A Story on Dr. O'Betz-Arranging for the Press Association Meeting-Sudden Death—Exempt From Jury Duty.

Two Very Sudden Deaths.

The body of Miss Matilda Weston, of Dexter, was found, November 13 in an out-building, where she had gone with a pail of suds and a broom. She lived alone. She had evidently been washing, part of the washing was hung on the line, and when a neighbor entered the house in the eveening to call upon her, the washboiler was found on the stove perfectly made for her. A coroner's jury decided that her death was caused by with her parents as early as 1836.

On Sunday, November 15, John Ancliff a well-known farmer of Southern Manchester, went out to milk. He was a large man and apparently in good health. As he did not return, his wife looked for him and found him in the stable, dead. There was a little milk in tha pail. A post mortem examination showed that he died of heart disease. He was born in England sixty-five years ago and came to this country in 1851, settling in Manchester in 1852. He was twice married, but had no children. He had accumulated considerable wealth.

Another Sudden Death.

Samuel G. Benham died suddenly on Monday noon of apoplexy, aged 62 years. The deceased was at work in his cigar manufactory on Ann street and got up to put a piece of wood in the stove. In moving he felt as if a cord had snapped in the back of his head, and immediately his head began to ache. He felt that something serious had happened and rapped on a window for help. Jerry Collins went to his shop, which is in the third story of the building, and after a few moments assisted him to a bed-room below-Dr. Tyler was summoned and gave what relief he could, but Mr. Benham | word came to us that our dear friend,

He gave a Detroit street car conductor a sample of this latter quality recently. As the doctor left Grace Hospital to go buttoned up his big coat and lighted a cigar. He boarded a Woodward avenue car and stood on the back platform. In a few minutes a big, burly conductor stuck his head out of the door and shouted surlily, "Throw that eigar away." The cigar was an extra fine one and the doctor didn't do it. A few minutes later the conductor came out again and said, "Do you see that sign," pointing to "No smoking on the rear platform." The doctor followed the direction in which he pointed and then responded that he did. The conductor then said that if he didn't throw that cigar away he would throw the doctor off the car. An opinion of interest to the large are honorary members of the various companies of state troops was handed down in the Supreme Court to-day in the case of Sherwood Hall, who was held in contempt by Judge Burlingam, of the Superior Court of Grand Rapids for refusing to serve as a juror on the ground that as an honorary cold. Alarmed by this a search was member of a company of state troops he was exempt from jury services under the provisions of Act No. 511 of the heart disease. Miss Weston was 62 public acts of 1861. Judge Burlinyears old. She came to Webster game held the law to be unconstitutional, and when the case was argued in the Supreme Court last week the constitutionality of the statute was vigorously attacked.

The law in question provides that not more than 150 contributing members may be enrolled in each company and battery of state troops. Each of such contributing members shall pay into the treasury annually $10, and upon the payment of such annual dues such member shall receive a certificate, and shall be exempt from jury duty and poll-tax in the same manner as acting members of the state troops are now exempt. After holding that the provisions of th eact are fully covered by its title, Mr. Justice Grant, who wrote the opinion, proceeds to consider the points raised against it. He declares it is not class legislation and no class of citizens are barred from its privileges. It aids and fosters military organizations, which is a well-defined policy of the state. It is not against public policy so long as the right of trial by jury is maintained. The contempt proceedings are therefore ordered quashed and the defendant discharged.

False Swearing in a Divorce Case.

The Detroit Evening News contains case before the Wasthenaw circuit

naw circuit court are narrated the details of a most flagrant instance of abuse under American divorce laws. The case is that of James S. Schoon-hoven against Minnie Schoonhoven, of Elgin, Ill. Contemptible, under-handed methods, fraud, and even deliberate perjury are alleged, the startling nature of the charges and the social position of the parties to the suit giving to the case the prominence of an inter-state sensation. Mr. Schoonhoven was granted a divorce in this city on Oct. 5 last. His wife now petitions to have the divorce set aside, and proofs of the questionable methods resorted to by her husband to secure the decree will be presented at the hearing on the petition next Monday. when you first advised with me that

Mr. Schoonhoven, it seems, is a very wealthy man and his wife a very beautiful woman. They were married a little over four years ago, but lived and I tell you so now. together but a few months. Mrs. I am grieved to think that you Schoonhoven, it is said, desired to should deceive your own solicitor, and have her husband make over to her a I advise you that there is no use of so is given as one of the causes of their separation. For something like three years Mrs. Schoonhoven has been planning to have their marriage annulled, and, persnmably because the grounds which he might present for judicial action in this direction were nsufficient to secure the desired end in Illinois, schemed to obtain a decree in some other commonwealth.

