"Killarney and the Rhine."

This play will be presented at the Grand opera house tomorrow evening. Concerning it the North American, of Philadelphia, says:

"Killarney and the Rhine" was presented at the Standard Theatre last night with several scenes supposed to be faithfully illustrative of Ireland and Germany. J. E. Toole, a German dialect comedian of excellent manners and appearance, assumed the leading role, Conrad, who experiences many heroic adventures during the course of the entertainment. Incidentally he introduces several pretty ballads. Miss Alida Cortelyou, an emotional actress of much ability, supplied the most important support to the star, although the entire company was competent. The scenes representing the great Lakes of Killarney and the military prison at Wicklow were effective."

Beardsley's Smart Caper.

Carl Richard Beardsley, a sophomore lit, and expecting the degree of Bachelor of Science, in civil engineering, has introduced his name into the papers, by suddenly leaving college and sending word to his mother to the effect that she would never see him again. From this the daily dispatches quoted him as declaring that he would commit suicide. It appears that he had dropped behind with his work, was discouraged about getting on and disgusted with companions. He appears to have simply given the town "the shake" and it is hoped will shake himself into an improved condition. He left his trunk at the residence of Prof. Montgomery, where he boarded, but took plenty of money, saying he would not return. He went to Detroit to witness the Michigan-Cornell football game and when last seen was about to start for Canada.

Theatrical Announcements.

"The Brooklyn Handicap," which is reputed to be an effective piece of stage realism, belonging to a class which invariably captures and captivates an audience, will be presented at the Grand opera house, next Monday evening. Speaking of the play, an experienced dramatic writer says: "It is difficult to conceive how stage realism can advance much further than the animated scene which presents a number of spirited and fleet running horses running in full career across the stage, with the other concomitants of the race track, the shouting occupants of the grand stand, the noisy rivalry of the jockeys, and the general sense that somebody is about to break his neck, which fear is not realized at 'the great Brooklyn Handicap.' The intelligent animals which play such essential roles in this play are thoroughly trained, and seem to enter into the spirit of the scene as full as any other characters in it."

Death of Jacob Haller.

Another of the old and sturdy sturdy stock of Ann Arbor's earlier citizens has passed to the final sleep that comes to all who are of earth. Since 1858 the firm and step of Jacob Haller have been familiar to the people of this city, and his fame and skill as a watchmaker made him known far and wide. His death occurred Tuesday, of congestion of the lungs, after an illness of about two weeks.

Mr. Haller was born in Schweiningen, Wurtemberg, Germany, in 1822, and came to America and to Washtenaw in 1854. In 1858 he opened a jewelry store on Huron street and soon thereafter associated with him in the business, his son, George Haller, and both have been continuously in the business together till the death of Jacob Haller, although for some years the latter had taken no active part in the conduct of the establishment.

Mr. Haller, in early life, learned the trade of watchmaker and jeweler of his father, and became expert in the invention of watchmakers' tools. In 1851 he was honored with a medal at the London exposition for an exhibit of fine watch works of his own manufacture, and also for improved watchmakers' tools. Again at Philadelphia in 1876, he received similar medals for works and tools. He became widely known in Michigan and possessed a state reputation as an expert workman in watch machinery. Mr. Haller has two brothers and three sisters in Germany, and one brother in Rochester, N. Y. The immediate family survivors of Mr. Haller are the following sons and daughters: George, Martin and Christine Haller, and Mrs. Ottmar Eberbach, all of this city.

The funeral was held yesterday at 2:30 p. m., from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Eberbach, Rev. Max Hein conducting the services. The burial took place in the family lot in Forest Hill cemetery.

The Circuit Court.

There was some curiosity at the opening of court, Tuesday, to know whether President Angell would ask to be excused from the jury on which he had been drawn, or sit on one of the row of soap boxes provided for the twelve good men and true having in their keeping the liberties of some and the equities of others. President Angell was promptly on hand at 9 o'clock a. m., figuratively speaking, sitting on the stone steps, waiting for court to open. It was evident that he had decided to serve. True, he did not bring his dinner, as once did the members of the Pennsylvania legislature, but it must be remembered that President Angell is within a brief walk of his home.

The first jury case was called in the afternoon. Robbins, for stealing wheat of George Hammond, was to be tried. "Call a jury, Mr. Clerk," said Judge Kinne, and the stentorian voice of Mr. Brown had a pronounced double B. bass quality as he called out, "James B. Angell!" "Here," answered the late minister to China, and present President of the greatest University in America, as he walked over and took his seat on the "soap box" with the familiarity of a man who was used to that sort of thing. Robbins was charged with grand larceny, but the jury found him guilty of simple larceny, and the judge sent him to the house of correction for 90 days. Robbins will probably never cease to feel the honor conferred on him, and will undoubtedly relate to posterity, years hence, that one of the men who sent him up was the president of the Michigan University.

Moloney, the Michigan Central car cracker, pleaded guilty, and was rewarded by the judge with three years' good roofing over his head and a sure enough job of work, regardless of hard times.

Wednesday morning the following pleaded guilty to violations of the liquor law and were fined: Martin Vogel $5, Fred Brown $25, Fred Reimold $5, Godfrey Gukenbach $5, John Berger $5, Wm. Gwinner $5, Jacob Gwinner $5, E. H. Wells and Ellsworth Thomas $5, Anton Brahm $5. The case of John Wagner and case 22 against Fred Brown were nolle prossed.

Yesterday the court was occupied with the case of Mary D. Bailey vs. the village of Saline, who asks damages for injuries received from a sidewalk alleged to have been defective.

