Put Cow Catchers on Them.

It seems to be impossible to keep the | Minnie A. Drake.... bicycles off the sidewalks. By actual count, the other evening, five different | Mattie Goodale bicycles passed on one sidewalk in an hour and it was not a bicycle street either. Outside the business part of town, the sidewalk bicycle ordinance is not generally respected. Ann Arbor, however, does not seem to be the E. What Grass Lake needs is cowcatchers on the wild and untamed bicycles that roam her streets. Sometimes the pesky things dive around so threateningly that people climb up on fences to get out of the way of them.

West End Farm Notes.

Editor of the Argus:

The letter signed "Irishman," headed "Give him time to develop," in your last issue, has just been read, after my return from among my Indians and other backwoodsmen.

Does he really think that "German" whom Irishman in Christian charity has seen fit to degrade below the "species homo," which I suppose means human being, (Germ. der Mensch), is really capable of development?

This week has much farm work, developing destruction of weeds and of noxious insects, which are legion. Also enabled by energetic management to West Enders are ordered out by the resume manufacturing a very few overseer to mend highways so that days after the fire, thereby causing its Irishman can develop more speed from his fast horse on his way to Dexter and Jackson. Marriage Bells-Adams-Breakey.

A very pretty wedding was held in the M. E. church last evening, when Prof. Ephraim D. Adams was married to Miss May Stevens Breakey. The church was handsomely decorated in white, with palms and ferns, a profusion of flowers and candles. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. M. Coburn, the blessing on the newly married pair being pronounced by Rev. Mr. Adams, father of the groom. Miss Bessie Stevens was the maid of honor, and James F. Breakey was groomsman. The ushers were Charles F. Alexander and J. W. Alexander, of made." Detroit, Lincoln McMillan, of Chicago, and Oscar F. Schmid, of Jackson Prof. A. A. Stanley officiated at the organ. A large audience assembled to witness the ceremony. Prof. Adams, the groom, is a brother of Prof. Henry C. Adams, of this city, and is at present professor of history in the Kansas State University, at Lawrence, Kansas. The bride is the daughter of Dr. William F. Breakey, and has always been extremely popular in Ann Arbor society circles. A reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents one of the prettiest ever held in the

Destroyed by Fire and Again at Work.

The Price Baking Powder Company of Chicago, which is known throughout the country for the superior excellence of its Baking Powder, met with a serious loss on the morning of May 18th, in the nearly total destruction by fire of its factory and offices. No sooner had the flames been subdued than the work of restoration commenced, and the Company by prudent foresight having had stored in outside warehouses duplicate machinery, labels and supplies of raw materials in preparation for any emergency, was customers but a trifling delay in the filling of their orders. Had the Company not been so prepared, the delay would have been very serious, since it would have required months of time

It is now forty years since the goods manufactured by this company were first placed on the market, to Dr. Price being due the distinction of having prepared the first can of Cream of Tartar Baking Powder ever manufactured in any country. It was a great discovery, superseding as it did the old method of using cream of tartar and soda separately, to say nothing of saleratus, was embittered.

In the University of Michigan there is furnished to the Church in of Dexter a respected citizen, this Diocese a field for work and an avenue of influence such as the Diocese itself, with the combined wealth of all its parishes, could not create in a hundred years. This magnificent opportunity is here, ready made, within our borders. The Church has only to embrace it and use it.

It was in the thought of Bishop Harris to make larger use of this opportunity than can be made by Harris Hall and the agencies now connected with it. In his vision he saw established at Ann Arbor a school of the prophets. Will the Church fulfill that vision? Already one Christian body has grasped the situation, and will open its theological school in the coming autumn. Shall the Church which was the first to discover this field ripe for the harvest leave others to gather the choicest grain? NEVER A FAILURE.

The Red River Valley of Minnesota and North Dakota has never had a failure of crops. It produced 30,000,000 bushels of wheat besides other cereals in 1890. Farms can be had on the crop plan, or long time cash payments.

It is not an uncommon thing to pay for a farm from the proceeds of one crop.

It has all of the advantages of an old country in the shape of school, church market, postal & railway facilities and all the chances of a new country in the way of cheap lands, rich soil, and increase in values. It is one of the most fertile and promising regions in America not yet fully occupied. In the rush to the far west, however, this rich valley has been over-looked.

It has room for a million more people.

On the third day after, the babe was bathed for the first time, before an image of the goddess of children—supposed to guard and care for a child until the sixteenth year is reached—then daintily dressed in the finest of fine garments and formally presented to the members of the household each of whom bestowed upon her a beautiful and costly gift, either of jewels or silk After she had been sufficiently admired and discussed by the family, a few friends who called to offer their congratulations in person were admitted and allowed a glimpse of the wee foreigner.

