The council meeting last night was adjourned until Tuesday evening by what seemed to be the consent of both sides, and it is rumored that the whole matter is to be amicably adjusted.

EQUALIZING TAXES.

Valuation.

An Annual Division of the Swag .- And Some Years the Swag Has Been Large.—Read the Figures.

Supervisor Pond in this week's Courier has an article on Equalization, which is as follows:

The chronic appetite known as the board of supervisors, went through its annual act of adding to the equalized valuation of Ann Arbor city again last Thursday. The committee on equalization,-four members, at least-had been working incessantly for three, long, busy weeks in figuring out how they could take from their own valuation, and add to that of the city. It was not a question with them, whether it was right or not, (no city supervisor was conferred with or asked what he thought, or in any way consulted about the matter) but it was a question of how much they should take, because they had the power and proposed to do it anyhow.

Of course we realize that it is not customary when a man is going to rob you to tell you about it, and confer with you as to how much he shall rob you of.

Last year they practically added $888,000 to Ann Arbor's assessed valuation-that was a fine record for them to go to their constituents on! This year they were more modest and only added $200,000 to Ann Arbor and $50,000 to Ypsilanti.

The following figures show how they divided the plunder this time: Ann Arbor town - - - $10,000 Bridgewater - - - 15,000 Dexter - - - - - 10,000 Freedom - - - - 10,000 Lodi - - - - - - 20,000 Northfield - - - - 10,000 Pittsfield - - - - 20,000 Salem - - - - - 15,000 Saline - - - - - 15,000 Sharon - - - - - 20,000 Superior - - - - 15,000 Webster - - - - 20,000 Ypsilanti town - - - 20,000

The towns of Augusta, Lima, Sylvan and York, for reasons best known to themselves, probably, were left without any of the pie.

* * * * The four members of the committee concocting this gigantic scheme each unloaded $20,000-nothing selfish about that! But the queerest freak in the whole business was the reduction of Manchester $25,000! What earthly reason there was for it no one seems to know except that the committee had that much to scuttle in some way, and Watkins, the supervisor, is one of the jolly good fellows of the Board And he labored with them incessantly to that end. The town did not deserve it. It is one of the best in the whole county. It is wide awake and thriving. There is no dead wood in Manchester, and there is not a township in the county so so rich in good farms, live business houses in a thriving village, bright, active and well-to do men and women, as in Manchester. It is the last one in the bright galaxy of Washtenaw county townships that one would think belonged in the charitable column. But there it went, while townships like Lyndon, and Freedom and Northfield had to be content with a paltry $10,000. "Justice" looked through queer eyes, that time.

* * * * When one considers that this amount of $250,000, by being taken from the tax rolls of these towns and added to the burdens of the city taxpayers ,makes in reality $500,000 the richness of this supervisor's gold mine can be readily appreciated.

At the rate the transfer of tax burdens has been going on for the past years from the county towns to the city, it is only a question of time when the city will not only have to pay all the taxes, but actually pay a per capita premium to the residents of these townships.

It has been suggested that this last statement is overdrawn; perhaps it is; time alone can tell; but that's the way it looks now.

by county supervisors that Ann Arbor is not assessed high enough, but vet no one ever brought forward a figure to prove such an assertion.

In looking over a Kalamazoo paper the other day we came across the work of the supervisors there, and we find Kalamazoo city valued at only $6,719,190!

Kalamazoo is a place of 25,000 inhabitants. It is worth double Ann Arbor city to-day in wealth and manufactures, and yet its supervisors place it at only $1,000,000 more than our supervisors do Ann Arbor, our figures being $5,175,000.

In Washtenaw county there are 20 townships; in Kalamazoo 16; and yet Ann Arbor pays more than onefifth of the whole tax of the county, while Kalamazoo though double the size of Ann Arbor, and having four less townships to help her out, pays less than one-fourth the tax of the entire county. This goes to show the injustice with which the county supervisors treat Ann Arbor. And yet you might as well try to give the man in the moon a Delsarte movement as to try to argue with one of these supervisors on this point. They are as deaf as a stone monument and as silent as the sphinx.

Their answer is: "We have got the votes: this is our pie; we propose to slice it up as we choose and eat a piece every year. In the language of the mortal Flannigan, of Texas, 'That's what we are here for.' "

Here is the way the equalization committee worked this year, (and it is a specimen of every year). Toward the last end of the session they got together and discussed this one point only: "How much shall we give the city of Ann Arbor this year?"

There was no comparing of rollsexcept the log rolling done by the supervisor from Manchester-no questions asked of the supervisors from the city of Ann Arbor, as to their opinion as to what was right; in fact the question of right never once entered the minds of the committee, it was a question of might.

After the amount was agreed up on as $200,000 then they set about dividing the swag. This was a somewhat difficult task as they all wanted it, and the Manchester man especially, and he succeeded so well in showing that he had more personal on his books than all the other supervisors put together, prevailed upon the committee at last to give him the biggest slice. After each of the committee had agreed to keep for their own use $20,000 then they set about giving to their personal friends on the board. And that's the way it was dome. And that is probably the way it will continue to be done until the injustice gets so rank, as it has in some counties, that the legislature will interfere, and fix it so that the imposition can be continued no longer.

