The corrected time table of the M. C. R. R., which went into effect Nov. 14th, will be found in its proper place.

That light in the court house tower is a thing to be proud of—that is if you are not particular what you are proud over.

This evening at half past seven o'clock Miss Ida Clements will be married to Mr. Samuel E. Wheat at St. Andrew's church.

The Ann Arbor Water Company has extended a 4-inch main down W. Washington street to the new electric light company's works.

One of the old city councilmen tells us that many of the new electric light poles are being located in the center of the gutters. A thing, which if true should be changed.

Last Friday night an incipient fire was discovered and put out in the old blacksmith shop opposite Brush's lively stable, which in a few minutes more would have made things hot.

If some one desires to coin money this winter just let him establish a toboggan slide. The young folks would go wild over it and money would roll into the proprietor's pockets as his customers would slide giddily down the toboggan.

Eight million of umbrellas are made in this country every year. Half a million are imported from France. This makes about one umbrella to every seven persons. One person buys the umbrella; the other six steal it from him and use it.

The name of Old Santa Claus appears already in our exchanges. The youngsters are bound to be on time this year in their petitions to their good old patron Saint. And the merchants are likewise reminding the old fellow where to find the best goods.

Rev. Mr. Ohlinger, for sixteen years a missionary in China, preached in the German M. E. Church last Sunday morning. He intends to remain here in Ann Arbor the coming year for which time he has a vacation. Before coming here he made a tour of Europe.

While attempting to turn a stone over in his marble yard Saturday p. m. Sed James accidentally injured his left limb very seriously. The corner of the stone struck his limb just above the knee and forced the bone of the instep to his foot out of place. It was very painful, but he is doing as well as could be expected.

"American Resources and the American Exhibition in London," is the title of a pamphlet received from London, England, the contents being a reprint of an article appearing in the Westminster Review of October. It gives a thorough understanding of the American or United States exhibit at the coming great world's exhibition to be held in London next year.

When one old soldier receives news from another he has not heard of in years it makes him feel as if he had found a small fortune. On Monday last week C. B. Davidson received a letter from an old comrade, John B. Savage, of Co. I, 89th Ohio Infantry, whom he had not seen since 1864. They were then stationed in Cleveland at the University heights, and by an accident at that time Savage lost the use of one of his eyes for life.

Stone walks are becoming very popular in Ann Arbor. James & Barney have put down 9,544 feet of natural stone walk, and Anton Fiske has put down 1,000 feet of natural stone and 3,626 feet of artificial stone walk. This represents a good many places permanently repaired with a walk that never gets out of repair.

The longest stretch of stone walk in the city is from the north line of Prof. Frieze's residence on the east side of N. Ingalls st. to the south line of Mrs. Bird's house, a distance of about two blocks.

Concerning the recent 100-mile run of the Detroit club their report of a part of it in the L. A. W. Bulletin is as follows: "The route was from Detroit to Saline by way of Ann Arbor and return, with five miles ridden on the smooth, elegant streets of the last named place. At this beautiful little city the wheelmen were royally entertained by the A. A. Bicycle Club, who 'set-up' a dinner that was appreciated as only riders after a 90-mile ride can appreciate a spread. The Ann Arbor Club have an elegant club-room centrally located, and furnished with billiard table and everything that can tend to make a wheelman happy, and are growing rapidly."

A meeting was held at St. Andrew's church Monday evening, of some of the citizens of the city who were interested in the good morals, of the place, to take such measure as might be practical to establish a home, or place of entertainment for young people, to attract them from the streets evenings. After considerable discussion of the subject a committee was appointed consisting of Messrs. Earp, Neumann and Plesiedemann, Prof. Spaulding and Steere, John Moore, Col. Dean and G. Frank Altmendinger, to take the subject under advisement and report at meeting to be held next Monday. This is a most worthy object and these men should have the cordial and hearty support of the entire people of our city.

There is rejoicing at the house of Geo. Scott, caused by the advent of a son on the 23rd inst.

The old Weil property begins to look like business since the Thomson-Houston Electric Co. have taken hold of it.

Several people who drive about in the city complain about the holes left in the streets where service pipe has been put in.

Monday evening, Nov. 29, at the Unitarian church parlors, Thanksgiving social and supper, toasts and responses, college songs.

A. Eisele is to lay a stone walk on Spring St., on the same plan that a crazy quilt is built. It will be unique, to say the least.

