TELEPHONE. There is $1,400,000 invested in the telephone business in Michigan. The stock is owned by some 400 citizens of the state, and about 6,400 telephones are in use. The company charges us a rental of three dollars a month for houses and four dollars for business places. Out of this they pay the Bell company a royalty of $14 per year for each instrument. Now this charge is exceedingly high, but it stands in a fair way soon to be reduced, and as service has always been efficient and satisfactory to the public, should the Bell company reduce the royalty the state exchange will undoubtedly lessen their charges.

One curious feature of this business is that the larger the exchange, the greater is the pro rata expense of operating. It is because of increased communication between subscribers. Here in Ann Arbor an operator can manage 100 instruments, but in a large city it takes an operator for every 25 subscribers. Then, too, the expenses of running wires through narrow crowded streets and over house tops is great. So in those cities the charges are from one to two hundred dollars rental each year.

Regardless of this, however, there is a bill before the legislature to cut down the charges throughout the state to three dollars a month. At first sight it would seem as though it would be for the people's interest to have it passed, but when we consider that it is not the masses who use the telephone, but the business public especially, who are willing to pay what it is worth to them for prompt and careful service, such interference will not only be useless but possibly hurtful, as it would tend to cheapen the service and perhaps drive it away from many places where it is in use. Such things should be regulated by the law or supply and demand, and not by legislative edicts who know more about every old business than they do about some of these newest and most wonderful improvements and inventions.

OUR UNIVERSITY. The University of Michigan sheds fame and luster upon the state of Michigan and not the state upon the university. The university has given the state a name famous the world over. Go into any of the civilized countries of the earth and Michigan will stand forth as the union because of their great states of learning.

Notwithstanding these facts there seems to be a few members in Michigan's legislature, built upon such a puny, playmate plan that they desire to cripple their great university by denying it the necessary funds to keep abreast of the times. Such action is quite unaccountable, in one who has been for any length of time a resident of the state. We are not surprised to learn that some of the enemies of the university in the house are men who have been residents of the state but a comparatively short time; have moved here, made their money; got elected to the legislature; and hope to make for themselves a reputation for economy by cutting down necessary appropriations for a great institution; while squandering their money on other things.

Among the relics left over from antebellum and ante-republican days—in fact way back among the first days of American civilization—is that well-kept and pleasant gentleman, John Harmon. A Washington paper, speaking of his aspirations for a certain appointment, says: "His exact age is not known, but he fought on the American side in the war of 1812, refusing all overtures of Tecumseh, his kinsman, to espouse the cause of the British. Gen. Cass used to relate that during the battle of the Thames, where he was present, while the engagement was hottest, Tecumseh sent word to Gen. Harrison that he would give 50,000 dollars to buy the services of an Indian warrior to go with him to the battle. Gen. Harrison, however, refused to accept of the offer, saying that he would shoot long enough to allow his big warriors a chance to get something to eat. This, together with many similar incidents in his long and eventful life, doubtless, has given to the volunteer reminiscence upon which he is engaged. The president could not do it more gracefully than to appoint him consul at Windsor, near the scene of so many of his early adventures."

There is a native of Michigan, born and reared in this state, and now seeking to destroy her institutions, simply to go before his constituents with the catch-phrase "no government." "Didn't I work in the interest of education?" Either that, or a feeling of jealousy absorbed in his make up while being educated at the Normal, either of which are unworthy of a man. We have not heard of his voice being raised in opposition to appropriations already made for state institutions, some of which have been enormous compared to those actually accomplished is considered. It looks like spite work. Underhanded and dirty at that, and to come from one who is a native of this state makes it all the more censurable and contemptible.

Ann Arbor has had many members of both houses of the legislature in years gone by, but never one who raised a finger in opposition to the normal school at Ypsilanti, while on the contrary they have always favored that institution by their voice and deed in every way possible.

Still further, the university at Ann Arbor has had many of its graduates as members of this and past legislatures, and never has one been known to raise a particle of opposition to the appropriations asked for by the state normal school.

But it remains for a normal school graduate to stand up in the house and through a spirit of petty jealousy attempt to strike a serious blow at the university by denying her necessary appropriations. Out upon such shallow-pated meanness.

Can any one tell why the university appropriation bill was allowed to wait until the very last to be kicked and cutled about, cut down and mercifully "gutted" by a legislature grown poor by liberal appropriations for every other cause? The way in which the whole affair has been managed is a disgrace to those having it in charge, and to the state itself. Every other institution in the state can be liberally treated until it comes to the one institution that has made the name of "Michigan" famous the world over, and toward it a niggardly policy must be pursued. For shame!

EDITORIAL NOTES. BRANCH cot takes the prize for the greatest curiosity. A Campbell with a monstrous hump on its back. The Ford bill for the restoration of capital punishment, failed to pass the senate last week. The bill went through the house by an overwhelming majority, but in the senate the vote indefinitely postponed stood 16 yeas to 15 nays.

The State Press Association, and the Western Michigan Press Association will hold a joint meeting or reunion of the two associations, on the week following July 4, at Traverse City. An excursion to Petoskey with a banquet at Harbor Springs are among the "incidental" proposed.

