VOL. LVIII.—NO. 26.

ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1892.

WHOLE NO. 3061.

Hot weather is bearable or exceedingly annoying, according to the condition or state of one's mind.

We would not advise Ulsters as the proper wearing apparel for these beautiful June days, and then expect your mental faculties to temper the heat to your overburdened body, but would suggest a Serge or Mohair Coat, a Duck or Marseilles Vest, a Manilla Hat, and Negligee Shirt, all of which, in endless variety, can be found at the Star Clothing House—then, with a mind equally cool, you are prepared for old Sol's fiercest rays.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK.

The University and High School Graduate Large Classes.

TIP-O-TIP, THE AFRICAN PRINCE, A FRAUD

New Appointments at the University.—Six Hundred and Eighty-Nine Graduate at the University.

University Commencement.

Another University Commencement has passed and six hundred and eighty-nine more college graduates have turned from the doors of the University of Michigan to begin the battle of life. The commencement has not been as well attended as in previous years by the alumni, but the number of graduates was larger than ever before.

Commencement week began Sunday night with the baccalaureate sermon of President Angell, on Applied Christianity in the course of which he said:

"If I read aright the gospel of Him who came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, the real value of our lives will be measured at last not by determining what we have done for our own selfish aggrandizement, but what we have contributed to secure the triumph of righteousness and truth among men."

Law class day was held Monday morning. President Alex. C. Mackenzie delivered a brief but appropriate president's address. J. W. Dawson read the history of the greatest of the law classes. W. I. Manny delivered the class oration, "The Lawyer in American Politics," showing that the history of the country was the history of the lawyers, while the class poem of J. H. Whitely "The Unfinished Picture," was to the point and the prophecy of John George Erdlitz was received with shouts of laughter, and the valedictory of J. E. Roberts was in good taste. The class graduated 290 members. They came from 25 states, 3 territories and 2 foreign countries. Eleven different nationalities were represented. Michigan had 86 representatives in the class, Illinois 36, Pennsylvania 24. The average age is 23, weight 155 pounds. The average expense per year was $372. The class contained 174 republicans, 98 democrats and 18 muggumps; 23 were married and 17 church members. Those paying their own expenses numbered 161.

The medical class day exercises occurred in the afternoon, James D. Parker delivering the oration, Frank E. Ruggles the class history, Miss Emily A. Benn the poem, John H. Dent the prophecy and Leroy Southmayd the president's address.

The literary class numbered 164, of which 88 hailed from Michigan, 32 from Illinois and 21 from Ohio. The average age is 23, the oldest being 32 and the youngest 19. Tuesday morning William H. Dellenbach delivered the class oration on International Arbitration and Miss Julia Herrick the class poem, A Message from Mythology. In the afternoon the exercises consisted of the Class History by Arthur J. Tuttle, the prophecy by Mamah B. Borthwick and the president's address by Pete W. Ross.

The senior reception Tuesday evening was a mammoth affair and lasted until dawn. The arrangements for the reception were complete.

Wednesday was alumni day, and the medical, law, pharmacy and literary alumni held meetings, the medical and pharmacy alumni holding banquets. Dr. Novy addressed the pharmacists on Fermentation and the Germs that Cause it. The annual address before the literary alumni was delivered by O. H. Dean, a leading lawyer of Kansas City. Hon. Benjamin Butterworth delivered a practical address before the law alumni.

The classes of '72, '82 and '89 held reunions.

Yesterday, the commencement proper occurred, the oration being delivered by Justin Winsor, LL. D., the librarian of Harvard. It was an historical address, entitled, The Pageant of Saint Lussion, and dealt with the history of the French occupation of Sault Ste. Marie under Saint Lussion in 1671.

The High School Commencement.

Ninety-seven graduates received their diplomas at the Ann Arbor high school commencement last Friday. The orators and essayists proved that the school has not deteriorated any from its high standing.

David E. Carman spoke of the Duties of the Minorities. Its power he said might be used to prevent the passage of unwise legislation, to educate the public. He claimed that a man does not throw away his vote by voting with the minority. He only planted seed for future harvests.

Miss Gertrude M. Case, of South Lyon, in writing of "Simon says Thumbs up," presented Simon in the light of fashion. When Simon says thumbs up, people will undergo any species of inconvenience and even torture, but what thumbs will go up. When people had acquired more common sense thumbs would not go up.

Burt L. Foster, of Scio, spoke of our Merchant Marine. It was the hope of our fathers that this should become a great maritime nation. He blamed congress for not encouraging steamship lines with bounties, and said that when iron and steel become cheaper and the government fosters our shipping, England's valuable trade will come to us and we may expect a maritime supremacy.

Miss Theresa Grube wrote on Nations as Mound Builders. All nations are mound builders. Egypt built up astronomy and the sciences; Phœnicia, literature, etc. The nations of the present are building for the future.

Miss Edith K. Hitchcock, of Ann Arbor, took as her subject the Religion of the Aeneid. She thought Virgil might well be called the herald of Christianity, since he drew men's thoughts to a higher and purer atmosphere. His conception of the future life embraced all that was highest and best in the beliefs of the time.

Conrad George, of this city, gave an excellent oration on Our Public Schools. The government of the United States is supported by a free ballot of a free people and its foundation rests upon the granite rock of intelligence. The public schools furnish the solution of the problem of how to assimilate the composite prejudices and ways of the many races which pour in upon this country. The supreme function of our schools is to infuse into the children, patriotism and love of country.

Miss F. Mabelle Halleck, of Ann Arbor, defended Xantippe. Xantippe scolded her husband Socrates because he was a lazy, shiftless sort of a fellow who enjoyed loafing about the streets and in bar-rooms while she had to take boarders and keep the little Socrates clothed and fed. Miss Eunice A. Janes, of Ann Arbor, wrote on Shams, taking off at length the foibles and pretences of the day. Pretences seem to satisfy the human mind. All the world liked to be humbugged.

Miss Emma C. Klais, of Ann Arbor, told about the Norse Mythology. Norway was majestic, mountainous, cloudy, dark and grand, and their gods partook of these characteristics.

Miss Johanna K. Neumann, of this city, described the numerous Chronic Grumblers, who are to be found everywhere, who cast a shadow over everything and know how everything should be done.

Edson R. Sunderland pointed out Some Defects in Our Presidential System. He spoke of the disruption of business consequent upon frequent elections, the expense and corruptions of the campaign, the changes in the office holders. He would extend the presidential term to eight or ten years and make the president ineligible to a second term.

Miss Charlotte E. Pickett, of Ann Arbor, spoke of Leaders. Even among children it was noticed that one or two propose all the games and take the lead. Leaders must be quick, active, energetic and good judges of human nature. Leaders should be themselves what they would lead others to become.

