

OLD JEWISH DIINIAI GROUND

Will Be Obliterated in a Few Days.

REMAINS TO BE TAKEN UP

And Removed to a Lot in the Forest Hill Cemetery.

The question of the old private cemetery lot of the Weil family lying east of Ingalls street, in the lots belonging to the Grove estate is about being settled. The old cemetery was a little west of this. From this the bodies have been removed to the Fairview and Forest Hill cemetery. The Weils claimed to have a deed for their burial lot from the city. It has been claimed that by those who have looked at this deed, or examined the records, that the description of the lot, is erroneous, it describing a lot down on South Fourth ave. Negotiations have been pending, for the removal of the bodies buried there, for a number of years. As long as the heads of the Weil family lived, nothing could be done, as they were extremely orthodox Hebrews. They said that it was contrary to their religion to sanction the removal of bodies that had been buried. They are now gathered to their fathers. The younger generation see the inevitable, and feel they are showing more respect to their fathers to tacitly allow the remains to be removed to a lot in Forest Hill cemetery, than to be obstructionists. For a time a number of parties undertook to arrange the matter, but their ideas contemplated considerable cost, which is now obviated. Messrs. Groves will probably have the remains taken up next Monday.

The Weil family consisting of four brothers, Leopold, Solomon, Jacob and Moses started in Ann Arbor as poor peddlers. By their uprightness of character, they built up a large business. Their work consisted in gathering up hides, pelts and buying wool. From this they branched out into the tanning line, building a large brick tannery, now occupied by the Ann Arbor Electric Light Co. At one time upwards of 75 men were employed. Later Jacob and Moses started in business in New York City, and Leopold and Solomon in Chicago. They were all very successful and respected. They all until the time of their death, had a warm feeling for Ann Arbor and particularly for their old neighbors.

FAMILY ROW WAS AIRED

Dexter Parties who Could Not Get Along With Each Other.

A family row was aired in Justice Doty's court yesterday. The most interested parties hail from Dexter.

Mrs. Anna Huntley sued her mother, Mrs. Anna Zeeb for an alleged breach of contract. Mrs. Huntley was living in Chicago and claims that she came to Dexter from Chicago on an alleged contract to board and care for her mother, in consideration of which she was to get house rent free and use of the garden.

She arrived June 11 and a family disagreement arose so that the daughter left Aug. 22. The daughter claims the mother broke the contract and on the stand swore that she thought she ought to have at least $200 for her trouble.

A. S. Sawyer & Son represented the plaintiff and J. F. Lawrence and J. T. Honey, the defendant.

The jury was out for an hour and then returned a verdict of no cause of action.

As there is some very bitter feeling in the family, the case is likely to go into the circuit court.

BARONESS VON GRAVE WILL RESIDE HERE

SHE ARRIVED IN THE CITY YESTERDAY.

TO SPEND THE WINTER WITH HER DAUGHTER, FRAEULEIN ELSA VON GRAVE.

Baroness Rosalie von Grave and her daughter, Miss Elsa von Grave, arrived in the city yesterday from Wallingford, Conn., where the Baroness resides. Miss von Grave, of the faculty of the University School of Music, resumed her duties today. Her mother will spend the winter in Ann Arbor.

BIG CHANGES IN THE ROUTES

For Free Rural Delivery of Mail.

LONGER THAN PROPOSED

The South Route Takes in Scio Instead of Pittsfield.

Special Agent Hammer, who is here to look over the proposed free rural mail delivery routes, has made several changes in what the boomers had laid out for him. He said he found that the routes did not cover as broad territories as are desirable. The department will strive to include nearly as many square miles as there are lineal miles on the routes. They will be longer than was proposed.

The Dr. W. W. Nichols route east of the city was changed so that it will go around Dixboro and north of the Northfield church and come in on the Whitmore Lake road.

The south route will be more of a southwest route, and will take in Lodi and Scio instead of Lodi and Pittsfield. Mr. Hammer, accompanied by Charles Mills, Henry Dupue and Philip Blum, went over this route yesterday. They started out on the Salem road to the Lodi cemetery; thence west two miles; thence one mile north to the Lodi town house; thence two miles west nearly to the town of Freedom; thence north to Mrs. Jacob Jedele's farm; thence east to the Beck place; thence south to Wagner's Corners; thence on Libert st. into Ann Arbor city.

LATE—Mr. Hammer has selected the southwest route as the one to be instituted.

LEGAL RATE OF INTEREST IS 5%

The law recently passed relating to the changes in the percentage of interest, legal and allowed, in the state of Michigan, went into effect Friday. Probably there were many among business men who were not aware of the fact, and some odd complications may result. Under the old law, in force up to September 22, the legal rate in Michigan was 6 per cent, with 8 per cent allowed by consent. On and after the 22nd the legal rate is reduced to 5 per cent, while the allowed rate is 7 per cent. All paper, therefore, which was executed before the 22nd bears the old legal rate, while paper executed after that date bears the new rate.

MUST STAND A NEW TRIAL

THE SUPREME COURT IN THE WUERTHNER CASE

DENIED A MOTION WEDNESDAY FOR A REHEARING OF THE CASE.

The Supreme Court has denied a motion for a rehearing in the case of Carl Wuerthner vs. the German Workmen's Benevolent Society of Manchester.

On the trial of the cause in the circuit court. Wuerthner claimed a sick benefit amounting to $78. Judgement went against him and he appealed.

The Supreme Court reversed the decision and ordered a new trial. The attorneys for the society presented a petition to the Supreme Court setting up that the judges did not grasp the situation exactly and asked for a rehearing. The Supreme Court has now said that they thought they fully understood the matter.

Now the cause must be tried again unless a settlement is affected.

