Held up by Three Highwaymen.

Henry Reichmann, who is getting up business directory of the county for the West Publishing company, was robbed Saturday night by three highwaymen on the Saline road a few miles out of the city. His horse was caught by the bridle by one man, while a second held a revolver in the face and a third went through his pockets, securing $17.50 which he had in an overcoat pocket. He reported the matter at once to Sheriff Judson, who with his deputies have been on a search for the bold offenders, who are yet uncaught. Reichmann had been on a collecting tour and the highwaymen evidently knew his manner of carrying cash. As soon as they had secured the money they disappeared.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

In view of the present complications between Great Britain and Venezuela, growing out of certain claims of the former to a portion of the territory of the latter, in violation, as many believe, of this famous principle so universally accepted by our people, a brief discussion of it may not be untimely. The principle embodied in "The Monroe Doctrine" is the logical sequence of the experiences which led up to, and terminated in the independence of the United States, and time and the growth of national sentiment has served to emphasize it. The apprehension existed in our early history that European governments looked with disfavor and alarm on our growing power. The advantages of our isolated position were, therefore, noted. It was apparent also that Europe had many primary interests, especially political which bore a very remote, if any relation to us-hence the necessity of our keeping out of foreign entanglements.

Out of these observations and experiences grew the Ameircan idea of nonintervention in European affairs and opposition to European intervention in ours. The sentiment grew and obtained such a hold upon the people that all that was needed to cause its adoption as a national principle was the occasion to call it forth from properly constituted authority.

On the overthrow of Napoleon, the formidable arrangement, known as the Holy Alliance, was formed. This was believed to be hostile to popular rights, and in favor of intervening whenever absolutism was endangered. At the Congress of Verona, which met in 1822, it was not only proposed to aid Spain in quelling an uprising of her people at home (which was done), but to also aid her in regaining her American dependences which were slipping from her grasp. Whether the Holy Alliance seriously contemplated intervention, may be questioned, but the situation was regarded as a grave one by President Monroe and Secretary of State John Quincy Adams, two of the ablest as well as most experienced public men of their day, and familiar, from 1893 their residence at various European CRIME IN A CHURCH Discovery of the Diabolical Murder of Two Girls.

THE FEROCITY OF JACK THE RIPPER

Displayed in the Slaughter of Miss Willlams - Horrible Method of Gagging Adopted - The Second Corpse Found That of a Girl Who Had Been Missing for Some Time_Bloody War in the Choctaw Nation-Little Girl Slain.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.-The Emanuel Baptist church at Bartlett street, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third in this city, has been the scene of two of the most atrocious murders ever committed in the state. Saturday the mutilated and murdered body of Minnie Williams was found in the library of the edifice. Yesterday the nude body of Blanche Lamont was found in the tower of the same church. The same hand, the authorities believe, slew both girls and W. H. T. Durant, the young man suspected of both crimes, is now in custody. Blanche Lamont and Minnie Williams were members of the Emanuel church and members of the Sunday school class. The former was a student at the Normal school on Powell street in this city; the latter was a companion in a family in Alameda, across the bay from the city. They were each 21 years old, brunettes, and pretty and modest girls.

The Wolf in Sheep's Clothing.

Both had been the recipients of attentions from a young medical student named W. H. T. Durant, who is also the librarian of the church and the secretary of the Young People's Society of the church. On April 3 Miss Lamont disappeared. Diligent search failed to reveal any trace of her whereabouts, and her aunt, Mrs. Noble, with whom she had been living, was totally unable to throw any light on the affair. Miss Lamont came from Dillon, Mont., several months ago, having been in San Francisco for her health and at the same time to attend the normal school to perfect herself as a teacher. The last person seen in her company was W. H. T. Durant, who, it eems, had been on friendly terms with the missing girl. On Saturday about 11 p. m. the mutilated body of Minnie Williams was found in the library of the church. The girl had been assaulted and her remains were cut and hacked, the girl having evidently died from loss of blood.

Ferocity of Her Assailant.

Her assailant had evidently possessed all the ferocity of a Jack-the-Ripper. On examination it was found that she had been gagged, the assallant tearing part of her underelothing and thrusting it down her throat with a sharp stick, badly lacerating the tongue. Two witnesses state that they saw a young man and a young woman, the former answering the description of Durant and the latter that of Minnie Williams, enter the church. Following this clue the police at once put the residence of Durant under surveillance. Miss Williams lived with friends in Alameda, who gave her a home until she could secure a position. She had been a regular attendant of the Emanuel church, having formerly lived in that neighborhood, but after the separation of her father and mother had moved to Alameda

Last Time She Was Seen Alive.

