HIGH SCHOOL JUNIORS

Annual Exhibition by Members of That Class.

SOME BRIGHT PAPERS

By Intelligent Young Ladies and Gentlemen.

A Gaily Decorated Hall and an Appreciative Audience.—"An Example of Applied Science," Was the Best Essay.

The annual exhibition of the junior class held last Friday night was one of the best ever held in the Ann Arbor high school. The body of the hall was filled with the friends of the young participants and there were also some people in the gallery. The stage and floor part of the hall was draped in green and white. Around the edge of the stage were large palms. On the wall back of the stage was the class motto, "Prorsum Sursum." The high school colors, maroon and maize, were draped from the chandelier to the side walls. The edge of the gallery was draped in maroon and maize and directly opposite the junior was the senior motto, "Yn Gwyr y Erbyn y Byd." As the school board and teachers came upon the stage following the speakers, the University Orchestra furnished music. This was followed by prayer by Rev. L. T. Cole.

A second selection of music followed and the first speaker, Miss Mary L. Bradshaw, of Ann Arbor, was announced by Prof. J. D. Pattengill, chairman. Her essay was on "An Important Discovery," a treatise on a journey to the north pole. She said that from what she saw on her visit there, that Simms' and Nansen's theories are correct.

The next "Reflections of a Lazy Man," by Miss Florence Bowen, Ann Arbor, was very good. Her reasons for a lazy man's not working were so convincing that if there were any people in the hall with lazy tendencies they must have been tempted to follow her suggestions.

Probably the best essay on the program was "An Example of Applied Science," by Harry R. Brown, Chillicothe, Ohio. He spoke of the various things seen in men's heads when disclosed by the Roentgen cathode rays. He represented the experiment as having taken place in the high school physical laboratory, the various subjects being freshman, sophomore, junior and senior students, a football player, a giddy girl and a man in love. The freshman's head he said, showed a luxuriant growth of grass, the sophomore's head contained a few ponies in algebra and Latin, while several bumps were filled with froth and wind. The junior's head was in the best condition of all, his head was "filled with grey matter which showed wisdom." Then followed "the great and glorious senior, in whose brain the ninth letter of the alphabet was most conspicuous." There were also the words Greek and Latin in hazy letters in one remote corner which showed the senior had had "some elementary training in these branches." The football boy was informed that he would never grow bald because his hair was seen to be clinched on his skull. Nothing could be discovered in the last two people's heads as the skulls did not offer enough resistance to the rays as they passed through. Great applause followed Mr. Brown's excellent effort and he had to come forward and bow his acknowledgments.

A selection of music was the next number on the program. The next oration was by Miss Bessie Cordley, of Ann Arbor, "Some Things I Do Not Know." Miss Cordley asked questions on various subjects with which she was not familiar and then answered them according to her own ideas on the subject. Her essay was very humorous and created much applause.

"When My Ship Comes In" by Miss Emma Kapp, Ann Arbor, was very good. She spoke of every one's having ships that will sometime come in, some bringing their cargoes safely to their owners, while others are lost at sea.

"Why I Hate England" by Jay Fox, Ann Arbor, was fine and showed great care and thought in its composition. Each argument was proved and we only wish that those who hate England most, could have heard it.

Then followed another selection by the orchestra. Miss Camille Payn's "Bit of Real Life" was very pretty. It was a sketch of an Italian boy and his violin, and was well delivered.

"Mrs. Grundy" by Miss Emma Taylor, was a good description of the modern prototype of this meddlesome old character.

The orations were concluded with "The Golden Age" by Clarence W. Hughes. In it he spoke of this age as the golden age of reality as compared with the golden age of mythology.

The benediction pronounced by Rev. J. W. Bradshaw and a selection by the orchestra concluded this most excellent program of the "junior ex" for the year of 1896.

An Old Time Ann Arborite.

In mentioning the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Castle Blackburn, daughter of Col. Castle and Mrs. Mary Ann Sutherland, which occurred at Azalia, March 26, the Milan Leader says:

"Mrs. Blackburn has lived in Michigan since she was ten years old, as in May, 1828, Col. Sutherland moved with his family from Geneva to a vast wilderness containing only thirty houses. Soon after their arrival the town, from the beautiful wild grape arbors and in honor of five of the pioneers' wives whose christian names were Ann (among whom was the mother of the deceased) was christened 'Ann's Harbor,' later, 'Ann Arbor.'"

"For a few years the inhabitants suffered many privations, sometimes living for weeks on potatoes and salt; four was ten dollars a barrel, and the settlers had to go with ox teams to Detroit, a distance of forty miles, to get it."

"The Indians often passed through, four or five hundred sometimes camping near the town. Men sat or slept with their guns in their hands. To her the Indians were a terror."

This gives still another version of the accredited manner in which our fair city gained its name.

Closing of Y. M. C. A. Night School.

The closing exercise of the night school of the Y. M. C. A. will occur on Monday evening next, at the rooms, for which tickets of admission may be obtained at Moore & Wetmore's, F. & M. Bank, of the general secretary or of the pupils.

As the rooms will hold only a limited number, it has been thought best to issue tickets and confine the attendance to such a number as can be seated and properly cared for.

The annual closing address will be delivered by President Boone, of the State Normal School, and the remainder of the exercises will be such as to be of interest to any person in any way interested in the excellent work this association is doing.

A complete report of the enrollment, attendance, etc. will be given, and there will be on exhibition specimens of the work of the pupils in book-keeping, mechanical drawing and penmanship.

It may be of interest to know that the youngest student is 16 years of age, and the oldest 43, the average being about 22.

L. J. Lisemer Has a Daily.

The Washtenaw Evening Times Publishing Co. has been reorganized, H. P. Glover, of Ypsilanti, who had control of all of the stock of the former company, having sold half of it to L. J. Lisemer and Fred H. Belser. The paper will sail along under the old firm name but with new officers and new management. At a meeting of the directors held Wednesday morning H. P. Glover was chosen as president, Fred H. Belser as secretary and treasurer, and L. J. Lisemer as editor and manager.

Mr. Lisemer assumed control of the editorial chair and the management of the business yesterday morning, and the ear-marks of his pen are already apparent in the matter that appears in the paper. A. A. Pearson will remain as local reporter and the old staff in the mechanical department of the paper will remain unchanged. The Times today is in better shape than it ever was to do a successful business.

LIGHTNING'S FREAKS.

$4,000 Worth of Property Destroyed by It.

IN OUR OWN COUNTY

Death of a Well Known Veteran Printer.

A Boy Looks Through a Piece of Convex Glass at the Sun and Will Lose His Eyesight.—The New City Council.

The terrific electrical storm which passed over Michigan Friday night did not pass over Washtenaw county without leaving some marks of its presence.

George A. Herrick's horse barn in Salem, was struck by a bolt of lightning and damaged to the extent of $900.

The barn on the farm of Mrs. Cassie Smith in Ann Arbor town, two miles north of Dixboro, was totally destroyed together with its contents. There was no insurance and the losses, including 11 head of cattle, is estimated at $2,000.

The barn on the farm of Mr. Peppiatt, of Augusta, six miles south of Ypsilanti, was also a total loss and three head of cattle also perished in the flames. Loss, $1,000; insurance, $500.

An unoccupied dwelling near Pinckney, belonging to a man named Carrier, was struck by the lightning and burned to the ground. Lightning also struck the barn of Edward May, of Unadilla township, and killed two horses.

DEATH OF ROBERT SHANNON.

He Was a Much Esteemed Former Employee of the Argus.