That our readers may know just how much the city has been raised since this "salting" business commenced, we give below a table, showing equalized valuation as it was in 1883, and as it is now, with the increase and decrease for each district. It will be interesting to peruse:

	Equaliz'd 1883.	Equaliz'd 1893.	Decrease

	$30,000,000	825,000,000	8 5 713 000

The increase has been $598,000 for Ann Arbor city, and $5,000 for the first district of Ypsilanti. The decrease for the townships and the 2d district of Ypsilanti city, as will be noticed, has been $5,713,000!

It is a wonderful record, isn't it? When the basis of equalization was changed from thirty millions to twenty-five million dollars, the towns took it all themselves and gave this city none, though Ypsilanti city did receive a share of the same.

We hope that our friends, the supervisors of the various townships, will cut out this table, paste it in their hats, and bring it to the next meeting of the Board. It may be a help to them when the question is asked them, as it always is in the equalization committee, "well, how much shall we raise Ann Arbor this

They may take occasion to look over the figures of the past, and it is possible that their consciences may get a chance to work on them a little.

Mr. Duncan, of Northfield, who voted with the city supervisors against the committee's report this year, did so in the interest of his own township. By adopting that report Webster was reduced $20,000, Salem $15, 000, and his own township only $10,-000, and his own township only stay.

taxes in Northfield, while lowering his rich neighbors.

He was simply making an attempt to get a just division of the plunder.

It must be remembered that all this time the assessed valuation of these towns has been going down. Every year the supervisors have been shrinking the value of the property they placed upon their assessment

That our readers may have some idea of the extent of this shrinkage, we give below a table showing the assessed valuation in 1883, and the same in 1893, together with the amount each township has decreased its property:

In the meantime the property on the rolls in the city of Ann Arbor has increased $797,870, and in Ypsilanti $419,200.

In other words, the assessed valuation of the towns has been decreased $3,026,385, while the assessed valuation in the cities has been increased $1,254,670.

A difference of over $4,200,000 in ten years!

You would hardly believe it, but such is the fact, nevertheless, as these figures are taken from the proceedings of the Board of Supervisors, as found on their journal in the county clerk's

NEVER A FAILURE.

The Red River Valley of Minnesota and North Dakota never had a failure of crops.

It produced 30,000,000 bushels of wheat besides other cereals in 1890. Farms can be had on the crop plan, or long time cash payments.

It is not an uncommon thing to pay for a farm from the proceeds of one crop.

It has all of the advantages of an old country in the shape of school, church, market, postal &railway facilities and all the chances of a new country in the way of cheap lands, rich soil, and increase in values.

A VETERAN'S VERDICT

The War is Over. A Well-known Soldier, Correspondent and Journalist Makes a Disclosure.

Indiana contributed her thousands of brave soldiers to the war, and no state bears a better record in that respect than it does. In literature it is rapidly acquiring an enviable place. In war and literature Solomon Yewell, well known as a writer as "Sol," has won an honorable position. During the late war he was a member of Co. M. 2d. N. Y. Cavalry and of the 13th Indiana Infantry Volunteers. Regarding an important circumstance he writes as follows:

"Several of us old veterans here are using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, all of them giving splendid satisfaction. In fact, we have never used remedies that compare with them. Of the Pills we must say they are the best combination of the qualities required in a preparation of their nature we have ever known. We have none but words of praise for them. They are the outgrowth of a new principle in medicine, and tone up the system wonderfully. We say to all, try these remedies."

—Solomon Yewell, Marion, Ind., Dec. 5, 1892. These remedies are sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. They positively contain neither oplates nor dangerous drugs.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1893.

The farmers of Washtenaw are to be congratulated on the capture of the gang of grain thieves. During the past year much grain has been stolen in this section. The capture this week will undoubtedly lead to more security for the farmers.

NEXT week week you may expect to see the republicans make a great blow because they have carried republican Ohio. The best thing that could happen the democrats of the country at large would be to have McKinley elected by so large a majority as to make him the republican candidate for president in 1896. He would be beaten worse then than Greely was in 1872, or Harrison in 1896.

The people of the United States as well as the citizens of Michigan are to be congratulated upon the appointment of Edwin F. Uhl as assistant secretary of state. He is one of the ablest lawyers of Michigan, a clean cut man, a good reasoner, an orator, a gentleman and a scholar. He is one of Michigan's ablest men, a sturdy democrat, of whom the Michigan democracy is proud. Mr. Uhl was born in this county. He is a graduate of the University and is well known throughout Washtenaw. His old friends in this section congratulate him upon his appointment and the administration upon securing so good a man for the place.

One of the pledges made in the last national platform of the democratic party has been redeemed. The Sherman law has been repealed. The compulsory purchase of silver by the government, left with a depleted treasury by the Harrison administration has ceased. One of the main causes of the present hard times, which have come upon us under republican laws, has been removed. People are assured that gold will not go to a premium in this country and that a dollar in silver or greenbacks will be worth as much as a dollar in gold. The first change in republican laws has been made. The democratic administration is redeeming its pledges to the people.

