FIFTH MAY FESTIVAL

Brilliant Array of Talent Has Been Engaged.

TWO GREAT WORKS

Will Be Produced During the Concerts.

Verdi's "Requiem" and Wagner's
"Flying Dutchman," the One a Religious Work, the Other is a Dramatic Work.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, May 12-14, will be days fraught with great interest to musical people not only in Ann Arbor but all parts of Michigan, they being the dates for the fifth annual May Festival. But few are left of the 2,545 seats in the main floor and gallery of University hall, and before the concerts begin they, too, will be taken up, and the great artists who will be here are assured of a large and appreciative audience.

The Festival this year will be a fitting successor to those which have preceded it and will be rich in its store of beautiful music. In arranging the program the character of the event has been kept constantly in view and the attempt has been made to present the variety necessary for the full enjoyment of so extended a series of concerts. Thus the "Requiem" by Verdi, presents a striking contrast to the "Flying Dutchman." The one a religious work strikingly representative of the Italian school, as a whole, and illustrative of the style of the greatest living Italian composer; the other a dramatic work in the modern German school, although it is one of the earliest works of the greatest exponent of

DEATH OF JUSTICE POND.

He Passed Away Very Suddenly on Wednesday Evening.

The sudden death of Justice Elihu B. Pond Wednesday evening was a great shock to his intimate friends and indeed to the entire community. He went home from his office at half past five on Wednesday evening in his usual health and spirits and at half past seven he was dead. At about that time he went out into his garden to work around his grapevines, when all at once he fell and before any of his family reached him he was dead.

Mr. Pond had lived in Ann Arbor for 44 years and was probably personally known to every person in the city. He was almost as well known in the county and to public men, of all parties, throughout the state. For 25 years he edited and published the Argus and had previously published the Sentinel at Coldwater, from which place he moved to this city. Mr. Pond was a man of unusual abilities and intelligence. He possessed a fine judicial mind. He would have made a great lawyer had he devoted himself to the legal profession in his youth. He was a man of lofty ideals in public and private conduct, and with a manly courage he followed those ideals in his own life, regardless of how it might affect his personal fortunes. No office in the state would have been beyond his attainment could he have conscientiously been a republican. But he was unwavering in his loyalty to the great principles of the democratic party. He could never be induced to exchange those principles for a temporary makeshift—never sacrifice them for a temporary success—and, as an editor and a citizen, he never hesitated to act and vote against a candidate of his party if he deemed him unworthy. The ordinary politician called this bad politics, but such a person could not fail to secure the respect of every high minded citizen without distinction of party.

Few men in Ann Arbor would be missed more than Mr. Pond. For many years he has been a familiar the dramatic idea, as expressed in music, Germany has given to the world.

Between the Symphony Concert and the Orchestral Matinee the same contrast exists. The "Symphonie Pathétique" of Tchaikowsky is a most marvelous composition and colors the whole Symphony program. The Orchestral Matinee will present a bright sparkling program distinctly popular, yet not including anything unworthy of an intelligent audience.

The Friday evening concert will present a happy medium between the two extremes, following out the usual plan of allowing the soloists greater opportunity than in the ordinary program. The choice of the "Flying Dutchman" is a peculiarly happy one on account of the fact that the principals carry the greater share of the burden and are heard to much better advantage than is the case in the ordinary choral work.

The superb array of talent embraces Mme. Johanna Gadski and Mrs. Jennie Patrick Walker, sopranos, Miss Gertrude May Stein and Miss Janet Spencer, contraltos, Barron Berthald, William H. Rieger and William H. Lavin, tenors, Signor Giuseppe Del Puente and David Bispham, baritones, William Howland, bass. The conductors will be Emil Mollenhauer and Prof. A. A. Stanley.

The changes in the seating arrangements and the electric lighting will conduce to the greater physical comfort of the audience, and will therefore make possible greater aesthetic pleasure.

It is desirable that all who attend the concerts should go early enough to enable the ushers to seat the audience before the time for the concerts to begin, as it is absolutely necessary that all concerts begin at the time announced so as to close early enough for strangers to leave the city on the late trains. During the rendering of all numbers the doors will be closed, and nobody allowed to enter the hall or take a seat.

figure on our streets. In all public matters his judgment has been sought, and in private affairs his generous friendship and kindly advice has been given and had an influence which the world will never know.

Mr. Pond came of good old New England stock. He was born in Essex County, New York, in 1826, but his father and mother were both natives of Vermont and descended from the early settlers of that state. Mr. Pond had held many public positions. He had been county clerk, state senator, and warden of the prison at Jackson, and justice of the peace of this city. For many years he was secretary and afterwards president of the Ann Arbor school board, and to his labors and sound judgment our schools are indebted, in large measure, to the position which they have attained.

His wife, daughter, and two sons who survive him have much to mitigate their sorrow. This kind husband and father had passed the allotted three score years and ten. He died suddenly and painlessly, precisely as he desired. He had expressed this wish to an intimate friend in the afternoon, just previous to his death. He leaves them unfading memories as sweet and beautiful as the flowers which he cultivated and loved; and he leaves them the priceless inheritance of a noble example and stainless name.

The funeral services will be held at the family residence, No. 524 S. State st. at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow to which friends of the family are invited. The burial will be private.

The remains will be interred in Forest Hill cemetery, and the members of the cemetery board, of which he had been secretary and treasurer for so many years, will act as pall bearers.

Christian Schmidt, of 708 N. Fifth ave., only survived his wife four days and died Thursday of last week aged 87 years. The funeral services were held Saturday. Rev. John Neumann officiating.

NEWS OF THE WAR.

Com. Dewey's Great Victory
At Manila.

GREAT DESTRUCTION

Col. Gardener to Command
First Michigan.

Maj. Howell Made Provost Marshal and Col. Tyrrell Appointed to Recruit the Eight Companies Yet Necessary.

The greatest naval battle in the last 30 years was fought in Manila Bay last Sunday and victory perched upon the American banners.

Commodore Dewey's squadron completely destroyed the Spanish fleet in Manila harbor. Three of Admiral Montijo's ships were burnt, one was sunk, and the rest of the Spanish warships rendered hors de combat by the American guns. Our fleet entered Manila Bay Sunday morning at 5 o'clock. The forts on shore at once opened fire on our ships at long range, and the Spanish fleet, anchored off Cavite, immediately followed with their heavy guns.

Commodore Dewey's flagship, the Olympia, then signaled the rest of the American fleet to draw closer in shore and soon our ships opened a terrific cannonade. After half an hour's fighting Dewey's ships moved out of range of the lighter Spanish guns and continued the bombardment with the big guns with terrible effect. Twenty minutes later the Olympia again signaled the other American ships to draw in at close quarters and once more a rapid and incessant cannonading began.