Many months ago he came to Ann Arbor, where, with some of his old friends he consulted an attorney on the subject, who informed him that he would have to establish a residence in this state before he could apply for a divorce here. This, Mr. Schoonhoven, unknown to his wife, attempted to do but not taking the full advice of his attorney. Knowing, as he thought, a good deal more himself, he tried to hasten illegally the longed for date of his release. His overanxiety was decid edly helped along by the discovery of two young ladies, a blonde and a brutwo young ladies, a blonde and a bru-nette, of Ann Arbor, either of whom, he authorities, establishes herself in a flat thought, would make a most acceptable Mrs. S. No. 2. Reluctantly he waited for the slow process of becoming a resident of Michigan, and unknown to his attorney in Ann Arbor, he went into Alexandria county, Ill., and undertook to get a divorce there in the month of January, 1891, to which proceedings his wife put in an appear-Then the case was immediately dropped, the presumption being that it would, of course, have been continued had he been able to make anything like a respectable showing. He then came back to Michigan and secretly started a divorce suit here. In his bill filed in Illinois he states that he had been a resident of Illinois for the pre-ceding year, while in the bill filed in Michigan he swears that he was a resident of Michigan during that same brief outline sketch will give an idea period. He kept everything quiet in of the character of the play. It is de-Michigan about the Illinois attempt, cidedly French in tone, and yet, if all Michigan about the Illinois attempt, cidedly French in tone, and yet, if all even from his own attorney in Ann that is said of it be true, it is no more area for his glight. The conclusion is that he has shown by his own acts that his residence in Michigan was not in good faith

Mr. Schoonhoven claims that he only tried to secure the divorce in Alexandria county, Ill., for the purpose of testing Minnie's disposition and to see whether she would oppose the bill or not. Be that too attenuated or not, the Mammoth Cave. Some of them take a trip to New Orleans and Florida. There is every appearance of a least that the advantage in the line would get the advantage in the him ew deal. She apparently has him to the him expectation of the line would get the advantage in the line would get the line would get the advantage in the line would get the lin on the hip, and may hold a warrant for perjury over his head unless, perchance, he comes down with the cash.

The proof in the divorce case sufficiently established, on its face, his residence in Michigan and of the desertion of his wife. His solicitor at Ann Arbor fully believed that he had a right to the decree, as is shown by the following scorching letter written to Mr. Schoonhoven immediately after the papers for the re-opening of the case were served on the solicitor. This letter will be used in court by the attorney at the hearing Monday:

ANN ARBOR, Nov. 8, '91. James S. Schoonhoven, Elgin, Ill.:

Dear Sir: Your former wife has made an application to be heard on the 23d of this month andset aside your decree of divorce. Her grounds are that you were never a resident of this state and she shows, by the affidavit of herself and F. J. Hagel, that you lived in Elgin and was a resident of Illinois all this time-shows where you lived and how you lived. She Moran were appointed a committee to furthermore shows that in the Febru-represent the club at the meeting of ary term, 1891, you swore yourself, furthermore shows that in the Februin a bill of complaint and an application for divorce, that you were a resident of Alexander county, state of Illinois, and that you had been for a whole year, and gives a copy of the bill you filed for divorce. Furthermore, she gives the affidavit of George P. Harvey that you voted in the second ward of the city of Elgin on Nov. 4, 1890. Now, if you voted as Harvey states, and if you filed a bill for divorce in Alexander county and swore you were a resident of Illinois, of course there is no use of your ap-The Detroit Evening News contains the following flagrant example of false motion, for it is self-evident that you swearing to procure a divorce, in a made a fool of yourself by so doing. You could not have a residence in two places, and this court has no jurisdiction over you if you had a right to vote in Illinois and had a right to file In documents on file in the Washtebill for divorce in the state of Illinois during the time you claimed a residence here. I am astonished that you should be foolish enough to laim the right to vote in Illinois and the right to file a bill for divorce there, while you were pretending to your attorney and your friends here that you was claiming a residence in Michigan. What do you mean by that? You should, at least, be honest with your attorney, and should have told him what you were doing and had done. Since the above was in type, Judge Kinne has rendered a decision in the case, setting aside the divorce and dismissing the bill, stating that a fraud had been practiced upon the court. Mr. Schoonhoven was not present at the hearing, although he had been notified of it.