Our readers must not be disappointed if next week the republican papers should come out claiming a big victory in the by-elections to be held next week. In off years, the party in opposition to the administration have invariably made gains. Possibly this comes because people who have voted for the administration expected better times at once. As a matter of fact, the congress of the old administration meets after the election of a new administration and it is not until after a year from its election that an administration gets into active working operation. This is due simply to the fact that the congress does not ordinarily meet until a year after its election. Hard times have come upon us, partially at least, as a result of unwise republican legislation, which the democratic administration has not had time to repeal. We are yet living under republican laws. The Harrison administration found the administration with a big surplus. administration with a big surplus, but depleted it so effectually that the surplus had dwindled to almost nothing when Cleveland came into office. The Sherman bill has been repealed too late to affect the times before election. The republicans have made the most of the situation and have evidently befogged the river and fatally injured. minds of many voters. We shall be most happily surprised if the elections next week do not show republican gains. But wait until 1896, when the benefit of the repeal of the infamous McKinley bill, which protects corporations at the expense of the individual, shall have been felt and the people will triumphantly endorse a Democratic administration.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND SIGNS THE REPEAL BILL.

Repeal Unconditionally the Sherman Silver Purchase Law by a Vote of 193 Yeas to 94 Nays.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Silver purchases by the government ceased Wednesday. The purpose for which Mr. Cleveland called congress in extraordinary session was accomplished at 4:25 Wednesday afternoon when he affixed his name to the bill to repeal unconditionally the purchasing clause of the Sherman law. The struggle in the house was short. Only 27 men could be rallied for the last stand by the silver leaders, Messrs. Bland and Bryan. Mr. Bland and his colleagues, knowing juries. that further opposition was futile, pre-ferred to sacrifice the opportunity for a few hours' debate offered by Mr. Wil-son, in order to force the majority to bring in the cloture and concur in the senate amendment by duress. But senate amendment by duress. But even in this they failed. Their small following might have succeeded had they been led by experienced and skilful parliamentary tacticians.

Neither Mr. Bryan nor Mr. Snodgrass, his lieutenant, is well versed in parliamentary procedure, and when thrown off their guard by a momentary distraction they exposed their flank by failing to follow one filibustering mo-tion with another. Speaker Crisp overwhelmed them by putting the pending motion to order the previous question. It was carried with a roar. The fili-It was carried with a roar. The fili-busterers had been caught napping and nothing remained for them to do ex-cept to submit. For 30 minutes under the rules followed the rattle of oratory amid the greatest confusion and excite-ment. At its conclusion the vote was taken on Mr. Bland's free coinage sub-stitute. The majority again was still 27. Then came the final vote on con-curring in the senate amendments. The curring in the senate amendments. The vote stood 193 for concurrence and 94 against. When the original bill passed the house Aug. 28 the vote stood 201 to 100, so that although the total vote Wednesday was smaller the proportion was practically the same.

The final vote was taken at 2:50 p. m. The bill was engrossed immediately and 20 minutes later, at 3:10, the formal announcement was made to the senate that its amendment had been agreed to by the house. The bill was hurriedly enrolled by Chairman Pearson of the committee on enrolled bills and at 3:30 was presented to Speaker Crisp for his was presented to Speaker Crisp for his signature. A fleet footed messenger carried it to the senate, where it was signed two minutes later by Vice President Stevenson. Chairman Pearson with the bill under his arm entered a carriage waiting for him in the plaza in front of the Capitol and drove rapidly to the White House. The president had been kept duly advised of the progress of events. Indeed he manifested so much interest in the vote in the house that at his request a duplicate of the that at his request a duplicate of the names of those who had voted for and against the concurrence was made soon after the roll call was completed and this list was lying on the desk when Mr. Pearson arrived with the bill.

Secretary Carlisle, Attorney General Olney and Private Secretary Thurber were present. After felicitating with each other for a few moments over the victory that had been achieved the president took up the engrossed copy of the bill and read it aloud. Then pick-ing up a quill pen he affixed his auto-graph at 4:25. And thus 85 days 4 hours and 25 minutes after the extraordi-nary session convened, the remedy for nary session convened the remedy for the financial distress which Mr. Cleveland demanded in his message was ap-

MAYOR'S OFFICE. ANN ARBOR, October 24, 1853.

ANN ARBOR, October 24, 1853. By virtue of the power and authority vested in me by the charter of this city, I do hereby order, direct and declare

1. That James R. Murray, Marshal and Chief of Police, be and he is hereby suspended from said office.

2. That James R. Murray, Marshal and Chief of Police, be and he is hereby removed from said office, provided a majority of the common council consent thereto.

Said James R. Murray is removed from office as Marshal and Chief of Police for cause. I hereby charge him with:

1. Neglect of duty.

2. With disobedience of orders.

specifications under charge 1, neglect of duty.

(a) That said James R. Murray well knowing that on Sunday, the 8th day of October, 1893 a large number of persons were in the saloon kept by one Joseph Dennison, in this city, and that one of such persons while in said saloon on that day, committed a felony, and was afterwards arrested, and ou Monday, the 9th day of October, was convicted of such offense, he, said Murray, wholly neglected, until ordered so to do by the mayor, to make complaint against said Joseph Dennison for keeping open said saloon contrary to the provisions of the statute.

The undersigned, further answering, says that the Honorable Mayor makes the following charge against him, to-wit:

"(b) That said James R. Murray having been informed by Joseph Deunison that a building kept and occupied by him as a saloon in the city of Ann Arbor was on the 8th day of October, 1893, feloniously broken open and entered by a number of persons, who then and there drank the beer and smoked the cigars of the said Joseph Dennison, he, said James R. Murray wholly neglected to make complaint against any person or persons for feloniously breaking and entering said saloon although he well knew the persons so charged with the commission of said offense."

