Transacts a general banking business; buys and sells exchanges on New York, Detroit and Chicago; sells drafts on all the principal cities of Europe. This bank, already having a large business, invites merchants and others to open accounts with them with the assurance of the most liberal dealing consistent with safe banking. In the Savings Department interest is paid semi-annually, on the first days of January and July, on all sums that were deposited three months previous to those days, thus affording the people of this city and county a perfectly safe depository for their funds, together with a return in interest for the same. Money to loan on approved securities. DIRECTORS.—Christian Mack, W. D. Harriman, Daniel Hiscock, William Deubel, Willard B. Smith, David Rinsey, and L. Gruner. OFFICERS.—Christian Mack, President; W. D. Harriman, Vice-President; Chas. E. Hiscock, Cashier.

OUR GRUMBLER.

The Grumbling Grumbles of a Chronic Grumbler.

HIS FIRST WEEK'S GARRULOUS GRUMBLINGS.

Gutter Snipes as a Nuisance—Streets are not Sewers—Sidewalk Building Delayed in Some Quarters, etc., etc.

Our Grumbler is one of the chronic sort of an individual who looks at the world in a slightly distorted way. He is a dyspeptic, a natural dyspeptic, with whom neither food nor actions of men agree. He would have the world or at least the individuals in the world made over more to his liking. He is no respecter of person and the habit of grumbling has become so confirmed a habit that he needs very little excuse for its exercise. There is a little of the philosopher in his make-up and in order to induce the Argus to give him a space for the due exercise of his grumbling powers, he stated that most men were naturally grumblers and that to give vent to the grumbles in print might relieve not only his own mind but the mind of others.

Our Grumbler, while walking the streets of the city the other morning, was surprised at noticing that some people seem to have the idea that the streets of the city were sewers, at least they were using them as such. It offended his idea of the proprieties. Besides he did not think it was particularly health producing to have the streets used for such purposes. He thought that the people ought to have more regard for themselves and neighbors and that if they didn't, the strong arm of the law should step in and teach them that the public streets were not public sewers.

Our Grumbler does not like the way in which hand bills and dodgers are distributed in this city. Sometimes the streets in every direction are strewn with them. The boys whose work it is to hand out these dodgers or gutter snipes as our Grumbler has heard them called, quite appropriately he thinks, have a habit probably inculcated by their employers of standing at the postoffice or near the entrance of the University grounds or any place where a crowd congregates and passing out gutter snipes to the passers by. They are glanced at and thrown down to the street. The winds carry them in every direction and anything but a cleanly looking refuse to take a bill has one stuffed in between his arm and his body, to fall to the ground unwept and unseen. Soon the heavens weep over them or else the lawn sprinklers immerse and the dust settles down on the wet surface and exceedingly clean streets and lawns result. Our Grumbler believes in advertising but he thinks that in advertising that merchant does the best who blows his horn the longest and loudest with the greatest regard for public feelings and especially grumblers' feelings and the welfare of the city.

Our Grumbler hears of certain sidewalks which need to be laid, which have been ordered laid but which have not been laid. Our Grumbler expressed the hope that they would be laid at once before any broken legs resulted, so that our Grumbler might continue his rambles without danger of involving the city and the remiss property owner in a heavy damage suit.

Webster Farmers Club.

The Webster Farmers' Club was not called to order until after a bountiful noon repast; then after the transaction of miscellaneous business and the rendering of some excellent music by Messrs. Ball, Cushman, Parsons and Seaddin, and prayer by Rev. Scott Williams a paper was read by Mr. Gibbons, of the Michigan Farmer, on "Money and Banking." The paper was carefully prepared and presented and well received by the audience, who seemed to thoroughly appreciate it. In discussing the paper, the manner in which the old soldier was paid off by the government was broached; some felt that the soldier was shabbily treated, others, especially Mr. Gibbons, that he as an old soldier, was paid all that the government agreed, and even more and inasmuch as he was a part of the government he could not well cheat himself. Some repartee was indulged in, especially by Rev. M. H. McMahon and Mr. Gibbons. The latter was asked by the former to explain a single point in his paper, which seemed to require several minutes, after listening to which with some embarrassment, the Rev. McMahon said "you see that if I can't make much of a speech myself, I am able to get much out of others."

William Smith, of North Lake, although a wealthy and well developed old bachelor, expressed a timidity at talking in the presence of ladies, and also expressed sorrow that he knew so little, "didn't even know enough to spend what money he had." Mr. Seaddin's place is a good place to Seaddin's place is a good place to make folks feel at home.

The day was fine and quite a number of former residents of Webster were present whose faces have been marked years since mingling with Webster people.

I. W. Williams sang a song of olden times which brought tears to many eyes. With the aid of other feet his sweet invalid daughter, Maude, played the organ.

Population of Washtenaw Towns and Villages.

According to the census returns of 1890, as published in the Michigan Manual, just distributed, Washtenaw has a population of 42,210. Ann Arbor city has a population of 9,431 and Ypsilanti of 6,129. The population of the Washtenaw villages is as follows:—Chelsea, 1,330; Dexter, 879; Manchester, 1,191; Milan, 917; Saline, 706. The townships are peopled as follows: Ann Arbor, 1,383; Dexter, 702; Lima, 991; Lyndon, 617; Northfield, 1,210; Salem, 1,182; Scio, 1,946; Superior, 1,096; Sylvan, 2,258; Webster, 863; Augusta, 1,769; Bridgewater, 1,084; Freedom, 1,134; Lodi, 1,264; Manchester, 2,178; Pittsfield, 1,158; Saline, 1,659; Sharon, 1,014; York, 1,906; Ypsilanti, 1,236.

In Memoriam.

Welch Post No. 137 Dept. of Michigan G. A. R. 1 Ann Arbor June 12th 1891. Whereas, Death has once more entered our ranks and thereby removed from our midst, our late comrade in arms, Wm. F. A. Gwinner, who departed this life at his home on Detroit street, this city, June 3rd, 1891, after a long and painful illness. Therefore Resolved, That in the death of Comrade Gwinner, Welch Post recognized the loss of a faithful and worthy member.

Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of the Post is hereby extended to his deeply bereaved family, in this their hour of great affliction and sorrow, in which they mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate husband and father.

Resolved, That a record of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Post and that the city papers be requested to publish the same.

Nine Horses Smothered.

Nine horses were smothered by a fire in the livery stable of Hiram Kittredge, Tuesday night. The fire was discovered about midnight, by Jesse Stevens and a stableman who was setting up with him watching a sick horse belonging to Stevens. The two men were sitting in front of the stable. Going back to give the horse some medicine, they discovered the barn in flames. They cried fire and tried to save the horses. An attempt was made to send the alarm in by telephone and some time was lost in getting in the alarm. Finally a man was sent and in two minutes after he reached the engine house the department had water on the fire. The fire had run over the hay and straw and the whole of the upper part of the ninety foot building seemed enveloped in flames. Although it was an ugly fire to fight, the department saved the building.

There were sixteen horses in the stable. Seven of them were rescued, the others being smothered by the dense smoke. One of the smothered horses was gotten out of the building, but went around to another door and back into the dense smoke. Ald. Frank O'Hearn helped in doing good work in saving horses. Seven of the nine horses smothered belonged to Mr. Kittredge and were heavy horses used in teaming. He estimated them as worth over $800. He had no insurance on them. One of the horses belonged to Miss Belle K. Edson and the other was a valuable breed mare belonging to Philip and Michael Duffy of Northfield. Mr. Philip Duffy had driven in that evening to take the train for Detroit, leaving the horse in the stable.

It is not known how the fire originated. Sheriff Dwyer, who saw the fire from the beginning, says the Ann Arbor fire department is not given praise enough. He thinks it the most efficient department in the state. And its record shows as much. There was only $1,000 insurance on the building and none on the contents.

Our Water Works.

The water works reservoirs were examined yesterday afternoon by the board of health, the board of public works, Prof. Greene and Mr. Richardson, who assisted in building the works. They found the water lowered in the reservoir so that they could walk down to it. The water was clear and they report seeing nothing injurious to the public health. At the pumping works the eight flowing wells were visited. The water gushes up clear as crystal and as cool as ice water. The wells are 55 to 65 feet deep and one of the pipes is six inches. The reception basins were being cleaned out thoroughly and put in excellent order. Ann Arbor is to be congratulated on its works. The capacity is 1,500,000 gallons, while the consumption is about 1,000,000 gallons. There are 25 miles of street mains and 117 hydrants.

A Stabbing Affray.

George Knoll, of North street was stabbed about eleven o'clock Tuesday night, by Mack Dunlap, a painter, who had been calling upon a young lady who lives in the house occupied by Knoll, and which is a tenement house. When Dunlap came to go out the door was locked. Knoll and he became engaged in an altercation with the result stated. Dunlap came down to look at Kittredge's fire just after the affray and was arrested. His examination was held yesterday. He denied the stabbing but admitted knocking Knoll down. He claimed that Knoll came at him with a hammer. He was bound over to the circuit court for trial, bail being fixed at $300.

Pittsfield.

Farmers are shearing their sheep and will soon have them shorn.

The apple crop in this township does not promise to be a large one.

A brother of Mr. Brown, station agent at the junction, paid him a visit last week.

Wheat, which promises a good harvest in this locality, is now mostly headed out.

Monday the mercury in the thermometer stood at 92 in the shade, about 1 p. m.

Corn is being cultivated and other farm work, incident to the season, is in progress.

The showers we have had lately have been local, touching some points and missing others.

Spring term of school in District No. 3 taught by Anna Chalmers, closes on Friday of this week.

Last Sunday was observed with appropriate exercises at the Roberts school house as children's day.

Bees ought to make honey now, for more white clover was never seen than has made its appearance this spring.

Mr. Fred Webb, of the laws, who lives in this enlightened township, has invested in a German flute and melody is now the order of the day with him. Melody is a great soother of the ills of life, verily it is.