This terrific bombardment soon ended the fight. One after another the Spanish vessels were silenced, and three of them caught fire, including their flag-ship, the Reina Maria Christina. One Spanish vessel was sunk and several run ashore to escape capture.

Commodore Dewey silenced the land batteries after a brief and energetic bombardment. The encounter lasted an hour and a half and it was a great and terrible spectacle. The Spaniards fought bravely and suffered heavy losses. Four hundred Spaniards are reported killed including two commanders.

The American ships are apparently uninjured. Commodore Dewey's attack was well carried out. The maneuvers of his squadron was a beautiful sight, and the navigation of the bay by our ships was a remarkable feat of seamanship, avoiding as they did successfully the many shallows.

Later dispatches reported Dewey in possession of Manila, but the cable has been cut and up to this morning no word has been heard from him. Arrangements are being made to send troops to take possession of the Philippine Islands.

Capt. Gardner, of the regular army, has been appointed Colonel of the First Michigan, to which the Ann Arbor company belongs. The second battalion of the Fourth Regiment, of Detroit, has been added to the First Regiment, thus filling up the twelve companies. Lieut-Col. Schubel, who passed the examination, has been retained as has Maj. Hunt, of Jackson. Capt. Harrah, of Detroit, has been appointed major of the Detroit battalion, while the major in Maj. Howell's place has not been selected. Maj. Howell has been appointed major and provost marshal of Camp Eaton. Col. Tyrrell has been given the rank of major and detailed to recruit the eight additional companies. Rush orders have been issued to examine the men of the First Regiment, which looks as if the regiment would soon be called to Washington.

Death of Alpheus H. Roys.
A familiar figure has passed from our midst in the death of Alpheus Harris Roys, which occurred at his home, 507 Second st., Sunday night, at the advanced age of 75 years, 1 month and 25 days. While never downright sick, Mr. Roys had been gradually failing in strength and vitality for the last few years, but he did not entirely give up his labors at his shop until a short time ago.

Mr. Roys was born in South Sodus, Wayne county, N. Y., in 1820, and was educated in that place and at Geneva, N. Y. His occupation was that of a wood turner, pattern and model maker. He learned his trade in Geneva, afterwards passing five years in Palmyra, Syracuse, and Waterloo under instructions to perfect himself in his business. Mr. Roys came to Ann Arbor in 1842 which had since been his home. He was married the year after he came here to Miss Lucy A. Bostwick, of Detroit, who with their son Herman Roys, of Farwell, and their daughters Mrs. Frank E. Pickett, of Allegan county, and Miss Julia B. Roys, of this city, survives him.

Mr. Roys was never an aspirant for public honors, but was esteemed by all knew him, as a kindly, honest and industrious gentleman. He was, however, alderman of the second ward in which he had resided 35 years, for two terms. He had been a member of the Methodist church since 1855.

THE MAYOR'S APPOINTMENT

Of O. E. Butterfield as City Attorney
Does Not Meet With Favor.

Mayor Hiscock's appointments for the coming year caused quite a lively time in the council Monday evening. The appointment of marshal and patrolmen was received and placed on file. The appointment of T. J. Keech as member of the board of public works, of Moses Seabolt as member of the board of fire commissioners, and of Dr. E. A. Clark as member of the board of health were unanimously adopted. E. L. Seyler was endorsed for city treasurer by a vote of 8 to 6. But it was on the appointment of city attorney where the fun came in.

The mayor nominated for that office O. Elmer Butterfield in place of Thomas D. Kearney. This brought Ald. Arthur Brown to his feet in earnest protest against the confirmation of this appointment. He did not wish to be understood as opposing the mayor's nomination on the ground of unfitness, but the mayor had violated an agreement made when the democratic party endorsed Mr. Hiscock's nomination for the office of mayor and thus effectually secured his election. He had then agreed in consideration of his endorsement by the democratic convention to give the democrats one of the three important appointments, city attorney, chief of police or treasurer. He had promised this to himself, M. J. Cavanaugh, Chas. A. Ward, Thos. D. Kearney, Walter Mack and others. The mayor told Thos. D. Kearney that he could have the office of city attorney one term and then he would give it to Butterfield and give the democrats the treasurer.

Mr. Kearney on being asked by Ald. Brown if this was true, admitted that it was. "Now," said Ald. Brown, "I simply ask this council to make the mayor do like any other man and keep his promises."

Ald. Koch said the mayor had made him the same promise. He also understood that Mr. Butterfield was one of the attorneys for the Michigan Central and did not think the city attorney should be attorney for the Michigan Central also.

Ald. Sweet had talked with the mayor and Mr. Butterfield and the latter said he would not act in cases in which the Michigan Central was interested.

Ald. Hamilton said he would need to be assured that Butterfield had no connection with the Michigan Central before he would vote for his confirmation.

The nomination of Mr. Butterfield was then laid over.

Ald. Hamilton's position in this matter is well taken. A man cannot serve two masters and serve both of them well. The attorney of the Michigan Central is a better paid official than the city attorney of Ann Arbor and it is only natural that his sympathies should run in the channel that pays him best, no matter how much he might strive against it. There is no question of Mr. Butterfield's fitness for the office so far as ability is concerned, but the question of his appointment is one of business policy.

A good business man would not think of entering into a lawsuit with a lawyer who was attorney for his opponent, and it is not good business for the guardians of the city's interests to do for it what they would not do for themselves.

A MAGNIFICENT BEQUEST.

U. of M. Gets $135,000 From Dr.
Elizabeth H. Bates' Estate.

By the will of the late Dr. Elizabeth H. Bates, of Port Chester, N. Y., the university will receive a bequest of $135,000. The income from this bequest will go towards establishing a chair in the medical department devoted to diseases of women and children. It will be known as the Bates professorship.

At present the estate is burdened with an annuity of $1,200 for the benefit of an elderly lady, aged 84. On her death, however, the estate will be free from all incumbencies, and it is expected that it will yield at least $6,000 a year.

At first Mrs. Bates intended to give this money to Harvard, but some friend in the west persuaded her to remember the University of Michigan. Dr. Bates was an alumnae of the University of Pennsylvania.

For the Relief of Dependents.

At the meeting of the ex-members of Co. A held at the armory Friday evening, the committee appointed at the meeting of April 26 made the following report which was adopted:

"At a meeting of the committee appointed by the ex-members of Company A to consider the advisability of organizing a company composed of the former members and members of the Porter Zouaves, after due consideration and considering the fact that we now have one full company in the field and an auxiliary company of over 100 members already enlisted, and while holding ourselves in readiness to respond to any future call, believe it a more important duty at this time to take such steps as will provide relief for the dependent relatives of those who have already responded to their country's call and those who in their turn may follow them."

A committee consisting of Charles E. Hiscock, Col. H. S. Dean, Moses Seabolt, Ottmar Eberbach, Titus F. Hutzel, Henry W. Douglas, James J. Quarry and Thomas A. Bogle was appointed to have charge of the relief movement.

