FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

On the Floor of a Box Car at Walkerville, Ont.

AN ANN ARBOR MAN

Died in a Very Few Hours Afterwards.

Nathan H. Pierce While Making His Way to Montreal, Canada, Was Taken With a Fatal Attack of Brain Congestion.

Nathan H. Pierce, of this city, was on Monday morning found in an unconscious condition lying on the floor of a box car in the Grand Trunk railway yards at Walkerville, Ont. He was taken to the Hotel Dieu, at Windsor, where he died early Tuesday morning. A telegram received by Sheriff Judson on Tuesday morning was the first intimation received in Ann Arbor of the occurrence. It was at first thought that he had committed suicide by taking morphine, as a druggist's envelope labeled morphine was found between the leaves of a small dictionary that he carried, but a post mortem examination made by Dr. Hoare, at the instance of Coroner Reaume, of Windsor, showed that his death was caused by congestion of the brain, and the coroner's jury that acted at the inquest returned a verdict to that effect.

Nathan H. Pierce left Ann Arbor last Friday with the intention of going to Montreal, where he thought he could get work, and was evidently stealing a ride when found unconscious in the car. He had suffered from brain trouble for several years, which had been brought on by a severe sickness. About three years ago he attempted to commit suicide, and for a long time his mind seemed to be affected. He finally recovered and went to work in a hat factory in Grand Rapids, going from there to Chicago, where he had been until recently. It is thought that the hot weather affected his brain.

Between the leaves of the dictionary in which the drug envelope was found, there was also a slip of paper on which was written in lead pencil, "In case I die, I am Nathan H. Pierce, Ann Arbor, Mich., U. S. A.," which would seem to indicate that the deceased was in poor health and not sure he would live.

"Nate," as he was familiarly called here, was 26 years of age and was married. He was a brother of Edward H. Pierce, a printer in the Inland Press office, also of Mrs. James B. Saunders, of N. Main st. As soon as possible after the receipt of the telegram Ed. H. Pierce left for Windsor where he identified the remains as those of his unfortunate brother.

The remains were brought to Ann Arbor Tuesday night and were interred in the Fifth ward cemetery Thursday afternoon. Rev. J. T. Sunderland conducted the services.

Did Not Like the Prof.'s Words.

In one of the classes of the university summer law school there are two probate judges; two prosecuting attorneys; two school teachers; two newspapermen; one superintendent of schools; one principal of schools; one state senator; one Indian from Alaska, among other students. Several of the members of the class are from the south, and one of them was the other day asked by the professor some question relative to a certain contract between parties living north and south of Mason & Dixon's line, which was declared null and void by the supreme court during the war. The teacher then went on to explain that the contract was invalid because the southerners were looked upon as traitors. This so offended the young man, that he has not been in the class since. The young man does not blame the teacher, yet he feels that he cannot contain himself should he go back to the class. During the war his father's house was burned, and more than 100 slaves were freed. Notwithstanding all this, he claims to be as good an American as anyone in the north.

Poisoned by Milk.

They had a warm time at the University hospital for a little while on Saturday night. Shortly after supper a number of the patients were taken sick. The number increased until it reached about 20. Symptoms of milk poisoning showed themselves and steps were at once taken to prevent any serious results. Stomach pumps were put into use and in a few minutes all were relieved. It was found that all the victims had partaken of milk which had come from one can. Investigation developed the fact that the milk can had not been scalded before the milkman used it, and tyrotoxin germs, which had grown rapidly during the hot weather, had not been destroyed. The trouble will not occur again, as special precautions will hereafter be taken.

HE GOSSIPED TOO MUCH.

Was the Verdict of the Baptist Council Anent Rev. J. H. Girdwood.

The case of Rev. J. H. Girdwood, formerly pastor of the Baptist church, Chelsea which has caused considerable talk in that village as well as much discussion among the members of the congregation, and which some time ago was heard before a council of the Baptist church has again come to the front within the past few days.

The Chelsea church granted Mr. Girdwood a letter of dismissal and that gentleman left the church and village. At the first hearing the council decided that the letter was obtained through intrigue. Mr. Girdwood afterwards returned to Chelsea and asked for a rehearing of the case. The council was recalled by the church July 3, and met with the church in session July 8, Rev. Andrew TenBrook, of Ann Arbor, acting as moderator, and Rev. Robert W. VanKirk, of Ypsilanti, acting as clerk.

A reconsideration of the whole case was agreed to and entered upon. After having listened to all the evidence presented by the members of the church against Rev. Mr. Girdwood, and the rebutting evidence presented by Rev. Mr. Girdwood, the council revised their former decision, and following is the report of their decision on the case:

1. We reaffirm our decision regarding the granting of Brother Girdwood's letter: "That the vote of the church to grant Rev. J. H. Girdwood a letter of dismissal was out of order and null and void because there was a motion to postpone the matter to a specified time before the body, which motion had precedence. But from the evidence before us, we believe the letter was not obtained by any intrigue, but its irregularity was owing to the confusion of the occasion."

2. We believe that Rev. J. H. Girdwood has been repeatedly guilty of too much gossip, tattling and the use of language unbecoming a Christian gentleman.

3. We also believe that some of the members preferring the charges are equally guilty in these very things.

4. In the light of all the evidence pro and con presented in the trial, we believe that Rev. J. H. Girdwood could be more useful in some other vocation than the Christian ministry.

5. We recommend that the church members cease discussing and agitating the matter, and exercise the spirit of forbearance and forgiveness towards one another, towards Brother Girdwood and his family in particular, and towards those who have become alienated from the church, and that they seek reconciliation with one another, and "follow after the things which make peace, and things wherewith one may edify another."

As the matter now stands it is entirely in the discretion of the church to grant Rev. Mr. Girdwood a letter of dismissal.

Left Her Home.

Miss Isabel Lentwein, aged 23 years, the daughter of Prof. Carl Lentwein disappeared from her home on S. Seventh st. in a rather mysterious way on Saturday. Her mother saw a hack drive up to the house into which her daughter got and that was the last she saw of her. But Miss Lentwein did not go very far away. She was found Tuesday at the farm house of J. L. Schaffer, on W. Huron st. about two miles from town. She went there Saturday afternoon direct from her home and giving her name as Miss May Botsford obtained permission to stay there for a time.

Marshal Sweet drove out to the farm and had a talk with the young lady who told him her mother ordered her to leave the house. Mrs. Lentwein, who is sick with consumption, says that the daughter paid but little attention to parental authority. It is supposed that the young lady is desirous of joining her father who is teaching in the Bay View summer school.

Tacks on the Bicycle Path.

The person who has been scattering tacks on the bicycle path between here and Whitmore Lake deserves to have those same tacks driven into the soft part of his anatomy as a punishment therefor. Several punctured tires have resulted, as many as four being reported in one day. The small mean spirit displayed in these kind of actions cannot be too severely censured and the person actuated by it should be properly punished. If a bicycle harmed anyone or did anyone a damage there might be some excuse for such actions, but it does not, and the person who willfully entails a useless expense on another in such a manner as this is "pretty small potatoes."

A Farmers' Quarrel.

John S. Mann, a farmer of Ann Arbor town, just north of the city, hired two brothers named Albert and Benjamin Shellhorn to harvest a field of hay for him. Mann and the Shellhorns got into an altercation over the matter which finally resulted in a fight in which Mann was badly pounded about the face. He then broke away from his assailants and having secured a revolver, it is alleged he fired several shots at the Shellhorns.

The matter will be investigated in Justice Duffy's court on Monday, as Mann has sworn out warrants against the Shellhorns, who have given bail for their appearance on that day.

KILLED BY THE CARS

A Northfield Lad Believed to Have Been the Victim.

RIFLED THE LETTERS

Two Dundee Girls Commit a Very Serious Offence.

On Account of Their Youth and Previous Good Character Judge Swan Let Them Go on a Suspended Sentence.

Charles Bauer, a Northfield boy, believed to have been killed by the cars at North Springfield, Pa., last Saturday. The following postal card was received Tuesday by the postmaster at Ann Arbor:

"North Springfield, Erie Co., Pa., July 19, 1897.

"A young man about 18 years old was killed here by the cars July 17. Said his name was Charles Bowers and lived about 6 miles from Ann Arbor. Was undoubtedly off in his head. If known by you please notify his folks and I can give them particulars.

"F. E. STONE,
"Agr. L. & M. S. Ry."

No such person was known as getting mail at this office but the card was sent out Wednesday with the Emery carrier to see if it was one of the sons of Bernhart Bauer, a farmer living in Northfield, one mile west of Emery. His youngest son, Charles Bauer left home on July 1 without stating to any of his people at home, where his destination was. He stopped with his sister in this city, and when he left told her he was going to Toledo. He has not since been heard from. His father on being shown the postal card said that there was no doubt but that the boy killed was his son, the youngest of his family. Mr. Bauer formerly lived in Pennsylvania, removing from there to Northfield a number of years ago, and it is probable that the lad was making his way to the place from which his father came. Particulars of the accident and a full description of the young man were telegraphed for Wednesday afternoon, but at present writing no answer has been received.

RIFLED THE LETTERS.

A Serious Charge Against Two Young Dundee Girls.

Bertha Cunningham, of Dundee, and Selma Kranzuh, of Blissfield, were arrested last week on a charge of rifling letters belonging to a man named Cunningham, who travels for a Goshen, Ind., pharmacy house.

Cunningham expected a remittance, and, making protest, learned from Postmaster Pulver that two girls, one of them named Cunningham, had got several letters, the Cunningham girl claiming she was the daughter of a Cunningham who lived in Toledo and was expected here in a few days.

The Cunningham girl gave up one of the letters, but declared the other two were in possession of the Kranzuh girl in Toledo. Postmaster Pulver and Cunningham went on a wild goose chase to Toledo, but before they returned the girl came to Dundee and was arrested.

The girls admitted tearing up the letters. The pieces were found in the street, with fragments of a $50 draft.