The county roads, having had their annual fixing up, all urban and suburban people are invited to ride out on them and view the beauties of nature and contrast them on their return to the city, with the beauty of brick and mortar and all the other good views in town.

Your correspondent, like the quakers, who speak when the spirit moves them, it seems best when in the mood for it. There would seem to be something artificial in writing at stated periods, something perhaps suited to the city, where all is artificial but not suited to the wild and free nature of country life. Lord Byron remarks that "Art, freedom, glory fail, but nature still is fair." Nature certainly will exist, when art, freedom and glory shall have passed away, like a dream that is gone when we awake.

What Does It Mean.

"100 Doses One Dollar" means simply that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most economical medicine to buy, because it gives more for the money than any other preparation. Each bottle contains 100 doses and will average to last a month, while other preparations, taken according to directions, are gone in a week. Therefore, be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier.

Mooreville.

Rev. Mr. Conrad visited the city of Ann Arbor.

Old Mrs. Sangree is very sick with but very little hopes of recovery.

Mr. Kowle is spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. D. P. McLachlan.

Friends in the vicinity of Ann Arbor, last week.

It is rumored that Amos Hall will manufacture brick and tile in the near future.

Quite a good many attended commencement exercises at Milan, Tuesday evening.

A. G. McIntyre has sold his engine and boiler to a company in St. Clair county, to put in a flax mill, and a man is here preparing it for shipment.

The Baptists will hold a social, Tuesday afternoon and evening, at the residence of Milo Clark and the methodists an ice cream social, Thursday, at Mr. Moore's.

A Wonder Worker.

Mr. Frank Huffman, a young man of Burlington, Ohio, states that he had been under the care of two prominent physicians, and used their treatment until he was not able to get around. They pronounced his case to be Consumption and incurable. He was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds and at that time was not able to walk across the street without resting. He found, before he had used half a dollar bottle, that he was much better; he continued to use it and is to-day enjoying good health. If you have any Throat, Lung or Chest Trouble try it. We guarantee satisfaction. Trial bottle free at Eberbach & Son's Drugstore.

Chelsea.

T. B. Taylor, of Jackson, was here on business, last Friday.

C. E. Letts and daughter, of Detroit, have been here several days, this week.

Wheat is about all in and balance shipments are ordered made this month.

Mrs. D. H. Fuller went to Battle Creek, Wednesday, to visit her son and other relatives there.

Hiram Pierce has his fine new basement horse barn completed and ready to receive his hay crop.

The average urchin goes in swimming twice a day these warm days, in the creek north of town.

The thermometer was 103 in the shade, here, Sunday afternoon and not much below that, Monday.

Miss Eva Taylor will go to Three Oaks, next Saturday, to visit her aunt, Mrs. Avery, and other relatives there.

Elmer Smith, of Oakland, California, is spending a few weeks here with relatives. He travels for a Detroit wholesale house.

All the churches were well attended last Sunday night and interesting exercises by the children appropriate to Children's day were had.

The wool buyers are only talking about 23 cents for good washed wool. None has been delivered here yet and it will come in very slow at that price.

The union society will be at the M. E. church, next Sunday night.

The market has been dull and nominal the past week. Very little produce has moved. For the first time in many months there was not a load of wheat nor any other grain brought here last Tuesday. Wheat stands at $1 for white and 96 cts. for red, oats, 42 cts.; rye, 80 cts.; eggs, 14 cts.; butter, 13 cts.

Strawberries raised in this vicinity were in the market the latter part of last week and sold rapidly at 15 cts. per quart. The crop will be light.

Hay rakes, tedders and mowers have gone out from here this week in large numbers and some farmers have commenced haying, though next week will be haying week. The hay crop is coming out much lighter than was expected two weeks ago, on account of the late, hot dry weather. Timothy, especially is unusually light.

A. L. Woodin died at his residence in this village last Saturday night, of paralysis. He had been ill some time with the grippe and had not recovered from that when he was prostrated with a stroke of paralysis, from which he never rallied. He was 75 years old and had spent most of his long life in and near this village. He was a good and consistent member of the M. E. church and was respected and beloved by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. He meant to be right in all that he did and few men pass away more generally regretted. He left a wife and grown up family to mourn his loss. He was buried Monday in the family lot at the Sylvan cemetery.

A National Event.

The holding of the World's Fair in a city scarcely fifty years old will be a remarkable event, but whether it will really benefit this nation as much as the discovery of the Restorative Nervine by Dr. Franklin Miles is doubtful. This is just what the American people need to cure their excessive nervousness, dyspepsia, headache, dizziness, sleeplessness, neuralgia, nervous debility, dullness, confusion of mind, etc. It acts like a charm. Triale bottles and fine book on "Nervous and Heart Diseases," with unequalled testimonials, free at Eberbach & Son's. It is warranted to contain no opium, morphine or dangerous drugs.

Lima.

Mrs. A. B. Storms, of Detroit, visited J. Storms, last week.

Godfrey Luick had the misfortune to lose a horse, last week. It was one of his greys.

W. E. Stocking and Bert Stedman are this week on the fourth week shearing sheep.

Miss Ella and Caroline Whitaker have moved to Lansing, Mich. Miss Ella has a position there.

Its Excellent Qualities

Commend to public approval the California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. It is pleasing to the eye, and to the taste and by gently acting on the liver and bowels, it cleanses the System effectually, thereby promoting the health and comfort of all who use it.

Dexter.

Henry Hall died Sunday morning, after a severe illness.

John Curtis' horse had to go through with some extra antics while hitched in front of the postoffice, last Saturday evening, by trying to make his bed on top of the hitching post, then rolling up into a wad on the pavement, breaking both thills and calling bition was satisfied.

Remarkable Facts.

Heart disease is usually supposed to be incurable, but when properly treated a large proportion of cases can be cured. Thus Mrs. Elmira Hatch, of Elkhart, Ind., and Mrs. Mary L. Baker, of Ovid, Mich., were cured after suffering 20 years. S. C. Linburger, druggist at San Jose, Ill., says that Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which cured the former, "worked wonders for his wife." Levi Logan, of Buchanan, Mich., who had heart disease for 30 years, says two bottles made him "feel like a new man." Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold and guaranteed by Eberbach & Sons. Book of wonderful testimonials free.

He—"I'm afraid I wasn't myself at the reception, yesterday." She—"I thought not; you were so entertaining."

A Miracle of the Nineteenth Century.

I have been afflicted with rheumatism for twenty years, and have used crutches for ten years. From using powerful liniments to get a little sleep, my hip and knee had lost nearly all strength. When I commenced to take Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup I could not take one step without the aid of a cane. I can now walk without my cane from my house to my office and wish I might herald to all afflicted with rheumatism, the merits of this wonderful medicine.

Peculiar

Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the curative value of the best known vegetable Hood's kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "good name at home,"—there is more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad no other Peculiar preparation ever attained so rapidly nor held so steadfastly the confidence of all classes of people. Peculiar in the brain-work which it represents, Hood's Sarsaparilla combines all the knowledge which modern research has To Itself in medical science has with many years practical experience in preparing medicines. "And I suppose, like a brave soldier, you followed your colors." "Yes; whenever there was a battle I noticed that the colors were flying, so I fled, too."

Infancy to Old Age.

Nothing is more remarkable than the fact that a medicine which is powerful enough to cure the most horrible form of blood poisoning can be given with impunity to a little child that is ailing; and yet this is the record of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) It is a germ destroyer, a purifier, a great remedial agent; it is powerful, and yet harmless; it is a medicine that contains no mineral poisons; all its results are beneficial; it is compounded from nature's own laboratory, and works on nature's lines to cure disease; it restores, revives and reinvigorates the system; it may be used as a tonic by the most delicate women; it may be given to build up the constitution of a little child, or it may be employed to restore to health the unhappy victim of blood poisoning. In each case it will work wonderful results.

"Why don't you have your umbrella marked," said the thoughtful man. "I don't want to be robbed of my good name," says the wag.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.—A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove Pimples, Boils, Salt Rheum and other affections caused by impure blood.—Will drive Malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure Malarial fevers.—For cure of Headache, Constipation and Indigestion try Electric Bitters—Entire satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded.—Price 50cts. and $1.00 per bottle at Eberbach & Son's Drugstore.

Murdered.

The body of Julius Baer was found by freighters five miles west of here Tuesday morn, in a terribly mangled condition. His head and face were smashed, so as to be hardly recognized, and numerous wounds were found on his body. Mr. Baer was agent for the great blood medicine, Sulphur Bitters. Robbery was undoubtedly the motive, as he was well known to have a large sum of money on his person. As we go to press there is no clew to the perpetrators.—Colorado Press.

Good and Reliable.

A good and reliable family medicine is Sulphur Bitters. Every Spring for the last six years I have been troubled with boils. Since I began using Sulphur Bitters, I have not had a single one. You can rely on Sulphur Bitters every time.—Editor Weekly News.

The word "preface" used in the beginning of books, was originally a word of welcome to a meal and was equivalent to "Much good may it do you."

A New Jersey man, who died in the full belief that the single tax was to furnish the panacea for all ills, left $12,000 to Henry George for the spread of his single tax doctrine. But alas for the New Jersey man's panacea. The lawyers got after the bequest and after they had all their say, George got just $318 to spread his doctrines. The lawyers got the rest.

We owe our readers an apology for the amount of space devoted in this issue to advertising. It has been our intention to get out a paper larger than ten pages this week to give more reading, but the heavy amount of commencement work, which has kept our presses busy, renders this impossible. A careful perusal of the advertising columns may result in the saving of money to our readers.

The republican party is the legitimate successor of the old federal or aristocratic party. Hence, probably, the assistance of the United States has been used by the "president" or dictator of Chili to assist in putting down the constitutional party of Chili. The Chilian war, as near as we can make out, was caused by the president endeavoring to usurp monarchical powers. The Chilian congress resisted his usurpations and war began. It makes little difference if Balmaceda terms the constitutional party rebels. So were our revolutionary forefathers called rebels. It would seem that the sympathy of this government ought to be with the people not with the dictator.

