In the afternoon the first train leaves at 1 p. m., the next at 4:38 p. m. Returning leave the lake for Ann Arbor 6:30, 7:30 and 8:22 p. m. Round trip fare only 25c, children, 15c. This is the grand final picnic for some years at least, by the Northfield people and hence nothing will be spared to give all who attend a real good time.

Co. A at Whitmore Lake.

Tomorrow, Co. A, of this city and Co. B, of Adrian and Becker's Light Infantry Band will go into camp at Whitmore Lake, in a field about 1/2 mile west of the Lake House. The tents will be pitched in a 10-acre field and will be shaded in the afternoon by a large woods, thus making it a very nice place for the boys after a hot drill in the open field.

Co. B will arrive at 7:38 a. m. and the Light Infantry band will meet them at the depot, after which Major Seymour Howell, of Adrian, will assume command.

Upon arriving at the Lake the battalion will get off at the road beyond the depot and march into camp and after getting settled each company will put on a guard mount, followed by a short battalion drill.

Mess call will be sounded at 11:30 and the boys will be marched to the hotels for dinner. Co. A will quarter at the Clifton House and Co. B and the Light Infantry Band at the Lake House. At 2:30 p. m. there will be an extended order drill with blank ammunition. Recall at 3:30. Mess call 5. At 6:30 the men will fall in for dress parade, Co. A will be divided into two companies, Capt. Granger commanding Co. C and Lieut. Walters commanding Co. C. Co. B will be divided also, Capt. Holloway commanding Co. B, and Lieut. Bond commanding Co. D. The staff will be Maj. Howell, commander; Maj. Belser, surgeon; Lieut. Armstrong, adjutant, and Sergt. Muldary, sergeant major.

During the evening there will be dances at both houses and it is expected that the boys in blue will have things their own way as nothing will take the average girl's eye as quick as a bright uniform. It is expected that the companies will have a sham battle on the lake, Fourth of July night with Roman candles and it will have a very pretty effect.

At night a guard will be thrown out around the camp and none but the militia will be allowed in camp. Taps will be sounded at 11 p. m.

Reveille Sunday morning at 5 o'clock, mess call at 6:00, policing quarters 7:00, guard mount at 8:00 and inspection of quarters at 9:00. The balance of the day will be devoted to general instruction. Dress parade will be put on again Sunday evening, after which tents will be struck, grounds policed and baggage hauled to the depot. The advance guard under command of Sergt. Cooper, left this morning to put up the tents and make ready for the troops when they arrive.

A RAILROAD SMASHUP.

It Happened on the Ann Arbor Railroad Tuesday Morning.

The Ann Arbor railroad yard on Tuesday morning was rather a queer looking sight. Box cars were piled indiscriminately across the tracks and in the creek. Car trucks, brake beams, timbers and splinters laid around in every direction, one flat car was broken in two in the middle, and upside down on the ground near by, apparently with no injury done to it lay the great, big new 12-ton pump for the Ann Arbor Water Co. The cause of all this mess was this: At 2:30 o'clock Tuesday morning the fast freight train from the south arrived at Ann Arbor and was divided on the rise at the south end of the yard while the car on which the pump was and one or two others were left on the siding by the freight house. The crew did not get time to do this before the rear end of the train came rushing down the grade and struck the forward end with the result above stated. The flat car on which the pump was resting was doubled up like a jackknife. No one was injured except the brakeman on the rear end of the train who got his shoulder wrenched. Both the conductor and the other brakeman had narrow escapes. The damage will be considerable. The wrecking train came down from Owosso and cleared the track, and traffic was resumed about 9:45 a. m., the morning passenger trains north and south being delayed about two hours.

AGAINST THE REMOVAL.

National Homeopathic Society Do Not Want the U. of M. Department to Go to Detroit.

The friends of the homeopathic department of the University gained a signal victory at the national meeting of homeopathic physicians in Detroit last week. It had been given out that the association would strongly declare in favor of removing the department to Detroit, and an effort to secure action to that effect was made by certain interested parties. A resolution calling for such removal was introduced and finally referred to the committee on resolutions. Not only was the resolution never reported out of the committee, but the committee after reporting on all other resolutions referred to them, unanimously reported that as to all other resolutions referred to them on which they had not specifically reported, the committee was opposed to them. This report was adopted and the association thus put its seal of condemnation upon the efforts of certain parties to detach the homeopathic department of the University of Michigan.

Death of Prof. Peter Collier.

Prof. Peter Collier, Ph. D., a brother-in-law of President James B. Angell, died at his rooms 33 S. Ingalls st., on Monday morning, of heart trouble, aged 60 years. Mr. Collier had complained of heart trouble for two or three days, but no immediate danger was apprehended. On Monday morning he sat down in his chair, put on his glasses and picked up a newspaper. His wife who was in the same room all the time, thought he was reading. He remained so still, however, that she finally thought he was asleep, when not finding him breathing she went over to him and found that he was dead. Brief funeral services were held over the remains at the residence of President Angell on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Henry Tatlock officiating. The pall bearers were Profs. Prescott, D'Ooge, Demmon, Petee, Stanley and Patterson. The remains were taken to Providence, R. I., on Tuesday evening for interment.

Prof. Collier graduated at Yale in 1861. He has successively held the position of professor of chemistry and physics in the University of Vermont, chemist of the national department of agriculture and director of the New York experiment station at Geneva, N. Y. He was a man of eminent scientific attainments, and of great force of character. He was born in Chittanooga, N. Y., 60 years ago. He married Miss Caroline F. Angell, sister of President Angell, who survives him. His only daughter is attending the university.

O. M. Martin's new ambulance was called into service for the first time Monday afternoon to convey the late Eli S. Manly from the court house to his brother's home, on the north side.

THE JUNE WEDDINGS

Were Numerous in Ann Arbor During the Past Week.

OLD VETERAN GONE

Eli S. Manly Died Very Suddenly on Tuesday.

He Was an Old Resident of the City and Was Well Known Throughout the County.—Hanson Was Brought Back.

On Wednesday, June 24, at 12:30 p. m., Rev. J. W. Bradshaw united in marriage at No. 18 S. University ave., Rev. Ernest R. Latham, pastor of the Congregational church at Fort Dodge, Iowa, and Miss Olga F. Obenauer, late principal of the high school at Ithaca. Mrs. Emma Obenauer, mother of the bride, and members and friends of the family were witnesses of the simple but impressive ceremony. After partaking of a tastefully arranged luncheon the newly wedded pair took the 3:50 p. m. train for Detroit. They expect to reach their home in Ft. Dodge, July 15.

On Thursday morning, June 25, at 9 o'clock, in St. Thomas' church, Rev. E. D. Kelly united in marriage Mr. C. B. Dawson, of Laporte, Ind., and Miss Belle Bonner, youngest daughter of Patrick Bonner, of this city. The young couple left the same day for Laporte, which will be their future home.

On Thursday afternoon June 25, at the residence of the bride's parents on Washtenaw ave., Rev. T. W. Young performed the ceremony which united the lives of Miss E. Anna Flynn and Mr. Lyman E. Jones, law '96, of Indianapolis, Ind. The young couple left the same evening for their future home in Indianapolis. Miss Flynn is well and favorably known in this city, having been a clerk in E. F. Mills & Co.'s store for several years.

Two popular young people in university circles were married Thursday afternoon, June 25, by Rev. J. W. Bradshaw, at the Congregational church. They were Miss Daisy Helen Truesdell, of this city, and Mr. Louis A. Pratt, of Traverse City. The church was very appropriately decorated with daisies and palms and Ann Arbor society was largely represented among the guests. Previous to the ceremony Prof. E. N. Bilbie rendered a violin solo and Miss Clara Josie Jacobs sang "Ave Maria." Both selections were much appreciated. Prof. R. H. Kempf played the wedding march. After the ceremony the bride and groom and several relatives partook of a wedding dinner at the Arlington hotel. The couple left on an evening train and will spend several weeks in traveling.

Mr. Elmer J. Neville, law '96, of Omaha, Neb., and Miss Clara Markham, of this city, were married on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock by Rev. J. M. Gelston. The young couple started at once for their future home in Omaha.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Schaeberle, 73 W. Liberty st., on Saturday evening, Miss Mattie Schaeberle and Mr. Grunwald Nerheim, both of Chicago, were married by Rev. John Neumann. Only the relatives and intimate friends of the family were present at the ceremony. After the knot had been tied a bounteous wedding supper was heartily enjoyed by all. Mr. and Mrs. Nerheim left for their future home in Chicago, where Mr. N. is employed in one of the printing offices, on Monday night.

One of the two last weddings in the month of June in this city was that of Mr. Justin B. Bullis to Miss Anna E. Wetmore, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wetmore, on W. Huron st., Tuesday evening. Only relatives and most intimate friends were present. The father of the bride, Rev. W. W. Wetmore, assisted by Rev. J. M. Gelston, performed the ceremony. After the ceremony the couple left for a two weeks' trip to Mackinac Island and the Soo. After August 1 they will be at home at 43 S. Fourth ave.

