THE DEDICATION OF THE NEW CHURCH.

The Big Catholic Fair Next Week—A Tribute to Judge Cooley—The Cooking School—Circuit Court Proceedings, etc.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.

The 18th annual meeting of the W. F. M. society of the Adrian district will be held at the Methodist church in this city, Oct. 28th and 29th, the opening session being held at 2 p. m., Wednesday, the 28th. A good program has been arranged, and the ladies extend a cordial invitation to all missionary workers and friends to be present. On Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock a children's meeting will be conducted by Dr. Metta Howard, to which the children of the Sunday schools and public schools are invited. Dr. Howard is a returned missionary from Corea, and will have much of interest to tell concerning "the land of the rising sun." She will also deliver an address in the evening. On Thursday evening, Rev. Camden M. Coburn will deliver an address. Subject: "The Romance of Egyptian Missions," a narrative of personal travel and experiences.

A Deserved Tribute.

The Review of Reviews for October says:

"The resignation of the Hon. Thomas M. Cooley from the Interstate Railway Commission, the chairmanship of which he has held from the establishment of that body, will be widely regretted. Judge Cooley has held a unique position, not only by virtue of his peculiar official authority, but also in the estimation of the people. The Interstate Commission was created as a compromise between the great corporate transportation interests of the country and the powerful hostility of those interests that had been gaining ground for two decades. Both sides had almost unbounded confidence in the wisdom, knowledge and absolute integrity of Judge Thomas M. Cooley, of Michigan, and his appointment to the headship of the commission was entirely satisfactory. The post has been one of immense labor, and of difficulties that might well have appalled the most redoubtable administrator who ever held an office. It is not easy to sum up the work of the commission thus far. But it is not too much to say that since its existence began there has grown steadily the moderate view that publicity of rates and of statistics, abandonment of arbitrary discriminations, whether between persons or places, and a reasonable but constant supervision and regulation under the laws of Congress and the States, is better for the public than any attempt at complete public ownership and operation, and better for the railway companies than unrestricted license and competition. Judge Cooley, more than any other man, perhaps, is to be credited with the growth of this moderate sentiment."

Still Forging Ahead.

The records in Secretary Wade's office show that the University of Michigan is still the most popular educational institution in America. The number already registered is 55 more than the total number of names contained in the calendar last year, and this number will be increased nearly 200 before the next calendar is issued. The number entered in the different departments up to six o'clock last evening, was as follows:

Literary	1182
Law	588
Medical	396
Dental	179
Pharmacy	83
Homeopathic	77
Total	2,475

After a corresponding date last year 198 entries were made and should the same number enter in each department as last year, the roll will be as follows:

Literary	1276
Law	659
Medical	383
Dental	191
Pharmacy	82
Homeopathic	82
Total	2673

There is little reason to suppose that fully as many will not enter from are that this number will be increased instead of diminished. The above figures will not be far out of the way. Losses by withdrawals and double entries will bring the total number of names in the calendar from 25 to 40 less, and even with this the University will stand about 300 ahead of any other institution in the country.

The Catholic Fair.

Everything is being done to make the Catholic fair, which opens in the rink next Tuesday evening, a success and there is little doubt but that it will be, judging from the interest being shown. Our citizens generally, irrespective of denomination or creed, are showing great liberality towards the fair, and generous contributions of every kind, from flour to watches and even a carriage, has been made by our business men and citizens. The exhibits will be well worth seeing. The fair opens on Tuesday and continues until Friday evening of the following week. The proceeds are to be devoted to the building fund of St. Thomas' parish, and it is expected will be used towards paying for a new church within the next year.

An innovation will be introduced in the shape of a musical program to be rendered each evening. Numerous soloists and musical organizations have tendered their services to the committee, each giving an evening's programme. Among those are J. E. Harkins, Otto's band, the Minnis orchestra, the Business Men's quartette, the Lyra singing society and the Ann Arbor Banjo Club. Bishop Foley will be present one evening during the fair and will deliver an address.

The rink will be tastefully decorated and the display of wares will be on sale at five booths, presided over by young ladies of the parish. One booth, the U. of M., will be decorated in the University colors. The chairmen of the different committees having the booths in charge, are as follows: No. 1, the U. of M., Mrs. Ambrose Kearney; No. 2, Miss Smith; No. 3, Miss Clancy; No. 4, Mrs. Martin Seabolt; No. 5, refreshments, Mrs. D. J. Ross. The general committee having the fair in charge is composed of the following gentlemen: D. Rinsey, A. Kearney, B. St. James, E. Duffy and Martin Seabolt.

The Cooking School.

The cooking school to be held in Harris hall in this city under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, November 2 to 11, promises to be very popular, the ladies of all religious denominations signifying their intention of joining it. The Ravensna, (Ohio), Republican, where Mrs. Ewing has been conducting a class says:

"Mrs. Ewing was 'born and raised on a farm.' Much of her time since has been spent in town and city. In 1880 she opened a training school of cookery in Chicago. In 1883 she was elected to the professorship of domestic economy in the Iowa Agricultural college. In 1887 she resigned to organize and take charge of a similar school in connection with the Purdue University of Indiana. In 1890 she took charge of the School of Household Science in Kansas City, where she now lives. For several seasons Mrs. Ewing has had charge of the same line of work at Chatauqua. Her services are in constant demand for lectures in all parts of the country, and her engagements are never less than six months in advance. Besides this she has published two volumes, one entitled 'Cooking and Castle Building,' and the other, 'Cooking Manual.' She is a frequent contributor to the leading journals and magazines."

"Mrs. Ewing is a lady of pleasant address. She has been conducting a series of lessons in the old Universalist church, which somebody has dubbed 'Chapel Hall.' In it she has a gas range and articles needed. She prepares her bread, meats, salads, soups, or whatever is the subject in hand, before her class, explaining the chemical process and giving all the reasons. The whole lecture is carried on in a conversational tone. Her class has been more than pleased. Several have said that the one lecture on bread-making was in itself alone worth all the course cost. Mrs. Ewing has been very much pleased with her class here. She is reported to have stated that the management of the Ravensna class had been careful, economical, and the most perfect of any she had ever had. This is the first school of the kind ever conducted in Ravensna. It has been a success. Those not attending do not know what they have missed."

Dedicated to Christian Work.

Sunday afternoon the handsome edifice of the Church of Christ was formally dedicated with appropriate ceremonies. The church, located on S. University avenue, is one of the many handsome pieces of architecture of which Ann Arbor may well feel proud. The front is built of stone and shingle, pleasing in design, while the rear portion is of brick. The auditorium room is nearly square, with a rostrum on the south end, and has a seating capacity of about 600. In front is a large alcove, which may be separated from the church proper by large doors, and used as a Sunday school or meeting room. In the rear, on either side of the pulpit are retiring rooms. The whole is well lighted, properly ventilated and tastefully decorated.

