Street Railway Difficulties Cannot be Settled Unless They Do.

ELEGANT NEW HOME OF THE ZION SOCIETY.

A Beautiful Addition to Ann Arbor's Churches.—The Democratic County Convention Called for June 21st—The Meeting of the Michigan Woman's Press Association.—Etc.

Democratic County Convention.

The Washtenaw County Democratic committee met in the supervisor's room at the court house Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of setting upon a date for the Democratic County Convention, to elect delegates to the state convention and choose a new county committee to conduct the campaign next fall.

The date chosen for the convention was Thursday, June 21, just one week before the state convention at Grand Rapids.

The question of enlarging the convention and giving tha various townships and cities an increased delegation came up before the committee and was thoroughly discussed. The representation heretofore has been on a basis of one delegate to each sixty votes cast at the last general election. The committee finally decided to change the basis of representation to one delegate to each forty-five votes cast at the election in 1892. This makes considerable change and enlarges the convention from 178 to 229 delegates. The number of delegates each township is entitled to under the new apportionment is given in the call of the county committee on the editorial page of this issue and the special attention of township chairmen is called to it.

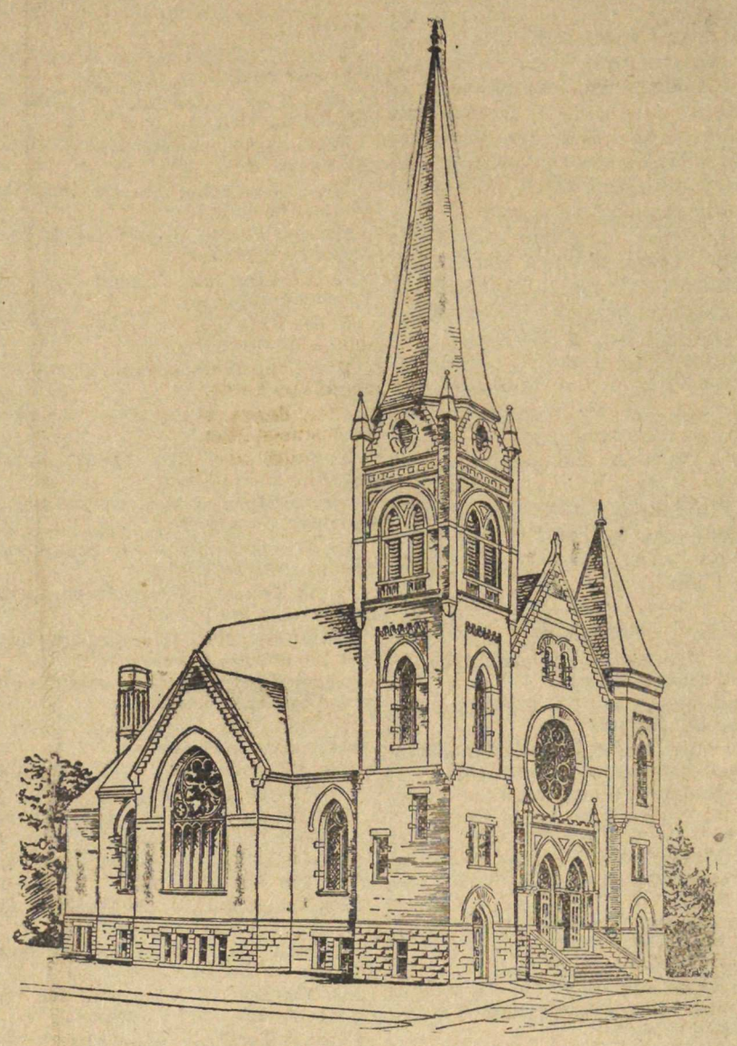
In conventions of all parties in the past there has been a general complaint from the township delegates that partiality was shown in electing delegates to conventions and that the county delegates usually got the worst of it. An effort has been made to prevent this in Democratic conventions but not always with success, but the committee has devised a plan which will be recommended to the convention for adoption that does away with delegates-at-large and insures each township an equal representation on all delegations chosen.

Time for the Council to Act.

What is the status of street railway affairs?" is a question often heard on our streets. From present appearances it will be sometime before cars will be running again, rumor having it that there are now two difficulties in the way of a settlement. The first is that while the eastern bondholders are willing to accept the proposition made to their representative who was here some time ago and will pay their share of the $40,000 necessary to equip the road and make extensions, local capitalists who own $10,000 worth of the bonds refuse to put in any more money and will not pay their proportion of the estimated cost. The second difficulty, rumor say, is that one of the stockholders now refuses to stand by the proposition made to the bondholders to assign all the stock if they will put the road in running order.

It is too bad for the city that the interested parties cannot get together on some terms and start the cars again. It is asking our local capitalists to sacrifice a great deal in giving up their stock without compensation and lose their entire investment, and for the bondholders to be obliged to make a further investment to save what they already have invested, but unless some such sacrifice is made both the stock and bonds will be valueless.

The city and the citizens have rights in this matter which should be protected. The Argus does not believe in being harsh or treating the stockholders or bondholders unfairly, but cars have not been running since last January and this should have given the parties plenty of time to settle their difficulties. The city has legal remedies and in fairness to our citizens the council should take steps at once to bring the parties to a settlement or have the franchise rescinded for failure to comply with the terms of the contract. The bondholders cannot afford to have this done, but if they did Ann Arbor would not be without street cars long, other parties having visited the city recently who are willing to carry out the conditions of the old franchise. The citizens now demand almost unanimously that the council take such steps as will oblige the present company or bondholders to operate the road or stand aside and give some one else a chance.



