ors of Washtenaw County Will Place in Charge of Affairs Tuesday, Nov. 3rd.

On the 10th day of September the democrats and silver men of Washtenaw county met in convention and placed in nomination a county ticket, which has every element of political strength and is worthy of the support of every elector who desires to see the affairs of the county placed in the hands of honest, intelligent, clean men. They are men who stand high in the estimation of their neighbors, and who have the confidence and esteem of the communities in which they live. All of them have filled various positions of public trust with credit. As private citizens their record is above reproach. The citizens of Washtenaw county who desire an econom ical and efficient administration of

With a warm heart, incorruptible integrity, good common sense, an accurate knowledge of the law, good business abilities, he is just the man to pass upon the estates of the widows and orphans and to save them worry and expense. He will make one of the very best judges of probate this county has ever had. Residing in the city, he will devote his whole time to the office, and can always be found by those having business in the probate court, and that business will be correctly done. ## SILVER AND WAGES.

How Free Silver Benefits the Laboring Man.

FEWER IDLE WITH RISING PRICES.

Rising Prices Stimulate Production-More Production, More Work-More Work, Better Wages-The Worker's Interests Lie with Silver, the Drones with Gold.

How will the wages of labor be affected by the depreciation of money and the corresponding rise in the price of commodities which, it is universally conceded, will be the effect of the unrestricted coinage of silver money? An intelligent answer to this question involves not only the study of the effect of the rise and fall of the purchasing power of money upon the remuneration of labor in the past, the a discussion of the present conditions of labor and its future prospects under the existing gold standard.

We are met by the contention that the purchasing power of wages has increased under a gold standard-that the decline in the price of the necessaries of life has been greater than with a rush this fall. Dr. Fitzgerald the decline in the price of labor. In reports that the classes are already as some favored localities and in some large as they were the middle of last favored trades this is true, not on account year, even though so many students are of the gold standard, however, but by occupied with football on the various virtue of the thorough organization of of laboring men. But we are not to estimate the average rate of wages by the nominal wages paid to those employed. Because 100 men find employment at any particular trade at $2 per diem, we cannot justly assume, without further investigation, that $2 per diem is the real rate of wages for that trade. We must take into consideration all of the men entering into competition for that $2. If there are another 100 idle men seeking employment in the same trade then the real rate is but $1 per day. The real rate of wages at any particular time or place can be obtained only by dividing the Twenty-one prominent Repu wage fund — the gross amount of Milford will vote for Bryan. to labor annually - by the number of men competing for employment. Measured in this way the rate of wages was never so low in the United States as at the present time. And there is the further fact to consider that as the appreciation of the gold standard of value continues this rate must become still lower and one by one those who are now at work will be transfered to the army of the unemployed, an army that at the present time is estimated to have in its resulted Bryan, 49; McKinley, 6; doubtranks one-third of the men who are ful, 1. under the necessity of earning a livelihood by manual labor.

Mr. Bryan says it is not because the monopolies, trusts and corporations of this country are afraid that he will not enforce the law and protect life and property, that they are opposed to him in this struggle, but because they are afraid that he will make those monopolies, trusts and corporations obey the law, just as every citizen in the humble walks of life is now obliged to obey it.

THE REASON WHY.

The Courier objects because the Argus has called attention to the rapidity with which indebtedness and its concomitant sheriff and mortgage sales have increased in this county under the "sound" money which the Courier admires so much. As a proof that the Argus is wrong it cites the number of the first few years after the demonetization of silver in 1873 and the number of such advertisements which appeared in that paper last year.

A fatal accident resulting from the dangerous practice of jumping on and city, occurred in the Michigan Central yards on Monday evening, and Daniel Pankey, the 12 years old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pankey, residing at No.

