Wants $5,000 Damages.

Loretta A. Hutchinson, of Ypsilanti, has brought suit and asks $5,000 damages against John Collins and James McCann, of Ypsilanti. The defendants are saloon keepers and Mrs. Hutchinson claims that they sold liquor to her son, Basil Hutchinson, who is a minor. In her bill she alleges that because the defendants sold young Hutchinson liquor he became drunk and while in this condition on January 10th he attempted to burglarize a meat market and for this offense was sent to the State Industrial School for Boys at Lansing, where he is now confined.

The Regents Make Appointments.

At a special meeting of the board of regents, yesterday, the following appointments were made: Dr. Jennie Hughes in place of Dr. Dakin, as assistant to the chair of obstetrics and gynecology from July 1, '94, to October 1, '94; Lester E. Peck, house physician in place of Dr. Hoffman from the present time until August 19, '94, he (Mr. Peck) to receive his board and lodging; Dr. Eugene Eggleston and Dr. Maurice Hunt (appointments reconfirmed); Dr. O. R. Long lecturer on mental diseases for one year without salary. Dr. James Playfair McMurrach, Ph. D., of Cincinnati, demonstrator of anatomy, vice the late Dr. C. L. Ford, salary $2,500.

Decorated the Graves.

The members of Arbor Tent, K. O. T. M., together with the L. O. T. M. hive, celebrated the anniversary of the order Sunday afternoon by appropriate exercises, the large lodge room being filled. After scripture reading and song, Rev. W. L. Tedrow preached an excellent sermon on the aims and objects of the order.

At the conclusion of the services, 150 members of the K. O. T. M. formed in line and marched to Forest Hill cemetery, where they decorated the graves of nine of their deceased fraters. A delegation also visited the German cemetery and decorated the grave of another knight who is buried there, George W. Allmendinger.

Another Pioneer Gone.

Nelson M. Schoff, another old pioneer of Ann Arbor, passed peacefully away about four o'clock Saturday morning, at his home on South Division street. He had been in feeble health for several years, but on retiring Friday night appeared as well as usual. Mrs. Schoff awoke about five o'clock in the morning and noticing that her husband was unusually pale, sent for Dr. Fitzgerald who upon arrival found that he must have been dead for an hour or more. The cause of his death was paralysis.

Mr. Schoff was born at Aurelius, N. Y., March 24th, 1817, and came to Ann Arbor with his parents when this place was little more than a wilderness. For many years he was a prominent business man here, the firm of Schoff & Miller being engaged in the book business. He retired a number of years ago and has not since been in business. In 1848 he was married to Miss Elizabeth Ernest, who survives him. They had one daughter, Cora, who was married to Herbert Randall, and who died a little more than a year ago.

The funeral was held at the family residence, No. 44 S. Division street, yesterday afternoon, the burial taking place at Forest Hill cemetery.

Stolen Thermometer Found.

Marshal Banfield has a fine collection of signs, thermometers, cigar cutters, statuary and other small articles on exhibition in his office, the results of visits paid to several students rooms last week by himself and other officers. Among the articles found by them was the large thermometer which Eberbach & Son had hung in their doorway for the benefit of the public, but which was stolen some time ago. This was found in the room of Charles Noble, a young high school student of wealthy parentage from Elk Rapids. One of the finest collections of signs to be found in the city was also discovered in the same room. Complaint was made against young Noble for stealing the thermometer and his trial will be held before Justice Pond tomorrow.

At other rooms visited by the officers a number of stolen signs were found. The occupants of the rooms were called to the Marshal's office where a consultation was held but no other arrests were made. Two of these were also high school boys, only one student being implicated so far.

Sign stealing has been a fad here for several years and Marshal Banfield will be entitled to the thanks of the business men generally if he succeeds in stopping it.

The Goat Rides and Feasts.

The Masonic fraternity of Ann Arbor had a big time Friday evening, the occasion being the conferring of the third degree upon Rev. H. Tatlock and Prof. H. N. Chute by fraternity lodge. Invitations had been sent to a number of the masons of this vicinity and 250 or more responded. The work was done in an appreciative and impressive manner, the candidates as well as the audience enjoying the fine ritual. At the conclusion of the work an adjournment was taken to the large drill hall where covers were spread for the party and an excellent banquet was served under the supervision of H. G. Prettyman. Guests were present from Detroit, Ypsilanti and a number of places in this vicinity.

Following the banquet the guests were regaled with excellent remarks in response to toasts proposed by L. D. Wines, who presided at the head of the table. He first called upon W. G. Doty, who gave a splendid discourse on "Masonic Brotherhood." The next speaker was Chas. E. Hiscock, who in response to the set toast on "Membership" gave a good talk on the advantages and duties which this subject includes. Rev. Henry Tatlock, as one of the candidates, spoke on "Impressions" and gave a bright, witty version of "how thing struck him." Dr. V. C. Vaughan on "Medical Masonry" told several good stories and related incidents of his masonic experiences. Prof. H. N. Chute, the second of the candidates, responded to "The Plumb, Square and Level," and a most enjoyable evening concluded with "A Talk" by A. J. Sawyer in his happiest vein.

Money Needed to Grease the Wheels.

There is little if any change in the street car situation since the last issue of the Argus and the running of cars on our streets appears as far away as ever unless the common council takes the advice of the Argus and declares the franchise now held by the company void. Strange as it may seem the interests of the city are best served when stock and bonds of our public enterprises are held by outside capitalists. When action is to be taken which will effect the pocket-books of our own citizens, the council hesitates to act. This may not be the case in other cities but it certainly is in Ann Arbor.

The eastern capitalists who have already invested $50,000 in the bonds stand ready today to refund the bonds and invest in $40,000 worth more of the new bonds, taking them pro rata with the amount they now held. Were our local capitalists as ready to run the risk as the eastern men, cars would soon be running and large extensions of the system made. But as the case now stands a settlement of the difficulties is now blocked by the Ann Arbor Savings bank, which holds $10,000 worth of the bonds and under the same arrangement as the eastern capitalists now stand ready to enter into, the bank would be obliged to invest $6,666.67 more, for which they would receive an equivalent in the new bonds of the company. It is understood that with one or two exceptions the directors of the bank are willing to accept the proposition, but so far those who oppose the measure have been able to prevent it. One of the directors suggest that this difficulty might be arranged by the extra bonds being subscribed by other residents of the city who are anxious to see cars running again. It is reported that word was received that the eastern bondholders would hold their proposition open until last night, but it is hoped that this is not so, for in case the bank does not see the way clear to make the further investment called for, other public spirited citizens may take the extra bonds as suggested.