Our greenback friends will please count up on their fingers the names of prominent members of their party who are being talked of even, for an appointment. Oh, no! The greenbackers were all right—as allies—but they must not think of asking for anything. The pap all belongs to "us."

It is sort of a query among the politicians here how it is that the Detroit Evening News has the gall to accuse Senator Logan of "wanting the whole earth," when right in Detroit we find Don M. Dickinson, Wm. G. Thompson, et al. It would seem as if the preponderance of Detroit ability of the kind referred to ought to keep the News silent about others.

When Mr. Lothrop, of Detroit, a blue-blooded democrat, was appointed as minister to Russia by President Cleveland, the legislature went into ecstatics over the event, and passed congratulatory resolutions. A few days since John A. Logan, republican, was elected U. S. senator from Illinois. It was a glorious result of a long contest, but some way our legislators did not pass any congratulatory resolutions, or hold a jubilee! What could be the reason, we wonder?

It seems rather strange that here, in free America, communists should be known. But there are people who are never satisfied with themselves or their position in the world. The better off they are the more they demand as theirs. Give them—well, as they take an ent. Put the ballot in their hands and they desire to seize the whole government. Here are the principles upon which their order is founded:

- 1. Destruction of existing castes.
- 2. Establishment of a society founded on community principles.
- 3. Free exchange of products through production organized without middlemen and profit taking.
- 4. Equality of both sex, and without religious prejudices.
- 5. Equality of all.
- 6. Free discussion of public affairs through independent committees.

But thanks to the good sense of the masses, these fire brands but consume themselves without even charing those with whom they come in contact.

The State Medical Society is to meet in its 20th annual session at Port Huron, commencing June 10th next. Among the papers to be read will be one by Prof. A. B. Prescott, upon "The Quantity of Alcohol Given off in Bread making and Remaining in fresh and stale Bread," one upon "Practical Disinfection," by Prof. Vaughan; one upon "The Microscope in Medicine," by Prof. Chas. H. Stowell; one upon "Abscess of Cerebellum and Complications," by Dr. C. George; and numerous others. Dr. Vaughan will act as chairman of the convention. Among the notables from abroad expected to be present will be Dr. Reeves Jackson, of Chicago; Dr. Goodell, of Philadelphia; Dr. Hinzton, of Toronto; and many others. It is hoped that this session will be one of great interest and value to members, as more work has been planned than ever before.

Decoration Day Proclamation. WHEREAS, The thirtieth day of May is a holiday set apart by law for the commemoration of patriotic dead; Therefore, I, Russell A. Alger, governor of Michigan, do call upon all citizens of the state to express upon that occasion their grateful remembrance of the services of our army and navy.

And I invite all comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic, all soldiers and sailors of the late war, the state troops and all civic societies, to do honor to the memory of those who surrendered only to the last foe, by parades and ceremonies appropriate to Decoration Day. Done at the Capitol this 20th day of May, [L. S.] 1885. RUSSELL A. ALGER. By the Governor: H. A. CONANT, Secretary of State.

Valuable Relics. Miss Murphy of LeRoy, N. Y., has presented to Lewis Cass Institute of this city for the benefit of the Waukegan County Pioneer Society, a map of the surveyed portions of Michigan, published by Orange Rison, father of L. C. Rison, in 1825, sixty years ago. It was from this map that Mr. Farmer obtained the notes which he used in the publication of his first map of Michigan, which he was at work for Mr. Rison as a surveyor. Orange Rison surveyed the United States road from Detroit to Chicago in 1824. Mr. Rison has also presented to the society four certified copies or maps of the townships of Pittsfield, Lodi, Saline and York, taken from the books of the U. S. land office at Detroit, containing the names of the first purchasers of lands in those townships with the date of purchase. The map of the survey by Mr. Rison as well as the township maps have been so carefully kept that they are as perfect as when made.

Miss Murphy and Mr. Rison will accept the thanks of the society for this valuable addition to the relics of the association. The following facts taken from Inspector General Kidd's report of his tour of inspection among the 26 companies composing the four regiments M. S. T., will be read with interest by many of our citizens: The percentage of attendance at the inspection, compared with the number on the rolls, was as follows: Monroe, 98 per cent; National Guard, Detroit, 97; Scott Guard, Detroit, 83; Adrian, 80; Grand Rapids, 80; Big Rapids, 77; Grand Haven, 75; Tecumseh, 75; Coldwater, 75; Manistee, 74; Light Infantry, Detroit, 69; Ionia, 67; Port Huron, 67; Lansing, 70; Ypsilanti, 62; Ann Arbor, 59; Three Rivers, 58; Custer Guard, Grand Rapids, 57; Flint, 56; East Saginaw, 55; Bay City, 50; Mason, 50; Kalamazoo, 48. Gen. Kidd asserts that there are too many men on the rolls of each company, and that those who do no duty and join for the benefits of the annual encampment should be weeded out. Again, some men have been known to furnish substitutes who go to camp, answer their names, and draw pay, the same as though the man himself had been present. About half of the men wear new clothing, and the remaining lessening new trousers to all the troops at once, and the old ones kept for future use. About 200 new uniforms cost, 200 new pairs of trousers and 100 new helmets would equip the 26 companies. All the clothing and equipment of the Marquette company were burned, and it must be furnished with arms, uniforms and accoutrements throughout. Among other recommendations the inspector-general favors the discontinuance of the Sharpe rifle and the issuing of the Springfield rifle, calibre .45.