Fuller st., lost his life. In company with Jimmie Blithman, Peter Long, Mark Freeman and other the Michigan Central yards at the time tne 4:58 east bound fast passenger train came into the station. When the train, which was a long one, began to pull quence. Young Pankey was riding on the fourth car from the end of the train and when he jumped his foot slipped, he lost his hold and he fell striking the back of his head on the side of the coach. From there he fell to the ground with his head on the rail and the part of his skull crushing it away and "We declare that it is the duty of causing his death instantly. THE GOLD DEMOCRATS.

With a Ticket Bolstered Up by Republican Money.

The so-called sound money Democratic ticket is but a stool-pigeon for the Republican cause. It is bolstered up by Republican money, and is meant only to divert Democratic support from Bryan. The gold leaders who have desserted the nominees of the Chicago convention are not honest. They will not vote for Palmer and Buckner. Ballots cast for that ticket will be given by privates seduced and fooled into an allegiance to supposed friends. The generals, one and all, from Grover Cleveland down to the voluble Sheehan, of Ann Arbor, will vote directly for McKinley and Hobart, and the cost of their campaign is the price paid for their votes.

To show this, it is only necessary to state that, TO SECURE THE AUDI-TORIUM AT DETROIT FOR BRY-AN'S SPEECH IN THAT CITY, THE DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE WAS OB-LIGED TO NEGOTIATE WITH THE REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE, WHO HAD ENGAGED THE HALL FOR BOURKE COCKRAN'S ANTI-BRYAN SPEECH. MARK HANNA IS "PAY-ING THE FREIGHT," and the depth of the conspiracy against the Chicago ticket may be judged by that fact.

Democrats must be careful of every trap thus laid, not only to defeat them in the present campaign, but to so demoralize their organization that future success must be improbable.

Republican silver men may also see the danger of their blind allegiance name. It is a duty they owe themthousands of good, earnest believers been professed by their party organithe pushing of minor considerations, and who try now to speak for them." for the purpose of righting the great wrong that has been more destructive

No man can be true to himself who, believing in true bimetallism, yet votes for monometallism by supporting Mc-Kinley. He gives the lie to his professions, however honest he may imagine his purpose to be. If a Republican, he publican party for success. If you but fastens the fetters of gold the more firmly; if a Democrat he but aids in the destruction of his party.

The battle of the ballots is only a short time away. The issue is plain, Bimetallism is only possible at the present time by the election of Bryan and Sewall. Monometallism will be more firmly entrenched as a result of the election of McKinley and Hobart.

BRYAN IN MICHIGAN.

He Is Greeted by Enthusiastic Throngs Everywhere.

MAKES MANY TELLING SPEECHES.

Which Carry Conviction to Thousands of Hearers-Over Fifty-five Speeches Made in Four Days Make the State of Michigan a Banner State.

Oct. 14, and in twenty-four hours he had traversed the upper peninsula, made twelve speeches and addressed 40,000 people. In this time he had traveled 435 miles, shaken hands with bluff miners and woodsmen, too numerous to count. He made five-minute speeches at Watersmeet, Iron river and Norway, half-hour speeches at Escanaba and Ishpeming and talked for an hour and fifteen minutes at Marqette. Crossing at Mackinaw on the morning of Oct. 15, Mr. Bryan went to Petoskey where he was greeted by 5,000 people including many Grand Army men in uniform.

At Watersmeet Mr. Bryan said: submitted to the American people as it is today, since the time of Andrew Jackson. At that time the people met and discussed and decided whether a national bank should run the country, and in this campaign they are discussing and are going to decide whether the financiers shall run this country in the interests of foreign financiers, or whether the American people shall run it themselves in their own interest. Mr. Bryan's next stop was at Florence, Wis. A portion of his speech ran: "We have been trying the gold standard for twenty years, and if there is anybody who believes that it has been a success and that we ought to maintain it still because it has been a success that person has not had much influence in national conventions, because in all the time we have had the gold standard in this country not a single party has ever declared that the single standard has been a success. (A voice-"We have not got enough money.") I find a great many of that kind. If there is anybody who has too much let me advise him to vote the Republican ticket, because you won't have too much of it for the next favor years if you do."