A New Editor for the Argus.

Within a week or so, that original and versatile writer, Hon. E. J. Smith, of Adrian, will assume charge of the local and county work on the Argus. Our readers have had a few specimens of his work in the Adrian Press Washtenawians, which the Argus has made a feature each week. He is a ready and witty writer, and will brighten up our columns with an original humor, which we feel sure will prove interesting to our large and increasing circle of readers. Mr. Smith lays down his pen on the Adrian Press this week, and Mr. Stearns pays him this farewell tribute:

"With this issue Mr. E. J. Smith, so long the very efficient editor of the Press, severs his editorial connections with the paper, and will accept a position tendered him by the proprietors of the Ann Arbor Argus. Our readers will attest the fidelity and ability with which he has discharged the duties that fall to one holding his position upon a weekly paper, and with us will regret exceedingly that he decided to make a change. Mr. Beakes goes into the postoffice, and knowing well the qualifications Mr. Smith possesses as a trenchant, versatile writer felt able to make a far more advantageous offer than could the Press, and Mr. Smith deems it a duty to himself to 'yield to the temptation.' We part with him with very great reluctance, for it is very largely to his trite, pungent and fluent writings that The Press has become widely known and freely 'scissored.' He has attained a position as a writer that few can gain, even on the best of journals, and only poor health has long prevented him from accepting an editorial chair on metropolitan journals.

He takes with him to his new field of labor, the best wishes of the entire Press force, where he has so long labored, and the Argus, though a live paper in the past, will be imbued with new life and vigor."

A Fine Musical Festival.

The annual June Festival of St. Thomas' conservatory of music was held at the opera house last Thursday evening, and too much praise cannot be bestowed upon this exhibition of the talents and training of the pupils of that institution. The music was fine and the perfect time and easy technique of the piano performers shows the result of careful study and strong discipline. The scenes and drills which interspersed the program were pretty and were the result of considerable labor on the part of those having the entertainment in charge. It is certain that the festival throughout will compare favorably with exhibitions of the work of pupils in any institution of a similar kind in the country.

The festival was as great a success financially as it was artistically, every seat in the opera house having been sold before the doors were opened for the entertainment. The audience was an appreciative one and each number on the program was received with applause. A number were present from Ypsilanti, Northfield, Dexter and the surrounding towns. Fr. Kelly and the ladies in charge deserve credit for giving Ann Arbor one of the best and prettiest of local entertainments that has been given here in some time.

The first number on the program was a 16-hand piece, Minuet Mozart. It was given by the Misses L. Covert, M. Tice, L. Fitchel, D. Wall, G. Kress, N. Brown, A. Donegan and A. Ryan. It was a fine introduction to the program.

The second number, May Bells, Barjtel, was by a ladies' chorus composed of the Misses R. Seery, M. C. Clarken, G. Hawes, A. Reilly, C. Gilbert, N. Brown, M. Tice, M. Audette, L. Rinsey, L. Tice and Mrs. Roy McClure. Miss K. Burns accompanied on the piano. The voices were well trained and it proved a very enjoyable number.

The third number, Tarentella, was a 16-hand piece by the little Misses J. Clarken, S. Rinsey, A. Tice, L. Granger, V. Tice, K. O'Mara, I. Meuth and L. Covert. The little ones captivated the audience and received an enthusiastic encore to which they did not respond.

The original reverie by Miss M. Clarken showed deep thought and was well read.

The Chopin Waltz, op. 64, by the Misses K. Burns, N. Brown, T. Kearns and C. Gilbert, proved a very pleasing number.

The recitation, Zingarella, by Miss L. Fitchel in costume showed fine training on her part. Miss Fitchel has a good voice and was entirely unaffected in her manner. Part first closed with a 16-hand piano piece by the Misses M. Walsh, A. Donegan, L. Covert, M. Tice, L. Rinsey, M. Foley, N. Fohey and M. Fohey.

Part two proved a very pleasing part of the program. The first number was the drill of the Spanish Archers. About 20 boys took part. The scene was very pretty, the handsome costumes of the boys being shown off well by different colored lights thrown on the stage. The drilling was well done, all the movements being executed with the precision of a military troop.

The recitation, Justinian, by Miss G. Kress, was well received. She told the story of Justinian's rebuke in a very pleasing manner and was loudly applauded.

The finest number of the evening, however, was the Meeting of the Nereids and Oreads, in which about 30 young ladies took part. The curtain rose on a very handsome scene, the Oreads being grouped on a large rock with a background of water. The Nereids appeared on the scene in a beautiful barge which slowly worked its way on the stage, apparently propelled by oars in the hands of the Nereids. The music was very appropriate, and added greatly to the completeness of the scene. The Moonbeams' Revel was also a part of this scene. It was by the little Misses B. Riley, A. Tice, I. Ross, M. Kennedy, S. Rinsey, S. Cropsey, K. O'Mara, F. Parsons, B. Parsons, L. Covert, J. Fullerton, H. Fullerton, and J. Clarken. Their dancing was very pretty and the little ones appeared very sweet.

"The Lights and Shades of Story" was a series of poses by the Misses C. O'Hearn, M. Dwyer, M. Audette, G. Kress, N. Brown, L. Fitchel, V. Fohey, M. Clarken and C. Gilbert. This was also a very enjoyable number. The Argus has never seen posing which was superior. The young ladies dropped into some of the more difficult poses with an ease and grace which could not be excelled.

"The Galop Chromatique Liszt op 12" by Misses K. Burns, V. Fohey, C. Gilbert, G. Kress, D. Wall, T. Kearns, N. Brown, and L. Rinsey was a fine piano number. This difficult piece was performed with precision and ease which speaks very well for the performers.

The program closed by the chorus "O Lovely night," Abt, and when the curtain went down the audience was only sorry that the program was so soon over.

John L. Stoddard.

The world-famous traveler and lecturer, has enjoyed unexampled opportunities for the collection of the finest and best selected photographs of American scenery, the choicest of which are published in a series of sixteen portfolios, with eloquent descriptive sketches from his own pen. In connection with this work, Our Country and Our Neighbors, the publishers offer a large new steel plate of Niagara Falls, the finest ever engraved, and which can be procured in no other manner, both for the absurdly low price of $3. Call at the Michigan Central ticket office and see them.