The case of Alfred Bond vs. Estate of J. W. Bond was continued to the next term.

Case of Janette Parsons vs. Edward Bahman, placed at the foot of the calendar.

WOULDN'T ACCEPT "TRUST" MONEY.

A Methodist Conference Refuses $300 from Cigarette Men.

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 6.—Washington Duke, of the American Tobacco company, and president of the Duke cigarette works at Durham, sent $300 to the North Carolina conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church south, which has been in session at Statesville, N. C., for a week past, towards defraying the expenses of the conference. Rev. Mr. Ware, of Reidsville, and some of the members of the conference protested against the acceptance of the gift of what they termed "trust money." At a meeting of the board of stewards of his church Ware's action was approved. It is claimed that the trust being the only buyer on the tobacco markets which buys "cutters," used exclusively in the manufacture of cigarettes, the price of that grade of tobacco has been forced down so low that it is impoverishing the farmers who grow it.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. NOT A CLUE SO FAR

To Identify the Dastard Who Slew Miss Ging.

SLEUTHS CANNOT GET ON THE TRAIL

One Man Who Saw the Couple Quarreling in the Buggy, but Got But a Glimpse of the Man—All the Suspects Released from Surveillance—Some of the Murdered Woman's Financial Transactions—A Black Mystery Still.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 6.—The deep mystery that surrounds the identity of Catherine Ging's murderous companion in her evening drive is apparently as impenetrable as ever. It is certain that this companion was her murderer, but thus far there is scarcely the shadow of a clue to his identity. But one man has turned up who ever saw the murderer. This is Mounted Officer Getchell, and his was but a fleeting glimpse of the face in the moonlight. He saw the two in a buggy quarreling violently. The man he describes as thin of face and with a dark heavy mustache. More he could not see. He claims that he looked sharply at the rig as it passed and positively identified it as the Goozman rig which Miss Ging hired and which came back to the stable empty and blood-soaked.

Patching Bits of Paper Together.

There is just one other clue from which something may yet be learned. This is the note Miss Ging received in the morning, and which, after reading she tore into small bits. Her waste basket is now in the hands of the police, who are making an effort to piece the various bits of paper found there together. Apparently there are several notes. One signed "R" seems to ask her to meet a friend from St. Louis. This initial at once called to mind Frederick I. Reed, of St. Paul, manager of the Golden Rule store. Reed, it is alleged, was once engaged to Miss Ging, and gave her a diamond engagement ring, the one which was found in a small chamois bag beside her corsage. For some reason the engagement was broken, more than a year ago. Reed has a thin face and a heavy dark mustache.

Reed Proves a Clear Alibi.

But he proves that he was at work in the store all the evening with his clerks. Harry Hayward, her landlord, had loaned her a large sum of money, and he was put under surveillance, but this has been stopped, a fact which is taken to mean that they have given up any theory connecting him with the murder. Frederick Reed declared that he had never been engaged to Miss Ging, but was simply her friend. He had not seen her for six months. He declared his willingness to come over from St. Paul at any time and tell the police all he knew of her. The police have not yet summoned him, and apparently do not take any stock in any theory that connects him with the affair. The authorities are apparently completely at sea.

SOME MATTERS CLEARED UP.

Why the Murdered Woman Wanted So Large a Sum of Money.

The work of the day has only succeeded in clearing up some mysterious things about the dead woman. An interview with her financial agents, E. S. Jones' Sons, reveals the fact that she had been in pressing need of money for which some one was pushing her within the last six weeks. Her agents had loaned out $1,300, but she suddenly decided to call in her loans. It was not found easy to transfer them, and Miss Ging became quite impatient for the money, saying she only needed it for thirty days. Finally the matter was arranged and she drew out about $1,000.

The head waiter in Bargo's restaurant tells of Miss Ging and Hayward meeting there as late as last Saturday, on which occasion Miss Ging flashed a roll of $2,000. It has been ascertained, too, that Miss Ging had nearly completed her arrangements for opening a large millinery establishment on Nicollet avenue, and had opened negotiations with the agent of the store property to that end. This would explain her need for ready money, as she was anxious to purchase stock and open for the holiday trade.

It has also developed that her two insurance policies were assigned to Hayward as late as Nov. 28. Both were taken out recently, the negotiations for the writing of them being conducted by Hayward in order that he might have security for his loan. He was also to have a chattel mortgage on the stock in the new store as soon as it was opened.

That Hillmon Case Once More.

TOPEKA, Kas., Dec. 6.—W. N. Nichols, of Valley Falls, is authority for the statement that John W. Hillmon, who was supposed to have been killed in 1878 shortly after taking out a heavy insurance on his life, is still alive. It is claimed that Hillmon has been found in a little town near Tucson, A. T. Nichols further claims to have knowledge that Hillmon was not the man who was killed at Medicine Lodge in 1878. Nichols is on his way to Tucson to identify Hillmon.

Reign of Terror in Parkdale.

PARKDALE, Ark., Dec. 6.—Parkdale is in the throes of a reign of terror. Eugene Thompson and Wiley Maxwell exchanged shots with Winchester, but no one was hurt. Thompson is now under arrest for assault with attempt to kill. John Turnbow, who was shot a few days ago, died, and one of the negroes has also died. This is three men that have been killed here in the last week. The people are all going armed now, and every man has a Winchester.

Cable Car Struck by a Train.

OAKLAND, Cal., Dec. 6.—A San Pablo avenue cable car was struck by the west-bound local train at Sixteenth and Broadway, and Miss Coates, a school teacher, was killed. Attorney W. H. Waste was seriously injured. The car was crossing the railroad tracks as the train was speeding into the depot. The train struck the car broadside, and Miss Coates was thrown thirty feet, lighting on her head.

