Ready for Lateral Sewers.

One of the quickest pieces of tegislative work this year was done yesterday in the passage of the act For some time those interested in enabling the city of Ann Arbor to build lateral sewers. This is the act that the council, Monday evening, empowered a committee to draw and get through the legislature. A committee consisting of Mayor Thompson, President Watts, Ald. Ferguson, and City Clerk Miller, went to Lansing, Wednesday evening. On arriving there they were told on all sides that it was impossible to get any bill through at this late day, as many republican measures were unacted upon, although lobbies had been there for several ing the subject, but will include any days, as the members could not secure recognition. Representative Kline took hold of the bill with his characteristic push. At 11:15 a.m. The Michigan Central yesterday Thursday the bill had passed the house. Giving Sight to the Blind.

One of the results of the recent visit of the legislature to this city is a great happiness brought into one life. For a number of years Miss Keene has been a conductress at the School for the Blind at Lansing. She has been blind for a great many years and no hope was entertained that she would be able to see. She is refined and of a happy disposition and had many friends, so that when the legislature visited Ann Arbor, one of the lady attachees of the legislature brought Miss to 12th. The Saline Observer is the great egg paper of the state. Recently when eggs were so valuable as to be worth more than brown stone fronts the editor started in to find the biggest egg. The Saline hens made extra efforts to outdo each other in laying big eggs and the Observer soon had his office filled with the hen fruit. He was in a fair way to become a millionaire when eggs tumbled in price. As soon as the big egg racket played out, the editor, quick to take advantage of the situation, started to tell of the smallest egg. This was a welcome relief to the hens and the Observer last week told of a hen's egg an inch and a quarter in circumference.

There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Memorial Day Exercises.

Memorial Day, this year, promises to be more generally observed in this city than it has been for some years past. The school children have been preparing for it and will take an important part at the cemeteries as well as at University Hall.

The common council, the Ann Arbor Rifles, Sons of Vets., the Woman's relief Corps, and probably the Light Infantry will be in the parade, together with Welch Post, when the column leaves the court house square for the 5th ward cemetery, and on their arrival in the 5th ward, they will be met by about 100 school children, who will accompany them to the cemeteries.

The line of march will probably be north on Detroit st. and Broadway to Brown st., on Brown to Pontiac street, on Pontiac to Kellogg, west on Kellogg to Wright, north on Wright to cemetery. Returning by the same route to the court house.

The wagons will again be filled with flowers and the procession will move east on Huron to State st., south on State st. to N. University ave., east on University ave. to Washtenaw ave., thence to Forest Hill cemetery. Returning by the same route to State st., thence south on State st., to William st., west on William to Main st.

The following is the general order of Commander Sessions:

THE SPARROWS.

Outside my garret window there's a roof, And there the lively sparrows love to come In wintry days, eager to get a crumb. Though feathered warm, in brown and gray,

Are they 'gainst hunger. From a ledge aloof They flurry down, alert and frollesome,
And then again they're sober eyed and glum,
Anxious that I should give for their behoof.
They are abused by some, I freely own;
And when I gave food I have seen them flare

Away awhile, as if they had a fear
Of unexpected harm, but ne'er a stone
Would I throw at these gossips of the air
That the dull weather fills with chatty cheer.

THE PLANET MARS.

His Flery Red Appearance a Subject For Much Speculation.

omparatively near neighbor he has been exciting a great deal of interest, commanding much attention, of late. At long intervals he gets tamelike, becomes sociable and comes quite near us, when glasses of all sorts, sizes and conditions are leveled at him in much the same manner as a new star in front of the footlights is ogled by the curious crowds. Still with all the curious gazing but little if anything of importance can be learned in relation to him. Even the farreaching Lick telescope fails to discover much, except perhaps to refute the fictitious canal theory.

Whether or not it is inhabited by a race of human beings similar to our own cannot on this visit be told, and unless some trenever will be known to the people of this Louis Globe-Democrat. earth-not at least while remaining here. Whence the spirit of men may roam in voyages of discovery after quitting this munlane sphere cannot, of course, be guessed.

There is, though, one curious feature about the planet that causes much speculation, and that is his fiery red appearance, which by some is attributed to the nature will hardly be accepted by careful thinkers. A uniform redness of the soil, which is also quite improbable, would not be adequate to the task, nor in any way sufficient to account for the appearance of the planet.