The superintendent of the poor paid the jail their semi-annual visit Monday, and found that the records showed 104 commitments since Nov. 25th, '84, for the following causes: Disorderly, 28; drunk, 121; assault and battery, 4; larceny, 19; trespass, 3; larceny, 4; assault with intent to kill, embezzlement, kidnapping, forgery, housebreaking, slander, non-support, threats, etc.; disturbance of the peace and adultery, each 2; stealing ride on cars, 3. We find that 123 of these commitments were made between the 25th of November, '84, and Jan. 1st, '85; leaving only 71 from Jan. 1st to the present, under the reign of Sheriff Walsh. Quite a difference, eh? The superintendents found the jail in good condition, clean and healthy. There are four prisoners at present confined in the jail.

The Ypsilanti Commercial comes out in a small edition—on account of the fire that burned them out. The coming out at all shows pluck, under the circumstances. The following notes may explain to some of its readers the reason they have not received them that much: Our subscription list being in ashes, many of our subscribers fail to receive the paper, simply on account of not getting a copy of their paper to our address. The name sent to us by bringing or mailing a paper of every mailed subscriber. On the part of the tab and sending it to us will answer equally as well. They can be sent at the office on this side or at the depot postoffice. On single we appear the name will not be found on the paper—Finder wrap if possible.

Last Saturday, John Harter, who is agent for the German government lottery, an old country institution, received a cablegram that ticket No. 26,885 had drawn 10,000 marks—a mark being equal to about 23 cents of our money. Adam D. Seyler and Christian Gauss each held a quarter share in this ticket, and deducting all expenses, the same will net each one $488.75. Quite a nice little lot. And they received the money to-day.

L. H. Bulkley, formerly of the Standard Publishing House, of this city, and now a member of the John S. Willey Publishing Company, of Cincinnati, will remain in this city for several days in the interest of their latest publication, "Kings of Capital and Knights of Labor." We call attention to the book in another column.

THE LATEST SONG. Oh, mamma, dear mamma, come home with me now—I wonder what papa will think? He'll wonder who tonight with a frown on his brow. For I am not long at the rink. Sick Headache. Thousands who have suffered intensely with sick headache say that Hood's Sarsaparilla has completely cured them. One gentleman thus relieved, writes: "Hood's Sarsaparilla is worth its weight in gold." Reader, if you are a sufferer with sick headache, give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. Oscar Borg has just finished a nice job of frescoing in the lodge room of the A. O. U. W. Supervisor O'Hearn, who recently bought the old Scott property on N. Thayer st., is moving the old house back and making room for a new dwelling which he proposes building at once.

Mr. Clark, who acts as night watch for the business blocks on the west side of Main st., is one of the most faithful officers ever in Ann Arbor, and deserves the good will of the citizens. One of the cases of bounty fraud being investigated by the legislature, is that of John McCarthy, formerly of this city, for whose bounty O. L. Matthews had applied. It was found that the bounty had been transferred to a man in Detroit eleven months after his (McCarthy's) death.

The board of health of Ann Arbor township are after the fellows who drew dead horses into the woods west of the Catholic cemetery, and left them lying upon the top of the ground to shine and stink and stink and shine like a rotten mackerel in the moonlight; and as a consequence the dead equines have been buried.

Decoration Day. The usual requirements for Decoration Day will be observed in Ann Arbor, Saturday, May 30. The place for general assembly will be around the court house square.

At 9 o'clock A. M. a detail from the Army Post will proceed to the St. Thomas burying ground, to decorate with flowers the graves of the soldiers buried there.

At 10 A. M. the Army Post with wife and drum corps and firing squad will proceed to Forest Hill cemetery and perform the ritual service at the grave of Col. N. E. Welch, and likewise decorate with flowers the graves of the other soldiers buried there.

In the afternoon the time for assembling will be 2:30 o'clock, and the procession will move promptly at 3 o'clock. All civil and military organizations, or individuals, upon foot, mounted or in vehicles are invited to join in the procession, led by the Grand Army Post and Co. A. of the state troops. And for the sake of order and regularity in movement they will report to the marshal, Lieut. E. N. Gilbert, at the court house for assignment in the procession. All old soldiers are invited to fall in, with the Grand Army.

The lines of march will be to the soldiers' monument in the fifth ward cemetery. Thence, after a brief service, strewing of flowers, decorating of graves, and firing of salute, they will proceed to the stand near by and listen to the remaining exercises. The following are those who were chosen to make brief remarks or read selections upon that occasion: Col. H. S. Dean, Rev. W. H. Ryder, Capt. C. H. Manly, Mrs. Eli Moore, Robert Campbell, Prof. C. E. Greene, Dr. W. F. Breakey, Lieut. J. H. Stark, and Dr. Geo. A. Hendryx.

