Dated, July 1, 1885.

Friends of The Courier, who have business at the Probate Court, will please request Judge Harrison to send their printing to this office.

LOCAL.

These days are the shortest of the year.
Lyman D. James pays a tax of $509 instead of $234 as stated last week.

Judge Wm. Newton, of Flint, is in the city, holding court for Judge Joslyn.

It is expected that Bishop Gillespie will occupy the pulpit of St. Andrew's church next Sunday.

Two new telephones, Cozens & Hall,
No. 115, and Cornwell's new pulp mill, No. 67. Hello! there!

Ann Arbor lodge A. O. U. W. No. 27, celebrated its eighth anniversary last evening by a pleasant social time.

"Bill" Johnson, a colored man who has been well known by residents here for many years, died Saturday last, and was buried Monday.

Next Sunday there will be services, music, etc., appropriate to the Christmas time at the Unitarian church. No services in the evening.

The road to happiness these days, most any of our merchants will tell you, lies in having a full purse and a liberal Christmas disposition.

There are 375 dozen handkerchiefs in the south shop window of D. F. Schaller's store. Think of the tears and—no forth, that will be dried by them.

Addison Fletcher, one of Ypsilanti's prominent citizens, died Saturday last quite suddenly, aged 75 years. He had been a resident of Ypsilanti 21 years, and of Michigan 49 years.

Geo. W. Colgrove, for the past dozen years a resident of Freeport, Ill., and formerly in business in this city, has moved back here, and is living in the old Root place, on Spring st.

The banquet given by Messrs. Goodhue & Birnie (the Ann Arbor Water Co.) to the common council at the Cook house last evening, is said to have been a very fine affair by those who attended.

W. A. Millard, of Ann Arbor town, died Friday night last, after an illness of about six weeks. He had injured one of his hands, and in the process of healing gangrene set in and proved fatal.

An amusing answer was given in Justice Clark's court the other day by a witness. A lady who was 40 years old, if a day, was asked by the attorney how old she was. She answered—"I am 27, standard time."

The boys who make a practice of coasting on the sidewalks are a bigger nuisance by far than those with velocipedes ever thought of being. These boys are lawless, impudent and saucy, and ought to have their sport cut off.

A pair of blankets, valued at $12, stolen from Geo. Denner's place, in Northfield Saturday night, were recovered and the alleged thief, a colored man named Bibbins, arrested. Being permitted to go free on his own recognizance, he failed to appear and answer to the charges.

The new pulp mill of Cornwell Bros., just west of the city, is now nearly completed, the entire outfit, buildings, dam, machinery, etc., costing $21,000 and upwards. It will start up next month, it is expected, and ten hands will be employed. This makes seven men in these Bros. have erected on the Huron river.

Thursday night last the T. A. A. & N.
M. R. R. Co. met with a serious loss by the burning of their station, engine house and shops, and the partial destruction of two engines and a passenger coach, etc., located at Manhattan Junction, a couple of miles or so this side of Toledo. The company place the loss at about $10,000 with no insurance.

This evening at the residence of the bride's parents, on W. Second street, Mr.
Fred Schultz and Miss Sophia Dietz were being united in the holy bonds of mari-mony. The young couple start off on the journey of life with brilliant prospects and many friends to wish them God speed. May they live to a good old age, and be useful members of society.

The Ann Arbor Old Fellows, Washtenaw lodge No. 9, and Otsego, No. 295—have sent out invitations for an entertainment to be given at Hangersterfer's hall Thursday evening, Dec. 17. After the entertainment there will be refreshments and dancing. As the L. O. O. F. boys are noted for success in all their undertakings, an unusually brilliant time is anticipated.

Last Thursday morning the batch of young criminals who had pleaded guilty were brought up in court and sentenced by Judge Joslyn. Fred Foley, the leader of the gang of sneak thieves who have been working the city for the past several months, received a sentence of seven years at Ionia, his youth preventing his being sent to Jackson. The full sentence he could have received was 15 years, and the feeling in this community would have upheld the Judge in imposing the extreme penalty of the law. An accomplice, Wm. Kison, received three years at Ionia. These two sentences have probably broken up the sneak thieving operations and petty larceny which has been so prevalent in this city and which for so long a time baffled the officers of the law in ferreting out. Fred Couillard, the Frank Keller, two Ypsilanti youths who stole a lot of furs in that city and brought them up here and sold them, were sentenced. Couillard received a term at Ionia, and Keller to 30 days in jail. Orlando Boyer, charged with theft received one year at Ionia. They were all taken to their destination the same day by Sheriff Welch.

Wm. F. Lodohe bought five full size city lots in the 5th ward Saturday, for $200, on speculation.

Rev. J. F. Davidson, one of the oldest Methodist preachers in the state, died in Fenton Monday morning.

The brokerage firm of Everts, Williams & Co., has changed hands, and is now known as J. H. Cook & Co.