When Hood's Sarsaparilla Gives Strength and Vigor

Backache and That Tired Feeling Promptly Cured.

"I was feeling very miserable. I was tired all the time, had no appetite and felt sore all over my body. I had backache so that when I stooped down it was hard to raise myself up. I was hardly able to work and was just making up my mind to give up my work when I read an advertisement of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I determined to try this medicine. When I had finished one bottle I felt a great deal better. I did not stop my work, and after I had taken the third bottle I felt as well and strong as I ever did in my life. Since then I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla when my blood was impure and I recommend it to everyone who does not feel well."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The Elephant's Neck.

The reason the elephant's neck is short is that the head of the animal is so heavy that were it placed at the end of a neck proportionate to the dimensions of that member in other animals an almost incalculable amount of muscular force would be necessary to elevate and sustain it. The almost total absence of a neck obviates the difficulty and the trunk serves as a substitute. The uses and advantages of a long neck, peculiarly exemplified in the giraffe, which contains only the same number of vertebral articulations as in the elephant, are in the latter supplied by the trunk or proboscis, by which he is able to carry food to his mouth and to drink by suction. This curious organ contains a vast number of muscles variously interlaced, is extremely flexible, endowed with the most exquisite sensibility and the utmost diversity of motion, and compensates amply for the absence of a long neck.—Ex.

IN CAMP AT ISLAND LAKE.

An Argus Correspondent Tells What He Saw Sunday.

Among the many thousand visitors at Camp Eaton, Island Lake, Sunday, it could not but be felt that a sad, serious undertone prevailed. Twenty-two excursion trains brought visitors from all parts of the state. It was said there were double the number of visitors present than ever on any Sunday during the annual encampments.

The camp with its tents has often been described and this year had no new features, except that if anything it was more strictly military in details. The militia is largely composed of young men and are a fine healthy looking body of bright, intelligent faces. What has been said in criticism by foreigners of their lack of discipline may be true, in a measure, but it must not be forgotten that just such young men fought the battles that have made this country what it is today.

There has been much talk of insubordination among the men but when it is sifted, it will be found that these young men will prove true patriots, and then inborn good sense will triumph over the necessary unpleasant features of reorganizing the troops as the exigency of the occasion demands. Our Michigan men will then say that they are ready to fight for their country, be it in one official position or another and will not hesitate to go to the front, because this colonel or that colonel cannot go.

The day was pleasant until 5:30 p. m. when it rained for a time. As at this time most of the visitors were seated in the cars little inconvenience was felt. During the afternoon the boys held general open house and there was hardly a tent that did not have its visitors. They were generally very quiet, the full seriousness of the occasion being visible in every one's demeanor. Possibly it may only be a summer's picnic, toward which the troops are looking forward, and it may be battles in which strong men may be tried. The sweethearts of the men were very much in evidence, and male visitors, no matter of how close relationship, were "not in it" as compared with the "best girl."

Both of the Washtenaw county companies, Co. A, of Ann Arbor, under command of Capt. Granger, and Co. G, of Ypsilanti, under command of Capt. John P. Kirk, made a fine appearance in the dress parade at 4:30 p. m. This was closely watched by the thousands of visitors who in their imagination saw the Michigan troops charging the Dons and defeating those representatives of everything that is cruel, blood-thirsty and evil, and complete what should have been done a century ago, wipe the Spanish rule of oppression and hellishness from the face of the Western Hemisphere.

The men universally declared they were well and had ravenous appetites, which they satisfied with plenty of good food. That their condition of health was good was proved by the fact that only two men were in the hospital, one a case of pneumonia contracted on the way to camp and the other a case of poisoned ivy.

Among the most interested visitors in camp were many old soldiers of the rebellion of '61. Many of these had sons in the regiments. Taken all together the present encampment is the most notable one held for many years, in that everyone knows that it will prove the real patriotism of every man in the militia and show conclusively that they are not tin soldiers. One result of the present war will be that the men enlisting in the state militia hereafter will know that if they expect mere fun they will be mistaken. It is the duty of every citizen to sustain our state militia with words of encouragement and pecuniary assistance. This country must either have a larger standing army or a good militia organization.

The men in camp must have had occasion to think of their friends on Monday when they cleaned up. The camp ground was covered with orange peel, banana skins, lunch boxes and papers. They were all evidences however that they had been thought of by loving friends. When the time came to leave for home many a sad farewell was given, being more sad in a measure, on account of the uncertainty as to the future which exists. The people of Michigan are closely watching the men at Camp Eaton who will not betray the trust reposed in them.

A BACKWARD SPRING

Brings Blood Diseases, Nervous Derangements and Chronic Catarrh.

Never was there a greater demand for spring medicines—something to cleanse the blood, strengthen the nerves, or regulate the digestion. Is there any medicine so good for these purposes as Pe-ru-na? Thousands of doctors, druggists and tens of thousands of people of all classes and vocations have long ago decided this question—that Pe-ru-na has no equal in these cases. Poor, shrunken dyspeptics become strong, vigorous, and hearty after a few bottles of it. People who are bloated, pimpled and sallow never fail to find a course of Pe-ru-na to clear the skin, invigorate the system and enrich the blood. Chronic catarrh in all phases and stages, cases that have defied the best of treatment for many years, take a few bottles of Pe-ru-na to their entire relief. Nervousness, debility, weaknesses of both sexes, sleeplessness, irritability, despondency, hypochondria, all these disappear when Pe-ru-na is used according to directions.

One of the most instructive books on chronic catarrh ever furnished free is being sent by the Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company, Columbus, Ohio. This book is very instructively illustrated with expensive drawings, and will be sent free to any address.

Enchanted Rings of the Greeks.

The enchanted rings of the Greeks and ancients were formed of the gems assigned to the several planets, each set in its appropriate metal. Thus the sun was diamond or sapphire in a ring of gold; the moon, crystal in silver; Mercury, magnet in quicksilver; Venus, amethyst in copper; Mars, emerald in iron; Jupiter, cornelian in tin; and Saturn, turquoise in lead. These rings, if worn in the birth month of the possessor, furthered the progress of his love affairs, and acted as a talisman in many ways. Even in our present day, in various countries, a superstition still exists that to each month is dedicated a precious stone, and that any one, by wearing constantly the stone of his birth month, insures for himself great and unending good luck. So to January the garnet is dedicated. The amethyst to February; the bloodstone to March; to April, the sapphire; to May, the emerald; to June the agate; to July, the ruby; to August, the sardonyx to September, the chrysolite; to October, the opal; to November, the topaz, and to December, the turquoise.

WOMEN'S CLOTHING.