At Iron Mountain Mr. Bryan was received by a very large crowd. He said: Evil of a Rising Dollar.

"You say that a dollar rising in value every day is a good thing for the farmer, because when he gets a dollar it will be a good dollar. Put the emphasis thing for the laboring man to be paid F with dollars which buy a great deal. Remember that the laboring man is interested in getting a chance to work with good dollars. Mr. Bryan was presented at Escanaba with a badge of the national colors, to prosperity than war, pestilence, or surmounted by a crown of silver. He said in part:

They would answer 'Haven't got any.' I will be hungry after I heard the speech. But if he is William J. Bryan reached Michigan, like the average advocate of the gold standard, after he describes this good food and has told me that he had not any and I asked him what I am going to do about it, he says, 'Just have confidence that you have eaten it."

FALSE ASSERTION.

Supply of Money in the United States Is

Not Already Sufficient. The assertion that our supply of money in the United States is already sufficient is palpably false. According to the latest estimates of the treasury we have only $23,28 a head in gold, silver and paper, while France has $36.13. Of our circulation, $8.41 in gold is now 'The money question has never been withdrawn and hoarded and as long as greenbacks are treated as gold certificates they, too, will be hoarded. Our actual circulation, including all gold, silver, greenbacks and national bank notes used from week to week in actual business is somewhere between $10 and $15 a head, and it is not over $15 at the outside.

The insufficiency of our supply of silver is demonstrated on the face of the treasury figures, which show that while France has $12.94 of silver per head of population, we have only $8.77.

If we did nothing more during Bryan's administration than increase our stock of silver to the per capita of France, it would restore prosperity to the country, giving to all classes, and especially to retail merchants and arti- John Smith Presents a Number of Perti sans in cities like St. Louis, such profits as no legitimate business has produced while currency contraction has been going on.

If the people permit permanent prostration to be forced on the country. they will have no one to blame but themselve. The cause of existing conditions is clear. The remedy is plain. It is for the people themselves to determine whether or not it shall be applied, as they can do by asserting themselves against the tories, pultocrats and oligarchs who declare that it is folly for Americans to attempt action without the consent of London.

> JOHN SMITH. A Free Ballot,

One of the planks of the Republican platform "demands that every citizen of the United States shall be allowed to cast one free and unrestricted ballot, and that such ballot shall be counted and returned as cast." That reads very prettily indeed and the spirit in which it is exemplified is shown in the coercion being practiced in every manufacturing plant and railroad controlled by gold advocates in this country. Employes threatened with the loss of their situations unless they bow to the behest of their gold masters and vote as they dictate, is a strange interpretation of the phrase "one free and unrestricted ballot." Satan himself smiles at the duplicity practiced by his Republican vice regents. Boys, step into that booth and vote as you consscientiously see fit.-Kalamazoo Ga-

Immense Loss of Michigan Farmers in Wealth.

GOLD VALUE OF AN ACRE'S CROP.

How It Has Fallen in Twenty-six Yearsthe Farmer, His Immense Annual Loss Through It and the Remedy.

Because of un avorable conditions ability to purchase the products of Michigan farmer knows, and it has other industries; manufactures and occurred under the gold measure of commerce suffer; railroad earnings values.
are lessened; mills, factories and furnaces are often idle; wage-workers earning less lose the power to purcommon knowledge. They illustrate iness is the result.

The cause is in sight. By the census of 1890 about 45 per cent., or 30,000,000 in all, of our people lived on farms. In twenty years the loss of ability to purchase by this large class has fallen fully 50 per cent. As great producing force of the nation, so

This has not come about through a relative increase of our farming population. The census of 1870 showed that 52 per cent. of our people lived on farms; in 1880 the proportion was nearly 49 per cent.; and in 1890 about 45 per Twenty-six years ago farm products brought satisfactory prices, so that 52 per cent. of our people had ample revenue; their purchases of manu-factured articles were so liberal that mills and factories ran full time; mill owners, producers of raw material, merchants, transporters -all engaged in production, distribution and construction-were remuneratively employed, and the result was general prosperity.

