Emperor William, of Germany, on His Travels.

NEARLY A POTATO FAMINE IN GERMANY.

Attempted Assassination of the French President—Cannibalism in Brazil—Mrs. Langtry Will Act No More.

The Never Failing Remedy.

Those who continue to suffer with contagious blood disease, after having gone through the usual course of treatment, have one consolation: They can fall back on the never-failing specific, S. S. S. Sometimes they suffer from the disease itself, and sometimes from the effects of the treatment itself.

So many people are like the firecracker; they can only make a big splurge and noise in the world at the expense of being hopelessly busted.

All are entitled to the best that their money will buy, so every family should have at once, a bottle of the best family remedy, Syrup of Figs, to cleanse the system when constive or bilious.

A Vermont man has been wandering away from home for two months with his mind entirely blank.

Specimen Cases.

It will cost you nothing and will surely do you good, if you have a Cough, Cold, or any trouble with Throat, Chest or Lungs.

Don't take it for granted that all patent medicines are alike. They are not. Let the years of uninterrupted success and the tens of thousands of cured and happy men and women, place Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription on the side of the comparison to which they belong.

NO OTHER EQUALS OR APPROACHES IT IN LEAVENING STRENGTH, PURITY, AND WHOLESOMENESS.

NEVER A FAILURE.

The Red River Valley of Minnesota and North Dakota has never had a failure of crops.

It produced 30,000,000 bushels of wheat besides other cereals in 1890. Farms can be had on the crop plan, or long time cash payments.

It is not an uncommon thing to pay for a farm from the proceeds of one crop.

It has all of the advantages of an old country in the shape of school, church, market, postal & railway facilities and all the chances of a new country in the way of cheap lands, rich soil, and increase in values.

It is one of the most fertile and promising regions in America not yet fully occupied.

In the rush to the far west, however, this rich valley has been overlooked.

It has room for a million more people. Write to F. I. WHITNEY, St. Paul, Minn. for particulars. Publications sent free.

THE SONG OF THE "No. 9."

My dress is of fine polished oak,
As rich as the finest fur cloak,
And for handsome design
You just should see mine—
No. 9, No. 9.

I'm beloved by the poor and the rich,
For both I impartially stitch;
In the cabin I shine,
In the mansion I'm fine—
No. 9, No. 9.

I never get surly nor tired,
With zeal I always am fired;
To hard work I incline,
For rest I ne'er pine—
No. 9, No. 9.

Lam easily purchased by all,
With instalments that monthly do fall;
And when I am thine,
Then life is benign—
No. 9, No. 9.

To the Paris Exposition I went,
Upon getting the Grand Prize intent;
I left all behind,
The Grand Prize was mine—
No. 9, No. 9.

At the Universal Exposition of 1889, at Paris, France, the best sewing machines of the world, including those of America, were in competition. They were passed upon by a jury composed of the best foreign mechanical experts, two of whom were the leading sewing machine manufacturers of France. This jury, after exhaustive examination and tests, adjudged that the Wheeler & Wilson machines were the best of all, and awarded that company the highest prize offered—the GRAND PRIZE—giving other companies only gold, silver and bronze medals.

The French government, as a further recognition of superiority, decorated Mr. Nathaniel Wheeler, president of the company, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor—the most prized honor of France.

The No. 9, for family use, and the No. 12, for manufacturing uses, are the best in the world to-day.

And now, when you want a sewing machine, if you do not get the best it will be your own fault. Ask your sewing machine dealer for the No. 9 Wheeler & Wilson machine. If he doesn't keep them, write to us for descriptive catalogue and form. Also write in in an unoccupied territory. WHEELER & WILSON MFG. CO. Chicago, Ill.

The Ann Arbor Argus.

S. W. BEAKES, EDITOR AND PROP.

TERMS.—$1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

FRIDAY, JULY 17, 1891.

Vice-President Morton is the only living man who has been vice-president of the United States.