CHOICEST CUTS OF STEAKS.

MEATS AND SAU Fresh lard always in stock. Poultry in season. Does Sheep Breeding Pay.

A Saline correspondent writes the Detroit Evening News as follows:

referred to is the exportation of thoroughbred sheep, raised in Michigan, from New York, which were selected wee, Hillsdale, Shiawassee, Calhoun, Van Buren and St. Joseph counties.

Michigan man has been financially insent to Australian market before now and sold to good advantage, but they were selected by an Australian syndi-& Burns from $25 to $150 per head, and before they are ready for the July and August sales at Melbourne will per head for transportation and other expenses. In consequence of the Australian law prohibiting the importation of sheep from America, it is necessary to ship them first to London, Eng., where they are quarantined for 10 days, when they are entitled to register as English sheep, after which they will be shipped to Australia and there quarantined for 90 days more. during which time they are subjected to two dippings, which consists of dousing each sheep in a vat containing a decoction o ftobacco and other substances supposed to kill the parasites believed by Australians to abound in all foreign bred sheep. Mr. Wood does not expect to land all the rams in Australia, previous adventures of this description proving that the crossing of the English channel and the dipping process are rather severe on the constitutions of American sheep. He estimates his total outlay before reaching the market at fully $10,000. In Australia, they figure on receiving from $200 to $3,000 per head for the rams. This is thought to be a fair estimate, as several of the sheep purchased in Michigan last year by an Australian at from $75 to $125, sold for upwards of $3,000 each at the annual Australian sheep show, last Michigan merino rams are in great demand by Australians, as being the best procurable with which to improve the wool of the native sheep. The outcome of the new venture will be watched with considerable interest by a large number of Michigan breeders. Mr. Wood is still a young man, but he has already cleared over $50,-000 from sheep-breeding, and has the the best flock of merinos in the state.

A Mystery Explained.

The papers contain frequent notices of rich, pretty and educated girls eloping with negroes, tramps and Dr. Franklin Miles, says all such girls are more or less hysterical,, nervous, very impulsive, unbalanced; usually subject to headache, neuralgia, sleep lessness, immoderate crying or laugh These show a weak nervous system for which there is no remedy equal to Restorative Nervine. My Family Doctor

For the past two years has been Sulphur Bitters, and until I began using them in my family, we had more or less sickness, and our doctor's bill has been very large. Since we began their use, we have had no doctor to pay, and three dollars invested in Sulphur Bitters has kept health in our family.-E. Knott, Postmaster, Waverly, Iowa.

S., and writes under date of July 27, 1891, that he was a great sufferer from acute rheumatism for more than six months. He had quite a number of physicians to treat him, and also took several other medicines, without any permanent benefit. A friend told him to try S. S. S. He did so and used only four bottles, which cured him sound and well. He recommends it to all who suffer from rheumatism. Rheumatism has been conceded to be a trouble in the blood, and we have numbers of reports from the most reliable people in the country that it has cured the most aggravated cases. We certainly recommend every sufferer to send for our treatise on blood and skin diseases, which will be mailed free

It is proposed to publish a series of articles, upon a scale not before attempted, giving the results of special study and work among the poor of the great cities. The plan will include an account of the conditions of life in those cities (in many lands) where the results of research will be helpful for purposes of comparison as well as for their own intrinsic interest. While, from a scientific point of view, the articles will be a contribution of great importance, the treatment will be thoroughly popular, and the elaborate illustrations will serve to make the presentation of the subject vivid as well as picturesque.

read the remarks of Senator Vest, of Missouri, one of the most outspoken free-silver advocates in the democratic party. He follows the lead of Mr. Mills, and puts the silver question in the background till after the next presidential election. In an interview he says that the recent elections make it certain that the democratic presidential ticket next year will be "Cleveland and Boies, or Cleveland and Gray, but always Cleveland," and adds:

"You want to know how silver democandidacy. We will support him earnhas as much right to his opinion as we have to ours. THE CONSPIRACY TOTTERS.

