A WEEK IN ANN ARBOR.

First Class Concert and an Excellent Lecture Given.

A WEEK'S CRIMES AND IMPORTANT ARREST.

Organization of a Press Club—What Hobart Guild is Doing—All Innocent, of Course—Work for Vigilance Committee.

Death of a Pioneer.

Mrs. Nancy Olsaver, wife of Lawrence Olsaver, of Webster, died on Tuesday, after suffering for years with lingering consumption. The deceased was one of the oldest and most beloved residents of Webster, and leaves a host of friends. She was born in New York state on September 4, 1819, and was the daughter of John S. and Mary Bennett. On January 5, 1840, she was married to Lawrence Olsaver and they immediately took up their residence on the farm in Webster township which has since been their home. Her husband and one daughter survive her. The funeral is held this morning at ten o'clock at the residence.

Hobart Guild Takes An Important Step.

At a recent meeting of the Hobart Guild it was resolved to form a class of young ladies for gymnastic instruction, and to secure a competent teacher. This is the first thing of the kind that has ever been offered in Ann Arbor and it is hoped that all the ladies eligible to the gymnasium will avail themselves of this excellent opportunity. The first meeting of the class will be held on Monday next at five o'clock, at Harris hall. All young ladies of the University and the Ann Arbor high school, who are attached to the Protestant Episcopal church who desire to avail themselves of this course in physical training are requested to attend this meeting.

Another advantage soon to be offered by the guild in the line of furnishing proper amusements under proper surroundings is a billiard and pool table. Provision has at length been made for this, after it has been talked of for a year. This will afford a pleasant and profitable recreation for men.

Work for a Vigilance Committee.

On Tuesday evening of last week an elderly widow lady living on Packard street was the victim of a dastardly assault. She was passing the Hill property on Packard street, on her way home, between eight and nine o'clock, when a man grabbed her and dragging her into the orchard, threw her down and choked her and then committed a criminal assault on her. Having accomplished his purpose, the fiend ran away as fast as he could.

The lady was roughly handled but was not seriously injured. The affair was reported to the officers on the following day, but up to the present time they have been unable to get any tangible clue to the man. The lady thinks that she would be able to identify her assailant. She describes him as a young man, between 23 and 24 year old, well dressed, wearing a stylish long overcoat and derby hat. Should he be apprehended, no punishment would be too severe for him.

Burglars Make a Haul.

A good piece of burglar work was done in this city between one o'clock and daylight, yesterday morning, by which two students lost $57 in money and two gold watches, besides numerous small articles which were in their pockets. The losers were Messrs. Barnett and Doyle, who room at the residence of Mrs. Jas. Clancy, corner of Williams and Maynard streets, occupying a room on the lower floor. While suffling, Wednesday, they broke a large pane of glass out of one of the windows and it was through this that the burglar gained an entrance.

Barnett and Doyle sat up until after one o'clock studying and the burglary was committed after that hour. The work was done by somebody who had studied the premises and knew the room. Another thing which points toward the fact that the burglary was committed by somebody who knew the students, or else kept pretty good watch of them, is that both had drafts cashed the day previous, and had the burglary been committed the night before, he wouldn't have found enough cash to buy a meal. Doyle's pockets were rifled of $35 in cash and a watch valued at $25, and Barnett of $22 in cash, a gold watch valued at $65 and numerous small articles.

Death of Another Old Pioneer.

W. E. Walker, last evening, received a telegram announcing the death at Logansport, Ind., of his mother, Mrs. Wm. Walker. She died about 6:30 last evening at the home of her daughter, of pneumonia. Mrs. Walker was 83 years of age and was one of Ann Arbor's earliest residents, having come to this city early in 1831. About eighteen months ago, she moved to Logansport to make her home with her daughter. Her remains will probably be brought here for burial.

Few Guilty Criminals.

Remarking about the amount of work which devolves on the new consolidated prison board, of which he is a member, Mr. Edward Duffy alluded particularly in a recent talk with the Argus representative, to that portion of their work relating to pardons.

"Why," said Mr. Duffy, "you have no idea of the amount of work in this one branch of our labors. Do you know that nearly every one of the eight hundred or more criminals confined in the Jackson prison has an application in for a pardon? This is not all for it is the same in all the other institutions under our charge. The law requires that we shall give each of these cases a hearing, a work that would occupy the entire time of the board, if each petitioner was brought before us. To do this, we have our secretary go to each institution, see the applicants for pardon and take down a shorthand report of any evidence that they may have. These reports are submitted to us and from these we make our recommendations to the governor.

To hear these fellows talk, none of them are guilty. But this doesn't usually prove so. Occasionally an innocent man is punished, but not often. While at Jackson recently, Warden Davis pointed to a prisoner and said 'There's a man whose liberty for ten years was sworn away for $100.' Such cases as these are bad, we do not meet with many of them."

The Ann Arbor Press Club.

The Ann Arbor Press club was formed last Friday afternoon, at a meeting of all the editors in the city, held in the Argus office, to make arrangements to entertain the State Press association, which holds its annual meeting here in January. As all the editors were present it was decided to organize a permanent club, which will meet on the first Friday of each month in the office of S. A. Moran, of the Register. The following officers were elected: president, S. W. Beakes, of the Argus; vice-president, Miss Emma Bower, of the Democrat; secretary, George H. Snow, of the Register; treasurer, J. E. Beal of the Courier; executive committee, Fred C. Brown, of the Times; George H. Pond, of the Courier; and L. J. Liesimer, of the Post.

The executive committee of the State Press association were invited to meet in Ann Arbor. J. E. Beal, S. W. Beakes and L. J. Liesimer were elected a committee on finance to raise the funds to entertain the state association. The president was authorized to appoint committees on entertainment and programme, accommodations, carriages and banquet. The citizens of Ypsilanti were invited to co-operate with the club in entertaining the guests and the assignment of one day of the meeting to Ypsilanti, met with a favorable reception.

The meeting of the state association here will greatly advertise the city throughout the state.

Cleaning Out The Disreputable Houses.

Yesterday afternoon, Deputy-sheriff Sutherland and Marshal Murray arrested "Mate" Schaffer, who for several years past has kept a house of ill-fame in the northern part of the city, known as "the farm." She was taken before Justice Pond and her examination set down for next Monday morning. In the meantime she was given into the custody of an officer, the understanding being that if she will pack up all her goods and chattels and emigrate to another clime, riding the city of her presence, the suit will not be pressed.

The officers had quite a time making the arrest. Several weeks ago complaint being made to the mayor and marshal, the later official notified her that she must go. She sent several of her inmates away, and left herself, but nearly every night she would return on the late train. This was repeated for some time, the marshal being unable to catch her here. On Tuesday, he swore out a warrant against her and it being learned that she was in the city, yesterday, the papers for her arrest were given to Officer Sutherland. That official went to her house in the afternoon, and notified her that she must go, offering to give her three hours in which to leave the city for good. The Schaffer woman intimated that she would go when she got ready and not before. Sutherland came back and saw the Marshal and taking a hack they again went to the house. There they found every door bolted, but finally effected an entrance through a rear door. They searched the house from cellar to garret but were unable to find her. Finally they forced open a closet in a wood-shed in the rear of the house. A number of old dresses hung about, and in the darkest corner behind a dress skirt, they finally discovered Mrs. Schaffer and took her into custody.

