City of Ann Arbor Is Sued in the Hill St. Sewer Matter.

A BIG SUM AT STAKE

And the City or Sewer District Must Foot the Bill.

The Sewer Cost $31,000, of Which $14,000 Has Been Paid.-Ford Estate Asks That the Tax Be Declared Illegal.

A suit was commenced yesterday The 78th anniversary of the found. ary speech, who in a businesslike and against the city in the Hill st. sewer matter, which if it goes against the city will give rise to the utmost conwhich we live" and also some of its fusion and may possibly saddle a heavy shortcomings, which he hoped to see tax on the city. The sewer tax in this remedied to some extent during his district was $31,458.24, of which on coming two years of office. Speaking April 1, of this year, $14,345.72 had been paid in, leaving about $17,000 nection with the city, he said that Ann still outstanding. If this tax should be declared illegal, the question of how the money to meet these sewer bonds outstanding for this sewer would prove a troublesome one. The decision of the court might permit of a reassessment of the district. In this trict fare? Would be have the money voluntarily paid refunded, in opposition to the ordinary rule of law? It is but fair to state that the city logel, of Muskegon, Grand Master; R. ous gains in membership even rivaling authorities do not seem to be greatly disturbed by the suit, evidently expecting the city to win.

A bill was filed in the circuit court yesterday by Bryant Walker, of Detroit, administrator de bonis non with the will annexed of Dr. Corydon L. Ford, deceased, against the city of Ann Arbor and William Rehfuss, the county treasurer, asking that the sewer assessments against the Ford property in Lateral Sewer District No. 3, be declared illegal and that the county treasurer be enjoined from collecting them. The return day is made May 12.

The bill sets forth the proceedings leading up to the building of the Hill seat of honor besides the grand master of a poorhouse. Some are there, but it street sewer; the declaration by the council, June 10, 1894, that the conlers, of Detroit, who was unavoidably tends over the civilized world and struction of the Hill street sewer was detained and did not arrive until after whose members are always ready to expedient; the report of the sewer comhelp one another. Y. M. C. A. Annual Banquet.

The Woman's Auxiliary Entertained the Sustaining Members.

Nearly 200 people attended the third annual banquet given by the Woman's Auxiliary to the sustaining members of the Y. M. C. A. on Friday evening last and they filled three long tables extending from end to end of the three rooms of the association which had for this occasion been thrown into one. The menu was a bountiful and toothsome one, and was served by a number of the active members of the association clad in white jackets. During the discussion of the edibles the Ann Arbor Mandolin and Guitar Club played several selections of music. J. A. C. Hildner asked the blessing and Eugene S. Gilmore officiated as toastmaster.

The program of toasts was grouped under the general subject of "The need of a permanent home for our association," and it was interspersed with the following musical numbers: Miss Lillie Mae Volland gave a beautiful vocal solo accompanied on the piano by Miss Minnie Davis and on the violin by Allie Long. Ray Warren sang a catchy solo with good effect. Alberto Long gave two very pretty violin solos, and Mrs. Stella Sebastian McClure gave a very pleasing vocal solo, accompanied on the piano by Miss Elsa Liebig. Under the general toast splendid speeches were made by active association workers as follows: Dr. case how would the man who has already paid his sewer tax in this disvs. Landlord"; Rev. J. W. Bradshaw on "Profit and loss"; H. G. VanTuyl, president of the state executive committee, on "A business proposition" G. Frank Allmendinger on "A profitable investment"; and on the "General condition and needs of the work," by D. F. Schairer, William N. Brown and others.

During the evening Toastmaster Gillmore aroused considerable enthusiasm by announcing the receipt of the following amounts for the Y. M. C. A. building fund: G. Frank Allmendinger, $100; James L. Babcock, $250; Mrs. Ella Babcock, $250. Since then Mrs. J. H. Eaton and Mrs. D. F. Schairer have each contributed $100 and the total amount now in the building fund is $3,100.

It was after 11 o'clock when the doxology was sung and the banquet hall was deserted by its occupants.

Reduction in Telephone Rates.

