THE STRIKE ON THE ANN ARBOR ROAD.

Freight Trains Not Running—A Passenger Train Runs Off the Track in this City—Argo Dam Washed Out.

The Strike on the Toledo Road.

The engineers and firemen on the Toledo, Ann Arbor and North Michigan road have been out on a strike this week and none but mail trains have run over the road. There are three engines in the yards here partially dismantled. A passenger train ran off the track, Wednesday night, in the city, but this was caused by a washout and was not due to the strikers. The engineers and switchmen are backed up by their national organizations. The Ashleys claim to be able to run without the aid of union men, but so far have been unable to do so.

Argo Dam Washed Out.

The water in the Huron river has been very high this week. About nine o'clock last night a large section of the Argo mill dam gave way. This is the dam formerly known as the Sinclair mill dam. The water first undermined the dam, forcing a great hole in the dam, the earth afterwards caving in. Every effort was made to save the dam without avail. The break is eighty feet long and will compel the mills to close down until it is repaired. It will be necessary to wait until the volume of water is lowered. The damage has not yet been estimated but it will prove large.

Our Legislative Visitors.

The legislative visitors are in the city. They came in last night with their wives and sisters, two hundred and sixteen strong. They took the Cook House by storm, where an elegant supper was served, souvenir menu cards being distributed. They attended the reception at the University, heard the glee club in the chapel, did the museum, the library, and the art gallery, heard some more glee club songs in the reading room, which they uproariously applauded, and dispersed to the hospitable homes of our citizens which were opened to receive them. Today they visited the different buildings on the campus, and at eleven o'clock witnessed the imposing spectacle of all the students gathered together in University Hall, letting off their ear-splitting yells and still preserving the utmost order while the speakers were at their task.

The work of the local committees was well done, and every one of the visiting party expressed delight at their reception. Representatives Kline and Mills were in their element, and worked hard. The coaches assigned to the legislators were in charge of Representative Mills.

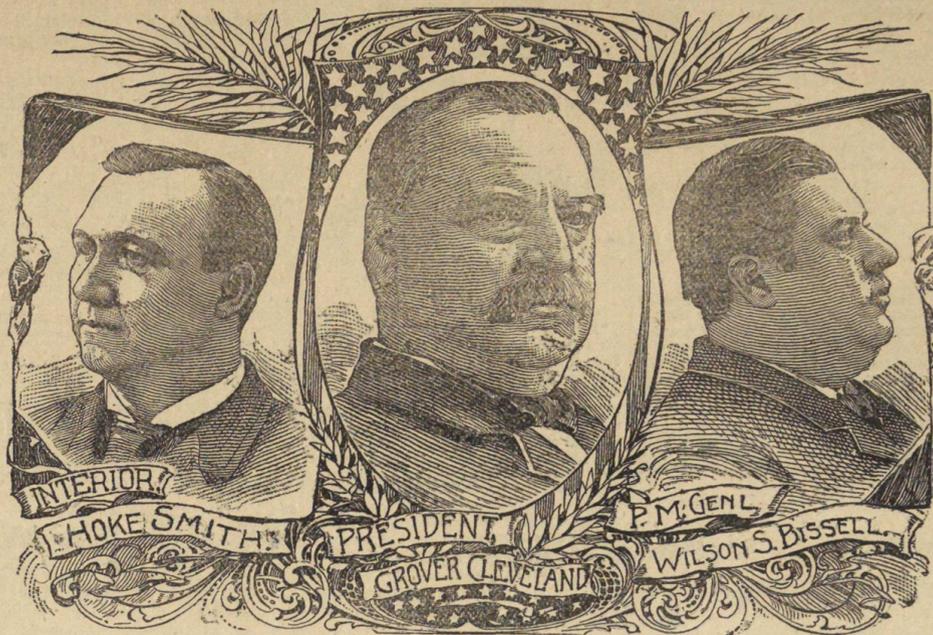

Rev. Arthur J. Covell Installed in Vermont.

Rev. Arthur J. Covell, a graduate of the University, class of '87, and president of the Students' Christian Association in his senior year, has just been installed in his new charge at Waterbury, Vermont. His wife was Miss Anna Campbell, daughter of Andrew Campbell. The Vermont Chronicle, of Montpelier, Vt., contains the following:

On Tuesday, February 28, a council met at the Congregational church, called to install Rev. Arthur J. Covell, late of Flint, Mich. Dr. W. S. Hazen was chosen moderator, and Rev. C. W. Longren scribe. The act of the council dismissing Mr. Covell, and the resolution of the church in Flint on accepting his resignation, spoke in warm terms of his character and work. The narrative he gave of his personal religious experience was of unusual interest, showing how he had been led by the Spirit of God from open skepticism to a reverent and hearty acceptance of Christ as a Divine Saviour.

His statement of doctrinal belief was clear. By a unanimous vote the council decided to proceed with the public services of installation, which were as follows: Reading of the Scriptures and prayer, Rev. E. S. Fiske; sermon, Prof. G. Campbell, of Dartmouth College; installing prayer, Rev. W. S. Hazen; charge to the pastor, Rev. G. W. Gallagher; fellowship of the churches, Rev. C. W. Longren; address to the people, Rev. Austin Hazen; concluding prayer and benediction by Pastor Covell. The sermon of Professor Campbell, on the towers and bulwarks of Zion as built, beautified and completed by doing, knowing and loving, was carefully prepared, very suggestive, and thoroughly pervaded with the spirit of the gospel. The other parts had their individual excellences, and held the attention of an interested congregation to the end.

This church is very fortunate in securing, so soon after the late pastor's leaving, another man to take his place in whom all are united. The impression made on the council by the candor, intelligence and spirit of the new pastor was very favorable, and all look for a useful and happy ministry.

Democratic Judicial Convention.

The democratic judicial convention was held in Dundee, Tuesday. The strike on the Ann Arbor road prevented the Washtenaw delegation from reaching Dundee until half-past one o'clock, excepting N. Schmid, Joseph Gauntlett and Dr. McLachlin, who had driven over. The convention temporarily organized by electing Joseph Gauntlett chairman and August Weier secretary, and adjourned to await the arrival of the Washtenaw delegation. On reassembling full delegations were reported present. The following delegates were present from Washtenaw: Jas. R. Bach, T. A. Bogle, N. Schmid, S. W. Beakes, J. F. Schuh, F. A. Howlett, John Wade, C. F. O'Hearn, Jas. Riggs, W. W. Watts, Philip Duffy, M. J. Cavanaugh, A. Brown, D. P. McLachlin, John Gillen, J. P. Kirk, Herman Reyer, Jos. Gauntlett, P. H. O'Brien, F. H. Belsler and Frank Jones.

The following committees were appointed:

Resolutions—T. A. Bogle, Chas. E. Golden.

Permanent Organization—A. B. Bragdon, J. P. Kirk.

Credentials—J. R. Bach,

J. F. Schuh was made permanent chairman. The work of nominating a judge was quickly done. A. B. Bragdon nominated Edward R. Gilday and T. A. Bogle nominated M. J. Lehman. The first ballot resulted, Gilday, 20; Lehman, 7; scattering, 7. Mr. Gilday's nomination was made unanimous. Good feeling prevailed and Mr. Gilday was sent for to appear before the convention, his remarks being vigorously applauded.

The committee on resolutions reported as follows:

Resolved, that this Convention heartily congratulates the country at large and the Democracy in particular upon the recent grand and glorious victory which has again made possible a government of the people, by the people and for the people; in the inauguration of America's grand man, Grover Cleveland, and in the possibility before us, that with a Democratic House and a Democratic Senate the class legislation of the last 30 years may be wiped from our statute books.

That we cordially endorse the declarations of principles of the late State Convention, and pledge to the cause of Democracy our hearty, earnest and undivided support.

That inasmuch as President Cleveland and his Democratic successors in the executive chair must draw from the ranks of Democracy for the future executive and judicial officers of the country, it behooves to be instant in season and out of season in support of Democracy and its candidates.

The report was unanimously adopted. The following judicial committee was selected: A. B. Bragdon, W. W. Watts and S. W. Beakes.

"A Fair Rebel."