The chances are that she will be willing to leave Ann Arbor forever. If she does not, the officers will make it warm for her, as another warrant has been sworn out charging her with selling liquor without a license. The prisoner is in pretty warm water just at present. It is claimed that she has been running a similar place at Jackson, for which she is now under arrest and is to be tried next Monday.

The stand now taken by the city officials is one that will be heartily supported by the citizens. The ridance of the city of all such places is of the greatest importance, for the good name of the city and the University.

The Lecture of Rev. Dr. MacGregor.

Rev. Dr. Duncan MacGregor, of Philadelphia, was greeted in the Baptist church, last Tuesday, by an attentive and highly interested audience. He is a speaker of good physique, well modulated voice, easy manner and powerful tones for emphatic passages. Life is a struggle, said Dr. MacGregor, every day and every where a struggle. One has scarcely crossed the threshold of this busy world before he encounters difficulties. Paradise is always in advance. Struggles and difficulties develop strength. What it gives acuteness to a student's brain but the difficulties in the problems he solves? What crowns all success but the difficulties conquered? Men do not fail because they have not sufficient power. Everything about us is charged and surcharged with power. Men fail because they fail to use their powers. The great secret of all success is in harnessing one's power. We waste more power than we use. It is the fretting, the torrying, the chafing, the friction which wears out men. Give me a harness and I'll find power enough in a sunbeam to drive all our energies.

As with individuals, so with nations. Difficulties stand in the way of a nation's development. Those which have undertaken to conquer difficulties lead in the mighty race of civilization. Look at Spain, gloomy, indolent, lazy Spain, unwilling to conquer the difficulties in her way. Again and again have golden opportunities been hers if she had only availed herself of them. She is a land richly endowed with possibilities, mild summers, gentle winters, the land of silk and satin, of the orange and almond, a land of glorious possibilities. To-day with fewer railroads, telegraph wires and the other implements of civilization.

Look at China, the oldest in the sisterhood of nations. She is a land of beauty. And yet to find her secret treasures, you must ride through fathoms of darkness. To-day if an earthquake were to sink her beneath the ocean, what would science miss, what would commerce miss?

With these nations the speaker contrasted England, the land of the scholar, the motherhood of advancement and civilization. She has stood on tip toe at the very gateway, waiting for the newest, best patterns. She has been willing to pay the price of her patterns and there has been an ever improving civilization. He traced in glowing terms her rise from Paganism, where only a faint light of civilization glimmered in the hands of the missionary of the Cross, and attributed her rise to the Bible, the Magna Charta of human rights, the very touchstone of liberty, translated into a language that everyone could read.

So is America, her first born, great. For what is Neptune to the steamship, what is Minerva to the printing press, what is Mercury to the telegraph and what is Jupiter to a first-class Wolverine? America hasn't even taken her hands away from the crib rail yet.

Many a one has said, "Oh, if I had only had a few points, I would have succeeded." No one need go without points. Your neighbors will give you all the points you want. Many will even crowd them on you.

In the large cities you will find hundreds of young men sitting on curbstones waiting for something to turn up. It is to the young man with eyes open that something turns up. The speaker gave numerous instances of great success from most obscure beginnings, paying a most eloquent tribute to Abraham Lincoln.

He spoke of inspiration as a source of success; of great crises developing men of almost superhuman strength and of the need of high ideals and pure character. The lecture was one which all young men might well have listened to.

Choral Union Concert.

When the Philharmonic club stepped out on the platform of University hall and saw such a magnificent audience as was present at the first Choral Union concert, it was not strange that they all felt the inspiration of the occasion. Nothing lends such encouragement to the artist as the presence of a large and intelligent audience. The first number of the programme, (which was by the way, a model one), was the D major Quartet of Mozart. In no chamber music do we discern more clearly the beauties of this most refined and intellectual form, i.e. the Quartet, than in this work. Its themes are as clear cut as a cameo, the working out of the subjects is logical, concise and strong, so that the musical enthusiast is justified in calling this one of the gems of chamber music.

To play such music requires not only that each player shall be master of his instrument, but also that the individual player shall contribute this mastery to the general ensemble and be content to be simply a part of the whole. Every great Quartette is constituted thus, and the fact that the Philharmonic Club each year approaches more and more closely to this ideal of perfection, accounts for the rapid extension of its fame. The perfect composition in this form carries out this same idea and the masterpiece of chamber music invariably show this same fusing together of the different movements into the complete work. So that is not one particular movement which we linger over, but the whole work. An analysis of this work shows it to be masterly from a structural standpoint and Mozart has never conceived lovelier melodies than are contained in this D major Quartett. If this work reveals such elegance of musical form and such delicacy of detail, the Schumann Quintette, which brought the concert to a close, shows as unmistakably the nobility of conception and virility of style which make it pre-eminently the greatest work for this combination of instruments ever written. It stands alone in the literature of chamber music. The different movements might be analyzed in such a manner as to make clear the beauty and strength of its structure. We prefer to speak of it as an embodiment of one of Schumann's happiest and most finished inspirations. To play such a work requires the most finished work on the part of the string players, and a great pianist. That Mrs. Fannia Bloomfield-Zeissler may be considered great, all must concede, and her playing of the piano part in this work was an achievement possible only to few. No such poetic and vital so forceful an interpretation of this work has been heard by the writer of these lines. Mrs. Zeissler's solos were done exactly as we could expect her to do them, and in them we could clearly perceive the reasons for the wonderful success, which has made her one of the greatest favorites on the concert platform. Force, delicacy, finesse, enthusiasm, magnetism, are all hers, and above all a clear-cut intelligence that controls all those elements and brings them to the interpretation of the thought contained in the music. It will be many a day before we hear such a performance again. The audience must have been forcibly impressed by this also, for was it not enthusiastic? Mr. Spalding is a singer with a future before him and to say that he sang well is too faint praise for such excellent interpretations as his.

This account would be incomplete did we not recall the exquisite Gondoliera of Moskowski, which Mrs. Zeissler played as a response to an enthusiastic encore. Best of all the size of the audience indicated that the series will be a success and that the reputation of the University of Michigan for music, is safe in the hands of the students and citizens, who rejoice in every advancement made by our glorious University.

The store of Mr. Hopson, in Stony Creek, has been burglarized by thieves who stole chewing gum, candy, cigars, a shirt and some stockings. The luxuries were taken first.

Norman Ide, while drawing corn stalks in Manchester, for Anson Gage, the other day, fell off the load and broke his right arm. I'de gage the distance better, were I him.

The Manchester postoffice closes at seven o'clock in the evening, nowadays, and the postmaster has an opportunity of reading the Enterprise and Argus in the bosom of his family.

