast turkey, with cranberry sauce, 50 cents. A notice was appended this is the reason why New Gloucester to the bill of fare to the effect that no extra charge would be made when one portion was served for two. The importance of this was apparent when it was found that the portions were unusually large, and that one was always large enough for two. Leading out of the restaurant was a handsomely fitted writing room for the benefit of its patrons. Handsome polished hard wood tables and pretty little fancy seats were provided, together with all the little accessories necessary for comfort.

One of the restaurants had a parlor adjoining it for the accommodation of customers. The prices at this restaurant were considerably below those of the first. Roast turkey was put down at 30 cents and roast chicken at the same. The other extras were: Celery, 12 cents; Tokay grapes, 10 cents: pears or oranges, 5 cents, and cranberry sauce, 7 cents. All these restaurants do their cooking in the store building .- New York Sun.

The Ann Arbor Argus struts around and does a good deal of fine cut and natural bragging over the erudition of Bob Shannon, the foreman of that paper. It calls him "a kind of walking dictionary," and he'll "catch on to all the late fads in the division of syllables" in Websters new International and brandishes other qualities peculiarly Bobonian in the face of the public. The stark naked truth is, Bob is a whole-souled, bang up good printer, always writes his name with his head on one side so that the smoke from his pipe won't shut out pen and paper, and likes everybody and everybody likes him. But this talk about his knowing so much is all bosh. The last time we were in the Argus office Beakes, the editor and Bob had it right and left over the word "Jehoshaphat." The "old man" said it was spelled "Jehossifat," as all scholars were aware, but Bob stuck to "Jehorsiphat," and held that the word was an Ypsilantic barbarism corrupted from either Choctaw or Sighux, and he did n't care a blank which. After we got them apart by throwing a pail of cold water on them, we architectured the word's anatomy in good form, the little slip public. We never have, we never will. Conference M. E. Womans' Home Missionary Society.

The Women's Home Missionary society, of the Detroit conference of the M. E. church, held a meeting in Detroit, Wednesday. The tribune gives the following as the part taken by the Ann Arbor delegates in the conference.

The report of Mrs. Douglas of Ann Arbor, who has charge of the distribution of mite boxes through out the conference, showed that there were about 1,400 of the boxes out, a large number of which had been placed during the last three months. Mrs. Douglas made a few brief remarks with regard to her work, saying that by this means very often small sums are saved for the work that would otherwise not be paid in. She said that in Ann Arbor the returns average about 55 cents from euch box. She also recommended that the funds from the mite boxes be devoted to the frontier fund. The report was adopted.

Mrs. J. E. Beal of Ann Arbor, corresponding secretary of the conference, read a full account of the work done by her during the quarter showing the standing of various auxiliaries throughout the state.

A resolution was also adopted authorizing the secretary to send LADIES LIBRARY ASSOCIATION letters of condolence to Mrs. John ence higher than the present order. Davis, president of the National society, and to Mrs. Royer of Ann Arbor, both of whom have been lately bereaved of their husbands.

We've heard of a woman who said she'd walk five miles to get a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription if she couldn't get it without. That woman had tried it. And it's a medicine which makes itself felt in toning up the system and correcting irregularities as soon as its use is begun.

Go to your drug store, pay a dollar, get a bottle and try it-try a second, a third if necessary. Before the third one's been taken you'll know that there's a remedy to help you. Then you'll keep on and a cure 'll come.

But if you shouldn't feel the help, should be disappointed in the results - you'll find a miles of the Bad Lands, but the warguarantee printed on the bottle-wrapper that'll get your money back for you.

How many women are there who'd rather have the money than health? And "Favorite Prescription" produces health. Wonder is that there's a woman willing to suffer when mit that the number of Indians killed in there's a guaranteed remedy in the nearest drug store.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets regulate the Stomach, Liver and Bowels. Mild and effective.

