

Friends of The Courier, who have business at the Probate Court, will please request Judge Hartman to send their printing to this office.

LOCAL.

Wants a moment, what a doubt! All my nose is inside out! All my thrilling, tickling caustic Pyralis rhinoceros!

Who weeps with you when you are sad, And laughs with you when you are glad, And smiles at you when you are mad?

Who has to be both kind and wise, And never will, hardly ever lies, And when he does excites surprise?

Who owns a heart as well as cheek, Possessed of spirit proud, yet meek, Who teases and teases each day and week For local punts to ears so sweet,

Remember the county fair. At Jackson only 65 votes were polled at the annual school meeting.

The boys and girls can help make the county fair a success by making something to exhibit.

The way to be happy is to bring in all of the nice things you raised this year to the county fair.

Among the pensioners the past week have been Catharine, mother of Clarkson Pack, and Christian F. Hildolf.

Geo. W. Millen says it is not so. That he has no intention of leaving the bachelors rank for 10, these many years.

"Don't publish" is often found on documents in the county offices. And yet some men insist that advertising doesn't pay.

A dry house of Orman Clark in Lyndon, was burned on the 8th, and the Washenaw Mutual will have to pay $30 for it.

Half fare rates to-day to the reunion of the Army of the Tennessee at Detroit, have taken many of our citizens to the state metropolis.

Miss Abbie A. Pond, for so many years principal of the grammar school, will enter the schools again as recitation teacher, being employed two hours each afternoon.

Expert mathematicians figure that the new marriage license law will bring to the county clerks of the state not less than $5,000 additional fees, and the affidavits will foot up another $5,000.

The "sportsman" who wantonly kills our song birds ought to be proscribed. Kill the sparrows, if you must kill something.

The courts have decided that the baking powder lottery business is as much of a lottery as anything else, and that dealers who dispose of it in that way are liable to prosecution and a heavy fine.

Here is a truism: "A little item in a newspaper will sometimes make a man an enemy to that paper for life, but it won't stop him from reading it. It merely changes him from a subscriber to a borrower."

County Clerk Howlett says that the new marriage license law is one of the grandest laws ever enacted—75 cents for each marriage, you know—and the newspaper men sort of feel that they will have a new source of "local" information in its workings.

The new liquor law goes into effect two weeks from to-day, and under its provisions thereafter, at all times when by law the doors should be closed, all blinds, curtains, screens or other obstructions before the bar must be removed, so that the bar is plainly visible from front, rear, or side door or window.

A. M. Thomas, a colored student who worked his way through the law department, graduating last June, and who studied with Judge Cheever for some time, has settled in Topeka, Kansas, and writes the Judge that he is doing well, having been successful in several justice cases to start with.

The school board met last night and organized by electing the following officers and committees:

President—W. D. Harriman. Secretary—W. W. Whedon. Treasurer—L. Gruner.

E. C. Warner resigned as a member of the County Board of School Examiners, last Saturday, and Judge Harriman appointed Prof. August Lodeham, of Ypsilanti, to fill the position.

The International Medical Congress at Washington last week, had eight representatives of the university of Michigan in attendance, six of whom, at least, read papers.

The School of Pedagogy at Ann Arbor was not largely attended, but good work was done. Professor Payne's careful work fills his pupils with a larger respect for his manliness, and his scholarship than even his most enthusiastic admirers had before.

Upon estimates all ready received, the Secretary of State places the total yield of wheat in Michigan this year at 22,062,628 bushels. The estimated yield of oats to the acre in the southern counties is 25.39 bushels to the acre.

Milo Pulipher has been trying the climate of the west and south, and evidently has not fallen in love therewith, for he writes from Texarkana, these lines to us: "Home attractions too strong. No place like Michigan, especially Ann Arbor."

The salaries of Jackson officials and teachers amount to $77,292 per annum, enough to secure the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinac Daily paper item.

A runaway accident occurred on the elevated canal leading to the 5th ward last Monday night by which Mr. Thos. O'Brien of Northfield, was seriously if not fatally injured, his vehicle badly wrecked, and things smashed up generally.