The only seemingly legitimate explanation is that it is due to the color of the atmosphere that surrounds the planet. When we gaze outward into space, the gaze is met is restful to the eyes; but when the people of Mars, if any there be, gaze outward a crimson pink or fiery red vault, something like what we call a "glorious sunset, meets their vision on every hand which must be quite wearying to the eyes if like foot, which resulted in the discovery ours, but perhaps their eyes are adapted that the alarming roars had been emitted

Whether the theory is true or not, it is far more reasonable than any of the others, and at the same time affords a good speculative theme. We know that our pale blue atmosphere is just adapted to the support of life as found on this planet, and the question is, Can a red colored atmosphere be compounded that will support life? If so, Mars may be peopled; if not, then there any rate, they had never discovered the are no people there. This is a good specula-tive problem for scientists and furnishes a good chance for experimental atmosphere making as well as for speculation.-Me chanical News.

Wheely Land Organs.

It is usually supposed that the fain and squeaky hand organs played by woe ful old women, seated on curbstones and wrapped in shawls, are decrepit from long service in the cause of art. That is not the case. Their builders intentionally leave out notes, so that they shall sound more mournful and touch more quickly the sensibilities of some people. Organs of this kind are known as "wheezers."-New York Sun.

A Singular Coincidence.

"I am not a fatalist," said T. Davitt Henning, "but occasionally I run across things that puzzle a great deal. Not long ago Dr. Tom Hewitt of Leadville, Colo., died. Hewitt was somewhat of fatalist and believed in a great many things that I didn't. Omens and harbingers of evil he was much given to believe in. You have undoubtedly heard stories of people dying and the clock stopping at the same time, or some numerical of its face popping out. Hewitt had a sign in his office window in his residence which read, 'Dr. Tom Hewitt.' It was composed of 11 white letters glued to the pane. Hewitt took sick about 16 months since. A few days after his illness I noticed that one of the Because of the feet of Mars being such a white letters had dropped off and was gone. The illness of the doctor caused the family to forget most everything else, and so the letter was not replaced.

"A month later Hewitt was still sick, and I noticed a second letter was gone He lingered along, up and around now, and then sick again, for a period. Noise From a Toad.

It is a matter of common observation that the loudest sounds are not always made by the largest animals. The roar of the lion exceeds in sonorousness the cry of the elephant. Any one who had of his soil or surface. That proposition and explanation seems quite improbable and might well suppose that its fearful voice might well suppose that its fearful voice breaking the silence of the night must certainly come from the throat of an animal of formidable dimensions.

But perhaps the most remarkable case of vocal power in an animal is that related by a recent traveler in the highlands of Borneo. He was informed by natives that they had heard a tiger roar on every side by a softening blue vault that ing in the neighborhood. Such news is always startling to a stranger in the jungles of the east and hardly less so to the

An investigation was accordingly set on by a toad! This toad of Borneo, however, was by no means an ordinary member of the family. It measured no less than 141 inches around the body.

That the natives should not have recognized the true source of the sound shows that the existence of such toads any rate, they had never discovered the remarkable vocal capabilities of the animals.-Youth's Companion.

A Scene of Ruin.

Saginaw, May 22.—Saturday afternoon the metropolis of the Saginaw valley was visited by the worst confiagration in her history and one of the most destructive which ever visited any city in the state. The loss will amount to about $1,500,000.

The total insurance will aggregate about $600,000. The extent of territory which was burned is about thirty squares, and includes large portions of the Sixth and Seventh wards. This territory was swept nearly clean of every building. A close estimate places the number of buildings destroyed at 275. Over 200 families are homeless and 800 men are thrown out of employment.

The first alarm was turned in at 3:45 o'clock from box 52. The department was called to the mill of Sample & Camp on what is termed the "middle ground," south of Bristol street and on the east side of the river, Just how the fire started is not certain, but it is supposed it caught from sparks, possibly from a passing tug boat. This building was not occupied and the loss was a few hundred dollars.

A strong gale from the southwest drove the flames to 700,000 feet of lumber owned by Brown & Ryan. The sparks from this set fire to the eastern span of the Bristol street bridge, burning it down and cutting off street railway communication. From the bridge thence the flames leaped to the east side, just be-low Bristol street and north of the city hall, where were located a large number of buildings, including hose house No. 6, J. F. Winkler's ice houses, all residences on Tilden street, and on both sides of Washington avenue down to These were quickly

Then the sparks were carried across the old bayou into the premises of the George F. Cross Lumber company, the Planing-Mill Lumber company, the yard and a dozen tenement houses melting like snow. Next came the Allington & Curtis Manufacturing company's extensive plant and Passolt's soap factory, all of which were wiped out. Here the fire struck Jefferson avenue, and in an hour some of the finest residences in the city were in ashes, the sweep being north to Emerson street, where the fire continued eastward south of and along Emerson street out toward the city limits. It cut a wide swath on Owen, Howard, Sheridan and Warren avenues and other streets east. St. Vincent's orphans' home succumbed early, but the inmates were all removed to places of safety. The patients were removed from St. Mary's hospital, which was in extreme danger for a time, but was saved.