Before the W. C. T. U. convention in Ann Arbor last week, Miss Moore, in the height and majesty of passion, rallied against the men because women had not been given the ballot. We can say to Miss Moore that she has hurt herself with us. Those harsh, cruel words toward our insect, have sunk deep into our soul and cooled our warm desire to hold her bonnet and shout "Go it darling!" as with her bright, scarlet horse scintillating in the soft light of a presidential autumn, she flashed over the race course of the executive candidature. Never again can she be to us what she was—never!

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

The Democrats of Michigan will meet in state convention in the city of Grand Rapids on the 28th day of June, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of nominating party candidates for the following state offices: Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary of State, State Treasurer, Auditor General, Attorney General, Commissioner of the State Land Office, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Member of the State Board of Education, and also two candidates for United States Senators; for the selection of a State Central Committee to serve for the ensuing two years, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before it.

According to the rule adopted by the Democratic State Convention, held in Detroit in 1891, and since followed, every county in the state is entitled to one delegate to the State Convention for each 500 votes cast for Governor at the last general election, and one additional delegate for a fraction of not less than 250 votes. But each county is entitled to at least two delegates. All delegates must be residents of the county they represent.

The delegates from each congressional district are requested to meet in caucus on the day of the convention at quarters to be hereafter designated by the Central Committee and select candidates for recommendation to the convention as follows, to-wit: Two members of the State Central Committee, one Vice-President of the Convention and one member for each of the following committees of the Convention: Credentials, Permanent Organization and Order of Business and Resolutions.

It will facilitate the working of the Committee on Credentials if the Secretary of each County Convention will promptly forward to the headquarters of the State Central Committee in Detroit immediately after the convention, a full and accurate list of the delegates chosen to the State Convention.

Renewing our allegiance to the cardinal principles of Democracy, we cordially invite all those who have voted in the past with the Democratic party, and all others who are desirous of associating with it in the future, to participate in the caucuses for the election of delegates to this convention.

FRANK H. HOSFORD, Secretary.

Pittsfield Township.

The democrats of Pittsfield township will hold a caucus to elect delegates to the county convention on Monday, June 18, 1894, at 7:30 o'clock p. m.

By order of Committee,
F. E. MILLS, Chairman.

Senator Gorman received the plaudits of the republican press for his treachery to the cause of tariff reform. Verily he has received his reward. The Baltimore Sun, the leading democratic paper in his own state, comments thusly as to the effect of his desertion upon his future political ambitions: "You have no more chance of occupying the executive chair at Washington than the ghost of Benedict Arnold. For, as far as the Presidency is concerned, you are as dead as that celebrated Revolutionary 'conservative' who thought it a grand and glorious stroke of policy to 'compromise' with King George, the royal high-tariff McKinley of his day."

The Kalamazoo Gazette utters words of wisdom when it says in substance that the highest interests of the democracy require that the management of the party be removed from the factional turmoils of the metropolis. It recognizes, as do all democrats, the ability of the Detroit leaders, but it insists there are good democrats in other parts of the state with just as much talent, who are entirely independent of faction. The Gazette believes, therefore, that the chairmanship should go elsewhere. The Argus agrees with this position, not because it loves the Detroit leaders less, but because it loves the democratic party more. Individual ambition and factional differences should always be subordinated to the highest good of the organization.

A news dispatch from Philadelphia says that Gov. McKinley recently sent a request to Pres. F. J. Kimball, of the Norfolk & Western railroad asking that he allow no more coal to be shipped over his road by non-union men. The governor, it asserts, did this at the request of John McBride, the president of the striking coal miners' organization. If this be true it stamps Gov. McKinley as a demagogue of the first water and a cringing coward in the presence of rioters and law breakers who happen to have a vote in their hands. Think of it! A great railroad asked to suspend traffic whereby it would be compelled to violate its contracts and cause manufacturing establishments employing thousands of hands to shut down, and public institutions to be closed for the want of fuel—all for the accommodation of a mob of lawbreakers whose votes he may otherwise fail to get in his efforts to reach the presidency. Such demagoguism entitles him to be classed with the unspeakable Gov. Altgeld, of Illinois. That political conditions in this country make it possible for such men to be foisted into high place, is a shame and a humiliation, and yet it is alleged that one of these men aspires to a seat in the United States Senate and the other to the presidency. O tempora! O mores!

STATE BANK TAX REPEAL.

The bill unconditionally repealing the 10 per cent. tax on the issues of state banks has suffered defeat in the house by a majority of 70. The defeat of the bill was not unexpected by its advocates, but the large majority against it was a surprise. This tax was laid early in the war, when the government in order to float its bonds found it necessary to create a banking system based on the deposit of United States securities. The tax was placed for the purpose of driving these issues of state banks out of circulation.

The strongest objection to the national bank system has always been in the south. This objection is probably owing to the fact that most of the banks of issue are in the north, there being but 721 out of a total of 3,796, located in the south. The cause of this unequal distribution is that there is much more capital available in the north for banking purposes than in the south. The south has desired, therefore, to supply its lack of banking facilities by using state bonds and other as good securities as banking capital on which circulating notes could be based.

The last national democratic convention declared in favor of the repeal of the 10 per cent. tax on state bank issues and the bill recently defeated was prepared in response thereto. Its defeat is due probably more to the present complicated condition of financial affairs and the desire to let well enough alone than to any inherent weakness in the bill.

The repeal of the purchase clause of the Sherman act, the failure of the seigniorage bill and the defeat last Wednesday of the bill to repeal the tax on the state bank issues, indicate pretty strongly the temper of the present congress and administration upon financial questions. While they stand ready to wipe from the statute books the makeshift legislation of the preceding regime, they can be depended upon to pass no financial legislation which will in any way shock the national credit.

All this indicates that the financial fog through which the country has been passing is gradually clearing. Notwithstanding these facts it cannot be honestly claimed by the enemies of the present administration that it is opposed to bimetalism, or in favor of gold monometallism, for the law repealing the purchase clause of the Sherman act contains these significant words:

"And it is hereby declared to be the policy of the United States to continue the use of both gold and silver as standard money, and to coin both gold and silver into money of equal intrinsic and exchangeable value, such equality to be secured through international agreement, or by such safeguards of legislation as will ensure the maintenance of the parity in value of the coins of the two metals, and the equal power of every dollar at all times in the markets and in the payment of debts. And it is hereby further declared that the efforts of the government should be directed to the establishment of such a safe system of bimetalism as will maintain at all times the equal power of every dollar coined or issued by the United States, in the markets and in the payment of debts."

