The democrats of the country must have been in a state of "incoherent desultory" as it were, Nov. 9d.

The talk will keep rolling until November, 1888, and will roll a republican president into the White House.

A Tennessee court has held that an agnostic is not competent to testify, and an appeal has been taken to the supreme court.

Henry George is already looming up as a presidential candidate for the labor party in 1888. Henry would make the old parties howl, by George.

Will Don M. still retain the scepter of power in Michigan? That's the all important political question among democratic politicians.

Don M. Dickinson should write another letter declining to be a candidate for U. S. Senator! Put in a "silver gray" by all means.

President Cleveland is credited with "feeling well" over the elections. Why not? They were the best elections we have had in a long time.

Wm. R. Morrison, of Illinois, the great horizontal tariff tucker has been defeated, and will not work for the English monopolists in the next house of representatives.

Let's see! There was a fellow named Shank said something in the early part of the campaign. And also another fellow, named Free Este, wrote a letter, we believe!

The following compliment comes from the Detroit Tribune: The hero of the second congressional district is Capt. E. P. Allen. Reward cometh to him who patiently endureth.

Much credit for the good political work done in this county before election must be accorded to Mr. W. M. Osband, of Ypsilanti, who did good organizing as chairman of the County Committee.

The greatest surprise party was the result down in "Old Virginia." To elect six republican congressmen and carry the state by 15,000 majority was a proud record. In West Virginia, too, the republicans gain three congressmen.

The Detroit Tribune: "Tuesday's vote shows that the third party's new accessions do not come very largely from the republican party. The third party folks have found out that churning republicans does not bring prohibition butter."

To show the popularity of newspaper men, when they do get a chance, Gil Osmond, for Secretary of State, receives the highest majority of any candidate on the state ticket, and O'Donnell, for congress in the 3d district was elected by 4,706 majority.

Several careless fellows who wagged their money on the strength of the Detroit Free Press' assertions that Yaple was elected, are swearing mad. Moral: Never believe the Free Press under roosters, cannon and big display type announce the result!

He didn't want to be a senator himself, but wanted to say who should be senator. Like Napoleon, he aspired to be a great dictator, and like Napoleon, he met his Waterloo. Yes, our Don resembles the great exile of St. Helena in a thousand different ways," so to speak.

Wherever the third party has gained votes this year it was at the expense of the democratic party. When the County Committee predicted this before election it was proved at. But the result all over the state has proven the prediction a correct one. The democratic papers will be careful hereafter about prohibition taffy.

The executive committee of the Paris exhibition has granted $,500,000 francs with which to construct a tower 984 feet high. The United States will not be at the top much longer, it will be observed. Wonder if Don Dickinson, with a powerful glass, could see anything of his lost hopes from the top of that tower?

Alderman Kearns, of the 3d ward, was in the battle of Cedar Run in the Shenandoah Valley, to which Gen. Sheridan made his famous ride. He tells us that out of 60 cannon captured in that engagement there were bright, new guns, of English make, which had been run in by the English through the blockade to help the south break up this nation. That fact made a great impression upon his mind of England's designs upon America, and when he sees people advocating free trade to-day, in the Shenandoah valley, and fights against it as he did against English aid in the days of the rebellion.

The liberality of Methodists in their expenditure for religious work has long been well known; but in this year of grace this great body of earnest Christians has surpassed all its previous efforts. The task set in 1885 was to raise a million dollars for missions for 1887, and for every year thereafter. To collect this vast sum was a tremendous undertaking, but it has been splendidly accomplished. It is true that the interest which a Church shows in missionary work is a fair measure of the Christian life of its members, the Methodists of America have reason for devout thankfulness to-day.

A MARTYR.