FOR A STATE INSANE ASYLUM

Washtenaw Medical Society Will Advocate It.

AND TO BE LOCATED HERE

The Society Will Hold a Meeting on Monday Evening.

The advocacy of Judge Newkirk for a detention asylum for the care of those insane patients awaiting a place in state asylums is bearing better results than he had dared anticipate.

Everybody who has read the papers is well acquainted with the crowded conditions of the state asylums. Michigan must soon build an additional asylum somewhere.

The Washtenaw County Medical society will take up the matter next Monday evening at the Pathological Laboratory, when several papers will be read on the subject.

Said Dr. Wessinger this morning: "I do not think any of the doctors will favor simply a detention hospital here. They will, I anticipate, advocate the establishment of a state institution here."

Ann Arbor would probably have better claims for an institution of this kind than other city in Michigan from the fact that the University is located here. It would afford the students a clinic in this branch of the medical profession and the patients would be certain of a thorough care of their cases.

FRIDAY SEPTEMBER 29, 1899.

CHANGE OF FRONT.

Joseph Chamberlain, colonial secretary in Lord Salisbury's cabinet, whose claim to overlordship in Transvaal affairs brought on the present acute crisis, has not always been of the same mind about Transvaal affairs as at present.

And now comes King Carlos of Portugal with a pamphlet in which he sets forth the reasons why Spain should become a dependency of Portugal.

Senator Berenger of France has written an open letter in which he declares the French authorities must take prompt action to prevent vicious amusements and concert halls from engulfing France on the occasion of next year's exposition in a world-wide execution.

When Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood sent his famous message that he had the Boers in the hollow of his hand, Lord Hartington wanted orders sent to crush the Boer republic, but Chamberlain's influence was potent for peace and he brought about the subsequent convention with the Transvaal at which time a new agreement was signed by which England specifically gave up her claim to suzerainty except in regard to treaties with foreign powers.

These documents are known as the London conventions and were signed in 1884. Notwithstanding all this Chamberlain now claims the right to interfere in the internal government of the Transvaal.

The first picture was that of a rich man, once poor, but now enormously wealthy. His home was a veritable scene of enchantment and the envy of every passer-by.

The second picture was that of a young man who had enlisted in the army. Epaulets, embroidered collars and strains of martial music lured him into the turmoil of war.

The third picture was that of a statesman, brilliant, eloquent; his voice now like the rolling of the thunder and now like the warbling of birds.

The fourth picture was that of a poet, who saw in the oak tree not lumber, but a temple of God, where the birds congregated to sing his praises.

PROF. HILDNER'S ADDRESS

The address of Dr. J. A. C. Hildner at the Young Men's Christian Association Sunday afternoon was listened to by the men with great interest.

Admiral Dewey is said to have remarked, relative to his becoming a candidate for president: "The navy is one profession; politics is another."

New York's Dewey celebration bids fair to be the greatest event of the kind in our history. Never before has there been shown so much public spirit manifested in the preparation for such an event.

HANS ROEDDER SHOT HIMSELF

When the Officers Cornered Him Last Night.

AMERICAN AND NO GOOD

Was the Remark He Made About the Revolver which Failed to Kill Him.

As was exclusively related in the Argus of last week, Marshal Gerstner and his deputies, acting upon advice from Grand Rapids, were hot on the trail of Hans Roedder, who is wanted there for the larceny of 25 bicycles.

So intact a web had the police force and sheriff's force woven about the young high school student that it was impossible for him to escape unless he cheated justice by taking his own life and, preferring death to arrest, Hans Roedder placed the revolver to his head and pulled the trigger.

He had the nerve, but lacked the deliberateness, to carry out his intention, for, instead of the ball crashing through his head, it simply passed in under the skull bone, and unless inflammation sets in or the reaction from the shock is not too great, he will live to meet the charge against him in Grand Rapids.

It was last Sunday when Marshal Gerstner went to Roedder's rooms to arrest him. The young man became suspicious and escaped out the back way. Marshal Gerstner immediately notified the surrounding towns and cities and a close watch was kept on the railroads.

His brother, Prof. Roedder, had just returned from Germany, and Hans came into the city stealthily last night for a last interview with him before making a break for a place where the officers could not find him.

Just what passed between the men in their conversation is not known. It is probably that Hans meant to borrow the necessary funds with which to get away. But it is known that his brother, who believed the young man innocent at the time of his arrest here last June, came to the conclusion that Hans was either crazy on the subject of stealing bicycles or that he had all the animus of a criminal.

No hope was held out to Hans by his brother, and despairingly he left the house. In the meantime the officers received the tip that Hans Roedder had been seen entering the house on E. Washington st., where his brother rooms, and "Doc" Collins immediately hastened there.

The scene of this hide-and-go-seek party is about a hundred feet west of State st. on Washington st. "Doc" Collins stood hidden for about ten minutes while the game he was hunting was crouched in the cellar not 30 feet away.

Marshal Gerstner and Deputy Gillen had heard of the tip a short time after "Doc" Collins and took a hand in the search. They went to Prof. Roedder's rooms and were informed that Hans had left there about ten minutes before and had gone across the road.

Prof. Roedder came out with the officers, and "Doc" Collins thought that they had bagged the game. His mistake was soon rectified, and the officers commenced a general search on the vacant lots across the way.

Marshal Gerstner turned on his dark lantern and commenced peering into dark places. He reached the cellar way and flashed it into a corner. A bright revolver glinted in the light as Hans Roedder pulled it up.

"Here," said the officer without a flinch, "you don't want to do anything like that." As soon as the words were finished, there was a loud report and Hans Roedder had sunk back on the ground.

Young Roedder stood up and with the help of the officers climbed out of the cellar. An ambulance was summoned and he was placed in as quiet a position on the grass as possible.

