HATS AT A RACE.

Are not at all unusual, but Races on a Hat, even it be a Derby Hat, cannot be seen every day. Of all the intolerable things perhaps the most intolerable is a bad hat. The man who wears one ought to be taken in hand by his friends at once. You say that you cannot afford to buy a new Hat, but you would be nearer the truth if you said you couldn't afford to wear an old one.

A GOOD HAT

Is a sort of Certificate of Character. A Stylish Hat marks the wearer as a Gentleman. You can get your character certified to, and your gentlemanly qualities properly stamped and labeled, by coming at once to

A. L. NOBLE'S,

'Brella Men in Town.—A Hot Encounter With a Rat—A Calf With Two Heads—Other Notes of the Week.

Republican Ward Nominees.

The republican ward caucuses were held Tuesday evening. There was a small attendance at most of them and the nominations in a majority of cases went begging, many of the nominees not having been consulted and not being present in the caucus. The nominees for supervisors were John R. Miner, John Krause, James R. Sage, Giles Lee, Thos. J. Speechley and John W. Bennett. The nominees for aldermen were Levi D. Wines, Conrad Noll, A. H. Fillmore, George Allmendinger (vacancy), A. P. Ferguson, S. D. Lennon, Arthur J. Kitson, J. A. Herbert, Daniel Millen and Henry Marsh were named for constable in the first, fifth and sixth wards.

A Two Headed Calf.

One of the most phenomenal instances in nature occurred very recently in Northfield, at the house of Patrick Donegan, directly opposite Welch's corners. Mr. Donegan has a new milch cow, which presented its owner with a calf containing two distinct heads. Unfortunately the little creature is dead, as it would prove a wonderful curiosity if living. A friend of the ARGUS who viewed the dead calf, describes it as being perfectly developed, with two white spots on each of the faces, and having two distinct necks joined to a natural and beautiful red body. The dead curiosity is still to be seen at Mr. Donegan's barn in Northfield, and has for days caused many in the vicinity to visit the place where lies the rare spectacle.

The Policeman and the Muskrat.

It is not often that a newspaper can relate a deadly combat between a policeman and a muskrat. Last Sunday night at a late hour, Patrolman Tice was making his rounds on Main street keeping his ears open for possible burglars and his eyes peeled for signs of incipient fires, when he came upon a huge muskrat in front of Koch & Henne's store. The rat was one of the largest ever seen in these parts. He was very ferocious and did not even wait for the patrolman to begin the combat, but seized him by the leg, tearing a great rent through his trousers and underclothing. The policeman's club was found too short for effective use, and Tice beat an orderly retreat to secure a scantling which was one side of the store. When he returned his ratship was waiting to renew hostilities, but it was soon killed by the vigorous blows rained upon it. The rat measured two feet from the tip of his tail to the end of his nose. The ARGUS reporter saw it measured and gives the exact measurement. Driver Carroll of the engine house, who skinned him, reports that every bone in his body had been broken. How the muskrat came on Main street is a mystery.

The Republican City Convention.

The republican city convention last night selected A. W. Hamilton, for chairman, and John Bennett for secretary. Mr. Hamilton, in taking the chair, said the fair fame of the city depended on all conventions nominating good tickets.

G. Frank Allmendinger was nominated for mayor by acclamation. Reginald Spokes was nominated for president of the council by acclamation.

A ballot was taken for clerk, which resulted, Daniel O'Keefe 46, N. D. Gates 13, Geo. Pond 1. Daniel O'Keefe was nominated.

When nominations for justice were called for, John Bennett took the floor, and said that politics were entirely out of place in this office. The office of justice wanted a man who could not be swayed by any motives of fear or friendship. Justice Pond was such a man, and had proven the most economical justice for the county ever on the bench. He moved his nomination by acclamation. Col. Deán seconded the nomination with pleasure, because four years ago they had endorsed the same nomination. Justice E. B. Pond was then placed on the ticket.

C. E. Hiscock didn't understand that the republicans had any candidate for assessor, and consequently thought they had best renominate the present incumbent, Patrick O'Hearn, who had performed the duties of the office in a satisfactory manner. Politics, he said, made very little difference in this office. J. T. Jacobs seconded the nomination, and it went through by acclamation.

Col. Deán then named the city committee as follows: A. L. Noble, Conrad Noll, M. M. Steffy, W. C. Stevens, N. D. Gates and Dr. C. G. Darling.

The University Attendance.

The University calendar, just being published, gives the number of students in the University at 2,420, an increase of 263 over last year. The increase has been largely in the literary department, which this year has 168 more students on its roll than it had last year. The medical department has not fallen off in attendance although the course has been extended to four years, which of course will reduce the attendance from what it would have been had the old requirements for graduation been retained. But it must necessarily raise the grade of the graduates to whom problems of life and death will be intrusted. The senior class in the law department is only seven smaller than the junior class was last year, and it is by far the largest ever graduated here. The attendance on the homeopathic department is stationary. Below is given a table showing the comparative attendance this year and last in the various departments.

Seven Umbrella Men in Town.

Few other than those professionally interested, as the policemen and reporters, take cognizance of many phases of local city life, well worthy of attentive study and investigation. Among these the most apparently commonplace and prosaic afford the under-surface investigator the best returns for his labors.

Ninety-nine persons out of any hundred, regard the umbrella man as a chronic, ubiquitous irrepressible nuisance, just tolerable, because he at least ostensibly earns the living which other of his class achieve through mendacious begging.

Very many men and women whose hearts throb with overflowing sympathy for misfortune, particularly when vested in the flimsiest guise of worthiness, and who cannot wholly hearken to it even when known to be of vicious and persistently followed origin, find especial satisfaction in confiding the costliest umbrellas and parasols to the repulsive looking, old or young, "mush-fakir," i. e., umbrella man. "Because you know, my dear, the poor man needs it more than our prosperous town workmen, and then I do so like to help anyone who is trying to help himself.

On last Tuesday morning there entered Ann Arbor from as many different points of the compass no less than seven different "brella" men, all of whom held a convention in a saloon which they specially affect. The object of the accidental meeting was not only to exchange points on towns and routes recently traversed, and individuals therein accessible as victims, but also to so parcel out this city as to subject it to such domiciliary visitation as should permit no possible victim to escape solicitation without interfering conflict of solicitors."

Each of these had a staff of one or more canvassers who had not reached the dignity of a "kit" of their own, but whose duty it was to harass the residents of one side of a street, while those of the other were gnashing their teeth over the impudent importunities of his chief.

Before this article reaches its readers, many of them will have had a personal application of its truth which precludes the need of further averment.

Every feature of the disease will have been experienced. Symptoms may have widely differed, but all must feel that we have touched an unhealed because constantly lacerated spot which has supervened from constant and devilishly designed laceration by the "brella man."

And then these fellows have other fakes, all except in rarely exceptional instances equally fraudulent. They repair leaky tinware, which leaks again in time to give a job to the next speedily arriving member of the endless procession behind them; they sharpen scissors in such style as imperils the religion of pillars of the church; they repair sewing machines in such a manner as to impose ruinous loss and expense on the poorly paid seamstress; mend baby carriages so as to jeopardize the lives of their intended precious occupants; and perhaps as bad as all, expend the earnings, averaging higher than those of a first-class mechanic, in the debauchery and wreck of their own bodies.

Among these people there is a remarkable similarity of appearance and equipment. All are clad in conspicuously ill-fitting and bedraggled clothes. All are of equally unclean aspect, and no difference exists between them as to impudent reprisal for even the faintest complaint as to the defective character of their work. They are a wholly unreliable and equally unworthy class, and as between two evils, have no right to comparison with the average tramp in point of honesty and respectability. They are a drunken, worthless, incorrigible set of fellows whom no conscientious man or woman should encourage by patronage, especially at the expense of reputable local tradesmen.

It is true they include many men of respectable origin whose early advantages give them facility of speech which might enable them to "talk the hind leg off a dog," but nevertheless respectable, well-meaning people should have none of them.

The program at the Unity club next Monday evening, April 6, 1891, will consist of a paper by Prof. George Hempl, on "Getting Settled in Berlin," a paper by Judge W. D. Harriman, on "Socrates." Old college songs in charge of W. P. Moore.

Chelsea.
C. E. Letts was here the first of the week.

G. A. Begole spent Sunday here with his family.

The Harvard Quartette is booked for here April 3d.

W. J. Dancer, of Stockbridge, was here the first of the week.

The Good Templars are preparing another Demorest medal contest.

Interesting Easter services were held in all the churches last Sunday.

Geo. M'Clain has gone on the road this week for the Buckeye Machine Company.

C. H. Kline, of Ann Arbor, was here last Saturday defending the Delmonts.

The company put a new scale in the lower part of their freight depot last Monday.

Elder McIntosh intends to hold special revival meetings at the M. E. church next week.

Business has been very dull in town the past week on account of bad weather and roads.

The wet, cold weather of last week and this has caused much sickness such as colds and lung troubles.

F. C. Delmont and wife were bound over to the circuit court last Saturday, by Justice Schnaitman, charged with larceny.

The office of the Chelsea House has been moved one door south of where it was, and the old place fixed over for a family room.

Mrs. A. E. Gorton died last Monday, at the residence of her son, Edwin Gorton, in this village, of old age, being 90 years old.

Wheat on the ground has survived March in good condition and the prospect for a large crop next harvest was never better at this season.

Dr. S. R. Finch was here the first of the week in company with his brother-in-law. His condition is no better than when he left here last week.

Nominations will be made this week by the various parties ready for the election next Monday. There will doubtless be three tickets in the field.

The Hidden Hand was rendered at the town hall Tuesday evening to a crowded house by the Chelsea fire department. It was repeated Wednesday evening. All the actors did well and gave good satisfaction.

The farmers are entering upon their spring's work with unusual courage and energy on account of the improved prices in their products. They can now contract August wheat for 95 cents per bushel, which is a living price.

Mial M. Boyd died at his residence in this village last Sunday night, at the age of 76 years. He had been a great sufferer with a fever sore which caused his death. He was one of the first settlers in this village, and was well thought of by all.

The markets have been unsettled the past week. Upon the whole a good advance has been realized on nearly all farm produce. Wheat has now reached $1.02 for red and $1.00 for white, one lot of barley was bought at $1.40, oats at 53 cents, clover seed, $4.50; beans, $r.75; corn in the ear 32 cents. Shelled corn is retailed at 75 cents per bushel, and bran at $1.10 per hundred. Best butter 20 cents. Eggs have dropped to 13 cents. Beef cattle are scarce and bring much higher prices, 3 to 3½ cents being paid by the butchers in some cases. Arrivals have been light the past week, because of bad roads.

The First Step.

Perhaps you are run down, can't eat, can't sleep, can't think, can't do any thing to your satisfaction, and you wonder what ails you. You should heed the warning, you are taking the first step into Nervous Prostration. You need a Nerve Tonic and in Electric Bitters will find the exact remedy for restoring your nervous system to its normal, healthy condition. Surprising results follow the use of this great Nerve Tonic and Alternative. Your appetite returns, good digestion is restored, and the Liver and Kidneys resume healthy action. Try a bottle. Price 50c. at Eberbach & Son's Drugstore.

Pittsfield.

F. E. Mills was in Lansing last week.

Miss Maud Hastings is visiting relatives in Albany, N. Y.