We have a martyr—a self confessed martyr, a regular male Joan de Arc, a noble John Huss. He lives in Ypsilanti. His name is Pattison. He ran for state senator on the prohibition ticket. He didn't get elected. He didn't even run up to his fondly anticipated expectations. He didn't revolutionize the county and country by his wonderful arguments in his paper. He didn't smash the republican party by his anathemas, invectives, and false assertions. In fact he didn't accomplish much of anything. Consequently he was mad. Mad all through, from his big toe nail, clear up through his gizzard to the cow-lick on the right side of his occiput. Last Wednesday night the republicans held a jollification meeting at the rink in Ypsilanti. It was a big meeting. Very jolly people were present, confined to no political party, but consisting of republican, democrat, and prohibitionist, men and women. He wasn't there. The noise of the jolly coming to his generous aural appendage, operated on his mental facilities as doth a red rag upon the pugilistic propensities of a male bovine. He went home and raved of the ignorance, perversity and political blindness of the people.

About an hour or so after the great jollification was over a lot of boys gathered and built a bonfire. As the fire began to wane the boys thought to make a night of it by "serenading" prominent people, and making night hideous, as boys are wont to do—which any resident of a college town can testify. In their rounds these young kids happened to pass the house of the self-martyr, Pattison. He was home. The crowd gave three groans for the prohibition party. The martyr awoke, and gleefully clapped his hands. Then three groans were given for Pattison himself. This caused him to wring his hands with delight, for wasn't there a chance to show persecution? Then one of the boys in the crowd threw a cut in the yard, and boy fashion, he threw an old pan at the fellow, but not being a member of a bass ball club, and being built somewhat on the girl plan, he didn't hit the cat, but the pan slipped and broke two ten cent lights of glass in a basement window. This was glorious! This silly boy, who couldn't hit a cat, had made a martyr! In Pattison's frenzy of delight, it is reported, that another light of glass was broken from the inside of the house to add to the martyrdom.

The unfortunate pan slinger immediately realized his situation, and at once wrote a note of apology and enclosed enough money to pay for the glass broken several times over. The martyr has got the money yet—and the note also.

But the grand opportunity was not to be lost. Not much. A son of the martyr is correspondent of the Detroit Free Press. In that wonderfully truthful (?) sheet appeared the next morning a blood-curdling account of how the great crowd went directly from "Allen's jollification meeting" and mobbed Pattison's residence, with all the necessary adjectives to make it fearful to contemplate.

Then the martyr, with the money to pay for the broken glass in his pocket, with the knowledge of who broke the glass in his head, gets out from his own office handbills offering $25 reward for evidence convicting the depredators.

Then he comes out in his own paper with a column and a half article telling of his persecutions and martyrdom, and posing before the people as a second St. Bartholomew or something of that sort!

In all seriousness and candor the affair was not to be depreciated. In this free country one has got a right to believe and to express his opinions, and even of boys, to expose their disapproval by groans, etc., to be condemned by all good citizens.

The breaking of the two lights of glass, we are informed by a reputable gentleman, the boys claim to have been accidental, and how the third light was broken no one outside the house appears to know. The affair reflects no credit upon the participants, but to attempt to pose as a persecuted martyr on account of it is sublimely ridiculous, and to attempt to besmirch Capt. Allen and his friends, who were as innocent of it as Pattison himself, is a tricker dirtier than the action of the rattle-headed boys, for they did not realize the enormity of their crime while Pattison's years are sufficient to bar him from pleading the baby act.

The course of the Commercial in the past campaign was very exasperating to republicans, that is true; it was very bitter, very vindictive, and in many instances much deserving of the crushing rebuke given it by the people at the polls Nov. 9d, was sufficient to satisfy all of its opponents, no matter how wrought up they may have been.

The attempt of Mr. Pattison to build himself up on the actions of a few harem-scuram boys; to use their acts to kill off good people with; to make a mountain out of a mole hill, will do him no good; but react against him.

We beg pardon of our readers for the length of this article, but "martyrs" are not subjects found every day for articles.

Last week we published an item to the effect that George Frank Robinson had been defeated for prosecuting attorney of Wayne county. This week, we must confess, we feel a trifle gratified by saying that the official returns give him about 250 majority. Mr. Wilcox, his republican opponent is as fine a gentleman as Wayne county possesses, but had he been elected, his hands would have been tied in a way that they ought not to have been. Mr. Robinson, we understand, is the first prosecuting attorney of Wayne county who has ever enforced the law relative to the state tax on saloons, and because of doing his duty the saloon men banded together to defeat him. Considering that fact, the sympathy of the best portion of the people is with Mr. Robinson. This law has been enforced every where in the state except in Detroit, and there is no reason why the saloon-keepers of that city should be favored any more than their country contemporaries.