GEN. MILES REPORTED KILLED,

But the Report Is Proved False-Radical Method Adopted by the Bestiles to Prevent Red Cloud's Return to the Agency-Col. Forsythe Gets Into Tronble Over That Wounded Knee Affair-Col. Corbin Leaves Chicago for the Scat of War-Rumors of Fighting.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, S. D., Jan. 5,-Saturday Red Cloud tried to slip away from the hostiles and return to the agency. When the fact was discovered by the hos tiles they shot all of his ponies, numbering about fifteen; placed a guard over the old chief and proceeded to move several miles farther from here. This last move places their main camp within but a few riors, according to the reports of scouts, keep circling within ten or a dozen miles of here all the time. The enemy are camped on White Clay Creek, fifteen miles north of the agency.

Effect of the Ghost Dances. They number not less than 1,500 warriors and a horde of squaws and children. Those who have returned say that there are large numbers of strangers from other agencies in the crowd. The refugees adthe White Clay battle of Tuesday was large. The effect of the ghost dance delusion is seen in the fact that the Indians make no attempt to remove the dead from tne battlefield or to care for the wounded Their idea is that every one who is killed or dies from his wound is in big luck and will turn into a buffalo, etc.

Encircling the Hostiles.

There is a circle drawn around the hostile Indians now, it being completed by the departure of Capt. Crossly, of the Seventh cavalry, with four troops for Beaver creek, seven miles away. The circle is drawn to the north and east from there to Col. Henry's command; from thence to Col. Wheaton's; thence to Col. Stanford's. thence to Col. Wells'; thence to Col. Offley's; thence to Gen. Carr's; thence to Col. Whitney's on the Wounded Knee battle ground, and from there back to the agency. By this arrangement the Indians are practically hemmed in. At the principal railway stations along the edge of the reservation state troops are quartered. The line is drawn between the Indians and the Bad Lands.

Col. Forsythe Relieved.

In accordance with instructions telegraphed from Washington City Gen. Forsythe has been relieved of his command of the Seventh cavalry, pending investiga-tion of the Wounded Knee affair. Maj. Whitesides succeeds to the command of the regiment. Maj. Whitesides says the was an accident, that a few moments before the fighting began the squaws were merrily pelting the searching party with bundles of rags. The accepted reason for Gen. Forsythe's relief is the manner in which his troops were placed

ON THE INDIAN FRONTIER.

Rumors Are Thick, but There Is Nothing Reliable of a Fight.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6 .- Rumors from the seat of war are very thick and very sensational. The one of yesterday that Gen. Miles had been killed was knocked out completely, and another that there had been a disastrous battle three miles from Pine Ridge met the same fate; dispatches re-ceived at Washington City at 6:30 ast evening proved that much, and others received here as late as 9 o'clock confirmed the proof. There are now about 7,000 troops, exclusive of the Indian police, on a fierce battle before the war is over seems without doubt.

The Way Wallace Died.

A soldier at Pine Ridge gives the following particulars of Capt. Wallace's death at the Wounded Knee battle: Capt. Wal-lace was found dead at the entrance of an Indian lodge with five dead warriors lying near him, each Indian corpse showing a bullet would. Five of the chambers in the aptain's revolver were found empty, and from the position in which the bodies lay it is presumed that Wallace killed the ive Indians before he was overcome,

An Artist Captured and Released. A special from White River, S. D., says Frederick Remington, Harpers' war artist, was captured by a small party of hos-tiles Sunday. Remington was unarmed and the Indians turned him loose and told him to go home, after taking his tobacco and sketchbook from him.

The Situation in Nebraska. Nearly the whole of the Nebraska militia is under arms on the northwestern border of the state, the settlements there being menaced by roving bands of Indians.

CORBIN ORDERED TO THE FRONT.

An Indication of a Regular Campaign-Looking for a Fight.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.-Lieut. Col. Corbin, adjutant-general of the division of the Missouri, left for the Pine Ridge Agency last evening. He is to be chief of staff of last evening. He is to be chief of staff of Gen. Miles at the latter's headquarters in the Indian war. The order transferring surrender the tower, which was broken Col. Corbin to this important position arrived by telegraph during the afternoon, and within a few hours Col. Corbin was on his way to Pine Ridge agency. The fact that Gen. Miles has determined upon forming a regular staff at the seat of the troubles, with such an experienced sol dier as Col. Corbin in charge, would seem to indicate that the Indian fights will no longer bear the character of skirmishes and disconnected engagements, but bear the dignity and seriousness of a war-a regular campaign.

