The Lateral Sewers.

City Engineer Key has the lines mapped out for the Hill street or Sunday before the party returned No. 3 lateral sewer district and has determined that the lateral including the house branches will require fifteen and a half miles of sewer pipe. As a level will have to be taken every twenty-five feet, some idea of the engineer's out-door work can be gained. It looks as if the Hill street lateral, the Huron street lateral, and the William street lateral at least, will be built during the coming summer. Some fun may yet be looked for in the matter of the fifth ward sewer and laterals.

Smash-up at Dexter.

A freight smash-up at Dexter at four o'clock yesterday morning delayed the Michigan Central trains. The two freight trains which collided were run by two Ann Arbor Delbert Keeler. However, neither June 13th, 1826. of the men were to blame for the accident. Keeler's train was lying at the Dexter depot under the protection of the semaphore. Woolover saw the semaphore and endeavored to stop his train, which was an east-bound freight, but the brakes refused to work. Four cars one was injured. The engine of Woolover's train was badly damaged but did not leave the track.

A Proposition Mooted to Issue $500,000. 000 in Bonds and Attach Some Legislation for Silver to the Bill-Income Tax Advocates Pleased with Developments That Promise $50,000,000 from That Source-Wilson on the Revenue.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The president is expected to send a special message to congress this week. The subject of the message is generally agreed to be the financial situation, and the condition of the gold reserve. This expected message makes forecasting what the house will do and occupied the remainder of the day. rather difficult, because the programme will be subject to revision in case the Speaker Crisp, who has been at Ashe ville. N. C., for the benefit of his health, is expected today or tomorrow, and if special legislation is demanded by Cleveland to meet the crisis an effort will undoubtedly be made to comply with his Concession to the Silver Men. The president. Secretary Carlisle and Attorney General Olney had a long conference at the White House at which the financial situation, it is said, was dis cussed in all its phases. Secretary Car lisle went to the White House and was soon joined by Olney. It is not known what, if anything, was decided upon, but it is believed that early in this week the administration men in congress will make an authoritative proposition to the silver men looking to the passage of a bill providing for the issue of $500,000,000 in 3 per cent. bonds, coupled with some silver legislation. Friends of the administration argue that it would be wise for the silver men to accept any fair and liberal offer, as in case they refuse any silver legisla-tion during the next two years would be Glad the Reserve is Low.

The silver men say they are glad the gold reserve is running away. They say that silver will do and that a good way to make this discovery is to let the gold flutter to a premium. They declare the gold reserve a bugbear and a bogy man with which to scare financial babies. sooner it disappears the sooner its harmless character will appear, and "goldbugs" who are 'goldbugs' through terrorization by Wall street and the banks will recover their senses and be for silver. In the meantime members of congress who believe in the income tax as an equitable method of raising revenues are gratifled at the unexpected good showing of the pre-liminary canvass made by the collectors of the internal revenue at the direction of Secretary Carlisle. They believe that the greater the amount realized from this tax the more popular it will become and the more firmly rooted as a part of the policy of the government.

Revenue from the Income Tax. Representative McMillin says that if a large per cent. of the revenue of the government is derived from this plan any attempt to repeal it before the expiration of will be exceedingly unpopular, and that the greater the revenue derived from it the greater will be the probability of its re-enactment at the end of its term. When the proposition to tax incomes was before congress the profit from the scheme was at first estimated at from $15,000,000 to $18,000,000. Later the estimates of the committee were raised to the vicinity of $30,000,000.

> NOT IN NEED OF MORE REVENUE. ing That Differential.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The papers presented to the house to enable it to arrive at a conclusion regarding the differential on sugar consisted of the whole correspondence between this and the German government, the pith of which on the part of the German government is that the prohibition of importation of our cattle into Germany is in no sense a retaliatory measure, but purely sanitary, resulting from the discovery of Texas fever in American cattle. In the course of the debate Wilson's position was that the differential was a violation of treaty provisions. while the questions asked by Republicans indicated that they took the view that it was not, and that Germany violated the

Wilson soon branched off to the matter of revenues, declaring that the treasury did not need additional revenue. At this best friend, and the punishment the Republicans jeered, and Wilson said the treasury was flush and in no danger of default. The tariff bill as originally passed by the house would under normal conditions have supplied sufficient revenues, and that as it is we are moving steadily toward a surplus. Dingley and Hopkins of Illinois took issue with this and gave the figures of the deficit, which Wilson repudiated. He believed that Germany prohibited our cattle because we imposed an extra duty on her sugar, and Blair of New Hampshire said that continued until adjournment

Brooklyn's First Quiet Day for Railroad company, and the Cyp Two Weeks.

CARS BEGIN TO CARRY PASSENGERS.

And All the Lines Running Are Crowded, While Many People Have to Walk-Leaders Urge the Men to Cease Violence _Railway Officials Declare the Strike Practically Ended-Judge Gavnor Makes His Writ Alternative-Connelly Makes a Proposition.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 28.-Master Workman Connelly has sent the following letter to President Lewis, of the Brooklyn Heights

"SIR:-As master workman of district assembly 75, K. of L., of which organization the men in your employ on Jan. 13, 1892, are members, I offer you the services of these men upon the terms offered to you for signature by the executive board of district assembly No. 75, K. of L., on Dec. 26, 1894, or upon the terms of the agreement which existed between the Brooklyn Heights Railroad company and district assembly 75, K. of L. during the year 1894, as the terms of agreement which you shall accept, to govern the relations between employe and employer during the year 1895."

