

CITIES GET IT IN THE NECK

So Do Augusta, Sylvan and York.

RESERVE FUND $253,000

Ann Arbor Raised $120,000, Ypsilanti $60,000, Augusta $25,000, Sylvan $23,000.

The committee on equalization reported to board of supervisors Thursday afternoon. They added $120,000 to the equalized value of Ann Arbor city and $60,000 to Ypsilanti city, divided equally between the two supervisors districts.

They added $25,000 to Augusta, $23,000 to Sylvan and $30,000 to York. They deducted $73,000 from Scio, $35,000 from Pittsfield, $30,000 from Salem, $30,000 from Saline, $15,000 from Webster, $5,000 from Bridge-water and $10,000 each from Ann Arbor town, Dexter, Lima, Lyndon, Lodi Superior and Ypsilanti town, leaving the other towns as they were last year. There was no discussion but the matter was made a special order for 10:30 o'clock tomorrow.

The custody of the county money was awarded the Farmers & Mechanics Bank at 2 per cent. interest on daily balances and 5 per cent. on overdrafts. Dr. Pearson was made jail physician at $24 a year. The proceedings will be printed in English in the Argus-Democrat and in German in the Neue Washtenaw Post.

KILLED OVER 12,500 SPARROWS

EUGENE McINTYRE IS THE CHAMPION.

Today He Presented Orders For $250 To The County Clerk.

Eugene McIntyre seems to be about the champion sparrow hunter of Washtenaw county. He makes a business of capturing these birds for the bounty which the county pays. Today he stepped into the county clerk's office and presented orders for $250.62. Of this amount $161.10 is charged up to Dexter, $69.74 to Webster and $25.78 to Northfield. This makes, at the rate of two cents per head, over 12,500 sparrows he has killed this summer and fall.

JUST BEFORE HE FIRED

Remark Made By William Schlossmaker.

The examination of William Schlossmaker for attempt at murder upon Albert Pierce in the township of Webster on Oct. 8, was held Wednesday.

Mr. Pierce's testimony was substantially as follows: "Mr. Schlossmaker rapped at the door as I was eating breakfast. I opened the door. He says 'come out, I want to see you.' I went out saw Mr. Wilson and Mr. Kasack. Mr. Schlossmaker says, 'did you tell these fellows you could knock seven kinds of tar out of me?' I said 'I gave you a great calling down' and I did. He said 'you are a liar.' I said 'you are another.' I said, 'you are a dirty liar and a black-hearted liar, and if you don't believe it you can jump on.' He came on, struck me first. I threw up my fists, and we had a fight. I hit him after he hit me first. We clinched. We went down on the ground, he on top. He hit me three times while I was down, and I got up with him on my back. I got up with my left arm around his neck. Mr. Schlossmaker then said if I would let him go he would never say anything against me or harm me. I let him go. He walked out of the gate muttering something to himself and went to the carriage and got his revolver with the remark, 'I will bury that now.' Will Wilson came up to his back and grabbed him with both arms. Schlossmaker dropped the revolver to the ground. Mr. Kasack picked up the revolver. Schlossmaker said 'I demand that, because it's my property.' Kasack hesitated and finally handed the revolver over. Schlossmaker put the revolver in his pocket. Kasack and Wilson got in the buggy. Mr. Schlossmaker started towards his home. Mr. Schlossmaker said as I was stepping into the house, 'D—him, I will fix him for good.' The boys looked around. I said, 'you could not hit anything' He fired at me. The revolver was pointed at me. I don't know where the bullet went."

The defendant went on the stand and testified to the trouble, but claimed that he simply shot in the air in order to scare Pierce.

Justice Duffy bound the defendant over to the circuit court.

WHAT PIONEER HAS THE RECORD?

Supervisor Kingsley laughs at the claim of the Emery lady—as being the oldest resident of the county. Says he: "There is Mrs. Wymkup, of Ann Arbor, for instance. She came to Salem in 1828 and has lived in the county ever since. Then, in the township of Salem we have Mrs. Royal Wheelock and George McCormick. Both came here in 1829. My mother, Mrs. James Kingsley, came in 1830. All four of these beat the Emery lady's record."

The Argus would state that Daniel B. Brown, of this city, came to Ann Arbor in 1826. We believe that this is the record for the county. But if there are any older we would be glad to hear it.

PETERS' PIONEER RECORD

CLAIMS BEAT OTHERS RECORDED TO THE ARGUS.

He Came in 1826 and Shot Deer and Bear in Washtenaw County.

George A. Peters, the well-known agrarian of Scio, takes umbrage to a recent statement in the Daily Argus in reference to old citizens. He says he came to Washtenaw county with his parents, June 1, 1826. He was then one year old, having been born in Shelby, Orleans county, New York. He recalls that as little boy the wolves would howl about his father's log cabin. He shot deer and bear. He and his brother went out and shot five wild turkeys that weighed so much they could not lug them all home. Prairie chickens were very plenty. The Indians were great friends of his father. One chief gave him a pony with which he played for a year. Mr. Peters says he has spent his life in a continuous battle between poverty and competence. Sometimes poverty won a victory, and then competence was ahead. Now he thought he had passed poverty's door and had landed in the land of Canaan, at Scio, (good for Washtenaw county) flowing with milk and honey. He says the farmers are death on the war in Transvaal and the Philippine Islands. They don't like either one, as they think they are highway robberies. Mr. Peters is enjoying good health and as happy and jolly as ever.

"NO CAUSE FOR ACTION"

The Verdict In The Reichert "Alienation" Case.

11 TO 1 ON FIRST BALLOT

Judge Kinne Delivered a Charge Which Could Not Result Otherwise.

The Reichert case, in which the plaintiff, John George Reichert, sued John G. Feldkamp et al. for alienation of his wife's affections, was started last Friday morning, and not until yesterday was the trial completed.

At 10 o'clock Judge Kinne charged the jury in a manner that made it seem certain of a verdict of "No cause for action." Even Mr. Lehman, the attorney for the plaintiff, was heard to remark "That charge beats us."

Said Judge Kinne in substance: "If from the evidence, you find that the wife became estranged or alienated from her husband by reason of the misconduct or ill-treatment of her husband towards her, whether such ill-treatment was real or imaginary on her part, then there is an end of the case, and your verdict should be for the defendants. In order for the plaintiff to recover the change of feelings of the wife toward her husband must be due to active interference of the defendants, or some of them, and they must have been inspired by malicious or dishonest motives. There is no claim that any of the defendants have sought to entice away the wife to appropriate her affections to their own use. If the defendants acted in good faith and from proper and rational motives, and if the wife came to them for sympathy and protection and she went to her relatives because she believed she was an abused wife, they did nothing but what the law justifies. If relatives called to the aid of the wife Mr. Zahn and Mr. Feldkamp, and they acted without malice or improper motives, they did nothing but the law forbids. And if the defendants expressed themselves in severe terms about the plaintiff or advised unwisely, but honestly, they did nothing but that transgressed the law. There is no evidence of any conspiracy in the case."

The jury were out about three hours when they came into court with a verdict of "no cause of action." They stood 11 to 1 on the first ballot in favor of the defendants. Said one of the jurymen to the Argus: "The only point on which there was any dispute was whether or not Mrs. Reichert intended to permanently leave home at the very time she went away or whether she was influenced to remain away after she had left."

SHERIFF GILLEN LOST HIS CASE

Against The Michigan Central Railroad Co.

IT HAS NO PRECEDENT

And The Supreme Court Will be Asked to Establish a Rule.

Sheriff Gillen's case against the Michigan Central railroad was thrown out the circuit court yesterday, but it will be appealed to the supreme court.

A jury was drawn and, without even stating what the action was, Attorneys Brown and Cavanaugh, for the plaintiff, announced that they were satisfied. Lawrence & Butterfield said the same thing.

Judge Kinne looked surprised, as this was certainly a record breaker. Said he: "I am rather suspicious that you four men should be satisfied with 12 men."

The action was brought to recover $100 from the railroad company under a statute which provides that penalty when the railroad company refuses to transport a person who properly presents himself and has paid for his transportation. The facts in the case were undenied. Mr. Gillen went to the Michigan Central depot on March 18, to catch the 8:40 train for Dexter. He had a mileage book, and passed by the gate-keeper. The train pulled in, and some passengers got out of the rear coach. Mr. Gillen was smoking and started to get into the next to the last coach. He saw some ladies there and got down and passed along to the rear coach. There was nobody in this coach, and he entered. The train pulled out and then switched the rear car on a side track, leaving Mr. Gillen at the station.

The contention of the plaintiff's attorneys was that by bringing the ca-into the station and not locking the doors, they invited Mr. Gillen to ride therein on his mileage. And in pulling out without the rear car they had refused to transport him.