The above military comedy drama will be presented at the Opera House, Thursday, March 16th. The story of the play runs through the late war and deals with the escape of Union officers from the celebrated Libby Prison. Its first production at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, New York, was stamped with success there not being one adverse criticism by the New York papers. The scene in the third act when the Union prisoners escape from Libby Prison by means of an underground tunnel is an exciting and realistic representation. The tapping of the military telegraph wires, sending a dispatch to army headquarters carries one right to the scene of action. The bugle call, prancing steeds, marching and counter-marching of squads of soldiers are all given with correctness and accuracy of detail. The sensation is relieved by a pretty love story which runs through the play and there is plenty of comedy. The cast is a carefully selected one, every character being taken by a competent person. In every particular it will be given as at its first production.

Saved His Life

Scrofula—Impure Vaccination—Beyond Hope

But Hood's Sarsaparilla Effected a Perfect Cure

Joseph Harper Trenton, N. J.

"We are sure that Hood's Sarsaparilla saved our son Joseph's life as that the sun shines. Five years ago on board ship our three boys were vaccinated. Joseph had a very sore arm, so bad at one time that we were afraid it would have to be taken off. At length it seemed to get well, but about two months after, he began to complain of soreness and pain in the vaccinated arm. He had occasionally shown some signs of scrofula, but nothing serious. His arm, however, grew worse and worse and became swollen and covered with sores. The inflammation and sores also spread all over his body, and he was a mass of corruption.

Pitiable to Behold, A misery to himself and almost breaking our hearts with anguish over his dreadful condition. Many a time did I wish he was dead and out of his misery.

"The eruption was especially severe back of his ears and over his head and the lower part of his face. We had to cut off all his hair we could, as it was impossible to comb through the mass of hard crust and matter. Physicians did him no good, and three specialists at the Eye and Ear Hospital said

Nothing Could be Done. They said it was a blood disease caused by impure vaccination. One night I happened to be reading in a paper about Hood's Sarsaparilla, and decided to try it.

"While taking the first bottle, Joseph did not grow any worse; on the second, we noticed that he was improving, and, slowly but surely, the medicine drove away the disease and won a complete victory. The scales and scabs began to fall off; the sores gradually healed up, and new, smooth and healthy skin formed in place of the disease and corruption. Of course it took time, but improvement was steady until at the end of the year the disease had entirely disappeared, and Joseph stood a strong and healthy boy. He is at school and progressing rapidly in his studies.

"We and all the neighbors regard his cure as a perfect miracle." JAMES HARPER, heater in Reubling & Son's Rolling Mill, residence, No. 814 Division Street, Trenton, N. J.

NEVER A FAILURE.

The Red River Valley of Minnesota and North Dakota has never had a failure of crops. It produced 30,000,000 bushels of wheat besides other cereals in 1890. Farms can be had on the crop plan, or long time cash payments. It is not an uncommon thing to pay for a farm from the proceeds of one crop. It has all of the advantages of an old country in the shape of school, church, market, postal & railway facilities and all the chances of a new country in the way of cheap lands, rich soil, and increase in values. It is one of the most fertile and promising regions in America not yet fully occupied. In the rush to the far west, however, this rich valley has been over-looked. It has room for a million more people. Write to F. I. WHITNEY, St. Paul, Minn for particulars. Publications sent free.

The Wheels Move Slowly in the Dragon's Empire.
His Majesty the Emperor of China and the "Son of Heaven" is enjoying a train of miniature railroad cars, presented to him by the French syndicate of capitalists who wish to get contracts for building railways.
In China, they will wonder at its steam engine; and the six thousand electric lights, which are now being introduced into the holiest of Chinese sanctuaries, cannot but turn their eyes to our civilization. It will not be long ere a material advancement will be made in the science of medicine, which has for so many centuries remained a blot upon their civilization.
The missionaries are doing much to dispel the mysticism and reverence awe which the Chinaman holds for the concoctions of snakes, toads, lizards, etc., prepared by the native doctors. They recommend standard remedies which have long been favorably known in America and Europe, such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a remedy for all cases of blood-taints or humors, which has had years of uninterrupted success in the United States, and numbers its cures by the tens of thousands. This is a point gained for the future welfare of the Dragon Empire.

Two Irishmen walking along the Bowery stopped under a sign printed in Hebrew letters.

"An' wot's that, Moike?" asked one.
"Begorra, I dunno! but ef Oi had moi flute, blame me ef Oi wouldn't troy to play it."

A New Pile Remedy

has created a sensation among physicians by its wonderful effects in speedily curing every form of Piles. It is called the Pyramid Pile Cure. It is cheap and simple to use, but nothing removes the disease so quickly, safely and surely. Any druggist will get it for you.

Drunkenness, or the Liquor Habit, Positively Cured By Administering Dr. Heins' Golden Specific.

It is manufactured as a powder, which can be given in a glass of beer, a cup of coffee or tea, or in food, without the knowledge of the patient. It is absolutely harmless, and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never fails. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. Cures guaranteed. 48 page book of particulars free. Address, Golden Specific Co., 185 Race St., Cincinnati, O.

MARTIN J. CAVANAUGH.

Secretary of Agriculture Morton is credited with raising 1,535 bushels of corn on a twenty acre lot on his Nebraska farm.

The present republican speaker of the North Dakota legislature has left the republican party and joined the democracy, on the ground that the republican party is dominated by the railroad corporations. And still they come.

It is not now general election time, and so the Courier, as the republican mouthpiece in this county, is not engaged in the laudable business of twisting the lion's tail. The Courier of this week says that this country "has only one natural ally, and that is Great Britain." How this would have sounded a few months ago!

The next circuit judge must be a Democrat. If the party organization is to be held together Democrats must stand shoulder to shoulder and more especially is this the case when to defeat two Monroe Democrats in succession must necessarily create a breach between the democracy of the two counties tied together in so many ways, a breach that it would be hard to heal. The next circuit judge must be a Democrat.

The next circuit judge for this district was nominated in Dundee Wednesday. He made a most favorable impression upon the delegates who met him after the nomination. He had the solid support of his home delegation, and it included in its ranks the brightest lawyers in the county. He is a popular man, of quiet demeanor, good judgment, a good lawyer and safe counselor, who enjoys one of the largest practices in Monroe, a graduate of the law department of the University of the class of '87, a good democrat, who has served several terms as mayor of Monroe, and who has always run ahead of his ticket the several times he has been before the people of his county, being always elected by good majorities. Edwin R. Gilday is a man the democracy of the district can confidently present to the people of the district for circuit judge.

Adrian Press Washtenawisms.

A Milan dog went insane from getting a bone in his throat. We have known a dog to get well, with a spine in his back.

The populists should have taken their canvass last week. Everybody belonged to the middle-of-the-road party.—Ypsilantian.

Where was Peters, that he might number the hosts?

A chicken with two hearts—one attached to its liver—was lately dressed for the table of the Stevens hotel, Milan. Strange town, that Milan. Two men, there, incidentally bumped their heads together the other day, and one of them has been cross-eyed ever since. Who can explain this phenomenon?

The team of the Hon. H. D. Platt, of Ypsilanti, ran away the other day, pitching out the honorable Henry, "neck and crop." He is said to have remarked, as he reversed extremities and shook the snow out of his ears: "Lost! all lost!" Then recovering somewhat, he added: "Why, damme! I thought it was the formal ballot for United States senator! I believe I must have been a little dazed. Where in—has my team gone?"

Burglars have just robbed Robbins, of Milan, of $97. Never left him so much as a clew.

Eli Roberts, of Lasalle, had a patella in the right leg, but he fell and broke it, the other day.

Buckhart, of Lima, saw a streak of sunshine the other day and went out and sheared 60 sheep, supposing it was June.

They have at last caught a man violating the ordinances of Chelsea. My, but didn't they make him sweat blood like a flannel shirt!

Ypsilanti's prosperity is closely knit with her underwear factory, which last year made $250,000 worth of goods and employed 300 persons.

And now it is proposed by the religious students of Chicago University to form an intercollegiate chess club, taking in the Northwestern University and the U. of M. with themselves in the triangular concern.—Ann Arbor Courier.

The foregoing we believe contains the first accusation of piety ever laid upon Chicago, and should not be accepted with rash credulity.

Some newspaper men's nerves can stand hardly anything. There's Gunsonhauser, formerly of Hillsdale, who went to Grand Ledge to edit a newspaper. He is kicking with all of his feet, because he is bounded on one side by a roaring mill-dam and on the other by a brass band, while a sausage-grinder is doing business in the basement. He adds: "Now if we could get a boiler works to locate on the roof!"