At the meeting of the Geological Society of the University, Friday, June 12, the following were elected officers for the first semester of the year '91 and '92: President, Eli R. Sutton; vice-president, Miss E. C. Ladd; secretary, Stuart H. Perry; executive committee, C. C. Starr, Miss Patterson, George D. Sones.

A little debate occurred during the council meeting over appropriating $135 for recarpeting and refitting the council chamber. Ald. Mann thought that under existing circumstances there was no need of such expense. He said the council room had been good enough for their predecessors and he thought it was good enough for them. Ald. Wines thought it would not be profitable to take the old carpet up to clean the council room and to replace it. He thought it could hardly be done. The appropriation was for calsoning, recarpeting, matting, revarnishing, etc. The resolution was adopted, Ald Mann alone voting no.

We call the attention of the readers of the Argus to the notice of the Commencement Concert in our advertising columns. This will be the last concert of the season and will be a very brilliant affair. The program to be given will contain a great deal of variety and is full of melody. This Commencement Concert is the one opportunity our friends have of hearing the concerts which are attracting so much attention, and as it is a gala time in the student calendar, University Hall should be packed.

William Bush, a highly respected citizen of Ann Arbor town, living just north of the city, died Wednesday evening, after an illness of eight weeks. He was sixty-nine years of age, April 7, last, and had resided in this county since he was twenty-one years of age. He was born in the state of New York and married there, coming to Michigan in 1843. He resided for many years in Superior where he had the respect and esteem of his neighbors. He removed to Ann Arbor town eight years ago. He was twice married, and leaves four children. He served as justice of the peace and in various other township offices. He was a staunch democrat.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

[OFFICIAL].

COUNCIL CHAMBER, June 15, 1891.
Regular meeting.
Called to order by President Cooley.
Roll call:
Present—Ald. Mann, Wines, Herz, Martin, Allmendinger, Fillmore, O'Hearn, Ferguson, Rehberg, Hall, Kitson and President Cooley.
Absent—Ald. Taylor.
Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

COMMUNICATIONS.

To the Hon. Common Council:

I have the pleasure of announcing to you that the suit of David Henning vs. the City of Ann Arbor and the Michigan Central Railroad, after negotiation and settlement has been discontinued as to the city without costs, by stipulation of counsel.

Both the city and Mr. Henning are to be congratulated upon this amicable termination of what promised to be not only a tedious and expensive litigation, but also an unpleasant and distasteful strife between an honored former townsman and the city of his deepest affections and fondest memories.

I venture to suggest that the warrant heretofore ordered drawn for the preliminary contingent expenses of the city in this suit be ordered cancelled and the sum then appropriated be paid to our counsel, Hon. A. J. Sawyer, upon a proper warrant to be issued.

Mr. Sawyer gave this case the fullest benefit of his wide experience and rich legal knowledge and skill and had prepared himself thoroughly on all points in controversy.

The compensation suggested is modest and moderate for his valuable services.

WILLIAM G. DOTY,
Mayor.

Received and placed on file.

By Ald. Martin:

Resolved, That the order heretofore drawn for the purpose of defraying expenses of the city in the case of Henning vs. City of Ann Arbor and M. C. R. R. be cancelled and that the sum of three hundred dollars be and the same is hereby appropriated from the contingent fund in favor of A. J. Sawyer, for his services as attorney for the city in said case.

Yeas—Ald. Mann, Wines, Herz, Martin, Allmendinger, Fillmore, O'Hearn, Rehberg, Hall, Kitson, and President Cooley.—12.
Nays—None.

To the Hon. Common Council of the City of Ann Arbor, Mich.:

The Ann Arbor Arbeiter Verein desires to express the thanks of the General Arbeiter Bund of the State of Michigan, to the Common Council for the honor conferred by the action of His Honor the Mayor and Council at the annual convention of the Arbeiter Bund, held June 9, 10 and 11, ANN ARBOR ARBEITER VEIN.

By CHRISTIAN MARTIN, President.

Received and placed on file.

To William J. Miller, City Clerk:

I have the honor to inform you that the Ann Arbor Business Men's Association have appointed the following committee to act with the committee of the Council in reference to the question of severage: G. Frank Allmendinger, Junius E. Beal, Herman Hutzel, Henry S. Dean and Frederick Schmid.

Respectfully,
EUGENE K. FRUEBAUFF,
June 15, 1891. Cor. Sec'y.

ORDINANCE COMMITTEE.

First reading of an Ordinance relative to "Licenses" by title.
Second reading of an Ordinance relative to "Licenses," by sections.

STREET.
Chairman Hall asked for further time to make a report on Mr. and Mrs. Paquette Felch street matter, which was granted.

To the Hon. Common Council of the City of Ann Arbor, Mich.

Your Water Committee, to whom was referred the matter of placing fire hydrants on Hill street, between Washenaw avenue and Twelfth street, beg leave to make the following report:

We recommend that two hydrants be placed on Hill street, one 800 feet from the hydrant on Washenaw ave., corner of Hill, and one 700 feet from the hydrant corner of Hill and Twelfth providing the water company at the same time extend their six-inch mains on Forest avenue and East University avenue, to the main pipe on Hill street, thereby doing away with four dead ends.

C. F. O'HEARN,
E. G. MANN,
GEO. ALLMENDINGER,
Committee.

Received and placed on file.

To the Common Council:

Your Committee on Parks to whom was referred the petition of J. H. Starks, relative to the Court House lawn respectfully report that they have had the matter under consideration and find that Mr. Starks has without compensation from the city, done a large amount of work on the lawn during last and the present year. We also find that under the arrangement heretofore made by the board of supervisors and our predecessors in office, it has been and now is the duty of the city to take care of such lawn. We therefore recommend that the salary of Mr. Starks as janitor of the Council room and keeper of the lawn be fixed at the sum of one hundred dollars per year, commencing May 1, 1891. We also recommend that such salary after May 1st, 1892, be fixed at seventy-five dollars per year. The increase for the present year being recommended on account of past services for which he has received no compensation.

A. H. FILLMORE,
C. FRANK O'HEARN,
LOUIS P. HALL,
Committee.

The report was accepted and adopted by the following:

Yeas—Ald. Mann, Wines, Herz, Mar-

OUR NEIGHBORING COUNTRIES.

Joe Dean, of South Lyon, had a happy escape. A tree under which he stood was shivered by lightning but Joe didn't shiver a cent's worth.

The Grass Lake council has decreed that no "game of ball playing of any kind whatsoever" excepting lawn tennis shall be played within the corporate limits. The penalty for disobeying the decree of the august village fathers is $25 fine and twenty days in jail.

What is a "ku'l cracker"? The Grass Lake council has just decreed that no one excepting an officer of the peace or a night watch shall carry one concealed about "his or their person." Is it so large a weapon that two persons can conceal it? What would a night watch do with it and would he be protected using it on a Chelsea man? The Grass Lake News will please stand up and make answer.

Au Ex-Legislator on Trial.

CHICAGO, June 16.—Solomon Van Praag, ex-legislator and a saloonkeeper, was on trial yesterday before Judge Blodgett for violation of the United States election laws in procuring false testimony in naturalization cases. John Callaghan swore that Van Praag got him to swear to a lie in two cases and John Murray confirmed Callaghan's testimony. The defense introduced witnesses contradicting part of what Callaghan said, and others swearing that his reputation was very bad.

BOND COMMITTEE.

Your Committee on Bonds would respectfully report that they have examined the bond of C. Eberbach & Son, with L. Gruner and E. C. Eberbach, Sureties, and would recommend the acceptance with the sureties named.

WM. HERZ,
L. P. HALL,
E. G. MANN,
Committee.

The report was accepted and adopted by a majority of all the Aldermen elect voting therefore, by yeas and nays, as follows:

Yeas—Ald. Wines, Herz, Martin, Allmendinger, Fillmore, O'Hearn, Ferguson, Rehberg, Hall, Kitson and Pres. Cooley.—11.
Nays—Ald. Mann.—1.
By Ald. Hall:

Resolved, That the committee on decorating Council room be continued and that the work be done at once.

Carried.

Ald. Wines moved that President Cooley be appointed a committee to investigate the procuring of a map for the Council Chamber. Carried.

By Ald. Hall:

Resolved, That the salaries of the members of the Board of Health be fixed for the year 1891 at the following amounts: Health officer, $150; $50; inspector, $100 and these amounts shall include all compensation for extra services.

Yeas—Ald. Mann, Wines, Herz, Martin, Allmendinger, Fillmore, O'Hearn, Ferguson, Rehberg, Hall, Kitson and President Cooley.—12.
Nays—None.

By Ald. Ferguson:

Resolved, That the report of the water committee in regard to placing two hydrants on Hill street be adopted and the water company ordered to place said hydrants at once.

Ald. Herz moved as an amendment that a hydrant be placed on Seventh street.

Yeas—Ald. Wines, Herz, Martin, Fillmore, Ferguson, Rehberg, Hall, Kitson and President Cooley.—9.
Nays—Ald. Mann, Allmendinger and O'Hearn.—3.

On the resolution as amended.
Yeas—Ald. Mann, Wines, Herz, Martin, Allmendinger, Fillmore, O'Hearn, Ferguson, Rehberg, Hall, Kitson and Pres. Cooley.—12.
Nays—None.

By Ald. O'Hearn:

Resolved, That the water company be hereby ordered to blow off their water mains and clean their reservoirs and water pipes according to their contract with the city, within five days, and that the City Clerk serve a certified copy of this resolution on Mr. A. W. Hamilton, secretary of said company, and that the cleaning of the water works reservoir and mains be done under the supervision of the Board of Health.

Carried.

A petition signed by ten residents and property owners on Observatory street for a sidewalk on the west side of Observatory street from Geddes avenue to Ann street and two crossings across Volland and Belser streets was received and referred to the sidewalk committee.

Ald. Mann moved that the carpet in use in the Council room be placed in the City Clerk and City Attorney's office. Carried.

Council then adjourned.