Miss Bessie B. Stevens, of Ann Arbor, chose as her title Not Completed. Life's work is only one of preparation. The red ribbon movement left its work uncompleted, the abolition of slavery did not fully settle the question of human rights. The needle of the mariner's compass points to the north but never reaches the north pole. The work at school does not finish our education but points the way to greater learning.

Victor C. Willoughby, of Owosso, spoke of the Advantages of a Business Education. The business men have the greatest influence of any class of people. Ignorance will not rule the world. He wished to banish ignorance and diffuse knowledge everywhere to all men.

The University Appointments.

Since the University has adopted the plan of making yearly appointments, in many cases frequent changes especially in the list of instructors occur. That our readers may keep up with the changes we give below a list of the appointments made by the regents this week.

Judge Champlin and Prof. E. F. Conely were made permanent professors of law. The other law appointments of last year were continued.

Six new courses were established in the medical department for practical work and Drs. Darling, Hayler, Lutz and Wormth were appointed demonstrators to give the courses to be paid by the fees received from the students.

B., assistant to professor of operative and clinical dentistry, one year, $900; Charles H. Cooley and Frank H. Dixon, assistants in political economy, $450 each; S. N. Johnson, botany, $900; A. J. Reed, house surgeon, $500; W. Tip-o-Tip Exposed.

A Toledo special to the Free Press of yesterday contains considerable of local interest. The special says:

A tale that is the equal of any romance came to light in this city today, and a word of warning may not be out of place for other cities. A few weeks ago a heavy-set colored youth, calling himself Jave Tip-o-Tip Victoria Flosse Zulu Dingan Omisha, son of King Catewayo Telowa, late ruler of Zululand, came to Toledo. He said he came from President Angell's home in Ann Arbor, where he had been visiting, and that he had been studying to become a Methodist missionary at Nashville University. He said that Miss Sharpe, of Bishop Taylor's expedition brought him to America, and that he would return to his native land as a missionary. This Zulu prince, as he claimed to be, created quite a furor in the city. The newspapers devoted a large amount of space to him, and he lectured under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and several prominent churches. He wore a long, straight-haired wig, was very wild looking and told interesting tales of life in far-away Africa. He seemed to be a happy, innocent sort of individual, and as he went about the city selling his photographs he was admitted to the residences of many prominent people and he always seemed pleased to look about the house at the fine things. About this time several heavy burglaries occurred from four different houses, the robbers obtaining some $3,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry. Two men were arrested, charged with being the burglars, and have since been bound over. They were Walter Rice and Harry Wood. About the time of the arrest Tip-o-Tip suddenly left the city, saying that he was going to Cincinnati, and it has just been discovered that he abducted a young colored boy and took him with him. Evidence has also been found tending to show that the wild African was the accomplice of the two men who are now in jail. Indeed one of them acted as his agent. Tip-o-Tip is the son of a Milwaukee washerwoman, and the exposure has created a profound sensation here.

Men and Issues of 1892.

The political campaign this year is to be one of issues rather than men. Hence it is to be a reading campaign. Mr. C. Fuller, of Milan, Michigan, appreciating this fact is already in the city taking orders for Men and Issues for 1892, which contains besides the lives of Cleveland and Stevenson, Harrison and Reid, ninety-six large cabinet size photographs of the leaders of the different parties of the country with brief biographical sketches. The book contains the full text of the different party platforms. But it is in the discussion of the Issues of the Day, that it is especially valuable. It is a non-partisan volume giving a clear and impartial history of pending questions. The doctrine of free trade is given by the best writers and speakers, and the policy of protection is laid down by its strongest advocates. The McKinley bill is analyzed and compared with other tariff acts. A history of reciprocity is given, its nature, character and effect. Free silver coinage is fully treated, a history of metallic currency and a full digest of coinage acts being given. The volume is a large one containing six hundred and forty pages and is bound in satin cloth and stamped in the national colors, red, white and blue, and is sold at $2.00. With the book is given three months' free subscription to the People's Magazine. Mr. Fuller will visit most of our readers and all should examine into the merits of the book, especially those who desire to be intelligently posted on the issues of this presidential campaign. The first books will be delivered next week.

Schaires & Miller, THE BARGAIN GIVERS OF ANN ARBOR.

COUNTY.

Milan has twelve bicycle riders. The Lima band has new horns. They talk of a cheese factory at Dexter.

Several Milan stores have put in plate glass fronts.

Cavanaugh Lake has its Fourth of July celebration.

The Cherry Hill school picnic will be held to-morrow.

Uncle Tom's Cabin in a tent has been peregrinating the county.

The Saline Arbeiter Verein have a picnic at their grove, July 4.

Milan in common with most other villages demands more sidewalks.

Elton Sanderson and George Davis, of Stony Creek, have erected new barns.

T. French, of Dexter, raised a strawberry five and a half inches in circumference.

One hundred and nineteen new books have recently been added to the Dexter school library.

Nineteen fleeces of wool were stolen from the barn of Hiram Mills, in Bridgewater, a few days ago.

Over at Plymouth they are after the dog poisoners. Fifty dollars reward is offered for their conviction.

Loren Hodge, of Cone, committed suicide last week by hanging. He was tired of life though but sixteen years old.

Mrs. Z. L. Easton, of Cherry Hill, died June 15, aged eighty-six years. She had been a resident of that section over fifty years.

Lightning struck the Baptist church in Clinton, Saturday before last, demolishing the spire. The ladies in the church at the time preparing the church for Children's day exercises were unharmed.

Mrs. Laura Graves, of near Clinton, died June 18, aged eighty-two years. She had lived on the same place sixty-one years, the land having been taken up from the government and never having changed hands.

The Catholics are organizing a young people's association and are making arrangements to have a club room and circulating library at this place. Ed. Gorman was elected president and Thos. McCune, secretary.—Chelsea Standard.

Dexter's Fourth of July celebration this year will be a corker. The orator of the day is Hon. George H. Sleator, of Alpena. The races, tub, sack, etc., will be numerous while the fireworks will be immense. All Dexter is interested and will help to make the day a success.

Chas. Morris, of Lima, has one of those "log cabin" buttons which the last presidential campaign brought before the people and the coming one will repeat. It is one that was cut from the coat of President Harrison's grandfather, by Joseph Morris, grandfather of its present possessor.—Ypsilanti Sentinel.

Betty Gregory, who lives south-east of town, it will be remembered attempted suicide not long ago by taking paris green. Last Saturday night she sought to again destroy her life by cutting her throat with a razor. She made three considerable slashes but severed neither her jugular vein nor windpipe. She therefore still lives.—Grass Lake News.

