The Dexter Masonic Ball.

The Masonic fraternity of Dexter gave a large reception at the opera house, in that villege, on Friday evening which was one of the best parties given in that vicinity. About five hundred invitations were issued and guests were present in considerable numbers from Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti, as well as from Dexter and vicinity. In all about 150 couples were present when the Minnis orchestra started the strains of the grand march at 9:30 o'clock, and from that time until nearly five o'olock, Saturday morning, the guests of the Dexter Masons enjoyed themselves without intermission. At midnight a splendid supper was served in Masonic hall which was in charge of H. Wirt Newkirk, the wives and daughters of the members of the lodge looking after the wants of the guests.

Washington Letter. (From our Regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25, 1895.

It is a toss-up whether congress will, during its remaining week of an extra session necessary. It can do this by the adoption of objectionable amendments to the regular appass one or more of the regular appropriation bills. President Cleveland will certainly veto any appropriation bill that has objectionable amendments tacked upon it, and there is no question that several of those which are pending belong to the objectionable class. There is an enormous lot of work yet to be done to get the appropriation bills through, and some of the proposed financial amendments will be certain to cause bitter and more or less extended debate, which will leave just that much less time for solid any of the appropriation bills should fail, and if any does it will be the result of a put-up job, and the republicans dread an early extra session too much themselves to engage in that sort of thing just now. But in congress there are others.

He then spoke to young men about their fear of being talked about and of exhibiting religious feeling. He regarded it as not a high character that wears its heart upon the sleeve-and that great men do not care to exhibit their most sacred feelings. The church was no place for egotists.

He concluded his excellent address with a strong appeal to the manliness of men, to their reason, their better nature, their love for their kind, to give themselves to Christ, and he declared that the church stood for brotherhood, purity, truth, honesty, justice, and showed how it is the safeguard of the state, the family, human rights, property and all that men hold dear.

LET THEM INVESTIGATE. Senator Chandler is nothing if not an intense partisan. Recently he announced from his place in the senate that the republicans were burning with desire to investigate the new bond contract and he hoped congress would early be called in extra session. In all probability this was a great big bluff designed to frighten the president out of calling congress in special session, as it is well understood that the mere thought of being stood up in a row by the president and compelled to face the financial problem, in their present hopelessly divided condition, causes clammy chills to hie themselves up and down the republican spinal column. However, if they really desire to investigate the bond contract, they will no doubt find the president out in the open, somewhat beyond the halfway point, saying, "Come on McDuff," etc. And the more light they let in on the subject the more conspicuous will become the honesty and courage and independance and patriotism of Grover Cleveland, and the more senile and cowardly and indefensible will the position of con gress appear. Let the investigation be most searching and while it is on let the investigators inquire why two-thirds of the republicans in the house voted against the proposition to save to the people $16,000,000 in interest. Let it be shown just what it costs the people for these same republicans to sacrifice duty to party advantage. They knew the terms of the contract and had the power to save the people $16,000,000 in into the pockets of the syndicate as the destiny of the republic. profits on the deal. ### MYSTERIOUS TIDES.

THOSE OF THE LAKES THAT THE SKIPPERS CALL SWASHES.

Display Many Strange Caprices-An Old Lake Erie Skipper Talks Interestingly on the Sabject.

"Tidal waves on the great lakes are not of uncommon occurrence," said an cause we don't know any more about it now than they did at the time the great wave rose suddenly on Lake Erie, off street's fleet, in October, 1764. That was the first tidal wave on the lakes

"I have seen many of these swashes, as we call them on the lakes, the last one about ten years ago, when my schooner was swept high and dry at Port Stanley by a wave that seemed to rise on the lake like some monster marine animal coming from the depths to ward us a mile away. It came with a boiling front ten feet high, hissing like.

loud escaping steam as it swept toward us. That is a peculiar thing about the lake tidal waves. They do not come with a roar, like the ocean surf, but with a loud, hissing sound, and there is only one instance on record where they are either accompanied or followed by and called "Nuremberg eggs," com strong winds.

