Perry F. Powers, the junior editor of the Ypsilanti, was a pleasant caller at the Courier office during the week past. Mr. Powers is one of the kind known as practical editors, and is pleasing in manner. Call again.

Last Sunday evening circuit No. 2 of the electric light refused to work, and the town in the light which was in the lower town could not be found by the workmen until the next day. So the 37 lamps in the 2d, 3d, 4th and 5th wards did not shine that night.

Willie Kay, a lad about 11 years of age, was playing on the dam at Delhi Mill, with some other boys, last Saturday afternoon, and accidentally fell in above the dam and was drowned. The body was not recovered until Sunday forenoon. Dr. Jenkins held the inquest.

The Milan burglars were sentenced by Judge Joslyn last Monday afternoon, all having pleas of guilty. Charles Martin received a sentence of five years at Jackson, and Charles Crum four years at the same place. While Edward Bell will pass one year in Ionia. The justice of these sentences are generally remarked.

A fine programme has been arranged by the Cocker League for next Monday evening at the M. E. Church. The League thoroughly appreciates the liberal patronage since it was organized and takes pleasure in inviting its friends to a pleasant entertainment next Monday evening at 7-45 p. m. local time. All are invited. Admission free.

There will be a meeting of the Sons of Veterans in the common council rooms, Saturday evening, at seven o'clock, local time, to organize a camp. All sons are requested to come prepared to join and to answer the following questions: Home, age, residence, place of birth, date of father's entry into the service, and date of discharge and cause, name and number of other relatives.

The Oracle of the Sophomores is out and a good number is presented. Its pride is in the eulogy of Dr. Olney's kindly face accompanied by a sketch from Prof. Frieze. The prize stories are very readable and bright. Misses J. M. Andrews and Nellie Garrison secured the prize. There are not many cheap personal grinds as have frequently marred the pages of former numbers and the Editor will well congratulate themselves on a creditable publication.

Deputy R. R. Com. Ransom was in the city last week, looking after the business pertaining to his office. Mr. R. was a graduate of the literary class of 1846. Speaking of the new bridge over the M. C. R. R. at the depot, he was told that a party had already brought a claim against the city, for damages caused by steam coming up through the floor of the bridge, frightening his horse and causing damages. The deputy said he would look to that matter when he returned to Lansing.

Mayor Robison, in an interview at Detroit the other day, turned the entire German vote over to the democratic party. The writer of this item knows several full-blooded Germans who repute the mayor's words. They say that they never can affiliate with a party which puts free-trade in its platform, and truckle to soft-money. Furthermore, they affirm that if the Germans went bodily into the democratic camp, enough republicans, out of spite, if nothing more, would go over to the prohibition camp to carry laws that are obnoxious to them.

At the non-partisan meeting last week Rev. Mr. Eary read a letter from Bishop Vail, of Kansas, in answer to some inquiries about the working of prohibition in that state. The Bishop stated that wine for communion purposes could be had any time from a druggist, although it was forbidden by the prohibitory act. A reader of the Courier wants to know if a druggist, who will procure himself and break the law to sell wine for church purposes, will have any conscience left to prevent him from selling wine or liquors to anybody who wants it, law or no law.

All those interested in the co-operative association are requested to meet Saturday evening, at St. George's Society hall, over Stimson & Son's store, to talk over and take action upon the scheme. This society is a step in the right direction for our workmen. It is proposed to build up a society by which laboring men and women, by saving even 23 cents a week, eventually have a home in which to live. There is no city in the world that has so many house owners as has Philadelphia, and it has been almost entirely accomplished through these co-operative associations.

A shooting gallery has been opened up in store lately vacated by W. E. Elder.

Tyrotion explodes! Yes, we noticed that peculiar feature some months ago—on paper.

The latest democratic candidate for mayor which we have heard mentioned is D. Cramer.

There is to be an Old Folk's Concert at the Presbyterian church, Tuesday evening next, March 22d.

Geo. W. Bain will address the people on Saturday evening in regard to the present prohibitory amendment.

The Congregational church of Webster, received 40 persons into new membership last Sunday. The result of a series of earnest meetings.

If the charter amendment passes there will be but one justice of the peace to elect this spring, successor to E. B. Pond, whose term expires.

There is to be a banquet at the opera house in Dexter to-morrow night, given by members of St. Joseph society in honor of St. Patrick's Day.

A mayor of one of our Michigan cities was recently in Chicago, and it is reported that he spent some time trying to find the panorama of "The Battle of Shiloh."

George M. Landon, of Monroe, the present judge of probate of that county is the democratic candidate for judge of this circuit. The republicans, of course, hope he will land on salt river.

The trunk line railroads (including the Michigan Central, of course), have decided not to abolish second class fares, but have sworn off on all mileage tickets, and will pay no more commissions.