Gustave Rochm was arrested Tuesday for keeping his saloon open Sundays, and will have his hearing next Tuesday before Justice Pond.

The P. O. was closed Monday, from 10 o'clock a. m. to 1 o'clock p. m., because of ex-President Arthur's funeral, by orders from Washington.

To-morrow the post-office will be open from 9 to 10 o'clock a. m., and from 6 to 7 p. m., giving the employes an opportunity to enjoy the day as well as other folks.

Alonzo A. Gregory, formerly of this city, now of Detroit, was married last Wednesday evening to Miss Amelia Wolfertz at the home of the bride's parents in Detroit.

A Union Thanksgiving service will be held at the M. E. Church to-morrow, Thursday, commencing at 10 1/2 o'clock local time. Rev. Dr. Haskell will preach the sermon.

Out of respect to the memory of ex-President Arthur, the flags of the city were kept at half-mast from the announcement of his death to his burial last Monday p. m.

The electric light pole holes are a trifle dangerous. We heard of a tall young lady falling into one the other night and vainly endeavoring to kick the bottom out of it was bruised considerably.

Annual meeting of the Washtenaw Pomological Society, December 4th, at 2 p. m. in basement of court house. Report of Delegates to the annual state meeting; Questions; exhibits of fruit and fruit preserves.

Prof. Wm. Osband of Ypsilanti and J. L. Gilbert of Chelsea, were in the city Thursday at the meeting of the County Republican committee. But little money was spent in the county this year but the bills are all paid.

News was received by telephone last Saturday of the death on the day previous of Benj. DeForest, of Climax, formerly a resident of this city, and brother of ex-Alderman A. G. DeForest. He leaves one daughter only.

John Pilsner having bought the old St. Thomas' school property on North st., is having the rear or wooden portion removed to W. Washington st. to be located upon the corner this year but the bills are all paid.

The Evening News Agency in this city has been sold by Mr. E. S. Crawford, to our popular young fellow townsmen, Will W. Werts; and the correspondence has been assumed by Mr. Crawford's colleagues engaging in other business, we understand, that will require all of his time and attention. The new agent is so well known to all our people that he needs no introduction from us.

This, Wednesday evening, at St. Andrew's church, at 7:30 o'clock, Samuel Edwin Wheat, of Leavenworth, Kan., reads to the altar Miss Ida, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Clements, of S. State st. A reception will be tendered the couple at the residence of the bride's parents from 8 to 11 o'clock, at which hour they take the train on the M. C. R. R. for their home in Kansas.

The marriage of Miss Stella Wagner, and Dr. T. W. Pierce, of Topeka, Kan., occurred this noon, at the residence of the bride's parents, Rev. W. H. Ryder, officiating. The affair was a very quiet one, only immediate relatives being invited. The couple leave on the evening train for their home in Topeka. Mr. Pierce is a graduate of the University, B. S. class of '85 and medical class of '85.

General Agent Tomlinson, of the Baltimore & Ohio, has appointed Mr. E. N. Kendall, traveling freight agent of that road, vice Mr. A. B. Law, resigned. Mr. Kendall has faithfully served the Baltimore & Ohio for over a year, and the promotion is well deserved. The appointment took place on November 1st, but Mr. Kendall was too modest to make it known. The fact, however, leaked out yesterday evening. Mr. Kendall is a young man, thoroughly conversant with every detail of railroad work, and capable in all respects of his position. The Commercial among them, are to-day congratulating him upon his success.—The oldest son of Mrs. A. J. Kendall of this city.

Among the handsome new residences erected in this city this year, is the house of J. T. Jacobs, at the corner where Monroe and Thompson sts. intersect Packard st. It is built of wood, of modern architecture, and has every modern convenience, such as dumb-walkers, electric bells, steam and hot air heating, gas water, etc. Messrs. Gates & Gates did the entire work on the building from the inside finishing, which is at the finest workmanship and in very handsome. Sycamore has been used throughout for the casing, base, etc., while the doors are of oak with sycamore panels. The front hall is a beauty, with its rich oak stairs, balustrade, etc. The caps for the newel posts are made of wood taken from the old jail—thoroughly seasoned. It would be a credit to any architect, to be able to do the house in a model, and excelled by few if any in the city. Although not fully completed, Mr. Jacobs is moving in. He will have a beautiful home.