Judge Kinne directed a verdict for the railroad company, and in doing so he said: "My idea is that this statute contemplates a case when the railroad company has deliberately failed to do its duty. Under the evidence, this failure was a mere mistake or accident, and not such a case as is contemplated by the statute. The railroad company may be liable for negligence but there is a penalty attached for $100. It is either $100 or nothing. I cannot think when a mere mistake has been made that the statute applies. I cannot think that the legislature that made it intended to mulch the railroad company in the sum of $100."

There is no parallel case under the particular statute, and the supreme court will be called upon to decide it.

ANOTHER HEAD CHOPPED OFF

DAN REEVES, SALINE, WAS RE-ELECTED JANITOR.

The Solid Republican Vote on The Board Could Not Be Broken.

The republican board of supervisors still continue to chop off the heads of the democrats who are holding the offices that come under the appointment of the board.

Today occurred the election of a janitor for the court house. Supervisor Clark, of Dexter, was trotted out as a candidate. Marvin Davenport wanted to succeed himself. But the solid republican majority could not be broken, and the election resulted as follows:

Daniel Reeves, Saline, 15.
Marvin Davenport, Ann Arbor, 8.
John D. Clark, Dexter, 5.
Mr. Reeves will assume the duties on Jan 1.

At the business meeting held in the afternoon it was learned that J. E. Placeway, one of the members, had died during the past year.

In the election of officers, Capt. T. V. Quackenbush, of Plymouth, was re-elected president; A. J. Sawyer, of Hamburg, first vice-president; S. H. Alliton, of Owosso, secretary and treasurer; M. Borden, toastmaster; D. E. Hand, of Ann Arbor, chairman of executive committee.

The banquet at the Clifton House was a grand affair. The tables were loaded with good things too numerous to mention, to which about sixty sat down. After the banquet the company adjourned to the ball room for the camp fire, where the old comrades of other regiments and citizens of Whitmore Lake filled the hall.

The orchestra, composed of G. and E. Quackenbush, F. Smith and Mrs. F. Butterfield, opened the exercises with a fine piece of music, which all seemed to appreciate, after which toastmaster P. P. Lenox called the following comrades to speak, subject not given: A. J. Brown, of Ithaca; D. E. Hand, Ann Arbor; W. Cole, Kalkaska; J. Todd, Whitmore Lake; T. V. Quackenbush, Plymouth; H. J. Pinckney, Ypsilanti; Hon. George S. Wheeler, of Salem, and others; and a recitation by a little girl whose name we did not learn.

Comrad E. Smith, of Hubbardston, sang several pieces, which were enjoyed by all.

Music by the orchestra was interspersed between toasts.

The next reunion will be held at Owosso in October, 1900.

HER REAL PURPOSE.

Each day brings its bit of evidence which goes to make clear the British purpose in South Africa. Ostensibly her only purpose in her differences with the Transvaal republic was to secure to the outlanders certain rights which were denied them. But enough is now known to make it clear that this was only a pretense, a bit of hypocrisy to cloak her real purpose, and that she had determined upon war no matter what concessions were made short of placing the republic under the absolute control of England.

It is reported on the authority of a German official of high standing that President Kruger was about to ask for a German protectorate and knowledge of this coming to the ears of British statesmen, led England to determine upon an extension of her territory. That plans for a Dutch confederacy in South Africa had been planned is unquestionably true, and this Great Britain is resolved at all hazards to prevent.

The fact that the Orange Free State which has had no grievances against England, makes common cause with the Transvaal shows her perfect understanding of England's real purpose in the controversy. And now that the English commander in chief, Gen. Sir Redvers Buller, is on his way to the seat of war the London press becomes very frank in stating his purpose, which is to wipe the Boer power off the earth, all who lead aid to the Dutch cause.

England's efforts to make it appear that her cause is one of high moral duty is as devoid of all such foundation as was her seizure of the Kimberley district after the discovery of the diamond mines there. This seizure in spite of her solemn treaty engagements was as straight out a piece of stealing as was ever committed. The Detroit Tribune speaking of this incident in South African history says that after the Kimberley diamond mines were discovered:

"Great Britain immediately learned that she had a moral duty to perform. To her surprise and grief she discovered that the Kimberley district did not belong to the Dutch at all. On the contrary they were baseless usurpers who had deprived a helpless savage of his birthright. Instead of belonging to the Dutch the region of the most valuable diamond mines in the world belonged to a Griqua chief, and as a great christian power Great Britain proceeded at once to restore to this hapless heathen that which the unrighteous Dutch had taken from him. So the Kimberley country was taken away from the Boers; but, mirabile dictu, the chief could not be found. Inasmuch as this territory did not belong to the Dutch and the chief could not be found, Great Britain was compelled reluctantly to keep it herself as a reward for her virtue. Mr. Froude, who was apt to be prejudiced, described this as 'one of the most scandalous acts recorded in our history.'

It is not surprising therefore, that the Boers regard the so called good faith of England as punic faith and act accordingly. The Boers have nothing to lose by going to war which they were not just as certain to lose through diplomacy. Their duty was clear therefore.

War is on in South Africa, and the Boers have drawn first blood.

The international yacht race being a project literally run by wind, it is passing strange that it should be delayed about the shores of New York.

If from the speeches President McKinley is making the changes he wrings in on "the flag" were eliminated, they would make about as interesting and connected a story as the dictionary.

Canada has decided to send a thousand men to South Africa to fight Boers in the interest of England. This indicates loyalty of a most practical kind on the part of the Canadians, and is appreciated by the mother country.

The mayoralty dove sent out so many times from the republican ark at Detroit appears at last to have found a resting place. The head of Capt. A. E. Stewart being the only one above the troubled waters, the bird has perched there, or is about to do so.

The Detroit jury which after hearing the evidence in the Dean wife murder case could in 35 minutes bring in a verdict of manslaughter, must certainly hold human life very cheap. Twelve years only of the villain Dean's life to expiate such a crime as his and then freedom to repeat the offense can by no stretch of the imagination be labeled justice.

The war in South Africa has already had the effect of causing the old fires of hatred between the Irishman and Englishman to break out afresh. Talk is indulged to the effect that Irish members of parliament, who sympathize with the Boers, should be tried for high treason, and any Irishman caught in the ranks of the Boer armies should be shot. Irishmen will scarcely love Englishmen more because of this manifestation of ancient hatred.

President Kruger is quoted as saying that the war will make South Africa free or make it the white man's grave. Just what meaning he wishes these words to convey may not be clear, but, if he means that the black savages are to be let loose in South Africa, he will lose much of the sympathy which he now has. Although his powerful enemy during the present century did not hesitate to use the merciless American savages as allies, it is to be hoped that the days of such warfare between white people is past.

The comparison by Londoners of the Boer destruction of the British armored train with the blowing up of the battleship Maine is far fetched. It is true that both were blown up, but there the comparison stops. The Maine was destroyed while on a friendly visit to the port of a nation with which we were at peace. The armored train in South Africa was destroyed by the forces of a nation with which Britain is at war, and while the train was carrying artillery to the enemy of the forces which destroyed it. The attempt at comparison shows how easy it is to distort facts when it is desired to have circumstances take on certain appearances.

How pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity. Witness the unity, harmony and chumminess in the Judson-Moran factions.

Homer Warren refuses to be the republican candidate for mayor of Detroit. He prefers singing the Sword of Bunker Hill. Wise man.

A big search is being made for a republican candidate for mayor in Detroit. The republican managers might patronize the want columns of the Detroit newspapers.

The Transvaal flag is a red, white and blue stripe, with a perpendicular green stripe. The first is supposed to appeal to the Americans and the latter to Ireland, from whose sympathy the Boers expect much.

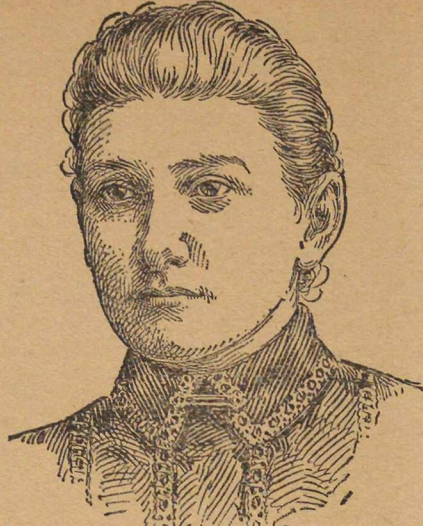

According to reports, many uitlanders will fight under the Boer standard in the South African war, while many others will fight under the English standard. This division of families will be one of the worst features of the conflict, making it almost of the nature of a civil war.

The railroad commissioner has instituted a suit against the Wabash railroad to compel it to comply with the law and charge only 2 1/2 cents per mile in Michigan. The law requires all roads making a profit of more than $2,000 a mile to charge not more than 2 1/2 cents per mile. The last report of the Wabash shows that it comes under this provision, but the road declines to comply with the law. The suit is to compel observance of it. The commissioner of railroads is on the right track.