John Springman has a little daughter, born March 27.

A valuable horse owned by Geo. Sperry is sick with what seems to be the grippe.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Mills, who have been confined to the house most of the winter are gaining in health.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effective in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Willis.
Ed. Raymond has hired out to Geo. Smith for the summer.

John Wortley and wife, of Elwell district, have gone to Wisconsin to visit Mr. Wortley's mother.

The Adventists will commence their dedication services on Friday night, April 3, and continue until Sunday.

W. A. Anderson's little son, aged three days, died March 24th. Frank Towler, of Whittaker, also lost a little child about two years old with measles.

Will Gotts has sold his farm of 42 acres on section 18 of Sumpter, to Jacob Breining for $1,000. He will move to Detroit shortly, to work in the Peninsular Stove works.

The sale was held at Ed. Jackson's last Friday, notwithstanding the stormy weather, and everything sold for about all it was worth. Mr. Jackson will move to Ypsilanti soon.

Wm. Coats, who has lived for the past two years at Portland, has moved back to his farm on section 30 of Van Buren. Robert Rust, his tenant, has moved back to his farm in Sumpter.

Died, in Van Buren, March 27th, Frances, wife of L. R. Brown, aged 61 years. She has been sickly for many years, but has attended to her household duties until a few weeks ago. She leaves a husband and two children, a son and daughter. The funeral services were held at the home on Sunday at 1 o'clock, and conducted by Rev. E. E. Leland.

Failures in Life.

People fail in many ways. In business, in morality, in religion, in happiness, and in health. A weak heart is often an unsuspected cause of failure in life. If the blood does not circulate properly in the lungs, there is shortness of breath, asthma, etc.; in the brain, dizziness, headache, etc.; in the stomach, wind, pain, indigestion, faint spells, etc.; in the liver, torpidity, congestion, etc. Pain in the left side, shoulder and stomach is caused by heart strain. For all these maladies Dr. Miles New Cure for the heart and lungs is the best remedy. Sold, guaranteed and recommended by Eberbach & Sons. Treatise free.

Dexter.

THE ARGUS, of March 27, has an article on roads in the old countries which is very commendable, but before we can reasonably expect such roads in this country, the most of the present generation will have passed away. All the roads in the old country are made by the county and let by contract, in sections or miles, more or less, and overseen by a county inspector. Roads in the old country can be made and kept in repair far cheaper than in this country, for labor and material are cheaper in England. After the road beds are properly graded and drained, crushed stone and gravel are laid on from one to three feet in depth as may be required, they are packed down with a heavy iron roller. The cost of constructing such a road per mile is about $480, and the keeping of such roads in repair per mile is about $80 yearly, and overseen by the county inspector of roads. Under the present system of making roads in this country, we will never have good roads until the state or county makes them and are let by contract in sections or miles. Many farmers living along the line of highways have an abundance of stone and gravel on their farms, and could easily construct a mile or more of road. I would be in favor of doing away with highway commissioners and pathmasters as at present, and the roads made and overseen by a county inspector. Of course, to construct and make roads as they are in the old country, would cost considerable. I would estimate the average cost of making roads here with the same material as in the old country, $1,200 per mile, but roads could be constructed and kept in passable condition by putting on a certain amount of gravel each year, commencing with the worst sections first. If this course were continued, our roads would soon be good and passable.

Everybody Knows

That at this season the blood is filled with impurities, the accumulation of months of close confinement in poorly ventilated stores, workshops and tenements. All these impurities and every trace of scrofula, salt rheum, or other diseases may be expelled by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier ever produced. It is the only medicine of which "100 doses one dollar" is true.

Lodi.

Fred Krause has left his farm and become a resident of the second ward.

Albert Blaess has one of the finest and best arranged saw mills in the country with a forty-horse power boiler and engine.

Miles' Nerve & Liver Pills.

An important discovery. They act on the liver, stomach and bowels through the nerves. A new principle. They speedily cure biliousness, bad taste, torpid liver, piles and constipation. Splendid for men, women and children. Smallest, mildest, surest. 50 doses for 25 cents. Samples free at Eberbach & Sons.

Milan.
Mrs. S. Hack is very ill.

Town meeting talk fills the air at present.

Easter day was one of the loveliest days on record.

Miss Flossie Chapin is quite ill with throat trouble.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. J. Clark, a son, Sunday, the 29th.

Several Milan Knights visited Ann Arbor, Monday night.

Mr. Barnes entertained friends from Detroit, last week.

Dr. Breakey, of Ann Arbor, came to Milan for council, Monday.

Miss Grace Huntington returned from her Detroit visit, Friday.

Fuller Dexter and wife have returned from their Inkster visit.

Miss Dolly Smith, who has been ill with diphtheria, is convalescent.

Mr. Arthur Delaforce and mother left for Chicago, Monday morning.

Miss Allie Harper is at home from Cadillac, spending a week's vacation.

C. M. Fuller and wife have returned from their Ann Arbor sojourn.

Miss Grace Wilson gave a progressive tiddly winks party, Saturday evening.

Rev. Jay Huntington and Rev. Mr. Rundell, of New Boston, visited Ann Arbor, Monday.

Maurice Day has returned from Alma and is engaged as salesman at Wm. Whitmarsh's store.

The maple sugar social was a success in every way, Wednesday evening. Net proceeds, $18.27.

The Baptist Missionary Society will meet at Mrs. G. R. Williams' residence, Wednesday evening.

The "Dutch Recruit" will soon be put on the boards. The Sons of Veterans commence work this week.

The Easter services at the Baptist church, Sunday evening, were very fine. Preston Rause, of Saline, rendered two very fine selections. Rev. Mr. Rundell, of New Boston, delivered a short but impressive address.

An Important Matter.

Druggists everywhere report that the sales of the Restorative Nervine—a nerve food and medicine—are astonishing; exceeding anything they ever had, while it gives universal satisfaction in headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, sexual debility, backache, poor memory, fits, dizziness, etc. L. Barton & Co., Troy, N. Y.; Ambery & Morphy, of Battle Creek, Mich.; C. B. Woodward & Co., of Fort Wayne, Ind., and hundreds of others state that they never handled any medicine which sold so rapidly, or gave such satisfaction. Trial bottles of this great medicine and book on Nervous Diseases, free at Eberbach & Sons', who guarantee and recommend it.

Leland.

T. Larned is on the sick list. Miss Anna Hemingway is visiting friends at Parma, Jackson Co.

After a three months' visit among friends here, Miss Jennie Hubert returned to her home at Parma, last week Wednesday.

Mrs. Nelson Bailey, who resides in the northern part of the state, is visiting her father, Geo. Pfeifle, and other friends here.

E. E. Leland, G. L. Laraway, J. B. Laraway and Claud Leland attended a Shropshire sheep sale at Vernon on Wednesday of last week. E. E. Leland purchased three head, which makes a nice addition to his flock.

The T. A. A. & N. M. R. R. Co. have made a survey and laid out a road about one-half mile west of the old road, at this place, which shortens and does away with the curve north of the station. The company has so much trouble in hauling heavy freight around the curve that they wish to do away with it.

Take Warning

And don't let the germs of that vile disease, Catarrh, take root and flourish in your system. Sulphur Bitters will prevent this and will make you strong and healthy.—Editor Weekly Press.

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health.

At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is worthy your confidence. It is peculiar in that it strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. Give it a trial.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. 100 Doses One Dollar

SPRING ANNOUNCEMENT.

TO THE PUBLIC:

We would respectfully call the attention of our friends and patrons, to the fact that we are prepared to show them a larger and better selected stock of spring and summer goods, in the way of fine ready made clothing, hats, caps and gents' furnishings than at any time during the past five years.

In our fine clothing, we claim to excel many exclusive merchant tailors. Our leading hat is the "Guyer Self Constructing."

We ask special examination of our children's department, Those interested in this line will do us a favor to call and look this stock over. It will be a pleasure to show the goods whether you wish to buy or not. Our overall and cheap pant department is chockfull of bargains. See our line of neckwear, prices from 25c. to $1.00. In spring overcoats we surpass all competitors, prices ranging from $5.00 to $30.00. Take a look at them, no trouble to have you examine these fine garments.

There has never been a season that we have marked goods at a closer price than this. We realize full well that the state of the times demands low prices, and we have marked our goods accordingly. The farmer especially is obliged to take a low price for his products and we propose to meet him half-way. Our prices are lower than any house in the state of Michigan. Call and convince yourselves of the truth of our statements.

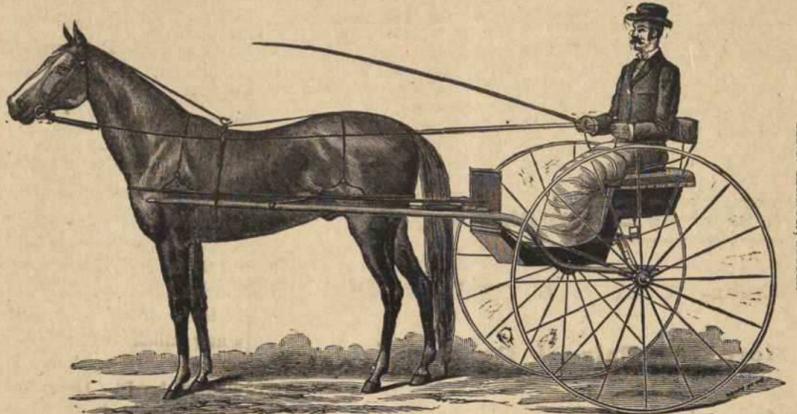

Respectfully,

Will Orr moved back onto his father's farm last week.

Mrs. Volney Davenport has been quite sick, but is now better.

Charles Jackson, of Grayling, has been visiting his brother John here.

Mrs. James Gauntlett, of Blissfield, spent a few days in Mooreville last week.

Mrs. V. Underwood, of Ypsilanti, spent a few days in Mooreville and vicinity recently.

George Gitchard has rented James Gauntlett's farm, one-half mile south of Mooreville, and will move soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad were called to Quincy last week on account of the sickness of Mr. Conrad's mother.

Mrs. Walter Draper and Mrs. Gitchard went to Ypsilanti Monday. Mrs. Draper has a son attending school there.

Married, Tuesday, March 31, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. Theodore Josenhans and Miss Della Warner. Their many friends extend congratulations.

A Little Girls Experience in a Light-House.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Trescott are keepers of the Gov. Light house at Sand Beach, Mich., and are blessed with a daughter, four years old. Last April she was taken down with the Measles, followed by a dreadful Cough and turning into a Fever. Doctors at home and at Detroit treated her, but in vain, she grew worse rapidly, until she was a mere "handful of bones." Then she tried Dr. King's New Discovery and after the use of two and a half bottles, was completely cured. They say Dr. King's New Discovery is worth its weight in gold, yet you may get a trial bottle free at Eberbach & Sons' Drugstore.

Lima.

Leander Easton will entertain the grangers on Friday.

Fred. Lutz, of Ann Arbor, has rented the Wm. Warner farm.

There were 70 at the lyceum maple sugar social last Friday evening.

Mrs. Will Brewer and daughter of Saginaw, visited her brother, Will McLaren, last Friday.

Mrs. E. B. Freer spent last week in Ann Arbor taking care of her son Nelson, who was on the sick list.

Married at the residence of the bride's parents Thursday, April 2d, by Rev. Lemsted, George Lendner and Miss Rosey Kline, both of Lima.