W. J. MILLER, City Clerk.

Let's reason together.

Here's a firm, one of the largest the country over, the world over; it has grown, step by step, through the years to greatness—and it sells patent medicines!—ugh!

"That's enough!"—
Wait a little—
This firm pays the newspapers good money (expensive work, this advertising!) to tell the people that they have faith in what they sell, so much faith that if they can't benefit or cure they don't want your money. Their guarantee is not indefinite and relative, but definite and absolute—if the medicine doesn't help, your money is "on call."

Suppose every sick man and every feeble woman tried these medicines and found them worthless, who would be the loser, you or they?

The medicines are Doctor Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," for blood diseases, and his "Favorite Prescription," for woman's peculiar ills. If they help toward health, they cost $1.00 a bottle each! If they don't, they cost nothing!

Who has not had Poor Hose?

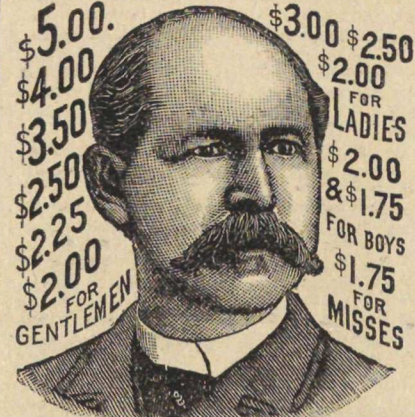

GOOD RUBBER HOSE could be bought ten years ago. Why? Because there was rubber in it. The hose sold by dealers to-day contains little or no pure rubber. Our BLUE BRAND HOSE is the old-fashioned kind, and is made of rubber. With good care it should last five or six years. It is cheap at the price. As a guarantee that you are getting what you pay for, and are not paying a high price for a poor article, we place this brand on every length:

NEWS OF THE STATE.

Miss Minnie Cowan, an Ovid lady, had a troublesome cough and took carbolic acid by mistake, supposing it to be her cough syrup. Minnie still lives, but she and her cough came very near being transplanted to a sphere where the springs are supposed to be balmy than that of '91 has been here.

The logging railway which runs from Manistiquie up into Luce county, a distance of fifty miles, is said to be the longest log-hauling line in the state.

Grand Haven has a new National bank of $100,000 capital stock, with Dwight Cutler as president, and George Stickney, cashier.

Bay City's new Polish church will be a magnificent edifice when completed, and the $80,000 necessary to build it was contributed largely by very poor people, many of whom have no homes of their own.

Ypsilanti masons are desirous that a commandery of Knights Templar be established in their city.

S. S. Carson lives at Chesaning and the United States district court assessed him $430 for cheating a poor widow out of her pension.

Albion college has an attendance of 525 this year—the largest in its history. The annual commencement is billed for June 25.

Somebody has been counting the fruit trees in Shelby township, Oceana county and finds that the plum and peach trees number 142,507, nearly nine-tenths of which are peaches.

Romeo people will hold a local election with a view of bonding the town $25,000 worth for a good system of waterworks.

The Ashleys have begun work on the Mackinac division of their Toledo and Ann Arbor railway, the completion of which will give them a line clear across the lower peninsula.

The jury that reviewed the case of Walter Richards, the Huron county man who set a spring gun that gave John Ostle a fatal dose of lead, expressed its confidence in Walter's innocence of any wrong intent, and set him free. Ostle evidently had no business on Richard's premises, which was an important point in the latter's favor.

The agents of the law got a hump on themselves in Ingham county and Frank Allen has been convicted of forgery. This is the somewhat famous case in which Gertrude Whitacre figured, and now she must stand trial also.

Advents of the Seventh Day persuasion will hold an annual outing at Lansing by and by.

The Flint woolen mills have just turned out a big pile of blankets for the local sanitarium, made from home-grown wool.

Twenty Saginaw young men propose to charter a boat and sail for the World's Fair city, when the proper time comes, to see the big show. They will take their meals and sleep aboard the boat, and are now dropping a quarter apiece, each week, into the slot to defray expenses.

The plant of the Adrian Furniture company was destroyed by fire on the 9th, and 150 hands are thrown out of employment. Loss, $90,000; insured for $39,000. The factory will probably be rebuilt.

Rumored that Kirby, the Marshall bank defaulter, is also a forger, a spurious $500 note having turned up against Charles Hutchinson.

Miss Harriet A. Deering goes to Germany for a year's study and will then return to take the German professorship at Hillsdale college.

Mr. and Mrs. John Crawford, a Maple Valley couple, were each 20 years of age when they were married, and they've just celebrated their golden wedding and 70th birthday anniversaries.

W. J. McKeeney, a Manistique man, engaged in a deer hunting expedition and was assessed $25 for shooting them at what the law states to be an improper season.

Professor W. C. Durand has resigned the chair of mathematics held at the State Agricultural college, and has accepted a similar position at Purdue university, Lafayette, Ind.

Pontiac is casting about for electric lights, and desiring the best gim to be had, has sent out an aldermanic committee on a tour of inspection.

The Woman's Press association of the state held its annual meeting at Battle Creek last week, talked over various matters of interest, picnicked at Lake Gognac, and elected Mrs. Belle M. Perry, of Charlotte, president, and Miss Florence Brooks, of Jackson, secretary.

W. F. Linghor is a Monroe barber, 19 years of age, who's probably the youngest pensioner in the country. He didn't "fit" in the civil war, in fact wasn't born for some years after Lee surrendered at Appomattox, but has done a heap of sailing in Uncle Sam's warships and survived mishaps enough to suggest the cat's nine lives. The last accident, a back injury, knocked him out for hard work, and he's drawn a pension since he was 17.

Muskegon's circuit judge was routed out of bed at 4 o'clock on a recent morning to receive the verdict of a jury that was anxious to get a little sleep itself.

A Montana wolf, owned by an Allegan citizen, broke loose at night and feasted at a neighbor's hen roost, whereupon the chicken man harvested the beast and now claims the $8 bounty offered by the state for the slaughter of wolves.

This year's graduating classes of the state university foot up nearly 600 students, a much larger number than was ever turned loose at any previous commencement.

Battle Creek is now having her first labor strike, the union school furniture moulders having gone out.

Mrs. Brimley, a Cambridge pioneer, is dead, at the age of 100 years. She used to amuse herself walking to Jackson, 18 miles away, and back the next day.

The United States court has decided that Three Rivers must pay Miller Emery the $1,000 judgment he secured because that municipality used more water from him than the contract called for.

Dr. George E. Ranney, of Lansing, was elected president, and Dr. Charles W. Hitchcock, of Detroit, secretary, of the State Medical society, at the annual meeting held at Saginaw the past week. No action was taken in the case of Dr. Bliss, the retiring president, other than to refer the charges against him to the judicial council of the society. The next meeting will be held at Flint.

Two big wagon loads of people attended a Grand Ledge picnic in style, being hauled in from the country by a traction engine.

The May freezes came a long way from harvesting all the fruit, as a Berrien county pomologist has been offered $6,000 for his peach and pear crop of '91, but he declined to sell at so low a figure.

After six years of careful experiments

John Sterling, of Benton Harbor, has succeeded in growing a thornless blackberry. Sterling will now try his hand at growing a race of thornless roses.

Boyer City owners of hemlock forests expect to ship 10,000 cords of tanning material this season.

Fred Banks, the Oxford gentleman who was private secretary to Admiral Porter at the close of the civil war, dropped dead on the streets of that town a few days since of apoplexy.

The Michigan Lawmakers.

LANSING, Mich., June 11.—The senate has passed the house game bill, amending it so that deer can be shot in the upper peninsula only from Oct. 15 to Nov. 1. The bill appropriating $55,000 for the fish commission this year and next passed the house. The senate, in committee of the whole, passed a bill placing a special charter railroads on the same footing as other roads in the matter of taxation, and another abolishing all specific railroad taxes and substituting local taxation instead. Officers have been sent to Ironwood for evidence in the Doyle-Muntle bribery case. Reporter Graves, who made the charges, has been expelled from the floor as a notoriety-seeker.

LANSING, Mich., June 12.—The bill appropriating $30,000 for the national G. A. R. encampment in Detroit was taken up under a call of the house yesterday for the purpose of attempting to pass it over the governor's veto. The attempt failed, the bill receiving but 30 ayes to 60 nays.

LANSING, Mich., June 13.—The house has passed the senate bill repealing all specific taxes on mines and providing that hereafter they shall be taxed locally the same as other property. The bill also repeals the law which exempted from state taxes 640 acres for each mining company.

LANSING, Mich., June 17.—The bill fixing a maximum rate of 20 cents for a ten-word telegraphic message to any point in Michigan was defeated in the house yesterday. The senate passed the general game bill after amending it so that deer may be shot in the upper peninsula only between Sept. 15 and Oct. 15. In the house a concurrent resolution was introduced providing that no business shall be transacted after Friday, June 26, and that final adjournment shall take place on Monday, June 29.

The Cowardly Woman Killer.

HANCOCK, Mich., June 15.—John Rogers shot Mary Harris and afterward drowned himself in Portage lake. Rogers was insanely jealous of the girl, who would have nothing to do with him. He hid in a barn and shot once at her there, and then followed her into the yard, threw her down and tried again to shoot, but was prevented by a gentleman who had heard the first shot.

ON THE BOTTOM OF THE RIVER.

Three of Uncle Sam's New Mortars Meet an Inglorious Fate.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 16.—Three of the new mortars for the United States government, each weighing fourteen tons, were drawn on an eight horse dray from the builders' iron foundry to the river front for shipment to the proving ground at Sandy Hook. Monday night they are resting ingloriously upon the mud on the bottom of Providence river. The steam lighter, Archer, of Fall River, was to transport the big guns, and two had been safely landed Monday afternoon and lay athwartship upon the deck. The third gun was in the air, carried by tackle rigged with one and one-half inch Russian hemp rope on the Archer's dock. The requisite height had been gained when the guy rope which was to swing the ponderous burden on board broke and the lighter began to career as the heavy burden swung off. The big gun fell into the river with a mighty splash. The vessel's deck lay at an angle and the other two guns slid down into the water before she righted.