Money was plenty.

In 1866 a law was enacted to contract the currency by burning $4,000,000 a month. It brought on hard times and was repealed in 1868. In 1869 an act was passed "to strengthen the public credwhich declared that all war bonds, payable by their terms in "lawful money"—greenbacks were "lawful money"—should be paid in "coin." in 1870 a funding act was passed that made all bonds issued under it payable in coin. Gold and silver were coin. In 1873 a colnage act was passed which dropped the silver dollar, provided for a trade dollar and smaller coin and making silver money a legal tender for only $5 in a single payment. Thus all the war debt became payable in gold. Jan. 1, 1879, this country resumed specie payments on a gold basis. Soon after that date the decline in price of farm lands and farm products commenced. Every Michigan farmer who stops to think will realize that the decline has taken place under the gold standard, for the law of 1873 made, for the first time in our history, 25.8 grains of standard gold "the unit of value."

For eighteen years, from 1878 to 1896, all of our great agricultural staples have declined in price under the gold unit of value. This is indisputable. While there have been limited periods when the price of some product, as wheat for example during the Russian famine four years ago, has been higher than for the preceding year, the general trend, ever since the resumption of specie payments on a gold basis, has been downward.

Take-Sauerbeck's table-excellent authority-showing the average prices of silver and wheat from 1872 to 1893 in a staple cash crop of Michigan farm-

PER OZ. PER BU $1.11 1.01 1.06

This shows that from 1872 to 1893 silver and wheat, their prices measured by gold, declined with remarkable regularity. Both went down together. In other words, gold appreciated from year to year, and it required larger quantities of these products to purchase it. By demonetizing silver the demand for gold was increased and this inevitably enhanced its value, the evidence of which appeared in a general depression of prices of other com-modities. Since 1893, when the further purchase and coinage of silver was discontinued, prices have fallen still lower, as every Michigan farmer is painfully aware. This is not theory. an indisputable fact. Prices of farm staples have fallen below profitable production under the gold standard. This tells the whole story.

While this decline of prices has been going on the cost of production has not been much reduced-statisticians placing it for twenty years at only 5 per cent .- yet prices for staple farm products averaging 82 per cent. more for the five years ended with 1875, than during the last five years for which returns are given. This is especially true of the five great staples-wheat, corn, oats, hay and cotton-which occupied 195,000,000 of the 206,000,000 acres of crops in 1893. Taking the five years-1866-70-and the average coin price of the five prod-ucts named was $15.67 per acre; for the final successful raid on silver three years ago times have been harder than 1871-5 it was $15.19; for 1876-80 it was $11.88; for 1881-5 it was $11.28; for 1886-90 it was $9.81; for 1895, according to the official report of the department of agriculture, the value of wheat per acre was $6.99, of corn $6.91, of oats $5.87 per acre. These official figures reveal in a startling light the downward trend of prices under the gold measure of val-

Bear in mind at the same time that 1866 witnessed the first contraction of the currency; that in 1869 the war debt, by its terms, payable in "lawful money," was made payable in "coin;" that in 1873 silver was demonetized and prices today. gold made the sole "unit of value:" that in 1879 the resumption of specie payments on a gold basis took place; that while there was a limited coinage of silver as token money from 1878 to its extent. They confirm what all know. If present prices cover the cost of production, say $8.15 an acre, it is evident that the purchasing and debtpaying power of farmers as a class has been wiped out under the gold stand-ard. Thirty million people live on farms. Under the present conditions. prices of farm products have declined, reducing the purchasing power of the having been demonetized and gold has waned the prosperity of others, ducing the value of primary money one-half, they receive less, after allowing for the cost of production, than ordinary wages, and have lost fully one-half of their wealth in the depreciated value of their farms. Had their wealth been in gold, they would have gained; being in property, they have lost; for the effect of an appreciated measure of values is always seen in the debasement of property.