After the election of Mr. Harrison the republicans entered into a conspiracy to regain control of the government indefinitely, regardless of any change in public opinion.

This conspiracy was not long concealed but soon became open, flagrant and defiant. When it is clearly understood it will become as obnoxious to the American people as was the conspiracy of the New England federalists to dissolve the Union upon the admission of Louisiana. The desperate efforts and enormous expense required in 1888 to control the electoral votes of two democratic states, warned the republican leaders that they must provide in some less expensive way for silencing the voice of the people at the terror, and repeat in 1892 the outrages of 1876. That the passage of the Force bill should be assured without debate, the conspirators deemed it best to revolutionize the rules of the House.

Hence Reed and his iron-clad rules. But the republicans counted too surely on the timidity of the democrats and the indifference the people.

Every step was contested with such zeal and earnestness and determination that public sentiment was aroused and Reed and his fellows found themselves face to face with the American

The Force bill failed and the republican speaker, having sacrificed conviction and consistency to execute the will of the caucus, lost the respect of the only portion of the republican party whose respect was valuable.

Notwithstanding this partial failure of the scheme, the treasury of the republican party was filled by the passage of the McKinley tariff bill. The republican defeat in 1890 was a revation of the awakening of the people to the enormity of the contemplated outrages, but the risks already taken forced the republicans to go forward.

They are now busy devising ways and means to control the next election in the face of the verdict of the people. An obstacle on which they had not counted was the action of the Michigan legislature in providing for minority representation in the electoral college. By this act, instead of having fourteen votes solid from Michigan for the repany, whose wages have been cut 15 publican candidate, the republicans are only sure of ten, while the democrats can rely with equal confidence on

The republicans are now scheming to make good this loss. On this sub-ject the Chicago Tribune says:

"If the republicans were to carry all the states they did three years ago, ex-cept New York and Indiana, and carry also the six new states, Montana included, their chances in which are bet ter than those of the democrats, they would have had 218 electoral votse, or five less than a majority. Is there any state casting about that number of votes which might possibly turn from the democratic into the republican col-umn? There is—West Virginia, which casts six electoral votes. The demo-cratic majority in that state has been dwindling steadily, as the following table of majorities given democratic candidates will show:

"These figures show that the state is quite likely to go republican next year. With West Virginia, the republicans would have 224 electrol votes, or one more than is needed, assuming that they lost New York and Indiana, but carried Montana and the full vote of Michigan.'

In this calculation there are just thirteen votes in doubt, three of which the republicans may get: Montana, three; Michigan, four; West Virginia, six.

With a force bill the republicans could have "captured" Virginia, West Virginia, Mississippi or Louisiana, regardless of the vote cast. As it is, they are in deep distress. They can pour a flood of money into Montana, with a vote of 50,00 or 60,000, but without Mishigan solid and West Virginia. out Michigan solid and West Virginia this will not avail.

The case seems desperate, but the republicans have the means at command, thanks to the McKinley bill, to meet desperate emergencies. In Quay, Clarkson, Dudley and Elkins, they One was the creation of new states, have a quartet ready for any work

The tariff; The Force bill; The Billion Dollar Congress.

These have been well kept before the people, and on them the work of education has been done. If the democratic leaders in Congress do their whole duty this winter the republican conspiracy which began with such boldness and elaborateness will fail, and every man connected with it be driven from public life.—Henry Watwas to establish in the south a reign of terson, in Louisville Courier-Journal

Cakes Without Eggs.

Observing housekeepers quickly learn that Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is far superior to other brands in the fact that they never fail to make the finest pastry, and if they wish to be economical they can dispense entirely with eggs and can use a less quantity of butter for shortening purposes. The advantage is not alone in the saving effected but in avoiding the trouble and frequently the great difficulty of securing eggs that are fresh. This is often a serious trouble.

Cakes of various kinds from the informal Griddle Cakes to the stately Bride Cake can be made with Price's Cream Baking Powder, which insures light, sweet and handsome cakes; or when used for Griddle Cakes to be eaten hot enables their production in the shortest space of time, always tender and delicious.

Dr. Price's is the only Baking Powder that contains the white of eggs. None so pure! None so wholesome!

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is reported by all authorities as free from Ammonia, Alum, or any other adulterant. In fact, the purity of this ideal powder has never been questioned.

