THE CANDIDATES FOR COUNTY OFFICE.

Judge Kinne Mentioned for Supreme Court Judge—Death of G. W. Allmendinger—Look out for a Fraudulent Recommendation.

Judge Kinne for Supreme Judge.

According to the Ann Arbor Courier, the Republicans of this congressional district will present the name of Judge E. D. Kinne for the Republican nomination for supreme court judge. There is no doubt that Judge Kinne would prove an honor to the bench. The Republicans should, however, have named him in a Republican year and not in a Democratic year, as this will be.

The Ypsilanti Delegates.

The Ypsilanti democratic caucuses last evening elected the following delegates to the county convention:

First ward—George Palmer, Larry Duggan, Will Kirk, Adam Schauer, George Ament, Fred Lamb.

Second Ward—Zina Buck, Dr. Pattison, O. S. Westfall, W. W. Worden.

Third ward—T. L. Towner, H. C. Coe, Tom Ryan, Barney Kirk, John P. Kirk.

Fourth ward—John Uhl, F. J. Swaine, M. Shafer.

Fifth ward—John Terns, George Richel, Louis Moore, Jacob L. Foerster, Nich. Max.

Death of G. W. Allmendinger.

George Washington Allmendinger died at his home on Packard street Wednesday evening from blood poisoning, the result of a cancer. He was a man highly esteemed by his associates, a good workman, steady, industrious, and reliable. He was a blacksmith by trade and a member of the firm of Seybold & Allmendinger. He was the son of David Allmendinger, of Scio, and was forty-four years of age. He leaves a wife and three little children. The funeral services will be held at the house at two o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Allmendinger was an active member of Arbor Tent, No. 296, K. O. T. M., in which order he carried $3,000 insurance.

He Is a Fraud.

It is reported that S. L. Lilley, who was in this city six or eight months, is now doing the surrounding villages, canvassing, begging and obtaining money through fraudulent means. He presents a letter from Rev. Mr. Carman which Mr. Carman denies writing. He is badly crippled. While here he tried to pick himself up and was taken into the Baptist church and aided in various ways. He has been heard from at Fowlerville, Milan, and other places. Part of the time he represents himself as deaf and dumb. Mr. Carman has been greatly annoyed about the matter and the man will undoubtedly be expelled from the church. In the meantime, if he presents a letter from Mr. Carman, no credence should be placed in it.

Democratic County Candidates.

The Democratic county convention next Wednesday will prove a very interesting one. The number of candidates for the various offices are larger than ever before in the history of the county. But they are all in the race as Democrats and the feeling is not as bitter between the candidates as it has been in some previous years. Six or seven candidates for each of the contested offices must unavoidably be disappointed, but such disappointment

MC KINLEY HELD TO ACCOUNT.

The American Workingman.—“Where's that increase in wages you've been talking about? I haven't seen it—you must have it—hand it over!”

must necessarily be expected, as there can only be one candidate for sheriff, one for register of deeds, one for treasurer, and one for prosecuting attorney. The defeated candidate who takes his medicine most manfully will have the best chance four years from now.

Let us call the roll of the candidates and see who they are, and in order that no invidious distinction may be drawn, the Argus will present them in alphabetical order.

For sheriff Asa Allen, of the Fifth ward, Ann Arbor, at present motor-man on the electric street railway, formerly one of the letter carriers, is the latest candidate to shy his castor in the ring. Then there is M. Brenner, at present of Ann Arbor, who was Manchester's candidate for sheriff four years ago, when he made a strong run. He has been deputy-sheriff and a general agent for the sale of mowers, reapers and binders. Alfred Davenport, of York, the present chairman of the board of supervisors, who has represented his town on the board for some years and is a farmer by occupation, is also a candidate. So is John Gillen, of Saline, ex-town clerk and ex-postmaster, at present deputy sheriff. Then there is Chauncey Hummel, of Chelsea, also a deputy sheriff, who has already secured the ten votes of Sylvan township. Jacob Knapp, a Freedom farmer, who was county treasurer some years ago, is in the race, as is Melvin C. Peterson, of the First ward, Ann Arbor city, at present a deputy sheriff, and one who has devoted himself wholly to that business for the past two or three years. This alphabetical list ends with Patrick S. Purcell, a Northfield farmer, who for a number of years represented his township on the board of supervisors.

There are seven candidates for register of deeds. Frank P. Bogardus, who is engaged in the real estate and insurance business in Ypsilanti and is at present justice of the peace, is one of the candidates. Fred Hawkins, of Ypsilanti, is also on the list. So is M. J. Howard, a farmer of Superior, at present supervisor of that town, and Andrew Hughes, of Scio, a farmer and supervisor. James Kearns, of Ann Arbor, ex-register and supervisor of the third ward. Carlton A. Nims, of Ypsilanti, who is down in the directory as a well digger, which means that he bores deep wells, and Henry Stumpenhuisen, a farmer of Ypsilanti town.

There are six candidates for treasurer. It is reported that John Baumgardner, the marble man and supervisor of the Fourth ward, Ann Arbor, is one of the candidates. Birkle, a one-armed farmer, of Lodi, who has been town clerk, and was a candidate for the nomination four years ago, is one of the candidates. Jacob Jedele, of Dexter township, another of the candidates, is a farmer and the supervisor of that town. Jacob F. Schuh, ex-city treasurer of Ann Arbor and for many years chairman of the Democratic county committee, is also a candidate. Paul G. Suekey, of Pittsfield, the well-known editor of Der Deutsche Hausfreund, is also in the race, and so is Emanuel Wagner, of Ann Arbor, who was a candidate for the nomination for county clerk two years ago.

The candidates for prosecuting attorney are 11 in number. There are only three. Frank Jones, of Saline, village attorney of that place. Thomas D. Kearney, ex-city attorney of Ann Arbor, and William Marquardt, of Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti.

There will be no contest over judge of probate or clerk. The present officials have filled one term well and will be unanimously renominated. Judge Babbitt makes a good judge of probate and Arthur Brown makes an excellent county clerk, so that the convention will not be called upon to debate long over these offices. There are no candidates outside of the present incumbents for circuit court commissioners, coroners or surveyor, and as good men fill these places they will probably be left undisturbed.

When the convention meets there may be another candidate or two, but if there are such in the county now they have kept themselves hidden from the eyes of the Argus.

Proceedings of Board of Public Works.

[OFFICIAL.]

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS, ANN ARBOR, MICH., SEP. 14, 1892.

Regular meeting.

Board met and was called to order by Pres. Keech.

Roll called. Full board present.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

A communication signed by James H. Wade, esq., secretary of the Board of Regents, was read and ordered filed, and the Street Commissioner was ordered to at once do such work that will meet the demands of a resolution passed by the Council, and certify the expense to this Board.

John F. Lawrence, esq., submitted the Lawrence addition for its approval.

Mr. Keech moved that the plat of John F. Lawrence be accepted, and that the same be submitted to the Common Council for their approval, provided that Mr. Lawrence furnish the City Engineer with a copy of center stakes of streets and alleys, and witnesses of the same.

Yeas.—Messrs. Keech, Schuh, and McIntyre.

The Sidewalk Inspector reported that he had personally inspected the sidewalks ordered to be built and that sidewalks had not as yet been constructed by J. E. Beal, treas. of the Wesleyan guild, on west side of State street; David DeForest estate, on west side of Division street, and Mrs. W. Fred Schlanderer, on south side of Washington street, or by any person on their behalf, and that said sidewalks are in poor condition and ought to be rebuilt without delay.

Mr. Keech moved that the report be received and filed, and the Street Commissioner be hereby ordered to take the necessary steps to build all sidewalks so reported not built to this board.