The instrumental music for the afternoon will be furnished by the Chiquemogon band, of the university. The vocal music for the stand under the direction of Dr. Dorrance, assisted by Prof. Winsay and his class of young lady singers. The stand and monument will be decorated by the Ladies' Decoration Society. The grounds are elevated and capacious, and for those with vehicles there will be sufficient hitching places for horses.

The public generally are invited to attend. Should the weather be unfavorable the stand exercises will be held in the court house. All contributions of flowers should be sent to the basement of the court house (or fifth ward engine house) as early as eight o'clock in the morning of the day, if possible.

All matters pertaining to the day not directly assigned to the marshal or the sub-committees, will be referred to the executive committee or the Post Commander. R. CAMPBELL, Chalm., C. H. MANLY, Sec'y., JAS. B. SAUNDERS, TROOP, KENNEDY, CONRAD NOLL, Executive Com.

SCIENTIFIC.—Soda or Saleratus contains carbonic acid gas. After it is thoroughly mixed with the flour, the gas is liberated by Grape Cream Tartar, and as it escapes it separates the particles of flour and makes light and delicious pastry.

They had been quarreling about his next summer's clothes. She wants to have his light suit cleaned up for 1885, and he wanted a heavier suit. "What's the use of fighting about this?" he said finally. "I may be in the cemetery next summer!"

Baldness may be avoided by the use of Hall's Hair Renewer, which prevents the falling out of the hair, and stimulates it to renewed growth and luxuriance. It also restores faded or gray hair to its original dark color, and radically cures nearly every disease of the scalp.

Good Manners. There is nothing which adds to a boy's success in life, next to honesty of purpose, as the practice of good breeding wherever he goes—on the sidewalks, in the buggy, as well as in the parlor. If you meet a boy who refuses to give you half the road of turn out on the sidewalk, you may class him as a boy with no sense of justice in his nature. When we speak of a polite boy, we do not wish to be understood as referring to one who bows low, and takes off his hat simply, but we mean the honest boy—the one who always carries a smile on his countenance—we mean the one who has a kind salutation when he meets you in the morning, and a pleasant "good night" in the evening—a boy whose face is always void of offense.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla has such concentrated, curative power, that it is by far the best, cheapest, and surest blood-purifier known.

A Wheelman on the Great American Desert. A dreary-looking country is the "Great American Desert," in Utah, along the northern boundary of which my route now leads. "The left of the road is a low chain of barren hills; to the right the uninviting plain over which one's eye wanders in vain for some green object that might raise hopes of a less desolate region beyond; and over all hangs an oppressive silence—the silence of a dead country—a country destitute of both animal and vegetable life. Over the great desert hangs a smoky haze, out of which "Pilot's Peak," thirty-eight miles away, rears his conical head 2,500 feet above the level plain at its base. Some riding is obtained at intervals along this uninviting stretch of country, but there are no "sand-papers" roads, and the principal incentive to mount at all is a feeling of disgust at so much compulsory walking. A noticeable feature through the desert is the almost unobscured thirst that the dry salivary air hitches upon one. Reaching a railway section-house, I find no one at home; but there is a small underground cistern of imported water, in which "swiggers" innumerable wriggle, but otherwise good and cool. There is nothing to drink out of the water, and the water is three feet from the surface; while leaning down to try and drink, the wooden framework at the top gives way and precipitates me headfirst into the water. Luckily the tank is large enough to enable me to turn round and reappear at the surface. I was then obliged to take a long walk, I scrabbled out again, with, of course, not a dry thread on me. Wringing what water I can from my clothes, I leave a note asking for the water. I find no one at the cistern, and advising him not to drink the water, I once more wend my way eastward.—Thomas Stevens, in Outing for June.

Rheumatism It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting a permanent cure by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid. It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure. "I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my right ankle, and joints. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I bought a bottle and used it until I was able to walk again. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years. I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than any other medicine I ever had. H. T. BALCOCK, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PROFFER, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge, to all who may desire, a book containing many additional testimonials of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists, $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass. 100 Doses One Dollar.

DYSPEPSIA. Sedentary habits, mental worry, distress of excitement, excess or imprudence in eating or drinking, and various other causes, induce indigestion followed by general derangement of the liver, kidneys, and stomach, in which the disorder of each organ increases the derangement of the others. The immediate results are Loss of Appetite, Nausea, Foul Breath, Heartburn, Flatulence, Diarrhoea, Sick Headache, Failure of physical and mental vigor, distension of weight and fullness in the stomach, and increased Costiveness, all of which are known under one head as Dyspepsia. In every instance where this disease does not originate from scrofulous taint in the blood, AYER'S PILLS may be confidently relied upon to effect a cure. These cases not amenable to the curative influence of AYER'S PILLS will certainly find relief in the cure Dyspepsia by the powerful purgative properties of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Dyspepsia should know that the longer treatment of their malady is postponed, the more difficult of cure it becomes.