Mail Boxes in Street Cars.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 6.—Assistant Superintendent of Railway Mail Service Matson, of Washington, has arrived here and is making arrangements with the Cleveland Electric Street Railway company for the collection and the delivery of the mails. Letter boxes will be placed on electric trains on the various lines in case the company accepts the proposition of the government for the service.

SUGAR TRUST BLUFF.

The action of the sugar trust in closing down its refineries on the eve of the assembling of congress and turning 25,000 employees out of work, in view of all the facts, smacks strongly of a bluff. Happenings since seem to indicate that the purpose of the move was to influence congress and prevent action on the bill removing the differential tax on sugar, carried by the new tariff law in the interest of the trust.

According to President Havemeyer, of the trust, this action was taken because during the past three months the refineries had been running at a loss and it was impossible to operate their refineries under the present tariff at a profit. There are various evidences that the purpose of this doleful manifesto of Mr. Havemeyer was to frighten the timid millionaire club out of passing the pending sugar bill. Among these evidences are the following: On the 10th of November the superintendent of the refineries said, "We are running in full blast, as the orders for refined sugar are coming in with a rush to such an extent that we are not quite able to fill all of them. We look forward to continued and increased business." Then the company has not yet been running three months under the new tariff, and during the time it has been running under the new tariff, it has been engaged in refining raw sugar imported under the McKinley act free of duty. A farther evidence is the fact that the refineries started up again Monday. Again the assertion that the protection accorded the trust by the one-eighth of a cent differential is all the protection it receives is not true. There is considerable protection in the 40 per cent duty levied on all sugars imported. This revenue duty alone gives the trust all the protection it should have. In view of these facts the suggestion of President Cleveland in his message that "if, with all the favor now accorded the sugar refining interest in our tariff laws, it still languishes to the extent of closing refineries and discharging thousands of workmen, it would seem to present a hopeless case for reasonable legislative aid" and that under existing aggravations he would be glad to see every particle of differential duty stricken out, is timely and sound. This is what should be done and congress cannot better serve the people than by removing the same. The only probable result of this would be to reduce the swollen profits of this unlawful and odious monopoly. It would be far cheaper for the government to provide for all the needs of all the workmen employed by the trust from the treasury direct than to continue the bonus to the trust.

There is not the slightest public reason for showing any favors to this overbearing and insolent monopoly. According to Senator Sherman, sugar can be refined here as cheaply as in any other country and Mr. Havemeyer admitted under oath that the organization could make reasonable profits without any protection at all. The only object of the combination has been and is to stifle competition and raise the price of sugar to consumers, to practice extortion in fact, thereby swelling the profits of the refiners. There is no public interest to be subserved therefore by continuing this bonus to the unlawful, swagging, insolent trust. It would be better for the people and they would get their sugar cheaper should the monopoly go out of existence tomorrow. Congress should help along its demise.

Brother Smith, of the Commercial, waxes eloquent over the alleged atrocities permitted by the Turkish government upon the Armenians and the deafness of President Cleveland to the requests for remonstrance, and declares that if the constituted governments of Christendom do not give voice to the sentiment of the people in behalf of their fellow Christians of Armenia, the people of Christendom will see that it is done. The atrocities alleged are of such a nature as to quicken the blood of anyone with a spark of humanity in his make up, but before the government goes into the remonstrance business it would seem to be the part of wisdom to take cognizance of the other side of the issue. The Turkish minister at Washington not only denies the stories of the atrocities but in a communication to the New York Herald expresses some indignation that the stories have been so generally accepted in this country as true. In support of his assertions he presents an official telegram which purports to give the correct account of the happenings. He denies that Turkey ever thought of prosecuting the Armenians, declares that hundreds of them are in the government service and one of them minister to the crown. On the other hand he asserts that there are revolutionary societies among them constantly engaged in plotting against the government, and offers in support of his assertions the testimony of one Cyrus Hamlin, a protestant missionary who has worked among them. In fact the minister makes out a strong defence. In view of all this our government will display wisdom in at least waiting for more information on the subject. It may then be found that a remonstrance is not needed.

The talk that various republicans of prominence are inculcating in at present to the effect that McKinleyism is dead and the republicans will not revive it and that it never had the support of one republican in five, etc., is mere floundering. The republican party is the willing tool of the manufacturers, mill bosses and monopolists, and when it regains control of the presidency and both houses of congress, it can be depended upon, as of yore, to do the bidding of these people. If they then desire the restoration of McKinleyism, that will be the republican shibboleth. It is looked upon just now as an expedient thing to admit the truth that the McKinley bill was "too friendly to manufacturers and not sufficiently in the interest of the people," and that it was the cause of the overwhelming defeat of the party in 1890 and 1892, but let no one be deceived on account of these soft words as to the deliberateness of the party in enacting that law and its absolute failure up to the present time to bring forth works meet for repentance, on account of having inflicted such an unjust and monopolistic measure upon the people. That the party can be depended upon to enact a measure equally or even more prohibitory should it be demanded by the before mentioned favored classes, when the republicans are again in control at Washington, there is no doubt. The republican party minus monopolistic and plutocratic ownership is not to be anticipated.