The two girls were taken before Judge Swan and Commissioner Graves in the United States district court at Detroit Tuesday and after Judge Swan had lectured them severely on the enormity of their crime, pointing out to them that he could send them to prison for five years for the offense, they were discharged on suspended sentence.

Neither of the girls had any money so a collection was taken up and enough was raised to pay their railroad fares back to their home in Dundee.

A Runaway Horse and What It Did.

Phil Hal, son of E. B. Hal, was out driving with Miss Lucille Goddard, of Leadville, Colo., niece of Mrs. W. G. Doty, on Sunday afternoon, and when near the bridge on N. Main st., he got out of the carriage to put up the side curtains so as to keep the rain from getting into the carriage. While thus engaged the horse became frightened at a bicycle scorch, who, it is claimed collided with the buggy, and ran away throwing the young lady out against a fence, bruising and frightening her so that she fainted. When the horse got through running the carriage was a wreck. A second carriage which Mr. Hal obtained to take the young lady home in met with a like fate, the horse again running away as Mr. Hal was leading it to a hitching post to tie it. This time the carriage was empty.

Death of Mrs. J. W. Knight.

Mrs. Cornelia Perkins Knight, wife of J. W. Knight, died on Friday evening after an illness of 10 days' duration at her home 28 E. William st., at the age of 75 years. Mrs. Knight was one of the old residents of Ann Arbor, having lived in the city since 1856. The funeral services were held at the house Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock and were conducted by Rev. B. L. McElroy. Interment was in Forest Hill cemetery.

EXPERIMENTS WITH POISONS.

Two Students Swallow Hash-Heesh and Oteers' Watch Results.

The Detroit Journal of Monday contained the following article descriptive of the manner in which some students connected with the medical department of the university have been experimenting upon themselves with poisons:

"A rather peculiar function was held at Ann Arbor Saturday night. There were only five persons present, including a Journal man, and the affair came off in a house not far from the center of the city. It was held there so that any noise that might be made in the course of the festivities would not arouse persons who felt inclined to sleep. It was a hash-heesh, or rasch-hisch, party.

"It was a very exclusive affair, there having been no one invited but three medical students who are spending the summer in the sleepy little old town, a doctor, and a Journal man. The first four have for the past year been studying poisons and their effects, and this summer they are experimenting and observing conditions produced by an absorption of the 'nasty stuff' in which they have been working. Saturday night was 'hash-heesh night'. Arsenic and opium night will come later.

"A small tin of the drug (canabis indica) was purchased at the drug store and taken to the house. The material is very inexpensive, enough having been purchased for 20 cents to last a man not addicted to the habit at least a month. In color it is almost black and of the consistency of melted coal tar or thick molasses. In India, where it is known as 'Indian hemp,' it is used by the natives as commonly as is opium in China. The 'hemp fiend' is a common personage in Hindoo countries, and is in most cases affected more directly by the stuff than is the poppy-eating Celestial by the narcotic he takes into his system."

THREE DEATHS IN ONE DAY.

Ypsilanti Keeps Up Its Record in More Ways Than One.

Three deaths in one day was Sunday's record in Ypsilanti. Two of them were old and respected residents of the city and in each case death was caused by paralysis. The other was that of a lady who leaves three orphan children to mourn her loss.

The first death was that of Mrs. Harriet Welch, who suffered a stroke of paralysis some weeks ago at her home on Babbitt st., and was afterward removed to the home of her niece Mrs. Walter Hawkins, of Cross st., where she died Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The funeral services were held at the house Tuesday morning and the remains were interred in Highland cemetery. Mrs. Welch was 83 years of age.

The second death was that of Samuel Campbell, of Chicago ave., aged 72 years. He had suffered for two years with paralysis and had been a helpless invalid during that time. The funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Campbell leaves a widow, and two sons, Edward and Anson Campbell, by a former wife.

The third was that of Mrs. Carrie Fay, a former wife of Dr. A. J. Fay, who lived on E. Congress st. The deceased leaves two young daughters and a son. The remains were taken to Detroit for interment.

It Was a Great Help to Her.

G. D. Ball, of Detroit, tells the following story in a communication to the Detroit News-Tribune of Sunday, and it speaks for itself:

"While taking shelter in the hallway of a business block during the storm Sunday, an old lady with careworn face and threadbare clothes, drenched with rain, passed by pushing a two-wheeled cart half laden with refuse from garbage boxes and stray sticks of kindling wood gathered from the streets.

"With sympathy aroused to a pitch which prompts humanitarians to evacuate their pockets, I raised my umbrella and overtook her just as she was adding a chunk of coal to her treasures. Satisfied I was performing an act of mercy I handed the dear soul a dollar, extending sympathy and expressing regret at her unfortunate circumstances in being compelled to seek a livelihood in so humble a way at her advanced age.

"With a 'God bless you sir,' she proceeded to tie the coin in one corner of her ragged apron, concluding with, 'That will be such a help on the next installment of me daughter's bike.'"

An Undertakers' War.

There was a war on between the undertakers Saturday, (July 10). At an early hour in the morning, Peter Paquette who had been making his home with John Fritz, was found dead in his bed. Fritz at once called F. Weissiger to care for the body, and a little later 'phoned young Paquette at Ann Arbor of his father's death. A little later an undertaker from Ann Arbor, (Florian Muehlig) came over prepared to take charge of the body. The rule with undertakers is that the first called holds the job regardless of circumstances or preferences, and accordingly Fred was the boss. The city captain however put up a strong bluff so much so that Fred locked up the corpse and they dared not break the seal. The body was buried Monday.—Saline Observer.

Woman's Work

Is never done, and it is especially wearing and wearisome to those whose blood is impure and unfit properly to tone, sustain, and renew the wasting of nerve, muscle and tissue. It is more because of this condition of the blood that women are run down,

Tired, Weak, Nervous,

Than because of the work itself. Every physician says so, and that the only remedy is in building up by taking a good nerve tonic, blood purifier and vitalizer like Hood's Sarsaparilla. For the troubles peculiar to women at change of season, climate or life, or resulting from hard work, nervousness, and impure blood, thousands have found relief and cure in

Mrs. Hannah Moulton, living east of Dundee, died July 16, aged 88 years. She was one of the early pioneers of that section having spent nearly her entire life thereabouts. She had lived on the old homestead, where she died, for the past 60 years.

Morris Robbins, of New Haven, Conn., has been visiting his brother, J. A. Robbins, of Salem, the past four weeks. They had not seen each other for 32 years. Mrs. Roberts, of Aylmer, Ont., a sister of the Robbins' was also visiting J. A. at the same time.

James P. Dickinson, who owns a farm near the Peninsular paper mills at Ypsilanti, was bitten in the leg by a vicious dog one day last week. Mr. Dickinson says he does not fear any serious results but he does not think as much of dogs as he did. The wound is a large one shaped like a horse shoe.

The divorce case of Arthur Schofield vs. Jennie Schofield, wherein the complainant asks for a bill on the ground of adultery, came up for hearing in Jackson on Tuesday. The parties were former residents of Ypsilanti. The Greek city seems to be furnishing sensations for all this part of the state.

Mrs. Chris Wick, aged 35, wife of a farmer near Northville, fell from a chair Monday and injured her abdomen, bleeding to death in a few minutes. She was soon to become a mother. She leaves a husband and four children, the oldest only six years of age.

"Doc" Bill Bell, well known in Ypsilanti, is lying at Mt. Clemens in a very precarious condition, the result of a dog bite received in Ypsilanti a couple of months ago. He was passing along when a vicious brute ran out and bit him in the leg. The wound did not trouble him for some time, but lately blood poisoning set in and there are now serious doubts that Mr. Bell will ever recover, although the doctors at Mt. Clemens think they can save his life. A $1,500 damage suit has been commenced against Charles Reinhart, the owner of the dog.

A lodge of Good Templars was instituted at Ypsilanti, Friday evening by I. C. Frank, special state deputy grand chief templar, assisted by Miss Lordetta Powers, grand deputy marshal of the grand lodge. Officers elected were as follows: Joseph Falk, lodge deputy; Mrs. Kate B. Joslyn, chief templar; Mrs. Ada Falk, vice-templar; Mrs. Florence Babbitt, P. C. templar; Miss Edith Chureh, recording secretary; Mrs. Chreste Wilber, marshal; Miss Edith Falk, treasurer; Mrs. A. H. Powers, chaplain. The name of the lodge is "Ypsilanti."

The war is on in earnest in Ypsilanti between the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., and the new State Telephone Co. The former has something over 90 subscribers and the latter over 125. About 45 or 50 are using both systems, and the contest is centered on each striving to retain this number. The Bell Telephone Co. has dropped its rates from $36 to $24 per year for business places, if paid quarterly in advance, and the new State Telephone Co. gives the rate of $24 for business places payable at the expiration of the quarter. The line into Detroit will be completed by the new State Telephone Co. in a few days and then the work will be pushed to Ann Arbor.

L. Watts residing north of Brooklyn got 80 bushels of crimson clover seed from 12 acres the other day.

The village of Dexter has six citizens whose combined ages are 504 years. They are Morrell Goodrich, George C. Page, Dennis Warner, Nelson Phelps, Fred Warner and Harry J. Phelps.

A burglar entered Lee N. Brown's house at Ypsilanti, Friday night, while that gentleman and his wife were sitting out on the lawn. Before he could secure anything Mrs. Brown entered the room in which he was to see if her baby was sleeping. Her screams frightened the man away, for when Mr. Brown appeared on the scene the fellow had gone. Mrs. Brown fainted and did not recover consciousness for an hour.

John Osler, of Belleville, a well known blacksmith of that village, was found hanging in his woodshed, stone dead, Saturday evening. He had told his wife that he was going to visit his sister Saturday morning and left the house. She supposed he had gone there, but instead the old man, who was 83 years of age, went to the woodshed and hanged himself with a rope. No cause for the act of self-destruction is known. He leaves two sons, two daughters and a widow.

