This building was erected entirely by subscription. Every person who gave five dollars has had his name (if he was a pioneer) or the name of some one suggested by him carved on the logs on the inside of the house, with the date when the pioneer came to this county and the name of the township in which he settled. This is probably the last large log building that will be erected in the county, for they are very expensive, especally as large timber is becoming so scarce. Died in Agony.

Charles S. Dougherty, a watchman at the Michigan Central roundhouse, in Ypsilanti, died suddenly last Wednesday night. Dougherty had been subject to severe attacks of dyspepsia for the past four years. He was doping all kinds of medicines constantly and was injudicious in their use. When discovered by comrades he was in terrible agony. He said he had taken three capsules, but they had made him feel worse. Three physicians sent for refused to come. One sent some medicine, but it was too late. Mrs. Dougherty says that the capsules contained four grains each of "Dr. Delmar's healing herbs." Dougherty's heart was in bad condition, and it is supposed the overdose of the drug contained in the capsules brought on an attack of heart failure. Dougherty was 54 years old, was a veteran of the civil war and had lived in Ypsilanti for 11 years. A coroner's inquest was talked of but was not held owing to the fact that embalming fluid had been used, which would hide any poison.

THE RURAL SCHOOL.

Its Relation to the Farm and What It Should Accomplish.

Said Col. Francis Parker, of the Cook County Normal, "Nowhere on earth has a child such advantages for elementary education as upon a good farm, where he is trained to love work and put his brains into his work. The best taught school in a densely populated city can never equal in educative value the life upon a good farm, intelligently managed."

The children in the schools of a densely populated city, circumscribed as they are by artificial surroundings, cut off to a large from the great Book of Nature that is open on any ordinary 80 and Miss Ida Gwinner, of Manchester, acre farm. The country school of today is for the country boy and girl, while the city school seems to be able to digest and assimilate both country and city children with equal ease. But the result is, however, that the city children become city citizens, while the tendency of the city education and environment is to keep the country children from returning to the farm when their school days are over. The problem of how far the city school should be 'countrified' or to what extent the country school should be "citified" is at the present time an open question.

One of the tests of our education is the kind of books we like to read. I wish the boys and girls to have all that is laid down in our Course of Study and that they who shall complete all their school room work in the district school and settle down to life's duties on the farm shall go forth with a solid foundation on which to build their future intellectual, physical and moral edifice. As one of our best modern educators has said, "Whatever else toe course of study may do, let it breathe hope for the country boys and girls; not the hope that, to be realized, must be lived in the city, but let it rouse the anticipations of a life that has its background in the sunsets, the hills, the woods, the orchards and the waving grain fields of the country. CASTORIA The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the

WASHTENAW FAIR.

A Brief History of Its Beginning and Progress.

The following paper was read before the Pioneer Society at its June meeting in Ypsilanti:

It is always a question, what will be of interest on an occasion like this? We hope it will not be fatiguing to you, for me to give a part of the history of the past, and a few things that are hoped for in the future of the Washtenaw Fair.

The American fair is as much an institution of the United States as our constitution is. Early in the 18th cencury, France, Germany and Holland held what were called "Agricultural Shows"-they were then as now principally sale days. In the state of New York was organized the first American fair, as early as 1802, and it was at that time controlled by the business men of the large cities, the common farmer had but little to do with them. much less the mothers and daughters.

In 1810, the first county fair was organized in Pittsfield, Massachusetts. Iwenty-six farmers were the originators and it was known as the "Berkshire Agricultural Society." This society was called into being by a necessity and opened a new era in the history of agricultural fairs. A great desire with the people was to free America from dependence upon British manufactured articles and stimulate agriculture. And, indeed, these were the prime motives of the founders of this society. From that time to the present, agricultural fairs have been looked upon as great factors in the upbuilding of more approved methods of agriculture and manufactures.

The fair of 1811 had in its parade the local band followed by sixty yoke of oxen driven by two of the oldest farmers in the county. The exhibits were from the farm and town. Women were conspicuous by their absence.

In 1818 the plowing match was first seen at the county fair. Since that period, many changes have taken place to keep step with the march of time.