Established Facts:

That the ROYAL BAKING POWDER is the oldest and purest baking powder, and the greatest in leavening strength.

That it is free from every injurious substance.

That it makes lighter, sweeter, more nutritious and healthful food than any other.

The Royal Baking Powder Company refines its own cream of tartar in its own mammoth refinery, and thus insures its unvarying quality.

There is used in the manufacture of the Royal Baking Powder more than half of all the cream of tartar consumed in the United States for all purposes. This is required and must be chemically pure, and chemically pure cream of tartar could not be obtained in the markets of this country or Europe, which necessitated the building of special works, and the employment of special processes.

All other baking powders, when analyzed, show traces of lime and sulphuric acid, which arise from the impurities of the materials bought in the market, which their manufacturers use.

This is why the Royal Baking Powder is the only absolutely pure baking powder made.

When Michigan was able to break through Cornell's line of blockers, the runner had gained the necessary five yards or more. Cornell played a superb team game, and running like clock-work, and they came down on Michigan's rushers something like a whirlwind. The game served as a valuable experience to Michigan, as it revealed our weak points, and gave us an object lesson in eastern foot-ball. The finest individual work for Cornell was done by Osgood, whose end running was always productive of large gains. Johanson, the left tackle and captain, also did effective work in carrying the ball over the line.

Michigan's eleven has good reason to congratulate itself upon scoring twelve points. The touch-downs were won on their merits, the first by a brilliant individual run, and the second by superb rush line work. Michigan is the only team with the exception of Bucknell and Princeton, which has scored against Cornell this year. Van Inwagen's run of half the length of the field, through the whole Cornell eleven, was the finest play of the day. Dygert's goal kicking was very fine, and Rittenger's rushing runs very brilliant. The best tackling was undoubtedly done by Dygert, he seeming to be the only one able to down Osgood. Southworth, Pearson and Tupper also did good work in this line. Sherman played a very cool game and gave the signals with good judgment. But Michigan's strong point ing over the line with two Cornell was in the rush line. Cornell was rushers hanging to him. At the Universal Exposition of 1889, at Paris, France, the best sewing machines of the world, including those of America, were in competition. They were passed upon by a jury composed of the best foreign mechanical experts, two of whom were the leading sewing machine manufacturers of France. This jury, after exhaustive examination and tests, adjudged that the Wheeler & Wilson machines were the best of all, and awarded that company the highest prize offered—the GRAND PRIZE—giving other companies only gold, silver and bronze medals.

The French government, as a further recognition of superiority, decorated Mr. Nathaniel Wheeler, president of the company, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor—the most prized honor of France.

The New Hospitals.

Joseph Clark, who holds the position of superintendent of the uniheadquarters at the Hotel Normandie. "Work is progressing rapidly on our new hospital buildings,' said Mr. Clark, "and from present indicatious the allopathic hospital will be ready for occupancy in about two weeks. The homeopathic hospital will not be completed for some time yet, The two buildings are on a hill south of the depot, but 100 vards apart, with a boiler house for the two between them. The allopathic hospital will have a capacity for seventy patients, and is provided with all modern conveniences and appliances. In fact there is less room in the building than any structure of its kind that I have ever seen, so much space being occupied by the appliances referred to. The building will cost when completed about $75,000, but the homeopathic hospital, which is smaller, will not cost quite as much. No, there will be no difficulty whatever in filling the hospital, as I have on hand at present letters applying for admission from more people than we can possibly accommodate. A great many persons throughout the state, and even in other states, believe that they could receive more skillful treatment at Ann Arbor, where there are so many able medical men in the faculty, than they could elsewhere, and hence they are anxious to be admitted to our hospitals.

that the new hospitals will be of great benefit to our medical schools, as we shall be able to give students just as good clinical advantages as they can find in connection with any college. After the new hospitals are opened students will have opportunities to secure a practical training that will be of incalculable value to them, as, for instance, where a patient's leg or arm has been amputated, three or four students will be assigned to look after the patient's case daily, apply dressings to what is left of the limb, etc."