The friends of Judge Kinne have already figured the thing out. They have him already nominated and elected to the supreme bench and John Lawrence sitting in the Judge's well warmed seat, as circuit judge. Both Judge Kinne and Attorney Lawrence are good men and all that; but aren't their political friends loading up with a heavy expectancy deal? Of course it might all come around just like that and if republicans so in, next spring—and they do go in, sometimes—the arrangement would suit the Argus for a second choice very well. The sublimity of the slate makers' faith is equal to that of the boy who while fishing was asked how many he had caught. "Well," replied "but," "when I ketch this'n that's bitin' and two more, I'll have three."

One Reuben Kolb, claiming to be governor of Alabama, has issued a manifesto to his adherents advising them to disobey the constituted authorities and to refuse, in counties where they have been elected to office, to perform the very duties which they have sworn faithfully to execute. To follow his advice would be to plunge the state into a condition of anarchy. The inpropriety, to use no stronger term, of such advice and the danger of such leadership should be apparent to all honest men and law-abiding citizens who may have supported his cause heretofore should not be deceived any farther. They must cut loose from such leadership.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the president's message to congress, in full. It contains much that every well informed citizen will desire to read. It is long, and scarcely up to the president's usual productions; yet it is a strong message, and will compare favorably as a state paper with similar productions of his predecessors. The more important features of the message are the recommendations in favor of monetary reform, free ships, the repeal of the differential tax on sugar, and the duty on coal and iron, and his unmistakable position on the question of maintaining the public credit.

The three cornered senatorial fight between Burrows, Olds and Patton waxes warm. It begins to look as though there might be a deadlock in the legislature over the issue. The speakership contest between Gordan of Midland, Wait of Menominee, and Campbell of Lansing, is also becoming just warm enough to be spicy and interesting.

The official count of the vote at the recent election in Tennessee has at last been given to the public. It shows that Evans, republican, is elected governor by a plurality of 841. The unprecedented action of the canvassing board in holding back the result is severely condemned by the leading papers of the state.

The claquers of Senator Patton are loudly singing his praises, and say that he is a great orator. Yes, just so. Oratory is what ails the senate. Give us less wind and more wisdom.

The official returns on the head of the republican ticket in Illinois gave him a plurality of 133,427.

Reciprocity with Brazil. WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The president has sent to the senate the correspondence with the Brazilian minister here in reference to time of termination of the reciprocity treaty. The most interesting fact developed is that our imports from Brazil from 1890 to 1893 increased to the extent of nearly $17,000,000 in value, while our exports to that country in 1893 show an increase of less than half a million dollars over 1890.

Wants the Names of Discharged Vets. WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Representative Pickler presented a resolution in the house requesting the secretary of the treasury to furnish the house the names of the soldiers of the late war discharged from his department since the beginning of his administration and the cause of dismissal in each case.

Look up what Martin Haller has to say in his advertisement in today's paper.

How About the 25th?

You are undoubtedly thinking about Christmas and wondering what gifts you can select that will be pleasing and appropriate remembrances to your many friends.

I have been thinking of Christmas for months past, and have been selecting the most choice things from hundreds of factories, whose designers have vied with each other in producing a multitude of things that are used in the furnishing and adornment of the home.

A tour through my three floors, which are now filled to overflowing, will reveal so many things that will be suitable and appropriate that the matter of selection becomes a pleasure instead of a task. There is always a satisfaction in deciding upon a gift that you are confident will give pleasure to the recipient for its artistic and useful qualities, as well as for the expression of thoughtfulness and good will of the giver. What can be more acceptable as a token of friendship than something which adds comfort and beauty to the home?

It is my constant aim and study to gather together the choicest line of goods from the leading markets, and know there is not another stock like my own between Detroit and Chicago. It embraces low priced goods, medium priced goods and expensive goods. You can spend an hour or two without a dull moment in strolling through my departments. You will find it a source of pleasure to be able to read the price on every article in plain figures, and it is a matter of satisfaction to know that this price is the lowest one possible, that those who are well posted, and those who are not posted, man or child, all get equal satisfaction here; that's the foundation upon which this business has been built.

I have anticipated the wants of all for the coming glad season, and have given special consideration to the financial part of the question, which means that all prices have been crowded down to the lowest limit.

My stock is large, but many of the most choice things will be picked up by the early buyers. I urge you not to delay, but to make your selections as early as possible. Goods can be ordered now and set aside for future delivery, if desired.

Look at some of these prices: Upholstered Rackers at $2.75, $3.00, $3.25, $3.50, $3.75, $4.00, $5.00, and very fine ones up as high as $10 and $15. Parlor Suits: $19, $25, $32, $40, $50, $75, and $100. Onyx Stands as low as $5.50. Music Stands and Cabinets from $2.50 upward. Easels as low as 75c, $1.00, $1.25, etc.

Prices on all other goods as low in proportion.

Jacob Maurer, charged with stoning a house will be before Justice Pond today. His defense will be that he was without sin till he cast the first stone.

There will be an important business meeting of the Humane society at the M. E. church, Sunday, Dec. 9, at 3 o'clock, p. m. All the members are urged to be present. "The better the day, the better the deed."

Mrs. Pauline Hawkes, of S. Fifth avenue, Monday evening precipitated a surprise party upon her father, that being the occasion of his 64th birthday. He bore the surprise and the weight of an added year with equanimity.

Many railroads, among which are the Central and Ann Arbor, will after Jan. 1, check bicycles as 100 pounds excess baggage and baby carriages as 50 pounds do. In the latter case it looks like another blow at the young industries.

John Blythman carelessly extended his right arm the other day, bringing it in contact with the person of Joe S. Parker, who brought Blythman into court before Justice Pond for assault and battery. The judge sent him to Detroit for 65 days and he has ceased to be a blithe man.