Last Friday evening, Robert Shannon, ex-supervisor of the third ward of this city, died, after an illness of several months' duration. Those who knew him best esteemed him most highly. He was a simple, straightforward, honest, faithful life, and no man can point to the least deviation from this life during his long residence in this city. He was not a self-seeker, and not what now-a-days we term a hustler. But he knew his business thoroughly, and was a faithful conscientious worker. He was a printer by trade, and for some years immediately preceding his death had been employed in the Argus office, where he had endeared himself to both proprietors and employees by his many lovable traits of character. To indicate his influence over his fellow employees, it may be noted that owing to the respect they had for him and his known aversion to hearing any oaths, swearing was unknown among the employees while working with him. He had worked at his trade in this city continuously since 1868, in the Courier, Register and Argus offices, in all of which he had been foreman of the composing rooms, and he was known as the best informed printer in the city. He was a great reader, not of the hasty omivorous order, but like his work, his reading was of the careful painstaking kind, and he had an especially liking for astronomy. He served one term as supervisor of the third ward and last year was a candidate for member of the board of education. He was a member of Fraternity, lodge F. and A. M., of the Ann Arbor Typographical Union and of Arbor Tent No. 296, K. O. T. M., in which he carried $2,000 life insurance.

The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon, and the remains were followed to Forest Hill cemetery by a very large funeral cortege. The services were in charge of Fraternity lodge, F. and A. M., and the Masonic ritual was read by Chas. B. Davison, W. M., the prayer in the ritual being made by Rev. Henry Tatlock. About sixty Masons were in line and also the entire Typographical Union and 125 members of the Maccabean lodge. The casket was covered with a wealth of floral offerings from sympathizing friends.

Mr. Shannon came to this city from Canada in 1868 and was 54 years of age. He leaves a wife and five children, three daughters and two sons. One of his daughters is a teacher in the third ward school and another is employed in the Courier bindery.

A Particularly Sad Case.

About the first of this month Fred Reinhart, the 11 year old son of Charles F. Reinhart, of Ypsilanti, looked through a piece of yellowish glass at the sun. The glass made a rude convex lens, but it was sufficiently accurate to focus the rays of the bright sunlight upon his eyes. There was no pain and he repeated the act again and again. Gradually his eyesight has failed him until his startled parents called in Dr. Hueston, who made an examination and brought the lad to Ann Arbor last week. By the use of Dr. Carrow's ophthalmoscope it was found that the optic nerve was paralyzed and will eventually wither away and the result will be that the young boy will be forced to go through life blind. At present the light of day can be discerned in one eye, but that is all and this is gradually failing.

Chief Siple's Annual Report.

The seventh annual report of Chief Siple of the fire department, shows that during the year ending April 1, '96, there were sixty-four alarms responded to during the year, and there were fifty-four miles travelled and 25,050 feet of hose laid in responding to the same. Of these alarms forty-six were by telephone and eighteen came to the engine house direct.

The chemical was used fifty-two times. Property was destroyed to the value of $11,575.50, on which there was $80.225 of insurance. There was $800 worth of property destroyed on which there was no insurance.

The cost of the department has been slightly in advance of the past year, resulting from the fact that there has been no changes in employees of late, and that all the regular men are receiving the maximum wages of $50 per month. Also the hiring of a night watch, which had come to be practically a necessity.

Since the paid department was formed there have been 340 alarms responded to.

The department is in excellent shape both as to men and horses and apparatus, and will compare favorably with any of the smaller departments of the state.

Praise Where Praise is Due.

Mrs. Florence Babbitt, of Ypsilanti, was a close second in the race for department president of the W. R. C. We have no doubt but the lady chosen is eminently qualified, but with all deference we are free to say, that nowhere in Michigan has there been a more judicious, persevering, faithful and loyal worker in the cause than Mrs. Babbitt. She has been tireless in her efforts to build up the order and to advance every project that was of interest to the corps, or to the G. A. R. She was prominent in securing funds for a soldiers' monument in Washtenaw county, and we believe that it is due to her efforts, that success was attained. Such ladies are an honor to the order and we trust she will be yet fully appreciated and rewarded with that recognition, conferring the highest honors she so richly deserves.—Adrian Press.

The Press is right, there is no one in Michigan more deserving of this honor than Mrs. Babbitt, and there is no one who would do more for the order if placed in the position to which she so worthily aspired.

An Old Time Atlas.

The Argus was yesterday shown a very ancient specimen of an atlas. It is the property of F. Stofflet, and was picked up by him in an old farm house in Pennsylvania about 30 years ago, where he was then teaching school. Its title is "A Modern Atlas, to accompany the system of geography and history combined, in a catechetical form for use of families and schools," by Frederick Butler, A. M., published by Deming & France, at Wethersfield, Penn., in 1825. The atlas is enclosed in light paper covers and contains maps of several counties, among them one of the United States. In this map Michigan and Arkansas appear as territories, and all that section of country known as the Dakotas, Wyoming, Montana, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Kansas, outside of the state of Missouri is called Missouri Territory. All the country west of the Rocky Mountains and south of the 42d degree of latitude is put down as "Unexplored Country." The information is also conveyed that the number of Indians west of the Rockies was 171,200. It is an ancient little volume and a decided curiosity.

Tickets for the May Festival.

The following announcement relative to the sale of tickets for the May Festival has been made: The number of season tickets sold will correspond to the actual number of seats in the hall. The boards will be kept open until 6 p. m. Friday, May 15, in order that holders of season tickets may reserve seats. After that date the right to sell such seats as may be left is reserved by the University Musical Society. Beginning with the first day of the Festival a limited number of general admission tickets for each concert will be sold not entitling the holder to a seat.

Ald. John Terns, of Ypsilanti, recently out of pity to a suffering horse had the animal killed. Geo. The alderman's boy overheard it and repeated it to his father. "I don't care so much for that," said he, "but I do hate to see Ike Davis get the skin."—Washtenaw Evening Times.

As there has been some discussion about portions of the history of Bridgewater, a few points in regard to it may not be amiss. George Howe, who located where H. C. Calhoun now lives, named the township from his own native place. Daniel Brooks built the first frame house in the summer of 1830 on the farm now occupied by Luke Crane, and the house is still standing though used as a storehouse. The first death was that of Mrs. Bolton, in June, 1830, and she was buried on the farm now occupied by Wm. Gadd. Some of the old residents used to keep the spot marked, but it is doubtful if the place could now be found. The first couple married were Robert and Clarissa Lockerby, in the spring of 1833. The mill and dam at River Raisin was built in the summer of 1833, by Jacob Gilbert, who at that time owned the most of the plains that still bear his name, though from debts incurred through building the mill, etc., he lost nearly all of it. The road from Clinton to Sharon was surveyed in 1831. The first child born is the wife of Dr. Kedzie and the mother, Mrs. Hixon of Clinton, is still living at the advanced age of 96. The two Indian trails followed the course of the river Raisin; that of the Sacos on the west and the Pottawatamies on the east, and hundreds of Sacos used to be seen encamped on the old King farm now occupied by John Rentschler. These facts were mostly furnished by Mrs. E. P. Felton, who with her husband, Mr. Crampton came to Bridgewater from Detroit in the spring of 1830, being obliged to stay in Albany the winter before as the only means of transportation, the Erie canal, was frozen up.—Bridgewater Correspondent, Manchester Enterprise.

Clifford R. Shaw, of Saline, Washtenaw, blesses the day when he was pitched down an embankment through the fault of the township authorities and recovered $3,000 worth of damages, which he has just won in court.