Estate of William Exinger.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, COUNTY OF WASHTENAW, ss. At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, holden at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, on Monday, the first day of June in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one.

Present, J. Willard Babbitt, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of William Exinger, deceased.

Henry C. Exinger, the administrator of said estate, comes into court and represents that he is now prepared to render his final account as such administrator.

Thereupon it is ordered, that Tuesday, the thirtieth day of June, instant, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for examining and allowing such account, and that the heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate are required to appear at a session of said court, then to be holden at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, in said county, and show cause, if any there be, why the said account should not be allowed: And it is further ordered that said administrator give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendency of said account, and the hearing thereof by causing a copy of this order to be published in the ANN ARBOR ARGUS, a newspaper printed and circulating in said county three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

Chancery Notice.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, THE CIRCUIT COURT for the County of Washtenaw, in Chancery. JAMES S. CHUTE, Complainant, vs. MINNIE SCHOONHOVEN, Defendant.

Washtenaw County, ss.

Suit pending in the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw, in Chancery, on the 24th day of April 1891.

In this cause, it appearing from affidavit on file, that the defendant, Minnie Schoonhoven, does not reside in this State, but resides in the State of Illinois, on motion of Denmore Cramer, solicitor for the complainant, it is ordered, that the said defendant, Minnie Schoonhoven, cause notice of her appearance, as herein within four months from the date of this order, and in case of her appearance, that she cause her answer to the complainant's bill of complaint to be filed in this cause, and a copy thereof to be served on complainant's solicitor within twenty days after service upon her of a copy of said bill and notice of this order, and that in default thereof said bill will be taken as confessed by the said non-resident defendant. And it is further ordered, that within twenty days, the said complainant cause notice of this order to be published in the ANN ARBOR ARGUS, a newspaper printed, published and circulating in said county, and that said publication be continued therein at least twenty days in each week, for six weeks in succession, or that he cause a copy of this order to be personally served on said defendant at least twenty days before the time above prescribed for her appearance.

April 24, 1891. E. D. KINNE, Circuit Judge.
DENMORE CRAMER, Solicitor for Defendant.

Notice to Creditors.

Estate of Gilbert Bliss.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, COUNTY OF WASHTENAW, ss. At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, holden at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, on Friday the twenty-second day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one.

Present, J. Willard Babbitt, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Gilbert Bliss, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Minnie E. Bliss, praying that the estate in instrument upon file in this court, purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, may be admitted to probate, and that administration of said estate may be granted herself as executrix or to some other suitable person.

Thereupon it is ordered that Monday, the 22nd day of June, next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition and that the devisees, legatees, and heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said court, then to be holden at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted: And it is further ordered that said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof by causing a copy of this order to be published in the ANN ARBOR ARGUS, a newspaper printed and circulating in said county three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

Mortgage Sale.

On the 31st day of March, A. D. 1883, John Lynn mortgaged to Abner P. Wilcox all that certain piece of land, situate in the township of Augusta in the county of Washtenaw and State of Michigan, described as follows to wit: "The south half of the east half of the north east quarter of section thirty-six," to secure the purchase money of said described lands. Said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said county on Saturday the 15th day of August, 1883, on page 497. Default has been made in the conditions of said mortgage by the non-payment of the moneys due thereon by which the power of sale therein contained has become operative. There is now claimed to be due and unpaid on said mortgage the sum of eight hundred and eighty-six and 90-100 dollars and no proceedings at law or in chancery have been instituted to recover the same or any part thereof. Notice is therefore hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained and of the statute in such case made and provided, I shall sell the said premises above and in said mortgage described at public auction to the highest bidder on Saturday the 15th day of August, 1891, at one o'clock in the afternoon at the south front door of the Court House, in the city of Ann Arbor in said county, to make and satisfy the amount then due on said mortgage, the cost and charges of this foreclosure and sale and twenty-five dollars attorney fee as provided for in said mortgage.

WARRIN E. WILCOX, as Administrator of the Estate of Abner P. Wilcox, deceased.
E. S. MEALEY, Attorney for Administrator.
Dated, May 12th, 1891.

SUPPLEMENT FOR THE BENEFIT OF A. L. NOBLE.

MR. A. L. NOBLE.

Some Facts About a Reliable, Thorough Business Man.

THE DIFFERENT INDUSTRIES IN WHICH HE IS INTERESTED.

The Originality of His Advertising Methods—Why the People Have Confidence in Him—Covering Many Fields He is Thorough in All.

The readers of the Argus have often read with interest the various announcements of Mr. A. L. Noble in our advertising columns and we doubt not many have found them profitable. And now that Mr. Noble is pushing his business so vigorously as to use a supplement of his own to the Argus, we deem it only proper that the paper should say something of Mr. Noble himself.

It is not often that one active business man covers all fields. Yet now and then in this country we find a man of fertile resources who does not confine his energies simply to his own peculiar line of trade. Such a man is apt to engage in various enterprises for building up the city in which he lives. In Ann Arbor, we find our own hustling clothier, A. L. Noble, without in the least neglecting his business as a clothier, engaged in various other industries. For instance, he has almost the sole management of the Electric Light Company, being secretary, treasurer and manager. He is a large owner of the stock and the whole management of the corporation is left to his judgment. Mr. Noble has also recently been elected a director of the Ann Arbor Street Railway. He is a stockholder in the Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti street railway, in the Ann Arbor Agricultural Works, in the Michigan Furniture Company and is always interested in every enterprise tending to build up the city.

Mr. Noble is a thorough worker in anything he undertakes. He never contents himself with simply putting in his money for he gives his personal attention to his investments. He is one of the few business men who can be counted on being almost always present at the meetings of the Ann Arbor Business Men's Association.

It is this very activity in business which has pushed Mr. Noble to the front. It is his faithful discharge of all duties and his high sense of personal integrity, which has secured for him the confidence of the community. The people have come to know that when Mr. Noble says anything he means it.

He was the very man to sell off the stock of a large clothing firm in a few weeks. And so, with the knowledge that Wagner & Co. desired to go out of the ready-made clothing business and to confine their efforts largely to merchant tailoring it can create no surprise that Mr. Noble was the man to step in and take the stock. It is not surprising either that the sale so far has proven a remarkable success. For Mr. Noble is a firm believer in the efficacy of printer's ink. And his success in its use is largely due to the fact that he always keeps the promises made in his advertisements.

Mr. Noble's push, thoroughness and the originality of his methods are shown in this supplement, printed for his especial use and benefit and thoroughly distributed throughout the county. He wishes everyone to know of the great opportunity offered to save money on clothing and he takes this effective way of making it public.

As a public spirited man, as a good citizen, as a fine business man, a careful manager, a judicious advertiser, a reliable dealer, a money saver for the people, an all-around man, Mr. A. L. Noble is a credit to the city in which he lives.

Friends outside of our regular business circle are reaching after our bargains. Neighbors, notify each other. Customers are our best advertisers. People are coming long distances. We gladly welcome all.

Hot weather clothing diluted to circus lemonade prices at Noble's.

Mr. Rob. Heywood wants to see the Boys before these bargains are gone.

Mr. Fred Binder comes in as a general assistant while business is running.

Mr. E. D. Alley will be pleased to meet his old-time Dexter friends during this sale.

Straw hats are actually taking legs and walking away from the Star Clothing House.

Our book-keeper will gladly write numerous receipts for those whose names and accounts appear on our books.

"Standing room only" has been the proper sign to hang out during the many rushes at the Star Clothing House.

Mr. Robert Reyer, a thoroughly experienced clothing man, has kindly consented to assist us until the cyclone passes.

The latest report that the recent heated term was caused by the whirlwind that struck the Star Clothing House is all a fake.

Had a stranger looked into the Star Clothing House on Saturday night, he would surely have imagined that a whirlwind had struck the place.

Fruit Prospects.

Jacob Ganzhorn, of this city, wrote as follows for the June crop report issued by the secretary of state:

"The peach is our most important fruit crop here about Ann Arbor, and it came out of the May frosts all right. Present outlook points to a full crop which will be a large one in the aggregate. Apples will be about 50 per cent. of a crop. Some varieties have blossomed full but others have failed to blossom; so that on the whole the crop will be a light one. Our pears, cherries and quinces are all right and are doing well. The frost of the 17th of May has destroyed the grapes except on the highest locations. My own vineyards show full crops, but others near by but lower situated, had the fruit cut off. The aggregate crop will range about 50 per cent. About half of the strawberry crop is all destroyed. Raspberries and blackberries are all right.

We are having a phenomenal sale of clothing from the Wagner stock. Fortunately, whatever we undertake usually goes with a bang. This is no exception.

The proprietor looks beyond the pocket-book or money drawer and has a warm place in his heart for all customers and hopes such proper sentiments are mutual.

Cash Counts.

Bring your cash when you attend the great Clothing sale at Noble's. Please don't expect to buy goods at half their value and then ask for credit. It is a severe strain on good nature.

Messrs. John Lindenschmitt and Geo. Apfel will give the benefit of their many years experience to their German friends in the selection of proper styles and good qualities.

Our friends from Ypsilanti will find the time card of the motor line a great aid in reaching our store in time for the money-saving bargains. The road resumed regular running, Thursday morning. You can get a delightfully pleasant ride, a new suit and go home happy.

Splendid Investments.

Investors looking for 6 and 7 per cent interest and tickled to death with 8 and 10 per cent. ought to buy all the clothing wanted for the entire family for a year's wear during Noble's sale. The saving will be equal to 50 and 100 per cent.

The type on this supplement is set by the Rogers Typograph. Mr. Noble is the first of the merchants of the state to use the typograph to make announcements to the public. He is usually among the first to take advantage of modern improvements.

Dear Competitors.

Gentlemen, take a rest. Don't become frantic. You are not in it. You will have to do it anyway while this rush continues at the Star Clothing House. In 30 or 60 or, at least, 90 days you can join us and we will move on together in the even tenor of our ways.