Friday morning the Morgan family, with whom she had lived, packed their household goods intending to leave for Tacoma, and Miss Williams had removed her possessions to the house of Mrs. Voy, near the church. Friday evening she was to have attended a meeting of the Young at Dr. Vogel's house. At 7:15 o'clock she left Mrs. Voy's house to attend the meet-104,000,000 366,000,000 a recognized power in the world of ing, taking a latchkey with her. She claim to have two witnesses who saw Durant and Miss Williams in company last Friday night and also state that when search was made of Durant's house, in the pocket of his coat was found a purse which Miss Williams is known to have carried Friday night.

Durant is about 28 years of age and was born and reared in the neighborhood in which the murders occurred. He is a graduate of the Coggswell high school, and has been studying medicine for a year. He is a member of the second brigade signal corps and was assistant superintendent of Emanuel church Sunday school. He was always of a quiet dis position, and has friends who refuse to believe, in spite of the evidence, that he committed the crime attributed to him. The police, however, think Durant is another Jack-the-Ripper, with a mania for murder. They state that it is highly probable that Durant is responsible for the killing of Eugene Ware, a young drug clerk who was found stabbed to death several months ago in the store where he worked. Durant's parents are highly esteemed people of the district in which they live.

DURANT MAKES A STATEMENT.

Declares Himself Guiltless and Explains the Matter of the Purse.

Durant was seen by an Associated Press reporter and said: "The last time I met Miss Lamont was on the morning of the day she disappeared. We talked about books, and I promised to bring a book for her to prayer meeting that night. Miss Lamont did not come to the meeting and the following day, Friday, I took the book to her house and gave it to her sister. The latter told me Blanche had gone to school, evidently trying to keep the fact of her disappearance secret. That is all I know of the Lamont case. The last time I saw Minnie Williams was three weeks ago.

When confronted by the evidence that Miss Williams' purse had been found in his pocket. Durant gave the following "I was going from the explanation: meeting at Vogel's Friday night when my foot struck a small object on the side walk. I picked it up and found it was a small mirror. Near by was a purse, which I also picked up. I took them both home with me, intending to tell my folks of my find. It was late, however, and I went right to bed. In the morning I was in a hurry to get away with the signal corps and forget all about it. The police take exception to Durant's statement that he had not seen Miss Williams for three weeks. They say they can prove that he was seen with her on Monday or Tuesday and possibly later. In his statement at police headquarters Rev. Dr. Gibson asserts his belief in Durant's innocence, but is unable to offer any theory as to the guilty party. This much can be said for Durant-he did not act like a guilty man when arrested, and his preparations to leave were made withconcealment before the murder of out Miss Williams.

BLOODY WAR IN THE NATION.

Choctaws Doing Deadly Work with the loose in the eastern portion of the Choctaw nation. Ever since the Jones-Locke feud of two years ago the deadliest enmity has prevailed between parties of different political beliefs. Last week Arnold Isliche was shot down by some unknown party in his own yard. He had always been an avowed friend of Governor Jones. His assassination aroused the whole community, and the Cooper boys, who had always been warm friends of Locke, were suspected of the crime. Later Solomon Loanaker, Simpson Loanaker and three of their friends laid in wait two miles north of Eagleton, in the Choctaw nation, for the Coopers, who were planting a crop. As the Coopers came up the Loanakers opened fire from ambush with Winchesters. Their fire was returned. There were five men in each party, and for thirty minutes a deadly fusillade prevailed. Governor Gardner, of the Choctaw nation, chanced to pass the place and found Solomon Loanaker, Simpson Loanaker, Cornelius Cooper and Tom Forbes dead in the road within a few feet of each oth er with their Winchesters in their hands Near his dead brother lay William Cooper, shot in a dozen places, but still alive and conscious. He gave Gardner a detailed statement of the whole affair. His statement cannot be had now, but enough is known to show that the Loanakers were instigated to do the bloody work by money given by political friends. The Coopers were very popular and their friends are furious over the affair, and are on the warpath swearing vengeance against the Loanakers and all their friends.

The message of President Monroe, which contains the principle, bears date of December 2, 1823, and announces the policy of this country with reference to Europe to be, "Not to interfere in any of the internal concerns of any of its Powers" and at the same time lays down in substance the following three inhibitions:

1. "No more European colonies on these continents.'

2. "No extension of the European political system to any portion of this hemisphere.'

3. "No European interposition in the affairs of the Spanish-American republics."