THE NEW ZION LUTHERAN CHURCH.

The New Zion Church.

Through the kindness of the proprietors of the Hausfreund and Post, the Argus is enabled to furnish its readers with the above cut of the handsome new Zion Lutheran church, now rapidly being constructed. The building in architectural design will surpass any of the beautiful public buildings with which Ann Arbor is dotted. It will be a fitting monument to the energy of Rev. Max Hein and the trustees of the church, who by their labors have been able to add this handsome edifice to the collection of fine churches.

The building will be 65 feet on Washington street and 98 feet on Fifth avenue. The front elevation shows a handsome tower rising to a height of 145 on the one corner and a smaller tower 75 feet in height at the opposite corner. The main entrance is large and imposing, massive doors opening from a flight of broad steps. Above the doors is a large circular window of cathedral glass, sixteen feet in diameter. The sides each show a gable of regular proportions, in the center of which is a large arched window, 15 by 24 feet in size, of bright-colored cathedral glass.

In the basement, which is eleven feet high, are the school room, Sunday school room, society parlors, boiler room and toilet rooms, all being specially adapted for the use. On the first floor is the entrance lobby, 15 by 40 feet, and the main audience room 65 by 83 feet. This room is well proportioned, the side walls being 23 feet high and the center of the ceiling 32 feet. It is specially arranged for its acoustic qualities. A broad gallery extends across the south end, while in the north is a niche for the alter and pulpit, on the left of which will be the organ and choir seats, and on the right the vestry seats and the sacristy. The room will be finished in antique oak throughout. The entire building will be heated by steam and lighted by both electric lights and gas.

The architect of the building is Charles Sauer, whose first work this is in church architecture. The contracts so far let for the building are: Koch Bros., mason work, $8,150; Charles Sauer, carpenter work, $8,450; O. O. Sorg, painting, $395; Schuh & Muehlig, steam heating, $1,100; Northville School Furniture Co., church seats, $900. Besides these contracts the plumbing and gas fixtures, seats for school and Sunday school rooms, and other incidentals will increase the cost about $3,000. The building will be completed before Jan. 1st, '95.

The congregation is composed of 415 families, numbering about 1,500 souls in all. The society is not one of the wealthiest, and in this connection they deserve the greatest honor, for notwithstanding the fact that their new home will cost about $22,000 it will be entirely free from debt when completed, $19,000 of the amount having already been subscribed, and sixty families have not been called on yet. Another credit to the Zion society is that this large sum has been freely given within the congregation, not a cent having been solicited or received from outside sources.

The history of the lot on which the new edifice is being erected is one of general interest. Early in the history of Ann Arbor, upon it was built one of the first school houses of our system, the builder being Asa L. Smith, who came to Ann Arbor in 1824 from Rochester, N. Y. A journey in those days was a serious undertaking. When he arrived in Detroit he met Messrs. Rumsey and Allen, of Ann Arbor, who pictured in such glowing terms the future of the then village of Ann Arbor, that he decided to locate here, and arrived with his family May 27, 1824, coming up the Huron river on a flat boat which was polled against the current. Mr. Smith was a carpenter and among the buildings put up by him was a school house, consisting of one room with a large porch, on the lot of which this is a sketch. In this school house a private school was kept, Miss Rumsey, a daughter of the founder of Ann Arbor, being the teacher. In those days there was no public schools and the tuition, $2.50 to $3 a term, was a large sum for some of the early settlers to pay. Among the scholars living who attended this school was Mrs. Sophie Hutzel, nee Mann, of West Washington street.

Many of the early settlers were from New England and on March 23rd, 1847, the First Congregational church of Ann Arbor was organized with 48 members. At first they worshiped in the old court house but arrangements were soon made to build the brick church which has just been torn down to make way for the new Zion church. The lot was sold to the congregation by Harrison Goodrich. The contract was let for what was the largest and finest church then in Ann Arbor. The contractor became very much involved and suddenly ran away, leaving his creditors to do the best they could under the circumstances. The frame work of the roof was up but all the rest of the work was unfinished. A new contract was made with Fitch Hill who finished the building so that in 1849 the congregation could occupy it. The cost of the building was about $6,000, a large portion of of which was raised by the members renting pews for a number of years and giving their notes for the same.

The church was occupied by the First Congregational society until the year 1875 when it was sold to the Zion's Lutheran congregation for $4,300. During the time it was occupied by the Congregationalists the following pastors officiated: Rev. E. P. Ingersoll, Rev. L. S. Hobart, Rev. William L. Mather, Rev. Joseph Estabrook, Rev. George Candee, Rev. Samuel Cochrane, D. D., Rev. E. A. Baldwin, Rev. William Smith, Rev. H. L. Hubbell and Rev. H. R. Ryder. The late Loren Mills was was the first deacon.

During the winter of 1860–61 this church was the scene of some thrilling events, among them being an effort to restrain free speech. Parker Pillsbury, the great abolitionist, came to the city to talk upon the subject and warn the people of the arming and drilling of troops in the south. He urged the people of the north to prepare for the coming conflict. He called a meeting in the old Free church and a mob collected, drove him and the audience from the building and wrecked it inside. Later on the same evening Parker Pillsbury met a few citizens at the house of Jacob Volland and spoke there. About a month after this it was announced that the distinguished Wendell Phillips would speak in Ann Arbor. The question was where to get a hall. As a last resort the trustees of the First Congregational church were appealed to, and after long discussion, granted the use of the building.