The other one of the two last weddings was that of those two popular young people in the German society of this city, Mr. Gustave A. Hoffstetter and Miss Sophia M. Schneider. It was celebrated at the home of Mrs. Jacob Hoffstetter, No. 48 E. Washington st., at 7:30 o'clock on Tuesday evening, by Rev. A. L. Nicklas, the new pastor of Zion Lutheran church, who thus auspiciously celebrated his advent among his people. The wedding march was played on the piano by Miss Emily Fischer. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Bertha Schneider, and the groomsmen by his brother, Mr. Reuben Hoffstetter. The bride wore a handsome dress of cream glorio silk with pearl trimmings and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid was gowned in cream silk and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. It was quite a large wedding, 125 people being present. A sumptuous wedding supper was served, the tables being decorated with nasturtiums and sweet peas. The house was also decorated with flowers and shrubs. The presents were elegant and numerous, among them being an elegant mahogany chair from

Mr. Goodspeed, the employer of the bridegroom, also one from his fellow employees. The employees of Schairer & Millen, were the bride clerked for a long time, also gave her a handsome chair. The young people went at once to their own home 68 W. Liberty st.

DEATH OF ELI S. MANLY.

He Was an Old Soldier and a Well Known Resident.

Death claimed on Tuesday evening at 6:50 o'clock, one who was a familiar figure on our streets and at Grand Army and Oddfellow gatherings. Eli S. Manly was in the basement of the court house shortly after 10 o'clock Monday forenoon when he was seized with a stroke of paralysis and fell forward on his face, where he was found shortly afterwards. When picked up his legs and arms were found to be cold and it was evident that the attack was a fatal one. He was taken to the home of his brother, Capt. Chas. H. Manly, where he died as above stated.

Mr. Manly was born in Livingston county in 1840, enlisted in the Twentieth Michigan infantry, remaining with his regiment until discharged in 1864. His regiment was part of Burnside's, the ninth corps. He lost his left arm in 1863 in an engagement at Blue Springs. He suffered a partial stroke in service, which permanently affected his eyesight. He had been married, but his wife and two children have been dead for some years, his wife having died about nine years ago, since which time he has been very despondent. He was a sober, frugal man and leaves a small property. He was a republican in politics and had held some minor city offices, such as collector, constable and fifth ward cemetery commissioner. Last December his pension was increased from $36 to $45 per month, the arrears reaching him on Christmas day.

He was a member of Welch Post, No. 137, G. A. R., and of Otsenango Lodge, No. 295, Ann Arbor Encampment, No. 7, and Canton Ann Arbor, No. 30, I. O. O. F. He had held the highest office in each of the two first named bodies of Oddfellowship and was ensign in the canton. He could have been commander of the G. A. R. post several times, but would not accept the position. The funeral services were held at the residence of his brother, Capt. Chas. H. Manly, yesterday afternoon, Rev. C. M. Coburn officiating. After the conclusion of these services the remains were taken to the Fifth ward cemetery for interment. The ceremonies at the grave were in charge of the Oddfellows and were conducted according to the ritual of that order.

HANSON BROUGHT BACK.

He Will Have His Trial in the Circuit Court in September.

William F. Hanson, who stole $200 from the Eberbach Drug and Chemical Co.'s store on the night of June 15, was on Monday morning brought back to Ann Arbor by Deputy Lester Canfield from Montreal, Canada, where he had been arrested. Hanson fled from this city direct to Montreal, where he proceeded to go on a large sized drunk. During his spree he attempted to commit suicide by cutting two large gashes in his left arm, and he was arrested and jailed by the Montreal police on the charge of attempting self-destruction, which is a criminal offense in the dominion.

While in confinement in Montreal, Hanson told the officers in that city who he was and confessed his stealing at Ann Arbor, Deputy Sheriff Canfield went after him, and left Montreal Saturday evening accompanied by Detective Oscar Malo. The officers were met on their arrival at Detroit by Sheriff Judson, who received to Detective Malo for the prisoner. He was then brought to Ann Arbor by the Washtenaw county officers.

On Tuesday he was arraigned before Justice Pond, waived examination, and was bound over to the September term of the circuit court.

The Wabash railroad is doing a beautiful work for Milan. The ground in front of the depot has been leveled off and sodded and some handsome beds of flowers and foliage plants set out.

Members of the L. O. T. M. of Grass Lake visited Manchester Tuesday of last week, had a picnic dinner and visited the Manchester hive of Macoabees in the evening. They had a delightful time.

An Ypsilanti sheriff's officer mistook the rising moon for a fire in the east the other evening and started to give the fire alarm at the engine house. Must have been Crane-ing his neck over a glass.

The Chelsea Standard says: "The earthquake shock that was noticeable in the southern part of the village Sunday evening, was caused by the tumble that F. T. McNamara took when the hammock rope broke."

Justice Doyle's house in Milan was struck by lightning Sunday morning week during the heavy storm, and was set on fire in several places. The fire department put out the blazes before much damage was done.

The ladies of St. Mary's church, Chelsea, gave an ice cream social at the opera house in that village, Saturday evening, which was well patronized. Choice refreshment were served and an enjoyable time was spent by all.

C. W. Pullen's children have a school record that perhaps but few families have. They have attended school six years, five all the time and six during the past year, and have never had a tardy mark, and Bruce had not been absent in three years.—Milan Leader.

E. R. Beal, of Ypsilanti, lost a valuable carriage horse one day last week at the Lowell mills. He hitched his horse and went away for a couple of hours. Irritated by the flies it broke away from the fastening and ran into the river, where hampered by the carriage and harness it was drowned.

Mrs. Mary Durand, daughter of Elisha Congdon, one of the two original settlers of Chelsea, died in Battle Creek, June 21, and was buried in Oakland cemetery, Chelsea, June 24. She was a resident of Chelsea up to the fall of 1894, when she went to live with her son in Battle Creek. She was 68 years of age.

A dance that was being held by the colored people of Ypsilanti, Thursday night of last week, was rudely broken up by an Ann Arbor man who thought his Ypsilanti brothers were monopolizing his lady too much. He drew his razor and started in to clean out the hall. The way in which the crowd got out clearly evidenced the powerful argument of his knife.

The alumni of the Chelsea High School with their wives and husbands, held their first annual banquet at the Chelsea House Wednesday night of last week. About 60 former graduates were present and enjoyed the festivities of the evening. Hon. James S. Gorman, '75, was toastmaster and speeches were made by Miss Florence Bachman, '85, Miss Edith Congdon, '85, H. A. Dancer, '91, Miss Ella Morton, '93, Henry Stimson, '94, Mate Bower, '96, Dorsey Hoppe, '89, and Miss Nellie Congdon, '96. When the case of Dr. A. J. Rice for assault on his wife was brought into Justice Childs' court, Ypsilanti, on Friday morning, it was found that there was not evidence enough to secure a conviction and the doctor was discharged. The doctor has left his wife and gone to Detroit.

The meanest man on earth has been found at Belding. He makes fun of his wife's love for house plants and often grumbles over the extra care and expense of keeping them from freezing over winter. The other day he surprised his wife by bringing home and presenting her with what he called a Chinese cactus. It was in reality a dead rat which the man had planted head downward in a flower pot. The tail of the rat alone appeared above the ground and was carefully trained to a wooden support. The man's wife was delighted at the rare plant. She placed it in a sunny nook and carefully watered it. But nary a bud appeared. The denouement came when the lady undertook to transplant the "cactus" to a larger pot.—Chelsea Herald.

James Bunton, of Whitaker, had a very narrow escape from a severe accident Tuesday of last week, while sawing wood on the B. Hitchingham farm. He was running the engine, but came down to the saw and leaned over the frame to oil it. Close down to the ground was a balance wheel with a set screw which as he leaned over, caught in his overalls, of which he had on two pairs, and they were stripped from him in a flash and he was thrown onto the saw frame, and if the saw had not been covered he would undoubtedly have been killed. In his pocket were his watch, knife, punch, and a sack containing two $5 and one $2 bills and $2 or $3 in change. As soon as he could he ran and shut down the engine and began to look for the things, and soon gathered up all except the knife which could not be found. The only apparent injury he received was his back wrenched by the shock and leg skinned from shoe top to knee.—Milan Leader.

C. Miles has been appointed postmaster at Geddes.

Edward DePuy was quite seriously cut and bruised while working his binder Tuesday morning of last week. Some straws had become tangled, and as he was endeavoring to pull them out the team started a little and his left hand was caught in the machinery, and the hand and wrist badly cut and torn. Dr. Sheeder, with some difficulty, placed the parts together and Mr. D. is now doing as well as can be expected.—Saline Observer.

W. W. Wood, a crippled young man, who has been working his way through the Cleary Business College, Ypsilanti, by doing all kinds of odd jobs after school hours, met with a serious accident Saturday night which will confine him to the house for some time. He was returning home after a day's work with his lawn mower, in order not to be in the way of foot passengers he took the roadway. On Congress st. he was run over by a horse and carriage and had to be carried to his room on Huron st. Dr. Batwell was summoned and found that the ankle bone of his crippled leg was broken. It will be some time before he can even resume his school duties.

Saturday evening a farmer living south of Ypsilanti notified officer Warner that a span of horses had been left out in the country by three boys, who were walking into the city. The marshal treated the boys to a sweatbox examination. While it was in progress he received a telegram from Detroit that two boys, aged respectively 13 and 9 years, had stolen a pair of horses in that city. The boys then acknowledged that they had stolen the rig and stated they intended to go to Chicago, but the horses were driven so hard they had to desert them. The boys were taken to Detroit, from whence they will probably be sent to the state reformatory at Lansing.