The following are the democratic nominees for township offices: Supervisor, Robert Buchanan; clerk, Wm. Covert; treasurer, Wm. Whitaker; road commissioner, Frederick Fry; justice, Christian Fritz; justice to fill vacancy, Thomas F. Morse.

Don't Be Gloomy.

Those who are the victims of mercurial poisoning, or who are suffering from mercurial rheumatism, are inclined to take a gloomy view of life when, as the poets say, "Winter is folding its white tents and spring getting its thunderstorms together." Yet these victims have no reason to despair. S. S. S. is a sure remedy for all forms of mercurial poisoning. Though it is purely a vegetable medicine, it is powerful, indeed, when called on to chase mercury, out of the system. It performs the work with neatness and dispatch, as thousands of testimonials show.

The Wisdom of the Ancients.

Dr. Talmage is very vigorously inclined to believe that the Nineteenth century had not absorbed all the wonders of the ages. Jerusalem was a wonderful city, with wonderful architecture—nothing like it in all the ages. The reservoirs of Jerusalem were built with cement as perfect today as it was when the trowel laid it 1,000 years before Christ. That dentistry had reached an advanced stage was shown by the filling of the teeth of the mummies at Cairo. Solomon knew all about the circulation of blood. Job knew all about the refraction of light.

Isaiah knew that the world was round when he said, "The Lord is seated on the circle of the earth." Ancient art excelled the modern. Tyrian purple couldn't be made now. Pliny describes a malleable glass that one could tie around his wrist. The Nineteenth century couldn't produce a Damascus blade. We have great cities, but Babylon was five times larger than London. "I begin to wonder," said Dr. Talmage, "if the world hasn't forgotten more than it knows. But what this age does excel in," he continued, "is morality. There were never so many good men and women as now. It is the result of the influence of Christianity."—Washington Post.

Boston's Oldest House.

What is generally believed to be the oldest house standing in Boston has been transferred from one estate to another for the first time in over 200 years. The property is known as the Wells mansion. The sale was made by the Wells estate to Mr. A. Ratschky, a Hebrew millionaire.

This interesting relic of the colonial period, now used for a store and tenements, bears a strong resemblance in its style of architecture to the old Dickens house in London. It is a two-story frame structure, very substantial and likely to last another generation, if not torn down to make room for a modern building. The striking peculiarity of its exterior is that its second story projects six inches or more beyond the walls of the first—a freak of construction that cannot be accounted for on any known ground of practical use or ornamentation. The title was examined into by John T. Hasnan, who discovered that it had not previously been inquired into since 1681, when it came into the possession of the forefathers of the present controllers of the Wells estate.—Boston Post.

Black and Green Teas.

Generally speaking, all teas are divided into two colors—green and black. Japan is the only country which produces green tea only, while China is the only land where both colors are prepared. India, Ceylon and Java send forth black teas alone, on the principle—at least in India—that adulteration of green tea is too easy. It is worthy of mention in this connection also that until within a few years all the teas of Japan have been black, and this was the case when in 1856 the first importation of fifty half chests reached this country. The venture was immediately successful.

The flavor of the Japan tea pleased the American palate. It was spoken of as "a black tea with green tea flavor," and as the leaf was dried in the natural color it was believed that it must be free from adulteration. The importation for the second year was 400 half chests, and in the third year the amount arose to 1,100. But it did not by any means stop there, rising rapidly till the yearly total reached the wonderful amount of 20,000,000 pounds.—Good Housekeeping.

Escape from the Gallery.

An old time theatrical advance agent told me this amusing incident which occurred in London, England, at the first production of the opera "Faust" in the Drury Lane theatre: "The original Faust was taken sick in the evening and could not appear in the title role. An under study, whose name was not revealed, was chosen for the part. He was a first class tenor, but was a very stout man, weighing about 240 pounds. In the last act, where Marguerite lies dead on the floor, and Faust descends through a trap door amid lurid flames, the trap in this instance, being very small, was not large enough to let the under study through. The stage hands underneath pulled their utmost on the legs of the substitute, but to no avail. There was backward silence in the audience at the awkward pause, which was soon broken by a voice in the gallery exclaiming in a shrill tone, 'Hurrah, fellows! We're safe! The hot place is full already!'"—New York Star.

The Blood is the Life.

Gentlemen: I have been troubled with bad blood for some years, but recently purchased two bottles of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup, which has entirely cured me. As a blood purifier it has no equal, and I also take pleasure in recommending it as a tonic, alternative, and reliable rheumatic remedy.

Very truly yours, S. E. Ferguson, Eaton Rapids, Mich. This is to certify that we know Mr. Ferguson, and believe the statement made by him to be true. We unhesitatingly recommend this remedy as we believe it to be the greatest family medicine on our shelves.

SUBJECTS OF INTEREST TO COUNTRY AND SUBURBAN READERS.

A Portable Smoke House Which May Be Placed in Any Convenient Shed or Building and Operated with Comparative Comfort and Small Labor.

A Pennsylvania correspondent, writing to Country Gentleman, says:

My preference is for the plain, unadorned smoked ham, and I will describe my plan for a cheap and handy smoke house: Not believing a permanent smoke house an ornament as an outbuilding, I dispensed with it and have made a portable one, which may be placed in any convenient shed or building and kept smudging away without danger from fire and without compelling the operator to expose himself to wintry storms. I used light basswood boards, and made a box about 7 feet long, 3 feet wide and 15 inches deep. When in use the box stands on end. The upper end has numerous hooks on which to hang hams or bacon. The box is three boards wide, and the cracks in back of box are closely battened on the inside. The middle board in front is not nailed, but the cracks are battened by nailing the battens to the permanent boards on each side of the middle movable board. There is a strip fastened across the front of the box between the two permanent boards two feet from the lower end. The movable board is here cut in two, so that the lower piece may be removed without disturbing the upper piece.

After hanging the hams the upper movable board is put in place and held there by wooden buttons. It is not to be disturbed till we wish to examine the meat. The lower piece is also held in place by wooden buttons, so that it may be easily removed and replaced as occasion requires. Some iron vessel is placed in the box back of the short, movable board, a few coals put in and corn cobs to fill the vessel. As the box is nearly airtight, the cobs will smolder without blazing and furnish smoke for many hours. The board may then be removed, the vessel again filled with coals and the board replaced. When we have finished the smoking process and are ready to make some disposition of our smoked meat the empty box is easily thrown upon some loft, there to remain till again needed.

Early Chickens.

Early hatching is necessary to success in the poultry yard. Now, as warm is a requisite for rearing early chickens, provident poultry keepers have made provisions for securing the same. The hens are provided with dry houses, well sheltered from east winds, in which to set, and are punctually fed and watered. The chicks may be saved by farmers and ordinary poultry keepers who do not use incubators by the use of artificial brooders. These latter, unlike the incubators, may be employed by any one who exercises average common sense in their management. The newly hatched chicks are taken from the nest as soon as out of the shells and placed in the brooder, where they are kept until the brood is all out. The hen and chicks are then placed in a warm glazed coop, and there kept until strong enough to look out for themselves.

The principal conditions necessary to success in brooders are plenty of fresh air and sufficient heat to prevent the chicks from crowding. Some brooders are warmed by tanks or pipes of hot water. The hot water may be supplied by an ordinary stove "water back" or by a coil of pipe in a stove. A well sustained heat of about 80 degs. is essential for the first week, as a chill is fatal. After that time the temperature may be lowered to about 70 degs. In severe weather it is necessary to keep the chickens within doors until about three weeks old. In ordinary weather they may be allowed a run fenced in with small mesh wire netting and connecting with a warm, dry and well protected coop. Chickens hatched out of season ought to be fed with great punctuality. Corn should also be given to them very early in the morning and very late in the day.

How to Subdue Weeds.

One important point in keeping a farm clear from weeds is to see that these germs are not imported in purchased seeds. Weeds are often introduced by the farmer's own animals. Horses that have been fed at the town stables, and cattle that have been allowed to forage on the highways, may each be the means of bringing obnoxious weeds onto the farm. For the hoed crops clean cultivation is the antidote. Cut the weeds off at the surface of the ground at a time when they are at their best—that is, at the time of flowering and before the seed has grown sufficient to germinate. This is the best method of dealing with weeds where they have become a pest in meadows and pastures. In the latter sheep are very efficient weed destroyers, as they will browse closely many varieties that cattle will not touch.

Unless rich ground is closely covered with useful plants it is quite certain to produce weeds. Nothing surpasses clover for smothering weeds. If sown thickly, and stock is kept off from it after the mowing, so that some of the seed from the second crop will be scattered, it will gain complete possession of the field, to the exclusion of weeds.

Manure from the Woods.

It will hardly pay to haul rotten wood alone to your fields for manure. The fertilizing matter in all you could obtain in that condition would be quite small, and most likely it would be full of insects, of which every farmer has enough already. Still, a considerable quantity of good manure can sometimes be gathered from a piece of woods that is too rough for cultivation. This is done by bunting out nooks where leaves and twigs have been decaying for years until there are accumulations several inches deep of decomposed vegetable matter, doing no good in those particular spots, but which would add much to the fertility of cultivated fields if it were hauled out and spread on them.

A NATIONAL PLAN.

Gen. Roy Stone's Gigantic Scheme for Highway Improvement.

Gen. Roy Stone, who during the war commanded the famous Pennsylvania brigade known as the Buck Tail rifles, has, notwithstanding his absorbing occupations, given much thought to the subject of the improvement of country roads. Being recently consulted in reference to the preparation of a measure to be introduced in a state legislature, he has formulated a much broader scheme, the scope of which is national. The other evening I met him at the Union League club, and took advantage of the opportunity to get his views and suggestions upon this important subject more in detail. He said, rather in explanation of the largeness of his scheme: "No good roads have ever been built by local effort, except in the richest communities. In England, so long as the local system prevailed, the roads were so bad that Macaulay was moved to say, 'The fruits of the earth were sometimes suffered to rot in one place, while a few miles distant the supply fell far short of the demand.' And he said further: 'One chief cause of the badness of the roads was the defective state of the law. Every parish was bound to repair the roads which passed through it, and thus a sparse and impoverished rural population was compelled to maintain highways between rich and populous towns.'"

"In this respect," continued Gen. Stone, "we are just where England was 200 years ago. England met the difficulty by the establishment of turnpikes with tolls, and 30,000 miles of these roads had been built in Macaulay's day. The turnpike system does not seem, however, to meet the approval of our people, and something else must be devised. Such being the case, I have suggested a national plan, which, though new in the form I suggest it, is not really a new question in our national politics. It was a most vexed question in the days of our grandfathers, and its constitutionality was defended upon the ground that congress had a right to provide for the common defense and also to establish post roads. In France, where are found perhaps the best roads in the world, the minister of public works has charge of all roads. These roads are national or vicinal. Of the first there are 25,000 miles, and these are entirely maintained from the national treasury. The vicinal or cross roads are maintained chiefly by the various communes."

"What do you think of Governor Hill's suggestions to the New York legislature?" I asked.