The students of the University heard that Wendell Phillips was to be mobbed. The war spirit was already in the air and a meeting was called and the students attended in a body, prepared to quell any mob. The boys were there prepared for a fight, which did not come off. The after effects of Phillip's speech were shown by the large enlistments among the students and citizens when the rebellion broke out. Many distinguished men not only worshipped in the church but also occupied the pulpit during the twenty-five years.

The first meeting held for the purpose of organixing the Zion Lutheran congregation was on July 16, 1873, and on August 13th following the church property was purchased from the Congregatianal society for $4,300. The congregation started with about 50 families and now has 250. Rev. F. H. Belser, of the Ohio synod, was the first pastor and was followed in 1890 by Rev. Max Hein, who still fills the pulpit. The first board of elders elected was composed of William Merkle, Philip Lohr and Christian Mack, the trustees being Fred Hutzel, Adam D. Seyler, Louis Schlefcher, Conrad Schneider, Christian Hoffstetter and Frederick Schmid.

The church in its organization is independent and not a member of any synod, although its pastors have been. The last services were held in the old church Sunday, April 1. The day following the work of demolition was commenced. The work of building the foundation was commenced Monday, April 24.

They Have Come and Gone.

The fifth annual convention of the Michigan Woman's Press club concluded its labors last night, having been in session at Newberry hall since Tuesday. The meeting brought many of the brightest and best literary women of the state to this city, nearly all of whom are directly connected with the daily or weekly press of the state. A gathering of this kind demonstrates how rapidly the women are drifting into channels which until a few years ago were closed to them. And the familiarity with which they handled newspaper phrases and names showed the aptitude with which the women take hold of their comparatively new vocation. The association now has 61 active and 11 honorary members, the attendance at the meeting being about one half the membership.

The program as announced in last week's Argus was carried out with but few changes, the interchange of ideas and methods through papers proving valuable to the members. Miss Emma E. Bower entertained the guests at a pleasant reception Wednesday evening, Mrs. President Angell on Thursday afternoon and the Alpha Phi sorority on Thursday evening.

Business was transacted with dispatch at the sessions. The officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: Miss Emma E. Bower, Ann Arbor, president; Mrs. Alice Bartlett, Detroit, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Ada Iddings Gale, Albion, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Belle M. Perry, Charlotte, 3rd vice-president; Mrs. Kate E. Ward, Lansing, recording secretary; Miss Jennie Buell, Ann Arbor, corresponding secretary; Miss M. Gertrude Sprague, Traverse City, treasurer; executive board—Mrs. Martha E. Root, Bay City Mrs. M. E. C. Bates, Traverse City; Mrs. N. M. Ballard, Detroit.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. CHANGE OF LIFE.

Trying Ordeal in Woman's Life Made Easy.

Pe-ru-na is the favorite remedy during Change of Life, as it not only palliates the disagreeable symptoms during the trying ordeal, but guards the system from the many chronic ailments which are liable to set in. Pe-ru-na promptly relieves the nervousness, sleeplessness, throbbing, hemorrhage, rush of blood to the head, palpitation, indigestion, painful menstruation, leucorrhœa and faint spells, from which most of these patients suffer. It acts as a preventive against dropsy, heart disease, enlargement of the liver, and kidney diseases, which are so frequently acquired at this time.

Mrs. Diley A. Mason, of White Wright, Texas, says in a letter to Dr. Hartman: "I was a sufferer from the Change of Life. I thought I had everything. I thought I had heart trouble. I got six bottles of Pe-ru-na and one of Man-a-lin and took them. I am now sound and well. I improved immediately on taking Pe-ru-na, and am now as well as ever in my life."

The Epworth League held its anniversary meeting Sunday evening last, and had an extensive program. It was a profitable and pleasing entertainment.

Your scribe and wife went to Unadilla a week ago for a couple of days' visit with children there. The hail storm did quite a lot of damage there to glass and newly shorn sheep mostly.

Saturday last your scribe and wife attended the meeting of the Webster Farmers' club, held at the house of Mrs. Chamberlain. At noon a bountiful supply of good things was served all the members and guests, after which the men strolled out of doors and viewed the poultry, garden and orchard, while the ladies primed up for the meeting, which was soon called to order by the president. For two hours questions most important to the farmers at this time of the year were discussed. Then a little time was given to the discussion of the merits and demerits of the Agricultural College. It was the feeling among speakers that if the college is not doing all it ought for the farmer, not to give it up, but to probe it on to its fullest amount of good. Altogether the meeting was a success. The next meeting will be held at William Ball's the first Saturday in June. The topic for that meeting is, "Shall we have the Income Tax?" Mr. Cooley Reeves, of Dexter, will take the affirmative, and Mr. Amos Phelps the negative, in the discussion. A lively time is expected, as usual.

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

IDENTIFIED BY CARLSON

The Forged Returns In the Salaries Amendent.

ORIGINAL SIGNED BY HIMSELF.

Prosecutor Gardner Claims That Ex-Clerk Wood of the State Board of Auditors Will Testify to Making Some of the Alterations In the Returns—Several Other Witnesses Examined.

