He is now as comfortable as could be expected, and friends hope for his ultimate recovery, though his advanced age of 75 years is somewhat against him. The sympathy of the entire community is with himself and family in this affliction.

The completion of the 43rd year of Rev. Seth Reed's continuous itinerant ministry will be made the occasion of a grand reception to himself and wife, at the Court St. M. E. Church, at 11 o'clock on the evening of June 21. Rev. Mr. Reed is the father of Mrs. Dr. Stowell, of this city, and has been pastor of the church here and also presiding elder of this district. There will be hosts of friends in this city and county who will wish the couple a God speed, and many more years of usefulness in the sacred cause.

Unless something is done to fence up the precipice at the north end of N. Thayer street the city is liable to have a big suit for damages on hand some time. There is nothing to protect people or teams from running off the precipice to certain death. By the way, who owns the land from Lawrence street to Fuller street on the line of N. Thayer street anyway? The original plats give it as regularly laid out street, but private parties have for years had possession of it hauling off the gravel.

Students in bugology are reaping a rich harvest from the electric light globes, where the bugs are lured on to certain death by coming in contact with the carbons. Some of the most wonderful and beautiful specimens are obtained. Where they come from is a mystery, all shapes, all colors, all sizes are found, the straw colored gold bug, whose head is ornamented with burnished gold, the deep blue and black ones, and other varieties afford a pleasing study to the naturalist.

The Board of Review caused several of our prominent and wealthy men to appear before them this week, but come to find out they were all poor, did not own a thing in the world and owed more than they were worth. Somehow or other the books of the Register of Deeds tell a far different story. One of the members of the board officers is requesting that Attorney Kinne to search the books of the Register of Deeds and report his findings to them, but there could not be found a sufficient quantity of sand in the whole board to even second the motion. It seems a trifle unjust to put one man down at upwards of $100,000, and let off other men who are certainly as wealthy for $20,000 or $30,000. Perhaps the supervisors, as a body, may take a hand in this business before another year rolls around.

UNIVERSITY ITEMS.

Owing to the number of entries for Second Class singles, the committee adopted the scheme of pairing them off and the loser of two out of three sets was barred out of the tournament. Owing to the number of contestants and the game of base ball at the fair grounds in the afternoon, no final games were played or conclusions reached, and the games will be continued next Saturday, weather permitting.

The Cass club of Detroit played the University team on the Fair Grounds, Saturday afternoon. The score resulted 18 to 11 in favor of the Cass. Hibbard and Miller occupied the points for our boys and Wollenweber and Mullenback for the Cass. Twitchell and Shindle of the Detroit League team were brought out under assumed names and played left field and second base respectively. They were soon recognized and vociferously applauded by the crowd whenever they came to bat.

Conundrum—Which is the better for an institution to have in it a great man continually running it down, or one who is not quite so great trying to up-build it?

There appears to be a period in the life of a certain class of journalists, when they feel that their work is not their own, but that of their brothers that find intense satisfaction in bragging about it in their own sheets. It was thought that all of the Ann Arbor craft had grown out of this period, but it seems there is one who has just arrived at that peculiar stage, and so after making a sport on two and three lines last week he pompously calls attention to the quantity—not quality—of his items compared with his neighbors. That our readers may know what this peculiarly smart young man palms off on the public as items of news, we will quote a few specimens of his gigantic enterprise, taken from the crack edition of the Register he is bragging about.

"A flower's bloom in the spring trail" "This is original" and poetical, of course, and truthful too, for the flowers had been in bloom several weeks.

"Gene" Hall has clipped his Kentucky poem. If neither Mr. Hall or the "pony" kicks, it is probably all right, but not extremely thrilling.