O. Shaw!

Four new churches have been dedicated in Ann Arbor during the past year, and still the most unholy anathemas are exchanged between the mayor and the late board of public works, almost under the very "droppings of the sanctuary."

A newly married man of Ypsilanti, who insisted on escorting a woman not his wife, despite the protest of the latter, suddenly felt his love warm toward his bride, when a crowd of young men encouraged him to accompany her or bask in the limpid ice water of the river. He was no basker.

Mayor Kirkpatrick, of Adrian, objects to pauper funerals at the expense of the city and insists that all "stiffs" who "went broke" before death, be sent to Ann Arbor, to enrich Old Nagle's celebrated pickle tub, and subsequently come under the student's dissecting knife to the tune of "Ca've 'im to de Ha't."

The recent newspaper report that Charles Merritt, living north of Ypsilanti, had yielded up his ghost, was without merit, or otherwise Merritt is a reprehensible liar. He states with some vehemence that he is still alive and chewing his "cud," but after all he may be one of that class of men who always think more than any newspaper.

The Adrian Press mentions the formation of a steel company at Ypsilanti and adds: "It is not a McKinley club, and has no connection with this kind of steal industries, which rifle the pockets of the people, through protection."

With no desire to stimulate a tariff discussion, the Democrat nevertheless feels like rising to inquire whether a man who has had his pockets rifled is not liable for carrying concealed weapons?

A Tecumseh merchant tailor is authority for the statement that the style for trousers this season is to be "narrower legs and less spring." One can't tell. Because winter has held over a month or so, it does not follow there will be less spring.—Adrian Press.

The Adrian Press will always "spring" a thing like that, or summer near it, whenever there's a chance. For some such joke Stearns may meet with an "early fall."

"To thine own self be true," was formerly the motto, over the door of the Normal hall at Ypsilanti, but one by one did the letters fall, till all that remain are these, "To thin." Of course the usual way to spell "too" is with two "ho's" as an English cockney would say, but the second "o" only adds intensity, and as it stands the motto simply is moderately "thin."

O, yes, about the cockney. He was asked how to spell "saloon" and with great grandiloquence came the response, "With a hess, and a ha, and a hel, two hos, and a hen."

Last week the Ann Arbor Courier published a statement headed "An honest man's story." It is noticeable that it was not signed by anyone living in Washtenaw county though.—Adrian Press.

No, nor Lenawee either. It was a Wayne county man.—Northville Record.

As the code of journalistic courtesy no longer permits a breach of veracity to be characterized by its old time name, we will simply say that it was a Monroe county man; but for the Record's benefit we will quote the words of a congressman, who said: "Mr. Speaker, I will not declare that the last gentleman who spoke concerning this infamous proceeding is a liar, for that would be unparliamentary, but, Mr. Speaker, I shall always think so!"

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at Geo. J. Haussler, of Manchester.

Will Still Fight the Suit.

Six years ago Oscar Westfall, of Ypsilanti, kept a hotel at Belleville. As his bar was being scrubbed out one Sunday morning by a colored man named Bibbins, a man named Siver with whom Bibbins had had some trouble, stepped up and shot Bibbins in the chest for which he was sentenced to six years in Jackson. Mrs. Siver then instituted suit against Mr. Westfall for damages claiming that her husband had had something to drink in the bar, and obtained a verdict for $1,100. Mr. Westfall had in the meantime deeded a farm to his wife for which it was proven she gave a valuable consideration and this prevented a levy on the property. On Friday Judge Carpenter, of Wayne county, ordered the deed set aside, the property transferred back to Mr. Westfall, and Capt. Allen appointed receiver to take charge of the property. Mr. Westfall will carry the case to the supreme court saying: "It is hard when you know that you are in no way to blame that such a judgment should be rendered and as I have fought it thus far I may as well go all the way."

SNATCHED FROM THE GRAVE. A warning from the Living. "At 15 I learned a bad habit. Tried four doctors and nerve tonics by the score without benefit; emissions and drains increased. I became a nervous wreck. A friend who had been cured by Drs. Kennedy & Kergan of a similar disease, advised me to try them. I did so and in two months was positively cured. This was eight years ago. I am now married and have two healthy children."—C. W. LEWIS, Saginaw.

EMISSIONS CURED. J. P. EMERSON relates his experience. "I lived on a farm. At school I learned an early habit, which weakened me physically, sexually and mentally. Family doctors said I was going into 'decline' (consumption). Finally 'The Golden Monitor,' edited by Drs. Kennedy & Kergan, fell into my hands. I learned the TRUTH and the CAUSE. Self-abuse had sapped my vitality. I took the New Method Treatment and was cured. My friends think I was cured of consumption. I have sent them many patients, all of whom were cured. Their New Method Treatment supplies vigor, vitality and manhood."

SYPHILIS CURED. "This terrible blood disease was in my system for eight years. Had taken mercury for two years, but the disease returned. Heart Disease Cured

By Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

Fainting, Weak or Hungry Spells, Irregular or Intermittent Pulse, Fluttering or Palpitation, Choking Sensation, Shortness of Breath, Swelling of Feet and Ankles, are symptoms of a diseased or Weak Heart.

MRS. N. C. MILLER.

Of Fort Wayne, Ind., writes on Nov. 23, 1894: "I was afflicted for forty years with heart trouble and suffered untold agony. I had weak, hungry spells, and my heart would palpitate so hard, the pain would be so acute and torturing, that I became so weak and nervous I could not sleep. I was treated by several physicians without relief and gave up ever being well again. About two years ago I commenced using Dr. Miles' Remedies. One bottle of the Heart Cure stopped all heart troubles and the Restorative Nervine did the rest, and now I sleep soundly and attend to my household and social duties without any trouble.

Grand Army Matters.

The department commander's report at the annual encampment of the department of Michigan G. A. R., held in Saginaw recently, gave the following statistics which show that the old veterans of the war of the late rebellion are rapidly passing away to that bourne from which no traveler ever returns. It also gave some interesting financial statistics and called attention to the way in which Memorial Day is too often spent:

"At the close of 1895 the department of Michigan had 16,766 members a net decrease of 1,293. Of the latter 342 had died and a large number had been suspended. During the year six new posts were organized and three had surrendered their charters. The receipts were $5,772.89, and the disbursements $3,972.78. There was a cash balance of $1,105.78 and $722.73 in the Alger fund, the latter being formed to pay the dues of those who were unable to meet them. Attention was also called to the fact that Memorial Day is too often given up to baseball and games of all sorts instead of remembering the dead."

Gen. William Shakespeare, department commander of Michigan, G. A. R., in conference with Asst. Adj.-Gen. C. V. R. Pond, has made the following staff appointments: Judge advocate, Roscoe D. Dix, of St. Joseph; department inspector, R. W. Jacklin, Detroit; chief of staff, W. F. Sherman, Kalamazoo; senior aide-de-camp, George W. Buckingham, Flint; additional aide-de-camp, Samuel L. Holton, Battle Creek; Albert Newkirk, Mattawan; R. A. Balcom, Monroe.

The following standing committees were also appointed: Executive—N. M. Richardson, Cairo; James A. Green, Bay City; H. S. White, Romeo. Legislative—Judge Wilbur, Saginaw; William Humphrey, Adrian; R. R. Pealer, Three Rivers. On soldiers' home—N. A. Reynolds, Coldwater; H. P. Shutt, Kalamazoo; Albert Dunham, Jackson. Transportation—Asst. Adj.-Gen. Pond, O. A. Jones, Hillsdale; H. S. Dean, Ann Arbor.