The news of the death of Rev. John Alabaster, which occurred at Canandaigua, N. Y., on Wednesday last, was heard in this city with feelings of profound sorrow. For three years Dr. Alabaster filled the pulpit of the M. E. church of this city, and his eloquent discourses have been a theme among his congregation ever since, though upwards of five years have elapsed since he was here.

At Jackson only 65 votes were polled at the annual school meeting. The boys and girls can help make the county fair a success by making something to exhibit.

Among the pensioners the past week have been Catharine, mother of Clarkson Pack, and Christian F. Hildolf. Geo. W. Millen says it is not so.

"Don't publish" is often found on documents in the county offices. And yet some men insist that advertising doesn't pay. A dry house of Orman Clark in Lyndon, was burned on the 8th.

Half fare rates to-day to the reunion of the Army of the Tennessee at Detroit, have taken many of our citizens to the state metropolis. Miss Abbie A. Pond, for so many years principal of the grammar school.

Expert mathematicians figure that the new marriage license law will bring to the county clerks of the state not less than $5,000 additional fees, and the affidavits will foot up another $5,000. The "sportsman" who wantonly kills our song birds ought to be proscribed.

County Clerk Howlett says that the new marriage license law is one of the grandest laws ever enacted—75 cents for each marriage, you know—and the newspaper men sort of feel that they will have a new source of "local" information in its workings.

The new liquor law goes into effect two weeks from to-day, and under its provisions thereafter, at all times when by law the doors should be closed, all blinds, curtains, screens or other obstructions before the bar must be removed, so that the bar is plainly visible from front, rear, or side door or window.

A. M. Thomas, a colored student who worked his way through the law department, graduating last June, and who studied with Judge Cheever for some time, has settled in Topeka, Kansas, and writes the Judge that he is doing well, having been successful in several justice cases to start with.

The school board met last night and organized by electing the following officers and committees: President—W. D. Harriman. Secretary—W. W. Whedon. Treasurer—L. Gruner.

E. C. Warner resigned as a member of the County Board of School Examiners, last Saturday, and Judge Harriman appointed Prof. August Lodeham, of Ypsilanti, to fill the position.

The International Medical Congress at Washington last week, had eight representatives of the university of Michigan in attendance, six of whom, at least, read papers. Those present were: Drs. Frothingham, Vaughan, Palmer, Hartman, Maclean, Taft, Dorrance and Hendricks.

The School of Pedagogy at Ann Arbor was not largely attended, but good work was done. Professor Payne's careful work fills his pupils with a larger respect for his manliness, and his scholarship than even his most enthusiastic admirers had before.

Upon estimates all ready received, the Secretary of State places the total yield of wheat in Michigan this year at 22,062,628 bushels. The estimated yield of oats to the acre in the southern counties is 25.39 bushels to the acre.

Milo Pulipher has been trying the climate of the west and south, and evidently has not fallen in love therewith, for he writes from Texarkana, these lines to us: "Home attractions too strong. No place like Michigan, especially Ann Arbor."

The salaries of Jackson officials and teachers amount to $77,292 per annum, enough to secure the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinac Daily paper item. Jackson, in round numbers has 26,000 population, Ann Arbor has 10,000.

At Jackson only 65 votes were polled at the annual school meeting. The boys and girls can help make the county fair a success by making something to exhibit.

Among the pensioners the past week have been Catharine, mother of Clarkson Pack, and Christian F. Hildolf. Geo. W. Millen says it is not so.

"Don't publish" is often found on documents in the county offices. And yet some men insist that advertising doesn't pay. A dry house of Orman Clark in Lyndon, was burned on the 8th.

Half fare rates to-day to the reunion of the Army of the Tennessee at Detroit, have taken many of our citizens to the state metropolis. Miss Abbie A. Pond, for so many years principal of the grammar school.

Expert mathematicians figure that the new marriage license law will bring to the county clerks of the state not less than $5,000 additional fees, and the affidavits will foot up another $5,000. The "sportsman" who wantonly kills our song birds ought to be proscribed.

County Clerk Howlett says that the new marriage license law is one of the grandest laws ever enacted—75 cents for each marriage, you know—and the newspaper men sort of feel that they will have a new source of "local" information in its workings.

The new liquor law goes into effect two weeks from to-day, and under its provisions thereafter, at all times when by law the doors should be closed, all blinds, curtains, screens or other obstructions before the bar must be removed, so that the bar is plainly visible from front, rear, or side door or window.

