$350 for an Ear.

Last week brief mention was made in our local columns of a fight in Dexter, during which Jacob Stoll, a Dexter barber, had a piece of his ear bitten off by Jay Warren, and of the fact that complaint had been made in Justice Butts' court. On Tuesday of this week the matter was settled, the complaint being withdrawn. Warren paid Stoll $350 for the piece of the ear that was bitten off, which is of course considerable more than the weight of the ear would come to in gold. If the ancient practice at one time in vogue in England of compounding mayhem and manslaughter by the payment of money were again to come into use, at the rate of $350 for a piece of an ear, how much would a whole man be worth? That is a question our readers who are "some on figgers" may ponder over.

Made to Pay Up.

Lawyers may be beaten in a suit before a court, but most of them are sharp enough to keep their eyes on their clients and see that they are not beaten out of their fees as well. One young attorney had a narrow escape in this direction Wednesday. He was attorney for a fair defendant in a recently commenced divorce suit and the young lawyer had an idea that the woman would like to beat him out of his fees. He became convinced of it and watched the trains. Wednesday noon he learned that his client was preparing to leave on the south bound T. & A. train. He hustled around and got out a summons for her, serving it just as the train whistled that was to take her where the lawyer couldn't get her. The fair client raved and tore, but finally gave the lawyer a check for his fees, just as the train came in.

His Hair Turned White.

The Detroit Sunday News tells how the hair of Rev. Andrew Ten Brook, of this city, turned white in a single night. He filled the chair of intellectual and moral philosophy in the University from 1844 to 1851. In the words of the News:

"He gave up his chair in the University, expecting to become the editor of a religious paper in New York. His partners, however, left him in the lurch, treacherously shutting him out at the last moment. His distress over this outcome of misplaced confidence was so great that in one night his hair changed to white. He made an extended tour in Europe and when he returned he became the librarian of the University, retaining that position till 1864. He then retired from all pedagogical pursuits.

It is a mistake to suppose, however, that he has ceased to work. There are few busier men in Ann Arbor than he. He is the author of a work on state universities which has attained wide popularity, and is the translator of Grindley's famous "Thirty Years' War." He is now preparing a work entitled "Our Four Centuries," which will be especially welcome in this, the year of the Columbian quadri-centennial."

He Knew the Gentleman.

The Hon. John T. Rich is noted for two things—his farming qualifications and his great desire for public office. One goes with the other with the gentleman and never is Mr. Rich spoken of as a good farmer without his name being connected at the same time as a candidate for an office of one sort or another. Like all politicians, he has a habit of dropping around wherever there is a political or public gathering and when McKinley was in Ann Arbor, recently, Rich was on hand nursing his boom for governor. Under the guidance of one of his supporters in this city he was steered from place to place and introduced to such of the faithful as happened to be around. It was during one of these little excursions that an incident occurred which demonstrated the quality of the would-be governor known as sticktoitiveness.

During the walk-around Rich and his friend ran across one of Ann Arbor's leading Republicans who was rather a rival of the escort of Mr. Rich and who bore no great love for the candidate for governor, his objection to him being his great desire for office. At first the "governor's" guide did not introduce his brother Republicans nor did Mr. Rich appear to be acquainted with the other gentleman. Finally the guide said:

"Mr. R., let me introduce to you, Mr. Rich. He's a candidate for governor and is down here today looking over the field."

Mr. Rich grasped the hand of the other gentleman, gave it a good farmer shake and expressed his great pleasure at meeting Mr. R. The gentleman failed to respond as heartily to the great honor conferred upon him, and at once the escort discovered that something was wrong. Finally, after an awkward pause, Mr. R. said coolly:

"O, yes, I met Mr. Rich when he was first a candidate for governor twelve years ago and have had the pleasure of an introduction at every convention since."

There was another brief period of silence, after which the meeting adjourned.

Fishing in the Reservoir.

Health Officer Kapp, Marshal Murray, Aldermen Fillmore and Snow and Dr. Belser went up to the waterworks reservoir last Saturday afternoon on a fishing excursion. The party between them had three hooks and lines and in an hour and a half captured ninety-two fish with hook and line. The fish varied in size from an inch and a half to a sun fish as large as a man's hand. Among them were two bullheads six inches long. The question which bothered the fishermen was how those fish got in the waterworks reservoir, especially in such numbers. The fishermen returned home laden with thought for future use.

Condition of the Crops in Washtenaw.