Yeas.—Messrs. Keech, Schuh, and McIntyre.

The City Engineer submitted memoranda for sidewalk and street grades. Mr. Keech moved that the grades be accepted and submitted to the Common Council, and that the grade be changed as submitted per profile on E. Catherine street, between Observatory and Thirteenth streets.

Yeas.—Messrs. Keech, Schuh, and McIntyre.

Mr. Keech moved that we recommend and ask the Common Council to appropriate the sum of $80 to build two crossings on the south side of Washington street at alleys between Main and Ashley streets, and Main street and Fourth avenue.

Yeas.—Messrs. Keech, Schuh, and McIntyre.

The Board then adjourned.

W. J. MILLER, Clerk.

The Coming County Fair.

Preparations for the county fair are being rapidly pushed to completion. Enough is now known to warrant the statement that the fair this year will be the best in the history of the county fair association. Our readers need not be reminded of the dates of the fair, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, September 27, 28, 29, and 30 as that fact has been firmly impressed upon their minds by the liberal advertising of the managers of the society, and by the great interest shown by the people of the county in the coming fair.

Washtenaw county is one of the leading agricultural counties in the state, and it is only proper that her fair should take the same rank. The managers this year have done their part. That the farmers who have exhibits to make are doing theirs is amply demonstrated by the number of entries already made. These entries are much larger in number than ever before at this time. All the horse stalls have already been engaged in spite of the fact that the society built a large number last season and additional accommodations will have to be provided. All that now remains is for the people to show their appreciation of the efforts made by turning out in large numbers.

The fair will not be run in the old way. Last year's experience showed that the people appreciated novel features. This year's attractions are so much superior to last year's, that the two fairs do not deserve to be mentioned together. The fact that many of the farmers who exhibit this year do so with a knowledge that their exhibits are to be judged for the purpose of picking out the best for the World's Fair at Chicago, will indicate that the purely agricultural features of the fair will be better than ever.

The track is in much better shape than last year and the races promise to be made in fast time and to prove quite exciting.

Coup's Equestrianism, a long name which designates the best trained horses now exhibited to the American public as well as Prof. Freyer's trained dogs will give two exhibitions each day at 1:30 and 7:30 o'clock in front of the grand stand. This feature has been obtained at great expense. One of the scenes is a horse college, in which the horses perform like boys in school, correct exercises on the blackboard, play truant, carry notes, distinguish colors, and at recess, swing, jump, etc. Another scene is a fire, in which a horse rescues a person from a burning building, and horse firemen put out the fire. In still another scene the horses fight a battle, go through a military drill, fire cannons, drop as if shot, charge a fort which they capture and exhibit great rejoicing at their victory. One of the horses tells the day of the month, the day of the week and the hour of the day. Many other wonderful tricks are played by them, and no charge is made to see them.

The trained dogs are, if anything, still more wonderful. Among their feats is the capture of a dog thief by a dog sheriff, and his trial before a dog judge and a dog jury, his conviction and execution, the scaffold being erected by dogs. The execution scene is perfect even to the dog doctor feeling of the pulse of the hanging dog to see if life is extinct. The supposed dead dog is then put in a hearse and carried off by the other dogs.

That every child in the county may have a chance to see these attractions, children under nine will be admitted free. Parents having large families of children, in order to avoid the crowds, should visit the fair on the first and second days.

The grounds will be lighted with electric lights evenings, having just been wired for that purpose.

The candidates for governor, Judge Morse and Hon. John T. Rich, will be upon the grounds, Thursday and Friday, and those attending will have an opportunity to shake hands with them.

An exciting barrel race will be followed by a sewing machine race. The military companies will give an exhibition drill. Jim Harkins will sing some of his noted songs, and there will be many other special attractions.

Every man, woman, and child in the county owe it to themselves to attend. Old friends will come together, new ideas of value will be obtained and everyone will have the best kind of a time. Make up your mind to come and bring your whole family. You will be happy if you do.

Mrs. Hyett—"I thought I heard burglars in the house last night, and I got out of bed and found a man under it." Mrs. Nerves—"Gracious! Were you not frightened to death?" Mrs. Hyett—"Oh, no. It was only Mr. Hyett."

Admitted the Facts.

Newspaper editors have to be very careful in opening their columns for statements. But aware that the Dr. Miles Medical Co., are responsible, we make room for the following testimonial from R. McDougall, Auburn, Ind., who for two years noticed a stoppage or skipping of the pulse, his left side so tender he could not lie on it, his heart fluttered, he was alarmed, went to different doctors, found no relief, but one bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure cured him. The elegant Book, "New and Startling Facts," free at Eberbach & Son's. It tells all about Heart and Nervous Diseases and many wonderful cures.

Rev. J. W. McGregor and wife leave for Washington, D. C., Saturday. They will take advantage of the excursion rates and visit a brother who is preaching at Georgetown, a suburb of Washington city.

Pronounced Hopeless. Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all, eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at drugstores of Eberbach & Son, Ann Arbor; and Geo. Haussler, Manchester.

Pronounced Perfect by a Practical Engineer. I have been a great sufferer from Sciatic Rheumatism for seven years, and hearing of the success of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup, concluded to give it a trial. I have tested the curative properties of the mineral springs without finding relief from that or any other source until I tried Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup, which has done wonders for me. I can now walk with entire freedom from pain and my general health is very much improved. It is a splendid remedy for the blood and the debilitated system.

COUNTY.

The Chelsea fair will be held October 11, 12, and 13.

There are 264,606 acres of improved land in this county.

A teachers' examination will be held at Ypsilanti on the 30th inst.

The pear and peach crops about Clinton are very light, especially peaches.

Seventy-two citizens of Saline attended the German Day celebration at Ypsilanti.

The school board of Waterloo have purchased a site and will build a new school house.

Geo. P. Glazier, of Chelsea, is one of the directors of the New Ann Arbor bank, says the Chelsea Herald.

The Chelsea Herald says that Chauncey Hummel, of that burg, is right in it for nomination for sheriff on the Democratic ticket.

The Chelsea Herald is twenty-two years old, and is beginning to get the journalistic ropes pretty well in hand, considering its youthfulness.

Clinton held an exciting election to decide whether or not to bond for $8,000 to put in an electric light plant. They decided to do so by a vote of 148 to 49.

The fourteenth annual picnic of the Bridgewater farmers occurred last week, and although the weather was somewhat chilly, the affair was a pronounced success.

Very little wheat has been sown in the neighborhood of South Manchester, many farmers not yet having completed their plowing. The weather has been too dry.

It's a mighty mean thief who will steal a window sash from a barn, yet one did, from W. H. Hoyt's. Yet after all it was quite kind in the thief not to take the barn at the same time.—Plymouth Mail.

A balloonist descended in a field in Lima, a few days ago, from somewhere in the aerial regions. Investigation developed the fact that it was Ed. Cole, formerly of Ann Arbor, who had made his ascent from Jackson.

The Manchester Enterprise says: "Sharon hens do not intend to lose any time. A farmer came to town last Saturday with a lot of eggs and upon arriving home found one of his hens in the buggy with eggs under her."

The Chelsea Herald says that the surest indications of the severity of the coming winter is the fact that weddings are uncommonly numerous. Perhaps the editor's wedded life has been a wintery one. Hinc illic lacrymæ.

The Munith young ladies' club has resolved not to speak to anyone who drinks, smokes, chews, plays cards, fishes on Sunday, and a many other of the little things that are supposed to make a man. As angels are scarce on earth, especially the male ones, the girls are apt to feel lonesome.—Chelsea Herald.