At last President McKinley, through the state department, has stated there can be no mediation by the United States between England and the Transvaal, inasmuch as neither side has intimated that such mediation would be acceptable. The government will confine its attention to the matter of seeing that the rights of the republic and of American citizens there are properly protected. This should put to rest all those who have urged our government to put its nose into a matter which is none of its business. It promises to do all it has any right to do, and there it proposes to stop. This is good sense.

Now comes James Creelman, of the New York Journal, and says that McLean will be defeated in Ohio by from twenty to twenty-five thousand votes. He also states that the canvass McLean is making will cost him about half a million dollars, and that Mark Hanna will lay over this with a larger sum, so that there will be distributed among the Buckeye voters between now and the ides of November the snug sum of a million dollars, all for legitimate campaign expenses. The law of the state does not permit the expenditure by any candidate, directly or indirectly, of

ANN ARBOR GOLF CLUB

IT ALREADY HAS A HUNDRED AND FORTY MEMBERS.

With Fine Grounds And a Club House Out South Main Street.

The Ann Arbor Golf Club meeting held in Frieze Memorial hall Friday evening, was very largely attended, some 75 members of the 140 members being present. Much enthusiasm was manifested. The constitution and by-laws as prepared were adopted. The officers elected were: Captain, Dr. J. Playfair McMurrick; secretary, Prof. L. P. Jocelyn; treasurer, Dr. Augustus Trowbridge. These three are ex-officio members of the board of directors. The other four directors elected were: Prof. Fred M. Taylor, Junius E. Beal, Daniel Zimmerman and Roger Morris, the latter two being student representatives.

The committee appointed reported that the club had been incorporated. The grounds on S. Main st. had been leased from Mr. Roberts, for three years with the privilege of renewing the same for three years more, or purchasing the same. The grounds are fast getting into excellent condition. The house on the grounds has been fitted up as a club house. The tournament began on Saturday with the preliminaries. They will be continued on Wednesday, when all the preliminaries will be finished. Every member of the club is eligible to the preliminaries and are urged to be present on Wednesday and show their interest in the game. A big crowd is expected. Probably 50 per cent. of those taking part in the preliminaries will be qualified to take part in the finals.

The constitution provides for a membership fee of $3 with $3 annual dues. The family of members may join upon the payment of a fee of $1 each, only those 16 years of age being eligible. Single women, or non-residents may become members upon the payment of $1.50 membership and $1.50 annual dues. As the matter of limiting the membership is being discussed, everyone who has an inclination to join the club should see that his or her name is proposed. This is one of the social clubs of the town and will prove a very pleasant social gathering point for all who either play golf or enjoy a bicycle spin on the road to the club house.

Nationality of Britain's Soldiers. The Army Returns give some interesting particulars as to the nationality of Britain's 220,000 "Tommy Atkins." More than three-fourths of the number are English, 26,500 are Irish, and about 16,500 Scots. Some 2,500 are given as "unknown," and 142 are described as "foreign."

NEARLY $3,000 IN EIGHT MONTHS

COST THE COUNTY TO BOARD PRISONERS AT THE JAIL.

Sheriff Gillen's Bill Found To Be Correct And it Was Ordered Paid.

Sheriff Gillen's bill for boarding the prisoners at the Washtenaw county jail from January 1, 1899, to October 1, 1899,—a period of eight months—came up before the board of supervisors this afternoon.

It amounted to $2,971.92. The committee had looked it over and checked it up. It was found to be correct. There were some on the board that wanted it referred back to the committee on some minor detail, but it was finally carried.

The question as to whether a deputy sheriff, whose bill was presented, should be allowed a half day's pay for attending court when a prisoner pleads guilty, brought out considerable discussion, and the bill was referred back to the committee.

DEXTER HAS A BUILDING BOOM

Dexter, Oct. 18.—Dexter's building boom will be continued next year. Plans have already been made for the erection of three new residences in Dexter next year. And if the electric road between Ann Arbor and Jackson starts next spring, Dexter will undoubtedly see the biggest building revival in years.

Rev. H. P. Hughes, formerly of Oswego Falls, N. Y., has accepted the pastorate of the Dexter Congregational church, and has begun his ministrations here.

Rev. H. A. McCormell, of the Baptist church, has broken a record. He has entered on the sixth year of his pastorate here, the first minister of the Baptist church to do that in Dexter, although the church has been established for more than 50 years.

On Wednesday evening next, the ladies of the German church hold a social at the home of Michael Wurster. On Thursday next, the ladies of St. James' church give a New England dinner at the home of Mrs. A. Yost.

How Old Are You? A woman is mighty sensitive about her age. Some have been known to fly into a passion on the witness stand when an inquisitive lawyer asks, "How old are you?" The actual number of years don't count for much in a healthy, vigorous woman. If she be forty, she will look younger than a weak woman at 25. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription keeps women looking young by keeping disease away from those marvellously delicate organs which distinguish the female sex. It cures all the debilitating wastes and drains, all the aches and pains. It quiets the nerves, and stops those bearing-down sensations. It fits the wife for the task of child-bearing, making the period labor and making it almost painless. It fortifies the whole system, so that recovery after confinement is quick, and there are no dangerous after-effects. The babe of the woman who takes "Favorite Prescription" is sure to be healthier than the babe of the mother who does not take it. There is no alcohol or opium in this medicine. It is a pure, non-alcoholic tonic and nerve. Mrs. Axel Kjer, of Gordonville, Cape Girardeau Co., Mo., writes: "When I look at my little boy I feel it my duty to write you. This is my fifth child and the only one who came to maturity; the others having died from lack of nourishment—the doctor said, I was not sickly in any way, and this time I took nine bottles and to my surprise it carried me through and gave us as fine a little boy as ever was. Weighed ten and one-half pounds. He is now five months old, has never been sick a day, and is so strong that every body who sees him wonders at him." In cases of sudden sickness, the Common Sense Medical Adviser (1008 pages) may save a life. Sent free in paper cover for 21 one-cent stamps to pay postage. Cloth-cover 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The little country of Japan has attracted a great deal of attention of late years by her wonderful activity in adopting western ideas and civilization. Yet few people know much concerning Japanese life, customs, or religion. There is in the University of Michigan this year a native Japanese, Miss Tomo Inouye, a daughter of one of the Japanese noblemen, who will speak at the Church of Christ Sunday evening upon her native land. Miss Inouye is studying medicine, that she may return to her own country as a medical missionary.

Says the Pontiac Post: "It is now several moons since we heard from the Hon. William Walter Wedemeyer, of Washtenaw, the boy orator of the Huron. When last seen he had just retired from a fight with the octopus. 'Weedy' is too good a man to retire from prominence, and if the court please, we ask that the youngster be dressed in pants and a silk necktie. All hail the Hon. William Walter and his boom, now in temporary seclusion, but ready to show themselves whenever occasion presents itself and the masses set up a cry for aid."

Noticing a well loaded hickory tree near the road, Homer Townsend, of Chelsea, reasoned within himself that it would be just "nuts" to visit that tree. He returned laden with delight and nuts; but when he attempted to step into his carriage, the brute of a beast in whom he put his trust, sprang forward, threw Homer out and broke his arm. This incident still leaves it an open question whether plain, corn-cob pipe honesty will or will not, in the long run, harvest more of the nuts of joy and contentment, than to rely on some other means and the uncertain whoa, will you! qualities of a skittish old rhinoceros.—Adrian Press.

Director Stanley, of the University School of Music, feels very much encouraged at the interest taken in the faculty concerts this year. It is greater than ever before, and extends to the stockholders of the building association. There were 285 season tickets (including students' tickets) disposed of on Thursday evening. There are still a few left which can be had of Secretary Colburn at the office of the University School of music.

The series of monthly concerts arranged by Director Stanley of the University School of Music for the children will prove not only a great pleasure for them, but will help to form their taste for good music. This is the object of the series of concerts, to give children music that will be within their comprehension and of such a class that their musical tastes will be developed. Sunday evening, Howard Webster, who lives on the Kent place, was driving to Adrian, the buggy containing, besides himself, a young lady from Chelsea and a gentleman from Cleveland. On N. Main st., the horse became frightened at its shadow under an electric light and started to run. Finding he could not control the animal, he turned into the ditch in front of Eugene McCormell's residence. The buggy was upset and its occupants thrown out, the young lady falling between the wheels. She was carried into the house. She was badly cut behind one ear, and otherwise scratched and bruised. Dr. Stephenson dressed the wounds. She was afterwards taken to Mr. Webster's home. The other occupants of the buggy escaped unhurt. The horse was stopped after a short run.—Adrian Times.

SHOOTING OUT OF SEASON

Deputy Game Warden Davis After Offenders.

ARRESTED A SALINE MAN

After Crawling Through The Under Brush To See Him Shoot a Quail.