"They are admirable, and so far as New York state is concerned they, if embodied in laws, might answer the purpose very well. But for New York, in a measure, and for most other states to a greater extent his plan would be a much more costly one to the taxpayers than my broader method. The national government has had for some time and is likely to have under our laws a large surplus. This surplus could be lent to the states at a very much lower rate of interest than any of these states could borrow money from the public. My plan as at first outlined was this:

- 1. National financing, to secure the lowest rate of interest, uniform in all the states, and longest term of repayment.
2. State control of disbursement under some form of national supervision; a permanent organization of trained experts, etc.
3. Local option for each local application of the scheme.
4. Equitable distribution of the interest charge between the nation, state and district, and a local adjustment in the latter according to benefits directly conferred.
5. This plan amplified," said Gen. Stone, "would be to this effect:
1. Declare all mail routes post roads.
2. Establish a bureau of post roads in the department of the interior.
3. Whenever any state shall have adopted the necessary legislation, and provided the machinery for availing itself of national aid, let it apply to the bureau of post roads for a joint survey of any post road within its limits which it desires improved, and a plan for the improvement of the same, the state providing for any relocation of the road that may be advantageous.
4. The state to execute such under supervision of the United States bureau.
5. The United States to pay the cost of improvement.
6. The state to pay 2 per cent. per annum on such cost and two-thirds of the amount at a finally.
7. The United States bureau to prepare plans for a national school of roads and bridges.
8. Local labor, if available, to be given the preference in all such improvements.
9. The United States to have the option of making all payments for such improvements in silver coin.
10. Or if this plan be looked upon at present as impracticable or too great an innovation," said he, "let there be a national commission appointed to look into the subject and report its conclusions from time to time."

"What are post roads?" I asked. "All public roads are 'post routes,' and all roads leading to county towns are 'post roads.' All 'post routes' (by wagon road) could be made 'post roads,' and thus any road in the country could be made a national road. If, however, only the actual mail routes, by wagon, were declared post roads there would be 200,000 miles subject to improvement under the provision of the constitution to establish post roads."

"What amount could be profitably expended in this manner?" "There is hardly any limit to this. But a mile of good macadam can be built for $7,500. If we should have 100,000 miles of such roads the cost would be $750,000,000. If this should be done in fifteen years it would only cost $50,000,000 per year."

"And how would you raise this money?" "If the surplus in the treasury were not adequate why could not the $300,000,000 of silver be earning interest in some such way. But this is a question for the financiers, not for the engineers. I am convinced, however, if the silver plan were feasible the road building would absorb large quantities of silver coin and retain it, and the money would be applied as financial relief where it is most needed—that is, among the farmers. It would go right to the spot of want and dissatisfaction and work its way up. Now, any and all relief goes to the money centers, and must work its way down with great difficulty and cost to those who need it most."

RACE WITH A MAN EATER

ADVENTURE OF AN ENGLISHMAN IN THE SAMOAN ISLANDS.

While Enjoying Plank Riding on the Waves Near the Shore an Enthusiastic Visitor Narrowly Escaped a Savage Shark—Queer Sport Amid Breakers.

"Speaking of adventures," said my companion, who had been listening to a number of stories told in the old boat house, "I can relate one that at least at the time seemed exciting enough. I had been traveling around the world, after the fashion of Englishmen, and had stopped at the Samoan islands on my way up from Australia to run them over and gain some information regarding the natives, their ways and customs, and as a result I became enamored with the place, climate and people, and remained there nearly a year.

"During that time I made myself familiar with nearly all the islands of the group, and one in particular had a singular fascination to me. Once on the hill tops I looked down upon a long beach, upon which beat the finest surf I have ever seen. The waves were simply great rollers, which came in a slow, dignified fashion that was most impressive. The men, who had all been there before, ran down the shore, where I soon saw them hauling some planks from the bush, which I learned they had concealed on a former occasion. In short, the waves were used by them to enjoy one of the most exciting sports imaginable, and I was very quickly initiated into it.

FASCINATING SPORT.

"The men threw off what little clothing they wore. Then each seized a plank and attempted to launch it. This was easier said than done, and many were the upsets that ensued as the big rollers came in, but finally all of them got beyond the shore and beyond the point where the waves broke, and then I saw where the sport came in. Turning in shore the men threw themselves upon the planks, and, watching their opportunity, steered them so that they held their position on the crest of the roller and came in with it. Once under way the natives skillfully raised themselves to their feet, and so standing upright came rushing in. Some were tossed off, others were caught in the breaking wave, while the most skillful and intrepid retained their standing position until they were literally flung upon the beach.

"I was younger in those days than I am now, and soon convinced myself that I should enjoy this sport as well as the natives, and, securing a plank, I, too, pushed out from the shore. The first wave that struck me nearly drowned me, but I dived into the next and my plank beat me in about two minutes.

"During that visit I did not attain sufficient skill to enable me to take the ride standing, but on subsequent occasions I became fairly proficient, and then the sport for a time became a veritable craze with me. I interested a number of Englishmen and Americans in it, and we really fell into the habit of getting up wave riding parties. I had become so skillful that I rarely missed a wave, and could make my way out with ease and come riding in with perfect equipoise. I became so daring that I often swam out beyond the rest that I might obtain the full force and exhilaration of the ride, and one day when the sea was particularly high and rolling very heavily I met with my adventure.

CHASED BY A MONSTER.

"There were six of us enjoying the sport, with as many natives. I had a plank especially made for the purpose, wide and stout enough to bear my entire weight, and by lying upon it I soon forced my way over the incoming rollers and floated in the comparatively smooth water beyond. Here I turned my plank shoreward and waited for a good roller. Every third one was, as a rule, large, and finally a big, green bodied one came whirling in, shutting out the horizon. As it came I caught it, and as I felt the transferred motion lightly sprang to my feet and steadied myself on the monster that extended up and down the shore and was rushing to its own destruction.

"On I went, shouting gaily to my companions on the beach. Then I suddenly became aware that something was beside me. I gave a side glance and the reality almost made me lose my foothold upon the rushing plank. What I saw was the sharp dorsal fin of a man eating shark cutting along through the water like a knife. The monster was thirteen or more feet long and was partly turned upward me, showing the white, gleaming under surface.

"What passed through my mind in those few seconds can hardly be imagined. I gave myself up for lost, as I believed the shark would soon rush at the plank, when over I would go, an easy victim. I do not know that I have more than ordinary nerve, but it flashed through my mind that possibly the shark was waiting for me to fall, and would not make an attack unless I did, and in some unaccountable way I was enabled to retain my self possession. Every second I was gaining; every second brought the big wave nearer the beach. Now it was on the verge of breaking. Still the shark maintained its position. Then I heard the welcome roar above me, and down it came like an avalanche, scintillating and gleaming, until with one mighty burst the aquatic monster broke. For a single second I stood in the gleaming mass, and then was dashed upon the beach safe and sound.

"The shark did not come in, which was evidence to me that it had not been overcome by the rush of the water, but was simply following me with the regard to its cuisine. I need hardly say that this was my last experience riding breakers there. Upon inquiry I learned that natives had been attacked by sharks during the sport on several occasions. When I look back upon it and recall the sensation of rushing onward high on the crest of a big wave I almost wish I could indulge in the sport again, though without the shark accompaniment."—Philadelphia Times.

NEVER A FAILURE.

The Red River Valley of Minnesota and North Dakota has never had a failure of crops. It produced 30,000,000 bushels of wheat besides other cereals in 1890. Farms can be had on the crop plan, or long time cash payments. It is not an uncommon thing to pay for a farm from the proceeds of one crop. It has all of the advantages of an old country in the shape of school, church, market, postal & railway facilities and all the chances of a new country in the way of cheap lands, rich soil, and increase in values.

It is one of the most fertile and promising regions in America not yet fully occupied.

In the rush to the far west, however, this rich valley has been over-looked.

It has room for a million more people.

HOW A PUZZLE WAS SOLVED.

When you want a certain article, you want the best make of that article, don't you? But how to determine which make is best is what puzzles you, isn't it?

And when the puzzle is solved for you, by authority which cannot be questioned, you are pleased, aren't you?

And you would like to hear of one puzzle that has been solved for the people of the whole world, wouldn't you?

Well, we will tell you about that very puzzle, and its solution.

At the Universal Exposition of 1889 at Paris, France, the best sewing machines of the world, including those of America, were in competition. They were passed upon by a jury composed of the best foreign mechanical experts, two of whom were the leading sewing machine manufacturers of France. This jury, after exhaustive examination and tests, adjudged that the Wheeler & Wilson machines were the best of all, and awarded that company the highest prize offered, the GRAND PRIZE, giving other companies only gold, silver and bronze medals.

The French Government, as a further recognition of superiority, decorated Mr. Nathaniel Wheeler, president of the company, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor, the most prized honor of France.

That is how the puzzle of the best sewing machine in the world was fully solved by the most competent authority in the world in favor of the No. 9 and No. 12 Wheeler & Wilson machines.

The No. 9, for family use, and the No. 12, for manufacturing uses, are the best in the world to-day.

And now, when you want a sewing machine, if you do not get the best, it will be your own fault.

Ask your sewing machine dealer for the No. 9 Wheeler & Wilson machine, and if he does not keep them, write to us for descriptive catalogue, prices and terms. Agents wanted in all unoccupied territory.

Election Notice.

Whereas, A vacancy in the office of Alderman of the third ward in the city of Ann Arbor exists on account of the resignation of Warren E. Walker, and such resignation having occurred within ninety days preceding the holding of an annual election, held on the 6th day of April next, therefore Resolved, And it is hereby ordered that an election be held on the 6th day of April next, in the third ward of the city of Ann Arbor for the purpose of filling such vacancy in the office of Alderman of the aforesaid ward.

By order of the Committee. JAS. R. BACH, City Clerk.

Democratic City Convention.

The democrats of Ann Arbor city will meet in city convention in the court room on Friday evening, April 3d, at 7 o'clock local time, for the purpose of nominating candidates for city offices. Each ward will be entitled to one delegate for every twenty-five votes cast for governor at the last election as follows:

First ward—18 delegates. Second ward—16 delegates. Third ward—15 delegates. Fourth ward—15 delegates. Fifth ward—8 delegates. Sixth ward—9 delegates.

By order of Committee. S. W. BEAKES, Chairman.

City Election.

Notice is hereby given that the annual charter election of the city of Ann Arbor will be held on Monday, the SIXTH DAY OF APRIL, 1891.

At which election the following city officers, viz: A Mayor, City Clerk, Assessor, and President of the Common Council, will be elected by qualified electors of the whole city, and a Supervisor, an Alderman and a Constable shall be elected in each ward.

Said election will be held at the following places:

JAMES R. BACH, City Clerk. DATED, ANN ARBOR, March 29, 1891.

VOTE for the constitutional amendment. It will save money to the state and should carry.

THE republican leaders claim that through the so-called citizens' movement they can induce 100 democrats to vote the republican ticket.

EVERY democrat should be at the polls election day, no matter if there is no opposition in the field. The state election should bring them out.

THE democrats of Ann Arbor will see that a ticket of irreproachable merit will be put in the field this evening. It will commend itself to the support of the independent voter.

THE citizen republican has a chance to show his faith by his works. The democrats have renominated an able, tried and true justice of the Supreme court, and a regent favorably known to our voters. How many republicans in Ann Arbor will vote for them?

DEMOCRATIC voters of Washtenaw, you aided in winning a glorious victory in this state last November. The crushing defeat of last fall has stirred the republicans up to a desperate attempt to regain prestige by defeating the democratic ticket this spring. The ablest man on the Supreme Bench is the candidate of the democracy for a second term this year. With such a candidate every voter owes it to his party to be at the polls next Monday. See to it that the state is kept in the democratic column this spring, as a step towards victory in 1892.