Before the hour set for the exercises the church and the alcove were crowded, Sunday afternoon, the building not being near large enough to accommodate those wishing to attend and many were unable to gain admission. A special train on the Michigan Central brought a party of 230 from the Christian church in Detroit to assist in the dedication. The exercises were carried out according to the program published in the Argus last week, each of the pastors of the Evangelical churches in the city taking part.

The dedication address was delivered by Rev. B. B. Tyler, of New York, an eloquent and forcible speaker. He first considered the Christian church and the efforts for Christian union. Secondly, the present condition of the church and how it came about and the present desire of reunion. Thirdly, he discussed the several plans suggested to bring about this union of Christendom. He enumerated the various plans. First—Submission, which he termed the Catholic plan, and being very simple. Secondly, the federation plan. Co-operation in common work as missions, etc. Thirdly, consolidation, or the Episcopal plan, which he rejected as thoroughly impractical, as he did not believe in an historical episcopate. Fourthly, restoration, going back to the plans of the apostles. The Christian church always favored the latter plan. The only union it named was a union in Christ, simple faith in Christ as the son of God, the Redeemer, that all needed. Other matters were of minor importance.

In closing the last head of his discourse he prophesied that in the future there should be in some form or other an united church. From present indications wonderful progress was being made, such being bible societies, tract societies and Y. M. C. A.'s. Mrs. Maria Jameson, of Indianapolis, gave a historical sketch of the work of erecting the building. The church is a mission of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions and was erected through their efforts. The building and furnishings cost $17,000, the entire sum having been paid before the dedication, leaving the building free from debt.

Pres. Angell and Rev. A. S. Carman, secretary of the Ministerial association, of Ann Arbor, welcomed the new church to fellowship and gave them God speed. To these words of welcome Mrs. O. A. Burgess, of Indianapolis, Ind., president of the C. W. B. M., responded in a touching manner.

Ammonia and alum are the most common adulterants used in the manufacture of baking powders. The Government report shows that a large percentage of the baking powders on the market contain either one or the other, or both these pernicious drugs.

What woman would use an ammonia or alum baking powder, if she knew it? Such powders not only undermine the health, but ammonia gives to the complexion a sallow or blotched appearance. The presence of ammonia or alum in a baking powder, however, can easily be detected.

To Detect Ammonia.—Mix one heaping teaspoonful of baking powder with one teaspoonful of water in a tin cup; boil thoroughly for a few moments, stir to prevent burning, and if ammonia is present you can smell it in the rising steam. Or, place a can of the suspected powder top down on a hot stove for a minute or two, then take off the cover and smell.

To Detect Alum.—Alum powder can be tested by putting a couple of teaspoonfuls of the powder in a glass of cold water. If no effervescence, that is bubbling or simmering, takes place, condemn the powder, and return it at once.

Some alum powders, however, like the "Calumet," "Bon Bon," "Chicago Yeast," etc., contain phosphates in combination with alum, and with these brands the following test is simple and sure:

Take one-half teaspoonful of baking powder in lid of say half-pound can; char thoroughly over a strong alcohol flame, a good gas jet, or red hot coals. After charring (that is, burning until the whole mass is black) add a teaspoonful of water and place a bright piece of silver coin in the solution. Stir for one minute, then take out the silver. If the powder prove a cream of tartar powder the coin will be bright; if an alum powder it will have sulphur stains.

Now pour a little vinegar into the lid and smell the fumes. Alum powders give off sulphuretted hydrogen, which may be detected by its foul odor.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Trescott are keepers of the government light house at Sand Beach, Mich., and are blessed with a daughter, four years old. Last April she was taken down with Measles, followed with a dreadful cough and turning into a fever. Doctors at home and at Detroit treated her, but in vain, she grew worse rapidly, until she was a mere "handful of bones."—Then she tried Dr. King's New Discovery and after the use of two and a half bottles, was completely cured. They say Dr. King's New Discovery is worth its weight in gold, yet you may get a trial bottle free at the drug stores of Eberbach & Son, Ann Arbor, and Geo. Haussler, Manchester.

Resolutions of Respect.

The following resolutions were adopted at the regular meeting of the Maccabees, Friday night, on the death of Sir Knight George J. Kuebler:

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty God, our Great Commander, to call from our midst our beloved brother, Sir Knight George J. Kuebler, in the prime of manhood, therefore be it

Resolved, That while we must submit to the inevitable, we deeply mourn our brother's almost sudden departure, and that Arbor tent, K. O. T. M., deeply sympathizes with the widow and family in their great bereavement. And further be it

Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, and that the same be spread upon the records of the Tent, and that they be published in the city papers and the Michigan Maccabee.

Starting an Accident Fund.

Mrs. Israel Hall presented the fire department with a check of $25 on the morning after the recent fire in her house, and the following correspondence ensued:

Ann Arbor, Oct. 5, 1891.

Mrs. Israel Hall:

Dear Madam: Allow me to express thanks for your kind appreciation of our endeavors to perform our duty. Although we do not expect more than our salaries for the payment of which our citizens are taxed. We will, with your kind permission, place the $25 to the credit of the department, to be drawn upon only in case of injury to some member thereof. Thanking you again for the pleasure we derive from the knowledge of your appreciation, we are

Respectfully
ANN ARBOR FIRE DEPARTMENT,
Per FRED SIPLEY, Chief.

To this letter Mrs. Hall replied as follows:

Ann Arbor, Oct. 7, 1891.

Mr. Fred Siple:

Dear Sir: Make any use of the $25 you think best for the benefit of your honorable company. As you allude to the possibility of future accident or injury that may befall some member of your company, I wish to assure you that in time of trouble you may rely upon me to try to help you. I only sent this little present hoping it would furnish ready means to provide a warm breakfast after your hard work. Please accept my heartfelt, grateful thanks to yourself and every member of your company for your timely and efficient aid on the morning of the third of October.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. ISRAEL HALL.

The Choral Union.

As will be seen by the posters on our streets, the Choral Union proposes a great series for the coming season. Madam Bloomfield, the pianist, (a rare genius), the Detroit Philharmonic Club, respecting which Arthur Nikisch, conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, says: "I know of but one quartette equal to it in the country," the Boston Symphony Orchestra, 70 performers, Ordo Musin, the distinguished Belgian Violinist, Whitney Mockridge, Arthur Beresford, Miss Ginevra Johnson Bishop, Mr. Heinrich Meyn, late leading baritone of the Hamburg opera house, Mr. Chas. Knorr; probably are among the list of attractions. The Choral Union will appear in two concerts with orchestra. The "Damnation of Faust," by Hector Berlioz, is one of the most difficult works ever written and illustrates episodes from nation of Faust," with a power far exceeding the opera of Gounod. This concert will require an orchestra of 60 performers, magnificent soloists, and will represent an expenditure exceeding that necessary to give an ordinary series. Associate membership tickets will be sold at the same rate as heretofore, and as the Choral Union series is one of the attractions of Ann Arbor, we are sure our citizens will give it the cordial support it deserves.