A Bloody Battle Imminent. A dispatch from Oelrich's ranch says: A courier from Col. Offley's camp on White river, twenty-five miles northeast of Oeltacked by a roving band of hostiles and driven away. It was the firing consequent on the attack that caused the report of a battle Saturday night. No one was hurt among the troops. The Indians objected to the burial of their dead by their pale-

FIGHT WITH INDIANS.

A Private Runs the Gantlet and Brings Up Reinforcements.

PINE RIDGE, S. D. Jan. 7.-A wagon train was attacked Monday on Vounded Knee creek by Indians, who surrounded it and forced the escort and teamsters to fight from behind their wagons. The fight was looking pretty blue for the train, when Private Collins volunteered to bring help. He dashed through the enemy's lines and in a short time a troop of cavalry came galloping to the rescue, gallantly sweeping the redskins off the field, and chasing them to the hills. No casualties are reported among the troops.

McGillicuddy Rakes Agent Royer. Dr. McGillicuddy and Agent Royer had a battle of words yesterday. Royer accused McGill:cuddy of having stirred up the Indians against him, and of trying to have him (Royer) "fired." McGillicuddy retorted. ed that Royer was a liar and an ass, and Royer tried to expel him from the agency, but was unsuccessful. McGillicuddy told Royer plainly that his ignorance and timidity caused all the trouble. There is trouble ahead for Royer.

The Hostiles Suffering for Food. Sixty-five squaws, with about the same number of papooses, came in from the hostile camp about six miles away yesterday, and are being taken care of. There is great suffering among the hostiles on account of scarcity of food or shelter. No movement of troops is projected. It is stated that Col. Forsythe is to be rein stated till the close of the campaign.

Prebably a Mighty Thin Fake.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 5.-A telegram received in this city last night reported that Gen. Miles had been killed in a bat-tle with the Indians, It was impossible to confirm the report, and it is not credited

MADE HER LAST EXIT.

Emma Abbott, the Popular Singer, Dies at Salt Lake City.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.-Emma Abbott, the noted singer, died at Salt Lake City, Utah, just at sunrise yesterday. Her death was caused by pneumonia and heart trouble.

She had been making a tour of the principal cities in the west. On Dec. 31 she arrived at Salt Lake City, where she was billed for a week's engagement, which she opened on New Year's night. At that time she had a slight cold, as she thought, though her physicians advised her not to attempt to appear on the opening night. The ailment rapidly grew worse, and pneumonia set in. This was aggravated by heart trouble, due, it is thought, to the liberal use of opiates given for her relief. She sank rapidly and passed away peacefully. Her remains will be brought here and the funeral will take place Friday from Central Music hall. Miss Abbott, or more properly Mrs. Wetherell, when dying, expressed a wish to be buried beside the body of her late husband at Worcester, Mass. It is a curious coincidence that Mr. Wetherell died in Denver exactly two years ago at almost the same hour and from the same causes, pneumonia and heart trouble, that led to his wife's death.

Both Senate and House at Work.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 6.-In the senate yesterday the credentials of Senator-Elect Dubois, of Idaho, were placed on file, and McConnell of Idaho was sworn in. When the election rill came up the senate on motion of Stewart, by a vote of 34 to 29, laid it aside and took up the finance committee's bill which was debated at length by Sherman, Reagan, and others.

In the house the conference report on the urgent deficiency bill was agreed to. The rules were suspended and the senate bill for a public building at Danville, Ills., was passed; also bill for a building at Richmond, Ky.

WASHINGTON CITY, Jan. 7.-In the senate yesterday consideration of the financial bill was continued until 3 o'clock when a secret session was held which lasted until adjournment.

In the house a number of bills were passed, among them the bill authorizing the president to suspend tonnage dues. The shipping bill was then taken up in committee of the whole and debated without action.

The Operator Was Drunk.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.-A train on the Erie railway, made up of empty passenger coaches bound for Jersey City, crashed into a freight train at Ridgewood Junction, N. J., Friday. The caboose, several freight cars, and the engine of the passenger train were wrecked. The engineer and fireman of the passenger train saved them-selves by jumping. The accident was caused by a wrong signal given from the into by orders of the train-dispatcher. took five men to overpower Kelly, and he was bound hand and foot with ropes.