This utterance, be it remembered, is not a part of a political platform but a portion of a law. It indicates that the democratic party is in favor of the free coinage of silver on any basis that will maintain the parity of the gold dollar and the silver dollar or secure their concurrent circulation.

AROUSE THE DEMOCRACY.

The fight with which the Michigan democracy is confronted this year will be one of the hardest in its history. If the party is to retain its vote and go into the campaign with any prospects of success, all petty bickerings and factional foolishness must be buried at the outset. It will be preposterous folly to lose the victory through disintegration resulting from lack of harmony.

If the party is to go into the fight to any purpose, it is absolutely necessary that it be united, energetic, fearless and unflinching in its advocacy of those doctrines upon which democratic victories have been won in the past. It should stand by the principles which carried it to national supremacy in 1892, and the people should be given to understand that notwithstanding the recreancy and traitorous conduct of some of its supposed representatives at Washington, it still adheres to those principles on which alone the government can be conducted. The masses must be made to clearly understand that "the fundamental principle of sound political economy, minimum interference with trade, a uniform and sound currency, are the issues today before the country, as they were before the last democratic convention resasserted them as democratic doctrine."

With such a platform the result in November will depend largely upon the amount of vigor and energy put into the canvass. The local organizations everywhere must, therefore, be enthused and inspired. Every voter should be seen, and the stump should ring in every county. Every man who can present the issues in an intelligible manner from the stump should be called upon to do so, and none should fail to respond to the necessities of the party in this crisis. Organizers and workers should be sent into every school district to aid in rousing up such a pitch of fervor as will impel every man to go to the polls, and cause to be forthcoming sufficient funds to meet the legitimate expenses of the campaign.

It is true that congress has not accomplished what it might have accomplished and what the people had a right to expect of it, but the principles upon which the last great victory was won remain. They have not yet been fully carried into legislation and to abandon them now will be to lose much of the fruit of the great victory of 1892. The abandonment of these principles at this stage would be inconceivable folly, for "with the return of the republicans to power every trust that has been created, fostered and enriched by the republican tariff policy will obtain a new lease of existence, and will flourish anew on the tribute exacted from the people. Monopoly will gather new strength and be inspired by increased greed. All the evils and abuses which have grown up under republican rule in the past will be aggravated."

It would be indescribably foolish to take such a backward step because a few politicians at Washington have turned traitors and delayed the consummation of democratic hopes. These traitors should be denounced and men sent in their places who will obey the people's commands, but there should be no abandonment of principle. If the campaign this fall is conducted along these lines and every demo-

The first gun of the campaign is fired this morning. It will be followed by a general cannonading all along the line. You see the Argus has plenty of ammunition, having just made a contract which will enable it to put Harper's Great Pictorial History of the Civil War into the homes of Washtenaw county at an unparalleled low price, which brings it within the reach of all. It is published complete in twenty-six parts, one part a week at the price of ten cents a part. This is without doubt the greatest history of the civil war and has always hitherto been sold at from $16 to $30.

It contains over a thousand illustrations that appeared in Harper's Weekly during the war. The pages are the same size as Harper's Weekly. It is well printed with good type and good paper in large double parts for ten cents for each double part. It can be secured only by cutting out one coupon from the Argus and bringing it with 10 cents to this office. Every twentieth subscriber, old or new, who pay a year's subscription, $1.00, in advance, during the next two weeks, will, without any coupons, receive the complete set, worth $2.60, as a free gift from the Argus. Every old subscriber, who pays in advance before June 20, will receive part No. 1 free and run his chance of getting the whole history free if he is lucky enough to be the twentieth man. Every new subscriber during the week ending June 20, will receive part No. 1 free. The advertisement on another page tells something of the great history.

ADDITIONAL COUNTY.

Mrs. Ann Welch, of Milan township, died on the 3rd inst., aged 64 years and 6 months. She was the wife of Thomas Welch. The funeral occurred Wednesday.

Seven beautiful new residences are under construction in Milan. The last one to be gotten under way is that of M. C. Edwards, corner of Wabash avenue and Division street.

Judge Gun, of Cadillac, has purchased property in Ypsilanti, and will soon move his family to that city. The judge is the father of the hustling local editor of the Ypsilantian.

The city has at last taken hold of the matter of abating the frog-pond nuisance on Cross street in earnest, and are putting in a tile drain down Grove street so as to take the water to the Michigan Central sewer. This is tardy justice to those who live in that section and have suffered so much from the city's neglect. Tally one for the new council.—Ypsilantian. What will the people of that vicinity do now when they no longer hear the frog lullaby as they pass to the land of dreams?

Where Women Vote.

Women have municipal suffrage in Cape Colony, which rules a million of square miles.

In all the countries of Russian

Asia they can do so whenever a Russian Colony settles. The Russians are colonizing the whole of their vast Asian possessions and carrying with them everywhere the "mir," or self-governing village, wherein women who are heads of households vote.

Municipal women suffrage exists in New Zealand, and at parliamentary elections also.

Iceland in the Northern Atlantic, the Isle of Man, between England and Ireland, and Pitcairn Island in the South Pacific, have full woman suffrage.

In the Dominion of Canada women have municipal suffrage in every province, and also in the northwest territories. In Ontario they vote for all elective officers except members of the legislature and parliament.—New York Recorder.

COMPELLED TO LAND A FORCE

Commander Thomas of the Benington Will Protect Americans.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Dispatches received from Commander Thomas of the United States steamship Benington at La Libertad, Salvador, state that he has found it necessary to land a force from his vessel. He reports that the commanders of the Salvadorean soldiery have left the town and that a state of anarchy prevails. There are few, if any, Americans outside of the consulate in La Libertad, but Commander Thomas will protect not only these, but also care for British and other foreign residents until order is restored in pursuance of the understanding which for a long time has existed between the United States and British naval commanders in Central and South American ports.

The Clinton village assessment roll just completed shows a total assessed valuation of $580,000 an increase over last year of about $45,000.

The Lutheran parsonage at Dundee having become quite dilapidated, workmen have been set at work to put it in a habitable condition.

Even wicked Dundee recognizes the claims of the children and special children's day services were held in the churches there Sunday.

The Methodist parsonage at Manchester has been out of repair, and a subscription amounting to $65 has been raised to put the place in shape.

The Manchester village tax collector is hustling to collect the taxes, and Manchesterites who are short of funds are kept busy dodging the collector.

The church sheds at Rowe's corners in Sharon, which were scattered all over the country by an amateur cyclone about a year ago, are being rebuilt.