J. F. Weissinger has been elected president of the Saline German Workingmen's society for the coming year. The other officers are: M. Rentschler, vice-president; Geo. Schmidt, treasurer; Otto Jarandt, secretary; Dr. C. F. Unterkircher, physician; A. Lindenschmidt, banner carrier; and J. G. Ehnis, M. Seeger, G. A. Lindenschmidt, E. A. Hauser and W. Deringer, trustees.

Lightning played some queer freaks in the eastern part of the village, Saturday. It struck a tree at John Hulet's under which was a chicken coop with a hen and chickens in it. We are told every nail was taken out of that coop, but that the inmates were unharmed. This must have been a McKinley hen. At Alexander Ellis' a hen and chickens beneath a tree were killed, but the tree was not damaged any.—Clinton Department of Tecumseh News.

Last Saturday Sanford Shortridge brought into town seven baby skunks which he had captured. Landlord Nelson Rice bought them as an investment. Mr. Rice also has a mamma cat which had a family of small kittens. Since the skunklets were brought into the family the old cat has mysteriously made way with her own offspring and adopted the little motherless skunks, and she, as well as the little strangers, seem perfectly contented. It is a strange sight, but one that may be seen by anyone who will call at the hotel, to see a cat nursing a lot of little skunks.—Milan Leader.

Clyde Honley, a boy 6 or 7 years old, son of James Honley, who works in the foundry in Clinton, met with a serious accident, Tuesday afternoon. Shortly after 5 o'clock an explosion was heard, coming from the rear of Brown & Kishpaugh's hardware store. John Martiny saw the boy running with his clothing on fire and grabbed up a coat and wrapped it around him and smothered the flames. The boy held a box of matches in his hand and the accident was caused by his striking a match and holding it at the bung hole of a gasoline barrel, or dropping it inside. The barrel had been emptied that morning and there was probably a pint of gasoline left in it. The boy was so badly burned about the face that the skin hung down in strips. The hair was burned on the top of his head and his neck and breast were also badly burned. The boy will never try any more experiments with gasoline and matches.—Tecumseh News.

At the home of George Laubengayer, in Freedom, on Monday last Mr. August Neyer, of Lodi, who is by trade a mason, was with several others engaged in building for Mr. L. a foundation wall for a barn. The wall was built close to a bank or side hill and had been carried up several feet. Between the wall and bank lay a few good sized stones which were to be broken and used. The men had just finished supper and returned to their work. Mr. Neyer with stone hammer in hand was bending over the large rock chipping pieces from its side when with no warning whatever a large quantity of dirt from the adjoining bank suddenly slid down upon him crushing his head against the stones and burying him beneath the earth. Help being on the spot no time was lost in digging him out, but too late, for life was extinct. The body was taken to his home in Lodi. Mr. Neyer was a well known and highly respected German farmer, fifty-two years of age.—Saline Gbserver.

How I Feit.

Why, two years ago I was just about crazy, and no wonder that my wife and children were afraid of me. You just want to suffer with neuralgia with no relief as I did until I used Sulphur Bitters. They cured me, and now my wife says I am as meek as a lamb.—Robert Davis, American House, Boston.

The Saline calisthenic class can now kick the hat from the head of the tallest alumnus.

Ypsilanti looks forward with pride to her corn crop in Prospect Park.

A colored man named Beard, of Ypsilanti, is this week taking his third roast charged with slander. Two previous juries sat on him and disagreed.

A post mortem examination on the body of the late Hillsdale Mutual Curse Association, reveals the cause of death to have been atrophy of the emergency fund, superinduced by grippe. The deceased was thirteen years old and leaves many mourners who wish it had died fourteen years ago.

Many a man can attest the truth of the words: "Donec eris felix, multos numerabis amicos; Tempora si fuerint nubila solus eris."—Ann Arbor Courier.

Yes, that's what's the matter! In the sublime and beautiful language of the poet:

"Woh hcum a loof ohw sah neeb tnes ot emoR
Slecxe eht loof ohw sah neeb tpek ta emoh.
Note—These lines contain a Shakesperian cipher.

William Sanford, of York, is knee deep in legal trouble, charged with beating and stabbing a horse to death. God has made some brutes with four legs and others with two.

Manchester merchants make clean the gutters in front of their stores, and instruct the public to believe that the stench from the back yard garbage, is natural gas from Bryan, Ohio.

The Register and Courier printers at Ann Arbor fought a game of baseball, and stood thirteen to a baker's dozen when outraged nature turned heaven's hose on them and stopped the business.

George Thumm, of Ypsilanti, has been arrested for keeping his saloon open Sundays.—Ann Arbor Argus.

In other words, "Thumm's up."

Ypsilanti has decided that bicycles must keep off the sidewalks, and what Ypsilanti decides goes, until the marshal's back is turned.—Ann Arbor Argus.

Then the bicycle goes.

D. Cramer, of Ann Arbor, "kicks" on a cartoon of him in the Argus, wherein he complains that he is made too short in the legs. Never mind, Cramer; suppose you do travel a little tongue-tied—it's only a matter of style after all.

Chauncy Crytz, full of honors and emoluments and not a hog in the matter of office holding, has resigned the postmastership of Scio, and John Steals is appointed, who if his name signifies anything, should be made to furnish rattling good bonds.

The annual pioneer gathering of Washtenaw was held at Chelsea, last week, and each of the old settlers who spoke, dropped into his seat, nerveless and pretty well tucked out, but happy in the triumphs of a living faith that he had beat all the other back numbers, on bears and black salts.

Miss Florence V. Smith, of Schoolcraft, asks $5,000 of Ann Arbor with which to dress an injured knee. Miss Smith claims to have stepped in a hole in the walk which was covered by the dresses of two ladies in front of her. She should have taken shorter steps or not have walked behind.

Colts belonging to Fred Croman, of Waterloo, broke out of their inclosure and one of them was hooked up on the velvety prongs of a barbed wire fence—one of the luxuries of modern civilization. In racing the colts around the lot Croman lost a valuable chronometer, which flopped out of his pocket and is gone. A man may lose much valuable time in this world.

Frank Bush, of Dixboro, has a live five-legged lamb. It is almost as much of a monstrosity as the McKinley tariff with the reciprocity attachment.

It only cost $2 fine in Ann Arbor last week, for a man to lick his wife. With the price down to bed rock, no nephew can afford to have a refractory uncle around.

D. Augustus Straker, the Detroit colored lawyer, was in Ann Arbor last week inquiring into the case of Griffin, the Ypsilanti rapist, who was shot at the time of his capture and subsequently died in jail. A prosecution was threatened for Griffin's death. The Ann Arbor Courier, republican, tells Mr. Straker, in effect to go back to Detroit and mind his own business; that "when an injustice is done a colored man here in the northern states, especially in Michigan, there will be hundreds of white people as ready to battle for his rights as they are themselves. But this crime is one that, next to murder, deserves the extent of the law, and there should be no attempt to defend self-confessed criminals."