Grover has made up his mind that he really would be pleased to accept a second term. At least a Washington special to the Boston Post says President Cleveland recently said to a prominent New York politician: "When I first came to Washington as President I must confess that I did not like the duties of my office, and had before that made up my mind that one term was all I wanted under any consideration, but now I am so well satisfied that I would like to secure a re-nomination."

Second crop of red raspberries for sale on the market last Friday.

Common Council Proceedings.

Monday evening the council held its adjourned regular session, with nearly a full board, Aid. Keating being the only absentee.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS. OF N. G. Butts, Olivia B. Hall and ten others, asking for a street lamp at the intersection of Volland and 14th street. Referred to Street Lighting Committee.

Byron Green asking permission to use a portion of Fourth street with building material. Referred to Street Committee with power to act.

The bond of the Ann Arbor Van de Poel Light and Power Company, in the sum of $5000, was received and accepted.

Ald. Allmendinger, from the committee on finance, reported the following expenditures for the month:

A bill of J. Hanser, $8.00 for sprinkling the court house lawn was presented and allowed. Also a bill of Sheehan & Co., $4.20, for docket furnished Justice Pond; and one of Andrews & Witherby, $6.50, for docket furnished W. J. Clark. Over these two latter bills there had been considerable question. But as these dockets are the property of the city, there seemed to be no doubt of the city's liability in paying for them.

The inspectors and clerks of election were also allowed their usual amounts.

The case of the rag peddlers was then brought up, and their offer of $15.00 per year license was rejected, and the city marshal was instructed to enforce the ordinance relative to peddlers in their case, though the matter was subject to considerable discussion.

An amendment to the original resolution offered by Aid. Poland, reducing the license to $1 per day, was lost by an aye and nay vote, 5 to 8.

Aid. Poland, from the special street railway committee, reported in favor of granting the franchise, after certain alterations had been made in the proposed ordinance. A copy of the ordinance with the alterations made therein not being present, the matter was referred back to the committee together with the city attorney with a request to report at a special meeting of the council to be held within one week.

The Recorder from the special committee to examine the Sausenger's accounts reported that the committee had found said accounts all correct, and recommended that the Recorder be authorized to draw a warrant for $500.00 in accordance with a previous resolution of the council. Carried.

P. McKernan in behalf of his next friend, T. L. Hewitt, presented the claim of said Hewitt for $25 against the city for damages caused by the tearing down of his stand on July 4th last.

Aid. Allmendinger moved that the street committee, to whom this claim had been referred some time since, be instructed to report upon the same this evening. After a few minutes' intermission Aid. Kearns, from general street committee reported against allowing the claim.

Which report was adopted.

Aid. Kearns from the same committee also reported in favor of the removal of all stands from the streets at once.

After considerable discussion it was moved by Aid. Kearns that the matter be referred to a special committee of three.

Carried, and the Mayor appointed the Recorder, City Attorney Kinzie and Aid. Kearns as such committee. This committee made a majority and minority report verbally, at once. The majority favoring the retaining of the two stands now in the city, the minority against it.

The majority report was rejected by the following vote: Yes—Aids. Swift, Poland, Mayor and Recorder. Nays—Aids. Herz, Allmendinger, Robinson, Wals, Kearns, Ward, Martin, and Steere.

The report of the street committee was then adopted.

Ald. Steere moved that the Italians own the stand and be given one month's notice of the action of this council, that they may make such arrangements as they may deem best. Carried.

Aid. Allmendinger moved that the street lighting committee be instructed to designate the places where the electric lights shall be located.

A proposition to have a plan adopted by the committee, and reported to the council for approval was rejected.

The regular monthly report of City Treasurer Sorg showed the following balance on hand:

City Marshal Siple reported the following expenditures of the poor fund for the month:

Also reported the arrest of five persons during the month for various causes. Council then adjourned.

A. L. Noble has in his store telephone No. 112.

Many of the maples and birches that had started on a second crop, have concluded to wait until next spring now.