Miss Nettie Rowe, who has been teaching school in the Spaford district, Manchester, pleased the directors so well that they have engaged her for next fall.

A new Sunday school has been organized at Lima. Jay Easton is superintendent, Mrs. F. Ward assistant superintendent and Mrs. Alice Wood secretary.

Miss Millie Jacobus and John Bone, both of South Lyon, concluded that they could get along pretty well in this world traveling in double harness were married last week.

A car load of lumber attached to a west bound freight caught fire at Whittaker last Tuesday and had to be sidetracked when it reached Milan. The lumber was entirely consumed.

The Knights of Pythias of Salem held memorial services and decorated the graves of the deceased members of the order. In the evening Rev. W. H. Shannon preached a special sermon.

South Lyon will be obliged to hold a special election, Chas. Pardon, one of the members of the council, being unable to longer stand the quietude of that burg, having removed to Ann Arbor.

Dr. Lynch has removed the fence from around his place.—Manchester Enterprise. Dr. Lynch has the right idea and Manchester will be better off when the other residents follow his example.

Manchester people wouldn't steal the pennies off of a dead man's eyes, but there are residents of that burg who are mean enough to steal the flowers off the graves in Oak Grove cemetery.

Ed. Pierce, of Sharon, was all right as long as he stuck to teaching school, but when he left that vocation and started in to be a full-fledged farmer, it was too much for him and as a result he is now on the sick list.

Max L. Moon went down to visit Neptune and the mermaids in Cavanaugh Lake. He was out in a canoe and was carrying too much sail when a strong wind struck him. He was rescued by Chas. Davis.—Chelsea.

Ernest B. Tilden, of Angelica, N. Y., and Miss Adeline Sherwood, daughter of S. R. Sherwood, were married at the residence of the bride's father in Manchester, June 6, the Rev. J. E. Platt performing the ceremony.

The Manchester ball players who reside on the east side literally wiped the earth with the pretended players who are unfortunate enough to live on the west side of that village, the score standing 22 to 17 when the umpire called the game.

Have you ever noticed that the Manchester paper publishes more records of births than all the papers in Ann Arbor combined? Either Brother Blosser has a better field to work in or Ann Arbor reporters are not a success at news gathering.

Here's more work for the Rev. Dr. Ryan, of Ypsilanti. The young ladies of Brooklyn are to give a minstrel performance, Thursday evening, in imitation of their Ypsi sisters, unless the noted divine gets out an injunction or something of the kind.

"The Angelic Guard" is the subject upon which Rev. J. Ward Stone, of the Milan Baptist church, discoursed last Sunday. That must be a new guard for Milan. Possibly there is a clue in this to the solution of the Leader's suspicions about that strange flock of hens which recently appeared in Milan.

The annual reunion of Co. F., 26th Mich. Inf., veterans, will be held at the residence of Henry Ball in this village, next Wednesday, June 13. The comrades can count upon a grand reception and royal entertainment from Mr. Ball and wife.—Dundee Reporter.

Mrs. Lucy Croman, of Waterloo, was badly burned recently, the fastenings of a lamp giving away and covering her with burning oil. Her son and daughter managed to extinguish the flames, but not until the unfortunate woman was so badly burned that her recovery is doubtful.

Last Thursday afternoon, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Koch in Saline, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Emma, to Chas. Weissman, of Jackson. Rev. Lederer officiated. The happy couple left soon after for their new home in Jackson, which was already for their coming.

Neil McClear, of Gregory, and Rosalie Dolan, of this place, were married on Wednesday of this week. The young couple are well known in this vicinity, and all will join with us in wishing them happiness and success through life's journey. They will make their home at Gregory.—Pinckney Dispatch.

South Lyon will have a regular old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration this year, with fireworks, brass bands, games, sports, and an unbounded amount of old-time enthusiasm. Committees have been appointed and are working on the project. T. H. Clark will be president of the day and L. S. Allen, marshal.

The board of directors of the Ypsilanti Driving club is constituted as follows: M. M. Reed, president; W. H. Guerin, vice-president; R. W. Hemphill, treasurer; C. P. McKinstry, secretary; J. B. Colvin, F. K. Owen, Wm. Evans. The president, secretary and treasurer compose the executive committee.—Commercial.

Someone entered the sleeping room of Charles Love of Pinckney, one night last week, and while Mr. Love slept, made off with his gold watch and $600 in money. The money was taken from his trousers pocket.—Stockbridge Sun. The funny part of this item is that a Pinckney man should have $600 anywhere, not to speak of his trousers pocket.

A team of large horses were found hitched to a wagon at Haslett Park, the other day, and a man's hat was also found near the lake. As no one called to claim the team, it was thought the owner had suicided, more likely, however, the team had been stolen and abandoned. Sometimes the guilty flee when no man pursues.—Stockbridge Sun.

Robert Gregg's team ran away Saturday morning; they were hitched to a drill, and in some way were frightened by the noise of the drill, and the lines were jerked from Mr. Gregg's hands and they ran about a mile, taking the tongue and whiffletrees with them and leaving the drill with one wheel over a picket fence; the horses were not hurt.—Lake Ridge Cor. Milan Leader.

An exchange says the farmer who signs a petition for a tariff on wool deserves to have it. With wool steadily falling under the McKinley bill the past several years, and he unable to get his eyes open, it will take the entire bottom out of the wool market to teach him that he is being played by the plutocrats for a sucker.—Oakland Excelsior. Amen, amen, and amen.

J. T. Berry, formerly in mercantile trade at Worden, has rented his store and moved with his family to 331 Oak street, this city. He is now connected with the Garland Fruit Extract Co., and his plan is to call at the houses and exhibit a sample of goods, asking for a trial of their quality. We have known Mr. Berry many years as a trustworthy gentleman.—Ypsilanti.

Postmaster Gillen, of Saline, was last week notified that hereafter there would only be mail every other day for him. Thereupon the good people of the town of salt rise up and protest against being convided into a veritable Rip Van Winkle place. May they raise such a din about the ears of the Second Assistant Postmaster General that he will be compelled to come off and give them daily mails.

Miss Adah Foote, of Adams St., Ypsilanti, was united in marriage last Tuesday evening to Mr. John LeValley Chaddock, Rev. H. M. Morey officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Dickie, of Battle Creek, and the groom by Guy Foote. A large number of guests from abroad were present. Mr. and Mrs. Chaddock departed the same evening by way of Duluth for their future home in California.