Some days ago, it will be remembered, the Argus called attention to the alleged fact that certain persons about the surrounding country were shooting birds before the law had run out on them and it warned all such of the provisions of the law relative to the matter. It appears, however, that the shooting of birds has continued. Some days ago Ald. Davis, of this city, who is a deputy game warden, was notified of certain parties who were violating "the law right along Sunday he laid for them, following them from 9 o'clock in the morning until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The parties he was after, it seems, were William Gordon, of Saline, and Wm. Moody, of Mooreville. Mr. Gordon is a well known sportsman. Davis claims that he showed himself to these men along about 4 o'clock after he had seen Gordon shoot a quail. He had crawled on his stomach through the underbrush until he got in sight of Gordon. After seeing Gordon shoot twice and seeing a quail fall, Davis went to Gordon, who acknowledged he was caught all right and that he thought he had killed the quail at which he fired. His dog was not permitted to go bring it, however. It should be stated right here that Warden Davis had another man with him, a substantial citizen of Saline. Leaving Gordon, Davis and the other man with him went over the hill a short distance beyond and there found Moody, and on searching him a woodcock was found in his hunting coat pocket. Neither party was placed under arrest at the time, as they are responsible citizens and will be on hand at call. It is understood that Warden Davis had an appointment with Mr. Gordon at 1 o'clock at Saline Tuesday. It is expected the matter will be settled.

It is understood that the information came to Davis that certain parties were killing birds out of season through the state game warden. There are others who have been reported as violating the game law, and the deputy warden thinks he was on the track of some of these yesterday, but he did not get the incontrovertible evidence. But they will have to be exceedingly careful or they will also be pulled.

The game law is reasonable and just and should be obeyed, and is obeyed by all genuine sportsmen. It is altogether proper that those who do not hesitate to take chances for the purpose of getting the best shooting, before those who observe the law have a chance, should feel the heavy hand of the law, and Warden Davis is to be congratulated on his catch.

A Disturbing Suggestion. "What is the matter with his majesty?" said the European official. "He seems very uneasy and annoyed. Has some one been telling him that a fight is imminent?" "No. Some meddlesome person has been representing to him that Asiatic and African complications will be diplomatically settled and that Europe is on the verge of peace."—Washington Star.

SOME CHELSEA NEWS NOTES

Chelsea, Mich., Oct. 14.—Next Monday and Tuesday evenings the Passion Play of Oberammergau will be presented at St. Mary's church. The tableaux are faithful reproductions of the sacred drama as performed by the peasants.

The Chelsea Standard contains the following: "Some person last Tuesday either by accident or else deliberately shot a thoroughbred Shropshire ram, valued at $35, the property of Geo. T. English [and the shooting was done on his farm. The first indication that Mr. English had that anything was wrong was Tuesday evening, when the animal seemed to be sick, and on Saturday when the animal died and the pelt was removed, it was found that it had been shot in the breast."

Jacob Luick, of Lima, is recovering from a broken collar bone. While he was driving to Chelsea, he turned out to let a team pass by which wanted the whole road and his horse shying he was thrown out of his carriage.

Joseph Bower, of Sharon, broke his ribs the other day by falling out of a tree, while picking apples.

A township Sunday school convention of Lyndon, Sylvan, Lima and Sharon will be held at the Congregational church tomorrow afternoon and evening. Papers will be read in the afternoon by Nathaniel Lawd on "Youth is the best time to study the Bible" and Mrs. M. J. Hill on "Compensations of Sunday school work," which will be followed by discussions. In the evening Prof. E. C. Goddard, of Ann Arbor will deliver an address.

The Chelsea schools have an enrollment of 339, including 34 non-resident pupils.

CAPTURED AT WHITMORE

For the Attempt to Murder Albert Pierce

William Schlossmaker, the Webster farmer who is wanted for an assault with intent to murder Albert Pierce, was arrested Friday noon by Deputy Sheriff Frank Munger at Whitmore Lake.

The trouble which Schlossmaker finds himself in grew out of a dispute over his charging Pierce with making certain derogatory remarks about a woman of the neighborhood. A fight ensued and Schlossmaker ran back to his buggy, got a revolver, shot it and escaped.

Pierce claims that Schlossmaker intended to shoot him but the ball went above the mark.

Deputy Sheriff Munger had a description of the man and found him in Rauschenberger's saloon at Whitmore this noon. He placed him under arrest. Schlossmaker did not resist but remarked to Mr. Rauschenberger that he wished he had run.

In bringing him to this city Schlossmaker made the claim to Mr. Munger that he simply shot the revolver in the air to scare Pierce and that he had no intention of hitting him. He has employed Cavanaugh & Wedemeyer to defend him.

A MOST WONDERFUL CURE

Eminent Physicians Pronounced it Consumption.

Dr. C. D. Warner, Coldwater, Mich. Dear Sir:—I have received great benefit from your White Wine of Tar Syrup. I had a cough and the doctors gave up all hopes of my recovery and pronounced it consumption; I thought that it was death for me. I tried everything that we could hear of. Finally one of my friends prevailed upon me to use your White Wine of Tar Syrup. I took 14 bottles and am cured entirely. Such medicine I can recommend to those who are afflicted as I was.

A SNAKE IN HER STOMACH

Treated with Drugs it Crawled Out of Her Mouth.

WAS OVER TWO FEET LONG

She Fell Exhausted When the Reptile Came Out— Choked Her in The Act.

Enoch Sears, 415 1/2 S. Main st., has received a letter from his son who is a recent graduate of the medical department and who is now practicing in Kalamazoo, in which he describes a most horrible case that came under his care.

Mrs. Albert Fisher, of Kalamazoo, was relieved of a water snake two feet four inches long that she had been carrying in her stomach for more than a year and a half. Friday she took a drug that rendered her unwelcome tenant very uneasy, and at 2 o'clock she felt the horrible creature crawling up the esophagus into her mouth. Seizing it by the head, she pulled it partly out until the large part of the snake caught in the larynx and nearly choked her. Making a frantic effort, she grasped the snake firmly and jerked it out. She immediately fell in a faint and remained unconscious for hours.

The reptile, totally devoid of the sense of light, and having never learned to crawl, merely wound itself into coils on the floor, only to unwind itself in an aimless sort of way. It was finally killed and put into a bottle of alcohol, and will not be disposed of at any price.

Mrs. Fisher suffered terribly from fright and exhaustion and after her stomach was relieved of its horrible viper, she suffered terrible pains.

Mrs. Fisher's case is a peculiar one. About a year and a half ago she was traveling across the western plains with an emigrant party and on a hot day, when the party had gone a long time without water, they stopped by a small pool and Mrs. Fisher knelt down to drink. She was so thirsty that she did not stop to take a cup, but put her mouth down to the water and drank. She felt something enter her mouth and crawl down into her stomach. At first she believed it to be a worm, but later thought it must have been a small snake. She went on with the party, and when she came to a town informed a doctor of her condition, who tried to destroy the serpent with mild poisons. He did not succeed, however. The snake grew rapidly and caused Mrs. Fisher much pain at times by his movements, and she says she could even feel him bite the walls of her stomach.

Finally she went to Kalamazoo and has been under the care of Dr. Sears for the past two months. On his advice she ate very little and took drugs that experiments had proven were destructive to snakes.

ANN ARBOR CHICORY CO.
IS NOW READY TO BEGIN DRYING THE ROOTS.
The Chicory Crop Generally Proved a Success in Spite of The Poor Season.

The Ann Arbor Chicory Co. is now ready for business, and will commence receiving roots next week. As soon as there is a sufficient quantity on hand to run without stopping, the day boiler will be fired. In company with Jacob Laubengayer, one of the directors of the company, the Daily Argus representative looked over the plant. The enterprise of the firm of Heinzmann & Laubengayer in forming the company last spring, which imported the seed and secured the services of John De Ronde, an expert, are well known. The farmers, although always apparently anxious for greater opportunities for realizing profitable crops from their lands, seemed very conservative in taking hold of the contracts offered them by the company. By dint of much explanation both by word of mouth and in the columns of the Argus, about 300 acres were secured. The reports received by President John Heinzmann from the crop indicate that as a rule the crop has been good and the returns will be highly satisfactory. The seed sown on good potato ground has done the best. On heavy clay ground, it has not done so well. Some farmers claim that the cost of raising the crop has been very small, entirely out of proportion to what they expected. The company is prepared to renew contracts with increased acreage and make new ones. The past season has been unfavorable, so that with a good year much better results can be expected.