The grand old party sheets of Washtenaw, are shedding gall and ink, over the question as to which is the leading Republican paper of the county. Blessum' they're all ahead, by jerks.

Dorr's district in Manchester will not have a new school house. Five men wanted it and ten didn't.—Ann Arbor Argus.

Of course it wasn't needed. An old rail is good enough to hold up the sagging corner; boys hats are just the thing to stuff the broken windows—a paneless process—and for stopping up rat holes, the small children will answer every purpose. The five were foolish virgins.

Mayor Pingree, of Detroit, has sent a check of $500 to President Burke of the American Republican College League, to be used to further the work of the League. "What's the matter with Pingree?" "He's all right."—Ann Arbor Courier.

All right to give $500; but when it comes to nominating a governor Beal will try to sit on him. We warn him that he may lose his sole in opposing Pingree; for how hardly shall they that have Riches, etc.

Frank Lawson of the South Lyon band became a father last week and the South Lyon Picket drops into poetry over it as follows:

Blow the cornet, beat the drum,
And everybody shout with joy;
For Frankie Lawson smoles a smile,
Because he's daddy to a boy.
—Ann Arbor Argus.

As it seems to be a family affair we would not profane the joyful occasion with a single dissonant note; rather would we swell the domestic cadence into a grand jubilate (pronounced ju-bi-lah-te,) by adding the following stanza:

Boom it on the bombajar,
Loud as loudest notes that may be;
Let the echo sound afar,
Hannah Ann has got a—!

Balance shipments are to be made from the elevator here by July 10. Twenty-three hundred loads have been delivered on this crop and there are at least 1,700 loads yet in the hands of farmers to go over to the next crop. It is many years since that amount was carried over by farmers.

The market has been quiet the past week and arrivals light, except in wool. Wheat stands at 80 cts. for red or white, rye and barley nominal at 68 cts. and $1. Oats, one load sold at 32 cts., one lot of extra nice beans sold at $1.35, eggs 12 cts., butter 11 cts. About 20,000 lbs. of wool were taken in here the first three days of this week at 20 to 23 cts. for fairly washed fleeces. There is no prospect of better prices soon and they are selling freely.

Physicians Puzzled.

Many persons are unable to sleep on their left side. The cause has long been a puzzle to physicians. Metropolitan papers speak with great interest of Dr. Franklin Miles, the eminent Indiana specialist in nervous and heart diseases, who has proven that this habit arises from a diseased heart. He has examined and kept on record thousands of cases. His New Heart Cure, a wonderful remedy, is sold at Eberbach & Son's. Thousands testify to its value as a cure for Heart Diseases. Mrs. Chas. Benoy, Loveland, Colo., says its effects on her were marvelous. Elegant Book on heart disease free.

GENTLEMEN: I have been a great sufferer from Sciatic Rheumatism for five years. A portion of that time have been confined to my bed. Have been treated by the best physicians without relief. J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay street, Sharpsburg, Pa., says that he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with Pneumonia after an attack of "La Grippe," when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. THE GREAT BANKRUPT SALE.
Clothing Way Below Manufacturers' Cost.
It will pay you to come a hundred miles to visit this great sale. If you value money, don't miss it. To save money is to make it, and probably the whole history of clothing fails to disclose greater bargains than are now being offered at the Great Bankrupt Sale of men's, boys' and children's clothing, at 197 Woodward Avenue, Detroit. This mammoth stock was bought of a prominent New York concern that became bankrupt, and bought, too, at prices that enables us to sell it at 40 and 50 cents on the dollar of manufacturers' cost. The prices asked by us, as may be judged, are far and away down from usual retail figures. Every garment in this stock was made up this season, of materials equal to those of custom tailors, and cut in latest styles. As to prices, for example, we can sell you a man's good all wool suit, worth $13 for $6.50; a boy's all wool suit, long pants, ages 14 to 19, well worth $10 at $5. We have 125 different styles of children's suits, ages from 4 to 14 years, and sold by other dealers at $6, $7 and $8, of which we offer you your choice for $2.95. The sale will continue until the entire stock amounting to $85,000 is disposed of. First comers will have the pick of selections. We guarantee everything as represented, or money refunded.

NEVER A FAILURE.
The Red River Valley of Minnesota and North Dakota has never had a failure of crops.
It produced 30,000,000 bushels of wheat besides other cereals in 1890.
Farms can be had on the crop plan, or long time cash payments.
It is not an uncommon thing to pay for a farm from the proceeds of one crop.
It has all of the advantages of an old country in the shape of school, church, market, postal & railway facilities and all the chances of a new country in the way of cheap lands, rich soil, and increase in values.
It is one of the most fertile and promising regions in America not yet fully occupied.
In the rush to the far west, however, this rich valley has been over-looked.
It has room for a million more people.

DR. F. D. CLARKE, Merrill Block, Cor. Woodward & Jefferson Aves., Detroit, Mich.

The veto messages of Mayor Doty found in another column speak for themselves and will undoubtedly be sustained by public opinion.

The Detroit Tribune asks, "If this is not a Republican year what is it?" It is certainly not a Republican year. It is a Democratic year. Give us a harder conundrum.

The large attendance and enthusiasm at the ratification meeting in this city last Saturday attest the enthusiasm with which the nomination of Cleveland and Stevenson was received here.

The Register this week affirms that the tariff is not a tax and asks "if it is a tax how can grocers sell salt for six cents less than the tariff duty?" Well we have a conundrum for the Register. If the tariff is not a tax why does the Republican party while in control of the government pay thousands of dollars to the millionaire Armour's for rebate on salt used in meats sent out of the country. If the Armour's did not pay the salt tax, why should the government pay them a rebate? Will the Register please answer?

At last it is proposed that the Smith family get together and do something. The plan is that they build a $150,000 triumphal arch at Chicago, the money to be contributed only by Smiths, the design to be made by a Smith, the stone to be quarried only by Smiths, from a quarry owned by a Smith, to be transported by Smiths, a Smith to be engineer and another Smith fireman with only Smiths for brakemen, the stones to be put in place by Smiths. In case of accident the unlucky Smith to be attended by a medical Smith or in case of legal dispute, the litigious Smiths to try their case before a Judge Smith, with a jury of Smiths, and Smiths for attorneys. In the case of a fatal accident a Smith might act as undertaker, Smiths for pall bearers, a Smith might preach the funeral sermon, and a long funeral cortege could be made up of Smiths, with Smiths for drivers, the horses all to be owned by Smiths. In fact there is no end of things which the Smiths might or might not do while building that triumphal arch. They could make the Joneses and Browns look to their laurels.

