LOCAL.

Everybody is expected to be scientific this week and next.
You have only a few weeks left to rub that extra coat before fair time.
Throw off old foggy notions, adopt standard time and keep up with the times.
Hay fever has commenced to water the noses and eyes of its victims herabouts.
What's the use of subscribing for your local paper as long as you can sponge the reading of it off the newsdealer?
As nearly everybody is putting in an extra ton of coal for winter's use, look out for a mild winter—sure sign.
J. P. Joslin, the fleet-footed college athlete, is with Boughton & Payne, in the postoffice news depot for the present.
Several of the G. A. R. members of this city and vicinity will attend the encampment at Devil's Lake, commencing to-day.
The city is already filling up with strangers, which is indicative of a large attendance upon the Science Association meetings.
A new sidewalk on the west side of N. Main st., at the corner of Catherine st. is a thing pedestrians in these parts appreciate.
Ed. Kent has sold out his meat market in the 5th ward to Wm. A. Porter and Mort. Bowen, under the firm name of Porter & Bowen.
Potoskey campers are firing the hearts of those left at home by brilliant letters descriptive of the grand times being enjoyed up there.
The personal property of the late Eugene Arnold has been purchased by Byron Green, for $3,200, who will hereafter live upon the farm.
You will have to do without any homemade blackberry jam this year. The crop was nearly a failure, and $6.00 a bushel, with no home takers.
Wheat took a drop last week, and is now quoted at $4c. for red and 80c. for white. Flour took a 50c. per barrel tumble, and is now quoted at $5.25.
Martin Clark is making a success out of the County Ag. Society's premium list, and the pamphlet will be ready for distribution about Aug. 31.
Mrs. Slattery has received $2,285 insurance money, and has commenced removing the debris from the burned premises preparatory to rebuilding the same.
Will Hayley, who has been with Willis Boughton in the postoffice news depot for the past two years, has accepted a situation with Geo. L. Moore, in the State st. book store.
Here is a "scientific" way to kill off the housefly pest: "One ounce of lavender mixed with one quart of water or alcohol and sprinkled about a room will rid it of flies."
If you want your houseplants to blossom this winter, this is the month to start your slips. Slips cut off and started at evening are said to be more certain of living and growing.
J. E. Sumner has been chosen secretary of the county ag. society in place of W. R. Henderson, who has accepted a commercial agency for a Cleveland house, and is now on the road.
If every clock and watch in Ann Arbor could be set by standard time on the 8th of Sept. next, everybody would be benefited by the change. It's the rule that's always kicking which raises the row.
The old plank walks about the city look as spotted as an adder, (if any one knows how spotted that is) by reason of new planks being sandwiched in among the old ones, to make "that walk answer just one year longer."
Prof. Steere has been doing a considerable amount of work this summer on the Beal-Steele collection in the museum. He finds several thousand dollars worth of rare duplicates which, when identified can be exchanged with other museums.
Boughton & Payne have their hands full of business now. They run the postoffice, express office, telephone office, and keep a news depot in the bargain, in Room C, main hall, university building. But they can handle the business if it can be done at all, and give satisfaction, too.
Ald. Kearns, chairman of the general street committee, has had all the weeds along the streets under his jurisdiction cut down, and a general "slicing up" ordered. Now is Ann Arbor's great opportunity. She should look her prettiest.
The Detroit Evening News commenced issuing a noon edition last Tuesday, and now the newspapers on our streets are heard crying: "E-v-e-n-i-n-g News! 12 o'clock edition! 2 o'clock edition! 4 o'clock edition! 6 o'clock edition! 8 o'clock edition! 10 o'clock edition! 12 o'clock edition!"

Scientists are getting thick but not full on our streets this week.
Only a few days now and the darkness and light will be evenly balanced.
Cut down your weeds, slick up your yards, and have some style about you.
The Detroit Evening News stepped into her "teens" Monday, a pretty healthy child.