The state crop report for July puts the yield of wheat in this county in 1891 at 1,118,079 bushels, an average of 19.7 bushels per acre. This year there were 61,577 acres of wheat in May in this county, an increase of 4,817 acres over last year. The yield is estimated at 974,764 bushels, or an average of a little 15 bushels per acre. It is estimated that the whole state will raise about 1,500,000 less bushels of wheat this year than last. During June 46,620 bushels were reported as marketed in this county, a total of 555,078 bushels reported since August 1.

Clover and timothy have been doing extra well this year, clover in this county being put at 104 per cent and timothy at 102 per cent of an average crop. Potatoes are put at 91 per cent of an average crop, oats at 82 per cent, and corn at 76 per cent. These averages are all a little higher than the averages in the southern four tiers of counties of the state.

A Large Planing Mill.

Baby Ruth is the name painted on the large new engine in Luick Bros.' enlarged planing mill. Baby Ruth is a 90 horse power engine which can be run up to 120 horse power and is doing its work well. The large increase in buildings erected in Ann Arbor made the enlargement of Luick Bros.' mill imperative. They were unable to turn out work fast enough. The addition to their mill is 56x60 feet in size, which makes the building now 60x120 feet in size. The new smoke stack rises ninety-one feet. A great deal of new machinery has been placed in the mill, among this being a cross-cut saw, a new moulding machine, a fine embossing machine, etc. The mill up stairs and down is a perfect hive of industry. The capacity of the works has been doubled.

A new dry kiln was started up Monday. The temperature when the reporter looked in was 94° and the sap was dropping out of the lumber.

Luick Bros. attend to their works in person. No man about their establishment works harder than they do. They have built up a large and prosperous business and richly deserve their success.

The Contract with the Water Works.

As will be noticed by a reference to the council proceedings, the council is soon to take into consideration the question of the contract with the water works company, the question being whether the thirty years contract is a valid one or not, or whether it creates a burden upon the revenues of succeeding years, such as the charter prohibits a council from making. The franchise of the company for thirty years by which it has the right to furnish water to private consumers is not questioned, the only question being the contract made with the city for furnishing water for fire purposes. This contract was for 100 hydrants at $45 per year and extra hydrants at $40 per year. At present the city has 123 hydrants, which would make the annual rental $5,420. If the present contract should be found invalid, the council would have a right to contract with the company from year to year for water for fire purposes, the same as is done with the electric light company for lights. The question of the validity of the water works contract for a series of years has been brought up in other cities and Niles and Monroe are examples of cities that are making annual contracts.

A Mistake in a Deed.

Edward Duffy has been in Jackson this week attending a meeting of the state prison inspectors who are endeavoring to straighten out a bad bull made by the late Republican board in transferring a piece of the state property. In 1891 Z. C. Jessup, a Detroit man who had sold lumber to the prison for some years, bought a piece of land adjoining the prison grounds of the board of inspectors for $10,000, paying $500 down, the balance of $9,500 to be paid after Jessup had had a year to experiment with the land as a stone quarry if it panned out. The deed made out includes a piece of land across the road from the stone quarry 10 rods in depth and 80 rods in length, which is part of the prison farm and is worth from $5,000 to $7,000. It was never intended to convey this and possession of it was never delivered. Jessup sold out his contract to Avery, who was the clerk of the late Republican board of inspectors. Avery put the contract into a company which now claims all the land described. On searching the prison records the board found in Avery's handwriting on the record of proceeding the proposition made for the land described by metes and bounds, naming the street as the boundary. The board will file a bill to have the deed corrected so as to conform to the proposition and there is every prospect of this land being saved to the state.

The Silver Triennial.

Ann Arbor Commandery, Knights Templar, is making extensive arrangements for attending the 25th triennial conclave at Denver, next month, and everything promises an enjoyable excursion of the Sir Knights, their families and a number of friends who will accompany them. Thus far there has been no break in the rates, but it is not improbable that before the day of starting the rate will be fixed very much lower.

The Michigan Central railway is the initial route for the third consecutive triennial conclave of Knights Templar for the Grand Commandery of Michigan and for Ann Arbor Commandery.

It is a peculiar circumstance which speaks volumes for the good judgment of our local commandery and the excellent facilities offered by the M. C. R. R., that both the Grand Commandery of the state and Ann Arbor Commandery have selected it as the initial route for the 23rd conclave at St. Louis, the 24th at Washington and now the 25th at Denver, next month.