When the ambulance arrived he got into the vehicle unassisted and was driven to the University hospital, where an operation was performed upon him last night.

Out at the Washtenaw Country Club grounds there abides a festive sheep of the male persuasion, with which various and sundry people have had experience lately.

It was last Sunday when Marshal Gerstner went to Roedder's rooms to arrest him. The young man became suspicious and escaped out the back way.

Just what passed between the men in their conversation is not known. It is probably that Hans meant to borrow the necessary funds with which to get away.

Five Routes Coming And Congressman Smith Says They Will Be Established This Year.

Ann Arbor is to have two rural mail delivery routes this year and Ypsilanti is to have three.

Congressman Smith brought this cheery information with him Friday morning, which he imparted with his usual cheery smile.

"You know," said the congressman, "the appropriation for rural mail delivery is not very large and my congressional district has really had more than its share."

Thomas Kearney APPEALS HIS CASE

Thomas Kearney, the Northfield farmer who made a claim for some burned beans against the Washtenaw Mutual Fire Insurance Company and which the arbitrators refused to allow, has now taken the case into the court of chancery, asking that the award be set aside.

He claims that the arbitrators exceeded their authority in declaring his policy void, and that all the arbitrators should have decided to assess the damages coming to him.

SOME SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS

For the County Fair This Year.

NEW AND INTERESTING.

Something New and Interesting will be Shown Every Day Well Worth Admission Price.

The committee on special attractions have been untiring in their efforts to make this part of the Fair more interesting and novel than ever before.

First of all, they have secured the famous Ching Lee Too troupe, which consists of three Chinese magicians, jugglers and acrobats, Ching Ling Too, Prince Fee Lung, and Miss Ten Too Nee.

One of the best tricks of the great trickster, Ching Ling Too, is from a common-looking piece of cloth. He instantly and very mysteriously produces a large china bowl filled to the brim with boiling water, which can be seen bubbling, seething and steaming before all the astonished spectators.

Three buckets of water are taken from the bowl, and a very good estimate of the immensity of the bowl can be obtained from the fact that the bowl and its contents weigh eighty pounds.

Prince Le Fung is a real Chinese Prince, and his fire-juggling and acrobatic work is a distinctive feature of this wonderful troupe.

Miss Ten Too Nee, a charming little Chinese maiden, knows as many tricks as her famous fellow-tricksters. She causes tables to float in midair and similar acts.

This troupe has been procured at a great expense and it is well worth anyone's time and money to see this famous troupe.

Ray Barton, the famous equilibrist, will do his famous tricks at the Fair. He is the most famous high wire performer in the world.

His tricks on the surging wire are marvelous and startling. He juggles while standing on a ladder on the wire and holds a lamp, shade and all on his hand at the same time.

He does this same trick with a lamp and stands on the wire on his hands. He is the greatest fancy rifle shooter on the earth, and is a sure hit, too, and he does all his work on the wire, a rifle in each hand.

Ray Barton's tricks are almost indescribable, they are so varied and so numerous. While maintaining balance on the wire Mr. Barton performs combinations of three or four feats simultaneously.

Things we could not possibly do standing on firm ground he does up high in the air where all can see. The imitators attempt but one of his feats at a time, and then on a wire less than half the height of his wire.

He has performed in all the great cities of the United States and Europe. Lately he has been in New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Springfield, Mass., Boston, Rochester, Sandusky and Canada.

Everywhere his acts meet with hearty applause. Surely the people of Washtenaw want to see this famous man.

Irish Porkers—Great Clown Pigs, with fine stage trappings. Children will go wild with delight over the trained pigs at the Fair.

Bring the little ones and let them see the fun. They will be happy the rest of the year and train every cat, dog, chicken, duck and pet pig on the farm until you can start a show of your own.

The farmers themselves will jump with delight to see the dumb animals perform. In fact, the pigs present a rare display of animal culture and intelligence without precedence in the annals of performing brutes.

They are marvelous, sagacious, very funny, tricky, and very funny and as clean as can be. They are washed just like babies, and they like it, too.

They even ride in baby carriages and push each other around. They are the latest novelty in the line of trained animals. We can't describe all the tricks the pigs do, but they act like real clowns and are just as funny.

Come and see them and then you'll know about it and will have had a good laugh besides.

Diving Dog. Another attraction is a cunning little dog. He is almost human and a great pet. He dives like an expert and doesn't have to be driven to his tricks.

This is more sport for the children and grown folks also, for everyone enjoys intelligent animals. The little dog will dive from a ladder as long as you wish. He climbs the ladder like a little man and then jumps off.

NICKLE-IN-SLOTS WERE THROWN OUT. The resurrected life of the nickle-in-the-slot machines in this city was very brief.

Saturday night an agent stepped in and placed three machines in as many different resorts. Nickles rolled in like coffee in a grinder at a grocery store.

This morning Marshal Gerstner went around and notified the proprietors of the places to put the machines on the discards.

And out they went.

BEN SLADE REMINISCENCES

Ben Slade, the agent of the American Wringer Co., on N. Main st., is an old hotel man. He has a wonderful memory and can relate much interesting local history "befo de war."

In 1856 he was Dan Hibbard's agent at Eaton Rapids. Mr. Hibbard was the well known stage line proprietor. There was in those days, a plank road covering the 5 miles distance between Jackson and Eaton Rapids.

Between there and Lansing, a distance of 17 miles, the roads were bad. Coaches with passengers came in at all hours of the day and night. Very often when the legislature was in session extras were run.

The coaches between Jackson and Eaton Rapids were driven with four horses and then from there to Lansing with six horses. The drivers had horns and the excitement of the arrival of a coach can be imagined.