A call for help for the needy and suffering of Nebraska, comes from Rev. J. Turner, German M. E. presiding elder of the Nebraska district. It is said that without assistance, many must starve. Those who have food or clothes to give are requested to leave the same with Mrs. J. Armbruster, No. 60 E. Washington street, before December 12.

The Sawyer & Co. dancing club has been reorganized for the third season, at Granger's.

The "cat-holes" in front of the Michigan Central depot are receiving a filling of gravel.

The Canadian colored Jubilee Singers at the M. E. church, Monday evening, gave excellent satisfaction.

E. V. Hangsterfer moved into his new store Tuesday. The vacated premises will be used as a barber shop.

A catch basin at the Michigan Central, near the terminus of the street car line, is a recent needed improvement.

The net proceeds of the A. M. E. church bazaar amounted to $57.19, beside an unmeasured quantity of solid enjoyment.

The new loop of the street railway was on Wednesday connected with the trunk line, at State and William streets.

A brother of Mrs. E. C. Sperry, at Nashville, Tenn., was drowned, Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Sperry left for that point, Wednesday.

The treasurer of the town of Scio will be at the county treasurer's office, to collect taxes, the last three Thursdays in December; at Gregory's bank in Dexter the four last Saturdays and at home Fridays.

"The regular meeting of the North Main st. Boilerhouse club was held Saturday evening there being a full attendance present," remarks the Times in introducing a column article, from which it is evident that whether the attendance was "fall" or not, the reporter was.

The people of the Scio Center Sunday school have made preparations for a fair and social gathering, to be held Friday afternoon and evening, Dec. 14, '94, at the home of Thomas Stroh. Supper served at between 8 and 9 o'clock. Everybody is cordially invited. Come everybody and bring somebody.

The announcement is made that the Michigan Central will give special excursion rates from Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Jackson and intermediate points for the Columbian concert, December 14. Citizens of Ann Arbor can help to increase the attendance by inviting their friends out of town to be present. The concert will be an epoch in the history of the state and it will be of interest and enjoyment to every citizen.

When a street railway car runs over a dog and kills it, the men running the car ought to have respect enough for their patrons, if not for the people of our city, to take the carcass away, and not leave it to be a sickening sight to those who have to pass it.—Courier. That is right. The proper procedure in such a case is to hang the dog up by the tail—if he have a tail—to the tail end of the car, as a warning to all pups to look out for the Jehu express.

This acorn, from the Adrian Press is designed for Judge Kline to crack: "The Ann Arbor Courier has nominated Judge Kinne for the supreme bench. That may answer for local pride, but what we wish to know is, has Judge Kinne taken that old oak tree out of the sidewalk in front of his premises? He'll not get our support for Judge, so long as he insists on obstructing our way to him. Kin a man be elected who grows acorns in the public sidewalk?"

The musical editor of the Jackson Citizen has no more sympathy in his soul than a horse. He couldn't tell a bull fiddle from a Stradivarius bombajar. The University Glee club didn't tickle his ear at all and the Banjo club was only "passably good." Yet this same fellow yelled with delight when Forepaugh's steam caliope went screaming through town last summer, and wrote a half-column article on the paths of accent and delicacy of touch, displayed by the "pianiste" who by the way was a red faced, beer bloated galoot, with a foot like a ham and a fist like a hammer. The man means well, no doubt, but in appreciation of fine cat-gut music he is as deficient as a beast.

Hon. John J. Robison, of Sharon, was in the city, Tuesday. The ex-mayor of Ann Arbor has been engaged the past season in preparing a tract of 150 acres of burned swamp for a meadow, and relates the discovery of a pair of elk horns and numerous horns of deer who took themselves to the swamp to give up the ghost. From the skeleton of one deer, Mr. Robison extracted an Indian arrow head, showing how the animal had come to its death, at least 100 years ago, when bows and arrows instead of guns were the red men's weapons. It may have been many hundred years since the arrow was buried in the deer that owned the skeleton. Nobody can tell.

E. S. Gilmore and McClellan Mogk have been elected directors of the local Y. M. C. A.

At the home of Wm. S. Whipple, of Northfield, on Tuesday evening, Rev. Henry Tatlock united in marriage Warren Boice and Miss Hattie S. Waters, of Toledo.

The Buffalo alumni of the U. of M. were so delighted over the defeat of Cornell by Michigan, that they held a meeting to give a proper safety-valve vent to their feelings.

A bulletin board placed at the entrance of the M. C. depot will hereafter register the lateness of trains. It will also probably serve as a bullet in board for boys handy with revolvers.

Geo. R. Barker has been elected by the Wrinkle editors, secretary of the board. No one has yet been found with sufficient animal courage to slide the weight further out on Harriman's poetic safety valve.

At the last meeting of the council the project of establishing a dog pound and appointing a dog trapper was discussed, but dropped after much statesmanlike effort. There appeared to be this fatal difficulty in the way: Life insurance companies regard the risk on a dog catcher's life as extra hazardous, unless he dress in a boiler iron suit. The council had none on hand, and applicants were unwilling to furnish themselves.

Announcement cards forecast a social event of much interest—the marriage of James Rowland Angell, son of President Angell of the University, and Miss Marion Watrous, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leach Watrous, of Des Moines, Iowa, the event being dated for Tuesday, Dec. 18, at St. Paul's church, at 6 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Angell will be "at home" after February 20, at 5712 Monroe avenue, Chicago, Ill.