Monday morning Manager T. J. Keech, of the Michigan Telephone Co., called up the Argus office and said "I have a piece of news for you." He then went on to relate that beginning with July 1, the telephone rates changed followed by the erection of the altar of Daughters of Rebekah, dating from report by the council and the passage of for Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti subscribers would be: For business houses, port, and the fixing of the district to $24, net, per annum; two or three on be assessed; the advertisement of the the same line, $20 each; four to six on stone of Purity; the next was a pink manded, but the hour was too late and board for bids; the contract for the conidences, $18, net; two or three on the came the blue stone of Love, the scar- such a thing. > The tariff of rates to outside points is now undergoing a revision and will be completed before July 1. It is understood by the Argus that the telephone rate to Detroit will be fixed at the same price as that charged for a telegram of words, viz., 25 cents.

Manager Keech also announces that the company stands ready to enter into contracts with subscribers at the above rates for terms of from one to five years' duration if they so desire.

Attracting Great Attention Among Thinking Women.

MUST BE SOMETHING BEHIND IT ALL.

Miss Van Horn, of Philadelphia Adds Her Testimonial and Relates Her Experiences-She Is Only One of Thousands Who Have Received Like Benefit During Last Few Months, and Whose Letters Are On File.

When Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies Both One Year for Only $1.75. were first introduced, sceptics all over the country frowned upon their curative claims, but as year after year has gone by, and the little group of women who have been cured by the new discovery has grown into a vast army of hundreds of thousands, doubts and make them scepticisms have been swept away as by a mighty flood, until to-day the great copy. good Mrs. Pinkham's remedies are doing among our female population, is attracting the attention of many of our leading scientists and thinking people.

The following letter is only one of many thousands which are on file in the Pinkham office, and go to prove beyond question that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound must be an article of great merit; otherwise it could not produce the results which are a positive fact, and not a mere claim :-

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:-I write to thank you for the good your Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash have done me. Before taking your remedies I was so bad with backache, liver and kidney trouble, that I thought I would never find relief. At the time of menstruction, I suffered so that I could hardly stand, but I had to go to work and stand in misery all day. My blood was in an awful state. I suffered with headache and local discharges. I was sick all over. I doctored for a long time, tried three different doctors, but they did me no good. I did not get any help until I tried your remedies. After taking several bottles of your Vegetable Compound and using five packages of your Sanative Wash, I am completely cured, and have no one to thank for it but you. Hoping some other suffering woman may take warning in time, I remain, yours truly, Miss Celia Van Horn, 1912 Sharswood St., Phila., Pa.

A BACK BLOW.

The Weapon Small - but None More Certain or Effective.

In these times when backs are lame, when almost every other one we meet has now and then, or all the time, a back that aches or pains—"a weak back," "a bad back," a back that makes their life a mis-ery to bear—and still they go on day by day in pain and suffering. Now 'tis the day in pain and suffering. Now tis the easiest thing in the world to give this played out back "a blow" that will settle it, and put in its place a new one equal to It's just like this: hit at the cause; most backaches come from kidney disorders. Reach the kidneys, start their ogged-up fibres in operation; when this is done you can say good-bye to backache.

Here is a case from Battle Creek: Mr.

Josiah M. Shoup lives at 51 Broad Street, he was a member of the Battle Creek police force for many years. As a member of the force he served the city well, but the rough weather he was often subjected to laid the foundation of kidney disorder, which has troubled him very much. Here is what he says about it:

"About three years ago, while on the police force, I contracted from exposure a kidney trouble, which has since given me o end of trouble. The pain was right through my kidneys and across the small of my back; if sitting down and I wanted to stand up, I had to arise very slowly and gently to avoid increasing the pain; I had such tired-out feelings all the time, and I was steadily getting worse, About two months ago, hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box. Their action and effect was most complete, they removed the old aching pains for good. I can now get around as quickly as anybody. Doan's Kidney Pills are certainly as represented."

FRIDAY, APRIL 30, 1897.

It is stated that nearly all the aldermen were personally pledged to elect one doctor city physician last week, but the party lash was wielded and another was elected in violation of the pledges of a good majority of the aldermen. The party lash has no busi. ness in the common council and the quicker it ceases to have any effect the better opinion the public will have of the council. But to return to this matter of the city physician, there is no such office known in law in this city. The charter does not establish such an office, but the council may by ordinance. The council never has done so, and there is no warrant for sider is a bicycle ordinance. There is til May 5, to decide whether or not he paying a salary to anyone for such a great and crying need for such an will accept the acting presidency. It work. The council should establish ordinance and its immediate passage such an office, giving the mayor power to appoint and the mayor will undoubt- life or of preventing suffering. edly appoint some resident physician, whom people know, subject to the confirmation of the council.