You will see, it was but a few years after the pioneers of Michigan first began to settle in this neighborhood that the first county fair was organiz-We find evidence of talk about fairs in the early forties in this and other counties of Southern Michigan, but nothing was accomplished until 1848 when the people of Washtenaw decided to hold an agricultural and mechanical show. The first in Michigan and for all that I have been able to find in regard to it, the first west of New York.

When you have heard the names of the originators of that first Michigan Fair you will understand why it was a decided success. The Fair was held in that part of our city now designated as the Fourth Ward in Ann Arbor, Oct. 10, 11 and 12, 1848. William Finley was president, J. H. Agnew, secretary and James Kingsley, treasurer. The vice-presidents were: Horace Welch, Pittsfield; John VanCleve, Ypsilanti; Luther Boyden, Webster; Burnett, Scio. The executive committee was: James B. Vannatta, Salem; Rufus Mathews, Northfield; - Kinney Webster; Henry Warner, Dexter; Seah Collins, Lyndon; Thomas Godfrey, Sylvan; Asa Williams, Lima; F. G. Finley, Scio; J. D. Baldwin, Ann Arber; John Brewer, Superior; Mark Norris, Ypsilanti; Robert Barry, Pittsfield Newton Sheldon, Lodi; Edward Litchfield, Freedom; Oliver High, Sharon; Daniel Hickson, Bridgewater; T. S. Spafford, Manchester; Solomon Haight, Saline; Daniel Carpenter, York; Coon Redman, Augusta.

No doubt many of you knew some of those sturdy old pioneers and can readily perceive their earnest desire and determination to make a success of this great undertaking, which must have been all that they desired, for we find in the year following that many county fairs were started and the state, headed by Governor Ransom and the legislature, making appropriations and planning for a state society.

We have interviewed several who attended the first Michigan fair, 50 years ago, and all agree that it was a great thing for those days It had many good features. The first state fair was held in Detroit but the second, by invi-Sisters of Notre Dame, says that ground tation of the old Washtenaw society. was neld in Ann Arbor in connection man, sir, but your property is not subwith the county fair. After this the state fair was held in Detroit for several years; but the Washtenaw society Its site is forty acres of land adjoining adopted the plan of moving from place to place, renting the grounds and buildings, fences, etc., each year. No sheds were provided for live stock. In the first ten years it had been held two or three times in Ypsilanti, once in Dexter and the rest of the time in Ann Arbor, when the society decided to purchase grounds and build permanent buildings.

We are indebted to many friends for information in regard to the dates of the first fair. One woman told me that she would always remember that first fair, for on the way home from it Robert asked her to marry him. Another remembered it by the birth of her daughter, one because she was attending the Miss Clark school that year. One man remembered it well for he led a white bull to the fair that year. No two agree as to where the entrance gate was located, but they tell marvelous stories of the products that were on exhibition. Nothing in these days is to be compared with them.

In this, the semi-centennial Fair, we hope to reproduce some of the old bygones. The board of managers have appointed a committee who are to have charge of erecting a Pioneer Home, a typical log cabin, such as was used 50 years ago, and we wish this society as a society and as individuals to help make it a success. We would like you to loan your old and treasured relies, your family keepsakes, for this occasion. We will be glad to confer with a committee of pioneers. We wish to make this one of the greatest exhibition of Wells, Luther Boyden, Judge Dexter, Andrew Robinson, in fact hundreds of the old people that we once knew and who were instrumental in making Washtenaw the greatest county in Michigan. I repeat that to do this and bring about a success, you must lend a helping hand, not only those who are present here today, but your children and your grandchildre Tell your neighbors and they will tell others. Almost every family has some heirloom that we would be only too glad to put in the collection to be exhibited this fall at the Fair. F. E. MILLS.

A Rich Man.

A tax collector one day came to a poor minister in order to asse value of his property and determine the amount of taxes. The minister asked the man to be seated. Then the latter took out his book and asked: "How much property do you possess?" "I am a rich man," answered the minister. The official quickly sharpened his pencil and asked intently: "Well, what do you own?" The pastor replied: "I am the possessor of a Savior who earned for me life everlasting, and who has prepared a place for us in the eternal city." "What else?" "Healthy and obedient children." "What else?" "A merry heart, which enables me to pass through life joyfully." "What else?" "That is all," replied the minister. The official closed his book, arose, took his hat, and said: "You are, indeed, a rich ject to taxation."

