ON A LEVEL AT LAST. I walked through the wood in Autumn, 'Twas a cloudy and cheerless day, And the wind as it sighed through the forest, The leaves, as they rustled around me, Seemed to be saying to me, 'Tis a level at last, Of a day performed, of a day that is over, Or a war that was finished at last.

Catarrhal Dangers. To be freed from the dangers of catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never failing. Saxon's Radical Cure costs every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never failing.

No Rheumatism About Me IN ONE MINUTE. The Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster. Sudden, Sharp and Nervous Pains, Sprains and Calves. The Pain is relieved in a few minutes. New, original, instantaneous, infallible, curing, leaving the patient as well as the trade of a shoe-maker. When only eight years old he began to contribute verses to the Haverhill Gazette. In 1829 he became the editor of the American Manufacturer, and a year later he took editorial charge of the New England Weekly Review. After a few months he returned to the Haverhill farm, where he remained for several years.

THE WHITE SHIP OF PEACE. Faith trims her lamp in the darkest hour. Far in the heights of her light-house tower, Climb, oh, my heart, to the trembling beam; Go, for the night is without a gleam. Peer over the sea, And gaze back to me, Ahoy! gleaming white, A salt curls the gloom of the night. Go, oh, my heart!

OUR PROTECTIVE SYSTEM. A Masterly Handling of the Important Subject. The following article was written by Mrs. Hazlett, to the Grand Rapids World, and is the clearest, keenest, most comprehensive statement of facts we have yet seen:

LOCAL OPTION. The Republican party at the last State Legislature gave to each county the right to vote prohibition within its borders.

This was, as it should be, for, although there are grave doubts in the minds of our leading citizens, whose experience is wide throughout the Commonwealth, that wholesale prohibition all over the state could be a success, or even betterment, yet THE COURIER has maintained that if the people of a county, electing their own officers, desire no licenses to be issued they should have the right to stop them. Acting on this right the voters in ten counties have decided to try prohibition.

Now the question is about to be brought before the people of Washtenaw county. It is no longer a political question, any more than is a proposition to bond the county for a court house, or the city for water-works.

Many Republicans will vote for it, some against it; a few Democrats will vote for it, the majority against (naturally, Greenbacks, Labor Unionists, etc. will be divided, each according to his personal convictions. It is not a question of who shall have the spoils of office or party patronage, but simply one of public policy. To prohibit or to tax, which will afford the greatest good to the greatest number?

The question must be looked squarely in the face and on all sides. If the voters decide to shut off the liquor tax general taxes will be slightly raised to make up for the $23,200 now received into the county treasury from the saloons. On the other hand, if prohibition is carried and made a substantial reality no one can dispute but that illimitable good shall spring therefrom. The evils of drinking are more far-reaching than even a Gough could describe, moreover the power of the saloon in politics has become such that lovers of pure, straight elections begin exceedingly to fear it.

For these reasons many of our best people are disposed to try prohibition and will vote for it in the hope that it may result in good to the community both in lessening drunkenness and in crippling the power of the saloon in elections.

It is before the people now free from politics, as it ought to be, and it should be discussed thoroughly, thought about, and columns are open to all for fair discussion without personalities, and we hope every phase of the great question will be brought to light, leaving out any sentiment or political bias.

LET HER COME IN THE UNION. The St. Paul Pioneer-Press, of Dec. 24th, had a long list of opinions of congressmen upon the question of admitting Dakota as a state, which were nearly unanimous in its favor. Among them was the following from Hon. E. P. Allen, of this district:

The territory, in my judgment, ought to be divided, and admitted as two states, and that forthwith. It is altogether too large for one state, and will make two magnificent commonwealths. I was in Mitchell in the fall and addressed the territorial fair. No more intelligent people were present in the United States than you find in the territory of Dakota. It has been a wrong that they have been kept out of the Union so long, and further continue this wrong will bring disaster to the party responsible for it. The people of the territory are as intelligent and as deserving of citizenship as are the people of Massachusetts or Michigan, and when you say this, you say they are as capable of citizenship as any people in the United States. No consideration whatever should be allowed to keep them longer out of the Union. As to the second question, I cannot now believe it best that that great territory shall come in as one state, even if the present congress refuses to admit it in any other manner. They can better afford to wait than to be admitted. It is altogether too large for one state. Her population were made up, as are some of the states, Arkansas, Texas, for instance, it would be different, but she has a most intelligent population, and her people will always be interested in local and state government, kept under a watchful eye on what pertains to the political welfare of the state. For this reason the capital should not be far removed from the people. If admitted as two states, and one capital, thousands and tens of thousands of her people would be so far away that they would scarcely ever come to the capital, and two states, the capitals would be convenient of access to the people, and as a result the lawmakers would be more directly under the eyes of their constituents, and better legislation would be the inevitable result. My observation is that smaller states with an intelligent constituency are the best governed, and this largely for the reason that the people can, so to speak, reach elbows with the lawmakers, and the latter are under their supervision and criticism.

A CHANGE. Off With the Old and on With the New. With January 1st a change occurred in this judicial circuit, Hon. Chauncey Joslyn, who has for the past six years presided therein, stepping down from the bench, and Hon. Edward D. Kinne ascending thereto.

EDWARD D. KINNE, is also one of our well known citizens. He is a native of New York state, having been born in Onondaga county in 1842. He graduated from the literary department of the University in 1864, and two years later, from the Columbia Law School at Washington, D. C. Returning to Ann Arbor he began the practice of law, entering into partnership with the late Olney Hawkins. Mr. Kinne's bright intellect, thoroughness and prompt attention to business at one won him a fine practice, and his genial ways made him popular. He was elected recorder of this city two terms, and then served two terms as mayor, filling each position with honor. Still later he went to the state legislature, where he served constituents with ability. For several years past he has served the city as its attorney, being elected each time by the nearly unanimous vote of the council. This office he resigned as he took his seat upon the bench.

Mr. Kinne's popularity can best be shown by the handsome majority by which he was elected over George M. Landon, of Monroe, polling 2,375 more votes in this and Monroe counties than his competitor, though there is a democratic majority in the two counties of about 2,500.

There is very much expected from Judge Kinne, and no one doubts but that the expectations will be more than realized, for he is a well-poised, calm, level-headed man, who will do right. And so we greet the coming, and speeding the parting.

The Ann Arbor Argus in commenting on the failure of the booming fund, bids the housewife to be content with the 20-cent church, and a $30,000 student's christian association building put up in the center of the city. The Argus knows what ails the town. It is not the boom, but the fact that the boom and a spirit of the boom is the thing first needed. Get the boom and the christian association buildings go up. Let Ann Arbor seek first the kingdom of heaven and its righteousness, and the temporal boom will come of itself.—Adriaan Press.

The Press man appears to be a sort of preacher one of the fiery, red-hot shoe shod, who bathes his pen in the blue blazes of purgatory and writes in words of devouring flame that scorch and sear their way into the epidemics of the poor mortals at whom they are directed. Come over and help us along with our boom. Bro. Smith—Stearns, we mean. There is much need of your terrorizing qualities.

Free trade is a mighty fine thing, that's true (?) But wouldn't the English and rejoice if she had a surplus in the treasury? Free trade seems to keep her piling up an enormous debt instead of reducing it. Oh, yes, free trade is a nice thing—for another country.

Perhaps dogs were not made in vain. A Maine man has an experiment in clipping the fleeces from a pet Newfoundland dog and had it carded and spun into yarn. It yielded four skeins of jet black yarn, weighing two and one-quarter pounds, and was as soft as wool.

It is stated that W. K. Vanderbilt will take his permanent abode in Europe, probably in England, visiting America only at occasional periods, as his interests or pleasure may dictate. Well, the country is not tip over in the Pacific ocean by his getting off of the Atlantic side.

We invite the special attention of every reader of THE COURIER to an article upon the first page of this paper, entitled "Our Protective System." It is the clearest exposition of the question we have seen for a long time. It is so plain and so showing up of the free trade fallacy. Read it, and you will be the better for it.