The Enterprise is authority for the statement that seven different kinds of illuminating oils are sold in Manchester, which may account for the brilliancy with which the Enterprise shines.

The literary society of the Manchester school acted a farce last Monday night, entitled "Wide Enough for Two." Almost any chair is wide enough for two, providing the gender is right.

Joseph Lucking, who lived in Ypsilanti for the past thirty-three years, died Sunday morning, aged sixty nine years. For over a quarter of a century he ran a meat market in Ypsilanti.

Partridges in Sharon are learning bad habits. One attempted to burglarize the house of C. N. Kendall. It flew through the window breaking the glass but suffering no injury itself. It was caught.

Willis is to have a new barber shop, a new harness establishment and a new shoe shop. The lumber is on hand to build the new quarters. Who is there who dares question the growth of Willis?

The South Lyon councilmen seem to be getting extravagant. They instructed a committee to buy a stove for the council room, providing it could get one for $2.50. After some dickering the committee found the stove and the $2.50 was voted.

The fastest time ever made on the Michigan Central between Chicago and Detroit was made Sunday, Nov. 6, the 246 miles being covered in 6 hours and 10 minutes, including 27 minutes for stops. The train just whizzed through this county.

The main excitement in Clinton is over the new gallery in the town hall. It was such a novelty that people could hardly believe it could stand, till thirty men got up in it and jumped with all their might. Clinton is now satisfied that 500 men couldn't break it down.

The authorities of the Ypsilanti branch of the Lake Shore are being petitioned to put another train on their road, so people along their line can come to the city and return the same day. The authorities should consider that they scare very few horses now, for they don't run often enough.

In digging a well on Robert Green's farm, southwest of town, a few days ago, they struck dirt with bright yellow particles in it which resemble gold. They brought some of it to town and B. W. Amsden tried acid on it and afterwards tried to melt it on charcoal, but it was so fine that he could not hold it. Those farms are rich enough without a gold mine.—Manchester Enterprise.

There are men in Milan who would like to break the Record, and they would, too, if they could catch him. Last week Wednesday a man put up at Rice's hotel and registered as C. A. Record. He seemed to be a man of very genial habits, and one with whom his friends could become intimately acquainted and trusted for he borrowed ten dollars of J. R. Veselius, run up bills at each of the saloons, and on Sunday morning he borrowed Frank Acker's gun and went out into the cold, cold world, leaving his hotel and other bills unprovided for and forgot to come back. At this date he is still a wanderer on the face of the earth.—Milan Leader.

A jolly party gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Faerberacher, in Lodi, November 16 to witness the marriage of Mrs. F's sister, Miss Carrie B. Schaible, to Mr. Henry B. Allmand, of Ann Arbor. Long before the hour in which the matrimonial knot was to have been tied a large number of relatives and friends had gathered and when the appointed time arrived the house was well filled. Following the ceremony a bounteous supper awaited them, of which they all partook freely.

At about this time a sudden quietus took possession of the party, caused by sweet strains of music from in front of the house, which upon investigation proved to be the Ann Arbor Banjo Club in full array. The boys had chosen this manner of expressing their gratitude over the lot of their friend's future happiness. Several pleasant hours were spent in a social way, after which they repaired to their several homes.—Saline Observer.

We notice by the local paper of Walkerville, Ont., sent out this week, that one of South Lyon's big "tater" raisers, with probably more hayseed on his collar than he usually exhibits, crossed over the river into Her Majesty's realm at Windsor, the other day, with a sample potato under his arm so large that the custom officer halted the S. L. T. R., thinking he was perpetrating a fraud on Her Majesty by smuggling over a musical instrument or an article of American furniture, and demanded inspection. Our agriculturist consented and smiled audibly when his nibs got a glimpse of the contents and disappeared with the remark, "Take your d—d potato out of here." The potato weighed three pounds and a half and the owner was taking it over to show his Canadian friends what a South Lyon "tater" was like. There was no duty exacted.—South Lyon Excelsior.

The reporter was at church last Sunday. By that we do not mean to indicate that he never goes to church, for he does, as often as half a dozen times a year, at least. However he has been doing better of late and gave promise of double discounting that record. But a little episode occurred last Sunday which may dampen his zeal and interfere with his hopes of glory. While the preacher was eloquently portraying the noble memorial's a generous spirit could leave behind them when they quitted this earthly tabernacle, our reporter, knowing that he did not have any memorials with him just then, took a little diversion in the land of dreams. But some one of the friendly wasps, at present finding a home in that sanctuary, evidently thought he ought to pay for his lodging and so undertook the duty of him who was called the parish beadle in former times. So sauntering along on his self-constituted mission, he found the reportorial angel pleasantly nodding assent to everything the pastor said. Now nodding is not a bad thing of itself, for we are told as a piece of classical information, that even Jupiter nods, but we are not told whether he was listening or trying to listen to the pastor at that time. So this friendly wasp aforesaid, seeing this movement of the head evidently took it as a personal insult and a defiance and went for the individual aforesaid and gave him one, a terrible hot one it was too, in the side of the neck. One was enough. That settled the business, and Fred threw up the sponge and almost his breakfast too. He sought the open air with alacrity and also with several other things. Whether he thought that was a premonition of shoe, or a peculiar way of emphasizing church doctrine and discipline, deponent sayeth not. We hope our friend will excuse the uncalled for assault of that wandering Knight-errant, no doubt the trustees and sexton will see to it that neither he nor others shall again be so molested, for such avenging spirits shall be promptly read out of the church.—Plymouth Mail.

Gratifying to All.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the pleasant liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based and are abundantly gratifying to the California Fig Syrup Company.

Drunkenness, or the Liquor Habit, Positively Cured By Administering Dr. Heines' Golden Specific.

It is manufactured as a powder, which can be given in a glass of beer, a cup of coffee or tea, or in food, without the knowledge of the patient. It is absolutely harmless, and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never fails. The system once impregnated with the specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. Cures guaranteed. 48 page book of particulars free. Address, Golden Specific Co., 185 Race St., Cincinnati, O.

Make suffering impossible and joy has no meaning.

Height of Cruelty.

Nervous women seldom receive the sympathy they deserve. While often the picture of health, they are constantly ailing. To withhold sympathy from these unfortunates is the height of cruelty. They have a weak heart, causing shortness of breath, fluttering, pain in side, weak and hungry spells, and finally swelling of ankles, oppression, choking, smothering and dropsy. Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is just the thing for them. For their nervousness, headache, weakness, etc., his Restorative Nerve is unequalled. Free treatise on "Heart and Nervous Diseases" and marvelous testimonials free. Sold and guaranteed by Eberbach & Son, druggists.

No man is fully saved until he is saved from himself.

Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills.

Act on a new principle—regulating the liver, stomach and bowels through the nerves. A new discovery. Dr. Miles' pills speedily cure biliousness, bad taste, torpid liver, piles, constipation. Unequalled for men, women, and children. Smallest, mildest, surest! 50 doses, 25 cts. Samples free at Eberbach & Son's.

Miss Smilax—I think Mr. Swearhard has such an air!