The declaration of President Monroe was warmly approved by the English people and received high commendation in the British parliament. The allies abandoned their hostile intentions and from that day to this the Monroe doctrinehas been an almost universally recognized principle by our people. It may be stated in this connection as a strange fact that this principle so very generally approved by the people has never received legislative confirmation. Resolution after resolution has been before both branches of congress only to be withdrawn or adversely reported. It has received the acknowledgement and support of all parties, however, and the majority of American statesmen and has frequently shaped the foreign policy of our governmnt.

It is not to be understood, of course, as some have seemed to think, that by upholding this principle the United States engages to take up arms in support of every friendly state on this contentinent which becomes involved in

The silverites are making a tremendous effort to commit the democratic party to the 16 to 1 fallacy, claiming that that will make the election of a democratic president in 1896 sure. It would be just as well to make haste slowly as it will be considerably over a year before the various state conventions will be held to formulate platforms and elect delegates to the national convention. In the meantime let us see what has been accomplished in the past. Last fall the democrats of Ohio and this state declared for free coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1 and were never so badly beaten at the polls. In this twelfth congressional district Rush Culver was run for congress on the same platform and Samuel Stephenson's majority was never so large. This spring our state convention adopted a platform with but one plank, a silver one, and every county in the state but one has returned a majority for the republican state ticket. For the last thirty years the republicans have been tinkering with the currency until they have gotten it into its present deplorable condition, all admit that something must be done and the party that solves the problem will have the confidence of the people for many years to come and a long lease of power. In the past the democratic party was considered the sound money party and the people looked to it for wise currency leigslation, we believe it will yet be the party to solve the problem.-Soo Democrat.

> Every year advancing civilization brings the nations of the world into closer neighborhood and makes the products of each more necessary to the satisfaction of the needs and desires of all others. Every year witnesses an increase of international trade and closer relations are the result. Each nation is constantly doing all in its power also to get the lion's share of it. The nation which has the most wants, therefore, and would secure the greatest advantage from this trade, must have a sound currency, a currency that will facilitate these exchanges. A depreciated currency certainly will not do this. What is wanted is a currency that has value within itself and the same value whether within the country issuing it or elsewhere. It must not depend on its value.

The boundary dispute between Mexico and Guatemala, which has been of long standing and but recently threatened to cause a destructive war, has finally been settled on terms honorable, it is said, to both parties. This is far better for all concerned than an appeal to war would have been never appeared there. About this time Durant left his home on Fairoaks street, in the same vicinity, bound for the same meeting. At 8 o'clock Durant met Philip Perkins and asked him some questions about a trip to Mount Diablo which the signal corps, of which he was a member, was to make the next day. At 9:30 he appeared at Dr. Vogel's residence where the meeting was in progress, and none was more merry during the remainder of the evening. At 11 o'clock he left with a party of young people and went home.

First Clue to the Murderer.

The next morning Durant arose early and went with his comrades of the Signal corps for Mount Diablo, fifty mils away The two murders are so closely connected that it is now necessary to go back to the Lamont case. Yesterday Mrs. Noble, the aunt of Miss Lamont, received through the mails a paper containing the four rings worn by her niece the day she disappeared. On the paper were written the name and address of Theodore Durant. This, together with the fact that Miss Williams, an intimate friend of Miss Lamont, had been heard to say she knew Blanche had been murdered but refused to tell what she knew, had led the police to suspect that the same one who had killed Miss Williams had slain Miss Lamont, and learning that Miss Williams knew of his crime attempted further conthe government flat for any portion of cealment by committing a second murder.

FINDING OF MISS LAMONT'S BODY.

Late at night the detectives had about decided that Durant had murdered Miss Williams, and this theory was further strengthened yesterday morning when, after making a thorough search of the Emanuel church the dead and outraged body of Miss Lamont was found concealed in the steeple. Death had been caused by strangulation. The body was lying just inside the door of the lower room, nude and on the floor. Around the neck were blue streaks, the marks of fingers that had been pressed deep into the tender flesh. The body was taken to the morgue, where it was placed on a slab by the side of Miss Williams.

The chief of police sent for Rev. Dr. Gibson, pastor of the church, and the report became current that he had been accused of the crimes, and had been arrested. Then the crowds surged to Dr. Gibson's house and the excitement grew more intense. The rumors of the arrest were later denied and it became known that Dr. Gibson and the sexton of the church had been merely called to tell what they knew. Later came the news that Durant had been arrested at Walnut Creek, on the road to Mount Diablo. He was caught by Detective Anthony.