On this important day also a little silver bell and an ancient coin of a particular kind were bound with a piece of red silk tape around each tiny wrist in such a manner as to leave a foot or more of loose string between. According to a popular supersti-tion generally followed in the far east, this string is supposed to have the effect of restraining a child when in after life he or she is inclined to be naughty or disobedient, and the silver and coins are used to insure wealth and prosperity to the wearer. At exhilarating. the expiration of 14 days the cord is re moved. A common expression among the Chinese when children are troublesom is: 'Why can't you behave? Didn't your

With these exceptions the brief life of little Mai has been thus far very much like the life of any American baby. She has her toys and dolls and books, and every pleasant day, attended by her Chinese nurse, she takes a walk in the grounds and parks immediately surrounding her home. Her quaint little figure, in its oriental dress and heavily beaded headdress, always attracts much attention; but, utterly unconscious, she runs and plays at her own sweet will, as bright and happy looking a child as Putting Up Buildings In New York City. It is gratifying to note that New York is putting up better buildings all the time. In a recent week 45 new buildings were projected at an estimated cost of $1,715,000. The rapidity with which a building is put up in this city is amazing. It has come to pass that the story of Solomon's temple is of all downtown buildings. The architect

REPORT OF STREET COMMITTEE. To the Common Council:

Your committee on streets to whom was referred the petition of certain persons interested in lands on Brooks street asking for grades and grading on such street, and a certain resolu-tion asking for an appropriation to grade Gott street, and a certain communication from the Board of Public Works asking for an appropriation for the grading of East Huron street and Thirteenth street, and a certain petition of property holders on Depot street objecting to the laying of a spur track along Depot street crossing Fourth avenue, and a certain petition of residents on Monroe street, asking for a grade to be established, and to grade the street to the grade, respectgrade the street to the grade, respectfully report that they have had the various matters under consideration, and would recommend that all such matter be disposed of as follows:

That the petition and resolution from Brooks and Gott streets be granted, and an appropriation made of $250 for the grading of Brooks, Gott, and Summit streets.

That the sum of $500 be appropriated from the street fund for the grading of Huron street, from Ingalls to Thirteenth streets, also Thirteenth street, from Huron to Ann streets.

That the petition and protest of laying a spur track along Depot street, crossing Fourth avenue, be denied, and the M. C. R. R. Co. granted permission to lay said track, and to plank said Fourth avenue crossing 32 feet in

That the Board of Public Works submit memorandum for a suitable street grade on Monroe street, and that the sum of $50 be appropriated from the street fund for the grading of said street.

That the petition from residents and property owners on First street be referred to the Board of Public Works, with power to act in the matter. Respectfully submitted:

CHRIST. MARTIN, H. G. PRETTYMAN, W. G. SNOW, A. P. FERGUSON, D. F. SCHAIRER, Street Committee.

On motion of Ald. O'Mara the report was accepted and filed.

REPORT OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT COMMITTEE.

To the Common Council: Your committee on Fire Department, to whom was referred the communication of the Board of Fire Communication of the Board of Fire Commissioners relative to equipping a fire company in the 6th ward, respectfully report that they agree with the board, that it would be inadvisable and inexpedient to weaken the department at the central station. The board estimates that it would cost $3,975, and that the maintenance after the first year, the company would cost annually $2,250. While this seems to be a large sum of money, pevertheless your com-mittee deem the establishment of the company in the 6th ward necessary for the ample protection of property in that ward, and parts of the 4th and 1st

We would therefore recommend the appropriation of $4,000 for the estabshment of a company in the 6th ward and its maintenance for one year. Respectfully submitted:

GENTLEMEN:—I had a scrofulous taint of the blood from childhood. An ulcer began on the side of the nose, having all the appearances of a most malignant cancer, became about the size of a silver dollar and ezuded a thin, offensive matter. The agony of mind I suffered cannot be described as I contemplated the progress of the disease.

I was induced to try the Clinic Sarsaparilla; it appeared to neutralize the poison in the blood, the ulcer ceased. The diseased tissues in the bottom and edges of the sore seemed to loosen and the natural flesh to take its place. Thus the cure continued until an even surface remained. No part of the disease remains.

Little Miss Muffet of old
Was frightened by Spider, the grim;
But little Miss Muffet the second or third
Would soon have dissected him, Boxed him away in a tin!