Mr. Joseph Hall, representing the M. C. R. R., was in the city Monday in conference with the committee of the Grand Commandery, consisting of Past Grand Commander Doty, of Ann Arbor; Grand Commander Conover, of Coldwater; and Grand Recorder Innes, of Grand Rapids; and all the details of the trip were satisfactorily adjusted.

The Ann Arbor Commandery was represented by Eminent Commander Goodrich and Past Commander C. E. Hiscock.

The Grand Commandery goes by regular train August 5th and the local commandery by special palace vestibule train, August 6th.

It is expected that about 35 Sir Knights with their families and friends will represent our city at "the silver triennial" in Denver. It will be a glorious trip and a wonderful experience for those participating.

Applications for sleepers en route and for lodging while in Denver can be made now to C. E. Hiscock, chairman of committee for Ann Arbor Commandery.

The Ann Arbor headquarters are on 13th street, Denver, where rooms for 50 people have been secured in an elegant modern stone residence accessible to all points of interest.

The headquarters of the Grand Commandery are at the hotel Albany where all Michigan Sir Knights and their friends will be cordially welcomed and courteously entertained.

Circular No. 1, embodying all the details of the trip to this date, has just been issued by the commandery. The fare for the round trip including Colorado Springs, Manitou, the Garden of the Gods, and Pike's Peak, is only $34.80 from Ann Arbor, and may be less by the time of starting. Applications should be filed at once as accommodations are necessarily limited to 50 people at headquarters.

The Santa Fe R. R., in accordance with its previous notice, yesterday advertised a rate of $12.00 from Chicago to Denver and return, on account of the Triennial Conclave of the Knights Templar. This insures a rate of $12.00 from Chicago and return for the Ann Arbor commandery and their friends, via the Chicago & Alton, that railroad having contracted to meet the lowest rate made. No doubt the capacity of the commandery's accommodation will be severely taxed by those who desire to avail themselves of this wonderful opportunity.

 Frank Lemmon has on exhibition in Costello's store a potato that is very much of a curiosity in its way. It is of the white star variety and upon being put under the paring knife by Mrs. Lemmon, Tuesday, disclosed within its center, entirely secluded from the air, a nicely growing potato about half as large as the old one. There were no sprouts upon it and so far as the eye can discover the growing bulb had no connection whatever with the parent root. Can you explain the "whyness?"—Dexter News.

Mrs. S. W. Dexter offers to present the village of Dexter with a town clock worth $1,000 provided a suitable tower is provided for it. As the chumps of the town are paying no attention to the offer we dropped Mrs. D. a postal card last night telling her Grass Lake would accept her clock on those terms. When the clock comes we think it had better be placed in the belfry of either the Baptist or Methodist church, although a 50-foot tower built at the front entrance of the town hall would not be a bad place for it.—Grass Lake News.

 Everybody has at times failed to do their duty towards themselves. Hundreds of lady readers suffer from sick headache, nervousness, sleeplessness and female troubles. But one bottle of Dr. Miles' Nerve caused sound sleep every night and she is feeling like a new person. Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler, Laramie City, Wyoming, who tried all other remedies, declares that after three weeks' use of the Nerve for Headache, Nervous Prostration, etc., she was entirely relieved. J. H. Bortle, of Saline, has abandoned the digging of a water well, on account of a petroleum vein being tapped. Time was when a show of oil would have been worth a $5,000 bank check, and a sniff or a gas bubble would have sold for $50.

Will Glover, of Saline, had an arm broken and got married both within a week. The Lord only knows what will strike the poor fellow next!

Mrs. Dexter, of Dexter, will give a $1,000 town clock to the village if the village will furnish a tower for it. Dexter is now trying to borrow a light house.

Owing to the sudden giving way of the posts of an old board fence at Saline on the 4th, six rods of men were precipitated backward into a muddy cornfield. They were dug out for the worth of their clothes.

John Lawless, of Ypsilanti town, in trying to steal a ride on a passing freight, last Saturday, was jerked to the earth, and had a collar bone broken. He will probably never try to board a train in such a lawless manner, again.

John Taylor, an Ypsilanti colored lad, on the 4th, blew into a toy cannon, to discover why it did not go off. As it "went" a moment later and plowed a four-inch furrow in his skull, further research was deemed needless.

A strange dude, who changes his clothes three times a day, was arrested at Ann Arbor last week, for trying to persuade little girls to go walking with him. He fought the officers who ushered him to the jail. One suit a day was sufficient for him after that.

We find by the Argus that on the Fourth, at Ann Arbor, Mayor William G. Doty was one of the speakers. We also find on the same authority that the exercises on the same day, at Whitmore Lake, opened with a speech by Mayor Doty. What we would like to know is, how many are there of that mayor anyway? It is generally understood, however, that Doty is a hustler.