An exchange says if you want to drive the rats out of your cellar, you should go into it with a bass drum after dark at night and pound away with might and main. The rats will leave; then plug up their holes and they will keep away. (Wonder how it would do to take the piano down cellar?)—Saline Observer.

It is needless to say that through this section the apple crop is next to a failure, yet the August crop report claims a yield of 24 per cent. in the southern counties, 86 in the northern, and a full 100 per cent. crop in the upper peninsula. Potatoes fall a little short but bid fair for a good crop in the northern counties.—Saline Observer.

The scene near a thousand miles from Cavanaugh lake. As they sat on the steps of one of the cottages on a moonlight evening recently, he claimed a kiss for every shooting star. She as first demurred, as became a modest maiden, but finally yielded as usual. She was even so accommodating as to call his attention to the flying meteors that were about to escape his observation, and got to "calling" him on lightning bugs, and at last got down to steady work on the light of a lantern which a fisherman was swinging about on the northern side of the lake. Cavanaugh girls are up with the times.—Chelsea Herald.

Mrs. Grimley—"Our iceman is very strong. He carried 500 pounds of ice from the street to day clear into our cellar. Isn't that wonderful?" Mr. Grimley. "No, not if he weighed the ice himself."

Drunkennes, or the Liquor Habit, Positively Cured By Administering Dr. Heines' Golden Specific.

It is manufactured as a powder, which can be given in a glass of beer, a cup of coffee or tea, or in food, without the knowledge of the patient. It is absolutely harmless, and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never fails. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. Cures guaranteed. 48 page book of particulars free. Address, Golden Specific Co., 185 Race St., Cincinnati, O.

John Widemeyer, of Ann Arbor, was among friends here the first of the week.

Politics keep very quiet yet, but will begin to boil the last part of this month.

G. A. Peters, of Ann Arbor, was here on Monday attending the senatorial convention.

Andrew Hughes, of Scio, was here last Saturday in the interest of his canvass for register of deeds.

Some corn has been cut up and all of it should be. It is not much over a half a crop about here.

The Lima Center school house has had the second story taken off and generally repaired into a one story building.

Mr. Slaymaker, chief engineer of the railroad company, was here on Wednesday looking over the company's grounds.

Rev. J. H. McIntosh will close his five years' service at the M. E. church of this place next Sunday and will go to the annual conference next week.

The market remains dull and no higher. Wheat is 71 cts.; rye, 57 cts.; oats, 30 cts.; barley, $1.15; clover seed, $5; beans, $1.40; potatoes, 50 cts.; peaches, $1.25 to $2, with free offerings; pears, 75 cts. to $1; apples, 75 cts. to $1; eggs, 17 cts.; butter, 20 cts.

The People's party held their senatorial convention here on Monday and nominated E. A. Nordman, of Lima, for the state senate. There were not over fifteen present. Mr. Nordman and G. A. Peters did some talking which was good, but those who ought to hear and heed what they said were conspicuously absent.

The copious rain of the early part of the week did great good and postponed wheat sowing, which was good, as many would have sown too early if the rain had not come. Next week is early enough to sow. It was sown too early last fall, and if we had had our usual late fall and dry spring the present crop would have been nearly a failure. The golden mean is the safest, which is between the 20th and 30th of September.

Cheap and rapid transportation now prevents a local shortage of any article from affecting the price as it used to. Farmers must sell something every fall to meet demands and had better sell such articles as bring a fair price, and carry only such as do not. If they had followed that rule one year ago, they would have hit it, and that is the rule to follow now. That is the lesson of the only infallible teacher—experience. It never conceals nor misrepresents facts, as voluntary and pecuniarily interested teachers always do.

"It was enough to make a donkey laugh," said Mr. Baucher. "I laughed myself till I cried." And then when he saw a smile go round the room he grew red in the face and felt uncomfortable.

Children Once for Pitcher's Castoria.

Dexter and Vicinity.

Fred D. Wheeler, wife and son, who have been visiting the family of Doc. Snyder, have returned to their home at Saginaw.

There is to be a "barn party" on Friday evening, the 16th inst., on the premises of O. D. Lambear, in Webster. The amusements of the occasion will probably be "Hide and Coop," "Poor pussy wants a corner," and the like.

An important element in our education is to know how to adapt ourselves to all the different circumstances we are incident to. In our intercourse with the world we should adopt cheerfulness if possible, and jocularity as a last resort, but foolishness—never.

The young ladies of Dexter are very happy in their amusements—playing croquet, chewing gum, etc. One of them lost her gum the other day, but found it again sticking on the dog. But the gum was all right, as the dog had not been meddling with carrion since the night before, and she was soon chewing, smacking and singing again at a great rate. Another girl missed hers and found it on the sitting part of her little brother's pants. He had flattened it out quite a little, having been for about two hours playing jack-stones in the barn-yard.

There is a man living in Dexter, nick-named "Codger," for short, in comparison to whom Arabian Nights, Gulliver's Travels, and Baron Munchausen are but a lightning bug to an electric luminary. One of his marvelous narrations relates to a cook stove he owns. He says that its radiating properties were such that his neighbors did their baking by the heat of it by merely sitting ajar the doors of their respective kitchens. He sold his place about four years ago and he has not yet been able to move the stove because of the heat it contained when he vacated the premises, having not yet become sufficiently cool to be handled.

There are two men in the vicinity of Dexter who resemble each other so remarkably that they are undistinguishable to their nearest neighbors. Their "non de plumes," so to speak, are "Alek" and "Sam." Alek has been known to address his own image in the looking-glass, thinking it to be Sam, and discovered his mistake only when the figure presented its left hand. A few years ago Sam had all his teeth extracted, with reference to a set of false ones; and one of the doctors officiated at the operation. Said doctor met Alek a short time ago and addressed him as Sam, which Alek would not recognize, and to frustrate what the doctor supposed to be an attempt at imposition, he, having a bill against Sam, thrust his fingers into Alek's mouth to test the identity by the teeth. The experiment convinced him. Alek and Sam ought to be like twins, but they are not. The former is a Democrat—the latter a Prohibitionist.

"See, Mary, are not these flowers beautiful?" "Deed and they are, miss. Many a time have I seen just like 'em on bunnits. Ain't it wonderful how nat'ral the Lord can make things?"

"It isn't a bad trait in a boy to be cautious," said the puzzled father, "but when he goes and spends half of his fire cracker fund for arnica, he is—rather abnormal, don't you think?"

How to Become Flesh.

Dr. Miles' Nervine not only cures all nervous diseases, headache, blues, nervous prostration, sleeplessness, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, fits and hysteria, but also builds up the body. "I am pleased to say that after years of intense suffering with nervous disease, headache and prostration, I tried Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and in two weeks gained eight pounds in weight. I could not lie down to sleep, but now sleep perfectly easy, and am still improving wonderfully. Cannot say enough for the Nervine.—Mrs. L. B. MILLARD, Dunkirk, N. Y." "One customer used Nervine and gained fifteen pounds in flesh," says BROWN & MAYBURY, Cortland, N. Y. Trial bottles and elegant book free at Eberbach & Son's.

Hill makes his first campaign speech this year in Brooklyn, next Monday evening.

The Republican plurality in Maine is the smallest in any presidential year since 1880 and the smallest in any year since 1882. James G. Blaine, although at his home in Augusta, did not vote. Is not the Maine election a straw?

The slight opposition to Congressman Gorman's re-nomination in this district is clearly made in the interest of O'Donnell, the Republican candidate for congress. Gorman is a strong campaigner and a successful one. A man who can get 1,900 majority in a Republican district is a strong candidate to run in a Democratic district. We venture the prediction that against Gorman, O'Donnell will carry but one county in this congressional district.