An old man named Robert Turner, 89 years of age, lost his life, his body being found near his residence burned to a crisp. This is the only known casuslty, although several persons are reported missing.

A meeting of citizens was held Monday at which it was decided to care for all sufferers at home and not ask outside aid. A subscription list was started and within a few minutes $10,-000 were raised in sums ranging from $500 down.

The disposition of the people here is to encourage the rebuilding at once. Neb. The Allington-Curtis Dust Separator company has already started up on the old Hoyt mill. Edward Germain and the Cross Lumber company will doubtless rebuild at once, and Saginaw industries will not be materially checked. A partial list of the losers is as fol-

Fire broke out Monday night in the rear of the Union hotel on Franklin street, in the same block in which is located the Vincent hotel. By hard work the fire was confined to the Union hotel, McGugan's livery stable and a wooden structure that was vacant. The loss will not exceed $8,000, and is partially covered by insurance.

PERISHED BY FIRE.

Fire Sweeps Through Forests Near Lake City.

Eleven Men Lose Their Lives-Eight of Them Take Refuge in a Well, But the Flames Seek Out and Devour Them.

AN AWFUL CATASTROPHE.

CADILLAC, May 22. - Forest fires aging in the territory northwest of this city reached Louis Sand's lumber yard near Lake City Saturday and resulted in burning to death eleven men. The names of the unfortunates are: Samuel Campbell, John Hill, James Hugh, Hans Jacobson, Michael Mc-Cune, Michael Mulholland, M. C. Pagen, Edward Roorback, Fred Sager, Frank Sangreen, Charles G. Taylor.

The men were assembled at dinner and the forest fire which was burning all around entirely cut off all escape. When they realized their danger they rushed out of the building in which they had been sitting. The smoke so blinded them that they be-came bewildered. They ran hither and thither, unable to find a means of escape, and their horses stampeded, owing to the confusion. Eight of the men jumped into a well to escape the The top curb of the well burned and the timbers fell on the men huddled in the well, literally cooking their heads, the remainder of their bodies being under water.

The property loss is not very great. Forty hogs, three horses, the camp buildings, tools, etc., tell Mr. Sands' loss. The Thayer Lumber company, operating near by, lost eleven cars loaded with logs in the same fire. The engine had to leave its train to make its escape.

Edward Margeridge's sawmill, 4 miles south of Lake City, burned Saturday and the farm buildings and cabins of the pioneer settlers were wiped out of existence. It is reported that a farmhouse near Tustin burned and a man and his wife and two children perished, but it has as yet been impossible to confirm the report. Many men who went out to help to fight the fire were badly scorched. In Grand Traverse county the flames threatened the suburbs of Traverse City, but the danger passed when the wind died down.

HOUGHTON, May 22 .- A terrible bush fire has raged in Ballman's Branch, east of Dollar bay. Over 1,000 cords of hard wood, four houses and seven cars of the Hancock & Calumet railroad were destroyed. Over thirty families were forced to bury their household goods in the ground. Women and children were forced to fight their way over 2 miles to Dollar bay through suffocating heat and smoke. About thirty horses were saved. One horse was scorched so badly that he had to be killed. Engineer Shea, with a wood train, was surrounded by fire, but opened his throttle and made a race for life, while his brakemen jumped off and escaped through

On motion of Ald. Manly, his Honor the Mayor, was invited to a seat inside the railing when attending the council meetings.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE MAYOR. To the Honorable Common Council. Gentlemen: I would respectfully report to your honorable body that I have not approved of so much of your proceedings of May 15, 1893, as grants permission to Richard Kearns to erect a frame dwelling house on Lot 3, Block 3, north Range 4 east in this city. Said lot is within the fire limits. You have no power to legalize a violation of the ordinance establishing fire limits. Your action, therefore, is no protection whatever to Mr. Kearns, and its only effect will be to mislead that gentle man and embarrass those whose duty it is to enforce this ordinance.

Yours respectfully, B. M. THOMPSON, Mayor.

May 19, 1893.

The question being upon the action of granting permission to Richard Kearns to erect a frame house in the fire limits, the mayor's veto notwithstanding, the question was lost, two-thirds of the aldermen elect not voting therefor, by yeas and nays

REPORTS OF SPECIAL COMMITTEES.