The time card for the Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti street railway can be had by calling at A. L. Noble's store.

The readers of this supplement who are not regular readers of the Argus may obtain that good county and farmers' paper, on trial for three months for twenty-five cents and have an opportunity to keep posted on the many bargains which A. L. Noble from time to time may offer during that time.

The cosmopolitan air of Noble's store was specially noticeable on Saturday night. The finest people in the city, whose names are a tower of strength, mingled with the humblest citizen. Mr. Noble says that nothing pleases him better than to feel that he is in active sympathy with the entire community. His friends are everybody.

OUR SALUTATORY.

Our present undertaking, viz, the disposal of the Wagner stock in 30 to 60 days, was a task of no small proportions. Our plans and methods, therefore, must be commensurate with the task undertaken. The ordinary newspaper advertising, although additional space might be allotted to us seemed inadequate. An issue distinctively our own prepared for the mutual benefit of both proprietor and customers, seemed to hang before our minds' eye with alluring prospects. The idea has been realized. The issue is before you. It certainly has the advantage of novelty to commend it. The editor of the Argus, in his official position, has mentioned the Proprietor in a kindly and an exceedingly flattering manner. Individuals may not sanction his kind words. With them we certainly shall have no controversy. We do not wholly approve his editorial ourselves. But the object of this extra edition, the head at which we are striking, is fully accomplished, if we reach every citizen of old Washtenaw and notify them unmistakably that the Star Clothing House holds some remarkably interesting bargains for Men, Boys and Children in everything pertaining to their wearing apparel.

In addition to other items of news Noble gives the new time cards on the Central and Toledo roads in this supplement so that his customers from out of the city may know how long a time they can spend at the store.

The welcome rain of Wednesday, gave the clerks a much needed opportunity to straighten stock and put the house in order. They have worked from 7 o'clock in the morning until 11 and 12 o'clock at night during this sale.

On Wednesday, June 10th, we opened the Wagner Stock at the Star Clothing House. It has been a tremendous success. Nothing in the history of the Clothing business has ever equalled it. We anticipated as much and endeavored to prepare for the rush, but the customers we actually lost on Saturday night because of our inability to wait upon them, would have made the other dealers happy. Friends, come in regular platoons. Come in steady marches. Whoever can, come early.

The Washtenaw Pioneer Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Washtenaw County Pioneer Society was held in the Methodist church of this village on Wednesday, June 10th and was one of the most pleasant and successful in the history of the Society.

The session opened at 10:30 a. m., with prayer by Rev. M. H. McMahon. The session was devoted principally to the business of the Society and reading of the neurologist's report. At 12 o'clock came adjournment for dinner, which was a sumptuous repast, served in the church parlors and presided over by the ladies of the village.

The afternoon session was opened at 1:15 and was a very interesting and enjoyable meeting.

Secretary Sessions began the program by reading from the Societies' scrap book, which is a valuable compilation of historical matter that has been accumulated by the officers of the Society. It embraces sketches from almost every township in the county, and as it is all authentic, the volume is of almost incalculable value.

Following this came the principal paper of the day, by Judge Harriman, which was of the greatest interest. It touched upon the lives, characters and environments of the pioneers of Washtenaw, and upon the progress which had been made since the sturdy settlers first began to lay the foundation for the banner county of Michigan. Lack of space compels us to omit all save a passing notice. The paper was greatly enjoyed, and all were sorry when it came to a close.

C. M. Starks, of Webster followed with one of his characteristically interesting talks, which was greatly appreciated.

Dr. Holmes, of Chelsea, made a few well-chosen remarks which gave both young and old food for thought. Several other impromptu addresses completed the speech making.

John W. Williams, of Webster, a pioneer, sang two selections, which were greatly appreciated: "Forty Years Ago" and "The Railroad of Life."

Dr. Holmes, of Chelsea, was elected President of the Society, and J. Q. A. Sessions, of Ann Arbor, Secretary, for the ensuing year.

By request those present who settled in this county prior to 1830 arose, 17 answering to the call.

At 4 p. m. the meeting adjourned after extending a hearty vote of thanks to the Society, the ladies of Dexter, the choir, and all who assisted in making the meeting a success. The next meeting will be held in Chelsea.—Dexter Leader.

A TREMENDOUS SUCCESS!

Nothing equal to it in the history of Ann Arbor's Clothing Business.

HURLED TO DEATH.

Frightful Disaster to a Train in Switzerland.

PLUNGE THROUGH A WEAK BRIDGE.

Cars Crowded with Passengers Fall into a River—Sixty Lives Lost and Many People Wounded—Tenement Horror in New York—Three Tenants Roasted to Death in Their Beds—Great Destruction of Property by Flood in the Indian Territory.

BERLIN, June 15.—A fearful accident is reported from Switzerland. A railroad bridge across the Moenichen, a small affluent of the Rhine, at Stein, in the canton of Basel, not far from Germany, gave way yesterday under the weight of an excursion train, crowded with throngs of people who were on their way to a musical fete. Two engines and the first car, with all its passengers, first plunged into the river, while the other cars remained suspended over the stream. All the trainmen were killed, and every passenger in the submerged car was drowned. Thirteen cars were saved. The number of killed was at least sixty, and of those injured not less than 100. The fearful calamity has caused a terrible shock in Switzerland and south Germany. Rescuers hastened to the scene, and the injured were taken care of.

DEVASTATED BY WATER.

Disastrous Inundation in Indian Territory—Immense Loss of Property.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., June 15.—A gentleman who has just arrived here from Greer county in the extreme south part of the Indian Territory reports that the Red River and its north fork have been out of their banks for over a week, completely hemming the people in and cutting off all communication with the outside world. The rainfall there has been simply terrible and the people are suffering everywhere. Over half of the wheat crop has been entirely ruined and corn and oats are nearly all killed. A cloud-burst inundated the little town Frazier, ruining every merchant's stock of goods and compelling the people to flee for their lives. Two persons were drowned in the town and three in the country. Along Turkey Creek and Salt Fork, a dozen or more houses were washed away. The damage done in the county is estimated at $500,000.

THREE PERSONS BURNED TO DEATH.

Fatal Tenement Fire in New York—Caught in Their Sleep.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Three persons, members of one family, were burned to death early yesterday morning in a tenement house fire on upper Third avenue. Those who lost their lives were Philip Brady, aged 55; Catherine Brady, his wife, aged 40, and their 13-year-old son, Philip Brady. The tenants were asleep on the fifth floor and from the positions in which their bodies were found it is evident that they were not awakened until the fire had them surrounded. Their bodies were burned almost beyond recognition. Many others of the tenants had narrow escapes.

Half a Million Dollar Fire.

PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—The main building of the abattoir, on the west side of the Schuylkill river, opposite Arch street, was completely destroyed by fire early yesterday. Charles Hooke, a curiosity dealer, was hit on the head by a flying timber, and received injuries from which he will probably die, his injuries being a concussion of the brain. It is understood that the total loss, including machines, building, sheds, refrigerating apparatus, and dressed beef, would amount to nearly $500,000, fully insured.

A Curious Fatal Accident.

BANGOR, Me., June 15.—Lucifer Holt, aged 69, of East Exeter, while walking in the woods lay down to rest in the shade of the roots of a large overturned tree. Workmen not knowing of his presence, chopped the trunk from the roots, which, when released, flew back into the place, imprisoning Holt beneath them. He was dead before he could be released.

Ripped in Half by a Saw.

HUDSON, Wis., June 15.—Ole Nelson, an employe at the Nelson & Co. large saw-mill at Lakeland, Minn., was instantly killed Saturday by falling on one of the large saws. The saw passed up his body in such a manner as to cut him into two equal parts.

Killed by the Fast Freight.

MAHANOCY CITY, Pa., June 15.—Two Poles named Andrew Kratowisks and John Makin were killed by the fast freight on the Reading railroad, near Mahanoccy Plain, Saturday night.

Probably a Happy Release.

VIENNA, June 15.—A barge carrying 500 convicts on the Volga river, in Russia, the convicts being destined to Siberia, sank near Novgorod and many were drowned.

The Trial of Editor Elliott.

COLEMBUS, O., June 15.—The testimony in the Elliott trial showing that the defendant and his brother fired the first three shots on the day of Osborn's murder is accumulating. The whole trend so far is in that direction, and a large number of witnesses are yet to be examined on this point. The defense has issued subpoenas for about 100 witnesses, among whom are ex-Governors Foraker and Bishop, ex-Lieutenant Governor Warwick, Maj. William McKinley, Judge Mack, and others prominent in the political and social world.

Man, Woman, and Child Drowned.

GARDENVILLE, Tex., June 12.—Near Leon, 1.7, thirty miles from here, on Red river, Wednesday, the dead bodies of a man, woman, and little child were found in a drift, they having been drowned during the late overflow. The bodies have not yet been identified. W. W. Linn, a farmer residing thirty miles north of here on Hickory creek, was also drowned in that stream.

Natural Gas in Minnesota.

WARREN, Minn., June 15.—In sinking an artesian well two miles west of this city, natural gas was struck at an depth of twenty feet. It comes out with such force that it throws stones thirty feet high. The gas was accidentally ignited and a flame shot into the air forty feet.

Six Workmen Severely Burned.

LOCK HAVEN, Pa., June 15.—Hipple's planing mill, saw, bind and door factory was burned Saturday. Loss, $50,000; insured. Six workmen were severely and a number of others slightly burned.

Trials of an Author.

There came to a man who has had a success in literature which we should envy did we not all agree he deserves it, a lady who was neither young nor fair, but who had the assurance of youth in combination with the obstinacy of advancing years.

"I have decided," she said to him, "that I must earn my living by writing poems. I sent a poem to the Blank Magazine, and they returned it with a printed slip. Now, I want you to write to the editor, and tell him that he made a mistake."

