REGULAR OCTOBER SESSION BEGUN BY THEM

Committee Appointed and the Treasurer's Report Received.—Some Personal Sketches.-A Contested Will Decided in the Circuit Court.

The Supervisors Meet.

The county board of supervisors met in regular October session on Monday. The following supervisors answered to Bibbins, Ball, Case, Childs, Davenport, Damon, Dancer, Donnelly, Forsythe, Fischer, Grosshans, Hall, Hunter, Howlett, Kitson, Lighthall, Leland, McGuillan, Oesterlin, Scott, Tuomey, Voorheis, Whittaker, Wheeler and Walter. Supervisor Lighthall was elected chairman. The only business done Monday was the passing of a resolution to visit the poor house Thursday and to decide upon $25,000,000 as the basis for asessment in the county.

At Monday morning's session County Clerk Dansingburg presented the auditor general's report as to the amount of taxes upon personal and real estate to be assessed against Washtenaw. The aggregate amount in the state is $3,919.52 and the county's share is $82,682.75.

The report of the jail inspectors was submitted by the clerk. According to it there had been 206 prisoners confined within its walls for the six months ending Sept. 24, 1895. The condition of the bedding and cells was fair, and the halls needed repair. The jail was reported too small and the lot upon winch it was located as being approachable on two sides from the street. The inspectors also reported that more sysem was needed in the keeping of the iail records.

Secretary of State Gardner had ad vised the clerk that there were 17 corporations in the county which had not made proper returns to the state. Ten of them named were situated in Ann Arbor, six in Ypsilanti and one in

The County House Visit.

The supervisors visited the county house yesterday and found everything in excellent order. The farm buildings have been somewhat improved in the past few years. The old building, which has so long done service as the county house is kept in neat order and absolutely clean, the floors showing evidence of frequent hard scrubbing. The best that can be done with the building is done, but as everyone knows who has been over the building, the design of the builders was bad. It is a crazy patch work building, a piece having been added on here and a piece there, and the pieces have not fitted, so that in stepping from one room to another you have to step up or down stairs. The corridors are long, involvnot yet proven the cause of loss of life, the frightened inmates will have presence of mind to get out of the labarynths, and any rescuers not thoroughly a good chance of getting lost.

There are not so many inmates in the county house this year as there have been in some previous years—the average number being 67. The county house farm of 120 acres yielded some good crops this year. From three and a half acres, seven hundred bushels of potatoes were raised -fine, large, mealy ones they were. These will all be used on the farm. From eleven acres of wheat, 220 bushels were obtained—a good, fair yield for this year. Then 21 bushels of barley was also raised. The corn crop was excellent. Mr. Shankland has proven himself a good farmer. The county is raising all of its own pork and more than is needed for its poor. The annual visit to the county house serves to keep alive the interest of the members of the board in the care of the

A Contested Will Decided.

The circuit court has been the scene in the whole University. this week of a long sustained and hard forght legal battle, of which A. J. Sawyer upon one side and B. M. Thompson, of the law faculty, and Wm. Honey, of Dexter, upon the other, have exhausted every legal phase. The case is that of a will, and it has excited great interest in and about Dexter where the contestants reside. It seems that John Miller, an old and respected resident five miles north of Dexter, upon his death in 1894, left a will, bearing date of 1887, leaving in life ed affairs, winding and twisting in lease his total property to his daughter number of sciences in place of brief such a labyrinthic way that one has to in law, Mrs. Andrew Miller, with probe pretty familiar with the building to vision that it sohuld go to her children, in asking preparation in some foreign get about it. Board of Regents, in Session Wednesday .- Walls of the University to be Decorated with President Angell on Wednesday made his annual report to the board of regents in October session. The new woman feeling was given a cold chill, for it was three years ago and it was only a half per cent. greater than the year before. The president believed that for some time to come the proportion of men and women is likely to be 33 per cent. in the literary department and 21 per cent.