The Methodists of Greenville are practical sort of people. They wanted a $30,000 brick church, so they went to work and raised the $20,000, and now they are waiting for the other $10,000 to be pretty safe way to do, and how pleasing it will be to sit in that church and not be teased for contributions.

There is springing up over the country a demand for the reissue of the old fractional currency issued during and after the war. It is well known that a convenient in sending small sums through the mails, but for general circulation in place of small coin soon becomes worn and torn. And then again there is no great mining excitement.

The great mining booms of the century have occurred just ten years apart—1849 saw the California excitement; 1859 was the Pike's Peak, or Colorado boom; 1869 was the Nevada boom, when the great Comstock bonanza was discovered; 1879 was the Leadville boom. If history repeats itself, then 1889 will see another great mining excitement.

The Gratiot Journal fairly out-did itself in its edition. It was certainly the neatest and most artistic newspaper that has ever fallen under our gaze. The mechanical portion was a wonder and much to be admired for its neatness and the much time and patience. And the press work is perfect. But few papers equal the Journal in point of excellence in any edition.

A new railroad is contemplated from Battle Creek to Bay City, and a business committee appointed for the preliminary work. If Battle Creek is to back this enterprise some faith may be put in it, but if Bay City is the backer look out for a dead failure. Bay City once attempted a road from Port Huron via Caro, but the new road of Kalamazoo and Saginaw. They haven't got the sand up there when money is wanted.

The Caro Jeffersonian has changed its name to the Caro Democrat—which is not in good taste—and celebrated the event with a 16 page edition that is not only a pleasure to read but an honor to the entire county of Tuscola. This mammoth edition did not profess to be a "trade edition," but simply a bona fide specimen of energy and enterprise. The new news of Kalamazoo and Saginaw are not only hustlers, but have other great elements of success: youth and strength—both in head and hands—and the determination to win by hard day's work and merit. And they'll do it too. Just watch them.

The threats have already come welling up from the south, on the confirmation of Mr. Lamar. The southern newspapers and speakers now say that if he is not confirmed the south will remain solid to the day of judgment, or longer if possible. Strange! but some way it seems as if we had heard that remark before. We kept our eyes on the south, and it is to pension Jeff Davis, there were like threats, and from the very man who now seeks confirmation to the highest judicial position in the nation.

People sometimes laugh because the owl is spoken of as a wise bird, and deem him stupid. If a dispatch does not err, we may have reason to believe the old adage "as wise as an owl." The telegraph tells us that for several nights the owl has been catching and devouring hundreds of English sparrows. They drag them from their nests or resting places, beneath the cornices, carry them away and devour them.

One of the largest woolen mills in Ireland employs seven hundred and fifty hands and has a payroll of about $2,000 per week. Girls receive from six to eight shillings and the highest wages paid the skilled laborer is twenty-three shillings per week. Think of that, American workmen! The average workman of labor that the free traders wish you to compete with. The majority of our idle laboring people would not enjoy the style of life made a "mountain out of a mole hill," and will you be honest enough to inform the tax payers of that fact through the columns of your valuable paper, that they may know the County Supervisors to assess the rich, and thereby relieve those who are taxed in a burden.

Respectfully, J. L. GILBERT. Then advise your next corps of supervisors to assess the rich, and thereby relieve those who are taxed in a burden.

The Michigan Almanac for 1888, issued by the Detroit Tribune Printing Co., is at hand once again filled with its usual fund of news statistics and information. It is a valuable publication for business men and families as well.

FROM THE PEOPLE. Salting the Cities.

CHELSEA, January 2d, 1888.

