Memorial Day Observed All Through This County.

Was Dedicated With Imposing Ceremonies.

Eloquent and Patriotic Sermon by Fr Considine at Chelsea.-Impressive Exercises at Saline and Other Villages.

Side by side there lies todayMany a gallant company
Side by side as, when in life,
They were camped through years of strife.
And in distant glens and field,
Where the graves lie unrevealed.
Nature, with a tender grace,
Decks the unknown resting place.
Still the rest with tireless leet,
Carry garlands gay and sweet.
And the crowds upon the grass
Cheer the veterans as they pass.

There is a marvelous medicine for women that cures all weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism. It acts directly on the delicate and important organisms concerned in maternity and makes them strong and healthy. It is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It gives rest and tone to the tortured nerves. Under its magic influence the headaches and pains in the back and sides, the dragging and burning sensations, the nervousness, weakness, lassitude and despondency that result from so-called female weakness are banished. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Taken during the period of solicitude, it banishes the usual discomforts and makes baby's entry to the world easy and almost painless. It insures the new comer's health and an ample supply of nourishment. Thousands of women have testified to its marvelous merits. All good druggists sell it. SPEAKING PASSING SHIPS.

New Efforts to Revive Old Time Courtesies at Sea.

The fine old custom of speaking passing ships is rapidly dying out among the skippers of today, and the general opinion seems to be that the modern master is, as a rule, too easy going to bother about anything of the sort.

Colonel Hozier, the secretary of Lloyds, considers that a deal of trouble and anxiety would often be avoided if captains would but take the trouble to speak ships within reading distance of their signals. In many instances anxiety with respect to overdue vessels would be allayed, and, furthermore, there would continually be news""for the friends of masters and for the hundreds of thousands of others who are interest-

Chatting the matter over, Captain opportunity is, I am sorry to say, dying out among the captains of the present day. I suppose they are indifferent, or careless, and do not consider it worth the trouble of hoisting the signals and making out the other fellow's. It is a very great pity that an exceedingly useful custom should be neglected, and I am glad to learn that Colonel Hozier is speak other ships and to report when-

"I am convinced that if captains can be persuaded to take the trouble to do this much good service will be rendered to the public generally. This society is doing its utmost to get masters to revive the practice."

Captain Frond's appeal was strengthened by the picturebque evidence of an old time skipper, who admitted that speaking and sigualing had been almost entirely neglected of late years. "When I first went to sea, "he said, "it was the invariable custom to exchange names and destinations and sometimes reckonings with passing ships, but nowadays captains don't bother. Sometimes a skipper is short handed and he won't take even one man from his work, but mostly be doesn't bother himself about the thing at all. That's my experience, and I've been at the game a week or

"All right. Go ahead." The shoemaker took the shoe, and in about fifteen minutes brought it back to him neatly repaired.

"H'm!" ejaculated the customer. "I think the bargain was that if you didn't put an invisible patch on it you wouldn't charge anything, wasn't it?" 'That's right.

"This is the patch, isn't it?"

"Well, it's perfectly visible. What you meant was, I presume, that you could make the evidences of its being a patch invisible, but you ought to.have said so. A bargain's a bargain. Let this be a lesson to you. Good morn"-

"Hold on. I can fix that all right," said the shoemaker.

He took the shoe again, ran a sharp knife under one edge of the patch, applied a pair of sharp nippers, dexterously ripped it off, threw it behind a work bench and handed the shoe back again.

"There," he said, "is your shoe, and the patch, as you'll notice, isn't visible now. Let this be a lesson to you. Good mot— Oh, he'sgonel"—Chicago Trib-

A Drought Resisting; Plant.

The chief reason why alfalfa hay will grow in the short grass country is that it has long roots. They have been known to strike 25 feet deep for moisture. The plant will not thrive, therefore, in soil that is not open and deep. An ideal place for its growth is along the river bottoms in the western part of Kansasland under which great lakes of "sheet water," miles upou miles in extent, are found from 10 to 25 feet below the surface. The roots of alfalfa readily push down to the water and drink when they need moisture, and the result is that the plant blossoms arid prospers and be- large circle of friends to mourn her comes a never failing source of revenue loss. It makes good pasturage under ordinary conditions there aud is almost certain every year to produce a fine crop of seed. All the uplands are fertile enough, the only trouble about making use of that fertility being the lack of moisture. Irrigation has not yet lack of moisture. Irrigation has not yet succeeded in bringing water in abundance to the assistance of the tiller of the soil in this region, and therefore only such a plant can live as has deep roots and a pertinacity that even the hot winds of Kansas cannot shake.—• Franklin Matthews in Harper's Weekly.

One of the Kaiser's Jokes.