To this charge and specification, the undersigned, answering, says that the offense mentioned in this charge was one which would properly come under the supervision of the prosecuting officers of the County of Washtenaw; that he does not deem it his province necessarily as marshal of this city to go out of his way to make complaints against persons who have broken and entered the place of business of another in the day time or night time without having had personal knowledge of the commission of such offense: that in the opinion of the undersigned, Jos-ph Dennison, whose place of business was broken into, was the proper person to make complaint against the persons damaging his property; and he was not aware that he was guilty of any neglect of duty or of official misconduct in not volunteering to make a complaint against persons whose names were unknown to him, on information and belief for committing the offense above mentioned.

The undersigned further says that the third specification made against him as follows:

"(a) That the said James R. Murray, having been informed and well knowing that the saloon ket by one Joseph Deunison in the city of Ann Arbor was open on Sunday October 8th, 1893, and that a large number of evil disposed persons were congregated therein on that day, drinking, carousing, committing robberies and other offenses, he wholly negl

The undersigned would further say that he has endeavored in his official action to promptly report any violation of the ordinance of this city or of the liquor laws of this state to the Mayor and has promptly made complaint for any violation of said ordinances or said liquor law where such violations have come to his knowledge.

The undersigned further answering, says that he does not consider that he has been guilty of any neglect of official duty in not reporting the breaking and entering of said saloon on said 8th day of October by presons to him unknown, and he is at loss to understand how the Honorable Mayor can charge him with malfeasance in office and neglect of duty in not reporting an offense which is usually taken care of by the county criminal officials; that as has already been intimated in this answer he had been advised and believes that the breaking and entering of said saloon on the day aforesaid by evil disposed persons without the knowledge or consent of said Joseph Dennison or his clerk, is in no way a violation of the liquor laws of this state by the said Joseph Dennison, and that no court or jury will ever convict a man for committing an offense which was entirely beyond his power to prevent.

Under these circumstances the undersigned would respectfully submit to your Honorable Body that the said charges and specifications made by the Honorable Mayor are without just foundation and are not based upon a correct interpretation of the law, and therefore the said James R. Murray submits that said charges and specifications so made by the Mayor ought not to be entertained and that your Honorable Body ought not to consent to his removal from the office of Marshal of this city. All of which is respectfully submitted.

THE LADY IN WHITE.

A DOCUMENT RELATING TO THE HOHENZOLLERN GHOST.

It Was In the Possession of the Nostitz Family and Was Presented to Prince Frederick-Prince Ferdinand Saw the White Lady Before Saalfeld.

In one of the last issues of The Rus sian Archives, a well known magazine of the czar's country, appears the translation of a document which was added to the family archives of the Hohenzollerns by Emperor Frederick in 1870. It was sent to the emperor, at that time crown prince, at his request, by Count Nostitz, son of Count George Nostitz, a Prussian by birth, who entered the service of the czar and died a major general in 1838. The document relates to the "White Lady," the famous ghost of the Hohenzollerns, who is supposed to make her appearance just before the death of a member of the family.

Count Nostitz, Jr., was sent to Berlin in 1869, at the time of the centennial celebration of the order of St. George, to present King William, later Emperor William, the grand cross of the order. While the count was in the German capital Crown Prince Frederick learned of the possession of documents in the Nostitz family relating to the "White Lady." As everything in reference to the woman who has played an important part in the history of the Hohenzollerns deeply interested the subsequent emperor he begged the count to send him a transcript of the document. It read, according to The Russian Archives, as follows:

"In the year 1806 Count Nostitz, Sr., was adjutant of Prince Louis of Prussia. On the day before the battle of Saalfeld, the prince, with his officers, was at the castle of the Prince of Schwarzburg-Rudolstadt. In the evening the guests were gathered in a large room of the palace. The prince was charmed at the idea of a coming contest with the troops of Napoleon. As the clock struck 12, the prince turned to Count Nostitz and said: 'How happy I feel today! Our ship is at last on the high seas. The wind is favorable.'

"He had hardly spoken when the count, to his great astonishment, saw the prince grow pale, spring up suddenly, draw his hands across his eyes, catch hold of the chandelier and a moment later rush into the hallway leading into the guardroom. Count Nostitz went after him and saw that the prince was following a white apparition, which suddenly disappeared through the wall. The prince examined the wall-there was no opening. As the prince heard steps behind him in the hallway, he turned and said to the count:

"'Did you see it, Nostitz?"

"'Yes, your highness, I saw it,' was "'Then,' continued the prince, 'it was neither a dream nor a ghost of the brain. "There was a third witness presentthe guard-who declared that a figure wrapped in white had passed him. He had allowed it to do so because he had believed it to be a Saxon cavalry officer. The hallway had only two outlets-into the guardroom and the salon where the prince and his officers were gathered.

"The apparition made a deep impression on the prince. He said that he looked upon it as a bad omen, for the 'White Lady' only appeared to announce the violent death of a Hohenzollern.

"On the following day the battle of Saalfeld was fought. When the Prussian troops had been put to flight, Prince Ferdinand and Count Nostitz again saw the 'White Lady,' who stood on a hill and wrung her hands as if in despair. Count Nostitz put spurs to his horse and rushed up the hill, but the apparition suddenly disappeared. A few minutes later Prince Ferdinand received a mortal wound in an attack of the French cavalry. Count Nostitz tried to carry the prince to a place of safety, but was also wounded and sank senseless to the ground.