Artist Gibson, of Ann Arbor, secures the contract or making about 30,000 negatives for World's Fair exhibitors, the work to be performed on the grounds. This goes to prove that positive people do not get on in the world any better than those who are more "negative."

Mathias Ehnis, of Northfield, was very much annoyed, the other evening, by being hoisted over an eight rail fence and having his sleigh smashed and a horse killed by an ill-tempered freight engine. It knocked the "h" plumb out of his hind or "caboose" name.

The Ann Arbor Register complains of the presence in the city of a "Peeping Tom," who creeps under the windows of female students and turns the blinds. An investigation through a slightly raised window, with a squirt-gun and pepper sauce, might accomplish excellent missionary work on the fellow.

A Lindon, Monroe county man, sat dejectedly by his smouldering fire, wondering where wood and the next meal was to come from. Just then he heard a hen cackle and rushing to the coop, found a new laid egg. Joy! Hooray! Immediately he dressed him in his best, and gaily carried the egg to Milan, where he exchanged it for a large supply of groceries and received back enough money to buy a cord of wood.

The persona of Cleveland's cabinet; the "rump" riot in the Kansas legislature; the death of Blaine, and the Pacific Ham Sandwich difficulty, had strained the public sensibilities till it did seem as though they could bear no more. Now we are hit with another nerve-racker:—Does the new partner in the Ann Arbor Argus finish up his last name with one "s" or more? The newspapers are using from one to three, in announcing him. Is it Curtis, Curtiss or Curtiss? Speak!

In the Adventist printing office at Battle Creek, where 300 hands are employed, all are assembled in the office chapel every morning, and prayers and religious services held before going to work. This is a very worthy custom, which we fear is not carefully observed in the office of our valued contemporary the Adrian Press.—Ypsilantian.

Well, you see, this office doesn't go much, on spectacular religion, believing rather in individual piety and closet prayer. We don't make as much of a "holy show" as some people, but we bag more at the knees.

The North Lake lyceum has gone into a decline. It has never enjoyed good health since debating the question "Resolved, That the milky way is eternity's equator."

A son to Ald. Kitson, of Ann Arbor. It knocked a hole as big as a barn door, in salary, to furnish the cigars. It will yet come to this that Ann Arbor aldermen must receive better pay or reduce the output.

SHE PROVES IT.

And the Proof is Just What Our Readers Want.

Of How it Began She Hasn't the Slightest Idea.

But Concerning Its Ending She is Explicit and Exact.

We never know just how a thing begins.

But we are always certain of the results which are left.

These reflections were called out by the fact that it is so easy to drift into anything. In this world we must keep our eyes about us or we shall constantly find ourselves drifting into trouble.

We call to mind an instance in which a most estimable lady unconsciously and without knowing when or how, allowed herself to drift into what became to her a most serious matter and caused many years of anxiety and suffering.

This lady is widely known—Mrs. Mary Jane Foster, of 327 West 21st street, New York City, and what she says are true and exact facts, as can be easily and readily ascertained by anyone. If experience is of any use, hers is certainly a revelation to be heeded by all.

Without knowing their meaning she had a dull feeling head, headaches, dizziness, bad taste in the mouth, especially mornings. Her sleep was broken and she would wake mornings feeling tired and exhausted. After a time the appetite became irregular, there was a fullness or bloated feeling after meals, risings of gas, sour stomach, biliousness and constipation,—such symptoms, in fact as people frequently experience during the spring of the year.

MRS. MARY JANE FOSTER.

"Why," she said, "for years after I suffered from the worst form of dyspepsia, with gas and fermentation of food, and terrible spasms that seemed to start at the stomach and rise to the head.

"Even the lightest food caused great pain and distress after eating, and I also suffered with great exhaustion, dizziness of the head, and weakness of the limbs so that I could scarcely stand on my feet.

"But I am now completely cured by the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and I take pleasure in giving my experience to the public in order that other sufferers may be cured as I have been."

Look out for such troubles in the beginning. Now, in the spring, when everybody is certain to be more or less out of order and needs a spring medicine, take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy immediately, for it is the best and surest of all spring medicines. It will invigorate the blood, strengthen the nerves and give you perfect digestion and regular action of liver, kidneys and bowels. All druggists keep it for $1.00, and it is purely vegetable and harmless.

It is the great remedy recommended by doctors for spring debility and diseases because it is the discovery and prescription of the well-known physician, Dr. Greene, of 35 W. 14th Street, New York, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. The doctor can be consulted without charge by anyone, either at his office or by writing to him.

Gloriana.

Theatre-goers and lovers of refined merriment of the very highest order of excellence will hail with delight the announcement that Charles Frohman will present at Grand opera house on next Wednesday evening, that phenomenally successful comedy farce (Gloriana), which enjoyed a run of nearly 150 nights in New York, 300 in Paris, and 250 in London.

Charles Frohman has probably selected one of the strongest comedy companies that he has ever dispatched in this direction, including George W. Barnum, Jacques Martin, John Allen, Charles Drake, William Norris, Eugene F. Eberle, Charles E. Warren; Misses Eleanor Merron, Helen Holland, Tillie Barnum. (Gloriana) is a farce-comedy, funny in its complications, situations, and dialogue. The title is obtained from the name of a vivacious widow named "Gloriana Lovering," and her infatuation for "Leopold Fritz-Jocelyn," a member of the English diplomatic service, who has fallen in love with "Jessie Chadwick," the innocent young daughter of "Timothy Chadwick," a wealthy farmer of Birmingham. "Gloriana" follows him and refuses to give him up, even when told that he is a poor valet. She has letters from "Leopold" which he is anxious "Jessie" should not see. The most hilarious complications ensue and the fun is incessant until the very close of the play, when everything is set right.

Sufferers from Piles

should know that the Pyramid Pile Cure will promptly and effectually remove every trace of them. Any druggist will get it for you.

A Trying Situation.

The day was in that transitory state when twilight lingers in the lap of day and darkness struggles for the ascendancy. The sun hung in a great red ball of lurid flame betwixt heaven and earth; there was a feeling of profound quiet which seemed to settle on all things animate and inanimate. The birds, the insects, the very trees and sprouting plants were for the moment hushed as if in expectancy of some unforeseen, some inexplicable something which seemed to pervade the very atmosphere. A bull frog gurgled softly as he fell back into the limpid water. Suddenly over the brow of a distant hill there appeared a beautiful girl—a modern Diana. Seated upon a large grey horse, she turned her large brown eyes to the four points of the compass, heaving a sigh she murmured, "Nine o'clock and Brude Michals not here yet, but I will not despair. The lamp of hope is not easily extinguished in hearts that truly love, besides Bud Renno has asked me to go and see 'My Aunt Sally,' which appears at the Grand Opera House, Monday night."

Jawkins—"I can't see what pleasure old Miss Scraggs can find in that diabolical parrot. It's enough to drive one to the madhouse."

Hogg—"Pleasure, my boy? Lots of it. Don't you suppose she knows perfectly well how much it annoys everybody else?"

Recovers His Speech.

Alphonse Hemphling, of Summit township, Butler Co., Penn'a, made an affidavit that his twelve-year-old son, who had had St. Vitus Dance for twelve years, lost his speech, was completely cured after using three bottles of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, and also recovered his speech. Thousands testify to wonderful cures from using it for nervous diseases, dyspepsia, nervous debility, dullness, confusion of mind, headache, etc. Four doses of this Nerve cured Mrs. W. E. Burns, South Bend, Ind., who had been suffering with constant headache for three months. Trial bottle and elegant book free at Eberbach & Son's.

Fred Hoelzle is busy making preparations for his new meat market on the corner of Washington street and Fourth avenue.

The Charitable Union again solicits contributions of second-hand clothing and of bedding, the supply on hand being nearly exhausted.

The second chamber concert will be given March 14, in Newberry hall, by Edward Baxter Perry, pianist, and Frederick Mills, violinist.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Norgate, living four miles south of the city, were given a pleasant surprise by about fifty friends, last Thursday night.

Mrs. Sunderland will speak at the Unitarian church next Sunday morning on "Heredity from God." In the evening Mr. Sunderland will give the fourth lecture in his series on the Labor Problem. Subject: "The Single Tax."

Rev. Dr. Steele, of Detroit, delivers the annual address before the Young People's society of the Presbyterian church, next Sunday evening.

The supply kitchen at Harris hall is drawing a great deal of custom, Saturdays. Their supplies are elegant and their lunches are worth bragging of.