Annual Meeting of St. Andrew's Parish.

At the parish meeting in St. Andrews' church, Tuesday, C. H. Richmond was elected senior warden; John M. Wheeler, junior warden; C. S. Denison, E. D. Kinne, B. M. Thompson, H. J. Brown, E. Treadwell, J. C. Wood, C. B. Nancrede and James Clements, vestrymen.

The treasurer's report showed that the receipts of the church for regular expenses during the year were $3,334.17, of which $2,696.40 were pew rents, and the disbursements were $3,121.50. Besides this amount, $2,351.61 were collected for building the recess chancel, of which $2,267.51 was expended. The special collections turned over to the ladies' aid society amounted to $75.61 and the receipts of the Sunday school fund amounted to $62.77.

The report of the rector as chairman of the committee to solicit subscriptions for the building of the chancel, showed that 125 subscriptions had been taken.

The church was never in a more prosperous condition.

The Fourth Divorce Suit Refused.

For the first time in many years, a divorce suit pushed to the end, has resulted in the denial of a divorce. The facts are fully set forth in the forcible opinion delivered by Judge Kinne last Monday, which is as follows:

The Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw. In Chancery. Caroline Krause vs. Caleb Krause.

The bill in this case is filed to obtain a decree of divorce from the bonds of matrimony.

This cause presents an extraordinary record, and in my opinion, it demands more than the ordinary consideration.

These parties were first married in 1863, in this county. They have five children, whose ages range from 27 to 9.

During this period, in this county, they have been married to each other, three times, and this is their fourth bill for a divorce.

The decrees of divorce, hitherto granted, have been based upon substantially the same allegations of cruelty as those now presented, they do not pertain to the same periods of time, but they are the same in character. The complainant has not been deceived by the defendant. No new developments appear, but simply repetitions of their earlier troubles, which perhaps have increased in intensity by reason of experience. In short, when they have mutually been inclined to courtship, they have engaged in that amusement, then married, and when weary of that relation, have sought relief in divorce. Again when life apart became irksome, they have reunited, and thus this domestic farce has reached its present status.

The question is presented, whether or not, upon such a record as this, the complainant ought to receive any relief.

In my opinion, it is a sad commentary upon the legislation of the state, that such a condition of things as this record exhibits is possible within our borders.

Divorce, under certain conditions, is undoubtedly moral, lawful and wise, but in my opinion, the public good demands, that four-fifths of the decrees granted, should never be entertained. Courts, however, with our present legislation, are powerless to arrest this alarming social evil. As a rule the case is so presented that the court has no discretion or option in the matter. It needs no dissertation to prove that the welfare and prosperity of this commonwealth depends primarily upon the purity, the sacredness, and the permanence of the marriage relation. Facility to obtain divorce causes parties to enter that most sacred of all human relations without due thought, and as it would seem in many cases, with no care or expectation for its perpetuity. Among the better classes of society there is undoubtedly a healthy public sentiment upon this question, but it does not reach the halls of legislation, or those classes upon whom moral obligations hang lightly.

In brief, this conceded right of divorce is to-day most shamelessly abused, and if this abuse is to increase or continue, public interests demand that it be abrogated except on scriptural grounds.

So far as the pending case is concerned, her counsel insist that she has brought herself within the statute, and that this court has no option but to pronounce the decree of divorce.

Can it be possible that the legislature ever contemplated the existence of such a record as is here presented? that husband and wife may marry, quarrel, separate and remarry at their mere caprice, and receive the assistance and approval of courts? Is it expected that courts are to expend their labors in such investigations?

It is said that a court is a place where justice is judicially administered? If the counsel for complainant is right in this case, courts are a mockery and travesty on justice.

I am not aware of any precedent to guide me in this case. I have no hesitation to create one, that shall be good within this court until reversed by the appellate tribunal. I shall assume that a court possesses the power to maintain its self respect, to protect itself from ridicule and disgrace, and that it has the inherent right to preserve its own integrity.

It is the intention of this decree to instruct the complainant that the marital bond is something more than a mere brute conjugation of the parties, that it should be assumed with the utmost consideration and solemnity, and that when once established, under all ordinary circumstances, it remains indissoluble.

She is further instructed that she has more than once sought the interposition of this court, and in the exercise of its equitable powers, she has been released from her marital obligations, that with a full knowledge of all the responsibilities of the future, she has again deliberately taken upon herself these same ties and responsibilities, that she has exhausted her remedies in this court and that she will not now be heard to complain of the burdens of a contract of marriage, which she assumed at her peril.

In their moral and legal aspect, these proceedings are contemptuous to the dignity of this court. The relief sought will be denied, and this court expresses its deep regret at its inability to commit these parties to a reformatory during their natural lives.

E. D. KINNE, Circuit Judge. March 30, 1891.

A CASE OF CHRONIC CATARRH

In the Third Stage Cured—Ten Years a Victim of Catarrh, and Permanently Cured.

A Treatment That Need Not Fail in Reach of All.

If cases like the following can be cured, certainly there is hope for all. This patient has been growing worse in spite of all treatment for ten years, and had reached that terrible condition known as the third stage of catarrh (atrophic catarrh.) The offensive breath, and dry scabs forming in the nose, cracking in the ears, describe a condition which is considered by most physicians as hopeless. The case is given in the words of the patient Clinton, Mich., March 21, 1891.

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.—Gentlemen, I had been troubled ten years with chronic catarrh, gradually growing worse from year to year. I tried all the treatments and remedies I heard of without any relief. My symptoms were dry scabs forming in the nose, dropping from the back part of the nose into the throat, sore throat, nose stopped up, offensive breath, and cracking and roaring in the ears. I began to take your remedy on the first of November, 1889, and in twelve months I was perfectly cured. I used no local treatment, but used only your medicine internally. I have had no return of my catarrh, and consider myself perfectly cured. H. D. Walter.

It would be difficult to describe a worse case to cure than the above. The length of time it had run, the fact that it had continually grown worse, and the further fact that it had already developed the symptoms of the dry, or atrophic, stage of catarrh, combine to make this a very remarkable cure, quite impossible to be made with the ordinary treatment.

This cure effected by internal treatment alone and no spray, gargle or inhalant was used. The case began to improve as soon as the medicine was begun, and in six months every symptom had disappeared, but the medicine was continued a few months longer for fear they would return. This man has been exposed during the past winter to the changeable climate in Michigan, and has not had the slightest return of any catarrhal symptoms. Not a month passes but that hundreds of similar cures are made by the internal use of Pe-ru-na, unassisted by other treatment.

The only reason that there are any failures are either because the catarrh is complicated by some organic disease or the patient does not take the medicine long enough. The majority of people expect to be cured in a week of two of catarrh that has run ten of fifteen years. Such people are nearly always disappointed. Pe-ru-na will cure a recent case of acute catarrh in a few days or weeks, but when the disease becomes chronic it takes longer.

Colds, winter coughs, bronchitis, sore throat, and pleurisy are all catarrhal affections, and consequently are quickly curable by Pe-ru-na. Each bottle of Pe-ru-na is accompanied by full directions for use, and is kept by most druggists. Get your druggist to order it for you, if he does not already keep it.

CARPETS.

Our sales of Carpets the past year were not only larger than those of any other house in Ann Arbor, but also largely in excess of any previous year of the department.

Why was this? Simply because we offered the largest variety of new and stylish goods, and made the prices the very lowest possible.

This year we propose to largely increase our business in this dep't, and have made our preparations accordingly. The patterns of Carpets we are showing are admired by every one as the most beautiful designs, the most perfect colorings to be found anywhere. Our line of Body Brussels and Tapestry Brussels will excite your admiration and the prices prove an irresistible temptation. We have these goods with, or without borders, and we are also showing some fine effects in Hall and Stair designs to match. In Ingrains we are showing some 5,000 yds. of new designs in Lowell's Fairmounts, Gold Medals and other first class and popular makes at the lowest rates.

We carry all grades of carpets from 20c a yard up and make and lay when desired.

Our Stock of

Rugs AND Art Squares

is an unusually large and attractive one this spring, including a large number of choice designs in all sizes of Smyrna Rugs, Moquette Rugs and Tapestry Rugs.

The ladies of St. Andrew's Church are in correspondence with Mrs. Ewing, of Philadelphia, and Miss Grace G. Allen, of Boston, with the view of holding a cooking school at Hobart Hall in May. It is expected that a course of eight lectures will be given for the sum of three dollars ($3.00). It is hoped that a large class of ladies will avail themselves of this opportunity of learning the best methods of preparing nice dishes.

There were 162 new names registered in the city this week, and 62 erased from the registration books. The new registrations were 19 in the first ward, 26 in the second, 35 in the third, 31 in the fourth, 12 in the fifth, and 39 in the sixth. The removals and deaths were 15 in the first, 9 in the second, 11 in the third, 10 in the fourth, 13 in the fifth, and 4 in the sixth. The new registration is in favor of the republicans in the sixth, and in favor of the democrats in most of the other wards.

Mr. Denney's classes in rapid writing in the university have been endeavoring to ascertain the amount expended in Ann Arbor for school books. The result of their efforts was announced yesterday. In the primary, grammar and high schools $7,649.29 is spent every year, in the Catholic school $1,212.05, and in the Lutheran $34.75; a total expenditure of $8,896.09. These figures include only text-books, and due allowance has been made for the small number purchased second-hand from dealers.

To those who wish to see the battle fields and monuments of the south by aid of the stereopticon, an opportunity will be offered in the lecture entitled "Among the Monuments" given by Mr. H. B. Stearns on Friday evening next at the Baptist church. Gettysburg, its location, the size of the field, the plan of the battle, and the composition of the two armies, will be considered. The handsome monuments now erected upon this field and that of Petersburg and other places will be shown by lantern views. Good music will be provided.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society, of St Andrew's church, was held at Hobart Hall, Wednesday afternoon. The president of the society, Mrs. Waldron, having declined a re-election, Mrs. Bradley Thompson was elected president. Miss Clements was re-elected vice-president, and Miss Condon secretary and treasurer. The efforts of the society will be directed towards the increase of the fund already started for recarpeting and redecorating the church. The secretary read a very touching tribute to the memory of Miss Lillian Wells, who was always a willing and active member of the society, and whose helping hand and cheerful presence will long be missed.

After the regular rehearsal, of the Choral Union last Tuesday evening, reports were read by the different officers of the association for the preceding year. Prof. de Pont gave some very interesting facts in regard to the society. He said: "We are now the second chorus in the state but in all probability we will stand at the head next year. Last year there were but one hundred and twenty active members, now there are two hundred and thirty, a marvelous increase. It may be of interest to know that steps have been taken towards placing a Frieze memorial organ in University Hall." The report of Treasurer Winans was also full of interest. There is now in the treasury $1,877, a sum which guarantees all concerts so far engaged. The old officers were re-elected by a unanimous vote. They are: Prof. de Pont, pres.; Mr. Hopkins, sec.; Mr. Winans, treas.; and Mr. Dorrance, librarian.

DINED ON ROASTED MEN.

Sale of a Fiji Cannibal Who Claims to Have Eaten Human Flesh.