Chicago raises $2,131,897 from liquor licenses and $590,342 from other licenses. New York raises $1,441,029 from liquor licenses and $422,664 from other licenses. Philadelphia raises $610,415 from liquor licenses. Thirteen cities raise over $10,000,000 by license taxation.

The pensioning business in this country is slightly overdone. For instance there is ex-Senator Blair, who was paid $5,000 a year for being a very mediocre senator, exceedingly good pay for such a man as Blair. The New Hampshire legislature grew tired of him and elected another senator, Harrison, at once, appointed Blair Minister to China. Blair was personally distasteful to the Chinese diplomats and China, as she had a right to do, declined to receive him. Does Harrison appoint another minister? Not at all, for to do so would deprive Blair of the lucrative salary of $1,000 a month. Hence Blair stays in this country, frequents summer resorts and draws a salary of $1,000 a month for doing nothing. Blair has never done anything for his country that he has not been amply paid for. Why should he be pensioned off now that he is a broken down politician.

THE SEWERAGE QUESTION.

The sewerage question is one which demands the fullest and most complete investigation. It is one on which no one man or set of men should arrogate to themselves perfect knowledge. It is one on which the public needs to be informed thoroughly and any proposition looking toward a sewerage system must necessarily be subjected to honest criticism. The mere fact that such a proposition is criticised is no sign whatever that the critic is opposed to sewerage. If an honest criticism occurs to a resident of this city and he fails to give utterance to it, he is lacking in at least one of the elements of good citizenship. When sewerage does come it will be after many bright minds have given utterance to their honest opinions on the subject. And sewerage will come in time. There is no doubt about that.

This is said because the chairman of the joint sewerage committee at its recent meeting saw fit to denounce the city attorney as an enemy of sewerage because he suggested a legal question which should be settled before sewers were built and the Washtenaw Times more than hinted the same charge. The committee very justly decided to investigate the point raised. Until that point is settled to the satisfaction of the city, no sewerage will ever be voted. Had the committee seen fit to reject the investigation into the effect of sewerage upon the Huron river and as to what suits for damages might lie against the city in case sewerage was emptied in it, the proposition for sewerage would have been beaten by the people three to one. The members of the committee may be satisfied in their own minds that sewerage will in no ways be detrimental to the river or give rise to a stench that may cause but more disease than the sewers will prevent unless they can give to the public tangible, cogent arguments on that point, the sewerage question will not be settled.

The people pay the taxes. They say whether or not the city will be sewered, and the people think for themselves. The chief value of a report does not lie in the names attached to it, but in the reasoning advanced in it. The people will exercise their right of free speech and free judgment and the only way to pass any public improvement is to consult the people.

The mere fact that a dozen of our best business men should announce themselves in favor of any proposition in which the whole people are interested will not carry such a proposition unless the people understand it clearly enough to see that it is for their good.

Each and every citizen is directly interested in the question. And if any questions looking for fuller information are asked, it is no sign that the questioner is not a good citizen or in favor of sewerage.

In the opinion of the Argus the city of Ann Arbor must be sewered within the next few years. When sewered, it should be done by the city and not by any private company. Sewers should be under direct and absolute control of the city, and a private company has no such interest in preserving the good health of the city, as has the city itself. If it is conceded that the city should build sewers, before this is done the question of where the sewage shall be emptied is a proper one to answer. Will the Huron River carry it off? Will it pollute the water of the river? As a matter of law, a city has no more right to pollute the waters of a river than has an individual. If it will what damage suits may the city expect? This was the question sprung by the city attorney who suggested to the joint committee that if the river would be polluted, it would be cheaper for the city to acquire that right by proceedings in chancery, than to stand damage suits afterward.

If the Huron River is sufficient to carry off the sewage, the plan of Prof. Greene, in the opinion of this paper, is an excellent one. It has been widely commended and was drawn by a thoroughly competent man.