The horses were changed, passengers wanted drinks and cigars, and there was a hurry and hustle day or night when a coach came in.

When a coach drove up, the first thing the driver did was to throw down the way book. Mr. Slade had to take this up and check off the passengers to see that the driver did not knock down and then enter the new passengers by name and their destination.

There were always 26 horses in the stables of the stage line for which Mr. Slade had to buy the necessary hay and grain.

The old state bank moneys was a great annoyance. Every week Preston's Bank Note Reporter was secured and laid upon Mr. Slade's desk.

The Peninsular Bank, of Detroit, was particularly annoying, as sometimes it was par and then worth only 50 cents on the dollar.

Mr. Hibbard came once a month and settled up. Mr. Slade's salary was $50 a month and all expenses, such as room and hotel board, etc.

In those days there were Indians in the neighborhood who gathered many furs. Mr. Slade often went out to their wigwams and bought the pelts.

There was much rivalry among the fur buyers. Mr. Slade clerked one year in the celebrated Hernden, of Marshal. He, in those days, knew all the well known men of the state.

Admiral Dewey won't be able to see "Billy" Judson when the Hero of Manila is tendered a reception in Washington next week.

The Pingree push is going to Washington by a special car as guests of the occasion, but Billy Judson, who is the biggest component part of the push, has a prior engagement at home.

"No, I can't go," said the State Oil Inspector yesterday. "It will be the first of the month, and the reports will be coming in from the deputies and, let's see—when does court set?"

"Next Wednesday," said Wire Inspector Canfield, who is keeping close tabs on the interesting (for him) court. "Great Heavens, no—of course I can't go. All these cases coming on."

"Are they going to be tried this term?" inquired the reporter. "I suppose so," said "Billy." "I'm ready."

"I've been ready all the time," said Canfield. "I don't want them hanging around any longer."

And that's why the Hero of Manila and the Colonel of Washtenaw's Rough Riders wont shake hands.

IMPROVEMENTS ON NORTH SIDE. The North Side has been greatly improved this year with cement walks, new houses and general fixing up.

It looks prosperous and shows that the people are awakening to the beauties of their situation. Among the latest improvements contemplated are those of Earl Ware and Walter Taylor.

Earl Ware will build an addition to his house at the corner of Broadway and Mill st. Walter Taylor will have an outside chimney built so that he can have a fire place put into his house.

A MOST WONDERFUL CURES. Eminent Physicians Pronounced it Consumption. Dr. C. D. Warner, Coldwater, Mich.

Dear Sir:—I have received great benefit from your White Wine of Tar Syrup. I had a cough and the doctors gave up all hopes of my recovery and pronounced it consumption; I thought that it was death for me.

I tried everything that we could hear of. Finally one of my friends prevailed upon me to use your White Wine of Tar Syrup. I took 1 1/2 bottles and am cured entirely. Such medicine I can recommend to those who are afflicted as I was.

J. RICE MINER IS HEARD FROM

NOW A SOLDIER IN THE PHILIPPINES.

ENLISTED AS A REGULAR AND SAILED FROM SEATTLE AUGUST 18.

J. Rice Miner, who left this city suddenly some time ago, has been heard from with a definiteness that forbids any mistake.

At the outbreak of the Spanish war he enlisted with an Arkansas regiment and was for a long time stationed at the fort opposite Washington, D. C.

He was mustered out and then enlisted in a cavalry troop in the regular service.

He sailed from Seattle with his regiment on Aug. 18, and is now in the Philippines, fighting for Uncle Sam.

This news comes direct from the authorities and is authoritative.

FOR NATIONAL LEGISLATION

Caspar Rinsey's Case May be the Basis.

GROSVENOR AGITATING IT

Wants An Act That Will Treat A States Just Alike.

Caspar Rinsey's oleomargarine case is liable to go to be the basis of national legislation. The Supreme Court of Michigan held that a man could color oleomargarine with harmless matter.

Said Food Commissioner Grosvenor to a reporter:

"As a general proposition, national legislation is desirable because of the difficulty found in procuring for the sale of goods within a state in original packages, which are shipped into that state from another, and also for the benefit of manufacturers by establishing one standard to be good all over the country, and to prevent the inconvenience and expense now experienced by having to prepare and brand the same products differently for different states.

"There is very little in the argument that a national act can be more easily and more certainly enforced than a state act. For comparison, take the national oleomargarine law, which is, of course, distinctly a taxation measure, but framed at the demands of the dairy interests. The treasury department enforces the taxation feature strictly and to the limit, but among the provisions of the law is one that oleomargarine cannot be sold from a stamped package and must be plainly exposed to view. There are other provisions of this nature, all aimed at compelling the retailer to sell the article for what it really is, and to prevent the exception in pawing off for butter. There is scarcely a store among the many in Michigan where oleomargarine is sold that lives up to these commands. They all pay their license fee because that feature of the law is rigidly enforced, but very few ever hear any complaint for the infractions of other provisions of this law.

"It cannot be said that the national act, with its necessarily accompanying rigid tape, could be so well nor directly enforced as a state act. A national act along the lines of bills now pending in congress is certainly advisable for the sake of uniformity, if for no other reason.

"The passage of a national act would greatly lessen the work under the state acts, because with the former in operation no state would be permitted to traffic in adulterated goods, as some states where no food laws are on the books are now doing.

"There certainly is necessity for a law repealing the right which today are granted by the courts to goods coming from one state to another and there offered for sale in original packages. Since the proposed national law has had incorporated in it a provision of this kind, it is more necessary.

"A national pure food act would be a national blessing, and can only be one with a proper recognition of actual hard-fisted propositions which the enforcement of the state laws have made prominent."

The State Tax Jumps From

$1.92 Last Year To $3.26 This Year.

