AN ADDRESS.

[Delivered on the eve of the Fourth of July by the firecracker to his brother fireworks.]
Good friends and fireworks all! I am not here To heat you overmuch, although my speech Shall be as matchless as I ever can make it: For otherwise you might go off too soon. And thus this glorious Fourth be premature. The time will come when I shall kick, you bet! But just at present I am "laying low." You hear me shout! And if you do, just drop Right on to what I'm going to warble now. Incline your ears unto the quiet tips That I'm about to feed you with, and don't Fire up if I perchance should bellow "Punk!"
I am no pinwheel dude, but I can sport With the best of you, and when it comes To tails unfurled, the powdered one I have Can raise a crop of new laid plasters on

A small boy's epidermis just as quick As the next one, and don't you forget it! I am of Chinese birth, but what's the diff? I met a man the other day who came, With nothing but a flatiron and a pigtail. Over in the same steamer with your uncle here, And now his pigtail's gone, and he, forsooth, Can hustle with the laundry just as well As any Yankee that you ever saw. And so with all of us. That's right. We're here To celebrate the glorious Fourth now. See? And first allow me to congratulate My friend, the young top hat. Say, old man, I never saw a fly light on your shape. But what 'twas first to fade away. And no Small boy has ever tackled you in vain. This year you must remember that there is A brand new crop of boys. Sail in and see If you can show what metal you are made of: And if you need some help just call on us. We're here to celebrate, and when it comes

To making things go round, my pinwheel friend Can get there just the same, if he perchance Does bang his hair and dress in fancy colors. Likewise the rocket is no slouch. Not much! For off upon occasion have I known His frisky ribs to take the hair right off A man's head better than his wife could do it.

Look at the Roman candles and Greek fire; The countless cannons, and the nigger chasers, And the torpedo, on whose modest phiz No smile of triumph rests, and yet of all This noble band there is not one of us Who has displayed the sand of this young sport.

And now, my friends, go forth and do your best. And if you make a fizzle of this day, Why, do it so that Uncle Sam will hear. Throughout the land, the best reports of you. TOM MASSON.

Fourth of July Celebrations.

Dance at the Saline opera house in the evening.

A. J. Waters, Esq., of Manchester, orates at Sand Lake.

Methodist social at Harrison Bassett's, Saline, afternoon and evening.

Germania Lodge, D. O. H., have a flag dedication in Relief Park, with speeches by Editor Suekey, Mayor Doty, and others.

Manchesterites are asked to participate in a celebration at Wampler's lake.

The Manchester German Workingmen's society have a picnic in their grove. The Tecumseh band will be on hand.

The Fourth of July will be happily spent by all who attend the picnic at Whitmore Lake, Smith's Grove. The people of St. Patrick's parish, Northfield, celebrate on that day the 60th anniversary of the founding of the parish, and heartily desire all their friends to join in the festivity. Gov. E. B. Winans and Hon. Denis Shields, of Howell, will make short addresses. Our Business Men's Quartette, the very mention of which is a sufficient guarantee that choice music will be rendered, have kindly volunteered their services on the occasion. Mr. James Harkins has now a song, the latest craze in Chicago, entitled the "Irish Jubilee," which, among his other comic songs, will inspire mirth and laughter for those who hear him. The Whitmore Lake string band will furnish good music. Dinner, which will consist in a good, wholesome, country meal, will be served for 25 cents. As the trains on the Toledo & Ann Arbor road are now so convenient to the grounds a large number of our citizens will no doubt attend. The piano used on the occasion has been kindly furnished gratis by Mr. Alvin Wilsey, Ann Arbor.

—Bus local—
Messrs. Birrell & Clifton, so long and favorably known in the carpet trade with Messrs. James Nall & Company, have opened up a store of their own at 105 Michigan Ave., where they are showing all the latest styles and newest goods in carpets and curtains and will be glad to see all their old acquaintances. Read advertisement in this issue.

Shall Ann Arbor Have Sewerage?

A meeting of the sewerage committee was held in the common council room, Tuesday evening. There were present Messrs. Beal, Dean, Keech, Schuh, Martin, McIntyre, Wines, Miner, and City Attorney Norris, besides a brace of reporters. The committee discussed the methods for raising the necessary funds to build a sewerage system. It was agreed upon that an enabling act of the legislature could not be looked for and that without it the sum of $20,000 could not be voted this year unless it were all raised this year. It was argued that if the $20,000 were all raised this year, the tax rate would still be lower than in most cities and that the main sewer would all be paid for without running the city in debt. It was also figured out that $20,000 would mean an additional 33 cents on every $100 of assessed valuation or $3.33 on $1,000. The committee were unanimously in favor of raising $20,000 this year and the following report was drawn up: To the Common Council:

The joint committee on sewers beg leave to recommend to the council that an election be called at an early date to determine the question of raising the sum of $20,000 by taxation for the purpose of building a main sewer according to the plan of Prof. C. E. Greene.

The entire taxation of last year, for all purposes, was $13.50 per $1,000; to raise an additional sum of $20,000 for sewers would make about $3.33 per $1,000, in all $16.83 per $1,000. The sum of $20,000 will undoubtedly pay the entire cost of a main sewer and the committee, after thorough discussion, are unanimously of the opinion that it is the only feasible plan to pursue. Should an attempt be made to raise only a portion of the sum required we should take the chance of raising and spending that portion and the following year the proposition might be defeated which would leave the sum already expended absolutely lost, the money spent and nothing accomplished.

The lateral sewers will cost about 33 cents per foot, that is, for a 66 feet lot it would be about $11 for each lot of that frontage, the tax being laid on lots on each side of the street.

Respectfully,
T. J. KEECH,
Chairman,
JNO. R. MINER,
Secretary.

Deaths.

Eddie, the infant son of Chester Dunn, died Sunday, aged nine months.

Mrs. Barbara Stoll, of Ann Arbor town, died Wednesday, aged sixty-eight years.

W. F. Ellsworth, a former resident of Lodi, died at his home in Shiawassee county, Wednesday.

Claudius Mansfield, of Bridgewater, dropped dead on Wednesday evening of last week, while carrying a pail of milk to the house. His death was caused by heart disease. He was seventy-six years old.

William Tubbs, of Delhi, fell from the roof of a barn which he was shingling, last Monday, and died from the effects of the fall yesterday. The funeral services will be held at ten o'clock, Saturday, in the Webster Congregational church. He was sixty-two years old.

Death of Judge Ninde.

Judge Thomas Ninde, of Ypsilanti, died Tuesday morning. He was a gentleman of the old school and until the last few months remained in the active practice of the legal profession. He was born in Baltimore, Md., September 10, 1815, and spent his boyhood days in New York. He came to Michigan in 1855. He was the first city attorney of Ypsilanti. In 1860, he was elected judge of probate of Washtenaw county, receiving 696 more votes than Daniel Hixon, who ran on the democratic ticket. In 1864 he was again a candidate for probate judge but was defeated by Hiram J. Beakes. In 1878, he was elected mayor of Ypsilanti. He was a delegate to the constitutional convention of 1867. He was the president of the Washtenaw county bar association at the time of his death. He leaves two children, Mrs. Albert Crahe, of Grand Rapids, and Thomas Ninde, jr., of Ypsilanti. He was a brother of Mrs. Donald McIntyre, of this city. The Detroit Tribune editorially says:

"Quiet, unassuming, witty in a dry way, learned in the law, giving and commanding respect, careful to make peace, following always the things of good repute, that was Thomas Ninde; and the world suffers a loss when such a man is taken from it."

Chief of the Weather Bureau.

Ann Arbor and the University has again been honored by the appointment of Prof. Mark W. Harrington as chief of the United States weather bureau at a salary of $4,500. Prof. Harrington is 43 years of age but has put a good deal of work in the forty-three years and obtained a national reputation. He was born in Illinois and graduated from the University of Michigan in 1868, becoming an instructor in biological sciences. In 1870 he went to Alaska on astronomical work for the U. S. survey. In 1872 he was back in the University, and in 1876 he took a course of study in Leipzig. He was then appointed professor of astronomy and mathematics in the school of the Chinese foreign office in Peking, which position he held for a year and until his health failed. In 1879, he succeeded the late lamented Prof. Watson, in the chair of astronomy in the University of Michigan. He is a member of the Royal Meteorological society and of the Linnean society of London and editor of the American Meteorological Journal, which he founded in 1884. He was married in 1874. The appointment is a most excellent one.

Ann Arbor Notes.

The Ann Arbor correspondence of the Ypsilanti Sentinel, last week, contained the following:

The other evening in conversation with James Clark, the veteran night-watchman, I was very much astonished to learn that on the seventeenth day of last month, Mr. Clark had patrolled the streets just 17 years that very day, and in all these years had never been off duty one single night. This record is unprecedented. Our citizens should present this faithful officer with a handsome present for meritorious service guarding life, limb and property. How many accidents he has averted, how many conflagrations he has prevented. What a book he could write if he were to tell tales out of school and expose what he has seen and heard under the mantle of darkness, of the society of this Aethian city.