'Count Nostitz never spoke in all his lifetime of this occurrence save to his son, and to him he commanded secrecy. Count Nostitz was not superstitious.'

Emperor Frederick sent a hearty letter of thanks to Count Nostitz, Jr., for the copy of the document, declaring that the family would always preserve it as a relic.—New York Tribune.

Electricity In a Fruit Tree.

The peculiar action of the electric current is sometimes very interesting as well as amusing. Mrs. M. E. Thompson, who resides on Williams avenue, Upper Albina, went into her yard the other day to gather some plums. The first one she touched gave her an electric shock. Again she tried to gather the plums, and every time she touched one she received a strong shock.

Unable to account for the occurence she called in a neighbor, and she went through the same experience, and not a plum could they get. Mr. Menfee was called, and he started toward the place where the ladies were standing and came in contact with a clothesline full of clothes. In attempting to separate the clothes so he could pass, his hands came into contact with the line, and he received a shock that knocked him down. This led to investigation-made with great caution-and it was discovered that the electric light wire connected with the house was broken and had fallen across the clothesline, one end of which was attached to the plum tree. The line and clothes were damp and formed a good conductor. Also when a plum was touched a circuit was com pleted and a shock received .- Portland Oregonian.

A Ridiculous Motion.

Patient-Doctor, when I bend my body forward, stretch out my arms horizon tally and impart to them a circular motion, I always feel such a pain in my left shoulder.

Doctor-But what need is there for you to perform such ridiculous antics? Patient-Do you know any other way, doctor, of getting on your topcoat?-Amsterdammer.

Ayer's Pills

Are compounded with the view to general usefulness and adaptability. They are composed of the purest vegetable aperients. Their delicate sugar-coating, which readily dis-solves in the stomach, preserves their full medicinal value and makes them easy to take, either by old or voung. For constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, and the common derangements of the Stomach, Liver, and Bowels; also, to check colds and fevers, Ayer's Pills

Are the Best

Unlike other cathartics, the effect of Ayer's Pills is to strengthen the excretory organs and restore to them their regular and natural action. Doctors everywhere prescribe them. In spite of immense competition, they have always maintained their popularity as a family medicine, being in greater demand now than ever before. They are put up both in vials and boxes, and whether for home use or travel, Ayer's Pills are preferable to any other. Have you ever tried them?

This will leave Five Thousand, Five Hundred dollars to be provided for. We would respectfully ask you to allow us what you please, and with no prevailing diseases or extraordinary expenses, we will do what we can to keep the expenses as low as good care and the best interests of the county will admit. In July last, much to our surprise and unanimous regret, we received the resignation of Charles Mc Cormick and wife as keeper and matron of the county house. We wish to express our unanimous regret at having them leave us and also that we are and adopted and ordered printed with the proceedings.

To the Honorable, the Board of Supervisors, of the County of Washtenaw:

GENTLEMEN: -Your committee on public buildings, beg leave to respectfully report, that at a meeting of your said committee, held at the court house, on the first day of February, 1893, we examined the roof of the court house and found it necestary to cause extensive repairs thereto to be made. The flat tin part was found to be full of small holes and leaking badly, doing damage to the frame work and greatly injuring the ceilings. After full examination we engaged Charles Grossman of Grossman & Schlenker, to repair the same and put the same in thoroughly good condition, which was done at a cost of $311.01.

At which meeting we also found on inspection, that the cooking-range at the ail was badly burned and wholly useless for which the same is used, and your committee thought it prudent to purchase a new range, which was ordered from Eberbach & Sons at an expense of $35.00, the old range and old gasoline stove being traded toward such new range.

Your committee also found, that the return pipes on the boiler in the court house from some cause were leaking oadly, and that water was kept in the boiler with great difficulty; the pipes are laid under the cement bottom of the court house and it was a work of considerable trouble to find the broken pipe, the cement covering having to be cut in many places. It was also found that a new pump had to be procured for the court house boiler—for all of this work and other needful plumbing at the court house, done by Hutzel & Co., your committee have expended the sum of $96.74. For plumbing and gas fitting at the jail the sum of $33.18 has been expen-

On account of the storms of last winter, and from other causes, many of the glasses in the court house have been broken, and your committee have been compelled to lay out and expend the sum of $110.09 for new window glasses and their setting at the court house, and for the same purpose at the jail the sum of $18.38, the work and material having been done and furnished by William Herz, esq., and the sum of $2.20 for painting screens, doors and windows at the jail.

The document book and records at the treasurer's office have accumulated to uch an extent that a found to be a necessity and one was ordered from Rauschenberger & Co., for the sum of $85.00.

At the last session of your Honorable Board the purchase of the Reports of the Supreme court of the United States was ordered and your committee found that no proper use of the books could be made without a suitable book-case, the book-case in the court room was full without it and a new book-case was purchased for the sum of $30.

Your committee have expended the sum of $5.00 for the repair to tables in the court house—one in the probate of-fice and one in the treasurer's office and one at the jail for the sum of $3.00.