A single bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla will establish the merits of this medicine as a blood purifier. Many thousands of people are yearly cured of chronic diseases by the faithful use of this remedy. It is unequalled for the cure of scrofula.

Most Excellent. J. J. New Books. GIOVANNI DUPRE, by Henry Simmons Frieze. With two Dialogues on Art, from the Italian of Augusto Conti. New York: Scribner & Welford.

Although bearing an imprint of a New York house this book was printed in London, and is a handsome specimen of typographic art, though not superior to the better class of American printed books.

The impetus given the subject of art in our university has doubtless carried forth this pleasing book from the pen of Prof. Frieze, and the entertaining manner he has assumed in his narration, will have a refreshing tendency to lead many now heretofore especially interested to enter upon the alluring paths of the author's triumphs in the past, and speculate as to the future.

There is a no more enticing field than art, and to look over the handsome illustrations of Dupre's masterpieces, in this book, and read how their creator arose from comparative poverty and obscurity to the high position he now holds as one of the foremost of Italian artists seems almost like a fairy story. The book closes with two dialogues from the Italian of Augusto Conti, upon thoughts of Art, from Dialogue second we quote a few passages:

Amico.—I have looked again and again at your Pietà and your Christus Rex, and I could not take my eyes from them. How did you learn, my Dupre, to invent such beautiful things?

Dupre.—And who should know, then? Dupre.—Grant that they are beautiful, as you say; and as I desired them to be, I hope they are; yet, I assure you, the secret of my success I know only in part; in great part I do not understand it.

Amico.—How is that?

Dupre.—I know perfectly well the principles that guide me, and the methods of my art; but how certain thoughts and their images arise in my mind, this to me is a mystery; just as no one can tell, as I think, the inner virtue that causes the flowers of the wild plum to burst forth in such beauty. I will add also, that it would be impossible for me, perhaps, to try, for you, to draw the proper line between that which is supplied by art. At any rate it seems to me that nature without art would remain dry and thorny, like the plum-tree without spring-time.

Amico.—I think so too. Thus, the water-springs well up from the ground, but it is the sun that causes the canals through which they irrigate the lands. But I was speaking of those beautiful Madonnas. Oh! what holy sorrow in that expression of your face upon the knees, and holding upon the other the body of Christ just lifted down from the cross; she clasps Him with a mother's love; just as you see her face upon His head, while in her eyes and lips there is an expression of longing, as if she would fain bring Him back to life. And it is this, giving up to poisonous vapors the sickle, I have always before my eyes. Did you find any living model for this rare perfection?

Dupre.—Beautiful, of gentle nature, and with no rude mind; he had a religious feeling, and when I gave him a moment for rest, he took up a book. But by a strange and sad fortune, just when I had come to the most beautiful part of the work, he died. It was extremely difficult for me to find any resembling him, and I was aided more by memory.

Dixon's "Carburet of Iron" Stove Polish was established in 1827, and is today as it was then the most and brightest in the market; a pure lustrous, giving off no poisonous vapors. The size is now doubled and cake weighs nearly half a pound but the quality and price remain the same. Ask your grocer for Dixon's big cake. 1817-1880

The first snow squall of the season came to us last Saturday and the night previous. Old probabilities had been making some serious errors on the weather recently. He better brush up a little.

Martin Clark is making a business trip to New York and Ohio in the interest of "The Physician and Surgeon."

Fred. Brown was taken before Justice Pruegoff Monday, for keeping open after hours Saturday night, plead guilty and paid $25 fine and $3.45 costs.

Rev. Theodore W. Haven, son of the late Bishop Haven, and remembered in this city, has accepted a call to the Liberal Congregational church, of Cliffondale, Mass.

Election Nov. 24, Thanksgiving Nov. 25th. Time enough between you see, so the defeated candidates may get over being mad about it, and thankful that they were defeated, anyway.

Fred. G. Schleicher and George Seiser were arrested Friday last, for violation of the city ordinance in laying a plank walk when the ordinance requires one of "The Physician and Surgeon."

The Thompson-Huston Co. have purchased for their plant in this city two boilers, one engine, 20 miles of wire, one ton guay wire, 6,000 feet of cable, 1,000 poles, etc. The entire amount of wire in the circuit will be upwards of 35 miles.

