Diseases Among Western Swine.

Mr. Curtis, a member of the commis sion appointed by the president to investigate diseases among swine has returned to Washington from the west and reported to Commissioner Loring He visited the Chicago packing houses and examined the condition of hogs on farms, and says there is less disease than was reported. He is satisfied that the feeding is conducted in a manner conducive to the health of the animals. and declares that there is no foundation for reports that hogs are fed on offal from slaughter houses and farms. The western people are extremely anxious for the adoption of an efficient system of inspection of pork, so that they, as well as foreign markets, could be protected against trichinæ and similar diseases. Therefore, they are willing to co-operate heartily with every attempt made by the government to give Amercan pork a good reputation based upon thoroughly good quality. Two inspectors at each packing house would be sufficient to thoroughly inspect all the pork of foreign and domestic markets. The commission of which Mr. Curtis is a member, will be called together to make its full report the middle of Jan-It is reported from Epiphany, county of L'Assumption in Canada, that a woman there who only is her forty-fourth year, gave birth to her twenty-fiifth child a few days ago.

It brought down one mast, which in its fall, smashed five life-boats and four pinnaces. The water gained upon the engine room, quenched the fires, and filled the hold. Four sailors and one passenger perished at this time, and Dr. Frayseer, the Plantyn's physician and four sailors were injured. One of the latter died. Four hundred and sixty tons of the cargo was jettisoned in efforts to relieve the vessel. Several steamers passed the Plantyn, while undergoing terrible trial, but paid no attention to the signals of distress. The crew worked the pumps and baled water night and day, thus keeping the ship afloat until December 6, when the brig G. D. T. hove in sight and rescued the passengers and crew. Two of the men were afterwards transferred to another vessel and the remainder anded at Oporto.

The One Thing Which Never Fails to Bring a Mighty Humiliation. Arkansaw Traveler.

An old man who had for years been a strict church member, and who had done much effective work for the cause Biddeford, Me., a few mornings ago led to the of temperance, was found lying by the roadside the other day in a state of insays he was called in the night by two men who toxication. He was drawn up before a wanted him to go with them. They refused to committee of the church and asked to give their names. When they were a short show cause why he should not be excommunicated.

"I acknowledge that I was drunk, brethren, and I've got a mighty good reason fur it.

'Family trouble?" asked the chairman of the committee. "No, sir, for I've made no trouble. It was pride. Pride?" exclaimed the chairman.

"Yes, pride. As I went along to town I met a drunken fellow and I begun to think well of myself because I had never been drunk. Pretty soon I began to feel proud of it. A little further on I met an ordinary lookin' feller an' wouldn't speak to him. My neck got so stiff with my pride that I wouldn't even nod to people. out of sight before he could unbandage his ed that my pride was wicked and I tried and tried but could not throw it off. I tried to pray but was a little too proud to pray with fervor. 'This won't do,' I mused. 'I am gettin' to be a regular Pharisee.' After walkin' 'round awhile, I met an old negroe an' asked: "'Uncle, can you tell me how to throw off my pride?

"'Dat I ken, sah; dat I ken.' "Well, I wish you would, for to continue in this proud way will be dangerous to my soul.

Just 263 years ago December 21 a little band of Mayflower pilgrims set out from Clark's Island to land on Plymouth Rock for their first exploration As William Bradford quaintly has it, "they had now no friends to welcome them, nor inns to entertain or refresh their weather-beaten bodies, no houses, or much less towns, to repair to, to seek for succor." Sent out from the ship with the command to make a home speedily for themselves, lest the prorisions might be insufficient for the return voyage, they set quickly at work to build a house for common use. All day Christmas they toiled at felling timber, sawing and carrying, "so no man rested on that day;" but at night "the master caused them to have some beer." The years that have come and gone since that memorable landing have witnessed the building of a great nation, very much of whose greatness is traced to the traits of character called -now in praise and now in reproach-

WILD THREATS.