While in the University city we have our gladiators and our games and field days, we are also producing young Ciceros. Only the other day a young student of the U. of M. by the name of Gormley scored the highest point in oratory, capturing the plume from contestants from other universities. An other young man has broken a record in the field of science—the science of law—George O. Crane, of Fenton, Mich. In the most thorough and rigid examination of candidates for admission to the bar in the history of the Supreme Court of Michigan at Lansing. This young man, a junior law in the U. of M., on the 11th inst broke all former records by making the unparalleled score of 99! A battle of brains! I congratulate my young friend on his victory and heartily give him three cheers. But there was no crowd of thousands of spectators present to cheer and applaud. Now, young reader, in which would you rather excel—in the arts and sciences, or in the field of games and sports? Stop and think.

The State Encampment Grounds.

The encampment grounds at Whitmore lake, are situated between a quarter and a half mile directly west of Stevens' hotel, which of the two is the further north, and a road runs directly from the rear of the hotel to the site. The state troops will occupy altogether 120 acres, of which 80 are situated on the north side of the road, and will be used for the drill grounds. This land was formerly under cultivation and is entirely clear of trees and underbrush. It is high and dry and inclined to be just sandy enough to make an ideal place for the execution of military maneuvers. Directly across and on the north side of this east and west road is the forty acres which will be occupied by the brigade tents, and is surrounded on all sides except on the road side by fine large trees. In the north-west corner of this field the Second regiment will have its headquarters. The state troops will, in fact, occupy the entire west side of the forty acres, the First regiment being at the north end, followed by the Fourth and Third. Between the last named and the Second regiment there is a small marshy piece of ground which is the only thing that prevents a continuous line of tents along the west side. On the northeast side of the field there is a large fine knoll, and it is upon this location that the governor's and brigade quarters will be placed. In the southeast part of the field the four companies of United States regular troops will be stationed. The above arrangement was determined upon last week and although subject to change it is highly improbable that a more desirable adjustment can be found. Seventeen car loads of camping outfits have already arrived and will soon be placed in position. The Toledo road is busy, building a sidetrack to the grounds and will land passengers immediately outside the picket lines.—Detroit Tribune.

What They Have.

Saline has organized a merchants' protective association.

Bridgewater has a new road scraper purchased by the western road districts.

Manchester has a new pound just finished, located near J. D. Corey's. Strays beware of Manchester.

Chelsea's Congregational church is to have a new church organ. The young people have raised $500 towards it.

Milan had a burglary last Friday night. The store of C. W. Thompson & Co. was entered and $200 worth of jewelry, watches and clothing stolen.

Eisele's Cancer Specific.

This celebrated salve and ointment, prepared by Mrs. E. M. Eisele, cures old sores of long standing, fever sores and most varieties of cancer. As a curative agent it has worked wonders to the joy of the patients and surprise of intelligent physicians. Address Mrs. E. M. Eisele, 12 Catherine street, Ann Arbor, Mich. Enclose postage stamp for circulars.

Accidents.

B. J. Hasner, of Pittsfield, injured a hand in a moving machine, last week.

H. D. Walter, of Bridgewater, while going down a rope, last week, fell twenty feet, spraining an ankle.

George Lemen's colt ran away near Hamburg, a few days ago, throwing Mr. Lemen out and breaking up the buggy.

William Kern, of Manchester, was thrown out of his buggy a few days ago by a runaway horse, but escaped with a bruised leg.

Charles Merriman was thrown from his carriage in Bridgewater, last week and badly injured. His horse ran to Manchester before it was caught.

Dolly Schmitt, a little Milan girl, had a deep gash cut in her forehead, last week, which required six stitches to sew up. She was swinging in a hammock, when a ladder fell against her.

The Great French Remedy.

Dr. LeDuc's Periodical Pills from Paris, France, act only on the generative organs in females, and positively cure suppression of the menses (from whatever cause) and all periodical troubles peculiar to women. A safe, reliable remedy, warranted to promote menstruation or money refunded. Should not be used during pregnancy. A large proportion of ills to which ladies are liable is the direct result of a disordered or irregular menstruation. Ask any druggist. Price $2. Eberbach & Son, Sole Agents for Ann Arbor. Robert Stevenson & Co., Wholesale Agents.

Visitors from Out of the County.

Miss Lizzie Glover, of Anderson, is visiting in Saline.

Guy Sherwood, of Ioaw, visited his parents in Manchester, last week.

Anson Besimer, of Jackson, visited his grand-parents in Manchester, last week.

George Vandercook, of Jackson, visited Geo. Walterhouse, of Ypsilanti, this week.

Kirk Putnam, of Grand Forks, Dak., is visiting his father, ex-Mayor Putnam, of Ypsilanti.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Perkins, of Manchester, entertained their children, Mr. and Mrs. Rob. Miller, of Toledo, last week.

Misses Matie and Lutie Earl, teachers in Battle Creek and Jackson, are spending the vacation with their parents in Ypsilanti.

Mrs. John W. Robinson of Newark, N. Y., and Mrs. May Engeler, of Bluffton, Ind., are visiting their parents in Manchester.

A Fatal Mistake.

Physicians make no more fatal mistake than when they inform patients that nervous heart troubles come from the stomach and are of little consequence. Dr. Franklin Miles, the noted Indiana specialist, has proven the contrary in his new book on "Heart Disease," which may be had free at Eberbach & Son's drug store, who guarantee and recommend Dr. Miles' unequalled New Heart Cure, which has the largest sale of any heart remedy in the world. It cures nervous and organic heart disease, short breath, fluttering pain or tenderness in the side, arm or shoulder, irregular pulse, fainting, smothering, drowsy, etc. His Restorative Nervine cures headache, fits, etc.

They Left the County.

O. M. Kelsey, of Saline, was in Toledo, last week.

Dr. A. Conklin, of Manchester, was in Elk Rapids, last week.

Mrs. Guy E. Davis, of Ypsilanti, is visiting in East Tawas.

Miss Lulu Glover, of Chelsea, is visiting in Eaton Rapids.

Miss Anna Combs, of Pittsfield, is visiting relatives in Minneapolis.

Mrs. D. H. Leland, of Salem, has been visiting her parents in Flint.

Miss Minnie Baur, of Bridgewater, has been visiting her sister in Norvell.

Miss Ellen Rushton, of Southern Manchester, goes to Washington to reside.

Prof. and Mrs. Springer, of Manthes-ter, attended the Albion commencement.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Cornwell, of Ypsilanti, are at Martha's Vineyard, Mass.

Mrs. Peter Dresser and daughter, of Ypsilanti, have been visiting in Port Huron.

William Kirchgessner, of Manchester, went to Detroit, last week, to visit his son.

Jacob Miller, of Manchester, drove a $225 horse to Detroit, last week, and left it with his new owner.

Prof. Daniel Putnam, of Ypsilanti, attended the reunion of the class of '51 in Dartmouth College, last week.

Prof. F. H. Pease, of Ypsilanti, attended the State Music Teachers' convention in Grand Rapids, this week.

Dexter.

Drs. Copeland and Phelps left their extensive practice to visit their parents' commencement week.

Base ball team from Ann Arbor seemed to do the Dexters up last Friday, but wait 'till next time.

Our school house and lawn will compare favorably with any in the state in almost every respect and we have hopes of making the curriculum of the school equally as good.

The exercises of the graduating class of the high school on Friday evening were evidently original and quite interesting. The beautifying of the hall was far more elaborate than usual, and in excellent taste. The address to the class by the superintendent of the school was quite instructive but the lateness of the hour prevented its being as well received as it would otherwise have been.

Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills

Act on a new principle—regulating the liver, stomach and bowels through the nerves. A new discovery. Dr. Miles' pills speedily cure biliousness, bad taste, torpid liver, piles, constipation. Unequalled for men, women, and children. Smallest, mildest, surest! 50 doses, 25 cts. Samples free at Eberbach & Son's.

Dixboro.

Mrs. Jacob Mayer has been quite sick but is now recovering.

John W. Narry has the finest Cleveland bay colt in this vicinity.

Frank Townsend and wife, of Chicago, were visiting friends here, last week.

Mrs. Sarah Pryor and sister, Mrs. Bates, of Ann Arbor, were guests of Mrs. F. A. Stuart, over Sunday.

The ladies of the M. E. church will give a picnic on the Fourth of July in James Bush's orchard grove, just west of the church.

James Fennell was thrown from his horse in front of the grocery store, Saturday afternoon, cutting a bad gash in his head. With proper care he will be all right in a few days.

Ed. Lyke, who lives two and one half miles east of here, was hurt very badly, by being thrown from his cart while driving a young colt, one day last week. The doctor thinks his spine is injured, but if inflammation don't set in he will probably get along all right.

Hibbard's Rheumatic and Liver Pills

These pills are scientifically compounded and uniform in action. No gripping pain commonly following the use of pills. They are adapted to both adults and children with safety. We guarantee that they have no equal in the cure of Sick Headache, Constipation, Dyspepsia and Biliousness; and, as an appetizer, they excel any other preparation. For sale by John Moore.