A hat was missed from the Neat house hall Friday night and suspicion rested upon a stranger who afterwards gave his name as Fischer. Charles Wesley approached him and told the fellow he was an officer and wanted the bundle which he was carrying. The fellow demanded more substantial proof than the mere statement that he was an arm of the law and the two became involved in a fistic altercation. Officer Thumm came upon the scene and started to arrest the men. Wesley gave him all sorts of trouble and it took three men to put the darbies on the prisoner. Saturday afternoon Fisher, who was charged with larceny, was found guilty and fined $4.90, which was subscribed by bystanders who believed him innocent. Wesley was charged with resisting an officer and was bound over to the circuit court.—Times, Ypsilanti department.

A Valuable Prescription.
Editor Morrison, of Worthington, Ind., "Sun," writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for Constipation and Sick Headache, and as a general system tonic it has no equal." Mrs. Annie Stehle, 2625 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat or digest food, had a backache which never left her and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 50 cents and $1.00. Get a bottle at the Drug Store of Eberbach Drug and Chemical Co., of Ann Arbor, and Geo. J. Haeussler, of Manchester.

He Was Eligible.
James Payn, the London writer, says a young man was paying his attentions to a "beloved object," contrary to the wishes of her father, "a man of thews and sinews," and one day the latter kicked the lover violently into the street. In a day or two (after recovery) the rejected suitor, apparently not one whit discouraged, called at the house once more. "What, again!" exclaimed paterfamilias, putting on his well soled boots for action. "No, sir," cried the young man. "I have given up all hope of winning your daughter, but in consequence of that astounding kick you gave me the other day I have been requested, on the strength of my earnest recommendation to the committee, to ask you to join our football club."

Monroe Democrat Items.
We know better! If he had we would have heard him, for the wind was right.

Capt. Allen made a brave but ineffectual fight for the recognition of silver in the Michigan caucus at St. Louis.—Ypsilanti Sentinel.

The Democrat wishes him success whether such are his intentions or not. He is a good and virtuous young justice and should not longer take the chances of spotting his escutcheon by running around loose.

Justice A. E. Gibson left this morning for a visit with friends near Dayton, Ohio. Rumor, as usual, says the handsome Justice intends bringing a wife home with him. The Times wishes him success if such are his intentions.—Washtenaw Times.

An epidemic of matrimony has struck the office of the Ann Arbor Argus. It carried off the foreman a few days ago, and has just wrapped its arms around the pressman's "form." If anybody wants information of further prospective weddings in the same quarter, let him go to the "devil."

A Concord, Jackson county merchant named Lown, went frog spearing in a marshy lake. The frogs saw that Lown was "green" and as he pushed from shore the little ones piped, "Knee-deep! knee-deep!" but Lown went on. "Lown, Lown, you'll drown, d-r-r-r-own!" sang the larger amphibs, but Lown persisted. "He's drunk he's drunk! d-r-r-r-unk-drunk-drunk!" croaked a big one as he dove to dodge a blow from Lown. The merchant was not drunk, but he aimed at a frog and fell overboard, and as he could neither get on board nor swim, he was in it three hours before a life saving crew from the village rescued him. And the frogs sang out, "G'od bye, Lown! Stay in town! stay in town! town, town, town."

"The Daily Times objects to what it is pleased to term big words" observes the Ann Arbor Courier. Upon comprehensive analogy along lines of parallel-grammatic comparison, it is borne in upon the occult reasoning that the Times is correct. The structural grandeur of the ancient obelisk is not in its decorations, nor its mysterious hieroglyphics, with their almost uninterpretable and at best highly problematical proclamations of the glory and achievements of a cryptological antiquity, but in the simplicity with which the needle's point pierces the empyrean enfoldments of ether, with its basic architude indexing the direction of nadir. Invest its noble and sublime summit with ponderous excrecences and the monumental pillar in the graveyard of pioneer anthropology topples to the mundane sphere. So, also if we superinduce upon our sharply chiseled ideas, a cumbersome accumulation of far-fetched phraseologies and pot-bellied polysyllables, the effort ends in ignoring and down comes our literary shanty.

are expressions frequently heard about cures effected by Clinic Kidney Cure. Do not fail to try this great remedy for any kidney trouble.

A. E. Mummery, druggist, Ann Arbor.

Disappointment.
A Washington paper says that a young lady of the Capital City met a gentleman from a far western state at a party in Washington. "You are not from the far west, sir?" she said doubtfully. "Yes, I have lived there all my life." "Oh, I'm so glad to meet you!" "Thank you."
"But—excuse me—you see, I've read all the western stories, and it seems to me that you've forgotten something."
"Nothing that I can call to mind."
"Why, you don't say 'thar' and 'look hyar, stranger,' and use all sorts of bad grammar, and wear a pistol so that it bulges out your coat."
"I have never done those things."
"Oh, dear! Then my idol is shattered!"

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know

that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

Why the Price of Wheat Has Fallen. The pretense that the low price of wheat is due to the imaginary demonization of silver in 1873 has no basis in fact. Wheat has not gone down because less silver money is used, for we have now over $600,000,000 in silver coins or certificates as against less than $80,000,000 in 1873. So it is certain that it is not lack of silver currency which has reduced the price of wheat.

A suggestion as to the real causes which have made wheat cheaper now than it was 23 years ago is found in the British board of trade statistics. These show that in 1873 the Argentine Republic sent to Great Britain 22,120,253 bushels of wheat. In 1873 the Argentine was unknown as a wheat exporting country, the first shipments to Great Britain having been made but a little over ten years ago. Since that time the railway systems of the country have been greatly extended. Immense quantities of the latest and best agricultural implements and machinery have been imported, and large areas of very fertile land have been put under wheat cultivation.

During the same period the wheat crops of Russia and India have also been greatly increased. It is these increased supplies from sources which formerly sent little or no wheat to the European markets which have gradually forced down prices. Wheat is cheap because more is produced than is wanted. Free silver cannot stop the competition of South American or Russian wheat, nor would it be the slightest benefit to the American farmer.

Poor, Stricken Silver. Every good silverite knows that the crime of 1873 struck down the white metal and made gold the only money of the country. At least that is what the free coinage agitators say, and they may be supposed to have some regard for the truth.

In view of the alleged demonization of silver it is important to note that during the month of May of this year the coinage of silver at the United States mints amounted to $1,826,490, of which $1,500,000 was in standard silver dollars of full legal tender. This is a very curious kind of "demonization."

Not More but Better Measures Needed. There can be no rule for fixing the number of dollars for use in any country, any more than any other standard measure. It would be as reasonable to fix the number of yardsticks or gallon measures. The only duty properly devolving upon government is to fix the unit and maintain it against all comers. For no other reason is the power given to governments, as stated in our constitution, to "coin money and fix the standard of weights and measures."—D. W. McClung in "Money Talks."

The democratic national convention is unlike the republican national convention, in that there is no Mark Hanna in the democratic rank, whose biddings will be followed in the convention and consequently the proceedings will not be on the cut and dried order. Although the meeting of the democratic convention is only three days off no one can give an intelligent estimate of the strength of the various candidates. It requires a two-third vote to nominate. There are any number of candidates and no one has a majority of the votes much less two-thirds of them. Richard Bland, of Missouri, will undoubtedly be one of the leading candidates. Horace Boies, of Iowa, has developed considerable strength. Gov. Matthews, of Indiana, is being pressed for the nomination. John R. McLean, the Ohio editor, has a presidential and a vice-presidential boom incubating. Ex-Gov. Campbell and Vice President Stevenson are possibilities. Senator Blackburn, of Kentucky, will be voted for. William R. Morrison, of Illinois, may show up before the battle is over. Were the gold forces in command, William C. Whitney, ex-Gov. Pattison, or ex-Gov. Russell would be pressed for the nomination, but it does not now look as if they were among the possibilities. Senator Teller seems to have no chance unless the convention should split, which does not now seem likely. In case of a split, however, he would undoubtedly stand a good chance of the nomination of the silver wing. There are also a number of dark horses being industriously groomed. Altogether the convention promises to be one of the most interesting held in recent years.

Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, the famous authoress, died at her home in Hartford, Conn., at noon on Wednesday. She had been suffering from congestion of the brain and paralysis, and had been unconscious since yesterday. She passed peacefully away surrounded by the members of her family. Mrs. Stowe was best known to the public at large throughout the world as the authoress of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" which was translated into every European language, and also into Arabic and Armenian. One immense bookcase in the British museum is filled with its different translations and editions. Within six months after its publication in America 150,000 copies had been sold, and 240,000 copies were sold in London in one month.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" was printed in the National Era, the publication beginning in the summer of 1851 and concluding in March, 1852. It is said that when Mrs. Stowe proposed the republication of "Uncle Tom's" in book form, the firm receiving the offer "declined with thanks." The proposal was subsequently accepted by another publisher, who, within a few months after putting it upon the market, was able to place at Mrs. Stowe's disposal, as the first installment of her share of the proceeds, the sum of $10,000.

ST. JOHN'S DAY SERVICES

Of Ann Arbor Commandery, No. 13, K. T., Last Sunday.