MASON, June 7.—The first of the seven Gogebic county witnesses for the state, County Clerk Carlson, went upon the stand when court convened Wednesday morning, and related how the three sets of returns on the amendment vote were mailed to Lansing from his office, as the law required, and how each of them showed 319 votes for the amendment instead of 1,318, as they now show. The original was signed by himself as secretary of the county canvassing board, and in that way he recognized it.

Carlson explained that it had been customary to file the original return sheet in his office, but the secretary of state only sent him three blanks. The return sheet had been copied into a book, and this book he deemed a sufficient record of the vote for preservation.

The cross-examination of the witness occupied all the forenoon and was conducted with the special view of showing that the law had not been strictly complied with, either in the original canvass of the votes on the amendment or in making the returns. Carlson admitted that he had made an affidavit and had also sworn before the grand jury that the alterations in all three sets of the returns were in the hand writing of Postmaster Healey. He entertained no doubt about it until a few days ago, when Prosecutor Gardner told him that ex-Clerk Wood of the state board of auditors was going to swear that he made some of the alterations himself.

It was also brought out on the cross-examination of Clerk Carlson that the certificate on the three return sheets had not been copied into the record book in his office.

In the afternoon Deputy Clerk Strom of Gogebic was placed upon the stand and swore that the returns of that county were finished up by him and mailed to Lansing and were not returned for correction.

Howard Hovey, who was executive clerk in the governor's office in 1891, swore that the returns in that office were borrowed by the attorney general and returned by him after a day or two; that he did not examine them to see if any changes had been made and there was no conversation in regard to it.

Aubrey Gardner, deputy state treasurer in 1891, testified practically to the same and although he was not quite sure who did the borrowing, he was confident that they were returned by the attorney general's clerk.

Parsons' Trial Progressing.

SAGINAW, June 7.—The testimony in the Newell B. Parsons bond stealing case in the circuit court was but a repetition in the main of that given by the same witnesses at the examination in Police Judge Stempell's court some weeks ago, and which has already been published. The witnesses who took the stand were E. P. Stone, W. T. Knowlton, A. W. Wright, Charles H. Davis, Conrad Wetlaufer, Herbert Aldrich, A. T. Charles, F. W. Packard, D. F. Dempsey and Miller Perry of this city, and George Headley, C. Denbero, E. H. Donnelly, Miss Marie Fallon and Fred W. Knight of Grand Rapids. The testimony of the Grand Rapids witnesses was given for the purpose of tracing the arrival of the bonds in that city at the store of Knight's employes and what Knight did with them.

Pioneers In Session.

LANSING, June 7.—The Michigan Pioneer and Historical society is holding its 20th annual session in the senate chamber. There are a large number of "silver grays" present and an unusually interesting program has been prepared. Their treasury balance is on the right side to the amount of $3,215, but the year's mortality has been large, including some of its most prominent members. Among those in attendance are ex-Governors Felch and Begole and ex-Congressman Mark Brewer.

YOU CANNOT CURE PILES

By Internal Remedies.

The only way to cure piles in every form is to use a remedy like the Pyramid Pile Cure which is applied directly to the parts affected and its wonderful healing effects are felt on the first application because the medical properties are rapidly absorbed by the sensitive membranes of the rectum and the cure is speedily made, and almost before the patient is aware of it, every trace of piles has left him.

This is one reason why the Pyramid Pile Cure has been so successful. It is applied directly where it is needed and where it will do the most good. Not by the roundabout way of the stomach nor by the harsh, barbarous methods of various surgical operations and so called systems.

Its advantages over all other pile cures are these: It cures without pain, the cure is lasting, it contains no poison and is the quickest and cheapest cure yet found. It is made by the Pyramid Drug Co., of Albion, Mich., and sold by all druggists, at one dollar per package.

FRIDAY, JUNE 8, 1894.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

The Democrats of Michigan will meet in state convention in the city of Grand Rapids on the 28th day of June, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of nominating party candidates for the following state offices: Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary of State, State Treasurer, Auditor General, Attorney General, Commissioner of the State Land Office, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Member of the State Board of Education, and also two candidates for United States Senators; for the selection of a State Central Committee to serve for the ensuing two years, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before it.

According to the rule adopted by the Democratic State Convention, held in Detroit in 1880, and since followed, every county in the state is entitled to one delegate to the State Convention for each 500 votes cast for Governor at the last general election, and one additional delegate for a fraction of not less than 250 votes. But each county is entitled to at least two delegates. All delegates must be residents of the county they represent.

The delegates from each congressional district are requested to meet in caucus on the day of the convention at quarters to be hereafter designated by the Central Committee and select candidates for recommendation to the convention as follows, to-wit: Two members of the State Central Committee, one Vice-President of the Convention and one member for each of the following committees of the Convention: Credentials, Permanent Organization and Order of Business and Resolutions.

It will facilitate the working of the Committee on Credentials if the Secretary of each County Convention will promptly forward to the headquarters of the State Central Committee in Detroit immediately after the convention, a full and accurate list of the delegates chosen to the State Convention.

Renewing our allegiance to the cardinal principles of Democracy, we cordially invite all those who have voted in the past with the Democratic party, and all others who are desirous of associating with it in the future, to participate in the caucuses for the election of delegates to this convention.

DANIEL J. CAMPAU, Chairman.
FRANK H. HOSFORD, Secretary.

By H. G. COBURN, JR., Acting Secretary.