A vast mass of direct, unimpeachable testimony proves beyond any possibility of doubt that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually does perfectly and permanently cure diseases caused by impure blood. Its record of cures is unequalled and these cures have often been accomplished after all other preparations had failed.

Kassala Not Evacuated.

LONDON, April 9.—A special dispatch received here from Rome says that Kassala has not been evacuated, as previously reported, but that Colonel Stevan's column has been withdrawn in order to decrease the number of mouths to be fed, and in view of the fact that the ordinary garrison of that place is now considered strong enough to defend it.

Adrian Press Items.

A sunrise prayer meeting was appointed at the Presbyterian church, Ann Arbor, last Sunday morning. Only ladies were present. It is not customary to see an Ann Arbor sunrise before 9 o'clock Sunday morning, and very seldom he attends prayer meeting at any hour.

Ann Arbor has a sewing school and 70 children receive instructions from 13 teachers, every Saturday. It is needless to say that they do not construct the city sewers, notwithstanding the fact, that once a week each little sewer goes forth to sew. According to the Courier this is so.

The editor of the Ann Arbor Courier has been presented by the King's Daughters of Northville, with their cook book. He spent four hours looking for a receipt for making tea from T. rail, and for the kind of ax used in preparing lamb chops, and got in a stew, because he failed to find anything, so he threw the book one side and roasted the Press.

The name of H. W. Newkirk, of Dexter, is prominent among Dexter republicans, as the republican candidate for probate judge over in Washtenaw. The Leader thinks he is eminently fitted for the place, and the Ann Arbor Courier says he is "worthy and well qualified, duly and truly prepared, and deserving." Yes, and he's a man free born, but he hasn't the pass, and the party hasn't it for him. He can't get in. He has not the pass.

Gov. Rich designates, under hand and seal, May 1, as Arbor day—not Ann Arbor day, but an Arbor day. Way back in 1860 the normal school had an arboricultural society, and we recall days of hard work on hot summer Saturdays, helping plant the trees that now form the beautiful shade of the grounds. Prof. Foote, Prof. Mayhew, B. D. Safford, Oscar Streight, Edgar Durfee, Austin George, P. A. Latta, Frank Gooding and scores of others. Guess we will have to go down there and look at our orchard.

The board of directors has decided that no saloon privilege shall be granted on the fair ground at Ann Arbor next season; and no beer or liquors can be sold on the grounds. No premium will be offered for the biggest drunk, and the W. C. T. U. ladies will continually watch the situation and urge the directors not to budge from their ruling. Already an order has been placed for three car loads of flasks, and the tailors have received instructions to make the inside breast pocket of all new coats a 1-e-a-t-e-l-e larger, and directly under the arm hole. The business men are divided as to the policy, and promise to be at larger heads, till the fair is over.

A rumor is in circulation over in Ann Arbor, that Louis J. Liesemer is about to start a daily paper. He has been at the weekly paper business long enough to know the lay of the land and the looks of the people, and after he has been at it about a year he will share the opinion of a Yankee, traveling in Arizona, who asked a dirty Indian chief, "Whar ye bound fer, old Copper coat?" "Ugh! goin hell," grunted the chief. Casting his eye over the waste of dry sage brush, and the mothly gathering of bucks, squaws, dogs and scrub ponies, the Yankee slowly drawled "Wall, by hokey, Mr. Split Thunder, by ther lay of the land, and looks up the folks, ye must be mighty near there."

Easiest way to kill a chicken is to break the egg before it is hatched. Same is true of consumption. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is a positive cure for coughs and colds. Nothing will cure consumption. Does it pay to neglect the cold?

Ann Arbor Town Caucus.

The democratic electors of Ann Arbor township will hold a caucus at the court house in the city of Ann Arbor, tomorrow, Saturday, April 18, at 2 p. m., to nominate delegates to the county convention.

By order of Committee.

Get out your tax receipts and see how your taxes have grown. Republicanism and extravagance seems to be synonymous terms. For an example of the way republican government affects the tax payer, let us take the example of one Sylvan tax payer whose assessment has remained exactly the same since 1889. In that year he paid $1.85 state tax. He in common with others, experienced a change of heart and went in for democratic economy. In 1890 he paid $1.32 state tax; in 1891, $1.30, but in 1892 the taxes crept up to $1.50 and in 1893 the republicans again being in the saddle it jumped to $2. In 1894 he paid $1.60 and last December he was obliged to pay $2.85. In other words he had to pay more state taxes in one republican year than he did in the two years in which Winans was governor.

The annual report of Chief Siple, of the fire department, again calls the attention of the public to the very effective work of the department, not from any praise the chief bestows upon it, for he is a modest man and not given to self praise, but from the showing made by the facts. There has never been a year since the paid fire department was organized that the fire losses were as large as they were the year before the department was organized. During the past year there were 64 fire alarms and the losses will average less than $200 per fire, although there were some very ugly fires. The department has been exceedingly prompt in responding to alarms and has known how to fight the fires when it got on the ground. It is a credit to the city.

Walter Wellman, one of the best known of the correspondents of republican newspapers in Washington writes the Chicago Times-Herald that some of the western republicans think "the state of New York is certain to go democratic next fall both on local and national issues. The recent local elections in that state have been very favorable to the democrats. With New York gone the republicans have no electoral votes to throw away."

There is a wide discrepancy of opinion as to whether the Ann Arbor delegates to the first county convention are Pingree or anti-Pingree. Sheriff Judson, who is the recognized Pingree leader of the county, claims a majority of them for Pingree. This claim is vehemently disputed. And as the talk goes on outsiders cannot help admiring the harmony and unanimity which pervades the republican party. They all love each other like brothers.

The democratic prospects are growing brighter. A little adversity was needed to bring the democrats together again and to cause them to have a little patience with the differences of belief on minor topics within the party.

It seems a little strange but the gubernatorial contest in this state has so far this year overshadowed the presidential contest, yet such is the fact.

Michigan Crop Report.

The following report of the condition of crops in Michigan has been issued by the department of state at Lansing: Wheat in the fall made small growth, but the winter was not unfavorable and it suffered very little injury previous to about March 20. From that date to the end of the month there was no covering of snow, and the "freezing" and "thawing," usual in March, caused the fields to look brown, and did some considerable damage. Correspondents, however, at the time of making their reports, April 1, were hopeful that warm rains would give the plants a start and show them to be not greatly nor permanently damaged. But the warm rains do not come. Since the first of April the weather has been continuously dry, with cold winds from the north and northwest. Such weather cannot continue much longer without serious consequences. The condition of wheat now is more critical than at any previous time since sowing.

The amount of wheat reported marketed in March is 606,118 bushels, and in the eight months, August-March, 7,313,236 bushels, which is 1,547,079 bushels less than reported marketed in the same months last year.

The average condition of clover meadows and pastures is, in the southern counties, 63 per cent, central, 73, northern, 88, and state, 69. Live stock is in good condition. The average run from 90 to 96 per cent. The outlook for fruit is generally favorable. This belief is based largely on the fact that the steady cold weather has thus far prevented any development of the buds.

Was Well Received.