Pittsfield.

Wheat is ripening rapidly.

Huckleberries don't promise much this season.

Elmer Mills still walks with difficulty—without his cane.

Oats are heading out, but the crop is mostly backward and will not be heavy.

Cherries and hay are the crops demanding attention just now and are being successfully secured.

Last Friday evening Mr. John Fiegel's young folks, and some others, had a dance on their new barn floor.

Mrs. Peters, of Jackson, was the guest of Mrs. Jas. H. Webb, during the latter part of last and the first of the present week.

Miss Maude Hastings, who has been spending several months with her father and relatives in Albany, N. Y., is expected home soon.

Hay making has begun in earnest, this week, with a moderate crop. Some kind of worm has eaten the bloom off the clover, to a considerable extent. If the second crop is eaten as bad as the first has been, there will be no clover seed this fall.

An accident which came near resulting seriously, happened to George Sutton, while driving on the gravel road, a few days since. Something broke about the harness, when the horse began kicking, striking Mr. Sutton several times. Becoming unmanageable, it jumped a barbed wire fence, wrecking the carriage and injuring itself.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world.

Willis.

D. D. Phelps lost a horse last week.

Willis now has a cooper shop nearly completed.

F. D. Butts went to Ann Arbor last week.

Allie Bennett, of Hand, was at Willis last week.

Next Sunday will be quarterly meeting at this place.

Mrs. George Russell is entertaining her sister from Detroit.

Ben Williams has improved his house with a coat of paint.

W. A. Heath has been granted a pension of $12 per month.

Robert Rust and wife of Sumpter, visited at Willis, last Sunday.

Mrs. Addie Butts is at Monroe visiting her sister, Mrs. A. Bowen.

R. P. Walters has been rather under the weather for some time but is better.

Crops in this part of the county are looking fine. Haying has begun and wheat is nearly ripe.

Miss Cora Bunton came home last week from Cadillac, where she has been teaching for the past year.

The M. E. choir, consisting of nine members, have just purchased new singing books and meet every Saturday night for practice.

Harley Sherman has an eye on the main chance. He makes ice cream every Saturday night to sell to the boys at 10c. per dish.

Emery.

Mrs. Ellen Hemingway is again reported on the sick list. She is very feeble.

The ice cream social at H. Laraway's, last Saturday evening, was well attended. Proceeds were $17.50.

Ira Severance, of Walled Lake, and a graduate of Ann Arbor high school, was calling on friends here last Sunday evening.

Mrs. L. E. Chapin and two children, of Toledo, have been visiting friends here.

Mowing machines were heard in every direction on Monday morning. With fine weather the farmers will secure a large quantity of hay this week.

Miss Mary Robinson is out of town on a visit for a few days.

Charles Whipple has purchased a very fine Pascaas colt. How Charles will make the dust fly in the near future.

Every tissue of the body, every nerve, bone and muscle is made stronger and more heal by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The men who took Jonah's money were the same men who threw him overboard. Things like that still happen.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price, 25 cents per box. For sale by Eberbach & Son.

A young lady says she has been so carefully taught to reverence the aged that she doesn't even dare to laugh at an old joke.

Entitled to the Best.

All are entitled to the best that their money will buy, so every family should have at once, a bottle of the best family remedy, Syrup of Figs, to cleanse the system when costive or bilious. For sale in 50c and $1.00 bottles by all leading druggists.

A Safe Investment

Is one which is guaranteed to bring you satisfactory results, or in case of failure a return of purchase price. On this safe plan you can buy from our advertised Druggist a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It is guaranteed to bring relief in every case, when used for any affection of Throat, Lungs or Chest, such as Consumption, Inflammation of Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Croup, etc., etc. It is pleasant and agreeable to taste, perfectly safe, and can always be depended upon. Trial bottles free at Eberbach & Son's Drugstore.

If all the people knew what they were talking about there wouldn't be nearly so much said as there is now.

A Fool and His Money Soon Part.

How true some of those old sayings are. A friend of mine paid a traveling quack $50 to cure him of Scrofula, from which he had suffered two years. He gave him a bottle of stuff which only aggravated the disease. When he went to consult him the second time the quack had left for parts unknown. Upon learning the circumstances I recommended Sulphur Bitters. Five bottles cured him.—Editor Journal and Courier.

Th epoor want money and the rich want to spend it, and that's what gives to the world progress.

Talk is cheap, but when it's backed up by a pledge of the hard cash of a financially responsible firm, or company, of world-wide reputation for fair and honorable dealing, it means business.

Now, there are scores of sarsaparillas and other blood purifiers, all cracked up to be the best, purest, most peculiar and wonderful, but bear in mind (for your own sake), there's only one guaranteed blood-purifier and remedy for torpid liver and all diseases that come from bad blood.

That one—standing solitary and alone—sold on trial, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

If it doesn't do good in skin, scalp and scrofulous diseases— and pulmonary consumption is only lung-scrofula—just let its makers know and get your money back.

Talk's cheap, but to back a poor medicine, or a common one, by selling it on trial, as "Golden Medical Discovery" is sold, would bankrupt the largest fortune.

Talk's cheap, but only "Discovery" is guaranteed.

A wise son knoweth his own father and a smart daughter findeth out her popper.

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. A Boston lady, whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below: "In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me to buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I had taken Hood's Sarsaparilla, knew what it was, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other. When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly

STATE NEWS.

Seven divorces have been granted in Adrian in two weeks.

Livingston county has a very large acreage of beans this year.

Mrs. L. E. Hall, of Manistee, is the second woman to be elected school commissioner in this state.

A woman has been elected school commissioner in Charlevoix county. Marie Beach is her name.

Alger county boasts of having only one doctor. It need not be surprising to learn that she has no undertaker.

Fred Manuel was drowned in a small lake near Jackson, Sunday, while swimming. It's the old story of the cramps.

Each prisoner in the Jackson prison was presented with a bouquet of flowers, with a scriptural text tied to it, last Sunday.

Twenty-six hundred lots were sold in Saginaw, Saturday, for $400,000. The Saginaw boomers claim to have secured the location of ten large manufacturing plants.

Mary Foster, a seventeen year old girl of Port Huron, went to bed last Thursday night with neuralgia and a bottle of morphine. She was found dead the next morning.

A sparrow shooter has at last fatally wounded a boy. Moses Lobenski, a fifteen-year-old Grand Rapids boy, was gunning for sparrows, Saturday. His aim was not good and he hit Hiram Olson, aged fourteen in the side. The wound is probably fatal.

Hon. Quincy A. Smith, judge of probate of Ingham county, is an exception to the rule "few die, none resign." With two years yet to serve, he has resigned the probate judgeship. Gov. Winans has appointed George W. Bristol, of Mason, to succeed him.

Miss Minnie Webster, a Grand Rapids school teacher has become insane. The first symptoms noticed were that she dressed herself in what she called her wedding gown, with long veil and roses, and began telephoning incoherent tales to the newspapers.

John Casey was shot and killed by Frank Gilligan in a Detroit saloon, Sunday. The two had had several fights in which Gilligan had been worsted. After much trouble he secured a revolver and hunted for Casey. As soon as he found him he fired and escaped.

The Cadillac marshal is striving to enforce an ordinance keeping boys under fifteen off the streets after nine o'clock. The mayor of the same city hired a detective to spot Sunday saloons. Four were spotted, plead guilty and the city realized $257 above the cost of the detective.

Assistant-Postmaster E. Foster has just been arrested for stealing $69 from the cash drawer of the Hudson postoffice. He discovered the robbery, gave the alarm and claimed it had occurred while he was out. A detective thought differently and Foster was arrested. When confronted with proofs he confessed and returned $60. No reproach has been cast upon his character before.

Frank Tooker, a young man living near Allegan, has been making love to Edna White. He paid no attention to several letters warning him to desist from his suit. Last Friday evening, while escorting his lady love home from a Patrons of Industry meeting, he was assaulted by three men with clubs. He drew a revolver and fired. The fire was returned and he was shot in the head and arm and the wounds will probably be fatal. As he fell his revolver went off and wounded one of the three assailants. The other two picked up their comrade and made off. A noosed rope and tar and feathers were found near the scene of assault.

For Over Fifty Years.

It has been said that skillful advertising will accomplish wonders, and this is partly true, for it is no uncommon thing to see various nostrums achieve a brief notoriety in this way. But they do not outlast the notices that herald them. Thus it is that the mercurial and potash remedies are constantly appearing before the public in new disguises. Advertising, however, will not account for the popularity that S. S. S. has enjoyed for fifty years, nor for the fact that it has become a household remedy; nor will advertising account for the thousands of testimonials that the people have given in its behalf. Only the most substantial merit can account for the estimation in which this wonderful medicine is held.

The beauty of persuasion generally lies in the fact that the man persuaded thinks differently.

How to Succeed.