Clothes should always fit properly, says a correspondent. If they hang loosely upon the wearer they will fall to adequately protect her from chills; while if, on the other hand, they are too tight, many evils may result from the constriction of the limbs, or—worse still—of the internal organs. Tight sleeves, garters and boots are responsible for many evils arising from impeded circulation, while no words can be too strong in condemnation of the ruinous practice of constricting the waist by tight corsets. The lungs, heart and abdominal organs are all thus pushed out of place, causing present misery and frequently inducing permanent disease. Boots also are seldom made to fit the foot. If the reader will stand barefoot upon a sheet of paper, and mark the outline of her foot with a pencil, she will see at once how little it resembles the shape of the fashionable narrow-toed boot. Clothing, to fulfill its purpose, should always be made to fit the wearer—not the wearer forced to accommodate herself to her clothing.

A Farmer's Family.

"I have proved the merits of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a tonic and blood purifier. I am a farmer and have a family of children and I have found this medicine excellent to keep their blood pure. It makes the weak strong, and I heartily recommend it as a family medicine." C. GRIDLEY, Birch Run, Michigan.

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla. Cure all liver ills.

The Cat in Ancient Times.

The cat was very highly regarded in England at one time, both as a rat and mouse catcher, and as an ornament to society. The ancient Egyptians treated cats with great distinction. It was a crime to kill them. The most prominent cats were upon death embalmers in drugs and spices, and cat mummies have been found side by side with those of kings. When Cambyses, the Persian, attacked the Egyptian city of Pelusis, he cunningly provided his soldiers with cats instead of shields. When the host advanced, the Egyptians retired in confusion upon discovering that they would be unable to do damage to their enemy without seriously imperiling the lives of vast numbers of cats. And so the city was taken easily. It cannot be disputed that the ancient Egyptian cats must have enjoyed life very much.

BEWARE OF MORPHINE.

Special forms of suffering lead many a woman to acquire the morphine habit. One of these forms of suffering is a dull, persistent pain in the side, accompanied by heat and throbbing.

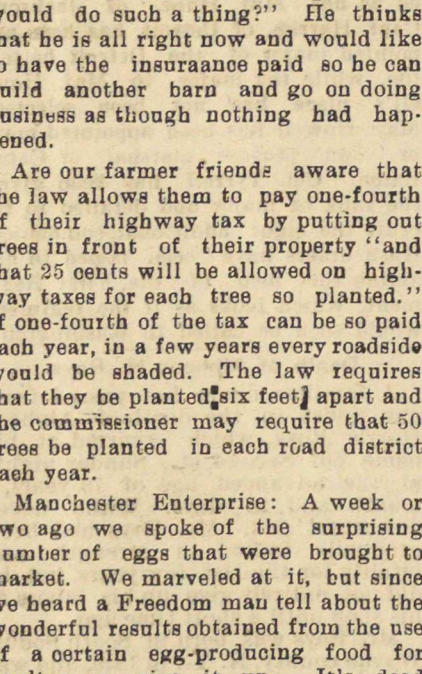

Mrs. LUCY PEASLEY, Derby Center, Vt., says:—"I was very miserable; was so weak that I could hardly get around the house, could do nothing without feeling tired out. My monthly periods had stopped and I was so tired and nervous all of the time. I was troubled very much with falling of the womb and bearing-down pains. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; I have taken five bottles, and think it is the best medicine I ever used. Now I can work, and feel like myself. I used to be troubled greatly with my head, but I have had no bad headaches or palpitation of the heart, womb trouble or bearing-down pains, since I commenced to take Mrs. Pinkham's medicine. I gladly recommend the Vegetable Compound to every suffering woman. The use of one bottle will prove what it can do."

The best thing with which a mother can crown her daughter is a common sense knowledge of the distinctively feminine physiology. Every woman should thoroughly understand her own nature. Every woman should understand the supreme importance of keeping herself well and strong in a womanly way. Nearly all of the pains and aches, nearly all the weakness and sickness and suffering of women is due to disorders or disease of the organs distinctively feminine.

A woman who suffers in this way is unfitted for wifehood and motherhood. Maternity is a menace of death. Thousands of women suffer in this way because their innate modesty will not permit them to submit to the disgusting examinations and local treatment insisted upon by the average physician. These ordeals are unnecessary. Dr. R. V. Pierce, an eminent and skillful specialist, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., has discovered a wonderful remedy with which women may treat and speedily cure themselves in the privacy of their own homes. This medicine is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned. It makes them well and strong. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain and rests the tortured nerves. Taken during the critical period, it banishes the usual discomforts and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. Thousands of women who were once weak, sickly, nervous, fretful invalids, are now happy, healthy wives, because of this medicine. It is sold by all good medicine dealers and no honest dealer will advise a substitute.

"When I commenced using Dr. Pierce's medicines three years ago," writes Mrs. Ella J. Fox, care of W. C. Fox, of Eldorado, Saline County, "I was the picture of death. I had no heart to take anything. Weight was 75. My husband had been to see five different doctors about my trouble (female weakness). I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicines, also wrote to him for advice. I took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and one vial of his 'Pleasant Pellets,' and am now a well woman."

Washington, May 3.—An elaborate plan of warfare has been outlined by the administration, to be started at once. This programme, outlined by a member of the cabinet, is of course subject to change by the rapidly changing circumstances of war, but if not interfered with will proceed about as follows: The Philippine islands will be occupied without much delay by a military force of the United States under General Fitzhugh Lee, provided he will accept. A Shattered Nervous System.

FINALLY HEART TROUBLE. Restored to Health by Dr. Miles' Nerve.

M. R. EDWARD HARDY, the jolly manager of Sheppard Co's great store at Braceville, Ill., writes: "I had never been sick a day in my life until 1890. I got so bad with nervous prostration that I had to give up and commence to doctor. I tried our local physicians and one in Joliet, but none gave me any relief and I thought I was going to die. I became despondent and suffered untold agony. I could not eat, sleep nor rest, and it seemed as if I could not exist. At the end of six months I was reduced to but a shadow of myself, and at last my heart became affected and I was truly miserable. I took six or eight bottles of Dr. Miles' Nerve. It gave me relief from the start, and at last a cure, the greatest blessing of my life."

Trials of an "Animal Artist."

Meredith Nugent contributes to the St. Nicholas "Leaves from the Sketch Book on an 'Animal Artist.'" Mr. Nugent says: When one commences to sketch a cow that animal invariably takes her departure, the sleeping lions at Central Park always wake up after a few strokes of the pencil, and even the sluggish snail becomes imbued with an amazing degree of swiftness if an attempt is made to sketch him. At least, this is the way it seems to the "animal artist." A Baltimore oriole acquaintance of mine used repeatedly to come to the edge of the carboard on which I was drawing, and eye the rapidly moving pen with the greatest interest; but if I attempted to sketch him he would fly away immediately. True, I was once fortunate enough to catch the bright bird at his bath, when he was so thoroughly engaged in spluttering water over everything as to be totally unaware of my presence. "An impression" made on that occasion is shown on the following page. Some animals are comparatively easy to sketch, and some very difficult. The great elephant belongs to this latter class. He always appears to be in a state of perpetual motion.