There are many good anecdotes about the German emperor, and it must be owned that they all prove the kaiser to have no small amount of humor. The following, which comes from Herr Ehlers, the traveler, is smarter than most. The emperor and Ehlers were college chums from Bonn, and the emperor never forgot his old college student. At Bonn, on special occasions, the different corps used to drink to one another, and the following set form was always used: The president of the Palatia corps raises his glass, saying, "I have the great honor and pleasure to empty my glass in drinking to the corps of Borussia. " The president of the latter corps then replies, "The corps thauks and drinks." On the birth of one of the sons of the emperor Ehlera telegraphed him, "I have the great houor and pleasure to empty my glass in drinking to the youngest Hohenzollern." The emperor promptly wired back, "The youngest Hoheuzollern thanks and drinks."—Toronto Chron-Impure Blood in Spring. The Bicycle Fiend.

"One most obtrusive unpleasantness heart trouble. in the conversation of the bicycle fiend," observed a noubicyclist, "is his habit of personally appropriating every part and particle of his machine. It is apparently not enough that he should possess the bicycle in its entirety, but also in detail. 'My wheel,' when uttered two or three times to every sentence, is bad enough, but when it comes to 'my saddle,' 'my tires,' 'my valves,' 'my handle bar' and so forth, the effect is both irritating and irrational. I once heard a man disoourse for hours upon 'my inner tube.' Being then not so erudite upon the thing as I am now, I had the greatest difficulty in determining what he meant. From the viewpoint of him who does not ride, the possessive case is nowhere so overworked as in the conversation of the bicycle fiend."—New York Sun.

NEWSPAPER KLPORTERS.

A Defense of Their Fair Mindedness, Reliability and Integrity.

A very common error is prevalent that the work of reporters, given in newspapers, as a rule is not entitled to respect or credence. It is generally assumed tk*if the reporter writes chiefly or wholly to make a sensation or iu some way interest re;#srs without regard to facts, while just the reverse ia the truth in all reputable newspaper establishments.

It is safe to assume that the statements of reporters given in the leading reputable journals of the country are quite as truthful as are the general statements from the pulpit when the minister gets outside of strictly religious teachings, and very much more truthful than are the public expressions of most if not all of the leading professions. With very few exceptions the management of our leading daily newspapers enforce truthfulness and fairness as the supreme attributes for a newspaper writer, and yet it is common for all who are displeased with any reportorial statement to say that "it's a mere newspaper story.

It is true that there are a few conspicuous exceptions to the rule that governs the reputable newspapers of the country .Not only are the managers of our eading newspapers entitled to great credit for the scrupulous care they inforce ou their reporters and correspondents to present the truth with as exact fairness as is possible, but the public little know the ceaseless care that is exercised in every reputable newspaper office to prevent the publication of even the truth when it would be more harmful to publish thau to suppress it. There is not a week, iudeed hardly a day, that tbe newspapers of this city do not suppress the facts proper for public informatiou which would make a most interesting story solely because it would bring a flood of sorrow to the innocent aud helpless and cast an imperishable shadow upon their lives. With all the errors necessarily committed in a newspaper office by reason of the haste with which the articles must often be prepared, the public little know with what thorough integrity the newspapers, as a rule, protect the iunocent even at the cost of suppressing legitimate and interesting information. The skeletons of hundreds of households are carefully guarded in the newspaper offices of the country, and generally without even the knowledge of the people who are thus protected.—Philadelphia Times.

MRS. B. A. LOMBAKD, BOX 71, Westdale, Mass., writes: "I have reason to think that I would not be here now if it had not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It cured me of a fibroid tumor in my womb.

"Doctors could do nothin g for me, and they could not cure me at the hospital, i will tell you about it:

" I had been in my usual health, but Mr. and Mrs. George Green, of Green Oak, visited friends in this vioinitylast Sunday.

Rev. Hioks and wife, of Dexter, visited C. L. Thurber and family last Wednesday.

Thad been in my usual health, but had worked quite hard. When my monthly period came on, I flowed very badly. The doctor gave ine medicine, but it did me no good. He said the flow must be stopped if possible, and the must find the cause of my trouble.

'Upon examination, he found there was a fibroid tumor in my womb, and gave me treatment without any benefit whatever. About that time a lady called on me, and recommended Lydia

E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; said she owed her life to it, I said I would try it, and did. Soon after the flow became more natural and regular. I still continued taking the Compound for some time. Then the doctor made an Wm. Lamphear started to make a examination again, and found everything all ri^-ht. The tumor had passed away, and that dull ache was gone."

It can be truthfully stated that such a result can be accomplished by no he traded his wheel for a ladies' wheel other remedy upon the market, and and completed the rest of the journey forcibly proves the peculiar virtue of the Vegetable Compound

The Heat of the Sun.

According to the best authorities, less than one thousand-millionth part of the Bun's rays reaches the earth. It is fortunate that this is so, as any considerable concentration of the rays upon our planet would speedily destroy it. Ao-cording to the same account, if all of the ice at the north pole were so piled that the heat of the sun could be focused on it, it would dissolve at the rate of 800,000,000 miles of solid ice per second. The heat is estimated to generate energy at the rate of 10,000 horsepower to every square foot of space. The beginning of the radiation of heat from the sun must date back something like 100.000,000 years. Like everything else, it had its start and must have its finish. It may continue for 15,000,000 or 20,000,000 years longer, but there is a limit and it must be reached. What an Officer in Close Touch with the Leaders Says.