The thaw this week damaged our streets greatly, and it will take over a $1,000 to put the streets in as good condition as they were before the thaw.

Street Commissioner Sutherland and a large gang of men have been at work cutting the ice in the street gutters, for the purpose of saving the streets.

Bishop Dudley delivers the third of the Baldwin lectures in Harris Hall, Saturday evening at eight o'clock, on the subject: The Church is Apostolic.

Charles Fusch, a runaway boy from Detroit, was before Justice Pond, Wednesday, for stealing rides the Michigan Central. He was fined $5 and costs.

Bishop Dudley will speak at the young people's vesper service in St. Andrew's church, Sunday evening, on the Relation of Christians to the Church.

Ben Collins, the colored porter of the Hawkins house, Ypsilanti, is serving sixty-five days in the Detroit House of Correction for stealing $8 from an overcoat.

Edward Syke lost a valuable colt near the Central depot, Wednesday. It became frightened, and so twisted a leg by catching it in a wheel that it had to be killed.

At the Unity Club, Monday evening, March 13, Rev. Caroline J. Bartlett, of Kalamazoo, will lecture on "A Pilgrimage to the Homes of Shakespeare and George Eliot."

Inauguration day was celebrated in Ann Arbor by the firing of anvils. Thirteen shots were fired as a salute to the president, twenty-one to the flag, and one for Baby Ruth.

George Spathef, of the fifth ward, had three hogs drowned last evening. The water was three feet deep in his yard. The water was four or five feet deep in all the cellars on Wall street.

On account of a great press of advertising an extra two pages of the Argus was found absolutely necessary after the last form had gone to press, so that our "make up" is not to be bragged of this week.

Mrs. J. L. Babcock, of North Division street has temporarily taken Miss Anderson's place and will sing during her absence in the Presbyterian church choir. She will sing a solo next Sunday morning.

Township boards will find the Argus office the best place to get their election tickets printed this spring. We have the most complete equipment for the work in the county and the tickets will be printed accurately and quickly.

It cost Manchester village $2,559.94 to run its village government during the year ending March 1. Of this amount $671.11 was spent in improving the streets. The village received $1,732.50 liquor tax and has a balance on hand of $690.61.

Godfrey's delivery wagon horse, driven by Frank Garlinghouse, ran away, Wednesday, on State street, throwing Garlinghouse out by colliding with Brown & Cady's wagon. Both wagon and horses then took a lively run down State street.

The populists nominated E. D. Kinne for circuit judge, yesterday, and J. Morton Calkins for school commissioner. They expressed their determination to walk in the middle of the road, saying that the Republicans could walk with them if they wanted to.

A new cylinder press is on the road from Chicago for the Argus job rooms, to enable the office to turn out a larger volume of work, and to do it in quicker time. We have also a fine assortment of the latest styles of type just received and are prepared to turn out as fine work as can be found in the state.

A reception will be given on Saturday evening, March 11, from 8 to 11 o'clock, at the residence of Dr. Brown, 83 East Huron street, in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Tedrow, of the English Lu.

ROYAL IS THE
Best Baking Powder
The Official Government Reports:
The United States Government, after elaborate tests, reports the ROYAL BAKING POWDER to be of greater leavening strength than any other. (Bulletin 13, Ag. Dep., p. 599.)
The Canadian Official Tests, recently made, show the ROYAL BAKING POWDER highest of all in leavening strength. (Bulletin 10, p. 16, Inland Rev. Dep.)
In practical use, therefore, the ROYAL BAKING POWDER goes further, makes purer and more perfect food, than any other.
Government Chemists Certify:
"The Royal Baking Powder is composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substances."
"EDWARD G. LOVE, Ph. D."
"The Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public."
"HENRY A. MOTT, M. D., Ph. D."
"The Royal Baking Powder is purest in quality and highest in strength of any baking powder of which I have knowledge."
"WM. McMURTRIE, Ph. D."

The Government Report shows all other baking powders tested to contain alum, lime or sulphuric acid.

A New and Desirable Work.
The well known publishing house of Harper & Brothers have issued a history of the United States, on an entirely new plan. Its entire contents is typically arranged, so that any information desired can be as readily found as a word in the dictionary. It is well known that in most families volumes of history have been unread, few have the time or inclination to do it, and in most cases those histories can be referred to only with difficulty.

The demand is for a history to accurately and readily answer the questions that are frequently arising concerning some event or person in the history of our great country. This history meets this demand. Besides, it has a system of "cross references," and is copiously indexed.
We think it may be considered a great improvement in a historical way. It is edited by Benson J. Lossing, than whom none is more favorably known as an American historian.

OPINIONS.
What Benson J. Lossing, LL. D., does as a historian is always well done.
JAMES B. ANGELL,
Pres. Mich. University.
The topical arrangement of history is a convenient one, and the late work published by the Harpers will be found valuable.
J. T. SUNDERLAND,
Minister of the Unitarian Church, Ann Arbor, Mich.
There is no doubt but Harper's history of the United States, typically arranged, will prove the best plan for historical reference, which is often needed. It is a great time saver, and I heartily commend it.
J. M. GELSTON,
Pastor Presbyterian Church, Ann Arbor, Mich.
The names of the Harpers as publishers and Lossing as editor are a reasonable guarantee of a thoroughly good work, such as I think this late history, on a new plan, to be.
A. S. CARMAN,
Pastor Baptist Church, Ann Arbor, Mich.

PERSONAL.
Charles Kapp has gone to Chicago to live.
Mrs. W. H. Morton spent Wednesday in Detroit.
Mrs. J. M. Perkins has returned from a visit to Jersey City.
Hon. John J. Robison, of Sharon, has been in the city this week.
George H. Snow, state editor of the Evening News, was in the city, Sunday.
Martin Seabolt, of the Manchester schools, is visiting his father, Moses Seabolt.
Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Sheehan, of Detroit, have been visiting in Ann Arbor this week.
Miss Clark, of Monroe, has accepted a position in a millinery store in this city.
Miss Katie Reese, of Detroit, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gabrielski on S. Main St.

The Columbian Addition.
On the west side of North Main street, Jas. R. Bach has platted 30 acres of land, which is set out to pears and peaches, into lots of one acre each. Six of these lots front on Main street, and between lots three and four Columbian street is laid out. Mr. Bach has decided to sell these lots at the uniform price of $125 each, and when all have been sold the purchasers are to decide how the allotments shall be made. This way of making the plat offers many advantages. Other inducements are that the lots are only three fourths of a mile from the court house, and in buying a lot each purchaser gets an acre of land (five times as much as in the ordinary city lot.)

The terms of purchasing are very reasonable, being $10 down on signing the contract, one half at the time of allotment, and the balance in one year at seven per cent.

Frederick Krause, auctioneer, will attend to all sales on short notice at reasonable charges. For further particulars call at the Argus office.

Stark's $2.00 photographs for $1.00 until April 1st.

For Bronchitis
"I never realized the good of a medicine so much as I have in the last few months, during which time I have suffered intensely from pneumonia, followed by bronchitis. After trying various remedies without benefit, I began the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and the effect has been marvelous, a single dose relieving me of choking, and securing a good night's rest."—T. A. Higginbotham, Gen. Store, Long Mountain, Va.
La Grippe
"Last Spring I was taken down with la grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breath seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I begun taking it than relief followed. I do not believe that the effect would be so rapid."—W. H. Williams, Cook City, S. Dak.

Lung Trouble
"For more than twenty-five years, I was a sufferer from lung trouble, attended with coughing so severe at times as to cause hemorrhage, the paroxysms frequently lasting three or four hours. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking four bottles, was thoroughly cured. I can confidently recommend this medicine."—Franz Hoffmann, Clay Centre, Kans.

The Charitable Union.

The twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Charitable Union was held on Thursday afternoon, March 2d. The following officers were elected by ballot for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Celia Jaycox; secretary, Mrs. M. L. D'Ooge; treasurer, Mrs. Philip Bach. Mrs. Phebe Steele was elected vice-president by acclamation.

Mrs. J. M. Wheeler, Mrs. Eliza R. Sunderland, Mrs. J. C. Knowlton, Mrs. Benjamin Day, Mrs. A. B. Prescott, and Mrs. Gilbert were appointed as an executive board.

The ward committees were appointed as follows:

First ward—Mrs. Jaycox, Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. J. M. Gelston.

Second ward—Mrs. Bach and Mrs. Douglass.

Third ward—Mrs. Junius Beal, Mrs. Riley.