These symptoms mean heart disease. The most reliable remedy is Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which has saved thousands of lives. The Grass Lake News is now accusing the clergy as being bribed with half fare tickets not to denounce Sunday work on railroads as well as Sunday opening of the World's Fair. To show how the News feels we quote:

Last week in speaking of the open and defiant violation of the Sunday laws by the railroads we said the pulpit would say nothing against it because "bribed with half-fare tickets." One of our local ministers takes the assertion in high dudgeon. He doesn't like the word "bribed," and yet less than a year ago, as we are informed by a gentleman of high standing, our critic applied the same term to members of the legislature who accepted passes from the railroad companies, during a session of the farmers' club held at Mr. Barber's, southeast of this village. But let us give the matter in controversy a square look in the face. Supposing the ministers of the christian church should all unite and from their pulpits preach against Sabbath desecration by the railroads; supposing in their conventions, conferences and assemblies they should agitate and pronounce against it until a public sentiment was formed that would insist upon the enforcement of the statutes and a discontinuance of the evil complained of, does any man for a minute suppose that they would be given half-fare tickets by the railroad managers of this or any other state? But half-fare tickets are given to the clergy. The latter wage no warfare against trains running on Sunday, worthy of the name. Nobody will maintain that reverend gentlemen accept half-fare with a distinct understanding that they are to wink at railroad Sabbath breaking, but men cannot accept such favors without in a measure feeling under obligations to the donors.

Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Will Pe-ru-na cure Bright's Disease of the Kidneys? The best answer to this question that can be made is the testimony of the thousands of patients who have been cured by it. A single demonstration of a fact is worth many theories concerning it. The following letter is a specimen of what we are receiving from this class of patients:

GILMER, TEXAS, July 18, 1891. The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Co., Columbus, O.—Gents: As my medicine has done me so much good I thought I would write to you and tell you about it. You can publish it if you like. I bought eighteen bottles of Pe-ru-na and Man-a-lin. I had Bright's Disease and gravel. I owe my life to Pe-ru-na and Man-a-lin. I would not have lived a month longer if it had not been for your medicine.

Yours truly, H. G. McCULLOUGH. All persons desiring further details as to the above cure are requested to write Mr. McCullough, who will cheerfully answer all letters of inquiry. There is no form of kidney or urinary disease for which Pe-ru-na is not a reliable remedy. Gravel, catarrh of the bladder, diabetes, pain or weakness in the back or hips, dropsy, puffiness of the face or feet, smarting, scalding, or scantiness are all curable by Pe-ru-na. This remedy can be obtained at most drug stores. In all cases where there is also constipation or irregularity of the bowels Man-a-lin should be taken in addition to Pe-ru-na. A new publication on diseases of the kidneys and all kindred ailments sent free by The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company, Columbus, O.

NEVER A FAILURE. The Red River Valley of Minnesota and North Dakota has never had a failure of crops. It produced 30,000,000 bushels of wheat besides other cereals in 1890. Farms can be had on the crop plan, or long time cash payments. It is not an uncommon thing to pay for a farm from the proceeds of one crop. It has all of the advantages of an old country in the shape of school, church, market, postal & railway facilities and all the chances of a new country in the way of cheap lands, rich soil, and increase in values. It is one of the most fertile and promising regions in America not yet fully occupied. In the rush to the far west, however, this rich valley has been over-looked. For President—
GROVER CLEVELAND, Of New York.
For Vice-President—
ADLAI E. STEVENSON,
Of Illinois.

Wages in protected Germany are lower than wages in free trade England. How do the Republican organs explain that?

The Courier compares wages of protection countries in Europe with wages in this country and raises the cry, see what protection does for workingmen. The bloody graves at Homestead and Carnegie's castle in Scotland show what protection does for both laboring men and capitalists.

This is not a mud slinging campaign. Yet the Register is so very hard up for argument that it turns to the old and worn out charge of '84 that Grover Cleveland is a hangman. The new editor of the Register should be reminded that the people of Ann Arbor of both parties will resent insults to Cleveland. If he can't find anything better to write than such insulting editorial squibs, he would do well to hire a small boy to write his editorials.

The Register, which has long played second fiddle to the Courier in Republican campaigns in this county, again comes up to the rack in the same old role. Two weeks ago it felt confident of the nomination of Mr. Pingree unless "the better element in the party is overwhelmed by the shrewd manipulations of a few political wirepullers." Well, Pingree was knocked out in just the way the Register feared he might be. Still this week the Register comes to the support of "the machine which beat the better element in the party" and proposes to do its little towards helping the Courier in the campaign.