After this week no more papers will be issued in Ann Arbor this summer. Do you fall?
The latest shade is called "crushed pumpkin." The next thing will be mashed squash, probably.
Rev. Mills Gelston, of Pontiac, preached a very instructive and practical sermon at the Presbyterian church last Sunday.
Mrs. Keenan, after several years hard labor proposes to go out of the millinery business, and will close out her store this week.
A wandering band of minstrels have been regaling the ears of Ann Arborites with strains that soothe the savage, during the week past.
The great scarcity of politicians in the city Saturday last can be accounted for probably by the great gathering of farmers at Whitmore Lake.
Sixteen of the leading daily papers of the United States are expected to have special correspondents here during the science association meeting.
The "Injuns" took their departure Friday, and are now enlightening the people of Chelsea upon the war whoop and dance, and how to cure the many ills flesh is heir to.
We heard a good democrat remark, only last Saturday, that could Capt. E. P. Allen have the race over again with Col. Eldridge, "he would be elected by 500 majority."
What looks prettier than the sweet girl undergraduate, all dressed in pure white, with a red rose pinned to her bosom, veiling with her cherry lips in color and perfection—all ready for the picnic?
A recent letter from Prof. Van Slyke, who is on his way to the Sandwich Islands to assume charge of a government school, brings the information that he had reached Los Angeles, Cal., on his journey.
Rev. Dr. Ramsey, the coming Methodist pastor of this city, preached two sermons at Bay View this summer. They were considered by both pastors and laymen as among the very best ever delivered on the grounds.
Once again does the Salvation army threaten to invade the precincts of this city, and open up a heavy campaign on unrepentant sinners. They will find the enemy too strong for them. They bettery try some easier fort.
The Washtenaw Journal very generously tenders the ladies a live model in the shape of its "office devil," with which to decorate the court house. Our friend has made a sad mistake as to the sort of place the ladies wish to represent.
The Ypsilanti Mineral Spring Co., was incorporated Monday, consisting of Clark, Wirt and E. C. Cornwall, will develop the new Ypsilanti mineral well, and engage in and carry on the business of buying, bottling and selling mineral water.
The temperance gospel meeting held at the rooms Sunday night was well attended and much interest was manifested. It is designed to hold meetings on week day nights, and get the young men of the city, "the boys" interested in the work.
The next meeting of the county pioneer society will be held at the residence of H. D. Platt, of Pittsfield, on Wednesday, Sept. 2d. The suggestion has been made that some of the pioneers take in hand the furnishing of refreshments for the table on that occasion.
Willard F. Pett, Ph. C. '85, passed a rigid examination at Toledo, recently, and has received a certificate as a Registered Pharmacist for the State of Ohio. Ag. Ohio has the reputation of requiring an extremely rigid examination. Mr. Pett feels quite confident of conquering other fields.
Thursday morning last, the usual fire item that occurs just after the COURIER has gone to press, entered its appearance. This time it was a dwelling house on Cemetery st., owned and occupied by Irwing Moore. The flames had gained such headway before the engines could get there, that the building was a total loss, though some of the furniture was saved. Insured for $600 on house and $200 on furniture with C. H. Miller.
It is estimated that 6,000 to 8,000 of the farmers of Washtenaw, Livingston, Oakland and Wayne counties gathered at Whitmore Lake last Saturday, in attendance upon the annual farmers' picnic. The address of welcome by Wm. Ball, of Hamburg, is highly spoken of, as was also the address of Mrs. Sunderland, of this city, upon "Home Life on the farm," and also of Prof. Samuel Johnson, of the Agricultural College upon "The Farmer as a Citizen." Music for the occasion was furnished by a choir composed of Misses Julia Ball, Effie Scadden, and Messrs. Elmer S. Cushman and W. Ball. Those attending pronounce it one of the most successful gatherings ever held.
It is probable that the census just taken will show a falling off in the population of Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor—Seattle Observers.