'That one instance was at Toledo, in December, 1856, when the wind, which had been blowing stiff offshore, suddenly whirled into a howling nor easter, and as quick as the change in the wind that wave leaped out of the lake and came hurling upon the shore, a wild and angry mass, eight feet high. In every other recorded occurrence of these mysterious freaks of the lake waters the surface of the lake has been perfectly calm and the air scarcely perceptible.

"Such was the condition when that big wave attacked us at Port Stanley, one of my men. The wave receded as fast as it had rushed in, and the lake, in less than ten minutes, was as smooth as a mirror

'Within the next hour there were four more swashes, each one of less force and volume, until the last was scarcely more than a ripple.

"Almost the first thing I remember, for I was but three years old at the time, was one of these tidal waves. It appeared early in the spring on the Can-'ordinary investor to have nothing ada shore, off Otter Creek. There was a piece of woods there then, with a long stretch of beach between it and the lake. My father had a 35 ton schooner lying off the shore half a mile or more. The water was a dead calm, when, without warning of any kind, a wave lifted itself from the bosom of the lake, probably 1 1/2 miles out, and swept shoreward with its mighty hiss. My mother and I were with father on his schooner. As that swash came rushing upon us it of lake craft ashore. "I guess the greatest tidal wave ever seen on any of the lakes was the one Dr. Foster and his party of voyagers saw on Lake Superior, between Copper harbor and Eagle river. That was in ceptress, and her work in the school August, 1845. This swash was more than 20 feet high, and, like all of its kind, sprung suddenly from the lake at dead calm. It was a quarter of a mile distant from Dr. Foster's boat, which, when the disturbance began, was directly in the path of the wave. It was crested with foam, and curled over like a mighty ocean surge. Before reaching the boat, however, the wave turned so that its nearest extremity swept past it at a distance of 50 feet, the water between that extremity and the boat being scarcely ruffled by the influence of the rushing tide.

"The wave was only half a mile from shore, but notwithstanding its great size and velocity it never reached there. The same mysterious caprice that caused it to change its course and pass harmlessly by the vessel seemed to seize it once more, and it sank rapidly from its great height as it approached the shore and struck the beach with no more force or rise of water than might have come from the wash of a passing vessel.

"I remember a notable swash on Lake Michigan at the mouth of the Menominee. That one appeared in April, 1858, and rushed into the river with such tremendous force and volume that it upset the ferryboat on the Menominee. few minutes it was followed by another wave much larger than the first one, and the ebb of the second swash was followed by a wave still larger than the

"That seemed to satisfy the mood of the lake at Menominee that day, and, with the receding of the third wave, calmness even unwonted prevailed on its bosom. The time between the coming of the first wave and the receding of the third was less than 20 minutes.

"The curious thing about these lake tidal waves is that they are entirely local in their influence. A swash, even They always come in from the open water."—New York Sun.

INDIGNANT OUIDA.

She Protests Against Any Public Library Censorship of Books,

There is another matter in which, to my view, great libraries are as much at fault as when they desire to dictate the price of books. It is when they attempt to constitute themselves the censors of opinion, the judges of what the public should or should not read. It is as monstrous for a librarian or a committee of librarians to exclude a work which is asked for from their bookshelves on the score of its immorality as it would be for a grocer to refuse to sell a customer tea because he thought it bad for the nerves. The purveyor has no business to dictate the tastes of his supporters. The public is the sole judge of what it wishes to read. If the wickedest book in the world be in demand, the circulating libraries, which are merely the go between, uniting the publisher and the properties of the publisher and the properties of the publisher are needed to see old customers and tots of new ones, and satisfaction guaranteed. ### Symbolical Jewelry.

The Japanese ladies, by the several ways of dressing the hair, denote whether they are maid, wife or mother. Other nations and tribes attach a similar significance to the wearing of certain articles of jewelry, as the Algerian women, who; upon the birth of the first child, assume a round silver brooch, encircled by small coral roses and finely wrought knobs of metal. If the child is a girl, this ornament is worn on the breast. If a boy, it is placed on the forehead. These women, young and old, are fond of trinkets and wear a multiplicity of bead and coral necklaces, as well as those made of spices and a sweet smelling paste, said to be composed of pressed rose leaves. Bracelets and necklaces of the latter kind are found on sale in large bazaars and are desirable not only as curiosities, but on account of their pleasant and lasting perfume. - New York Advertiser.

