ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1883.

No. 1163.

SUPPLEMENT.

COUNTY ITEMS.

DEXTER.

From the Leader.

Last Thursday morning while hunting ducks in Base river near Whitewood lake the "associate editor" shot a large Osprey, the wings of which when spread measured five feet and four inches from tip to tip. It is a fine specimen and John Bross will mount it.

In 1830, when Dexter was a wilderness, John Doane, whose obituary appears in this issue, laid out and cleared off C street, chopping the woods into cord wood. Fifty-three years after he died at his fine residence on C street, now one of the handsomest streets in the village; and this after having lived in various parts of the State. Truly he has seen the "desert blossom as the rose."

MANCHESTER.

From the Enterprise.

An old gentleman aged 60 is attending the public school at Sturgis. Better late than never.

Nort. Case had a stroke of apoplexy on Monday forenoon. He was in Cash's office when he first felt a numbness in his right leg. He got up, went down stairs and asked someone to take him home as he felt sick. Arriving at his residence, he was unable to walk. He was immediately put to bed and Dr. Lonch sent for, who pronounced it a stroke of apoplexy. He is now much better.

SALINE.

From the Observer.

The familiar countenance of Arba Howard is noticed upon our streets again, he having returned from Parsons, Kansas, last week. After a short visit Mr Howard informs us it is his intention to return either to the western prairie state or to the northern part of Michigan.

Grant Hobb, a few years since a resident of Saline, and of the snide painters traveling through the country and agreeing to paint barns for $10 or $12 and then changing the figures on the farmers' contracts into $100 or more, has been arrested at Sisson's Station, Lenawee county.

Our industrious shrewd and successful sheep man, A. A. Wood, of Lodi, with his wife departed Tuesday for Chicago, to attend the National Wool Growers association and the Illinois State fair, both in session in that city this week. He will also meet extensive dealers in sheep there from Texas.

YPSILANTI.

From the Ypsilantian.

Mrs. Emilie Allen, favorably known in Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti and surrounding towns, as vocalist and teacher of voice culture and piano, has accepted a position in Bay City as special teacher of music in the public schools. Salary $750.

On Friday last the assignee of the firm lately publishing The Ypsilantian sold the entire concern, outfit and accounts to Jacob M. Bowlby of Ovid, the consideration being $1,275. The purchaser has made the present publisher his agent and authorizes him to settle all accounts. The paper will continue with its management unchanged.

From the Commercial.

The best Fair we have ever had is the universal confession. The entries about double and the attendance the biggest.

We are pained to record the death of

W. H. L. Roberts, a prominent citizen of Pittsfield, in his 70th year. Obituary next week.

Thursday Mr. R. Wertman driving from the fair with a couple of ladies in his buggy was driven into and a wheel taken off. The scamp drove away as fast as possible.

Literary Notices.

Credit: Its Meaning and Moment, by Clark W. Bryan, has been received at this office.

A copy of the "Bad Boy and His Pa," from J. C. Groene & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, is at hand. It is a good comic song and chorus, by the popular writer, Thos. P. Westendorf, and will probably become very popular. Price 40 cents.

THE DETROIT ART LOAN CATALOGUE. —The Detroit Art Loan exhibiton, to be open day and evening until Nov. 1st, is well represented by its catalogue which has just been received at this office. The book has 174 pages, and a title page which is a fac simile of the handwriting of Mrs. Col. Sterling, the secretary of the printing committee. Over 900 oil paintings are catalogued, and so arranged that the artists, with their biographies, are given alphabetically. Probably altogether there are over 5,000 art objects exhibited. Its price is 25 cents, the same as the admission to the exhibition.

Hot Plowshares. A novel, by Albion W. Tourgee, 610 pp., Illustrated. Cloth, $1.50. Fords, Howard & Hulbert.

To the many who did not rest before reading Judge Tourgee's "A Fool's Errand" and "Bricks Without Straw" it will be a pleasure to learn that the latest novel by this writer, "Hot Plowshares," has been put in book form. Some have read it as a continued story in "Our Continent." These will be glad to have it as a book. Many others have not yet seen the story. They too will be glad to procure it in durable form. This volume is the last of a series of six, and it tells of the struggles of Anti-Slavery times, not in a historical way, but as a vivid pen picture of thoughts and actions. In point of time this one goes back of the others, even to 1848, but like them it has in it lots of "stir." The romantic thread running through the darkened background is as a sauce skillfully introduced to season the digestion of the national problem discussed. It stands on a level with the other of Judge Tourgee's masterpieces. George Osius & Co., have it.