San Francisco, May 30.—The Chronicle says that it has authentic information regarding- the movement of troops to Manila, from an officer in close touch with the leaders of the expedition soon to sail. He is quoted as saying:

"The next expedition will not leave BO early as Thursday, but it will start within the next fen days. Not a regiment is yet prepared to go, and not one of them will go until it is prepared. The men have no suits yet for the tropical climate. They will have to be furnished. There is nearly enough on hand in the quartermaster's department, but other things may be wanted. Everything possible will be done for the prevention and cure of disease, so that the men may be able to go aboard ship within ten days hence in the best of health for the long voyage.'

Key West, Fla., May 30.—Greatest vigilance is being exercised to guard against the possibility of the Spanish fleet getting into Havana. Admiral Sampson is operating just as though there were no likelihood of the Spanish fleet being bottled up at Santiago de Cuba. Soon Bombard It. Washington, May 28.—The next firing from American warships will probably take place when the guns of Admiral Sampson's fleet boom against the San Juan fortifications. It cannot be def-initely known, but it is generally be-lieved that in answer to Schley's report he was told to "Hold the enemy's fleet, but not to destroy it." It is said at the department that the flying squadron is now strong enough for that purpose.

It is believed that orders were sent to Sampson telling him of the intention to take San Juan, and it is likely that he is even now on his way to Porto Rico. If so he may not be heard from until the San Juan cable tells of the bombardment. The war department is ready now to send troops.

The signal was seen from the shore and the waiting crowds-commenced to cheer wildly. They knew what it meant as well as the sea captains for whom the signal was intended. No time was lost on board the trnsports. The crews worked with a will and in a short time the anchors were up and the vessels were under way.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by looal applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to core deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mnoons lining of the Eustaohian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and then it is entirely olosed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal oondition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is notbiDg but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that oannot be oured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free. P. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Dr. Frank S. Bourns, who was with Dean C. Merritt's staff. There was much opposition from the regular army to his appointment, as Dr. Bourns is made to outrank many of the old army surgeons, but Gen. Merritt insisted. Major Bourns speaks Spanish fluently and also the dialects of the Phillipine natives and will be of great service to the army. He has already proven invaluable in helping fit out Merritt's army, and has saved many thousands of dollars. For instance, he showed bow to make a cheap sandal that is much better for the Pbillipines :han expensive shoes for the soldiers.

In its essence the act of fainting is merely a symptom of anaemia of the brain, with which is associated a greaty weakened action of the heart, both dependent upon some usually disagreeable impression from without, such as the sight of blood, an unpleasant or powarfnl odor, a sudden fright, pain, oppressive heat of the atmosphere, the receipt of bad news, less often a great and sudden joy, and the like.

Young women, people in delicate health, the nervous and snfferers from heart disease are more prone to syncope than others, yet fainting may occur in the strongest men' from the effect of slight causes.

COSTLY EXECUTIONS.

Bills For Killing Criminals That Were Formerly Paid In Holland.

Edam, in Holland, where the Dutch cheese comes from, has a museum of local antiquities, and among the not farm! Start now. Apply to nearest least interesting of the exhibits are the tioket agent or address W. H. Guerin, accounts of the municipal executioners during the eighteenth century, says the or W. B. Kniskern, 22 Fifth avenue, London Chronicle. One of these functionaries, by name Vogel, presents a detailed bill dated Dec. 19, 1713, in which he sets forth a claim for 6 florins for one decapitation and 3 florins each fora sword and winding sheet, with 3 florins 14 cents for a coffin for the decapitated one. His charge for banging a criminal was also 6 florins, with the further addition of 3 florins for "cutting down and impaling ditto." "Breaking a man on the wheel" was a costlier luxury and ran to 9 florins, while for "supplying nine new lashes for scourge" the charge was 27 florins.

On the whole, however, Mr. Vogel was a moderate man in his charges or the value of human life went up a good deal in the next 50 years, for in the no less circumstantial accounts of Johannes Ka, presented Aug. 1, 1764, we have a charge of 12 florins for "going on board the Hans and preparing instruments of torture," with a like charge for "torturing one person." But this must have been for the lesser torture only, as on Aug. 30 the same Johannes sends in a bill for "torturing three persons at 75 florins a head"—total, 225 florins, while a few days later no less than 600 florins is charged for "hanging foar persons at 150 florins each," and for "flogging two persons and burning a third" he exacts 150 florins. Clearly considerations of economy, if not of humanity, must have tended toward the reform of the criminal code in Holland.

Spotted Unman Beings.
On the banks of the River Pnrus, in South America, is to be found a peculiar tribe of people, men, women and children, who have spotted skins of black and white. They live on the river banks or in the floating settlements in the lagoons, and pass their whole lives in fishing. In a district of Barbadoes, West Indies, known as Scotland, the majority of the resident are half-breedg by inter-marriage of half-caste or colored natives with Europeans. These people are more or less spotted • with large brown marks, resembling exaggerated sun-freckles, the other parts being of a high flesh-colored tint. Being dressed in European costume, this peculiarity is not much observed, except in the face and neck. It is supposed to be a form of leprosy. These people are known by the nick-name of Coal In the Transvaal.