This is the great problem of life which few satisfactorily solve. Some fail because of poor health, others want of luck, but the majority from deficient grit—want of nerve. They are nervous, irresolute, changeable, easily get the blues and "take the spirits down to keep the spirits up," thus wasting money, time, opportunity and nerve force. There is nothing like the Restorative Nervine, discovered by the great specialist, Dr. Miles, to cure all nervous diseases, as headache, the blues, nervous prostration, sleeplessness, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, fits, and hysteria. Trial bottles and fine book of testimonials free at Eberbach & Son's Drug store.

Milan.

Arthur Delaforce has returned from Chicago.

Burglars gave Milan a call last week, helping themselves to about $80 worth of goods at Thompson's clothing store.

Mrs. H. Hack gave a tea, Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Goodrich and son, of Ann Arbor, are the guests of Attorney G. R. Williams and family.

C. M. Fuller visited Detroit and Clinton, this week.

Cherries are plenty in this vicinity. Miss Susine Hooker, of Bur Oak, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. F. Trussel. Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Henkle visited Detroit, Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Nina Hack attended the Saline commencement, Friday.

The Baptist tea social was held at Mrs. W. H. Whaley's, Wednesday.

A. W. Reynolds is quite ill from Rheumatism.

Dr. Mesic and family are visiting friends at Memphis, for a few days.

On the Fourth of July, the Milan races and a ball game will be the attractions.

A merry round has struck Milan and both old and young seem to enjoy it.

Miss Allie Harper, of Cadillac, is visiting Milan for the summer vacation. J. C. Rouse visited Ann Arbor, Friday and Saturday.

Rev. J. Huntington leaves for Detroit, Monday, where he will visit his son for a few days.

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne started for church when the horse took fright from a piece of paper. The horse jumped a ditch, overturning the carriage, throwing the occupants out and injuring them quite severely but not dangerously.

Miss Grace Huntington leaves for Chicago, Tuesday, where she will visit relatives for a few weeks.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits.

EBERBACH & SON, DRUGGISTS.

Why Suffer? With the Remedy at Hand.

Gentlemen:—I have been a great sufferer from Sciatic Rheumatism for five years. A portion of that time have been confined to my bed. Have been treated by the best physicians without relief. I am now taking the fourth bottle of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup and firmly believe it will work a permanent cure. It acted upon the liver and regulated my kidneys and digestive organs immediately and has done me more good already than all the other medicines I have ever taken. I cheerfully recommend this medicine.

Proceedings of the Board of Public Works.

[OFFICIAL.] Office of the Board of Public Works, Ann Arbor, June 24, 1891.

Called to order by Pres. Keech.

Roll call.

Present—Schuh, Keech, McIntyre.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

Mr. Bartlett, of the Fifth ward, reported some grievances to the Board about Plum street at his residence. The matter was referred to the City Attorney and Street Commissioner.

By Mr. McIntyre:

Resolved, That this Board recommends and asks the Common Council to order the following sidewalks built at once:

Charles Schultz, Spring street, 3rd ward.

O. Sage, Spring street, 3rd ward.

Frank Rahr, Spring street, 3rd ward.

M. Dalton, Spring street, 3rd ward.

Henry Allmendinger, Spring street, 3rd ward.

Herman F. Belser, Spring street, 3rd ward.

Harvey Cornwell, Fuller street, 4th ward.

Miss Mary Davidson, Division and North streets, 4th ward.

George Apfel, Main street south, 1st ward.

Bross estate, Main street south 1st ward.

Mrs. Emma Andrews, William street, 1st ward.

Mrs. S. W. Chipman, E. Jefferson street, 1st ward.

Yeas—Keech, and McIntyre.

Nays—None.

Board then adjourned.

W. J. MILLER, Clerk.

You Take no Risk

In buying Hood's Sarsaparilla, for it everywhere recognized as the standard building-up medicine and blood purifier. It has won its way to the front by its own intrinsic merit, and has the largest sale of any preparation of its kind. Any honest druggist will confirm this statement. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy anything else instead. Be sure to get Hood's.

Don't do it.

Said my physician, who for six months had doctored me for dyspepsia without success, when I told him I was going to try Sulphur Bitters, they will only make you worse. I did try them and now I am a well man and can eat anything. Sulphur Bitters are a great foe to doctors.—George Bastett, N. Y. C. & H. R. Railroad.

Geo. Walker, who works on Stores Crafts' farm in Sharon, last week had a narrow escape from instant death. He was cultivating corn, a storm was rising, when suddenly a bolt of lightning struck the ground but a few feet ahead of his team. He dropped senseless in his tracks and so remained until the appearance of the team at the house without a driver caused search to be made for him. He was dazed after regaining consciousness for the balance of the afternoon and in fact felt the effects of the shock for several days. The horses gave evidence of being severely shocked also. Another man who was running a cultivator in another part of the same field could hardly restrain his horses, which turned short about when the explosion came and seemed drowsy of vacating the premises.—Grass Lake News.

NEVER A FAILURE.

The Red River Valley of Minnesota and North Dakota has never had a failure of crops.

It produced 80,000,000 bushels of wheat besides other cereals in 1890.

Farms can be had on the crop plan, or long time cash payments.

It is not an uncommon thing to pay for a farm from the proceeds of one crop.

It has all of the advantages of an old country in the shape of school, church, market, postal & railway facilities and all the chances of a new country in the way of cheap lands, rich soil, and increase in values.

It is one of the most fertile and promising regions in America not yet fully occupied.

In the rush to the far west, however, this rich valley has been over-looked.

It has room for a million more people.

THE SONG OF THE "No. 9."

My dress is of fine polished oak,
As rich as the finest fur cloak,
And for handsome design
You just should see mine—
No. 9, No. 9.

I'm beloved by the poor and the rich,
For both I impartially stitch;
In the cabin I shine,
In the mansion I'm fine—
No. 9, No. 9.

I never get surly nor tired,
With zeal I always am fired;
To hard work I incline,
For rest I ne'er pine—
No. 9, No. 9.

I am easily purchased by all,
With instalments that monthly do fall;
And when I am thine,
Then life is benign—
No. 9, No. 9.

To the Paris Exposition I went,
Upon getting the Grand Prize intent;
I left all behind,
The Grand Prize was mine—
No. 9, No. 9.

At the Universal Exposition of 1889, at Paris, France, the best sewing machines of the world, including those of America, were in competition. They were passed upon by a jury composed of the best foreign mechanical experts, two of whom were the leading sewing machine manufacturers of France. This jury, after exhaustive examination and tests, adjudged that the Wheeler & Wilson machines were the best of all, and awarded that company the highest prize offered—the GRAND PRIZE—giving other companies only gold, silver and bronze medals.

The French government, as a further recognition of superiority, decorated Mr. Nathaniel Wheeler, president of the company, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor—the most prized honor of France.

The No. 9, for family use, and the No. 12, for manufacturing uses, are the best in the world to-day.

And now, when you want a sewing machine, if you do not get the best it will be your own fault.

Ask your sewing machine dealer for the No. 9 Wheeler & Wilson machine. If he doesn't keep them, write to us for descriptive catalogue and terms. Agents wanted in all unoccupied territory.

WHEELER & WILSON MFG. CO. Chicago, Ill.

Day by day some of the little extravaganzas of the past republican state governments are coming to light. For instance in the prison expenses at Jackson for 1889 were $96.45 for ten cent cigars, $70.15 for flowers, $98.25 for three dogs, $5.80 for a barrel of cider, $1.20 for two dozen peaches. No wonder retrenchment is demanded.

The Ohio republicans have nominated McKinley, the high tariff leader, for governor and will make almost superhuman efforts to elect him. As Ohio is a republican state and there is not the utmost harmony in the democratic ranks in that state, it ought not to be surprising if they succeeded in doing so. The utmost superhuman efforts needed to elect a man personally popular indicate how unpopular high tariff is becoming with the people. The tariff is a tax and the people are getting tired of heavy taxes.

The Detroit Journal in its desire to show that it is a republican paper of the darkest dye, charges that Governor Winans is "bound to make Michigan appear shabby, mean, squalid and paltry." All this is because the governor is striving to decrease the burdens of the tax-payers and to allow the little money men can earn these days to remain in their pockets instead of being spent by the state in fuss and feathers. It is strange that rabid republicans always seem to favor high taxation, both state and national.

THE PRICE OF WOOL.

The intense silence of the republican press just now, in regard to the wool market is painful.—Grayling Democrat.

The farmers in politics may not know much about political economy, but they are finding out how a protective tariff hurts them.—Midland Sun.

Wool is a good strong two cents a pound lower in Hillsdale and all Michigan than last year. Buyers are very shy and the market is dull. The McKinley bill is in force. It pretended to fix things for a higher price for wool for the farmers.—Hillsdale Democrat.

The farmers who are getting such low prices for wool console themselves by studying the quotations on tin. If they sell their wool low they can recoup themselves by selling their tin high, for surely every farm has a tin mine on it.—Port Huron Herald.

A cog has slipped in the McKinley machine somewhere. We were told that the passage of that law would secure a higher price for wool. But wool is considerably lower than last year, with a weak market and a downward tendency.—Tecumseh Herald.