County Clerk Howlett is overrun just now with applicants for first papers—and what is very peculiar about it they all want the papers free for the good of the party. It takes six months before they can vote, according to law.

The Young People of Unity Club, are hard at work on their pantomime which is to be given early in April. The costumes, etc., representing those of the 13th and 14th centuries, promise something very effective and entertaining. Full particulars will be given later.

The funeral of Mrs. Emery Richardson, another one of the old-time pioneers of the city and county, occurred last Wednesday afternoon, from the residence on Packard street. Rev. J. T. Sunderland conducting the services. Mrs. Richardson had reached the ripe old age of 83 years.

John K. Robison, grandson of our mayor, and son of Geo. F. Robison, prosecuting attorney of Wayne Co., has accepted the appointment to the Annapolis Naval Academy, the first nomination for which he so creditably passed recently. He will leave for that institution about the middle of May.

There is an old programme in Wines & Worden's window, the property of Mr. Wines, bearing date March 4, 1845. The only person now known to be living in the name appears on the programme as "Miss Swathel, pianist," now Mrs. H. J. Beakes, of this city. It is a valuable relic of by-gone days and Mr. Wines has had it handsomely framed for preservation.

If every mill dam on the Huron river had a fish-way constructed as the law directs, there would be thousands of fish the entire length of the river. It is a question that effects the food supply of the people, and is one that ought to be dealt with in earnest. Owners of dams can be compelled to put in these chutes. See what Seth Green has to say about the protection of fish on the first page.

The programme for the Unity Club next Monday evening, at the Unitarian Church, is as follows: Jean Ingelow, Mrs. R. C. Davis, "Songs of Seven," illustrated in charge of Miss Fisher and Miss Nichols. The parts are to be taken by the following young ladies: Miss Grace Serraffo, Miss Mary Wood, Miss Callings, Miss Elsie Whitman, Miss Annie Langley. Music by Miss Marian Smith and Miss Annie Wilson.

Mayor Robison received a letter from Shelby Center, N. Y., the other day, inquiring about the reliability of the Welcome Out Co., said to have an existence here. The Mayor wrote back that we had Bohemian Out Co's, German Barley Co's, etc., but no Welcome Out Co's and furthermore, that he inquirer after knowledge, that if they dealt much with our western sharpers they might find the thing turn into Un-Welcome Notes.

Last Saturday, a horse of Robert McCurdy, attached to a carriage in which Mrs. McCurdy and a nephew named Barrett, were riding, became unmanageable on Main street, and running into Godey's drake, upset the carriage throwing Mrs. McCurdy out, bruising her considerably but not seriously. The carriage and harness were considerably damaged. By the way, that the Godey's drake seems to be quite an objective point for runaway horses to bring up at.

"I see the COURIER is an advocate of the saloons now," said an ardent prohibitionist to the scribe the other day. Let's look at the facts. Under prohibition Ann Arbor had over 80 saloons. Under the tax law she has less than forty—39, to be precise. Under prohibition Dexter village had 23 saloons. Under the tax law Dexter has seven saloons. The same proportionate reduction can be shown in every village and city in this county.

The COURIER believes the tax law a better temperance measure than the prohibitory amendment, and gives facts and figures to prove it. Now, which one of us advocates the saloon? One is the practical view the other the sentimental view.

"Glimpses of Places, and People and Things," is the title of a neat little volume placed upon our table by its author, Geo. C. Smith, senior editor of the Ypsilanti. Every type in the book was set by its author, making the work doubly interesting to him. The sketches commence with war times, and many are the scenes depicted of the soldier boys in their weary, dreary, hard service of four years and over. Then closing up the war, comes a wide and two headed, given, then glimpses of the great and mighty west, and so on. Many a pleasant hour can be spent in perusing the pages of this little book, and we believe many a pleasant hour has been spent by the author in its composition. A limited number have been printed and will be placed on sale at 20 cents each, the only desire being to clear expenses of publication.

The community was startled yesterday by the announcement of the sudden death of Lewis C. Risdon, one of the old and highly respected citizens of this city. He had been ailing for some time, but was out upon the streets last week. The cause of death is not known, some attributing it to heart disease and others to kidney troubles from which he has long been a sufferer. The deceased had lived in Ann Arbor from a very early day, being one of its first business men of which many of our residents of to-day can remember. He was nearly 63 years of age, and was a native of LeRoy, N. Y. He leaves a wife and two married daughters. The funeral services will be held from the asylum in Masonic temple, Saturday p. m., at 2 o'clock, Ann Arbor Commandery taking charge of the same. Mr. Risdon was one of the oldest masons in the county, having been a charter member of Ann Arbor Commandery, as also of Golden Rule lodge. He took the Royal Arch degree in 1852.