Justin R. Whiting was born in Bath, Steuben county, New York, February 18, 1847. He was the oldest son of Henry Whiting and Pamelia (Rice) Whiting. His father removed to St. Clair when the subject of this sketch was only two years old. At 16 years of age Mr. Whiting had fitted himself in the public schools to enter the University of Michigan. He enrolled in the classical department, but left at spent last week with her mother, Mrs. the end of his sophomore year to take a position in his father's large mercantile establishment. In 1869 he went to Clinton, Iowa, where he engaged in business for himself, and was very successful, selling out at the end of two years to return and enter into a partnership with his father under the firm name of H. It was not a Vanderbilt, a Gould, a Cleveland, nor a Hanna, who pronounced that sentiment, so sweeping as it is and so opposed to the spirit of our government. It was not a plutocratic aristocrat who thus evidenced his conception of the right of class to rule. It was Hazen S. JOHN WALLET, of Jefferson Wis., than whom none is more highly esteemed or widely known, writes "In 1890 I had a severe attack of LaGrippe and at the end of four months, in spite of all physicians, friends and good nursing could do, my lungs heart and nervous system were so completely wrecked, my life was despaired of, my friends giving me up. I could only sleep by the use of opiates. My lungs and heart pained me terribly and my cough was most aggravating. I could not lie in one position but a short time and not on my left side at all. My husband brought me Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure and I began taking them. When I had taken a half bottle of each I was much better and continuing persistently I took about a dozen bottles and was completely restored to health to the surprise of all."

It is a well-attested fact that all jokes can be traced back to six originals, evolved in Egypt during the Santiago campaign, and the affair of fourth dynasty. This being true, it is the pest ships in which soldiers were the right and, moreover, the duty of transported from hospitals in Cuba to every man to improve on any old joke that he may find lying around loose. For instance, Bernard Shaw tells of a man from Oil City who was visiting a cathedral in England, and the Oil City man, being affected by the history and atmosphere of the place, knelt in praytwo cases without surgeons. Surely pened by and, shaking the man by the shoulder, said: "Look you, sir, none o' the surgeons sidetracked at Tampa that! If I'd let one do that here, there would soon be folks praying all over the place." And now comes that excellent man, Booker Washington, and tells of the new "High church" that has recently been consecrated at Tuskegee. It seems old Aunt Chloe ventured into vespers one evening and, hearing others respond, took a hand, "Thank God!-Blessed Jesus-Amen!" shouted aunty in fine falsetto. The chief warden went softly over and whispered: "Madam, you will please keep order!" Aunty promised, but soon smote the air with a very loud, clear "Blessed Jesus-dat's so!"-The Philistine.

PROCLAMATION OF THE MAYOR. The melancholy duty has devolved upou the mayor to announce to the citizens of Ann Arbor the death this morning, at his residence in this city, of one of the most distinguished men of the nation, Hon. Thomas M.

As professor in the university, supreme court reporter, chief justice of Michigan, and chairman of the Fed-Inter-State Commerce Commission, he has made his home among us; and while his greatness has been shared by all people of the Union, his domicile has been the pride of Ann Arbor alone.

As a mark of respect to his memory, I recommend that the flags of the city be placed at half mast and that on Wednesday, September 14th, the day of the funeral, between the hours of 3 and 4 p. m., the business houses of the city close their doors and all of our citizens observe the sad occasion.

The Common Council of the City of Ann Arbor is hereby summoned to meet in the council chamber on Tuesday evening, September 13th, 1898, at which time and place suitable resolu-tions may be presented for considera-

SANTIAGO CAMPAIGN.

Report of Major General Shafter Made Public.

HE DEFENDS HIS MANAGEMENT.

Says the Santiago Campaign Was Proper ly Conducted in Spite of Great Natural Obstacles-Generous Praise for the Troops and Subordinate Officers During Battle-Estimated Number of Men on the Firing Line.

New York, Sept. 19 .- The United States commissioners to conclude the terms of peace with Spain sailed on board the Cunard line steamer Campania en route for Paris. The commission consists of ex-Secretary of State William R. Day, Senators William P. Frye, Cushman K. Davis, and George Gray, and Whitelaw Reid.