City Treasurer Luick makes an estimate of what the county, school and state taxes will be this year. The only increase that is "in sight" is on the state taxes. The county and school expenses will probably remain the same as last year.

Last year the taxes were distributed as follows:

County.....$ .86
School.....5.92
State.....1.92

Total December tax.....$8.70

This year it will be about as follows:

County.....$ .86
School.....5.92
State.....3.26

Total December tax.....$10.04

Last July the city tax was $9.42, owing to the purchase of the hospital site and making up the overdraft on the banks.

The total cost per $1,000 valuation for Ann Arbor people for the past year in running the city government and helping pay for the running of the schools, county and state will be about $19.50

DEATH OF MRS. MARY HENION

The following, taken from last night's Owosso American, will be of interest to many in Ann Arbor who knew Mrs. Henion and family when they lived on Moseley street. She was one of the pioneers of Washtenaw county:

"Yesterday morning, at 8 o'clock, occurred the death of an estimable old lady, when Mrs. Mary M. Henion died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. S. Hunt, North Water st., at the advanced age of 81 years. Mrs. Henion's death was due to her extreme age and a general breaking down of her health. She had resided with her daughter for the past fourteen years, and was loved by many, her motherly disposition winning her many friends. For the past three years she had been totally blind. This affliction she bore with Christian patience. She was a devout Christian lady and a member of the Congregational church.

The deceased was born in Monticello, N. Y. She leaves two daughters—Mrs. W. S. Hunt, of this city, and Mrs. E. M. Thomas, of Huron, S. Dakota; and a son, W. H., of Manchester, Mich., to mourn her loss. A grandchild, Mrs. C. O. Loring, of this city, also survives her. The funeral will occur tomorrow morning from her late residence at 10.30 o'clock. The remains will be laid at rest in Mt. Pleasant.

DEATH OF FORMER U. OF M. INSTRUCTOR

DR. GEORGE A. HENDRICKS, OF MINNEAPOLIS.

WAS INSTRUCTOR OF ANATOMY IN MEDICAL DEPARTMENT HERE, 1882—1888.

Dr. George A. Hendricks, an instructor in the medical department in the University of Michigan, died at Minneapolis, Minn., last night of Brights disease.

Dr. Hendricks graduated from the medical department here in 1887, and was instructor in anatomy in the University of Michigan from 1882 to 1888. From here he went to the University of Minnesota in 1889 and introduced the graded courses in anatomy, of which he was the originator there.

Mrs. Hendricks is at present on her way to Honolulu, where she is building a winter home.

STUFF COTTON IN YOUR EARS

WHEN GOING DOWN WASHINGTON STREET.

NO MORE BRICKS AND THERE ARE SWEAR WORDS IN THE AIR.

Work on the Washington street paving is temporarily delayed on account of the contractor running out of brick.

Messrs. Clancy & Clarkens went to Ohio today to get enough to finish the job. As there is a great demand for material from all over, the delay may be longer than will be conducive to the peace of mind of the mildest property owners along the street.

Those who are in the habit of uttering curse words do not hesitate to give some horrible examples of the science.

But it does not seem to be anybody's fault. Contractor Clancy had no means of knowing, when he ordered the brick, that so many culls would be thrown out as there has been.

The casting out of the culls accounts for the shortage.

COULD SEE ONLY ON ONE SIDE

AN EYE OPERATED ON BY DR. COPELAND.

ONE OF THE VERY QUEER CASES THAT COMES UP IN THE CLINICS.

Dr. R. S. Cope'and, of the Homeopathic college, held a very large clinic at the hospital yesterday. A very interesting case of the loss of sight of one half of the retina, called in medical terms hemianopsia, was examined. There was a dividing line in the one eye, the patient being able to see on one side and not on the other side of this line. A number of minor operations were performed.

Tomorrow morning Dr. C. E. Kinyon will have two cases of laparotomy to operate upon. They are both cases of abdominal tumors, and will be of interest to the students.

BISHOP NINDE WILL BE PRESENT

AT THE DEDICATION OF SALINE M. E. CHURCH

A Month From Today—An Editor's New House Is Nearly Finished

Saline, Mich., Sept. 29—(Special to the Daily Argus)—Misses Sturm and McKinnon and Mr. Otis Schairer, have returned to Ann Arbor to resume their studies in the University for the coming year.

The colored folks camp meeting held in Arbeiter Park for two weeks closed on Sunday night.

A large party from here attended Murray & Mack's "Finnegans Ball" at the Ypsilanti Opera House on Monday night.

Warren Lewis, advertising agent of the Ypsilanti Horse Fair was in town on Wednesday.

Beautiful stained glass windows have been placed in the M. E. church. The furnace is in place. Carpenters and decorators are rapidly finishing the interior. The church will be dedicated Oct. 29. Bishop Ninde, of Detroit will be present.

Supervisor W. M. Fowler, was in Ann Arbor on business on Wednesday.

Editor A. J. Warren's new residence is rapidly nearing completion.

Large new cars are being run on the electric road which is very convenient to the traveling public.