The average revenue for each acre in staple crops, commencing with 1866, when currency contraction began-the total circulation then was about $50 per capita, some tables placing it at $56.76-comparing each five-year period with 1893, was greater per acre by the following sums and per centages: 1866-70-$7.59, or 93 per cent.

1871-75—$7.04, or 86 per cent. 1876-80—$3.73, or 46 per cent. 1881-85—$3.13, or 38 per cent.

1886-90-$1.74, or 21 per cent. These comparisons are for the periods named with prices per acre of staple crops in 1893. For example, the annual average amount received per acre for the five years of 1866-70 was $7.59 more than for 1893, and so on for each period. This gradual and great diminution of the revenue of our farmers tells the story of business depression, increased number of failures, and general discontent that have accompanied the gold unit of values. the enormous yearly aggregate of loss is more clearly seen by multiplying the acres devoted to staple crops by the declines in acreage value since 1866.

were devoted to crops in 1893. It follows then that the purchasing and debt-paying power of American farmers that year was $1,563,000,000 less than it would have been if they had received the prices paid in 1866-70; less by $1,-450,000,000 in 1893 than the annual average for 1871-75; less by $768,000,000 in 1893 than the annual average for 1876-80: less by $645,000,000 in 1893 than the annual average for 1881-85; less by $385,000,000 than the annual average for the five years ended with 1890. This shows the dwindling revenue of our farmers. Michigan has about onethirtieth of the population and the same proportion of farmers in the United States, and on this basis their loss of revenue would be over $52,000,-000 a year, or about $12,000,000 more than all the taxes paid by the people of the state a year under national and state authority.

silver and wheat from 1872 to 1893 in Double the price of wheat, making the United States—wheat having been it $1 to $1.30 a bushel, the price it brings in silver countries where the monetary unit has not been changed, and not only would several million more bushels be raised, but this with the enhanced price would make the total crop worth some $30,000,000 a year instead of only about $10,000,000, as last year. Give the same conditions to the rest of the country, with wheat at $1 a bushel and other farm products in proportion, and there would be fewer idle factories, and wage-earners gen-erally would be vastly better off than they now are.

Values! Prices! What creates them? Of course there is supply and demand. But this is not all. Money is made by law a measure of values-a "unit of value" the law says referring to 25.8 grains of standard gold-as well as a medium of exchange. Professor Walk-er calls the standard dollar "the common denominator of all values." it prices are determined, subject to the slight annual fluctuations of supply and demand. We know that the monetary unit was changed in 1873. Prior to that time our monetary units were of gold and silver; the two metals coined into money measured values; since then gold alone has performed that function. Restore silver to free and unlimited coinage as primary money, at the 16 to 1 ratio with and on the same terms as gold, and the number of monetary units would soon be doubled, prices would advance, there would be more buying and selling, and prosperity would again come to our farmers and through them to all other

The law of 1873 first dropped the silver dollar out of our coinage system; it was partially restored in 1878; again it was dropped in 1893; and we appeal to the common experience of our farmers to verify the statement that since the final successful raid on silver three "Dollars or units," as provided by the coinage act of 1792, are not composed of 37114 grains of pure silver; but existing law, enacted in 1873, declares that the gold dollar, "at the standard weight of 25.8 grains shall be the unit of value."

Silver was thus deprived of its character as a price-maker, which had existed for eighty-one years, and not being full primary money is not, jointly with gold, a measure of values. Gold alone has been "the unit of value," as the law of 1873 declares, for the past twenty-three years, and so far as money is concerned is the dictator of

Under the present law-an abundantly efficient cause owing to the increased demand for gold as a money metal-the serious decline in prices of 1893, any further supply of silver farms and farm products has taken money was stopped by the repeal of the Sherman silver purchase act in 1893; and that during all these years gold has measured the value of farm products—their average value per acre shrinking more than one-half, and the only dependence year. Benton said: "All property is at the mercy of the money power." The experience of Michigan farmers proves this. Demonetizing silver increased the demand for gold and enhance its value. Twenty-five and eight-tenths grains are worth about twice as much as they were twenty years ago, and hence will buy twice as much land and its products. We have, therefore, as inevitable consequences of the gold standard, a decline in prices of all staple products of the farms and a similar decline in the value of the farms themselves, until crops have fallen in price below profitable production, the land has ceased to be desirable security for money, and all kinds of dependent business are reduced in value.