Sued for its Repudiated Bonds.

Our neighboring village, Howell, is just now engaged in fighting the payment of its bonds, issued in building the Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Michigan railroad, a fact which will recall various unpleasant memories to Ypsilanti taxpayers. The village of Howell was bonded in May, 1886, for $20,000 to secure the building of the road to Howell. It was through the issuing of the bonds that the road was diverted from South Lyon, which had hitherto been the terminus of the road. Some $4,000 of the bonds were afterwards paid. Afterwards, a number of the leading taxpayers refused to pay their taxes, claiming that the bonds were not collectable. Since then no bonds have been paid and there is now due $16,000 principal and $5,000 accrued interest. The bonds are now in the possession of Olive K. Risley, of Connecticut, who has brought suit in the U. S. circuit court to collect them. The village is informed by its counsel that it has a good defense.

COUNTY.

George Feldkamp has sold his farm in Sharon for $9,000.

There are twenty-five foreign pupils in the Saline school.

Geo. Platt, of Webster, has enlarged his farm by twenty acres.

A special teachers' examination will be held in Manchester, October 30.

Mrs. Thomas Shaw died in York, October 4, aged nearly seventy-five years.

Eli Smith, of Grass Lake, got $1120 for his crop of 8,000 pounds of hops this year.

Mrs. Anna Schaible died in Manchester, October 3, of old age. She was 82 years old.

A cinnamon bear and a couple of wandering Italians visited the western part of the county last week.

Another Methodist minister, Rev. W. H. Bascom, of Sabula, Iowa, has been bounced for driving fast horses.

Rev. E. H. Conrad has resigned the pastorate of the Baptist church in Dexter and will remove to Kalamazoo.

Mrs. Orin Stair, wife of Orin Stair, formerly of Saline, more recently of Lansing, died in Grass Lake, last week.

Some of the Bridgewater farmers have had to drill in their wheat a second time on account of the Hessian fly.

The balloon at the Stockbridge fair last week Wednesday, was destroyed before it went up, much to the disappointment of the crowd.

The new flouring mill at South Lyon, constructed by George T. Smith, as a model mill, has a capacity of 200 barrels of flour per day.

The Chelsea business men closed their stores yesterday afternoon to let their employees have an opportunity to attend the fair.

The officers of the new Ypsilanti creamery association are Henry D. Platt, president; A. R. Graves, secretary; J. Ewart Smith, treasurer; and Azra Fletcher and D. V. Harris, directors.

The Ypsilanti Commercial is gently reminded that not only did the receipts of the recent fair here "pay all premiums and interest on indebtedness," but it also paid all indebtedness, besides building new sheds.

Capt. E. P. Allen, on his return to Ypsilanti from his recent stumping tour in Massachusetts, estimated that the republican majority in that state in November will be 20,000. We chronicle the estimate here that all may know after election whether or not the captain is a good prophet.

The Congregational church in Ypsilanti has just celebrated its tenth anniversary. It started with 60 charter members and has at present 160. The current expenses for the past ten years has been $11,285.03 and the total amount expended including that for the building is $24,175.57. If that sort of thing should be practiced with our local clergy, Grass Lake would soon be without spiritual shepherds. To be specific, Rev. VanAnken owns three nags and takes nobody's dust; Rev. Rupert flies along the highways like a phantom, and Rev. Winston ranges the earth like a locomotive with the throttle wide open. Grass Lake's hair stands on end as it contemplates these clergymanic comets whizzing through space.—Grass Lake News.

A CANARD.

The New York Press Exposes that "Important Bill" Business.

The article credited to the New York Press going the rounds of the papers, in which it is alleged that unfavorable action has been taken in the New York Legislature against the Royal Baking Powder, proves to have been a canard, gotten up and circulated by opposition baking powder makers for purposes quite apparent to everyone.

The New York Press, in exposing the fraud, says: "No such legislation as that stated in this article has ever been had in this State—or in any legislation, to our knowledge." The lie is made from whole cloth. The Press disclaims any responsibility for the publication, and objects to being made a party to such methods adopted by some baking powder manufacturers in their efforts to substitute their goods for others now in use.

The monarchs of Europe never have th courage to come to this republic. They are afraid they may get a new idea.

It Works Wonders.

The tonic and alterative properties of S. S. S. are now widely known, and it enjoys wonderful popularity as a spring medicine. It is as perfectly adapted to the delicate system of a child as it is to that of the adult. It works wonders on those who use it as a tonic, as an alternative, and as a blood purifier. It gives health, strength and heartiness to the sick and feeble. It is adapted to the very young and the very old. It revives renews and builds up the feeble or the broken-down system.

"Thus are the mighty over-thrown," said the favorite base ball fielder, when the fly ball ven t over his head.

Leo Kopf, of Ann Arbor, who was hit on the nose while acting as peace-maker between an Ann Arbor and an Ypsilanti tough, has since come near bleeding to death, but it is now thought will recover. Mr. Kopf is advised to hereafter remove his nose before offering his services as mutual friend.

One dozen eggs will buy more than two pounds of sugar; it formerly took two dozen eggs to buy one pound of sugar. The farmers know that the McKinley bill effected this change.—Ann Arbor Courier.

The reduction on sugar is only two cents per pound. The egg story is rotten. You can't make a farmer swallow it.

Prof. Miller, of the Ypsilanti Normal school, last week, discoursed learnedly to his class on the laws of force and resistance, and then went out and "bucked" a wire fence that he didn't know was there, receiving injuries which laid him up several days. Theory, when accompanied by exemplification, is always convincing.

The Enterprise wonders why the farmers around Manchester do not take to raising celery on their drained marsh lands; then with a ray of light suddenly shon athwart its brain, it adds, "the stalks contain 95 per cent. of water; perhaps that may be the reason why our farmers do not care to handle it." Well perhaps. The Enterprise is published right there, and ought to know best.

A chap who jumped an Ypsilanti board bill, and was jailed for 20 days, told a pitiful tale of the heart-break his Massachusetts father would feel at his son's sad situation; but a letter from the old man declines to do anything for him. The heart of the Massachusetts father may break, but not his pocket book. He evidently knows the young man.

A fellow in Ann Arbor the other day ogled the ladies till reproved, and then wanted to fight the reprover. When he was being dragged to jail by an officer, he offered to treat the cop to a glass of beer if he would let him go. This was the severest test of virtue the body-snatcher had ever experienced, but he overcame temptation and landed his man in jail.

NEVER A FAILURE.

The Red River Valley of Minnesota and North Dakota has never had a failure of crops.

It produced 30,000,000 bushels of wheat besides other cereals in 1890.

Farms can be had on the crop plan, or long time cash payments.

It is not an uncommon thing to pay for a farm from the proceeds of one crop.

It has all of the advantages of an old country in the shape of school, church, market, postal & railway facilities and all the chances of a new country in the way of cheap lands, rich soil, and increase in values.