Washington, Sept. 16.-General Shafter's report of the Santiago campaign has just been given out for publication. It is practically a personal defense of the charges which have been made against the general conduct of the campaign and the recommendations for promotions. The report points out carefully and in detail all the difficulties that confronted Shafter from the time the army embarked at Tampa until the American colors were planted on San Juan hill. General Shafter says the expedition sailed June 14, and the disembarkation which commenced June 23, was successfully carried out, being aided by feints by the navy at points along the shore and a force of Cubans on land to mislead the enemy as to the point of disembarkation.

Interview with Garcia. Shafter refers to his enterview with the Cuban general, Garcia, and the arrangement by which the latter was to intercept the Spanish reinforcements under General Escaria, which arrangement Garcia utterly failed to carry out. The difficulty of transportation from the point of disembarkation to the scene of action outside Santiago is fully dealt with, the skirmishing previous to the general action is described and a detailed account of the fighting outside Santiago is given. He is generous in his praise of the bravery of his troops and subordinate officers during the battle. In referring to the charge up San Juan hill General Shafter in his report says: "In this fierce encounter words fail to do justice to the gallant regimental com-manders and the heroic men, for while the generals indicated the formation and the points of attack, it was, after all, the intrepid bravery of officers and men that planted our colors on San Juan hill and drove the enemy from Resolved, that the Common Council the trenches and blockhouses, thus gainof the City of Ann Arbor now asseming a position which sealed the fate of bled in response to the proclamation of Santiago."

Great Natural Obstacles.

The most notable piece contained in the report, presumably in answer to those who have so freely criticised the handling of the campaign, comes under the heading of "Great Natural Obstacles." According to the general's report the sickly climate, the threatened outbreak of malaria and yellow fever and the rumor of Pando's approach with 8,000 reinforcements for the beleagured city precipitated the attack while the preparations were far from hours of three and four in the the report. Yet General Shafter says fering among the sick and wounded, bly accompanies a campaign."

On the Firing Line. health is impaired, he occupied a position during the engagements from which he had a general view of the battlefield, while he was enabled to officers, orderlies and the telephone. The following are recommended for promotion for bravery: Lieutenant Colonel E. J. McClernand. Lieutenant Colonel George McDerby, Lieutenant Colonel J. D. Miley, Major R. H. Noble, Lieuteant Colonel J. J. Astor, Lieutenant Colonel B. F. Pope, Major S. W. Groesbeck, Lieutenannt Charles F. Humphrey, Colonel B. F. Watson, Major C. G. Starr, Major Leon Roudiez, Major H. J. Gallagher, Captain Brice, Captain E. H. Plummer, Captain J. C. Gilmore, Jr., Captain W. H. McKittrick.

The officials very To the Common (ouncil: near him spoke of the message as "a very important document."

Major Hysell Makes a Statement.

Washington, Sept. 19.-Major Hysell, chief surgeon of the Second division, First army corps, now at Camp Poland, Knoxville, in a private letter to the surgeon general of the army, dated Sept. 14, says: "I will say that my opportunity to know the working of the medical department while at Camp George H. Thomas was perhaps as good if not much better than that of almost any medical officer on duty there, and I will say that at no time during the stay in the park was there any difficulty in procuring all necessary medical and hospital supplies if the proper effort was made."

Sudden Death of General Haskell.

Columbus, O., Sept. 19.—Brigadier General Joseph T. Haskell, U. S. A., fell dead of apoplexy at his residence at Columbus barracks lawn. General Haskell rode in a carriage at the head of the Seventeenth in the morning as it paraded High and Broad streets and Washington avenue, on its return from El Caney. The general appeared to be in his usual health, but naturally suffered from severe wounds received six weeks ago at El Caney. He received a continuous ovation and the excitement was his undoing.

Evacuation of Porto Rico.

San Juan, Sept. 17.—At their meeting the Spanish evacuation commissioners agreed to begin the formal withdrawal of their lines within two days. They will evacuate Lares, San Sebastian and Agualdilla, in the northwest of the island, withdrawing towards the capital. Under the armistice they could not withdraw their outposts without permission. Detachments of the Eleventh infantry will occupy this territory and raise the American flag. The abandonment of the other outposts will

POISON IN HIS SOUP

Attempt to Take the Life of the Philippine Leader.

FRIARS ARE IN THE CONSPIRACY.