Waggs—Yes, it is generally a thick blue.

WEALTH—Is something which most people seek, and which but few are indifferent to no matter in what form it presents itself. The word, "pecuniary," which is often used in speaking of a man's riches, used in speaking of a man's riches, comes from the Latin word pecus, which means cattle, and shows that formerly a man's wealth was reckoned by the cattle he possessed. Abraham is said to have been "very rich in cattle, in silver, and in gold." But no matter in what a man's riches may consist, it is all vanity and vexation of spirit, unless in connection therewith he has health. Emerson fully understood this when he said "the first wealth is health," and we have no doubt if he had known the virtues of S. S. S. that he would have recommended its use to all persons suffering from the diseases for which it is recommended.

Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free.

St. Peter (to weary New Yorker)—Won't you come in?

New Yorker—Dunno; is Gabriel going to be allowed to blow that horn much?

ALONE.

I miss you, my darling, my darling,
The embers burn low on the hearth;
And still is the air of the household,
And hushed is the voice of its mirth;
The wind past the lattices moan,
The midnight chimes out from the minster;
And I am alone.

I want you, my darling, my darling;
I'm tired with care and with fret;
I would nestle in silence beside you,
And all but your presence forget.
In the hush of the happiness given,
To those who through trusting have grown
To the fullness of love is contentment;
But I am alone.

I call you, my darling, my darling!
My voice echoes back on the heart;
I stretch my arms to you in longing,
And, lo! they fall empty apart;
I whisper the sweet words you taught me,
The words that we only have known,
Till the blank of the dumb air is bitter
For I am alone.

I need you, my darling, my darling!
With its yearnings my very heart aches;
The load that divides us weighs harder
I shrink from the jar that it makes,
Old sorrows rise up to beset me;
Old doubts make my spirit their own
Oh, come through the darkness and save me,
For I am alone.

Robert J. Burdette.

It Should be in Every House.

J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay street, Sharpshurg, Pa., says that he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with Pneumonia after an attack of "La Grippe," when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber, of Cooksport, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for Lung trouble. Nothing like it. Try it. Free Trial Bottles at the drug stores of Eberbach & Son, Ann Arbor; and Geo Haussler, Manchester.

Look where you are going and know where you are looking.

Worth Looking At.

"Turn to the press — its teeming sheets survey, big with the wonders of each passing day." Among these the eye will pause to look at an old family need in new dress. It will charm the sight, comfort the weary, and bring cheer and hope to the pain-stricken. The columns of this paper are graced by its reappearance. It is welcome, for what it promises to do, it does with alacrity, and proves its promise by an ample show of performance. The right thing, in the right place, at the right time, experience has proved it to be. Upon this it has won public confidence and esteem, for while St. Jacobs Oil, the great remedy for pain, thus makes its annual rounds and renews its pledges of prompt and permanent cure, its continual success is the guaranty that what it says is true and what it does is sure. Its best recommendation is its true reputation, upon which all may depend for cure and comfort.

"Strangest girl I ever met," muttered Chapple, almost to himself.

"Why?" asked Cholly.

"Accepted me," replied Chapple, absently.

Scio.

G. W. Snyder and wife have returned from a week's visit with relatives in Hudson.

What was it, John,

That made your face so free and clear from pimples, said his sweetheart. Why, don't you know, Eva? For over a year I took everything I could think of, without helping me, then I bought two bottles of Sulphur Bitters and now I haven't one pimple on my face. It's the best blood cleanser I ever saw.

Young lady—Have you anything that will cure blotches on the skin?

Truthful clerk—No—but I've plenty of things that will make them.

A Mystery Explained.

The papers contain frequent notices of rich, pretty and educated girls eloping with negroes, tramps and coachmen. The well-known specialist, Dr. Franklin Miles, says all such girls are more or less hysterical, nervous, very impulsive, unbalanced; usually subject to headache, neuralgia, sleeplessness, immoderate crying or laughing. These show a weak nervous system for which there is no remedy equal to Restorative Nerve. Trial bottles and a fine book, containing many marvelous cures, free at Eberbach & Son's, who also sell and guarantee Dr. Miles' celebrated New Heart Cure, the finest of heart tonics. Cures fluttering, short breath, etc.

You laugh at your poor neighbors' troubles, but if their story were written in a morocco-bound book you and your family would cry over them.

The Sherman-Foraker contest for the Ohio senatorship seems to be a rather warm one with Sherman in the lead.

The Detroit Journal, to prove that it is a full fledged republican paper, has installed Lew M. Miller, recently republican secretary of the state senate, as editor in chief.

One of the Republican candidates for state senator in New York, an office which pays $1,500, has just filed a statement of his election expenses, which he swears were $5,499.

The New York Times says "New York will be in the Democratic column, next year, and it will supply the candidate. It must be a very blind politician, that can't see that."

The New York election developed some exceedingly close contests for the legislature. The assembly is a tie with several districts in the courts, which, if they act upon these contests, will give the democrats a majority of two or four. The senate is still in doubt, the votes in three districts not yet having been canvassed.

It now seems probable that the people of this city will have an opportunity to express their views on sewerage at the ballot box. The electors meeting to vote upon the question will probably be called in February. That is the earliest date at which a meeting to vote taxes to be raised in 1892 can be called. It also gives ample time for thought and discussion, and there can be no excuse for hasty judgment on the matter.

RALLY AROUND THE FLAG.

The noise of a great conflict dies away, and the flag of a true and an undaunted Democracy has been carried forward.

In New York, on issues chiefly national, the party has united in the support of an excellent candidate, with the result that everything is ours.

In Massachusetts, after a stubborn fight, a Democrat is for the second time chosen governor, the victory being due to the demand of the people for freer trade.

In Iowa, a Democrat elected two years ago by an accident as it seemed is successful again by an increased majority on an increased vote, and probably carries the entire state ticket with one exception with him.

In Ohio, Mr. McKinley, the very embodiment of protection, the chief benefactor of trusts, rings and subsidy hunters unites all elements of his own party, concentrates the forced and voluntary contributions of ten thousand manufacturers, and in the face of Democratic dissensions succeeds in his canvass by a majority which is not so much a victory as a presage of approaching disaster.

Let us make no mistake about the situation; the battle is not won, it is only begun. Republicans find their lines of communication assailed, and they will not in 1892 be able to concentrate their forces in two states. Nevertheless they will contest every inch of ground with stubborn determination, and they are well entrenched and well supplied with the sinews of war.

Had the Democratic candidate for governor in Iowa delivered the speeches on silver which united the party in Massachusetts, he could not have won.

Had the Democratic candidate for governor in Massachusetts dealt with silver as it was dealt with in Iowa he would have been defeated.

In both Massachusetts and Iowa the people are thoroughly aroused on the question of tariff reform.

It is an issue which unites the Democrats of every section of the Union. For it the leaders of the party have since 1876 contended with great courage, with great wisdom, and under much discouragement. At last victory is within our reach. The whole organization, from Massachusetts to Texas is inspired with enthusiasm and supported by the hope of victory.