Washtenaw County is entitled to 21 delegates.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Democrats of Washtenaw County will meet in County Convention, in the Court House, in the City of Ann Arbor, on at 11 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of electing twenty-one delegates to the State Convention to be held in Grand Rapids on June 28th, and for the purpose of selecting chairman and members of County Committee.

Under this call townships and wards are entitled to delegates as follows:

Ann Arbor City—		Pittsfield	6
First ward	11	Salem	6
Second ward	10	Saline	9
Third ward	10	Scio	10
Fourth ward	9	Sharon	5
Fifth ward	4	Superior	6
Sixth ward	7	Sylvan	13

Lodi	7	Third ward	7
Lyndon	4	Fourth	5
Manchester	12	Fifth	7
Northfield	7

JAS. R. BACH, Chairman
GUSTAVE BREHM, Secretary,

Pittsfield Township.

The democrats of Pittsfield township will hold a caucs to elect delegates to the county convention on Monday, June 18, 1894, at 7.30 o'clock p. m.

By order of Committee,
F. E. MILLS, Chairman.

In appointing delegates to the state convention, every section of the county should be given the representation to which it is entitled and no more. The cities should not be permitted to have more than their proportionate share. Justice and fairness should control in the matter.

The sugar tax schedule has been passed by the senate. This was the feature of the new tariff bill on which the republicans gave the democrats to understand they would make their great fight. If now the republicans stand by their implied pledges, the county may look for the passage of the tariff bill within two weeks. It is to be hoped from the standpoint of every party and business interest that this will prove true. The greater the expedition in settling the tariff uncertainty the better.

The democratic county committee met in the court house last Tuesday afternoon and decided on Thursday the 21st inst. as the date for the meeting of the county convention. The call, containing all needed information as to the time and place of meeting, the number of delegates to which each township and ward is entitled, appears elsewhere. Democrats should arouse themselves and see to it that a full list of delegates is appointed, delegates too who will be certain to attend the convention. The party has a hard fight before it, and the result will depend largely upon the vigor and spirit that is infused into the local organizations. It is highly important, therefore, that these preliminaries to the battle be carefully looked after.

TRIAL OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

The trial of Attorney General Ellis on the charge of uttering a false record began Monday before Judge Pearson at Mason. The nature and gravity of the offense charged, the the prominence and distinguished public service of the defendant, as well as the legal talent arrayed on either side all indicate that the trial will be one of the most memorable in the history of the state.

While there is a strong desire among the people to have the party or parties responsible for the infamous amendment frauds brought to justice for their crimes against the ballot, there is at the same time a disposition to give the defendant the full benefit of the presumption of innocence until he is proven guilty. This is due on account of his previous high character and honorable record. On the other hand the crimes committed are of such a nature that there can be no extenuating or paliating circumstances, and if it be proven that they were conceived and executed by those who were intrusted with the duty of faithfully carrying out the people's mandate and upholding the purity of the ballot and the majesty of the law, then there should be visited upon the offenders the extreme penalty provided for such offenses. Under such circumstances the previous record for right living, whereby the confidence of the people was won only to be betrayed, should operate against the offender instead of in his favor.

What the people desire in all these cases is that those responsible for the crime of falsifying their will and thereby rendering popular government insecure shall be ferreted out and brought to justice. They care not what party label the rascals wear or what party is advantaged or disadvantaged, nor do they desire that any one shall be made a scapegoat for the crimes of others. It is to be hoped that the innocence of the attorney general may be established as a result of the trial, but if he is proven guilty there should be and will be no disposition to shield him in any way. Let justice be done.

Washington Correspondence.

Special Capitol News Co. Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 5, 1894.

Congressman Moon has received many letters from prominent citizens of Michigan within the past month, urging him to consent to be a candidate before the republican convention for the nomination for governor. He is even charged in certain quarters with being in a conspiracy to defeat Governor Rich for re-nomination. Knowing of these things, the writer hereof asked him for the facts in the case, and he said:

"It is true that I have received many letters and marked newspaper articles suggesting that I allow my friends to use my name as a candidate against Governor Rich. The writers of those letters have assured me that I would surely be nominated if I would only consent, and that my election would follow as a matter of course. I have answered those letters with a plain and unequivocal refusal to consider the suggestion for a single instant. I have no desire to be governor of Michigan and if I had would not think of such a thing this year. I am coming more and more to be a believer in the one term theory, especially for president and governor, both being honorary offices, but I should prefer to see our party adopt it and put it into practice after having discussed and passed a resolution to that effect, or, better still, after having put a plank to that effect into its platform upon which a canidate was to be nominated for his first term. I believe the republicans of Michigan will some time come by unanimous consent to think and act upon the one-term theory, but I had not expected them to do it this year."

Congressman Richardson has made currency questions quite a study, until he feels that he has a mission to perform in correcting many evils that he sees at present existing. He has, therefore, recently introduced a bill "to provide a more uniform interconvertible national currency for coining the silver bullion in the treasury, and for other purposes." The subject is too deep and the bill too complicated for any correspondent not thoroughly familiar with the subject to explain its provisions or points, and so it will not be attempted in this correspondence. Mr. Richardson said when asked regarding the bill and its possible fate:

"I am constantly receiving letters from prominent bankers, lawyers and business men, all of whom commend the bill in the highest terms and express the hope that it will become a law. The treasury officials, or several of them, have also expressed to me personally, in private conversation, their approval of the measure. Chairman Bland, of the committee on coinage, weights and measures, having the bill in charge, has promised to give me a hearing at an early day, and I shall do my best to convince the committee that the bill should be favorably reported, as I think it will be."