In the Unity Club course next Monday and Tuesday evenings, James Kay Applebee, of Boston, will lecture on "Othello" and "Hamlet," and on the following Monday and Tuesday evenings he will lecture on "George Eliot" and "The Wit of the London Punch." Mr. Applebee is a lecturer of remarkable forensic talent, and possesses the enviable gift of employing, without effort, words that are the happy and precise vesture of his thought. He rests rather than wears his audiences.

Prof. B. M. Thompson, in his lecture before the Inland League, on "Trial by Ordeal, or by Battle," stated that the time was, when persons accused of crimes were put to torture to extort a confession. If the individual racked, refused to confess, he was released as innocent—pretty badly "done up" for the rest of his life, of course, but then he was guiltless. We believe that the republican party in this state and county did not fairly get the election, and we demand that something like a million of them be thumb-screwed immediately, when it will be found that the democrats won.

Splendid Results Disabled by Dyspepsia

Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. "I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla with splendid results. I was troubled with dyspepsia so bad that I could not work. I am 36 years of age and a carpenter and joiner by trade. I commenced a course of treatment with one of our physicians, but in vain. Finally I was persuaded to buy a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

I Took Just One Bottle and I have not lost a day's work since, on account of my old trouble of dyspepsia. It has also improved my general health and I feel much stronger. I gladly recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as an excellent blood purifier."

A further important utility in agricultural statistics is found in their elucidation of the relation of the supply of farm products to the demand in the market. It is deemed possible that an agricultural census may be taken each year through the agency of the statisticians of the division. It is recommended that such a course be commended for trial by the chief of that division. Its scope would be: 1. The area under each of the more important crops. 2. The quantity of wheat and corn in the hands of farmers at a date after the spring sowings and plantings and before the harvest. 3. The quantity of cotton, tobacco, and other products in the hands of planters, either at the same date or at some other designated time. The cost of the work is estimated at $200,000.

by all diligence and care, of the actual and real conditions, favorable or unfavorable, of the farmers and farms of the country and to see the causes which produce these conditions to the end that the facts ascertained may guide their intelligent treatment. The department immediately set out his plan of expense accounts to such stations and proposed in addition to make, through trusted agents, a systematic examination of the several stations during each year for the purpose of gaining by personal investigation the detailed information necessary to enable the secretary to report to the board, as the statute provides, a satisfactory report to congress. The boards of management of the several stations, with great alacrity and cordiality, have agreed to submit to the law providing this supervision of their expenditures, anticipating that it will increase the efficiency of the stations and protect their directors and officers from any charges concerning their use of public funds, best interests of the department of agriculture into closer and more confidential relations with the experimental stations and through the same largely increasing their usefulness to the agriculture of the country. Acting upon a recommendation contained in the report of 1893, congress appropriated $100,000 to enable the Secretary of Agriculture to investigate and report upon the nutritive value of various articles and commodities used for human food, with special attention to the whole-some and edible roots less wasteful and more economical than those in common use.

ISSUANCE OF BONDS. Only Way, Under Present Conditions, of Replenishing Gold Reserve.

During the last month the gold reserve in the treasury for the purpose of redeeming the note of the government circulating now in the hands of the people became so reduced, and its further depletion in the near future seemed so certain, that the government was compelled for the public welfare to become necessary to replenish the reserve and thus maintain population in the ability and determination of the government to discharge its primary obligations. It would have been well if in this emergency, authority had existed to issue the bonds of the government bearing low rate of interest and maturing within a short period, but the congress having failed to confer such authority, the government was compelled to the resumption of a 1875, and pursuant to its provisions bonds were issued drawing interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum and maturing ten years after their issue. The shortest term authorized by the act. I am glad to say, however, that on the sale of these bonds the premium received operated to reduce the interest to be paid by the government to less than 4 per cent.

Notwithstanding a wave or further removed from sensible finance than the relations between the government and the currency, the government has issued the gold held for its redemption, and the means which must be resorted to for the purpose of replenishing the gold reserve is the issue of bonds. Even if the claims upon this fund were confined to the obligations originally intended and if the redemption of these obligations meant their cancellation, the issue of bonds would be very desirable. But these obligations when received and redeemed in gold are not cancelled, but are re-issued, and may do duty many times by way of drawing gold from the treasury. Thus, we have an endless chain in operation constantly depleting the treasury's gold and never near a final rest. As it is, this is not a satisfactory method of replenishing the gold reserve.

Promissory Note Distribution.

The recommendation contained in the report of the statisticians of 1893, that the vicious system of promissory note distribution be discontinued, is a recommendation which has been adopted by the board of management of the department of agriculture. The publication and distribution of promissory notes is a recommendation which has been adopted by the board of management of the department of agriculture. The publication and distribution of promissory notes is a recommendation which has been adopted by the board of management of the department of agriculture.

Will Utilize the Authority.

I cannot for a moment believe that any of our citizens are desirably willing at their government should default in its pecuniary obligations or that its financial operations should be reduced to a state of bankruptcy. I could not feel that my duty was done if I omitted any effort I could make to avert such a calamity. As long, therefore, as the government is able to issue its gold and silver certificates, and to redeem the currency obligation now used to repeatedly and constantly draw from the government its gold and silver, it is my duty to support the issue of such notes. It is my duty to support the issue of such notes. It is my duty to support the issue of such notes.

Work of Statisticians.

Owing to the peculiar quality of the statisticians' work, and the natural and acquired necessity of its successful prosecution, the secretary of agriculture expresses the opinion that the most judicious method of employing statisticians under the chief of that division should be admitted to that service only after a thorough, exhaustive, and successful examination of the candidates for the position of assistant statisticians, and also of the candidates for the position of statisticians. This has led him to call for such examination of candidates for the position of assistant statisticians, and also of the candidates for the position of statisticians.