Considerable more might be said concerning the various plans for raising money to put in sewerage, but the first question to be settled is that concerning the Huron river.

SOMETHING FOR THE MAJOR TO EXPLAIN.

Seldom has the month of July been ushered in with the wool market in a more depressed and unsettled state, says the American Wool Reporter of this week. Prices in some grades are lower than they have been in years; it is difficult to sell any large line of wool except at concessions; Ohio and Michigan fleeces have been a drag on the market for the past six months, steadily declining; and high tariff laws, as far as wool is concerned, "have been demonstrated to be a delusion and a snare, deservedly involving those who were the most instrumental in securing their enactment."

So much for what has actually followed the imposition of higher duties on wool. This should be compared with the expectations of those who made the law. Major McKinley, as chairman of the committee on ways and means, in reporting his tariff bill to the House, said with reference to the higher duties proposed for raw wool:

"The United States ought to produce all of the wool it consumes, and will with adequate encouragement and defensive legislation. The amount of wool consumed in all forms and for all purposes is nearly, if not quite, 600,000,000 pounds annually." (Of which he said in 1889 some 245,000,000 pounds were grown in the United States and 350,000,000 imported in the raw or manufactured state.) "There seems to be no doubt that with the protection afforded by the increased duties recommended in the bill, the farmers of the United States will be able at an early day to supply substantially all of the home demand, and the great benefit such production will be to the agricultural interests of the country cannot be estimated. The production of 690,000,000 pounds of wool would require about 100,000,000 sheep, or an addition of more than 100 per cent to the present number."

Mr. McKinley will have abundant opportunity in the Ohio campaign this fall to explain to the Ohio wool-growers the reason why the real results of the higher duties have fallen so far short of the expected results, and what he has to say will be awaited with interest. Instead of making the industry so profitable as to invite an increase of 100 per cent in the number of sheep as predicted, the higher duties after a trial of nine months have left the home market so depressed, demand so light and prices so low that a slaughter of Ohio and Michigan sheep greater even than that which followed the tariff of 1867 seems imminent. At the same time importations of foreign wool have been exceptionally heavy and their prices higher in the home market. A day of reckoning is close at hand for the false prophets who have been leading the Ohio wool-growers so long astray.—Springfield Republican.

NEXT YEAR.

"Yer pays yer money, and yer takes yer choice."—Old Showman.

"The field! The field! What am I offered for the field?"—Joe Burt.

The democratic party is not so poorly off for a presidential ticket next year as some people affect to think. An affirmative and irresistible issue in the reform of the revenue system, and the reduction of the war tariff to a peace-footing we have to stand on, and, likewise, a negative, but equally irresistible issue in the excesses of the last republican congress, and in the ulterior plans and purposes of the republican party. But a ticket! What about a ticket?

If those who make themselves unhappy on this point would stop and think, they would discover that this is not so grave a matter, for personalities have never cut a very great figure in our national politics. The most popular American who ever lived, Henry Clay, was beaten by a man who had not been thought of for president twenty-four hours before he was nominated, and who had no personal entity at all. The most popular and magnetic of our modern politicians, James G. Blaine, was beaten by Grover Cleveland, who, whatever else were his virtues at the time he was elected, neither magnetism nor popularity could be said to belong to them. The individuality of the strongest man gets rather thin by the time it is flattened out over the whole country. Pierce, Lincoln, Hayes and Garfield are living examples of successful afterthought nominees, to say nothing of Tilden.

When it comes to a final case of necessity, we may be quite sure that "the Lord will provide," as He always has done. In the meantime, let us run over some of the possibilities. Here is a good fat ticket, round and rosy, like Little Buttercup, and safe at both ends:

For President,
GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York.
For Vice-President,
HORACE BOIES, of Iowa.

Or this one:
For President,
GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York.
For Vice-President,
ISAAC P. GRAY, of Indiana.

Or this one:
For President,
GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York.
For Vice-President,
WM. R. MORRISON, of Illinois.