On Sunday afternoon last, in accordance with its usual custom of attending divine service on the Sunday nearest St. John's Day, 40 members of Ann Arbor Commandery, No. 13, K. T., attended service in St. Luke's church, Ypsilanti. The number of Templars in line was about evenly divided between Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. As they marched from Phoenix lodge rooms to the church they made quite an imposing sight. The beautiful ritual of the order peculiar to St. John's Day was rendered in a most impressive manner. The offertory, a tenor solo from "The Prodigal Son," was sung by Mr. Clinton Elder in a grand manner. He was accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Elder. Besides the Knights Templar a large congregation was present at the services.

Rev. William Gardam, rector of St. Luke's, delivered the sermon. It was a fine, scholarly address. In the first part he spoke of the mission of Jesus to the world as foretold by John the Baptist. In the second part he spoke more directly to the body of men who had assembled to observe the day. He said: "My dear brethren, who are come hither to celebrate with us the great teaching and mission of the Baptist, to affirm your faith in the spiritual revolution of which he was the forerunner, members of the honorable and ancient body of Masons, standing too as Knights of Templary, committed, swords and purse, body and soul to the gospel and kingdom of Jesus, to you let me say a few words. You stand for much of the life of America, to the politics of commerce, the religion of America. You know as well as we priests of the church that the safety of America, her stability, her prosperity, are not to be found in her commerce, her loyalty to the political ideas rooted in the republicanism of 1776 men. You know that intellectual culture carried to the finest perfection, civilization carried beyond anything known in Grecian or Roman civilization cannot guarantee the integrity in commerce, purity and sweetness and beauty in the home, morality and justice and righteousness in public offices. I say again, if mankind could be saved by intellect, the Roman and Greek civilization would have saved itself and saved the world. 'Not by might nor by power, but by the spirit of the living God.'"

"In hoc signo vinces," the battle cry of Templarism, means much to our America. Not a word in Templarism, not a word in Masonry but is clearly square with the gospel of the Son of God. I do not desire to say one controversial word, but I am impelled to say this—I believe the Roman church will understand and recognize that a man may be a devout member of the church and yet wear the uniform of a Mason and that the ban she mistakenly places on Masonry will be removed before we make many more years of history. If she does not I am afraid the manhood of America will be lost to her, the true handmaid of the church in our modern life, not the church it is true, not the divine. And yet Masonry is divine, for every true Mason stands for the spiritual and divine side of life. The argument that Masons are not consistent is simply the argument against all life. We are none of us consistent. The best life has its lapses. 'In hoc signo vinces' as true Knights you should be as lights in the darkness of this world.

"The creed of Christendom we have recited together should make you in the truest sense missionaries to and in our American life. Some of you it is true live a long way from your principles and when you want them you have to go and hunt for them. I have known Masons of whom I have been thoroughly ashamed, Masons for the honor of it, the profit of it, the pleasure, but recreant to every teaching and principle of Masonry, Masons in the lodge room but not decent men outside; Masons who never darken the door of God's holy house, yet who would have a fit of sickness were they not in their place on lodge night, Masons who are very religious when the beautiful ritual is being recited in the asylum, yet who never bend the knee in devotion in God's house; Masons whose hearts glow with the most ardent charity in a theoretical way, yet who are never known to do a deed of kindness; Masons who are purity incarnate if words mean anything, yet whose actual living is a shame to their manhood. All this argues not against Masonry, but against the man who believes and disobeys Masonry. The same argument has been used against Christianity because of the vicious lives of those who call themselves Christians. Masonry is not a cloak, it is a guide, a rule, a law of life. It is not a city of refuge for the lawless, it is a historic order based upon the two great laws of the Gospel, love to God and love to man. Every true Mason should be a light bearer for the kingdom, should be as salt of this, our American life."

Fire at Ypsilanti. A fire caused by explosion of gasoline in the jannapping room of the Rubber Tip Dress Stay Company occurred about 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. The loss on the building, which was owned by Henry M. Curtis, is estimated at $1,000; loss on stock of company, $500. Henry M. Curtis, Charles M. Hemphill, Mrs. Harris and John W. Van Cleve, tenants on the second floor, also suffered loss by damage on household goods. All parties were insured. Patrick Dignan, an employe in the jannapping room, was quite seriously burned about the face and hands.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Caused by a Man's Too Great Fondness for Liquor.

About 11 o'clock Saturday morning Frank Howard, of Jackson, came to his death through being run over by a Michigan Central train at Ypsilanti. In his capacity as a groom he had charge of the horse Louis Owosso at the races in that city last week. The horse was being shipped east Saturday morning and Howard got to drinking pretty heavily. He was so much under the influence of liquor that he had not kept track of how near the time was approaching for the departure of his train and only realized it when he saw the cars pulling out of the yards. He ran to catch the train and tried to catch a hanger on one of the cars, but missed it and slipped under the moving train. Both legs were cut off just below the body and he was dragged along for 15 rods until those in charge of the train could stop it. He was frightfully mangled and did not live ten minutes after he fell. His remains were taken to Jackson Sunday, by his brother, and interred there.

United Friends of Michigan in Trouble. A movement is on foot to cause a disruption of the Order of the United Friends of Michigan by the secession of all the German commanderies. It was started in the Schiller Commandery, of Detroit, the largest in the order, which has about 700 members, and, it is claimed, was originated by a disappointed office-seeker, who caused the split in the Order of Chosen Friends four years ago, the secessionists organizing themselves as the United Friends. The latter have a membership of about 7,000, one-fourth of whom are Germans.

The would-be seceders claim that the recent action of the supreme commandery, reducing the assessments of new members, is an injustice to the old members. In order to increase the membership the supreme body decided to levy only 12 assessments the first year and 15 the second on new members, while the old ones are liable to be called upon for 24 assessments during the year. The society is very strong in this neighborhood and has long been one of the really prosperous German societies in the city. The present schism is greatly to be regretted.

Since the above was put in type we notice that the 11 German lodges of the United Friends of Michigan at Detroit met Saturday and perfected arrangements for withdrawing from the order.

The plan finally adopted was that an entirely new and separate organization be effected by the German lodges of Detroit; this will be known as the Schiller Bund. Their plan of insurance is to cover policies of $500 and $1,000, nothing to be written above the latter figure. Details of various character pertaining to the plan of insurance were adopted. There are about 2,400 German members of the United Friends in Detroit.

Some Bicycle Statistics.

It is estimated there are in America 4,000,000 bicycle riders, who have invested $300,000,000 in wheels, $10,000,000 in bicycle clothing and $20,000,000 in sundries and repairs. Two hundred and fifty bicycle manufacturers, five large tire makers and 500 manufacturers of sundries, having a total investment of $69,000,000, have been benefited by this traffic. The estimated capital invested in retail establishments, repair shops, race tracks and club houses is $21,000,000, making the total American investment in cycling equal to $600,000,000. During 1896 it is claimed 1,000,000 wheels and 3,000,000 tires will be produced, giving employment to 75,000 bicycle workers and 3,000 tire employees. Fifty thousand persons are employed in sundries factories and 22,000 as retail dealers and repair men, making the total number of persons connected with the bicycle industry 4,250,000. Verily, the cycle is getting there.

Last Friday the alumni reunion took place. It being 25 years since the first class graduated from the high school no pains was spared to make the day one which will long be remembered. At 5 o'clock in the afternoon the people gathered at Arbeiter hall where a very interesting program took place. Boos' orchestra, from Jackson, furnished the music. Oeta Hall was essayist; Prof. F. Moran, orator; Mrs. Eva Spafard, poetess; Herbert R. Earle, historian; Mrs. Jane Freeman sang a pretty solo as did also Miss Grace Stevens. Conklin, Fannie Haynes, Mrs. Alleda Tracy responded to toasts. The party then returned to the hall where a reception was held and a number took part in the dance which followed, everything passed off very pleasantly and successfully. Last Thursday evening the graduating exercises were held at Arbeiter hall. The stage was tastefully decorated with the class colors white and pink, and beautiful plants and potted ferns added to the decorations, at the front of the stage was the class motto "Mind moves matter." The class consisted of seven members, four ladies and three gentlemen. At 8 o'clock the exercises opened with a song by the male quartet, from Jackson, followed by a prayer by Rev. D. Yokom. The salutatory was nicely rendered by Maude Goodell as was also the oration "Greatness in choice" by J. De Forest Lamb. After a song, L. Elizabeth Farrell, in a clear, straightforward manner spoke on "What next?" Clarence A. Berger in his usual graceful manner gave the class history, which was followed by a song. Rutherford M. Yokom chose for the subject of his oration, "The golden age," which was a splendid production and showed considerable thought. Ann Etta Kingsley in very pleasing manner gave the class prophecy, and a very brilliant future was portrayed for each. After a song Alma R. Teeter in well chosen words gave the valedictory, which was nicely delivered. Mr. A. F. Freeman presented the diploma. After the song "Au Revoir" by the quartet, Rev. Merrifield offered a prayer and the exercises so much enjoyed by all closed. The graduates were the recipients of many beautiful flowers, books, etc., and congratulations and good wishes on their success were extended to each.