It is one of the most fertile and promising regions in America not yet fully occupied.

In the rush to the far west, however, this rich valley has been over-looked.

It has room for a million more people. Write to F. I. WHITNEY, St. Paul, Minn. for particulars. Publications sent free.

Upon getting the Grand Prize intent;
I left all behind,
The Grand Prize was mine—
No. 9, No. 9.

At the Universal Exposition of 1889, at Paris, France, the best sewing machines of the world, including those of America, were in competition. They were passed upon by a jury composed of the best foreign mechanical experts, two of whom were the leading sewing machine manufacturers of France. This jury, after exhaustive examination and tests, adjudged that the Wheeler & Wilson machines were the best of all, and awarded that company the highest prize offered—the GRAND PRIZE—giving other companies only gold, silver and bronze medals.

The French government, as a further recognition of superiority, decorated Mr. Nathaniel Wheeler, president of the company, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor—the most prized honor of France.

The No. 9, for family use, and the No. 12, for manufacturing uses, are the best in the world to-day.

And now, when you want a sewing machine, if you do not get the best it will be your own fault. Ask your sewing machine dealer for the No. 9 Wheeler & Wilson machine. TERMS.—$1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1891.

The Hawaiian Islands have a new queen whose name is the simple word, Liliuokalani. The Springfield Republican says it is pronounced "Le-le-oo-o-kah-lah-ne." Our readers will now pronounce it and remember the pronunciation five minutes after they have seen the word.

The Canadian census taken this year, shows an increase of population in the last ten years of less than half a million people, or to state it in terms of the official census, the population of 4,324,810 in 1881 has only grown to 4,823,444 in 1891. In ten years over a million emigrants have landed in Canada. Allowing for the natural increase of population, it must be evident that over a million Canadians have left Canada in the past ten years. They are scattered all over this country. We have them in Ann Arbor and in Washtenaw. Michigan's population has increased in ten years within 50,000 of the increase of the population of Canada, although Canada is larger in area than the United States.

The Ypsilantian last week showed its utter ignorance of Massachusetts politics in a half column editorial stating that the democratic state committee of that state issued a challenge to Henry Cabot Lodge to hold a joint debate with Gov. Russell. As this statement is not correct, the whole of the Ypsilantian article is supremely ridiculous in its exposition of ignorance. If the Ypsilantian will consult Ex-Congressman Allen, who has just returned from Massachusetts, he will doubtless inform them that there are two Massachusetts Russells, for whom the democratic state committee issued a challenge to Allen, the republican candidate for governor, which the republican state committee declined to accept, although Henry Cabot Lodge, who nominated Allen, claimed that in him the republicans had a candidate who would not be afraid to meet the democratic governor. The other Russell is John E. Russell, an able member of Congress, for whom a challenge was issued to Henry Cabot Lodge, and about this challenge the parties are quibbling. The Argus has never had a word to say about Lodge hitherto and the statement that the republican candidate for governor had declined to meet Governor Russell in joint debate does not refer to Lodge as the Ypsilantian states, for Lodge is not the republican candidate for governor, as perhaps the Ypsilantian supposes. Whose brains are "abnormal" dear Ypsilantian?

WHY INGRAIN CARPETS ARE HIGHER

Ingrain carpets are the carpets that most farmers buy. They may be interested in the question of how the McKinley bill affects the price. The American Wool and Cotton Reporter of recent date says:

"The increase in the duty on carpet wools renders it necessary for carpet manufacturers to change the present prices the advance in the price of carpets over a year ago being proportionately not as great as the increase in the duty on the raw material. One effect of the increased duty is seen in the use of more shoddy and hair in the making of ingrain carpets. The increased duty has unquestionably curtailed consumption, and has hurt the manufacture of carpets. If carpet wools were free we should have a better grade of ingrain at a cheaper price. This would lead to an improved demand from those who have to consider the cost even when purchasing an ingrain carpet, and the whole industry would be materially benefited.

Arthur T. Lyman, of the Lowell carpet company writes the Boston Herald:

That the McKinley bill increased the cost of carpets; that the price of carpets were advanced in consequence of the McKinley bill; that they would not have advanced if the McKinley bill had not been passed; and that if wool had been made free the cost and prices of carpets would have gone down are facts that cannot be disputed by any one who understands the carpet manufacture and trade and its condition in 1890 and 1891.

It will be noticed that the Wool and Cotton Reporter recognizes the fact that ingrain carpets can be purchased at the same price per yard as last year, if the purchaser does not care for quality, and points out the reason, more shoddy and less wool is used.

DOUGHERTY'S LECTURE.

Ann Arbor, last Thursday evening, listened to America's greatest living orator, Hon. Daniel Dougherty, of New York, in his lecture on oratory. He was introduced by President Angell as one who illustrated his subject. On the platform with him were Bishop Foley, W. A. Moore and William H. Hughes, of Detroit; Rev. Fr. Goldrick, of Northfield; and Mayor Doty and Rev. Fr. Kelly, of this city. The lecture was one of great power and sustained interest. It was one of the few lectures that cannot be committed to paper. None but a shorthand reporter could catch the felicities of expression. And the Argus does not pretend to report the lecture. A few fragments however may be given.

He who possesses the simple but sublime power to mould an audience to his will, to inspire them with patriotism, fortitude, courage in danger, nerving them for the strife, must be animated by the high resolve never to abuse his gift.

There are those who regard the speaker's language and manner as of little moment. Many prefer the debater, ready on the moment. Still others choose the scholar who has carefully written every sentence and once again there are those who admire the declaimer, fluent in florid sentences. With becoming diffidence, I venture to say none of these are orators. If these are orators the land swarms with them.

By an orator I mean a master, one who has magnetic power, a mind to reason, a heart to feel, a tongue to fire an audience. Comparatively few mortals have had these rare gifts. Few excel in the faculty of speech, which is common to all mankind.

Every speech, the aim of which is to persuade, should be built on the basis of solid common sense, expressed in language and style simple and chaste. These qualities presuppose more than ordinary intellect and a wide range of knowledge. But a style as pure as Addison's and thought rare as Bacon's will not make an orator. In delivery lies the difference between the essayist and the orator. The orator must have an earnest, ardent, an impassioned nature, a nature aglow with ardent thoughts and earnest emotions. A great master has lain down the chief requisite as "action, action, action." I prefer "acting, acting, acting."

In an orator are required the logic of logicians, the learning of philosophers, the diction of poets, the memory of lawyers, the voice of tragedians and the actoin of the best players. This was the power of the Macedonian Philip. This it was that saved Rome and won for Cicero, the title of the father of his country, that thrilled all England when Chatham spoke. This was the power that Mirabeau had, that animated Patrick Henry, the foreign born Demosthenes. One must be born an orator. By practice and study a man can become a speaker. Stirred by great crises he may rise to the confines of oratory. I know it may be said that Demosthenes at first failed. These failures were no doubt caused by the anxiety of the occasion, acting on a sensitive nature.