The general curiosity of our entire town was aroused by the appearance upon our streets of a native of India, who was born upon one of the Fiji islands. He wore a very red or cardinal colored suit of clothes, knee pants, and jacket trimmed with black velvet collar and cuffs. Over his shoulder he carried a cloak that was tied over the left shoulder and under the right, made of white and red flannel. His head was covered with a blouse that fell down his back, and still over this a sombrero. His shoes were tied under the instep with a one-half inch white braid that wound around the leg up to the knees. His general appearance was very gaudy.

This native was converted when 23 years old, and is now 74 years of age. His father lived to be 130 years of age. His life has been spent in lecturing on the condition of his people. He speaks twenty languages fluently. When five or six years old he saw an Indian woman throw her child to a crocodile that weighed 1,000 pounds. The animal missed the child, and the mother caught it as it ran back to her begging for its life, when she threw it again. This time the crocodile struck it with its claws, tore it into two pieces and ate it very quickly. She then reported her acts to the pagan priest, and he blessed her, saying to her, "Go sin no more."

He also was a cannibal. When he was 7 years old there were twenty-one ministers who were caught traveling and prospecting for places to locate churches, and one of these ministers was beheaded every morning by their high priest and his flesh cooked, and the natives were made to stand in a row and each one was given a part of the flesh, and they stood and ate it. This was continued every day for twenty-one days, until all of the ministers were eaten up, and he ate part of twenty-one preachers.

He says the natives never do eat one another unless one is taken in war or as a missionary; that it is a mistaken idea that they slay one another to eat when this man and that is fat enough to eat; that the beasts of the field never slay one of their kind to prey upon, and that the savages have never gotten to be lower than wild animals.—Atlanta Constitution.

Geese in a Fog.

The oddest story of geese in the fog comes from Norfolk, and was told to Mr. Stevenson, the author of "The Birds of Norfolk," by the Rev. H. T. Frere. A large flock of geese were attracted to the town of Diss on a foggy night by the lights, and from the sound of their voices seemed to fly scarcely higher than the tops of the houses.

They came about 7 p. m., and, as it was Sunday evening, they appeared to be especially attracted by the lights in the church, and their incessant clamor not a little disturbed the congregation assembled for evening service. From that time until 2 a. m., when the fog cleared off and they departed, they continued to fly around utterly bewildered.

One bird happened to fly so low as to strike a gas lamp outside the town—probably it was flying round the light—just as a policeman was passing by, who very properly, as the bird was making a great noise outside a public house, took it into custody, and the next day it was with equal propriety sent off to a private lunatic asylum at Melton, where it lived for some years an honored guest.—Spectator.

A CARD.

It is now about a year that we have placed an assortment of samples of our large carpet stock in the hands of Mr. Martin Haller, the furniture dealer, and must say to-day that we wish to express our sincere thanks for the most liberal patronage with which the public of Ann Arbor and Washtenaw County have favored us. The sales have been far beyond our expectations.

We shall for the coming year exert ourselves still more to merit the favor. We carry a stock of carpets of about $200,000 and we will of this stock send samples to Mr. Haller of the choicest and newest patterns for spring trade. This will enable you to select your carpets of the latest designs and coloring same as when living in the city; get them cut without waste and made by experienced makers. Hoping you will continue to patronize us so liberal we remain, Respectfully
O. W. RICHARDSON & CO.,
Wabash Ave. and Adams St., Chicago, Illinois.

Referring to the above I would say that I shall in the coming year again try my utmost to deserve a liberal share of your patronage in the carpet line and will at any time be pleased to show the samples. Respectfully,
MARTIN HALLER,

IMPATIENT ITALY.

She Waxes Warm Over That New Orleans Massacre.

A SUDDEN AND SIGNIFICANT MOVE.

Baron Fava Demands His Passports and Is Ordered Home—Uncle Sam Moves to Let—Lately for King Humbert—What the Action Means as Interpreted by the King—Some Statesmen and Editors Set the Eagle to Screaming.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 1.—This diplomatic and political circles in this city were thrown into a fever of excitement yesterday by the announcement that Baron Fava, minister from Italy, had demanded his passports, upon orders from his government. The reason given was that King Humbert was not pleased with the progress of the negotiations regarding the massacre of Italians in New Orleans. The letter from Governor Nichols to Secretary Blaine is supposed to have caused the trouble. It was received here several days ago, and a copy was sent at once to Baron Fava. This seems to have given the appearance of being the ultimatum of this government, and it appears that the baron accepted it as such and called it in that character to his government. Baron Fava has worked for his home interests to the degree of appearing overzealous at this end of the line, but yesterday's developments would indicate that there could not have been too much zeal on his part to suit his government, which appears to have made the matter an issue of the highest importance.

Assurances Too Slow Coming. In his note to Secretary Blaine, Baron Fava informs the secretary that, as the United States government has not given assurances that the murderers of the Italian subjects acquitted by American magistrates and murdered in prison while under the immediate protection of the authorities of New Orleans, would be brought to justice, the Italian government has found itself under the very painful necessity of showing openly its dissatisfaction by recalling the minister future to negotiations with Italy.

The recall of Baron Fava puts an end to any further direct communication between the representative of Italy in this country and Secretary Blaine. Hereafter the state department will be obliged to communicate directly with the Italian government at Rome. Secretary Blaine had a long consultation with the president last evening on the new aspect in the diplomatic negotiations with Italy. The baron's pace, of course, will be given to him at once. The situation is so new and serious that no official comments can be obtained from any source. There must be time for the administration to think, and, barring the two hours cabinet session, it has as yet had little or no opportunity to digest the facts calmly and deliberately.

Secretary Blaine is Reticent. Secretary Blaine and the state department officials are very reticent about making public any official statement concerning the withdrawal of Baron Fava. Secretary Blaine said last night that it would be manifestly improper for him, at this time, to express any opinion in the matter. It is believed, however, that the secretary is not alarmed at the turn affairs have taken, and that he is confident that the difficulty is temporary, and can be settled through the usual diplomatic channels. A very high official authority, whose knowledge of diplomatic transactions under the present administration is the best, and whose responsibility cannot be questioned, gave to the press last night the following statement, which may be taken as representing the feelings of the administration concerning the withdrawal:

Takes a Reassuring View. "Baron Fava, the Italian minister, notified the state department to-day that under orders from Rome he was compelled to withdraw from his mission near this government. He does not, however, close the Italian legation, leaving Marquis Imperiali, the present secretary, to act as chargé d'affaires. This action on the part of the Italian minister is in no sense one of hostility to this government, but merely indicates a certain degree of discontent on the part of the Italian ministry respecting the New Orleans parish rumors pointing to the severance of diplomatic relations and possible war between the two countries as a result of Baron Fava's retirement, are not believed to have any foundation in fact."

A MATTER OF HOME POLITICS. Simply a Move of the Italian Ministry in Self-Defense. Little is talked about here except the recall of Baron Fava. In the hotels, on the streets and in the public clubs, the matter is a subject of intense interest. In diplomatic and official circles the same importance is not attached to Baron Fava's recall as in the public reports. The fact that the Italian legation is to remain here and conduct the routine business that usually passes between governments shows that diplomatic relations between the United States and Italy are not yet severed. The matter of Baron Fava's recall is not regarded here generally as a serious question or one likely to provoke hostilities, or even to lead to complications that will not be unravelled by the deft hand of diplomacy.

The Real Significance. The ministerial crisis in Italy, in which Signor Crispi, the prime minister, was overthrown, is, throws some light on Baron Fava's recall. The present Italian minister, ever since its assumption of the reins of government, have been opposed by the powerful minority party with Signor Crispi at its head. The killing of the Italian in New Orleans gave it, in the excited state of public feeling, a club with which to belabor the ministry. The tedious channels of diplomacy were too slow to satisfy the Italian people that justice would be done to their countrymen in the United States, and the government, to appease the populace and at the same time to show in a certain sense its disapproval of what it considered the lack of heart shown by the United States government in bringing the murderers of the Italians to justice, recalled Baron Fava.

Etiquette of Diplomacy. Baron Fava must, according to diplomatic etiquette, present his letter of recall to President Harrison before severing his connection with the United States government. It is said by persons well versed in diplomatic matters that the failure to present this letter would be a direct slight to the government. A minister, when about to present his letter of recall, is accompanied by the executive mansion by the secretary of state, and after the minister has presented his letters and made a few remarks explanatory of them, the president makes a short complimentary speech, expressing his regret at the minister's withdrawal and his hope that present relations will continue between the two countries.

LET THE SLIP THE DOGS OF WAR. Eminent Editors and Others Are Ready to Waive in Gore.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., April 1.—Gen. John A. McClernand declares that the withdrawal of the Italian minister from this country and the reported seizure of American citizens by the Italian government constitutes an overt act of war, and the United States government should retaliate by seizing unnaturalized Italians in this country and holding them as hostages for the release of the imprisoned Americans in Italy. [The reported seizure of Americans is probably a lie.]

Statesmen Snuff the Battle. HOUSTON, Tex., April 1.—Congressman Abner Taylor, of Chicago, who is in the city, was asked what he thought of the discourtesy with which Italy treated the United States. He said: "It is a virtual declaration of war, and should be met promptly in the same spirit." Congressman Stewart, of this city, is also of the same opinion, and thinks war must result unless Italy apologizes in the most abject manner. The universal sentiment here is that Uncle Sam should spread his coat tail and stand pat.

Editors Grind Their Pens. SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—The Post commenting on the news from Washington City says: "Italy is bent on insult and there is but one thing to do in return—fight." The Bulletin says: "Popular temper will not brook any paltering with the issue that has been raised."

THE GRIP TAKES HOLD IN GOTHAM. Pupils Sick—Chicago's Death Rate.

NEW YORK, April 1.—La grippe has invaded the public schools, and held more than 5,000 pupils and teachers in its clutches yesterday morning. The police sick list keeps on growing. Yesterday morning more than 300 men reported ill, an increase of twelve since Monday. The ratio of increase in the list of sufferers in other city departments and among elevated and surface railroad employees is about the same.

Not So Fatal as Last Year. Dr. Cyrus Edison said: "La grippe is epidemic. There are hundreds of cases that are not reported, because it is not obligatory. Many other cases exist that are not sufficiently serious to require the services of a physician."

An Appalling Death Rate. CHICAGO, April 1.—The month of March will be a sadly memorable one in the history of Chicago, for more deaths have occurred within the last thirty-one days than during any similar period in the history of Chicago, some 3,300.

There were 165 deaths registered at the health department yesterday, nearly half of which were caused by diseases of the respiratory organs.

DEATH OF REV. DR. CROSBY. Another Prominent Citizen Gathered to the Majority.

NEW YORK, March 30.—The Rev. Dr. Howard Crosby died at 5:33 last evening of pneumonia, in this city, a short illness. He was born in this city in 1826, and comes from an old revolutionary family. He was graduated from the University of New York in 1844, and in 1859 was appointed professor of Greek in Rutgers's college. He held this position until 1863, when he took up the pastorate of the Fourth Avenue Presbyterian church, with which he was associated at the time of his death. Dr. Crosby was chosen moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in 1873. His interest in public affairs was shown a year since by the active part he took in the interest of the People's Municipal League, movement, which aimed at the purification of local politics.