Ask the Republicans if they have heard from Vermont and Maine. These two rock-ribbed Republican states show a large decrease in Republican majorities. In 1888 Vermont gave 28,000 Republican majority. This year the majority is under 20,000. Maine gave nearly 19,000 majority in the September election of 1888. This year she gives less than 11,000. McKinley and the other big guns of the Republican party stumped these states. To entuse the Republicans they declared that the size of the majorities would be taken as an index as to how the country is going. Very well, the same relative increase for the Democrats would carry New York by over 100,000 majority, would cause Michigan to go 20,000 Democratic. At this same rate Cleveland would carry Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Indiana, and a number of other states which voted for Harrison four years ago. Shall we take the Republican orators at their word?

THE SUPREME ISSUE.

Good government is impossible under a protective tariff. It appeals to greed and selfishness for support. It makes men dishonest. As Herbert Spencer says, the principle of protection brings with it a brood of evils more incompatible with good government than all its unjust money exactions. And W. L. Wilson, in a Forum article, truly declares that it wrests government from the service of all and turns it over to the service of a class. He quotes one of our early statesmen who said that it bestows upon government "the worldly omnipotence that changes political campaigns from contests for general principles into battles for private booty."

This, certainly, is what protectionists are struggling for this year. Tariff reform is imperatively needed because honest government is impossible without it. Bribers will baffle even the secret ballot when their object is plunder by legislation. For example, the sugar trust, the interest of which in tariff spoliation amounts to many million dollars a year, can hire votes enough to stay away from the polls in a close state when tariff booty is the issue. Voters and law-makers are both corrupted. A permanent and paid congressional lobby is a part of the protective system. We know of a man who has been paid $2,500 a year for over twenty years by drug and chemical manufacturers to watch and influence tariff legislation. Carpet manufacturers used to contribute as high as ten thousand dollars each a year to prevent tariff reform, and the money was mostly spent in Washington. Millions of dollars have been used at the national capital in the past twenty-five years for that purpose. Good government is no more possible under such conditions than a powder factory could be run in an old-fashioned taphet.

Senator Beck told the truth when he said, while the tariff bill of 1883 was under consideration in congress: "Close the doors this morning and there will be found five hundred men in the corridors, in the lobbies, in the committee rooms, in the reception room, everywhere, besieging senators and representatives to stand by them and their interests. Promises, flattery, threats—everything is resorted to."

Senator Plumb was equally explicit. He said: "The moment it was announced that it was to be discussed there came to this city from all quarters of the country scores of men interested in the industries to be affected by the tariff, who came to counsel, came to advise, came to cajole, and came to threaten, almost, in some cases, I have no doubt." No gambling hell can be much worse than the national capitol during a revision of the tariff. Greed and avarice are there centered to make raids upon the earnings of the people.

This corrupt and corrupting system we are seeking to overthrow, in the interests of good government and the plundered masses. It is the supreme issue. No other question is of equal importance. So long as legislation can be perverted, as it is, by a protective tariff, and made a means of plundering the many for the gain of a few, good government is impossible.—Jackson Daily Patriot.

The Field of Gettysburg

is to the old soldier and the student the most interesting of all the earth's battle grounds. Those who go to Washington to attend the encampment of the G. A. R. in September, will have the best opportunity of visiting Gettysburg by taking the line of the Michigan Central and the Northern Central, which includes a side trip to Gettysburg either going or returning. For those who wish to return by way of Philadelphia, all return tickets will be honored either via the short line or via Philadelphia, allowing stop-over at Baltimore, Philadelphia and Harrisburg. The stop at Philadelphia will permit of a side trip to New York and return at the low rate of $4.00.

During the summer season the Michigan Central gives the privilege of stopping over at Niagara Falls at any time within the life of the ticket returning, upon depositing it with the ticket Agent there, affording a valuable opportunity to see the beauties of the great cataract and vicinity at leisure.

Tickets are also sold to Washington via Toledo and the lines south and east therefrom.

The Michigan Central is the shortest route, the best route, and offers inducements that no other line can give. Special trains will leave Ann Arbor about 6:45 p. m., Sept. 17, arriving at Washington 7 p. m. the next day. For sleeping car reservation or any additional information apply to

"I am always moved by the sound of music," said young Phathead as the clock struck 11. "Let me play something for you," said Miss Uplate, with sudden eagerness.

RINGING WORDS

From a Prominent and Eminent Divine.

Statements That Are True and Straight to the Point.

Read What He Says, for His Words Are of Great and Peculiar Interest.

No one knows better than the faithful pastor, the great value of sound physical and nerve strength. The strain upon brain and nerve, the physical exhaustion following excessive work, the responsibilities and sympathies with afflictions and the myriad cares make the earnest preacher's duties arduous and wearing in the extreme.

We do not wonder, therefore, at the strong and ringing words of praise which the eminent divine, Rev. C. D. R. Meacham, gives that most wonderful of medicines, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. When he was run down in health, weak in nerves, prostrated in strength, and with his blood badly impaired, he was restored to sound and vigorous health by this marvellous health renewer.

Here are the exact facts in his own words:

"I am very glad to say in regard to Dr. Greene's great remedy that when my blood was badly impoverished by an old scrofula humor, and my nervous system was greatly impaired, Dr. Greene's medicine gave me wonderful relief.

"At the present time my health is as good as at any time in my life, and my confidence in Dr. Greene's remedy is constantly increasing.

REV. C. D. R. MEACHAM. Pastor Baptist church, Townshend, Vt."

We have published the testimonials of vast numbers of people who were cured by the use of the great discovery, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, but we take more pleasure in giving to the world Rev. Mr. Meacham's own words in regard to the wonderful benefits he received from this valuable remedy, because we realize that the earnest words of a minister will have great weight with sufferers from disease, and everybody who reads his convincing words in regard to the sure and remarkable curative powers of this medicine will lose no time in securing a bottle and thus obtain a cure.

It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless, and is kept by all druggists at $1.00.

Its discoverer is the well-known Dr. Greene of 35 W. 14th Street, New York, who gives consultation and advice free to the sick, personally or by letter. The sick should use immediately Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, for it is not only the best remedy ever discovered, but those using it have the privilege of consulting Dr. Greene concerning its effects, their health, etc. This fact alone guarantees the assurance of cure. If you need a medicine do not fail to take this best of all remedies.

Ann Arbor Fair.
Come, farmers, with your Durham cows.
Your sheep and cattle, pigs and sows.
Your engines and your riding plows,
To the grand Ann Arbor fair.

Bring on your family, every one,
The youngest and the oldest son,
To see what Washtenaw has done
And the great crowd at the fair.

Come, ladies, in your best array,
With flowers and pictures bright and gay,
And sing a long, sweet, happy day
With kind friends at Ann Arbor.

Come from many a rural home,
Young men and maidens rolling on,
Singing a happy lover's song,
Driving to Ann Arbor fair.

Bring on your mellow peaches sweet,
And cream and sugar all complete,
With all that's rich and good to eat,
Where crowds feast at the fair.

Come, students, and professors too,
And see the working farmers true,
What man and nature's done for you
On rich fields round Ann Arbor.

Men of all parties are invited,
Rural joy and peace united,
In friendship to go home delighted
With new pleasure from the fair.

Come, Scotchmen, singing "Auld Lang Syne";
Ireland, the "Bairde of the Boyne";
Germans, "Sweet Bingen on the Rhine";
All nations, to Ann Arbor.

John Narry, bring grand Durham stock;
John Robison, Sharon's rose report;
The Woods, your best merino flock;
Bird, sing on grapes and peaches.