President Angell expressed himself as well pleased with the result of making the engineering department separate from the literary department. He found that heretofore many students did not know that there was a school of technology at Michigan and the advertising given by a distinct name was already being felt. In the literary department the most important changes which have been made were in the asking for more prolonged work in high schools in a small study of a large number; and secondly,

The Regents Meet.

At their regular October meeting Wednesday the board of regents of the University conferred a number of diplomas left over from last June, and made a number of appointments in the medical school. The matter of the appointment of A. Kent Hale, M. D., of this city, to the position of demonstrator in nervous diseases was left over to the next meeting. Appropriations to the amount of $475 were granted the new homeopathic school. The name for the hospital of the homeopathic department was, on suggestion of the homeopathic faculty, decided upon as the University Hospital Homeopathic. Carl C. Mantz was made assistant to acting professor of gyneocology and obstetrics.

Architect Scott, of Detroit, was authorized to make drawings for the woman's new gym-or the new woman's gym, which-according to his plan submitted to the board. The board decided that the cost of the new building should not exceed $50,000.

Those who attended the fair will perhaps remember the huge tympanii in the manufacturers' building, representing war and peace. They were all about 30x15 feet in dimensions and Carl Melchers, of Detroit, was the author of one of the best of the productions. Two of the tympanii, inclusive of Mr. Melchers' canvass, have been given to the University, and they will be hung upon the north and south walls

HE LOST THE GIRL.

But Got a Satisfactory Dig at His Rival Before He Died.

He and her father were great friends. As only four persons figure in this story it is unnecessary to mention names. He had a rival for her affections, and her father could never understand why she preferred the rival to him. One day when he sat on the porch chatting with her father she called him into the parlor and told him frankly that she had promised to marry his rival. He did not plead or beg. He kissed her hand with a sort of reverence, and then returned to his seat on the porch and renewed the conversation with her father. In those few moments everything seemed to have changed for him. The sun did not shine as brightly; the birds did not sing as they did before. Even the grass sing as they did before. Even the grass and trees seemed sear and dead. He had expected what he had just heard, but drawn knife in his had. that did not seem to abate the shock. He was distrait and moody. Her father saw this and asked him the cause. He blurted out the whole miserable truth. Her father continued to polish his glasses carefully and then said:

Gradually it came to be generally known that he had been rejected, and that his rival was the fortunate wooer. the same college. He was down for a speech at the alumni dinner. A month before he had attended her wedding. No one ever heard him complain, though all knew how he suffered. He was looked upon as the orator of his class, and a great speech was expected. When he arose, a smister glitter could be seen in his eye. He began to speak slowly. He took as his text "Acquired Tastes." He spoke as length. Finally he said:

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD. Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

The state taxes this year are $3,013, As we have stated before this Michigan has ever before raised in state taxes in any one year. But repubsulted in a big increase in state taxes. Not only did the state tax jump from $1,419,210.61, under Winans, to $1,-931,214.69 under Rich's first year, but of in the circuit court the past week: the republicans have actually been lowering the surplus in the state treasnot afford enough revenue to pay for and costs the extravagance of our republican officials. Our state fiscal year ends June 30. On June 30, 1890, under Luce, there was $1,151,259 in the state of liquor law, fine imposed of $10 and treasury. On June 30, 1891, under $3.55 costs. Winans, there was $1,224,644 in the state treasury. On June 30, 1892, unthe state treasury. On June 30, 1893, under Rich, there was $547,511 in the state treasury. On June 30, 1894, under Rich, there was $521,825 in the state treasury, and on June '30, 1895, under Rich, there was only $290,417 in the state treasury. Anyone may verify these figures by looking in the Michisecretary of state, excepting the last figures, which are taken from the Lansing Republican, and have been given by the Detroit Tribune, without comment, however. Two things are clear, the money raised from taxes has rapidly increased and, in spite of this, fact, the money in the state treasury has rapidly decreased. In other words, our state expenses have increased at an alarming rate-even too fast for our big taxes to take care of them. The $3,000,000 tax this year and the depleted state treasury ought to cook the republican goose in this state.