Now which would you rather be?
The first or the second or third?
Ah, "on a tuffet" is quite out of style,
Indeed 'tis very absurd!
I'd ho Miss My Wet the third and the or I'd be Miss Muffet the third and the gay And out for a holiday! -Housekeeper

Bright Little Walter. One bright morning Walter, who is a very wise little fellow, and his auntie were sit-ting out on the cool porch, and Walter was trying to explain to her the difference between a lilliput and a pygmy. "You know, auntie," said he, "that both pygmies and lilliputs are little bits of people. All lilliputs are pygmies, but all pygmies are not lilliputs." "Why, how can that be?" said suntie pretending not to understand and auntie, pretending not to understand and trying to test the little fellow, who thought for a few moments, and then looking up with a bright smile said, "Well, auntie, you know a ship is a boat, but all boats are not ships." His auntie thought he was a very bright little boy to make such a clear explanation, as he was only 5 years old.— Youth's Companion.

Tobogganing In Canada.

The popular winter sport in Canada is tobogganing, and the "grownups" as well as the children indulge in the exhilarating wood, usually 5 or 6 feet long, very much in the shape of the blade of a Dutch skate, except that it is about 20 inches wide. On this perch one, two or three people, the front ones squatting, the back one trailing his feet to steer the toboggan in case it gives signs of leaving the track. If there is only one, he lies prone on the toboggan. The start is very steep, not far short of perpendicular, so as to give the proper im-

Of course there are smaller toboggans for the use of small boys and girls—such as the one shown in the accompanying illustra-tion. Wrapped up good and warm, the children are enjoying their ride down a long slope.

CADETS IN CAMP.

Col. Rogers and 140 Youths from the Michigan Military Academy Pitch Their Tents at Jackson Park-Dress Parades to CHICAGO, Ill., June 3.—Col. J. Sumner Rogers led 140 soldiers into Midway Plaisance Friday, and before night his men had pitched 100 tents and taken possession of the outermost post of the street. He is the head of the Orchard Lake (Mich.) military academy, and his command is made up of cadets from that academy, with their professors, tutors and field officers. There will be dress parades each day at 5 o'clock, sometimes in front of the Government building, at plaza others on the grand and frequently in front of their camp. The commencement exercises will conclude the visit, and then the boys will scatter to their homes in all the states. President Palmer, of the national commission, delivers the address and Gen. Miles presents the diplomas. A splendid band accompanies the cadets. camp is called "Camp Davis," in honor of the director general of the exposition.

CHICAGO, June 5 .- On Sunday Rev. Dr. Henderson, of the department of social science, University of Chicago, preached a sermon to the Orchard Lake cadets, encamped at the east entrance to Midway Plaisance. The cadets will give an exhibition drill in the presence of the Spanish infanta, Princess Eulalie, some time during the week.

Millionaire Blodgett Weds.

GRAND RAPIDS, June 6.-Delos J. Blodgett, of this city, was married in Grace church, New York, Saturday to Miss Daisy Peck. They will travel for a year before coming here to live. Mr. Blodgett is widely known as a lumberman, philanthropist and disciple of Ingersoll, and, in view of his marriage, a few weeks ago divided his estate, valued at five or six millions, into three parts and gave one share each to his son, John W. Blodgett, and his daughter, Mrs. Edward Lowe, retaining the balance for himself.

Will Present Their Claims.

LANSING, June 6.—There promises to be a great scramble between cities and villages desiring the location of the proposed home and training schools for feeble-minded children. Already Bay City, Battle Creek, Saginaw, Port Huron, Lapeer, Charlotte, Howell and Greenville have entered the ring.

SUNK IN A FOG.

ALPENA, June 3.—The steel steamer Corsica collided with an unknown schooner 15 miles off Thunder Bay island on Lake Huron at daybreak Friday morning in a fog. The schooner was cut in two and went to the bottom instantly. Her entire crew was lost. The Corsica had no time to wait for the rescue of any survivors who might be floating around in the mass of wreckage, as her bow was stove in and water was pouring into her hold. She was run on the shore in Thunder bay just below Ossineke. The bows are all crushed in for a considerable distance and twenty-four big steel plates are loosened.

DETROIT, June 5.-There now remains but little doubt that the schooner sunk by collision with the steamer Corsica in Lake Huron early Friday morning was State Bank Commissioner Sherwood the Corsican, of this city, as no other as reappointed Eugene A. Sunderlin schooner is now missing. The Corsican carried a crew of five men, but their names are not known here.

A NEW YORKER.

Particular. "From New York, eh?" queried an old farmer down in a New Jersey town where a railroad accident detained me week before last several hours.
"Yes, from New York," I replied.