Congressmen Gorman and Whiting have recently gone to Michigan, the latter to recover his health if possible, and incidentally to look after his gubernatorial nomination boom, which seems to be already quite a healthy and strong one. Mr. Gorman would not admit that he went for anything else than a few days of rest.

Congressmen Avery and Moon expect to leave early this week for Michigan. Dr. Avery goes to accompany his wife to their home at Greenville. She has been sick most of the winter, and is yet hardly able to travel. Mr. Moon will go first to Chicago on business, and from there to his home at Muskegon.

Congressman Linton, who delivered a Decoration Day address at Richmond, was kindly received, spoke to a good sized and appreciative audience, and had a very pleasant trip. He was accompanied by his two little sons, but Mrs. Linton was prevented at the last from going by the arrival of Michigan friends.

Their Thanks Expressed.

At a recent meeting of the W. C. T. U., the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, that the grateful appreciation of this Union be hereby extended to the citizens of Ann Arbor, who so hospitably opened their homes for the entertainment of delegates during the late convention; to Mayor Darling, the clergymen and others who spoke words of welcome or encouragement at the meetings; to Pres. Angell for his courteous invitation to the University; to Prof. Stanley, Prof. Kempf, Messrs. Wilsey and Taylor and their musical associates who furnished delightful music; to the trustees of Presbyterian church for its use during convention; to the Ann Arbor Organ company for the fine piano furnished gratituously; to the press for donation of valuable space both in reporting and advertising convention; to the young men who assisted the reception committee; to the girls who acted as pages; and to all others who contributed in any way to make the convention a success, and a pleasant memory.

The committee of the Bethlehem church society having general charge of the new church have elected Rev. John Neumann chairman and G. Wahr secretary. The building committee, consisting of Rev. J: Neumann, T. F. Hutzel and John Koch, will report plans and estimated cost of the new edifice at the July meeting of the committee.

It is told of one of our new patrolmen that recently when he went to arrest a man who was so drunk that he couldn't stand alone, the officer was bound to put a pair of handcuffs on the man before he would touch him. But in his nervousness, this being his first arrest, the officer snapped the handcuffs shut and couldn't open them again. Marshal Banfield should give his force daily handcuff and club drills.

The Marshal, with Officers Collins, Peterson and McCabe, armed with search warrants, visited a number of students' rooms yesterday, in search of stolen signs. From half a dozen places they brought away a dray load of signs, embracing everything from an opera house "Taken" to a "Boarding" sign ten feet long. Other places will be searched today and warrants issued for the offenders. It is probable that the fad of sign stealing will be less popular in Ann Arbor now.

Street Commissioner Sutherland has in his possession a photograph which shows plainly how well the minor ordinances and admonitions of the city government are obeyed. In Hanover park there is a sign about ten feet long and two feet broad upon which is printed in letters a foot high, "Keep off the Park." Notwithstanding this order of the city so publicly displayed, the picture, which was taken by a kodak fiend, shows a young lady seated on top of the sign and another standing beside it.

Mr. Moses Gomberg, instructor in organic chemistry in the University, was at Benzonia, Tuesday, where he was a witness before the coroner's jury in the inquest on Anna Thacker, whom it was suspected had been poisoned. He swore that he had examined portions of the stomach, liver and brain and found arsenic in all the parts. The jury rendered a verdict charging the woman's husband with administering the poison.

The parish of St. Andrew's church, Detroit, of which Rev. W. O. Waters, formerly assistant rector of St. Andrew's church in this city, and curator of Harris Hall, is the rector, is about to commence the erection of a grand edifice, to cost $50,000, and to be known as St. Andrew's Memorial church, in honor of the late Bishop Harris, who was so beloved by the people of this diocese. Sunday's Detroit Free Press gave illustrations which indicate that it will be by far the most beautiful church edifice in that city.

For a superb exhibition of the asine qualities, the committee of the board of supervisor that has been ordering some of the fine old trees on the court house square cut down, cannot be equalled. A few weeks ago a fine maple on the west side was cut down without any excuse and yesterday morning a man started in to cut down one of the finest of the row of old elms that lines the north walk. After the tree had been damaged so that it will probably die, one of the parties in charge was induced to call a halt until the matter could be brought before the committee again.

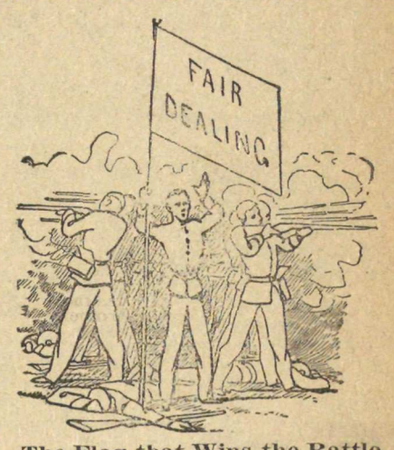
GOODYEAR'S ARMY



The Flag that Wins the Battle. It's inscribed "Fair Dealing." A good motto, isn't it?—the one we have done business by for years. It may seem incredulous, but our reputation for honesty will sustain it. And when we say that we have the largest and most complete stock, that our goods are the best we can buy, that we will not be undersold, there is no one to dispute the facts.

A NARROW ESCAPE!