Fourth ward—Miss Henning, Mrs. R. A. Beal, Mrs. J. C. Knowlton, and Mrs. Parker.

Fifth ward—Miss Brown.

Sixth ward—Mrs. Butts, Mrs. Steele, Mrs. Dr. Abel.

An amendment to the constitution was adopted, changing the name from Ladies' to Women's Charitable Union.

Report of the secretary of the Charitable Union for the year ending March, 1893.

Another twelve months have passed away, and we are brought to the twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Charitable Union. During a quarter of a century it has carried on its labors of love and mercy, blessing, and may we not also say, receiving blessing. It would indeed be difficult to estimate the good accomplished and the amount of suffering relieved during these years.

The past year has been one of less activity than usual. Fewer visits have been made and received and fewer families assisted. We believe, however, this is due not to any decrease of interest in the work of the union, but rather to the fact that not so many as heretofore have been in need of assistance. There have always been both money and clothing which could be distributed, if needed.

By the ward committees 137 visits have been made upon the poor and 74 visits have been received. Between 35 and 40 families have been assisted. Second hand clothing valued at $86.50 has been given to those in need, in addition to $5.00 worth of new clothing, which was purchased at the sewing school and distributed. During the year $40.00 worth of clothing has been donated to the union.

We wish to express our thanks to the Sunday schools of the Methodist and Congregational churches for gifts at Christmas time. Through the kindness of many friends we were enabled to distribute 29 Thanksgiving dinners. Special donations have also been received from Mrs. Angell, Mrs. R. A. Beal, Mrs. Elisha Jones, and from Schairer & Millen. As heretofore the city papers have been most kind in publishing all our notices free of expense.

During the past twelve months there has not been a great amount of sickness among our beneficiaries. Whenever medicines have been needed, they have been bought.

Owing to home duties Miss Brown has been able to hold the sewing school only five months of the year. It is now again in session, and will doubtless be as useful as in preceding years.

The average attendance at our monthly meetings has been small, numbering but eight. Generally it is only the officers and members of the ward committees who are present. This has doubtless been in part due to the inclement weather and very difficult walking which have prevailed during the winter, but we would gladly welcome a larger number.

Before closing this report, mention should be made of the serious accident which, since our last meeting, has happened to our vice-president. Mrs. Steele has been connected with the union from its very beginning, and with the exception of Mrs. Gilbert is the only lady now in Ann Arbor of whom this is true. In 1877 she was chosen secretary, and held this office until 1882. In 1883 she was made vice-president, and has continued in this position until the present time. She has been one of the executive board or on the ward committees since 1876 and notwithstanding her advanced age has been active in her labors for the poor. We shall greatly miss her at the monthly meetings, at which, when possible, she never failed to be present. It is pleasant to remember that she presided at the February meeting.

We are told that the poor we shall always have with us, and therefore we are sure there will be no lack of work for this organization during the next quarter of a century. We trust abundant means will be contributed, that the good work may not be hampered by any lack of funds, and also that wisdom may be given to those in charge, that they may direct the work as shall be for the best advantage.

How the Nomination was Received in Monroe.

A Monroe dispatch to the Detroit Free Press, yesterday, contains the following: "The nomination of Lion, Edward

R. Gilday, today, by the Democrats as their candidate for Circuit Judge of the twenty-second district, is commended by everyone irrespective of party and received by the Democrats with enthusiasm. Mr. Gilday was born and raised in Monroe county and is a graduate of the law department of the Michigan University. He has served the county two terms as clerk, two terms as prosecuting attorney and was twice elected mayor of the city. He takes a deep interest in educational matters and was for several years a member of the board of education. He has long ranked as one of the leaders of the Monroe county bar and as a man and a citizen no one stands higher in the community than he. If elected, and there seems no room for doubt, Mr. Gilday will bring to the bench a thoroughly judicial mind, well trained and cultivated by ripe scholarship and a large and varied practice of his profession.

A HOUSEKEEPER'S PROTEST.

Showing up the Bogus Baking Powder Tests.

An exchange, referring to the schemes of the baking powder testers, who are going through various sections of the state, gives a letter from a housekeeper, exposing the fraudulent character of the performance.

Mrs. Page, says our exchange, writes that she was recently visited by the lady agents of a powder which she did not use, who attempted to show her by boiling and steaming it that there was something wrong about the brand she does use, the Royal. No amount of manipulation, however, succeeded in doing this. The Royal went through all tests triumphantly and without a flaw, and the tester acknowledged herself beaten. The tester then took a can of Royal from her pocket and from that produced almost anything she called for. She said that she had made this test before many housekeepers, and had by it induced them to throw away the Royal. "My opinion is," writes Mrs. Page, "that this testing is a fraud. It was evident to me that the sample of Royal she drew from her pocket had been doctored for the purpose of making these tests, and I cannot see how any sensible housewife could be so readily fooled. I believe also that where they can they slip some substance into the tin in which they boil the water and powder. When they are watched too closely and cannot do it, then they produce the small can expressly prepared for the purpose."

The women who are performing these alleged tests are, perhaps, innocent of the great fraud in which they are participants, but no censure is too severe for the employers who thus use them to do illicit work which they dare not themselves perform, and which has brought them before the courts elsewhere.

Is It an Unlucky Coin?

The superstition about the number 13 being unlucky is put to multiplied test in the new 25-cent pieces. On one side of the coin there are no less than ten repetitions of the number 13. There are 13 stars, 13 letters in the scroll held in the eagle's beak, 13 marginal feathers in each wing, 13 tail feathers, 13 parallel lines and 13 horizontal bars in the shield, 13 arrowheads in one claw, 13 leaves on the branch in the other claw, and 13 letters in the words "quarter dollar." There hasn't seemed to be anything unlucky in the 13 original states nor in the 13 stripes on the flag, and now it remains to be seen if the man who gets his pockets full of these new quarter dollars will be unlucky.—N. Y. Sun.

"Auld Lang Syne" Reunion.

A reunion of teachers and pupils of the High School during the years of '56 and '66 inclusive, is in prospect for the near future; perhaps by the middle of April. Any person who attended the High School (not grammar department) for any length of time during that period, without regard to graduation, who would like to join in the reunion can do so by sending their addresses immediately to Mrs. N. W. Cheever, 42 Madison street.

BY ORDER OF COMMITTEE.

New Class at Granger's.

A class in dancing for Ladies and Gentlemen will commence lessons at Granger's Academy, 6 Maynard street, next Saturday evening, 8 o'clock. All dances will be practiced, including the latest fad, the "Two Step." Positively no hops given. Granger's Academy is not a public hall. Pupils duly admitted, no visitors. Classes for gentlemen exclusively, Thursday evenings and Saturday mornings, ladies exclusively, Saturday afternoons.

Jones, Junior, who is evidently no admirer of the fair sex in any condition or degree, asserts that ladies are, one and all, thieves, and offers in proof the indisputable facts that the fair sex either bone or steel their corsets and crib their babies. As an instance of their unreasonable-ness, he advances the argument that washer-women put their tubs out of doors to catch soft water when it's raining hard; and, for their insincerity, he points to their complexions. Jones Jr. had better look out for himself.

Today's Program for the Legislature.

The arrangements for the students are as follows:

No chapel exercises. All class exercises will close at 11 o'clock.

The students of each professional school will meet in their own building at 11 a. m. and be prepared to march at 11:15.

LITERARY DEPARTMENT.

The students of the Literary Department will meet by classes at 11 o'clock as follows in order to proceed to University Hall, under the direction of Major Soule, chief marshal.

(a). The resident graduates will assemble in room G.

(b). The seniors will meet in room F and the adjacent hall.

(c). The juniors will meet in room H and the adjacent hall.

(d). The sophomores will meet in rooms A and B and the adjacent hall.

(e). The freshmen will flock in the chapel.

(f). Special students will meet with the classes with which they have most of their work.

The classes will enter the hall in the above order and will find seats on the lower floor of the hall, as directed by Major Soule and his assistants.

The meeting in the hall will close at 12:30. At 2 p. m. the guests will meet at the President's office, and be taken to the hospitals. At 3:10 they will take the electric cars at the court house for Ypsilanti.

Inasmuch as the students will fill the hall, citizens are requested to refrain from attendance.

Senior Law Class Meeting.