Father Craft Is Alive and Recovering. WASHINGTON CITY, Jan. 5.—The press dispatches announcing that Father Craft, the Roman Catholic missionary, was fatally wounded in the late fight with the Sioux, are not borne out by the official dispatches received at the war department. A dispatch from Gen. Brooke, dated Pine Ridge, Jan. 1, received Saturday, states that Father Craft was wounded, but is do-

A Victory for the Employers

LONDON, Jan. 5.-The Shipping Federation of Great Britain has met by contribution from its members all the net losses of shipowners at Hull belonging to the federation, incurred in consequence of strikes. The triumph of free labor in Hull is complete and the failure of the strike has caused many men to leave the union and seek employment independently.

Mighty Little Java Coffee This Year. WASHINGTON CITY, Jan. 5.- The bureau of American republics has received advices of the almost total failure of the coffee crop of Java, which is estimated at only about 16 per cent of former annual averages.

MILDRED FULLER MARRIED.

The Chief Justice's Daughter Now Signs Her Name Wallace.

WASHINGTON CITY, Jan. 6.-Miss Mildred Fuller, daughter of the chief justice, was married last evening to Mr. Hugh Wallace, of Tacoma, Wash., at St. John's Episcop al church, by Bishop Potter. The church was packed by the elite of the cap ital's official society. Among those present were the president and Mrs Harrison, Secretary and Mrs. Windom Postmaster General and Mrs. Wan-namaker, Justice Field, Senator and Mrs. Cockrell, Senator Carlisle and Senator Vance. There was also present a large delegation of friends of the Fuller family from Chicago, besides the immediate relatives. After the ceremony a reception followed at the residence of the chief justice. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace will make their home at Tacoma, where the groom is in business.

A GENERAL RAISE ASKED.

Pennsylvania Trainmen Want a Heavy Increase of Wages.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 7.-Every division superintendent of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg was visited yesterday by committees of trainmen who asked an advance in wages. The committees were composed of men employed on the division governed by the superintendent on whom the men called. They presented a list of grievances, the most important of which specifies that they shall be paid by the mile instead of the trip. They ask an increase of 75 cents a day for freight conductors and 35 cents for the freight brakemen. The conductors now get $2.50 a trip and the brakemen $1.75 for the same run They now ask that they receive 3.25 and 2.1 cents, respectively, per mill, for every run of 100 miles, and that every run bet ween 60 and 100 miles shall be counted as

THE CONFERENCE AT BOULOGNE. Parnell and O'Brien Hold a Long Consultation.

BOULOGNE, Jan. 7.-Parnell had a halfhour's private consultation with O'Brien immediately upon his arrival here yesterday. Luncheon was then taken, after which the conference was resumed and lasted an hour and a half. Then the members of parliament were invited to join in the consultations, which they did and the group was in session until nearly mid-night. Redmond and Gill imparted the following information after the meeting adjourned. "The consultation between Mr. Parnell and Mr. O'Brien is still proceeding and will be continued to mor-

Ran Into Two Hand-Cars.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 7.-A special to The Times from Coshocton, O., says: The west-bound Panhandle passenger train at 5:30 last night about one mile east of here ran into two hand cars containing twentytwo workmen. Two men, John Curran and Robert Davis, of Steubenville, were instantly killed and terribly mutilated. Capt. Burgess, of Allegheny, received injuries from which he can not recover. The other men saved their lives by jumping.

An Item of Grand Army News.

RUTLAND, Vt., Jan. 3.-A general order was issued last night from the headquarters of the Grand Army of the Republic announcing that the commander-in-chie has selected as committee on transporta tion for the twenty fifth annual encamp-ment, to be held at Detroit next August, Comrades Russell A. Alger, of Michigan: John W. Hurst, of Illinois, and Isam Hodges, of New York.

FINED THE THREE DEACONS.