What Printers Think of Reid.

A Jackson printer and a staunch republican, who has been prominently identified with the typographical union since its organization in this city, and also with the trades' council, said to the Patriot, Tuesday:

"I am pleased to see that Grover Cleveland is practically sure of the democratic nomination for president, and if he is nominated I will place in the ballot box on election day the first vote ever cast by me for a democratic presidential nominee. And I am not alone in this matter. I have talked with nearly every union printer in Jackson, and have found but one who will vote the republican ticket. There are many republicans among the printers in this city—and strong partisans at that—but they are determined to resent the insult hurled at organized labor, the typographical union in particular, by the republican convention in placing Whitelaw Reid in nomination for the vice-presidency. Whitelaw Reid is the most pronounced enemy of the union printers in America, and if organized labor does not teach the republican leaders a severe lesson I am off in my calculations.

"And now Whitelaw Reid thinks to throw sop to the workmen by unionizing his office as soon as the nomination is bagged. It won't go down, though. Just think of it! He runs the rattiest rat printing office in the country for fifteen or twenty years, entirely ignoring the union and positively refusing to treat with it. In fact at one time when an agreement had been reached between the printers and the business manager of the Tribune he refused to recognize it.

"The cheekiest part of the whole thing, though, is the fact that Whitelaw Reid now expects the people to believe his story that the unionizing of the Tribune had no connection whatever with his nomination."—Jackson Patriot.

To Prosecute Eaton.

The colored people of Ypsilanti seem bound to stand up for Jake Griffin, the brutal wretch who was confessedly guilty of several criminal assaults in Ypsilanti and was shot in the leg while fleeing from arrest by Officer Eaton, who was in pursuit. They have now banded together to prosecute Eaton, as the following from the South Lyon Picket will indicate:

Officer Eaton, the erstwhile policeman who shot Jacob Griffin, will now be brought before the people on a grave charge. Last evening Rev. J. L. Davis, of Ypsilanti, who is the recognized leader of the colored people in that locality, was in town, and before Squire Calkins, swore out a warrant for the above named Eaton, the charges in substance being "an assault to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder." It will appear from the above that the colored citizens of Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti have been investigating the affair and as predicted by the Picket, will make it decidedly interesting for Eaton. He will be brought here in a day or two, when the trial will occur. In all probability, D. Augustus Straker, the famous colored attorney of Detroit, will appear for the prosecution. At all events the trial will be conducted in South Lyon and it is to be hoped that if Eaton is guilty, he will receive his just punishment.

Last evening a deputy sheriff from South Lyon was here with the warrant and went to Ypsilanti for the purpose of arresting Eaton.

The Big Ratification Meeting.

The Democrats of Ann Arbor and vicinity ratified the nomination of Cleveland and Stevenson last Saturday night in right worthy style. The crowd which assembled in front of the court house was a very large one and was numbered by thousands rather than hundreds. It was an enthusiastic crowd and the cheering for Cleveland and Stevenson was vigorous. Mayor Doty, president of the Cleveland Club, presided and made an excellent speech in opening the meeting. Ex-Gov. Alpheus Felch expressed his pleasure at the nomination and wanted to know where there was another man to be trusted as Grover Cleveland. M. J. Lehman, P. McKernan, Hon. C. H. Manly, P. G. Suekey, of this city; W. E. Thompson and W. B. O'Neil, of Detroit; Dr. Hueston, of Ypsilanti; and John V. Sheehan, the Chicago delegate, made ringing speeches, which were heartily received. Collins' band played the refrain

"Grover, Grover, four years more of Grover; In he goes, Out they go, Then we'll be in clover."

They discoursed other music between speeches.

The fireworks were very fine. The display was much better than many Fourth of July celebration displays. They were sent up from a stand on the corner of Huron and Main streets.

The ratification was a great success, because everyone was pleased with the nominations and took hold to show their pleasure.

Late Hour Ordinance Vetoed.

Mayor Doty vetoed the ordinance relative to closing the saloons, which gave the saloons an extra hour at night. His reasons are ably given, as follows: To the Honorable the Common Council: GENTLEMEN.—I herewith return to you without my approval an ordinance passed by your honorable body in council June 20, 1892, entitled "An ordinance relative to the closing of saloons, bars in restaurants and elsewhere."

I assign my reasons therefor, as follows, to-wit:

First. Because it is inconsistent with a wise and safe public policy to permit the transaction of business which is especially within police supervision, by statute of the state, at an hour when that supervision is most difficult to exercise.

Second. Because very many of the citizens who are engaged in the liquor traffic have privately remonstrated with me against the passage of the ordinance in question, alleging that the tendency thereof is to compel them to keep their places open to the maximum limit of time permitted, thereby lengthening their hours of labor far beyond the bounds which a wise regard for the laws of nature and health imposes upon sane and reasonable men. The stress of competition rules the liquor trade as well as all the other occupations of men. Let us not force these unwilling toilers to prolong their labors for a livelihood far into the silent watches of the night, while the merchant, the mechanic and the laborer can or should quietly sleep, conscience clear in the thought that they have so divided the day that there are eight hours for labor, eight hours for sleep and eight for the service of God and their fellow men.

Third. Because the interest of the city of Ann Arbor is coextensive and coexistent with that of the University, and any action which your honorable body takes, which would tend in any degree to check or paralyze the growth and popularity of that great institution of learning, would be visited upon our city to its tenfold detriment of loss. I am convinced that the scandal and disgrace which would attach to your licensing midnight saloons in our city would spread and ramify to every section of the land, and loving and anxious parents in many a home both far and near would hesitate and refuse to commit their dearest and their best to the fostering care of a municipality which regarded so lightly the moral responsibility, which heavily rests upon the constituted authority of a college town.

And lastly. My sense of duty, to the families of our own citizens who otherwise might be deprived of the companionship and protection of fathers and husbands and brothers and sons during those hours of the night when the home should be their resting place and their delight, impels me to withhold my approval from the ordinance in question. In returning it to your honorable body with my absolute and unqualified veto permit me to express my sorrow that your undue haste in pushing the same to its passage, three readings at one session of an ordinance of so much importance, has led the uncharitable to suppose that you were over anxious and zealous for its enactment. As for myself I shall indulge the thought (and this rather from the fact that I know your honorable body to be more than usually highminded and sincere) that had you given the ordinance and all its bearings the deliberate attention its importance demands, had you passed it along the ordinary course of its readings and touched the popular pulse from time to time, as the ordinance pursued the orderly tenor of its way, you would never at the end have given it your sanction and approval.

WILLIAM G. DOTY, Mayor.

CITY OF ANN ARBOR, MAYOR'S OFFICE, June 24th, 1892.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

I herewith return to you without my approval so much of the proceedings of your honorable body as relates to the following resolution passed at your last session.