On this issue, and on this issue alone can Democrats everywhere be brought face to face in solid phalanx with the Republican hosts. It is no time now for new issues or for the discussion of questions involving another educational campaign.

United we are strong enough to win. Divided, arrayed one against another, disputing, refining, disagreeing and disgruntled, we give the victory to the enemy and throw away the fruits of nearly twenty years of faithful labor.

We, who together have marched to defeat so often, may now, if we will, together march to victory, not like a scattered army, not like stragglers living off the country, but as an organization animated by one hope, united on one purpose, and keeping step to the music of '76.

That was the music of tariff reform. That glorious campaign was won because we pledged ourselves to a reformation of the whole system of taxation.

It is a long time from 1876 to 1892, but the years are auspicious. It was a long march for the divided colonies from the Declaration of Independence to a written Constitution, which made us a Republic one and indivisible. In 1876 we took a long step forward, abandoning the war and war issues, and turning our eyes to the future. Then we celebrated the centennial of our independence; next year, with a victory so complete as to admit no dispute, we may celebrate the discovery of a new world by a triumph of principles as old as Democracy itself.

Rally round the flag boys, shouting the battle cry of freedom.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

Thanksgiving vacation begins next Tuesday evening.

The freshman election was postponed, Saturday, for two weeks.

The first Webster society "public" was given Wednesday evening.

The junior medics had a banquet at the Cook House, Saturday evening.

The Detroit Tribune, Sunday, printed an unrecognizable cut of the U. of M. foot-ball eleven.

The junior law team went to Detroit, Saturday, and defeated the D. A. C. eleven. Score 10 to 0.

The junior lit rugby eleven defeated the Normal team on the Campus, Saturday morning, by a score of 48 to 0.

The freshmen independents were unable to decide upon a ticket at their caucus, Saturday, and adjourned for two weeks.

J. T. Scott, who was in the literary department in '88 and '89, committed suicide by cutting his throat at the University of Pennsylvania, on the 11th inst.

Miss Maude MacGregor, lit '92, is a niece of Dr. Duncan MacGregor, who lectured at the Baptist church, Tuesday evening.

Horace Suydam, a senior lit, had a leg broken while playing with a foot-ball in front of the Psi U house, Friday evening.

The Castalian will be issued about Feb. 1, the reception of contributions having closed Tuesday. The Register company has the contract for printing.

In the contests between the '94 and '95 medics, on the campus, Friday afternoon, Hewitt, '95, won the putting shot, and McClymonds, '94, the 100 yards dash.

In the inter-class foot-ball schedule the junior lites defeated the sophomores last Thursday, and on Friday the high school and junior laws played a draw, neither team scoring.

The junior laws adopted a constitution and a class yell, Saturday. The latter is, "Boom-a-lacker! Boom-a-lacker! Boom! Boom! Ba! Michigan! Michigan! '93 Law." The class will attempt to elect officers on Dec. 5.

Malley, of the Chicago team, formerly of the U. of M., telegraphed his Phi Kappa Psi brothers here regarding the game, Saturday, as follows: "We, (Chicago), won the game by dirty work, and I did my share of it."

The U. of M. rugby eleven played a game against the University club team at Chicago, Saturday, being defeated by a score of 20 to 0. At the close of the first half neither had a score. The game was a slugging gone, besides which, the referee was against the U. of M. in many of his decisions.

The high school and junior laws played off their draw game in the inter-class schedule Tuesday afternoon, the former winning by a score of 18 to 6. The game was one of the best of the series, and was hotly fought, the high school team winning by superior skill. In the draw game between the same teams, last week, neither side scored.

The senior lit election, Saturday afternoon, was a tame affair, the independents having nearly everything their own way. The officers elected were as follows: P. W. Ross, president; Miss Maude Forhan, vice-president; W. H. Delenback, orator; A. J. Tuttle, historian; Miss Herrick, poetess; Miss Borthwick, prophetess; T. E. Barnum, secretary; E. H. Edwards, treasurer.

Proceedings of Board of Public Works. [OFFICIAL.]

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS, ANN ARBOR, NOV. 19, 1891.

Regular meeting.

Board met and was called to order by the President.

Roll Called. Full Board present.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

Mr. Keech moved that the bids for new stone culvert on Felch street, across Mill race, be opened and inspected, which motion prevailed.

The bids were found to be as follows:

Charles Tessmer, $540.00

Clancy & Co., $570.00.

On motion the bids were laid on the table, as the bids are in excess of the appropriation made.

Board then adjourned.

TESTS.

This is an age of testing. People are skeptical. They do not take everything for granted. Advertisements are put to the test. They are weighed and sometimes found wanting. Abraham Lincoln said that you could fool a part of the people all of the time, and all the people a part of the time, but you could not fool all the people all the time. The moral of that is that you had better not attempt to fool any of the people at any time, if you want your business built upon a sound foundation.

We advertise largely.
We do exactly as we advertise.
People test our "ads," our goods, our prices.
The tests must be satisfactory, for new customers come to us every day and continue with us.

Apply the test yourselves. If the result is not satisfactory don't trade with us. If it is we shall be pleased to serve you with DRY GOODS, CARPETS, CURTAINS, and GENTS' FURNISHINGS at

A Pure Cream Tartar Powder

ROYAL, Contains Ammonia.

TAYLOR'S ONE SPOON. Contains Alum and Ammonia.

Dr. Price gives larger and fuller cans than those of any other Baking Powder manufacturer.

Above cut represents the comparative size of one pound can each "Dr. Price's," Royal" and "Taylor's One Spoon." These cans were set side by side, then photographed down in exact proportions to admit the plate in this space. Ask your grocer to set a one pound can of any other brand alongside 1 lb. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, and observe the difference, as illustrated above.

Adulterated powders may usually be detected by their heavier bulk, as shown by the small cans, and these scantily filled, often containing a circular to help fill out the cans. It is a singular fact that many of the ammonia and alum baking powders are advertised as "Absolutely Pure." All official examinations prove that it would be safe to reject all powders labeled absolutely pure.

The economy in using Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder does not consist alone in the fact that much larger and fuller cans are given, but Dr. Price's is a stronger, purer and more wholesome baking powder than any other known. Does better work, and goes farther, hence more economical in every way.

What woman would use an ammonia or alum baking powder if she knew it? Such powders not only undermine the health, but ammonia gives to the complexion a sallow and blotched appearance.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is reported by all authorities as free from ammonia, alum, lime, or any other adulterant. The purity of this ideal powder has never been questioned.

Accept no Substitute--It may contain Ammonia or Alum

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

[OFFICIAL.]

Council Chamber.

Ann Arbor, Nov. 16th, 1891.
Regular meeting.
Council met and was called to order by Pres. Cooley.
Roll called. A quorum present.
Absent, Ald. Rehberg—1.
Minutes of previous meetings approved.

REPORT OF SEWERAGE COMMITTEE.