Your committee have had great troub-le with the boiler in the court house either the boiler is old and considerably worn or else the person in charge is not sufficiently competent to properly manage the same, the grates were worn or burnt out and much and frequent repair were needed to proporly heat the court house, and your committee have been compelled to pay out for all such purpose during the year to Lawrence Sutter the sum of $108.43, which sum represents all labor and material. The chimney at the west end of the court house in the Register of Deeds and Treasurer's offices have not properly answered the purpose for a long time especially in stormy weather, and your committee was advised that they could be remedied at a small expense by the use of the "Star Chimney Top," after a trial which proved satisfactory your committee purchased one for each of said offices at a total expense of $21.00.

Your committee thought it prudent to maintain the shade trees in the court house square. Some trees were dead and others had been removed—the dead trees were ordered cut and young trees planted in their stead, so that the yard is now properly planted with thrifty trees. This was done at an expense of

Your committee on inspection found much of the tile flooring of the court house in bad repair and deemed it advisable to cause the same to be properly relaid and repaired. The work was done by John Baumgardner at an expense of

The glass in the sky-light in the dome of the court house had long been broken, and your committee thought it prudent to seal the same with matched sealing, making it water-tight, which was done at an expense of $10.05.

Your committee constructed a raised platform for the probate office, and that and other carpenter work done about sixty-six and sixty-seven one-hun-the court house cost the sum of $35.53. dredths dollars to the executor of the The repairs in Ann street in front of the county jail consisting of laying an

Your committee to whom was referred the care of the county funds, would respectfully report as follows: By 1885, and designated as local act No. 373, which authorized the treasurer of Washtenaw county to deposit the county funds with certain bank or banks on interest, and which reads as follows:

(No. 373).

An Act to provide for the deposit of the county moneys by the treasurer of Washtenaw county with banking corporations on interest, and to authorize the investment of certain moneys now in the hands of the treasurer of said county.

Section 1. The people of the State of Michigan, enact that it shall be lawful for the board of supervisors of Wash-tenaw county to contract with any bank or banks incorporated under any laws of this state or United States, for the safe keeping of any moneys belonging to the keeping of any moneys belonging to the county, and for the payment by such bank or banks of interest thereon, at a rate not exceeding that established by law, interest to be computed upon daily balances, and shall be paid on the 31st day of December, and the 30th day of June, in each year, or at any other time when the account may be cleared. when the account may be closed.

Section 2. Before any deposit shall be made with any bank or banks, as afore-said, such bank or banks shall execute and deliver to said county treasurer a bond in such sum and with such sure-ties as may be approved by said board of supervisors; said bond shall be made to the county, and shall be conditioned for the safe keeping and re-payment of such moneys or any part thereof on demand, and the payment of the said interest. Said bond shall also contain other conditions as may be required by said board of supervisors.

Section 3. All interest maneys so paid by every such bank or banks shall be credited, and form part of the general fund of the county.

Section 4. The board of supervisors whenever they shall deem it unsafe to continue said deposits with any such bank or banks, or they deem the se-curity insufficient, may direct the county treasurer to withdraw said deposit from such bank or banks, and it shall thereupon be the duty of said treasurer to de-mand and withdraw the deposits as so directed by said board. Provided, That if any such bank or banks should suspend payment of its deposits while it may hold Mr. McQuillan, from committee on any deposit of said public moneys, the > sioned or sustained by such suspension. Section 5. The treasurer of said county of Washtenaw is hereby authorized with the consent and approval of the judge of probate of said county, to invest any moneys in his hands, subject to the provisions of act number eighty-six, of the session laws of eighteen hundred and eighty-one, approved April 15, 1881, in interest bearing bonds of the county of Washtenaw, or other municipal, state or government bonds, to be approved by the judge of probate.

> Whenever said treasurer shall be called upon to pay any money pursuant to the provisions of the act aforesaid, he shall pay the same from the general fund of the county if there be sufficient money in the general fund available for that purpose, and if not, he may nego-tiate the sale of any bonds authorized by this section, at not less than their par value, to an amount sufficient therefor, and any advances that may be made nal claims No. 2, reported the following from the general fund, as herein provided, shall be reimbursed from the in-terest on any bonds hereby authorized to be issued, or from the principal thereof, any annual balances of interest that may be due or in the hands of said treasurer. This act is ordered to take immediate

Approved, June 3, 1885.

We would recommend that before any deposit shall be made with any bank or banks aforesaid, said bank or banks shall execute to the county of Washtenaw a good and sufficient bond in the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, with such sureties out of the directors and officers of said bank or banks as shall be approved by this board. We also recommend that the county clerk of Washtenaw county be instructed to call for sealed proposals from the incorporated banks of the city of Ann Arbor for the term of one year, heretofore appointed to report to the commencing January 1, 1894, for the posits in said bank or banks, interest to be computed ou daily balances, to be paid on the last days of June and December; also, for bids on lowest rates of interest on overdrafts on said bank or banks by said Washtenaw county.

Respectfully, WM. B. OSBORN, EVART H. SCOTT.

Ypsilanti, Mich., Oct. 17, 1893. Robert Shannon:

DEAR SIR—Yours of the 16th inst., asking for bids for printing Supervisors proceedings, at hand. We should be glad to bid, and would do so, but for the condition requiring the completion of the work by Nov. 25th. The time is so short we could not do the work, and 10 40 must decline to give figures on the 1 00 contract.

Respectfully yours,
W. M. OSBAND.

Ypsilanti, Mich., Oct. 17, 1893. I will publish the proceedings of the Board of Supervisors, taking the pamphlet of 1892 as a basis, in accordance with the proposition made by the Committee on Printing, at a uniform rate of $1.75 per page, counting the cover as four pages. Under this bid, 1,000 copies of the last pamphlet would have

Last year's contract was 1,500 copies and cost the county $108.