"By Alderman Wines: Resolved, That the Mayor is hereby instructed to order all side screens of whatever kind or nature in saloons in this city removed within ten days from this date." My reasons therefor are as follows: 1st. Because it is incompetent for the Common Council to "instruct" the Mayor to act outside the sphere of his official duty as prescribed by law.

Neither the ordinances of this city nor the statute law of this state repose in the mayor police functions with reference to "side screens, etc.," in places where liquor is sold or kept for sale. The statute regulating the liquor traffic expressly designates sheriffs, marshals, constables and police officers as the proper agents for its enforcement.

2nd. Because the principle involved in the said resolution if acquiesced in would render gross interference with the executive prerogative possible if not probable at the hands of the legislative body.

3rd. Because if there were no legal objection to the resolution the mayor of a city such as ours, performing his proper functions, already almost burdensome, for a salary of one dollar per annum, owes it to his own self-respect, if not to that of the city and the office to object to and refuse the imposition of labor for the performance of which a police force is appointed and liberally paid.

4th. Because the resolution is uncalled for and gratuitous. For the Council, and certainly the mover of the resolution, ought to know if they do not, that the police of the city to the best of their limited numerical ability are rigorously enforcing that section of the statute above referred to which requires the removal of curtains, screens, partitions or other things which obstruct the view, during the hours prohibited by law, of bars or places in rooms where liquors are kept and sold; and this with the acquiescence and approval of all good citizens who are engaged in the traffic which the statute legalizes and regulates.

WILLIAM G. DOTY, Mayor.

Testimonial.

Mrs. N. H. PIERCE: I am thankful to tell you I am growing stronger every day. Before I took your remedies I had not left my bed for years. In less than three days I felt like a new being. I have spent a great deal of money on other doctors in vain.

FRUIT PROSPECTS.

Very Interesting Information Elicited at the Pomological Meeting.

The monthly meeting of the Washtenaw Horticultural Society was held last Saturday and was presided over by Evert H. Scott. The Corresponding Secretary reported that he had that morning visited President J. Austin Scott, who had been confined for three weeks to his room. He said: "Brother Baur, tell the brethren that I am sorry not to be able to attend the meeting, my heart and hand is with them." The society gave expression to its profound sympathy with the suffering chief, who, in spite of his great age, had served this society, of which he is the founder, most faithfully and cheerfully. May it please a kind Providence to restore him to future usefulness to those he served as a true friend of every good and charitable cause in church and state.

The fruit prospects were discussed. Luther Palmer, of Dexter, said the prospects for an apple crop were very slim. Strawberries did remarkably well. Cuthberts were badly winter killed, the foliage was attacked by a green worm, fuzzy on the side and smooth on the back. The winter killing is perhaps caused by the snowy cricket, (occantus niveus) known by its peculiar repetition of the chirp "Katy-did." The injury caused to the cane of the raspberry by the female depositing its eggs in the cane is a serious one. The eggs are deposited late in the summer or in autumn, but they do not hatch till the early part of the following summer. The infested canes should be cut out in the spring after the other canes have put forth their leaves, but before the eggs have hatched. By burning these canes the increase of the insect can be checked. The dead appearance of the canes thus punctured by this cricket may have appeared to Mr. Palmer as winter killed.

Mr. Stephen Mills: Have not seen such a small prospect for apples in 50 years. Cherries are short. The black knot in the plum is destroying many trees. The commission on diseases of fruit trees should at once be awakened to attend to this very destructive, contagious fungous disease. Will Mr. A. A. Crozier and the other members of the commission attend to this at their earliest convenience?

Rev. Mr. Wortley, of Ypsilanti: My observation is confined to my own orchard of seven acres. Apples are falling off. Pears are one-third of a crop. Grapes are promising.

Wm. McCreery: Have been through Jackson county, found no apples. I expect a fair crop of peaches on high ground. They are thin on low ground.

Evert H. Scott: Peaches well filled. There will be some Baldwin and Ben Davis apples. Flemish Beauty pears are affected by the scab. Kieffer is free from the scab, some trees are fairly loaded. Blackberries are very full. Niagara grapes are looking well; on low ground they were winter killed.

E. Baur: The Bartlett pears are enjoying a year of rest and show a healthy growth of young wood, yet there is a prospect of some Bartletts. The Flemish Beauties are fairly loaded but somewhat afflicted by the scab. Mount Vernon and Lawrence pears, full; Kieffers are sound. This is a grand season for root crops. Have taken advantage of this and sowed plenty of Oxeart carrots, of Mangels and blood beets. Experimented with Jerusalem artichokes. No degree of cold kills them. Can be fed early in the spring to cattle and horses. They kill out all weeds, have no insect enemy and can not be exterminated after they are established. In case of a famine they would be a great help. My attention to this very important vegetable was first drawn by Mr. Edward Clark, 86 E. Huron street. Mrs. Mary E. Clark, widow of General Clark, informed me that sliced, cooked and seasoned they are a very palatable dish. I am indebted to these friends for their kindness in drawing my attention to one of the most important succulents, which for fattening purposes has not its equal among the root crops.

Plums would be a full crop were they not so badly afflicted by the rot. They are a very uncertain crop. Mr. R. Waterman spoke in favor of the artichokes. They are a fine vegetable for the table, better than vegetable oysters.

Emil Baur exhibited D'Arenberg pears, Luther Palmer his quart baskets. He said he never before had so many orders for berry baskets as he had during this strawberry season.

The next meeting of the society is to be held Saturday, the 2nd of July, and the committee on transportation is reminded to report. The committee on diseases of fruit trees should report and examine into the black knot and other fungous diseases, which, by neglect endanger all our orchards. Remember the meeting next Saturday.

Proceedings of Board of Public Works.

OFFICE OF BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS,
ANN ARBOR, JUNE 15, 1892.

Regular meeting.
Board met and was called to order by Pres. Keech.
Roll called. Full board present.
Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.
Fire Commissioner Hutzel and Chief Siple, a committee from the board of fire commissioners, asked the board of public works to have the earth around 12 fire hydrants removed, so that easy access could be had to said hydrants.
Street Commissioner Sutherland was at once ordered to at once do the work that is necessary on said hydrants.
On motion of Mr. Keech, the following report was accepted and submitted to the common council for its consideration.

The Board of Public Works, to whom was referred by his honor, the Mayor, the present condition of First street, respectfully report that we find that the Toledo, Ann Arbor and North Michigan Railroad Company are desirous of constructing, for the conveyance and accommodation of their patrons, a spur track along their property which fronts on First street, and desire leave to cross First street along the west side of their main track, and also Williams street along First street in so doing, and we would respectfully recommend that said railway be granted such permission on certain conditions, as follows:

1st. That the Toledo, Ann Arbor and North Michigan Railway Company do forthwith construct a plank sidewalk along the east side of First street adjacent to all of their property, including their original right of way across First street.