Fred Staebler returned from Buffalo Sunday, where he had been successful in disposing of several car loads of fat sheep.

About 50 couples attended the K. T. social and dance at the masonic temple last evening, and the occasion was highly enjoyable.

From appearances this a. m., the water works banquet to the council yesterday p. m. was served with something besides water.

In the suit of Wm. Burke against the city of Ann Arbor, a verdict, substantially, of no cause of action, was rendered to-day in the circuit court.

Mrs. O. R. L. Crozier is to address the temperance meeting at the old Baptist church Sunday p. m. at 3 o'clock, subject:
"Fanaticism in Life and Song."

The next county fair will be held on the week succeeding the State fair, commencing on Tuesday. That move on the part of the society is a commendable one.

By reason of the loss of valuable papers, taken from the Recorder's office and never returned, it has cost the city $248.80 to obtain a re-survey of the 2d ward.

Geo. Clarken arraigned before Justice Brennan last Monday for keeping his saloon open after legal hours, plead not guilty, and had the case adjourned for two weeks.

Last Friday Wm. Frank was arrested for keeping his saloon open after hours, plead guilty, was fined $25 and costs, $3.25, which he paid. The jail sentence was remitted.

It might be well for those who make a practice of hitching their horses to shade trees, to remember that the law says that any person using a shade tree for hitching post may be fined $10 therefor.

According to astronomers the famous Star of Bethlehem is liable to flash its light upon the world at any moment. It will appear in the constellation of Cassiopea in the northern heavens. Keep your eye out for it.

Railroad Commissioner McPherson has earned the everlasting gratitude of this section of Michigan, and the United States in general, by recommending in his annual report that the Michigan Central R. R. erect a new depot in this place.

The annual dinner given by the New England society occurs this year at the M. E. church, on Tuesday Dec. 22, at 7 1/2 p. m. The supper will be under the direction of the ladies of the M. E. church, toasts, responses, etc., by good speakers.

And now the exuberant joy of the average boy wells up in his bosom and comes screaming out of his mouth. No more school for two weeks, you know.
The holiday vacation for the public schools commences Saturday and continues until January 5th.

Boys, when you are inclined to be reckless in the use of slugs, etc., remember that there is a reward of $30 for the arrest and conviction of any one for breaking window lights, or in any other way destroying property. "The better you look a leetle odd."

R. D. Giles, brother of the Misses E.
D. and L. D. Giles, of this city, and he himself a former Ann Arbor resident, has invented a car compeller very simple in design but one of the most effective yet produced. It was tried with success the other day on the D. & G. H. & M. road.

There are several places about the city that can only be made passable for foot passengers by the walks being cleared by the city itself—Hawver square for instance, and several vacant lots. It is the opinion of many that the city should have snow plows clear all the walks.

A family named Thomas, in an adjoining town, have a new boy babe that they propose naming after the late vice president, but they don't like the idea of repeating the name Thomas. Easily obviated. Just reverse the late vice president's name, thus: Hendricks Andrew Thomas, and then the boy will always carry his H. A. T. with him.

The person who couldn't be suited last night in the way of entertainments was hard to suit. The K. T. social and dance at Masonic temple; anniversary of lodge No. 27, A. O. U. W. at their hall; pronouncing contest at University hall; banquet to common council at Cook's hotel; and the annual dinner of the New England society at the rink, etc., etc.

The re-survey of the 2d ward places the residents and property owners there in an enviable position as far as survey is concerned. It often happens that lot owners want a survey made and their lines established. This can be done now for from $1.50 to $3.00 per lot, while in other wards not so fortunate, the price will be from two or three to ten times that amount per lot.

The first reception and entertainment given under the auspices of the Cocker League at the M. E. Church lecture Monday evening was a decided success, and was witnessed by a very large congregation. The singing of Miss Winchell was pronounced to be of her very best; Mrs. Hall's playing excellent, and Prof. Trueblood's readings were highly enjoyable. The league received an addition of 145 names after the exercises were over.

Prominent churchmen of the Episcopal faith have been addressed in a circular by Bishop Harris recently, outlining the plan which has been conceived for establishing in this city an Episcopal or Guild Hall, the same to have an endowment of three trusteeships at $10,000 each. The sum of $15,000 a building has already been subscribed. The plan is one that has been maturing for some little time, and is richly deserving of success.

The next meeting of the Amphitryonic Circle will be held at the residence of Miss Hill, No. 27 Liberty st., Monday evening Dec. 21st. The evening's services will consist of: Roll call; Quotations concerning Christmas; a Talk on Current Events; Music; a paper upon the "History and Description of the Vatican," by Miss Watts; Chautauqua text book No.
16, pp. 13-23; an essay upon the "Life and Times of Nero," by Mr. Kern; Reading of a Selection by Miss Payne; after which the business meeting of the club will be held.