The editor of the Argus had oceasion the other day to inquire the street number of a well known resident of the city. "I haven't got any," was the reply, and the speaker spoke the truth. There are many streets in this city where the houses are without numbers or bear such numbers as the caprices of the owner dictate, some taking their lot numbers and others counting houses already built to determine what their number should be. On older streets a number in some places covers 40 feet and in othersabout 200 feet, so that on some streets houses epposite each other are as many as 25 numbers apart. No city was ever more unscientifically numbered than is Ann Arbor and it is high time our streets were so numbered that by merely hearing the number we can determine in what part of the city any house is situated. The Argus repeats, let Ann Arbor be renumbered this

Some of the republicans are charging up the reappointment of Mr. McIntyre to the board of public works as part payment of a political debt to the democrats. The democrats entered into no political bargain when they endorsed Mr. Hiscock. They simply wished to put him into a position where he would have no political debts to pay, thus enabling him to better serve the whole city. The board of public works has always had a minority representation upon it. Except for a brief period when the republicans dragged it into politics, there has never been any into politics, the political politics and the political politics. politics in the board's actions and this rate. there should be none. The Argus calls attention to the cost | that. of putting a tramp in jail over night as an argument for the immediate erection of a city lockup by the city of Ann | mise suit .- Times. Arbor. It would give us a means of having better police protection at a greatly decreased expense. The share of the cost of keeping a tramp in jail over night borne by the taxpayer of Ann Arbor is much less than the entire cost of keeping him in a lockup would. Exactly the same reasoning applies to a drunk or disorderly.

The Argus would have the police lock up every night every vagrant found on our streets in the city lockup.

There would be no cost for arrest,

The city lockup would enable the To Fulfill the Duties of This city officers not only to lock up all tramps with less expense to the city than the present system, but it would do away with the great source of irritation felt towards the city by the country members of the board of supervisors, for it would simply be doing justice to our neighbors.

The Argus asks the council to take with other cities, and even villages, with a station house or lock up.

The bicycle has come to stay. It is growing in popularity and greatly increasing in numbers. It seems to be almost the only saleable article on the markets. Old as well as young are one by one dropping into its use. It is omnipresent by night as well as by day, and it is of its night use that we wish to call the attention of the ordinance committee. In the cities of effete east as well as in the more progressive cities of the west and middle west, bicycle ordinances are rigidly enforced, with the approval of all true wheelmen. Women's Dress Goods Will Come High.

The extremely high duties which Dingley proposes to collect from women's dress goods should be more generally understood by the women of this country. It is they who must suffer most because of these duties. Here are a few samples of the increased duties taken from a list prepared by Mr. P. B. H. B. HUTCHINS WOOLEN MANUFACTURERS URGE MODERATION.

Admis That High Duties and Consequent High Prices Will Restrict the Use of

Some of the severest criticisms not only of special duties and clauses, but of the whole accursed protective system, come from the protected manufacturers themselves in their struggle with opposing interests. Mr. S. N. D. North, secretary of the Woolen Manufacturers' association, is now and always has been a stanch protectionist. As such he believes that the 70,000,000 consumers of this country are legitimate subjects for plunder and that the manufacturers are the proper persons to enjoy the protection plunder. The free wool experiment which we have been trying for three years, besides being an object lesson in the way of cheap woolens, has taught the woolen 7:80. manufacturers that they can make as much or more profit with free wool and moderate protection, which permits people of moderate means to wear real woolen goods, than with high duties on both wool and woolens, which restricts the use of woolens to people in good circumstances. The manufacturers therefore display more than their usual modsty and patriotism in the advice which they are giving to congress. Mr. North is in Washington to voice the manufacturers' patriotism. Here is part of his