It naturally seemed to the author that he had to deal with a humorist or a mad woman; but the lady was certainly in earnest and apparently sane. He endeavored to show her that it was not his business to interfere with the decisions of the editors of magazines, who might be supposed to know their own business. The lady insisted, however, and in the end he was forced to decline point blank to do what she asked. Thereupon she turned upon him and declared that he was one of those who endeavor to keep others out in order that they may have the field to themselves, and who are meanly jealous of other authors who are sure to eclipse them if they are but heard.

"It is all a ring," she declared with vehemence. "I have been told so before, and now I am sure of it. I can't make you do justice to me, but I can show you up."

Her method of "showing him up" has been to send letters of bitter invective to the papers, one of which fell into my hands. Of course nobody would print them, but she perseveres, and in addition to this she sends to the luckless author, whose crime is that he did not make the editor of the Blank Magazine print the rhymes of an unknown woman, a letter once a week. Of course he burns them unopened, and it is not easy to see what satisfaction it can be to the woman to keep on with this sort of thing, but the fact remains that she does. The story is not of profound importance, but it throws a curious bit of a side light upon the life of the successful author of today.—Arlo Bates in Book Buyer.

Wanting and Getting.

It has been said that the reason so few people get what they want in this world is that they do not want it hard enough. There is profound truth at the bottom of this odd conceit. Earnest striving and perseverance are rare qualities. A little struggle, and then a falling off; a few faint efforts, and then despair—this is the usual story of attempts to "get anything," whether it be a physical, mental or spiritual good. But to long for a thing so strongly that for the sake of its attainment one can conquer obstacles, live down opposition, ignore discouragement and work persistently and through years of trial and obscurity toward the fulfillment of a hope—is not this the record of all grand achievements and the history of all purposeful lives?

Many more wishes might be realized if people were willing to pay this price for them. Anything worth having in this world is dear, including experience. Genius itself has been defined as only unlimited patience, or an endless capacity for hard work.

It was told of some celebrated general that he never knew when he was defeated. By and by he could not be defeated. A little of the same spirit infused into ordinary life work would make many a dream possible that now seems to the wistful dreamer as extravagant as the cloudiest castle in Spain.—Harper's Bazar.

The Improvised Pianist.

A few weeks ago a dancing party was given at one of the largest clubs in Vienna. The regular pianist did not turn up. A message came to say that he was ill. What was to be done? A porter ran out, hailed a cab and said to the driver:

"Drive me—faith, I don't know where."

"Why, what is it you want?"

"I want a piano player. Do you happen to know of one in the neighborhood?"

"I should think I did; in fact, close at hand. You needn't trouble to get into the cab."

"Where is he?"

"Right in front of you. I play the piano myself fairly well, and shall be glad to accommodate you."

Cabby got down from his box, took his seat at the instrument and kept the visitors dancing till break of day. What is more, he declined to accept any payment; he said he had come as an amateur and for the love of the thing. He considered himself highly honored to have been allowed to spend a night with "such grand company." Where but in Vienna could you hope to find such a sample of musical training, civility and disinterestedness among the cabbies?—Le Monde Artistique.

Shook the Deacon.

In the course of his sermon Rev. McLeod told the congregation that if any among them were asleep they had better wake up or they would miss hearing a good story. Much to the amusement of the congregation one old man left his seat, advanced a few steps up the aisle, grasped another old man by the shoulder, and, after giving him a sound shake, whispered in his ear sufficiently loud enough to be heard in all parts of the church: "Brother B. I. Wake up! The elder is going to tell a story. If you would keep better hours Saturday nights you would be able to keep awake during church services." The unlooked for scene caused an audible titter in nearly every pew in the church, which in many cases had not entirely ceased when the benediction was pronounced.—Sun Prairie (Wis.) Countryman.

A cubic inch of any of the stones from which the palaces, churches and fine residences of Paris are built contains hundreds of thousands of fossils, so that it may with truth be said that Paris, together with its pavements and quays, is composed entirely of the shells of the molluscs.

TALKING WITH MOLTKE.

EX-PRESIDENT ANDREW D. WHITE'S DESCRIPTION OF HIM.

He Met Him at a Reception in Berlin on the Occasion of the Golden Wedding of the Old Emperor William—Baron Nothomb's Felicitous Introduction.

By many people ex-President Andrew D. White, of Cornell university, ex-minister to Germany, is regarded as one of the best authorities on German affairs in the United States. Years of patient study and observation give great weight to his views on the new Germany of today.

Regarding the great German soldier and strategist the ex-president says: "I first saw Von Moltke just after my arrival at Berlin at the festivals attendant upon the golden wedding of the old Emperor William. The first of these was a great theatrical representation at the Royal Opera house, at which the emperor and empress and very nearly all the crowned heads of Germany, with representatives of the various royalties of Europe, were present, and besides these, attracting even more attention, Bismarck, Von Moltke and the leading generals of the Franco-Prussian war."

The appearance of these people comes back before me very vividly, but no one is more distinctly present to me than Von Moltke. He seemed absolutely different from every other personage in that great hall. He was a tall, spare man, his face a mixture of determination and kindness, his whole appearance, as more than one person has said at various times, being that of an intelligent, kindly college professor or schoolmaster.

There was something singularly gentle about his whole bearing, yet it was impressive. He sat very quietly, exchanging some little conversation with his next neighbor, Manteuffel, the dreaded viceroy of Alsace-Lorraine. The contrast between the two was very marked—Manteuffel, apparently, all keenness and severity, Von Moltke firm, but gentle.

INTRODUCED BY BARON NOTHOMB.

When I next saw him it was at an evening gathering where there was not a large number present, and where I had the opportunity to converse with him. I was introduced to him by the dean of the diplomatic corps, Baron Nothomb, sometimes called "the father of constitutional liberty in continental Europe," a man of very wide political knowledge and who more than once, as I sat at the table, gave me accounts of his conversations with Talleysand and other men of the first Napoleonic period.

Baron Nothomb in presenting me to Von Moltke took advantage of a little sketch published in one of the German newspapers, and said: "Sir Field Marshal, I wish to make you acquainted with a gentleman who was born in Homer, who lives in Syracuse and who has aided in founding a university at Ithaca."

At this Von Moltke laughed pleasantly, and evidently did not understand the allusion, whereupon I told him that in the earlier days of this country we had a way of naming our townships and villages after noted heroes of antiquity, but at present we did better, naming them after the great men of these times, and telling him that no doubt in the newer states he would find his own name and that of Bismarck attached to some of our younger towns. He seemed interested in this and talked on very pleasantly.

I look back to that evening as one of the most interesting during my stay in Germany.

MOLTKE IN PARLIAMENT.

At various other times I met Von Moltke, but do not recall anything of especial interest. No man was more free from the slightest tincture of vanity. As he walked through the streets and in the parks, going to and from the office of the general staff, he was undistinguishable save by his tall, scholarly form from the crowd of military men about him. He evidently wore just as little in the shape of orders and decorations as was permissible.

At court he was expected, of course, to appear in more splendid attire, but even then there was always the same quiet modesty and simplicity. He seemed to me in some respects "the noblest Roman of them all."

But perhaps his most impressive appearance was as a member of the imperial parliament. From time to time as I happened in to hear the discussions I saw him in his seat, quiet, unperturbable; but on two occasions I heard him speak, and on each of these his subject was the necessity of larger votes of money and men to maintain the military supremacy of Germany.

Nothing could be better in their way than these speeches of his. He looked and spoke as I could imagine Julius Caesar looked and spoke in the Roman senate. Nothing could be more simple and yet nothing more effective. He was listened to by men of all parties with the utmost respect.

He seemed to stand in a sense aloof from all parties, and to be guided simply and solely by what he considered the best interests of the German empire. On hearing him speak one could not resist this conclusion, and as his manner was simple, voice good and statements very clear, direct and strong, but without the slightest tendency to exaggeration, his words carried great weight.

I remember hearing him say in substance in one of these speeches that Germany must be prepared for any emergency, and must maintain the very highest condition of military efficiency possible for at least fifty years. And I remember, too, with what a sort of solemnizing effect these words, quietly uttered, but evidently the result of conviction based on knowledge, had upon the audience. They seemed to carry a sense of responsibility to the heart of every person present.—New York Herald.

Unfortunate.

"The effect of Rev. Mr. Harkin's sermon on the terrors of hades was lost."

"How so?"

"The church was as cold as a barn, and the prospect he held out was rather agreeable."—Epoch.

Felt That He Had Been Cheated.

A young clam farmer from Canarsie, accompanied by his 250 pound wife, created much amusement on a bridge train coming to Brooklyn Sunday a little before midnight. The cars were as well filled as is usual at that hour. The rustics drew attention to themselves by the loud tones of their conversation.

"Now, baby," the man was saying, "you know I ain't a bit stingy and I wouldn't care for the money at all, but I don't want any catfish of a toll grabber to do the dead swindle on me—Sunday nights, anyway."

"Oh, never mind, Reuben," said "baby" consolingly.

"Well, now, baby, you can see for yourself. There's eighty-four cents out of a dollar. Do you see that? That shark has kept back ten cents on me. It ain't the money I care for, baby. Here, do you want it?"

"No; I don't want it. I wish you would keep quiet."

"Well, if you don't want it, here goes," scattering the change on the floor.

"Baby" maintained a stolid silence, gazing ruefully at the coin on the floor. Finally Reuben realized that he had been guilty of criminal waste, and he said: "Well, if you don't want it, I'll take it," and he began clumsily to pick the money out of the spaces in the matting. At this point a general laugh arose from the other passengers. When the Brooklyn station was reached the farmer was still mourning his missing dime, and when I left his ponderous wife was struggling to prevent him from taking the next train to New York to get hunk with "that pirate" at the toll box.—Brooklyn Eagle.

He Didn't Strike.