In one colliery not half a dozen miles from the gold mines I have seen a seam of coal 70 feet in thickness. This coal, though of a low quality, suffices for the purposes of the gold mines, and there is a sufficient quantity of it to outlast far the lives of all the gold miners. Besides these ccal deposits uear the goldfields and those others by the Vaal river, which furnish coal for the railway system far down into Cape Colony, there are literally hundreds, perhaps eveu a fchousaud, square miles of coal iu the Middleberg and Eriaelo districts lying between Pretoria and Delagoa Bay. In the midst of these coal beds is the outcrop of iron ore, and running through them is the lately constructed railway to Delagoa Bay. With these vast coalfields close to a first rate port on the Indian ocean the prospects of the coal mining industry seem brilliant.— "South Africa Today," Younghusband.

Schley May Bombard Santiago Fortifications.

NAVAL MEN ARE JUBILANT.

They Assert That the Spanish Fleet Will Never Return to Spain.

Hot Exchaige of Dispatches Between Commodore Schley and the Officials at 'Washington-How the Commodore Discovered That the Spaniards Were at Santiago de Cuba-News of an Engagement Anxiously Awaited.

Key West, Fla., May 31.—Advices received here from the American fleets are that an effort will soon be made to draw out the Spanish squadron. Tu this end the bombardment of the fortifications at Santiago may soon be ordered. Naval officers here are jubilant at the bottling up of Cervera's fleet. They say the Spanish ships will never return to Spain.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 31.—A hot exchange of dispatches between Com-modore Schley and Washington has taken place during the last thirty-six hours and an important movement of Schley's fleet is expected soon. The auxiliary cruiser Yale put in here Saturday, receiving and sending cablegrams. The Eagle and the Harvard have been in Jamaica waters several times, acting as dispatch boats.

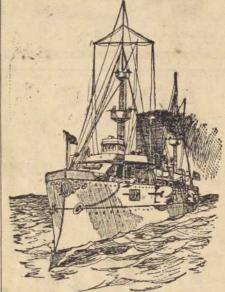

Key West, Fla., May 31.—News received here from Santiago de Cuba says the auxiliary cruiser St. Paul has cut the cable off that port.

Another prize has been captured. She is the Spanish bark Maria Dolores of Bilbao. She was overhauled by one of the American cruisers, six miles off Porto Rico.

TO JOIN SCHLEY'S FLEET.

The Oregon and New Orleans Go to the South of Cuba.

The assignment of the Oregon and New Orleans to Schley's squadron is significant as indicating a possible intention to force the harbor and repeat Dewey's Manila coup. The New Orleans would be valuable in a narrow passage such as that at Santiago because of her ability to concentrate her entire battery power forward, while her splendid equipment of rapid-fire gur.s would render her a most dangerous antagonist in a contest with torpedo boat destroyers. The New York being Admiral Sampson's flagship if she goes to Santiago, it would seem that the admiral proposes to assume command

It is believed the bombardment of xiavana will be no longer delayed.

MAY FORCE THE HARBOR.

World Will Pyobably Soon Hear of Commodore Schley's Victory.

Washington, May 31.—Secretary Long had no information from Schley concerning the early movement. There is a lurking suspicion that the world will soon learn that Schley has forced his way into Santiago harbor and destroyed the imprisoned fleet without waiting for the co-operation of the land forces. Secretary Long believes Commodore Schley should be permitted to destroy the fleet without delay, but his naval board of strategy is not of the same mind. The warm waters of southern Cuba produce barnacles and marine growth on the bottoms of ships very rapidly.

Cervera would probably not be caught without steam on, and to carry this con-stantly requires a vast amount of coal, although the vessels are at anchor. The although the vessels are at anchor. The consumption of fuel alcne is a question of serious character, especially as there is not believed to be coal enough at Santiago to supply one vessel. Aside from fuel, the stock of provisions is reported to be low and if it is true that when the ships were in Curacao the men were then on half rations, their condition must be worse now and will continue to grow so. continue to grow so.

LOOK FOR LITTLE RESISTANCE. The Authorities Expect to Find Few

Troops at Santiago-Key West, Fla., May 31.—Although Cuba is to be invaded the movement is to be of a peaceful kind, if possible. Unless conditions change the men will do but little fighting. Santiago has at present 5,000 or more troops, but it is not expected that they will cause much trouble. No help can be sent there by Blanco in time, as there are no connecting railroads. The American ships will be convoyed by enough ships to destroy any fleet Spain could send there. Two of the biggest warships will accompany them. They have strict orders to be on the lookout for torpedo-boats, as it is known that one or more vessels under Cervera are not at Santiago. The blockading squadron is in the same danger because of the queer formation of the harbor, from which torpedo-boats can emerge unseen. The entrance of the harbor may be guarded by sunken