Guy Tuttle, of Ypsilanti town, and Fred Kinne, of Ypsilanti, came near being killed Sunday as they were driving across the Lake Shore track on Ann st., Ypsilanti. A gravel train backed down on them without any warning, and though not seen by the young men as their view was obstructed by a coal shed, was seen by the horse which turned suddenly around and dumped the young men into the ditch. The horse then ran away but was stopped at the Feorster brewery. It was a lucky spill for the young men.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price fifty cents per bottle at the Drug Stores of Eberbach Drug and Chemical Co., of Ann Arbor, and Geo. J. Haussler, of Manchester.

It Made No Difference.

There had been a little family jar and she was sulking.

"You have no right to refuse me," she said. "When I promised to marry you, I told you that I always wanted my own way, and you said that made no difference."

"Well, it doesn't, does it?" he retorted. "You don't get it, do you?"

Thus it happened that she called him a mean thing.—Chicago Post.

When a person begins to grow thin there is something wrong. The waste is greater than the supply and it is only a question of time when the end must come.

In nine cases out of ten the trouble is with the digestive organs. If you can restore them to a healthy condition you will stop the waste, put on new flesh and cause them to feel better in every way. The food they eat will be digested and appropriated to the needs of the system, and a normal appetite will appear.

Consumption frequently follows a wasting of bodily tissue because nearly all consumptives have indigestion. The Shaker Digestive Cordial will restore the stomach to a healthy condition in a vast majority of cases. Get one of their books from your druggist and learn about this new and valuable remedy.

Trolley Cars For Headache.

A Brooklyn man has told a reporter that a ride in a trolley car cures his headaches. After a long day's work in his office he starts home with a headache, and after riding three miles the headache is gone. He thinks the air of the car is filled with electricity, and that the cure is due to that. Perhaps, however, it is only the fresh air that works the cure.

There is no other remedy on earth so simple, so effectual, so natural, in the cure of summer complaint in all its forms, as Dr. Fowler's Ext. of Wild Strawberry.

WOMAN'S STRUGGLE.

All women work. Some in the homes. Some in church, and some in the whirl of society.

Many in the stores and shops, and tens of thousands are on the never-ceasing treadmill earning their daily food.

All are subject to the same physical laws; all suffer alike from the same physical disturbances; there is serious derangement in the womb. Lydia E. Pinkham's "Vegetable Compound" is the unfailing cure for this trouble. It strengthens the proper muscles, and displacement with all its horrors will no more crush you.

Backache, dizziness, fainting, "bearing-down," disordered stomach, moodiness, dislike of friends and society—all symptoms of the one cause—will be quickly dispelled, and you will again be free.

DARIUS GREEN GETS POINTERS

From E. J. Smith, Who Is Learning to "Edit" a Bike.

The Adrian Telegram is responsible for the following story of E. J. Smith's endeavors to learn to ride a bicycle. The subject of the sketch will be readily recognized by many of our readers as the genial, humorous paragon who was for some time connected with the Argus:

E. J. Smith is now the "phunny" editor of a bike.

He gets up early in the morning to crack jokes at the new fangled animal and crack his shins trying to tame it. Sometimes E. J. practices in the alley back of this office.

When he does all hands take a lay-off and brace up the side of the building to keep E. J. from riding right through into Maumee street.

It is more fun than shooting off cannon crackers on the Fourth to see E. J. and his wheel going through the air at the rate of 180,000 miles a second, wrestling together in desperate agony, to see which can bang up against a brick wall with the greatest force.

To E. J.'s credit, be it said, he generally wins the race and gets the first prize bump.

If he keeps up his practice in the rear of this office we shall be compelled to expend a large slice of the "promised wave" (when it gets here) for a pneumatic section of cyclone insurance.

E. J. is making headway, however, and we owe him no grudge.

Still when we see him riding our way the best part of valor invites us to take to the woods. When E. J. mounts his wheel and starts down a street everything else moves off.

It is nip and tuck between E. J. and the wheel as to which is on top the oftentimes.

It would take a snap shot photograph to tell, and while we think a good deal of E. J., we want to put our money on the wheel.

The only damage to E. J.'s anatomy so far reported up till this morning was the dislocation of the right shoulder, a pair of corrugated shins, three misplaced ribs, a wild and haggard look in the off eye, giving him a "hunted" appearance, indicative of other wheels than those he is trying to ride.

Added to these are a lacerated foot, a parboiled but cast iron expression of countenance and the loss of two fingers.

Thursday morning he started out for a ride in the back alley and everybody in sight shuddered as he swooped down on the innocent child making mud pies in the alley, all unconscious of danger.

But the wheel suddenly rose in the air as if on pneumatic wings, and leaping high over the little prattler, knocked a cord of brick loose from a corner of the Masonic Temple, jumped a 10 foot wall back of Luther's grocery, climbed the water pipe of the Salvation Army barracks, danced a highland fling on the roof, turning a double back action somersault over the Gibson house and disappeared in the direction of Hank Bowen's ice pond to cut a pigeon wing and its name in the ice.

As all our door is not yet large enough for E. J. to turn around in, we presume the wheel is going still.

We have telegraphed all our representatives to the north and west to keep a look out for the wreck and gather up what is left of the remains and express them to Adrian at our expense, so that we may demand payment from the relatives for the damage done our building, and get out an injunction to stop the funeral unless prompt settlement is made.

E. J. is a good fellow and we are willing to keep his memory green, but we draw the line on having the back wall of The Telegram building butted down, in his efforts to edit that new bike.

How to get rid of rye, is a theme of all the rural papers. Some contend that the farmer should go through his wheat field and chop out the tufts of rye, before harvest. Others there are who say let the wheat and rye grow together till the end of the harvest, binding the rye with the wheat, but chopping off the rye heads before threshing, as they stick up beyond the wheat leads. Another way to get rid of the stuff—and the method most popular—is to pour the rye into a glass, toss it down with a sudden gulp and follow it with an ice-water chaser before breaking the awful silence.

The Williams professorship fund of the university will be used to establish a chair of ethnology and the alumni will ask the appointment of Prof. J. E. Steere, former professor of geology to become the head of the department. The last time the writer of this ever saw Prof. Steere, he was rushing madly through the shoal water of a small lake, barefooted, and with trousers turned up above the knees, in full chase of that fierce nautical terror, the aorus gryllus, which he succeeded in capturing, regardless of his life. The monster was more than half an inch long.

The Ann Arbor Argus dissents from the mayor's proclamation that all unmuzzled dogs be shot. It sees no good in muzzling any except cross dogs. The Argus is in the right. It is brutal to tie up a dog's jaws in hot weather, when he has all he can do to keep himself in "pant's." Besides, it is now generally conceded by scientific people, that a dog which is given all the water he requires is in no danger whatever, of rabies, unless bitten by a rabid animal. Since Jim, of the Ann Arbor fire department died, we oppose the mayor's muzzling order, with its bloody alternative.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with La Grippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into hasty consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at Eberbach Drug and Chemical Co., Ann Arbor, and Geo. J. An Ordinance Relative to Street Paving.

The Common Council of the City of Ann Arbor ordains:

Sec. 1. Streets, or parts of streets, may be ordered to be graded and paved by resolution of the Common Council, on petition of parties owning a majority of the property fronting on the line of such street, or part thereof proposed to be paved. Such petition shall pray generally that the street, or a specified part thereof, be graded and paved.

Sec. 2. When a street, or part thereof, is ordered to be graded and paved, the resolution shall declare generally that it is ordered that the street, within specified limits, be graded and paved and shall direct what kind of pavement shall be advertised for, and that for the purpose of assessment to defray the expense of such improvement, the lots and parcels of real estate situated upon such street, and fronting on the portion thereof ordered to be improved shall constitute a local assessment district; or two or more assessment districts may be thus established, of not less extent than one block each, in the discretion of the Council.

Sec. 3. The City Engineer upon the passage of the resolution establishing a local assessment district, as provided in section two, shall forthwith proceed to ascertain the quantities of the work and material requisite to the improvement so ordered, and estimate and apportion the expense of the construction thereof per front foot and of inspecting the work during its progress, and shall make a report of the same to the Common Council.

Sec. 4. The report of the City Engineer shall be referred to a committee of the Common Council, which shall make due inquiry relating thereto, and after hearing all persons interested therein, appearing and desiring to be heard, shall make a report thereon to the Common Council; and the Common Council shall, if the construction of any such pavement shall be deemed expedient, order and direct the Board of Public Works to cause any such pavement to be constructed and shall fix and determine the district to be assessed and charged with the cost and expense of the construction of the same per front foot, excepting street intersections and crossings, and excepting also one-fifth of the balance of the entire cost of the construction of any such pavement, which together with the said street crossings, and intersections shall be paid by the city and which shall be a charge on and against the general street fund, and which resolution of the Common Council shall be certified by the City Clerk to the Board of Public Works and the City Assessor respectively.

Sec. 5. That after the certification of any such resolution to the City Assessor, the City Assessor shall without delay proceed to make, fill out and complete a special assessment roll, wherein and whereon he shall set down, alphabetically arranged, the names of all the owners or occupants of the land contained within any such special assessment district, and all of the lands situate therein, well and sufficiently described, and shall estimate and determine the number of feet frontage of each parcel thereof. That after the completion of any special assessment roll, the said City Assessor shall attach his certificate thereto and certify the said assessment roll to the Common Council, whereupon the Common Council shall fix and appoint a time when sitting as a board of review the said assessment roll shall be reviewed, and the said Common Council shall give at least seven days' notice thereof by publication in the official newspapers of the city. The Common Council on the day and at the time mentioned in such notice shall meet at the council chamber, sitting as a board of review, and shall proceed without adjournment to review any such special assessment roll. The Common Council sitting as such board of review shall have power and authority to change any description of land contained therein, and the foot frontage thereof, and to add thereto lands omitted therefrom, and to do and perform any other act or thing whatever in and about any such special assessment roll, to the end that every such special assessment roll shall be made just, true and fair; that any person interested therein may be heard in person, by his agent or attorney, and all matters of complaint shall be duly considered, and after any such special assessment roll shall have been duly considered, the board of review shall approve or reject the same, and shall certify their determination to the Common Council, and the Common Council at that meeting or the next meeting, shall confirm any such special assessment roll so approved by the board of review, and shall order the sum or sums of money fixed and determined upon as the estimated cost of any such street pavement, street crossing and intersection excepted, and one-fifth of the balance of the cost also excepted, to be assessed and spread upon any such special assessment roll and on and upon each and every of the regular annual assessment rolls in said city for the year in and during which any such special assessment shall or may be payable, and levy the assessment against the owners or occupants of the lands set down therein, and shall levy or assess the said sum or sums of money, on, upon and against the lands set down in and valued upon any such special assessment roll as per front foot as aforesaid and shall certify the said special assessment roll and order a resolution of assessment to the City Assessor.