2d. That they extend the culvert on First street westerly to the west line of First street, by 24-inch tile, to be laid double and side by side, and covering the same to grade of street.

3d. That the crossing of said spur track be at the present grade of said streets respectively, the city reserving to itself the right to change the grade of each of said streets, and the said Company to conform to such change by placing their said spur track at all times at established grade.

4th. That such spur track be laid wholly on Company ground and out of First street as claimed by the City, and as lately surveyed by the City Engineer, except where said spur track crosses said First street.

5th. That at crossing of both First and Williams streets, the company to construct plank crossings, the full width of each street.

6th. That construction and extension of culvert, the sidewalk and each road crossing be under the direction of and all work and material used, to be to the satisfaction of the Street Commissioner.

7th. And the said Board further reports that the said Railway has already removed its track from and along First street to its own grounds within the time and as heretofore ordered by your honorable body, and to the entire satisfaction of this entire Board.

On motion the board adjourned.
WM. J. MILLER, Clerk.

Reviews in Review.

Reviews or maneuvers of the Amazons are held frequently during the annual custom and are not the playful affairs that they are in civilized countries. In a space used as a drill ground there is built a bank of thorny cactus bushes about 1,300 feet long, 20 feet broad and 7 feet high. Beyond and parallel with this is a house representing a fort. The barefooted female warriors have to surmount three times the heap of thorns which represent the fortifications, descend into the clear space like a ditch, ascend the house, which represents a citadel bristling with defenses, and take the town simulated by the hut. They are to be twice repulsed by the enemy, but at the third assault they are victorious and drag the prisoners to the king's feet in token of success. The first to surmount all the obstacles receives from his hand the reward of bravery, for, says the king, "We reckon military valor as the first of the virtues."

The king places himself at the head of the column, harangues his women soldiers, inflames them, and at a given signal they throw themselves with the utmost fury upon the bank of thorns which torture their naked feet. At the first assault, when the most intrepid had already gained the summit of the house, I saw a woman soldier, who was at one of the ends, fall to the ground from a height of sixteen feet. She was wringing her hands and remained seated, though her comrades were trying to reanimate her with courage, when the king himself came up and threw at her a glance and cry of indignation. She sprang up then as if electrified, continued the maneuvers and carried off the first prize. It is impossible to give an idea of the scene.—Goldthwaite's Geographical Magazine.

WHEN MEN EAT HORSE.

The Style of Horse When Men Become Hippophagists—Result of Evolution. The picture below is a good illustration of the character of German wit. It is funny, that's a fact.

THE COMING HORSE.

horseflesh becomes common food. The horse steak epicures will want the cuts fat and tender, and caterers must evolve a type of horse that will suit the market. Here he is, says the German funny man. We commend the type to the consideration of our horse breeders.

Six Cent Beef Cattle.

Henry Wallace says in 'The Homestead': "Long ago, when we went to school in a log school house, chinked and daubed, and sat on a slab, turned bark side down for a bench, and stood in awe of the birch rods that lay on nails just above the master's desk, it used to be a maxim 'two times three are six' and the 'half of six is three.' Applying this maxim, if it be a true one (our readers will please ask their children if it is taught in the schools for truth now), to the cattle business, it would seem as if two cattle of a given weight selling at three cents per pound would bring no more than one of the same weight selling at six, and it would therefore seem as if it would be to the farmer's interest to keep half the number of cattle and sell only six cent steers. If it should be still further discovered that a high grade steer would make this weight in a year less time and save a year's keep, it would seem as if it were utter folly to bother with a three cent steer. If on still further investigation it should be found that this is possible and is done by the best farmers year after year, in what are known as the blue grass sections of the west, while it cannot be done on the range sections, it would seem the highest mark of wisdom to let the range people grow the three cent steers and the blue grass people grow only six cent. It depends mainly on whether we were taught a lie in that old school house or were taught the truth. We say mainly, because Captain A. P. Petrie, of New Windsor, Ill., writes us as follows: 'It seems to me that if the corn and blue grass belt of Illinois and Iowa cannot make a success of raising good beef to supply the markets of the world, no other place need try. The difficulty seems to be in getting the common farmer to understand the difference between cattle that will bring six cents per pound and those that bring three. They certainly see the trouble, but will not apply the remedy.' So, after all, the old maxim may have been true, and is still true, and the difficulty lies in the fact that farmers do not understand that they can, if they will, grow the six cent cattle by getting the right kind of blood, thoroughbred sires all the time, and taking the proper care of them. If this be so, then all hands to work to preach the gospel of six cent cattle and produce it. It can be done, is done, and we can all name the men that can do it and are doing it. Let the motto, 'Fewer cattle and better,' be written on every barn door."

Feed for Milk Cows.

One of the premium herds of Holstein cows at the Essex county cattle show last fall was fed as follows, as reported by the manager of the farm: "The summer feed of these cows has been pasture which is small for the number of cows kept, but it has an abundant supply of pure water, and plenty of shade trees; and they have been fed with two quarts gluten meal and two quarts shorts in morning, and with two quarts cornmeal in evening, with dry hay or corn fodder twice a day. "The winter feed consists of ensilage (corn) feed in morning, and good English hay feed in afternoon, with four quarts bran and two quarts meal fed with the ensilage, and same quantity of grain fed dry, before giving them the hay in afternoon, and watered twice a day in the barn, and carded and brushed once a day. Those cows giving a heavy flow of milk are milked three times a day, and fed grain three times a day. The milk is weighed and recorded at each milking. The above is the grain feed for cows. Young cows are fed from one-half to three-fourths the above amount."—American Cultivator.

One Kind of Economy.

We know that many farmers have a settled rule not to sell an ounce of corn, rye or oats, because they believe the farm will suffer if these are sold as grain. It makes no difference to them whether prices vary or not, they must feed and not sell their own grain. If they have to feed five pounds of cornmeal to make one pound of salable pork, it makes a difference of just about 2 1/2 cents on each pound of pork, when the price increases from nineteen dollars to twenty-eight dollars per ton. Pork will not increase in price over one cent per pound, and a similar state of affairs is found when we try to make milk or butter out of high priced feeds.—Rural New Yorker.

Kerry Cow and Shetland Pony.

The Kerry cow and Shetland pony are the products of many generations of scanty food and severe climate. Each is a survival of the best of its kind. Starvation and vigorous weather killed off the weaker animals. Both are extremely hardy, but neither is to be recommended alone or in care of cows or horses of other breeds that have never been subjected to similar hardships.—Jersey Bulletin.