"Is it your intention to have a training school for nurses in connection with your hospitals?" was

"Oh, yes," replied Mr. Clark, "we shall open a school almost immediately. Arrangements are being made with a very competent, experienced woman in Chicago to act as head nurse, and when our school is in running order we shall accept a certain number of young women between 20 and 30 years of age, who satisfy us that they are of good moral character and in the possession of sound health. The training period will consist of a two years' course, and the pupils will serve for the first year as assistants in the wards of the hospitals, and the second year will be expected to perform any duty assigned them by myself or the hospital committee, either to be on service in the hospital, or to be sent as private nurses on application, or to district nursing among the poor. In addition to her board and lodging the pupil will be allowed $50 the first year, and for the second year $75. This is not given as pay for services rendered, as the teaching given and profession acquired are considered an ample equivalent, but is allowed for uniforms, text-books and other expenses incidental to their training. When the full term of two years is ended, the nurses thus trained will be at liberty to choose their own field of labor, and on leaving the school they will, on passing an examination, each receive a diploma. There is a great demand for skilled, trained nurses nowadays, as they are considered about as nec-

An English Lutheran Sunday school was organized at the Disciples church, last Sunday. Dr. F. H. Brown was elected superintendent; Carl Lange, assistant superintendent; Miss Mary Englehardt, secretary; Mrs. Brown, treasurer; Carl Schlenker, organist. Teachers were appointed as follows: Prof. Belser, senior class; Mrs. Brown, young ladies' Bible class; Miss Pauline Weis, H. J. Slagle, F. H. Belser, intermediate classes; Miss Clara Sheffield, primary. The Sunday school opens next Sunday at three o'clock in the Disciples church.

For several months, goods have been regularly stolen from freight cars on the Michigan Central, between Detroit and this city. Tramps have made it quite a practice of breaking into cars and stealing rides, usually taking some articles of value from the car before leaving. About two months ago, Detective Brooks, of the Michigan Central force, was stationed here and has since captured more than a score of tramps at this point, who had broken into freight cars and were stealing rides. Monday night he made his latest haul, a gang of three, and placed them in jail.

The Wells memorial window, which has been placed in the Chancel recess of St. Andrew's church, is the finest window in Michigan. It is 12 by 16 feet in size, and the colors are dark, contrasting well with the other windows in the church. The design for this window was originally made for a large London church but was not used. The scene brought out is the "Resurrection Morning," representing the Angel sitting on the stone by the sepulcher, while the three women who came to visit the tomb are standing on one side. The charm of the window is in the blending of the dark colors.

As is usual at this season of th year, Ann Arbor is infested with tramps, going from house to house, begging money and food. The authorities could soon make this city a place that this gentry would shun, if they worked it right: A tramp hates work as badly as he does water, and if every one brought before a justice was sentenced to twenty or thirty days at pounding stone, Ann Arbor would not be bothered much with them. A sentence of one, two or ten days in a nice comfortable jail is what the tramp is looking for, but the stone-yard has untold horrors for them.

Another horse and carriage were stojen from the barn of Comstock F. Hill, near Saline, Wednesday evening, making the second rig taken from the same place within a month. The family were all up when the rig was taken. A young man drove out from Saline to see Mr. Hill's daughter early in the evening, and when he went to hitch up to return home, about eleven o'clock, he failed to find his buggy and robes. He called to Mr. Hill and upon investigation it was found that a horse and harness belonging to Mr. Hill were also missing. The rig was tracked south for about three miles, but there all traces of it were lost. Mr. Hill is now pretty warm and offers $100 reward for the thief and $50 for the property, to which the sheriff adds another $50 for the thief.

The Unity Club wishes to call the attention of the citizens of Ann Arbor and all who are interested in the work of the club, to the fact that this week is the best chance to purchase tickets for our most admirable course of lectures, papers, musical entainments, etc. The lecture by Col. Sy'vester Larned, of Detroit, takes place on Monday evening, next. His subject is reminiscences of Washington in the days of Clay, Calhoun and Webster. It is thought that this lecture will be something especially fine and it is urged that all who are intending to attend the course procure tickets as soon as possible for no reduction will be made on account of lost lectures. This lecture and that of Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, on "Columbus and the Discovery of America," should be heard by everyone. These two lectures besides fifteen other entertainments are offered for the very low price of one dollar. It will pay everyone to procure season tickets as sinquire at the Argus office, or call at No. gie admission for Col. Larned's and 50 South State street. Mrs. Livermore's lectures will be 25 cents respectively. Let no one fail to hear these two, especially.