The price of wool this season is lower than it was last year, and the tariff is higher. McKinley may theorize and argue for a year. Prices on the wool clip do more to convince the farmer who is buying, than all the arguments of any class of politicians. The wool clip is smaller, the tariff is higher, and the prices lower. This much the farmer easily understands, and when he takes 28 cents, where a year ago he received thirty, all the McKinleys in the world can't explain away the result, or convince him that tariff helps raise the price of wool. Seeing is believing. $28.00 isn't $30.00.—Adrian Press.

Three Years Record.

Three years of the present pastorate of the Baptist church were completed the first of June. The church has reason to feel encouraged over substantial gains in that time in every direction, as the results of its labors and of gifts thoughtfully bestowed upon it. In membership it has increased from 315 to about 440 names, the additions for the three years numbering 215, of whom 103 were received by baptism, 8 by restoration and on experience, and the rest by letter. The church has contributed for expenses in the three years between $7,000 and $8,000 and for benevolence between $1,500 and $2,000. The church has received the gift of a parsonage, a bequest of the late Mrs. S. S. Cowles, and receives between $800 and $900 as residuary legatee of the estate of Mrs. Rhoda Royce. From bequests of these two deceased members our denominational benevolent work receives (from Mrs. Cowles' estate) $2,500 and (from Mrs. Royces' estate) $200.—Ann Arbor Baptist.

Street Cars to Lansing.

The irrepressible Dr. C. L. Randall, of Dansville, is never likely to lose his interests in the growth and prosperity of Dansville and Ingham county. Although about to remove to Chicago, he is now trying to work a railroad enterprise that will be of great value to this section. While in Ann Arbor, last week, he laid before the superintendent of the Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti street railway company a proposition to extend that road to Lansing via Dexter, Unadilla, Plainfield, Dansville and Mason. The superintendent promised to lay the matter before the railroad builders the first of the week and let the doctor know the result at an early date. He says they can move freight as much cheaper than the other roads as they do passengers which they are now carrying at a profit at one cent per mile.—Mason News. It is our opinion that it will be but a few years when these little roads will be running in every direction and will do four-fifths of the local traffic business. The railroads of to-day care very little for the wants of the smaller towns unless they are on competing lines, as every village knows. They work only for through business, knowing that the traffic along their lines must come their way. The man in a village who gives a dollar towards the building of one of those roads begins kicking himself soon after it is built and continues to do so as long as he lives. The only way to get suitable accommodation is from roads working for local business.—Plymouth Mail.

Chelsea.

Prof. Hall was in town this week. A mud turtle boy was exhibited here last Tuesday night.

George Blach has had the front of his store painted white.

Union meeting will be at the Baptist church next Sunday night.

The brick work will soon be completed on the new school house.

Zach. Spencer, of Fowlerville, was here several days the last of last week.

William Emmert got an appointment as mail agent last Monday.

Dr. G. A. Robertson, of Battle Creek, will spend the Fourth with relatives here.

A large amount of very fine hay has been made about here this week by the farmers.

James Spencer of Barry county, was here Saturday, looking after his father's estate.

W. E. Depew, of Alpena, was here on business, last Saturday, and spent Sunday among relatives.

Some will begin cutting wheat the last of this week and that will be the order generally next week.

Miss Stebbins, of Ann Arbor, was at the Good Templars' lodge, Tuesday night, and an effort is being made to organize a class in elocution.

Mr. Boyd has moved into the Bagge property, which he bought, and Smith & Stevens moved into the Staffan store recently occupied by Mr. Boyd.

Balance shipments have been made at the company's elevator and no wheat will be taken in for some time. Three thousand, two hundred and eighty-eight loads were taken in since one year ago.

Orrie Hoover has bought the Standard office and moved it into the basement of the Wilkinson building. Orrie is a practical printer and used to newspaper work and will no doubt make the Standard a success.

There has been no grain brought here the past week and prices are nominally about the same as one week ago. Wool is moving very slowly at 20 to 25 cents per pound, mostly at about 23 cents for fairly washed wool. Many are holding for 25 cents and there will be much wool in farmers' hands after harvest unless prices advance.

To Summer Resorters.

The T. A. A. & N. M. Ry. have again put into service those elegant chair and parlor cars which gave such satisfaction to summer resorters last season, "City of Saginaw" and "City of Detroit." One of these cars will run through to the North on 7:40 train each morning, the other returning on evening train. The T. & A. is the short line to all Northern resorts, Traverse City, Petoskey, Mackinac, Bay View, Harbor Springs, Frankfort, Cadillac, and Manistee.

University Buildings.—Tenders Wanted.

Proposals will be received by the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan up to and including the 10th day of July, for the erection and completion of an addition to the Law Building, an addition to the Engineering Building, and an addition to the President's House, all on the University grounds, in the City of Ann Arbor.

Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the Secretary of the University, or at the office of the Architect, E. W. Arnold, 57 Buhl Block, Detroit.

Proposals must be sealed and endorsed "Proposals for University Buildings," and addressed to James H. Wade, Secretary of the Board of Regents, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Separate proposals will be required for each building.

Each tender must be accompanied by an approved bond, or certified check of five hundred dollars ($500), as security that the parties will enter into a contract should their proposals be accepted.

Blank schedules will be supplied by the Secretary upon application.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Do not confuse THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF NEW YORK, with any other Company of apparently similar name, but less magnitude.

Bear in mind that there is no Life Insurance company called "The New York Mutual Life" and that there is no Life Insurance Company chartered by the State of New York, authorized to use the word MUTUAL in its title except THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF NEW YORK.

George B. Schwab has just completed full plans and specifications for the Blackstone block, to be erected by Messrs. Lawrence and Maynard on the corner of Fourth avenue and Ann street.

Col. Suckett, assistant quartermaster general, was in the city yesterday and closed contracts for furnishing eatables at the state encampment at Whitmore lake. Brown & Cady will furnish the groceries and Weinmann and Hoelzle will furnish the meat. The vegetables and milk will also be furnished by Ann Arbor parties.

Rev. W. O. Waters and family left this city for their new home in Detroit on Tuesday morning. Although, but a short year in this community they have endeared themselves to the hearts of all who knew them. Mingled with regret at parting is the hope that Mr. Waters' new field of labor, St. Andrew's church, Detroit, may prove rich in prosperity and happiness.

Among the visitors at the Argus office, Wednesday, was David W. Palmer, of Bridgewater. Mr. Palmer was eighty-four years old last month. Tuesday he ran a mower all day and on Wednesday he drove himself to the city on probate business. It will be seen that Mr. Palmer is very hale and hearty yet. It is needless to say that he has always been a staunch democrat and a reader of the Argus for fifty years.

Harry P. Stearns, son of the democratic candidate for congress two years ago, who graduated in the University in 1890, came within one vote of being elected school commissioner of Lenawee county, last week, and was elected one of the examiners. The school commissioner elect is C. F. Fields, of the Tecumseh News, a cousin of Mrs. W. G. Doty, a graduate of the University and a thoroughly competent man. The salary is fixed at $1,200, or $300 less than in this county.

On invitation of Wolverine tent, K. O. T. M., of Ypsilanti, a delegation of thirty members of Arbor tent, of this city, went down by motor line, on Wednesday evening, to assist in the initiation of over a dozen candidates. The hall of Wolverine tent was crowded with Maccabees, and the ceremonies incident to the occasion were performed with great eclat, the initiatory portions being done by the Ann Arbor Knights. After the tent work an elegant lunch was spread in the refreshment room, during the enjoyment of which the band of Wolverine tent furnished excellent music. The Ann Arbor Knights returned on the 11 o'clock train, delighted with their fraternal visit.

It is interesting to note the growth of the manufacturing interests throughout our own state. Our attention was brought forcibly to this to-day, by receiving from the Lansing Iron & Engine Works, of Lansing, Mich., an advertisement calling attention to their celebrated traction engine and other machinery they manufacture. A little less than eight years ago this firm started business in two small buildings, and through careful and prudent management, they have steadily increasing their plant until to-day they stand at the head of all similar institutions in the state, their buildings covering an area of over 13 acres of ground, and employing 150 men with a pay roll of $7,000 a month. About two years ago they began the manufacturing of the now famous double-acting force and spray pumps, and their success in this branch of the business has been phenomenal, having manufactured and sold up to the present time, over 9,000 pumps, and are nearly 2,000 behind on their orders. A number of the spray pumps have been sold in this vicinity to the farmers desiring to spray their fruit trees and shrubbery.

"Observer," in the Ypsilanti Sentinel, in speaking of William Wagner, says: "I know of no business man who has been longer in business in Ann Arbor than Wm. Wagner. He came to this city over fifty years ago and opened a tailor shop, and afterwards a clothing store in the same block in which he is at present located. By strict attention to business and fair dealing with his fellow men, he has grown wealthy. He can look back upon his business career with pleasure and pride. He has been a model business man. He spent his time during the day in his store and his evenings with his family at home. One always knew where to find Wm. Wagner. He never dabbled in politics, kept his own counsel, attended strictly to business, and never meddled with anything foreign to it. He was always civil and obliging as well as decisive and prompt with his customers. To the young men of Ann Arbor his successful career will prove one thing beyond a doubt, and that is, that Labor and Pluck are the invincible heroes who conquer success. The glorious galaxy of successful business men and illustrious authors have all been hard workers."