The power of an orator is not to be judged by words printed.

How is it that a verdict is often won in the courts in spite of all evidence? Because passion breaks all barriers and flies to its object, while reason stands pondering.

It will add greatly to the power of the speaker if he is a man of integrity, of pure thought, and irreproachable honor. This is said to have been one of the elements in the character of Demosthenes. He should never prostitute this heaven born gift.

It is the glory of oratory that its most illustrious interpreters have ever spoken the sentiments of their souls.

It is the utmost universal belief that the ablest efforts of orators have been committed to memory. It may be the ablest speeches we read have been written, but I venture to say the grandest efforts have never been preserved. Pitt declared he would rather have one speech of Bolingbroke's than all the lost treasures of Egypt.

The orators of Greece and Rome were far more active than the modern orators. The people were warmer hearted and more susceptible to the influences of eloquence. The English have materially changed in the last three generations. Look at the great orators of the time of George III. The speeches then delivered were models of parliamentary eloquence. Read Chatham's famous speech, or Burke's magnificent effort in offering the motion for conciliation with America. Then read the recent speeches in parliament.

A lecture is not a speech. A lecture is not so much to move as to instruct. The address is of the head and not the heart and oratory is out of place.

The finest field for oratory is the pulpit. A clergyman has ample time for preparation. He is sure of a large audience. He can choose his own theme. The dignity of the man, the solemnity of the subject, the aim of the discourse afford the opportunity. Yet, strange as it may seem, it is a rare thing to hear a good speaker in the pulpit.

Too many clergymen cultivate mannerisms.

The great aim of the pulpit is not so much to convince the mind as to touch the heart.

There has risen in these latter times a power that can banish kings, revolutionize governments, change republics. The power of the orator declined when the printing press arose. The orator speaks rarely, the press every day. The orator may move an audience, the press can arouse the people. The orator speaks less now to the few who may hear his voice than to the thousands who will read his speech.

Let us hope the press may be as faithful to virtue and truth as the orators have been.

The delightfully told stories which Mr. Dougherty used to lighten his lecture must have been heard to be appreciated.

OUR COUNTY SOLONS

Are Now Laboring in Annual October Session.

TOUCHING MEMORIAL TO MR. BURLINGAME.

The Economical Management of the County House—The Standing Committees—The Work of the Board This Week.

The annual meeting of the board of supervisors of this county began Monday. The supervisors were here and at the calling of the roll Monday morning all answered to their names excepting Supervisors Burtless, Case, Osborne and Walter, who appeared later. Supervisor Alfred Davenport, of York, presided with becoming dignity. David Edwards, republican, of Ypsilanti, was made chairman pro tem. Walter S. Bilbie was recognized as supervisor from Ann Arbor town. Mr. Miner was appointed a committee to draft suitable resolutions relating to the death of Thomas Burlingame.

Monday afternoon the basis of equalization was fixed at $25,000,000, the same as last year. The rules of last year were readopted and the chair authorized to appoint the usual standing committees. This ended the business of the first day.

On Tuesday the report of the Auditor General of the amount of state taxes apportioned to the county, published in the Argus last week, and the report of the Judge of Probate on the insane, also synopsized in these columns last week, were read. The game and fish warden asked the board to provide adequate compensation for deputy wardens and Hughes and Gilbert were appointed a special committee on the subject. It was decided to visit the county house in a body next Tuesday, and Messrs. Young and Bennett were appointed to test the carriages to see if they would safely contain the board's avoirdupois.

The following standing committees were appointed:

- On equalization—Young, Burtless, Kearns, Dansingburg and Duffy.
- Criminal Claims, No. 1—DePuy, Van Sickle and Hughes.
- Criminal Claims, No. 2—Osborne, Gilbert and Howard.
- Civil claims—Walter, Case and Oesterlin.
- To settle with county officers—Sweetland, Ball and Jeele.
- On salaries of county officers—Breining, Edwards and Bilbie.
- On apportionment—Forsyth, Bennett and Baumgardner.
- On public buildings—Jeele, Bennett and DePuy.
- On rejected taxes—Breining, Hunter and Weidmayer.
- To examine accounts of superintendents of the poor—Howard, Speechly and Sweetland.
- On finances—Hughes, Miner and Osborne.
- On fractional school districts—Oesterlin, Gilbert and Howard.
- On drains—Walter, Dansingburg and Breining.
- On printing—Case, Oesterlin and Hunter.
- Per diem—Bilbie, Edwards and VanSickle.

The bids for printing the proceedings in pamphlet form and in the papers were read, viz.: Argus, $75; Register, $89.50; Courier, $69.25; Ypsilanti Sentinel, $69.36. All the bids were below cost. The printing was awarded to the Courier, although some of the supervisors desired the printing to be done in the Argus, on the ground that its circulation among the farmers was so much greater. Bids for medical attendance at the jail were asked for to be in by October 21. The clerk was given $35 for furnishing the printer with a copy of the proceedings. Vacancies in the committee for burying deceased Union soldiers were filled by the appointment of John Flynn, of the third ward of Ann Arbor, R. M. Nowland, of Ann Arbor town, Nelson B. Tuttle, of Ypsilanti town.

The following very touching memorial was read by Mr. Miner, of the special committee:

The undersigned, the committee to whom was referred the drafting of resolutions expressive of the grief of this board at the death of Mr. Thomas G. Burlingame, late supervisor of the township of Ann Arbor, respectfully report that

We are well assured that words are but idle things with which to express the sense of loss which this board experiences in the death of our beloved colleague.

Not all our prayers and hopes availed to keep with us the dear familiar friend whose presence for many years at the meeting of our board was a potent influence and a powerful factor for the general good.

His place in our councils know him no more, and his voice so often heard in its modest but manly eloquence, no longer mingles in our debates.

Our unavailing tears are the silent witnesses of our bereavement.

His record of public work during his connection with this board is "the monument more lasting than brass" of his services to society and his constituency.

Can storied urn or animated bust
Back to its mansion call the fleeting breath;
Can honor's voice provoke the silent dust,
Or flattery soothe the dull, cold ear of death."

The pathway of human life is beset with grief and longing for departed friends. We cannot formulate our sorrow in words but we can endeavor to perpetuate the memory of those who, having gone before, yet are not forgotten.

Your committee, therefore, recommends that your honorable body set apart a page in your proceedings to the memory of Thomas G. Burlingame, that this report of your committee, should it meet your approval, be spread therein, that a copy thereof be forwarded to the widow of the deceased, and that as men and citizens we all strive to emulate the virtues which adorned the life and character of our departed associate.

On motion of Mr. Duffy, the report was unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

Wednesday, business was not rushing. The election of drain commissioner and the reception of the drain report were made a special order for next Wednesday afternoon. No committees being ready to report an adjournment was had until Thursday.