Sec. 6. After any such special assessment roll and order of assessment shall be certified to the City Assessor, the City Assessor shall without delay proceed to spread the sum or sums of money mentioned in any such order of assessment upon any such assessment roll, and assess the same against the persons therein named and against the lands mentioned therein, according to the foot frontage thereof, as determined by the board of review, and thereafter shall make a true copy thereof and certify the said assessment roll to the City Treasurer, who shall have and retain the custody of the same, and the taxes so spread on and assessed upon any such assessment roll and levied against the lands described therein shall be and remain a valid tax and charge against the owner and against the lands mentioned therein until paid. The said taxes shall become due and payable in four equal annual installments; the first installment in the month of July, along with the city taxes next after any such assessment roll shall have been confirmed, and annually thereafter until fully paid. All of the said taxes shall draw annual interest from the date of the confirmation of any such assessment roll at the rate of five per cent per annum until paid. Any person against whom any such tax shall have been assessed shall have leave and be at liberty to pay the same at any one payment at any time after such assessment roll shall have been certified to the City Treasurer, with interest from the date of confirmation only. The City Assessor shall retain a copy of each assessment roll in his office.

Sec. 7. That on the third Monday in June in each and every year in which any such paving tax shall remain unpaid and be due and payable, the City Assessor shall proceed to the City Assessor's office and together with the City Assessor shall stamp or mark "paid" on the copy of every such assessment roll of all the paid pavement taxes due and payable in and during that year, and the City Treasurer shall report all unpaid pavement taxes then due and payable; and the Common Council shall on the fourth Monday in June in each year certify to the City Assessor, along with the other city taxes to be assessed, all unpaid and payable pavement taxes and all money required to be raised for the construction of all pavements for the way current year and also in a general then a description of the lands by reference to the number of the pavement district to be taxed therefor; and the City Assessor shall thereupon spread upon the general city tax roll of that year all such sums of money so remaining unpaid and payable, and so required to be raised for the construction of any such pavement, all such pavement taxes to be carried out and entered in a separate column on said general tax roll with the interest thereon as aforesaid, the tax in one column and interest thereon in another column, the general city tax roll to be properly ruled and printed for that purpose, and such columns to be entitled respectively, "Pavement tax" and "Interest on pavement tax." And the sum or sums of money so set down and spread upon any such general city tax roll, shall be, remain and continue a valid debt, demand and tax against the person, and a valid debt, demand and tax on and against the land so assessed as aforesaid, until fully paid; and shall be certified to the City Treasurer and collected in the same manner as the other taxes set down and spread upon such general tax roll are, shall or may be collected.

Sec. 8. After any such resolution to construct any pavement shall have been certified to the Board of Public Works, the Board of Public Works shall proceed without delay to obtain all necessary information, maps, estimates, plans and specifications for the construction of such pavement, and shall advertise for tenders for the construction thereof, and shall report the same to the Common Council, which may direct said board to contract with such of the lowest responsible bidder or bidders, reported by the board, as it shall see fit; or direct further advertisement for the same in its discretion and then direct said board to contract with such lowest bidder, for such kind of pavement as is deemed expedient to adopt for the improvement.

Sec. 9. Upon the passage of the resolution directing the Board of Public Works to enter into contract for the construction of any pavement, the Board of Public Works shall forthwith proceed to enter into contract with the party designated therein, and take sufficient security for the faithful performance of his contract. The contractors shall do all the work and furnish all of the material, and all contracts shall contain provisions requiring such pavements to be constructed of first class material and workmanship and under the direction and to the satisfaction of the Board of Public Works and the inspector of pavement and shall require all work to be completed at a specified time and without unreasonable delay. All contracts and bonds for the faithful performance thereof shall be reported to the Common Council for confirmation and approval.

Sec. 10. The Board of Public Works may appoint an inspector of pavements to superintend the improvement in any local assessment district formed under this ordinance, whose duty it shall be to superintend the work on such improvement and to see to it that all the specifications of the contract for the work are complied with, under the direction of the Board of Public Works. Such inspector may be discharged in the discretion of the Board of Public Works and his compensation shall not exceed the rate of three dollars per diem of ten hours work, and to be paid out of the city treasury, and out of the assessment on the local assessment district upon which he is employed. Said inspector at the request of the Board of Public Works shall report the progress of the performance of the contract in sections, as required from time to time, to the end that payment may be made by installments as the work progresses. Provided, that the City Engineer, in the discretion of the Common Council, and by its direction may be required to perform the duties of inspector of pavements.

Sec. 11. Pavements and all proceedings relating thereto shall be designated by consecutive numbers in the order of the date of the passage of the resolution requiring construction.

Sec. 12. After the final determination of the Common Council to cause any such pavement to be constructed, and after the Board of Public Works shall have concluded the contract for the construction thereof, and the same has been ratified by the Common Council, the Mayor and City Clerk shall execute under their hands and the seal of the city, bonds of the City of Ann Arbor payable to bearer in four equal annual installments, annually on or before the first day of March thereafter, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable annually, in sum or sums equal in amount to the estimated cost of the construction of any such pavement. All such bonds shall be known as pavement bonds and issued in series, conforming to the number of the pavement on account of which any such bonds shall have been issued, and the City Clerk shall deliver the same to the City Treasurer, but no more than forty thousand dollars in amount of any such bonds shall be outstanding at any one time.

Sec. 13. Whenever any such bonds shall have been delivered to the City Treasurer, he shall without delay proceed to sell the same for the best price obtainable, but none of said bonds shall be sold for less than the face value thereof.

Sec. 14. The City Treasurer shall keep strict account of all the moneys so received on the sale of such bonds, and each of the said pavements shall have in the Treasurer's account a separate fund devoted thereto; and all the moneys obtained on the sale of bonds shall be applied to the payment of the cost and expenses of the construction of the particular pavement for which the same was issued, and all taxes paid on account thereof shall be devoted and applied to the payment of such pavement bonds; and if there shall be any surplus moneys arising on the construction of any such pavement, the same shall be applied to the payment of such pavement bonds and to the refunding of a per cent of all such pavement taxes which may have been paid in full, equal to the per cent of any such surplus, and a sum of money equal to the per cent of any such surplus shall be remitted and deducted from the last installment of any such tax thereafter to be paid and collected; and if there shall be a deficiency, that is to say, if the estimated cost shall prove to be less than the actual cost, then an additional assessment shall be levied and collected to make good and cover any such deficiency.

Sec. 15. Whenever the Common Council shall determine that a street shall be paved in the city of Ann Arbor, it shall be the duty of the Board of Public Works to serve or cause to be served a written or partly written and partly printed notice upon each and every one of the owners, occupants or agents of the property along the line of such street where such pavements are proposed to be laid requiring him, her or them, within thirty days from the date of such notice, to make connections with the main water and gas pipes and sewers that may be laid in said streets except where such connections have already been made.

Sec. 16. If along the line of such street there is any vacant or unoccupied lot, lots or premises, and the owner, owners, agent or agents thereof cannot be conveniently found, the said Board of Public Works shall post such notice, as aforesaid, in some conspicuous place upon said lot, lots or premises.

Sec. 17. In case of default or neglect on the part of any owner, occupant or agent, to connect with the service pipe and sewers as aforesaid, or in case the notice posted on any vacant or unoccupied lot, lots or premises, shall fail to come to the notice of the owner, owners, agent or agents thereof, and such notice has expired, or if said owner, owners, or agents shall not within thirty days make said connections, the city shall then cause such connections to be made, and the expenses thereof shall be assessed upon the property for the benefit for which connection was made, and such assessment shall be a lien upon the said property until paid, and such lien shall have the same force and effect as is provided in case of other special assessments.

Sec. 18. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the 26th day of July, A. D. 1897. Passed in Common Council, this 7th day of July, A. D. 1897.

GLEN V. MILLS, City Clerk.

Approved this 12th day of July, A. D. 1897.

CHARLES E. HISCOCK, Mayor.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

FRIDAY, JULY 23, 1897.

The stocks of the sugar trust took a sudden rise Wednesday, Wall street having had inside information that the conference committee of the two houses had fixed things to suit the trust.

The Washington correspondent of the Grand Rapids Herald writes as follows: "From interviews with President McKinley's clerical executive staff today, it is learned that the number of applications for office since March 4 has reached the appalling figure of 100,000, or one in 70 of those who voted the republican ticket last fall, and they are still coming in the undiminished average rate of 600 per day. This is supposed to break all records."

CROP AND PRICE FAILURE.

We have an immense population in this country engaged in agriculture. When this industry prospers, all others prosper, and when our farmers are unable to realize good incomes from their business, the loss is felt in all other pursuits. The crops from the farmers are sold every year, and almost the entire income, after paying taxes, interest, insurance, etc., is expended with our merchants in the purchase of groceries, clothing, dry goods, boots and shoes, implements, vehicles, hardware, paints and lumber.

It, therefore, becomes important to all that the farmers' money income be kept at a good standard, the higher the better. Crop failures are seldom general in all parts of the country. If cereals fail, fruit and vegetables are liable to be plenty. Yet partial crop failure is always a serious interference with general business. Fortunately, serious crop failures are not of frequent occurrence. But price failure that comes from dearth of money comes every year and applies to all crops the farmer sells. How serious this destruction of prices has become the following figures will show: The principal money crops are the cereals—wheat, corn and oats. For the years 1880 and 1881 these crops brought the farmers an average money income of $11.53 per acre. For the five years—1887 to 1891—the average was $9.23. For the years 1892, 1893 and 1894 the average was $8.01. For 1895 the money value of these crops was but $6.73 and in 1896 only $6.52. This shortage must be figured on a vast area, which averaged upward of a hundred and thirty million acres annually.