All this, with the understanding that New York is solid for Mr. Cleveland. In the event that it is not, and that in consequence we shall have to leave New York out and seek a candidate elsewhere, we must come West. Here the field is rather speculative than positive, though we have one man, who, next after Mr. Cleveland, embodies all that the democratic party stands for, and embodies it with the first order of ability and a character of sterling integrity.

How would this do:
For President,
JOHN G. CARLISLE, of Kentucky.
For Vice-President,
ROSWELL P. FLOWER, of New York.

Or this:
For President,
JOHN G. CARLISLE, of Kentucky.
For Vice-President,
LEON ABBETT, of New Jersey.

Or this:
For President,
JOHN G. CARLISLE, of Kentucky.
For Vice-President,
THOMAS M. WALLER, of Connecticut.

Or this:
For President,
ARTHUR P. GORMAN, of Maryland.
For Vice-President,
ISAAC P. GRAY, of Indiana.

Or this:
For President,
GEORGE GRAY, of Delaware.
For Vice-President,
ISAAC P. GRAY, of Indiana.

(Hurrah for Gray and Gray!)

It is true that Mr. Carlisle lives at the south end of the Cincinnati and Covington bridge, but he is in no sense a rebel brigadier. He is known from one end of the land to the other as a conservative statesman of transcendent abilities, calm, enlightened and upright, and singularly just in all his mental forces. Nobody can doubt that he would make a good president and give the country a safe, sound, enlightened administration.

But suppose neither Cleveland nor Carlisle is available, how would this do:

For President,
JAMES E. CAMPBELL, of Ohio.
For Vice-President,
LEON ABBETT, of New Jersey.

Or this:
For President,
HORACE BOIES, of Iowa.
For Vice-President,
THOMAS M. WALLER, of Connecticut.

Or this:
For President,
WILLIAM R. MORRISON, of Illinois.
For Vice-President,
ROSWELL P. FLOWER, of New York.

Or this:
For President,
ISAAC P. GRAY, of Indiana.
For Vice-President,
WM. E. RUSSELL, of Massachusetts.

If none of these tickets will answer as a combination, they can be separated, and any one of the vice-presidential suggestions can be advanced to the first place. If we can find nobody in the West—if Campbell is not re-elected in Ohio, nor Boies in Iowa,—and if, in consequence, we have to go East, there is Pattison of Pennsylvania, and Abbott of New Jersey, and Waller of Connecticut. What is the matter with any one of them?

Why, gentlemen, the woods are full of democratic possibilities. Those we have named are not even hid in the bushes. We can see them hourly as they pass to and fro among the sweet midsummer foliage. But there are still others away back in the forest. Provoke us, and we will develop them.—Henry Watterson in the Louisville Courier-Journal.

WHAT THE LEGISLATURE DID.

The Grand Rapids Democrat which has had a very lively Lansing correspondent this year, gives the following resume of the legislative work this year.

The Legislature has adjourned and the state can congratulate itself on much good work accomplished. Many abuses and unjust laws have been rectified and much legislation of great interest to the people has been enacted.

The Legislature meets, according to the provisions of the state constitution, at 12 o'clock noon, upon the first Wednesday in January of the odd years. Two years ago the Legislature assembled January 2, and the day of final adjournment was July 3. This year the Legislature met January 7, and yesterday, July 3, is the day of final adjournment. The members of the Legislature of 1889 drew pay for one hundred and eighty-three days' service, while the members of the Legislature of 1891 drew pay for but one hundred and seventy-nine days. The session of 1887 was one hundred and eighty-one days in length and hence the democratic Legislature, considering the increase of state business, the multiplication of state institutions and the assuming of control of state affairs after a long republican reign, has made a most excellent record. The session of 1889 must still remain the longest on record, while that of 1887 must occupy second place.

The general election law, incorporating the Australian system, is conceded to meet the demands of the people for greater security from corruption at the polls. The Miner electoral bill is one of the most important measures of the session. The re-districting bills were fair, honest measures.