The Courier has recently been heaping opprobrium upon the Pingree supporters, but when the Courier's statement made against the Pingree men, that there were still a few Judas Iscariots left, was applied to the 15,000 of Rich supporters of two years ago who opposed Turner, the Courier comes to the defence of the Rich men with the remark, "It is very doubtful, however, if a man may be termed a Judas by exercising his right to vote as he pleases at the polls, no matter what party he may belong to. That is a right that belongs to every citizen of this nation." That is a very true statement, dear Courier, but it applies as well to the Pingree men who see fit to resent the shameless machine methods which have nominated Rich.

The nomination of Mr. Rich for governor was a foregone conclusion from the time Senator McMillan, the chairman of the Republican state committee came out for his nomination. From that moment all the power of the federal machine in the state was used to bring about his nomination. The power of the machine lies in the fact that it has its lieutenants in every nook and corner of the state. It works intelligently, it works unitedly and it takes a wholesale revolt of the people to overthrow it. The mere fact that machine methods may be distasteful to the people will not work its overthrow, because the people of the whole state rarely all move towards the accomplishment of their desires at once. The machine does. It presents a solid front. It charges those who do not fall in with its behests with being recreant to the party. If Rich should be elected, the Republican machine in this state will be perpetuated. We will begin to believe that a once famous remark that anybody can carry Michigan after all is true.

The machine claims that Rich is strong because he is a farmer. A railroad farmer, a political farmer, he may be, but not one of the kind who earns his bread at the plow. We don't believe that Rich will hoodwink the farmers of the state into putting him into office on any such plea as that. The mere fact that the chief railroad officials of the state were as active as the federal officeholders in securing Rich's nomination would indicate what kind of a farmer he is.

So far the presidential campaign has been in favor of the Democrats. The office holders in the Republican convention succeeded in nominating Harrison. At once the president sought to make it an office holders campaign. He notified Clarkson that he didn't want him for chairman of the national committee. And although two-thirds of the Republican committee wanted Clarkson, he withdrew, because as he stated Harrison didn't want him and had told him so. Harrison did want Campbell and Campbell was selected. At once the farmers of the country who had experienced the tactics of the Big Four while striving to pass legislation on the meat question, took umbrage at Campbell's appointment, as Campbell was Armour's chief attorney and lobbyist. So Campbell resigned and after the position had been offered by the president to fourteen or fifteen men, who declined, Carter, a Republican office holder was prevailed upon to take the place.
President Harrison's appointment of John W. Foster, of Indiana, as secretary of state has been added testimony that the Blaine men need expect no favors at the hands of the administration. Foster is the man whose insults to Blaine in the presence of the Canadian commissioners, done manifestly with the approval of Harrison, caused Blaine's sudden resignation.
Then Carnegie, the chief of the protected industries and a leading protectionist writer, sought to reduce the wages of his men and to enforce the reduction by a force of armed Pinkertons and the bloody scenes at Homestead occurred, giving a gigantic object lesson that protection does not raise wages.
The nomination of Reid, who for a dozen years run a non-union office, and had been inimical to labor interests in various ways has proved very distasteful to the laboring men and it is doubtful if the big barrel he will open for the campaign will make up for the loss he will occasion the ticket by his personal unpopularity.
The nomination of Cleveland, in the face of the opposition of the politicians, has been most enthusiastically received by the people and many Republicans have announced their intention of voting for him.

In Michigan, the federal office holders got control of the Republican caucuses and after a bitter fight in nearly every county in the state nominated Rich for governor. By this time the Republicans must have made up their minds to let the office holders run the campaign for them if they want to.

Reform Club Work.
Chairman E. Ellery Anderson, of the Reform club, has just issued an appeal for subscription which contains the following statement of one of the objects of the club during the campaign:

It is our earnest desire to secure the election of Grover Cleveland as president of the United States. We wish to satisfy the great masses of voters that a protective tariff does not tend to increase the wages of the workman, but on the contrary tends to decrease them. We wish to satisfy them that a protective tariff does increase the prices of the necessaries of life, and that the truth in regard to this matter cannot be reached by comparing the prices of today with prices in years gone by, but that the true test is obtained by comparing the prices of articles in this country with the prices at the same period of the same or similar articles in other markets.
We wish to satisfy the great masses of the voters that the chief end and object of the protective system is to develop in this land the most baneful of all industries, the "manufacture of the millionaire." We wish to satisfy these masses that wealth which is not the reward of labor, but which is the unnatural product of laws passed for the benefit of favored classes, is of necessity drawn out of the substance and savings of the poor, and it is for that reason a cruel and unjust burden to the community.