Those who buy of peddlers, should understand the quality of the goods they are purchasing or else they may be sold. For instance one of our sixth ward ladies found that her $7 rug was an exact copy of a rug sold by Wines & Worden and John Keck & Co., for $5.

Last Thursday J. H. Allmand gave us a full quart basket of red raspberries, and they were excellent berries, too, with a flavor very fine considering the time of year. This second crop is something wonderful for this climate. Elder Davis desires us to state that he was also favored with a basket of these berries.

A deacon of a neighboring church has a string of buttons half a yard long taken out of the contribution box within a few years. What business has the deacon with buttons? They were contributed for the heathen, and several scores of heathens have been obliged to hitch their suspenders with a shingle nail because of this embarrassing deacon.—Ex.

Dr. Ramsay lectured last Friday evening at Dexter before a large and delighted audience, his subject being "Sky Wonders." The lecture was under the auspices of the Methodist Society and a very handsome profit was realized from its avails. The lecture in its scope of thought and earnest manner of delivery was brilliant, and won golden opinions from all who heard it.

Dr. Ramsay is delivering a series of discourses upon "Creation." Next Sunday evening the subject will be "The Light of the Fourth Creative Day." In the morning his subject will be: "Sabbath Keeping." These sermons are very eloquent, and that they are appreciated by the public is shown by the fact that the seating capacity of the church is insufficient to accommodate those coming to hear.

The name of the Ann Arbor Van de Pool Electric Light and Power Co. has been changed to the Ann Arbor Thompson-Houston Electric Co., and A. L. Noble will be the resident stockholder and manager. The company has purchased that part of the old Well property laying south of Washington st., including the old brick building, and will locate their plant there. This will be an enterprise that will help build up and boom the city.

Dr. McLaughlin's little daughter, Winnie, came near meeting with a sad fate last Friday afternoon. In company with another little girl she was playing about the house, when in some manner her dress caught fire, from the grate, it is supposed. She went immediately to the kitchen where the girl, together with a man who was painting the house put out the flames, but not until the dress was burned nearly up, however; but a woollen skirt and woollen undershirt saved the little one's life. As it is she was considerably burned about the arms and on the back. It was a narrow escape for which the little one's parents are too thankful for any words to express.

The handsome new residence erected on State street, by Miss Morse, next door north of the Delta Tau Delta house, is receiving its finishing touches, and an excellent job has been done about the yards of the three dwellings of Mrs. Morse at this place, by that veteran landscape gardener, Wm. Acton.

Here is a hint to some of our "household auctioneers." Over 5,000 cheap pianos are worked off in New York and Boston every year at sales of household goods, and each one is advertised as "belonging to a lady who is obliged to dispose of this magnificent instrument on account of financial difficulties."

The Star Mountain Mining Co. held its annual meeting Monday afternoon, and chose the following directors: John J. Robison, Edward Duffy, Wm. W. Whedon and Geo. A. Douglas, Ann Arbor; W. F. On the 6th of November, 1886, ye local had growing in his garden rose and other geraniums that had been covered up only one night to protect them from the frost, and that several weeks since; but they were frozen up the morning of the 7th. So when the people tell you in three or four years from now, that "we never had such a beautiful fall as this," refer them to this item.

After spring comes again, and the electric light system gets in full force, we are liable to have wonderful things happen. A gentleman in Davenport, Iowa, whose residence is but 100 feet from an electric lamp tower, the light of which falls unobstructed upon his flower garden, says his lilies, which ordinarily bloom early in the daytime, open in the night, and that the morning-glories will unclose in the night a few minutes after the lower lights brighten the air.

In a meeting of the Washtenaw Lodge, No. 719, I. O. G. T., the following officers were duly installed for the ensuing term: C. T. George Scott, K. H. S.—Mrs. N. F. Hill, L. H. S.—Mrs. F. Morgan, V. C.—Wm. W. Camp, P. C. T.—Charles Camp.