Speaking of the presentation of "Julius Caesar" by the U. of M. students at the Detroit opera house, Tuesday evening the Free Press, says: "For an amateur undertaking it disclosed unexpected excellence. And indeed there were several highly commended features of the performance. The speeches that are allotted to the principals in the tragedy were read with intelligence in every instance—sometimes with noteworthy elocutionary skill and moving oratorical effect. The costumes were admirable; the mob was a credit to the young gentlemen who composed it and the stage management was entirely competent, so that the play moved briskly and without the embarrassing and exasperating blanks that usually mar the efforts of novices on the stage."

Death of Miss Josie Hyde.

Miss Josie Hyde, the youngest daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Hyde, of Division street of this city, died in Los Angeles, California, where she had gone with her mother in search of health, on Tuesday last, of consumption.

Foibles of the New Woman.

Within the past 40 years woman has demanded of man much that he has graciously granted her. She wanted equality with him, and it has been given her in all things for which she is fitted and which will not lower the high standard of womanhood that he desires for her. This she accepts without relinquishing any of the chivalrous attentions which man always bestows upon her. The new woman tells us that "an ounce of justice is of more value to woman than a ton of chivalry." But when she obtains her "ounce of justice" she apparently still makes rigorous demands that her "ton of chivalry" be not omitted. Woman asked to work by man's side and on his level, and today she has the chance of so doing. The fields of knowledge and opportunity have been opened to her, and she still desires that of which her grandmother did not dream, because, like an overindulged child, so long as she is denied one privilege that privilege she desires above all others. She has decided that without the ballot she can do nothing, for, in her vocabulary, ballot is synonymous with power. —Mrs. Frank H. Winston in Forum.

One candidate for a certificate answered that it was 'an institution having for its object the furthering of the study of electricity.'"

She also made the will conditional in that the child should receive none of the money unless she was in the care of her legal guardian. Now, J. L. Balmer, the father of the child, has entered a contest in the probate court of Oakland county to have the will set aside and himself appointed as guardian of the child.

The U. of M. baseball team left Monday morning via the Ann Arbor road on their spring trip. The first game was played at Toledo in the afternoon and the boys started in by beating the Tri-State league team by the score of 11 to 5. The professional team started in with a vim and led for about three innings, but in the fourth the college boys struck their gait, and by a combination of hits and errors they piled up five runs, which put them in the lead and virtually won the game. The game was full of sensational plays from beginning to end. The U. of M. boys showed the result of Sexton's careful coaching, keeping their heads with the bases full.

Here is an echo from Monday's election. A republican stepped into a booth, came out, deposited his ballot and then spoke to a friend saying: "There is another straight republican vote gone in." "Do you know all the men you voted for?" was asked. "No, who are they?" "Why, you voted for a colored man." "Well, if the republicans don't want me to vote for a colored man they had better keep him off the ticket," and no one doubts his republicanism now.—Ypsilanti department Washtenaw Evening Times.

That man showed good sound common sense even if he is a republican. There is no good, valid reason why a colored man should not hold office provided he is honest, respectable and capable.

Y. M. C. A. ANNUAL BANQUET.

The Woman's Auxiliary Entertained the Sustaining Members.

The second annual banquet tendered to the sustaining members of the Y. M. C. A. by the Ladies' Auxiliary last Friday evening was characterized by much enjoyment and a rare display of good feeling and excellent speeches. Fully 150 ladies and gentlemen sat down to the bountiful spread which had been provided by the ladies, among whom were the members of the state executive committee who were here on that day attending a meeting of that body. Music was furnished during the evening by several members of the high school orchestra in a most pleasing manner.

The banquet over, W. B. Phillips, chairman of the committee who had the banquet in charge, rapped for order and in a few words introduced the toastmaster of the evening, Mr. H. G. Van Tuyl, of Detroit, general secretary of the state Y. M. C. A. He filled his post to perfection and by his many happy and witty remarks concerning the several speakers helped along the evening wonderfully.

"Local Conditions" was the topic assigned to the first speaker, E. F. Mills, of this city. He said the first thing that always appears on a bill of fare, is soup and for that reason he had probably been chosen to speak first. The local conditions of this town are peculiar for three reasons. First: Most towns of this size have from 500 to 600 young men, but Ann Arbor has 3,500 during nine months of the year. This places a grave responsibility on the people and churches. The establishment of such places as Newberry hall, Harris hall and McMillan hall has done much for the good of the student body, and the people have tried to fulfill their duty to this class, but in doing so they have done too little for their own town boys; second: There have been two classes in the population of Ann Arbor, Germans and Americans, tending to diverse and conflicting methods of work, but that he was pleased to say was gradually wearing away; third: The great number of transient dwellers in the city, people who come here for a few years to educate their children and then move away again. This class has really no interest in the city nor does it pretend to have. He closed his remarks by stating that all classes should assist in the work of saving young men. It should be remembered that in all ages great men have come from all ranks of life. At the time that Jefferson, from the halls of college was enunciating his grand principles of reform in this country, Benjamin Franklin, the great philanthropist sprang from the ranks of the people; and at the time of our great civil war when Grant came forth from West Point to command the armies of the North, Lincoln came from the ranks of the people in Illinois to guide the destinies of the nation.

Rev. J. M. Gelston spoke of "The Church and the Association." He designated the Y. M. C. A. as "the flying artillery of the church" and the various denominations the "supply stations." The Y. M. C. A. he said has a right to call on the churches for all the supplies needed for an arduous military campaign, and the local churches are standing bravely by the association.

Leonard Laurence, of Detroit, a pioneer of the Michigan Y. M. C. A., spoke briefly on "The Influence of the Association on the Community," in the course of which he described the work of the eastern branch of the association in Detroit.

Prof. F. S. Goodrich, of Albion, made the best speech of the evening and had he continued his remarks for double the length of time that he did, he would have had an attentive and appreciative audience. He spoke of his appearance before them that evening and said that when he was told he was to speak he felt something like the remark attributed to Goliath, when struck with the stone from David's sling. "Such a thing never entered my head before." He had traveled "expensively but not extensively" and told of the Y. M. C. A. work as he had seen it in foreign countries. Christ, he thought, gave the Y. M. C. A. its true motto when he said to Zacharias "Run, speak to this young man." "Run" indicates extreme activity; "speak"—the work is to be one of testimony as well as activity; "this," that it is to special instead of general; "young man"—our work is with the youth. The letters "Y. M. C. A." he thought should mean that "You Must Come Again," and "You Must Catch All."

F. D. Taylor, of Detroit, spoke of "The Requirements for Successful Work." He urged the necessity for each Y. M. C. A. having a home of its own. He used strong and well drawn arguments in favor of his views and quoted different authorities to back up his argument.

Mrs. Roy McClure gave a pretty vocal solo at this stage of the proceedings for which she received warm applause.

President C. W. Wagner replied to the toast "The Guests of the Evening," the sustaining membership. He said that in the two blocks on Main street between Huron and Liberty street, out of 62 business houses, 34 are sustaining members of the Y. M. C. A. He told of the hopes and work and thanked the sustaining membership heartily. If the association keeps but one boy from going wrong all the investments made here will have been amply repaid.

Nathaniel Stanger's witty reply to the toast assigned to him "Our Entertainers," the Woman's Auxiliary, was hugely enjoyed and Nate covered himself with glory by his remarks which from an "old bachelor's" standpoint were certainly well chosen.

Toastmaster Van Tuyl, on behalf of Irving Edwards, here presented the association with another ornament for the walls of its rooms in the shape of a handsome portrait of its first and only president, C. W. Wagner.

H. M. Clarke, of Detroit, happily concluded the evening's speaking with "The Conclusion of the whole Matter." His principal conclusion was that to him the Y. M. C. A. was the church at work.