Has Filed Her Divorce. The answer of Nora S. Popkins to the bill of complaint of William Popkins has been filed in the circuit court. She denies the allegations of cruelty and desertion made against her by her husband. Mrs. Popkins avers in her answer that at the time of marriage she had $600 which she received from her father's estate and that her husband has used it up; that she bought and paid for his wedding suit; that through the malicious, unkind and unjust interference of the father-in-law and mother-in-law, her husband's affections have been alienated from her, and that they have induced him to apply for a divorce.

A Free Silver Congressman's Admission.

Representative Charles A. Towne of Minnesota is regarded as one of the ablest advocates of free coinage in congress. It is doubtful, however, whether the fiatists and Populists in the silverite army will welcome him as one of their leaders, for in a recent speech in the house he distinctly repudiated the foundation principle of the cheap money theorists. After a long argument in favor of free and unlimited coinage at 16 to 1 he ranged himself with the believers in sound money who wish to maintain the present standard by declaring: "The government stamp cannot create value. Let us hear no more cheap denunciation of 'creating value by law.' Nobody claims you can do so."

With all deference to Mr. Towne this is exactly what the silverites and fiat money advocates do claim. They assert that the government stamp can make a piece of paper worth $1, $10 or $100, or raise the value of an ounce of silver not worth 68 cents to $1.29. The whole scheme for free coinage rests upon the assumption that if 37 1/4 grains of silver were stamped "One Dollar," its value would be equal to 23.22 grains of pure gold. Unless it should do so the silver dollar would be partly fiat, or resting upon the government's ability to maintain it on a par with gold.

It is certainly true that value cannot be created by law. This is why the opponents of free coinage have insisted that an attempt to raise by legislation the commercial value of silver, now 30 to 1, to 16 to 1 would be a failure and would involve the finances and business interests of the country in disaster. Law can no more increase the real value of labor products than it can increase the rainfall or the average temperature. But by making 50 cents' worth of metal a legal tender for a dollar's worth of debt, the government can defraud creditors, break contracts and upset the great commercial and industrial interests which are based on a dollar worth 100 cents. Since Congressman Towne does not believe that law can create value, how can he consistently favor the 16 to 1 swindle, which depends entirely on the theory that the government's stamp can make 16 ounces of silver worth as much as 1 ounce of gold?

Are You Going Anywhere?

One of the neatest and most attractive publications in which summer tourists would have an interest, is entitled "A Summer Note Book," and is published by the Michigan Central Railroad Co. for the benefit of the public.

All of the summer resorts both in Michigan, Canada, New York, Vermont, and the New England states are briefly described and artistically illustrated. Some of the illustrations are extremely attractive and give a longing desire to see the cool, shady and beautiful places represented.

One is taken to all the Sanitarium cities and towns of Michigan reached by that railroad, together with the famous Island Route from Cheboygan to Petoskey, to the Les Chenaux Islands, Mackinac, Sault Ste Marie, Top-in-a-bee, etc. There is a delightful little landscape of the famous Huron river, that hurries by our fair city, but Ann Arbor has no place in the book, and has to be content by having Ypsilanti given that prominence—all because of the ill-smelling mineral wells which our eastern suburb glories over. The book is one that every person who is thinking about taking a vacation, should have. Call on the Michigan Central station agent, H. W. HAYES, Ann Arbor.

THE NEW WOMAN'S DEAN.

Great Opportunity for Useful Work by Dr. Mosher at the U. of M.

The following most excellent article in regard to the new woman's dean, Dr. Eliza W. Mosher, is taken from a recent issue of the New York Daily Tribune:

The present week will mark the severing of the ties which unite Dr. Eliza W. Mosher to Brooklyn. It has been known for some time that she had accepted a responsible position in the University of Michigan, and determined to relinquish her practice in Brooklyn, which is large and lucrative. Her work in Ann Arbor will not begin until next October, but she will sail for Europe to-day on the Furcraassa for an absence of two months, which she will devote to a study of the colleges for women in connection with the universities of Oxford and Cambridge.

It is needless to say that Dr. Mosher will leave Brooklyn in deep regret. It has been her home for more than a dozen years, and during that time she has had the closest relations with a large number of families. In all of these the announcement of her departure has been the occasion for heartfelt sorrow. Many a tear has been shed, and many an entreaty has been poured forth to induce her to change her purpose. If Dr. Mosher had not concluded her arrangements with the authorities of Michigan University it is not unlikely that she would have been tempted at least to swerve from her intention.

REASONS FOR THE CHANGE.

It is not from inclination that she has determined to make the change, although she feels, of course, that she has a great opportunity in the work she is to undertake in Ann Arbor. If she followed her strong impulse she would remain in Brooklyn, and from the pecuniary point of view, it would undoubtedly be to her interest to do so. Nor is it simply the honor that will come to her in her new position that has induced her to leave Brooklyn. That it will be a high honor is unquestionable, but it is not greater than has come to several other women who fill positions of responsibility in such institutions as the University of Chicago, Bryn Mawr College and Barnard College.

It is the opportunity for increased usefulness that has been the controlling motive in the mind of Dr. Mosher. In her regular practice there pass under her eyes scores of patients whose maladies she feels certain might have been prevented by wise advice and instruction in earlier days. As a physician, she has been striving to cure disease. In her work at Michigan University it will be her aim to prevent it.

HER POSITION AT ANN ARBOR.

In the University Dr. Mosher is to be associate dean of the department of literature and arts, and professor of hygiene. The dean of the department for many years has been Martin L. D'Ooge, but the place Dr. Mosher will fill is a new one. It will bring her into direct personal relations with the 600 women in the University and to each of them it is expected that she will act as guide, philosopher and friend.

Michigan University opened its doors wide to women as long ago as 1870, but the faculty contains no woman professor. There have been one or two women instructors, but there has been no woman in a place of high responsibility; no woman to whom the women students could go for counsel, except the wives of the professors, whose relations with the University, of course, are not in any way official.

It seemed wise to the University authorities, therefore, to appoint a woman to a place in which she would hold advisory relations to the large number of women students. The students in Michigan University, both men and women, are not dominated; they are supposed to be old enough to take care of themselves, and are thrown on their own responsibility. There are no dormitories, with matrons in charge of them, as in some of our educational institutions.

While Dr. Mosher will act as associate dean, she will be relieved of all the work of registering the students as to their studies, etc., but will exercise general intellectual and moral oversight over them. If any of them fall short in their recitations, or in any other respect, they will come to her for advice, and excuses for absence must be presented to her. She will also have the physical care of the young women, just as she did during the time she was resident physician of Vassar College. She will thus, it is obvious, be brought into intimate relations with all the women students, and, in a sense, will be a mother to them during their student days. From the health point of view, there will be a great advantage in having in this place a woman who has had a large experience as a physician.

PROFESSOR OF HYGIENE.

The other part of her duties will be as professor of hygiene, and in this capacity she will deliver at least three lectures a week, which will be open to the men as well as the women students. Dr. Mosher proposes to deal with the subject in three general phases: personal hygiene, house and home hygiene, and municipal hygiene. The subject opens up before her in a large way, and she is confident that she will be able to accomplish much good. In her general experience she has seen the great need of education in these matters.

In municipal hygiene, for example, her teaching will have to do with the site of the city the soil on which it is built, drainage, water supply, the removal of waste, the hygienic construction of public buildings, especially of schoolhouses, etc. She will also treat of home-building in all its aspects, and will give special attention to the best methods of physical education.

During her brief visit to England Dr. Mosher will visit the woman's colleges of Girton, Newnham, Somerville, Lady Margaret and St. Hugh, with the purpose of ascertaining the trend of educational work in them and gaining ideas that may be utilized in her new work in the west.

AN INTERESTING CAREER.

Dr. Mosher's personality is striking. She is tall, with magnificent physique. Her presence inspires confidence, and she has in large measure the motherly instinct that makes women feel that they can trust her implicitly. Her career has been most interesting. When a girl in school she heard a course of lectures on physiology, anatomy and hygiene, and she at once developed a deep interest in these subjects. Her mind dwelt on them, and she conceived the idea of leaving her home to pursue the study of medicine. Her mother at first refused to look with favor on such a plan, but finally gave her consent, and in 1869 Miss Mosher went to Boston to study under the direction of Dr. Lucy E. Sewell, the resident physician at the New England Hospital for Women and Children.

Two years later she entered the medical department of Michigan University, where she pursued a course extending over four years. At the beginning of the second year, she was invited to act as assistant to the demonstrator of anatomy and devoted a greater part of the year to that work. She was graduated in 1875 and began her practice in Poughkeepsie, where she became a member of the city and county medical societies.

In 1877 Dr. Mosher became the resident physician in the Massachusetts Reformatory Prison for Women, which had recently been opened, receiving her appointment from the governor of the state. After two years she went to London and Paris to pursue the study of special subjects, and on her return after a year's absence she was urged to accept the superintendency of the Massachusetts Reformatory. Although this was out of the line of her chosen work, she accepted the offer of Governor Long and became so much interested in the reorganization of the prison that she remained there nearly three years.

HER WORK IN BROOKLYN.

Subsequently she established a partnership with Dr. Lucy M. Hall (now Dr. Hall-Brown), in Brooklyn, and for a time served alternately with the latter as professor of physiology and resident physician in Vassar College. The growth of her reputation as a physician before long built up for Dr. Mosher a large practice, and for several years, as has been said, she devoted herself exclusively to this.