I am free to say the bill is far from satisfac tory to the woolen manufacturers. The chief fault is to be found with the raw wool duties, which are so high that our manufacturers will find themselves and find themselves sorely embarrassed. It is true the committee has provided compensatory duties which are probably sufficient to offset the duties on raw wool, but the difficulty will be, in my opinion, that the very considerable increase in price which must be made to cover the additional cost of raw material will have the effect of cutting down consumption to an extent that will be disastrous to the manufac-turers. I do not contend that the rates on zoolen manufactures in the bill are not sufficient to protect us against too severe foreign competition, but the limit of the consumer's purchasing power must control him in buying woolen manufactures, and I fear the rates of the new bill will very materially restrict con-

advice as taken from the Washington

correspondence of The Dry Goods Econ-

This is practically saying to Dingley, Aldrich and the other servants of the protected manufacturers at Washington:

'Go slow with your high duties and don't try to protect too many. If you let everybody into the protection ring, there will be nobody outside to prey tive capacity, having been dean of the upon and we will have to prey upon each other. Don't make the mistake of taxing raw materials too high. We wouldn't mind it if we could sell our goods and charge the tax over to the consumer. But when the tax is so high that we have to make our prices almost not sell so many goods, because the people can't afford to wear clothes-that is, woolen clothes, which are the only horsemen, many of whom refrain from accept the position, as the attempt of ones worth considering because they are driving evenings on account of the any man, however well qualified, to the only ones which we manufacture, vast number of unlighted wheels out. fill the snoes of so great a man as Dr. Our solicitude for the dear American It is to the interest of wheelmen and Angell, must be a difficult one. As consumer is such that we do not wish skins of beasts, which are neither fashionable nor healthful. Let us not tax him to death. Let us be reasonable and encourage him to live and to wear clothes. By so doing we can keep our mills running and give employment to American workingmen at American wages, which, after all, is the chief object aimed at by us protected manufacturers."-Byron W. Holt.

The Protectionist Performance The following is a part of ex-Congressman John De Witt Warner's criticism of the Dingley bill:

"As it stands the most brilliant part of the pending performance consists in "A 32 inch black serge (cotton eating the words of the same actors in warp), costing in England 7 5-8d. per the Fifty-first congress. The McKinley bill of that date was virtually entitled 'a bill to reduce revenues.' The Dingley bill is specially commended as a revenue iff 22,87 cents per yard. Under the pro- getter. The Dingley bill puts upon sugar -a single item of the breakfast tablewarp), costing in England 7 7-8d. per one-third of the total amount of the tariff tax proposed. The items which are supposed to help the farmer are good examples of so setting your trap as to 'cotch 'em a-cumin and a-gwine.' For instance, we have reciprocity in order to give the farmers a market abroad for what it is assumed they cannot produce "The proposed tariff on lumber," the for home consumption unless they are Boston Transcript (Rep.) says, "is sim-ply a measure to pick the pockets and section of the bill."

ANCIENT WATER HEATERS.

People Two Thousand Years Ago Had Some Practical Conveniences.

In two of the museums of old Roman antiquities at Naples there are several water heaters, which indicate that the principle of the water tube, the crowning feature of modern boilers, was fully understood and appreciated some 2,000 years ago. Mr. W. T. Bonner of Cincinnati has been investigating these as follows: heaters and found them to be as interesting as they are beautiful. One of them consists of an outer shell 12 inches in diameter and nearly 17 inches high, surmounted by a somewhat hemispherically shaped top. Inside this shell is an internal clyinder, also having a hemispherical top, which is 10 inches in diameter and 12 inches high. The two shells are connected at the bottom by a rim, like the mud ring of a locomotive firebox, and the space between them was filled with water. The grate was formed of seven tubes made from sheet bronze, rolled and soldered or brazed. These tubes open at both ends into the bottom of the space between the shells, thus forming a water tube grate for the fuel to rest upon.

Charcoal was probably used with this heater and was placed on the grate tan's army. through an opening 4.8 inches high and 4 inches wide, closed by a beautifully decorated door. It is 12 inches lenic arms. in diameter at the widest part, 17.6 inches high and supported on a tripod about 4 inches high. Its general shape is much like that of the silver cream pitchers known as the Paul Revere patterns, although, of course, it is much wine as well as water, which suggestion appears reasonable, as many historians state that the Pompeiians made great use of hot drinks. It may be that has announced that Greeks in the servthey were found in one of the termpodi or cafes, of which there were several in Pompeii.—Boston Transcript.