THE NAZIM'S JEM.

I had been ill with fever. They tell me that it was a severe illness and that the outcome was for many days in doubt. Twice, they said, my feet pressed on the verge of the dark valley, and twice was I drawn back. I know little of this personally. For two weeks or more I was either delirious or unconscious. Then, one bright May morning, I came back from the land of shadows.

It seemed to me, as I lay there, that my mind was unaccountably acute. I fancied that my enfeebled physical condition accentuated the action of my brain. It seemed as if the rest I had given—the rest, at least, from lucid action—had reinvigorated it. I remember that I threw a great deal of thought into the construction of the first connected sentence I addressed to my man. This is what I said: "Any letters, George?" He started up hastily. "Letters, sir? Yes, sir, letters and a telegram."

"Read the telegram," I said, after another spell of thought. He tore open the yellow envelope. "Just heard of your illness. Start for home today. Mary."

Mary was my promised wife. I recalled that she was at Colorado Springs with her invalid mother when I fell ill. I looked at George. He must have read my question. He seemed to make a momentary calculation. "If all goes well, sir, she should be here today." Mary was coming. The thought acted on me like a tonic. I wanted to throw aside the blankets and leap to the floor. Gods! And I couldn't even raise my arm.

"Get flowers, George," I murmured. "Let in the sunlight. Hide these bottles." He smiled and smoothed the blankets above me. "Everything shall be as presentable as possible, sir," he said.

As presentable as possible? That note of exception must mean me. Never mind, Mary was coming. Mary loved me too well to take offense at my changed appearance. "George," I said, "the world is still outside there, I suppose. Read the newspaper."

He read to me for half an hour or more, read the news just as it came to hand—telegraph, local, political. For a time his voice has simply a lulling effect. Then I began to take notice of the substance of what he read. When I had heard all I wanted, I bade him stop and let the substance of his reading filter through my brain. As I strove to recall it all there was an item that seemed to hold my fancy in a peculiar way. It was a telegram which told that a nizam of far Hindustan had been robbed of an almost priceless diamond which it was understood he meant to present to Queen Victoria at the time of the coming jubilee. This story, I say, seemed to fascinate me—the diamond of the nizam, filched from its oriental owner, gleaming mayhap from the dusky corner of some squalid hut when it should be eclipsing the jewels of a queen. And Mary was coming. What a gift for Mary that diamond would be—Mary, my queen! There was a strange humming in my head, but out of it all came one clear thought—I would get that diamond and give it to Mary.

eyes a strange light, a gleam, half terror, half desperation, the look of a haunted man, whose fate impels him forward. Then another city, a city of whitewashed walls and many huts and few palaces and stretches of the sea and the masts of ships. The swish of waves, and the roaring of the wind, and the rattle of cordage, and in the midst of the ship the brown faced man calmly indifferent to the tempest.

More clouds and long blanks of chaotic nothingness. My eyes find themselves gazing at the wall of my room, and presently it opens and through it steps the man who crouched by the city gates. Step by step he comes to my bedside, and his eye glistens and his knife is red, and my eye never leaves his. Then he pauses and bends low with his arms outstretched. "Sahib," he murmurs, and his voice is singularly low and gentle, "I am here."

"The diamond!" I hoarsely murmur. He removes his turban and slowly unwinds its many folds. As he does so the room seems filled with the rustle of garments, and a strange, sweet perfume comes to me. There are whispers, too, and a sound like a stifled sob. Slowly the stranger unfolds his turban, and suddenly out of it leaps a great white pebble. He lifts it before me betwixt his lean brown thumb and forefinger, and I know that in his other hand he holds the red knife.

"The diamond of the nizam, sahib," he murmurs. As he speaks a sudden ray of sunlight falls upon the white pebble and a mighty glory seems to fill the room. My eyelids drop before that glare. I see the brown face of the Indian bend lower. I see his fingers clutching at his knife. The room grows dark and yet darker. I seem to be slipping away, slipping away.

"John!" Is that my name? Is somebody calling me? What is this that holds my hand and draws me back? No, no; let me go. "John!" Surely somebody is calling me. I open my eyes slowly, so slowly. Across the level of my bed I see the face of George leaning forward, his features in the shadow, his eyes gleaming with frightened anxiety, in his hand a tiny medicine glass that catches a dazzling ray of sunlight. Somebody else is there, somebody who holds my hand tightly, somebody who calls again: "John, dear!"

I raise my eyes a little higher. Another face is bending over me, a white, tear stained face. "John!" It is Mary. And so I came back.—W. R. Rose in Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Kaiser's Story.

The emperor's "lieblingsblume" has become the national flower of Germany and the symbol of patriotism, but it will never be forgotten why he loved it, and the beautiful and touching story possesses ever new interest when told in his own words. Finding how many incorrect versions were spread about to account for his fondness for the simple field flower, the aged kaiser related the following pathetic incident:

"As my mother fled with myself and my deceased brother from Memel to Konigsberg during the troublous times at the beginning of our century, the misfortune happened to us that one of the wheels of our coach broke in the midst of the plain. No village was within reach, and we seated ourselves on the edge of the ditch while the damage was being repaired as well as circumstances would permit. My brother and I were rendered both tired and hungry by this delay, and particularly I, being a weak and delicate little fellow, gave my dear mother much trouble with my complaints. In order to distract our thoughts, my mother stood up, pointed out the many beautiful blue flowers in the fields and requested us to gather them and bring them to her. Then she made wreaths of them, and with joy we watched her skillful hands. Thereby the sad state of the country, her own trials and the anxiety concerning her sons' future may well have once more pressed heavily on my mother's heart, for slowly tear after tear welled from her beautiful eyes and fell on the wreath of cornflowers. This emotion of my devoted mother went deeply to my heart, and, forgetting my own childish sorrow, I attempted to console her with caresses, during which she placed the blue wreath, glittering with tears, on my head. I was then 10 years old, but this touching scene has never faded from my memory, and if now, in my old age, I behold the sweet blue flower, I imagine I see the tears of the most devoted of mothers shining upon it and therefore love it above all others."

Jena's Celebration.

The University of Jena this year celebrates its three hundred and fiftieth anniversary. It was founded in 1547 by Prince Johann Friedrich, who, having lost his own University of Wittenberg, together with his personal liberty, at the battle of Muhlberg, took the first steps toward the foundation of Jena. Its first professor was Melancthon, Luther's friend, but he resigned the same year in consequence of religious dissensions. The first score of students came from Wittenberg, and their numbers grew so fast that their manifestations of joy when, a few years afterward, their prince was liberated were enough to precipitate a first class town and gown riot. As a consequence the townsfolk refused to harbor the students any longer, and it took the intercession of the prince to appease them.

The Offender.

Phenomenal Performances.

The aerial and acrobatic feats with the Barnum & Bailey show this season are of a superior order of merit. Besides being of extreme daring and novelty they are all executed by champions. While the general character of these almost phenomenal performances are the same as hitherto exhibited there are introduced a number of unique and extraordinary displays entitling the intrepid performers to be considered the unquestioned kings of all artists. There are a dozen champion male and female equestrians also, so that the visitor to the shows is assured of seeing the best possible circus entertainment. The show will be in Ann Arbor, Tuesday, Aug. 17.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand for twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effect following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent by mail, mention the Argus and send your full post-office address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

A SIMPLE TIRE REPAIR.

Punctures in the well known Morgan & Wright tire are mended about as easily as a man would close a hole in his finger with a bit of court plaster. Inside of the inner tube of the tire lies a long strip of patching rubber, like this:

By injecting M. & W. quick-repair cement through the puncture into this inner tube, and then pressing down on the tire with the thumb, like this,

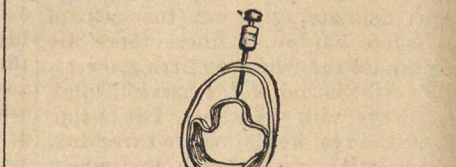

the repair strip inside is picked up by the cement, thus closing the puncture, like this:

Very simple, but—now every rider should remember these two "buts," or he will fail:

Before injecting cement, pump up the tire. If you don't, the inner tube will be flabby, like this, and the cement will not get inside of it, where the repair strip lies.

When you have a puncture, get right off. Riding a tire flat, when it has a tack or nail in it, may damage it considerably.

The university authorities have been granted permission to stretch electric wires from the campus to the hospital for the purpose of lighting the hospital buildings and grounds.

About $100 is still needed to put the bicycle path to Whitmore Lake in good condition. So far as the contractor is concerned the job is finished, but the coating of fine gravel that it should have remains to be put on.

The jury in the trial of Archie Miller vs. Fannie Schermerhorn, in Justice Duffy's court, returned a verdict of guilty, and the irrepressible Fannie was fined $25 and costs or 60 days in jail. The case is to be appealed.

The common council appropriated $275 at its meeting Monday night to gravel Packard st. from the motor line junction to the city limits. It is a much needed improvement as the condition of the street is disgraceful.

The L. A. W. has received the addition of nearly 35,000 new members since Jan. 1, 1897. Among the Ann Arbor people who have joined the last two weeks are E. E. Calkins, L. P. Hall, Jas. G. Lynds, F. R. Mechem, S. M. Yutzky and H. N. Chute.

A young lady jumped off a street car at the corner of Main and Huron sts., one night last week, before the car stopped and as a consequence took a header, greatly to the disarrangement of her wearing apparel and her dignity. It took her a minute or two to get her bearings after her mishap.

"Go for somebody quick! There's a bug down my back," cried a Pine River girl to her best man while out walking the other evening. "Hadn't I better go for the bug?" he suggested. Then she fainted dead away and when she had unswayed the bug had finished its evening stroll and gone home.—Standish Wave.