There was a time-but, alas, it was long ago-when the temperance organization was a power in this city. On account of the grand principle embodied in the work itself it would naturally demand the sympathy and cooperation of the best citizens of any municipality or commonwealth. This encouragement it was $2,500. heartily accorded in Ann Arbor some years ago, when, by careful management, the Red Ribbon club merited the confidence of its many supporters. The workers were united against the common enemy, and any petty differences as to side issues were overlooked. The good of the cause was first and preëminent, while sy and pique were kept in the background. They were strong then, because united and well disciplined. But times have changed since then, And life's a different thing,"- for a new spirit has crept into the work and possessed the workers. Wisdom has almost departed from the councils of the modern so-called temperance organization, and in its place green-eyed Jealousy, low-lived Hypocrisy and wild Discord are regnant. It has fallen into the hands of narrow-minded, one-idea men-men who will support anything or anybody if it or he only professes to work for their notion of temperance. With them principle, honesty, purity of character, methods of work, are not considered.

"The end justifies the means" was the excuse in the Middle Ages for all sorts of deceptions, frauds and hypocritical teachings. It seems that in some respects we are not yet removed entirely from the relics of mediæval superstition, bigotry and barbarism, for some of our modern professed apostles of temperance acknowledge that they would back up and endorse old Mephistophiles himself, should he come to Ann Arbor and pretend to be a temperance speaker.

Our readers are cognizant of the late disgraceful proceedings, and it has only remained for these intemperate fanatics," whose imagination is stronger than their judgment, to work themselves up into enough of a frenzy to bring a suit for criminal libel against a man who has done, and still stands ready to do, more real solid temperance work than any of them. Libel suit, indeed! Why, that would first require some grounds on which to institute proceedings; then it would have to have brains to organize a case; and last, but not least, it would take money to prosecute it. A lack of any or all of these essentials would invalidate their case. Now, it really tires the eyes of sensible people to find with the present management of the temperance organization any of the above requirements. However, that does not prevent a "heap of talkee talkee" on their part, and loud are their threats to prosecute somebody. But no one seems to be badly frightened, and we have heard them so often we conclude this is simply empty wind. Decent people have been insulted so frequently at lawyers. The book is cloth bound and the meetings that many have ceased at-tending them, and find it impossible to Missouri. work longer with those into whose hands the work has fallen. With the withdrawal of their best supporters they are in a fine way to prosecute for libel.

AYER'S Hair Vigor

faded or gray hair to a natural, rich brown color, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use light or red hair may be darkened, thin hair thickened, and baldness often, though not always, cured. It checks falling of the hair, and stimulates a weak and sickly growth to vigor. It prevents and cures scurf and dandruff, and heals nearly every disease peculiar to the scalp. As a Ladies' Hair Dressing, the Vigor is unequalled; it contains neither oil nor dye, renders the hair soft, glossy, and silken in appearance, and imparts a delicate, agreeable, and lasting perfume.

o, Mg, C. P. BRICHER writes from Kirby, O., July out, and in a short time I became nearly baid used part of a bottle of AVER'S HAIR VIGOR, which stopped the falling of the hair, and started a new growth. I have now a full head of hair growing vigorously, and am convinced that but growing vigorously, and am convinced that but for the use of your preparation I should have been entirely bald."

J. W. Bowen, proprietor of the McArthur (Ohio) Enquirer, says: "Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair, and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is also a sure cure for dandruff. Not within my knowledge has the preparation ever failed to give entire satisfaction."

MR. ANGUS FAIRBAIRN, leader of the celebrated "Fairbairn Family" of Scottish Vocalists, writes from Boston, Mass., Feb. 6, 1880: "Ever since my hair began to give silvery evidence of the change which fleeting time procureth, I have used AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, and so have been able to maintain an appearance of youthfulness—a matter of considerable consequence to ministers. orators, actors, and in fact every one who lives in the eyes of the public."

MRS. O. A. PRESCOTT, writing from 18 Elm St., Charlestown, Mass., April 14, 1882, says: "Two years ago about two-thirds of my hair came off. It thinned very rapidly, and I was fast growing bald. On using AYER'S HAIR VIGOR the falling stopped and a new growth commenced, and in about a month my head was completely covered with short hair. It has continued to grow, and is now as good as before it fell. I regularly used but one bottle of the VIGOR, but now use it occasionally as a dressing." We have hundreds of similar testimonials to the efficacy of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR. It needs but a trial to convince the most skeptical of its value, PREPARED BY Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Rev. J. E. Searles, of New York, is one of the most widely-known and highly esteemed of Methodist ministers. esteemed of Methodist ministers.