Seems To Be Off His Base. PLYMOUTH, Pa., March 28.—Ignatius Jamsco visited the office of Burgess Roberts Thursday evening, and drawing a revolver, threatened to brain that gentleman unless he refunded the $10 fine Jamsco was forced to pay for drunkenness on a previous visit. Jamsco was promptly arrested and placed in the lock-up. During the night he battered down the doors of his cell and escaped. He proceeded to his home, where he made violent assaults on his family and boarders and destroyed considerable furniture. He then decamped, but was rearrested in Wilkes-barre.

A Dangerous Two-Dollar Bill. WASHINGTON CITY, March 30.—A sensation has been caused at the treasury department by the discovery of a counterfeit $2 silver certificate so nearly perfect in all its parts as to be almost impossible of detection. The paper of the genuine is for the first time almost perfectly imitated in the counterfeit. So far as is now known, it has been used in counterfeiting the $2 certificates of the series of 1880. This note was devised under the supervision of Treasurer Jordan, and contains on its face a vignette of Gen. Hancock. It is estimated that there is now nearly $40,000,000 of these notes in circulation.

Hon. John Plankinton Dead. MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 30.—Hon. John Plankinton, one of Milwaukee's most enterprising and wealthy citizens, died at his home in this city at 8:50 o'clock last evening. Mr. Plankinton was stricken with paralysis over a year ago, and a short time ago he caught a cold which developed into pneumonia. He was born in the state of Delaware in 1830, and came to Milwaukee in 1844, and leaves a large fortune to two children.

The Alien Labor Contract Law. WASHINGTON CITY, April 1.—The new alien contract law passed by the last congress, went into effect to-day. Its provisions are more stringent than those of the recent law, and it is the purpose of the treasury department to see that it is carried out in all its provisions.

NOT FOR GOV. DAVIS TO DECIDE. The Democratic Governor of Rhode Island Differs With Gov. Hill.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 28.—Gov. Bulkeley, of Connecticut, wants the body of Thomas Garnett. Under the seal of his status and in accordance with all the official forms of extradition he has made an official demand of the governor of Rhode Island for the surrender of Garnett, who has been in Rhode Island state prison three years and prefers to stay there rather than to go to Connecticut. The prisoner declines to recognize Bulkeley as a lawful governor, and he is desirous of an opportunity to convince Gov. Davis that requisitions from Bulkeley should be ignored on the ground that Bulkeley is a usurper. The requisition arrived yesterday and at once gave rise to the question: "Would his excellency recognize Bulkeley as governor?" Considering that Gov. Hill, of New York, had refused to acknowledge Bulkeley or hold any official intercourse with him, the point was one of delicacy.

Bulkeley Has the Seal. To a United Press reporter Governor Davis said: "It seems to me I have a clear course. The official document bears the seal of the state of Connecticut. The opinion prevails that Mr. Bulkeley is not the lawful governor, but who is to decide? My personal opinion is that Morris is the lawful governor, and if his signature with the official seal were attached to these papers, I should not hesitate to surrender Garnett. As Bulkeley is in possession of the seals, Bulkeley is the governor de facto, and I do not feel that I can properly decline to recognize him as the executive; so I have made up my mind to recognize the validity of the papers. I am now sending the requisition papers to the attorney general to see if they are all right."

THE WASHING OF FEET. An Interesting Ceremony Performed by Archbishop Kenrick.

ST. LOUIS, March 27.—An impressive ceremony was performed by Archbishop Kenrick in St. John's Catholic church. It was the washing of the feet of twelve boys from the orphan's home, in commemoration of the example of humility set by the Savior in washing the feet of his disciples. Archbishop Kenrick is 85 years of age, and his appearance in itself lent religious sentiment to the scene.

Washed and Kissed the Feet. The sanctuary was attired in the ordinary sacerdotal robes. In the church the deacon sang the part of the Gospel pertaining to the washing of the feet of disciples by Christ. Upon the conclusion of the Gospel the archbishop laid aside his cross, removed his cape and approached the orphans. An assistant held the band and the archbishop washed, wiped and kissed the feet of the boys. Then the simple but touching ceremony was concluded.

STRANGE DOUBT OF IDENTITY. Is This a Bust of George Washington or Samuel Adams?

BOSTON, March 28.—The governor yesterday sent a message to the house containing the report of the commission appointed some time ago to determine the identity of the bust which has a niche in Doric hall. There has been a controversy over the bust for some time, some persons claiming that it represented the features of Samuel Adams, while others claimed that it looked more like Washington. The bust has stood in the state house for the best part of a century. The commission's report is to the effect that the weight of evidence is in favor of George Washington as the original, and they recommend the substitution of Washington's name for that of Adams.

BLOWN OUT OF THEIR BEDS. The House of a Sycamore, O., Citizen Dynamited.

CLEVELAND, O., March 31.—A sycamore, O., special says: Sunday morning at 1 o'clock the people of this vicinity were awakened from their slumbers by a terrific explosion. It was discovered that residence of John Ankney was almost completely destroyed by dynamite. The dwelling was occupied by Mr. Ankney and his wife and child, who were violently thrown from their beds, Mr. Ankney being found in an unconscious condition. There is not the slightest suspicion as to who was the perpetrator of the crime.

A Great Colliery Deluged. PLYMOUTH, Pa., March 28.—Dodson colliery, one of the greatest in the coal fields, owned by John Shenk & Co., of New York, is in danger of total destruction. Water is breaking into it from an abandoned work. The mine is connected with a vast number of old works. The water has gained such headway that the work of the pumping machinery seems to be of no avail. The suspension of the colliery means a total loss of work to 800 men and boys.

That Silver Brick Case. WASHINGTON CITY, March 27.—Yesterday G. G. Merrick, et al., of Denver, Colo., through counsel, filed a petition in the district court for a mandamus on Charles E. Foster, secretary of the treasury, to compel him to receive a silver bar or ingot for coinage. This is a renewal of the suit against Secretary Windom, and owing to his death had to be begun de novo.

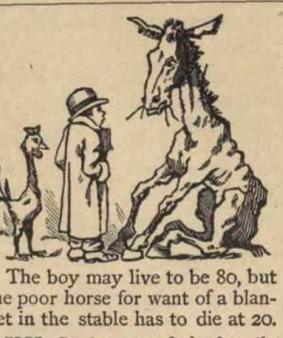

Portrait of Jeff Davis. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 27.—The life-size portrait of Jefferson Davis, which the clerk of the house was authorized during the early part of the session to have painted, was received Thursday and placed over the speaker's desk. It took the place of the portrait of George Washington that had been hanging in the hall for the last twenty years.

Suicide of a 17-Year-Old Boy. WASHINGTON, Pa., March 31.—Last evening Montgomery Baldwin, the 17-year-old son of Jacob Baldwin, of this county, committed suicide. He deliberately pointed a revolver at his neck and pulled the trigger, the bullet entering through his jugular vein and also breaking his neck.

Italy and the World's Fair. ROME, March 31.—The Italian government has announced that it will adhere to the principle of not taking official part in international exhibitions, but will give every facility to artists and manufacturers desiring to exhibit at Chicago.

One Convict Kills Another. IONIA, Mich., March 28. Charles Perrin and Charles Moyer, convicts employed in the engine room at the state house of correction, became involved in a quarrel. Perrin kicked Moyer in the stomach, killing him instantly.

GEORGE W. MILLEN, WHO AS SPECIAL AGENT FOR THE NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE CO.

DESIRES TO SAY THAT THE NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY was incorporated by the Legislature of Vermont in 1843. Its existence practically covers the whole history of Life Insurance in America, as the oldest company wrote its first policy in 1843. Hon. Henry Clay, of Kentucky; Hon. Amos Abbott, of Massachusetts; Hon. Alex. Ramsey, of Pennsylvania were among its incorporators.

That during the forty years of its successful experience, it has passed through the cholera epidemic of 1854, the financial panics of 1857 and 1873, as well as the ordeal of the Civil War. These were eras when corporations and individuals were tried to their utmost capacity. On every side were failures, large and small, but the NATIONAL came out with a record of solid prosperity, and not a scar to mark the great financial disturbances ever known in this country. Its policy contracts, therefore possess all the security and permanence that stability and success experience can guarantee.

That it wrote in MICHIGAN during the year 1888 $74,000, and during the year 1890 $750,000, which was the largest per cent. of gains during said year by any company in Michigan. No company writes a more satisfactory policy, writing in the face of each policy three guarantees:

FIRST.—A paid-up policy. SECOND.—A cash surrender for each year after the third. THIRD.—An extended insurance which provides for all emergencies that may overtake anyone in young and old age.

Help yourself if you're a suffering woman, with the medicine that's been prepared especially to help you—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It will do it where others fail. For all the diseases peculiar to the sex—dragging-down pains, displacements, and other weaknesses, it's a positive remedy. It makes a new life, and a longer one, for every delicate woman. In every case for which it's recommended, it gives satisfaction. It's guaranteed to do so, or the money is refunded.

It improves digestion, invigorates the system, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, produces refreshing sleep, dispels melancholy and nervousness, and builds up both flesh and strength. It is a legitimate medicine—not a beverage. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no syrup or sugar to sour or ferment in the stomach and cause distress. As peculiar in its marvelous, remedial results as in its composition. Therefore, don't be put off with some worthless compound easily, but dishonestly, recommended to be "just as good."

The executors of the estate of the late Benjamin W. Arnold, of Bay City, were required to file bonds to the tune of $70,000, the largest ever recorded in the probate court of that county. The estate is valued in the neighborhood of $1,000,000.

Years and years ago the town of Singaper was situated on the Michigan lake shore at the mouth of the Kalamazoo river. To-day there's but one house left that's inhabited, and the family that occupies it lives in the second story on account of the sand that piles up all around that region. All the other dwellings are buried from sight by the ever increasing sand dunes.

SOLONS AT LANSING.

Brief Resume of the Business Transactions at the Capital.

LANSING, Mich., March 27.—Yesterday the bills amending the charters of the cities of Marquette, Ishpeming, and Bessemer with reference to the mode of choosing the various city officials were passed and sent to the governor for approval. The house passed the bill appropriating $175,750 for the soldiers home for the next two years.

LANSING, Mich., March 28.—The Doran bill, fixing the amount of specific taxes to be paid by the mining companies during the next two years, was killed in the senate yesterday, and in its place was introduced a substitute bill requiring that mining and smelting companies shall come under the general taxation laws.

LANSING, Mich., March 31.—One of the most important measures of the session was favorably reported in the senate yesterday, and will be pushed through this week. Through an expensive mistake the stringent insurance laws of the state exempt from all supervision or control the fraternal mutual insurance societies. The bill reported yesterday places them on a level with the other companies.

LANSING, Mich., April 1.—The Minor electoral bill, which provides that presidential electors shall be chosen by congressional districts with two elected from the state at large, was passed in the house yesterday, and will probably become a law before the end of the week. The committee appointed to consider the redistricting of the state have agreed upon a bill which gives the Democrats seven districts and the Republicans five.

RULED BY RIOTERS

A Reign of Terror in the Coke Regions.

FURIOUS WOMEN ON THE RAMPAGE.

Property Destroyed and Deputy Sheriffs Powerless to Stop the Turbulence—Governor Pattison Declines to Interfere Until the Local Authorities Are Helpless—The Courts Appealed to and Deputies Armed—A Horrid Picture of the Sweating System in Gotham.