It is just a little singular how a place can keep growing constantly, as Ann Arbor does; with not a year passing when there are not from fifty to one hundred new dwellings erected in the corporation, and every one occupied, and at the same time depreciate in population. If the census has been carefully taken Ann Arbor will show a handsome increase, and from what we can judge of Ypsilanti, it has not been going backwards, either, of late, but making substantial improvements.
The question as to "who is a legal voter at school meetings," is asked so frequently, that we deem it wise to publish the section of the law itself referring to that matter, and let that answer:
Sec. 17. Every person of the age of 21 years, who has property liable to assessment for school taxes in any school district, and who has resided therein three months next preceding any school meeting held in said district or who has resided three months next preceding such meeting in any territory belonging to such district at the time of holding said meeting, and all other persons who are 21 years of age, and are the parents or legal guardians of any children who are in the school district, and who have for three months, as aforesaid, been residents in said district or upon any territory belonging thereto at the time of holding any school meeting, shall be entitled to vote in said district which do not directly involve the holding of a meeting.
By these provisions it will be seen that parents or legal guardians of children, whether they pay taxes or not, have a right to vote for school officers.

Chaplain John D. Parker, U. S. A., stationed at Fort Hayes, is in the city attending the Science meeting. Mr. Parker is an alumnus, U. of M., '58, and visited our city last fall, giving a glowing description of the changes he noticed in an absence of many years.
Samuel P. Foster, of Hermosa, New Mexico, is visiting his uncle Isaac N. B. Foster of Ann Arbor town. Mr. F. was driven out of the mining district by the Indians, and is therefore taking a vacation. Now that the leader of the Indians has been killed, he predicts more peaceful times for the inhabitants at that section.

A NATURAL PARK.
Where Ann Arbor Could Make an Earthly Eden.
Some little discussion is being indulged in by residents of the southern portion of the city over a public park, and strange to say they are all unanimous in locating it in that part of the city. The land is probably as good there as anywhere else, and in the course of ages, a handsome park could be built up, but it would call for the expenditure of immense sums of money, and the lapse of a generation at least to give the trees time in which to grow. Then there is the entire absence of lake or river, an almost absolute necessity to the beauty of a park.
But Ann Arbor has within and adjoining her borders almost a natural park. It has all the requisites necessary: lake, river, trees, hill, shady glens, babbling brooks, etc.
The location referred to is the strip of land running from N. Main street, to the water works supply basin and pump houses. Take a strip of land, say one-half mile wide, reaching from the railroad south (where it could be obtained), and about one mile in length—we believe that would cover the desirable grounds.
The land could be purchased at a reasonable figure as it is valueless for agricultural purposes, because of its being so broken, and its beauties, with very little outlay could be made to equal anything of the kind, in Michigan at least.
When the Cornwell Bros. complete their new mill dam there will be a lake here of large dimensions for a park, with a good bottom, which with little labor could be made navigable for small sail and other boats all over its surface. The water will be raised twelve feet, and a lake a mile or more long, and varying in width will be constructed. A grand course for boating will be made here, and for those loving aquatic sports a resort will be established.
Another thing to be considered is the fact that a magnificent road bed runs along the banks of this lake and river its entire length, being nothing more or less than the old railroad road bed. To make this all that would be desirable would cost comparatively little. It could be widened out and gravelled and make such a drive as is not to be found anywhere herabouts.
Then on top of the hill another drive could be constructed from which some of the handsomest glimpses of landscape to be seen in Michigan is to be viewed.
Cascades and other glens, through which flow rivulets could be made grand parts of this beautiful spot of earth.
There are other things about this stretch of hill, valley, glen and river that commends it as a splendid site for a park. But the despoiler is rapidly at work, and in a few years these hillsides will be stripped of their trees and their beauty, which would require years and years to bring about again.