WAR IN THE WEST.

Colonel Manos Is Operating Against Prevesa and Janina.

Arta, April 27.-The New York Journal correspondent telegraphs his paper

The left wing of the Greek army in Epirus, under command of Colonel Golphinopulos, is advancing on Preseva, which must be captured before the Greeks attack Janina. The right wing of the Greek army, under Colonel Manos, is advancing on Janina, but will not attack the place until it is joined by Golphinopulos' army. The garrison of Preseva, consisting of 2,500 Turks, still holds out, although for two days we have heard the roar of the guns on the Greek ships bombarding the place.

The people of Epirus are extending a welcome to the invaking Greeks, and the Turks are panic-striken. On the march the army which I accompany captured a camp of Turks, and we found coffee boiling on the fires, showing the hasty flight of the Turks. The cause of the panic is the desertion of the Albanians, the bravest troops in the sul-

From their first efforts to help men in their beneficent projects, women were like those who, finding a slow old boat making its way through a canal, were ready to supply the means to push or pull it forward. When their eyes were opened, they began to see new needs and to make new projects of their own, and in their eagerness they not only built new boats, but here and there attempted to dig new canals running parallel with the old, passing through the same region, yet separate and distinct. Mayor Strong Accepts the Sacred Trust for the Nation's Metropolis and President McKinley Delivers an Address in a Style Well Fitted to the Occasion-Great Parade on Land and Water-A May Long To Be Remembered.

New York, April 27 .- A million citzens have come to the nation's metropolis to honor the nation's chief military hero. At 9:30 o'clock President McKinley and Vice President Hobart, the members of the cabinet, and the diplomatic corps started from the Fifth Avenue hotel for he monument

The Presidential Procession.

The initial step in the parade was made almost on schedule time, and by 9:30 o'clock the presidential procession was on the move. The order of this procession was: (1) squadron "A;" (2) President McKinley, Vice President Hobart, Mayor Strong and General Porter; 3) Mrs. Julia Dent Grant, Colonel Frederick D. Grant, Mrs. Frederick D. Grant, Mrs. Nellie Grant-Sartoris; (4) Mrs. Jessie Grant, Miss Nellie Grant, Master Chapman Grant; (5) five carriages bearing the rest of the Grant family; (6) ex-President Cleveland and Richard Watson Gilder; (7) Major General W. S. Rosecrans, Major General C. C. Augur, Major General H. G. Wright, Major General J. G. Parke.

Cheers greeted the distinguished party as it moved through the decorated streets, the enthusiasm being so noteworthy that President McKinley's face was joyous and his hat was in a state of constant motion. Mrs. Grant and her family to the third generation were objects of special attention and the widow of the hero was visibly affected at the great popular demonstration. The visitors got a chance to see 1,000,000 people. The unbroken wall of humanity six miles long was an inspiring

At 10:30 o'clock the land parade was enty-second street, to Riverside drive to the tomb. Arrived at the tomb, Bishop John P. Newman made a short prayer, and General Porter in an eloquent speech presented the monument to the city of New York on behalf of the Grant Monument association; Mayor Strong accepted it for the city. President McKinley delivered a brief address admirably fitted to the time and theme, and the ceremonies of the morning were concluded. At 12:30 a formal luncheon was given to the president and his party. At 1 o'clock the land paade reached the monument and saluted. Review of the Fleet.

A review of the troops and civic societies by the president occupied his ime until 5 o'clock, when he went on poard of the dispatch boat Dolphin and reviewed the fleet in North river. The American warships headed the line, which was made up with the flagship New York at the head. Behind the New York was the Indiana, the Columbia, the Maine, the Texas, the Raleigh, the Amphitrite and the Terror. Of the foreign warships H. M. S. Talbot was given the position of honor, commander Captain E. H. Gamble being the senior officer. The other foreign warships in line were the French corvette Fulton, H. M. S. Infanta Isabella, H. M. S. Maria Teresa and the Italian cruiser Dogali, Commander Righetti. Opposite the line of warships was the revenue marine and the lighthouse tenders, eleven of the latter and five of the

THE LAND PARADE.

It Calls Up Many Memories of War and Peace.