Ayer's Pills Never fail to relieve the bowels and promote their healthy and regular action, and thus cure Dyspepsia. Temporary gripplings all do permanent harm. The pills act upon the stomach, the bowels, the stomach is spurred by "bitters," and the bowels are kept in motion by the cathartic habit, and the organs are healthy before.

AYER'S PILLS. Costiveness, induced by my sedentary habits of life, became chronic. AYER'S PILLS afforded me speedy relief. Their occasional use has since kept me all right." HERMANN BRANCK, York, Iowa, U. S. A.

"I was induced to try AYER'S PILLS as a remedy for Indigestion, Constipation, and Headache, from which I had long been a sufferer. I found their action easy, and obtained prompt relief. They have benefited me more than all the medicines ever before tried." M. V. YATES, 122 1/2 State St., Chicago, Ill.

"They have entirely corrected the cough habit, and vastly improved my general health." REV. FRANCIS S. HANCOCK, Atlantic City, N. J.

"The most effective and the easiest to take I have ever found. One dose will quickly move my bowels and free my head from pain." W. H. HAZEN, Newberry, Brown Co., Ind.

"My dyspepsia they are invaluable." J. T. ROGERS, Meigs, Texas.

OPIMUM HABIT! Sufferers from this pernicious habit will do well to write to DR. JAMES P. QUINCY, who has a world-wide reputation for his success in curing this habit. He writes: "I have treated thousands of persons afflicted with this habit, and have succeeded in curing them all. My treatment is simple, and does not require the use of any violent or dangerous drugs. It is based upon the principle of restoring the system to its normal state, and is perfectly safe and reliable. I have cured many who were considered incurable, and have seen them recover their health and resume their ordinary occupations. I have cured many who were suffering from the most advanced stages of the habit, and have seen them recover their health and resume their ordinary occupations. I have cured many who were suffering from the most advanced stages of the habit, and have seen them recover their health and resume their ordinary occupations."

THE STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Washtenaw. In the matter of the estate of John G. Davis, deceased. As a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, Michigan, in the Probate Office in the city of Ann Arbor, on Monday, the 25th day of May, A. Council meeting Monday night.
See corrected time-table of M. C. R. R. in its accustomed place.
A fine new flagstaff has been procured for the new masonic temple.
A new cross-walk is very much needed on State st., at the intersection of E. Catherine st.
The fine Italian airs of an accordion have been floating from the street corners for a few days past.
And still the Washington plums are rare-ripe. Beautiful in anticipation, but not ready to be plucked.
Sunday, June 14 has been set aside by the Congregationalists of the United States as Children's Day.
The Sunday-school classes of the Misses Paul and Randolph enjoyed a picnic at Whitmore Lake, Saturday.
Scanlan closes the season here next Saturday night, and proposes to make the occasion a memorable one.
There is a "spunk-span" new "Temperance Hotel" opened up in the 5th ward, according to the sign.
A strawberry and ice cream festival—the first of the season—will be given this evening at the M. E. church.
The woods, from which the water supply for the city is proposed to be taken, is said to be full of dead horses.
The chances are that Rev. Samuel Esrp., A. M., Ph. D., will accept a call to St. Andrew's rectorship, though his decision has not yet been announced.
The jail committee have been offered $1,500 for the old jail site, and propose to accept of the same, we understand.
Paul D. Groves, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Groves, who reside on Cemetery st., died on Saturday last, at the age of 15 years, of spinal meningitis.
The gutter on the south side of the court house square is being relaid so that the water from the street can run into it instead of having to soak under it.
There are suspicions that a foul murder has been committed near Ann Arbor. The matter should be sifted.—Cheese Herald.
Indeed it should! "Spokin you come down and bring along your sifter."
Last Monday the M. C. R. R. discontinued the Jackson accommodation, passing Ann Arbor for Detroit at 8:23 a. m., and going west, passing this station at 7:23 p. m.
Oscar O. Sorg will move into his new block next Saturday, over which fact he is very much pleased. He will have a convenient and good business place when he gets moved.
The City Recorder will be at his office in the COURIER building on the first Wednesday and Thursday evenings of each month to accommodate those wanting city warrants.
The following is a pointer for those interested in gold or silver mines: "The three degrees of mining speculation are: positive, mine; comparative, miner; superlative, minus."
Mrs. J. F. Sunderland, of this city, will address the temperance meeting next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Temperance Union Hall, Main st., over Noble's clothing store.
M. T. Woodruff was in the city, Monday, looking up business for his new paper, to be started in Detroit soon. Willis Boughton, of the postoffice newsdepot, will be agent in this city.
St. James is dead. On his ashes arise the Masonic Temple. That is to say, the former name has been discarded, and the latter adopted for the block once known to fame as the Gregory House.
Three of the aspirants for Uncle Sam's P. O. in this city were seated around a hotel table at Adrian the other day. All by accident, of course. One proposed to risk the dice to decide their chances.
Irving K. Pond, son of Mr. E. B. Pond, has an interesting article entitled "Tangler Sketches" in the Inland Architect and Builder. It is artistically illustrated by drawings of Moorish buildings and scenes.
Forepaugh's agent was in town Monday. He says the reason for slighting Ann Arbor was because they were unable to make any satisfactory arrangements for transportation with the M. C. R. R. Co.
When the new dam is in good boating condition, the oar and yachmen of the city talk of combining and putting in a boat shute—a machine made for shooting boats, occupants and all, over falls, milldams, etc. It will cost about $1,000.
We acknowledge the receipt of a double ticket to a piano-forte recital by Mr. Julius V. Seyler, assisted by Miss Alice Andrews, soprano, and Miss Nellie Brush, contralto, held Monday evening, May 26th. A press of business prevented our attendance.
Please call upon your county clerk for one copy each of Vols. I, II, and III, of the Joint Documents of 1883, which have been forwarded to you, says a postal card received a day or so ago. Thank you John, you can have them. They're no good on earth. Sell them to the rag man and get you a new hat, or something of the kind.