SEWERS.

To the Common Council:

Gentlemen—Your committee on Sewers beg leave to report that they have further considered the matter of lateral sewers and plans for defraying the expense of their construction. A joint meeting of the Sewer Committee and Board of Public Works, at which his honor, the Mayor, and Professors Greene and Cooley were invited to be present, was held Friday evening last. A report of the final work done by the Special Committee of the last Council was submitted by Prof. Cooley. This report is hereby submitted as part of our report. Of the four plans presented as having received the most favorable consideration of the former committee, number three is regarded as most nearly meeting the views of your committee, and is believed to possess fewer objections than any yet presented. Special effort has been made to find a plan that will apportion the expense in an equitable and, we hope, satisfactory manner. Such a plan must work little or no hardship on those least able to bear the expense; at the same time, it must enable and encourage the largest number of property owners to make use of the sewers at an early day. Many of our citizens are able and would prefer to pay the entire expense in one payment. The plan recommended we believe will accommodate all. At the same time it permits the city to pay cash as the work proceeds. In this way a large number of our own citizens may be provided with employment, and the necessity to let the work by contract to outside people does not exist to the same extent as would be the case were we obliged to put off for several months the times of payment. While this plan increases the liabilities of the city somewhat, it does not increase the direct taxes, as the interest on the bonds is paid by the persons who make use of them. A double benefit results: first, the city gets its work done cheaper for cash; second, the people who cannot pay the entire about a number of numerical and house connecting sewers.

By reducing the expense of house connecting sewers. Thi shall extend.

Determine a second average cost per foot of all house connecting sawers sufficient to cover the actual expense from the middle of the street to the point of connection with the house. This latter point may be at the house or at the point of connection to a cess-pool now in use, provided it is suitable.

This second cost shall constitute a rate for each foot of connecting sewer that may be necessary or that may be desired by the property owner, to connect the lateral sewer with The city shall assume and defray all other expenses incident to the laying of such lateral and connecting sewers.

When a sewer is built on two sides of a when a sewer is built on two sides of a sew

When a sewer is built on two sides of a corner lot, 4 rods by 8. or its equivalent, the two sides shall be added together and divided by two to determine the frontage on which the first rate for laterals shall be charged.

When more than one house is built on a lot of standard size (4 rods by 8) (the property of a single individual) a certain fixed charge, not less in amount than the average cost of a single connecting sewer shall be made for each additional house, even though one connecting sewer may serve for all such houses.

The rates for stores and similar property shall be the same as for dwellings.

The rates for ware houses, manufacturing and other establishments using large connections, shall be at the actual cost of such connection. Property owners making use of the main sewer shall be charged at the same rates as those making use of the laterals.

The entire cost of laterals and connecting sewers may be paid in one or more lustallments; or the cost of the counceting sewer may be paid when the connection is made and the cost of the laterals. In one or more lustallments shall not exceed five years. Interest at the rate which the bonds hear shall be added to each installment for the time which it may have run.

If be found acceptance of angeles in cities.

We would therefore recommend that the cessary enabling acts be procured from the egislature now in session, in order that ork may begin without unnecessary delay.

GOOD HEALTH.

IS YOUR BLOOD IMPURE? Are you suffering from any Kidney or Female Complaint? Have you a Cough, Cold or any disease of Throat, Chest or Lungs? Is your Liver performing its functions properly? If you have any of these complaints it will certainly pay you to try the medicines mentioned below, which are warranted.

A REMARKABLE CURE.

MESSES. FOLEY & Co., Chicago.

GENTLEMEN:—I had a scrofulous taint of the blood from childhood. An ulcer began on the side of the nose, having all the appearances of a most malignant cancer, became about the size of a silver dollar and ezuded a thin, offensive matter. The agony of mind I suffered cannot be described as I contemplated the progress of the disease.

I was induced to try the Clinic Sarsaparilla; it appeared to neutralize the poison in the blood, the ulcer ceased. The diseased tissues in the bottom and edges of the sore seemed to loosen and the natural flesh to take its place. Thus the cure continued until an even surface remained. No part of the disease remains.

Messrs. Foley & Co.

Gentlemen:—Your Kidney Cure is meeting with wonderful success. It has cured some cases here that physicians pronounced incurable. I, myself, am able to testify to its merits. My face to-day is a living picture of health, and your Kidney Cure has made it such. I had suffered twenty-seven years with the disease, and to-day I feel ten years younger than I did one year ago. I can obtain some wonderful certificates of its medical qualities.