Come, flers along the Huron's banks,
Fast trotters in the foremost ranks,
Like Budd Doble driving Nancy Hanks
In two-eight to Ann Arbor.

Bring on your wheat, so plump and new;
Your corn and oats and barley too,
The biggest pumpkins ever grew
On Ann Arbor's rolling hills.

Come, great attorneys at the law,
And the best preachers that can draw,
In friendship to the foreman true,
In thousands to Ann Arbor.

Come poets, every heart consoling,
Life, beauty and love extolling,
With "eyes in a fine frenzy rolling,"
Rejoicing to Ann Arbor.

Come, great orators of renown,
The best writers in the county town,
And you may get ten dollars down,
For booming up Ann Arbor.

County Fair Association, and see the long list of attractions they offer.

The wall for John Eisele's new store on Detroit street was undermined by the water during the heavy rain on Tuesday and fell in during the night.

Alexander Ratti and Joseph Perosso settled the assault and battery case against them before Justice Pond, Monday, by paying $2 and $2.07 costs.

Street Commissioner Sutherland tackled the washout on Summit street on Wednesday, and it goes without saying that the bridge is now safely passable.

A Washtenaw horse broke his record last week. Wilkie Knox, of Ypsilanti, won the 2:26 pacing race in Cleveland in three straight heats, in 2:18, 2:18, and 2:17.

Complaints for nuisances may now be made at the city clerk's office. A book has been provided for such complaints, which will be investigated by the board of health.

The next German-American day celebration will be held in Saline.
John Frank, of Saline, has been elected president and Augustus Neuburger, of Chelsea, secretary.

The Democratic ward caucuses will be held in this city Monday evening, to be there on time. It is the duty of every good citizen to attend the caucus.

Whittier memorial services will be held at the church of Christ, Sunday morning. Prof. Trueblood will read several of his poems and will give some personal reminiscences of Mr. Whittier.

The Dexter township Democratic caucus was held Tuesday afternoon.
The following delegates were elected to the county convention: Thomas Mc-Quillan, John Gallagher, and Henry Wiley.

Four Maccabees were enlightened as to the mysteries of the Oriental degree, Monday night. The Orientals of Arbor tent will soon go to Chelsea and confer the degree upon a class of anxious Knights of that village.

The candidates for the Democratic nomination in the second representative district are said to be F. E. Mills, of Pittsfield; W. B. Osborn, of Sharon;
M. T. Woodruff, of Ypsilanti; Col.
Fenn, of Bridgewater; and Dr. D. P.
McLaughlin.

The Republicans hold two more county conventions in this county this year. The first will be held next Thursday, when delegates will be elected to a state convention to be held in Grand Rapids, September 27, and the second is the county nominating convention to be held October 4.

The following names have been mentioned for the Democratic nomination as representative from this representative district: Supervisor
Philip Duffy, of Northfield; Judge W.
D. Harriman, Hon. Charles H. Manly,
Charles H. Kline, esq., and ex-County Clerk Fred A. Howlett, of this city.

Thirty years ago, in 1862, the following named men enlisted in the Union army and went together to the front:
W. D. Willsie, David Holmes, C. G.
Cook, W. W. Derby, "Shorty" Bartlett, Jared Pond, William Action, and Jas.
B. Saunders. Of these eight but half are now living, viz., Messrs. Cook, Saunders, Action, and Derby. They were all printers.

Mrs. Mary Hoffmann, wife of Ferdinand Hoffmann, died at their home at 76 Napoleon street, Detroit, on Thursday of last week, aged 61 years and 5 months. Her husband and a large family of grown-up children survive her. The funeral took place from the family residence on Sunday. Mrs.
Hoffmann was a sister of Mrs. J. Adam Dieterle, of this city, and formerly resided here.

Hon. Charles R. Whitman has been invited by the Democratic national committee to make a number of speeches for them. The state committee is loth to let him go as they desire to book him for a number of speeches in this state. As Mr. Whitman is not in the city we have been unable to learn whether or not he will accept the invitation of the national committee.

The school board, Monday night, reorganized by re-electing Christian Mack, president; W. W. Whedon, secretary, and L. Gruner, treasurer. The following committees were appointed:
Teachers and text books, W. B. Smith,
J. E. Beal, and C. Mack. Buildings and grounds, J. T. Jacobs, L. Gruner, E. H. Scott, Finance, P. Bach, J. V.
Sheehan, W. W. Whedon. Library,
J. E. Beal, W. W. Whedon, C. Mack,
Supt. Perry.

The A. A. A. U. V. bazaar will be held at the Palace rink next week, beginning Monday, September 19, and ending Saturday, September 24. A musical programme will be given every evening. The bazaar will be well worth attending and you should be on hand. All parties who have made donations for the fair should see that the articles donated are delivered to the committee which secured them today. Don't forget the bazaar.

Here is prompt official action for you.
On Tuesday evening, at seven o'clock, a resident of Summit street personally notified William H. McIntyre, of the Board of Public Works, that the heavy rains of Monday night and Tuesday had resulted in a dangerous washout at the new bridge over the mill-race on that street. Mr. McIntyre immediately went out to find the street commissioner, and sometime during the blustering, rainy night a lamp was placed in position to warn passengers of the imminent danger. This prompt attention to duty may have saved the city heavy damages, as this is a very dark spot at night, and the washout extended to the center of the street.

FAMOUS ABROAD.

Sells Brothers' Big Show of the World
Returns to Astonish All at Home.

When it comes to even the ordinary, old-time, one-ring, small,
"round-top" circus, "men are but children of a larger growth." Small wonder then that the announced visit to Ann Arbor on Thursday, Sept. 22d, of Sells Brothers' Enormous United Shows—the leading and longest established of all the great arenic enterprises—creates a childlike furor of delighted expectation. Nor is enthusiastic anticipation in this instance misplaced, for the assurances are genuine and ample that there will be revealed to us, really and intrinsically the big show of the world, so far as rare wild beast possessions, brilliant equestrian and athletic performances, gorgeous oriental pageantry, and revived imperial, ancient-time heroic contests and pastimes can fill the bill. So there now comes to us clear from the very opposite side of "the great globe itself," after a most marvelous six-months' journey of over twenty thousand miles, and crowned with the enthusiastic praises of a great, young sister empire, a wondrously rare exhibit of strangest Australasian creatures; a regal Roman hippodrome, a five-continent menagerie, three big circuses combined; a strange desert caravan of wild, warlike Bedouin athletes; the only exhibited pair of full-grown giant hippopotami; a huge elevated Olympian stage; a royal Japanese troupe; a mid-air carnival of daring evolutions; fairyland frolics for the children; golden Mother Goose Pageants, romantic pilgrimages to Mecca; Arabian Nights Entertainments, and a tremendous and magnificent free street parade, rolled into one millionaire alliance, for but one price of admission; or, more properly speaking, roaring, rushing, racing, marching, dancing, gliding, tumbling, soaring, diving and disporting under some ten acres of tents. Whew! the very thought of it fairly makes one catch his breath.
And not only is it a very great, but it is a very good, clean, admirably managed show, absolutely free from any and every annoyance or objectionable association, and under the immediate eye of its proprietors, who are no irresponsible and predatory speculators, but men of high standing at home—capitalists, bank directors, and members of the Board of Trade. Not only does our own press vouch for both them and their magnificent exhibition in the most generous terms, but all the newspapers of Australia express the highest admiration for their liberality and pluck, in venturing so far with such a vast entertainment, in the face of so many formidable obstacles.
They amply deserve a rousing home welcome, on all hands, and are getting it.