Has the Most Legs.

The little creature which bears the distinction of owning more legs and feet than any other known organized being is the milleped, which literally means "thousand footed." There are several species of these curious worms, all possessing the characteristic of having a Harness, fur robes, blankets and many segmented body, each segment provided with a pair of legs. SESSION ENDS NEXT MONDAY NOON.

Condition of Business in House and Senate And Matters That May Cause Trouble and Perhaps the Veto of an Appropriation B.II-Death of the Pooling Measure -The Funeral of Frederick Douglass-Fithian Whets His Knife.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.-Today the house entered upon the last week of its session. and the usual rush which characterizes the closing hours of every session of congress has begun. Under the rules the last six days of every session are suspension days, and members recognized may call up bills and have them acted on under suspension of the rules. There are 331 public bills on the calendar, 217 of which must be considered in committee of the whole and 114 are on the regular calendar. In addition to these there are over 500 bills on the private calendar. Of course only a very insignificant perof these bills can passed, but the press for precedence is terrific and many exciting scenes are almost sure to occur.

Long Session in Prospect Saturday. It is quite probable that several night sessions will be held, and it is almost certain that congress will remain in continuous session from Saturday until Monday next, on which day congress expires by limitation at noon. The regular appropriation bills are unusually well advanced so far as the house is concerned, only one (the deficiency) being unacted upon, and it will go to the senate today. The two which are considered dangerous -that is liable to fail or be vetoed-are the sundry civil and the diplomatic and consular. To the former the senate comment to issue 3 per cent. coin certificates, with a provision requiring the secretary of the treasury to advertise for bids in case of another bond issue. To the diplomatic and consular the senate has added the amendment for the Hawaiian cable Presidential Veto a Probability. If these provisions prevail despite the protest of the house it is thought that President Cleveland may veto them. The committee on Pacific railroads is pressing for an opportunity to secure a vote on the funding bill as amended, and the committee on public buildings is equally insistent upon its demand for a chance to settle the question of the printing office site, which has been hanging fire for several years. It is probable that the committee on rules will give both time during the coming week, in case opportunity offers. As a whole the week promises to be both interesting and exciting.

SENATE EXPECTS TO GET THERE.

propriation Bills Will Go Through.

The senate programme for the remainder of the session is to follow the sundry civil bill, the consideration of which be-Miss Mary Scanlin is visiting in gan today, with the legislative, executive and judicial bill, and then to take up the naval bill, and lastly the general degciency appropriation bill. While it is understood that there will probably be spasmodic attempts to get up other measures of general importance, the best opinion is that none of these will be successful in cases where there is objection. It is possible that Butler will renew his efforts in behalf of the pooling bill and that George will also again attempt to restore the bankruptcy bill to its position in the least probable that the efforts of either will be successful. Faulkner is also there is no longer a possibility of passing these bills. An order has already been made for a night session tomorrow for the consideration of bills to which there are no objections. The probabilities include night sessions every night after tomorrow, continuing Prof. Hildner's father in Detroit, virtually through the nights of Saturday and Sunday, and also a session next Sunday during the day. These, it is believed, will be held to dispose of the appropriation bills, there being many provisions in remaining unconsidered which may lead to prolonged debate. There is also a probability of debate over the next report of the conference committee on the diplomatic bill, involving the appropriation for the Hawaiian cable. There is not much in the legislative bill to lead to debate, but the other three bills all contain provisions which, if they are not withdrawn, are sure to cause sharp discus-

> It is intimated that the certificate amendment to the sundry civil bill may be withdrawn. If it is it will simplify the situation somewhat, but there will be material for many speeches and reasons for prolonged sessions. Senators do not consider the outlook discouraging, however, and they predict that the bills will all be passed by the time fixed by the constitution for adjournment.