With farm products again restored to prices that would afford fair remuneration for labor and capital employed in production, as would be the case with a fairer and honester measure of values than gold can furnish, owing to the large demand for it and its limited supply, the increased purchases of goods for the 30,000,000 people living on farms would aid materially in keeping the spindles in factories busy; labor in cities would find larger employment; money would be more abundant; confidence would be restored, and a new era of prosperity would awaken to new and vigorous effort the energy and enterprise of our people.

Farmers of Michigan! the decay of your prosperity has come upon you and has increased under the gold standard, and the only hope of its revival lies in the restoration of silver to its equal partnership with gold as a money

This is the supreme question, to be decided by your votes, in the present presidential contest. Gold and depression you now have; the alternative is silver and prosperity. E. W. BARBER.

State Taxation Increasing.

While the value of the farms has been steadily depreciating, and the price of what the farmer sells has been rapidly declining, the state taxes, except for the two Democratic years, have been rapidly increasing. Here are the figures of the state taxes for the past eleven years

1886.....$1,202,161.67 1887.....$1,860,085.16 1888..... 1,458,466.04 1889..... 1,821,521.10 1890.... 1,263,744.00 1891.... 1,443,849.61 1892.... 1,419,210.61 1893.... 1,931,214.69 1894..... 1,689,135.89 1895..... 3,013,919.52 1896.... 2,068,538.62

Compare the two years of Winans' Democratic administration with the two years of the Rich second administration. During the two Democratic years (1891-92) the state taxes were $2,863,060.22. During the two years of As already stated, 206,000,000 acres Rich's last administration the state taxes are $5.082,458.14, an increase of $2,229,397.92. In other words the state taxes for the past two years have been about 78 per cent. larger than for the two years of the Winans administra-tion. Will the voters of Michigan indorse the high taxation indorsed by the present administration?

I trust in the common heart of all more than in the private scheming of any financial syndicate. I don't excuse the ignorance of the masses, I don't celebrate their poverty, I don't ignore their frailties, but I say that they are far nearer the truth regard-ing all social and political problems than those hoodlum students of Yale, whose only argument is an insane col-

England, it is said fixes the market price of our surplus wheat.

But it cost England only a dollar. In 1892, silver was 87 cents an ounce and wheat was less than 80 cents here In 1894 silver sold to England for 74 cents an ounce, and wheat was 76 cents a bushel.

In 1896 England could buy silver for 64 cents an ounce, and trade her ounce of silver for a bushel of wheat in India, and of course the price of American wheat had to follow.

America furnishes both silver and wheat.

England has to buy both. Farmers, why let her buy silver for 65 cents, and trade it for a bushel of wheat, when by opening our own mints and coining it into money, the same ounce would cost England 1.29 in gold?

Then if she gave an ounce of silver for wheat in India, where would the price of American wheat stand? The India farmer gets an ounce of

At the council meeting Monday evening the rules were suspended and on recommendation of the board of public works $1,051.37 was allowed to Sharp & Schultz, the William st. sewer contractors with which to pay their labor bills. Against this allowance there was outstanding assignments to the amount of $401.68. With the balance, nearly $650, Mr. Sharp skipped on Tuesday morning. Mr. Schultz had been called away Saturday evening by office of G. Martha at the meeting of a telegram announcing that his wife the grand chapter Order of Eastern was ill. When the laborers found that the checks which had been given them would not be paid at the bank they quit work and the sewer on which there is only about 150 feet of straight ditch to dig and some house connections to make, was at a standstill.