The Buddhist Temple of Protection.
How strange and inconsistent are the ways in this world. When some thirty-four years ago I was for the first time in Point de Galle, in Ceylon, I went, as a matter of course, to see the Buddhist temple, situated in the sacred grove some four miles from the town. The first thing that struck me was an immense plain masonry structure about twelve feet high, shaped exactly like a beehive, and looking for all the world like a beehive. The circumference was, as near as I can recollect, about that of the base of the Statue of Liberty. There were numerous small sized holes about six feet high all around this masonry beehive for the faithful to deposit money in.
These donations, the natives are told,
are appropriated by Buddha himself.
As the yellow robed priests declare there is nothing of it in the beehive, yet it has been standing there for hundreds, perhaps thousands, of years. Strangely enough, I met an American missionary there with whom I had a conversation.
He it was who pointed this swindle out to me. How little did I dream then that I would have to point out many thousand Buddhist beehives and swindles to his own countrymen and in his own free country! Yes! American protection is a veritable Buddhist beehive receptacle for the ignorant, tax ridden millions to put their hard earnings in. And the few thousand boss protectionists are the yellow robed priests, who most solemnly assert and try to prove that such ex-actions are for the vital interest of the whole people.—From "Friendly Letters

ATTENTION, COMRADES, G. A. R.

1865. On to Washington. 1892.

Do you want to go? Then read carefully. The Veterans of the Union Army will hold their Annual Encampment in the city of Washington, D. C.
Sept. 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, and 25. Not again in the history of our country will such a concourse of the G. A. R. be seen together in any city of our land.
They will together recall the memories of the past and visit scenes historical, the battlefields of the Potomac, the Shenandoah and Gettysburg.

The Department Headquarters train will leave Ann Arbor at 7:00 p. m., Sept. 17th, 1892, via the Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Michigan Ry. and the Pennsylvania R. R. from Toledo and will run through to Washington without change of cars. This train will be elegantly decorated and banneted as the "Michigan Train, G. A. R." and of course you want to be in it. To this train will be attached a car in which hot coffee, tea, sandwiches, and lunches will be furnished en route at one-half the regular railroad eating-house rates.

The scenery to be enjoyed along the route of the Pennsylvania road beggars description. It is unsurpassed by any other route.

The National G. A. R. special train will leave Frankfort, Mich., at 7 a. m., Saturday, Sept. 17th, picking up comrades from all points and connections south, and reaches Ann Arbor at 5 p. m., where all passengers and baggage will be taken on board the headquarters train, and all forwarded "on to Washington" together, without change.

The established rate for round trip from Ann Arbor is $12.45, but in event of any reduction by other lines from this territory, the same will be made accordingly by the T. A. A. & N. M. and Pennsylvania lines. For further information address,

COSTLY TIN PLATE.
FORCING AN UNNECESSARY INDUSTRY AT PUBLIC EXPENSE.
It is Ruining Hundreds of Industries, Reducing Wages, Throwing Men Out of Work and Raising Prices of Canned Goods—And the Idiots Rejoice.
The New York Tribune and other high tax papers are going into ecstasies over the report of Ira Ayer, special agent of the treasury department, on the tin plate industry. This report shows that during the quarter ending March 31, 1892, nineteen manufacturers produced about 3,000,000 pounds of tin and terne plates, about two-thirds of which were terne plates, and that the production for the past fiscal year has been 4,527,230 pounds, of which 1,335,068 pounds were tin plate. As our annual consumption of tin plate is about 400,000,000 pounds, our last year's product would supply us for about three days, and is equal to about 1 per cent. of our total needs.
To attain this magnificent standing among the tin plate manufacturing nations of the earth we are now taxing ourselves at the rate of ten or twelve million dollars per annum, and have expended during the last thirty years perhaps $150,000,000 for the same purpose. This expense, however, as great as it is, does not begin to equal the indirect cost to us, due to the injury done to other industries by high priced tin plate. An idea of this indirect expense and injury can be gained by reports from various large consumers of tin plate, made in The National Provisioner of April 30, 1892. The National Provisioner is the "organ of the provision and meat industries of the United States." It advocates the interests of its subscribers and is not biased in favor of any theory. The following extracts are from this number of The National Provisioner:
In view of the fact that the bill of the Hon. T. L. Bunting providing for the reduction of the duties of tin and terne plates, a copy of which was published in a recent number of this journal, has been introduced in congress and will come up for discussion in a week or two, the directors of the Tin Plate Consumers' association have endeavored to ascertain what the effect of the increased duty has been upon the business of the consumers of tin plate throughout the country. They have therefore sent out a circular asking consumers of tin plates what the effect of the tariff has been on their business, and in response have received answers from most of the large consumers.
For want of space not all of these answers can be published, but a selection is made which constitutes a fair average of their general tone, which shows pretty plainly what the effect of the increased tariff has been upon the people who cut up in their business four-fifths of the entire quantity of tin plate used in the United States.
Fairport, N. Y.: "We used 4,800 boxes last year. Payment of McKinley duty required additional capital. In some branches increased cost of our goods compelled us to cut down wages of laborers to meet popular prices. In making baking powder cans increased cost of article and unwillingness on the part of our customers to pay increased price caused us to lose the business of some of our best customers. After two or three months of experimenting with others they returned to us, having learned that we were not trying to rob them, but were, like others, only asking a fair price on the basis of the government making us pay heavier taxes for the privilege of doing business. We have been heavy exporters of canned goods, but we fear that we will have to give up or greatly reduce our export trade. In the English and Scotch markets, especially, Canada is selling at less than goods cost us. Canada pays no duty. Rebate does not place us on an equality. On fifty cases of pears rebate would not pay expenses of obtaining it. We pay duty on a full sheet of tin. The rebate does not cover waste in cutting round blanks. We have substituted galvanized iron for tin in consequence of the increased cost of the latter."
Adrian, Mich.: "To increase the cost of No. 3 cans, the size most used by us, an average of sixty cents per hundred, and other sizes in proportion. We are not extensive packers, but the cans used by us last season cost over $4,000 more than the same quantity would have cost in 1889. This loss must be borne by us or by the producers of fruits and vegetables, or both. The canning industries have been greatly crippled by the increase of duty on tin plate. We have used the same help as before, but paid less wages per day."
Indianapolis: "To reduce our profits to such a narrow margin as to cause the desire to have our capital invested in some other enterprise or abandon the present business altogether."
From a Boston packing house: "Packed in our East Boston factory in 1890, 56,000 cases; in 1891, 35,345; falling off, 20,655; decrease of help, 25 weekly hands."
Gutierrez, etc., Cambridgeport, Mass.: "To increase the cost one dollar a box, instead of a natural decrease of some thirty cents a box. This has prevented those engaged in our line from making such a drop in prices as has occurred in almost every other line of business. Prices have therefore been too high in proportion to other prices, with the result of a decided check to the business. Not nearly so much business in our line is done as there should be. Results: Fewer hands employed, consumers paying more than they ought, manufacturers not making fair profits. Decrease of help, seven hands."
From Buffalo: "Increased cost of tin plates, diminished profits, the substitution of other materials for tin plates, a good deal of misrepresentation and demoralization. We have hope that the business will settle later on."
From a Boston can factory: "That business has decreased some on account of the higher prices for goods, and it is harder to sell goods at high than low prices; profits also less. We keep the same number of hands, but there has been no increase in wages."