The detective and his prisoner left on the next train for San Francisco, where they arrived last evening. The police are rertain they have the right man. They

STRONG AGAINST ANGUS GILBERT.

The Evidence That He Has Murdered S-Year-Old Alice Sterling.

BOSTON, April 15.-The body of Alice Sterling, 8 years old, was found in the earth under the barn of G. W. Emmons, on Denis street, Savin Hill, Boston. Her head had been nearly chopped off with an ax. The girl disappeared from her tather's home in Savin Hill avenue Wednesday. She was last seen in the company of Angus Gilbert, night agent at the Savin Hill station of the Old Colony railroad. Investigation of the Bos ton police led to suspicion against him and he was arrested, charged with the murder. He strongly asserts that he is innocent.

Gilbert is 24 years old and formerly worked for the girl's father. In payment for chores done for Mr. Emmons Gilbert was allowed to sleep in the loft of the barn under which the body was found. The police have two theonies on which to base their charges against Gilbert. One an assault on the girl and the other revenge for an old grudge against her father. A bloody ax was found in Gilbert's room and his clothing is spattered with blood.

FIRE IN A STATE CAPITOL The Beautiful State House Building of Illinois Damaged by Flames,

SPRINGFIELD, April 16.-Fire broke out Saturday in the senate wing of the state house, and fanned by a flerce gale raged for over an hour and caused a damage of $25,000-possibly more. During the fire the greatest excitement prevailed among the inmates of the state house, and owing to the high wind and the difficulty of getting at the fire, which was under the roof, it was for a time feared that the whole of the magnificent capitol would be ruined. The fire was discovered by the janitor in the senate chamber. The fire-men and employes of the state then spent half an hour in vain search for the flames. They were finally located under the roof along the western side of the senate wing, where tinners had been engaged repairing the roof. A general alarm was turned in, but by the time the depart-ment arrived the fire had gained much headway under the metal covering of the roof

The firemen had great difficulty in getting lines of hose to the roof. The smoke was overpowering, and they had to chop holes through the roof, and meanwhile the fire had crept along from the senate wing to the base of the dome. Here, for-tunately, was a brick fire-wall completely shutting off the rest of the building. The strong wind, however, caused the fire to burn fiercely and dense volumes of smoke penetrated all quarters of the state house. By 1:30 p. m., as a result of hard work on the part of the firemen, the flames were un der control and soon after the fire was out During the progress of the fire the offi cials of all the departments made haste to get all the valuable documents trophies, etc., in their offices into the fire proof vaults where they would be safe from destruction. Quantities of water poured through the roof leaked through the senate ceiling, causing much damage The smoke penetrated all parts of the west wing, and has probably caused much damage. Both libraries, however, es-caped. There is no insurance. A large force of men was at once set to work to repair the damage.

The Illinois Statesman Makes Some Com. ments on the Financial situation.

WATERLOO, Ills. April 15 .- The Hon, William R. Morrison was asked by an Associated Press reporter to give his views on the silver question. He said: The importance of this subject is second only to the tariff. Its unsatisfactory and unsettled condition is believed to have aggravated the financial and business difficulties through which we have been compelled to pass. The sentiment in favor of a larger use of silver and on terms interchangeable with gold seems to be growing, both here and abroad. Apparently nobody in Europe is courageous or reckless enough to attempt the double standard without England's consent. Can we safely do this with England and all Europe opposin?g

"It is not the legal tender quality which makes our silver dollars more valuable than the silver in them. It is because under the practice of our financial system, they are interchangeable with gold through the treasury. When silver was discredited by being left out of the coinage laws in 1873 there was nothing in the relative value of silver and gold to justify it. This is not the only cause, but it is one cause why the commercial value of silver is not more than it is. In prosperous times we could safely use a large amount of silver, always providing for its convertibility into money which does not get its value from the law."

Damage Suits Grow Out of the Strike.

MILWAUKEE, April 15.-The Chicago, MILWAUKEE, April 15.—The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway com-pany has been served with the summons in a suit to be brought for heavy damages growing out of the big strike of the American Railway Union and the con-sequent arrest of alleged ringleaders in this city. The suits are brought by two of the men who were arrested last July on complaint of E. W. McKenna, then assistant general superintendent of the St. Paul company and now connected with the Great Northern. The principal allegations are false imprisonment and malicious persecution, which latter malicious persecution, which latter means the black list. It is thought that the American Railway Union is behind the suit, and if it proves successful sim-ilar suits promise to spring up all over the system.