Heard Heavy Cannonading. St. Thomas, D. W. I., May 31.—Heavy cannonading has been heard for many hours off the Porto Rico coast. The dispatch boat Anita steamed out through Sail Rock passage and skirted Culebia island, where it sighted a war-ship many miles off. Its nationality could not be determined and the dispatch boat, fearing capture, turned and put to shore. It is believed that the Spanish torpedo-boat Terror, which left San Juan, encountered an American

May 31.—Commander Schley's squadron is cruising in this vicinity, and it is understood there is strong talk of reducing the fortifications at Santiago de Cuba this week. The United States auxiliary cruiser Yale has been here and exchanged long cipher messages with Washington. Naval officers here do not seem to believe Cervera is at Santiago de Cuba, but are anxious to open a Cuban port as a coaling station.

He was brought here last February and tried for robbing the South Bend National bank of $15.000, in broad daylight, on Dec. 7, 1893. There is a strong disposition to credit these stories here, because he has had no opportunity to have the vessels docked or repaired since they started on their long voyage. The longer the Spanish admiral remains In Santiago the worse his condition will become, for the harbor has no coal or other supplies and no facilities for docking or repaircustomed themselves to the change; the younger children were a little shy over it at first, but they soon got pretty well used to it, and now we rarely hear in my house papa and mamma; it Is father and mother. When Mr. Felix Mahoney was a special pension examiner, he had a bit of an experience which deserves a place in the singular coincidence list. It happened up in Connecticut. Mr. Mahoney and a temporary hireling of his were driving along a country road in a sleigh, when in a snow filled cut the conveyance broke down. In the field beside the road Mr. Mahoney caught sight of a man's head. He lifted up his voice and callbd to the man. Chinese Shave Frequently With Wet Towel to Soften the Face.

Considering that the inhabitants of the middle kingdom use the razor more than any other nation in the world, it is passing strange that they never discovered the advantages of lathering first, says the Windsor Magazine. Dabbing a warm wet cloth on the chin or the scalp is a poor substitute for soap. Hair cutting, as we practice it in the west, is to them "all unknown," except in a few localities where foreigners are numerous. A traveler when in the province of Kwantung sent for a man to shear his locks, and he hegan nibbling away at his scalp without troubling about such a trifling as a comb. At the third snip the man stopped him and asked him if he had ever cut a foreigner's hair before. Oh, yes. When was that? Oh, last year, when he cut the hair of a German customs officer who

DEVOURS LIKE FIRE.

THE WONDERFUL EFFECTS PRODUC-ED BY FLUORINE

The Diamond Only Able to Absolutely Resist ThlB Powerful Solvent-Researches Into the Mature of a Hitherto Poorly Known Chemical Element.

The alchemists of the middle ages believed that somewhere in the universe • wa to be found a universal solvent wbib would dissolve the most refractory substances as readily as water dissolves sugar. They named their solvent liquor alkahest, and what time they could spare from the search after the elixir of life and the philosopher's • stop was spent in the endeavor to obtain it. Science has yet to prove, by the -way, that there was not more method in the madness of the alchemists than is generally supposed, for in the re-markable substance fluorine chemists possess material that approximates very closely to a universal solvent. Its chemical energy is so fleroe that, except gold and platinum, nothing can resist it, and even gold and platinum succumb to fluorine in tinie. The mere contact of most substances with fluorine is sufficient to caase not mere solution, but light, flame and fierce detonations. Dull, inert flint takes fire when exposed to fluorine vapor and becomes a brilliant incandescent mass. Lampblack bursts into flame, while charcoal burns • with bright scintillations. Only the diamond is able to resist this powerful solvent, to which it does not succumb even at high temperature. The similar element silicon, which can be obtained in a crystalline form closely resembling the diamond, gives a magnificent display in the presence of fluorine, the crystals becoming white hot and throwing showers of fiery spangles in all directions. The heat is so intense that the crystals melt, showing that their temperature has reached 1,200 degrees C.

Phosphorus combines fiercely with fluorine. Prussian blue, on account of the cyanogen it contains, burns with a beautiful pink flame; while from a crystal of iodine placed in fluorine vapor a heavy liquid distills with a pale flame.
This liquid—an iodide of fluorine etches glass, and if thrown into water hisses like hot iron. The last named metal becomes white hot when exposed to fluorine; even iron rust behaves in a similar manner. Nearly all metals are raised to vivid incandescence in a current of the gas, many appearing very beautiful, especially aluminium and zinc. If the latter be slightly warmed, it bursts into a white flame too dazzling to gaze at or describe.

Although it has been known in various states of combination for many years, having been first discovered by Schwankhardt of Nuremberg, in 1670, and rediscovered by Scheeie in 1771, fluorine was not obtained as fluorine in the free state until about six years ago, when the French chemist Moissan succeeded in isolating it by employing a current of electricity from 26 or 28 Bunsen batteries. The current was passed through the compound of fluorine and hydrogen known as hydrofluorio acid, which is similar to hydrochloric To improve the conductivity of the hydrofluoric acid it was necessary to dissolve another fluorine compound in the liquid. As will readily be imagined, it is not so difficult io obtain free fluorine as to keep it when obtained. JEvery part of the apparatus used by M. .Moissan was made of platinum, with screw joints and washers of lead, which swell on contact with fluorine, all the has a powerful affinity for silicon, one of the principal constituents of glass, so that it was impossible to use glass vessels or tubes to contain the gas.