A Pretty Battery.

A correspondent of the New York Times tells the following story of Lincoln: "At the breaking out of the civil war Capt. Tompkins, of the battery of artillery, state of Rhode Island militia, stationed at Providence, R. I., enlisted with his entire command and left at once for Washington. Soon after his arrival his battery, together with other troops, was reviewed by the president in front of the white house, and Capt. Tompkins, proud of his battery, brought it past the president in the very best shape he was capable of doing, and at once returned to be presented to the president, as was done with all the other officers. When the captain was presented, Lincoln said loud enough for all near by to hear: 'Captain, your battery is a very pretty battery—in fact, the prettiest battery I have ever seen,' and then in so low a tone that no one but the captain heard him: 'But I must say, captain, I have seen very few batteries.'"

Since the last report one party has been placed in the county house and steps have been taken to have some of the children referred to and the same sent to the Reform school at Adrian.

It will be seen in the tabulated report that in this department of the city government there have been more patients treated than in the months covered by the last report but fewer visits have been made owing to the different nature of the cases.

The total expense of this office to the city has been $111.25. Being unable to find any record of previous years it is impossible to say as to whether the expense is greater or less than before.

During the year several cases have been applied for treatment whose condition was such as to require the advantages of a hospital. As there was no money provided by the city for the care of such cases at the hospitals, the professors at the heads of the respective departments to which they were assigned and friends subscribed sufficient to keep such patients until they could be cared for outside.

As a city, we are much in need of a place where we can send our worthy sick poor who need hospital care, and steps should be taken to supply one.

When the $25,000 was donated by the city for the erection of a hospital, "to be known as university hospital," no written provision was made for a separate ward or bed to be used by the city.

At the time the question was under consideration, jointly by the citizens and members of the Board of Regents of the university, there was a verbal understanding that two beds be set apart for the city's use. It seems that having the talent, skill and appliances at our command, steps should be taken to avail ourselves of this opportunity and see that some room be reserved for our city's use.

Very respectfully, D. M. COWIE, City Physician.

Received and ordered filed.

Death of an Old Veteran.

Reuben R. Huntington, an old soldier who came here from Mason a few weeks ago for medical treatment, died at the home of his brother-in-law Moses Seabolt, on N. Fifth ave., Sunday, at the age of 70 years.

He had been an active participant in the war with Mexico, in the war of the rebellion and in numerous Indian campaigns, receiving frequent injuries, which resulted in his total disability, and he has had to use crutches for many years.

The funeral services were held Monday afternoon, the interment in the Fifth ward cemetery being in charge of Welch Post, No. 137, G. A. R.

Card of Thanks.

Through this medium I desire to return my heartfelt thanks to all those who so kindly offered their services during the illness and death of my husband, and especially Welch Post, G. A. R., and J. T. Jacobs Camp, Sons of Veterans, who took charge of the burial services. Being a stranger among you all, the attention thus bestowed is highly appreciated. Again my thanks.

MRS. A. J. HUNTINGTON.

Does Baby Thrive?

If your baby is delicate and sickly and its food does not nourish it, put fifteen or twenty drops of Scott's Emulsion in its bottle three or four times a day and you will see a marked change.

We have had abundant proof that they will thrive on this emulsion when other food fails to nourish them.

It is the same with larger children that are delicate. Scott's Emulsion seems to be the element lacking in their food. Do not fail to try it if your children do not thrive.

It is as useful for them in summer as in winter.

Ask your doctor if this is not true.

Ann Arbor Lodge, No. 325, B. P. O. Elks, has passed a preamble and resolutions commendatory of the patriotism of its members Capt. Ross Granger and Sergeants Fred Huntoon and Dean C. Seabolt in enlisting to fight the battles of their country should it be necessary; also endorsing the plan of Kalamazoo Lodge, No. 50, to form a regiment for service composed entirely of Elks.

Adrian Press: The six Ann Arbor saloonists have retained four lawyers, all big guns, to fight the Spanish war waged against them by the Anti-Saloon League, and the cases were adjourned until May 20th, to give the defendants time to secure ammunition, take on coal, procure testimony and disprove the charge made against them. They denounce the league as a sort of old granny legally and proclaim their ability to liquor every day in the week.

Miss Mary Angell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Angell, of Chicago, and niece of Dr. James B. Angell, president of the University of Michigan, was married at the Holy Angels' church in Chicago, Tuesday morning, to Mr. Frederick Scullin, of St. Louis, Mo. The marriage was a somewhat romantic one being a case of love at first sight. Mr. Scullin, however, was a Roman Catholic, which was an obstacle in the way as Miss Angell was a Congregationalist. This difficulty was surmounted by Miss Angell embracing the Catholic faith.

Coldwater Sun: In reading the usual notices from his pulpit last Sunday evening Rev. W. L. Cogshall of this place took up a piece of paper and to all appearances read from it as follows: "The regular session of the Donkey club will be held at the close of service. Members will line up just outside the church door, make remarks and stare at the ladies who pass as is the custom with the donkeys in full standing. Any member known to escort a lady to church like a gentleman, sit with her like a gentleman during service, and escort her home again like a gentleman, will be promptly expelled from membership." The application of the preacher's wit is obvious.

Manchester Enterprise: Dr. Stein, of Manchester, was in Havana shortly before the commencement of hostilities between the U. S. and Spain. He brought home with him one of the machettes with which the Cubans for the most part are armed. It is a murderous looking knife, 28 inches in length, with bone handle, and weighs a pound and three-quarters. The knife was manufactured in Hartford, Conn., and is used by the southerners of the states as well as the Cubans to cut sugar cane. The Spaniards tried to use the knives that fell into their hands, but could not get the knack of it and the Cubans, who were experts, mowed them down right and left whenever they came to close quarters.

A Funny Little Cub Bear.

In St. Nicholas Meredith Nugent has "Leaves from the Sketch Book of an Animal Artist." Mr. Nugent says: The funniest model in my experience was a cub bear; and during his visit to the studio we laughed more than we worked. While his antics were very amusing, it was the indescribably funny expressions he always wore which kept the studio in such a state of hilarity. "Unbeknown" to us, one day he got out; and, walking along on his hind legs in a ridiculous shuffle, effectually blocked the hallway, until we came to the rescue of the frightened people. It was not the only time he fell into trouble. When we first came into possession of little Bruin we sent the studio boy with a large market basket to bring the treasure up-town. The boy was cautioned to be very careful of his charge—in fact, he was cautioned too much. On the elevated railroad train that boy fairly ached to get a look at the bear, and so opened the lid the tiniest bit, and peeped in. Instantly the animal thrust his whole head out, to the great astonishment of the lady passengers, among whom he created a small panic. It is needless to say that both bear and boy were put off at the first stopping place.