Mr. Editor:—I have been much interested in your several articles on the subject of "Salting the Cities," as they have been so timely and so full of facts. I have been thinking of you ever since the Board of Supervisors adjourned. From the tone of some of the articles I thought you a little excited, but your last item put your hope in the prayer book. I conclude you are now in the right frame of mind to hear some facts and receive some good advice. Especially as the tax gatherer has been his rounds, and you with all the good people of Ann Arbor have learned to your chagrin that you are not required to pay the whole $58,000 this year, but instead their taxes are quite low, paying from $5.40 in Pontiac to $19.00 in Battle Creek, less than any city in the state of its size, on $100 assessed. Undoubtedly the tax in your city would be much higher, if the people in this county or state were not after year, voting hundreds of thousands to "boom out" the tax in your city, which are all very proud, never thinking of serving injunctions to prevent collection of the tax after we have given the "boom."

Mr. Editor, your article that the last Board of Supervisors unjustly raised the city in the equalizing between the several districts in the county, I consider unkind and unfeeling. You have not informed me in your city tells us of her growth, and her many newspapers, claim it is growing as fast as any city in the state, and to convince people of an fact, publish a list giving the actual cost of buildings, "as given by the builders," (saying nothing of the enhanced value of lots, or of adjoining property caused by such buildings) amounting to less than more than $900,000 for the last four years. But I understand the editor now says "that was in fun, only said to boom the city." Well, perhaps such a boom would not cost $5,000, and would of course be cheap. But we who have visited your city for the past fifteen years know what this is, and one real estate dealer told the writer not many months ago, that "the value of real estate had doubled in the last fifteen years," then add the vast amount of personal estates that have moved into the city for some time, then fifteen years ago the city was equalized at $4,442,000 and to-day after being "salted" the equalized valuation is $5,245,000 or $803,000 more than fifteen years ago, much as the increase in buildings alone in four years, (less than 1/2 the time that the raise represents.) To make a comparison with the equalization of the townships, I will only say in a general way, that every person who has watched the matter, knows, that farms are selling at 20 per cent. less than they did fifteen years ago; in other words, are worth about $5,000 less, as farms are being sold now. If any farmer doubts this, let him try to raise money on his farm from some Ann Arbor capitalist and see what amount he can get with his land for security.

Undoubtedly there are some exceptions to the rule depending on location, for instance, Mr. Tozer sells a farm adjoining the city of Ann Arbor for $100 per acre, but Mr. Westfall of the township of Lima ten years ago was offered $200 per acre for his farm and would not sell, this fall he sells the same farm for $50 per acre and throws in about $500 in personal property. Another farmer has recently decided to Mr. R. Kempf consideration $3,500, is on the tax roll this year for $3,800.

But you say there are townships in which villages are growing also. I admit it, and will take the town of Sylvan, as the village of Chelsea is undoubtedly prosperous and growing. And for this reason for this is found in the character and energy of the business men of the village in keeping up the best market for farm produce in the county. No farmer producing, no manufacturer, no money voted by the state or county to stimulate business or values. One will often see farmers with loads of produce on their farms, and their homes can be seen the court house of their county, and I notice one of the leading articles in the last Chelsea Herald is devoted to the subject of more hitching posts.

Yet with all of this prosperity you will see in Mr. O'Hearn's minority report on the Board of Supervisors, and for this reason for this is found in the character and energy of the business men of the village in keeping up the best market for farm produce in the county. No farmer producing, no manufacturer, no money voted by the state or county to stimulate business or values. One will often see farmers with loads of produce on their farms, and their homes can be seen the court house of their county, and I notice one of the leading articles in the last Chelsea Herald is devoted to the subject of more hitching posts.

One of the faithful employees of this city is Mr. S. B. Rowell, with J. D. Stinson & Son, but he perpetrated an excellent joke upon himself last Thursday morning. He was returning from the office to the house usually gets up and shakes down the coal stove at a little before 7 o'clock a. m., which he invariably takes for the usual morning routine. He was hearing the usual morning noise, Mr. R. immediately arose. The moon was very brilliant, and his room was quite light; looked at his watch and to find it plump farmers, upon whom the usual morning routine was usually and was off to the store. On his way thither he missed the usual morning lights that were wont to greet his vision, and he was a little late made usual haste and was off to the store. On his way thither he missed the usual morning lights that were wont to greet his vision, and he was a little late made usual haste and was off to the store.