Her life in Brooklyn has been a remarkably busy one, and many of her friends wonder how she has been able to do so much. She has in addition to her regular duties been physician to the Wayside Home and the Young Woman's Christian Association, and for several summers has taken an active part in the work of the Chautauqua School for Physical Culture. She has frequently lectured at the Pratt Institute and the Girls' High School, and has laid special stress on the subject of correct posture. One of the things she has insisted on as of the first importance is suitable desks for school children.

While not a bicycle rider herself, Dr. Mosher believes in the use of the wheel by women, and she has in the last two or three years spent considerable time in devising a bicycle saddle that would be free from the objectionable features, but her work in that line has not been completed.

Among the societies of which Dr. Mosher is a member are the American Electro-Therapeutic Association, the Kings County Medical Society, the Brooklyn Red Cross Nursing and Instruction Society, and the American Association for the Advancement of Physical Education. She has written a number of treatises on special topics which are highly regarded by the medical profession.

It will be seen that Dr. Mosher is admirably fitted for the important work that she will take up in Michigan University, and there can be no question that she will be successful in it. On her departure from Brooklyn, she will take with her the good wishes of the many warm friends she has made there.—New York Tribune.

A GREAT EXPENSE

To Carry on an Almost Helpless Fight—At Last the Fight is Over.

(From the Battle Creek Moon.)
Our representative called at 26 Battle Creek Avenue, the residence of S. I. Robbins, and in an interview with him brought out the following facts: Mr. Robbins tells of his wife's experience in a manner that carries conviction with his words. He says: "I am sorry my wife is not at home. This P. M., but no one knows better than I how she has suffered during past years. For twenty years she has been afflicted with the various forms of kidney complaint and an enlargement of the liver. She was often confined to her bed for more than two weeks at a time suffering untold agony. She has doctored constantly, and I have paid out in doctors' bills for her alone as much as $900.00, and then her relief was only such that she would be able to be around for a spell. Some time ago she felt the symptoms of another attack coming on, such as a pain in through the kidneys and back. I hardly know what induced me to get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, instead of sending for the family physician; however, I got some and she commenced their use. It was a surprise to us both to see their action; the attack was warded off, and she continued taking them with marked improvement each day of their use. She is better now than she has been in years, the pain in the back and others in the kidneys have entirely gone. Hardly a day goes by that we do not mention the great good Doan's Kidney Pills have done her. I was always opposed to patent medicines, but confess that my wife's experience with Doan's Kidney Pills has done much to change my opinions. If it were not for those pills she would not have been able to be out this afternoon."

THE GOLD DEMOCRATS

They Are Preparing for a Fight at Chicago.

TACTICS OF SILVER MEN EXPOSED.

An Address Being Prepared Showing the Methods by Which they Captured the Local Organization—Don M. Dickinson Says There Will Be No Contest in Michigan's Delegation, but Spencer O. Fisher Says Different—Teller's Reception.

CHICAGO, July 2.—The gold Democrats are beginning to make themselves conspicuous about the rotunda of the Palmer House. Regular headquarters will probably be secured by Thursday, and a nucleus will be formed about which the eastern men may gather. The executive committee of the new central committee is now organized and ready for business. At a meeting held at the Palmer House Tuesday afternoon the chairman, Frank Peabody, was authorized to appoint a committee of five to care for the finances of the organization and raise money for the campaign. A committee of three, consisting of Ed Assay, John P. Hopkins and Dunlap Smith, was appointed to secure permanent headquarters.

To Secure Tickets.
Another committee was appointed, the purpose of which is the securing of tickets to the national convention. Sergeant-at-Arms Martin has, it is said, been dispensing his favors in the way of tickets and appointments with special favor to the local silver organization. The members of the gold organization intend to be present at the convention, and they intend to call on Colonel Martin for a batch of tickets. This duty was delegated to F. S. Peabody, H. S. Robbins, Thomas A. Moran, G. E. Gooch, John F. Clair, and W. W. Johnson. An address is being prepared setting forth for the benefit of visitors the methods by which the silverites captured the local organization. The state committee of gold Democrats has secured headquarters at the Auditorium and at the Palmer house, and they will be opened Thursday.

Arrival of Chairman Harrity.
The arrival of Chairman Harrity and the congregation of the national committee members revived the talk of the gold Democrats bolting the nomination of silver candidates and the adoption of a 16 to 1 platform. Such talk greatly enraged the silver men. Mention bolt at the Sherman House rendezvous of the white metal men. Being beaten in a fair fight, they say, the gold men should line up. An Indiana silver delegate, who refused to permit the use of his name in connection with the story, declared Wednesday that he positively knew that the gold members of the national committee were planning to hold a separate convention and nominate Cleveland if the Chicago convention is delayed into the hands of the soft-money men. The story goes on to say that Hugh Wallace, the Washington committeeman, is trying to organize a flank movement of this sort.

MICHIGAN DELEGATION.

Dickinson Says There'll Be No Contests and Fisher Says There Will.

DETROIT, July 2.—Don M. Dickinson, in an authorized interview printed here Tuesday afternoon, states that there will be no contest at Chicago over the Michigan delegation, and bases his claim upon the fact that no notice of such contest has yet been filed with the national committee, which, he says, will settle all contests. He said that they had no grounds to base a contest on, as their leader, Spencer O. Fisher, had moved to make the nomination of the delegates at large unanimous, and if the contest were successful it would simply result in seating the alternates, who were more pronounced "sound money" men than even the original delegates.

To this expression Spencer O. Fisher and the other silver leaders, including Judge McGrath and Fred A. Baker, take serious objections. Fisher says: "Michigan's delegation to Chicago will vote the unit rule, as instructed by the state convention, but they will be a unit for silver, not gold. We will contest the election of three delegates and also the delegates in several counties."

Nominated for Congress.
DEQUON, Ills., July 2.—The Democrats of the Twenty-first congressional district Tuesday nominated Thomas E. Ford of Clinton county for congress on the first ballot.

Teller's Reception at Denver.
DENVER, July 2.—Senator Teller's home coming Wednesday night was the occasion of the greatest demonstration ever witnessed in Colorado. Thousands of people from all over the state came to the capital to take part in the reception. The senator arrived on a special train at 8 p. m. He was met at Greely by a special reception committee. The general reception committee met the party at the depot. There was a monster parade, after which the distinguished guest was formally welcomed by Governor McIntyre and Mayor McMurray and made a response. The streets were brilliantly illuminated.

Nebraska Republicans.
LINCOLN, July 2.—The Nebraska Republican state convention convened at 10:30 Wednesday. Much enthusiasm was manifested. George W. Collins of Pawnee City was made chairman. A committee on resolutions was appointed and the body adjourned until 2:30. The personnel of the resolutions committee indicate that the St. Louis platform will be adopted without a dissenting vote.

Hobart Visits McKinley.
CANTON, O., July 2.—Governor McKinley drove to the Fort Wayne station shortly after 10 o'clock Wednesday morning to personally meet and greet his invited guest, Hon. Garrett A. Hobart.

Governor McKinley and his guest were driven quickly to the former's home, where a crowd of newspaper men and photographers were waiting. Mr. Hobart was presented to a number of Governor McKinley's neighbors as the pair alighted from the carriages, after which they immediately retired to the library in the major's home.

MINNEAPOLIS REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

ST. PAUL, July 2.—At 12:20 Wednesday afternoon T. Ames Bixby, chairman of the Republican state committee, called the convention to order and Ellsworth Benham of Duluth was chosen temporary chairman. On taking the chair Mr. Benham spoke briefly, eulogizing Republican principles and candidates. After the election of D. M. Gunn for secretary and the appointment of the usual committees on credentials, organization and resolutions a recess was taken.

MARION, Ills., July 2.—The Populists met in convention in this city and nominated John J. Hall, of Johnson, for congress for this, the Twenty-second, district. Delegates were instructed to bring about a union of all non-gold standard forces and recommend silver and gold at 16 to 1.

"ROOTERS" FOR GOVERNOR MATTHEWS.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., July 2.—The Jackson club, numbering 300 members, will leave Sunday night for Chicago. It will be accompanied by a brass band and drum corps, and will travel on a special train. Every member of the club goes to Chicago as a "rooter" for Governor Matthews.

BRITISH OPINION OF MCKINLEY'S SPEECH.

LONDON, July 2.—The Morning Post has an editorial which says: "There is nothing in Mr. McKinley's reply to the committee on notification to preclude his being a party to a compromise similar to that by which the Sherman silver purchase act was passed."

BEN T. CABLE'S THREAT.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Ben T. Cable, who represents the state of Illinois on the Democratic national committee, said Tuesday: "I shall vote for McKinley if the Democrats nominate a free silver man at Chicago."

FAINTS AFTER BEING ROBBED.

Footpads Attack Mrs. Elizabeth Kimball in Her Buggy.
CHICAGO, July 2.—While Mrs. Elizabeth Kimball, wife of Dr. Kimball, whose office is at Van Buren street and California avenue, was driving in California avenue Tuesday evening, she was held up by two men. She was so frightened by the attack that she fainted and fell unconscious to the floor of the buggy. The horse, when released by the thugs, started on a run down the avenue. The animal was caught at Van Buren street and Mrs. Kimball was taken into the office of Dr. Brown in the same building in which her husband has quarters. Dr. Brown applied restoratives and soon revived her.