How it Happened.

The following remarkable event in a lady's life will interest the reader: "For a long time I had a terrible pain at my heart, which fluttered almost incessantly. I had no appetite and could not sleep. I would be compelled to sit up in bed and belch gas from my stomach until I thought every minute would be my last. There was a feeling of oppression about my heart, and I was afraid to draw a full breath. I couldn't sweep a room without sitting down and resting; but, thank God, by the help of New Heart Cure all that is past and I feel like another woman. Before using the New Heart Cure I had taken different so-called remedies and been treated by doctors without any benefit until I was both discouraged and disgusted. My husband bought me a bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and am happy to say I never regretted it, as I now have a splendid appetite and sleep well. I weighed 125 pounds when I began taking the remedy, and now I weigh 130½. Its effect in my case has been truly marvelous. It far surpasses any other medicine I have ever taken or any benefit I ever received from physicians."—Mrs. Harry Starr, Pottsville, Pa., October 12, 1892.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. This great discovery by an eminent specialist in heart disease, contains neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE MAYOR.

To the Honorable the Common Council.

A communication from the Health Officer is here submitted to you for consideration; I believe that the salaries of the active members of the Board of Health are not what they should be, if we demand the valuable service which that Board should perform. This should be the most important Board in our city government, and this work should be carefully performed. I would, therefore, request that the matter of salaries of the Board of Health be investigated and that the Board be required to make monthly reports to the Common Council the same as other Boards, and that these reports become a permanent record by being published in your proceedings.

C. G. DARLING, MAYOR.
Ann Arbor, June 4th '94.

To his Ho or the Mayor, C. G. Darling:

Dear Sir—I believe that the conpensation of the Board of Health is not what it should be for the performance of labor necessarily imposed by a city of the magnitude of Ann Arbor. The time will soon arrive when lateral sewers will be extended to many parts of the city. And many privy vaults will require to be inspected and ordered to be emptied and the vaults filled. This alone will require much time. Also an increase of labor would necessitate monthly reports, from various quarters which is now almost unknown for the very reason that the compensation is too small. In my report for the year last past I mentioned what would be a fair salary for a health officer.

The duties imposed on the inspector of the Board of Health should be at least one hundred and fifty dollars. While the president of the Board should have at least one hundred dollars, (his position is something like the one your Honor occuples, therefore, his salary should be less). With a fair salary, monthly reports would be exacted from every physician and undertaker in the city.

Very courteously,
DR. JOHN KAPP.

Referred to special committee on salaries Board of Health, which was appointed May 21, 1894.

A petition signed by Beal, Barkham and twenty-five others, asking the Mayor to appoint patrolman on Detroit street and Broadway as passed by the common council.

Referred to Committee on Police.

On motion, the Council adjourned.

W. J. MILLER,
City Clerk.

SHE WAS HELPLESS

But Hood's Sarsaparilla Quickly Made Her Well.

FARNSWORTH, MICH., May 4, 1894.—I have been troubled with neuralgia or rheumatism a number of years. Last fall I had a hard attack of it so I was helpless. I had no faith in doctors or medicines. My friends began to fear I would not recover. Grip set in and the pain all went to my head. I finally consented to their getting a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. They put me into a hot bath, then gave me Sarsaparilla according to directions. I soon began to recover. Since then, I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla as a family medicine. MRS. L. A. BUTLER.

Looking For a Precedent.

"Wow! Murder!" said the young lady from New York to her beautiful Boston friend. "Great goodness, Clara, what are you standing there like a mummy for when there's a mouse right under you?"

"Hush," said Clara, calming herself by a great effort, "I am trying to recollect what one of Ibsen's heroines would have done in a similar emergency."—Chicago Record.

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million people have found just such a friend in Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption Coughs and Colds.—If you have never used this Great Cough Medicine, one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of Throat, Chest and Lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded. Trial bottles free at Eberbach Drug and Chemical Co., Ann Arbor, and Geo. J. Haussler's drug store, Manchester. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

THE THACKER CASE.

BENZONIA, June 5.—There is no longer any doubt that poison, and a large quantity of it, has been found in Mrs. Thacker's stomach by the chemical analysis. This was intended to be kept secret, but it leaked out by the best authority. Professor Gomberg has arrived and will give his testimony at the inquest, without doubt confirming the above statement. Mr. Thacker appears to be more broken in spirits than at first, and it is said is losing both appetite and sleep.

The father and brother of Thacker's housekeeper drove in from their house, 12 miles southwest of here, to induce the girl to accompany them home. She, however, absolutely refused to leave Thacker and they were compelled to return wtthout her. The father was so broken up by his daughter's behavior that he could not eat any dinner and her brother was very angry. He is reported to have said that the girl ought to be whipped out of town. The excitement is very high here, and startling disclosures are expected which will stir this quiet little burg from center to circumference.

Bitten by a Dog.

DETROIT, June 5.—Ralph Finehart, the 12-year-old son of School Inspector Joseph K. Finehart, was bitten by a large dog owned by Bernard Youngblood, grocer, at 620 Gratiot avenue. The lad was playing with some other boys on the sidewalk on the west side of the city hall, and while passing the grocer's wagon the dog reached out and fastened his fangs in the boy's forehead. Ralph ran into the basement of the city hall. The wound bled freely, staining his face and clothes. He was taken to a drug store where the wound was dressed. Mr. Finehart afterwards had it cauterized by a physician. The dog left two deep, clean cut wounds in his forehead.