The proceedings concluded with the singing of the doxology by the company after which Rev. W. W. Wetmore pronounced the benediction.

MAY STEVENS DISCHARGED.

Burt Haywood's Much Married Wife Is Again Free.

Mary Stevens, who married Burt Haywood, of Salem, when she had three other living husbands and had not been legally divorced from any of them, was discharged from custody in the Detroit police court on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Stevens was first charged with bigamy but Judge Whelan held that the warrant was defective, inasmuch as it neglected to state the name of the person to whom she was legally married, and charged her with committing bigamy by marrying Haywood at Windsor last January, when the man she was married to before Haywood was still living. He also held that to prove bigamy it was necessary to prove the legal marriage and as she had married three men in this state not one of them was her legal husband.

Mrs. Stevens' first husband lives in Albion, N. Y., but no proof of the marriage beyond his testimony can be obtained as the minister who married them and the witnesses to the marriage are dead. When the detectives found this out he returned to Detroit and got out a warrant charging Mrs. Stevens with lascivious conduct, but on motion of Hurst & Greene, her attorneys, the proceedings were quashed on the ground that she could not be charged with lascivious conduct unless some other person was implicated.

Burt Haywood, her Salem husband, however, is not satisfied and says that he will get another warrant out charging Mrs. Stevens with receiving money under false pretenses, as under the pretense that she was his wife, Mrs. Stevens induced Haywood to give her considerable money.

Rev. J. T. Sunderland in India. The Indian Messenger (Calcutta) of February 2 has the following in regard to Rev. J. T. Sunderland and his work in India:

"It has been a very busy week for our friend from the West who, besides delivering the lectures referred to above, has visited many of our institutions. Mr. Sunderland is a speaker of real power, and during the short time that he has been in our midst, those who have come in contact with him have been greatly impressed with his earnestness and simplicity. It is a matter of deep regret to us that Mr. Sunderland's stay here is to be so brief, for he leaves this city tomorrow. His visit has certainly helped to draw closer the bonds of the Brahmo Samaj and the Unitarian body on both sides of the Atlantic."

To Extend the Medical Course.

The faculty of the medical department at the University is deep in a discussion as to the desirability and practicability of fixing the course leading to the degree of M. D. in that department at six years instead of four as it is at present. The discussion is very likely to terminate soon in such a decision, says one of the faculty. The proposal is along the same line as that of requiring the degree of A. B. for admission to the department, broached a short time ago. It may be news to some people to learn that there are 30 students now in the University who are taking a six years' course in medicine—a course combining work in both the literary and medical departments. Such a course as this it is now proposed to substitute for the standard four-year course. President Angell and the medical committee of the board of regents had two meetings last week with the medical faculty, this change being the subject under consideration. Nothing definite, however, was determined on. If the change be made it will take effect in 1900.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. G. Underman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." President May Veto the River and Harbor Bill.

RUMOR CURRENT IN WASHINGTON.

The Last Bill Was Allowed to Become a Law Without the President's Signature—Elections Committee No. 3 Disposes of Three Contests—Triennial Counting of Mail Packages to Begin Soon—Condemned Cannon for Cities.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—A rumor is afloat that the president will veto the river and harbor bill. He let the last bill become a law without his signature, and openly expressed his disapproval of many of its provisions. Work on rivers and harbors has been kept in check during the last year with the result that there remains a large unexpended balance from previous appropriations, enough, war department officials of the engineering bureau have told the president, to carry on absolutely necessary work without serious embarrassment for another year. Those interested in river and harbor work hope the report as to the president's intentions is not true, but they fear it may be. The bill will be reported to the senate next week.

TO COUNT MAIL PACKAGES.

Required Triennially by the International Postal Union.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The triennial international counting of all mail packages going from one country to another in the postal union will take place from May 1 to May 28. The postoffice department has therefore ordered all railway postoffices exchanging mail direct with Canada during that period to exclude from the Canadian mail, and to forward either to New York or Boston postoffice for counting, all articles for delivery in New Foundland, Saint Pierre, and Miquelon, and San Francisco or Tacoma all articles for Japan, China, Hawaii, and the Australian colonies.

All closed mail sacks or packages addressed to the New York and San Francisco postmasters received from Canada or Mexico in railway postal cars during the counting period will be forwarded to those offices intact.

CONTESTED ELECTION CASES.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Elections committee No. 3 Wednesday disposed of three cases, leaving but one to be acted upon by this committee. The contest between John A. Brown, Pop., vs. John M. Allen, Dem., from the first Mississippi district, was decided in favor of Mr. Allen; A. M. Newman, Pop., vs. J. G. Spencer, Dem., Seventh Mississippi district, was decided in favor of Mr. Spencer. The committee in the third case found that Giles Otis Pearce, Independent Labor, received 157 votes as against 47,000 for John D. Ball, Pop., and the latter was given the seat. This contest came from the Second district of Colorado. In each instance the action of the committee was unanimous in allowing the sitting member to retain his seat.

Will Be Favorably Reported.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The house committee on ways and means Wednesday decided to report favorably the bill introduced by Stone of Pennsylvania to repeal the portion of the Wilson act which gives free alcohol for use in the arts and manufactures. The internal revenue officials have acknowledged their inability to carry out the provisions of law. Great frauds are said to be possible under the law and many large claims have been piled up against the government under the law.

Cannon for Various Cities.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The house committee on military affairs has reported favorably a large number of bills granting condemned cannon to sundry cities, towns and cemeteries for decoration of soldiers' graves. Among the number were bills giving four cannon and pyramids of balls to Galesburg, Ill.; four to Reedsburg, Wis.; two to St. Boniface Soldiers' Monument Association of Chicago; two to Elwood, Ill., and one to Sparta, Ills.

To Stop the Influx of Paupers.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Commissioner General Stamp of the immigration bureau said Wednesday that notwithstanding the congested condition of affairs at Ellis island, the law prohibiting the landing of undesirable immigrants would be enforced to the letter, and that, if found necessary to relieve the overcrowded accommodations at the island, the debarred immigrants would be immediately sent abroad the vessel which brought them over.

Duty on Pork Increased.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The secretary of agriculture is in receipt of advices through the department of state from the United States minister at Stockholm, Sweden, that the riksdag has voted to increase the custom rates on smoked pork to 30 ore per kilo, and to increase the customs duty on pork of other kinds to 20 ore. One hundred ore equals $2.69 of our money.

Another Blow at the "Manly Art."

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Senator Platt has introduced a bill to prohibit the transmission of the reports of results of bets on prize fights or races from one state to another, and making such transmission a misdemeanor to be punished by a fine or imprisonment.

Named for United States Consul.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The president Wednesday nominated Leo Bergholz of New York to be consul of the United States at Erzeroum, Armenia.

Law to Inspect Convents.

COLUMBUS, O., April 16.—Under a law enacted by the legislature all private and public hospitals, houses of detention, reformatory homes, convents, etc., will be inspected every six months by county commissioners. A penalty is provided for interference with such inspections.

Failure at Boston.

BOSTON, April 16.—Spaulding & Tewksbury, wholesale dealers in straw and leather board with branches in many of the principal cities of the Union, have assigned. The liabilities are stated to be $150,000 and the nominal assets $200,000.

Alpaca and Mohair.