But he was not deterred from duty by any such little things. In a short time the outside display was being put in its accustomed place, when all at once a man grasped him by his collar, slipped a piece of paper into his pocket, and commenced moving him towards the jail before his astonishment could be sufficiently overcome to ask, "wh-wh-what's the matter?" Finally the policeman recognized his prisoner, and he was released. Mr. R. took in his display, and going back into the store improvised a bed out of crockery crates and coffee sacks and sweetly slept until morning. He has since been called a madman at his boarding house. N. B.—Rowell didn't tell us anything about this.

The constitutionality of the present liquor law is being tested in the supreme court at Lansing.

Arthur D. Brewer, lat. '85 of Detroit, upon returning from the east to his home in Detroit last Sunday, laid a pocket book containing $75 in money and a $500 diamond pin in the toilet-room of his sleeping car, and now can find it. Boys should be careful about such trifles.

The $100 subscription opposite Mrs. President Cleveland's name on the list of the Prohibition campaign fund subscribers, was paid by a man who ever gave a case of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Bells, Pimples, and all other affections caused by impure blood, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Headache, it cured the humor, and seemed to give life to the whole body and give me new tone. "Hood's Sarsaparilla has helped me more for eatrath and impure blood than anything else I ever used." A. BALL, Syracuse, N. Y.

Creates an Appetite. "I used Hood's Sarsaparilla to cleanse my blood and tone up my system. It gave me a good appetite and seemed to build me over." E. M. HALE, Lima, Ohio.

"I took Hood's Sarsaparilla for cancerous humor, and it began to act unlike anything Hood's Sarsaparilla, giving it strength and curative power superior to other preparations. A trial will convince you of its great medicinal value. Hood's Sarsaparilla creates and sharpens the appetite, stimulates the digestion, and gives strength to every organ of the body. It cures the most severe cases of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Bells, Pimples, and all other affections caused by impure blood, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Headache, it cured the humor, and seemed to give life to the whole body and give me new tone. COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

The regular monthly meeting of the council was held Tuesday evening, being adjourned one evening on account of Monday being the legal New Year's Day.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

Of Jas. R. Gregory, C. M. Thompson and 23 other taxpayers of the city asking the council to afford them the same protection by requiring a license of $3 per day for non-resident teamsters as is granted other business in the city.

On motion of Ald. Swift the prayer of the petitioners was granted and the city attorney requested to draft the necessary ordinance.

J. R. R. W. B. Sulworth, Mrs. T. A. Haviland and 12 other property owners on the south side of Fuller st., asking for a sidewalk on the south side of Fuller st. Referred to sidewalk committee.

The resignation of E. D. Kinne as city attorney was received and accepted. The tax in your city would be much higher, if the people in this county or state were not after year, voting hundreds of thousands to "boom out" the tax in your city, which are all very proud, never thinking of serving injunctions to prevent collection of the tax after we have given the "boom."

REPORTS OF CITY OFFICERS received and ordered placed on file. The expenditure of the poor fund was as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Total: $231.68

The report of the Finance committee showed the following expenditures for December:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Total: $739.01

A bill for $25.00 of John R. Miner for work on tax rolls was allowed, and one for $2.50 of M. Ware, also.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS. By Ald. Wines: Resolved, That the city treasurer make out a list of all those who shall be "boomed" tax, and return it to such as shall make application therefor before the first of March.

By Ald. Wines: Resolved, That a telephone be placed in the school school house and in the city and the janitor thereof, for fire purposes in the school house.

By Ald. Wines: Resolved, That hereafter all gas bills be paid on the first of January and the first July.

On motion of Ald. Swift the council proceeded to ballot for a city attorney, as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Name, Votes. Council then adjourned.

They Went but Didn't Get There. In the last COURIER we spoke of a number of our business men who started from Ann Arbor that morning to help celebrate the opening of the new portion of the T. & A. R. R. to Cadillac.

Well, bad weather set in at the wrong time and made things unpleasant for the excursionists and banqueters. The story is told by the Detroit Journal in quite racy terms.