The plant of the company is located on the former elevator property of Heinzmann & Laubengayer, on W. Washington st., adjoining the Ann Arbor railroad. Here the new buildings 40 by 42 in size have been built. The two buildings are connected on the second floor. Underneath this connection are the scales for weighing wagons, loaded with roots. They are unloaded in adjoining sheds. The west building is devoted to the preparation of the roots for drying. In the basement of this building is the washing machine. The roots will be fed into a long trough where they will be slowly turned by a shaft with arms. This trough will be constantly fed with fresh water from an inch and a half pipe. From here the roots will be elevated to the third floor, from where when needed, they will descend to the second floor to the slicing machine. This is a very complete machine and of the most approved pattern. It was imported from Belgium. From the slicing machine the product is again elevated, this time to the third story of the dry kiln. Here it will be spread on a perforated steel floor. Provision has been made to keep a reserve stock of sliced roots to be used at night when the slicing machine is not running, as the dry kiln will be run day and night. After the sliced roots are here partially dried, they will be let down on the second floor by moving the steel floor plates. Here the heat will be greater than above and they will be dried out completely, ready for being bagged for shipment. This work will be done in the room of the connection of the two buildings. The dry kiln is heated by eight furnaces, fed by coke. The company has now over 200 bushels on hand and has a contract with the Ann Arbor Gas Co. to take its product. The bagged, dried product, will be stored in the former elevator building ready for shipment. The power for the washing machines and elevators are supplied by a line shaft from the engine in the former elevator building. The necessary large quantity of water for washing the roots will be supplied from a well near the engine house. A large steam pump has been installed. It was given two days steady trial, and while it reduced the head in the pipe it was unable to exhaust the well.

The future of the Ann Arbor Chicory Co. may mean much to the farmers of Washtenaw county and the merchants of Ann Arbor. The importance of giving a sure market for a profitable crop means, directly or indirectly, an increase in the salable value of every farm. The results of this year's chicory crop deserve the attention of every up-to-date farmer. In addition to chicory the company will buy and dry sugar beets. This will give those farmers who have raised sugar beets this year as an experiment, a good market, even if there is no sugar factory in the county. The first delivery of sugar beets has already been received.

A FULL BLOODED PERSIAN

Is Studying Medicine At The University.

HE IS ELISHA E. SAYAD
He Has Been In This Country Three Years. He Didn't Know a Word of English.

Perhaps the strangest student in the university, said the Detroit Tribune yesterday, is a young man from Persia.

For not only is Elisha E. Sayad a native of Persia, as one may guess by his curious surname, but a man with a high purpose—to work among the people of his native country as a medical missionary. He is a medium-sized, dark man, whose swarthy skin sets off the handsome features peculiar to the oriental type; young, with deep piercing eyes, and silky, jet-black hair. His three years' residence in this country previous to his arrival at Hope college, and he has progressed wonderfully, when it is borne in mind that he could not speak a word of English before that time. The story he tells is entertaining. He comes from Oromiah, a city in northwestern Persia, and the center of influence of the Nestorian christians, the name by which the Persian converts of the Presbyterian missionaries go—the only set, it is said, which has found a strong foothold in the country.

Sayad is the son of a native elder of the faith. After going through the course of the college established there by the missionaries, he taught the Bible for three years in one of the schools planted among the Mohammedans. Through the influence of the missionaries he came to this country in order to more fully fit himself for the work he had determined upon. In some parts of Persia a minister is in extreme danger of violence, while a medical minister can go where he pleases and be assured of a kindly reception. His influence for good is thus doubled.

TO DISCOVER THE NORTH POLE

Dr. Ed Hoffma, U. of M. '84, Joined a Party.

HAS RETURNED HOME

He was with Explorer Wellman. Party was Forced to Give up Expedition.

Dr. Edward Hoffma, who graduated from the medical department in 1884, has returned from his trip in search of the North Pole. He was a member of the unlucky Wellman expedition, and has been gone just 17 months.

The voyage from Tromsø to Cape Tegethoff, Hall Island, Franz Josef island, where the permanent camp was established, did not vary particularly from similar voyages on the part of other explorers. A portable house of English construction had been taken along, and this became, during the long Arctic winter, the home of four Americans and five Norwegians who constituted the party. The means of enjoyment throughout the 90 days of darkness were somewhat limited.

Dr. Hoffma said that the climate of Hall island would not be unbearable under favorable conditions. Should the discovery of gold, for instance, bring an influx of white men there, they would be able to live very nicely, although it is many degrees north of Dawson City.

When the party returned to civilization, by Dr. Hoffma's direction Mr. Wellman went to a famous English hospital to secure needed rest. Explorer Wellman was about 45 miles from the camp when he injured his leg, but went over 50 miles farther before returning to his companions. The injury was not serious at the outset, but required immediate medical attendance, which, of course, it did not receive.

Dr. Hoffma believes the pole will be reached. He agrees fully with Nansen's theory, that drifting is the most certain way of reaching the pole, but says that course requires at least three years' time. A quick dash on foot, with sledges drawn by dogs carrying necessary provisions, is, the doctor thinks, perfectly feasible. The attempt must, of course, be made by the right man at the right time, and under the right conditions.

As scientist of the party, Dr. Hoffma made a fine collection of animal and plant life, which he turned over to the Natural History Society of New York city. The doctor also brought quite a number of curiosities and specimens home with him.

Asked as to whether he was in imminent personal danger at any time, the doctor declared that he had a very trying experience in a too heavily laden canvas boat which filled in spite of his utmost efforts to pump it out. His situation was exceedingly unpleasant for a time.

Dr. Hoffma declared that he might again visit the polar regions.

Discovered by a Woman.
Another great discovery has been made, and that too by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hammick & Co., of Shelb, N.C. Trial bottles free at Eberbach & Son, Ann Arbor and George J. Haussler, Manchester. Regular size 50c, and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

PAID A FANCY PRICE

When The Animal Reached Here It Was Found That He Had Been Duped.

Robert McCardy, who lives just east of the city, was recently the victim of a flim-flam game.

He was in Philadelphia on a trip, and was approached by a man who showed him a horse that could step in 2:16.

At first Mr. McCardy did not care to make the purchase but the "owner" made a price on the animal that was a bargain and he bit. The price, which Mr. McCardy refuses to divulge, was paid, and Mr. McCardy ordered the horse shipped on to Ann Arbor.

When Mr. McCardy got word from the depot that his horse had arrived he went down to take it out to his place. But he found a practically worthless animal. The seller had shifted horses on him, and he is now out the fancy price paid for a racer.

Too late to cure a cold after consumption has fastened its deadly grip on the lungs. Take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup while yet there is time.

LOCAL BREVITIES

From Tuesday's Daily Argus. The South End Industrial Club will meet a week from today. Senator Wm. E. Frye will appear in the S. L. A. course next Saturday night, Oct. 21. The Baptist church choir spent a very pleasant evening last night at the home of Albert Hill. The long-talked-of sidewalk and street grade of Observatory st. again went over at the council meeting last evening because the profile was not on hand. It is to come up next Monday afternoon. Charles Russel Gardner, of Ann Arbor town, died this morning, aged 75 years. The funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his residence, Rev. Mr. Crooker officiating. The remains will be interred in Fairview cemetery on the Northside. Taxidermist Norman A. Wood, of the university museum has mounted a rare specimen, partly albino, of a red-winged blackbird. The bird has partly mounted, the old, two long tail feathers still being in place. The specimen was presented to the university by Mr. Cook, of Brooklyn, Mich. A handsome new plate glass front has been put into the Keanrey block on S. Main st. occupied by John Goetz Jr. Wesley Howe had the contract for the change. Ambrose Kearney, the owner, is also having the building repainted. It will now compare favorably with other modern stores in the city. Paris Banfield says he approves of the suggestion made by the Daily Argus that O. E. Butterfield and himself, for the sake of harmony in the republican party should head their respective delegations to the next city or county convention. He thinks it would be well for them to meet and discuss preliminaries. This would materially help the present love feast. Secretary Wade takes a decided view on the question often mooted, "Do eels propagate in Michigan waters, or are all those found the result of planting years ago." Mr. Wade says there is no doubt eels propagate in Michigan waters. He has seen the water wheels of the mill at Jonesvile stopped by the quantity of little eels which were swarming in the race. The campus well was down at noon to a depth of 275 feet, and still in light, bluish shale. Occasionally there appears to be streaks of darker colored shale. The present prospects indicate 123 feet more of this formation. Every five or ten feet samples of the rock are taken from the stuff the sand pump brings up. These are placed in little bottles and labeled and are for the use of the state geologist. While the drill goes into rock very easily, much care is used to see that the hole is perfectly straight.