There is no village in Michigan which has more farmers teams tied on its streets than Chelsea. It makes the few Grass Lake men who have energy enough to visit a neighboring town turn green with envy. One strayed into Chelsea the other day and felt so sore over the contrast with his native dreariness, that the Grass Lake News gives vent to its woe as follows:

Charlie LaFollette, traveler for a big Cleveland fur house, was in Chelsea one day last week and he informed us that the only teams he saw on the streets during the afternoon were a pair of steers hitched to a two-wheeled cart, and a mule and a cow yoked together and pulling an old sled loaded with pumpkins which the barefooted driver was peddling from door to door. Charlie says he saw at one business entrance a placard which read: "No more woodchucks taken on subscription unless skinned and the stuffing removed." He also saw indications which forced the conclusion that flipping coppers and trading jack knives were the chief industries of the town. Of course, selling furs in a grave yard was out of the question, although Charlie did dispose of a "woman's cloak," as he called it, made of the hide of a Galloway bull, and the parts of which, instead of being sewed together, were attached by means of copper washers and rivets. Charlie told the purchaser, a village official, that that style of manufacture was the latest thing out, and there can be no doubt of it. The delighted official protested that it "would suit down at the house," especially as it was "genuine seal." Charlie, who is a phenomenon of truthfulness, disabused the buyer's mind on that point, assuring him that it was not seal, but the fur of that rare and almost extinct animal, the bush-tailed whangdoon. He explained further that this remarkable creature had to be killed while mourning for its young, or its fur wouldn't be worth shucks. The sadness of the dolorous beast in the opinion of scientists, Charlie further explained, gave to its coat a fine lustre and to its skin pliability. Charlie, we will add, was amused at one peculiarity of the business men of Chelsea. He found, without an exception, that they parted the hair of the butter they sold in the middle.

4000 CHANGES IN ONE MONTH

That the employees of the postoffice are not fit subjects for an insane asylum is due more to the fact that their minds are too well balanced than that the jam of students, strangers and returning vacationers is trying to keep them from such a fate.

Said Postmaster Pond today: "It is a mild estimate to say that between Sept. 1 and Oct. 1 there are 4,000 new addresses of patrons the office that have to be kept in mind. The old students coming in with changes of rooming places, new students, residents of the city returning and asking that their mail be no longer forwarded, all go to make up this great task. The most arduous part of the work is straightening out these addresses and seeing that the mail is distributed among the proper carriers devolves upon Miss Sullivan. Her memory and quickness is truly wonderful. It is very seldom after the cards giving the addresses are handed to her that she is obliged to refer to the book in which they are recorded. To carry 4,000 changes of addresses in one's mind in one month is a difficulty that nobody can appreciate until it has been attempted."

LOCAL BREVITIES.

From Friday's Daily Argus.

Marriage license issued: Richard Tabbs, 58, Dexter, and Annie E. Langley, 26, Canada.

The four houses of William Rohde on W. Washington st, west of the Ann Arbor tracks, are receiving a handsome coat of paint. Charles Rebuffs has the contract.

J. A. Goodyear has built a new residence in Manchester. Graham & Hall have erected a new store. Editor Blosser has been building a cement walk, so are others and Manchester is looking up.

The Southern Washtenaw Farmers' club meets with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pease, Oct. 6. Geo. S. Rawson will discuss "Farm Fences." Mrs. Henion will read an essay, and Mrs. Colburn a election.

The applications for admission to the university school of music are coming in daily. Other states are much, if not more, in evidence than Michigan. The people of this city are interested in having a large home attendance at the school.

Jimmie Flashlight, Eugene Helber's horse, took two heats in the 2:40 class at Plymouth yesterday, and then lost the race. Mr. Helber predicts that the horse will have a mark of 2:20 before the season is finished. He got a mark of 2:30 yesterday.

The house of Allmendinger & Schneider, which stood north of their mill on First st. and was occupied by Mr. Schneider and family, is being moved to S. Third st. on one of the former's Krause lots. This part of the city is being built up very lively.

It was always thought Ben Franklin on the campus was a pretty staid old fellow. Since Superintendent Reeves filled Ben up with plaster, he seems to have got frisky. Yesterday the members of the board of regents thought Ben was suffering from jaundice. He was therefore given a new coat of paint of a nice brown color. This morning he looks as if he had been out with the boys and rolled in every gutter in the city. The rain made the paint run.

One of the most valuable of the amateur assistants to Driller Smith of the campus well is Comstock F. Hill, the retired capitalist. He is so practical and expert with tools that he is really a very useful man. His many friends are joking him on the interest he is taking in the well. He answers that since he has come to this city from his farm, he does not get enough exercise. He hopes that with a few days hard work his usual sleep will be restored.

From Saturday's Daily Argus.

Col. Gardener has been promoted to be a major in the regular army.

The Ann Arbor Fluff Rug factory yesterday received over a ton of old carpets to work over into beautiful rugs.

The Liquid Air plant to be given to the university by the Brush Electric Co., is at present in the process of making in Germany.

Crump and Loney have been discharged upon the complaint of picking the pocket of D. H. Johnson. There was not sufficient evidence to hold them.

Ald. Grose, of the Fifth ward, will remove from the city next week. He contemplates spending the winter in the south, while Mrs. Grose will reside with her son in Tecumseh.

The 3:47 train from the west on the Michigan Central had two passenger coaches yesterday and three baggage cars. The most of the baggage was left on the Ann Arbor depot platform. A bystander called attention to the fact that it took more cars to carry the baggage than it did the passengers.

Chas. Gauntlett, of Milan, has since the death of his horse, Hazel Ridge, been in search of another horse to take its place. He found his ideal of a horse at Peoria, Ill., and it reached Milan during the past week. It is Lee Vincent, 30,835, bay, sired May 10, 1897, 16 hands high and weighs 1200 lbs., is of Electioneer and Wilkes stock. It promises to be a very fast stepper.

Considerable interest is being aroused in the Y. M. C. A. night school. A glimpse into its past record shows that some one hundred different men have taken studies in the school already. Of their number, five were either business or professional men. Three have since gone into business for themselves. Two have entered college, and some 57 others are at present occupying positions of trust and responsibilities.

The funeral services of Charles Banfield, held in St. Andrew's Episcopal church yesterday morning, were very largely attended. Co. A turned out in full force and headed the funeral cortege on its sad errand to Forest Hill cemetery. Rev. Mr. Tatlock officiated in the church and at the grave. The floral offerings were beautiful and appropriate and the large number of the same showed the respect and affection in which the deceased was held.