A severe accident befell Samuel Sample, a blind man living in the northwest part of this township, Saturday. He and his wife had been in the village, while returning home and about two miles west of village the horse became frightened and upset the carriage into the ditch. He had his shoulder broken, severe cut upon the head, and injuries about the body. Dr. Richardson is treating him.—Dundee Reporter.

Lucius Taylor Post of Milan decorated 27 graves in London cemetery, 25 in Rice's cemetery, 24 in Mooreville cemetery, 8 in Oakville cemetery, 4 in York cemetery, 3 in County Line cemetery and 3 in Chase cemetery—94 in all and preserved the names of them all; and the cenotaph in memory of those from the vicinity who are buried in unknown southern graves, 41 names of these. Well done, Lucius Taylor Post.—Ypsi. Commercial.

The soft coal famine has struck the try-weekly branch of the Lake Shore, and the report came on Monday, that beginning with Tuesday, trains would be run on the Ypsilanti branch, three days in a week only, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, thus fully completing the title tri-weekly. This arrangement disarranges the mail and express business and is a great inconvenience to passengers, but we will not feel it here as much as they will at Saline, Brooklyn and other places up the road. It is also reported that only the morning and night trains on the Jackson branch will be run after this week until a supply of coal can be obtained.—Manchester Enterprise. If a drought should happen to strike the country before the coal strike ends, the Lake Shore officials would probably make it an excuse to pull off what few trains are left, and then our Manchester and Saline friends would probably be obliged to walk or stay home.

The superintendent of schools at Wayne being criticised for not floating a flag over the school house on Decoration day, explains that the halcyons had rotted off and he'll be dog-goned if he was going to climb that staff and hold that flag there even if he lost his job.

Dr. and Mrs. Watling, of Ypsilanti, gave a reception to the graduating class of the Dental College of the University last Tuesday. The doctor is the head of the dental faculty. There were 66 members of the class present. The floral decorations were beautiful and the musical program was delightful. A fine time all round.

Wednesday afternoon while Prof. Giboulog was assisting in the excavation for the water pipes in the west part of town, he came very near meeting with a fatal accident. He was digging near an old sewer and the dirt caved in upon him in such a manner as to pin him to the ground. Had not assistance been at hand, he would have received serious injuries, but he was taken out without being much hurt.—Livingston Herald.

Here's another instance showing the results of marriage. The game of ball at Clinton Saturday between the married men and single men was a fine one, the former being the stronger outside the battery. The regular team was divided in this game. Considering that both nines had not played for one or two years it is a wonder that no more errors were made. It required ten innings to settle it. Score, 11 to 8 in favor of the single men.

There was only a small strip of leather between Wm. Hall, of Sharon, and death last week. As he was returning from Norvell his horse became frightened and threw him out, his feet catching in the lines. As William was bumping over the hard ground at a two-minute gait, he had arrived at that stage in his thoughts where all the wicked things he had ever done in his life stood out in bold relief, when the lines broke and Hall was saved.

The wedding of Mr. J. A. Maroney and Miss Minnie Finkbeiner occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Finkbeiner, in Lima, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, in the presence of a large number of friends. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. Ude, of Freedom. After congratulations, the guests were served with a sumptuous supper. Mr. and Mrs. Maroney were then driven to their new home at this place.—Chelsea Standard.

Correspondents will please not say "Sundayed" in their items.—Adrian Press. We have already condemned this grammatical barbarism. Might just as well say Bill Jones "whiskied" at Buck's hotel Tuesday, or "bake potatoes" at his Aunt Isaac's on the 6th, or "horse-and-bugged" over to Frogville yesterday, or "pickle-feeted and nightmared" at Joe Stokes' recently, or "clean shirted" and went to church last Sunday. Such three-legged English should be shelved.—Grass Lake News.

The new annex to the M. E. church was dedicated Wednesday. A large crowd was in attendance. An address was delivered by the Rev. C. T. Allen of Detroit, and one by a gentleman from Ypsilanti whose name your correspondent was unable to learn. They gave an elegant dinner, and served ice cream, cake and lemonade in the evening. The ladies' aid society are deserving of a great deal of credit for the work which they have accomplished at Willis, and for the way in which they have carried out their plans.—Willis Cor. Milan Leader.

Prof. Thomas Moran returned from Baltimore last Saturday. He expects to go to London, Eng., about the first of July to look up some data regarding our colonial history, which is to be found only in manuscript in the British museum. He will probably make a brief visit to Paris and return to his students at Johns Hopkins university at Baltimore, Oct. 1st.—Manchester Enterprise. We are surprised. Anybody who has ever heard "Tommy" get up and deliver a Fourth of July oration or make a Democratic campaign speech will never believe that there are any facts in colonial or any other history that he is unacquainted with. We are willing to wager now that he knows more about it than those old British records.

Last Thursday morning a flock of hens and a rooster that had lost an eye in the fracas were found in full possession of the vacant Babcock hotel lot at Milan. Two of these wanderers minus heads had strayed to the rear of Dan Raukin's meat market. The suspicious Milan Leader, always ready to sniff something crooked in a transaction a little out of the ordinary, suggests that those fowls did not come there of their own volition and with the consent of their owner. The Leader's suggestion would seem to be valid with reference to the two without heads at least. It also suspicions some Milaute of having knowledge of the whole transaction and intimates that the Leader could name him. It is an awful thing to have such a disposition as that manifested by the Leader.

Quite a disturbance was created on one of our highly respectable streets the other evening. A hammock was stretched across the front yard; a young man lay stretched in the hammock; a young lady came tripping along with her eye on the hammock. Suddenly a shrill scream was heard. It was followed by another, still more shrill, then with convulsed sobbing. Windows were thrown up and sleepy headed individuals appeared in view. What they saw was a young lady with hands pressed tightly to her lips, lying back in the arms of the quiet young man who had lain in the hammock, while deep moans filled the air, and were borne by the night breezes to the ears of the onlookers. The white-robed forms remained at the windows until they were satisfied they could not ascertain the cause of the disturbance, then slowly withdrew. The pale moon shone on. The patient young man still held the helpless young lady in his arms. She stirred not. Finally he ventured to touch his mustached lips to the white face of the maiden. The touch was magnetic. Shrilly she screamed, "Don't you DARE bite me again, sir!" The mystery was solved.—Chelsea Standard. The citizens should take a hand in an affair of this kind. Any young man who, after being permitted to bite the ruby lips of a Chelsea girl and still hankers for more, should be run out of town.