Is There One Left?
If the McKinley tariff had done for the Homestead men what it professes to do, or if it had even prevented a wage reduction, which meant to them something like starvation, then the lockout and the battle would not have occurred. Is there any sane man left who really believes that the McKinley kind of tariff does what its promoters pretend that it will do?

PROTECTION A SHAM.

THE TARIFF SYSTEM DECLARED TO BE A BASELESS SUPERSTITION.

Senator Vest Fires a Volley of One Hundred Tariff Trusts and Two Hundred and Fifty Wage Reductions in Protected Industries at Republicans.

Tariff items of late are not entirely satisfactory to Republicans who worship at the shrine of "protection." The Democrats have boldly declared that the system is a superstition and a sham. The Protectionists have done the same, and the Alliance and Labor platform will follow suit.

Something must be done to stem the tide setting in against "protection." Republicans must not be content with trying to refute "free trade" and "Cobden club lies," but must do some aggressive work themselves. Spurred on by such sentiments as these Senator Hale concluded to "force the fighting," and as a prelude to his challenge to the Democrats he recited that at "no time has so large a proportion of the American people been employed at such high wages and purchasing the necessities and comforts of life at so low prices as in the year 1892."

Then he proceeded to shoot at the wicked Democrats as recklessly as a boy with a new popgun shoots at flies. After firing blank charges at "British Doctrine," "Balance of Trade," "High Prices," "Low Wages," etc., and triumphantly announcing that "The Republicans of the United States gladly accept the issue presented," he sat down ignorant of the fact that every shot had hit a hornet's nest.

Tariff reformers of late have not been satisfied with mere theoretical reasoning, no matter how well founded their theories may be. They have taken the trouble to collect some facts to substantiate their claims. Senator Vest happened to have a desk full of these un-republican things. He had in the first place twenty-one samples of dry goods, coat linings, women's and children's dress goods, cotton sheets, cottons, etc., prepared by a big New York merchant, showing that these goods, though the foreign price has declined since 1890, are sold higher here now than then—in some cases 20 per cent. higher.

In the second place he had a few facts in regard to the increased duty on pearl buttons, cutlery, tin plate, etc., and the increased prices on the same. Next he had a list prepared by J. Schoenhof, ex-consul to Tunstall, England, giving the labor cost of producing thirty-nine articles in America and England, the cost in all but eight cases being lower in this country in spite of our higher wages. Then he had a list of 100 tariff trusts, prepared by Hon. John De Witt Warner, of the Reform Club. He also had a list of 250 wage reductions, strikes, etc., in protected industries since October, 1890, prepared by the same gentleman.

Loaded with these and other similar facts Senator Vest did some cannonading that silenced the Republican popguns. After he had poured out enough of these facts to fill thirty pages of The Congressional Record, and the smoke of battle began to clear away, Senator Hale found courage to say to Vest that they had trusts in England also, and that "before this debate closes the demonstration will be given to the senate showing his inaccuracy." Vest inquired, "Why not give it now?" But Hale's ammunition was out and he was compelled to retreat, saying, "That was not my original purpose."

Perhaps he will bring more ammunition and renew the battle. Perhaps he will prepare a list of 250 increases of wages in protected industries since the McKinley bill became a law. Perhaps he will write up 100 trusts in England that have raised prices there—often from 25 to 50 per cent.—and that sell goods cheaper to foreigners than at home. Perhaps he will produce several hundred foreign manufacturers and merchants to testify that they are regularly paying our tariff taxes. Perhaps he will be able to show that we are making all of our own tin plate and that the price is lower than ever before. Perhaps he will demonstrate that a duty on moonshine would build up a green cheese industry here. Just now, however, he admits his weakness and lack of facts on these points.