TO MAKE HENS LAY.
Eggs Are Wanting Because Hens Have Not the Right Feed.
A correspondent of the California Cackler, in relation to feeding laying fowls, communicates the following: There has been a very great complaint in some sections about hens not laying as they should.
I think every case can be accounted for. I was recently called in to see a lady's flock of eighty-eight hens that were looking, to say the least, fine, yet she said she was not getting as many eggs from them as I was from a pen of eight that were always confined in a yard 8 by 20, with a tight house 5 by 5, and hers had free range. I purchased a dozen from her and after killing a couple I found that her hens had not sufficient food to produce eggs.
While this I believe to be generally the cause of failure of eggs, yet it is not always so; some feed too high and not that food which will produce eggs. I have been for some time experimenting on what kinds of food will produce best results, and have found the following by far the best: Bran or barley in the morning, scalded with milk; give all they will eat up clean. In this we have that which is generally acknowledged to produce the greatest per cent. of the white of an egg and very little fat.
At noon feed wheat or screenings. In this we have the lime for shell and also a good per cent. of the yolk. Give all they want, and if you have an ash or manure pile mix a little in for them to scratch after.
At night give a liberal feed of corn and do not be afraid of making too fat. I do believe, contrary to the opinions of some, that corn will produce eggs, and lots of them, especially in winter.
Feed beef scraps every other day (cooked) and plenty of bone meal, with a liberal supply of green food every day.
Hens fed in this manner must lay, if they are any good at all; if not, get rid of them. An old saying, and a true one, is that a hen properly fed must lay or get fat. Of course this will not apply through molting time.
A Prize Dobby.
The new Century Dictionary gives the definition of a "dobby" as a cow without horns. The word is also spelled "doddie."

The Hog Paid the Mortgage.

The other day my old German friend Theodore Louis visited us on his way home from farmers' meetings at the east. Many years ago Mr. Louis, an emigrant, settled on a government claim in Dunn county, Wis., preparing his first little piece of clearing for corn and potatoes by spading. Following the universal practice he embarked in wheat raising, and as time went on his sandy lands, none too well stored with fertility in the beginning, grew poorer and poorer under the steady drain while the mortgage gradually increased and the log house settled out of shape little by little with each passing season. It was then Mr. Louis in desperation changed his vocation and placed his faith in the hog, that animal which has lifted so many mortgages from farms in the northwest. Nor were his efforts in vain, for the mortgage disappeared and a frame house occupied the site of the log structure of pioneer days. The hog had rooted the mortgage off the farm and now has lifted Mr. Louis into enviable prominence in agricultural circles.—Professor Henry in Breeder's Gazette.

Live Stock Points.

A writer in The Breeder's Gazette, speaking of the Smithfield cattle market, says that although the majority of the beeves were not over twenty months old, yet the greater the age and the more mature the animal the better price it brought. Beef used by British gentlemen who raise their own meat is from animals not less than 3 years old that are fattened on grass.
Daniel Webster said that mutton was not at its best till the sheep was two years old.
P. G. Palmer, of Millersburg, O., owns a Holstein-Friesian calf that weighed 143 pounds when it was forty-six hours old.
T. C. Jones writes that farmers who raise the best beef cannot afford to have their cattle forced at from a year to eighteen months old so that they can take the prizes at the fat cattle shows, consequently they do not compete.
A good change diet for an animal that scours and falls off in flesh and appetite is made by boiling roots and oats and mixing them with linsed meal. Give the food in mash.
For the first year and a half of a beef animal's life keep it growing vigorously. Nothing is so good as grass pasture for this. After the age named fatten quickly.
Acorn meal makes a fine diet for hens. Where oak trees are plentiful the acorns ought by all means to be gathered for the poultry and pounded up as a valuable change of food for them in winter. Squirrel meat is made on acorns and they will make just as good chicken meat.
Deposit animal manure on ground as near to your stables and sheds as possible to save hauling distance.
It is by no means certain yet that inoculation is any good as a preventive of hog cholera.

Around the World on a Bicycle.

Frank G. Lenz, the plucky bicyclist who left New York city hall, on the afternoon of June 4 for a tour around the world on a pneumatic safety bicycle, left Detroit Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock and reached Ann Arbor the same evening, stopping at the Germania. Yesterday morning about ten o'clock he left for Jackson en route to Chicago. Mr. Lenz is a native of Pittsburg, Pa., twenty-five years old, five feet seven inches tall, weighing about 150 pounds. He is a man of indomitable pluck, energy and endurance and places entire confidence in his ability to wheel a Victor pneumatic bicycle successfully around the world. Mr. Lenz holds the western Pennsylvania road championship for twenty-four hours, having covered 162 miles in that time on Western Pennsylvania roads which are conceded to be the most hilly and rough in the state. His route leads to Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Bismark, Boise City, Seattle, Portland, Sacramento, San Francisco. He is accompanied to San Francisco by Mr. Robert Bruce of the regular staff of Outing under whose auspices the trip is made. From San Francisco he continues his journey alone through foreign lands, and will tour successively through Japan, China, India, Afghanistan, Asiatic Russia, Persia, Turkey, Serbia, Bulgaria, Austria, Germany, Switzerland, Holland, Belgium, France, England, Scotland and Ireland, and thence by steamer to New York. He expects to reach home by June 4, 1895, and will cover in the meantime from 20 to 22,000 miles. Mr. Lenz carries a camera on his shoulder and writes the story of his trip as he goes along. His write as far as Chicago will appear in the August number of Outing. Some years ago Thomas Stevens wheeled around the world on what is now called an old fashioned ordinary. He made the trip eastward, doing Europe and Asia first and finished his great work by coming over the Rockies on the plains, while Lenz makes the whole journey westward to take advantage of climatic changes, to cover a different territory from that traversed by Stevens. Wheelmen will do well to keep track of this lonely and hardy wheelman traveller of many lands. Farmers of Washtenaw, Attention. The Michigan Board of World's Fair Managers desire to make the following request: That all exhibitors at the Michigan fairs of 1892, who are awarded first premium on grain or grass seed or grains and grasses in the heads with full length stalk, (bundles not to exceed four inches in diameter,) contribute to the Columbian Exposition four qts. each of seed and their exhibit in the straw or stalk. Any person in the State not exhibiting at the fairs, and having extra specimens of the above articles, is earnestly requested to send them well boxed with freight or express prepaid to the undersigned, at Jackson, Mich., and will receive therefor the same considerations and premiums. Premiums in this last class will be based upon the largest variety and best quality received. Should the largest display contain less than 100 varieties, the premiums will be scaled in proportion. The above cash premiums will be paid before May 1st, 1893. Parties not competing for these last premiums need not prepay freight.