The Michigan Central has posted the following notice: "On and after July 18, all mileage books issued by this company will be limited to expire December 31 and such tickets will not be honored on trains or accepted for passage." This is the first step toward adopting interchangeable mileage books, good on 39 railroads, to be issued shortly.

Hanna, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Schumacher, had a birthday Friday, and in the afternoon 20 of her little friends were invited to a party at her home 89 W. Huron st. The tables spread with dainty food were prettily decorated and the little guests had a merry time of it, particularly in the evening when Mr. Schumacher set off a quantity of fireworks for their amusement.

Prof. B. A. Hinsdale lectured before the summer school students at Tappan hall, Tuesday night on "Reading for the Teacher." "Reading a list of books," he insisted, "can make no man a teacher. He must also read largely in every line of literature, professional books, and books on the history of education. These studies are as necessary to the success of the teacher as professional study is to the doctor or the lawyer."

Fred J. Rentschler, the photographer, was awarded a medal at the recent convention of the Photographers' Association of America at Celeron, N. Y., for a group of a dozen photographs. Between 8,000 and 10,000 photographs were on exhibition and the character of the work was very high. "Finny" is to be congratulated both on his success in getting the medal and on the excellence of the work that obtained it for him.

Mr. Marsden is a graduate of the Sika Industrial School and Marietta College and is at present attending the summer law school here. The subject upon which he will speak is, "The Gospel Abroad and its Triumphs." In addition to his talk he will furnish some very interesting music. Do not fail to hear him. Fans and lemonade for the heat.

About 700 persons, including those from Ypsilanti, took in the Y. M. C. A. excursion to Detroit and St. Clair Flats Thursday of last week, and everyone reports a very enjoyable day. The boat ride to the Flats was highly praised by all and the crew of the steamer Sappho deserve much credit for the manner in which they entertained their many visitors. The crowd, though not as large as expected, was one of the best that ever left the city. The exact proceeds from the excursion is not yet definite.

A good story on the wife of one of the professors here is going the rounds. It seems that her husband is away and that she went out the other night, leaving her little girl at home. The lady returned rather late and could not get in. In vain did she attempt to rouse her daughter. Neighbors were called in to assist, a small boy was routed out of bed to climb in the window, and finally they were about to call up police headquarters and ask for burglar tools to force the door in, when an entrance was effected.—Times.

Such a season as this for honey, bee keepers say has not been seen for several years. Bloom of nearly all kinds has been plentiful, particularly white clover being abundant, and white clover makes the finest of honey. The basswoods are now coming out in heavy bloom, and the bees delight to work upon this flower, which contains a great deal of honey.

Frederick Lombard, one of the earliest settlers of Lodi, died of old age on Tuesday afternoon at the old homestead in that town. Mr. Lombard was 88 years old at the time of his death. The line fence in the rear of Chas. E. Davison's yard on N. Main st., caught fire about 2 o'clock Saturday morning from the spontaneous combustion of a manure pile. The fire was first seen by L. Gruner, who notified Mr. Davison. With assistance the fire was soon extinguished by that gentleman, but not before a good sized strip of the fence had been burned.

Prof. J. C. Knowlton's lectures on "The Trial of Christ from a Lawyer's Standpoint," delivered before the students of the university summer school were listened to by a large audience and proved as highly interesting and instructive as when he delivered them in this city some time ago. The lectures received a marked degree of notice in the columns of the daily press of Ann Arbor and Detroit.

Among the notables at the ring-side at the Fitzsimmons-Cobrett veriscope pictures last Thursday night, and whom the Times neglected to mention, was the Eighth Ward of the city of Ann Arbor, as the editor of the Democrat is designated. He was so anxious to be present that he took the perilous ride to Ypsilanti on top of the trolley car and helped push the load along by reading aloud some of his electrifying silver editorials.—Times.

AN ACCIDENT.

Mr. Quintus Hummel, of 118 Michigan Ave., Detroit, tells a War Story of his own Experience, and the Result.

(From Detroit News.)

Our representative called at 118 Michigan Avenue, the residence of Mr. Quintus Hummel. Mr. Hummel is a veteran of the late war, and received, in the campaign, an injury which has given him much pain and suffering since. He belonged to a Michigan cavalry regiment and his horse becoming frightened one day reared up, throwing him backward. In falling he struck his spine on a sharp stone, inflicting a deep cut over five inches long. The injury affected the kidneys. About two years ago the left kidney started to bleed, and has been doing so ever since. Mr. Hummel, in a few pointed sentences, gave our representative the following account: "The accident of my 'war days' left me in bad shape; pain in my back and spine rendered me almost useless, and I was compelled to give up work entirely. I could not turn over in bed without assistance. I have spent hundreds of dollars in various ways trying to find relief. Physicians have told me my spine was honey-combed for 13 inches. I had given up in despair, never hoping for relief, when a friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills, and they have done me a world of good. The pains have disappeared from my back, and the bleeding of my kidney has almost entirely stopped. I know I can never be entirely cured, as I would have to be a new man, but Doan's Kidney Pills have done more to make me feel like a new man than all the other things I have tried during past years. I have not had any recurrence of the pain or bleeding since taking them."

RELIGIOUS FREEDOM IN RUSSIA.

Czar's German Wife Is Doing a Lot of Good Work.

London, July 20.—The Berlin correspondent of The Standard says that while celebrating Christmas eve in the German manner the czarina was asked by her husband to express a wish. She whispered: "Please permit a little more religious toleration." The czar answered smilingly: "That will come by and by." The czar has not forgotten his promise, as it has been reported, but has issued a ukase cancelling that of his father, Alexander III, which ordered that every non-orthodox person in Russia, who married an orthodox person should sign a document declaring that he would baptize and educate his children in the orthodox faith.

The ukase of Emperor Nicholas permits children of mixed marriages to be educated in the religion of their parents—sons in that of their father and daughters in that of their mother.

West Virginia Miners Listen to His Words.

OPERATORS BECOMING ALARMED.

They Fear the Effect of the Speech of His Life—After a Flying Trip Through West Virginia Debs Will Visit the De Armit Mines—Union Miners at Bloomington, Ills., Vote to Go on Strike—Latest Strike News.

Fairmont, W. Va., July 20.—The ranks of the strikers in this district are being rapidly swelled by miners, who have taken the advice of Eugene V. Debs and quit work to aid their fellow workers who are battling for a living wage in other states. The operators have dropped their confident tone and are using every means possible to keep their workmen in line. Increases in wages are being offered. Many operators had already advanced wages 13 cents a ton besides promising bonuses from the extra profit made by the increase in the price of coal. Some of these operators have made a further advance of 3 cents a ton. Debs spoke to the miners in a grove at Willow Tree. He appealed to their manhood, saying that the happiness of 1,000,000 people in the coal district depended upon their action.

Wages Would Be Dropped. He also declared that the advance given by the operators was to aid in keeping them at work, but warned them that the moment they had succeeded in defeating the strike of miners in other states their wages would be dropped down below the amount paid before the struggle began. Debs made the speech of his life. After its conclusion the pale-faced men who had toiled for years in the darkness underground for less than enough to keep soul and body together, gathered around him and one at a time they shook his hand. They followed Debs around wherever he went, and seemed never to grow tired of hearing him speak. Every miner present at the meeting signed his name to a paper, declaring he was willing to join the union, and then a meeting was held in a nearby schoolhouse, where an organization was formed.

Threaten to Shoot. A report from King's mine of the Virginia Coal and Coke company says that sixty of the eighty miners quit, and that the others will be out before night. The owners of the mines declare that short work will be made of all laborers, and that if the latter persist in trespassing on the grounds of the company they will be shot. West Virginia, and will then be sent to the mines of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company. Operators acknowledge that West Virginia will be tied up before next Monday. When this is accomplished the entire force of organizers will be sent to join Debs in an effort to stop work at De Armit's mines. Trouble is expected there, but the case is a desperate one, and the strikers declare that something must be done to bring De Armit to terms.

Union Miners at Bloomington Vote to Go on Strike. Bloomington, Ills., July 20.—A contest is on between the union and non-union miners of the Bloomington shaft that may be followed by serious consequences. The consolidated meeting of the two factions held Monday decided by a close vote to stay at work. The union men, who are by far in the majority, but who were not well represented at the gathering Monday, were chagrined at the outcome, and decided to call a second meeting in the afternoon, when they were confident that the result would be changed.

They spent the intervening hours in laboring with the opposition, and the consequence was a reversal of the morning's decision, 132 miners being present at the afternoon meeting, and all actual union men. All outsiders—even the representatives of the press—were barred. After continuing in session until 6 o'clock a decision was reached to strike for scale rates, or 73 cents, and the opinion was almost unanimous, the vote standing 123 to 9. Committees were appointed to notify the superintendent of their action. It was decided to go to work Tuesday and Wednesday and square up the rooms in the mine and remove all loose coal, thus leaving the roads and rooms in good shape until work is resumed again. After Wednesday evening not a pound of coal will be raised, not even for the city to keep the water works in operation.

GENERAL APPEAL FOR AID.

Efforts to Enlist Public Sympathy in the Strike Movement.

Pittsburg, July 20.—The miners are arranging for a series of meetings in Pittsburg, McKeesport and other points in the district to enlist public sympathy in the strike movement. The meetings will be followed by a general appeal for aid. A private telegram from Columbus to the miners' officials states that one of the most important questions considered by the executive committee at the meeting Monday was that of granting permission to the men to work at the mines where the operators are willing to pay the advanced demand. The committee refused to take the responsibility of deciding the question and it will be referred to a general vote of the strikers. This will take four weeks and in the meantime the strike will go on at all mines.

A Dunbar, Pa., dispatch says the operators are shipping coal to Pittsburg and are paying a higher rate than the strikers demanded. Organizers are at work among the men, but it is not likely that they will come out. Agents for the West Virginia operators are at Dunbar trying to secure men to take the places of the strikers, but are meeting with little success.