Births.

John Kramer, of Whittaker, has a little daughter at his home.

Henry Schlittler, of Miller avenue, was son-struck the other day. The boy weighed twelve pounds.

A little daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Blythe, of Manchester, June 21.

Supervisor Dansingburg, of Augusta, rejoices over a wee little visitor in his family, who arrived June 23, and will make an indefinite stay.

S. A. Moran, of the Register, is a brand new papa now. The little girl whose advent caused so much rejoicing accounts for his happy expression.

Via the West Michigan to Petoskey.

Commencing with the new schedule of the Chicago & West Michigan and Detroit, Lansing and Northern in effect June 21st., the line of steamers between Traverse City and Charlevoix, Petoskey, Harbor Springs, Mackinac Island and St. Ignace will commence operations. Fit to use when Gabriel comes—
Half a hundred double pinwheels.
Showers of sparks in every one.
And a set of wheels within wheels,
Warranted to dim the sun;
Red lights, green lights, blue lights, flashes.
In profusion and a box;
Things that slowly burn to ashes.
Things that flame like Martyr Knox—

A SILVER DOLLAR.

IT HELPED OUT ON FOURTH OF JULY AND PLAYED A PART IN A LOVE STORY.

(Copyright, 1891, by American Press Association. All rights reserved.)

ALBERT.

close with a strap and a woodshed than with the Sunday school.
Therefore he only said "Holy whizz!"
It is more than likely, in these Fauntleroy days, that there may be boys who do not get excited on or about the Fourth of July. In other words, they are not boys. At all events, they are no such boys as Albert was. He had been a real, live boy ever since his birth. There never had been any necessity to inquire as to the origin of any disturbance around his father's house when Albert was at home. All that was considered necessary by any one was for his father to get hold of Albert with one hand and the strap with the other.

All things considered, it was not surprising that Albert was excited when he saw, lying on the ground, just inside his father's frontgate, a large, round, bright silver dollar. It was the morning of the third of July. Silver dollars were not so much a part of Albert's usual experience as pennies and nickels were, and lately even these had been hard to get hold of, and here was a whole, entire dollar.

Some boys would have been tempted to keep it and say nothing about it, and spend it at once for the necessary ammunition for the celebration of the following day, but Albert was not even conscious of a feeling of temptation. He knew well enough who had dropped it. His sister Maggie, eighteen years old, very often stood by that gate moonlight nights, and never alone. So, although he knew that it must have been George Whittaker who had lost the dollar, there was no struggle in Albert's mind as to the propriety of keeping it. He just kept it without any thought of struggling.

And he spent it. That was a procedure which he could not undertake without considerable care and precaution. His ownership of the few previous dollars he had had was always a hollow mockery. His aunt was accustomed to give him a dollar every time he had a birthday, but he had never been allowed to use it. His father had always taken it away from him and put it in the bank. This time he tingled down to his toes at the thought that his father knew nothing about it, and so could not take it away from him.

So he determined to expend it at once, and with this end in view he sought out his best friend—a bad boy named James. Albert called him Jim, and so did almost everybody else.

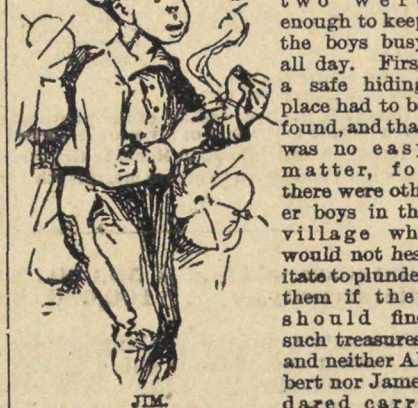

Taffy is good, and you may buy a great quantity of it for a dollar. Also it is possible to purchase for that sum very many marbles and tops, but no well regulated boy buys much taffy, or any tops or marbles whatsoever, on July 3. James' principal earthly possession was an old horse pistol, and Albert owned a small brass cannon, consequently a liberal supply of powder and caps was first provided. Then half a dozen of the largest firecrackers in the little store were selected, and the rest of the money was laid out in firecrackers of ordinary size.

"They ain't as good as the big ones," said James philosophically, "but you get a heap more."

"Do you want any torpedoes?" asked the good old lady who kept the store.

"Naw," said Albert, with great scorn. "Torpedoes is only good enough for girls."

Supplies having been obtained, there remained only two things to do, but these two were enough to keep the boys busy all day. First a safe hiding place had to be found, and that was no easy matter, for there were other boys in the village who would not hesitate to plunder them if they should find such treasures, and neither Albert nor James dared carry them into his own house. A licking wasn't so very ranch, but it would not do to have the powder and crackers confiscated.

JIM.

"Say, Jim, I'll tell you what," said Albert at length. "We'll tie 'em all together in a big bundle and keep it in your barn till tonight. Then after all our folks has gone to be you fetch it over and come under my window, and I'll let down a rope and pull it up. You give me the whistle when you come, and I'll be all ready."

"All right," said James, and that was settled. Then it remained to quarrel about whether they had spent the money to the best advantage. James contended that they ought to have bought some Roman candles, while Albert favored the thought of having skyrocket, and so earnestly did each advocate his own views that they almost came to blows.

After some hours, however, this subject was forgotten in consideration of the still more exciting question, whether any of the ammunition should be used that night, or whether it should all be kept for the Fourth. A boy has a great many things to consider on such occasions, and it was important to decide on the best way to avoid getting licked, and at the same time get all the good out of that dollar. Finally it was decided that it was best to wait till morning.

It is a most interesting and instructive thing to notice how things that seem to be the most irrelevant and inconsequent sometimes work together toward the most astonishing results. In this case, if it had not been for a hole in Mr. Whittaker's vest pocket, a splinter, a penknife and a dear little white finger, and if Albert hadn't carried off two spoils of cotton from Maggie's work basket the day before, it would probably have—But this is a little too fast.

All went on as the boys had planned it until Albert went to his room to wait for James. To be sure, George Whittaker had called to invite Maggie to a picnic next day, and Albert reflected with much disgust that he and Maggie would stand by the gate for some time, and so keep him waiting; but he knew James was too wary to come till George had gone away, so he was not alarmed.

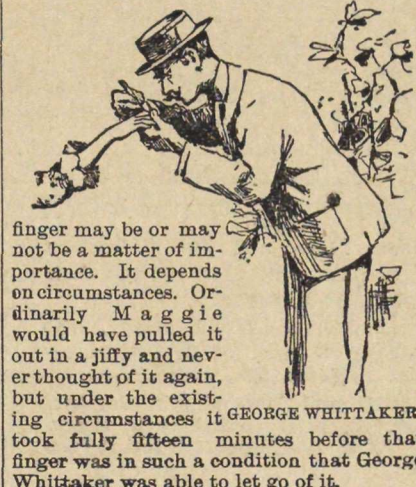

He looked out at the front gate instead of going to bed, just as he had done many times before. "Gosh!" he said to himself, "I'll bet I wouldn't go sparkin' no gal if I was as big as him. I'd be down at the corner playin' billiards."

Now the gate was an old one, and Albert sometimes whittled on it when he could not think what else to do, wherefore there were sometimes unexpected edges along the top of it. There was one now, and as Maggie and George Whittaker stood there, never dreaming that Albert was looking on, but talking of—but how can anybody guess what they were talking of?—Maggie rubbed her hand idly along this sharp edge, and suddenly gave a little scream.

"Oh!" she said, "I've run a splinter in my finger."

"Oh!" said George Whittaker, very much agitated, "that is too bad. Let me take it out." And he took her hand in his and looked at it carefully. Then he took out his penknife.

Now a very small splinter in a girl's finger may be or may not be a matter of importance. It depends on circumstances. Ordinarily Maggie would have pulled it out in a jiffy and never thought of it again, but under the existing circumstances it GEORGE WHITTAKER took fully fifteen minutes before that finger was in such a condition that George Whittaker was able to let go of it.

GEORGE WHITTAKER.

Just before he did so Albert spoke to himself again. "Gosh!" he said, "what a fool a fellow is to kiss a gal's hand! If he wants to kiss her, why don't he kiss her in the mouth? She'd a good deal druther he would."

Very possibly George Whittaker did not know this.

He let go her hand with a little sigh, and slipped the penknife into his vest pocket. And the penknife slipped right through and fell on the ground. Maggie saw it fall and told him about it, and he investigated things, discovering that the lining and pocket were both torn.

"Well, there," said he, "that accounts for it. I lost a silver dollar last night. It must have slipped through that hole."

"You must have it mended right away," said Maggie, with womanly promptness. "Come back in the sitting room."

So they went back, George nothing loth, and found old Mr. Wilson there reading and smoking his pipe. He did not object to the courtship that was going on, but on the contrary approved it thoroughly, but you would never catch him going to bed until Maggie was safe in her own room.