MT. PLEASANT, Pa., March 31.—The coke operators Sunday said they would commence work yesterday. The labor leaders said they would not—and they didn't. All Sunday night the strikers by thousands had possession of the Morewood, Standard, Alice, Bridgeport, Jimtown, Leith, and Leisenring plants, and kept possession of them all yesterday. During the night the rioters broke up the ovens, tore down fences, and destroyed other property at their own sweet will, while a score or so of deputy sheriffs had to look on and submit. A bomb was exploded at Leisenring plant, but did no particular damage. At these plants there are a large number of men ready to go to work so soon as order is established.

Doings of Drunken Women.

The lawlessness at the Leith coke plant had some peculiar features. A band of infuriated Hungarian women attacked the drawers at the ovens and drove them away with clubs and stones. The women were inflamed with liquor and rushed on the men with yells and curses. Yard Boss O'Connell was injured. Pit Boss Hooper received a terrific blow on the head with an iron bar in the hands of one of the women, who followed it up with several more until she was overpowered and her arms were pinioned. The men, seeing that resistance was useless, stopped their work and fled, leaving their tools behind them. Two thousand strikers assembled at the fair grounds yesterday afternoon and were addressed by President Rue and Vice-President Renna and others.

Must Exhaust His Powers First.

The sheriff of Westmoreland county telegraphed to Governor Pattison yesterday about the riotous miners and asked the consent of the governor to use the arms of two of the companies of the national guard. The governor replied that civil power must be exhausted before the state would interfere. At Scottdale the labor leaders last night were considering the advisability of offering the two big coke companies 1,000 citizens and strikers to protect their property.

Doing the Exhausting Act.

Warrants have been issued for eleven of the Leith and twenty-seven of the Jimtown rioters. An injunction was granted last evening restraining Master Workman Wise and other labor leaders from congregating about the coke works or in any way interfering with those who desire to work. Sheriff McCormick, with a number of deputies, left on a special train last night to serve the injunction and arrest those charged with riot.

Keeping People Awake Nights.

Last night Mt. Pleasant was trembling with excitement. The people feared an explosion. Nobody was willing to go to bed. There was more confusion than there has been since the bloody riots of 1880. At midnight fully 1,000 men were on the hills surrounding the works. Sheriff Allison had increased his force to 200 men. All are armed with Winchester rifles, and another attack of the strikers means a desperate and bloody battle.

Mortgage Sale.

On the 31st day of March, A. D. 1888, John Lynn mortgaged to Abner P. Wilcox all that certain piece or parcel of land situate in the township of Augusta in the county of Washtenaw and in Michigan, described as follows to-wit: "The south half of the east half of the north-east quarter of section thirty-six," to secure the purchase money of said described land, said mortgage being recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said county on the 29th day of May, 1888, in lieu of mortgages on page 497. It has been made in and for said mortgage by the non-payment of the moneys due thereon by which the power of sale therein contained has become operative. There is now claimed to be due on said mortgage the sum of eight hundred and eighty-six and 90-100 dollars and no proceedings at law or in chancery have been instituted to recover the same or any part thereof. Notice is therefore hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained and of the statute in such case made and provided, I shall sell the said premises and in said mortgage described at public auction to the highest bidder on Saturday the 20th day of April, 1891, at the south front door of the Court House in the city of Ann Arbor, in said county, to make and satisfy the amount then due on said mortgage, the cost and charges of foreclosure and sale and twenty-five dollars attorney fee as provided for in said mortgage.

How Clothing Makers Work in the Tenements of New York.

BOSTON, March 31.—The legislative committee on public health yesterday began a hearing on the "sweating" system of manufacturing clothing in New York, which was made the subject of a recent special message by Governor Russell. John Crowley, of Boston, general secretary of the Clothing Operatives' National union, testified that he had been to New York and found that several prominent clothing dealers of Boston had their goods manufactured in New York tenement houses under unwholesome conditions. The rooms were extremely filthy. In one room measuring 12x9 feet there were thirty people of both sexes. The air was foul.

No clothes for the Children.

Up-stairs were a number of children, the eldest 10 years of age, entirely nude, playing about the floor. Unwholesome sweating establishments were found at 28 Atorney street, 93 Christie street and 163 Division street. This was in November last. Isaac Mullen, a state inspector of factories in Massachusetts, had been sent to New York to examine the system. He testified that at 97 Reade street, buckets of slops were standing about and the rooms were crowded with people. At 88 Reade street the operatives were Poles, who received 6 cents for making a pair of pantaloons. The goods were shipped direct from the big clothing houses in Boston.

THE MARKETS.

THE LABOR TROUBLE AT ROCHESTER.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 31.—About 40 per cent of the regular force of cutters was at work yesterday. There are many destitute families of tailors in consequence of the lock-out. The clothing factories were thronged with tailors yesterday morning seeking for work. There was none for them, owing to the scarcity of cutters.

Took a Strike by the Forelock.

CLEVELAND, O., March 31.—An Akron special said that 200 men employed by the Card Coal company, of Cleveland, at their mines at Wadsworth, were yesterday dismissed. The reason given for this action is that the employers understood that the men had planned a strike.

The Kincaid Trial.

WASHINGTON CITY, March 31.—In the Kincaid trial yesterday several witnesses, including members of the house, testified that Taubee had frequently threatened to kill Kincaid. Frank P. Morgan, a newspaper correspondent, said he heard Taubee say that Kincaid "has got to be killed, and I will kill him."

Gen. Roca, the prime minister of the Argentine Republic, was shot at and wounded by a boy 12 years of age, Saturday last.

Found in the Calendar.

The University Calendar, for 1890-'91, has been printed and will be issued sometime next week. A review of it reveals a marked advancement in all departments of the University. Last year the list of professors, lecturers, instructors and assistants numbered 117; this year there are 136. The number of non-resident lecturers this year is large and includes Justice Brown, of the U. S. Supreme Court, Prof. Langley, of Pittsburgh, Dr. Marshall D. Ewell, of Chicago, Justice Maxwell, of the Supreme Court of Nebraska, Dr. James L. High, of Chicago, Hon. Carroll D. Wright, of Washington and Prof. E. R. A. Seligman, of Columbia College. This is the largest list of eminent men the University has ever had as lecturers.

The libraries contained, Sept. 30, 1890, in the aggregate, 74,599 volumes, 14,907 unbound pamphlets and 571 maps, an increase of 4,558, 281 and 55 respectively for the past year. No large additions were made as in some of recent years.

The requirements for admission to the Literary Department remain practically unchanged, the only changes being in some of the textbooks suggested for preparation. There has been a very large increase in the number of diploma schools. There are 82 this year while last year there were only 69 schools whose diplomas admitted to the University without examination. Two or three have dropped out since 1889-'90, and a few have advanced so as to prepare for all the courses. The increase this year is confined almost exclusively to those schools which prepare for all the courses and is as follows: Harvard School, Chicago; Kansas City, Mo.; Marquette; Orchard Lake; Muskegon; Albion; Caro; Hillsdale; Cedar Rapids; Vassar; St. Paul, Minn.; University School, Chicago; Vermont Academy, Vermont.

The courses offered in the Literary Department have been largely increased in almost every subject. This is due to the demand for variety and to the increased facilities for teaching, since many of the departments have been provided with additional teaching force. A new departure has been made in the establishment of the department of Comparative Philology under Dr. Fay. The languages now offered are Greek, Latin, Sanskrit, Hebrew, Assyrian, French, Italian, Spanish,

German, Gothic, Swedish and Danish-Norwegian.

The new requirements for entrance to the Medical Department which will be in force in 1892 includes English, Mathematics, the fundamental parts of Algebra, plane Geometry, Physics, Botany, Zoology, Physiology, General History and Jones' First Latin Book.

The honorary degrees granted at last Commencement were as follows: A. M., Henry Brooks Baker and Prof. A. A. Stanley; Ph. D., Mrs. L. H. Stone; M. D., Prof. W. H. Howell; LL. D., Austin Blair, ex-governor of Michigan. The whole number of ordinary degrees granted last Commencement was 555, the largest in the history of the U. of M. and the largest ever granted in any American college.

The number of students coming from the different states is of especial interest. There are from Michigan, 1,162 students; Illinois, 282; Ohio, 205; Indiana, 113; Pennsylvania, 84; New York, 84; Iowa, 75; Missouri, 31; California, 30; Minnesota, 28; Wisconsin, 27; Kansas, 26; Nebraska, 24; Utah, 22; Colorado, 21; Kentucky, 16; Massachusetts, 14; Washington, 11. The other states and territories send smaller numbers. Twelve foreign countries send 67 students, Ontario sending 37, and Japan 15. The other countries represented are England, New Brunswick, Porto Rico, Bulgaria, Costa Rica, Ireland, Mexico, Sweden, Syria, and Turkey.

The attendance during the past few years has been as follows:

1887-88	1,667
1888-89	1,882
1889-90	2,153
1890-91	2,418

The Calendar has 256 pages, and although it is much more condensed in some parts than its predecessors, it is the largest calendar ever published here. The volume is thicker than usual owing to a lighter and thicker paper being used. The Register Company has the contract for publishing and has done good work.—U. of M. Daily.

The Maelstrom is a Reality.

So many marvelous tales have been told of the Norwegian maelstrom that several writers, even of geographical works, have pronounced it entirely mythical. But the whirlpool is a reality, and from surveys has become well known. It is on the Norway coast to the south of the Lofoden isles, and runs between a small island called Maskens and a rocky islet. The depth of the water in the straits is about 120 feet, while just outside a 1,200 foot line will scarcely touch bottom, and the strong currents rushing in and out of the fiords create not only the maelstrom, or mill stream, but numbers of other whirlpools that render navigation exceedingly dangerous.

The strait of the maelstrom is perfectly calm at ebb or at flood tide, but with the rising or the falling of the tide, or when a high wind is blowing or a storm raging, the waters driven in from the ocean find their way out again through the strait with such mighty violence that no ship can pass through the eddies. There is little downward suction, as is commonly supposed, the danger being that the vessel will become unmanageable and be driven on the rocks. It is said that whales have been found in the vicinity with their heads completely crushed in, having been caught in the current and dashed against the cliffs. The Norwegian government has surveyed the maelstrom and warned all navigators against its dangers.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Particulars Concerning Snow Storms.

"Snow" said a man with a turned down fold in his left ear to a quiet passenger who sat beside him; "you don't call this snow? Ever been out in Colorado? No? Well, spring before last we had a snowfall in Denver—28th of April, it was—and the street cars ran in tunnels through the city for four months. Weather! Why, you don't have enough to send flies on a vacation. That's the place—coldest winter you ever heard of, and hottest summer right on top of it. Sudden change middle of May, and the ground was cracked with the heat by the 1st of June."

"But what became of the snow?"
"Packed. Heat melted it on top and water froze on the way down. 'Twas a bad winter to cut ice on account of the snowstorms, and the railroad company made a fortune in July selling hunks of the tunnel to butchers and saloon keepers."

"My friend," said the quiet passenger, as his eyes grew moist, "I've got a boy at home who has tried every business under the sun and succeeded in none of them. Will you try and teach him your trade?"

"What d'ye mean?" asked the man with the reference ear.

"I'd like to have him learn to lie," replied the quiet passenger. "If he can equal you I'll buy him a phonograph and set him up in the museum business."

But the weather critic had reached his station.—Brooklyn Eagle.