The evident patriotic determination of the administraton to give us a vigorous foreign policy is meeting with the commendation of the people. THE TAPPAN ASSOCIATION.

Rev. J. M. Gelston Tells the Presbyterian Augusta, $4,000. Synod Something About Its Needs.

On Friday evening last Rev. J. M. Gelston, of this city, made some remarks before the Presbyterian synod in session at Adrian concerning the Tappan association in this city. Rev. Mr. Gelston evidently was desirous of waking up the Presbyterians to the needs of the organization. He said that the University was a state institution but the state made no provision for religious instruction. The problem that needed solving was to determine the relation of Christianity to the state university. The Unitarian denomination spent a great amount of money in securing control of the college in the hope that men of their denomination may have the honor of getting out the text books and thus dominate over the higher thought of the country. Tappan Hall had a reliigous library of 7000 volumes but no secretary. What was wanted was an endowment of $30,000 which would amply provide for a secre-Mr. Gelston thought it would be money in the Presbyterian pockets if $50,000 was raised for the hall. It would cost $500,000 to establish an independent theological school while$50,-000 would do the work at the University. He advised the raising of $30,000 to establish the secretaryship, and then the raising of $50,000 to establish a chair of Biblical theology.

Cost of Cross Walks.

(From the Times.) At the meeting of the board of public works held last night Inspector Ward submitted his report on brick crosswalks. There have been built seven of these walks under his supervision at an average cost of $76.55 per

The places they were laid and the respective cost of each is as follows: Detroit st. at Kingsley, $86.47; Main st. at Kingsley, $63,21; Kingsley st. at Main, $62.15; Ashley st. at Huron, $124.42; State st. at Lawrence, $37.40; Ann st. at Fourth ave., $90.26; Fourth ave. at Ann st., $63.97. The average cost per yeard is $2.65 with the curb and $2.14 without the curb.

It will be seen by the above figures that the cost per walk widely differs, which is accounted for in the size of the walk and also the kind of a foundation. The first brick walk was that on Ashley st. at Huron,, which cost $124.42, but this walk was an exceedingly large one and experimental as to high standard he has already establishthe quality of material to be used and ed. His supporting company is said to therefore incured some unnecessary expense. It will be safe to say, however, that in the future these brick crosswalks can br laid at a cost of not middle of the fifteenth century, a period more than $2 per yard. Milwaukee Is Celebrating an Important Event.

CREAM CITY FIFTY YEARS OLD.

Big Parade Reviewed by Visiting Governors and Other Notable People-Bicycle Races, Boat Races and Other Amusements Enjoyed by the Visiting Strangers and Milwaukee's Own Citizens-Annual Festival of Mountain and Plain at Denver.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 17.-The semi-centennial of Milwaukee as an incorporated city is being celebrated in a style beyond anything ever attempted here before. The in-coming trains were loaded down with visitors and it is expected that fully 50,000 strangers will be in the city. The city has been gayly decorated. Flags, bunting and evergreens festoon the business places on th principal streets. The pubcommerce are almost hidden behind streaming banners and bunting.

At sunrise a salute of forty-five guns was fired by the First Light battery and the United States revenue cutter Andy Johnson. At 10 o'clock the civic parade moved. It was composed of the police, the National guard and of the Grand to tell this story of him. Army of the Republic, Light Horse squadron, First Light battery, old settlers and pioneers, high school pupils and pupils of the seventh and eighth grades and various civic societies.

Reviewed by Visiting Governors. The parade was reviewed by the visiting governors and other notables present from eral reception at the Academy of Music, with addresses by Governor Upham and Mayor Koch, an oration by General Frederick C. Winkler of Milwaukee, and brief addresses by Governors Altgeld, Jackson, Rich and Clough. There were bicycle races at National park and boat races on the Milwaukee river. In the evening there was an illuminated bicycle parade of wheelmen of the city and state.