BROOKLYN, Jan. 28.-Were it not for the scarcity of cars yesterday one would not have thought that one of the biggest strikes in the history of Brooklyn was in progress. Church-goers had to walk to church in many instances, or take chances in the enormous crowds which took possession of the cars. Otherwise there was perfect calm. Large crowds as sembled around the stations, where military guards are stationed, but there was no violence there, and the bantering the troops received was of a good-natured kind. Those in position to draw conclusions from facts, and without prejudice, say that the strike is about ended. The companies seem to be in a position to run their cars. They are not skilfully operated, and throughout the day there were many collisions and there was much bumping together, but there was no accident of a serious nature.

Strike Leaders Stop the Rioting.

Some of the cars were without windows and others had dilapidated motor-boxes and twisted dashboards, but most of them were carrying passengers without molestation. The railroad companies have now become able to operate their lines after dusk, and will, if no serious disturbances are made in the future, soon be running them all night as they did before the strike began. The quietness of the strike has been brought about by the strike leaders who have pointed out to the men the 30 to strike out in line two the word, folly of a riotous course. The men heard and, understood the requests of the leaders and followed them out.
Sinews of War About Exhausted.

Starvation already confronts many of the families of the strikers. The men were not well equipped financially when they decided to stop work and the bulk of their funds has been used for the trans-The yeas and nays being called on the portation of non-union men to the cities 3rd amendment in Sec. 31, and adopted from whence they came to replace the strikers. This alone has cost the strikers many thousands of dollars. Storekeepers have been very considerate, but now that they see that the strikers are being replaced by men from other cities they are loth to give credit, and promises to pay when the strike is ended do not cut much figure with landlords.

Talk of the Railway Officials.

The railway officials declare that the strike has practically ceased to exist. Many of the strikers are said to be applying for work. All the officials declare they have more applications than places and yesterday for the first time no wires were being cut. Master Workman Connelly does not agree with this. He says calling off the strike.

Gaynor Stands by His Dictum. In deciding that he would make the writ of mandamus in the strike case alter native instead of mandatory Judge Gaynor insisted on his claim that the companies were not prevented from operating their roads by violence, and that they must not stop the running of trains an The alternative writ gives the companies twenty days to get their roads in running order or answer why they read. Ald. Brown asked for a division don't, and the leading strikers say it might just as well have been twenty

MASS MEETING OF STRIKERS.

Representative Simpson Advises the Men to Vote the Populist Ticket.

A mass meeting of the strikers, friends and sympathizers was held at the Athenæum at Eighth and Clinton streets. The house was packed to the doors. Henry George was the chief speaker. He said if the municipality owned the roads and taxed land values the railroads would be free to the people. Representative Jerry Simpson, who also spoke, urged the audience in the future to vote the Populist ticket. One of the principal planks in the Populist platform was the ownership of the railroad, telegraph and telephone ship line than any other party. Resolu-tions were adopted denouncing "the heartless and avaricious corporations for having thrown the entire community into confusion, involving immense pecuniary loss and pauperizing a vast number of people; demanding that the attorney general of the state begin proceedings to an nul the charters of the railway corpora tions and that upon the forfeiture of said charters all city railroads should be operated by the city of Brooklyn or by re sponsible lessees.

The day was not entirely free from turbulence. Company G, of the Fortyseventh regiment, was obliged to disperse a crowd of 500 p rsons. Thomas Mc-Grary, a striking motorman, was discovered placing stones on the track. A crowd gathered and jeered at the officers. Mc Grary was arrested in spite of their protests. Quite a number of car windows tin, Wood, Snyder, Ferguson, Brown, were broken- along Myrtle avenue without any arrests being made.

The strikers will institute proceedings against the companies for working men more than ten hours a day, while pron inent citizens are moving to have the companies' charters forfeited for violating the same. Another question that will be tested is whether the companies can hire men from other states to take the places

Hydrophobia Claims Two Children and Two Others Show Symptoms.

Louisa, Ky., Jan. 28 -Andrew Cole and wife, of the western part of this county, have brought to Louisa their four children, two of whom, at least, have hydrophobia. The eldest, a boy of 15, was bitten by a rabid dog in 1889, but showed no symptoms of this disease until two months ago, when he began to have queer spells. They grew worse, more frequent and violent, until two weeks ago, when of his opponents, andfinally, hoars he bit a younger brother. This boy is now in a terrible condition. Senator Hill at a Banquet.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Senator Hill addressed the Democratic club at its annual banquet. His speech was the feature of the occasion and was a plea for legislation that would remedy the known evil-the deficit in the treasury. He declared that it was an outrage that the president should plead in vain for necessary legislamen in the party—the silver men—insisted that it should be coupled with a surrender to their ideas. He said: "No hostility to the present administration, no political grievances and no factional differences should be permitted to retard immediate legislation so indispensable at this time for the maintenance of the credit and honor of the government.