Thursday the report of the county treasurer was referred, without reading, to the committee to settle with county officers. A supplementary report, showing that the interest paid the bank for overdrafts during the past year, was $805.80, and the interest received on deposits, $193.81, a balance in favor of the bank of $611.99, was referred to the committee on finance.

Judge Kinne reported that the lighting of the court room was not satisfactory, as during dark days in winter lighting was necessary during the day. The report was accepted. The Hansfreund was awarded the German printing of the proceedings for $48. A number of bills were allowed, including one of $300 of M. J. Lehman, for services as prosecuting attorney in the justice courts.

The fine money paid into the treasury since January 1 was reported as $334, as follows: Justice Pond, $143; Justice Butts, $54; Justice Bogardus, $107; Justice Gable, $15; Clerk Brown, $15. It will be noticed that $197 of the Above diagram was drawn and verified in all its details, by Prof. Peter Collier, who is pre-eminent as a Chemist, and Scientist. The illustration is made in accordance with his chemical tests of each brand enumerated.

The Carbonic acid gas was calculated to get the leavening strength and the quantitative analysis to ascertain the comparative wholesomeness, purity, and general usefulness of the leading Powders. The result of Prof. Collier's examination and test, reveals the fact, that, with but one exception, every brand tested contained either Ammonia or Alum, and a number both.

Not one woman in ten thousand would use an Ammonia or Alum Baking Powder if she knew it. Such Powders not only undermine the health, but ammonia imparts a sallow or blotched complexion.

NOTE.—Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, as shown by Prof. Collier's examinations, is the only pure Cream Tartar Powder found free from adulteration and the highest in strength. All authorities report Dr. Price's free from Ammonia, Alum, Lime, or any other adulterant. The purity of this ideal Powder has never been questioned.

★ Indicates the Powder containing either Ammonia or Alum.

★ ★ Indicates the Powder containing both Ammonia and Alum.

While the diagram shows some of these Ammonia or Alum Powders to be of higher strength than others classed below them, it must not be taken that they possess any value. All Ammonia or Alum powders should be avoided as dangerous, no matter how high their strength.

Louis Blitz, the proprietor of the Two Sams clothing store, in this city, will never cross the ocean again, if he knows it. He was a passenger on the Augusta Victoria, which had one of the roughest times that any vessel ever had, many of the passengers being injured by being thrown about by the rough seas. Mr. Blitz is now recuperating at the hotel St. Dennis, in New York, for a week before attempting to return to his Detroit home.

Royal Baking Powder Leads All.

"The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, for I have so found it in many tests, made both for them and the U. S. Government. The Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable Baking Powder offered to the public.

"HENRY A. MOTT, PH. D."
Late Chemist for U. S. Government.

"All chemical tests to which I have submitted it have proved the Royal Baking Powder perfectly healthful and free from every deleterious substance. It is purest in quality and highest in strength of any Baking Powder of which I have knowledge.

"WM. McMURTRIE, E. M., PH. D."
Late Chemist-in-chief U. S. Dept of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

"The strength of the Royal is shown to be 23 per cent. greater than any other.

"As a result of my investigations I find the Royal Baking Powder far superior to the others. It is pure, contains none but wholesome ingredients, and is of greatest strength.

"F. X. VALADE,
"Public Analyst, Ontario, Dominion of Canada."

The latest investigations by the United States and Canadian Governments show the Royal Baking Powder superior to all others in leavening strength.

Statements by other manufacturers to the contrary have been declared by the official authorities falsifications of the official reports.

George A. Katzenberger, lit '90, who since his graduation has been in Germany, taking a two semesters' course in Heidelberg, has returned to Baden, from a five weeks' tour among the Black Forest and Voges mountains and as far south as Milan. He is about to return to this country, of which he says, "than which none other."

The young son of Jacob Zeeb, of Seio, knows how it feels to have a bullet carry off the end of his thumb, taking part of his index finger, and then lodge itself in his leg. The boy was pounding cartridges, Sunday, when one exploded with the above results. Dr. Kapp dressed the wounds.

Checks have been given to the fair employees this week. Payment of the premiums have been delayed a few days on account of the illness of Treasurer Paul. The gates of the fair were opened this year with the society $362 in debt. This was paid and a nice surplus left in the treasury. About $400 was spent in permanent improvements on the grounds.

When time rolls around for another twelve-month, the Messrs. Haines will not be able to recognize the child that repaid them so well for giving it birth. The latest project is to extend the motor line to Harris street, where the shops will be moved, coal dock erected, and facilities for switching put in. This will end the nuisance of coaling and watering at the present terminus.—Ypsilanti Sentinel.

A Pure Baking Powder.

A baking powder that can be depended upon to be free from lime and alum is a desideratum in these days of adulterated food. So far as can be judged from the official reports, the "Royal" seems to be the only one yet found by chemical analysis to be entirely without one or the other of these substances, and absolutely pure. This, it is shown, results from the exclusive use by its manufacturers of cream of tartar specially refined and prepared by patent processes which totally remove the tartrate of lime and other impurities. The cost of this chemically pure cream of tartar is much greater than any other, and it is used in no baking powder except the "Royal," the manufacturers of which control the patents under which it is refined.

Dr. Edward G. Love, formerly analytical chemist for the U. S. Government, who made the analysis for the New York State Board of Health, in their investigation of baking powders, and whose intimate knowledge of the ingredients of all those sold in this market enables him to speak authoritatively, says of the purity, wholesomeness, and superior quality of the "Royal."

"I find the Royal Baking Powder composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substance."

Prof. Love's tests and the recent official tests by both the United States and Canadian Governments, show the Royal Baking Powder to be superior to all others in strength and leavening power. It is not only the most economical in use, but makes the purest, finest flavored and most wholesome food.

Lois V. Torrains, daughter of Mrs. Mary V. Torrains, of Forest avenue, died yesterday afternoon, of diphtheria, aged 11 years.

Andrew Hiller was badly cut about the face while drunk, Monday evening, whether by assault or by accident is not known. He was discovered in front of Mack & Schmid's store, the whole front of his clothes saturated with blood, which came from a cut on his lip which had severed an artery. Dr. E. A. Clark sewed up the wound but Hiller was very weak from the loss of blood.

Word was received here Tuesday announcing the death of Mrs. Wm. H. Merkle, of Breckenridge, Colo., formerly Miss Martha Heinrich, of this city. Her mother, Mrs. John Heinrich, was with her at the time of her death, as was also her sister, Mrs. Fred. Stein, of this city. The remains will be brought to Ann Arbor for interment. She leaves a husband to whom she was married but two years ago, and a son but two weeks old.

The peace of Pittsfield was broken Tuesday afternoon. It was not the exciting balloon nor the Salvation Army that Mrs. Henry Paul saw slowly floating down the hill near her home, but a jolly lot of neighbors and friends who had not forgotten that it was the day for her to celebrate her forty-eighth birthday. A pleasant afternoon was spent, a good supper eaten and the ladies departed, wishing Mrs. Paul many birthdays as bright and happy.