DENVER'S BIG CARNIVAL. Festival of Mountain and Plain Is Inaugurated. DENVER, Oct. 17.—Denver is in a blaze of glory, it being the annual festival of mountain and plain inaugurated this from the country districts, taxing the carrying capacities of all the Colorado railroads. The decorations are extensive, the holiday colors—yellow and white—being seen everywhere.

At 1 o'clock in the afternoon the first great parade, the Pageant of Progress, which illustrated the progress of the state from the time when the redmen roamed over mountains and plain up to the present, started on the line of march. Although there had been little time for preparation, some of the floats were very handsome. One of the most magnificent features was a human flag composed of 400 children appropriately costumed and arranged on a stand. The festivities continue three days.

Fort Wayne's Celebration.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 17 .- This city is again filled with strangers to attend the second day of the centennial celebration. The old settlers' meeting in the rup of Cincinnati. In the afternoon the old settlers held a camp-fire at Princess rink, the principal address being delivered by Hon. Isaac Jenkinson of Richmond.

Mosher's Failure Forces Alvin Maltby to Assign.

BAY CITY, Mich., Oct. 17.-The liabilities of A. Mosher & Son, the lumber dealers who failed last week, it is now believed, will reach $900,000. It is almost impossible to get at exact figures as unwhat extent they are involved.

Several of these creditors in Detroit Bay City and Flint have formed a pool to Troy, N Y., and to George H. Tilden of Lebanon, N. Y. Just how much of Mosher's paper is floating around the state can not be asceriained, but the aggregate is very large. It is also said that the liabili ties of Alvin Maltby, the lumber man who was carried down by the Mosher

Well Diggers Strike Warm Water. WHITE PIGEON, Mich., Oct. 17.—While driving a well on the farm of John Middling, near this village, F. W. Northup's men struck, at a depth of twenty-five feet, a stratum of coarse gravel and warm water of 98 degrees. Nothing of the kind has been before found in this section of hold that underlying this sheet of warm water, at no great depth, is a large quantity of soft coal, which, undergoing metamorphosis, generates sufficient heat to warm the water. It is possible that gas as well as coal may be found.

Train Robbers Scared Off.

DENNISON, Tex., Oct. 17 .- The northbound passenger train No. 1 on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad was held to have lived then, and I am sure you up by two masked men near Temple, The robbers uncoupled the express car from the train and compelled the engineer to draw the car to a point nearly a mile away. They forced open the door of the express car and used dynamite in an attempt to open the safe. Their efforts were ineffectual, and becoming alarmed steak! I knew it was meat of some over the delay, finally abandoned the car kind. - Exchange. and fled to the woods.

Fell Through a Trestle.

LOVE AND THE ECHO.

"Love me, love me," still he cried. "Ever love, forever!"
Cupid, laughing, turned aside.
Echo from the hill replied, 'Never, never, never."

"Love me, for I love but thee, Ever, love, forever. Heart to heart for thee and me." Echo sighed, "It may not be, Never, never, never."

"Love me now in life and death, Ever, love, forever."
Sadly, in an underbreath,
Sobbing Echo answereth, 'Never, never, never.'

"Love me, I shall worthy prove, Ever, love, forever."
"Till a fairer face shall move!" Mocking Echo answers, "Love?" Never never, never."

"Love me," still the lover sings, "Ever, love, forever," Cupid plumes for flight his wings

But the mule couldn't swing. He could swim, however, which the elder couldn't.

> "All the extra clothing and the Bible were made into a bundle and tied on the mule's back and the animal led to the water. He swam safely across and began eating grass on the other side.

"The elder looked at the swinging limb, and dropping to his knees, prayed fervently that he might make no mistake in getting across. Then he swung out and landed safely.

"He knelt and thanked the Lord.

"But there was a new obstacle. The year. The weather is glorious, and over mule was having a good time in the fifty thousand people have flocked to town grass and refused to be caught again. Several well directed efforts flew wide of the mark, and the good elder was in desperation. He must keep his appointment and he couldn't walk it. There was but one thing for the elder to do, and the elder did it. Down in the damp grass he dropped on his knees and prayed the Lord to help him catch the mule.