A hurrying crowd was pushing its way down the broad steps of the elevated platform at the city hall elevated station Wednesday afternoon. A handsomely dressed woman, accompanied by a tall man of the sporting class, moved leisurely along, trailing a foot and a half of her skirts behind her. A big, clumsy boy in his eagerness to reach the street planted a heavy foot on the trailing skirt, almost throwing the woman over backward. Naturally she was very angry and speedily found some very harsh words to bestow on the boy. Her male companion was angry, too, and at the foot of the stairs he collared the lad and raised his cane to administer chastisement. But the blow did not fall. A burly workman caught the arm to which the cane was attached and half a dozen determined voices exclaimed, "Don't hit that boy!"

The tall sporting man braced himself for a fight, when a mild looking young gentleman looked him fixedly in the eye and said: "See here, my friend, you had better calm down right away. You have got the unpopular end of this dispute. If you have ever walked down stairs behind a woman who lets her skirts drag, you ought to understand what the public sentiment is on that subject." The sporting man made no reply. He let go of the boy and walked rapidly away, followed by a very indignant and talkative woman.—New York Times.

A Cause of Depression.

There is another and equally important cause of mental depression and physical disorganization as is that of overeating, and lack of sufficient exercise. This is the constant application to occupation which is in vogue in this country. Men and women alike, since women are formidable competitors of men in professional pursuits, have a practice of going on in the same treadmill manner, year after year, without any lapse for rest.

We live in this country at too high a pressure, in a business sense. Men engage of course in business, more actively and in greater numbers than women, yet being brought into so close contact with the former, women naturally absorb not only personal interest, but are often plunged into its vortex, and become as bound up by its demands as the men themselves.

It is not unusual, in fact, for women to assume and carry out the management of the counting room, office and store as well as the household. The strain of these demands upon the system is naturally very great under the most favorable conditions, when the body is nurtured and rested in a reasonable manner.—Jenness-Miller Magazine.

Men Who Eat Pie.

A truly charming gentleman is Mr. Edmund Russell, apostle and expounder of the Delsartean faith. We take back all the uncivil and cruel things we have uttered against old Delsarte and his creed, for we have seen Mr. Russell eat pumpkin pie at Rector's restaurant late of nights. In the whole wide range of philosophy there is none other that appeals more directly or more potently to our sympathies than does that philosophy which justifies by practice the eating of pumpkin pie.

Mr. Whittier, the Amesbury poet, is as famous a punisher of pie as Ralph Waldo Emerson was, and that is saying much, for Emerson was mighty in the pursuit, comprehension, mastication, digestion and assimilation of that cheering viand. Apple pie, however, and not pumpkin, was Emerson's favorite diet, and is Whittier's.—Eugene Field in Chicago News.

Blood Oranges Cannot Be Stained.

"Blood oranges" have been investigated by order of the health officer of Washington. The story that they are "fixed" with a syringe and a little aniline dye has been going the rounds of the newspapers. It was seen by Dr. Townsend, and as the supply of "blood oranges" in the Washington market seemed to be abundant, he directed an inquiry with a view of condemning the fruit if it had been tampered with. The chemist to whom the matter was referred says in his report: "The oranges are naturally stained, no artificial coloring of any kind having been used. The small spot on the side is a fungus spot and not a puncture. It is impossible to stain an orange by injecting any artificial staining fluid into the fruit either before or after plucking from the tree."—Washington Letter.

JUST HOW MAN WILL FLY

NOT BY FLAPPING ARTIFICIAL WINGS, BUT BY SOARING.

He Will Succeed Yet, Says an Investigator, and His Voyaging Will Be on the Aeroplane Principle—Australia Has Come Near to Solving the Problem.

Man will yet learn how to fly. Professor Langley, secretary of the Smithsonian institution, so declared in an address delivered before the National Academy of Sciences. This ought to give much encouragement to thinkers who hope that mankind will some day secure domain in the element of birds, just as it has already done, thanks to the evolution of submarine boats and diving gear, in that of fishes. The distinguished scientist referred to expressed confidence that the contrivance of the future for aerial navigation would be on the kite principle.

The air possesses elements of buoyancy which have not been recognized hitherto. There is no truth in the popular conception that a body heavier than the atmosphere cannot be suspended in that medium without motion. A kite of sticks and paper is much heavier than the fluid which it displaces, but it is sustained aloft. You can find an example much more striking, however, in the eagle or the frigate bird, which, though an animal of considerable weight, remains poised in the sky upon extended pinions motionless for hours together, so that a telescope may be trained on it.

Thousands of feet above the earth it is sustained without movement of a feather, though in a rarefied atmosphere. This is possible because the suspended fowl has an instinctive knowledge of the way in which to utilize the air currents for its support. When man has learned how this can be done he will be able to fly. The most advanced investigators in this subject reject the balloon and all other such lifting devices as impracticable; a gas lighter than air can never be safely confined within a receptacle that is not weighty, and the same objection applies to a vacuum.

Ballooning today is about where it was when it was first invented, and in the nature of things it never got much further. Aluminum is light for a metal, but it is several times too heavy to be successfully utilized for such purposes. Pray, what has become of those aluminum trains of cars that were to be run through the air from Chicago to New York at sixty minutes the trip?

LESSONS FROM BIRDS.

There is a school of flying machine inventors who may be designated as the "flappers," inasmuch as their idea is to sustain their contrivances by the flapping of birdlike wings. But they doubtless forget that the best flyers among birds do not support themselves by flapping. On the contrary, they only resort to that performance when it is necessary for a start.

The eagle, if launching himself from level ground, is obliged to take quite a run first; then, flapping his wings with a violent muscular effort which he could not keep up for long, he gains a sufficient altitude to render it possible for him to strike along the plane of an air current which holds him up.

Floating with librating pinions from one air current to another, he is lifted, with an occasional broad sweep of his powerful wings, to the upper aerial regions, where he simply floats, opposing to each movement of the suspended ether the gentle force necessary to maintain him in his stationary position.

These principles which the eagle applies for purposes of flight are perfectly understood in the theory of mechanics. It is only necessary to adapt them with suitable apparatus in order to give to human beings like powers. True, the bird is lighter in proportion to its size than is man; its bones are hollow and filled with warm air from the lungs.

But the difference in this respect is not very material, and it may easily be compensated for by bigger wings. Power to flap them is not what is required, inasmuch as the start can be made from a height; what is wanted is the knowledge which inherited experience—"instinct"—has given the fowl as to how to adapt the angles of the wings to the air currents.

A PRACTICABLE MACHINE.

This is precisely what Professor Langley has been experimenting with. What he is attempting is to produce a machine adapted to flotation upon the air currents like a kite. You can find a very simple illustration of the principle he is working on in the trick done with playing cards by the prestidigitator Herrmann, who throws them from the stage into the highest gallery of the biggest theater in the United States, distributing them one after another among the "gods" of that select circle. How does he do it?

Simply by skillfully utilizing the air currents. The scrap of pastboard is heavier than the atmosphere, but, judiciously projected, it mounts to a great height and distance with very little force. It would stay up, too, even if thrown outdoors, supposing that it possessed the intelligence necessary to accommodate its surface to the winds.

What can be done in this way may be accomplished on a larger scale. Lest this proposition be disputed it will be sufficient to refer to a flying machine patented in Australia. It weighs altogether nineteen pounds, and its backbone is a long copper cylinder two inches in diameter, filled with compressed air. The compressed air supplies power for a small engine weighing ten pounds, at the rear end of the cylinder, which works a fan propeller.

To the backbone on either side is attached a great wing of light material, so that the whole apparatus resembles a big butterfly with two fans for a tail. This contrivance has been made to fly horizontally 360 feet. Of course it is only a beginning, but all the same here is the nearest approach to the practicable flying machine of the future thus far attained.—Washington Star.

Birth of the Car Cable.

The sight of six horses vainly endeavoring to take a street car up one of the steep hills of San Francisco inspired in Inventor Halliday's mind the idea of the cable car system. The hill was slippery as well as steep. One horse fell and carried down his mate. The other horses tumbled, until the six were in a struggling heap. The weight of the car dragged them down to the foot of the hill, bruising and maiming them. Mr. Halliday, looking on, was filled with compassion for the poor brutes, and he says he went to work at once on plans for a substitute for horse power. His thinking brought him to the cable system.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Cheaps and Dissatisfaction.

Don't you feel sorry for the woman who haunts the bargain room counters? About her face is a weary, anxious look, and her clothes have rather a tawdry air. It is proper they should, for the very word "tawdry" is derived from St. Audrey, on whose day fairs were held, when the bargain seeking dames were induced to buy worthless things because they were cheap. As if anything you didn't want was ever cheap! Although the old St. Audrey's fair is closed, practically it still exists, for the same result follows all purchases such as were made there, i. e., dissatisfaction.—New York Sun.

France consumes from 4,000,000 to 4,500,000 kilograms of raw silk annually, which may be valued at 220,000,000 to 270,000,000 francs. If to this be added the value of the wool and cotton yarns used in mixed fabrics, the total value of the raw material used by the silk industry is found to be from 300,000,000 to 400,000,000 francs.

Nine-Hour Day for Printers.

BOSTON, June 15.—The Typographical Union has adopted a resolution favoring a nine-hour day after Oct. 1. It was voted that all moneys contributed to the Childs-Drexel fund be placed in the hands of a board of trustees. The decisions of ex-President Plank during the year were approved. The convention adjourned to meet in Philadelphia in June, 1892.

Tobacco Product of Illinois.

WASHINGTON CITY, June 15.—The census office has given out the tobacco statistics of Illinois. The total number of planters in the state during the census year was 2,439; the total devoted to tobacco, 4,155 acres; the total product 3,042,998 pounds; and the value of the crop to the producer, estimated on basis of actual sales, $116,340.

Strike at Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 15.—Over 1,500 men engaged in the architectural iron trade and its branches, including the metal workers and patternmakers, went on strike for eight-hours' work per day at the rate of 30 and 20 cents per hour this morning. This decision was arrived at at a meeting held Saturday night.

Made an Assignment.

SHAKOPEE, Minn., June 15.—The Shaker Mill company, composed of C. T. and J. C. Buchanan, made an assignment Friday. The estimated assets are $5,000; liabilities, $37,000.