"CHAIN OF LETTERS" A NUISANCE. Postoffice Authorities Investigate and Find

Some Curious Facts. WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.-The scheme of friends of Edna Kane and Nettie Gorman, of Kaneville, Ills., in instituting a 'chain" of letters seeking cancelled postage stamps for the benefit of the latter, a cripple, has resulted in an investigation by a postoffice inspector, and the report has been forworded to Postmaster Bissell. The scheme has caused great annoyance to the postal service, aggravated by alnew chain inaugurated at El Paso, Tex., and a mock expression of sympathy for the postmaster whose office has been flooded with mail as a result. The number of cancelled stamps found in the room of the beneficiary of the system is estimated at 15,000,000. "There are enough idiotics throughout the country, says the inspector, "to swamp the office with the stamp letters, driving the postmaster to an insane asylum." The scheme, he concludes, has demoralized the office and the good of the service demands an immediate remedy. The issuance of a fraud order prohibiting the use of the mails is recommended, but the report has not yet been acted on.

RECORD ON THE POOLING BILL.

Forty-two Senators Vote Against Taking It Up This Session,

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. - The pooling bill is dead for this session. On Butler's motion to take it up there were but twentyfour ayes and torty-two noes. There was an animated debate after the defeat of the bill and Peffer told the friends thereof that there was no use taking it up, as it would be talked to death. Hale objected to taking it up because he said there was absolutely not time to attend to it. debate generally indicated that the bill would have to be considerably changed if it got a majority if it was voted upon.

SENATOR RANSOM GETS THE PLUM. Appointed and Confirmed Minister to Mexico, Vice Isaac P. Gray. WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.-The president nominated Hon. Matt M Ransom, senator from North Carolina, for minister to Mexico to succeed the late Hon. Isaac P. Gray. The nomination was received by the senate, and few nominations have been received with greater favor. Ransom is an old time member of the senate and personally popular with all its members. An executive session was held and the nomination promptly confirmed.

Ransom has been a member of the senate continuously for the past twentythree years, being first chosen in 1872. During the war he filled in succession the grades of lieutenent colonel, colonel, origadier general and major general in the rebel army. Senator Ransom is 69 years of age, but is well preserved and does not show his age. He is a man of polished manners and of much tact, and his colleagues unite in the opinion that he will make an ideal diplomat.

Senate and House in Brief.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.-The senate by a rote of 24 to 42 refused to take up the pooling bill, and its friends were told that it was no use taking it up as it would be talked to death. The Indian appropriation bill was passed after having been before the senate five days, and a beginning was made on the sundry civil bill. Wolcott offered a resolution providing for the Mrs. M. A. A resolution was introduced to have the remains of Frederick Douglass lie in state in the rotunda of the Capitol, but it failed to be acted upon, Gorman objecting. Eulogies were pro-nounced on the late Representative Shaw, of Wisconsin. Senator Ransom, nominated as minister to Mexico, was promptly confirmed.

The feature of the day's proceedings in the house was the fight on the proposition to pay an extra month's salary to all the employes of the house and senate. It carried in committee of the whole, including clerks to members. The reading of the deficiency bill was completed with the exception of a few amendments. ALABAMA MINE DISASTER.

Two Men Lose Their Lives, While Eighteen Others Are Badly Hurt.

BIRMINGHAM, Feb. 25. - A fire occurred in Rock slope, of the Tent Coal, Iron and Railroad company's mines at Pratt City, that resulted in the death of John Patton and Louis Stevens, two miners, and the more or less serious injury of eighteen others. Twenty miners, all convicts, were in Rock slope near the air shaft, when they detected the smell of smoke, and shortly afterward an immense volume of it came whirling toward them from the engine room. Driven by the smoke the twenty men hurried to the air shaft and there huddled together to keep from suffocating. John Patton and Louis Stevens finally left the crowd at the air shaft and tried to get to the cage shaft. They never reached it, but were afterwards found dead near the engine room. One of the men had his head beaten almost into a pulp, indicating that he had tried to kill himself rather than suffocate to death.