To the Common Council:

Your committee on sewers to whom was referred the petition of citizens, dated Nov. 2d, in regard to submitting to a vote of the people of Ann Arbor the question of constructing a main sewer according to the plans of Prof. Charles E. Greene, have respectfully report that they have had the matter under consideration and submit their report as follows:

The names attached to the petition represent all sections of the city and some of the heavier tax-payers in the different wards. The petition requests the privilege of voting for a special tax of $20,000 to be levied in 1892 for the purpose of constructing a main sewer as set forth and described in the report of Prof. Greene. Heretofore the city government of Ann Arbor has opposed all motions, or appeals of the citizens, on the subject of raising money by special tax for sewers on the technical grounds that according to the charter the citizens cannot vote in one fiscal year on matters of taxation pertaining to a subsequent year.

The petition of citizens referred to simply expresses the desire of our people to vote by special election on the plan of a main sewer as has been submitted to this council, the tax to be levied during the next fiscal year.

Inasmuch as the members of this council have heretofore given an almost unanimous expression of opinion in favor of a system of sewers for this city, and as the opposition has been with reference to the specific plan as submitted by Prof. Greene, and as the petition of our citizens in question can but refer to a public expression of opinion on this subject, which would transfer the responsibility of definite action from this council to the citizens themselves.

Therefore, your committee would respectfully recommend that the petition of said citizens be granted in so far as pertains to calling a special election to vote on the plan as submitted by Prof. Chas. E. Greene, and that the date of said special election be set for the month of February next.

Respectfully submitted,
CHRISTIAN MARTIN,
L. D. WINES,
M. E. COOLEY.

Ann Arbor Mich., Nov. 16th, '91.

Ald. Wines moved that the report be received and placed on file.

Which motion prevailed.

The committee on sewerage made a further report, as follows:

To the Common Council:

Your committee on sewers beg leave to report that they are in possession of additional facts pertaining to the question of pollution of rivers by sewage, which, if it is the pleasure of this Council, they are now prepared to submit.

Mr. Geo. S. Pierson, City Engineer of Kalamazoo, who is an acknowledged expert on the subject of sewers, and who has made the subject of sanitary engineering a specialty for many years, writes the committee as follows:

"In regard to the pollution of rivers by sewage, I find that the authorities treat this subject mainly from the standpoint of the limit of pollution that may be considered to render water unsafe for potable purposes and the deductions are made largely from chemical analysis of the water as it is found. I find little information as to the ratio of population to cubic feet; for instance, of a stream beyond which the stream may be considered to be offensive and injurious to health in other ways. This, I take it, is the ratio at which you wish to arrive roughly. Investigations of this sort seem to have been conducted on a sort of comparative method in which conditions, difficult to state mathematically, largely influence the decision. As, for instance, the stream may already be strongly polluted by towns above. It may be broad, sluggish, have low shores subject to overflow, be densely populated along its banks, have frequent dams, etc., etc. It may on the other hand be unpolluted from above, and swift, deep, with high and bold shores, etc., etc.

The customs of different cities largely influence the decision also. For instance, the sewage of U. S. towns is already diluted to about three times the degree of that of English towns, hence comparisons made on the basis of the ratio of cubic feet of sewage to cubic feet of river water are often misleading.

I take it the proper method of comparing the degree of pollution is by the ratio of the cubic feet of river water per capita, daily, computed at the low water stage of the river at which time the conditions will be at the worst.

I enclose a few comparisons of this kind. Since, however, the other conditions which cannot be mathematically stated have at least equal weight I presume they will not be of great service to you.

City.	River.	Cu. ft of river water per capita daily.
Brunswick.	Ocker.	35.
Breslau.	Oder.	212.
Dresden.	Elbe.	600.
Hanover.	Leine.	247.
Munich.	Isar.	2,015.
Neisse.	Bielefeld.	459.
Nuernberg.	Pegnitz.	247.
Paris.	Seine.	70.
Vienna.	Danube.	100.
Kalamazoo.	Kalamazoo.	1,500.

The quantity of sewage per capita, per day in the U. S. is approximately ten cubic feet. I have often seen instances stated where the pollution is about one in twenty. This is, however, undesirable.

If the minimum flow of the Huron in the dry season be placed at 55 cu. ft. per second or 3,300 cu. ft. per minute, which is equivalent to a daily flow of about 4,800,000 cu. ft., it gives a ratio for a population of 10,000 inhabitants of 480 cu. ft. per capita, and for 16,000 inhabitants of 300 cu. ft. per capita. By referring to the table it will be found that the smaller value, 300 cu. ft. per capita, is larger than that for six of the eleven cities quoted.

Mr. Clark Cornwell, of Ypsilanti, writes the committee that in his judgment the minimum flow is at least 50 per cent greater than the figures given, which if true makes the showing even more favorable.

In answer to the very plausible objection which has been raised that on Sundays, and at other times when the mills above Ann Arbor are not running, the flow of water at the city will cease, your committee desires to state that they have found such to be not the case. Inquiry and investigation have demonstrated the fact that it is practically impossible to build dams and flumes so that they will not leak. In certain cases the leakage may reach as high as 10 per cent. of the normal flow of the stream. This is probably true of the dam at this city. It has been observed that during the dry season when no water was flowing over the dam, or through the wheels of Swift's mill, the current was sufficiently strong at Bridge No. 2 to offer some difficulty to horses in fording the stream, as was necessary during the repairs to this bridge. Even if the flow should be practically stopped for 24 or 36 hours by shutting down the mills, the sewage would scarcely become objectionable in that time, and the increased flow on starting again would probably flush the river thoroughly so that the condition of the stream at no time would be serious.

Your committee beg leave to refer again to the other means suggested in the several reports submitted to this Council of disposing of the sewage in case the flow in the river at this city should prove to be insufficient during the dry season.

Respectfully submitted,
CHRISTIAN MARTIN,
L. D. WINES,
M. E. COOLEY.

Committee.

Ald. Wines moved that the report be received and spread in journal.

Which motion prevailed.

To the Common Council:

Your committee on bonds would respectfully report that they have examined the following bond, and would recommend its acceptance with the sureties named.

Liquor Dealers Bond: Principals—Frank Allmand and John Schaeble. Sureties—Thomas F. Leonard and Louis J. Liesemer.

Respectfully submitted,
WILLIAM HERZ,
LOUIS P. HALL,
E. G. MANN.

Committee.

Ald. Martin moved that the report be accepted and bond approved.

Which motion prevailed.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Ald. Hall moved that the resolution of his for opening Fourth ave., south from Madison to Hill sts., according to original motion be taken from the table and put upon its passage.

The resolution of Ald. Hall was then read, as follows:

Whereas, Application having been made to this common council to lay out and establish a certain street hereinafter described and due notice of the pendency of such proposed improvement having been duly given to all persons who are interested in the lands and tenements required therefor, and all persons appearing having been heard, and due consideration thereof having been had, and it appearing therefrom that it is necessary to take and acquire certain lands therefor. Therefore, be it resolved and it is hereby ordered and determined that a street be, and the same is hereby laid out and established four (4) rods in width, in the city of Ann Arbor, described as follows to-wit: From Madison st., to Hill st., on the lines of Fourth ave., projected southerly.