The lodge meets Monday evenings at 7:30 o'clock. A sharper pretending to sell jewelry, give away money, etc., collected quite a crowd on the street last Monday night, and after "taking in" several who thought to beat him at his own game, attempted to slide out of town, but his horse seemed to understand the matter and balked when about a half a block away. The crowd surrounded the fellow, when he took to his heels, and by taking advantage of a rear door to the Cook house, got away peacefully. There was quite a crowd on the street but all were good natured, and the idea of dispersing them by throwing water from a hydrant upon them, as at one time suggested, was ill advised, and that more moderate counsels prevailed which was well, perhaps, for all concerned. Such fakirs are contemptible fellows, and this one got badly scared at last.

The Atlanta Constitution doesn't care who the Taylor brothers has been elected Governor of Tennessee, and draws the following moral from the campaign: "Bob and Al deserve all the applause they are getting. They have set a pattern that other politicians will follow, and opened a path that proves so unexpectedly pleasant that other politicians will walk therein. When it is accepted that every man does not become a scoundrel the moment he offers for office, we shall be able to induce better men to become candidates."

Next Friday, in University Hall, the Detroit Philharmonic club will give the first of the course of concerts offered by the University Musical Society. It is the first appearance of the club in this city, but is well known and rapidly growing into favor in Detroit, where it begins its second season under the most favorable prospects. Mr. L. F. Schultz who was for a time teacher of violin in the School of Music, is the energetic and able organizer of the club. The programme is made with regard to the pleasing qualities of the selections, and there will be, perhaps, a unique chance to hear the Violoncello, an instrument once popular and now seldom, if ever, heard. Mr. Walter Volghander, the viola of the club has made a special study of this instrument abroad, and has consented to play one selection on it. It has seven strings but under the finger board and bridge several other aris which are made to vibrate in harmony; the tones of the instrument are soft and sweet, and exceedingly pleasing to the ear. Besides the Violoncello there is an arrangement for a string quartet of Bach's "My Heart Everlasting," and a concerto for violin and piano, by Mr. Chopin and Miss Mary L. Wood. The season tickets for the four concerts are at the low price of $1.50, to be had at Oslus & Co. and Geo. Moore.

Prof. M. E. Putman and wife, professional chiropractors and manicure will be in the city a few days, having an office in the Unity block, Room 3, where they would be pleased to meet any desiring their services. Mrs. Putman pays especial attention to the treatment of ladies.

Consumption Cured. An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Yesterday morning death again entered the ranks of the student's circle and removed Mrs. Clara Damon, wife of W. E. Damon a junior student in the medical department last year, and the literary department this year. This young wife was only 20 years old and a bride of but three months.

At a prohibition meeting in Shiawassee county the night before election, the speaker made the statement that there were 14 saloons directly opposite the university at Ann Arbor and the state had repeatedly refused to have them moved. J. N. McBride, lit. '88 happened to be present and at the close of the meeting denounced the statement as false, and the meeting broke up in a jangle.

In all the reports given to the associated press, of the 25th anniversary of Harvard University, any reference to western universities is studiously avoided, while representatives of the eastern colleges are made conspicuous. For instance, President Angell is credited to Emmanuel College Cambridge, Eng. and Judge Cooley, on whom an honorary degree of LL. D. was conferred, is credited to Michigan, simply. Why the name of our university, and the names of other western universities and colleges are omitted, is a trifle singular. Couldn't be any jealousy of the west?

One invoice of books for the German-American Goethe Library has arrived, and another is expected in a few weeks. The fund now amounts in all to $1,347 but it is anticipated that large additions will be made to this during the coming winter. This will facilitate the study of German literature in the university wonderfully, and is an end much desired.

The editors of the Oracle to be issued by '89, offer some handsome prizes to be contested for by members of that class: The best class song set to music; the best humorous sketch not exceeding 1,500 words; the best story not more than 2,000 words; the best dramatic scene, and the best cartoon illustrative of college life, will each be rewarded handsomely, the judges being Prof. Walter, Pattengill and Demmon.

BACH & ABEL'S COLUMN.

The newspapers are full of wordy shop claims and noisy blasts of Commercial self-praise. But what catches the public first, last and all of the time are quality and prices.

These prices are OUR most effective arguments. They can't be duplicated. We have the Cloaks and will sell as we advertise.