The German A. O. U. W. ball Monday night was a success.
The telephone exchange was damaged about $100 worth Sunday afternoon by an incipient fire.

Samuel Dett, while working on Mr. Murney's house in the 6th ward Monday, fell and broke his arm.
John Remick takes his old place back again at the M. C. depot, and Wm. Bunting goes on as night operator.
The Hillsdale mutual life insurance company received thirty new recruits from this city during the week past.

If you want your bill against the city allowed at the next meeting of the council, it must be in the hands of the finance committee on or before Friday.
Every wheelman in town is invited to meet on the campus base ball grounds Saturday at two o'clock, to form in line for Decoration Day procession.

The soliciting committee of the Beethoven Gesangverein were working lively yesterday securing necessary pledges to ward making the coming Saengerfest a success.
On State street, at the crossing of Fuller street a good job is being done by putting in large sewer pipes in place of the old culvert which had got to be dangerous for travelers.

Elder Davis is furnishing a paper upon his "Personal Recollections of the Early Ministers of Washenaw County," for the next meeting of the State Pioneer society to be held at Lansing, June 3d.
"When will the water works be commenced?" is the question that greets our city officials at every street corner. "Don't know, but about the first of June I s'pose," is the customary answer.

The Washenaw county pioneer society has the largest lot of collections pertaining to the early days of the county of any similar society in the state, and it is even said to be ahead of the state society at Lansing.
The boys are rapidly demolishing the old Hoover brewery, thus saving the M. C. R. R. folks the trouble of the job. The height of a boy's ambition in that section just now is to get "a trophy from the old brewery."

Mrs. Owen Clark, who lives at the corner of State and Fuller streets, mother of Michael Clark, is very sick from old age and general debility. Mrs. Clark has lived in the city about 34 years and reaches the ripe old age of 82 years.
Monthly pomological meeting the 6th of June, in the basement of the court-house at 2 o'clock p. m. Report of committees on publication, fruit packages, rules for pickers, discussion of small fruit, and exhibit of fruit, jellies, canned fruit and flowers.

Fred Esslinger, the industrious blacksmith along the street from the COURIER sanctorium, "caught a Tartar," the other day in the shape of an equine he was trying to shoe. The horse didn't want to be shod, and the dispute between the two was hot for a few minutes, but Fred had grit and came out ahead.
The Detroit Every Saturday gives the proposed new democratic paper in that city the following send-off:
The second paper will be a political organ called the Michigan State Democrat, owned by M. T. Woodruff and engineered editorially by that prime old political snorter Charley Woodruff. If Woodruff makes as many enemies as he did when running the Ypsilantian he will not make a fortune in his new venture.

The services at University hall last Sunday, in honor of Memorial Day, were not as well attended as they would have been had not a heavy shower threatened during the afternoon. Co. A, and the G. A. R. post had full ranks however and a goodly sprinkling of citizens were there. Rev. R. B. Pope delivered the discourse, which is highly spoken of by those hearing it.

The bicyclists are taking advantage of the good roads herabouts and make frequent runs to Ypsilanti and Saline. The other evening a party ran to the former place in fifty minutes and returned in forty. A recent run "around the triangle" to Saline, then across to Ypsilanti and home was made in three hours. The distance is a little over 2 1/2 miles by cyclometer measure.

The inner or dividing wall between the two stores of the new brick block built by Peter Long, to the rear of the postoffice, resembles somewhat a map of Afghanistan as the Afghans say it must be, as England says it shall be, and as Russia says it shan't be. An excellent pattern for a "crackled ware" set could be taken from it. All because the frosts of last winter got under the wall.

That the people may understand the subscription being secured for the coming Saengerfest, it might be well to state that it is not a bona fide subscription, but simply a guarantee fund in case the enterprise should fail to pay expenses, and only under the most unfavorable circumstances would a call be made for any portion of it. Such a fund is required however to insure the state society against loss. Should the weather be favorable there is little doubt but that the fest would be very profitable. In some instances as high as $5,000 have been made.