Baltimore: "To add the duty to the cost of the goods, and necessarily we have sold at a higher price than if there had been no increase."
Philadelphia: "Unfavorable, increased cost of material, and not being able to advance prices we are out the difference. The tendency is also to use inferior materials and decrease wages and various ways to make up."
Waverly, N. Y.: "Sold out my business in February last, but noticed before that that it was helping the iron roofing trade and decreasing my tin roofing business."
Philadelphia: "To advance the price of tin about one dollar per box, with the same cost of packing, and goods selling at same price as before the increase of duty."
Worcester, Mass.: "That we are doing less business. Decrease of help, three hands."
Syracuse, N. Y.: "To add the cost of the tin to the cost of the lanterns."
Syracuse, N. Y.: "To cut down my trade in roofing tin more than one-half, making a considerable loss to my income, and, more than this, has forced a number of my smaller customers to retire from the business and to seek other occupations. I am not able to purchase roofing tin of American manufacture at marketable prices, only high priced goods being offered—too high for the average consumer."
Baltimore: "To increase the cost of production."
Buffalo: "Decreasing consumption; economic labor; smaller margins."
New York city: "Compelled us too raise our prices."
Baltimore: "Quite a falling off in the demand for cans owing to the increased duties, which have advanced the cost of tin plates about $1.80 per box. We have had to decrease our help about one-fifth."
Greenwich, N. Y.: "Very much against us. Forcing us to use old machinery instead of new, as we cannot buy improved machinery, as our profits at present will not admit it. We are running a smaller force, and will have to put up less goods than formerly. Decrease of help, three hands."
Northville, Mich.: "To reduce our profits. We cannot charge any more for our condensed milk than we did before. We are taxed to help others establish the manufacture of tin plate in the United States. Our output is small yet. We are paying $1,000 a year to help others. The decline in sugar has helped us about $1,000 a year, so between the two it is a standoff."
Cleveland: "To increase the cost of our goods by the extra duty."
Detroit: "In previous years our business has increased about 50 per cent. each year and last year only about 15 per cent., entirely owing to the increase of prices made necessary by the duties."
Philadelphia: "To lessen profits by increase of cost in materials. We have had to decrease our help irregularly."
Louisville: "Decrease the sales on terne plates. Many persons refusing to pay the advanced prices due to the tariff. Decrease of help, 5 per cent."
Subletts, Va.: "To make us pay $230 more for 215 boxes of tin."
A New Trust in Tin and Iron.
The Iron Age announces that "negotiations are in progress looking to the merging into one body of the Association of Iron and Steel Sheet Manufacturers, the National Association of Galvanized Sheet Manufacturers and the Tinned Plate Manufacturers' association of the United States. This association when organized will be a powerful one, and is expected to be of considerable benefit to the trade. A general meeting of the above three organizations will be held in Pittsburgh on Wednesday, June 10 next, at which it is expected the consolidation will take place."
This is just what the manufacturers of iron and steel sheets, who were chiefly instrumental in getting the increase in the duty on tin plate, have been aiming at all the time. The manufacturers of galvanized iron have such a complete control of that industry that when the prices of terne plate were advanced in consequence of the higher duty they were able to advance the prices of their galvanized iron in spite of the fact that the price of the crude iron had fallen. The makers of galvanized iron favored the advance in the duty on terne plate for just this purpose. On the other hand, the sheet iron makers favored the duty in order to make the price of tin plate so high that the canners and other large consumers would be forced to build tinning stacks for making tin plates, and thus become their customers for iron and steel sheets.
The makers of sheet iron and steel never intended to engage in the tin plate business, as The Iron Age has several times intimated. They know well that as long as the high duties on sheet iron can be maintained, those who build tinning stacks will have to buy the sheet iron used of them. Hence it is that they are organizing a trust with the galvanizers in order to maintain the high prices which they are now charging for sheet iron.
The only way in which the tin plate industry can be established in this country on a substantial basis is by putting iron and steel sheets, now controlled by a trust, upon the free list. Until this is done consumers will be forced to continue the payment of over $17,000,000 in duties on imported tin plate into the treasury of the United States.

Who Paid This Duty?
A Chicago man arriving in New York from Europe was found to have a silk dress pattern concealed under the lining of his overcoat. On being taken to task by a customs officer he broke down and tearfully asked permission to pay the duty. The silk had cost $60 on the other side and he was assessed $30 as duty, which he gladly paid. Probably it will be useless for Benjamin Harrison and William McKinley to tell this individual that the foreigner pays the tax.—Chicago Herald.

NEVER A FAILURE.
The Red River Valley of Minnesota and North Dakota has never had a failure of crops. It produced 30,000,000 bushels of wheat besides other cereals in 1890. Farms can be had on the crop plan, or long time cash payments. It is not an uncommon thing to pay for a farm from the proceeds of one crop. It has all of the advantages of an old country in the shape of school, church, market, postal & railway facilities and all the chances of a new country in the way of cheap lands, rich soil, and increase in values. It is one of the most fertile and promising regions in America not yet fully occupied. In the rush to the far west, however, this rich valley has been over-looked. It has room for a million more people.

A POOR EXCHANGE.

RECIPROCITY ON ONE HAND, RETALIATION ON THE OTHER.

While Coquetting with South American Countries We May Lose Our Immense Trade with Canada, Where We Have a Balance of $20,000,000 in Our Favor.

A hundred years ago Thomas Jefferson declared for "Peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations—entangling alliance with none." This has been one of the guiding principles of our solons, and because of it we have had few serious difficulties with foreign nations. To be sure the protective system, fastened upon us in 1861, has done much to destroy our commerce with the rest of the world. But then it treated all nations alike, and besides it was a policy which, while it has injured most other nations slightly, has been a veritable curse on our own people. Hence so long as we do not complain others surely should not do so, though they may pity us for our shortsightedness.

But this new fangled economic doctrine called "reciprocity," which has been hitched up with "protection," while it may induce a few other nations to lower their duties and untax their people, and can do us but little harm by taxing four or five articles, makes a radical departure from Jefferson's sound policy, which already threatens to involve us in serious commercial difficulties that may later lead to open hostilities. The attempts to coerce foreign nations to change their revenue policy and the discrimination made against many countries have already produced complaints and threats. The Independence Belge has contained a number of articles by Senor Ibane, accusing the United States of unjust designs upon South America. In one of them he says:

"That the reciprocity treaty with Brazil was wrested from Senor Ponce de legitimate means; that the United States openly supported Balmaceda against the national rising in order to obtain from Chili a commercial treaty wholly in favor of the North American Union; that the Republican party will renew it with fresh vigor if the Democrats do not oust it from power; that it will likewise attempt to coerce Argentina unless the latter combines with Brazil and Chili to resist Yankee encroachment."

He then appeals to the countries of western Europe to combine with South American countries to resist the commercial designs of the United States. This is only one of the many manifestations of a spirit of resentfulness that is growing out of this mischief working policy. One or two of the South American countries that have made treaties of reciprocity already feel dissatisfied and threaten to annul them. The blighting effect upon commerce between the United States and Canada, of the McKinley bill, and the unceremonious way in which we refused to treat with the Canadian diplomats sent here twice since the adoption of reciprocity now seems likely to lead to a tariff war with Canada. Our trade with this country exceeds our trade with all other countries of the western continent. And besides, it is the only one of these countries in which the balance of trade is in our favor. If our bungling attempt to prop up the decaying system of "protection" with "reciprocity" impairs our commerce with Canada it will do more injury here than it could possibly do good elsewhere.

We extract the following from the New York Times of April 28:

Signs are growing that a tariff war with Canada may not be much longer delayed. There have been whispermongers of this prospect since the McKinley bill shut out this market from Canadian farmers. The people across the border long ago learned to make allowances for campaign needs in this country, and stood snubbing good naturedly so long as it did not affect trade. Now that their pockets are touched, they feel like hitting back. They sold 11,000,000 bushels of barley here every year until the present tariff came into force. Now they sell 2,000,000 bushels. In return they bought our manufactures.