2d. It is hereby declared and resolved that the cost of the laying out of the establishment of such street, and also the lands required therefor, be and the same is hereby ordered to be assessed and levied against the owners of lands, tenements, and taxable real estate situated in and within the following boundaries are defined, and hereby declared to be benefited by the improvement so ordered as aforesaid, and the same are and are hereby constituted a special assessment district on against and upon which the cost of said improvement so as aforesaid ordered shall be levied and assessed pursuant to law, that is to say: All of the lots, lands, tenements, and premises fronting of Fourth avenue, south of William st., to Hill st., on the east and west side of Ann Arbor st., on Brown st. east side; on Hill st., from Brown to 5th avenue; on Mosley st., north and south side, from Main st. to the T. A. A. & N. M. Co. lands.

Which resolution prevailed by a yeas and nays vote as follows: Yeas—Ald. Mann, Wines, Herz, Martin, Allmendinger, Fillmore, Taylor, O'Hearn, Ferguson, Hall, Kitson and Pres. Cooley—12.

Nays—None.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS.

By Ald. O'Hearn.

Whereas, It is thought by many that a system of sewers for the city has become a necessary public improvement, that in the opinion of the council the system as suggested by Prof. Greene ought to be projected further down the river.

And, Whereas, there is great diversity of opinion as to the probable cost of a main sewer when so projected down the river, therefore,

Resolved, That Prof. Greene do advise the council without delay and bring in a detailed statement of the probable cost at present prices of such main sewer exclusive of right of way when projected down the river to Bunker's dam, so called, with map and survey and with 30 inch 1st quality sewer pipe from its outlet to the south line of Huron st., and 26 inch pipe from Huron st., to south line of Hill st., and 22 inch pipe from Hill st. to stopping place as indicated on the map. Also the expense of size pipe as shown in his report.

Which resolution prevailed by a yeas and nays vote as follows: Yeas—Ald. Mann, Wines, Herz, Martin, Allmendinger, Fillmore, Taylor, O'Hearn, Ferguson, Hall, Kitson and Pres. Cooley—12.

Nays—None.

Ald. Martin moved that the committee on free beds at the University Hospitals be revived and reappointed.

Which motion prevailed:

The president appointed the following committee: Ald. Hall, Taylor and Herz.

By Ald. Mann.

Resolved, That the president appoint a committee of three who, with the city attorney, obtain and report at the next meeting what sums of money will be necessary to obtain the title to the land required for the extension of S. Fourth ave., from Madison to Hill sts.

Which motion prevailed.

The chair appointed the following committee: Ald. Mann, Hall, and Allmendinger.

By Ald. Kitson.

Resolved, That permission be, and is hereby granted to Marcus D. Miller, to remove one shade tree from before his premises on Geddes ave.

Which resolution prevailed.

By Ald. Fillmore.

Resolved, That the common council hereby calls the attention of the state railroad commissioner to the need of a gate and keeper at the crossing of the Toledo, Ann Arbor and Northern Michigan Railroad Co., with Miller ave., and respectfully request that he will order said company to cause the construction of a gate and the placing of a keeper at the crossing named.

Ald. Herz moved as an amendment to include the following other crossings to-wit: S. Main, Jefferson, Washington, William, Liberty, Madison, Traver and Pontiac streets.

Which amendment prevailed.

The resolution as amended prevailed.

Ald. Taylor moved that the city clerk be and is hereby ordered to procure fifteen file covers for printed council proceedings for the use of the council.

Which motion prevailed by a yeas and nays vote as follows: Yeas—Ald. Mann, Wines, Herz, Martin, Allmendinger, Fillmore, Taylor, O'Hearn, Ferguson, Hall, Kitson and Pres. Cooley—12.

Nays—None.

On motion the council adjourned.

WM. J. MILLER, Clerk.

NEVER A FAILURE.

The Red River Valley of Minnesota and North Dakota has never had a failure of crops. It produced 30,000,000 bushels of wheat besides other cereals in 1890. Farms can be had on the crop plan, or long time cash payments. It is not an uncommon thing to pay for a farm from the proceeds of one crop. It has all of the advantages of an old country in the shape of school, church, market, postal & railway facilities, and all the chances of a new country in the way of cheap lands, rich soil, and increase in values.

It is one of the most fertile and promising regions in America not yet fully occupied. In the rush to the far west, however, this rich valley has been over-looked. It has room for a million more people.

THE SONG OF THE "No. 9."

My dress is of fine polished oak,
As rich as the finest fur cloak,
And for handsome design
You just should see mine—
No. 9, No. 9.

I'm beloved by the poor and the rich,
For both I impartially stitch;
In the cabin I shine,
In the mansion I'm fine—
No. 9, No. 9.

I never get surly nor tired,
With zeal I always am fired;
To hard work I incline,
For rest I ne'er pine—
No. 9, No. 9.

I am easily purchased by all,
With instalments that monthly do fall;
And when I am thine,
Then life is benign—
No. 9, No. 9.

To the Paris Exposition I went,
Upon getting the Grand Prize intent;
I left all behind,
The Grand Prize was mine—
No. 9, No. 9.

At the Universal Exposition of 1889, at Paris, France, the best sewing machines of the world, including those of America, were in competition. They were passed upon by a jury composed of the best foreign mechanical experts, two of whom were the leading sewing machine manufacturers of France. This jury, after exhaustive examination and tests, adjudged that the Wheeler & Wilson machines were the best of all, and awarded that company the highest prize offered—the GRAND PRIZE—giving other companies only gold, silver and bronze medals.

The French government, as a further recognition of superiority, decorated Mr. Nathaniel Wheeler, president of the company, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor—the most prized honor of France.

The No. 9, for family use, and the No. 12, for manufacturing uses, are the best in the world to-day.

And now, when you want a sewing machine, if you do not get the best it will be your own fault. Ask your sewing machine dealer for the No. 9 Wheeler & Wilson machine. If he doesn't keep them, write to us for descriptive catalogue and terms. Agents wanted in all unoccupied territory.

The Regents' Meeting.

The board of regents held their regular monthly meeting, Wednesday, all the members, with the exception of Regents Willets and Draper, being present.

The regents took action relative to University extension teaching, and authorized the members of the faculty to accept invitations from local bodies to deliver lectures on this subject. The faculty is not to undertake local organization, but is to await invitations from societies or classes desiring to enter on the work. The entire expense must be borne by the local organizations. The University will soon issue circulars giving more details.

The board invited the Michigan G. A. R., which meets here next April, to hold their meetings in University Hall.

The following appointments were made to deliver special lectures in the law department:

Dr. Howell, on "microscopy and its medico-legal relations."

Prof. Hudson, on "comparative constitutional law."

Dr. Vaughan, on "toxicology and its legal relations."

Prof. Adams, on "The railroad problem."

Judge Cooley was asked to deliver lectures on special subjects before the post-graduates of the law department.

The salary of Julius D. Schlotterbeck, assistant in pharmacognosy, was raised from $300 to $600.