A True Story.

"My boy came home from school with his hand badly lacerated and suffering great pain, I dressed the wound and applied Carter's Herbal Ointment freely. All pain ceased and in a very short time healed without leaving a scar." For wounds, sprains and swellings, I know of no remedy to equal it. It is a household necessity. Price 25c. For sale by H. J. Take Your Eyes.

Prof. Harry Thurston Peck, in The Bookman, in describing what the stranger may see in Liverpool—if he has the quick eyes of Prof. Peck—notes a curious instance of church rivalry. Something of the sort may be observed in other parts of the world, though usually less frank in methods. "The stranger," writes Prof. Peck, "will be pleased to observe near the Prince's Park two small dissenting chapels that are evidently rivals in the work of saving souls, for each has a large tin sign inviting spiritual custom. Both salute the wayfarer with 'Welcome All!' but one describes its exercises alliteratively as 'Brief, Bright and Brotherly,' while the other, with perhaps a profounder psychological insight into human nature, says nothing about the brightness or the brotherliness, but gets down to a definite basis on the question of brevity in announcing (as though it were a surgical operation) that it is 'All Over in One Hour,' adding also, still more reassuring, 'Sermon Positively Only Fifteen Minutes.'"

CABLE CUT FIFTY MILES OUT

Spain Will Throw Her Whole Naval Strength Against the Squadron in Cuban Waters.

Madrid Under Martial Law—Cabinet Crisis Averted and the Government Will Continue as It Now Is—Placing Responsibility for the Disaster to the Spanish Fleet—Patriotic Feeling Increasing in Madrid—Pope Prostrated by War News.

Madrid, May 3.—The last dispatch from Manila before the cable was cut said:

"Only the outlying native quarters have suffered. They are now in flames. Occasionally a shell fell in the European town, where a few houses were struck. The batteries of the Ciudadad, especially large guns, are vigorously replying to the American fire and have inflicted considerable damage on the fleet."

New York, May 3.—A Wall street news agency sends out the following: "Hong Kong—Manila has fallen. The stars and stripes wave over the Philippines."

London, May 3.—Inquiries made at the offices of the Eastern Telegraph company show it to have been impossible for any word to have come from Manila since 10 o'clock Monday morning. The officials of the company say that, according to their tests from Hong Kong, the cable was cut fifty miles from Manila. They think a week, or even a fortnight may elapse before it can be repaired, as there are no facilities there to repair the cable, and in any event, it will be a difficult task to pick up the cable in deep water.

It is announced in a special dispatch from Madrid that there is no idea of surrender there, either in ministerial circles or among the populace. On the contrary, it is added, the war is to be pursued with greater vigor. This special dispatch adds that it is even stated at Madrid by those who are responsible for the naval movements that it has been determined to avoid isolated combats on unequal terms and with a superior enemy, and that they now intend to throw the whole united naval strength of Spain into one supreme effort to crush the American squadron in Cuban waters.

Cabinet Crisis Averted.

The Madrid correspondent of The Evening News cables the following message to his paper: "Although Premier Sagasta's conferences with the queen regent and Liberal leaders, Montero and Rios, led to rumors of the formation of a national government, the facts are that Senor Sagasta placed the situation before the queen regent, explaining that the significance of the events in the Philippine islands indicated certain possible solutions for the future. Thereupon the queen expressed continued confidence in the government, which will continue as now constituted for the present. Senors Gamazo and Montero express the opinion that the present cabinet should continue in power. The ministers met at Senor Sagasta's residence and the premier communicated to them the result of his interview with the queen regent." Martial law has been proclaimed in Madrid and troops are now patrolling the city. The proclamation of martial law was decided upon because of the attitude of certain political parties.

Second Spanish Squadron.

A Cadiz dispatch says that the second Spanish squadron, consisting of the warships Pelayo, Alfonso XIII and Victoria, and a number of smaller ships have nearly completed its preparations for active service. It is reported, however, that great difficulty is experienced in fitting out the ships, owing to a lack of money. The British engineers have refused to serve on board of them, owing, it is said, to the belief that they are liable to severe punishment under the foreign enlistment act. The Spanish auxiliary cruiser Guardia has, it is announced, taken fourteen guns on board, and is now on a trial cruise.

MADRID NORMAL AGAIN.

The Proclamation of Martial Law Has a Good Effect. Madrid, May 3.—The proclamation of martial law issued by the governor general expressly prohibits the publication of any news concerning the war or the movements of ships of the Spanish navy. The city of Madrid is quiet and things have resumed their normal aspect. The principal newspapers advise calmness, "so as to avoid the unpatriotic spectacle of disturbances when Spain's united forces are required to avenge her recent losses."

Much attention centers in the debates in the chamber and senate, which will be raised by the republicans and Carlists, who propose to hold the government responsible for the country's present position. Although the position of certain members of the cabinet is regarded as unfavorable, it is a matter of difficulty to find men who are willing to succeed them under the present circumstances. All classes are demanding that a strong military attitude be taken up by men capable of coping with the present situation. Nobody will listen to a proposal of peace until Spain has had another chance of measuring her strength with that of the United States.

It is rumored that Senor Gasset will propose that the present minister of marine, Admiral Bermejo, and his predecessor, Admiral Berneger, be forced to assume responsibility for the Philippine disaster. The patriotic feeling here is increasing. The Spanish officials say that when Commodore Dewey demanded the surrender of the Spanish guns, torpedoes, etc., Governor General Augusti replied: "Come and face them."

As a precautionary measure, in view of the excitement which may follow the debates in the cortes, the troops of the garrison have been confined to barracks and the guards at all public buildings has been doubled. The captain general of Madrid, an impassive, energetic man, will, it is said, carry out martial law in a stern manner.

Special dispatch from Rome says the queen regent has telegraphed the pope that Spain is resolved to resist to the bitter end.

GREAT BRITAIN TAKES A HAND.

Declaration That She Has Advised Spain to Give Up.

London, May 3.—The report was current in the house of commons at midnight that an official telegram had been received by the foreign office from the British consul general at Manila announcing the capitulation of the city. The story is unconfirmed, but it is known that several cable messages have passed between Balfour and the British ambassador at Madrid, in which the British government is understood to have advised the Spanish cabinet that an honorable submission is the best way of safeguarding Spanish interests in the Philippines, as well as those of other powers.

W. Allison McCartney, secretary of the British admiralty, said, in reply to an inquiry whether any special significance attaches to the reported movement of the British channel squadron to the Canaries: "The call at the Canaries is within the ordinary routine. It has no special meaning in relation to the war."

Praise for Commodore Dewey.