Respectfully,

M. T. WOODRUFF.

Believing that the interests of the people will be best subserved by printing the proceedings in two newspapers of general county circulation, of opposite politics, the Ann Arbor Courier and the Ann Arbor Argus make the following joint bid. We will publish the proceedings in both papers and print 1,000 copies in pamphlet form for $130, as per specifications; more or less pages pro rata. We will also finish the work within two weeks after the adjournment of the Board.

Yours respectfully, BEAKES & CURTISS, J. E. BEAL

hing of which men never tire is the oneyed voice of approval.

If, as Frederika Bremer says, "the reat duty of life is not to give pain," our society dame is performing the reat duty of life with admirable sucess. She not only does not give pain, ut she bestows positive pleasure. Even those who know that her words are eant only to smooth the passing moent and must not be taken too seriousher little "euphuisms" are grateful.

Among the better class of well bred cople compliments are not "laid on rith a shovel" nor "dragged in by the air." They flow easily, for they are the esult of a lifetime of effort to make ne's self agreeable to everybody, so far one can do it within the limits of uth. The unfailing aplomb of the ell bred woman assists her wonderally here. She recalls clearly at the est glance the peculiarities and the cirimstances of her visitor, she sorts out the pleasant from the unpleasant, and Paid treasurer______ 211 57 State and county taxes_ 3,092 12— 3,303 69 she invariably alludes in her remarks to the pleasant. The transplanting, without its luxurious effusiveness, of this good custom into the home life and into the narrow circles of the "outs" could of them quite recently. VALUE OF ANTISEPSIS

HOW SURGERY HAS BEEN ADVANCED BY THIS PRACTICE.

Different Viscera Once Avoided Are Now Treated With Safety-Invaluable In War Times-Chloroform Is Now Used In Cases of Sunstroke.

These last 20 years surgery has been advancing at an almost vertiginous pace. and its progress and improvement are due to the universal practice of antisepsis and to the adoption of proper dressings. The most daring operations are now crowned with success, and different viscera which had previously been carefully avoided by surgeons are treated safely and to the welfare of the patients. It is an every day occurrence to see the abdominal cavity opened either to remove a tumor or to make some operation on the intestines. The brain is laid bare to free it from some compression from which it is suffering or to open an abscess and give a free exit to the pus. Under all these circumstances the surgeon intervenes with perfect security when he has minutely taken the necessary precautions to protect the wound he creates from infection by germs.

These dangerous germs are both within the patients and about them, and for this reason it is absolutely indispensable to disinfect the spot that the operation is to affect and also everything connected with the operator, his instruments or assistants. As for the germs floating in the atmosphere, some surgeons endeavor to counteract their effect by spraying antiseptic liquids about the room during the operation. The point to be guarded against above all others is infection of the seat of intervention, and this can be accomplished by destroying the germs that may have already invaded it or by closing up all access to it on the part of those that may be about it. The former can be effected by the use of antisepsis and the latter by asepsis.

Complications arising from firearm wounds seem to result from the action of germs which are not carried by the projectiles, as might be supposed at first thought, but by the patients' clothing. In one of the late meetings of the Societe Imperio-Royale des Medecins de Vienne, M. Habart reported the experiments he had undertaken in this connection with M. Faulhaber concerning the infection of firearm wounds. These two investigators, using regulation rifles, fired at boxes of gelatin, or which some were sterilized or covered with sterilized blotting paper, others surrounded with pieces of old uniforms and others with pieces of uniforms dipped in pure cultures of staphylococci. In the first case the track of the bullet remained asceptic; in the second were found, in addition to pieces of cloth, a variety of microbes, while in the third the boxes contained nothing but staphylococci.

In short, a bullet striking the body of a soldier or a piece of shell entering his flesh stands every chance of creating an infected wound. It is therefore imperative to treat all wounds in wartime antiseptically, and we owe a great debt to the different authorities who in time of peace are preparing a sufficient stock of packages of dressing to supply each soldier or officer on the day war may break out. This small package of dressing with which each soldier is to be furnished is to be placed, in the French army, in a pocket specially prepared for it and is certain to render great services, whether used by the wounded man himself or by the ambulance corps. However temporary this remedy may be, it will still have the advantage of supmental most enough dressings for the first demands on the battlefields without his having to make use of his stores, and it will rapidly place the wounds out of reach of the danger of infection arising from contact with clothing, hands or the ground.

A German army surgeon, M. Koerfer, has been testing the value of inhalations of chloroform in the cerebro-spinal form of sunstroke, and in the case of two soldiers very seriously affected with unconsciousness, convulsions, hyperæsthesia of the skin, livid skin and weakened pulse, the prolonged administration of chloroform succeeded in putting an end to all the symptoms. The favorable effect of the chloroform showed itself as soon as its use was commenced by marked improvement in the pulse, but the convulsions did not cease altogether until the narcosis had been kept up for an hour and a quarter in one case and for a quarter of an hour in the other.

The use of cold water and hypodermic injections of ether, which recourse was had in the first case, where the symptoms were particularly serious and before the chloroform was tried, were found to be powerless and to have no other effect than to bring on or increase the convulsive attacks each time they were tried. With this patient M. Koerfer also made an injection of two centigrams of morphine toward the end of the chloroform seance, and when the man began to come out from the effect of the chloroform he fell asleep again under the influence of the morphine, and on awakening finally the convulsive attacks had entirely disappeared.