The Unprotected Majority.
Mr. Norman H. Pollock, in The World of July 5, gave the following list of workers who get no benefit from protection, but who, because of it, must pay more for what they eat, drink and wear. The list could be extended to a much greater length. It is observed that, so far as average yearly wages are concerned, these workers earn more than those at work in the highly protected woolen, iron, cotton and silk industries:

- Actors, authors, architects, agents, artists.
- Bakers, butchers, boot and shoemakers, builders, brakemen, bricklayers.
- Carpenters, car drivers, car conductors, carriage makers, clerks, coopers, cooks, chambermaids.
- Drivers, dock builders, deck hands, dressmakers.
- Engravers, expressmen, elevator men, engineers.
- Farmers, flagmen.
- Gardeners, grocerymen.
- Hotel keepers, housekeepers, helpers.
- Kalsomners.
- Laborers, longshoremen.
- Ministers, machinists, musicians, masons.
- Printers, painters, plumbers, priests, physicians, plasterers.
- Seamstresses, school teachers, servants.
- Tailors, truckmen.
- Watchmen, whitewashers.

An Excellent Suggestion.
Perhaps the most practical use to which a Republican campaign fund could be put now would be to make a contribution to Mr. Carnegie sufficient to enable him to pay his men decent wages and discontinue his preparations for a long siege. A object lesson such as he is furnishing is rather discouraging to orators who try to explain how the McKinley tariff has benefited American labor.—Providence Journal.

CARNEGIE IN THEORY AND PRACTICE.

A Chance for the "Philanthropist" to Prove His Reputation Deserved.

The reduction of wages in the iron mills of Pennsylvania and the policy pursued by Carnegie, Frick and other protected iron barons is causing a great deal of anxiety to the party responsible for this condition of affairs. General Clarkson, ex-chairman of the Republican national committee, was quoted on July 5 as having criticised Andrew Carnegie in the following language:

"Mr. Carnegie is a man of vast fortune, and his wealth has been made by his workmen. In saying this I do not belittle Carnegie's marvelous faculty for accumulation. He has written a great deal about 'triumphant democracy' and the responsibilities of wealth, and created an impression among many that he is at heart a philanthropist. Now is his opportunity to show that this reputation is deserved. Those workmen cannot be wrong in objecting to the treatment they are now subjected to. There have been no convulsions in business that could possibly make these great reductions necessary. Mr. Carnegie should settle the difficulty at once and be generous to those men. As I understand it, they have built their homes there and made the town. There is no place for them to go, and they must rely on Carnegie for their living."

"In France and Germany co-operation is now carried on successfully. Capital invested receives a stated return, and wages are paid as in ordinary business. Surplus profits are then divided. Andrew Carnegie has discussed the beauties of co-operation in magazine articles; now he should put his theories into practice and make his works co-operative. His employees would remember him with gratitude and he would establish a reputation throughout the world."

It may be well to recall some of the absurd things said by this millionaire apostle of protection to the few at the expense of the many. Here is one taken from Carnegie's article on "Wealth," in The North American Review of June, 1889:

"Poor and restricted are our opportunities in this life, narrow our horizon, our best work most imperfect, but rich men should be thankful for one inestimable boon—they have it in their power during their lives to busy themselves in organizing benefactions from which the masses of their fellows will derive lasting advantage, and thus dignify their own lives. The highest life is probably to be reached not by such limitation of the life of Christ as Count Tolstoi gives us, but, while animated by Christ's spirit, by recognizing the changed conditions of this age and adopting modes of expressing this spirit suitable to the changed conditions under which we live. Thus is the problem of rich and poor to be solved. The laws of accumulation will be left free; the laws of distribution free. Individualism will continue, but the millionaire will be but a trustee for the poor; entrusted for a season with a great part of the increased wealth of the community, but administering it for the community far better than it could or would have done for itself. Such in my opinion is the true gospel concerning wealth, obedience to which is destined some day to solve the problem of the rich and poor, and thus bring Peace on earth, among men good will."

Wage Reduction in Iron Mills.

The following from The Iron Age of June 23, 1892, will give some idea of the enormity of the wage reductions proposed by the iron and steel manufacturers and presented in the form of an ultimatum to the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers:

The price for bar rolling and heating, 2,240 pounds to the ton, has been cut down from 70 to 50 cents on a two cent card; for boiling, from $5.50 to $4.50; for rolling common iron on plate mills, from 72 to 50 cents. Put in tabular form, some of the reductions appear as follows:

HEATING SLABS AND SHINGLING.		Shingling, 2,240 pounds.
		Old rate.	New rate.
2c. bar iron (rehammered).....	$0.75	$0.50
3c. bar iron.....	91	65
2c. bar iron (charcoal).....	82 1/2	62 1/2
3c. bar iron.....	1.01	82 1/2

NUT IRON.		Old rate. New rate.
27-64x16.....	$12.50	$6.63
27-64x16-64.....	1.00	4.80
15-32x14.....	4.70	3.60
19-32x14.....	4.25	3.10

Protective "Barriers."