As regards the chemical nature of fluorine, it is a gas at ordinary temperature and is the lightest member of the series of elements containing chlorine, bromine aud iodine. The attraction of fluorine for hydrogen exceeds that of chlorine and is so great that if a slow current of fluorine gas be passed into a tube of fluorspar containing a drop of water a dark fog is produced, which changes presently to a blue vapor consisting of ozone—the condensed form of oxygen. The last named substance appears to be one of the few materials which has no affinity for fluorine. Nothing is observed to take place between them even when they are heated up to 1,000 degrees F.

So far all experiments had been conducted with fluorine gas, which, at the time it was isolated, resisted all at-~tempt3 to reduce it to the liquid state. Six years ago, however, there was no laboratory—such as that at the Royal institution—having powerful machinery for producing liquid air or liquid oxygen at the commaud of the investigator. In fact, liquid air itself was practically unknown. By the aid of this weapon Professors Dewar and Moissan have succeeded in liquefying fluorine. At the extremely low temperature of liquid oxygen it was found that fluorine did not attack glass, and it was possible to • us glass vessels to hold the newly lique-fied element. — C. P. Townseud in

SLEEP AND DREAMS.

How Agassiz Worked Out a Scientific Problem as Related by Himself.

The letters on sleep and dreams in The Spectator remind me' of a case in the experience of Agassiz, and which he told me himself, though it is record-ed in his work on the American fishes. He was studying a fossil fish in the Jardin des Plantes, but had never been able to determine the species to his satisfaction. After a time he dreamed that he caught the very fish and without difficulty determined the question, thinking, as he woke from the dream, that he would have no difficulty. But on returning to the fossil something in the dream had escaped him, and be could no more determine the species than be-

The next night he had the same dream and again forgot the essential point. He then determined to take a pencil and paper with him to bed and make his note as soon as he woke. The dream came the third time, but to his surprise on fully awakening he found the drawing made and lying on the table bed side, with three bones displayed in it which were not visible in the fossil, and which solved the problem. On returning to the Jardin des Plantes he obtained permission of bis friend, the director, to chip away a scale of stone which lay on the spot where the bones were in the drawing, and found them there as his drawing had given them. It is SO years since Agassiz told me the incident, but those who have access to his history of the North American fishes will be able to read it in his oven words in the intro-duction and correct my version if my memory has in any detail failed me.— London Spectator.

VIRTUES OF HOT WATER.

Nnt a phrase conveying an impression A entire felicity, yet it may be found that water, hot, has manifold uses and is peculiarly able in certain places to afford comfort and relief. A physician who has tried it says that no agent so quickly relieves nausea and vomiting as water, hot as it can be taken. For constipation drink of hot water a short time before retiring at night. Dyspeptics are benefited by sipping a cup of hot water an hour before eating. The same practice tends to flesh production, and is one of the rules given sometimes in prescriptions for the cure of lameness.

As wacer is so considerable an element in the physical structure, it is in some sense a food, though—knowing, too, that without it life cannot be supported—it is not usually regarded in that manner, and the knowledge that a weak stomach will retain hot water when it will nothing else may be oftentimes of value.

Let those who are inclined to sneer at "only hot water" try a cup of it, fresh water, quickly heated and brought to a boil, used with cream and sugar as for coffee. If coffee, as many believe, enconrages dyspepsia, and tea renders its consamers subject to headaches, while a cold fluid with warm fluid is not by gienic, it answers to reason that if any drink must be used at meals, the one we are considering (or else hot milk), having none of their objectionable qualities, is preferable.

To ward off the cold threatened by a chilly sensation, drink a cup. To loosen a tight cough, sip water as hot as it can be borne. A hot compress, with a dry flannel over it, persistently applied to the throat and chest will cure a stubborn cough, a sore throat and cut short in its incipiency congestion of the lungs. To dip a cloth in hot water and lay it quickly over the seat of pain is sometimes a relief in neuralgia. The same application on the stomach will banish colic. In croup place about the neck a flannel wrung out of hot water. For sprains hot fomentations are excellent. In such cases care should be taken that the clothing is protected from dampness by the intervention of a dry cloth, aud in all the uses for it thus far given it must be kept in mind that the water is to be really hot.

In spasms place the afflicted child as as possible iu a hot bath—that , one heated as much as comfort will allow. The convulsed frame will be relaxed and soothed by its contact with the warm water. A hot bath after exposure will do much to prevent the taking of an infectious disease. An occasional full hot bath upon retiring is of great benefit in inducing sleep. Even a footbath will be found a help as a means to the same.