The Tax bill is an excellent measure. Under it the taxes will be distributed so that the working people will not have to bear unjust burdens. The Richardson bill provides that the state shall receive about one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars more than formerly from the railroads. In this connection, it should be said that Representative Richardson has been one of the ablest and most efficient members of the Legislature. In making the new tax law, the Legislature has been mindful of the fact that the granting of special privileges to any class affords just cause of complaint to the masses. The California system of the taxation of real estate on which there is a mortgage encumbrance has been adopted. The majority has kept its pledge on this important subject.

The appropriations have not been lessened to a degree to injure the usefulness of the state's institutions. At the same time, in several instances, they have been decreased judiciously. With the increase in the population of the state, there must be an increase in the state's expenses. At the same time it must be borne in mind that there is a proportionate increase in the wealth of the state and in its ability to meet these expenses.

The tax provisions, for 1891 and 1892, covered by the enactments of the session are as follows.

1891.	1892.
App'ns. with tax claim.....$867,801.62	App'ns. with tax claim.....$691,776.62
General purposes.....552,383.00	General purposes.....718,550.00
Total.....$1,420,274.62	Total.....$1,410,326.62
Total for two years.....$2,830,601.24
It is significant to compare these figures with those of 1889 and '90:
Tax levy, '89.....$1,821,520.80
Tax levy, '90.....1,263,744.50
Total.....$3,085,265.30

The consolidation of the state boards is, on the whole, in the line of economy. There were fifteen ex-officio and thirty official boards, the latter comprising more than one hundred different members. By consolidation, clerical force will be reduced, and, it is hoped, more efficient administration secured.

The character of the membership of the legislature will compare favorably with that of any previous session. In every session of the legislature there are members who should not have been elected. This is true of the session just closed; and the fact does not apply to any one party, but to the legislature as a whole. But, taken together, the membership was very creditable in point of character and ability.

In a review, however brief, of the work of the legislature, due credit should be given to Gov. Winans for his wise, prudent and able course. He has manifested a firmness of a most commendable order, and always in the line of his honest convictions of duty and the well-being of the state.

The Courier should read the constitution of the state of Michigan. Governor Winans cannot receive any extra compensation for being an ex-officio member of a board. He never expected to receive it.

They must have a queer way of courting at Grass Lake, the News of which place says:

It isn't just the thing for callow youngsters to bill and coo and play at turtle dove in the rear pews of our churches on Sunday evenings. Better adjourn to the front gate and have it out there.

A conservative estimate puts the county in debt $35,000 by the time taxes for this year are collected. That is an amount equal to nearly a year's expenditure and the overdraft has been caused by the raising of an insufficient amount each year to pay the current expenses of the county.

Miss Alice Gorman, who for more than four years has been connected with the Chelsea postoffice, severed her connection with that institution last Saturday. Miss Gorman made a most efficient assistant in the office, where she won the esteem of all the patrons by her courtesy and her accommodating ways. She was deputy-postmistress under Postmaster McKone and first assistant under Postmaster Judson, and in both positions she made an enviable record—one of the best officials the postoffice ever had. We offer congratulations for the past and hearty good wishes for her future.—Chelsea Herald.

Last Friday afternoon, during the thunder storm, Patrick Noon, who lives in Manchester township, took refuge from the storm in one of his barns. An unusually sharp crash of heaven's artillery caused him to investigate and he soon discovered that lightning had struck his barn and that the building was on fire. He had two large barns which were connected together and the flames soon enveloped them both so that he had difficulty to save a horse. The barns contained forty-five tons of hay, about fifty bushels of wheat, and 115 bushels of oats, all of which were burned. Mr. Noon estimated his loss at $1,500, on which he had $800 insurance in the Farmers' Mutual—Tecumseh News, July 9.

TO TROT FOR $10,000.