Stopped Sovereign's Speech. Columbus, O., July 20.—J. R. Sovereign, president of the Knights of Labor, arrived Tuesday from Pocahontas, Va., where he spoke ten minutes to miners, when the mayor, by proclamation, stopped "all public meetings or assemblages of more than three persons in any public place within the corporate limits," alleging that such meetings were inimical to the public peace. President Ratchford copied the proclamation for future use. Mr. Sovereign reported to President Ratchford that 100 business men of Pocahontas apologized to him for the act of the mayor and that Colonel J. S. Browning of the Browning company, coming away on the train with Mr. Sovereign, also apologized to him for the act of the mayor.

Baltimore and Ohio Miners. Baltimore, July 20.—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company announce that eleven mines on the Monongahela River railroad are working full time. All of the mines on the Fairmont, Morgentown and Pittsburg branch of the Baltimore and Ohio are working, and the two mines on the Maryland railroad, which are not working, are the upper and lower Monongah mines. Everything is quiet. The Fleming mine has not been doing much for a few days and the report from the Pittsburg district is that everything is quiet and there is no change in the situation.

Referendum to Decide. Columbus, O., July 20.—The national executive board of the United Mine Workers, in session here, decided to refer the matters suggested by the strike to the miners themselves. When a proposition meets the board's approval they will refer it to the miners, who will be asked to vote on the referendum plan. All matters in dispute will be referred to the miners, and in case of disagreement, a convention will be called. It is the first time that the referendum system has been called into play.

Trouble Feared at Belleville. St. Louis, July 20.—Having succeeded in getting the miners at O'Fallon, Ills., to go out, the army of strikers that have been marching from town to town persuading men at different points to quit work, left for Belleville. Trouble is feared at Belleville, as the miners at work have declared their intention of not stopping work, while the marching strikers say they will force them to do so.

Indiana Men Restless. Indianapolis, Ind., July 20.—Indiana miners are restless under the continued shipment of coal through the state to the Chicago market, and it is threatened that trouble may break out or the men may resume work unless some way to interrupt the shipments is found.

All But Thirty-Five at Work. Washington, Pa., July 20.—Work was resumed at the Boone and Allison mines at Canonsburg, Pa., Tuesday. All but thirty-five men went into the mines as usual. Everything is peaceful and nearly all the deputies have returned home.

Everybody Has So. T. B. TURLEY APPOINTED. Will Fill the Seat Left Vacant by the Death of Senator Harris. Memphis, Tenn., July 20.—Governor Taylor has appointed Thomas B. Turley of Memphis, United States senator to succeed the late Senator Harris. In an interview with the governor immediately after the appointment he said: "I have chosen Mr. Turley because I wanted to honor the memory of Isham G. Harris. I have chosen him because of his prominent ability and fitness for the position of United States senator. I have chosen him to represent all the people of Tennessee, but in so doing I felt it my duty to make the selection from the grand division of the state from which the dead senator was elected."

When questioned as to the tariff Senator Turley said that he had not studied the bill technically, but that upon the question of tariff he is as near a free trader as it is possible to be. Referring to the differences of opinion which have developed among Democrats in the discussion of the present bill, he said that he is strictly in accord with Democratic declarations through a long series of years and is in favor of tariff for revenue only. The senator preferred not to express an opinion regarding Cuba, believing that the question would not again demand the attention of the entire session of congress. On the financial question, Mr. Turley is strictly in line with the recent Chicago platform.

It gives me great pleasure to express my faith in Carter's Cascara Liver Pills. They are the only medicine I ever take, and they always do their work well, and do just as you say, do not gripe or sicken, and leave the system strengthened and toned up. They give me a good appetite and refreshing sleep. I recommend them to all my friends, ANNIE BIRAY, Chicago. For sale by H. J. Brown.

Sensational Suits at Kansas City. Kansas City, July 20.—Albert S. Nichols, an employe in a hat store, has instituted two sensational suits in the circuit court. The first is against his wife, Pearl B. Nichols, for divorce, naming Ben C. Burgess as co-respondent. The ink making this record on the court document was not dry when Nichols entered the second suit against Mr. Burgess for $10,000 for alienating his wife's affections. Probably no man among the swell club set is better known than Burgess. He declares that the suit is an attempt at blackmail. Mrs. Nichols is visiting in Chicago.

Dr. Herz Demands Indemnity. Paris, July 20.—The Figaro says that Dr. Cornelius Herz of Panama canal fame has written to M. Faure demanding an indemnity of 1,000,000 francs from the French government for false accusations brought against him by French officials and members of the French parliament. In the course of the letter he laid stress upon his American citizenship and asserted that he expected that his claim would be energetically supported by the United States government.

CELEBRATION IN UTAH

Was Settled by the Mormons Fifty Years Ago. YOUNGEST STATE IN THE UNION.

The Chief Event of Interest on the First Day of Celebration is the Unveiling of a Monument Erected to Brigham Young—Salt Lake City Gaily Decorated for the Occasion—Thousands of Visitors Take Part in the Programme.

Salt Lake City, July 20.—The people of the youngest state in the Union, reinforced by thousands of visitors from the east and south and the Pacific coast, began Tuesday a season of festivity in honor of the jubilee anniversary of the entrance of the Mormon pioneers to the Valley of the Great Salt Lake. It will be half a century Saturday since the little band of Anglo-Saxons who had broken the first trail from the Missouri river rounded up a trip that had been attended with innumerable hardships and suffering, and pitched a permanent camp upon the prairie near the site now occupied by the great Mormon tabernacle and temple. From this small beginning, which made possible the settlement of the great American desert and opened the central west to civilization, has grown one of the greatest and best-known cities of the far west.

Only a handful is left of the men and women, the boys and girls, of 1847. All of these have whitened locks and most of them are feeble from old age, but they have journeyed from distant parts of the country, and even from abroad, to participate in the jubilee and to witness, some of them for the first time, the wonderful change that time has wrought in a country which when they first traversed it was a barren and parched plain, with wild beasts and Indians as its only inhabitants.

Recognition of the fact that Utah has emerged from its chrysalis condition as a territory into the full life of statehood is also interwoven with the celebration, which, in the closing words of the eloquent invitation of the jubilee commission, is intended "to commemorate the achievements of the pioneers of 1847; to enable the survivors of them to hold a reunion upon their last camping ground; to illustrate the progress of a commonwealth; to proclaim the prevalence of peace and good will in Utah, regardless of religious belief, and to grandly celebrate the auspicious close of the first half-century of Utah's unique and interesting career."

Booming of cannon ushered in the opening day of the celebration. The gaily decorated streets were crowded from an early hour and the throngs were added to by numerous trains from the east and the west, which came in at intervals during the morning. Outside of an abundance of the stars and stripes the decorations were mostly of sage green, yellow and red, forming a beautiful and striking combination—the sage green representative of the sage brush so plentiful in Utah; the yellow of the sunflower and the red of the foothills.

Monument to Brigham Young. The chief event of the day was the unveiling of the monument erected to Brigham Young. The exercises opened shortly after 10 o'clock, an immense crowd being gathered about the shaft. The ceremonies, consisting of religious rites, music and an oration, were of an impressive character and were participated in by a number of church dignitaries and civic officials.

Tuesday afternoon there was a reception to the surviving pioneers and their children in the tabernacle. At night there was a grand concert, with a chorus of 1,000 voices, in the same structure, and the performance of a pioneer drama at the Salt Lake theater. Of the 2,000 pioneers who entered Salt Lake valley in 1847 there are only 650 survivors. These have each been presented with a gold badge valued at $10, the work of Tiffany & Co. of New York. The badge presents typical figures in the early history of Utah, including an accurate medallion portrait of President Brigham Young.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, COUNTY of Washtenaw. At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, holden at the Probate Office, in the City of Ann Arbor, on Thursday, the 1st day of July, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven. Present, H. Wirt Newkirk, Judge of Probate. In the matter of the estate of Charles Walter Reade, deceased.

Henry Wilson, the administrator of said estate, comes into court and represents that he is not prepared to render his final account as such administrator.

Thereupon it is ordered, that Saturday, the 24th day of July next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for examining and allowing said account, and that the heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said court, then to be holden at the Probate office in the city of Ann Arbor, in said county, and show cause, if any there be, why the said account should not be allowed. And it is further ordered that said administrator give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said account, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the ANN ARBOR ARGUS, a newspaper printed and circulating in said county, three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

DIDN'T KNOW STRATTON.

But After the Millionaire Had Identified Himself He Got His Car.

Probably no town of its size has as many very rich men as Colorado Springs. "They have millionaires to burn," said a gentleman who recently visited there.

"Colorado Springs is the home of W. S. Stratton, the man who a few years ago was at work with a jackplane, earning a scanty living, but who is now the possessor of anywhere from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000," said my friend.

"Stratton does not have the appearance of a man borne down with a weighty pocket-book. Much of the time he goes about in clothes a tramp might object to. When he had, in a couple of years, cleaned up the paltry sum of $4,000,000—or $2,000,000 a year—himself and family thought they would like a vacation. They concluded to make a trip to California.

"The next day Stratton went to Denver on business. His banker had notified him that he had made a mistake of $250,000 in his bank account. He had that much more in the bank than he thought he had. Upon investigation he discovered that he had sent the bank a check for that amount, just taken from the sale of his mine, which he had not noted. That matter cleared up, Mr. Stratton thought he would see about getting tickets for the California trip. As usual, he had on a rather shabby suit.

"Have you got a bargain in tickets to California?" asked Stratton.

"The clerk looked him over carefully and concluded that a hobo had dropped in to get out of the sun.

"Not today. We may have one tomorrow."

"Well, you sell tickets to California, don't you?"

"Certainly, but we have no job lot on hand at present."

"How much is a ticket to San Francisco?"

"The clerk told him.

"Let me see. I shall have to take along several people—servants, you know. Guess you had better give me nine tickets."

"While the clerk was staring at him Stratton was struck with a new idea.

"By the way, how much will a special car cost? I like to go as comfortably as possible when I travel. Yes, I guess I'll have a special car. How much will it cost?"

"The man told him. It was a large sum.