"Waal, you've got a cur'us lot o' critters up thar."
"What do you mean?"
"Too blamed pertickler for anythin! It's a wonder you don't want a different air from what we breathe down here!" "Have you had a New Yorker down

"I hev, and if he's a sample of your crop I never want to see another. He was drivin across from Vineland and broke down and staid with me over night. Begun to put on airs the very fust thing. Thought he was too awfully nice to wash himself in the pasin and wipe on the kitchen towel with the hired man and the rest of us. He wouldn't eat no fried pork for supper, and he jest tasted the other things and shoved back and said he was tired."
"Yes?"

"We tried to make him feel to hum in the evenin, but he was as contrary as a mule. One of the naybur's gals cum in and sung seven gospel hymns while my own gal played the organ, but he didn't seem to know what music was. I offered o play him a game of checkers, but he lidn't thank me fur it. Jest carried him-self as if he was the salt of the airth and we vas dirt. The gals wanted to make some asses candy, but he turned up his nose and said he never eat it.' 'Sure he was a New Yorker?"

"Oh, yes. We found that out fur sure. When he cum to go to bed, he pulled off the feather bed and throwed one of the pillars on the floor. When he got up, he kicked 'cause he didn't have water and lowels in his room. We give him the best ha'rbrush in the house, but the blamed critter never used it! We borrowed the hired man's comb fur him, but he jest looked at it and laid it down! The old woman humped herself to git a nice breakfast, but he didn't appreciate it. You could see what his bringing up was from the way he acted. He happened to git a fork with only one tine to it, and he asked the hired girl right out to change it for him! Even our preacher wouldn't hev done that. When I asked the blessing at the table, I had my eyes closed and couldn't see him, but the hired man will sw'ar that he sort o' grinned

"I think he must have come from Brook-

"No, he was a New Yorker straight 'nuff. and I guess a fair sample of the rest of you, from what I've heard. When he cum to go and I charged him $2 for meals and lodgin's, he flung the money down on the table and went off mad. Why, them seven gospel hymns was wuth $200, to say nuthin of wo meals and a bed!"

"From his actions I should say that he was from Jersey City. In fact, I know a man over there who"-

"You needn't try to sneak out o' it, *ranger," he interrupted. "He was one o' you New Yorkers who think you own the airth and part of Mexico, and I'm tellin you that if this train has to stay here fur a month I wouldn't take one o' you home with me short o' $3 a day. Even then you'd nev to sign a paper that you wouldn't turn up your nose at saleratus biscuits or kick at 'taters with their hides on!"—New York

"It isn't made any wider." 'Are you sure it will wear well?" "Certainly, ma'am—like cast iron."
"And won't fade nor shrink?"

'Not the least bit, ma'am.' "Do you change goods in this store?"

Society and Amusements In Brooklyn. I have said that the women provide dissi pation for their husbands at night. That is a curious feature of Brooklyn life. It has no Ward McAllister, no Four Hundred -nothing that those names imply. It is true that there used to be a smart set on the heights, and there are others in Clinton avenue, in New York and Brooklyn ave nues, and on the park slope, but then no one has ever decided that one is any better than another. Instead of one crowning triumph of caste, society there is divided into church coteries as a basis, and out of these grow many sorts of little circles, each combination being reproduced over and over again beyond calculation in the same district, and in the many districts which in Brooklyn are quite as distinct as if they were separate cities.

The lesser circles of which I speak are bowling clubs, whist clubs, euchre clubs, poker clubs, literary guilds, musical coteries, amateur dramatic companies and ancing classes. Poker is played for small akes in many circles in Brooklyn-solely. trust, because it has charms to keep the men at home; but bowling is a passion with the Brooklyn folk. Investigate what set you will, and it is almost sure to include a bowling club in its ramifications and adjuncts.—Julian Ralph in Harper's.

Walking Leaves and Other Things. Nature's law being almost universal so far as the protection of the weak creatures is concerned, it is not at all wonderful, perhaps, that she has formed insects into perfect counterparts of flowers, leaves, sticks, etc. Some of the "walking leaves," those which are natives of India, China and Japan in particular, are large, grotesque looking creatures, their resemblance being strikingly like a bundle of yellow twigs joined together with faded, macerated leaves. The limbs of this species of insect are long, slender and very twiglike, the col-oring being suited to that particular species of vegetation upon which the deceptive mimicker subsists.

The "walking stick," like the walking leaf, is also very deceptive as far as looks go. The males have small, slender bodies. the legs or arms starting from it just as smaller limbs of a tree or weed start from larger ones. The "walking thorn" of Java belongs to this curious order of insects, as do also the "devil's horse" and the mantis. The "walking thorn" looks exactly like the large compound spine of our common honey locust tree, even in color and general contour.—St. Louis Republic.