Judge Edward F. Colburn, law '77, of Gunnison, Col., has been in the city during the week past. Mrs. Colburn, who has been visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Dyzert, on William st., for the winter, will return home next week accompanied by her sister.

Milford N. Wells, of Lawrence, Kan., is home for a few days' visit with his mother. Mr. Wells is a staunch temperance man, but after viewing the workings of prohibition in his own state unhesitatingly pronounces it a failure, and says that if he was in Michigan he should vote against its amendment.

James E. Field and wife of Alpena, have been in town the past few days on a visit. They are on their return from a trip to California. They had a narrow escape in Minnesota by having their sleeper run off the track and roll down the bank, overturning and throwing them out into the snow where the thermometer was 18° below zero, but they were luckily unhurt.

UNIVERSITY ITEMS.

Bressler of '85 is a lieutenant in the German cavalry at Berlin.

Dr. Lunt takes Dr. Sewall's work in the lit. department during his absence.

Howard G. Hetzler, lit. '86, dropped in upon his many old friends here yesterday.

Remember Prof. C. K. Adams' lecture before the association on March 18th, Friday evening.

Dean Worcester, '88, will accompany Prof. Steere on his trip to the Philippine Islands. He will collect bird's eggs.

In their plucky fight for a gymnasium the boys have the argument all on their side. It is simply and solely prejudice that opposes them.

Pres. C. K. Adams, president of Cornell University, takes the place of the Ragan lecture in the students' lecture association course, on March 18th.

Dr. Amos, of St. Paul, Minn., medic '85, and for some time studying with Dr. Breakey, has been visiting old friends here for the past few days.

The senior laws are in a quandary as to how to get their pictures taken by a Detroit artist, some of the boys refusing to go down to the city therefor.

The medical and dental students are endeavoring to raise $300 with which to purchase that most excellent picture of Dr. Ford, now in the art gallery.

The Argonaut refers to the Palladium board, in its last issue. We had not heard from that body for so long that we had concluded it had disbanded or something.

The Goethe lecture has been augmented by the arrival of 86 new volumes, making 225 to date. There is $200 now ready to expend for this collection, and more to come.

The Delta Tau Delta's will venture into the summer cottage business this season, having purchased a-creas of land between Bay View and Pettekey for that purpose.

A summer term of six weeks of the National School of Elocution and Oratory will be held in Ann Arbor this summer. Six continuous weeks of oratory! Tough on the marrow.

The collection of old and rare books given by the late Wm. W. Murphy to the university, proves to be of much value. Some of the maps accompanying the collection date back several centuries.

Pres. C. K. Adams, of Cornell University, will lecture in university hall Friday evening, March 18th. Subject: "Drift of Civilization." This lecture takes the place of that of Mr. Ragan, on the regular course.

Prizes are offered by the American Protective Tariff League to seniors in universities and colleges, for three essays on the advantages of a protective tariff in this country. First prize, $300; second, $100; third, $50.

Henry George is to lecture before the students' lecture association, in University hall, March 24th. If Henry doesn't have a houseful, we shall be mistaken, for there are quite a number of people in this vicinity who swear by George.

The Lansing Iron Works have presented the University with castings for a twenty-five horsepower engine, which is to be placed in the basement of the main building and used for experimental purposes. The engine will be constructed from the castings by the students—Argonaut.

Prof. T. B. Stowell Ph. D. of Cortland, N. Y., and a brother of Dr. Stowell of this city, has recently purchased a paleontological collection of over 10,000 specimens. The collection is valued at $5,500, and is one of the most complete of its kind; this added to his prior collection, makes Prof. Stowell's in all probability, the finest and largest private collection of its kind in this country.

We notice by the papers of yesterday a. m. that the university committees have unanimously reported in favor of appropriating $20,000 for the gymnasium at the university. We hope that the two houses may look with favor upon this proposition.

ABOUT THE GYM.

Last Sunday's Tribune had this from Lansing:

The University Club Club captured their heaters with their part of the annual program at the governor's reception, and stirred them with the paper upon the two houses may look with favor upon this proposition.

Poor old gymnasium. Pass the hat around; Student favors are accepted; Raised from the cold cold ground. Then they left a flyer containing an appeal for the gymnasium, and (thankless) left for Ann Arbor. The boys will hardly be more successful in securing an appropriation for a gymnasium, than they have been with other legislatures from whom they have asked it during the past ten years. There are, perhaps, too many members of the house who look exercise in their younger days with the ax and plow to warrant the expectation that they will make an appropriation for the trustees, now in the hands of the bars, but here is a good opportunity for some of the wealthy alumni of the University to show their liberality. The Bostonian who has graduated at Cambridge expects to go to heaven, as he leaves something to the trustees, but here is a good opportunity for some of the wealthy alumni of the University to show their liberality.