Here is a flood of information about alpaca and mohair, which will be worn more than ever as crepon declines in favor. It is supplied by one who knows all about it. He says:

Mohair is the fleece of the Angora goat, grown in the orient and at the Cape, and is the most lustrous animal fiber known. In its natural state it is white and can consequently be dyed to any color. Alpaca is the fleece of the animal of that name, also of the goat family (llama is a near relation), and is grown in South America. In its natural state it is black, brown or piebald, with a very small proportion of white. Consequently it can only be dyed a dark color, generally black. Whenever, therefore, you see a luster dress which is lighter than dark gray you may be sure it is mohair, especially if it has a peculiar sparkle which is something like that of a newly broken piece of lump sugar. Alpaca, being somewhat finer and softer than mohair, is mostly used for coat linings, but it is also made into dress goods in its natural gray. It was introduced and intended for linings, but was taken up by a whim of fashion for dresses and had a great run 30 years ago. Its popularity gave the name of alpaca in a rough and ready way to all bright goods, although most of them are made from mohair and many of them from English wool.—Philadelphia Ledger.

LOOKING BACKWARD.

Look after the Back: A Fall, a Strain, a Constant Sitting or Stooping Position Brings Backache—Do You Know This Means the Kidneys are Affected?

How few people realize when their back begins to ache that it is a warning provided by nature to tell you that the kidneys are not working properly. You have a severe fall, you strain yourself lifting or perhaps you are compelled to maintain a sitting or stooping position for long intervals at a time, your back begins to ache, then your head, you become listless, tired and weary, but do you understand the real cause? We think not, else you would use no plasters and liniment on the back, which only relieve but do not reach the cause. If you would rid yourself of the pain and cure the root of the trouble, at the same time save many years of suffering and perhaps life itself, you will take a kidney remedy that has been tried and proven that it will cure.

Mr. John Robison of 661 Russell Street, Detroit, says: "As a result of exposure during the war I have suffered ever since with rheumatism and kidney trouble. Pains would start in my hip and go around to my back. Highly colored urine denoted kidney disorder. The pain in my back was often so bad I had to give up work until the severity of the attack passed away. I have used many liniments and other things, but received very little relief. Some time ago I started using Doan's Kidney Pills and they have worked a wonderful change in me. My back is all right now and I owe it all to the almost magical influence of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Mr. Robison was a member of the Fifty-first Illinois Regiment, which served through the war with honor and distinction. Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers—price, 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

SLEW BABES AND SELF

Terrible Triple Murder and Suicide at Chicago.

CLIMAX TO FAMILY DISCORDS.

John W. Lehman Shoots and Kills His Three Little Girls and Then Takes His Own Life—Grosses Scenes at a Chicago Wake in Which the Corpse of a Child Is Used as a Weapon During a Free for All Fight.

CHICAGO, April 16.—As a climax to family disagreements, which had led him to sell and vacate his own home, John W. Lehman, a street car driver, shot and killed his three little daughters Tuesday evening in his home, 233 West Twenty-third street, and after two unsuccessful attempts to hang himself sent a bullet into his own heart. The dead are: John W. Lehman, a German, 39 years of age; Anna Lehman, an infant; Bertha Lehman, aged 3 years; Clara Lehman, 5 years old.

These little ones were Lehman's own. He loved them and brooded over the unfounded fear that some day they would come to want. Besides his wife there were two other children in the household—hers by a former marriage—Harry, 13 years old, and Minnie, aged 11. That Lehman planned to die with his own children is shown by the fact that Harry was sent on an errand by the stepfather, and a nurse girl was also sent away a few minutes before the tragedy. When last seen Lehman was fondling his baby girl in his arms.

In the Midst of Moving.
The household was in the midst of moving. Lehman had owned the three-story brick house in the lower floor of which his family lived. But in January, under the impulse of moving into the country, he sold his home. After paying off a mortgage, which left him $2,000 in money, Mrs. Lehman repented of her agreement to go on a farm. She talked her husband out of the scheme, and, being an easy-going fellow, he consented to stay in Chicago.

Accordingly plans were made to move into a flat at 31 Groll street, four blocks east of the home. Mrs. Lehman spent Tuesday getting the first load of furniture arranged. The husband got off duty at 3 o'clock for two hours, and went home from the car barn to dinner. Everything was confusion with packing, and some of the rooms were already bare. It is supposed the realization of losing his home without achieving his ambition for a farm came over him with a sting of disappointment, which drove him to frenzy.

FREE FIGHT AT A WAKE.

CHICAGO, April 16.—Grosses scenes were enacted early Tuesday morning at a wake held over the body of John Furlong's infant child in the former's home at 141 LaSalle avenue. The men at the wake became quarrelsome and a brawl was the result, during which the coffin was broken to splinters. While the mother was lying in her bed the mourners made free with liquor and by midnight every man was in maudlin state. They sang and joked and the scene became so revolting to Mrs. Furlong that she got up from her bed and insisted on taking her child to her sister's home.

The husband objected to such a proceeding, and walking to where the coffin lay on the two chairs placed his hands on it and declared it should not be taken from the house. McDonald took his sister's part and attempted to wrest the coffin from Furlong. While doing so the child's body fell from the little casket into McDonald's arms. A lively fight ensued, during which the irate husband broke the coffin into splinters. While Furlong was beating McDonald with the empty coffin the latter was holding on to the body of the infant. He became so excited during the melee that in his attempt to defend himself he swung the tiny body about his head and struck Furlong's face with it.

The fight grew general, and when McDonald made a second attempt to use the body as a club he relaxed his hold and the remains struck the floor in the corner of the room. Neighbors who were awakened by Mrs. Furlong's pitiful cries were greeted by a sickening sight when they rushed into the room. The police were summoned in time to arrest McDonald, who was taken to station and locked up. Furlong escaped, but was arrested later in the day.

Plot to Escape Discovered.

CHICAGO, April 16.—The apprehension entertained by the officials that Windrath and Manow, on trial before Judge Horton for murder, contemplated escaping by some desperate means was revived again Wednesday morning. It transpired that on being searched Windrath was found to have a large quantity of red pepper concealed in his clothing. This pepper was enough to weigh a pound or a pound and a half, and the story told by the police and the criminal court officials is that he intended to blind the eyes of those in the court room with the pepper and then dash for the door.

Married the Second Time.

CHICAGO, April 16.—Jacob Greenberg and wife of 5542 Jefferson avenue were married for the second time Tuesday night, although they have been living together as man and wife since the first ceremony last January, which was performed by a justice of the peace. Greenberg is a liberal Jew, while the bride comes from the orthodox Jewish family of Morris Morris of 455 Halsted street. They were married Tuesday night by a rabbi to please the wife's parents.

Two Killed by an Explosion.

CHICAGO, April 16.—Two people, brother and sister, were killed and several others seriously injured by two explosions which occurred Wednesday morning at Goose Point. The explosions took place in the main factory of the Chicago Fireworks company's plant and wrecked the building, while fire which followed swept up nearly all the ruins. The killed are: Nick Burre, aged 16 years; Mary Burre, aged 18 years.

Crushed by a Cable Car.

CHICAGO, April 16.—Martin Cook, a 14-year-old boy, was crushed to death Wednesday morning beneath the wheels of a State street grip car at Van Buren street. The dead boy's home was at 82 South Talman avenue, and he was employed in the shipping room at Siegel, Cooper & Co.

REPLIES TO "POPE BOB."

CHICAGO, April 15.—Stehway hall was well filled with church people and parties from the universities Tuesday night attracted by the announcement that Rev. John P. D. John, ex-president of De Pauw university, would deliver an address in reply to Robert G. Ingersoll.