London, May 3.—The majority of the important provincial papers pay warm tributes to the conduct of Commodore Dewey and the United States fleet at Manila. The Leeds Mercury says: "The operations of the United States squadron were skillfully planned and courageously executed. It was a daring operation, entering the bay under the cover of darkness." The Bradford Observer says: "It was a singularly daring exploit, and it will rank high in naval annals, not in American merely, but throughout the world." The above are brief examples of many similar expressions of opinion on the subject.

Thinks It Will End the War.

Paris, May 3.—The Jour writes: "An American diplomatist occupying an official position in Paris," as saying: "I believe the victory at Manila will end the war. I am almost certain European intervention is going to occur, and this time the United States will be disposed to welcome any peace overtures of the powers. We will return the Philippine islands and ask for no indemnity. We only want one thing, the recognition of the independence of Cuba. On that basis and under these conditions we will lay down our arms. It is possible peace is near, if Spain is reasonable."

Pope Prostrated by War News.

Rome, May 3.—His holiness is quite prostrated by the news from Manila. He has expressed his horror at the terrible loss of life and repeatedly said that he could wish to have died before seeing such a war. Both the pope and Cardinal Rampolla, papal secretary of state, have refused to consider any interference, declaring that the attitude of the Vatican is one of strict neutrality.

No News at Hong Kong.

Hong Kong, May 3.—No news of any description in regard to the battle of Manila has been received here with the exception of the information cabled from London. The insurgent leaders here are hoping to administer the Philippine islands provisionally under American protection, but there are endless dissensions among the insurgents at Hong Kong.

May Tackle the Oregon.

Buenos Ayres, May 3.—A dispatch from Rio Janeiro says the Spanish torpedo gunboat Temerario has arrived there and is stripped for action. As the United States battleship Oregon and gunboat Marinetta are there, a battle is expected. If a battle occurs the warships will have to go outside the three-mile limit.

Weyer Would Go to Cuba.

London, May 3.—A special from Madrid says General Weyer declares himself ready to return to Cuba and undertake the leadership of aggressive warfare against the United States and to head the army of invasion.

Has No Information.

London, May 3.—It was announced in the house of commons that the British government has no information regarding the reported bombardment and destruction of Manila.

Says Squadron Has Sailed.

Madrid, May 3.—An official dispatch from Havana says the entire American squadron has sailed, presumably in the direction of Key West.

PAUNCEFOTE TO LEAVE US.

The Ambassador Will Be Succeeded by Sir Thomas Sanderson.

London, May 3.—According to a report published here the British ambassador at Washington, Sir Julian Pauncefote, is to be succeeded by Sir Thomas H. Sanderson, K. C. B., K. C. G. M., the permanent under secretary of state for foreign affairs, one of the most experienced diplomatic officials in the British service.

Preparing Mandamus Proceedings.

Lansing, Mich., May 3.—The Liverpool, London and Globe Fire Insurance company, whose license to do business in Michigan was revoked last week on account of its writing lines of risks held to be excessive under the state laws, is preparing mandamus proceedings to compel its reinstatement. Insurance Commissioner Campbell has notified each agent of the company in Michigan not to write insurance for it under penalty of arrest.

Died in an Attic Room.

Chicago, May 3.—William Wares, formerly a member of the Board of Trade, was found dead in an attic room of the Chicago hotel, in Clark street. A post-mortem examination showed that he died of pneumonia. He was 70 years old and was reputed to be worth $100,000. He owned Barron Lake, a well-known Michigan summer resort. He has lived for the past year in the little room where he died, being seldom seen by his former business friends.

Judge Goggin's Successor.

Springfield, May 3.—George A. Trude of Chicago has been appointed judge of the superior court of Cook county by Governor Tanner, to succeed the late Judge Goggin.

A Royal Record Saved Him.

New York Times: According to the story of Mesrob Mamovlian, who was arraigned before Justice Newburger, in general sessions, Tuesday on a charge of assault, he was formerly "royal painter artist" to the sultan of Turkey. Losing his royal job, he came to New York, and lived in humble fashion over the little restaurant of Hartanan Ohannessian, a fellow-country man, at 154 East Twenty-seventh street. He got into a dispute with Ohannessian, and hit him in the eye with a coffee pot. Ohannessian repented of causing the arrest of such a dignitary as the ex-artist, and wrote a letter to the judge, which stated that he and Mamovlian had been very nervous on the day of the assault, and that if Mamovlian had not thought he was going to strike him first he would never have struck him with the coffee pot. He wrote that he could not appear against his friend. Mamovlian prostrated himself before the judge when brought into court, and addressed him as his royal highness. The judge discharged the prisoner.

TWO MORE RESCUED.

Employees of the Union Terminal Co., Tell of Their Experience.

Detroit, May 2.—Mr. Edward Scisco, a railroad man, who works for the Union Terminal Co., and boards at 87 20th st, has recently been cured of an exceedingly severe case of Kidney Disease by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I never saw anything more wonderful than the cures these Pills are making," said Mr. Scisco. "I am sure I would have been dead now, only for them. And there is John Paisley, who works for the same company, who, as all the men know, has been sick for years with Kidney and Stomach trouble. He has spent hundreds of dollars doctoring, and nothing did him any good until he took Dodd's Kidney Pills. His case is even more wonderful than mine." Mr. Paisley was seen, and not only verified Mr. Scisco's statement; but was very pronounced in his praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only remedy that has ever cured Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Dropsy, and are a never-failing cure for Rheumatism, Backache, Heart Disease, Impure Blood, and all diseases arising from disordered kidneys.

A Tame Wildcat.

From the Kansas City Journal comes a pleasing account of a tame wildcat, the property of a Chicago gentleman: The cat, which is as large as a good-sized bull-dog, and, according to its proud owner, could whip an even dozen of those iron-jawed beasts in as many minutes, is as docile and gentle as a kitten. Trapper James Wilson, whose log cabin is situated in the wilds of the Minnesota woods surrounding Sturgeon lake, captured the wildcat when it was so small that its eyes were hardly open. He trained it for thirteen months, feeding it with cooked beef, milk, and bread, and today, in its new Chicago home, it plays about the office in amusing gentleness, stands gravely in the window gazing with wandering eyes out upon the street, with its multitude of horses and wagons, or starts in its brisker moods on a wild career of leaping about the office. A jump of a seven-foot partition is not quite the limit of its endeavors, and a spring of ten or eleven feet from the top of a desk to a stack of boxes, on which it lands without causing the pile to topple over, is one of its prettiest feats.

What Others Say About It.

It gives me pleasure to express my faith in Carter's Cascara Cordial, which is the only medicine I ever take or recommend. During a time when I was greatly overworked I was persuaded by a friend to try the Cordial. I am happy to say I immediately began to realize tonic and blood-nourishing effects. I have in my travels recommended it to many people, and personally know of several cases where the Cordial has effected a cure when the doctors have failed.

Respectfully, MABEL JENNESS MILLER. For sale by H. J. Brown.