Outcome of a Church Trouble in a Michigan Town. BELLAIRE, Mich., Jan. 5.-Last week at a prayer meeting three of the deacons in the Saints' church here requested J. B. Hayes, one of the members, who was accused of backsliding, to speak, sing, or pray, and when he refused the three deacons seized him and threw him out the door, bruising him badly. Hayes thought he was misused and applied to Justice Kibby for a warrant for assault and battery. This warrant was granted and the three deacons brought before the court. They were accompanied by a crowd of the church people. Before each session of the court the members knelt on the court-room floor and prayed that heart of the justice might be softened.

The Prayers Availed Not. The woman members of the church brought their sewing and knitting, and every little while would break into a song, and the justice was forced to suspend operations until they had finished. Hayes made a strong case, and despite the prayers and protestations of the church mem bers, Kibby found the three deacons guilty and fined each $46. The size of the fine appalled the deacons and their crowd, and they ga here around the justice to protest. Kibby informed them that he would fine the whole crowd for contempt if they did not stop. The deacons will appeal.

A FRIGHTFUL PLUNGE.

Twelve Miners Precipitated a Distance of 460 Feet.

SAN ANDREAS, Cal., Jan. 6.-Twelve men were almost instantly killed in Utica mine, Angel's camp, Monday, at about noon. A load of men were being lowered on the "skip," and when about 150 feet from the surface the rope broke, precipitating all a distance of 460 feet to the bottom of the shaft. This makes the second serious disaster that has occurred at Angel's camp within a little more than a year. In December, 1889, sixteen miners in Lane mine perished miserably in a side tunnel, where they were confined by a fall of earth loosened by heavy rains. Angel's is in Calaveras county, on the line of the old stage road from Stockton to Yosemite valley, and has been made famous by Bret Harte in poem and story.

Mizner's Life Threatened.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.-A special to The Herald from La Libertad, Salvador, says Minister Mizner will leave there for San Francisco. It is asserted that he has received numerous letters threatening his life, and that he solicited a body guard from the United States steamer Ranger to accompany him to the steamer. Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua and Costa Rica have combined in asking the Washministers, and will withhold their recognition of Minister Paeheco until a definite answer has been received.

Montana Again Worried by a Legislative Row.

THE DEMOCRATS NOW IN CHARGE.

A Sergeant-at-Arms Who Knew His Bus iness-The Old Silver Bow Difficulty Up Again-Inauguration of Peck as Gov ernor of Wisconsin-"Jefferson Simplicity" Observed-The Illinois Legisla tors Gather at Springfield.

HELENA, Mont., Jan 6.-Montana's legislature met yesterday, and, as expected, there were two houses of representatives and only one senate. Great crowds collected in Electric Light hall, the place appointed for meeting, in anticipation of a big row, but were disappointed. The Democrats organized the senate, and elected officers without trouble, Governor Rickards, who presided, contenting himself with putting motions made by the ten Democrats, who of course carried Perything against their six Republican

When State Auditor Kinney called the nouse to order the Democratic members lid not respond, and the Republicans went ahead to organize without them. The disputed Silver Bow members sat in their respective houses. When the time came for the different bodies to notify each other that they were organized the Democratic house got in its work with the senate. The Republican house had sent a committee to the senate to say it was organized and ready for business.

Finlan Master of the Situation. When the committee reached the senate, Miles Finlan, sergeant-at-arms of that body, and who acted in that capacity for the Democratic house last year, refused to announce their presence, but when the committee from the Democratic house arrived Finlan promptly made their presence known. A motion from the Democratic side to receive the committee was carried, but when the Republican committee got a Republican senator to move its announcement the motion was tabled. In fact, the Democrats hold all the trumps

WISCONSIN'S NEW GOVERNOR.

Peck Goes into Office Without Fuss or Feathers.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 6.-For the first time since 1874 the Democrats have a governor of the state, and he took his office yesterday very modestly. It had been expected that a crowd of 10,000 or so would materialize, and it was supposed that Milwaukee alone would dispatch a legion of several thousand. The weather, too, was royal, mild and yet bracing, with an azure sky and a sun that beamed approvingly on the ceremonies all day, but for all that the attendance from outside of Madison was not of alarming proportions. All told probably not over 2,000 from all over this broad state-Madison not included-were present.

