One of the greatest tasks set before a newspaper writer is to attempt to describe the World's Fair at Chicago. #### RIGHT HERE WE WANT TO SAY

A certain competitor is offering a piano for which we are state agents at a price absurdly low and at which it is known it cannot be furnished. Such conduct is beneath the dignity of responsible dealers who are above misrepresentation and falsehood. Parties making such statements simply misrepresent facts and have no intention of making such offers good. A state agency for a reliable piano carries with it reasonable business protection which every legitimate manufacturer invariably gives to those agents who sell his piano. We sell the pianos we represent on their merits regardless of those sold by others, or misleading statements made by them. Dealers having a reputation usually do the same. Others could follow this method to advantage.

crop plan, or long time cash payments. It is not an uncommon thing to pay for a farm from the proceeds of one crop. It has all of the advantages of an old country in the shape of school, church, market, postal & railway facilities and all the chances of a new country in the way of cheap lands, rich soil, and increase in values. It is one of the most fertile and promising regions in America not yet fully occupied. In the rush to the far west, however, this rich valley has been over-looked. It has room for a

A STRANGE CASE.

How an Enemy was Foiled

The following graphic statement will be read with intense interest: "I cannot describe the numb, creepy sensation that existed in my arms, hands and legs. I had to rub and beet those parts until they were sore, to overcome in a measure the dead feeling that had taken possession of them. In addition, I had a strange weakness in my back and aroundamy waist, together with an indescribable 'gone' feeling in my stomach. Physicians said it was creeping paralysis, from which, according to their universal conclusion, there is no rehef. Once it fastens upon a person, they say, it continues its 'insidious progress until it reaches a vital point and the sufferer dies. Such was my prospect. I had been doctoring a year and a half steadily, but with no particular benefit, when I saw an advertisement of Dr Miles' Restorative Nervine, procured a bottle and began using it. Marvelous as it may seem, but a few days had passed before every bit of that creepy feeling had left me, and there has not been even the slightest indication of its return. I now feel as well as I ever did, and have gained ten pounds in weight, though I had run down from 170 to 13°. Four others have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine on my recomendation, and it has been as satisfactory in their cases as in mine."—James Kane, La Rue, O.

By and by he got big enough to stand on his hind feet and see the play as well as any of the bystanders. He was lots of fun for the boys, and they named him Sport But they were not prepared for the way the bear developed and wouldn't believe it until it was brought so plain before their eyes that they might as well have said they didn't believe there was such a thing as pool. Before he was 6 months old the bear knew all the points of the game and got so that he wouldn't look on at a game if the players were green or poor ones, but after seeing a shot or two would go off to his corner in disgust and go to good game.

"But we hadn't begun to know that bear J. F. Boughton, who lately worked late in the summer after everybody had quit and gone home, I went out on the stoop to smoke a cigar before I went to bed. Pretty soon I heard the poolballs clicking. I glanced in through the open window, and there was Sport with a cue in his paws, dancing about the table and pegging away at the balls. It was a comical sight, and I was having a good laugh all to myself, when all at once my merriment gave way to a sort of awe, and I gazed in at that bear Ex-governor Winans is not all with my mouth wide open and my eyes staring, for I discovered that he wasn't punching the balls around in a haphazard and aimless way, but was putting up about as scientific play at pool as I had ever seen! He was holing the balls not only by simple and easy line shots, but was tackling difficult combinations and doing artistic cross table and cushion shots with the skill and accuracy of a champion.

"By and by I recovered myself sufficient ly to get up and go inside. Sport hurried to put up his cue and looked sheepish. taker, bestrewed the ground with Then he started to go away, but I called salt, vinegar and tobacco, the last him back and coaxed him into a game with me. Homes for World's Fair Visitors.