Getting Ahead of the Procession.

"What objection have you to offer to my patriotic sentiments?" inquired the very knowing young man. "No objection whatever," replied Farmer Cornstussel, who had displayed little enthusiasm. "But I hate to see ye rushin' things so. I'm kind o' skeered fur fear ye're settin' sech a pace in yer own mind that in case of any call fur fighters ye'll be clean through the hull business, so fur as ye're personally concerned, an' have peace declared."—Washington Star.

Dull Boys. Dull boys often become clever and successful men; but this is simply on account of the fact that dull boys are only slow boys, and it takes more time for their brains to grow than the others. It is steady work, ceaseless endeavor, that tells. Then, again, we forget that a bright boy may be handicapped by other qualities; he may not have the physical strength or energy of the other, while the dull boy is carried forward by never-failing energy and strength; for it is often his dullness at school that makes the dull boy's subsequent success so conspicuous.

How many dull boys have become still duller men, and how many bright boys still brighter men! Like the old reproach about ministers' sons, one bright boy that turns out ill is made to stand for the whole class; and one dull boy that turns out well glorifies his whole class. Notwithstanding all our inventions, all our progress, the old Scripture doctrine still holds good—that men reap what they sow, and cannot gather grapes of thistles, nor figs of thorns. It can be set down, therefore, as an established rule that bright boys generally do turn out to be bright men, and dull boys generally do turn out to be dull men.

This, you see, gives the latter a chance, which can be fortified by declaring that good boys always turn out good men, and generally successful men.

A Bicycle Shower Bath. A decided novelty has recently been brought out by a French bicycle manufacturer, and has been exhibited by him at a cycle show in Paris. It is termed, according to invention, a velo douche, and is an eminently practical device for combining exercise with the morning ablutions. It consists of a shallow tub, to which is secured a framework carrying a bicycle saddle, a handle bar, pedals, sprocket wheels and chain. The resemblance to a bicycle goes no farther. The suction pipe of the pump ends near the bottom of the tub, and the discharge pipe is curved and ends in the sprinkler arrangement common to all shower baths. A cork half way up the discharge pipe permits of the water being turned on to the sprinkler or through the hose and nozzle, depending on whether a bath is desired or not.

When the rider has exercised sufficiently he can reach backward and turn the cock so as to let the water pass upwards and out of the sprinkler. The harder he pedals, the larger the stream. The tub can be divided into two compartments, one containing hot water, and the cold and hot douches may then be used at will.

Congressional Fun. When the establishment of the mint was under discussion in Washington's time there were some amusing debates in congress concerning the devices the coins should bear. Here is an account of one funny squabble over the design for the silver dollar: A member of the house from the south bitterly opposed the choice of the eagle on the ground of its being the "king of birds," and hence neither proper nor suitable to represent a nation whose institutions and interests were wholly inimical to monarchical forms of government.

Judge Thacher in reply playfully suggested that perhaps a goose might suit the gentleman, as it was rather a humble and republican bird, and would also be serviceable in other respects, as the goslings would answer to place upon the dime. This reply created considerable merriment, and the irate southerner, considering the humorous rejoined an insult, sent a challenge to the judge who promptly declined it. The bearer, rather astonished, asked, "Will you be branded as a coward?" "Certainly, if he pleases," replied Thacher. "I always was one, and he knew it, or he would never have risked a challenge." The affair occasioned much mirth, but finally cordial relations were restored, the irritable southerner concluding there was nothing to be gained in fighting one who fired nothing but jokes.

MOTHER! There is no word so full of meaning and about which such tender and holy recollections cluster as that of "MOTHER"—she who watched over our helpless infancy and guided our first tottering step. Yet the life of every Expectant Mother is beset with danger and all effort should be made to avoid it, so assists nature in the changeful place that the Expectant Mother is enabled to look forward without dread, suffering or gloomy forebodings, to the hour when she experiences the joy of Motherhood. Its use insures safety to the lives of both Mother and Child, and she is found stronger after than before confinement—in short, it "makes Childbirth natural and easy," as so many have said. Don't be persuaded to use anything but is not considered a cardinal virtue and yet nearly all our actions in life are governed by selfish considerations. It is self-interest that makes people look after the money spending very carefully nowadays, and we are free to confess it is also like selfish interest that moves us when we make it a futile waste of time for you to search anywhere for a saving upon our prices. Hence it is that despite weather and war this store is busy every day. And then there's a satisfaction in receiving prompt attention, in being in a place that's comfortable and homelike, and where you can get anything you may want. We invite you to

A student was shot in the arm Wednesday evening by another student who was being pursued by a crowd who wanted to cut his hair. The young fellow fired into the crowd with the above result. The University faculty say they will expel all the participants in the affair if they can find them out. It is time the silly fad was put an end to.

The hair cutting fad among the students came near proving fatal to Rev. E. A. Spence's locks on Tuesday evening. When he went out of his house on the street he was jumped on by a large body of the young men who were about to trim up his hair when they discovered their mistake. In their hurry to get away one of them left his hat in Mr. Spence's possession.

A few weeks ago Charles A. Ward, editor of the Democrat, lost his mileage book. It was traced back to a student who had found it and sold it to George Kelly, the ticket broker. He gave a bond for his appearance for trial Tuesday, but he will doubtless think a settlement the best way out of the matter and make proper amends.

Circuit Court Doings.

The May term of the circuit court opened Monday morning, Judge Kinne on the bench. The morning session was spent chiefly in calling the docket. Joseph Scott, colored, pleaded guilty of assault and was sentenced to three months in the county jail. George Midgley got the same sentence for being drunk. James H. Lepper pleaded not guilty to a violation of the liquor law and will stand trial. The case of C. L. McGuire was continued, as were most of the criminal cases.

In the afternoon the motion to change the venue in the case of Howard Stockwell vs. Joseph Doane, Wm. Judson, Lester Canfield and Wm. Mosher was argued. The judge denied the motion.
Tuesday morning James A. Turner, who had been in jail for four months on a charge of rape, changed his plea of "not guilty" to one of "guilty" and was sentenced to eight months in the county jail.
The next case taken up was that of James Linnen vs. Paris S. Banfield. The case arose out of the arrest of Linnen in 1894 on the charge of breaking into Sheehan's bookstore. He was found not guilty of the charge and brought suit against Banfield for false imprisonment. The case was tried at the October term of court in 1895 when the judge took the case from the jury and rendered a verdict of no cause of action. The case was appealed to the supreme court and was remanded for a new trial. The jury was out several hours and returned a verdict of not guilty.

The brass band and orchestra, the military company and all the people who take part in the performance are genuine southern negroes. The object of the exhibition is to show the home life of the American negro as it was on the old plantation, before the war and as it is at the present. John W. Vogel, the organizer of this novel exhibition, has made a study of the negro character, and the performance is given under his personal supervision.