The attention of the circuit court this week has been occupied by the case of the People vs. Chandler S. Wells, known as the "Milan murder case," the particulars of which appeared in these columns at the time the murder occurred. Congressmen-Elect E. P. Allen and J. Willard Babbit, of Ypsilanti, were for the defense, and Prosecuting Atty Norris was assisted by Hon. E. D. Kinne. The jury was composed of Latham Miller, Walter Webb, John W. Thompson, George Winslow, J. N. J. Foster, Steele Procter, Moses S. Hays, John Rose, Charles Dowd and Patrick McGuinness. The case has been watched with great interest, the court room being filled at every session of the court, many of the neighbors of the prisoner watching each new move and development in the case with interest. Yesterday afternoon the attorneys concluded their arguments, the case was given to the jury, who returned a verdict of guilty, only being out a few minutes. Judge Joslyn then passed sentence, "at hard labor for life in the state prison." A just verdict, a just sentence, and a promptitude that is commendable. More such results would lessen this species of crime.

A pronouncing contest of words found in medical literature was an entertaining feature of a recent meeting of the Halme-nar Society. Miss Wiswell of the freshman class was the winner of the contest. She is rightly named.

The arrangements for heating and ventilating the law lecture room are inadequate and it seems to be nobody's business to look after them, such as they are. As a result many of the students have taken bad colds.—Chronicle.

Mr. Hegler has put about $1,000 into the gymnasium recently, which has been expended in apparatus, furniture, etc. The gym is now in tip-top condition, and every student interested in its success ought to join. The expenses this year will be about $3,000.

Prof. I. N. Demmon undoubtedly has the rarest collection of books in the city. He is selling off some of the spare ones at the prices he paid for them, and as he is a skilled bibliophile many good chances are presented for obtaining rare volumes.

Mr. Wm. Walker, formerly of this city, gave a brief discourse at the Baptist church Sunday morning on the Christian work being done at the Michigan University.—Flint Democrat.

This item is really refreshing. The papers of the state usually note every boyish prank of the students, but say nothing of the good work which is constantly going on here from year to year. It is time there was a change.

Why not revive the Philological Society this winter? There is good reason to expect that some very valuable papers would be presented if this were done, and, aside from members of the faculty there are not a few students sufficiently interested in this line of work to heartily welcome the project. Think it over.—Chronicle.

B. Herr, Ill.

The full house that Mme. Janaschek had Monday night proves what an audience almost any of the first-class actors could draw if they would put their prices within reach of Ann Arbor people, who can be educated up to the idea of paying $1.50 or $2 for show tickets. In these times, especially, dollars are too hard to get.

The great and inimitable "Dick" Gorman, acknowledged by the press and public to be the greatest dialect comedian known to the stage, appears for the first time in the grand opera house Saturday night in his sensational comedy drama, in three acts, entitled "Conrad."

The initial performance of the sensational comedy drama in three acts, entitled "Conrad," of the Grand Opera House, Saturday night, was a most successful one. The plot is a good one, and the acting is excellent. The company, who are all good in their various roles, Mr. Gorman, the favorite dialect comedian, assumes the title role of Conrad. He is an extremely clever actor and his part is a most interesting one. His enunciation is excellent, and his actions, He gives to the parts that he forces upon his stage could scarcely be fitted to better advantages.

Mrs. Sarah James, whose trial on a charge of larceny was progressing when we went to press last week, was acquitted.

Dixon's "Caramel of Inn" Stove Polish was established in 187, and is today as it was then the most and brightest in the market; a pure plumbago, giving off no poisonous vapors. The size now doubled and cake weighs nearly half a pound but the quality and price remain the same. Ask your grocer for Dixon's big cake. 1817-1830

Mrs. M. E. EISELE—I feel as though I cannot praise your salve too much. It has cured a bad cancer on my limb of 15 years standing. I could not sleep day or night and after commencing to use your salve a short time I soon got easy and now it has entirely cured my cancer and your liniment has helped me wonderfully to relax the cords.

BACH & ABEL'S COLUMN.

To-morrow, Thursday, being the time honored and now materialized "Thanksgiving Day" according to our custom this store will be closed.

BACH & ABEL.

Amid the wrangle and jangle about Wraps and Jackets we wish to announce for the benefit of those who live at a distance that we are the cloak house of the city and the place where the cloak business of the city is done.

We hear that one of two