Grand Bade Carl Bauer and Grand Secretary Gustave Zindler, D. O. H., of Detroit, were in the city yesterday in consultation with Grand Treasurer Eugene Oesterlin. Jacob Polhemus on Monday celebrated his 88th birthday anniversary. He is hale and hearty for his age, and his family hopes he may enjoy many more years of health. John Ryan, editor of the Howell Democrat, and well known in this county, was married yesterday to Miss Anna McCarty, of Deerfield. And all the craft wish them joy. The sale of Choral Union tickets began Monday at the following places: Ann Arbor Music Co., W. W. Wetmore, E. E. Calkins, Wilder's Pharmacy and the University School of Music. The members of Germania Lodge, No. 476, D. O. H., are preparing to give a social hop Thursday evening, Oct. 26, in Germania hall. Music will be furnished by the Chequamegons. A good time is expected as usual. The high grade of the faculty concerts in Frieze Memorial hall is being appreciated. Thomas Colburn, the secretary of the University School of Music, is daily receiving inquiries in reference to the remaining season tickets. The capacity of the hall is limited. Koch Bros, the contractors of the new Homeopathic hospital, commenced drawing stone yesterday, and ground will be broken in a few days. If there should be a mild fall, they expect to have the walls pretty well up before the end of the year. The building is to be finished by Aug. 1, 1900. Senator Wm. P. Frye will appear upon the S. L. A. course next Saturday evening. He was one of the Peace Commissioners, and his subject will be one with which he is thoroughly conversant. It is "The Operation of the Peace Commission and the Philippine Islands." The board of trustees of the S. C. A. met last evening and elected the following officers: Prof. A. E. Prescott, president; Prof. Volney M. Spalding, vice president; C. E. Goddard, secretary; J. J. Goodyear, treasurer. The reports show that the meetings this year are considerably larger than ever before. Deputy Sheriff Kelsey went to Detroit this morning after Frank Diamond, who is wanted here for the larceny of a grip, a brooch and a couple of breast-pins from Mrs. Harkins' home. He had just finished serving a 15 days' sentence for jumping a board bill from Boyd's hotel in Chelsea and had also served a sentence in Grand Rapids for larceny. Rev. John Karrer and Christian Goedecke, of Tawas City, arrived in the city last evening and were registered at the American house. They are delegates to the Michigan district synod of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan Lutheran Synod, which will open its sessions in Northfield in the St. John's church tomorrow. About 30 pastors and delegates are expected to be present. Let all the friends of the W. C. T. U. remember the entertainment Monday night. And those who are not interested in the W. C. T. U. are invited to go on Miss Inouye's account. Since she is a medical student, as well as a young Japanese woman, making her own way through college, it is hoped that her department may be well represented. Miss Inouye speaks English with ease and is indeed an interesting type of oriental womanhood. Miss Ida Benfy, who has won such popularity before the American public as a reader of Dickens, Victor Hugo and Geo. Elliott, appears in Ann Arbor this season on the Y. M. C. A. Star Course. She is a reader of great versatility and seems to have it in her power to move her audience to tears or laughter at will. Her method is simple and direct and free from affectation. Superb dramatic power enhances an already strong magnetic personality. Mrs. Clara Mowerson pleasantly entertained the Ladies' Aid Society on Thursday. A special meeting of the school board will be called to consider new text books. Mrs. Ed. Coleman will wait on her many friends at Johnson's restaurant. There will be a social at Eugene Bartlett's tonight. The farmers living on the direct line of rural delivery object strenuously to free delivery, as it means discontinuing of the postoffice here. By such a change they will be denied the advantage of postoffice orders, etc. unless they chance to meet the mail carrier, who no doubt will be endowed with all the powers of a fourth-class postoffice. Our genial postmaster, Robert Shankland, has filled that capacity ever since it was organized here and by his pleasant and accommodating manner has won the respect of everybody. Mr. Shankland's promptness in attending to all matters of mail places his work above reproach.

Ward N. Choate, a brilliant young Detroit lawyer, and a graduate of the law department, was married in Jackson Tuesday evening to Miss Emily E. Warner. The Wilbur Opera Co. were last evening greeted with a big house. Every seat in the gallery was sold out, and the floor of the house was almost as well filled. John U. Staebler died at his home in Scio at ten minutes of nine last evening of stomach trouble. He had been a resident of Scio for 30 years. Two children survive him, Mrs. Mary Spies and John Staebler. Emil Golz, of S. Main st., is laying out his route for tomorrow when the hunting season opens. Quail, etc., had better "look a leedle out." He is an experienced nimrod and an unerring shot. V. W. Helm, traveling secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions, will speak at McMillan hall, Sunday, Oct. 22, at 8 p. m. Mr. Helm expects to go to Japan next year as a Y. M. C. A. secretary. The well-known agrarian and jurist, John F. Lawrence, was the first one to deliver his chicory roots to the Ann Arbor Chicory Co. New supplies are coming in daily. On account of Senator Frye's lecture in the University hall Saturday evening, the University Masonic Club will hold its business meeting and smoker tomorrow evening at the club rooms on S. State st. It is a great satisfaction to the innumerable friends of Judge G. Harriman to know that they are to have the pleasure of hearing him describe something of his English experiences during the summer. No one can tell the story of Oxford more delightfully. The entertainment at the M. E. church on Monday evening promises to be a great success not only on account of its novelty, but also because Miss Inouye has made many friends since coming to Ann Arbor, and they are anxious to assist her in a financial way. C. D. Richard, chief engineer of the Ann Arbor road, and J. J. Kirby, assistant general passenger agent, passed through Ann Arbor yesterday for Menominee. They are working on the St. Paul extension. Grading will be continued as long as the weather will permit. The car ferries are still running regularly to Menominee and Gladstone and will continue to the latter place until Little De Nogue Bay freezes up. The ore trade of the road is just as large as it can furnish cars. This alone is enough to keep the boats busy all winter. Glorious News. Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. Its the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by Eberbach & Son, Ann Arbor and Geo. J. Haessler, Manchester. Guaranteed. Dixboro. Mrs. A. R. Camp fell Saturday, breaking her hip in two places. Many from here took in the races at Ypsilanti. Mr. and Mrs. Napier, of Buffalo, N. Y., who have been visiting Mrs. Napier's brother, John H. Cowan, have returned to their home. Finnell Bros. were the first to weigh on the new village scale weighing six steers whose average weight was 1140 pounds. Mrs. Clara Mowerson pleasantly entertained the Ladies' Aid Society on Thursday. A special meeting of the school board will be called to consider new text books. Mrs. Ed. Coleman will wait on her many friends at Johnson's restaurant. There will be a social at Eugene Bartlett's tonight. The farmers living on the direct line of rural delivery object strenuously to free delivery, as it means discontinuing of the postoffice here. By such a change they will be denied the advantage of postoffice orders, etc. unless they chance to meet the mail carrier, who no doubt will be endowed with all the powers of a fourth-class postoffice. Our genial postmaster, Robert Shankland, has filled that capacity ever since it was organized here and by his pleasant and accommodating manner has won the respect of everybody. Mr. Shankland's promptness in attending to all matters of mail places his work above reproach.

FIFTY YEARS OLD

Why let your neighbors know it? And why give them a chance to guess you are even five or ten years more? Better give them good reasons for guessing the other way. It is very easy; for nothing tells of age so quickly as gray hair.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

is a youth-renewer. It hides the age under a luxuriant growth of hair the color of youth. It never fails to restore color to gray hair. It will stop the hair from coming out also. It feeds the hair bulbs. Thin hair becomes thick hair, and short hair becomes long hair. It cleanses the scalp; removes all dandruff, and prevents its formation. We have a book on the Hair which we will gladly send you. If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may be easily removed. Address, Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass.

HOW OATS ARE THRESHED

Seven Hundred and Five Bushels in 2:25 Hours.

RECORD AT H. DEPUÉ'S

His Oats Were Quickly Threshed Friday at his Fine Farm in Pittsfield.

The Daily Argus some time ago published an interview with Dr. P. B. Rose, who told how threshing was done in Ohio many years ago. The account interested Henry DePue, of the gravel road, one of the prosperous farmers of Pittsfield. At his request the Daily Argus representative visited Mr. DePue's farm Friday. Here he saw a modern threshing outfit in charge of Clinton Allmendinger, one of the veteran threshers of the county. Mr. Allmendinger has been engaged in the business for 30 years. His care of his machinery and the way his work is done is proverbial. His outfit consists of an engine, threshing machine, tank, wagon, etc. The machine was placed in Mr. DePue's barn and the engine 100 feet away. The oats on which the work was done were exceptionally heavy.

In two hours and 25 minutes 705 bushels of oats were threshed.

The work was very interesting and the way the men worked hardly gave them breathing room. One of the modern improvements of the machine was the way the oats were delivered into bags. After being threshed, it was carried up and poured into a hopper, which emptied into a conductor as soon as it held 34 pounds. The conductor led into a bag which, as soon as filled, was taken away. This kept one man busy, as the machine was working at the rate of 300 bushels an hour, 26 bundles being fed in 30 seconds. Another great convenience about the machine is that there is a blower that takes up nearly all the dust. This is a revolution in itself, compared with 20 years ago, when men were almost suffocated and threshing was considered one of the most unhealthy occupations. The stacking apparatus is an innovation in that it is so arranged that it can turn an angle, giving an opportunity to place the stack where the farmer most desires it. What would farmers of years ago have thought of threshing 700 bushels of oats in less than two hours and a half. To do all this work three men are needed at the table of the machine, three to fork bundles, one to fill and remove bags and three on the stack. In addition to these, Mr. Allmendinger himself does the general supervision necessary. His engineer is E. Guenther, with Frederick Schlee and William Heller as feeders on the machine. An old farmer, as has been mentioned, would be most struck with the absence of the great clouds of dust formerly always enveloping work of this kind. Mr. DePue's oats were very long and heavy.