"That's all right. Look here. I'm going to stay a month or six weeks, and I guess I'll sleep in the special. How much more will that cost?" He was told. "All right. I'll take that car for six weeks. Got a blank check?"

"The clerk gave him one. It was filled out and handed to the clerk, who said:

"I know all about Mr. Stratton, but I don't know that you are Mr. Stratton."

"At that moment Banker Moffett passed by. Stratton called out, 'Come in here, Moffett.' He came in. 'Am I Stratton?' 'You are.' 'I thought so, but this clerk had his doubts. Thank you.'"

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The department of Michigan W. R. C. excursion to Detroit and Port Huron on Tuesday, Aug. 3, will be one of the finest trips that will be offered to the public this year. With a fare of 90 cents to Detroit and $1.40 to Port Huron from Ann Arbor it will also be remarkably cheap.

A conference of men and women interested in the great social, hygienic, and philanthropic questions pertaining to the welfare of human society will be held at Battle Creek, Oct. 12-17, 1897, when papers and addresses will be held by prominent philanthropists and educators with the hope of evolving some practical methods of reform.

A summons has been issued out of the circuit court in the case of William Pankey vs. The M. C. R. R. The suit is for damages for the death of complainant's son Daniel Pankey in October of last year, which was caused by the lad falling off a passenger train as he and some companions were jumping on and off it as it moved through the Michigan Central yard.

The supervisors of some of the townships up in Midland county have discovered some diseases new to the medical profession, and in their health reports the following are some of the causes of deaths last year: "Callary infantum," "decline after measles," "hooping cough," "new monia," "tubercular consumption," "cholerae phantem," and "spinel."—Ex.

James Steffe, of Northfield, met with a dangerous accident Monday morning which might have been more serious than it was. He filled his pipe with tobacco and lit it not noticing a 22 calibre cartridge that had by some means got into the pipe. An explosion followed and Mr. Steffe's eyes were filled with tobacco and smoke, otherwise he was unhurt. It was a narrow and lucky escape.

A reunion of the Modern Woodmen of America will be held at Eagle Point, Clark's Lake, on Friday, Aug. 20. It is the intention to make it a noteworthy occasion. Lodges in southern Michigan will send full or large representations and a crowd of at least 2,000 is expected to participate in the celebration. There will be a fine list of sports and a successful day is predicted. Hon. Emory Townsend, of Saginaw, will be orator of the day.

McClure's Magazine for August will be a special midsummer fiction number, with a complete novelette (a story of England and India) by Rudyard Kipling, chapters of a novel by Robert Louis Stevenson, and short stories by A. Conan Doyle, Robert Barr, John Kendrick Bangs, and others. It will be richly illustrated, the frontispiece being from a drawing made expressly for the magazine by Boutet de Monvel, the distinguished French illustrator.

A correspondent to the Times complains of the dangerous practice of killing sparrows by means of poisoned grain and states that not only are the pugnacious little Englishmen destroyed but domestic song birds also. The correspondent demands that the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals step in, and interfere in the matter as cats and other household pets have fallen victims to arsenical poisoning caused by eating these poisoned birds.

Mrs. Sarah A. Palmer died at her home 199 N. Main st., Thursday evening of last week, aged 57 years and 8 months. Her husband George W. Palmer died only a few weeks ago and the surviving members of the family have the sympathy of many friends in their double bereavement. The funeral services were held at the house Sunday afternoon Rev. J. T. Sunderland officiating. The remains were interred beside those of her husband in the Fifth ward cemetery.

The U. of M. Alumni Association of Macomb county banqueted at the American hotel, Romeo, on Thursday evening, July 16. About 40 members and their friends were present and greatly enjoyed the program of toasts and responses, interspersed the music. The newly elected officers are: President, Dwight N. Lowell, Romeo; vice president, Mrs. Decker, Mt. Clemens; secretary, Robert Eldredge, Mt. Clemens. The meeting next year will be held at Mt. Clemens.

The permission heretofore granted to Mack & Co. to extend their show window over the sidewalk was rescinded by the council on Monday night. On Wednesday Mayor Hisecock vetoed the council's action on the ground of irregularities in the council's proceedings, since the sidewalk committee alone recommended that such permission be granted, while the matter had been referred to a joint committee consisting of the sidewalk committee, the ordinance committee and the city attorney.

There is trouble between the Ann Arbor Railway Co. and the common council over the building of a sidewalk on First st. in the second ward. The council has ordered one to be built for the convenience of the residents of that quarter but the company does not want to build it, claiming that it is a convenience to shippers as well as to the railway company not to have the side of the street on which it is proposed to build the walk used by pedestrians. The matter was finally laid over until next week.

A suit brought by J. L. Skinner, of this city, to recover $168 commission dues which he claims are owed to him by G. A. Watkins, state agent of the Penn. Insurance Co., for having assisted him in getting a $10,000 policy to write on the life of Joseph T. Davies, a student in the medical department of the university, was on trial in Justice Pond's court Tuesday and Wednesday. The attorneys on both sides of the case made things quite warm in the court room while the trial was in progress. Justice Pond has not yet rendered his decision in the case.

ANDREE'S BIG AIRSHIP

Scientists Are Not Sanguine for Its Success.

MAY NEVER REACH NORTH POLE.

The Ascent Was Made from Tromsø on the Afternoon of July 11—After a Narrow Escape from Being Driven Against a Rock the Balloon and Its Human Freight Disappear in the North—Something About Construction of Balloon.

Berlin, July 20.—The best scientific opinion here is not sanguine of the success of Professor Andree's undertaking to reach the north pole by means of his airship. Further details have been received as to the circumstances under which the ascent was made from the Island of Tromsø in the midst of a PROFESSOR S. A. ANDREE. strong wind which frequently blew in fierce gusts. The cook had carefully stowed in a small barrel the first dinner to be eaten aloft and Herr Frankel took along a few bottles of beer for immediate use. From the west side of the balloon waved the Swedish colors, side by side with a white silk flag adorned with a blue anchor, the gift of a woman friend of the aeronaut.

Hope to Use Sails. Immediately under the balloon was fastened diagonally a piece of bamboo to which were attached sails like wings which the aeronauts hoped to be able to manipulate from the car by means of ropes. Shortly before 2:30 (July 11) Andree was ready. Then the trio, Andree, Strindberg and Frankel, standing in the car, severed the ropes, holding the balloon and, counting "one, two, three," the balloon rose majestically. All three waved their caps and shouted, "Greetings to all at home in Sweden." After the narrow escape from being driven against the rock in Swerlingburg sound the balloon was seen moving northward exactly as Andree wished over the flat peninsula Hølandernaes. It will probably be driven toward Greenland or the north coast of America.

Something About the Balloon. The balloon in which Andree hopes to reach the north pole is made of three thicknesses of silk, firmly glued together and with five coatings of varnish on the outside. It is 75 feet from the summit to the opening, and 97 feet from the summit to the bottom of the basket. This basket and the apparatus attached to it are wonders of ingenuity. The basket is 5 feet deep, with a wicker cover. In it is a bedstead for one person, the arrangement being that one person shall sleep while two watch and make observations. These observations will be made from the top of the basket. The travelers will stand on the lid and will have around them, in a ring breast high, all the instruments which they will require for their observations. For cooking an apparatus will be dropped fifteen feet below the basket by means of a rope.

Worked by a String. It will be lighted by pulling a string, and when the cooking is done the fire will be put out by pulling another string. These precautions are taken to obviate the danger of having a fire too near the gas of the balloon. The total weight of the balloon and all it will carry is 5,200 kilograms. With Andree are Dr. Frankel an eminent meteorologist of Sweden, and Nils Strindberg, a Stockholm scientific man. Andree has attached to the balloon several drag ropes, by means of which he expects to be able to steer. Diagonally across the balloon, above the suspension ring, a large sail can be carried. This, in the ordinary course, would simply help to carry the balloon before the wind, but by using the drag ropes, Andree contends, he will be able to move some degrees aside from the direction of the wind.

HE IS IN A BAD WAY. The Plaintive Wail of a Love Struck Young Man.

The following effusion of a love-sick swain was picked up on one of the street cars, in this city last Friday night. It is not known whether the young man, secured a chance to talk to the girl or not, but if he can lift himself by his shoe strings, he probably did:

"Ann Arbor, June 12, '97.

"Dearest Miss H—, "My love for you is stronger than coffee or the kick of a young cow. Sensations of exquisite joy go through me like cohorts of ants through an army cracker, an caper over my heart like young goats over a stable roof. As a mean pup bankers after sweet milk so do I in a sea of delightness when you are near me. I feel that I could lift myself with my shoe strings the height of a church steeple. Now, if my love is not reciprocated I will pine away like a poisoned bed-bug; and when you come to mourn over my newly made grave you will catch cold. Answer by return mail and tell me where an when I could see you.

"Yours for ever E. C. G., "8 M— st., "Ann Arbor."

Are you troubled with your hair falling out? If so please give Schumacher & Miller's Hair Restorer a trial, this we are convinced will prove beneficial. It promotes the growth and leaves the hair in a soft smooth condition. We do not mean to say that it will do this in every case as that is nonsense, but we do mean to say that it will prevent the hair from falling out in the majority of cases. We allow you to use one-fourth of the bottle which, if used according to directions, will be a treatment for about one month, if at that time you receive no benefit we will gladly refund the money paid for the preparation.

Would Like to Be Put on the List.

The Chelsea Standard says: "It is stated on good authority that the efforts being put forth by the Alumni Association of the Chelsea High School, to raise the standard of our public schools so that they may be placed on the university list, are not fruitless. The work of this association has been quiet but telling, with the result that a deeper interest in the kind and quantity of work done by our teachers and pupils is being felt by the patrons of the school. Greek is to be taught next year, in addition to German and Latin, and when the few remaining text books have been thrown out which are not approved by the examining committee of the university, our graduates may find a smooth path before them. It seems rather unjust to our students that after four years' work here they should be required to take the difficult examination before they can enter the university, when all that stands in their way is a few disapproved and low grade text books."