"This is the only instance I ever heard of in which a man called on the Lord to help him catch a mule, and to his dying day the elder firmly believed the Lord did it, though it took them both some time."-Topeka Journal.

Homers and Carrier Pigeons.

The homer and the carrier are both brilliant fliers, but the homer is the speedier bird and better fitted for long distances. The homer has the widest spread wings of all pigeons, and can morning was largely attended, at which addresses were delivered by Judge John Morris of this city and Rev. S. A. Norththan the carrier and is possessed of more phenomenal powers of endurance, having been known to fly 800 miles without alighting. On a clear day, with a good sky and favorable wind, 400 is an admirable record, although 500 miles a day is the goal of every pigeon flier's ambition. A bird that can perform this remarkable feat is worth at least $100, and may be valued at $500 if it is capable of a better record. The bird's gameness, stamina and speed reach their highest point of excellence secured creditors refuse to acknowledge to at 3 and 4 years of age, which is the natural prime of life for a flier. WETTING A LEAD PENCIL. A Little Story About the Habit of Put ting Things in the Mouth. London Tid-I its: The act of put ting a lead pencil to the tongue to we it, just before writing, which we notice in so many people, is one of the oddities of habit for which it is hard to give any reason, unless it began in the day: when lead pencils were poorer than now, and was continued by example in to the next generation.

A lead pencil should never be wet It hardens the lead and ruins the pen cil. This fact is known to newspaper men and stenographers. But nearly every one else does wet a pencil before using it. This fact has been definitely settled by a clerk in a newspaper office Being of a mathematical turn of mind he ascertained by actual count that of fifty persons who came into the office to write an advertisement or notice forty-nine wet a pencil in their mouths before using it. Now, this clerk alway uses the best pencils that can be procured-in fact, is a connoisseur in lead pencils, cherishing a good one with something of the pride a soldier feel in his gun or sword; and it hurts hi feelings to have his pencil spoiled. EASY TO EAT FIRE.

Any One May Learn the Trick With Little Practice.

The so-called fire-eating magician have long plied their trade in defianc of all explications of chemists and phy sicians. A clever prestidigitator, Mr. D Vere, described recently how the trick bor. for such it is, is done. It is very sim ple of practice, but it necessitates ar apparatus which must be very carefull. and neatly constructed. The fire-eater usually give their performance on raised platform, which hides the sourc of the fire, while it seems only to lif the operator a trifle higher from th floor of the scene, and it is ordinaril. covered with a handsome red carpet and will be placed in Minnehaha park, It contains in the hollow space beneatl or one of the other parks in the city of it bags of rubber filled with ordinary illuminating gas and compressed by weights. CROSS-EXAMINATION

Could Not Weiken Such Testimony As This.

(From the Lalanazoo Telegraph.) The following statement is one of great should carry more than ordinary weight with our readers Here it is as taken down by our representative:

"My name is John A. Wallace. I am a member of the firm of J. A. Wallace & Co., doing business as tinners, etc., at 106 Eleanor Street Kalamazoo, in which city I also reside. For the past nine or ten months I have been having attacks of kidney complaint, the pain in my back over my hips was very severe at times; my urinary system was also in a bad state of derangement, sometimes the urine was scanty and then again the amount would be excessive. and a difficulty of passage always existed. Theard of Doan's Kidney Pills at a time when I felt that I was going to be sick, but their use warded off an attack, and I am now feeling very much better; the urinary organism has regained a normal condition, and the terrific pain in my back is much reduced in severity, while it is now fast going away altogether. I am continuing the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, with positive feeling that they will effect on me a permanent and speedy cure. I have unbounded confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills as a remedy for all kidney ailments; have good reason to be, as they have done so much for me."

Can you ask any more than this? Doan's Kidney Pills are relieving more backs of the burdens they have been forced to bear through the kidneys than all other means devised, and, better still, they are doing this right here in Michigan. Ask any one who has ever taken them and see what they

of Armenia.