Mr. DePue has a comfortable home, on a high spot in Pittsfield. From the porches around the house, five townships—Pittsfield, Ann Arbor, Superior, Scio and Lodi—can be seen. His home gives evidence of good taste on the part of Mrs. DePue and himself, the walls being adorned with fine engravings and pictures. The life of an independent farmer enjoyed in the country, must be seen to be fully appreciated.

this week. While re-asserting that what he said is true, he has agreed not to tell that truth any more.

How they love each other—Judson and Moran.

Judson for sheriff and Moran for county clerk. Let's all ratify the peace.

This is the way the Detroit Journal sizes up the end of the Judson-Moran controversy. In flaring headlines it says: "Big Fight in Washtenaw County Against Pingree's Lieutenant at an End."

Judson said he wouldn't and, thus saying, consented.

Canfield stated less than an hour before he signed the stipulation ending his case against Allmendinger that he wouldn't do it.

After having successfully weathered the freshmen rush last week, Jerry Knowlton was in excellent trim to serve as Kinne's plenipotentiary in the Judson-Moran mix-up.

"Oom Paul" and Joe Chamberlain ain't in it for a minute with the envoy extraordinary of the circuit court of Washtenaw county when it comes to settling a real bad case.

It may have been an oversight of the peace commission, but not a word was said about the Young Men's postoffice club in the treaty.

According to the terms of the contract several leading politicians of Washtenaw will have to revise the vocabulary in which they have been wont to refer to the editor of the Register.

Those on the outside are curious to know what became of Moran's veracity upon which he staked all of those charges.

Being an authority on contracts, Prof. Knowlton will understand that no parole evidence will be admitted to alter its terms.

The state oil inspector was evidently out of the more inflammable brands of oil.

It is to be expected that the Register will spell harmony with a big H this week.

After all of the unkind statements which Mr. Moran has reiterated about Mr. Judson with so much positiveness it must be somewhat tiresome to admit that perhaps it wasn't so.

Peace Commissioner Knowlton's client didn't pay $20,000,000 for a settlement, but then McKinley knew he was getting a first-class fight, and Jerry isn't just sure what he's got.

Henceforth it will not be necessary for Mr. Moran to select the other side of the street when the state oil inspector comes down the pike.

It's too bad spring poetry is not in season. The sequel of the Young Men's postoffice club would make an inspiring theme.

Democrats who had reserved seats for the show which wasn't pulled off yesterday, will demand rain checks and wait for the convention season.

After fencing in all the good grazing, Billy Judson was in an excellent position to stipulate that the other fellows could keep on their own side of the fence.

Being a good lawyer, Prof. Joseph Chamberlain Knowlton doubtless arranged the constitutional features of that settlement so that it will not be conditional on the supreme court.

If it is not too late, we take pleasure in recommending Peace Officer Knowlton to the McMillan-Pingree steering committee of the city of Detroit.

Perhaps there wasn't cloth enough to go round, but it has been observed that the plain and humble German editor was not mentioned in the protocol. Critical people believe this to be a serious defect in the instrument.

Now that "harmony" among the republicans is assured, the Argus would suggest that at the next caucuses Paris Banfield be selected to head the Third ward delegation and O. E. Butterfield be chosen to march into the convention at the head of the Seventh ward representatives.

"Mysterious Billy" Judson went to the Ypsilanti races yesterday. Nobody saw him taking Selby A. Moran, arm in arm, up into the grand stand.

THE STAMP CLERK FAINTED

This is the latest. A man called at the stamp window in the Ann Arbor postoffice for a postal card. "One cent," said the stamp clerk. "Why, I didn't expect to pay for it," said the man, "I only wanted to write on it a little and will hand it right back to you. I didn't want to take it away."

CANAUGH & WEDEMEYER,

FIRST CLASS POSTOFFICE

Ann Arbor May Become One After April.

IF RECEIPTS INCREASE

By the Sum of $2,000. This Increase Can Easily be Brought About By the Business Men.

Ann Arbor can be made a first-class postoffice after April 1, next, with a little intelligent co-operation on the part of its citizens. As is known, the postoffices of the country are divided into four classes. Ann Arbor has long been in the second class. To get into the first class it is necessary that the receipts of the office should be over $4,000 a year.

How can it be done? By increasing the receipts of the office for the next six months about $2,000 over what they were for the corresponding six months a year ago. This would be an increase of about 10 per cent. over that six months.

The receipts of the Ann Arbor postoffice from Oct. 1, 1898, to March 31, 1899, were $20,607.27. These six months are the best in the year. They were counted in the last fiscal year's revenue. To make Ann Arbor a first-class office the receipts this year from Oct. 1, 1899, to March 31, 1900, should be $22,600.

The reason for this is, that the receipts of the Ann Arbor office from April 1, 1899 to Sept. 30, 1899, were $17,409.27. This period, of course, includes the poorest months of the year in Ann Arbor, covering as it does, the long vacation period. The receipts for the same period in 1898 were $16,766.60, showing an increase of $642.67 in the six months, or only about four per cent.

Naturally, however, there should be a bigger increase in the coming six months. There are 250 more students here, and students are letter writers, especially the freshmen classes. There are at least 200 more people here besides the students. But while this alone brings Ann Arbor in sight of the coveted goal, it will not quite reach it, unless each one does his little to help. Many stamps are sent in from outside. If our business industries and merchants would discourage the making of remittances to them in stamps, Ann Arbor would become after April next a first-class office. If they do not, the city will be obliged to wait another year. There are more than $2,000 worth of stamps sent in here every six months which are used here, and for which Ann Arbor gets no credit.

The receipts for July of this year were $2,455.42, August $2,204.12, September $2,810.19. The receipts in 1898 for these months were: July $2,246.40, August $2,004.83, September $2,727.56. The two best months in the year at the postoffice are, generally October and March.

PEACE BECOMES GREATNESS

The Free Press says editorially: Nothing so becomes greatness as does peace. This was the sentiment of some English poet, flourishing when the empire was not trying to expand by extinguishing the heathen, or writing under license of special dispensation from the colonial secretary.

It is recalled by the rapid spread of peace in the Republican ranks of Michigan. The factional leaders in Wayne have shaken fists over the bloody chasm, and the power of a noble example is immediately manifest.

Washtenaw swings into line. There was a political balliwick full of trouble and all kinds of it. Its environments mark the highest attainments of our civilization and advancement. It is the seat of one of the world's greatest institutions of learning. It is rich in the bounties and beauties of nature. On every hand there is intelligence, refinement and culture.

In the commonly accepted philosophy of existence, all these blessings would have meant gratitude, peace and good will. But it was not so. Satan entered here just as if it had been Kentucky. The latter has its Goebel, its Brown, its Taylor, its Chinn and its Waterson. Even the ghosts of the departed are made campaign issues and the persuasive power of the Winchester is openly invoked in the event of certain contingencies.

Washtenaw had its Judson, Moran, Doane, Canfield, Stockwell and Allmendinger. They did not recall the shades for political purposes or counsel appeal to the repeating rifle, but they flew at each other furiously through the courts and threatened a war of financial extermination. Now all is peace. Not a man acknowledges himself in the wrong, but when it came to the crucial test of a show-down, these warring patriots thought more of party harmony than of personal revenge. They would rather triumph at the polls than in the forensic lists where costs follow and the right of appeal seems eternal. They have chosen wisely, and Wayne has a right to grow cheery as a high-toned exemplar.

JUST LIKE MOTHER USED TO DO

The abolition of hazing of freshmen is not absolute in its strictest sense, although the first year men are not subjected to the indignities of the old medical school pump, as they were a quarter of a century ago. The only relic of the custom of hazing is to be found in the fraternity homes. "One of our freshmen" is a common expression among the upper class secret society men. The freshmen in fraternity houses are supposed to see that the evening's mail for everybody in the house is brought up promptly. The other evening a senior inquired if this duty had been attended to. It was found that it had been neglected, and, without saying a word and looking as stern as judges of the United States court handing down an opinion, the upper classmen took the guilty freshman in hand and removed all his clothing. Each one then took him in turn and, putting him across the knee, proceeded to give him a severe spanking, "just like mother used to do." The subject of this punishment was then hustled into a bath tub and given a good rubbing down. Not a smile was seen on the countenance of a single one of the tormentors. It was a solemn duty. The freshman was then dried off with towels, taken to his room, placed in bed and carefully covered up. As the upper classmen left the room, they simply said, "Good night," in a dignified manner. That freshman may not forget his duty again.

RED HOT FURNACE CASE SETTLED

DISMISSED WITHOUT COSTS TO EITHER PARTY.

Each Side Had Won a Horse And They Decided Upon a Tie Game.

The celebrated Charles R. Whitman vs. Adrian Hare "red hot furnace" case has finally been disposed of, the case being dismissed without costs to either party.