A. M. Thomas, a colored student who worked his way through the law department, graduating last June, and who studied with Judge Cheever for some time, has settled in Topeka, Kansas, and writes the Judge that he is doing well, having been successful in several justice cases to start with.

The school board met last night and organized by electing the following officers and committees: President—W. D. Harriman. Secretary—W. W. Whedon. Treasurer—L. Gruner.

E. C. Warner resigned as a member of the County Board of School Examiners, last Saturday, and Judge Harriman appointed Prof. August Lodeham, of Ypsilanti, to fill the position.

The International Medical Congress at Washington last week, had eight representatives of the university of Michigan in attendance, six of whom, at least, read papers. Those present were: Drs. Frothingham, Vaughan, Palmer, Hartman, Maclean, Taft, Dorrance and Hendricks.

The School of Pedagogy at Ann Arbor was not largely attended, but good work was done. Professor Payne's careful work fills his pupils with a larger respect for his manliness, and his scholarship than even his most enthusiastic admirers had before.

Upon estimates all ready received, the Secretary of State places the total yield of wheat in Michigan this year at 22,062,628 bushels. The estimated yield of oats to the acre in the southern counties is 25.39 bushels to the acre.

Milo Pulipher has been trying the climate of the west and south, and evidently has not fallen in love therewith, for he writes from Texarkana, these lines to us: "Home attractions too strong. No place like Michigan, especially Ann Arbor."

The salaries of Jackson officials and teachers amount to $77,292 per annum, enough to secure the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinac Daily paper item. Jackson, in round numbers has 26,000 population, Ann Arbor has 10,000.

At Jackson only 65 votes were polled at the annual school meeting. The boys and girls can help make the county fair a success by making something to exhibit.

Among the pensioners the past week have been Catharine, mother of Clarkson Pack, and Christian F. Hildolf. Geo. W. Millen says it is not so.

"Don't publish" is often found on documents in the county offices. And yet some men insist that advertising doesn't pay. A dry house of Orman Clark in Lyndon, was burned on the 8th.

Half fare rates to-day to the reunion of the Army of the Tennessee at Detroit, have taken many of our citizens to the state metropolis. Miss Abbie A. Pond, for so many years principal of the grammar school.

Expert mathematicians figure that the new marriage license law will bring to the county clerks of the state not less than $5,000 additional fees, and the affidavits will foot up another $5,000. The "sportsman" who wantonly kills our song birds ought to be proscribed.

County Clerk Howlett says that the new marriage license law is one of the grandest laws ever enacted—75 cents for each marriage, you know—and the newspaper men sort of feel that they will have a new source of "local" information in its workings.

The new liquor law goes into effect two weeks from to-day, and under its provisions thereafter, at all times when by law the doors should be closed, all blinds, curtains, screens or other obstructions before the bar must be removed, so that the bar is plainly visible from front, rear, or side door or window.

A. M. Thomas, a colored student who worked his way through the law department, graduating last June, and who studied with Judge Cheever for some time, has settled in Topeka, Kansas, and writes the Judge that he is doing well, having been successful in several justice cases to start with.

The school board met last night and organized by electing the following officers and committees: President—W. D. Harriman. Secretary—W. W. Whedon. Treasurer—L. Gruner.

E. C. Warner resigned as a member of the County Board of School Examiners, last Saturday, and Judge Harriman appointed Prof. August Lodeham, of Ypsilanti, to fill the position.

The International Medical Congress at Washington last week, had eight representatives of the university of Michigan in attendance, six of whom, at least, read papers. Those present were: Drs. Frothingham, Vaughan, Palmer, Hartman, Maclean, Taft, Dorrance and Hendricks.

The School of Pedagogy at Ann Arbor was not largely attended, but good work was done. Professor Payne's careful work fills his pupils with a larger respect for his manliness, and his scholarship than even his most enthusiastic admirers had before.

Upon estimates all ready received, the Secretary of State places the total yield of wheat in Michigan this year at 22,062,628 bushels. The estimated yield of oats to the acre in the southern counties is 25.39 bushels to the acre.