On Wednesday Abraham Beck, the bondsman for the contractors, and Mr. Schultz, the remaining partner, agreed to go on and finish up the contract. The men were guaranteed their back pay and all the pay that would become due them by the board of public works, and they went back to work at noon. Showing Why Republicans Should Vote for Bryan.

They Argue on the Financial Question. - A Washtenaw Republican's Views.

Editor of the Argus: I have been especially struck with the wonderful inconsistency of those men who are shouting in one breath for a high tariff and high prices, and in the next for the gold standard and low prices. While every student knows that there is much of evil, injustice and danger in a protective tariff, still if the republicans had declared for a high tariff and free coinage silver, they would at least have been consistent. Now, however, every argument against silver is equally an argument against high tariff, and every argument for high tariff is also for silver, and in this locality was 17,566, of periodicals 1,390. The gold speakers will no longer allow questions or debate.

Their first argument seems to be that if prices are raised by free silver as wages never follow the rise of prices objection does not lie equally against raising prices by tariff.

but says the farmer will have to pay higher prices for everything he buys, and so the increase will be nominal and not real. Will not the tariff also raise the price of what he buys? Can the abroad and will not silver raise those 62 years, 11 months. They lift up their voices in lamentation if a dollar is spent outside the country and seem to think that it is the sole object of trade to accumulate a large stock of gold, and at the same our own silver for no other reason that money plenty and prices high. They claim, also, that free silver will emexportations both by rising the cost of tion abroad? Do they not tell us to depend upon a home market and say we ought to buy everything at home? Why then should they fear to embarass foreign trade?

McKinley says free coinage will cut wages in two and all. I can get out of that is that the dollar will buy only half as much, and I can't make those statements agree. Mr. Harrison says Which the Protectionists Use that free silver will cause contraction, by which I understand low prices, and instantly says that it will raise prices of everything. When I called a gold bug editor's attention to it he said that free silver would send prices up and send them down at the same time, and I'd believe him when I see him turn a grindstone both ways at once. As for the smaller fry, editors, professors, lawyers, politicians, etc., that I have heard, unless I have forgotten all I ever learned, they were falsifying every fact of history, breaking every rule of logic, and going against every principle of political economy, and their harangues were a wild chaos of crazy arguments, incoherent and conflicting statements, lying insinuations, violent abuse and frenzied appeals to unreason. Now, Mr. Editor, won't you kindly take advice and inform me whether I have the silver craze or these then have the gold craze and pretty hard too, for certainly we can't all be in our right RUFUS CRIPPEN.

FOR CORONERS. The gentlemen who have been chosen to make the run for these positions on the ticket are both well known and run away with that element of discretion that is so necessary to a coroner in deciding whether it is necessary to hold an inquest or not.

Dr. Ernest A. Clark, has been a practicing physician of Ann Arbor for the past six years, is a man of good sound, business, common sense, and will, if elected, administer the affairs of his important office in just that kind of a way. Capt. Walter P. Beach, of Ypsilanti, the other candidate for coroner, was born in Hartford, Conn., and for the ten years following his 13th birthday followed the occupation of a sailor, rising in that time to the position of rising in that time to the position of for the purpose of registering new first mate which he held in 1845 when electors in said Ward in said City, who he retired from a seaman's life, having had his feet and hands frozen. E, 10th Mich. Infantry. In 1865 he came to Ypsilanti and has lived there since that time. In his business as a real estate and insurance agent he gained the confidence of his fellow citizens and in 1891 was elected a justice of the peace, which office he still holds. He has also held other offices of trust, having been sheriff of Lapeer county, his home prior to the war and a deputy United States marshal. Mr. Beach will make a good conservative coroner and one who will have the confidence of the people.

FOR SURVEYOR.

Charles S. Woodard, of Ypsilanti, the candidate for county surveyor, has been a resident of Washtenaw since 1830. He was reared in Pittsfield and acquired his education by his own exertions. He commenced the practise of his profession as a surveyor at the age of 19. For three years he was in the service of the state in the upper and lower peninsulas, and since 1851 has worked largely for railroad companies.