From Monday's Daily Argus.

Marriage license issued: Elmer M. Stofflet, of this city, and Metta M. Owen, of Tecumseh.

The Behr homestead, corner of S. Fourth ave. and William st., is being reshingled and receiving other improvements.

There will be an entertainment given on the Northside Friday evening by the Barker Bros. for the benefit of the new church.

Lawrence O'Toole and family have removed to No. 209 Catherine st. Mr. O'Toole has had the house renovated and improved.

John F. Lawrence has been elected a member of the Washtenaw Golf Club. This is not taken as an indication, however, that he intends to keep the Scotch vote from James McMillan in the race for United States senator.

An unusual interest is being manifested by the merchants of Ann Arbor in the Washtenaw fair, and the present outlook for exhibits is good. Applications for space have been received from Ypsilanti.

The funeral services of Mrs. Edward L. Boyden, of Webster, held yesterday afternoon were very largely attended. Rev. Mr. Allen, of Salem, officiated. The remains were interred in the family burial lot in Forest Hill cemetery.

Henry Mayer, 412 Second st., didn't know that a revolver he was handing yesterday was loaded. The trigger snapped and the 22 calibre bullet passed through his middle finger on his left hand.

John F. Lawrence has started a suit against the Ann Arbor road for killing his celebrated Jersey heifer, Mary-Queen-of-Scots (sired by William the Conqueror, and named by Joan d'Arc and the engineer of the train which struck her).

Never has there been such a complete job of advertising done for a Ypsilanti celebration as is now being done. Saturday Warren Lewis billed Milan, Azalia, Dundee, Mooreville and Pokegrab, the country roads and all farm houses. Plymouth County Fair was done by P. A. Westfall.

The Ann Arbor Organ Co. is continuing to work its men over hours but is unable to keep up with the orders. Every available inch in which a man can be placed is occupied. The present output of the company is 300 organs a month. The first year D. F. Allmendinger, the superintendent, started the manufacture of organs, he thought he was doing well in turning out 75.

A lot owner of Forest Hill cemetery has called attention to the large amount of flower stealing that is being carried on in the grounds. His people had a valuable plant on their lot that was last year badly crippled by the many slips stolen. This year the thieves were not satisfied and recently the entire plant was stolen. He thinks the board of directors should station a man at the entrance and search people as they come out.

A number of the merchants of the city wish to spend an afternoon at the Washtenaw fair next week. They have asked that a canvass be made so that the closing of the stores be made general. In view of the somewhat unpleasant reception of the chairman of the committee last year, there is some hesitancy about the matter. To get a full expression of sentiment a meeting may be called and a committee appointed to canvass the matter.

Albert Blaess, of Lodi, was in the city today. He reports that Fred Schmid, who rents his farm and who was recently injured by a bull, is improving and the prospects are that he will recover. The bull butted Schmid and after being down rolled him over. Several ribs were broken and the several muscles paralyzed. His heart is all right but his lungs are not yet quite clear of pus. If the bull had stepped on Schmid with his 1,800 pounds weight, he would not have lived to tell what happened.

The work of laying the steel flooring of the dry kiln of the Ann Arbor Chicory Co. was completed Saturday evening. It required over 7,000 rivets to put it in place. Zina P. King, the real estate and insurance agent, has a handsome new sign in front of his office on S. Main st., over Haller's Jewelry store.

The rush in the steward's office in the main building on the campus was greater today than Saturday. The students at the literary window had to form in line and take turns in getting a chance to register. The freshmen class in the pharmacy and medical departments will be very large. In 1900 the medical course will be lengthened to six years. This fact is believed to be considered by many who wish to get in before the change.

John Heinzmann, president of the Ann Arbor Chicory Co., and W. J. Booth, secretary, were in Detroit yesterday looking after getting machinery through the custom house. The company imported the machinery from Belgium and had it sent to Detroit in bond. They report the officials as very accommodating and helpful so that no unnecessary time was lost. This is a pointer to all who have any goods to import from Europe, that they will gain time and save much annoyance if they direct their goods to be sent in bond to the Detroit custom house.

Fred G. Schleicher, member of the board of public works, asked the Daily Argus to call the attention of the people to the fact that tar walks are really cheaper than plank. The present plank furnished cost for four rods a little over $9. The planks only last about three years. A good tar walk for the same distance will cost $16 and be good for years, with being washed over perhaps once in five years. Mr. Schleicher favors an ordinance forbidding any more plank walks to be laid in the city.

Mack's Millinery Opening

Next week Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 28, 29, 30. The third fall opening of this department gives promise of out-doing very greatly, all our former similar events. Since the splendid success this department has proven, encouraged us to much larger purchase and greater expenditure than we felt warranted making heretofore. Securing the best talent as a trimmer in the person of Miss Idella Mitchell, of New York, our patrons are assured of the most artistic and latest fashionable headwear from her hands. Miss Hintz, who is in this department is also just back from New York, after five weeks spent with the largest millinery houses, bringing with her all the latest fads in millinery. All are invited. MACK & CO.

COMPLIMENTARY TO A. A. MUSIG CO.

The following is the copy of a letter to the Ann Arbor Music Co. from the manufacturers of the Ludwig piano:

New York, September 16th, 1899. Ann Arbor Music Co., Ann Arbor, Mich. Gentleman—We beg to acknowledge yours of the 15th inst., with check in payment for 125 pianos, for which we enclose our receipt with our very best thanks.

This is in accordance with the agreement made with your Mr. Seabolt when he called at our factory, which we confirm herewith, and includes all our latest styles as follows:

- 41 pianos, style L.
44 pianos, style U.
20 pianos, style D.
20 pianos, style W.