Milo Pulipher has been trying the climate of the west and south, and evidently has not fallen in love therewith, for he writes from Texarkana, these lines to us: "Home attractions too strong. No place like Michigan, especially Ann Arbor."

The salaries of Jackson officials and teachers amount to $77,292 per annum, enough to secure the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinac Daily paper item. Jackson, in round numbers has 26,000 population, Ann Arbor has 10,000.

At Jackson only 65 votes were polled at the annual school meeting. The boys and girls can help make the county fair a success by making something to exhibit.

Among the pensioners the past week have been Catharine, mother of Clarkson Pack, and Christian F. Hildolf. Geo. W. Millen says it is not so.

"Don't publish" is often found on documents in the county offices. And yet some men insist that advertising doesn't pay. A dry house of Orman Clark in Lyndon, was burned on the 8th.

Half fare rates to-day to the reunion of the Army of the Tennessee at Detroit, have taken many of our citizens to the state metropolis. Miss Abbie A. Pond, for so many years principal of the grammar school.

Expert mathematicians figure that the new marriage license law will bring to the county clerks of the state not less than $5,000 additional fees, and the affidavits will foot up another $5,000. The "sportsman" who wantonly kills our song birds ought to be proscribed.

County Clerk Howlett says that the new marriage license law is one of the grandest laws ever enacted—75 cents for each marriage, you know—and the newspaper men sort of feel that they will have a new source of "local" information in its workings.

The new liquor law goes into effect two weeks from to-day, and under its provisions thereafter, at all times when by law the doors should be closed, all blinds, curtains, screens or other obstructions before the bar must be removed, so that the bar is plainly visible from front, rear, or side door or window.

A. M. Thomas, a colored student who worked his way through the law department, graduating last June, and who studied with Judge Cheever for some time, has settled in Topeka, Kansas, and writes the Judge that he is doing well, having been successful in several justice cases to start with.

The school board met last night and organized by electing the following officers and committees: President—W. D. Harriman. Secretary—W. W. Whedon. Treasurer—L. Gruner.

E. C. Warner resigned as a member of the County Board of School Examiners, last Saturday, and Judge Harriman appointed Prof. August Lodeham, of Ypsilanti, to fill the position.

The International Medical Congress at Washington last week, had eight representatives of the university of Michigan in attendance, six of whom, at least, read papers. Those present were: Drs. Frothingham, Vaughan, Palmer, Hartman, Maclean, Taft, Dorrance and Hendricks.

The School of Pedagogy at Ann Arbor was not largely attended, but good work was done. Professor Payne's careful work fills his pupils with a larger respect for his manliness, and his scholarship than even his most enthusiastic admirers had before.

Upon estimates all ready received, the Secretary of State places the total yield of wheat in Michigan this year at 22,062,628 bushels. The estimated yield of oats to the acre in the southern counties is 25.39 bushels to the acre.

Milo Pulipher has been trying the climate of the west and south, and evidently has not fallen in love therewith, for he writes from Texarkana, these lines to us: "Home attractions too strong. No place like Michigan, especially Ann Arbor."

The salaries of Jackson officials and teachers amount to $77,292 per annum, enough to secure the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinac Daily paper item. Jackson, in round numbers has 26,000 population, Ann Arbor has 10,000.

NEW GOODS! NEW GOODS! NEW GOODS! J. T. JACOBS & COMP'Y J. T. Jacobs & Company! J. T. Jacobs & Company! THE BOYS FOR SCHOOL BRING IN YOUR BOYS Mack & Schmid ARE DAILY RECEIVING NEW FALL GOODS! FOR ALL DEPARTMENTS. THE LATEST STYLES! AND COLORINGS IN ALL WOOL DRESS GOODS, DRESS SILKS, NEW VELVETS, NEW PLUSHES, New Dress Trimmings BUTTONS, ETC., ETC. SOME SPECIAL BARGAINS IN BLACK DRESS GOODS CAMELS HAIR, SEBASTAPOL, DRAP DE ALMA, VELOURS, SERGE, BIARRITZ CORD, MELROSE and HENRIETTA CLOTH Corded Cashmere, Corkscrew Diagonals, FANCY WEAVES, ETC. New Shades in Colored Suitings, Tricots, German and English Plaids and Checks, Robe Dresses, Combination Suitings & other Novelties.