The excursionists who should have reached Cadillac and partaken of its warm-hearted welcome and steaming banquet at 7 o'clock Wednesday night did not get there until Thursday afternoon. They did not have a hilarious time of it. Mr. Ashley had forgotten to sand-paper his railroad track, and it was so smooth as might have been and the 85 mile run through the woods was therefore not as tummy as it might have been. Seven miles from Mt. Pleasant to Cadillac the train was stopped by the excursionists and banqueters. The story is told by the Detroit Journal in quite racy terms.

Fred Eslinger, the Main st. blacksmith, with the assistance of his boy at the bellows, put on 86 shoes from 5:00 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., last Monday. If any other horse shoer has anything to say about it, now's the time.

The Washtenaw Lodge I. O. O. F. have made a new lease of their hall in the J. T. Jacobs' block for ten years. This will make 30 years occupancy of the same quarters, a good record. The lodge rooms were refitted last fall in excellent style.

On Monday evening, Miss May Costello, daughter of Mrs. Ambrose Kearney, was married at the residence here, to Rev. C. O. Kelly, in Detroit, to Elmer S. Firestone of that place. The couple will reside in Detroit after a short trip through Ohio.

The office of Secretary of the Washtenaw Mutual Fire Ins. Co. has been so satisfactorily and systematically attended to by W. K. Childs, that he will probably be re-elected at the coming annual meeting without opposition. He is certainly a prompt and painstaking official.

The drawing of the gold watches, took place at S. Krause's, were elected trustee and committee consisting of Will Hatch, Warren Wadwams and Will Henne, counting the tickets and it took them 2 1/2 hours to make the draw, finding them to number 21,847. The nearest guesser for the 21,847 watch was John Koch, a mason of this city, who guessed 21,700, and for the 21,847 watch, Mrs. Lydia T. Thompson, (wife of Thad. Thompson), who guessed 23,028.

The School of Music opens Thursday, Jan. 5th.

Chas. W. McCorkle, the former law partner of E. P. Allen, has removed from Ypsilanti to Detroit.

The hotel in Ypsilanti, known as the East-side hotel, was damaged $1,000 by fire night before last.

Jas. R. Bach will devote his entire time to the insurance business, having his office over Caspar Rinsay's as usual.

At the recent meeting of the Royal Society of Canadian Musicians at Montreal, Prof. C. B. Cady, of this city, read a much praised essay upon "Social Science and Music."

"Turn about is fair play," so they say. Judge Kinnel resigned the office of city attorney to take the judgeship and now Judge Joslyn steps off the bench and is elected city attorney. The council seems to be a good judge of legal timber.

This is the week of prayer and services are being held each afternoon at the various churches as follows: Tuesday at the Congregational, Wednesday at the Methodist, Thursday at the Baptist, Friday at the Presbyterian, and Saturday at the Episcopal.

Wednesday evening, Drs. Vaughan, Dauster and Herdman were appointed to share equally the duties of the late Dr. Palmer until a new occupant for the chair is found. The name of Dr. Lyster, of Detroit, has been favorably mentioned for the place.

Dr. C. G. Darling went up on the roof over his office to clear the snow from the skylight last Saturday, and in returning made a mistake on the attic stairs, and fell several feet, striking upon his hip and head. It is wondered that he escaped without more serious bruises.

Never having had any corns we run no risk in publishing recipes for annihilating them, as we never shall be tempted to try the same, so here is said to be a sure cure: "Baking powder dissolved in spirits of camphor applied to corns night and morning will entirely remove them."

The Egan Truss Co. held its annual meeting Friday evening after a prosperous year's business. It has good stock on hand, no liabilities and is making money. Geo. A. Douglass was elected president, T. Y. Kayne vice president and manager, E. B. Lewis secretary and treasurer.

Company A held its regular election of officers Monday evening, casting 41 votes, with the following result: Captain—Sydney W. Millard. 1st Lieut.—Chas. M. King. 2nd Lieut.—Henry D. Merritt. Executive Board—Jas. Barker, John Fisher, Geo. Dengler, Wm. Guetz, and Charles G. G. G. G.