Mrs. Kimball told what had happened and word was telephoned to the police, but when they arrived they were unable to do any more than take meager descriptions of the men from the physician's wife. When she was revived Mrs. Kimball found that her purse, containing $20, and her earrings were missing.

GREENBACKS TAXABLE IN ILLINOIS.

SPRINGFIELD, July 2.—In reply to the query, "Are greenbacks taxable under the revenue laws of this state?" Assistant Attorney General Newell has rendered an opinion holding that they are. He says: "Formerly greenbacks were not taxable under the act of congress, passed Aug. 13, 1894, all circulating notes of national banking associations, United States tender notes and certificates of the United States payable on demand and circulating or intending to circulate as currency and gold, silver or other coin, are subject to taxation as money on hand or on deposit under the laws of the states and territories. Under this act greenbacks are certainly taxable."

SHOT BY A BURGLAR.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 2.—Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor was shot and seriously wounded by an unknown burglar just after noon Tuesday. Mrs. Taylor states that she was asleep in her chamber when she was awakened by the sound of a man rummaging in her bureau. She asked him what he wanted and he pointed a revolver at her and answered: "Keep quiet or I'll shoot." Despite the threat Mrs. Taylor screamed for help and the man fired, the bullet entering Mrs. Taylor's face just below the right nostril. The burglar fled.

BERRY-PICKERS RUN DOWN BY A TRAIN.

OAKDALE, Mass., July 2.—A party of four berry pickers who were walking on the trestle of the Massachusetts Central railroad near here were overtaken by a train and two of them, Eliza and Anna Auger, were instantly killed. Alexander Auger, their uncle, was severely hurt about the head, and Jeanne La Forme, the other member of the party, sustained a fracture of the leg.

MADE AN ASSIGNMENT.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., July 2.—Hinsdale Bros., woolen manufacturers, whose plant is located in Hinsdale, have made an assignment for the benefit of creditors. Dullness in the woolen market is given as the cause. The mill is the only industry in the town. About two hundred hands are employed.

ACCIDENT TO MAJOR HALFORD.

DENVER, July 2.—Major E. W. Halford, who was President Harrison's private secretary, and is now postmaster of the United States army stationed at Denver, has sustained a compound fracture of his right leg by falling from a bicycle.

EXPLOSION IN AN ARSENAL.

SERIOUS LABOR RIOTS.

They Take Place at Berea and Cleveland, O.

MANY OF THE STRIKERS WOUNDED.

At Berea Over 100 Shots Were Fired and the Sheriff Is Compelled to Call Upon Governor Bushnell for the Militia—At Cleveland About 100 Men Were Injured by the Clubs of the Policemen and Four Arrested.

WEST VIEW, O., July 2.—Over 100 shots were exchanged by deputy sheriffs and strikers Wednesday morning at the Berea stone quarries. No one was killed so far as known. One striker had his leg broken in two places and many have sore heads as the result of a hand to hand conflict. The strikers approached the quarries through a woods with the avowed intention of driving out the non-union men at work. They were met by the sheriff and forty deputies who commanded them to stop. For an answer the strikers began firing and the fight then became general. For a few moments the strikers were repulsed and fell back to the woods.

The men in the quarries are quitting for fear and by the importunities of their wives. It is believed that the strikers will make another dash for the quarries, and if such should prove to be the case serious trouble will follow.

Sheriff Leek in the afternoon telegraphed Governor Bushnell at Columbus that he was unable to hold in check the striking stone quarries at Berea and asked that four companies of militia be ordered to his assistance at once.

WOMEN TAKE A HAND.

While the strikers were at West View the women in overwhelming numbers took the quarry by storm and drove out the workmen with clubs and strong language. The sheriff was at West View with all but a handful of his deputies and in consequence the women had full sway. When the news reached them that some of the strikers had been injured at West View the women were beside themselves with rage, and were only kept in check by the large number of citizens that were hastily summoned from the village. The strikers are rapidly returning from West View and have been calling in their pickets for the purpose of arming them. Sheriff Leek finds that he cannot cope with them, as they scatter and slip across lots at such a lively rate that he cannot keep all points guarded with his men. The strikers would not allow any one inside of their line after the fight, so it was not possible to learn how many of their number had been injured. None of the sheriff's party were hurt.

LABOR RIOT AT CLEVELAND.

One Hundred People Suffer Wounds Inflicted by Policemen.
CLEVELAND, O., July 2.—A pitched battle occurred Tuesday between eighty policemen and a body of strikers from the Brown Hoisting and Conveying Machine company. As a result four of the strikers are in jail and 100 others are suffering with wounds inflicted by the clubs of the policemen. The trouble started at 5 when the non-union employees of the company were dismissed for the day. During the last few days the authorities have been expecting trouble, and they were prepared. The 171 new employees marched to the street cars within a hollow square of policemen. The strikers persuaded the street car employees not to stop for the new men, and the employees with their escort marched to another street corner. There a stone was thrown by some one in the crowd of 2,000 strikers, sympathizers and spectators.

The police, who were under the command of Superintendent McMahon, were ordered to charge. They made eight salies on the crowd. One of the patrolmen named Kadel, was struck on the head with a stone, and so badly disabled that he is now lying at a hospital. When the police saw that one of their number had been injured they started in to kill. One of the strike leaders, James Walsh, was knocked unconscious, and a policeman was in the act of striking him again when an officer stopped him by throwing himself prostrate over the wounded man. At least twenty strikers were knocked down by the police, and many broken heads resulted from the charge. The strikers and their sympathizers and all others in the mob were glad enough at last to escape the police, as the officers made no distinction between the real offenders and the spectators, having been instructed to frighten the crowd. When the last charge was made a number of men were left lying in the street, and many more were wiping blood from their faces. The four men arrested are believed to be the ones who instigated the trouble.

THE U. OF M. MUSEUM

Under Able Efforts Gets More Interesting Every Day.

Prof. Dean C. Worcester has effected a revolution in the methods of the university museum. It consists in making groups of birds, so that important facts concerning their habits and life history may be fully set before the spectator.

As the visitor enters the outh hall of the second story his attention is arrested by a thick false wall, in which is placed a box with a glass front. It contains the nest of a marsh hawk, with the female bird just preparing to enter, and the male bird perched on an old stump among the decayed roots of which the nest is placed. Shrubbery stands thickly about, freshly budded, the young leaves just beginning to give spring freshness to the scene, while long grass blades thinly push themselves up through the dead grass of a past year and among a litter of small sticks and brush.

That nest was found by Mr. Worcester exactly as it lies in the museum case. He brought in with him not only the nest, but the decayed stump, the shrubbery, the ground under the nest with all its litter upon it, and his assistant made molds of the leaves and grasses, so that the wax leaves and wax grass blades now standing in the case are exact reproductions of the perishable part of the scene as it originally existed.

It took many an hour of watching and patience to capture the whole outfit; but Mr. Worcester will lie in wait 10, 15, 20 hours, if necessary, in order to get the parts that really go together for one of these groups.

At the south end of the same hall stands a double group. The section of an oak tree carries the nest of a red-shouldered hawk, with the handsome pair of birds that constructed it. The nest is crowded with eggs. On the ground is a male whip-poor-will, with his mouth wide open, strutting upon a decayed lichen-streaked limb fallen from some tree. Near by is the nest, in a flurry of brown oak leaves. The female whip-poor-will sits quietly in the dried leaves, close by the lichen-streaked limb, and her colors and markings are identical with those of leaf, bark and lichen, so that ordinary observation will not locate her. A more perfect illustration of protective mimicry in plumage could not be given.

Many such groups are in preparation. There will be hundreds of them before the work is done that is marked out. Now several woodpeckers, warblers, a rail and young chick-a-dee, bittern and others are being arranged.

The labels upon the museum cases are very carefully made to be plain to unscientific people. The scientific names are there, but so are the popular names, and explanations are made in plain English, without scientific frills.

Contract for the William Street Sewer.

The bids for building the William street sewer were opened Wednesday. There were ten bids in number and a wide range in figures. The bid of Hutzel & Co. was thrown aside for informality and the board decided to recommend the bid of Sharp & Schultz, of Port Huron, which was the lowest bid. The bids were as follows: Manler & Fink, of Goshen, Ind., $14,943.06; Denler & Scott, of Port Huron, $14,440.35; D. E. Sullivan, of Detroit, $13,710.95; Muir & Sullivan, of Port Huron, $13,080.69; Beck, Hill, Miesner & Stevenson, of Port Huron, $12,834.44; J. A. Mercier, of Detroit, $12,127.28; Hutzel & Co., $11,948; Carlisle & Reed, of Port Huron, $10,674.34; Schneider Bros., of Ann Arbor, $10,340.69; Sharp & Schultz, of Port Huron, $9,453.73.

The bid accepted is a little over $2,000 less than the engineer's estimate which was $11,497.28. There were some funny things about the bids, some bidders charging the same for laying the pipe sixteen feet under ground that they charged for laying it eight. It will be noticed that the Port Huron firm which built the Liberty street sewer, split in three pairs and members of it appear in three of the firms bidding on the William street sewer. Mr. Schultz, one of the successful bidders, was the mason who built the flush tanks of the Liberty street sewer.