With military promptitude and perfect discipline the land parade started from Twenty-fourth street and Madison avenue on the minute-at 10:30 o'clock. Major General Granville M. Dodge, followed by a staff of celebrated soldiers, led the column, the military band from Governor's island coming next.

The veteran General Merritt, one of the world's famous leaders of cavalry, commanding the division of the Atlantic, the first division, and the natty West Pointers, called forth salvos of cheers as they followed. Engineers, artillery, cavalry, infantry, in picturesqua but orderly variety, tramped by, each brigade headed by a veteran of note. Not least among the honored troops were the tars from Uncle Sam's navy. Besides these regulars there were the sitizen soldiery and the naval militia. There were no invidious distinctions. more heartily cheered than was Maryshowered upon them that greeted the guardsmen from New Jersey, Ohio and Massachusetts. Hearty were the plaudits accorded the sons of Confederate veterans—youths whose sires "took their horses home with them" at the mandate of the great general in whose honor the march was made.

But enthusiasm reached its climax when the division led by Major General O. O. Howard marched into view. The old veterans were given the greatest honor of all the marchers. As a relief from the constant blue came the independent companies the gray-clad ca-dets, the insignia covered, benevolent, religious and temperance orders.

It would be impossible in any country other than the United States to duplicate a procession which would call up so many memories of war and peace of days of gloom and sunshine. And all along the line-in regimental colors, guidons, banners-gleamed old glory, while from thousands of throats of brass rang out the strains of music, martial and reminiscent, inspiring and

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

He Eulogizes the Dead General in an Appropriate Manner. Following is the speech of President McKinley at the Grant monument ded-

"Fellow-Citizens: A great life, dedicated to the welfare of the nation, here finds its earthly coronation. Even if this day lacked the impressiveness of ceremony and was devoid of pageantry, it would still be memorable because it is the anniversary of the birth of one of the most famous and best-beloved of American soldiers. Architecture has paid high tribute to the leaders of mankind, but never was a memorial more worthily bestowed or more gratefully accepted by a free people than the beau-tiful structure before which we are 'In marking the successful completion of this work we have, as witnesses and participants, representatives of all branches of our government, the resident officials of foreign nations, the governors of states, and the sovereign people from every section of our common country who foined in this august tribute to the soldier, patriot and citi-

"Almost twelve years have passed since the heroic vigil ended and the brave spirit of Ulysses S. Grant fearlessy took its flight. Lincoln and Stanton had preceded him, but of the mighty captains of the war, Grant was the first to be called. Sherman and Sheridan survived him, but have since joined him on the other shore. The great heroes of the civil strife on land and sea are for the most part now no more. Thomas and Hancock, Logan and Mc-Pherson, Farragut, Dupont and Porter, and a host of others have passed forever from human sight. Those remaining grow dearer to us, and from them and the memory of those who have departed generations yet unborn will draw their inspiration and gather strength for patriotic purpose. A great life never dies. Great l deed are imperishable; great names immortal. General Grant's services and character will continue undiminished in influence and advance in the estimation of mankind so long as liberty remains the corner-stone of free government and integrity of life the guaranty of good citizenship.

"Faithful and fearless as a volunteer soldier, intrepid and invincible as com-mander-in-chief, success did not disturb the even balance of his mind, while fame was powerless to swerve him from the path of duty. Great as he was in war, he loved peace, and told the world that honorable arbitration of differences was the best hope of civilization. With Washington and Lincoln, Grant has an exalted place in history and the affec-At 19:39 of clock the land parade was started from Twenty-fourth street and started from Twenty-fourth street and land parade was Madison avenue, going thence to Fiftyfifth street, to Fifth avenue, to Fiftyninth street, to the boulevard, to Seveteran leaders of the blue and the gray here meet not only to honor the name of the departed Grant, but to testify to the iving reality of a fraternal national spirit which has triumphed over the lifferences of the past and transcended the limitations of sectional lines. Its completion, which we pray God to speed, will be the nation's greatest glory. It s right, then, that General Grant should have a memorial commensurate with his greatness and that his last resting place should be the city of his choice, to which he was so attached in life, and of whose ties he was not forgetful even

"Fitting, too, is it that the great soldier should sleep beside the native river on whose banks he first learned the art f war and of which he became master and leader without a rival. But let us not forget the glorious distinction with which the metropolis among the fair sisterhool of American cities has honored his life and memory. A Famous Woman Sculptor.