The council at its meeting last evening voted to require a license of $3 per day from non-resident teamsters, and to-day there has been a big kick from the outside number of whom were engaged in drawing ice. As the country folks delight in "salting the city," the city folks must through necessity protect themselves.

The Caro Democrat observes: "The Ann Arbor COURIER is one of the leading republican papers of Michigan and contains more original editorials, more local news, etc., than a dozen such 12 and 16 page papers of other cities in this section. It is handsomely printed and bears the earmarks of being run by men of brains."

A man named Wm. Prutz, was picked up in front of the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening, just as church let out, where he had fallen on the slippery sidewalk. He was badly bruised and injured having walked up from Ypsilanti through the cold. He was taken to jail and cared for, and yesterday sent on his way.

The mantle of the Hon. E. D. Kinnel, who has fallen upon Hon. John Robison who has taken in partnership with Attorney Norris, and they will occupy the Judge's old quarters. Nothing but the most weighty and serious and complicated legal cases will be considered by the new firm, who will add insurance to the law.

Prof. Austin George, of Ypsilanti, has been chosen as a member of the executive board of the State Teachers' Association for three years, and Prof. I. N. Demmon, of this city, to fill vacancy. Prof. W. S. Perry, of this city, has been made a member of the state reading circle council, together with Prof. Daniel Putnam, of Ypsilanti.

Slagg, W. Lee, W. H. Clark of Lansing, W. K. Gibson of Jackson; Drs. Frothingham, Breakey, Vaughn, W. E. Stevens, E. H. Scott, Col. Dean, J. C. Bell of Ann Arbor.

The friends of the eastern colleges who are dying off and enriching them with bequests is wonderful. The latest is Wm. Hilton, of Boston, who gives $50,000 each to Harvard, Williams, and Amherst colleges, and a like amount to Phillips Academy, at Andover, and $300,000 to other benevolent purposes. Any remark about the "be" being "be" is down that way is ruled out of order.

Judge Joslyn held court right up to the last day in the afternoon. The last case being the granting of a divorce to Jesse McGuire from John B. McClellan, whose parties. In the case of A. G. Blair vs. D. B. Taylor, a new trial was granted upon the condition that the defendant pay to the plaintiff's attorney $40 within thirty days. On Friday Clara Mailville was granted a divorce from Henry Mailville.

The Manchester Enterprise man has been studying up the Almanac and finds that "Five eclipses, three of the sun and two of the moon are announced for 1888. On January 28 there will be a total eclipse of the moon, which will be visible to the entire world except on the Pacific ocean. None of the eclipses of the sun will be visible in this country. But the way the old maids will be for the lashing of old bachelors will eclipse everything."

"Ah! ha! Here you are boys and girls! 'Look a leddie out.' The new 'trianity law' provides that the supervisor of a township, mayor of a city, president of a village, or chief of police, can make a complaint before any justice of the peace and any boy or girl who is absent from school, frequents a saloon where liquor is sold, or loiteres around the streets or public places without consent of parents or guardian, or who shall go to public dances or skating rinks shall be considered truant and disorderly, and may be sent to the Lansing or Adrian reform school.

What might have been quite a serious conflagration was checked last Friday by Manchester, requests his COUSIN sent hereafter to Arkansas City, Kan., where he has located permanently, and where he will remove his family in a few weeks. Mr. Potts has purchased a one-fourth interest in the Newman Dry Goods Company, of Arkansas City, which is considered one of the largest establishments of the kind in southern Kansas.

He has been chosen its president, and will have the buying to do, besides the general management. Mr. Potts says he likes the outlook and the country very much. The Courier predicts success for him in his new home. Hardly a man could have stepped out of this country talking with him a more general desire for the "meat" watch, Mrs. Lydia T. Thompson, Mr. Pottle. He is a thorough gentleman and excellent business man.

Capt. R. M. Barker, of Flint, who has been visiting friends in the city during the week, formerly lived here, and remembers that during the great campaign of "Tippecanoe and Tyler too," there was a wigwag erected on the court house square, and the way in which he and his English flourished in that wigwag was a caution. But, then, there have been many changes since those days.