The board will require a bond of $15,000 with a local bondsman. The contract is to be let Monday if the firm provide the proper bond and work is expected to begin at once. Four miles of sewer will be built in this district. Sharp & Schultz promise to employ Ann Arbor help with the exception of ten men.

St. Andrew's Church 70th Anniversary

The Protestant Episcopal church of this city was founded in 1827, and the coming 70th anniversary year of 1897, its Rector, Rev. Henry Tatlock, proposes to make a prominent year in its history. It is his desire to collect all the facts relative to the church's history possible, and have a record made that shall be preserved.

If there are any old residents in the city or county who know anything about the early days of St. Andrew's parish, it would be esteemed a great favor if they would write such recollections down and hand them to Rev. Tatlock, or if they can not do that, will let him know about them.

This is an important matter that has been sadly neglected in this parish and there is very little on record that is authentic about the early days of St. Andrew's.

If you can be of assistance in this matter will you not confer with the rector of the parish and help along the good work?

It is also proposed to hold a mission here sometime during the coming year, with the hope of securing a spiritual revival within the parish. In this work Rev. Tatlock hopes to have the assistance and encouragement of all good people of the parish.

LIFE IN CHINA.

The Two Chinese Medical Graduates Do Not Look Forward to It with Pleasure.

The two Chinese girl graduates of the medical department of the U. of M., the Misses Ida Kahn and Mary Stone will do another year of college work, probably at the university of Chicago. In China they will be made part of the staff of one of the hospitals managed by the missionaries of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Speaking of her return to China in the future Miss Kahn said: "I look upon my return to China with very mingled feelings. It is my home and country, and there is the work that I have planned to do. But the ordinary life of a Chinese woman is very much circumscribed. I shall not have the liberty of movement I have enjoyed for the past three years, and I am anxious about the difficulties set by custom and public opinion which I must overcome in prosecuting my chosen profession."

Fr. Kennedy's Reception at Niles.

Fr. Kennedy was given a very large reception and welcome at Niles a week ago tonight. Says the Niles Daily Star:

"Between 7 and 8 p. m., the constant tread of fathers, mothers, sisters, wives, husbands and children belonging to St. Mary's church on the west side could be heard almost transported with glee at the opportunity they had of being able to greet the Rev. Fr. Kennedy in a most hearty welcome. Fr. Kennedy was here before in the time of Rev. Fr. Cappon and received the Bishop's orders to other fields where he made so many friends that more than 1,000 names petitioned the Right Rev. Bishop to reconsider the edict of recall, but the Bishop knew best and our good Fr. Kennedy, retired five years ago to return to us again.

"The word 'Welcome' is not sufficiently strong to show the heartiness with which he was received and the adjectives are weak to show the congregation's delight to have Fr. Kennedy again as their guide and pastor. In the center of the great hall were seated some of our good citizens with Fr. Kennedy at the head with his genial face—he well knowing this testimonial was spontaneous."

Then follows an account of a literary and musical program. Says the Star: "The third part consisted of an admirable address of welcome by Mr. Albert Skalla, to which Rev. Fr. Kennedy at first very humorously responded, and touchingly replied at the end."

The Elks' New Lodge Rooms.

The following description of the new lodge rooms of Ann Arbor Lodge, B. P. O. E., is taken from the columns of the Evening Times:

"Their extent and completeness is a matter of great surprise. Besides the main lodge room, 38x43 feet in size, finished in natural woods, satin finish floor and heavy oak furniture there is a large banquet room, parlors with toilet rooms for both ladies and gentlemen, a kitchen, dressing room and waiting room, altogether as perfect a set of club rooms as can be found anywhere in the state. The ventilation is according to a novel design. The rooms will be heated throughout with steam. The carpenters are putting the finishing touches to the woodwork, the decorators will ready quickly, and the rooms will be ready for occupation by July 16, though no formal opening will occur until fall. Arrangements will at once be made to keep the rooms open from 11 a. m. until 11 p. m. each day. They will certainly be more complete than any lodge rooms in the city. The Elks seem bound to take a foremost place among the benevolent orders of the city. The lodge already has a splendid membership and all will rejoice at their entrance into their new home."

Another Cave-in at Pittston.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 2.—Another cave-in took place in the Twin shaft at Pittston shortly after 3 o'clock Wednesday morning. The rescuers were in a spot near where the original fall took place when the crash came. The cave is said to be an immense one, composed mostly of rock. The rescuers have been driven back nearly two hundred feet and the outlook towards reaching the entombed men is very discouraging. The roof continues to show signs of cracking and more falls are looked for during the day.

TICKETS SOLD TWICE.

How the Alton Railway Company Was Robbed.

One Conductor Would Take Up Tickets, Fail to Punch Them, and Turn Them Over to Another Conductor Who Would Take Them to the Station from Which They Were Sold—The Agent Would Then Sell Them Again.

CHICAGO, July 2.—Officials of the Chicago and Alton railroad have just discovered that a gang of employees, among whom are passenger train conductors and station agents, working with Pullman car porters, have robbed the railway company of $15,000. Sufficient investigation into the gigantic steal has been made to show a conspiracy, and thus far three conductors and two station agents have lost their positions. Others may be discharged when the full extent of the conspiracy is discovered. The company is making all plans for the criminal prosecution of the offenders. The steal was accomplished through co-operation of a station agent with passenger conductors on railroad tickets from Springfield, Ill., to Chicago. On an average, so far as can be estimated by Auditor Kelsey's reports, $40 a day was stolen, and the larceny was in progress fully a year—probably a little longer.

Scheme Is a New One.

The scheme originated and executed by the rogues is an entirely new and startling one, as may be judged from the fact that it worked for one whole year and was exposed only by the merest accident, the company's officials not knowing that the road was being deprived of about one-half of its revenue from the Springfield-Chicago through business. In a nutshell the scheme of robbery was for the conductor of the train which leaves Springfield for Chicago at noon to take up but not punch the tickets sold at the Springfield office on the noon train. The meeting point of this train with the St. Louis train, which leaves Chicago about 9 o'clock in the morning, is about half way between Chicago and Springfield. The conductor of the Springfield train for Chicago would see the conductor of the St. Louis train at the meeting point and give him the bunch of tickets he had taken up from passengers for Chicago.

Station Agent's Part.

The conductor of the St. Louis train arriving in Springfield at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, it is said, would hand over the bunch of tickets to the ticket seller in the Springfield office, and he would sell them again to passengers for Chicago on the evening or night train. The tickets, although used twice, were good, for the reason the stamp of the one-day limit was good. The railroad company got only the money for the tickets when they were first taken from the ticket rack, as the ticket seller at Springfield sold them again in preference to tickets from the rack. The conspiracy was completed when the ticket seller and the passenger train conductors came to an understanding as to the handling and sale of the tickets. At first the railway officials believed there were but three conductors in the game, but subsequent developments make it almost sure there were at least five and probably six conductors conversant with the scheme.

Discovery of the Thefts.

The discovery of the steal was purely accidental. A few days before the meeting of the Republican national convention at St. Louis a mysterious package of railroad tickets was found on the tracks of the road at Atlanta, Ill. The finder carried them into the depot, and turned them over to a young woman who has charge of the Atlanta office. As the tickets were stamped and apparently good, the young woman started telegraphic inquiry with the Springfield office concerning their ownership. The guilty Springfield agent heard the inquiry made, and at once called upon the station agent at Williamsville, the first station on the Alton north of Springfield, and persuaded him to go to Atlanta and get possession of the tickets and hush up all inquiry concerning them. All of this peculiar business over the wire was heard in different quarters, and the result was an official investigation. It was then learned that something was wrong with the Springfield office concerning the tickets, and a searching investigation was made.

Routine of the Work.

It was soon discovered that the tickets were found in a St. Louis morning paper nicely folded up so they could not drop out accidentally. Then it was discovered the two trains met at Atlanta (not the usual meeting place) on the day the tickets were found and that the conductor of the north-bound train handed the conductor of the south-bound train a newspaper as the south-bound train went by with the right of way, running about twelve miles an hour. The conductor of the south-bound train failed to catch the paper with its precious burden and when it fell it was too late to go back and pick it up.

Vice President Chappell of the Alton said: "We know the stealing has been going on all of one year. One auditor has checked up the Springfield office thoroughly and we think the average may not have been as high as $40 a day. But it was enough. We have discharged two station agents and three conductors. The name of the guilty agent at Springfield is George Council, but I am not at liberty to give the names of the conductors, as we have not yet concluded the investigation."

State Board of Pharmacy.

Last week at Star Island, St. Clair Flats, the state board of pharmacy, of which A. C. Schumacher, of this city, is a member, held its annual meeting. There were 73 applications for registered pharmacist certificates and 11 for certificates as assistants. Of this number 23 were successful and duly obtained registered pharmacist certificates. It is a higher percentage than usual and there was a great improvement in the papers submitted. Of the number who applied seven were graduates of the department of pharmacy at the U. of M., and every one of them passed.

It being the annual meeting of the board the officers were elected as follows: Stanley E. Parkill, of Owosso, president; F. W. R. Perry, of Detroit, secretary; George Gundrum, of Ionia, treasurer. The next meeting of the board will be at Marquette, Aug. 6 and 7.