Wm. Baumgartner, a hard working German of this city, was struck by the pilot of a T. A. A. & N. M. train Thursday evening last and quite seriously injured, having one leg broken in two places and otherwise bruised. He had been taking a little too much beer that day, and was known to have been in a saloon in this city at a little after 10 o'clock that evening. How he could possibly have reached the place where he was struck by the cars in so short a time, in the condition he was in, is a mystery that is puzzling some. A small sum of money that he had on his person is also missing.

is confident of beating that next spring.

He has a wiry, well knit frame of great in height, he rides a 5 foot 10 inch wheel.

He is on his way to New Orleans as agent

UNIVERSITY ITEMS.

All departments of the university close Friday for the holidays.

This university boasts of 18 active wide awake secret societies.

club courts have decided to hold meetings.
The December issue of the Microscope is one of far more than ordinary interest.

Prof. Wells has been invited and consented to sign the law graduates' sheepskins.

for Puget Sound, to be absent about three weeks.

Phi Gamma Delta is the name of a new Greek letter secret society established at the U. of M.

A. L. Noble will furnish the freshmen their mortar boards to be delivered after the holidays.

The University hospital is crowded full, and patients have been obliged to seek other quarters.

Lecture on temperance by Hon. Thos.
M. Cooley, to be given in the chapel is announced for to-night.

field retire.

start a new chapter at the Ohio State Uni-seal brown with tassels of golden yellow.

The many friends of Prof. Morris in this city will be rejoiced to learn that he has declined the Chair of Mental Philosophy tendered him by the authorities of Cornell, at a temptingly large salary.

The Adrian Record has these kindly words for the U. of M.: "The expenses of Yale college exceeded the receipts last year by $11,531. It is well known in educational circles that Yale has been in financial difficulties for the past few years.

The secretary of the University Dramatic Club recently wrote to Lawrence Barrett requesting an address upon acting and elocution, permitting Mr. Barrett to come before the University.

In case Mr. Barrett can come, arrangements will be made for the lecture in the afternoon, to which no admission will be charged, similar to the arrangements made at Harvard when Irving spoke to the students—The Chronicle.

The lecture of Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage at university hall last Friday evening was a pleasing one, and was listened to by an immense audience. The reverend gentleman is "werry peccoliar," as Sam Weller would say. His gestures smack of the stage, his voice is of the metallic order but yet every word he utters can be distinctly understood by the audience. His stories sometimes verge too near profanity to come from the lips of a minister of the gospel, and have a tendency to make the people lose the respect they should always possess for that class of individuals.

But nevertheless some portions of the lecture were fine, and taken as a whole it was pleasing enough to make few if any regret the half dollar they paid to hear it.

The Chronicle will be out to-morrow with one of the finest numbers that has ever been published at the University.
It will contain about fifty pages, and articles from some of the best writers among the professors, alumni and students will be presented. Among others, we might mention valuable and entertaining papers by Professors D'Ooge, Thomas, Winchell, Harrington, DePont, Steele, M. E. Cooley, Mr. Walter Miller,
'84 and Mr. Shlirafy, one of the Japanese students now in attendance on the University. Mr. Fred W. Stevens has made some very fine full-page cuts for the issue.
Especially worthy of mention is the elegant picture of President C. K. Adams, which forms the frontispiece. Buy one of them and judge for yourself.

The novelty of a pronouncing contest attracted an audience in University Hall last night. Twenty-four picked men from the literary department were pitted against an equal number from the professional schools. Prof. Trueblood gave the words by spelling them, while Pres.
Angell acted as Judge, with Profs. Dem-mon and Rogers as referees. As the words came out the two sides were rapidly decreased in number, but the professionals wilted more readily than their opponents, until Messrs. Hunsberger and Pond found themselves standing opposed to about a third of the other side. They finally dropped out, and the victorious list had it out between themselves. The last man, Mr. Newcomer, appropriately closed his efforts with the word "Hinks," whereupon he was presented with a handsome volume of Scott's works.

High School Notes.

The series of minor examinations will commence shortly after vacation.

All books should be returned to the library or "renewed" before Friday noon,

Some of the students will be excused tomorrow in order that they may reach their homes before Sunday.

The young people's Christian association meeting will be held at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon instead of Friday.

In order to make more sitting room for the high school students and to allow some of the 8th grade to attend the chapel exercises, the folding doors separating the chapel from the grammar department room, was opened last Tuesday and will be hereafter.

Washtenaw Agricultural and Horti-

The annual meeting of the Washtenaw County Agricultural and Horticultural Society took place Tuesday, at the agricultural room in the court house basement. In the forenoon the attendance was limited and but little business transacted.

Prof. E. B. Hall presented some changes which it was desirable should be made in the premium lists, and Geo. E.
Sperry entered complaint about an award of premiums, which was ordered corrected.

be to cut and slash we must of course lead the procession.