But the expense? Yes, the expense would be something. Every city that has a park has to pay for it. But no city could have a handsomer one and at so little expense. Then, too, the expense would not fall upon the people in any one year. It would be spread over many years, and be gradually built. The first thing to do would be to secure the land, stop the destruction of the forests. After which the drives should be built and the other improvements made as necessity demanded, or finances would allow.
Ann Arbor expends annually from $8,000 to $15,000, and of this amount $10,000 is paid by the liquor tax. The estimates for the city of Kalamazoo, which has always been considered one of the most economical in the state—so much so that a city charter and government was procured only two years ago—amount this year to upwards of $111,000. It will be seen that Ann Arbor has yet to experience her first symptom of taxation.
Of course, this is simply a suggestion. But if Ann Arbor really wants a park, here's the location. Ann Arbor will be particularly benefited by the location either, so that no class of property holders need be jealous of another class in different sections of the city. And still, the objection could not be made that it is too far away.
Services will be renewed in the Presbyterian Church next Sunday evening.
Geo. Miller, the mason, fell a short distance from the Catholic school building and broke his arm.
Pipe mains for the water works have arrived in sufficient quantities to warrant the further laying of the same, and Hutzel & Co. will get their forces together and commence business again next Monday.
At the pioneer meeting to be held at the residence of Henry D. Platt, in Pittsfield, next week Wednesday, Hon. Thos. W. Moore, of Adrian, is to deliver the address. Everybody invited, and nearly everybody expects to go.
The annual meeting of Zion's Lutheran Church was held Monday evening, and the following officers were elected: Deacon—Christian Mack; Trustees—John Walz (one year to fill vacancy), Henry Waesch and Frederick Schmidt (each three years).
The revised Northville Record, under the supervision of E. Roscoe Reed, formerly of the Maple Rapids Dispatch, comes to hand, and is a creditable sheet. It is to be hoped that Mr. Reed, who is a good newspaper man (and a former Ann Arbor boy), will meet with success.
Dr. Stowell reports a very successful meeting of the American Society of Microscopists at their annual meeting at Cleveland, last week. Over 50 new members joined the association. There were nearly 200 members in attendance. The doctor expects to return to Potoskey next week.
Last spring Roswell Waterman brought home from the N. O. Exposition some kernels of white corn, which he requested his neighbor Clark to plant, placing one kernel in a hill. He did so, and from seven kernels he has now growing 30 large corn stalks, some of them eight feet high.
Mr. Allaby, on Washington St., has put down an excellent concrete walk in front of his residence. Now, if those horrible brick walks on that street could be taken up and replaced with concrete their owners would receive the warmest thanks of the numerous citizens who travel on that popular thoroughfare.
In several places in the state they are raising funds for the purpose of erecting monuments to the memory of Gen. Grant. If the people of Ann Arbor and vicinity will take the matter up they might erect on the court house lawn such a memorial tablet, as would at the same time do honor to the people, and be an ornament to the grounds.

JOHN KECK & CO.,
CARPETS, CARPETS, CARPETS,
RUGS, MATTINGS, ETC.
Being well aware last Spring that carpets would advance in prices during the summer [which has already been the case] we bought a very large stock that we might be in shape to meet the large demand usually in this town during the months of July, August and Sept., and we say, notwithstanding the advance we will for the present sell all goods in our carpet department at old prices. We advise all who intend buying carpets this fall to avail themselves of this offer.
OUR STOCK OF GENERAL
DRY GOODS
will be still offered at our usual very low prices.
A word to the wise is sufficient.
RESPECTFULLY, WINES & WORDEN.
CARPETS!
We have bought an unusually large stock of Carpets for this fall's trade in order to get the discount that will enable us to give our customers the new goods at the old low prices.
We know our friends will appreciate this effort to give them the newest and choicest styles at the prices of old goods.
Carpets are arriving daily—Make your selections early and get the cream.
More of those $25.00 American Mahogany Chamber Sets will be shown in a few days.