Mr. Forrest Crissey, in his article 'Women Sculptors of Chicago," in The Woman's Home Companion, says of Miss Julia M. Bracken: "With a jackknife she whittled from blocks of wood designs which brought her to the attention of several prominent citizens of Galena, and ultimately resulted in opening the way for her to attend the Chicago Art institute. At first she entered the drawing class, but very soon 'dropped into sculpture' be-fore entering the regular modeling course. That the hand of fate and not a fickleness of purpose wrought this change was soon evidenced by modeling sufficiently brilliant to not only startle her associates, but to bring her orders before she had taken a single regular lesson in the art of sculpture.

"When Mr. Taft returned from a trip abroad and this shy, slender young stranger from the country was first seen by him at her work in the modeling room, he was surprised into the remark that 'she handles the clay as if it were her native element.' Miss Bracken was at once engaged as an assistant in his studio, where she remained for seven years. At the World's fair she was his chief of staff and had charge of the troop of young women who worked under his direction upon the decorations of the horticultural building. "The latest piece from Miss Bracken's studio is a fine bust of Sir Moses Montefiore, the celebrated Jewish philanthropist of London, who died at the age of more than 100 years. She is now engaged on a relief medallion for the Union soldiers' monument at Missionary Ridge, Tenn. It represents a stirring scene, contains five portrait figures and is a strong piece of work."

of poor girls who work at the mouths of the coal pits. Some prudish people claimed that the costume worn by these girls, which is actually necessary in their work, was immoral. A measure prohibiting it had been introduced, had passed the commons and was about to pass the house of lords, when Miss Muller, having acquainted herself with the facts in the case, determined to prevent it. She took a delegation of pit women from Northumberland to London at her own expense, hired a large hall in the Strand and called a mass meeting. The girls, dressed in their working clothes, sat beside the speakers, who in turn told the people what a cruel thing it would be to deprive these poor girls of their inherited occupation, as sometimes whole families were dependent upon their labors. The women were urged with loud cheers to go on with the crusade. The girls were taken to the house of lords, and when the titled members saw the modest looking women dressed in a respectable costume of serge trousers reaching to their feet and flannel blouses hanging below their knees and heard the hardships that would result from the suppression of their labor they threw out the bill.

Miss Logan says she never ascertained the names of those who so nearly succeeded in having the bill made a law, but was told they belonged to that class referred to by Mrs. Browning as "good Christians, who sit still in easy chairs and damn the general world for stand-

Captain Granger Resigns.

Captain Ross Granger surprised the members of the Ann Arbor Light In-fantry at the meeting Wednesday evening by stating that he had forwarded his resignation as captain to Governor Pingree. Business interests alone have caused Mr. Granger to take this step, and there is no one in the city who has the interest of the company at heart in the smallest degree but will regret that he has felt compelled to take this step. He has done wonders with the company and it will be hard to find a perion to take his place who will be as popular with everybody as he is. The captain has been in the military service of the state since he was a small boy, having joined the Porter Zouaves as a marker in 1872.

THE COMING MAY FESTIVAL.

It Will Be on a Grander Scale Than Its Predecessors.

The fourth annual May Festival in connection with the University School of Music is now less than two weeks off, the dates being Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 13, 14 and 15. It will be the greatest festival of any that have been held, the expense for the festival alone being more than for ists in the world will take part in these concerts-Calve, Bloodgood, Berthald A new telephone line will soon be and Campanari—a great quartet of singers. There will also be the Boston Festival Orchestra of 50 men, last Choral Union of 300 voices and last though not least the Columbian organ will be heard at these concerts which are under the directorship of Emil Mollenhauer and Prof. A. A. Stanley.

Calve should not need much of an introduction to the audience which will be present in University hall at these concerts but the following brief these concerts, but the following brief notice of her is given nevertheless: Has Mme. Calve changed since

The touch of vulgarity and exaggerated vanity and attention to details of personal appearance and dress are perfectly in keeping with the character of Carmen, who was a nun. How withering is the scorn with which she encircles and examines Micaela when she pleads with her unfaithful lover. How horrified the expression of her face as she reads her fate in the cards. How realistic her effort to escape from Don Jose's dagger.—New York Evening