The students' Bible class at the Unitarian church is just beginning a season of "Home Travel study, through the lands of the Bible." The class begins its study at Joppa, proceeds thence to Jerusalem and spends the autumn and winter visiting the more important scenes of Bible events in the Holy Land, taking excursions thence to Sinai, Egypt, Damascus, Phoenicia, Babylon and Asia Minor, ending with a trip through Greece and to Rome in the track of St. Paul. The class meets at 12 noon, in the main audience room of the church.

The board of managers of the Washtenaw fair association held a meeting Friday and audited all the bills and premiums for the recent fair. The treasurer was instructed to pay all premiums in full. A vote of thanks was given Dean & Co. for favors shown the society in advancing money without interest to fix the track, etc. The corresponding secretary was instructed to notify members of the guarantee fund that the guarantee fund would not be called upon and to extend the thanks of the society to them. The treasurer was instructed to mail checks to all those receiving premiums.

SAYINGS OF CHILDREN.

High Chair Philosophy Caught from the Lips of the Coming Generation.

Our little James, four and a half years old, was pointing out a cow to a playmate. "See the bell around her neck," he said. "do you know what that is for? That's what she rings when she wants to tell the calf that dinner is ready."—M. P.

A little girl of two and a half, on first seeing the sole of a kitten's foot, said, "Bennie's dot holes in her stockings." Later she saw some of his hair on the chair cushion and exclaimed regretfully, "Bennie's losing his feeders."—F. B. D.

Our four-year-old son and heir was recently informed that his aunt, a widow, had married again. A few days later, wishing to speak of the new uncle, but not knowing his name, he hesitated for a moment and then said, "You know, I mean Aunt Gertrude's stephusband."—Y. L.

The first time my little Marie, aged twenty-six months, saw the girl dressing the fish for dinner, she came running to me, her eyes sparkling with excitement. "Mamma! Mamma!" she exclaimed. "Mamma! fishes' hair wid de knife and it all come off!"—C. H. B., Tecumseh, Mich.

My oldest boy, who has not yet reached the mature age of three, has, I think, a poetic way of expressing himself. Thus the other day, on noticing the ripples on the lake in Central park caused by the wind, he exclaimed, "Mamma, look! see how the water is laughing."—X. Y., New York.

My little five-year-old girl was so unruly the other day that I finally tried to bring her back to the paths of wisdom by exclaiming, "If you behave like that no one will have anything to do with you." "Papa, dear," she replied complacently, "satan prefers naughty children."—R. M., New Jersey.

Children love to propound philosophical problems, and I must say I do not find it easy to give satisfactory answers to those which fall from the lips of my three-year-old boy. One of the simplest, and yet a question which even a wiser mother could not have answered at a moment's notice, was this, "Mamma, why can't we see our own faces?"—L.

I knew a lady who had a little daughter whom she was very particular to have say her prayers every day. One morning, when the child ran out in a great hurry to play, her mother called after her, "Mary, did you ask God to take care of you, like a good little girl?" "No, mamma," she answered, "Mary thought she would take care of herself today."—N. J. B., New York.

Frederic, six years old, was telling Walter, three years younger, of a pleasant trip which he, the narrator, took with mamma three years before. "Walter, you weren't born then," he said. Walter meditated awhile upon his loss in not coming sooner upon the scene, and then said, "Brer Fredwick, I was wishing then that God would make me!"—G. W. G., New London, N. H.

Eddie was very fond of raspberry jam. One evening when the parson dropped in to tea mamma opened her last jar, with emphatic instructions to Eddie not to ask for some more jam after getting his share. His papa, not knowing the circumstances, offered to replenish his dish, when Eddie notified his mother by saying, "Mamma said I mustn't ask for any more, 'cause that is all there is."—F. B. D.

We recently had occasion to reprove our little Tommy, not quite three years old, and told him as seriously as possible that we were ashamed to have so disobedient a little boy. The little fellow listened very patiently, and then asked, with an earnestness which completely disarmed us, "Don't you think you had better get a better boy?" The same little boy astonished us the other evening before going to bed by giving us the following improvised version of his usual prayer:

Jesus, tender Shepherd, lead me;
Bless thy little lamb tonight.
And everywhere that Mary went
The lamb was sure to go. Amen.
—J. S., New York.

—All from Babyhood.

Small Girl (after eating a peppermint drop)—Whew-eel! don't it make your mouth windy?—Kate Field's Washington.

They're having a picnic in the woods. "Oh, papa," exclaimed little Fritz, running up with a chestnut burr in his hand; "look! I've found the egg of a porcupine!"—Fliegende Blatter.

A little Boston girl, who is going to a private school, wants to go to a public school. "I am tired," she says, "of going to a school where the teacher calls us darling."—New York Tribune.

Mrs. Jaysmith—Freddy, how did you get your clothes torn and your eye blacked like that? Now, don't deny it, you've been in a fight. Freddy (ruefully)—None; I wasn't in it.—New York Sun.

Grandfather Dean, who is very old indeed, was holding his little granddaughter Helen on his lap, when she suddenly asked very seriously, "Grandpa, why don't you wear a switch?"—Toledo Blade.

A little boy, the son of good Presbyterian parents, was asked the question in catechism, "What is the chief end of man?" and he answered, "Man's chief end is to glorify God and annoy him forever."—New Moon.

"No, Bobby," said his mother, "one piece of pie is quite enough for you." "It's funny," responded Bobby, with an injured air. "You say you are anxious for me to learn to eat properly, and yet you won't even give me a chance to practice."—Washington Hatchet.

There was once a mother who was fond of pointing her moral lectures with practical illustrations drawn from the daily life of her children. And the children showed they understood the force of this method of instruction. One day a discussion arose in the nursery. Will said a thing was so, Mabel said it wasn't. "But if I say it's so, it is so," said Will. "Saying a thing is so doesn't make it so," answered Mabel stoutly. "Now, suppose you say you're a good boy, that doesn't make you one, does it?"—Harper's Young People.

One day on a railroad car a lady allowed her little boy, who could hardly speak distinctly, to play about the car, and by and by, to the horror of all of us, she discovered him complacently sitting outside on the steps. She brought him in, and although the punishment inflicted was mild, his little heart seemed to be completely broken. When presently the train stopped at a station great, choking sobs could be heard distinctly all over the car, and suddenly we were all convulsed by a grieving, reproachful and utter desolate little voice exclaiming, "Say, mamma, when a naughty old-trainman leaves a door wide open, how can a baby help going out?"—West Shore.

All or Nothing.
"No," said Charles Casbgo, "I would never try to break my father's will. I don't believe in it."
"Humph," growled his father, "I should say you didn't. You believe in breaking the old man himself and having done with it."—Washington Star.