Chloroform acts in these cases by stopping the convulsions which help to raise the temperature of the body by lessening the production of heat and also by facilitating the radiation of the heat of the body. Hypodermic injections of ether are given to prevent asphyxia, and caffeine administered in the same way has a twofold purpose, to increase or re-establish the urinary secretion and to tonify the system in general. In the future it will be well to bear in mind the usefulness of chloroform in these very severe cases of sunstroke.—Paris Herald.

Mrs. Young Housekeeper (at market) -And what have you got today, Mr. Cleaver?

Butcher-Beef, mutton, veal, pork-Mrs. Young Housekeeper-I've had all PERFECT PHYSICAL REPOSE

A Firm Hair Mattress Rather Than t Feather Bed Promotes It.

There is an old story of an Indian and a "paleface," who, after a long day's journey, lay down in a deserted cabin at nightfall to rest. The Indian, wrapping himself in his blanket, stretched himself on the floor of the cabin with his feet to the fire and was soon asleep. His companion meantime has espied a feather bed in another room, and congratulating himself on his discovery jumped in and was also soon in a doze.

With the first rays of the morning light the Indian rose refreshed and ready for the day's task. He went to arouse his comrade, when, lo! he found him dead from the exhaustion of the previous ical rest. To enjoy that blessing to its fullest extent freedom from restraint must be allowed every part of the body. A firm surface is required—one that will tend to keep the body stretched out at full length, that the lungs and heart may feel no sense of restriction by compression of the chest walls, and that the blood may have uninterrupted course in every direction.

We should never be guilty of supposing that the person whom we saw sitting in a chair with his chin pressing on his sunken chest was enjoying true physical rest, no matter how fast asleep he might appear to be.

The tendency of the body to gravitate toward the lowest part of a feather bed is beyond remedy.

In this position the whole body is often so curled up that no one part is free from constriction. The chest walls are caved in, and the whole body suffers from the consequent lack of proper oxygenation of the blood and the restriction which is placed upon its general circulation. The blood moves sluggishly, and as a result the condition of "fat and flabby" is superinduced.

This condition is never likely to follow the constant use of a firm hair mattress, for the blood has no chance to get dropsical from too sluggish a circulation.

Perfect physical repose, like perfect physical activity, is dependent upon a proper equilibrium of the bodily functions during slumber.

The story of the Indian and the white man might easily have been founded on fact.—Youth's Companion.

How to Know a Caxton.

Title pages were unknown till after 1491. There must be no Roman or Italic lettering, but all in Gothic or old English. There must be no commas, but an oblique stroke in their place. Further, there must be no catchwords at the bottom of the page. The use of these, long gone out of fashion, did not come into vogue till years after Caxton's death.

There are other tests necessary, such as the measurement of the lines, for some of the type used was imitated pretty closely by Caxton's successors. It is clear, however, that during his career Caxton only used six kinds of type. The first, distinctly foreign in its character, was used by him at Bruges in the printing of "The Recuvell of the Histories of Troye" and in the first edition of "The Game and Playe of the Chesse." This style was never used in England. The second style, such as in "The Moral Proverbs" and "Tulle of Olde Age," printed in 1477 and 1481 respectively, was beautiful and artistic. It follows a design of manuscript which obtained the name of Gros Batarde, common in use in the fifteenth century. Several books were written in this manner under the order of Edward IV and are now to be seen in the British museum.

Looking at the dates when Caxton's books were issued and the types he used, it is evident he did not make new type till the old was worn out. A pretentious style came next in 1483, very bold in its character. It is problematical whether there is a book in this type; the only examples we have of it at present are in headlines.—Chambers' Journal.

A Quick Recovery

The doctor of a hospital ship complained to a visitor of a lazy colored man whom he could do nothing with. "We don't like to throw the rascal out, but it is easily seen he is only shamming."

"Well, doctor," said the visitor, after a little reflection, "lend me a few yards of string and that nigger will be miles away before night." He got the twine, and putting on a melancholy air he went to the darky's berth. "Very bad?" he said.

"Yes, massa," replied Sambo. "Drebful sick."

The visitor made no further remark, but placed one end of the twine at his head and drew it slowly-very slowlyuntil it reached his toes. Then he measured him across the chest. The fellow looked the picture of astonishment and terror and gasped: What dis for?"

"My poor fellow, the doctor knows you are not going to recover, and it is only an expense keeping you here without any chance of doing you good. I have just been taking your measure"—here he lowered his voice still more—"for a coffin. We'll bury you with honors tomorrow. It's the custom here in a case like yours.

'Tis best for all hands, you know.' No one knew how or when the negro got clear of the hospital ship, but there was no trace of him in the morning .-London Tit-Bits.

In Bad Company.

Learned Judge (severely)-John Jones, the jury have taken a very lenient view of the case. You have had a very narrow escape, and it should be a lifelong warning to you. After this you ought to keep away from bad company.

John Jones-Yes, yer honor, ye won't see me here again in a hurry.—Judy.

Impudence.

Ethel-Why don't you acknowledge the bow of the gentleman who just passed?

Yvette-The impudence of him! He was presuming on the fact that we are engaged.—Chicago News.