He looked up inquiringly when they entered the room, and Maggie began with entirely unnecessary confusion to explain what had happened.

Mr. Wilson did not talk much, but what he did say was generally to the point. Moreover, he was fond of a joke. He listened while Maggie explained, and then said dryly: "H'm! That's what comes of a young man living alone, with no women folks to take care of him."

George was fully as much embarrassed as Maggie was at this kind of a speech, but there didn't seem to be any way of concealing his confusion, while Maggie busied herself looking for a needle and thread. So he stood still and suffered while Mr. Wilson chuckled to himself, and muttering something about "helping a lame dog over a stile," turned back to his reading.

But Maggie didn't find her thread. If she had, perhaps Albert wouldn't have been found.

He searched through her work basket, and there was no cotton there. She was an exceedingly human young woman, and she grew angry.

"That Albert has been rifling this basket again," she said with some temper. "He is always in mischief."

Then a sudden thought came to her. "Oh, George!" she exclaimed. "I wonder if it was your dollar that he bought such a lot of fireworks with."

"What's that? What's that?" said Mr. Wilson.

"Oh, nothing," said Maggie, "only Albert bought a lot of firecrackers today from old Mrs. Jones. She was speaking to me about it, and I wondered where he got the money."

George laughed. "That's all right," he said. "If anybody found it I hope it was Albert." But Mr. Wilson looked grave.

He said nothing, however, and Maggie presently found some thread and mended the pocket, and the two young people went out to the gate again. When they got out, the George gathered up his courage and spoke desperately. "Maggie," he said, "I wish you would mend all my clothes."

Maggie laughed. "Why, I hope they don't all need mending," she said.

"Of course," stammered George, "I mean when they do need it."

"Well," said Maggie, hanging her head, "I don't know but what I might undertake to do that."

"But I mean for always, for all your life," exclaimed George.

After that there was some more conversation, and old Mr. Wilson had to come to the door twice to tell Maggie how late it was before she came in. When she did come in he looked at her pretty closely, but she only said "Good night, papa," and he kissed her and she went up stairs while he looked up. Then he followed, and going on up to the attic he very quietly looked Albert's door on the outside. If that deluded youngster had not had his head out of the window looking for James he would probably have heard his father, but as it was he drew up the bundle all right, and hiding it under his bed lay down without knowing that he was a prisoner.

He was one, though. Mr. Wilson had been a boy himself, and he had assigned Albert's room to him with special reference to the fact that climbing out of the window was the question.

Therefore Albert had nothing to do but to wait, when he found his door locked next morning, until such time as his father saw fit to come up and release him.

It was a fine situation for a boy with a dollar's worth of fun in his room, and an impatient chum whistling outside, of a Fourth of July.

It seemed a long time to wait, for Albert was awake before four o'clock, but as a matter of fact Mr. Wilson went up quite early to his boy's room. Entering, he found Albert fully dressed, looking out of the window, listening to various noises in the village. There were tears in his eyes, but he brushed them away before turning to speak to his father.

"I understand," said the father, "that you bought some firecrackers yesterday."

"Yes, sir," said Albert.

"Let me see them," said Mr. Wilson, and the boy brought out his bundle and opened it. "That is a fine lot. Where did you get the money to buy them with?"

"I found it, sir."

"Where did you find it?"

"By the front gate."

"Didn't you know who it belonged to?"

"No, sir," said the boy, hesitating a little; and then with a desperate burst of courage he said: "Yes, I knew well enough; but, Pop, don't you know it's the Fourth of July? I reckon when you was a boy you wouldn't 'a' gone 'round hunting up owners for silver dollars when they jumped right up at you, and you hadn't got no money nor no firecrackers."

Now, Mr. Wilson did not suppose for a minute that he would have done any such thing, and moreover he liked the boy's frankness, and although he did use the strap occasionally, believing that he ought to do so, he did not like it any more than Albert did. It wasn't the first time the boy had put him in a quandary.

"Well, my son," he said, not unkindly, after he had considered a moment, "I am willing to make allowances, but you must remember to be honest about all things. You must pay back that dollar."

"Yes, sir," said Albert, delighted at getting off so easily.

But after he had escaped from the house and joined Jim, and the two were disturbing the peace to the best of their ability, he saw a well known figure coming down the village street, and ran toward it.

"Say, George Whittaker," he exclaimed breathlessly, "ain't you going to be my brother?"

Whittaker laughed and said, "Why?"

"'Cos if you are," said Albert, "I don't s'pose I'll have to be in any great hurry about payin' back that dollar o' yours what I found. It'll be all in the family, you know."

And George laughed again, and told him he needn't be in any special hurry.

And after the firecrackers were all gone, Albert said confidentially to Jim, "After all, it makes a feller feel heaps better to get his money honest, don't it?"

"I don't know," said Jim.

Three Revolutions.

The Dutch revolution of the Sixteenth century, the British revolution of the Seventeenth century and the American revolution of the Eighteenth century were three logically connected stages in the evolution of liberty. Their history forms three serial chapters in the literature of freedom. It is not at all surprising, therefore, that there should be a marked similarity in the language of the three people in declaring their rights, a similarity sufficient to enable the critics of Thomas Jefferson to say that he had plagiarized from the declaration of the United Provinces of the Netherlands and the declaration of rights by the British Whigs of 1689-90. The parallel between these declarations is indeed instructive; they all sum up in one principle: the natural rights of men to choose their form of government.

Notable Anniversaries.

There have been three notable Fourth of July celebrations, and there will soon be a fourth. The first was in 1793, soon after the present form of government went into operation; the second in 1865, when all previous demonstrations were outdone, and the third in 1876, the famous Centennial year. The fourth will undoubtedly be in 1892, when the discovery of America will be celebrated, as well as the Declaration of Independence. Perhaps it would be safe to add another, for in 1826 was said of that being the fiftieth anniversary, though it does not appear that there were any unusual demonstrations on that day.

She—How thoughtful. I will give them to him now, and then he won't break in on us.

He—But won't he make too much noise with them outside?

She—Oh, I think not (cheerfully). They will help to keep me awake.

HIGH FED WARDENS.

Republican Extravagances in the Prisons of the State.

HIGH PRICED FLOWERS—FANCY PRICED DOGS

Ten Cent Cigars and Other Sample Expenditures.—A Scorching Speech by Senator Wisner in the State Senate.

Gov. Winans advised a consolidated board to manage all penal institutions and the bill has passed.

Senator Wisner, in advocating it, presented the itemized expenses of nearly all of the institutions, and to show how the present boards disregarded law and the employees disregarded decency, we give the remarks of Senator Wisner, in part, and ask our voters to carefully study the facts as he presents them. It will be remembered that Mr. Wisner obtained his figures from the office of the auditor general and these cannot be disputed.

Wisner advocated a change from the system of separate boards, to one general board, believing it in the interest of economy. He charged the boards with allowing illegal accounts, and on this point we quote his remarks:

"I now propose, Mr. Chairman, as briefly as possible to refer to some of the items that go to make up this expenditure of the people's money by the different boards of these institutions. I approach the subject with some diffidence because in the course of my remarks I may reflect upon the business methods of some men in whose judgment the people of this state have had confidence in the management of their varied and important interests. I do it in no partisan spirit; but I should be recreant to the trust imposed upon me by the people, if I should falter in my duty to call their attention to the manner in which their money has been expended, and how the burden of taxation has been imposed upon them, groaning as they are to-day under the prospect of commercial disaster and financial ruin.

In the fall of 1889, a national prison convention was held at Nashville, Tennessee, and the members of the prison board at Jackson decided to attend the same. There is no statute in this state authorizing them to take trips of this character at the expense of the state. It did not come within their duties as laid down by law. The board is the creature of the statute. Their powers and duties are clearly defined. They had just as much power to attend a picnic at the people's expense as to go upon a junketing trip of this character; and I only refer to this particular trip as an illustration of a custom grown up in this state for boards to incur extraordinary expenses, to make out their own bills, certify to their own vouchers, and draw their money under the head of prison expenses.

For the purpose of showing in what manner these sums of money are drawn by the board for the purpose of meeting current expenses I want to call your attention to Section 9731 of the compiled laws, which provides as follows:

"The Auditor General is hereby authorized and required to draw his warrant on the treasurer for the state sums as the inspectors of the state prison shall from time to time direct, but such sums so drawn at any one time shall not exceed one thousand dollars, and no further sum shall be drawn until satisfactory vouchers are presented to and allowed by the auditor general for the amount previously drawn; and this provision applying only to the state prison at Jackson has been incorporated in all the acts for the government of all other institutions of the state. They are not limited as to time; they can draw once every day, once every week, once every month, as often as they shall send vouchers showing that the sum previously drawn has been exhausted.

H. F. Hatch, the warden, deemed it necessary for him to go and he made out his vouchers and drew as prison expenses, $60.50.

Henry Chamberlain, a member of the board, thought the convention would not be a success without his presence, and upon his return he made out his voucher and he was allowed and paid out of prison expenses (he charged eight days at $3.00 per day), $83.67.