The medical faculty was authorized to establish a training school for nurses in connection with the University hospital, the number of pupils being limited to eight.

The following degrees were conferred: George Morton Walker, B. S. (C. E.); Miss Marion McDonald, A. B.; Byron H. Finney, A. B.

The board decided to keep the University hospital, when completed, open during the entire year hereafter, the assistants of the several clinical professors to take charge of patients during the summer vacation, without extra compensation.

Victory over Disease.

Gentlemen: I have suffered intensely from biliousness and rheumatism for over three years, and had tried so many remedies that I had lost all faith. Hearing of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup I bought a bottle and found it helped me. I have now used four bottles, and it has restored my liver and kidneys to healthy action, and done more to purify my blood than anything I have ever taken. I am pleased to recommend it as a wonderful blood medicine.

Very truly yours,

B. C. ROBINSON,

Sad Suicide of a Former U. of M. Student.

A very sad and startling suicide occurred at the U. of P. the 11th inst. John T. Scott, a medical student, was found dead in his room with his throat cut. Last spring Mr. Scott was hit on the head by a batted ball which felled him to the ground, unconscious. It is supposed that this accident caused a fit of temporary insanity, in which he took his own life, though his friends have noticed nothing strange in his actions since. During '88 and '89, Mr. Scott was in the literary department of the University of Michigan. In the fall he played right end on the Varsity eleven, and in spring short-stop on the nine. While here, Mr. Scott was a general favorite. Being a member of the Psi U. fraternity, and standing high in athletic circles he was well known here. His many friends are deeply grieved at his sad and unexpected death.—U. of M. Daily.

I Was a Fool.

Yes, I was a fool not to try Sulphur Bitters for Rheumatism, from which I had suffered over two years; but I had tried so many doctors and medicines without getting relief that I was discouraged. I am now on my fourth bottle and almost cured. I was a fool that I didn't try that wonderful remedy before.—C. G. Pratt, Manchester, N. H.

My Family Doctor.

For the past two years has been Sulphur Bitters, and until I began using them in my family, we had more or less sickness, and our doctor's bill has been very large. Since we began their use, we have had no doctor to pay, and three dollars invested in Sulphur Bitters has kept health in our family.—E. Knott, Postmaster, Waverly, Iowa.

CUPID.

From your breast you may pluck His dart, if you will; But the place where it struck Will be sensitive still.

Hibbard's Rheumatic and Liver Pills These pills are scientifically compounded and uniform in action. No gripping pain commonly following the use of pills. They are adapted to both adults and children with safety. We guarantee that they have no equal in the cure of Sick Headache, Constipation, Dyspepsia and Biliousness; and, as an appetizer, they excel any other preparation. For sale by John Moore.

The Webster Public.

Wednesday evening the Webster Society gave its initial public entertainment of the year in the lecture room of the law building. A large and appreciative audience filled the room to its utmost capacity. The programme, a very interesting one from first to last, was opened by President A. F. Sheldon with an address of welcome. During the course of his address Mr. S. took occasion to depreciate ideas, held by some people regarding the lawyer, and extolled in eloquent language the dignity of the legal profession. Miss Minnie Davis followed with a piano solo, and acquitted herself in a creditable manner. "The Age of Problems" was ably handled by A. Webster, who showed himself thoroughly conversant with the subject under consideration. An oration, "A Dependent Commonwealth," by J. W. Browning, was well delivered, reflecting credit upon Mr. B. both as an orator and writer. Next came a banjo solo by Mell Gillespie, accompanied by Miss Davis. The excellence of which number is best attested to by the hearty encore which it elicited. A satire by J. G. Kral closed the first part of the programme, and was a happy production. "A Man of the Future," was a true portrayal of the ideal anarchist. Sparkling with humor, it served to enliven the general prosaicism of the excellent programme.

Part second was opened by Mrs. C. D. Colby with a violin solo. The rendition was excellent, and received a merited encore. In the scene from "Othello," Messrs. W. I. Maney and H. D. Jewell entered into the true conception of their respective roles, and acquitted themselves grandly. The cornet solo by G. W. Collins, was admirably rendered. A discussion on "Two Views of Parnell's Life" by Messrs. H. A. Smith and J. E. Roberts, was one of the principal features of the exercises. The bright side of the great leader's life was strongly presented by Mr. Smith, who argued that the sin of the present was more than covered by the charities and good works of Parnell's past.

In refutation of this Mr. Roberts argued that the evil which led to Parnell's downfall was of too serious a nature to merit forgiveness, even in consideration of past virtues. The exercises were closed by a piano solo by Miss Davis. In every sense the entertainment was a decided success, and the efforts of the participants well merited the highest encomiums of praise. Further entertainments by the Webster Society will be looked forward to with pleasant anticipation by all those who had the good fortune to be present last evening.

"Mrs. Kelly requests me to write you in regard to what S. S. has done for her son, who has been sick so long with an abscess. She had two physicians, and they did every thing for him that they could and he didn't improve. For fourteen months and five days he was in bed and not dressed. Some one recommended your S. S. and after he had taken two or three bottles he began to improve. He continued until he had taken eleven bottles, and to-day he is as well as ever. The boy is fourteen years old, and Mrs. Kelly lives next door to me, and I am well acquainted with the facts of the case." C. W. HODGKINS, Postmaster, East Lamoine, Maine.

"Do you know, Mr. Hicks," said Arabella, the night after Halloween, "I went down stairs last night at midnight with a candle and looked into the mirror to see the face of my future husband reflected there, and—tee-hee—I saw your face!" "What beastly ridiculous thing these Halloween customs are!" said Mr. Hicks.

South or West?

Many who live in the interior towns and villages have the notion that to buy railroad tickets to far distant points, it is necessary to go to the larger cities. Others, that by some chance or design they may, by going off from home somewhere and first paying local fare to this somewhere or other, they will be able to save something in the price. Now in all other business matters you will rather deal with those at home and with whom you have acquaintance and in whom you have confidence. Buying railroad tickets is business. The trip may be pleasure—full of pleasure—but the purchase is business. It is more than likely, therefore, if you will only try, that you can buy just as satisfactorily and certainly as economically at your nearest station. The agent may not have the particular ticket you want but if you will allow him a day or so he will get it, reading from your station through to where you are going. This is the method on the Chicago & West Michigan and also on the Detroit, Lansing & Northern. If it so happens that you who read this find it inconvenient to reach the agent drop him a note of inquiry; or, write stating your proposed trip, to Yours very truly,

GEO. DE HAVEN, General Passenger Agent, Grand Rapids.

CHEATING "HORSE" BLANKETS

Nearly every pattern of 5/8 Horse Blanket is imitated in color and style. In most cases the imitation looks just as good as the genuine, but it hasn't the warped threads, and so lacks strength, and while it sells for only a little less than the genuine it isn't worth one-half as much. The fact that 5/8 Horse Blankets are copied is strong evidence that they are THE STANDARD, and every buyer should see that the 5/8 trade mark is sewed on the inside of the Blanket.