The Strike Commission.

By virtue of a statute of the United States passed in 1888, I appointed in July last Hon. John D. Kerran of the state of New York and Hon. Richard W. Worthington of the state of Illinois, to form with Hon. Carrill D. Wright, commissioner of labor, who was designated by said statute a commission for the purpose of conducting a careful inquiry into the causes of the controversies between certain railroads and their employes which has resulted in an extensive and destructive strike, accompanied by much violence and dangerous disturbance with considerable loss of life and great destruction of property.

The New Tariff Bill.

Important Amendments Needed if It Is To Be Executed Effectually. The tariff act passed at the last session of the congress needs important amendments if it is to be executed effectively and with certainty. In order to carry out the intent of the act, it will not change rates of duty I am still very decidedly in favor of putting gold and iron upon the free list. So far as the sugar schedule is concerned, the most judicious course will be to allow the tariff law to remain as it is, and to let the tariff law to remain as it is, and to let the tariff law to remain as it is.

For a Safety Fund.

In addition to the guarantee fund required, it is proposed to create a safety fund of the circulating notes of failed banks, by imposing a small annual tax, say, one-half of one per cent, upon the average circulation of each bank and the fund amounting to 5 per cent of the total circulation of all banks. When a bank fails, its guarantee fund is to be paid into this safety fund. The first instance from such a safety fund thus augmented, any impairment of such fund caused thereby to be made good from a special reserve fund, and if this reserve fund should be exhausted, the impairment should be made good by pro-rata assessment among the other banks, their contributions to the safety fund being in proportion to the assets of the failed bank in favor of the contributing banks.

Exemption From Taxation.

Another very important feature of this plan is the exemption of state banks from taxation by the United States in cash, where it is shown to the satisfaction of the secretary of the treasury and controller of the currency by tax assessors claiming such exemption that they have not had on hand their circulating notes exceeding 500,000 dollars. It is proposed to exempt from the tax the circulating notes of such banks, provided that such banks have kept on hand a reserve fund of 5 per cent of their circulating notes, and that such banks have kept on hand a reserve fund of 5 per cent of their circulating notes.

Exemption From Taxation.

It is quite likely that this scheme may be successfully carried out. It is a very great improvement in our present banking and currency system. It is a very great improvement in our present banking and currency system.

UNITED EVANGELICAL CHURCH. The New Body Decides Against Permanent Bishops—Lay Representation.

NAFARVILLE, Ills., Dec. 6.—Among the new ideas that will be bound up in the laws of the New Evangelical church of the conference now sitting here is the limiting of the episcopacy to two consecutive terms of four years. The limitation is held to be necessary because of the abuse of power often resulting from a life tenure of office. Provisions were also made for the organization and conducting of Sunday schools. The report of the committee on conferences excited considerable debate.

BRUTAL CASE OF HAZING. A Slender Cripple Outrageously Treated by California Students.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—Disloyalty to the University of California, of which he had until recently been an under-graduate, was the reason given for the hazing of Claude G. Campbell, son of a Methodist minister at Los Angeles, by his fellow students. Campbell's offense consisted in wearing the Stanford colors and jeering at the University of California because of its defeat by Stanford in the football match on Thanksgiving day. He is also accused of having given inside information of the condition and tactics of his university team to the opposing players.

ROUNDBABOUTS.

Rev. John A. Cairns, a retired Wesleyan minister, of Samaria, Monroe county, was recently struck and killed by an Ann Arbor train.

Henry Cobb, of Pinckney, fell from his wagon last week and smashed his clavicle. We have used "clavicle" for plain shoulder blade, to ease Henry's pain.

A tramp who breakfasted at the house of B. Friedenborg, of Monroe, rewarded his benefactor by touching off a pile of wood in the shed, with a match. The house was saved with much exertion.

A Clinton man always believed in the horse shoe as a sign of good luck till a week ago, when having got out of his buggy to pick one up, his horse ran away and compelled him to walk two miles into town.

The Greenville Democrat denies that Frank Tucker, the theatrical man, lost the leg that the reports said he had. The doctors said it must come off. Tucker said he'd die first, so the doctors concluded to let him get well with both legs on. He is doing splendidly and will soon gallop around as usual.

"If ever the north pole is reached," begins the Dundee Reporter. There, sit down, man! Chasing the aurora borealis will never secure a supply of subscription wood for the office stove. We admit that from the study of the crowns of the gods to that of green basswood is a vulgar drop, but there's more ready pay in it.

There are very few people who do not remember the wholesale murder of the Crouch family near Jackson and the trial of Jud Crouch, a son of one of the victims, charged with the crime. Jud was not convicted, and by the death of his parents, fell heir to the homestead worth $50,000. A curse seemed to fall upon the estate, however, and a mortgage foreclosure is about to take place.

Near Lansing dwells an old chap named Baumgart, who recently lost a lot of hogs. Each animal, as the closing act before death, took a double curl in his tail, vomited and gave up the ghost. It transpires that Baumgart feeds his hogs on the carcasses of horses, hauled there from Lansing; and above them hover the hogs and the hawks in the daytime and a phosphorescent gleam at night which seems to take ghostly shapes in the dance of death. Phew!

Ditchers in Hanover have snatched 1,000 acres of muck lands from the frogs and lobsters. They have also turned the west branch of the Kalamazoo river into it and given it a hurry of two miles per hour.

The state law won't let you ship deer out of the state. But you can drive down close to the Ohio border and a fellow will drive up where you can pitch them over the state line out of your wagon into his'n.