Well, it was thought advisable for Hatch and Chamberlain to have a chaplain along (to look after their morals I suppose), and they took George H. Hickox along; and his bill was allowed and paid out of prison expenses at $50.55.

Well, in 1890, there was another prison convention appointed to be held in the city of Baltimore, and Warden Hatch, being a great reformer, thought it necessary for him to attend. But Chamberlain having taken one trip he thought he would take Dwight Smith, another member of the board, with him on this expedition. They both went but did not deem it necessary to take the chaplain this time. They went from Jackson to Buffalo, from Buffalo to New York, from New York to Philadelphia and from Philadelphia to Baltimore. Surely they went the longest way round. One would think they were traveling for mileage. But their fare was paid out of prison expenses. Hatch received $60.08, and Smith drew $64.10.

It will be sufficient for me to say as an illustration of the whole subject that the traveling expenses of the Warden and member of the Board for the year A. D. 1890, amounted to the sum of $883.28, every dollar of which was paid out without warrant of law and upon vouchers made out by the Board. And while upon this subject I wish to call the attention of the Senate and the people to certain items charged in the accounts of Warden Hatch and allowed by the Board and paid out of the Treasury. The warden received a salary of $2,000 per annum, with keep for himself and family. He was furnished splendid apartments and fared sumptuously every day. He furnished his table with all the necessities as well as the luxuries of life. His salary and expenses for 1889 and 1890 footed up to the magnificent sum of $7,555.50. I said he had many of the luxuries of life. Let me refer to some of the items charged up as prison expenses:

CIGAR BILL FOR 1889.
January 4, 150 cigars.....	$ 9 45
February 4, 200 Floristas.....	12 50
February 4, 100 Banners.....	5 50
February 8, 150 Floristas.....	9 50
March 9, 150 K. T.'s.....	9 00
April 9, 50 cigars.....	3 75
May 7, 50 cigars.....	4 05
July 4, 50 cigars.....	3 75
August 15, 50 cigars.....	3 50
September 2, 150 cigars.....	8 75
October 3, 100 Key West.....	6 00
October 8, 100 Key West.....	6 00
October 9, 100 Key West.....	6 00
November 5, 100 Key West.....	6 00
December 4, 50 cigars.....	3 00
	$36 45

My friend, Hatch, it appears was not only a great prison reformer, but was also a lover of the beautiful. He was fond of buttonhole bouquets and flowers upon his table. Witness the following bill, allowed by the board and paid out of the treasury:

To J. M. Myers, Florist.....	$12 00
Sept. 1890, to 100 roses (12 cents).....	1 25
Sept. 1890, to 50 Roman Hyacinths.....	1 60
Sept. 1890, to express and cartage.....	4 40
Sept. 13, 1890, to flower seeds for house.....	10 00
Sept. 13, 1890, to 100 assorted roses.....	10 00
Sept. 13, 1890, to express and cartage.....	1 30
Aug. 15, 1890, to pansy seeds.....	60
Total.....	$31 15
To Alex. Brown.....
April 10, 1890, to flower pots, dirt, and potting plants.....	$ 5 00
Bought of Peter Henderson & Co.....
March 6, 1890, bulbs and flower seeds.....	12 00
Bought of Isbell & Co.....
Feb. 6, 1890, to 8 papers flower seeds.....	1 00
Bought of A. A. Mosier.....
Jan. 4, 1890, 50 assorted tulips.....	2 00
Jan. 4, 1890, 50 Hyacinths.....	3 00
Jan. 4, 1890, 4 Chinese Azalias.....	7 00
Jan. 4, 1890, 4 Camellias.....	7 00
Jan. 4, 1890, 3 Marchall Neil roses.....	2 00
	$39 00

I also find in the warden's account allowed and paid by the state some extraordinary items as the following:

1890, washing for Warden.....	$47 80
10 bamboo fish poles.....	53 00
1 rubber coat for Warden.....	2 00
1 guitar and strings.....	12 00
1 lunch basket for wife.....	1 00

UPPER PRISON EXPENSES.

Paid Warden's House.....	$4,026 08
Support of Convicts.....	2,672 49

You can observe that it costs $1,353.59 more to support the warden's house than to support from 100 to 200 convicts. The warden had the best of everything, as his bills indicate. Here are some of the items:

July 3, 106 quarts strawberries @ 12 1/2 c.....	$ 13 25
Aug. 19, 5 bouquets @ 50c.....	2 50
July 26, 1 croquet set.....	4 74
Sept. 6, 6 melons.....	2 35
" " 2 dozen peaches @ 60c.....	1 20
Nov. 30, 1 basket pears and grapes.....	1 75
Nov. 30, 1 barrel sweet cider.....	5 80
Peaches, plums, pears, apricots, raspberries, apple butter, strawberries, cherries, for one month.....	138 12
Dec. 12, China silk and ribbons.....	2 85
April 1, 3 convict dogs.....	98 25

I have visited some of these institutions; I have sat at the warden and superintendent's table, groaning under the weight of the luxuries of life; I have used their silver service; I have witnessed the formality and style paid for at the expense of the people; I have thought at such times, 'How I would like to be rich and provided for by the public.' Think of it, my farmer friend, as you trudge along the lane smoking your corn cob pipe filled with cheap tobacco of the hard earned money wrung from you by taxation to purchase Key West cigars for your public servants. Think of it you patron senators, sent here by the people in the interest of reform, when you go home and sit upon the plow beam to rest your weary limbs while the tired ox lolls in the furrow as you turn the dandelion and the daisy beneath the sod. Think of the perfume wafted from the warden's table exhaled from cut roses at 12 cents each, paid for out of the crops you raise and contributed by way of taxation to the enjoyment of your public servants. Think of it, old farmer, as at morn and eve you watch the lark spreading its dewey pinions heavenward, while the hillside echoes her Eolian music; think of the soft noet of the guitar, trummed by the unsolled fingers of the warden, all at your expense.

Ponder over it, you dusty and smoke begrimed mechanic, covered with the sweat of ill paid labor, of the luxuries paid for out of the tax levied upon your little homestead to buy canes and bamboo fish poles for public officers to sport with at your expense."

Let our farmer readers, our laboring men and our business men consider carefully the situation.

Let them reflect that while the tax for these luxuries will not be very burdensome to each tax payer, yet it is wrong in every feature, and forms a portion of that policy of expenses in minor matters, that tends to make a large aggregate, and to the titles wrung from the people.

If wardens want fish poles, dogs, lunch baskets, roses or strawberries, let them pay for them, as do farmers, mechanics and other tax payers.—Adrian press.

STATE NEWS.

The left lower jaw of William Syrlis, of near Big Rapids, has been removed to eradicate a cancer caused by smoking short clay pipes.

A small boy with a string, one end of which was afire, ran into the barn of Dr. VanHorn, in Rives, Jackson, county, while the doctor was putting out his horse. The lighted string set fire to the straw and the barn burned. The doctor was nearly suffocated and badly burned.

Two convicts escaped from the Ionia house of correction, Tuesday, by scaling the wall.

Married.

Dr. A. B. Nellis, assistant in the homoeopathic hospital, and Miss Jessie Stucky, of this city, were married on June 24 at the residence of the bride's parents, by Rev. J. W. Bradshaw.

Miss Rose R. Rommel, of Ypsilanti, became Mrs. William W. White, also of Ypsilanti, on Thursday, of last week.

Howard Stephenson, the Ypsilanti insurance agent, was married June 24, in Kokoma, Ind., to Miss Jean Barkalow. They are spending their honeymoon in Ypsilanti.

Morris F. Lantz and Miss Julia Kennedy were married by Rev. Fr. Kelly, last Tuesday evening. A reception was given them at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Kennedy, and they left on the night train for Chicago and a two weeks' trip.

Married, at the Catholic church, Tuesday morning, June 30, William Howard and Eliza Hayden. A very pleasant reception was given to a large number of friends in the evening by the bride's parents, at their residence. Guests were present from Detroit and Saginaw. The presents were the admiration of all. They were numerous, valuable, and above all useful.

L. D. Hubbard and Miss Jennie Monroe were married last evening at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Monroe. Their wedding trip extends as far as Duluth.

Prof. F. G. Novy, assistant professor of hygiene and bacteriology in the University, and a young man of brilliant promise, was married to Miss Grace Garwood, last Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Dr. V. D. Garwood. Dr. and Mrs. Novy left on the evening train for a trip around the lakes. They will reside on Lawrence street.

At the residence of J. W. Knight, on William street, Tuesday evening, occurred the marriage of his daughter, Miss Adelaide Knight, to Fred C. Clark, instructor in history and political economy in the University. Rev. J. W. Bradshaw officiated at the ceremony. Only relatives and a few of the most intimate friends were present. The wedding was a very pretty one. They left on the night train for the east.

Prof. Paul C. Freer and Miss Agnes A. Leas were married Tuesday morning, in the Unitarian church, by Rev. J. T. Sunderland. A hundred wedding guests were present, many being from abroad. Dr. and Mrs. Freer have the best wishes of very many friends.