Roll call and full Board present. Mr. R. C. Barney made complaint about the grade on Catherine street, north side, between Main street and Fourth avenue. Referred to Mr. McIntyre and Street Commissioner.

The question of building sidewalks on Thirteenth, Clark and Catherine streets came up but no action was taken until proper petitions are presented to this Board.

When the relations between two persons are strained it is, nevertheless, not always clear how they will be settled.

"A Back Number."

This is the slightest remark that is often applied to women who try to seem young, although they no longer look so. Sometimes appearances are deceitful. Female weakness, functional troubles, displacements and irregularities will add fifteen years to a woman's looks. These troubles are removed by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Try this remedy, all you whose beauty and freshness is fading from such causes, and no longer figure in society as a "back number." It is guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or money paid for it returned. See guarantee on bottle wrapper.

On the move

—Liver, Stomach, and Bowels, after Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets have done their work. It's a healthy movement, too—a natural one. The organs are not forced into activity one day, to sink back into a worse state the next. They're cleansed and regulated—mildly and quietly, without wrenching or griping. One tiny, sugar-coated Pellet is all that's needed as a gentle laxative; three to four act as a cathartic. They're the smallest, cheapest, the easiest to take. Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels are promptly relieved and cured.

VARIOUS VERSES.

Happy Ideas Put Together in Metrical Measure.

Owned a pair of skates one time—traded
For 'em—Stropped 'em on, and waded
Up and down the creek, a waitin'
Tel she'd freeze up fit for skatin'.
Mildest winter that winter weather!
Didn't frost tel 'bout December—
Gut up airly, ketch a feather
Of it, maybe, 'cross the winter—
Sunshine swings it like a cinder!

Well I waited!—And kep' waitin'
Couldn't see my money's worth in
Them air skates and was no skatin'.
Ner no hint o' ice ner nothin'
So, one day—along in airly
Spring—I swopped 'em off—and barely
Closed the dicker, 'fore the weather
Naturally fell allpped the racket—
And—crick—tail face—all together—
Proze so tight cat couldn't scratch it!

—James Whitcomb Riley, in Indianapolis Journal.

A Spoiled Romance.

I took her hand,
She did not blush, nor hang her head,
But looked right up at me instead;
'Twas in a little eucyre game,
She didn't understand the name
Of any card, and went astray,
And just to show her how to play—
I took her hand.

—Brooklyn Eagle.

Her Ma Does the Washing:
A witching maid
At tennis played,
In a gown all frills and lace;
Her hands were neat,
Her feet petite,
Her form was full of grace,
But sad to confess,
When that white dress
Needs washing, there comes a-stealing
O'er the maid so sweet,
With hands petite,
That dreadful "tired feeling."

—New York Herald.

Marguerites.
When Reginald with Marguerite
One morning through the meadow
stroled,
He found a blossom at his feet,
With petals white and heart of gold.
Within her hand the bloom he laid,
And said, "Tis yours, what is it sweet?"
Then, laughingly, replied the maid,
"My daisy is a marguerite."

Then Reginald to Marguerite
A sweet, old fashioned story told;
And all his fortune, at her feet,
He offered for her heart of gold.
The maiden promised him to wed,
Then, in half roguish prais, he
From face to flower glancing, said,
"My Marguerite's a daisy."

—M. Thayer Rouse in Boston Transcript.

Sweet Things
"There's nothing half so sweet in life
As love's young dream,"
Especially when love is fed
On loads of sweet ice cream.

—Brooklyn Eagle.

They Are Here.
"The melancholy days have come,
The saddest of the year,"
When poems that begin like this
From all sides do appear.

—Boston News.

Theory and Practice.
A pessimist was tired of life,
"If some one came to strike me dead,
I wouldn't move to help myself;
This earth is such a bore," he said.

Just then a fly lit on his nose,
"Confound the flies! They do beat all,"
And the life tired man didn't rest until
He'd smashed that buzzer 'gainst the wall.

—Newark Standard.

The Mountain Air.
When to the mountains last I went
To breathe the reviving air,
I was convinced that nowhere else
"Tis needed more than there;
For when the clerk brought his account
With many a flourish writ,
I gasped and panted for fresh air,
And cubic yards of it.

—New York Herald.

The Reason Why.
The day had passed in happy play
And twilight comes anon,
And fretfulness asserts her sway
When sunlight hours are gone,
And mother lays her work away
And holds out her arms for one—

Her baby boy, who always found
Within that sheltering nest,
When childish troubles most abound,
A refuge and a rest,
He does not come, although his eyes
His willingness confessed.

"Come, darling!" Mother's cooing tone
Wooes softly, but in vain,
"I've lost my baby," does she moan
In simulated pain,
"No, no, mamma, but I have grown
And won't be small again."

"But yesterday," his mamma said,
"Upon my lap you sat;
We read of 'Tiddiekins' and 'Fred'
And the 'Boofer pussy cat';
Of Baby Bunting's ways we read
And the mischief he was at."

The little head drooped very low
And rested on my knee;
And a little voice spoke soft and slow,
In a confidential key,
"But yesterday, mamma, you know,
I wasn't in pants, you see."

—Babyhood.

Bixby—Well, he isn't exactly dead yet,
but he takes part in a balloon ascension on Monday.—Lima (O.) News.

One Thing Sure.
He (salesman)—Dear little hand (absentmindedly), I wonder if it will wash.
She (con spirito)—No, sir, it won't—nor it won't scrub either; but if you want it to

Criminal Practice.
Colonel Percy Yerger is one of the most popular criminal lawyers in Austin. He has an immense criminal practice and usually succeeds, with slight assistance from the jury, in acquitting his clients, no matter how atrocious their crime or overwhelming the evidence of their guilt. Last Sunday Colonel Yerger's little boy, Tommy, was asked by his Sunday school teacher: "Tommy, the man who is good in this world goes to heaven, now what becomes of the bad men who disobey the laws of God?" "Papa clears them," was the response.—Texas Sittings.

CHEATING IN HORSE BLANKETS

Nearly every pattern of  $\frac{5}{8}$  Horse Blanket is imitated in color and style. In most cases the imitation looks just as good as the genuine, but it hasn't the warp threads, and so lacks strength, and while it sells for only a little less than the genuine it isn't worth one-half as much! The fact that  $\frac{5}{8}$  Horse Blankets are copied is strong evidence that they are THE STANDARD, and every buyer should see that the  $\frac{5}{8}$  trade mark is sewed on the inside of the Blanket.

The above is a wonderful Farm Gate, patented by Wm. R. White, of Bloomington, Ill., who had lost his farm by mortgage. This is a new plan on the principle of the pendulum, and the levers are up whether opened or closed, having thirteen advantages over any gate in use. It is so convenient and durable that from $2,000 to $3,000 worth have been sold in some counties. This gate was shown at the fair grounds. It is patented in this country and Canada. It can be seen at the Franklin House, Ann Arbor. My sales for this week are nearly $200. Call and see patentee at Franklin House.