Proposal Drawn Up by Great Britain. France and Russia Accepted by Said Pasha and Now Awaits the Signature of the Sultan-What London Truth Says About Lord Sackville's Pamphlet-Bible Revision Complete-Foreign Notes.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 17.—Said Pasha has accepted the scheme for reform in Armenia drawn up by Great Britain. France and Russia, and it now awaits the signature of the sultan. The scheme is almost identical with the proposals of last May, which, in substance, were that the governors and vice governors of Van, Erzeroum, Sivas, Bitlis, Khartut, and Trebizond, be Christian or Mussulman, according to the inclination of the population; but either the governor or the vice governor is to be a Christian, and the appointments are to be confirmed by the powers. Local and not state officials are to collect the taxes, and enough money is to be retained before it is forwarded to Constantinople to pay the Openses of the local administration.

Torture Will Be Abolished. Complete changes will be made in the judicial system, torture will be abolished, the prisons will be under surveillance, the police will be composed of Christians and Turks equally and the laws against compulsory conversions to Islamism will be strictly enforced. The ambassadors of the powers expect that the whole question will be finally settled during the course of the week by the promulgation of an imperial decree. Contrary to general expectation, the high commissioner, who will be charged with the execution of this scheme of reform, will be a Christian. This was the hardest pill for the porte to swallow and for a long time it threatened to bring about the most serious complica-

LORD SACKVILLE'S PAMPHLET. Truth Says It Has Created an Uncessary

Storm in America. London, Oct. 17 .- Truth, Henry Labochere's paper, says: "Lord Sackville's pamphlet has created an altogether unnecessary storm in the United States. Its secret history may be told in a few words. It was published on the 3d of the present month, although one or two advance copies were distributed among very intimate friends a few weeks ago. At the time it raised the storm in New York only a dozen or two copies had been presented by Lord Sackville to old colleagues in the diplomatic service. The pamphlet only relates to actual facts connected with the now historical Sackville-Bayard incident.

"Anybody at all acquainted with the diplomatic service would be mighty amused to hear that even a combination of all the members of the service could affect in the slightest the position of a foreign ambassador in London. Not even the best friends of Lord Sackville will deny that he was betrayed into an unfortunate indiscretion. It can not either be denied that Mr. Bayard availed himself thereof to excite an anti-English agitation for the purpose of assisting the candidacy of Mr. Cleveland. It reflects great honor, therefore, on the English people that their government has been so dignified and magnanimous as to welcome Mr. Bayard as it has."

Gift from President Cleveland.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—President Cleveland has sent a valuable silver cup to Ambassador Runyon to be presented to Captain Krech, commander of the Hamburg-American line steamer Suevia, in recognition of Captain Krech's act in saving the crew of eight men of the American schooner, Mary E. Amsden on Feb 26 last. The schooner was bound from Lubec, Me., for Barbadoes, and when sighted by the Suevia was dismasted and drifting helplessly. The crew of the schooner were taken to New York.

He say: "There are, as we have seen, very strong reasons for holding that where a title has passed or the rights of innocent third persons have supervened, or there has been a very great lapse of time without question, the decisions of the head of the executive depart ment should be considered as beyond the power of his successors to disturb. The reasons are quite strong also why, as to the transactions wholly ended, where credit has been given or money paid over, there should be no recognized right of review, save for fraud or manifest illegal-

"But where the matter is one that involves future recurring payments of money there seems no good reason why succeeding incumbents of the charged with a present responsibility, should be concluded by the decision of their predecessors. They should not lightly overrule their predecessors; but when satisfied and convinced that error has been committed, and that there is no legal warrant for the payment demanded, it would seem to be their duty, as well as their right, to rectify the error. The recognition of the power in such cases involves no destruction of vested rights, no impairment of the obligations of contracts, and no abridgement of the equities of third persons."

A HERD OF DRUNKEN STEERS.

Texas Longhorns Intoxicated by Rotten H. B. Merritt, of Pontiac, will in Apples.