CIVIL WAR AGAIN

The Argus has completed arrangements to offer its readers something really worthy to be called the

CHANCE OF A LIFE TIME.

To offer them something of well-known thoroughly established and extraordinary value, at such a ridiculously small sum that it seems almost impossible.

Containing Over One Thousand of the Illustrations

That appeared in

Harper's Weekly During the War.

832 immense folio pages 16 x 11½ inches. Equal to 3000 pages of usual royal octavo size.

The COMPLETE, UNABRIDGED, ORIGINAL, AUTHENTIC WORK, which has always sold from $16.00 to $30.00. Issued in DOUBLE NUMBERS of 32 mammoth pages, at the same price of smaller works of only 1½ pages. Thus we offer more illustrations and the unabridged text of the best history extant, the two in one, for only 10 cents each double number.

Why Harper's Pictorial History of the War is "the best History of the War."

Because it is the only COMPLETE general history of the war and of the causes leading to it. A lucid, dispassionate story of men and events as they were. A narrative of facts written in the very spirit of truth for the very truth's sake. To the best written history is added a collection of Contemporaneous Illustrations which neither is nor can be equalled elsewhere. Pictures of men and places, of battle by sea and land, sieges, camps, fortresses, and everything connected with the civil and military life at the time. In a word it contains all the most valuable and interesting illustrations from "HARPER'S WEEKLY" DURING AND PRECEDING THE WAR. This feature makes this history of incomparable value, as it contains over 1000 of these famous war pictures.

EDITORIAL MANAGEMENT.

Its editors were Mr. Richard Grant White, who wrote the introductory chapters, Dr. Alfred H. Guernsey and Mr. Henry M. Alden. Among the contributors were President Garfield, General Joseph E. Johnston, General George H. Thomas, General Gouverneur K. Warren, and other prominent officers, both national and confederate. With all the material accumulated in their hands, the authors spent five years in writing the work. All the national and confederate official documents were at their disposal, and were most freely used. Quite a number of these official documents are given in full.

ARTISTS.

A Regiment of artists tell the story faithfully and with surprising clearness. Among them are to be found such distinguished names as Edwin Forbes, Thomas Nast, Sol. Eytinge, Theodore R. Davis, A. R. Ward, Granville Perkins, N. Jewett and other of the Harper Artists who have achieved a national reputation.

The Size of the Pages and Illustrations.

The pages are same size as Harper's Weekly and among the illustrations are over 300 Portraits of Distinguished Soldiers and Statesmen, mostly from photographs taken during the war; Nearly 100 Maps, Plans and Sketches of Battlefields, nearly 600 Authentic Sketches of Places of Note and Events of Interest, such as Sieges, Battles, Charges, Hospitals, Military Prisons, Camp Life, Vessels of War, Naval Engagements, Reviews, Receptions, Etc.

The result of the coal strike is becoming serious, even in this part of the country. C. Unless something happens to increase the supply within the next week it will be necessary to stop all trains then.

A story has just come to light which does not speak well for a prominent young student who comes of a good family. It is related that after calling on a young lady recently, a diamond ring valued at $180 was missed by the lady.

The croaker declares that Dexter would have no Fourth of July, and echo answers, "Uly!"

Sloman is a Dundee barber; but he yells "Next," as often as any of them. Mugg was a barber but he quit.

The Dexter board of review should furnish some well seasoned baseball umpires. The "kicking" on them has been cordial and thorough.

The Ann Arbor Democrat has discovered in a show window, a sign which reads, "your choice in panting." None but one-legged men and dogs will be interested.

Some Dundee thief whose god was his stomach, and who feared neither the Lord nor the marshal, coolly shouldered and walked away with a dressed sheep, from Slayton's market, one evening last week.

Two hundred and eighteen law seniors were admitted to the bar in Ann Arbor last week. Think of it!—two hundred and eighteen legal spiders will soon be nesting on silken webs, in dingy law offices, waiting for flies; and they'll catch 'em!

Martin Ryan, of Northfield has taken the Ann Arbor Argus fifty-two consecutive years; and, would you believe it?—is still as hearty and vigorous as an iron hitching post. One never knows what his constitution will stand till he puts it to the test.

Dundee is preparing to give one of those "old fashioned" Fourth of July celebrations—one of the kind that makes the American patriot—just over from Ireland—feel that he can whip acres of British; one that causes a man to get up the next morning with a head on him, like a two-dollar-and-a-half spittoon.

Over in the little hustling Chelsea the postoffice fight is on, to an incandescent degree, and the records of candidates are searched with calcium lights. Everything "agin a man" is taken into account. If he "toes in," or has catarrh, or eats pie with his knife, it goes to Washington in a protest against his appointment.

The fees for opening the Dundee church for funerals is 50 cents, to be paid to the janitor, before the corpse can get the right of way in. A correspondent of the Milan Leader thinks that notice of this fee should be posted up "so that all who run may read." "All who read may run," if we may be allowed to amend.

The Wayne Review having reported a snake with sixteen rattles, now comes the Northville Record, which chops off a rattle and saith: "Fifteen, by dear Review. In matters of this kind the press cannot be too accurate." It is well to be right, but hardly necessary to be excessively right. Give the snake back his rattle.

The Free Press having announced the completion of its 62d year, the Ann Arbor Argus jerks up its galls, slings another notch, ranges up beside the F. P. and remarks, "You're only two years older than I am, bub." Both are now prosperous, yet both have seen the time when they went barefooted, and had "stone-bruises."

It was Prof. Stanley's birthday. The time was the 25th, and the place Ann Arbor. Prof. is the man who waves the black-thorn, to the rhythm of the "Choral Union." The Union on the above occasion, backed him into a corner and fastened an old yellow watch on him, worth $125. It was a "stem-winder" on the professor.

A correspondent of the Ypsilanti Commercial writes of the havoc the worms are doing in the orchards and wants an article in the newspapers, on the special need of the hour. We know of no article that could be written that would kill the worms; but perhaps some wool protectionist could be induced to address them. It would be severe on the worms, but we cannot afford to be woman-hearted when the evil calls for a drastic remedy.

The Washtenaw Daily Times notes the introduction in Ypsilanti, of the "Bloomer" costume for lady bicyclists. Madame Gossip heard that a prominent lady would set the fashion for the city, and was on hand for the purpose of being "horribly shocked;" but the habit was so pretty and sensible, that sudden disappointment collapsed the old Madame's corset stays, and she is abed with nervous prostration.

Because the Press said that the Manchesters wallowed the Norvillians at ball, up jumps the Northville Record with the following vitriolic eruption.