Aguinaldo's Soup Is Now Subjected to a Chemical Analysis Before He Is Allowed to Taste It-Cervera To Be Given a Warm Welcome When He Reaches Spain-General Blanco Wants Troops Kept in Cuba for Some Time.

Manila, Sept. 20.—The assertion is made by a native newspaper that an attempt was made to poison Aguinaldo last Friday. It is reported that a steward saw a Spanish prisoner, who had been allowed some freedom, tamper with a bowl of soup intended for the chief. The steward tasted the compound and, it is said, fell dead. Eleven Franciscan friars are alleged to have been engaged in the conspiracy. The populace, it is further said, attempted to lynch all the Spanish prisoners, but Aguinaldo intervened. Soup intended for Aguinaldo is now subjected, it is said, to a chemical analysis before being presented to the insurgent leader, and the Spanish prisoners are kept closely confined. Condition of Prisoners.

The condition of the Spanish captives is beginning to excite anxiety among the military officers here. About 11,000 prisoners are quartered in churches and other public buildings within the narrow confines of the walled city, where most of the Spaniards also live, where the American garrison is necessarily quartered, and where General Otis has located the army headquarters. Spaniards have not the least knowledge of the laws of sanitation and the result is a condition which threatens a general outbreak of disease at any moment. Typhoid fever is already increasing at an alarming rate. Authorities feel it absolutely essential to the health of the city to get the Spanish prisoners out of Manila at the earliest possible date. Hospital Ship Delayed.

Similar conditions are reported from Cavite, where the Spanish in the hands of the rebels are suffering for the necessaries of life. To make matters worse, the sailing of the hospital ship Rio has been repeatedly delayed. It is now said that the vessel will go Thursday. Probably in that time she will have a considerable accession to her invalid passenger list. As the result of the meetings of the national assembly of Filipinos at Malolos, there is now entire confidence in the American government on the part of the insurgent leaders. All the members of the assembly exhibit an earnest desire that the future relations of the Filipinos with the Americans may be of the most friendly

SPANIARDS MADE COMPLAINT.

Displeased Because American Soldiers Did Not Wait on Them.

Santiago, Sept. 20,-The remainder of the Spanish garrisons at Baracoa and Sagua, 1,400 men, were brought down. They were taken in the steamers San Juan, Reina de los Angeles and Bessie to Guantanamo, and there transferred to the transports San Francisco and San Augustin. The Spanish officers of these garrisons complain bitterly of the of the Third immunes, stating that they were bundled roughly about, were refused facilities for the removal of their baggage, and were used as if they were criminals, not subject to an honorable capitulation.

Upon inquiry Major McCleary of General Lawton's staff, who conducted the removal, states that the demands of the prisoners were so unreasonable that Hard work, however, saved their lives, he eventually had to decline doing any- and with the exception of the abovething for them, save merely to carry out the orders for their transportation. They wanted to carry all their belongings with them, and wished the American soldiers to cook for them, wait on them and serve them generally. They appeared to believe it was a personally conducted tour at the expense of the American government.

Major McCleary had a narrow escape from being shot by a drunken Spanish officer at Santiago. While McCleary was sitting on the bridge of the Los Angeles the officer came alongside the steamer flourishing a revolver. shouted that he would shoot the Yankee pig who came to take them away and fired point blank at McCleary, who was unarmed. After the second shot the Spaniard was overpowered by soldiers. Official figures give the number of deaths during August in Santiago city as 1,548. Illness is now decreasing.

Under the circumstances the following facts from troit will be of importance to the vot-

DOUBLING UP TAXATION.

When Hazen S. Pingree began his career in Detroit in 1890 the tax levy for the previous year was $2,236,463.54. When he laid down the scepter in 1897 diers and the train left thirty minutes it was $3,640,878.19, an increase of $1,-404,414.65, nearly double the previous amount. See controller's report, 1897-

> SWELLING THE SALARY LIST. The expenses of the mayor's office in Detroit had previously been $2,700. Under him they rose to $6,214 in 1896, besides printing, special police officer, extra clerks, telegraph bills, etc., which brought the total annual expense of the mayor's office up to more than $20,000. (See controller's report, 1896-97; general fund and report, 1897-98, page 595.)