The senior law class had a very stormy meeting yesterday. A motion was made requesting Milton Johnson to resign the position of valedictorian. Mr. Falknor moved that the question be not considered. This motion was defeated. A number of resolutions were then read respecting Mr. Johnson's conduct as president of the Oratorical Association. These resolutions were not adopted. After a stormy debate, the class adjourned to meet next Monday evening to further consider the question.

Newspapers may have just as much influence as ever, but the women-folk say they are not making as big a bustle in the world as they did a few years ago.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Business Transacted by the Statesmen at Lansing.

No Work of Great Importance Is Done—Memorial Exercises in Honor of Ex-President Hayes, Ex-Secretary Blaine and Ex-Gov. Baldwin.

HOUSE. LANSING, March 1.—The two houses met in joint convention Tuesday evening and participated in memorial exercises in honor of ex-President Hayes and ex-Gov. Henry P. Baldwin.

LANSING, March 1.—Bills were introduced in the house amending the charters of Gladstone and Bessemer counties in the upper peninsula, and submitting a constitutional amendment authorizing Grand Rapids to bond itself for public improvements.

LANSING, March 2.—The house passed the Gladstone, Cass City, Gobberville, Thompsonville, Tustin, Standish and Bay City charter bills, and they were given immediate effect.

The judiciary committee made a favorable report on the proposed joint resolution for the submission of constitutional amendments for a state and county road commissioner system.

LANSING, March 3.—The bill providing for the Rhines vote recorder was the subject of a long discussion in the house, but pending its final passage it was referred to the judiciary committee.

LANSING, March 3.—The house passed a bill making an appropriation of $165,000 for the maintenance of the soldiers' home for the years 1893 and 1894.

Representative Barkworth again presented the protest which he offered two weeks ago against the resolution adopted by the republican majority condemning the lynching of negroes in the south.

LANSING, March 4.—The house was the scene of a most sensational and personal debate between Speaker Tatum and Representative Ewing during the consideration of Representative Barkworth's protest against expunging Friday's journal all reference to his previous report relative to the action of the house in adopting the Ferguson resolution condemning the lynching of negroes in the south.

LANSING, March 6.—In committee of the whole the house passed a joint resolution proposing amendments to the constitution fixing the compensation of members of the legislature at $750 per term; providing for utilizing the surplus of counties on highways; consolidating the village of Fort Gratiot with the city of Port Huron, and reducing the time within which bills must be introduced in the legislature from fifty to thirty-five days.

LANSING, March 6.—The senate refused to concur in the report of the committee on state affairs recommending the appointment of a joint committee to confer with a like committee from the legislature of Wisconsin with a view to securing the enactment of uniform game laws in the two states.

LANSING, March 7.—The senate indulged in a long and heated discussion upon the McLaughlin bill providing an annual tax of one-fifth of a mill for the support of the Michigan university.

LANSING, March 7.—After a discussion lasting several hours in the senate the world's fair appropriation was cut to $30,000 from $50,000 and then the bill failed to pass, lacking one vote, twelve votes being recorded against it.

LANSING, March 7.—The senate passed the bill making an appropriation of $70,000 for the support of the industrial home for girls for the years 1893 and 1894; also appropriating $102,000 for the support of the state normal school for the years 1893 and 1894.

JOY TURNED TO GRIEF.

A Sad Disaster at a Launching in West Bay City.

Hundreds Gather to Witness the Affair—A Number of Spectators Thrown Into the Water—Many Hurt, and One Dies.

A FATAL MISHAP. BAY CITY, March 3.—Probably 6,000 persons gathered at the F. W. Wheeler & Co. shipyard on Thursday to witness the laying of the keel of the Centurion, the 100th boat built by that company.

The occasion was made one of great rejoicing. The yards and vessels were handsomely decorated, and everyone felt in good spirits over the event.

After the ceremony had been performed, Mr. Wheeler was presented with a solid silver table set by his employees. The crowd then assembled around the slip where the large wooden schooner Mary McLaughlin awaited launching.

During this proceeding a terrible accident occurred, which resulted in the death of one man and the injuring of many others.

The steamer Forbes was lying in the slip into which the schooner plunged, on her upper deck being about a dozen men and boys. The sudden descent of the schooner caused the steamer to lurch and when she recovered her keel the lurch broke the rail and threw a mass of struggling people into the water.

They fell amid broken ice and planks that had been carried down by the schooner. As soon as possible the work of rescue began and in five minutes the following had been taken from the water:

Fred Babcock, painter, West Bay City, left leg and arm broken; William Battisill, painter, West Bay City, skull crushed, has since died; George Clark, freight agent, West Bay City, wounds about the head and internally injured; George Doyle, saw filer, Bay City, right leg broken, gash in head and internally injured; John Grandmaison, 10 years old, arm broken; Emerson Harmon, machinist, Bay City, nearly drowned; Abram Johnson, carpenter, Bay City, arm broken.

A NEW WARDEN.

William C. Chamberlain, of Three Oaks, Placed in Control of the Jackson Penitentiary.

LANSING, March 4.—The state board of prison inspectors yesterday afternoon appointed William Chamberlain, of Three Oaks, warden of the Jackson state prison to succeed George N. Davis.

Mr. Chamberlain is a descendant of John Rogers, the martyr, and was born at Col. William C. Chamberlain, N. H., in 1834, although his life since boyhood has been spent in Michigan.

He has served two terms in the state house of representatives and one term in the senate and for over twenty years was county superintendent of the poor. He has served on the prison board and is therefore in a position to make a good warden.

A Profit-Sharing Concern. BATTLE CREEK, March 4.—Nichols, Shepherd & Co., the threshing machine manufacturers, have just made the third annual distribution of stock to their workmen, giving twenty-three of them $250 each of paid-up non-assessible stock that is held above par and is earning good dividends.

The firm claim that this is the best solution of the labor question, and that in their experience it incites every employe to take a most active interest in making a success of the business.

The Furniture Men Mollified. GRAND RAPIDS, March 2.—The furniture manufacturers of this city have decided to overlook the small amount of space granted them at the world's fair, and to make an exhibit anyhow.

They had asked for 20,000 square feet, but only got a little over 2,500, and in order to utilize this they will make no individual display at all, but will combine the work of all the factories and call it the Grand Rapids exhibit.

The Foresters Are Prosperous. SAGINAW, March 3.—The seventh annual convention of the high court of the Independent Order of Foresters of Michigan was held in this city during the week, 200 officers and delegates being present.

The reports show that Michigan has 169 courts and a total membership of 6,000, and a balance on hand of over half a million dollars. Frank Mills, of Lapeer, is the new high chief ranger.

Michigan Peach Crop All Right. DECATUR, March 6.—Reports from all sections in the lake shore peach belt say that the yield this season will be the largest for a number of years. The fruit buds went into winter in better condition than ever before, and growers are jubilant over the excellent crop prospects.

He Wants $10,000 Damages. PORT HURON, March 2.—W. H. Caldwell has commenced suit for $10,000 damages against Thomas Fish, the owner of the barge Lone Star. Caldwell's son William was crushed by a falling spar on the barge last November.

Something Good for Battle Creek. BATTLE CREEK, March 2.—The Houck Furniture company, of Muskegon, is being moved to this city. Large buildings are to be erected and the company is expected to give employment to a big force of men.

A Farmer's Fat Verdict. ADRIAN, March 3.—Hugh McDuffey, a farmer of Dover, secured a $3,000 verdict against the Lake Shore railroad to-day for injuries received at a crossing, over a year ago.

Out of a Living Grave. ISBEMING, March 7.—Two miners, John Sundblad and Ed Aplund, who were buried under hundreds of tons of rock Friday, have been rescued uninjured.

A Detroit Man Killed. DETROIT, March 4.—Julius Luskey, employed by the Union Depot company, was run down by a switch engine to-day and killed.

Home Again. DETROIT, March 4.—Mayor Pingree and the delegation of aldermen and other city officials, who have been making a tour of the country for the study of municipal government, have reached home. They visited Chicago, Pittsburgh, Washington, New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Baltimore, and in each place spent from one to three days in a careful scrutiny of all the methods of running the machinery of a large city, especially as to lighting, paving and sewerage.

While in Baltimore the party visited the new cruiser Detroit and formally presented to it the silver punch bowl donated by the citizens of Detroit.

Engineers to Strike. OWOSHO, March 6.—Engineers on the Toledo & Ann Arbor road have asked for a 25 per cent. advance in wages. The officials announce that they cannot comply with the demand, and have also notified the men that they cannot retain their places unless they give up their membership in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. This they refuse to do, and a strike is imminent.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

A Course of Lectures to be Given by Miss Lucy Salmon, of Vassar. Beginning March 18.