Mr. Searles says: "I am impressed that it is a duty I owe to those afflicted with Rheumatism or Neuralgia, to say that a remedy has been discovered that is indeed a marvelous success. My son was greatly afflicted with Rheumatism, and suffered so severely that, at times, he was obliged to have morphine injected into his arm to get relief. While in this condition he discovered a remedy which effected immediate relief, and a permanent cure. He has since furnished it to nany others with the same result. I have also furnished it to a number of persons suffering with Rheumatism, and the result has been immediate relief, and a permanent cure. Among others, I guest to Bev. Win P. Corbit, pastor of the George St. M. E. Church, New Haven, Conn., who was suffering greatly with this terrible disease. I will give you his own words as written to my son, wishing him to publish the fact for the benefit of others suffering with the same disease."

What Mr. Corbit Says:

"New Haven, July 24, 1882.

"Mr. Searles: Dear Sir.—I wish to say for the benefit of all who are suffering with Inflammatory Rheumatism, that your medicine is infallible. I suffered for two months the most excruciating torture; lost 35 pounds of flesh, and was not out of my house for a month; I heard of your remedy, and was almost instantly relieved by it. If there is a specific for diseases of any kind, yours most certainly is for Inflammatory Rheumatism in its severest form.

"Yours most respectfully, W.M. P. CORBIT,
"Pastor George St. M. E. Church, New Haven, Conn."

The Earliest Woman's Righter. Margaret Brent, said John L. Thomas a lecture before the Maryland His torical Society, was the first woman in America to claim the right to vote. She landed in St. Mary's City on the St. Mary's River in 1638. She was con-nected with Lord Baltimore either by blood or marriage. Leonard Calvert, Lord Baltimore's brother, suddenly prostrated on his death bed, and not having time to make his will, said to ing to the bridge, rolled over and over, Margaret Brent: "Take all and pay and landed down on the ice of the all." Then he asked for a private conference with her, and she received his scarce touched when I heard the crash, dying words. She took the Governor's house and lived in it. As Leonard Calvert was agent for Lord Baltimore, brilliant flash of light! Everything she claimed control of all rents, issues, above me, the whole bridge and the and profits of Lord Baltimore. The cars on it, seemed wrapped in a blaze court confirmed her in this position. Baltimore. She claimed, not one, but Down came our engine, the three two votes. It has been a standing announcement in the telegraphic columns of the press that, "War between China and France is inevitable." War is a bad and unwarranted thing, and to be deplored, but it would be a relief to have China and France shut up, put up, go to fighting, or quit, and not be eternally bracing up to each other, and daring the other to "knock a chip off my shoulder." It begins to look as though "one was afraid, and t'other dasent. An exchange says: "The Goddess of Justice which for so many years held the scales above the old Capitol of New York, having been put out of the way in a corridor of the new Capitol, was mistaken for a spook recently by one of the colored orderlies who had been out almost all night and had taken too much pier" There are a good many places in this world where a sight of Justice would be taken as a visitation from the grave. "Eastern capitalists," says an exchange, "are going to bore for oil within a few miles from Cincinnati." The scheme may be successful, but its dollars to chips they will tap beer before they do oil.

The above depicts a very pleasant feature of bicycling as a sport. The club have ridden from their headquarters in the city, to a suburban village some twenty miles away, where they await the arrival of the racing members who were to start just thirty minutes later.

Five minutes more and the two foremost of the racing men—Fri, on his "Harvard," and Yonson on his "Yale," appear in sight. The pace is tremendous: the men are neck and neck, and Dodges, the captain of the club, whom you observe is leaning on his "Shadow" light roadster, in the foreground, declares the race at cit.

"Where are the other men?" he asks.

"Oh, behind, somewhere," is the reply.

"Are there any 'Harvard's' or 'Yale's' or 'Shadow's 'among them?"

"Not one."

"Ah! that accounts for it," says the captain. American bicyclers as a body will realize the force of the captain's last remark, but the thousands of new riders which the coming year will produce, should each one of them realize that the only true economy in choosing a bicycle is to be content with nothing less than the very best that money will procure. Each should find out all he can about bicycles before making his choice, and in order to assist enquirers in their search for information, we will, on receipt of a a three-cent stamp, send to any address, a copy of our large illustrated catalogue by return mail.