"Mr. Ingersoll raises his chief objection against God," said Dr. John, "because of his proposed dealing with men in the next world. He hates hell, and so do I, but neither of us can hate it out of existence. Hell is already here. The majority of mankind are already in its fires. But the hell to come is not the one described by Mr. Ingersoll and long ago rejected by intelligent Christians. There is no hell, here or hereafter, other than that which here is kindled by the laws of sowing and reaping. Mr. Ingersoll exalts science, but science declares that hell will be eternal if sin be eternal.

"All the intellectual objections against the Bible may be put under the one general charge that it is unscientific—that is, it is contrary to fact, unnatural, superstitious, and not adapted to its work. Does the Bible conflict with any known fact of modern science? If so, that much of it is not inspired. If not, it must have been inspired, for the best astronomical, geological and biological knowledge contemporary with the age of the sacred writers was a chaotic mass of ignorance."

ROBBED BY MASKED MEN.

The Alarm Given and Two of the Bandits Are Captured.

WHITING, Ind., April 16.—Masked men made an attack on and robbed J. K. Van Sickle, agent of the Baltimore & Ohio railway, at the office here Tuesday night. The Baltimore and Ohio depot stands about half a mile out of town in an uninhabited spot near Lake Michigan. At 11 o'clock Tuesday night, as Agent Van Sickle was about to lock the depot, he was attacked and overpowered by three masked men. His 8-year-old son, Earl, was with him, and seeing his father helpless, the little fellow ran up the tracks to town to where the Standard Oil company's night crew was switching cars. The crew returned with him to the depot and captured two of the men as they were looting the office. The third escaped with Agent Van Sickle's overcoat and revolver. One hundred dollars was recovered from the captured men.

Narrowly Escaped Drowning.

ISHPEMING, Mich., April 16.—A number of families at Cleveland, a small mining town near here, narrowly escaped death by drowning. A large pond containing about fifty feet of water broke through the embankment of the South Shore railway tracks and tore a path through a residence district. The water rose to a height of ten feet within five minutes, driving the frightened people before it. Many escaped by taking refuge on the upper stories of their houses.

Wife Murder and Suicide.

NEW YORK, April 16.—Frederick Merriek shot and killed his wife in her bedroom at their home in Brooklyn Wednesday morning. Then, standing before a mirror in an adjoining room, he fired a bullet into his right temple. Death was instantaneous in both cases. The couple, who were well to do, had been married six years and leave a child 4 years old. It is alleged that Merriek was suspicious of his wife.

A LONDON GINSHOP IN 1834.

Disgraceful Scene of Drunkenness on a Sabbath Morning.

"During this time (morning) a woman—almost in the state of nudity with a fine infant at her breast, the only dress being its nightshirt, followed by another child about 8 years old, naked except a nightshirt, and without either shoes or stockings, followed a wretched looking man into the house. I saw them struggle through the crowd to get to the bar. They all had their gin. The infant had the first share from the woman's glass. They came back to the outside of the door, and there they could scarcely stand. The man and woman appeared to quarrel. The little child in her arms cried, and the wretched woman beat it most unmercifully. The other little naked child ran across the road. The woman called to it to come back. It came back and she beat it. They all went into the shop again and had some more gin, apparently to pacify the children."

That was between 7 and 8 in the morning on an ordinary Sunday in July, 1834. Later in the day we get the following edifying scene:

"Last Sunday morning I had occasion to walk through the Broadway at a few minutes before 11 o'clock. I found the pavement before every ginshop crowded. Just as church time approached the ginshops sent forth their multitudes, swearing and fighting and bawling obscenely. Some were stretched on the pavement insensibly drunk, while every few steps the footway was taken up by drunken wretches being dragged to the station house by the police."—National Review.

Poor baby! Your pity goes out to it and rightly. To be thin, for a baby, is to be deprived of its natural ease; to suffer and not be able to feel it; to wear a sad pinched face; to live on the edge of sickness; to grow imperfectly; and to lose the power of resisting disease. When a baby is thin it needs more fat than it gets from its food; it is starved, fat-starved. Scott's Emulsion is the easiest fat it can have; the fat it needs.

SCOTT'S EMULSION has been endorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. (Ask your doctor.) This is because it is always pure and perfect in its composition—always contains the purest Norwegian Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Put up in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes. The small size may be enough to cure your cough or help your baby.

GREAT REMOVAL SALE!

We sold four Pianos last week to parties who thought of buying sometime, but who found on learning our phenomenally low prices that the time to buy was now. Buyers of Pianos, do not fail to take advantage of the exceptional opportunity now offered to buy a Piano or an Organ at the lowest figure ever known in Ann Arbor.

7 UPRIGHT PIANO BARGAINS!

The following 7 pianos have been used, some 6 months, some a year, but none over 18 months. They will be put in perfect condition at our factory, and will be closed out at $25 down and $10 per month. We offer these as special bargains, and when we use this term, we mean it in its fullest sense.

Here they are:

- 1 Petit Bijou Piano, small size, former price.....$225.00
Removal Sale Price, each 85.00
- 1 Allmendinger, black case, good condition, former price..... 250.00
Removal Sale Price..... 135.00
- 1 Boardman & Gray, ebony, former price..... 265.00
Removal Sale Price..... 145.00
- 1 Erie Piano, ebony, but little used, former price... 275.00

- 1 Erie Piano, walnut, as good as new, former price 300.00

- 1 Guild Piano, sold 2 years ago for..... 340.00
Removal Sale Price..... 170.00
- 1 Pease Piano, in very fancy case, in first-class condition, former price..... 300.00
Removal Sale Price..... 180.00

We have sold 3 of the 6 pianos we offered in fancy cases for spot cash for $189 each. These pianos are such a rare bargain that if you miss the opportunity of buying one, it is your own fault. Some wise buyers have seen the economy of borrowing money to buy at these prices.

Buying a Piano

You have been thinking of buying a piano for a long time. If you keep putting it off, you will never get it. Now is the time to buy, for now is the time you can save money. If your grocer offered granulated sugar at 3c a pound, when you are paying 6c, you would buy a quantity. You know that is cheap, for you buy it every day. If he offered you Queen Anne soap at 3c a cake, you would buy it for the same reason, because you are saving money. If you could buy Royal Baking Powder for 25c a pound, when you have to pay 50c, you would buy Royal, because you know it is good, and could be bought at the price of the poorest. We want you to realize that we are offering just as big bargains on pianos and musical instruments today as granulated sugar would be at 3c a pound.

We are obliged to move, and the store we hope to secure will have to undergo extensive repairs, which will consume two or three months before it is fit for occupancy. We are overstocked with pianos, our present warehouses are crowded, and we have about 60 rented pianos coming in the middle of June.

Think of this seriously, and come in and see us. A dollar saved is a dollar earned, and you can save a good many dollars by buying your musical instruments now.

Sol Smith Russell in "The Rivals."

Sol Smith Russell's great success as "Bob Acres" in Sheridan's famous comedy, "The Rivals," is a personal triumph, of which he may well be proud. It should lead him to other efforts along the same line. In the entire list of actors who have succeeded in establishing themselves in public favor, there was none who had secured that coveted prize, popular approval, to a greater extent than Sol Smith Russell. Mr. Russell won his way into the hearts of theatergoers here years ago, and each successive appearance has served to entrench him still more securely in their sincere appreciation. Manager Berger has surrounded Mr. Russell with a strong supporting company which includes Charles Mackay, Alfred Hudson, Geo. Dehn, Geo. Woodward, Miss Minnie Radcliffe, Bijou Fernandez, Fanny Addison Pitt.