There is what the Rochester Post-Express says of Chas. A. Gardner: "One of the first German Dialect Comedians—Chas. A. Gardner, who will begin his tour of the Academy of Music, in Karl, is one of the best comedians in this line on the stage. He is one of the best natured men in the world wherever he is. In disposition and appearance he is admirably fitted to play the part of the good humored German in his play. Mr. Gardner has a clear tone voice which can carry to the remotest part of the theatre. Mr. Gardner was a burnt cork artist of recognized merit."

MODJESKA'S FAREWELL. The announcement in this issue of the reappearance in Ann Arbor of Modjeska, will certainly prove a source of pleasure to all our patrons of the drama. It must surely be gratifying to all who love the drama for itself, and who protest against its degradation of the servant of vain beauties or ambitious novices, to witness the finished acting of Modjeska. In all her impersonations of character, she is what they will, she caters to the intellectual and cultured with a grace and charm rarely equalled upon the stage, and never excelled. That such an accomplished and universally admired artist, now in her very prime, and at the height of her artistic fame, should have serious thoughts of abandoning the stage for at least twenty years to come, is a matter for sincere regret. Yet such is her expressed determination, and she has present tour is announced as her farewell to the people. At its completion she returns to Europe to fulfil important engagements in the capitals and principal cities of Europe, where she will cover a period of a year or more, after which she returns to America to settle in private life upon her estate in California.

It is a most opportune opportunity of seeing Modjeska, perhaps for the last time, cannot well be allowed to pass unembraced, and crowded houses will be sure to greet the distinguished actress by the name of Modjeska as "Twelfth Night," with Modjeska as Viola.

Along with the serious and grand we must have the funny. So here comes the hilarious Chas. A. Gardner in "The New Karl" for Wednesday evening Jan. 10th. The Montreal Gazette has this to say of the play: "Standing order only" was the motto at the Royal yesterday afternoon, the house being packed from orchestra to gallery to witness the antics of the comedy drama, in which Mr. Chas. A. Gardner took the leading part. As Karl, his clever impersonation of a young man, and good dancing and rapid changes of costumes brought down the house, and the audience fell full of fun. Mr. Gardner was supported by an excellent company, all the characters being well acted. The play was warmly welcomed and scored a great success. At Jack-in-the-Box, the Pettie Dunn delighted the spectators.

PROF. HELLER'S GREATEST RIVAL.

Prof. W. G. Anderson, who ranks among the very best magicians in the world assisted by Miss Louise Anderson, the "queen of mystery," will appear at the Opera house to-morrow (Thursday) evening. In addition to a first class entertainment the professor will give free to the audience, hundreds of valuable presents. From the Fort Wayne Journal the following is clipped: "This very fine magic and mystery show, which audience which well filled the Academy of Music. The gentleman is ably assisted by Miss Louise Anderson, professionally styled the 'queen of mystery.' Professor Anderson is so easy and successful in hislegerdemain, that attempts to catch him in his delusions are baffled. He gave many gifts to persons of the audience, each person entering the hall being handed a ticket, which entitled him to a chance in the distribution.

The Syracuse Evening Herald thinks "The New Karl" a pretty nice thing: Karl, received its third presentation at the Grand last evening. Two years ago it had not been more agreeably passed. The play is full of fun, and the audience also contains one or two of the "close-up" men, and the professor will give free to the audience, hundreds of valuable presents. A fair sized audience was greatly amused at the opera house last evening by Prof. and Louise Anderson. Prof. Anderson is one of the best known and smoothest tricksters who ever appeared before a large audience. His many songs and feats last night were all well done and brought forth loud applause. He gives a great variety of feats some of which are sure to amuse some of his auditors. Louise Anderson's cabinet work was also good. He gave away about 40 presents all of which were useful and valuable. Louis Young enjoyed the performance from a 10-cent gallery seat and carried home a fine hanging lamp, another a change program will be given and another and much larger number of presents will be given. The engagement has been prolonged one evening and will close Saturday evening.—Jackson Citizen.