The senate committee on finance said in 1888, when it recommended its substitute for the Mills bill, "Its framers have not hesitated to erect or maintain defensive barriers which would carry confidence and comfort into American homes."

This sounds well, but looks badly—especially to the 4,000 men at Homestead on the outside of the "defensive barriers," which stand stock still and protect the Carnegie Steel company from their American workmen, instead of walking about and carrying "confidence and comfort into American homes."

Lower Wages and Higher Prices.
The coal trust has again raised prices twenty-five cents a ton to middlemen, and the latter will soon put on an extra cent. Were it not for the tariff on soft coal the combination would fail, but the trust and the tariff are wedded, and higher prices for what they buy and lower wages for workmen are the results.

STREET.
To the Common Council—
Your Committee on Streets, to whom was referred the recommendation of the Board of Public Works relative to the request of the Toledo, Ann Arbor, and North Michigan Railway Company, to construct a spur track over First Street and William street, and other matters.
Respectfully report that they have had the various recommendations under consideration and would recommend:
That a permission be granted to such railway company to cross such streets with their proposed spur track, on condition that said company do forthwith build all sidewalks and curbs, and on condition that said company do plank each of said street crossings from street line to street line.
Second, Your committee do recommend that the request of said Board of Public Works for an appropriation of the sum of $275,000 for the purpose of tiling south side of Miller avenue street to Ashley streets and south side of Washington street on the east side of Allen's creek, be denied, for the reason that the construction of suitable stone gutters along the purpose of the street tiling, and that the cost of the construction of street gutters has heretofore been paid by the adjoining property owners, and your committee see no good reason for a departure from such practice.

Suits Against the Michigan Central.

Chelsea furnishes about one-half the suits begun in this county for damages against railroad companies, and this week two more are credited to that burg, the suits having been commenced by Lehman Bros. & Cavanaugh on behalf of their clients against the Michigan Central. Across the grounds of the company at Chelsea a wire has been stretched a few inches above the ground, the wire being used for the purpose of throwing a signal. This wire is the cause of both accidents for which damages are now claimed in the present suits, and may cost the company $10,000, if the plaintiffs win their cases.

On September 5th, 1891, George V. Clark sold some poultry to R. Kempf & Bro. and delivered it at their warehouse on the line of the railroad. He had accomplished his mission and was bound for the office of Kempf Bros. to get his pay, when his foot caught under this wire and he was thrown violently to the ground. When he picked himself up, he found his right wrist broken, his body badly bruised and he was in a generally demoralized condition. He asks $5,000 damages for the injuries received through the carelessness of the company.

On April 5th of the present year this wire resulted in an almost similar accident to Nancy Coaklin. She was on her way to the depot for the purpose of seeing her son off on the train, and catching her foot under this wire she was thrown down, her right wrist broken and seriously bruised, so that she was ill for some time. She now asks that the company be compelled to pay her $5,000 for the injuries which she received.

SLIGHTLY USED and SECOND HAND PIANOS.

How we get them.

During the college year have at rent about Forty right Pianos, also a few Squares. July 1 these pianos come in until the opening of college, October 1.

We also receive many second hand Upright and Square Pianos in exchange for New MEHLIN, BRAUMULLER and ERIE Pianos.

What is done with them.

As soon as these pianos come in or are returned to our warehouses, they are taken by our factory workmen, and tuned, regulated and repolished and, if necessary, revarnished, making them practically as GOOD AS NEW.

Why we do this.

We put these pianos in first class shape because we wish to sell them. We are money out if they stand on our floor three months of each year. It is better to sell them at once, get our money in use and buy again when the demand for renting pianos opens in the Fall.

How we sell them.

We offer these pianos at the very lowest figures and accept monthly payments of $10.00 to $15.00.

Any time within one year after purchasing, any of them will be accepted by us at full price paid in exchange toward a new Mehlin, Braumuller or Erie Piano.

Prices.

Prices vary. Some pianos have been used but a few months---are good as new. Some have been in use two or three years. Some Squares can be had at $40.00 and $50.00. Good Uprights, $125.00 to $150.00. A few Haines Bros. Pianos, used but nine months, at $300 and upwards. Every piano is marked at bed rock. We want to sell them.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY.

Any person contemplating the purchase of a piano should get our prices THIS MONTH.

Pianos were never offered as cheap before. See how our warehouses are CROWDED.

Money does not take up as much room as pianos. Come in and see what we can show you in Pianos and PRICES.