We shall ship these pianos as rapidly as possible, but with our present manufacturing facilities limited to an output of 70 per week, and with the very heavy demand made on us from all sides, in fact not being able to keep up with orders, we shall have to beg your indulgence if we do not ship all as quickly as you might wish it, since we would not like to neglect, seriously, our other friends, who also appreciate our piano.

Permit us to remark, that this order is the largest spot cash transaction we have had so far, and reflects great credit to your business enterprise, while very flattering to us, and on our part is appreciated indeed; most dealers, and even some of the largest ones, as you know ask four to six months time.

Again thanking you, and with best wishes for a successful season, we remain, yours truly, LUDWIG & CO.

DEATH OF MRS. HOLTEN

Sunday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock, Mrs. Elinora Holten, passed away at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. T. G. Burlingame, of Ann Arbor town. She had been ill eight weeks, the immediate cause of her death being pneumonia. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, at her late residence.

Mrs. Holten was the daughter of Stephen and Zeraiviah Geer, and born November 15, 1816. She was married September 25, 1841. In 1856, she with her husband removed to Washtenaw county, settling in Ypsilanti township, her husband dying the same year. One daughter, Mrs. T. S. Burlingame, of Ann Arbor town, and one brother, George W. Geer, of Plattsburg, Steuben county, New York, survive her. The deceased was one of eleven children. She was of very lovable character and well known for her many neighborly acts of kindness to all who were in affliction or distress. For the past 21 years she has made her home with her daughter.

WHO HAS SEEN ED KENNEALLY?

"Search for Him About Ann Arbor."

$200,000 AWAITING HIM.

A Percentage Will Go to the Person Who Gets Knowledge of Him.

A short time ago Mr. C. S. Jewell, of Rahway, N. J., a traveling man representing Jewell Bros., commission merchants of New York, was in Ypsilanti on a business trip.

The story as related by Jewell is about as follows: Back in the thirties two brothers by the name of Kenneally came to this country from Ireland, landing at New York.

A letter from Mr. C. S. Jewell, dated Rahway, N. J., Sept. 20th, in the possession of the Argus, contains the following questions, which Mr. Jewell thinks may assist in tracing Edward Kenneally should they come under the observation of any of his family, if he had one, or his acquaintances:

- "Where were you born?" "What is your age?" "Give names of your parents and state where you were born." "Did you ever hear of a relative of your father having been a soldier in the English army?" "If so, what was his name, and what would be his age if now living?" "Did you ever hear of his having been married, and if so, what was the name of his wife?" "To what part of Ireland did the soldier belong?" "Did you ever have, or do you know if he had, any children, and if he had, how many, and what were their names?" "Did the soldier have any brothers or sisters, and if so, how many and their names?" "If you say the soldier had two sons, what were their names; where were they born, and how old would they be if now living." "Give any other information you may have from others relative to this man."

Anyone having any information on the subject can learn more of the case by giving such information to C. D. Jewell, Rahway, N. J. Mr. Fred J. Boyd, who has but recently returned from the Klondike, informs the Argus that there is a Patrick Kenneally at Circle City, Alaska, who is a half owner in an immensely rich gold mine on Mastodon Creek.

TESTIMONY IN CUMMING'S CASE

Chelsea, Mich., Sept. 26.—Special to the Argus.—Judge Newkirk is in the village today taking testimony on the insanity of Delos Cummings, now confined in a Dearborn retreat. Judge Newkirk had refused to declare him a public charge, and now comes the formal commitment to an asylum at the expense of the property he has left.

THRASHING WHEN DR. ROSE DID IT

Dr. P. B. Rose, the chemist of S. State st., was in a reminiscent mood: "When I was young, in the fifties, I was engaged in thrashing in Ohio. There were three of us with the machine. We had eight horses, but only used six, always having two fresh horses, the man we thrashed for furnishing two more.

PURDY'S BAIL IS REDUCED

TO $300 WHICH HE CAN FURNISH.

SALINE JUSTICE STACKED IT UP HIGHER THAN THE LAW ALLOWED.

An application for a writ of habeas corpus was made yesterday by Attorney Lee N. Brown, of Ypsilanti, in behalf of John Purdy, the Saline man arrested on a serious charge. It seems that Justice Fish had fixed the amount of bail at $1,000. Attorney Brown showed the authorities where the maximum limit in cases of bastardy is $500.

Of ashtenaw are Applications for Divorce.

3 BILLS FILED TODAY

Ypsianti, Chelsea and Ann Arbor Parties After the Decrees.

From one end of Washtenaw to the other there seems to be a demand for decrees of divorce and the fall opening of decrees gives promise of a great rush.

Yesterday bill of complaint were filed by parties living in Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor and Sylvan which comes pretty nearly stretching over the east and west breadth of the county.

Mary St. Clair, of Sylvan, wants a divorce from her husband Percy St. Clair, after three years of married life. She sets forth as the cause for divorce, cruelty, desertion, drunkenness and non-support.

Emelie Welch, of Ann Arbor, has not been married quite two years and swears that she has had all the marriage partnership with Michael Welch. She charges him with non-support.

Robert Woolsey, of Ypsilanti, has had 22 years of married life with Eva Belle Woolsey and says that he has had enough. He wants the court to grant him leave to quit on the grounds that his wife has called him names that would scarcely be heard at a five o'clock pink tea and that she has threatened to kill him.

CASHMERE GOATS IN WASHTENAW

The exhibition of Cashmere goats at the Washtenaw Fair, to be made by Thomas Birkett, will be of much interest. Mr. Birkett has a buck whose horns are so far apart that he cannot walk through an ordinary door unless he would hold his head sideways.