When a person is tired and heated, bathing the tace with warm water will prove more comfortable as well as less daugerous than the use of cold. Weak eyes are made stronger by bathing them regularly in water as hot as can be borne. If they are tired, such bathing, to which is competimes added a little to which is sometimes added a little salt, will wonderfully rest them.

For a fine complexion and velvety skin never use cold, but warm water in washing the face. It may be first washed with soap and hot water, then rinsed with tepid water. To bathe the face daily in hot water will, it is said, remove pimples. And the appearance of wrinkles may be greatly delayed, it is believed, by the use of the hot bath.— St. Louis Republic.

Mistook the Mule.

Deacon Jackson was a very pious but very determined old colored citizen of Owl Creek valley. He had a young mule which his boys were unable to ride, and their failure to break the animal so exasperated the old man that he determined to ride it himself. Old Ab Drake.

Old Ab Drake was one of the "odd sticks" that flourished in a Vermont rural neighborhood a good many years ago. His wife was a meek, obedient, spiritless woinau, over whom Ab tyran-nized for 50 years, when she quietly slipped out of this world. Old Ab's panegyrics on his dead wife's virtues were loud and long. Before the funeral he said to one of his neighbors: "She was the best woman on the top of this earth. I jess thought the world and all of her—yes, I did! I always thought it, and hanged if there wan't times when 1 come mighty near telling her so—yes, sir! And I would 'a' told her so, only I've always held, and I still hold, that it ain't safe to praise anything that w'ars petticoats. 'Ceptiu for that, I would 'a' told 'Lizy Ellen what I thought of her many a time—yes, I would!"—Boston Journal.

WHERE WOMEN RULE.

Many Are the Aches and Fains It Will What m Social Student Found In an East* ern Province.

While studying social conditions in oriental lands Dr. Alice B. Stockham was advised by Tolstoi to visit the Nairn's on the Malabar coast of India, and witness a type of civilization unknown elsewhere among the inhabitants of earth. Here, according to a writer, the husband is a mere incident in the social organization. Woman's power is autocratic and absolute. She wins or divorces a husband at will. She frames and administers the laws by which he lives, and through her is the descent of the property, which he may earn, but not own. The ricefield is his active arena, and it industrious and frugalproving himself capable of maintaining family—someNaiar maid invites him. to become her husband. The successful man of eligible years is wooed and won as is the fortunate and accomplished maiden of our country.

The impropriety of manifesting affection for a woman before it is solicited is thoroughly instilled into the mind of the Naiar man, and, while the strife between natural tendencies and national custom may sometimes approach the nature of an irrepressible confliot, to yield is ruin and humiliation irreparable. The eligible bachelor must await an avowal of love and choice and suffer in silence if it be long withheld. The Naiars are of Brahman origin and much above the average inhabitants of India in intelligence and in the administration of their native government. Better native schools are found here than elsewhere in India, and a surprising degree of domestic contentment.—Springfield Republican.

CAKE WALK IS FRENCH.

When It Originated, It Also Stood For a Marriage Ceremony.

The cake walk properly had its origin among the French negroes of Louisiana more than a century ago. There is little doubt that it is an offshoot of some of the old French country dances. It resembles several of them in form. From New Orleans it spread over the entire south and thence north. It was found of convenience to the plantation negroes. They were not wedded by license, and it was seldom that the services of a preacher were called in.

At a cake walk a man might legitimately show his preference for a wom-an and thus publicly claim her for a wife. In effect the cake walk was not different from the old Scotch-marriage, which required only public acknowledgment from the contracting parties. So this festival became in some sense a wooing, an acceptance or rejection and a ceremony. This explains its popularity with the blacks, outside of its beauties, with the accompaniment of music, which is competent at all times to command negro support.

Cake walking has improved, as do most thiugs that are constantly practiced. It has lost its old significance in the south. Negroes now get married, when they marry at all, in the white folks' fashion. It has, however, become a pantomime dance. Properly performed, it-is a beautiful one. The cake is not much of a prize, -though the negro has a sweet tooth.—New Orleaus Times-Democrat.

orest Protection In Idaho.

The miners as well as the mine owners operating in northern Idaho are peculiarly interested in rational and effective methods of forest protection to what remains of the public timber lands, from the fifth-story window and was and as producers of national wealth have a right to demand it. They have ingly—Dear, dear! Is it possible it the result of years of wauton forest destruction before their eyes aud can see themselves confronted with a timber shortage before many years that threat-ens their commercial and industrial life. That such a condition is fast approaching needs no prophetic vision to foresee.

The extent of burned forest land the past 16 years as developed in these regions is an evidence that requires no supporting argument to make effective. That many thousands of acres of forest still exist in the Coeur d'Alene basins does not weaken the fact of an impending timber shortage. Under the present conditions two or three dry seasons would suffice to wipe out the larger portion by far of what remains of the forests in this part of the state. There is not yet adequate protection or supervision, and public sentiment upon these points is not yet sufficiently aroused.—

Self Made Men of Other Days.