The impression has been fostered by the high tariff men that Canada would be the gainer by a trade arrangement between the two countries. Figures show the contrary. It appears, indeed, that the balance of trade has been very largely in favor of the United States. Any retaliatory legislation by the Dominion government would hit American manufacturers much more seriously than the McKinley bill affects Canadian farmers. In discussing yesterday the prospect of such retaliation, a gentleman who has made a thorough study of our commercial relations with Canada, both from the United States and the Dominion point of view, said:

"It can be shown that the clauses of the McKinley tariff which affect our commerce with Canada, and the conditions of the reciprocity measure which exclude that country from its operations, are unjustifiable and impolitic and completely subversive of the very objects which the vaunted joint policy professes to accomplish.

"If the actual position of this commerce warrants and sustains the proposition much mischief may result from toward the United States' northern neighbors, a policy which must undoubtedly imperil and will inevitably greatly curtail a natural trade, which, even in its present hampered conditions, is of more real value to this country than can be reasonably expected from all the reciprocity treaties which have been arranged.

"As already shown, the value of the imports into Canada from the United States during the year ending June 30, 1890, was $60,449,366, of which there was entered for consumption $52,291,978.

The value of the merchandise imported into the United States from Canada was $39,042,977, of which there was entered for consumption $32,416,156, showing that Canada purchased from the United States for its own consumption during that year, in excess of like purchases by the United States from Canada, $19,875,817.

"The imports into the United States may be summarized as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Category, Value. Includes raw products of the farm, the forest, the rivers and the fisheries, and manufactures and miscellaneous.

Total... $30,220,272

"The imports into Canada from the United States:

Table with 2 columns: Category, Value. Includes raw products of the farm, the forest, the rivers and the fisheries, and manufactures, as per table furnished.

Total... $49,896,893

"For the better understanding of this important subject other tables may be furnished, all tending to establish the following facts as existing at the time of the enactment of the McKinley tariff:

"1. That Canada's purchases of produce and merchandise from the United States were over 60 per cent. larger in value than those of the United States from Canada.

"2. That the exports of manufactured goods from the United States to Canada amounted to about $28,000,000 during the year ending June 30, 1890, and formed more than one-seventh part of our entire exports of this class of goods to all foreign countries, our whole exports of those for that year amounting to $151,000,000.

"3. That, taking the whole of Canada's imports of raw products and merchandise into consideration, the average rate of customs duties on imports from the United States was much lower than the average rate on imports from Great Britain.

"4. That even on manufactured goods the imports into Canada from the United States were admitted on as favorable terms as those from the mother country.

"5. That in manufactured goods Canada purchased from the United States a larger proportion of the following descriptions than it imported from Great Britain, viz., manufactures from metals and general hardware, miscellaneous and fancy goods other than dry goods, drugs and dyes, books, paper and other stationery, manufactures from leather, india rubber and gutta percha.

"6. That Canada admitted from the United States free of duty a larger amount of products and merchandise than the United States admitted from Canada in the same time.

"7. That the rates of duties in Canada even on manufactured goods were very much lower than the rates in the United States under which Canadian goods of the same class would have been admitted into the United States.

"In view of such facts it is difficult to conceive what justification congress could find for the unjust and harsh treatment inflicted on this commerce by the prohibitory duties which were levied upon almost every article of produce which Canada used to furnish to American markets. It is equally difficult to understand the position taken by the present administration and its organs in belittling the importance of this commerce and in asserting that any measures taken toward its extension would prove to the advantage of Canada only, and to the disadvantage of this country. This position can only be sustained by the willful perversion of facts and by the concealment of the true position of the case.

"It seems extraordinary that the New York Tribune should be so prominently engaged in the crusade against Canadian commerce. On this balance of trade question its course is especially inconsistent. Again and again it has contended that one of the prime objects of the reciprocity policy with the countries to the south is to reduce the large balance of trade now existing against the United States, and that this is a most praiseworthy effort on the part of the government. But in the case of Canada, where the balance of trade is so vastly in favor of the United States, it cannot find any argument in favor of this commerce, can see no advantage in maintaining it and only disadvantage in extending it.

"The present administration at Ottawa is favorable to such limited reciprocity between the two countries as the financial position of the Dominion will permit. Public opinion in Canada is overwhelmingly in favor of such an adjustment of the customs tariffs of the two countries as will tend to the rapid increase of their intercommerce on terms alike equitable and to mutual advantage. Canadians are smarting under a sense of unmerited injustice inflicted upon them through the iniquitous duties levied on their produce under the McKinley tariff.

"They demand redress. They propose that all the raw products of each country, together with a limited list of manufactures as may be agreed upon, shall be admitted into either country free of duty; that the fisheries of each country shall be open to both on equal terms; that the canals and inland rivers and lakes and coasting trade shall be free to both, and that American manufactures shall continue to be admitted into Canada on as favorable terms as those of Great Britain.

"It is sincerely to be hoped that the two countries may be able to arrive at a satisfactory and equitable arrangement of the terms upon which their commerce can be conducted in future. The politicians who affect to believe that Canada is too craven to resent and too weak to retaliate are living in a fool's paradise. If congress persists in maintaining the present prohibitory duties on Canadian products and in exhibiting the present position of hostility, the Canadian parliament will be compelled by an outraged electorate to deal out to the United States 'measure for measure.'

"A war of traffic and of transportation routes may seem to invite an inconsiderable loss to a great country like the United States, but not the less it is a loss, and one which can be and ought to be avoided by the exercise of a little spirit of equity, and without any loss of dignity on our part."

While the farmers are in a state of lament, over the small wheat crop, Ann Arbor city takes honest pride in a luxurious growth of Canada thistles, seen on the grounds of the Standard oil company. Those wishing seed can now be accommodated.

Washtenaw people should wear iron nozzles or carry their noses in their pockets. The Press, last week, reported two distressing accidents due to a want of this precaution, and now learns that John Raymond, a Willis man, has had his bugle "busted" by a blow from an iron setting-maul, in the hands of a cross-eyed man, while putting up a swing.

Whether the father, mother, and prehistoric ancestors of the young woman are doing well or ill, cuts no figure in the public mind, which is lost in admiration of her excellent taste in banging her hair before appearing in company.

A splendid effort at philanthropy has met with persecution and imprisonment at Ann Arbor. George Greenwell, a painter of that city, requested Jacob Anspaugh to go over to Ypsilanti with him and assist in strengthening the attenuated relations between the two cities. Anspaugh, however, refused, and Greenville, thinking still to win him over, shot him in the arm and was immediately hopped upon by the cops, run into jail and placed under $500 bonds. Alas! how oft have stripes and imprisonment rewarded the noblest efforts to establish the universal brotherhood of mankind! Let us pray!

Estate of Margaret S. D. Story. STATE OF MICHIGAN, COUNTY of Washtenaw, ss. At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, holden at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, on Saturday, the third day of September, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, Present, J. Willard Babbitt, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Margaret S. D. Story, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified of Marcha D. Tenney, praying that a certain instrument now on file in this court, purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased may be admitted to probate and that administration with the will annexed of said estate may be granted to herself, there being no executor in said will named, or some other suitable person.

Thereupon it is ordered, that Monday, the third day of October next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the devisees, legatees, and heirs-at-law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, be required to appear at a session of said court then to be holden at the Probate office in the city of Ann Arbor, and show cause, if any there be, why the said instrument should not be granted; And it is further ordered that said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and of the hearing thereon, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the ANN ARBOR ARGUS, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county, three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

J. WILLARD HABBITT, Judge of Probate. Wm. G. DOTY, Probate Register.