The Scene at the Capitol.

When the governor-elect arrived he was received by a committee. Among the members being Gen. Lucius Fairchild, Col. W. F. Vilas, Judge R. G. Siebecker, Col. George W. Bird, George Raymer, Governor Hoard, and all his staff of departing "outs." A cheer was given and the party proceeded at once to capitol, where the new state officers were led first to the executive office and next to the assembly chamber. There Chief Justice Cole administered the oath of office, beginning with Governor Peck and ending with the insurance commissioner, W. M. Root. There were no speeches and no prayers, and the whole ceremony was as simple and as unostentaone as it could well

The Inauguration Ball.

A season of handshaking and congratulations followed. The inaugural ball at night was the brilliant feature of the day's events. The assembly chamber of the capitol was handsomely decorated, and there was a great crush present, all parts of the state being represented. Ex-Secretary Vilas and Mrs. Vilas were at the head of the reception committee, and received the guests as they came in. The floor of the senate chamber was covered with canvas, and here the dancing was kept up until a late hour. The toilets of the ladies were elegant. Governor Hoard left last night for Canada to fill a lecture

Illinois Legislature.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Jan. 6.—Once more and for the thirty-seventh time in the history of the state of Illinois the state legislature met at 12 o'clock noon to-day. Nearly every member was in his seat. The open ing prayer was delivered, addresses of welcome made, and the legislature was ready to select officers. The follow-The followare leading candidates and are almost sure winners: President pro tem of the senate, Senator Matthews; speaker of the house, Crafts. Delos P. Phelps, of Monmouth, was re-elected chairman of the Democratic state central committee last night by acclamation. It is impossible to say how the Alliance votes will go as to United States senator.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Jan. 7.—The Democrats caucused yesterday and selected Clayton E. Craft for speaker of the house by a heavy majority. Then the following were nominated: Chief clerk, W. H. Hinrichson; doorkeeper, — Browne. Assistant clerks and doorkeeper were also nominated. The Republican caucus nominated Q.J. Chott for temporary speaker and a full list for the other offices. The legislature met to-day instead of yesterday, as stated in these dispatches.

Governor Hill's "Last Year."

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 7.—The most significant clause in Governor Hill's message to the New York legislature yesterday, and the one that stimulated the most comment was as follows: "In entering upon the seventh and last year of my service as chief executive of the state, I will not affect to conceal my gratification at the fact that for the first time during the past seven years the popular branch of the legislature is in political accord with the ex-ecutive." The significance lies in the words "last year."

Michigan's Democratic Speaker.

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 7.-Last night's Democratic legislative caucus was a spirited one and seven ballots were taken before a choice for speaker was made. The nomination finally fell to Philip B. Wachtel, of Emmet county. Mr. Wachtel is a native of Pennsylvania and only 40 years of ace.

To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Ann Arbor:

GENTLEMEN: I see by the Ann Arbor Register that you call upon your city engineer to 'report progress upon "City Plot." In accordance with which I submit the fol-

Coming into office unexpectedly, as I did, the middle of June, just as the summer work was pressing, I was at once called upon for grades and street lines, which work occupied every day until it froze up.

Not having such instruments as I desired to do city work with, I ordered a transit from Buff & Berger's, of Boston, which I did not receive until the middle of November, I managed to do the work required with such instruments as I could command, but they were not such as I felt like using to take measurements and angles, such as would be if I had had the time.

Furthermore being an entire data to work from, I have not yet not liable in the premises. We been able to do any work upon such therefore report that the claim be "Plot," but as soon as possible I disallowed. intend to commence and prosecute the work, and hope to present your Hon. body with a correct Plot of the city in the near future.

Respectfully submitted,

In planning the first equipment of the Ann Arbor Central Mills, we aimed to secure a complete outfit for doing all kinds of farmer's work in our line. As time has passed, many improvements have been invented which have been introduced into our mill.

The latest of these is a power cleaning machine, designed to replace the farmer's fanning mill. It is the first to be placed in any mill in this part of Michigan, but we have put it in operation only after 2. thoroughly satisfying ourselves that the machinery has proved a marked success in many parts of the coun-