During a football game at Kalamazoo, Prof. Martin of Hillsdale, became first enthusiastic then involved and the Daily News says "came out from beneath a pile of about fifteen players with a decidedly dejected appearance."

Bank-forgery Harvey, recently arrested at Lansing masqueraded as the "Rev. C. O. Gibson." Thus had the sanctimonious looking hypocrite stolen the livery of heaven to deceive the unwary. But he was "Hawkshawed" just the same.

Mark Jones died Sunday night in the Adrian pest house. The Adrian Telegram speaks up cheerily and says: "The end of the smallpox scare has come. The burial of Mark Jones, quietly conducted Monday night will stop the whole thing."

Scamps with no grace in their hearts, selected a recent Monday evening for the delectable enterprise of frescoing the residence and store of W. J. Green, of Lambertville with eggs of blooming fragrance—a piece of purely gratuitous cussedness.

Profs. Delos Fall and Clyde Ford, of Albion College, are soon to engage in a scientific exploration of the country north of Lake Superior. The party will look particularly for scratches in the roads made by the great glacial landslide. P. S. The one before the last election.

William Harlem, a Palmyra paper mill employee, fished a $5 gold piece out of a sand-box, Friday of last week. It is thought to have rattled out of some of the paper rags—probably the vest of a beggar who had not quite emptied his pocket of kind hearted contributions "for charity sake."

The Dundee high school lecture course opened Wednesday evening with a lecture from Secretary of State Gardner, on "Does it Pay to Educate?" Anyone who will take the pains to read the retina of the preacher-secretary's eye, will see there the words, "I'm the next governor."

The Methodists of Azalia recently took out a grudge against their pastor by calling in a surprise body at his home, and inflicting a quantity of provisions and cash upon him. He hopes with what he received to get out even on the wear and tear.

The statement has gone forth that the Bedford farmers' fair board of directors will make an attempt through the courts to establish the validity of the recent vote of the association which levied an assessment of $5 per capita upon its members.—Cor. Dundee Reporter.

Miss Cady Smith, of White Oak, lighted the fire with oil for kindling wood, and came near meeting that other girl on heaven's green who lit the fire with kerosene. Her arms and face are badly burned.

While Marshal Eldred, of Monroe, was searching a flock of tramps in the "cooler," last week, one of them, when the officer was not looking, seized the officer's gloves, winked at his comrades, and vanished like the prismatic tints of the rainbow.

Dr. Arthur Elmer, of Jackson, has been fined $25 for playing the dodge in the practice of medicine. True, his pills took about the same effect as those of other doctors, but he had no license to feed them out. The law is touchy on that point. No well bred corpse could feel otherwise than disgraced to know that he was taken off by a doctor having no license to kill him.

Any one who knows of a single instance where a person was ever saved from drowning "till just as he was going down for the third time," will confer a favor by addressing the Argus. We were driven into this slough of meditation by reading of the rescue of Claude Fields, a venturesome little rascal of Millington, who broke through the ice, and was a "third timer" when yanked out by Roy Wagner.

With a countenance aglow with the ardor of recollection, Rev. Bert, of Cadmus, Sunday morning, before his sermon, told his brethren how plenty and tame the wild turkeys used to be around there, adding pathetically that "not a blessed wild turkey is left, and even the tame ones are scarce." Then he preached from the text, "The Lord loveth the cheerful giver." Wednesday night he heard a knock at the door, and opening it, there lay the decolette form of a stuffed turkey, ready for the oven. "I knew it would come," remarked the good man to his wife.

In Baking Powders
"Royal" Leads.

As the result of my tests, I find the ROYAL BAKING POWDER superior to all the others in every respect. It is entirely free from all adulteration and unwholesome impurity, and in baking it gives off a greater volume of leavening gas than any other powder. It is therefore not only the purest, but also the strongest powder with which I am acquainted.

THREE ENTOMBED IN A MINE.

Caught by a Cave-In Just After They Had Gone to Work.

WEBB CITY, Mo., Dec. 6.—Not since Roach, Hamblin and Eulett were entombed here in the great Troupe cave-in, May, 1892, has there been such excitement and anxiety in this city as exists here, caused by the cave-in at the Center Creek company's mine, burying and causing the death of John Larson, Dan Trexill and Walter Cole.

The unfortunates had just gone to work at 6 o'clock, 200 feet below the surface, eight workmen having just quit, when the cave-in, without a moment's warning occurred. Larson leaves a widow and four children. The other two are single. The work of recovering the bodies progressed with a full force of men.

Suppose His Wife Had Been White.

PARIS, Ky., Dec. 6.—Jack Howerton, aged 25, a young white farmer near Paris, was married in Cincinnati to Matilda Taylor, a negro woman, of this city. Howerton is related to prominent Bourbon county families. Howerton and his negro bride were at the Kentucky Central passenger station, waiting for the train. Quite a crowd collected, curious to see the couple, and some of the by-standers began to gawk at Howerton and his bride. Howerton became enraged, drew a pistol and fired at the foremost of the crowd, ball striking Butch Conigan, an innocent spectator, in the fleshy part of his right leg. The crowd closed in on Howerton, and raised him up considerably. Howerton was arrested and is now in jail.

Modern Press Association Barred.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Orders have been received at the postoffice here that will practically deprive H. Howard Paramore and his "Modern Press association" of the use of the mails. Paramore's scheme has been to get up a directory which was to be furnished to managing editors of all newspapers for guidance in selecting correspondents when required. From the registration fees Paramore has been growing rich, and his mail facilities have been stopped on the ground that the concern is fraudulent.