Ladies' heavy Boucle Coats in Black, Brown, Cardinal and Navy Blue, $4.50, and $5.00.

Heavy Boucle coats, edged with Astrachan, down front and on cuffs, $8 and $10.

Ladies' heavy Astrachan Coats, $10, $12 and 15.

Astrachan Boucle Wraps trimmed with 3-inch Russian Hair and 20 tails, $10.

Boucle Wraps, Black or Brown, trimmed with handsome gray fur, $10.

Wrap Jackets, long front, Frieze, uncut Velvet, deep fur and tails, $15.00. You would think them remarkable at $20.00.

20 Seal Plush Cloaks, quilted Satin Lining, 4 Seal Ornaments, $20, better than any $25.00 Plush elsewhere.

15 Seal Plush Cloaks, quilted Silk Lining, 4 Seal Ornaments, at $25, better than any plush elsewhere at $35.

50 Silk Circulars, at the very low price of $8, usual price $12.

Everybody concedes we are doing the business in the Cloak line. Everybody? Perhaps that is a little broad. We'll let it stand though with that.

Cloaks for Misses from 4 years to 20 years. We haven't said much this fall about our Misses' Cloaks, it is very difficult to describe them. We will simply state we have a complete assortment. All of the new styles and most of the new materials. (We came near saying all, but that couldn't be true.) Certainly as many as are to be found in anyone's assortment and a great range of prices. We doubt if many mothers will take the risk of making after seeing our prices. They are made with the view of discouraging such efforts. A great many think too, that they set and look better than most garments made at home. Good Misses' Cloaks from $2.50 up.

Statement of one of Michigan's Pioneers. Rheumatism, Mich., April 23, 1886. Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup Co., Jackson, Mich. Gentlemen—Tip Henry has finished taking the Rheumatic Syrup and the Plasters you sent him, and they have greatly benefited him. He sent an order to Messrs. James E. Jarvis & Co. yesterday for some more. Henry is an old man and very much respected, and we quote you in our own language: "I have never seen a man so well as I do now. I do not know how this medicine will act with you, but it is the only thing that I ever got that will help me. Before I commenced taking it I was a year I could not, when in bed, straighten my legs, nor neither for years could I lay on my back. Now I can straighten out my legs and lay my right on my back and enjoy a good night's sleep. I did not begin to realize much benefit until the second bottle was nearly used up, and the third one tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Statement of Z. W. Waldron & Co., Druggists. Rheumatism, Mich., May 3, 1886. Rheumatic Syrup Co., Jackson, Mich. Gentlemen—For some time past I have had occasion to use nearly all kinds of plasters and a great many of them. I want to say to you that in all of my experience I have never received such benefit and relief as I am now obtaining from the use of Hibbard's Rheumatic Plasters. My mother, a lady of 80 years of age, is also using the Rheumatic Plasters, and I can truly say that I do not recommend them to all as being the best plasters manufactured. Respectfully yours, Z. W. WALDRON & CO.

SUTTON.

Statement of a Bad Case of Rheumatism. Rheumatism, Mich., May 3, 1886. Gentlemen—It is with pleasure I write you in regard to your Rheumatic Syrup. I think my duty to let the public know what it has done for me. I have suffered two years with rheumatism in my hip. I have tried many liniments, but received no benefit from them. Having associated with a number who have been cured by your Rheumatic Syrup, I gave it a trial, and I know the Syrup will cure any case of Rheumatism if taken as directed, as hundreds will testify to in this immediate vicinity. I am gratefully yours, J. P. FOWLER, Justice of the Peace.

TO THE PUBLIC.

In having our special inducement sale we accomplished our object and sold a great many more goods than for years during the same number of weeks, and by so doing we were enabled to make some very large purchases at about our own price, which will allow us to continue the SPECIAL INDUCEMENT SALE until December 15. Nothing of the kind was ever known in Washtenaw County. But we are determined to divide with the farmer, laboring man and mechanic this year on account of the low price of wheat and wages. Remember this special sale will continue until Dec. 15. All Kinds of Gloves—black, white and colored, will be closed out—no room for them. Fine dress shirts $1.25, sold elsewhere for $2.00.