The sum of $1,000 as a guarantee fund has already been secured by the committee.
The Ladies' Library Association of this city have resolved to commence the erection of the new library building upon their lot between Dr. Herdman's and Dr. Smith's residences on Huron st., about June 1st. The plans call for a small but very artistic structure, and when completed will certainly be an ornament, as the society has long been a benefit to the city. The edifice will be constructed for the express use of the association. It will have 26 feet front on Huron st., and extend 40 feet back, exclusive of a farther extension of several feet to accommodate fire places, etc. The basement will be finished off eventually for parlors and reception rooms. The first floor will consist of an audience room with bookshelves arranged along the side walls. At the front, over the vestibule, will be a fine gallery for use of an orchestra in case of an entertainment or for other purposes as may be desired. The roof will be arched and finished in native woods, making an appearance which will be exceedingly artistic and pretty. But it is unnecessary to go into details at present. The main thing now is the money. The lot upon which the building is to stand is paid for and there remains in the treasury $500.

At the inter-collegiate contest held in New York city last Saturday, F. N. Bonine, of the U. of M., who was entered for the 100-yard dash, won the same in 10 1/2 seconds, beating the eastern champion. Over which the university boys are much elated. Upon his return home Monday

A piano-forte recital was given by Miss Jeanie May, Thursday evening, assisted by Miss Lois T. Angell, soprano, in the general lecture room.
The law lecture room is said to resemble a bull and bear scene on 'change in Bedlam when Prof. Kent enters to give his lectures. He is very popular.

Saturday the University base ball club came out ahead in their game at the fair grounds by a score of 10 to 5. It was an excellent exhibition of the national game.
Last Saturday the following new editors of the Chronicle were elected: W. A. Blakey, Chi Psi; Ed. Pitkin, Zeta Psi; W. M. Gillies and Fred A. Stevens.
A year's University life has tolder on the class of '88. Their merry dancers completed the last dance of the program one hour after daylight this morning.—Chronicle.

The "levelling up" of the campus has engaged the attention of the university authorities for the past few days. It will be an improvement when the grass grows over it.
Senator Jones, of Florida, expects to arrive in Ann Arbor Friday, June 19th, to deliver a lecture before the law department. It will be held in the university hall.
Next Saturday night the Mendelssohn Quintette Club will please the ear pans in the heads of Ann Arborites at University hall, under the auspices of the students' lecture association.

Hon. D. C. Smith and wife, of Pekin, Ill., have been in the city several days visiting their son, Walter F. Smith of the literary department. Mr. Smith was a member of the XLVIIIth Congress, and has traveled extensively. He expressed himself pleased with Ann Arbor and the university.
While not doubting the correctness of the following from the Detroit News, we most certainly believe it would be a grand thing for some of the boys to be converted: "A ministerial band" has been organized at the university, and the salvation of some other army may expect a valuable lot of recruits from among the "boys."
The following officers have been chosen by the Students' Christian association for the ensuing year:

At the inter-collegiate contest held in New York city last Saturday, F. N. Bonine, of the U. of M., who was entered for the 100-yard dash, won the same in 10 1/2 seconds, beating the eastern champion. Over which the university boys are much elated. Upon his return home Monday

PERSONALS.
Prof. Kent delivered his last lecture to-day.
Mrs. Keenan, took a trip to Detroit Monday.
Lawn tennis tournament Saturday on the campus.
Miss Allie Brooks, of Detroit is visiting friends in the city.
Miss Allie McIntyre, of Detroit, is visiting friends in Ann Arbor.
Glee club sings at Pontiac Monday evening, and Orchard Lake Tuesday.
Mrs. Wirt Cornwell has returned home from a visit to her parents in Chicago.
The pleasant fact of B. F. Bower of the Detroit Post, beamed in upon us Monday p. m.
J. E. Wyman was in from Detroit, Monday, looking after his interests in this city.
Gen. Wahr and wife left last night for a three weeks' visit to Council Bluffs, Iowa.
Miss Abbie A. Pond is stopping for a few weeks with relatives and friends in the city.
Mrs. C. J. Kintner will return to Ann Arbor from Washington, D. C., next Tuesday.
Lew Taylor's bicycle got balky Monday night, and threw him, but it didn't hurt much.
Loren Henion, one of Ann Arbor's old boys, was in town yesterday for a few hours' stay.
Mr. William Eberbach leaves in a few days to engage with Messrs. Dodge & Co., druggists, Detroit.
Helen, oldest daughter of Will W. Douglas, has been dangerously ill for several days with pleurisy.
J. Ashley Keith, of the Caro Jeffersonian, was in the city fifteen or twenty minutes last Friday.
John Armstrong has removed from Thompson to No. 13 Elizabeth st., thus being nearer his business.
E. K. Frensch returned last Thursday, from a trip to East Saginaw, Flint, etc., where he had been on business.
Mr. Aaron K. Stiles, of Chicago, manager of the Van Depole Electric Manufacturing Co., was in town Friday.

AMUSEMENTS.
The Mendelssohn Quintette Club, which is to appear at University Hall, Saturday evening, has been secured by the students' lecture association to fill the void left by Beecher's failure to keep his engagement. Consequently the course tickets will add to this entertainment, or those holding them will have 50 cents, refunded as they may choose. It is the private opinion of the writer that the "swap" has been a good one for ticket-holders, and that but few will object to the change.