Science is the watchword of the hour. "The Production and Distribution of Wealth," "Strikes," "The Railroad Problem," "History," "Religion," and even "Thought" itself, have been compelled to yield to scientific treatment. Why not the home also?

It was once tacitly assumed that the home and its direction of course everybody knew all about,—was not every one at some period of life an inmate of one? Moreover, homes were brought into being, controlled and directed by individual wills; therefore there could be no general truths or laws applicable to all homes, which truths or laws classified might be of universal value.

It is finally slowly dawning upon the world of thinking men and women that these tacit assumptions may not be well founded; that there may possibly be a field for scientific investigation even here, and a field which needs exploring.

Professor Lucy M. Salmon, of Vassar College, a former pupil and an A. M. of Michigan University, is one of the pioneers in this line of research. She set herself the task, a few years ago, of collecting statistics, at first hand, concerning one department of the field, namely, that of Domestic Service; and with these statistics as data she has attempted some generalizations looking toward the solution of some pressing problems of the American housekeeper.

These deductions, in the form of a series of lectures, have had a wide and favorable hearing in eastern cities, and have given their author the position of an authority in her special field.

The Alumnae Association of Ann Arbor has invited Professor Salmon to give these lectures here, at an early date, and a favorable response has been received from her. The expense will be considerable, but it is believed that the sale of tickets will be such as to meet it, and more, since the lectures will be of a character to instruct and to interest both the ladies of the city and the young ladies of the University.

The Alumnae Association in inviting Professor Salmon to Ann Arbor have had two objects in view; first, to enable as many of our ladies as possible to hear a very able woman upon a subject of great importance to all women; and second, to add some money to the fund for the Woman's Gymnasium. Either object ought to meet with a hearty response; the two together it is believed will ensure a large attendance. The time and place of the lectures will be announced later.

'96 Glee Club.

The Freshman Glee Club is hard at work preparing for an early appearance. So many have applied for places that it has been hard to determine the club, but the permanent club, as now selected, is as follows: First tenors, Burdick, Jenkins, Forrester, Newman; second tenors, Dykema, Bement, Cummer, Hovey; first bases, Washburn, Anderson, Coats, Finch; second bases, VanTuyt, Gibbons, Lorie, Harley. The officers of the club are Messrs. Dykema, Pres.; Cummer, sec.-treas. Rehearsals are being held tri-weekly under the direction of Mr. R. F. Thompson, of the University Glee Club. Mr. Thompson and all others who have heard the club sing, speak very highly of it. The voices are of an exceptionally good quality, and have the rare virtue of blending perfectly. The manager of the club, Mr. W. H. Kerr, is considering several offers of engagements in the neighboring towns. All things seem to point towards a decided success of the freshman venture.

MILKING A MOOSE.

A PENOBSCOT GUIDE'S STORY OF ANOTHER TRUTHFUL GUIDE.

How "Dairyman Annance," of Moosehead, Managed to Secure Something for His Sportsmen to Drink Besides the Cold, Murky Water of the Lake.

"Here's a pretty mess! The milk is all gone."

The speaker was one of a party of four New York sportsmen who, with an equal number of guides, had been cruising about on the west branch of the Penobscot, but were now camping on the shores of Chamberlain lake, preparatory to returning to North East Carry. They had been out longer than they had planned, and some of the supplies had become exhausted.

Then turning to the guides, who were lying at full length on the ground quietly enjoying the young blood's discomfort, he asks, "Isn't there a farmhouse or hotel near where we could buy some?" "Depends on what you call near," replied a woodsman. "If you don't reckon forty miles far, then we are near a house, but that's about the distance—maybe a trifle more. You want milk powerful bad, don't you? Well, you fill up on water tonight and maybe in the morning I can accommodate you, though, mind you, I don't promise!"

"You'll have to get a move on you," said one of the other guides, "if you are going to try to make the Carry 'tween this and tomorrow"—well knowing that the journey in that time was impossible—"for blast me, Annance, if I know where you're going to find the color of milk nearer than that."

Annance made no response, but puffed silently at his favorite pipe. He had an idea, though, that he could get some milk, but did not mean to tell how.

That night, unnoticed, he left the camp about sunset, walked slowly through the woods for about a mile, and again came out on the shore of the lake at a point where a small stream formed an outlet.

This was near the place where he had seen the cow moose, and here he took up his position beside a trail leading to the water's edge, and along which he could see, if his knowledge of woodcraft did not deceive him, that the moose was in the habit of passing.

In this he was correct, for the guide had not been there more than an hour when he heard the sound of some animal approaching, and peering cautiously through the bushes he saw a cow moose making for the pool.

The animal sniffed the air a few times as she passed within a dozen paces of the hunter, but otherwise she did not show signs of alarm. She was soon in the water ridding herself of the flies and quenching her thirst.

While the moose was disporting herself Annance left his position behind the bush and walked a few steps toward her, and whenever she turned he would stand perfectly motionless.

By repeating this operation several times, he managed to reach the edge of the lake without alarming the moose. As soon as the animal showed any signs of leaving the water, the guide retreated a few steps. Once or twice did the moose raise her head and look at him, only, however, to resume her clumsy frolics.

Presently the moose made toward the shore, and Annance concealed himself behind the brush again. At the edge of the lake the animal turned to take a last look and shake the spray from her nose. Then she advanced slowly up the sloping bank. When opposite the guide she sniffed something, stopped and looked around.

That was the guide's chance, and he knew it.

The critical moment had arrived, and with one quick but silent movement he was by the animal's side. She did not move except to turn her head and look at him. Annance kept near her hind quarters, well knowing that if he got in front of the moose he would not stand much chance should she become ugly.

Cautiously bending forward the hunter stroked her sides and allowed her to turn and smell of him. After a few seconds, seeing the moose did not appear frightened, Annance, with little more difficulty than is experienced with many domestic animals, proceeded to fill a small pail he had brought along with rich, yellow milk.

Returning to camp, he produced the milk when breakfast was ready in the morning, having kept the pail in the water over night, much to the astonishment of the guides and sportsmen.

People who visit Moosehead often hear Charles Annance spoken of as the "dairyman," and the foregoing story is what gives him the nickname.—Lewiston Journal.

Almost Like Jonah.

"I've had some experience myself," said an old sailor, "but two years ago I came the nearest taking after Jonah that a man ever did. We had made a strike all right and the whale went down, not very far, but when he came up he had his mouth open, and somehow or other he came up with one jaw on the port and the other on the lee side of our boat. Surprised? Well, that whale looked very much as if he was ready to receive company, but I wasn't invited, so I made a streak for another boat."—San Francisco Examiner.

Goslin (horrified)—I haven't been looking for a lodger, madam.

Mrs. Fangle—Why, I'm certain my husband told me you had rooms to let in your upper story.—Exchange.

Not So Much Spare Money.

The reason why there is less speculation in mining stocks in Wall street than there was formerly is not because there is less gold and silver mined west of the Mississippi, but because there is less unemployed cash east of that river.—New York Sun.

THE SWEET, SAD YEARS.

The sweet, sad years, the sun, the rain, Alas, too quickly did they wane! For each some boon, some blessing bore; Of smiles and tears each had its store, Its chequered lot of bliss and pain.

Although it idle he and vain, Yet cannot I the wish restrain That I had held them evermore, The sweet, sad years!

Like echo of an old refrain, That long within the mind has lain, I keep repeating o'er and o'er, "Nothing can e'er the past restore; Nothing bring back the years again, The sweet, sad years."

—Rev. Charles D. Bell.

Working on Mountain Tops.

Some practical facts are furnished by the experience of the workmen engaged in the construction of the new Central railway over the main range of mountains in Peru. The line starts from Lima, in latitude 12 degs. The summit tunnel of this line at Galeria is at the height of 15,645 feet, or a little under the height of Mont Blanc, but it must be remembered that the climatic conditions are very different and more unfavorable in Peru than in Europe.

Mr. E. Lane, the engineer in chief, finds that the workmen up to an altitude of 8,000 to 10,000 feet do about the same relative quantity of work as at sea level, provided they have been inured to the height or brought up in the country. At 12,000 feet the amount of work deteriorates, and at 14,000 to 16,000 a full third has to be deducted from the amount that the same man could perform at sea level. Mules and horses are found to do about the same efficient work proportionately as human beings up to about 17,000 feet in the district.—Nineteenth Century.

