NEVER A FAILURE.

The Red River Valley of Minnesota and North Dakota has never had a failure of crops.

It is not an uncommon thing to pay for a farm from the proceeds of one crop. It has all of the advantages of an old country in the shape of school, church, market, postal & railway facilities and all the chances of a new country in the way of cheap lands, rich soil, and increase in values.

BEAKES & CURTISS, PROPRIETORS.
 TERMS.—$1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.
 OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1893.

We hear considerable talk among republican politicians about the low price of wool. But they are silent concerning the low price of wheat. Are not both affected by the same causes? If so, it is not the fear of tariff reduction that ails wool.

The World's Fair was a grand success but it did much towards increasing the financial stringency. It took, for instance, $300,000 or $400,000 in currency out of this county and it will be a long time before much of this finds its way back into circulation in this county.

It now looks as if the country were to secure prompt relief from high tariff taxation. If the tariff is revised carefully and judiciously and the change made at once, a revival of business may be expected. Just give the Democratic party a chance to enact its policy into law and see if times do not improve.

That the Vanderbilts and their allies should get control of the anthracite coal of the United States shows the trend of modern feudalism. At a cost of ten million dollars they have bought control of the Lackawanna railroad, have guaranteed two million dollars to the Lehigh Valley, have dismembered the Reading as a trunk line, blocked competition in soft coal by controlling railways, and have formed the most gigantic monopoly ever known. On soft coal the government protects them from outside competition by a duty of 75 cents a ton. In this respect law plunders the people. That needs no robber protection, though it gets some from the duty on soft coal, its only competitor. Last year 42,000,000 tons of anthracite were mined in Pennsylvania. It brought $2 to $2.25 a ton at the mines. The rest of its cost to consumers is freight and profits. The average cost for hauling to the seaboard has been $1.60 a ton. The Vanderbilt syndicate will get the profits on the coal itself and on its transportation. An advance of 25 cents a ton will put into their pockets any additional $10,500,000. In one year, therefore, they can get all their money back. Evidently the year of the billionaire is near at hand. The people of this country, of course, by supporting a protective tariff and other monopoly laws are expected to do all they can to sustain this combination.—Jackson Patriot.

At the Young People's Vespers, on Sunday evening next at 6.45, Prof. Lloyd will be the speaker. At the service in the church immediately following, Rev. E. M. Duff will give the last of his series of talks on "The Gospel in its Early Years." The topic for the evening will be "The Defenders of the Faith in the Second Century."

The new and commodious house of Samuel M. Brown, 50 North Main street, is almost ready for occupancy. The cost of the building will be about $2,000. Heat will be supplied from a furnace. It is a handsome two-story structure and will contain all the modern improvements. Mr. Brown intends to occupy it himself.

Women's union meetings will be held in the M. E. church on the afternoons of December 6, 7, 8, 11, 12 and 13, at two o'clock. They will be conducted by Mesdames C. M. Coburn, N. S. Burton, J. M. Gelston, J. B. Angell, L. S. Barrows and Miss Jessie Phelps. Subjects to be treated are "Faith," "Personal Consecration," "The Easy Way," and "How can we become acquainted with God?" The first meeting is to be devoted to special prayer, and the last will be a praise service. Everybody is invited.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

The Charitable Union desires, as heretofore, to furnish Thanksgiving dinners to the poor of the city, and earnestly solicits for this purpose generous contributions of provisions or of money. Such gifts should be sent on Tuesday, Nov. 28, to Miss Matilda Brown, 13 South State street.

MARY W. D'OOGEE, Secretary.

There were about two hundred people present at the opening of the Light Infantry bazaar on Tuesday evening, and it is conceded to be the most artistically arranged bazaar ever gotten up in this city. Among the visitors were over twenty members of the Ypsilanti Light Guards, under Captain Woodruff and Lieuts. Kirk and McKean. Music was furnished by the Ann Arbor city band.

John Taylor, senior member of the firm of Taylor & LeFurge, Ypsilanti, died on Wednesday evening, after a lingering illness. He was born near Falkirk, Scotland, in 1841. He emigrated to Canada in 1862, where he remained about seven years. He then came to Ypsilanti, where he has since been engaged in the hardware business. He leaves a wife and one son.

Another pioneer has joined the great majority. This time it is D. J. Hawkins, of Ann Arbor town. He was in his 97th year. He settled near Dixboro in 1826, and at one time kept a hotel in that place. Mr. Hawkins was born in Vermont. He was a brother of the late Olney Hawkins, once a well known lawyer of this city. The funeral took place last Saturday afternoon.

Rev. J. T. Sunderland will speak next Sunday morning at the Unitarian church on "The Increase of Faith: Was There Ever so Much Faith as Now?" In the evening he will give the fourth sermon in his series on "Jesus and His Religion," subject, "Did Jesus Work Miracles?" The sermon announced on "Rev. B. Fay Mills and the State University" will be postponed for one week, to Sunday morning, Dec. 3.

The sidewalk in front of the Malloy property on Miller avenue, which is built on trestles, is in an unsafe condition, several of the planks being broken and gone. We understand that a new walk has been ordered there, but the order has not been obeyed. On Felch street a short walk has been put down from the railroad to the edge of a pond at the foot of the hill, and there it stops short, as must also the pedestrian, unless he desires a bath beneath the frog-spawn.

Gug Beckley died at his home in Bay City last Sunday morning. He formerly resided in Ann Arbor, and had a great reputation as a hunter and fisherman. He was born in the fifth ward, this city, in 1827. He became a resident of Bay City about fifteen years ago. Mr. Beckley served during the rebellion with Company A, 20th Michigan Infantry, and was honorably mustered out at the close of the war. He died in his chair while reading a newspaper before breakfast. A son and daughter survive him. Many of the older Ann Arbor sportsmen will keep his memory green.

Owing to poor health, Prof. Stanley has been obliged to give up his concert before Unity club till further notice. The Club, however, takes great pleasure in being able to secure in Prof. Stanley's place for Monday evening, next, Mr. Max Winkler, of the University, who will give a talk upon "The Religious and Political Agitations now Prevalent in