Of Mr. Scanlan's acting the Chicago News remarks: "The most remarkable feature of this week's business has been the crowds which nightly filled the Academy of Music. Not a seat has been found empty, and frequently standing room could hardly be obtained. A more remarkable thing is that, for once, the people were right, and the entertainment was worth all the patronage it received. Mr. W. J. Scanlan is a young Irish actor of superlative merit. He is handsome in person, polite in manner, exquisitely neat and clean in costume, plays with a freshness and spirit not often seen, sings with a flute-like voice a repertoire of well selected songs, and has a piece exactly suited to his style. Dramatically he is superior to Murphy; musically he excels Emmett, and, having the advantage of novelty, should draw equally well at any theatre in America. He is, in Irish roles, the coming man."

The Good Templars and B. E. Quartette will give an ice cream and strawberry social entertainment at Union Temperance hall next Monday evening. All are invited.
The fourth annual Musical given by the pupils of Prof. R. H. Kempf takes place this Wednesday evening, at the opera house. Mme. Marie Tilden of Detroit, Mrs. C. Woodward of Ann Arbor, and Mr. Frohlich of Detroit, assisting. The program is a long and varied one.

At 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, Dr. Alvin W. Chase died at his home in Detroit. He had been seriously ill for several weeks, so the result was not a surprise to his friends. Deceased was born in New York in 1817, and was consequently 68 years old. In 1856 he came to Ann Arbor and commenced the publication of a book known as "Dr. Chase's Recipe Book; or, Information for Everybody." In this he was wonderfully successful, and from the proceeds of its sale he purchased the fine brick block in which that office is now located. Probably no other man is better known in this city than the doctor, and his death will be mourned by many friends. He leaves two daughters and one son, none of whom are residents of this city. His remains will be brought to this city for interment to-morrow, reaching here on the 10:30 train from Toledo. The procession will be formed at the depot and march directly to Forest Hill cemetery, the services being in charge of the Odd Fellow fraternity of this city, of which he was a member for many years.

A Sad Case.
There have been many instances in this world of real affliction, so overpowering and sad sometimes that the fountains of the heart have refused to well up in tears to relieve the great aching therein. But this particular case is not one of affliction, of deep and unconquerable sorrow. It is a case that excites one's pity. A sad case, as it were. While it does not move to tears, it thrills every nerve, and brings forth that something which has been planted in the nature of every humane soul to a greater or less degree, which irresistibly urges him on to save a poor misled brother he sees being deluded from the straight and narrow path of propriety.

The following article, taken from the Ypsilantian, explains it all, and the caution contained in the same is timely and pat:
GAY AND GIDDY STILL.—We were somewhat surprised, the other evening, to discover among the throng of gay, giddy skaters that were ruffling around the Woodward rink, the well-known form of our journalistic brother, Mr. J. C. Woodruff. We had heard that our friend was addicted to the rollers, but we were hardly prepared to see him ruffling over the floor, chattering on the corners, and promulgating down the center, to the amusement of his more flippery than we suspected he could assume. We are perfectly certain, however, that he should enjoy himself at the risk but we cannot resist the impulse of duty that prompts us to warn him against the same. We have heard of the strange young ladies he may meet there. Those skating companions are becoming quite common, and as it is the unexpected that always happens, it is in the very thing which cannot be observed too much caution in holding himself aloof from any such entanglements.

A Thrilling Story
Of the great conflict between Capital and Labor has just been issued by the John S. Wiley Publishing Company, of New York and Cincinnati. Its suggestive title is "Kings of Capital and Knights of Labor." The author is that eminent writer and scholar, John McDowell Leavitt, D. D., formerly editor of the International Review and president of the Luzh University, Pennsylvania. All the great questions of the times are discussed in story form—Landlordism, Free Trade, Protection, Legislation, Municipal Rings, the Great Strikes, Communism, Socialism, Nihilism—all treated in this book of the times. The work contains 47 steel, copper and wood engravings from French, German, English and American artists. The highest perfection of the printer's and binder's art has been employed in its manufacture.
Although only issued three weeks ago, it has already reached a sale of hundreds of copies. The work is sold only by subscription.
The lowest rates for last week we are informed, averaged three copies per day.
No book since the days of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" has so stirred the hearts of the people. The book, which is a royal octavo of 613 pages, can be obtained by addressing the publishers at 68 West Third st., Cincinnati, O., or of H. L. Bulkley,

DECIDED BY WAR.

A sensation in American commerce the past year was the famous baking powder war, the Price Baking Powder Company, of Chicago, supported by the medical profession and the most eminent chemists and food analysts in the United States giving battle to the bread adulterating bakers and binging them to National exposure.

The issue of the war purity in human diet, and the decision of science was that Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder was free from Ammonia, Lime, Alum, and all disreputable drug taint.

No better proof of the superiority of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder could be offered than that it is recommended for use in every family by the following State and National Chemists.

Persons doubting the Truthfulness of this are requested to write any of the Chemists named.