THE STAR EVENT OF THE YEAR IN THE HORSE WORLD.

The Great Merchants' and Manufacturers' Stake Race at Detroit, July 21.—Speculations as to its Outcome.—The Cracks of the Trotting Turf Will Compete.—Some of the Probable Starters

The subject which just now engages the attention of all votaries of the trotting turf is the coming contest for the Merchants' and Manufacturers' stake of $10,000, which takes place at Detroit during the week beginning July 20.

For the third annual renewal of the Merchants' and Manufacturers', there were thirteen subscribers when the stake closed last April, all of whom have made good the payments due to date.

The clever Kansas City trainer, Bob Stewart, again has his eye on the big prize, and if there is truth in the stories told of the speed that Ryland T. is showing in his work at Terre Haute, the Missouriian may be able to repeat his victory of a year ago.

A starter that looks to be "in it" from first to last is Honest George, named by A. J. Haws, of Pennsylvania. This horse made a record of 2:24 in the sixth heat of a race last week. He is fast and a stayer.

Another eastern entry that will be strongly fancied is Lakewood Prince, owned by Vandergrift & Odell, of New York. His record is only 2:25, but he seems to have a habit of winning his races no matter how fast the time may happen to be.

Others that will probably be named are, Nutting King, 2:25; a very fast Kentucky stallion; Mattie H., 2:24, likewise from the blue grass region; Clara G., 2:28, owned by J. I. Case, of Wisconsin; Bismont, 2:24, from the stable of Gov. Harris, of Chicago, and Michigan's representative, Sir Arthur, the property of G. H. Hammond.

At present the remaining starters cannot be foretold with any certainty, but race-goers are already assured of seeing thirteen of the pick and choice of the whole country start for the splendid prize on the second day of the Blue Ribbon Meeting, Tuesday, July 21.

Wheat Prospects. A reliable eastern paper contains the following interesting statistical information concerning the wheat supply:

The first bushel of new wheat brought into the eastern markets sold for $1 a bushel. It is quite probable that the European demand will be strong enough to make nearly a dollar the ruling price on the western farm, in spite of the large supply of from 525,000,000 to 575,000,000 bushels which is expected.

Via the West Michigan to Petoskey. Commencing with the new schedule of the Chicago & West Michigan and Detroit, Lansing and Northern in effect June 21st., the line of steamers between Traverse City and Charlevoix, Petoskey, Harbor Springs, Mackinac Island and St. Ignace will commence operations.

The ride down the beautiful Grand Traverse Bay is one of the pleasant features of this route to the northern country and one much in favor by tourists. Plenty of time is given at Traverse City for breakfast at the Park Place, favorably known to all who have visited the Traverse Bay region.

Notport is reached at 9:20 a. m., Charlevoix at 11:30 a. m., Petoskey 1:30 p. m., Harbor Springs 2:00 p. m., Mackinac Island 7:15 p. m. and St. Ignace 8:00 p. m. in time for connection with the D. S. S. & A. Ry. for Marquette and points beyond.

Through sleeping cars will be run from Chicago and Grand Rapids to Traverse City, good connection being made at Grand Rapids by the train leaving Detroit at 6:00 p. m., via the Detroit, Lansing & Northern. Parlor car in this train from Detroit to Grand Rapids. For further information regarding rates, etc., apply to any ticket agent.

Patent medicines differ—One has reasonableness, another has not. One has reputation—another has not. One has confidence, born of success—another has only "hopes."

Don't take it for granted that all patent medicines are alike. They are not.

Let the years of uninterrupted success and the tens of thousands of cured and happy men and women, place

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription on the side of the comparison they belong.

And there isn't a state or territory, no—nor hardly a country in the world, whether its people realize it or not, but have men and women in them that're happier because of their discovery and their effects.

Think of this in health. Think of it in sickness. And then think whether you can afford to make the trial if the makers can afford to take the risk to give your money back as they do if they do not benefit or cure you.