THE ALMA SANITARIUM.

He Recommends the Sanitarium to Patients.

A Very Interesting Discourse by a Prominent Physician.

Very few physicians in Detroit are as enthusiastic on the art of sanitation as Dr. Shurly. The doctor believes that not alone should physicians take more interest in this important question, but the public should also consider it. The doctor is a standard authority on many medical subjects, and his ability as a scientific reasoner has found many admirers in the United States and Europe.

"I have been very much impressed with the success which the treatment of chronic diseases, both nervous and physical, has met with recently in different parts of the country," the doctor observed yesterday. "Michigan is not behind any state in the Union in this important matter. Some of the brainiest men connected with the hospital corps of the nation are right here in this state, and they are making noteworthy progress in different lines of the profession. But my attention has been called recently to the work of Dr. Pettijohn, of the Alma Sanitarium, which has grown to be a very important medical institution of Michigan. The doctor I know to be a very estimable and able physician, and he is assisted by a corps of first-class practitioners. Dr. Pettijohn stands well with the profession, and he is making an elegant record with chronic diseases.

"The Alma Sanitarium is a reputable institution, with all the requirements of a first-class hospital and the cheerful comforts of a home. It is really more of a home than a hospital. People who are sent there seem to be highly pleased, not alone with the location, but the courteous attention accorded them. I have recommended the Sanitarium to many patients suffering from light chronic troubles, and they have returned invariably cured, and those whose cases were found incurable were much relieved by their stay there. There are excellent mineral springs at the Sanitarium, and their waters are considered as fine as the best in the country.

"The Alma Bromide Water contains 19.-242 grains of mineral to the gallon, being the strongest bromide water in the world, and comes from a depth of 2,863 feet. Its efficacy has been demonstrated by physicians who have used it in baths and fomentations, properly diluted, at any temperature, producing tonic, stimulant, alterative or resolvent effects in nervous diseases, skin diseases, catarrhal troubles and rheumatism.

"The Park Mineral Spring is a mild muriated water, similar to the famous Schwalbach of Germany. It contains six grains of ferric carbonate to the gallon and is a delightful iron tonic as well as a diuretic. The value of this water is fully demonstrated in the treatment of diseases of the kidneys and bladder.

"The building is magnificently equipped. Electricity is scientifically applied; there are massage and manual Swedish movements, while physical culture and training are provided. The Rest cure is scientifically applied. Altogether it is a delightful place, with an institution so equipped that the patient may combine recreation with health-seeking. I expect to run up there soon. It is worthy of a visit, as Alma is really a charming resort and its climate is most salubrious."—Detroit Evening News.

Resolved, That we, the members of "154" express our sorrow at the loss our trusted brother, and be it also

Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to those to whom his loss in more keenly felt.

Another Democratic Candidate.

The Washington correspondent of the Detroit Evening News brings out another candidate for governor in the dispatches Wednesday, it being Lester H. Salsbury, of Adrian. The dispatch says.

Washington, June 6.—"Lester H. Salsbury will be the Dickinsonian candidate for governor, and an awful fight will be up against Whiting in the state convention."

This statement is made here today and seems to indicate that plans which the anti-Campau crowd have been trying to arrange for some time past have finally been perfected. Salsbury has been reluctant about figuring as a candidate, but, it is said, has now virtually given his assent.

The Salsbury boom is described here as having been made ready for launching only in the event of certain contingencies. Whiting can still avoid convention opposition from the referees if he wants to. As the candidate of the whole party rather than a faction, he can be named by acclamation, under a positive agreement that his nomination is not to be held up as a signal for anti-administration triumph. If he thinks that it would be too great a handicap at the polls to make terms with the referees and wave aloft the olive branch, Salsbury is to be trotted out.

Mr. Gorman, whose constitutent Mr. Salsbury is, admitted on his return from Michigan that there was lots of pressure on the Adrian man to get him into the race. Gorman himself regrets the plan, as he fears it will affect Salsbury's candidacy for Gen. Cutcheon's place on the fortifications board, in behalf of which the congressman has been working so long.

"It won't interfere a bit," the referees say, "In fact it will help Salsbury to be the democratic candidate for governor."

Mr. Gorman, however, expects that Mr. Cutcheon will be bounced very soon now, and if Salsbury should take the nomination for governor it would tie him up until next fall, and the fortifications board vacancy would in the meantime be given to somebody else.

A dispatch from Adrian last night states that Mr. Salsbury positively refuses to be a candidate.

Paid Over Half a Million.

Ex-Postmaster, E. E. Beal, has kept account of the business of the post office for the past four years of his incumbency with the following totals:

ORDERS AND NOTES ISSUED.

May 7, '90—May 1. '91	$45,546 66
" 1, '91— " 1, '92	48,680 79
" 1, '92— " 1, '93	47,640 35

" 1, '93— " 30, '94	150,188 89
	513,889 32

The expenses of the office were $59,519.25, and the net profit to the government on Ann Arbor's post office was $52,998.81.

One of the most interesting items is the amounts sent away in money orders and postal notes, as contrasted with that sent here from outside. The figures are as follows:

RECEIPTS.

May 7, 1890 to April 1, 1891	$ 22,894 72
April 1, 1891 " " 1, 1892	26,835 46

Total receipts	$114,509 06

This shows over $314,000 more in orders and notes than were issued in four years, or nearly $80,000 a year.