The self made mau is by no means solely the product of modern times. Columbus was a weaver, Franklin was a journeyman printer, Pope Sixtus V was employed in his young days iu keeping swiue, Robert Burns was a plowman, ^Esop was a slave, Homer was a beggar, Daniel De Foe was apprenticed to a hosier, Demostbenes was the son of a cutler, while Virgil was a baker's son. Ben Jonson was a bricklayer, Cervantes was a common soldier, Canova's father was a stonecutter, Captain Cook com menced life as a cabin boy, Haydn, the musician, was the son of a poor wheelwright, Pizarro, instead of going to school, was sent to keep hogs. Kirke White's father was a butcher, and Keats' father kept a livery etable.—New York Sun.

Warm Water Baptism. We would impress upon the clergy the necessity of having the water warmed. Baptism, it is true, is seldom or never administered by immersion, but even when affusion is used the contact of cold water with a child's head might injuriously affect one with an already sufficiently low power of resistance.-Lancet.

MRS. THOMAS CARLYLE.

Cne Occasion When the Clever Woman

Wan Surprised and Confounded. The brightest time for Mrs. Carlyle'B talk was during dinner. Day after day Bhe poured forth witty stories, most of which I have almost forgotten, but in any case it would be desecration to attempt to repeat almost any of them. The characteristics of living men and women were often dashed off in a few pithy words, not without satirical touches. George Henry Lewes was not one of her favorites, but I noted with pleasure the way in which she spoke of the wonderful transformation effected by the influence on him of George Eliot. One of her experiences was when visiting a shoemaker's shop to make a purchase, at the time when sandaled shoes were worn, like those represented in the original illustrations of Dickens. The sandals were of black ribbon, uncut until the shoes were worn by the pur-chaser at home. Mrs. Carlyle tried on. many shoes, and each time that a shoe proved unsuitable she unconsoiously slung it on to her left arm. Being at last suited, and having paid her bill, she left the shop, and had walked a little way when she beard a shout behind her. Looking back she saw the shop-man running after her, much excited and insisting on her returning the stolen shoes. Looking down, she saw to her surprise a number of shoes dangling from her arm. The man indignantly asked her name and address. Her astonishment was such that her name was obliterated for a time from her memory and all she could recollect was her maiden name, "Miss Welsh." The humor in this tale was enhanced to those who knew her from its being so much out of keeping with her usual shrewdness and self possession that no one could have predicted it of her.

Her death scene, a year later, when "Mr. Silvester," as she named her coachman, during a drive, turned and looked into the carriage—surprised at receiving no orders as to route—and saw her sitting, lifeless, with a pet dog on her knee, has often risen to my

My strongest impression was of the deep mutual love evidently subsisting between Mrs. Carlyle and her husband. Every subject we discussed seemed to recall thoughts of him. If the piano were opened, his song of the "blue day' was referred to or asked for; if any literary man were mentioned, his opinion of him was given, or a story was told showing his relation to other men of note. I felt as if listening to the love talk of a youthful engaged couple, and when, in later days, Froude opened up a floodgate of misunderstanding I felt assured there was a radical misconception of the true state of affairs.—New York Independent.

My husband has snffered with sick headache ever since a little boy and has tried everyttbiug he ever heard of, but obtained no relief. PIONEER LOG CABIN

Subscriptions Asked to Aid in Completing It This Year.

At a meeting of the board of managers of the Wasbtenaw Fair Society held Feb. 5, 1897, a movement was set on foot looking to the erection of a pioneer log cabiu on the fair ground, in which to exhibit relics of pioneer days. The scheme proposed to seoure the erection of the cabin was for every pioneer or descendant of a pioneer, who had come to this county before 1850, to furnish a log on which should be carved the name of the pioneer.

The committee appointed to work up the scheme did a good deal of work for its furtherance, but the cabin is not yet erected. This year is the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Washtenaw County Agricultural Society. It is the second oldest society of its kind in the state, and it is now thought that no more fitting way of oelebrating the event can be oonceived than that of completing the erection of this cabin which shall not only be a memorial of the semi-oentennial of the society but also of those old pioneers who were in their prime of youth at the time of its

In order to finish up this work it is now desired to secure the names of 56 persons, two or more from each town-ship, who will subscribe f5 each and give the name of some pioneer to be inscribed on the log. The committee has secured 25 names already and solicits tbe kind offices of the public to secure the other 31 names. Anyone desiring to thus assist in this building can send their subscription together with the name of the pioneer to any of the fair society officers.

An Ancient Bank Note, On Thursday of last week State Treasurer Steel received a rather anoient bill for redemption.

It was a $5 note issued by the Government Stook Bank of Ann Arbor and was received from Thomas Farrell, of Washington, N. J., who asks that $5 were strange, and he appeared confused to find himself in the midst of the Michigan boys."

of the coin of the realm be given him for it. The bill is signed by H. Bailey, deputy state treasurer, and J. A. Fleming, president of the bank. An indorsement shows that it is "secured wholly by the pledge of the United States stocks," and that it is counter- over Collars and Cuffs to match, only 44 cents.