In view of the crowded condition of Chicago and its hotels during the World's Fair period, Poole Bros. have done a public service in issuing a very carefully prepared list of the homes in Chicago that are thrown open to the public on this occasion. The list is complete and gives the name, location, and number of rooms, etc., so that correspondence may be had and arrangements made before the visitor comes to Chicago. This list is accompanied by splendid sectional maps of the city on a large scale, by which the location of every house can be accurately found. 2 Copies can be obtained at the Michigan Central ticket office at the publisher's price, 50 cents—less really than the value of the maps them-

Supreme Court Justice Long Loses His Pension.

Although Still Suffering Much from His Wounds, He Is Decided Not to Be Helpless, and Is Therefore Suspended. HIS CASE TO BE INVESTIGATED.

DETROIT, July 22.- The most sensational thing that has yet come to light relative to the so-called purging of the pension list is the suspension of a no less distinguished pensioner than Justice Charles Dean Long, of the Michigan supreme court. Few soldiers in this state suffer from wounds as severe as those of Justice At the battle of Wilmington Island, Ga., he lost his left arm and he was also shot through the hips and abdomen. This latter wound has still to be dressed twice daily. Although the order of suspension bears river at Grand Haven. date of June 27, Mr. Long has not yet Five hundred and se received official notice of its issuance.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 24 .- Touching the suspension of the pension of Justice Charles Dean Long, of the Michigan supreme court, it has been ascertained that Judge Long was in receipt of $72 a month for the loss of his left arm above the elbow and a gunshot wound in his left hip. Second Deputy Commissioner Bell says:

"Report being made that in spite of his being pensioned for 'total helplessness, requiring the pensioned for total neiplessness, requiring the regular aid and attendance of another person, he was performing his duties as a justice of the supreme court of Michigan at a salary of $7,000 per annum, the bureau naturally came to the conclusion that an investigation of the case was demanded and an investigation of the case was demanded and suspension followed accordingly, on the ground that the performance of duty as justice of the supreme court of Michigan at a salary of $7,000 per annum was hardly consistent with total helplessness requiring the regular aid and attendance of another person.

"The papers on file in this case show a peculiar and extraordinary state of affairs. The pensioner has not been examined since March 21, 1884, at which time the board at Washington, D. C., rated him at $30 per month. In August, 1884, this pension was increased to $50 per month from March 21, 1884, the date of the last medical examination, at which time this rate contemplated helplessness or a degree of disability so nearly approaching helplessness that bility so nearly approaching helplessness that the regular aid and attendance of another per-son, was required. In May, 1889, Mr. Long's pension was rerated and increased by Commis-sioner Tanner and an allowance made of $50 per month from June 4, 1874, the date of the law per month from such and $72 per month from June 17, 1878, the date of the law establishing that rate of pension. The rerating and increase of pension were made on the personal order of Commissioner Tanner. In August, 1889, Commissioner Tanner granted a second rerating at the rate of $25 per month from June 6, 1866; and $31.25 from June 4, 1872 This constituted an increase of $10 per month from June 6, 1806, and $13.25 from June 4, 1872, to June 4, 1874 No application for increase or rerating was ever made by Mr. Long subsequent to August 1884, when his mansion subsequent to August, 1881, when his pension was increased to $50 per month, except a letter written to Commissioner Tanner June 12, 1889, in which he requests a rerating of his pension from June 4, 1866, to June 4, 1872, at $25 per month; and from June 4, 1872, to June 4, 1874, at $31.25 per month, which request was duly complied with by Commissioner Tanner, de-spite the fact that no legal application had ever been made for a rerating.

"It is needless to say that the acts of Commissioner Tanner in rerating and increasing missioner Tanner in rerating and increasing this pension without application on the part of the pensioner being made and without further medical examination were wholly unwarranted by any law or rule or order in existence in this bureau at that time or since. In other words, Commissioner Tanner raised this pension from $50 per month to $72 per month, and between May, 1889, and August, 1889, granted two reratings, each carving large argearges, without any legal aprying large arrearages, without any legal application on the part of the pensioner or any medical examination, so far as the records show, the generous act of the commissioner of pensions resulting in the payment to Mr. Long of a total sum of $6,912.94."