> The salaries in the receiver of taxes office prior to the Pingree administration amounted annually to $15,690. Under his rule they rose to $26,412. See controller's report, 1888-89, and controller's report, 1897-98, page 596.)

> Prior to Pingree the total legal department consisted of a city counselor, at $2,000; the city attorney, at $2,500, and an assistant city attorney, at $2,-00, a total of $6,500. Mayor Pingree changed all this to a corporation counsel, at $5,000; chief assistant, at $3,000; assistant, $2,500; three lesser assistants, at $1,800 each, $5,400; one chief derk. $1,200; one clerk $1,000; messenger, $300, a total of $18,400. (See conroller's report for 1897-8, page 596.)

> Even this enormous increase is only small portion of the additional burdens imposed upon the taxpayers in this one department, for it does not include special counsel, who were invariably hired for the innumerable suits in which Mr. Pingree involved the city. In one suit alone Mr. C. A. Kent was paid $20,500 for an opinion which proved to be contrary to the ruling of the United States courts, and Mr. Benton Hanchett was paid $15,up this unfortunate opinion. The loss to the taxpayers of Detroit by absoutely useless litigation provoked by Mayor Pingree was enormous, some competent judges placing it at nearly, f not fully, one million dollars.

ONE DEPARTMENT AS A SAMPLE. As an illustration of the manner in which Mr. Pingree makes other people bay his personal obligations, take the ealth department of Detroit. Before Pingree was mayor the department was conducted by only three paid of-acials, but when Mayor Pingree's poard, appointed by him and with nimself as an ex-officio member, was n control, the pay roll contained an average of eighty names, and at one mina, accompanied by the queen's time reached a grand total of ninety-

Besides this outrageous increase in he number of officials, the other expenses of the board were enormously increased, and the taxpayers cannot vet tell the full amount that this one branch of the Pingree machine cost them, some of the claims being still

This is more than is paid for the Gillespi, burned on Maumee bay, five anitor work in the three largest build-miles from the city. The crew escaped ngs in Detroit, and the expenditure of this large sum to clean up after Mr. 000, which is said to fully cover the loss. The general road fund was $186,000 the year before the advent of Mayot Pingree. For his last year it was $273,976. (See controller's report 1897-8, page 607.) This fund and oth ers for sewers and repairs are the ones most used to control votes. The tax payers paid only $85,000 for sewers before the Pingree ring captured the city, while they cost $169,352 the last year of Pingree's rule. (See control ler's report, 1897-8, page 610.)

FAT PICKING FOR BOODLERS AND HEELERS.

But it is in the matter of repaving streets that the political boss is enabled to get in his most efficient work Large gangs of men are hired for this just prior to election, and their manipulation was reduced to a science during the Pingree regime. The year prior to Mr. Pingree's first election the annual expenditure for this work was $82,261. The last year of Pingree's ad ministration the people paid for repairing and "reform" the sum of $814,121 (See controller's report for 1897-8

It is too bad that the closing of a war in which the American soldier has again proven his valor and superiority should be marred by universal inquiry into the responsibility for mismanagement which has caused our men, both at home and in Cuba, untold misery, bustle part could only be guessed, and disease and death. The private soldiers of the country have won its battles, while the favored commanders have only sought to shift blame from their own shoulders.

Whether honest or dishonest, Gov. Pingree can never accomplish his ends 900 more for doing his best to bolster in the Republican ranks. His party's legislative nominees are anti-Pingree men, and he will only be permitted to head the ticket to aid their canvass. Without Democratic votes Pingree cannot win. Democrats should remember this, and the fact that the only actual step ever taken to equalize taxation in Michigan was by the Democratic Legislature of 1891.

Vote for Whiting and the Democratic ticket.

The State of Michigan is now sellng the last lot of a $500,000 bunch of bonds for war purposes. Here is half a million dollars spent without a penscratch at the capitol to show where it went. The state military board, composed of Gov. Pingree and his appointees, have the sole right to expend the money and audit the bills. During the civil war such accounts had to pass the scrutiny of the board of state au-

Great is Pingree! Great is humbug!

Pingree continues to assure the Republican party that he will reform state affairs. He has had a chance, but his record shows the contrary. He should not have a second trial.

