Oxygen

Wood won't burn unless air—oxygen—is present. The food taken into the body must be united with oxygen before it can be consumed and give heat to keep the body warm. Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, is one of the best fuels. The cod-liver oil obtains its oxygen from the air and heat is produced. It warms, nourishes, invigorates, gives good blood, and fortifies against the piercing winds of fall and winter. The hypophosphites tone up the nervous system and improve digestion. Scott's Emulsion prevents colds, coughs, consumption and general debility.

SCOTT'S EMULSION has been endorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. (Ask your doctor.) This is because it is always palatable—always uniform—always contains the purest Norwegian Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites.
Put up in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes. The small size may be enough to cure your cough or help your baby.

SLAIN BY GUERRILLAS.

Inhuman Work of Colonel Molina and His Band.

ATROCITIES COMMITTED IN CUBA.

In One Instance the Colonel Orders the Death of a Woman and Babe Because the Mother Refused Certain Information—The Eyes of a Cuban Planter Gouged Out with a Bayonet by the Orders of the Inhuman Molina.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The World Wednesday morning published the following special correspondence from Macagua, province of Matanzas, Cuba, dated May 10:

"Reports have reached here of a number of recent unwarranted murders and outrages by bands of Colonel Louis de Olivera's Spanish guerrillas. Beliazoro Nodarze of this town relates the particulars of a fiendish attack upon a Cuban woman. The guerrillas of Colon while on their way to Calimate stopped at the house of Mateo Martinez, who had been forced to enlist in a body of insurgents under the command of Juan Pablo Jabio. The officer in command inquired from Senora Martinez the whereabouts of her husband. 'Indeed, I can't tell,' she replied. 'I'll make you,' said the Spaniard, and he proceeded to tear off her clothing. He then questioned her anew, and, receiving no answer from the woman, who was crying hysterically, he unsheathed his sword and fell to cutting and slashing his victim until her blood covered the floor and she fainted in a corner. Her shrieks and entreaties only served to provoke the brutal laughter of the soldiery.

Intended to Shoot the Informer.
"Mr. Nodarze says he laid the facts in writing before Colonel Molina. The chief replied by sending a squad to arrest and shoot the complainant. His brother, Bruno, a tobaccoist, heard of the order in time to inform Beliazoro. The brothers fled and joined the rebel forces of Coltide Garcia. Colonel Molina's forces a few days afterwards stopped at the home of a farmer. Only a woman and baby were in the house. He demanded that she tell where the men were. She protested that she did not know. He called a platoon of soldiers. As the platoon entered the cabin, Molina pointed to her, and said: 'Pull out that rebel hag and shoot her.' The mother and child were dragged some twenty-five feet from the hut and a squad moved away a few paces. 'Will you speak now?' the colonel demanded. 'For God's sake, I don't know,' cried the woman. 'Then fire,' ordered Molina. 'The woman tried to shield her child with her body, but the merciless bullets did their work.

Crushed the Baby's Skull.
"The baby was not killed outright and one of the soldiers, moved by a sort of barbarous pity, crushed the little one's skull with the butt of his rifle. The bugle sounded 'fall in,' Molina, after setting fire to the hut, coolly mounted his horse and gave the word 'march.'

"A resident of the town of Cascajal says one of Molina's guerrilla bands was marching to Reglita, the sugar plantation of Senor Sardinias, for the purpose of escorting a train of pack mules. As the guerrillas approached the town of Cascajal they passed the farm of a Cuban named Garcia, whose two brothers were in the insurgent force under Dimas, which was operating in the district between Recreo and Roque. A portion of this force occasionally camped near Garcia's house and he was then visited by his brothers. When the guerrilla band arrived, however, the insurgents were not in the neighborhood. Garcia was alone in his house.

Gouged His Eyes Out.
"Where are the insurgents encamped?' the lieutenant demanded of Garcia. 'I really don't know,' the man replied. 'Tie him to that chair,' the officer commanded and the soldiers lashed Garcia securely. 'Now will you tell me where your brothers are?' the lieutenant angrily inquired. 'I can't say. I have not seen them,' Garcia replied. 'Ha, I know they slept here last night, but since your eyes seem to be useless I will relieve you of them. Put them out,' the officer cried, turning to his soldiers. 'The sergeant thrust the point of his bayonet under each of the unfortunate man's eyes and burst them out, despite the agonizing screams of the victim. As they left the house the lieutenant jokingly remarked that the next time Garcia would be able to say truthfully that he had not seen the insurgents.'