The facts in the case are well remembered, but it became particularly notorious from an incident that occurred in Justice Duffy's court room, and which came very nearly terminating in a fisty battle between Mr. Whitman and Mr. Lehman.

Mr. Whitman won in the justice court, and the other side appealed to the circuit court, where Mr. Hare got a verdict.

It was thus a horse apiece, and they decided to make a tie game of it.

COMPANY G. THIRD MICHIGAN

The ninth annual reunion of Co. G, Third Michigan Cavalry, was held at the Clifton House at Whitmore Lake, October 11th.

The following members answered to roll call: Capt. T. V. Quackenbush, of Plymouth; S. H. Alliton, Owosso; W. Churchill and wife, Mt. Pleasant; P. P. Lenox and A. J. Brown and wife, Ithaca; D. A. Smith, T. Featherby, wife and granddaughter, O. Douglass, A. J. Sawyer, E. M. Holl, L. Bennett, H. M. Olsaver, Hamburg; J. Todd and wife, Whitmore Lake; D. E. Hand, Ann Arbor; H. J. Hopkins, Chesaning; J. Stacey and N. Phy, Chesaning; H. Cunningham, Vicksburg; W. H. Hall, Whitmore; M. Borden, wife and daughter, Howell; O. Bentley and wife, S. Avis and wife, and S. A. Smith, Rushton; E. H. Smith, Hubbardston; Geo. Clinton, Gregory; H. Olsaver, wife and daughter, Rushton; W. Cole and wife, Kalkaska; Geo. Smitherman and wife, Northville; H. J. Pinckney and wife, Ypsilanti. Some of them had not met before since they were mustered out in 1866.

At the business meeting held in the afternoon it was learned that J. E. Placeway, one of the members, had died during the past year.

In the election of officers, Capt. T. V. Quackenbush, of Plymouth, was re-elected president; A. J. Sawyer, of Hamburg, first vice-president; S. H. Alliton, of Owosso, secretary and treasurer; M. Borden, toastmaster; D. E. Hand, of Ann Arbor, chairman of executive committee.

The banquet at the Clifton House was a grand affair. The tables were loaded with good things too numerous to mention, to which about sixty sat down. After the banquet the company adjourned to the ball room for the camp fire, where the old comrades of other regiments and citizens of Whitmore Lake filled the hall.

The orchestra, composed of G. and E. Quackenbush, F. Smith and Mrs. F. Butterfield, opened the exercises with a fine piece of music, which all seemed to appreciate, after which toastmaster P. P. Lenox called the following comrades to speak, subject not given: A. J. Brown, of Ithaca; D. E. Hand, Ann Arbor; W. Cole, Kalkaska; J. Todd, Whitmore Lake; T. V. Quackenbush, Plymouth; H. J. Pinckney, Ypsilanti; Hon. George S. Wheeler, of Salem, and others; and a recitation by a little girl whose name we did not learn.

Comrad E. Smith, of Hubbardston, sang several pieces, which were enjoyed by all. Music by the orchestra was interspersed between toasts. The next reunion will be held at Owosso in October, 1900.

MOST IMPOSING EVER SEEN HERE

Funeral of The Late Charles M. Jones Yesterday.

250 KNIGHTS IN LINE

The Dead Was Eulogized in Speeches at The Amory Last Evening.

An object lesson in Knight Templarism was made upon the streets of Ann Arbor and at the Forest Hill cemetery Sunday, when the last sad rites over the remains of the late Charles M. Jones were performed.

The deceased was Deputy Grand Commander of the Knights Templar of the state of Kansas and, had he lived for another 12 months, he would have held the highest office in that jurisdiction. As a mark of the esteem in which he was held by the Sir Knights of Kansas, with whom he had affiliated, it can be stated that six of the Grand officers came the thousand miles to conduct the ceremony at the grave.

The Grand Commandery of Michigan was also present. A special train bearing Detroit Commandery, No. 1—the pride of the Templars of the world—with over 90 swords, and her younger sister, Damascus Commandery, No. 42, with 52 swords, arrived here at 2:30 o'clock and, headed by the Washtenaw Times Band, were escorted to the Cook hotel by Ann Arbor Commandery, No. 13, with 86 swords. At this point the Grand Commanderies of Kansas and Michigan were received. The Knights were ranged along Fourth ave. in "Commandery Front" order, and the whole line presented swords as the Grand Officers of the two jurisdictions stepped into carriages. The lines then moved to the asylum of Ann Arbor Commandery, where the remains were received, and as the white plumed Knights led the way to the grave to the music of a funeral march, followed by the remains, mourners and friends in carriages, a most imposing spectacle was made.

At the cemetery Ann Arbor Commandery formed a triangle about the grave, and the two Detroit commanderies were massed at the apex. At least 1,500 people were gathered outside the lines.

The beautiful but solemn ritual of the Knights Templar burial service was read by the Grand Prelate of Kansas. It was interspersed with appropriate music from a double quartet of male voices.

The "arch of steel" was formed over the grave by the pall bearers, the bulger sounded the taps, and the last duty had been performed.

The Knights then marched to the outside of the cemetery and again formed "Commandery front" and paid the usual respects to the Grand Officers as they drove past.

The commanderies then proceeded to the armory, where lunch had been prepared for the local and visiting Knights. On the way down from the cemetery Detroit Commandery executed some of its marching manoeuvres which has made them famous the world over. The procession, in fact, excited the admiration of the thousands along the streets.

After lunch and cigars, all three commanderies formed a hollow square and Past Grand Commander William G. Doty thanked the Grand Commanderies of the two states and the two Detroit Commanderies for coming to this city in such numbers. He paid an eloquent tribute to the deceased.

The Grand Commander of Michigan responded on behalf of Michigan in very fitting terms.

Judge Van Zile, of Detroit, a warm personal friend of the deceased, gave a feeling expression to the qualities of the brother whom they had buried. He characterized him as "one of the royal family of Knights Templar." He proposed a vote of thanks to Ann Arbor Commandery for the excellent arrangements made and carried out, and it was responded to unanimously by the visitors.

The Very Eminent Grand Commander of Kansas, with tearful eyes, spoke in a most touching manner of the gratitude he felt for Michigan Knights in having paid the honors they did to a Knight whom all Knights in Kansas loved and said that they could always look to Michigan with a kind feeling, as one of their beloved members was buried here in one of its cemeteries.

Ann Arbor Commandery then escorted the Detroit commanderies to the depot.

The Grand Commandery of Kansas left on the late train Sunday night for their home.

EX-SHERIFF LITTLEFIELD

REMOVES FROM DETROIT TO FOREST AVE. YPSILANTI.

He Has Purchased The Rothwell Place—He Is a Politician of Renown.

Washtenaw county may have acquired another republican leader in the person of ex-Sheriff Louis B. Littlefield, of Detroit, who has purchased the residence of Maj. B. H. Rothwell, 701 Forest ave., and will hereafter make Ypsilanti his home. The property conveyed to Mr. Littlefield includes 10 acres, fruit orchard and build'g., and the price paid was $16,905. Maj. Rothwell has resided in Ypsilanti since last April and now moves back to Detroit during the coming week.

Ex-Sheriff Littlefield is one of the most adroit politicians who have bobbed up serenely in republican politics in Wayne county in recent years. He was one of the Big Four, who for some years ran the county politics of Wayne. It is not known whether he will remain out of politics in this county or whether he will soon make a break for the republican leadership in county politics here. At any rate, the younger politicians who get into his good graces will find his political advice of value.

HE WANTS $20,000.00

The $20,000 case of alienation of affections is now in progress in the circuit court.

John George Reichert of Scio is suing Barbara Keck (his mother-in-law) Michael and Jacob Keck (his brothers-in-law) Gotfried Zahn and John Feldkamp, for that amount, alleging that they have separated his wife from him.

Much of the testimony is unfit for publication.

The allegations of the plaintiff are that the Kecks told Mrs. Reichert that her husband was talking around that she was crazy; the mother-in-law demanded that he divide up the property with his wife; that some of the defendants charged him with being intimate with his own sister; that Zahn accused him of playing the dirtiest trick ever played in Washtenaw—with conspiring to send his wife to an insane asylum; that Feldkamp meddled in the family affairs and said that if he could prevent it Mrs. Reichert would never go back to live with Mr. Reichert.

The case will last all day tomorrow.

THE STORE.

42nd ANNUAL FALL OPENING SALE 42nd SATURDAY, NEXT WEEK, OCT. 28, 1899.

The event that marks our Business Birthday is always looked forward to with eager expectation as the day is always set apart as a gala event instituted for the purpose of assembling under our roof vast throngs of our patrons and friends and giving expression to our appreciation of the favors we have received from them during the past year by placing our entire stock at their disposal at prices shorn of profit to ourselves and rich in saving possibilities to patrons. This year with many new departments added to our business the sale will be the most important we have ever held.