Remarks About Snow.

The snow was particularly light and fluffy, and it settled on the sidewalks like fine goose feathers. The janitor of a certain flat is a son of Ham, built like a Hercules. The janitor of the next flat is a son of Erin. The two recognize no color line, and are great friends. Before the sun they rose to clear the sidewalks of the snow or it should be trampled down by pedestrians. Both were equipped with snow shovels.

"By golly, Pat," shouted the Hercules son of Ham, after he had been working for a few minutes, "dis yar snow ain't so feadery dat shovelin it ain't no good no-how. 'Mind me, of pushing fog."

"Well, begorra," replied Pat, without looking up from his work, "get a fan and fan it off."—New York Times.

Big Salvage in New York Harbor.

In 1889 the City of New York, on her first voyage to this port, ran ashore off Sandy Hook. A leading wrecking company of this city took a score of lighters down to take off her cargo so that she might be floated. A number of tugs aided in the work.

The wrecking company put in a claim for salvage and was awarded $75,000. Including the compensation to the tugs which worked with the wrecking company the total amount of salvage awarded was over $100,000.—New York Evening Sun.

His Retort Courteous.

A well known New Yorker, famous for his bon mots, was asked by a friend upon returning from Boston recently if he had renewed his acquaintance with a certain lady well known for her impressive style and blue stockinged qualities.

"No," he replied with a smile. "She invited me one evening to 'meet some minds at tea,' but I had an engagement—to meet some stomachs at dinner—at the St. Botolph club, and so I had to forego the pleasure."—New York Herald.

The Smallest Painting.

Probably the smallest painting ever made was the work of the wife of a Flemish artist. It depicted a mill with the sails bent, the miller mounting the stairs with a sack of grain on his back. Upon the terrace where the mill stood was a cart and horse, and in the road leading to it several peasants were shown. The picture was beautifully finished, and every object was very distinct, yet it was so amazingly small that its surface could be covered with a grain of corn.—New York Press.

Working in Great Altitudes.

Owing to the absence of malaria the percentage of efficient labor at the greatest elevation is a very high one. Men coming from the coast are not found capable of doing efficient work for about two weeks on an average, when taken to high elevations. The capacity gradually increases and reaches its maximum in a few weeks or months, according to the constitution of the individual.—Nineteenth Century.

The Egyptians and Romans.

The Egyptians and the Romans among ancient nations present characteristic examples of inequality in the development of the different elements of their civilization, and even of the different branches of which each of these elements is composed.—Popular Science Monthly.

We are told by Livy that when Hannibal had vanquished the Romans in the battle of Cannæ two women, seeing their sons whom they had supposed dead return in good health, died immediately from excessive joy.

Lentily will operate with greater force in some instances than rigor. It is therefore my first wish to have my whole conduct distinguished by it.—Washington.

In public house signs three seems to play an important part, such signs as "Three Bells," "Three Jolly Sailors," "Three Bears," etc., being often used.

A fast penman will write at the rate of thirty words a minute, which means that in an hour's steady writing he has drawn his pen along a space of 300 yards.

The Chinese women, who have coarse, hard hair, though beautiful, use a curious mixture of honey and flour to cleanse and soften it.

At an English Dinner Party.

Everybody took a lady and procession down to the dining room, but there the dispute began. The Duke of Shoreditch wanted to take precedence and sit at the head of the table, holding that he outranked a minister who represented merely a nation and not a monarch, but I stood for my rights and refused to yield. In the gossip column I ranked all dukes not royal, and said so, and claimed precedence to this one. It couldn't be settled, of course, struggle as we might and did, he finally (and injudiciously) trying to play birth and antiquity, and I "seeing" his conquerer and "raising" him with Adam, those direct posterity I was, as shown by my name, while he was of a collateral branch, as shown by his and by his recent Norman origin; so we all processioned back to the drawing room again and had a perpendicular lunch—plate of sardines and a strawberry, and you group yourself and stand up and eat it.

Here the religion of precedence is not so strenuous. The two persons of highest rank chuck up a shilling; the one that wins has first go at his strawberry and the loser gets the shilling. The next two chuck up, then the next two, and so on. After refreshment, tables were brought, and we all played cribbage, sixpence a game. The English never play any game for amusement. If they can't make something or lose something—they don't care which—they won't play.—Mark Twain in Century.

And He Got It Cheap.

Here is an anecdote that J. Scaver Page tells of a "close call" he had soon after Russell Sage had his "close call." "A wild eyed man, with his hair somewhat tumbled, entered our store, and walking up to one of the salesmen held a can out at arm's length and said, 'I want a quart of vermilion, and I want it quick.' The salesman eyed his visitor sharply and then said nervously: 'Y-es, sir. W-wait a minnit and I-I'll find it for you.' He ran into my office and cried out excitedly: 'Mr. Page, there's a man out there with a can of dynamite, and he says he wants a quarter of a million!' 'Well, go tell him I'll be out in a moment,' said I. The wild eyed man was still standing in the center of the store holding out the can when I came out. 'What is it you want, my friend?' said I very nervously. 'The man was beginning to get angry. 'A quart of vermilion,' he shouted, 'and I want it pretty quick.' 'Will you take a check?' 'No. What do I want with a check? I tell you I want a quart of vermilion.' 'Say that again, and saw it said, 'I said, 'Oh—quart—of—vermilion,' said the man. 'A-h!' I exclaimed, intensely relieved and wiping perspiration beads from my brow. 'Here, get this man a quart of vermilion and don't charge him anything for it.'—New York World.

General Sherman's Individuality.

In one of Lawrence Hutton's articles on deathsmen he speaks incidentally of General Sherman's strong individuality, which causes a certain sculptor to remark: "When I was busy with a bust of General Sherman and saw him every day, it was a curious fact that he made positively no personal impression upon my mind. I admired him and revered him, but it was hard work to remember that he himself was there. I stood on the corner watching his funeral with the rest of the crowd. I was interested in looking at the notables, and I sincerely grieved for the great man's death. But do you know at the moment the hearse was drawn past me my attention was completely absorbed by some idle incident of the occasion. Only at the last second did I think: 'There it is again. I cannot even rivet my attention upon him while his dead body is passing by.'"—St. Louis Republic.

A Bright Horse and a Clever Dog.

Few telegraphers are better known in New York than George Mudgett, of the postal office, and there are fewer still who have a better fund of stories. He tells of a certain horse who accompanies a Scranton (Pa.) lineman on his trips. This horse can see a broken insulator quicker than his rider, and always stops when one is reached. It is hardly necessary to add that the horse can telegraph with his feet, but no one knows what he "signs." The same lineman owns a dog who can tell by the bell attached to the district messenger register when a certain firm rings a call. The dog at once runs to the store, takes the message in his mouth and delivers it safely at the telegraph office. George Mudgett says he never invents yarns.—New York Advertiser.

Notes About Alligators.

There is nothing that a 'gator likes better than fresh pork, and he will toddle three miles from water for a Florida razorback. In cool weather he buries himself in mud and becomes dormant until it grows warm. Hunters still make a living by killing him for his hide and teeth. The killing of alligators from the decks of river steamers in Florida has been stopped by law. Tourists became very careless in their use of firearms, and would endanger the lives of passengers in their haste to get a shot before the boat got by a plump saurian. Yet it is remarkable that only one person, a woman, was ever wounded in these reckless fusillades.—New York Sun.

Women Carry Daggers.

A prominent jeweler says that he sells a number of daggers annually to women. These are not ornaments, but serious weapons. They are just large enough to slip easily inside a woman's gown. Some women have these made to order, when they are lavishly adorned and incrust with precious stones. They are frequently carried in traveling, when they are intended as weapons of defense. They are preferred to revolvers, which are likely to go off summarily and in the wrong direction.—Jewelers' Circular.

A Season's Success.

"Mrs. Dovekin's trip to Scarborough was a great success this year."

"Indeed! Has she got rid of her old trouble?"

"No, but she has got rid of her old daughter."—London Tit-Bits.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world.

Well, perhaps it was all right, but it sounded a trifle odd when a cross dog chased a love-smitten youth out of the front yard and returned with a sample of his coat-tails, for the local papers to playfully allude to the episode under the head of "a stern chase."

The Pyramid Pile Cure

Is a new discovery for the prompt, permanent cure of Piles in every form. Every druggist has it.