What real reform have the people had at the hands of Pingree? Isn't it about time the real goods were delivered? Whiting should be elected if the people are to be benefited. He will prove a second Winans.—Pontiac Post.

Paradoxical.

There is a touch of irony in the proceedings of a republican convention which indorses Pingree reforms and renominates corporation legislators.

Woman's Mission.

Successful competition in any field depends on physical health.

Shall women vote? Shall they practice law? Shall they compete with men in every field? Whatever woman's mission may finally be declared to be, it is certain that something must be done for her physical health. Ignorance, superstition and mystery surround woman's delicate organism. Heroic efforts to endure pain is part of woman's creed. Many women's lives are a constant struggle with lassitude; many are violently ill without apparent cause, and few indeed are in normal health.

This is all wrong and might be different if women would follow Dr. Hartman's advice. Perhaps the most practical printed talk to women to be found anywhere is in Dr. Hartman's book called "Health and Beauty," which the Pe-ru-na Medicine Co., Columbus, O., will mail free to women only. It is certain that Dr. Hartman's Pe-ru-na has proved a perfect boon for women's diseases of the pelvic organs. It treats them scientifically and cures them permanently. All druggists sell it.

"I received your book and commenced the use of your medicine at once," writes Mrs. H. D. Amoss of Greensboro, Ga., to Dr. Hartman. "I took five bottles of I feel like a new woman. When I commenced taking Pe-ru-na I could hardly walk across my room; now I am doing my own work and can walk to church. I shall never cease to thank you for prescribing for me. I had been under the treatment of two doctors but never received any benefit until I commenced taking your medicine. I wish every woman who was suffering as I was would send for one of your books. May God bless you and spare you many years to relieve women who are suffering as I was." Fifty thousand women will be counselled and prescribed for this year free of charge by Dr. Hartman, president of the Surgical Hotel, Columbus, O. All women suffering from any disease of the mucous membrane, or any of the peculiar ills of women, may write to him and the letters will receive his year 2,096,263 tons of sugar. Of domestic product were 289,000 tons cane. 41,347 beet, 5,000 maple and 300 sorghum; of foreign, 1,066,680 tons cane, 616,635 raw beet and 77,288 refined. The consumption of foreign sugars represents the production of 15,790,000 tons (2,000 pounds) beets, requiring 158 factories of 100,000 capacity (1,000 tons per day), or 316 factories of 50,000 tons capacity.

Items of Interest About What Our Boys Are Doing.

Everybody in Washtenaw county is interested in what the boys of the 31st Michigan are doing at Camp Poland, Knoxville, Tenn., and the following office rooms in the new Thompson block | items gleaned from various sources will prove interesting reading. In our own Co. A everybody has had a fit of sickness of more or less severity, but that was to be expected in the climate and under the conditions which they experienced in Chickamauga Park. All, however, who were sick are now on the mend, including the 10 or 12 who have been invalided home. The future of the regiment is somewhat in doubt, but it is more than probable that it will be sent to see service in some part of America's recently acquired territory Capt. Ross Granger, of Co. A, arrived pointed one of the mcderators of the from Knoxville, Tenn., on a 12 days furlough Monday evening. He looks bronzed and well and rays that beyond greatest charms and surest values is here. An idea of what is with the "Si Plunkard" company, is good material the five men who took the composer of a new piece of music the examination are can be formed from the fact that after the regular examination was concluded, three men just been published by L. F. Boos, of Orderly Sergt. Wm. C. Cooper, Duty Sergt. John W. Haarer and Corp. Ralph C. Magoffin were found to be so equally matched that a special examiningston county circuit court from the ation was necessary to decide which Washtenaw county clerk's office on was the best man of the three. When Colonel Gardener was asked by Capt. Granger why it was necessary for his men to take an extra examination to that required of non-commissioned officers from other companies who were candidates for promotion he received the flattering answer that Co. A had the best set of non-commissioned officers in the regiment.

Company G, of the 31st took dinner with Company G, of Georgia, Saturday, and that night several Michigan companies were entertained over at Georgia's camp with good things to eat and music and speeches. of pie and eating it exclaim, "How cheap this is!" No! The appreciative expression on his whole countenance says: "How good this is!" Thus it is in buying groceries—you want only those that are good. They are the cheapest. We carry a full stock of the choicest staple and fancy groceries and sell them right.