That's right; if any ball club gets beat at any point within a hundred miles of us, say it was the Northville club. The Northville club has never heard of Manchester, but just because they have lost three or four games this season, every club in the state has an idea it has been their victim.

It was the Norvell—not the Northville club, Bro. Neal. Now, roll down your sleeves, put on your coat and go back in your office and write us a suitable apology. When we say Norvillians, we don't mean Northvillians; they are separated by a double aspirate Orchards Damaged by Worms. LANSING, June 6.—Canker worms are doing great damage to apple orchards throughout the state. The worm is green in color, about an inch long and the size of a needle. Millions of them attack an orchard and strip it of foliage and fruit. The department of agriculture is wrestling with the problem, and says paris green through a spray pump is sure death to the pests.

Salt Inspection For May. SAGINAW, June 6.—The report of the state salt inspector shows the salt inspection in the state during the month of May was as follows: Manistee, 126,651 barrels; Mason, 54,357; Saginaw, 54,695; St. Clair, 37,863; Bay, 32,890; Isosco, 4,225; Huron, 3,400; Midland, 1,857; total, 315,932 barrels. Salt is selling slowly.

Farmhouse Burned. SHERWOOD, June 6.—The farmhouse of Homer Mallow, four miles from here, burned to the ground Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The fire caught from a defective flue. Was built four years ago and cost $1,500. Most of the furniture was saved. The house was insured for $1,000.

Verdict For $445. SAGINAW, June 6.—After being out 10 hours, the jury in the case of Edward Shipley against the Saginaw Union Street Railway company for $20,000 damages for injuries received, brought in a verdict of $445 for the plaintiff. The first trial resulted in a disagreement.

The Coroner's Verdict. BENZONIA, June 6.—At the coroner's inquest held Monday afternoon to ascertain the cause of death of Mrs. Thacker, whose husband was arrested last week, the jury returned a verdict of death by arsenic poison administered by her husband.

STATE ITEMS. Burglars stole two watches from J. C. Davis at Vicksburg during the family's absence.

The Saginaw Bay Coal company's miners at Sebawing struck for an advance from 85 cents to $1 a ton for coal.

A camp meeting will be held at Grand Junction, Van Buren county, June 14 to 25, inclusive, by the sect calling themselves the Church of the Living God.

The case of the people vs. Mrs. Burpee of Corunna, who is charged with scalding and otherwise mistreating her adopted son, has been continued until June 18.

W. W. Scott, one of Saginaw's prominent merchants, and proprietor of a large jewelry establishment, died Tuesday afternoon. He was highly esteemed in the community.

The United States has leased the present postoffice building in Marshall for another term of five years. The building has already been used 20 years by the government.

The maple trees in Calhoun county are dropping their foliage rapidly under the attacks of a small worm that bores its way through the stem of the leaves. The pest threatens to leave the trees bare in a short time.

Saginaw citizens are giving liberally to supply the wants of the unemployed, and with $50,000 worth of sewers to be built on the West Side and the extra paving, employment will be given to about 400 very soon.

Deaths From Cholera. LONDON, June 6.—A dispatch from Berlin to The Standard says: Several deaths from cholera have occurred among raftsmen near Thorn, a town of west Prussia, on the Vistula. There have also been a number of deaths from the disease at Myslowitz in Prussian Silesia. Semi-official telegrams report that the outbreak in Myslowitz is not of a serious character, but private dispatches assert that the public hospital at that place is crowded with cholera patients and that many persons suffering with the disease are being accommodated at the military hospital.

Valuable Horse Dead. SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—Monowai, the horse which was bought by W. L. McDonough for $10,000 a little over a year ago and sold only a week ago to Jim Neal for $1,200, is dead from acute inflammation of the bowels.

MR. LEW H. CLEMENT, Mgr.:

The board of directors have carefully considered your suggestion regarding the renting of an additional store for the purpose of storing our renting stock during the summer. We think it better to rent temporary rooms as cheaply as possible. Sell the pianos at cost if need be, as we cannot afford to have the money tied up in them all summer, and lose the interest on it, pay storage on them and receive no benefit. You might better sell them and get the money to use to take the benefit of cash discounts, &c., during the summer, and when business picks up in the fall, and you require more pianos to rent, buy them in car lots at proportionate prices. The board desires you to use your best efforts to get all the money you can out of these used pianos as soon as you can.

Close out all of them that you possibly can, and report progress at the next monthly meeting.

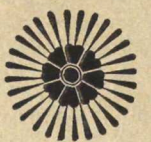

FRED'K SCHMID, President.

D. F. ALLMENDINGER, Supt.

SOME of the BARGAINS.

1 Allmendinger, better condition, - -	150.00.

22 Erie Pianos, walnut, mahogany, and ebony, rented from 3 mos. to 27 mos. Prices, depending on condition, from - -	$200 to $275.

There are in the above list some wonderful bargains, among them several Erie Pianos, like cut on this page, used slightly, and bought last fall at hard time prices in car load lots.

We believe the Erie Piano to be the very best piano at a moderate price ever made. It is made by C. C. Colby, a piano maker with years of experience, and contains an even scale, excellent action and a beautiful tone. We have rented and sold dozens of these during the past four years, and they have stood the test of actual use. We are familiar with every detail of their construction, which we will be pleased to explain on request. We will guarantee them in every respect for five years from date of sale.

The Allmendinger and Arbor City Pianos are of our own manufacture, and contain the very best material, and though used from two to four years, are in good condition and can be relied on. They are the greatest bargain at prices quoted ever offered in the State of Michigan.

Our store is crowded with new pianos. Mehlin, Chickering Bros., Boardman & Gray, Braumuller and Erie, but this sale is for the special purpose of closing out our renting stock.

No person who contemplates buying a piano in the next ten years should fail to write us for fuller information about these pianos. We will send circulars and descriptive catalogues of any of them, and give the exact details, when each was bought, just how long it has been in use and what rent has been received on it, and our statements can be relied on. We invite intending purchasers to call, which is the best method of learning the great bargains we are offering. Bear in mind that each of these pianos has been re-polished, many of them re-vanished, action regulated by an expert piano man and all carefully tuned and voiced. They are in first class condition, and we submit these prices in competition with all those so-called "great bargains" of Detroit and other dealers, knowing that, quality considered, these prices admit of no competition. It is advisable to come early that you may have first choice.

Bear in mind that all these pianos will not be on sale before July 1st. Some of them are already coming in, and the balance will be returned at the close of school.