Fort Scott special to St. Louis Globe-Democrat: A herd of Texas steers, literally intoxicated on the fermented juice of rotten apples, is an emergency not contemplated by the authors of the Kansas prohibition law, and its seeveral amendments; yet such a spectacle was recently witnessed by the chief of the metropolitan police force of this city and the sheriff of Bourbon county, who have explicit instructions from the department of the state to rigidly suppress the use of intoxicating liquor by the people of their respective jurisdic-Patrick Gorman, an extensive stock a herd of wild steers from the plains of Texas. During their first night on Kansas ranch they stampeded through the line fence of the pasture nto an apple orchard of the Alf Cleal farm. The prolific fruit season made it unprofitable for Mr. Cleal to gather but a small per cent of his early apples, and the burdened trees had dropped their ripened fruit to the ground full three layers deep. The apples had rotted and were in a state of fermentation that makes them a most intoxicating feast for cattle. Until the next morning the beasts glutted themselves, and were found in a condition of inebriocy that caused them to conduct themselves with that boisterous hilarity in which man is want to indulge when overcome by the effects of Kansas "applejack." The effect of the fermented apple juice was as varied in the cattle as it would have been in as many men. Some of them bellowed and contorted in drunken debauchery, others were on their muscle and dangerously vicious, while some of them laid helpless and harmless. Their demonstrations attracted the neighbors for miles about, and when the facts became Tan and Freckle Wash, known in town crowds of people drove out to witness the revelry of a 'steer beer garden." They were rounded up and corralled with much difficulty by a score of experienced cattlemen. Not unlike human drunkards, the effects of the dissipation on some passed off soon, while others were in the "sobering up process for two days.

Suddenly a shrill cry went up; one of the girls had slipped and fallen headforemost into the murky waters. Patti alone of the whole party retained her presence of mind. Shouting to some of the girls to run for help, she gathered up her skirts and leaped from rock to rock until she stood by the rippling, circling waters. Then, throwing off her hat and cloak, she plunged in to the rescue of the drowning girl. Seizing her by the hair, she dragged her through the water to a floating log, and, clinging on to this frail support, she rested and soothed the frightened child. Then, half swimming, half paddling, she urged the log to the lower in a day or two a second crop of mushend of the basin, there to wait in the water for more than half an hour, when, at last, help came. Do Not Come Up All at Once. Nor D They Grow Forever.

In last Sunday's Times there appeared an article on the cultivation of mushrooms. It was thought that the subject had been fully treated, but the writer failed to mention the length of time mushrooms will bear after the spawn has matured.

that mushrooms do not come up all at once, nor do they grow forever. If the spawn is good and planted early in September, from four to five, and sometimes six, weeks will expire before the first crop of mushrooms makes it appearance. The first crop will grow for two or three weeks, then the mushrooms will thin out, and a slight dressing of fresh loam, about half an inch in depth, should be spread over the bed. When this coating has been beaten down with a spade, the soil should be gently moistened with tepid water, and rooms (often better than the first) can be gathered. The second crop of mushrooms may last for three or four weeks, and about the latter part of December the spawn will be found to have exhausted itself, and fresh manure, fresh spawn, and fresh loam must be if another crop of mushrooms is desired. To grow mushrooms successfully great care must be taken to obtain fresh spawn, which can be bought in all the horticultural stores. But if the cultivator wishes to make his own spawn, he can do so by following these directions: Take equal portions of horse dropping, cow dung, and fresh loam, and mix the whole thoroughly together, as you would make mortar. Then form the matter into cakes about the size of a large brick. Place these bricks on edge under cover until they become half dry, then insert into each brick a piece of spawn half an inch or so square, and let the bricks remain until they are quite dry. Then spread about eight inches of horse dung over the floor of the shed, on which build the bricks in a pile, keeping the side in which the spawn has been put uppermost. Then cover the pile of bricks over with sufficient stable manure, so as to give a gentle heat, not exceeding 100 degrees, through the whole. In two or three weeks the spawn will have spread itself through the whole mass of each brick, and will be ready to
